

Non-Communists Removed From Bulgaria's Parliament

Case May Go to United Nations

By the Associated Press

A new Communist blow to non-Communists in South-eastern Europe—expulsion of the hard core of the opposition from Bulgaria's Parliament—was presented to the world today amid growing indications that a Balkan showdown was impending between Russia and the West.

An authoritative source in Washington said the United States was reviewing the whole American policy in South-eastern Europe to determine what lines of future action might be more effective than the long series of futile protests sent to Moscow and other Communist capitals in the past few years.

Diplomatic authorities in Washington were forecasting that Russia either would reject or try to hamstring American demands for a Big Three inquiry into the Communist seizure of power in Hungary, and that, in either event, the United States in all probability would carry the case to the United Nations.

End of Sugar Rationing Wipes Out Last War-Imposed Coupon Control

WASHINGTON (AP)—The last war-imposed coupon control over the American public vanished today as sugar rationing for home, restaurant and hotel use ended at midnight.

After more than five years in which ration stamps meant more than money—when it came to meat, canned goods, shoes, tires, gasoline and a host of other things—individual Americans are free of coupon worries for the first time since April 28, 1942.

The last ration book can be thrown away.

However, sugar price controls remain. So does rationing of industrial sugar, but these two curbs are scheduled to end Oct. 31.

Secretary of Agriculture Anderson ordered the sugar ration end late yesterday, thus beating the Republican-controlled Congress to the draw. The House had set for a vote today a bill calling for an immediate end to household sugar rationing.

Electrical Contractors Hear Straight of Law

Amidst a flurry of personality clashes and some secondary arguments, electrical contractors of the city had the law laid down to them yesterday afternoon by Mayor C. A. Huff and the City Commission.

Huff early in the afternoon told City Manager Steve Matthews to call all electricians into the meeting for a roundtable discussion of the electrical ordinance and to point out violations practiced by the trade.

The mayor told the electricians that the city manager has been instructed to enforce the electrical ordinance to the letter, regardless of whom it may hit. He warned all that if sections of the ordinance are continually violated, licenses of the offenders will be revoked.

Prior to the electricians' meeting, the Commission was told that strict enforcement of the ordinance may bring in the usual undercurrent and political pressure from various sides. Mayor Huff bounced back saying that they would then face other cross currents and find a Commission that didn't fear any political pressure from any angle, as the ordinance from now on is going to be strictly enforced, and that includes the paying of license and inspection fees. It was brought out that some inspection fees have not been fully paid.

In the verbal melee that followed the lecture to the engineers, Howard Gilliland, proprietor of the building that houses the LaNora Theatre, and focal point of the present controversy, threatened to sue the city if a permit was given to the City Electric Company for work that was done there and verbally endorsed by the inspector, but not passed officially. A 30-day permit has been granted by the city until the job can be satisfactorily given the green light.

At several points Gilliland brought in personal attacks and was called down by the Mayor and told that he was out of order.

Gilliland told the assemblage that, while it was called to discuss the ordinance with the electricians, he was interested in the insurance angle on his building.

Frank Hunt, manager of the Davis Electric Shop, told the Commission the city "did not have an ordinance" because it has been changed so many times electricians couldn't keep up with it.

Weatherman Is Causing Trouble All Over Nation

Cloudbursts and hail that did damage to wheat fell in widely scattered areas throughout the Panhandle yesterday evening.

The US Weather Bureau here reported hail and rain fall totalling 83 inches fell in a few minutes here in Pampa with even heavier storms suspected of visiting farms to the South.

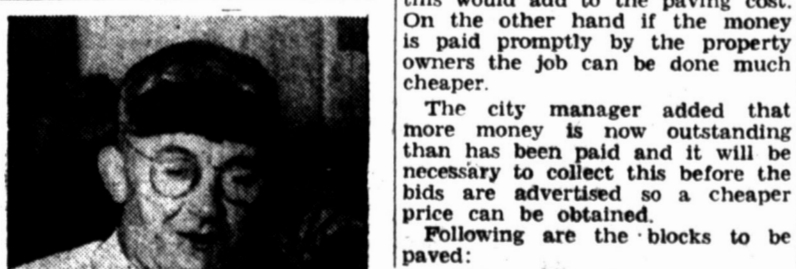

The Panhandle's stormy weather is not exclusive this year for reports from the Associated Press have revealed that the weatherman has been visiting points all over the nation, leaving everything from unseasonable snows to excessively warm temperatures.

The latest spring snow in the 75 year history of the Denver, Colo., Weather Bureau was reported there, Leader, Wyo., had six inches of snow and Cheyenne, Wyo., five with temperatures dropping to around 30 degrees. Mountain highways, however, were reported open to traffic.

The U. S. Weather Bureau in Chicago forecast continuing fairly heavy rain for much of the Midwest which will add a new burden to the already flooded rivers.

In the East the mercury was somewhat above normal, the Weather Bureau said after record breaking heat yesterday in some eastern states.

Truman Ends Canada Trip With Outing

OTTAWA, Ont.—(AP)—President Truman wound up his trip to Canada with a holiday from official business today before starting back to Washington tonight for vital decisions on labor and tax cut legislation.

Turning tourist for a day, the United States Chief Executive took his official staff for an outing and a view of the Canadian countryside around Ottawa.

The whole party planned to attend a luncheon at the exclusive seignior club, 45 miles away.

The holiday followed a busy day yesterday in which he brought cheering parliament to its feet by declaring that the United States intends to help those nations that want to live in peace with their neighbors, without coercion or intimidation.

He went from this ovation to a luncheon at which he toasted parliament and reminded its members he had "never in my life had a more cordial reception."

The state visit ends tonight when he boards his 11-car special train at 11:05 c'clock (Eastern Daylight Time) for the trip back to Washington via Toronto, Buffalo and Niagara Falls.

The United States Chief Executive will view the famous falls from his private car when his train halts for ten minutes at 7:05 a.m. (CST) Friday for an operational stop. He is due in Washington at 7:15 p.m. (ET) that night.

He will return to face a vital decision on whether to permit a four billion dollar tax cut voted by a Republican-controlled Congress as well as action on legislation imposing new curbs on labor unions.

The deadline for vetoing the tax cut is Monday. Mr. Truman has said repeatedly that the time is not ripe for reducing taxes.

Mr. Truman has pursued in this Canadian Capital the same technique that won him the applause of Mexicans in his visit to Mexico City in March.

Rites Tomorrow For Phillips Man Killed in Crash

Services and military burial for Lt. Donald Eugene Umphres, 25, of Phillips will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. from the First Baptist Church, Phillips.

Lt. Umphres was killed Tuesday when his P-80 plane crashed into Chestapeake Bay during a review. A letter received by the family from W. I. Martin, U. S. Navy commandant and director of tactical tests, related the following concerning the flyer's death: "Don was flying a jet fighter-type plane called the Lockheed 'Shooting Star'—the Army designates it the P-80. Several planes were engaged in an air demonstration of high speed aircraft for a large group of visiting Marine officers. Don flew past the observers at high speed and climbed into the sky making vertical rolls in a remarkable demonstration of airmanship."

"On his second demonstration run, he passed the observing officers at low altitude and started to make a roll. At about midway in the roll, the plane seemed to disintegrate, and it plunged into the waters of the Chesapeake Bay."

Lt. Umphres' body was returned to Borger yesterday, escorted by Lt. Jack Baum, friend and roommate of Umphres.

A graduate of Phillips High School, he attended John Tarleton Junior College before entering the service. He received his commission in July, 1942. A veteran night fighter pilot in the Pacific War Theater, he held three distinguished flying crosses, nine air medals and a presidential unit citation.

He is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. Umphres of Phillips, Borger, Paul of Pampa, sisters, Velma Ruth of Borger and Mrs. Marcella Parrot of Tulsa, Okla.

Dog Poisoning Wave Hits Pampa

A new wave of dog poisoning has broken out in the city, centered this time around the N. Starkweather St. section. City Health Officer Ray Salmon reported yesterday.

Salmon said that strychnine was used in poisoning the dogs.

Meantime, city officials launched an investigation into the poisoning and advised parents to warn their children against picking up candy or other bits of soft stuffs they may be visiting around the pavements or in yards. Officials believe that the dog hater uses this type of bait to poison the dogs.

The offense carries a prison sentence, Salmon added, and that the possession of the poison is also a federal offense and subject to F. B. I. investigation.

Henry Wallace to Be Presidential Nominee

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Henry A. Wallace will be a candidate for the Democratic presidential nomination in California and at least a dozen other states, an authoritative party source said today.

The source declined permission to use his name, but said, "That is entirely correct" when questioned about a story in the Los Angeles Times that Wallace "will lose his hat in the ring for President within the next two months."

Asked about persistent reports that the former cabinet member was looking to formation of a third party, the source said, "The first step, as he said, is to attempt to make the present Democratic Party Democratic."

Commenting on Wallace's presidential aspirations, the source declared, "Things have not yet jelled to the point where we can make a formal announcement. The people who are doing it are trying to make out as strong a coalition as possible."

Services Set for Borgan Killed in Accident Overseas

Funeral services will be held Sunday at 3 p.m. from the Assembly of God Church in Borger for Cpl. Harold L. Hutchinson, who died in Italy on April 19 as result of injuries sustained in a vehicle accident there.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hutchinson, long time resident of Borger, Cpl. Hutchinson had expected to return to the states very soon, at the time of the accident, Mrs. Hutchinson said that she had been under the impression that her son was en route to the United States when the telegram arrived telling her of her son's death. She said that she received a letter from him on March 29 in which he declared that he would be home soon.

Hutchinson served with General Patton's armored forces in France and Germany and was, at one time, a member of the famed "Barricade Boys" whose exploits were narrated at length on the pages of the Yank Magazine during the war. He wore the Combat Infantry Badge, the Bronze Star, the Purple Heart, and four combat stars.

Discharged from the army late in 1945, he re-enlisted last July. He served for Italy on December 13 of last year.

His brother, Ernest, Jr., was killed in an oil field accident on January 27.

Survivors, other than the parents, include two brothers, Boyce and Jack of Borger; five sisters, Mrs. Mary Noble and Mrs. Edith Noble of Skellytown, Mrs. Lois Lin of Bunnavista, and Mrs. Connie Sue Hagger and Miss Lola Hutchinson of Borger.

This bank has always enjoyed excellent patronage and under new management will be able to serve the community even in a larger way than heretofore.

Damage to each car was estimated at $400.

Officers of the Texas State Highway patrol and officers from the Gray County sheriff's office investigated the wreck.

Sudden Spurt in Meat Prices Shows Domestic Demand

CHICAGO (AP)—The bawling steers and the grunting hog jumped back again into the top here today and there were innumerable charges and counter charges in explanation for the sudden boost in meat prices in livestock markets and in butcher shops.

Average price of steers and yearlings at Chicago yesterday rose to an all-time record high at approximately $26.00 a hundred pounds according to the Department of Agriculture. This topped the peak of $25.40 established last October immediately after OPA ceilings were removed. For the first time since March 5 the top reached $30.

Live hogs have not advanced as sharply as beef cattle, the top here yesterday being $24.75 a hundred pounds compared with $30.00 on Feb. 25.

Cattle receipts at Kansas City yesterday, the largest for a June 11 in 25 years, were the best price since January.

While the price for top grade cattle is lower, the department said steers of medium and low goods are higher than last October. A smaller percentage of strictly good and choice cattle are driving the price spread between various grades is narrowing.

Meanwhile retail meat prices also advanced during the past several weeks and representatives of butchers in the East blamed the meat packers. In Newark N. J., butchers threatened to close shop unless prices come down.

"The butchers are helpless and are getting so fed up they're ready to take a vacation," Joseph Vian, president of the Independent Retail Butchers Association of New Jersey, said.

Large packers in Chicago, discounting talk of heavy foreign exports, said advancing meat prices represented an "amazing" domestic consumer demand, particularly for beef. This, they said, also was reflected in the high price for beef cattle at livestock markets.

The Agriculture Department said meat production last week totaled 317,000,000 pounds, 46 percent higher than a year ago.

Texas City Water Hearing Extended

AUSTIN, (AP)—A consolidated hearing on which three companies will be authorized to divert surface water to Texas City and Galveston will go into the fifth week next Tuesday.

The hearing recessed yesterday after hearing a third protest to the application of the American Canal Company.

Protests had been presented previously by the Briscoe Irrigation Company, a Brazos River project, and the San Jacinto River Conservation and Reclamation District.

Yesterday H. W. Munson, Briscoe engineer, and Brazoria County rice farmer, entered an individual protest to American Canal's request for 8,000 acre feet of water annually from Jones and Oyster creeks.

Munson said he feared other water users on the watershed would be harmed if the permit was granted.

The Tollivers

© BY MATEEL HOWE FARNHAM. Distributed by NEA Service, Inc.

THE STORY: I was off in boarding school when the Tollivers first came to Osage. Father wrote that in a short time Mrs. Tolliver and her three daughters had already provided plenty of food for gossip. They had rented the big Carriens house next to ours, although everyone knew their husbands were limited. The two youngest were beauties and openly making a play for the two well-to-do and middle-aged bachelors: Sam and Nelson Popen. I was home on vacation when Flora eloped with young Bob Finerman, who was good-looking but only making $22 a week. For a while they were happy. When war broke out in the summer of 1914, Bob enlisted in the Canadian army. Flora and her three were visiting in New Jersey at the time.

XII
It was in March, I think, that Flora came home and immediately rushed over to see me. She was as pretty as ever, as gay and affectionate as ever. She told me with a little sigh that she would have her divorce in a month.

"It will be such a relief to have it settled," I remember she said. "Do you ever hear from Bob?" I asked. Flora flushed, as I thought, guiltily. "Why do you ask such a question?" she parried. "No reason. I just wondered." "Poor Bobby," Flora said softly. "He is such a child. I feel so terribly sorry for him." And talked of something else.

About a week later she came up to my room so early one morning that I was still in bed. After first pledging me to secrecy she asked if I would lend her a few dollars. She said she needed it dreadfully, but she did not dare ask her mother or Amy; already she had put them to enormous expense. I said I would try to be very wise and bus-

"How about being fair to Bob and yourself? After all, you are still married to Bob." "It doesn't matter about me. I'm not much good. And poor Bobby shouldn't have gone off that way without telling me. Bob knows I'm not strong and brave like you and Sister. He shouldn't have gone away..."

"I thought you could guess..." I want to go to Buffalo to see Bob. He's got leave, and he won't come home. Not, of course, that I could see him here." "You are certain you want to see him, Flora dear?" "It's not that I want to—I've just got to. He thinks he will be ordered overseas soon. If I don't see him before he goes I may never see him. Darling Louise, you will, you will?"

I said of course I would lend her the money. Flora made me cry by covering my hand with kisses. She said no girl had ever had a friend like me. We cried together.

I DON'T know what excuse Flora made or what she told her mother and sisters, but she was away for three days. No one in Osage but Flora and me knew that she had been with her husband. When she came home she told me that Bob was well, that he looked divine in his uniform, that they had stayed at the Iroquois Hotel and danced every night until one o'clock. She said that neither she nor Bob would ever forget what I had done for them and that Bob would repay me in a few weeks. He did, too.

A month later we heard through Mrs. Finerman that Bob was in England. Mrs. Finerman was extremely bitter about it. She implied that Flora had sent Bob to his death. A day or two after the news came I said to Flora: "Surely you are not going on with this wretched divorce?" "But I have to, Louise darling." Flora's face and tone were stricken. "The divorce has cost such a terrible lot. I can't back down now. It wouldn't be fair to Mother or to Amy or Annabelle. They have given so much to help me."

It's the women who are guardians of the things we cherish about home—those who are tolerant of babes on the rug; the rings a glass of beer can leave on tables; or the

New Orleans Seeking Title for Being the Most Courteous City

BY RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

NEW ORLEANS has announced that it is out to win the title of "most courteous city in America." And if its citizens make a try for it, the honor ought to fall right in their laps.

They haven't much competition. Discourtesy seems to be the order of the day in big towns and small. This is especially apparent to the cross-country traveler who thinks a little courtesy ought to be included in his bill-paying.

But too often when he pays for his food and lodging, he doesn't even get a smile or "thank you." Even filling station attendants who used to kill their customers with courtesy aren't bothering much to speed the tired traveler on his way.

Too often rest rooms are dirty, and the motorist who has his tank filled has to ask to have his windshield wiped.

MAKE IT TOUGH

If the citizens of New Orleans can get other towns and cities interested in trying to outshine them in everyday courtesy, perhaps the sloppy, indifferent service that swept the nation during the war years will be on its way out of the picture.

Here's a good race for every town and city in the country to enter. Why not make the competition tough for New Orleans?

Elm Creek Dam Project Possible

SHAMROCK —(Special)—Possibilities of the construction of a dam on Elm Creek, south of Shamrock, came back into the picture when Bob Clark, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, was notified by letter from Trigg Twichell, acting district engineer, Department of the Interior, that preliminary measurements indicate that a substantial spring flow exists to make further checks practicable.

The dam project is one that has been worked on jointly by Wheeler and Collingsworth County officials for almost a year. The last step was taken on Oct. 5, 1946, when Clark and Mayor Bill Walker met with officials of the Board of Water Engineers and the Geological Survey in Austin.

It was agreed at the meeting in Austin that the watershed of Elm Creek would not produce sufficient surface run-off to sustain a major irrigation development and provide water for municipal use. Mayor Walker pointed out that the creek has a small sustained spring flow, the source of which is derived from two springs in the creek bed about four miles upstream from U. S. Highway 83.

Serving as pallbearers will be Joe Massena, Ed Barnes, Burt Meek, Robert Montgomery, Ridge Russell, John Chesser.

Burial will be in Miami Cemetery under the direction of Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Walker Resigns As Guard Chief

AUSTIN —(AP)—The resignation of Lieut. Gen. Fred L. Walker as commander of the Texas National Guard, effective July 31, has been accepted by Gov. Beauford H. Jester.

Walker said in his letter of resignation which was made public yesterday that he had received the appointment to the position from former Gov. Coke Stevenson as a temporary assignment.

"I feel that the job I accepted in April, 1946, will be completed by July 31, 1947," the former commander of the 36th Division said. Walker reported that by July 31 more than 180 of the 283 National Guard units allotted Texas will be organized. Total strength of the organization will be approximately 7,000.

He said plans had been completed for the training of about 3,700 National Guardsmen at Camp Hood and Fort Bliss during August. Walker said he was resigning to attend to personal business.

Perryton Schools to Have New Gymnasium

PERRYTON — (Special) — The groundwork for the formation of plans to start the construction of a new Perryton Independent School Gymnasium and Auditorium was laid yesterday with the notification that an advancement of $14,500 by the Federal Works Agency, had been approved.

The loan was made for the purpose of hiring an architect to draw up plans for the $400,000 project.

Alton Bell, chairman of the school board, has indicated that bids from architects will be received shortly and that plans are expected to be completed in the next two months.

The tentative schedule set by the board is to construct classrooms in the present auditorium, which has been in use for many years, and to construct a large building that will be divided into a gym and auditorium.

It is believed that the project can be completed within a year.

a portrait of Prime Minister won the heart of Canadians.

He followed this up yesterday at a luncheon in his honor when, without warning, he seized a microphone to propose a toast to Parliament after the usual toast to "the President of the United States" and "his Majesty, the King" had been drunk.

Deeply touched by the applause which followed his speech to Parliament, the President called it the most cordial welcome he had ever received.

"I've read about people receiving three cheers and a Tiger," he said, "but I've never had one before."

French Railroad Men Get Raise

PARIS—(AP) — The French government granted French railroad workers salary boosts today, thus ending a six-day French railroad strike, the worst transportation tieup in the country's history.

The Railroad Workers Union ordered its members back to work after an all-night series of conferences at which agreement was reached for settling the work stoppage, and five minutes later Premier Paul Ramadier and Transport Minister Jules Moch signed the accord, making its terms official.

Under the agreement, the government promised to increase rail workers' salaries for the last half of 1947 by a total of 9,900,000,000 francs (about $3,000,000,000). The figure represented a compromise between union demands for 12,000,000,000 francs and a government offer of 8,000,000,000 francs.

Railroad management also agreed to push a reclassification survey which would be put into effect Jan. 1, 1948, entailing other salary increases for workers advanced in classification, and promised improved working conditions.

Mead Will Be Called In War Fraud Trial

WASHINGTON—(AP) — Justice Henry A. Schwelb today granted permission to the defense to call former Senator James P. Mead (D-NY) as a witness in the May-Garrison war fraud trial.

Defense counsel contended that Mead "withheld" evidence from the Justice Department which would be "beneficial to the defendants" in the case.

Mead is a former chairman of the Senate War Investigating Committee which probed wartime connections of former Congressman Andrew J. May and munitions makers Henry and Murray Garsson.

May, wartime head of the House Military Committee, and the Garsson brothers are on trial on bribe conspiracy charges. May is accused of taking $55,000 from the Garssons for approval.

Schwelb ruled that questioning Mead would be recommended for approval.

The vocational building will be used to give high school courses in welding, metal work and wood work, and at night for adult evening classes of Phillips Petroleum Company employees.

Electrical

the ordinance and pointed out that it had been amended once to create a five man electrical board instead of a four man board and that it also was amended to make it mandatory to run a separate circuit into homes for refrigerators, but that this amendment was later repealed. Those were the only changes in the ordinance since it was first adopted in 1935.

Hunt, T. M. Brooks and R. A. Ratliff, all electricians, agreed that the separate circuit was a good amendment to the ordinance.

Matthews stated that he plans to revamp the inspection system under the city engineer's department, relieving R. R. Jones of those duties. He added that Jones had the job foisted on him when Dennis Feigenpan was forced to resign under pressure. Jones has asked several times to be relieved of the electrical duties.

Matthews told the engineers that he was going to check the records to find out who has and who hasn't paid inspection fees and start enforcement from there. Brooks told the Commission that he always had paid his fees on a monthly basis, but has not paid the last month's fees because, he said, he found out that other contractors were not paying theirs.

Feigenpan was boosted as the only real inspector the city ever had, by both Brooks and Ratliff. Brooks related one instance where Feigenpan made him make a change before he would issue a permit on the inspection and that the change was made and the permit issued.

Brooks said he either wanted a permit or to be told what was wrong with the work at the LaNora Theatre. All this time, Gilliland interrupted with threats of suits if the permit was issued.

Wayne Wallace, manager of local Griffith Theatres, told the Commission that all ordinances had been complied with in the installation of the new wiring now under debate.

The controversy is expected to be referred to the incoming electrical inspector, whoever he may be, for settlement.

points. Richmond, Va., had a high of 97 degrees yesterday and New York 95.

The deep South also reported warm and humid weather but the southwestern coast region experienced rain with fairly low temperatures.

Here in the Panhandle heavy rains blanketed Memphis, Clarendon and Hedley, and other towns in those areas. Hedley reported several inches of rain accompanied by high winds that did light damage to several buildings.

A heavy hail storm of almost 30 minutes duration was reported between Hedley and Memphis. Memphis reported two and one-half inches of rain and Clarendon had approximately three inches.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag every time you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—billions of tiny red-blood-cells must pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloating and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

"The whole country seems to want to move here," complained one resident. "They've crowded everything out but the climate."

"A lot of people think they can come out here and live free in an orange grove if they don't find work. But those days are gone. If they try that now they'll find themselves full of buckshot. You can't pick oranges for nothing any more."

Families here a generation or two don't holler so loud. They simply remark:

"The old California died the day the movie industry came."

"In another ten years the Los Angeles area will have ten million people," they say with dismal conviction, "and in ten more it will be the biggest city the world has ever seen."

The prospect makes them unhappy rather than proud. The city is growing so fast people complain they can't move out of it.

One man bought a country acre out in San Fernando Valley a year ago.

"I'm twenty-two miles from City Hall," he said, "and already they're talking of putting sidewalks in front of my place. I don't want them. I moved out here to get away from sidewalks and stoplights."

The chief objection most residents here have to further "colonization" is that it boosts the cost of living.

It has caused many people to come out here to establish homes to give up after a few weeks or months and go back to where they came from. They found too much trouble in Paradise.

Recently one jalopy passed through town with its battered radiator pointed east. It held six children and three adults. A baby buggy and a washub were strapped on its roof. gunny sacks full of clothes and household belongings were roped to the fenders. On the rear of the jalopy was scrawled this defiant sign:

"Goodbye California—and all your god darn geraniums!"

In the past 25 years more has been accomplished in the field of medicine than in the 24 centuries preceding them.

Population of Abilene Almost Doubled Since '40

(Editors note: this is one of a series of stories showing the growth of Texas cities since the 1940 census. Figures were compiled by member papers and are based on utility outlets, city directories, employment services, and chamber of commerce estimates, etc.)

By the Associated Press
Abilene has almost doubled in population since the last census was taken in 1940: the Abilene Reporter-News says.

Industrial growth, plus a normal shift of people to urban areas from rural in wartime, oil play, and an influx of northern residents to the South was explained as the reason for the growth.

Abilene has grown from 26,612 in 1940 to an estimated 52,000 today—a jump of roughly 95 percent. These figures are based on the report of the Industrial Development Department of the Abilene Chamber of Commerce, and includes the metropolitan area, two or three heavily populated sections touching the city limits.

Total bank deposits on Jan. 1 this year were $41,421,073, compared with a 1940 figure of $19,351,390.

The area's buying power, estimated by John Womble, Chamber of Commerce Manager, on a basis of figures his organization assembled from banks and other financial institutions, is set at $48,000,000 for Baylor County, and $220,000,000 for what is called the Abilene trade territory, a 19-county area.

The housing shortage is acute but 1,300 units have been built in the city limits since 1940. The include apartment houses. Over 261 residences have been built since Jan. 1 this year. A total of 635 were built in 1946, according to the chamber of commerce.

Texas Today

By JACK RUTLEDGE Associated Press Staff

Ladies only: Ruth Holman is raising her stockings these days. Raising the silk, that is. The Gainsville girl, a co-ed at North Texas State College of Denton, has excelled in her dormitory room, weaving away.

The eggs hatched into silkworms after a period of refrigeration. She fed them for weeks. They spin a web around themselves for a few days. When she has 300 of them in action, she plans to have the silk made into a pair of hose.

A girl with a bright future is the six-year-old Texarkana tot who threw her arms around a male cousin and told him how much she'd missed him. Her surprised mother asked the child how she had remembered the man—she hadn't seen him since she was three.

"I didn't remember him at all," the girl said. "But you know it flatters me to tell them you remember them and miss them."

A certain ex-GI student at Texas A and M won't forget 14 girls at Angleton. He, however, had a bad habit of coming home intoxicated and treating his wife roughly.

The 14 girls, wives of other veterans who lived nearby, waited for him, waylaid him at midnight and gave him a terrific beating. It cured him, officials said.

Remember Pistol Packin' Mama? Lay That Pistol Down? So does a negro man at Cooper, Texas. He was arrested for shooting at a negro girl. Both appeared in court.

In County Attorney W. H. Crunk's office she begged officers to "give me that gun and let me shoot at him!" Somebody obligingly did, and everybody but the negro man thought it was funny.

He didn't know the gun had been unloaded first.

Business Girl Magazine, the national magazine published at Dallas, is conducting a contest to select the ten best dressed business girls.

It all resulted from a pet peeve of Movie Actress Joan Leslie, who says only the wealthy women get named to the ten best dressed women's list each year. She says that actually the real best dressed women are the business girls making $50 or so a week.

She will be one of the judges of the contest, with editor and publisher Betty Oliver of the magazine, and a jury of stylists.

Harvest in Panhandle To Begin Next Week

The Texas Panhandle harvest will start in Crosby, Floyd, Hale and Swisher counties next week and adjoining counties north and west of these counties by the latter part of the week, stated a wheat harvest bulletin from the State of Texas Cooperative Extension Service.

The early wheat area is progressing rapidly with harvest. Benjamin, Haskell and Seymour areas are approaching the finish of harvest and combines have begun to move out of this area, the bulletin stated.

The Paducah and Quanah areas have just started harvest and no grain has been cut in the Childress area. These three counties have a surplus of combines, trucks, and laborers, it was announced.

China's War Against Communist Design For World Conquest

By JAMES D. WHITE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

The real news about China's border trouble with the Outer Mongolians in the great western province of Sinkiang isn't so much that it has happened, but that we have heard about it.

It would be hard to find anywhere in the world so vast an area (twice as big as Texas) so remote, so redolent of a confusion of races and faiths, so habituated to conquest and misrule or no rule at all.

This Chinese Empire had Sinkiang for hundreds of years and never got it under full control until the great General Tsung-T'ang, nearly a century ago, subdued it in a campaign which took years because his troops had to plant crops as they went along.

Even today it takes a Chinese official three days by air to reach the border region where the trouble with the outer Mongolians is reported taking place.

In Sinkiang he finds a relative handful of Chinese officials, merchants and settlers ruling as a small minority among one to four millions of Phylogot tribesmen, (no one really knows how many) most of whom have racial connections in outer Mongolia or in Soviet Russia itself.

This means trouble, internally and along borders. Sinkiang has seen many revolts in recent years, and during one three years ago Chinese troops chased some Kazakh tribesmen across the line into outer Mongolia—and they used planes, too.

But it's all so far off that you just don't hear about Sinkiang unless things get worse than usual or unless somebody has some "other reason" to tell you.

As has been widely noted, Russia's "other reason" for letting her Mongol satellite get involved with Sinkiang would be part of her reaction to the Truman foreign policy.

It's quite possible as a Chinese spokesman says, that "this is no ordinary frontier incident."

Meanwhile military observers in Nanking are remembering the many incidents in the past, and pointing out that no matter how serious this one is the Chinese are in no position to do anything about it.

A Chinese Nationalist, Maj. Gen. J. L. Huang who is now touring this country, put the issue this way in an address at Vanderbilt University: "China's civil war, he says, 'is a war against the Communist design of world conquest... I dread to think what shall happen to other democracies of the world, if one-fourth of the world's population should turn to be communist; if one-fifth of the world's territory should be dominated by the Reds; and if the entire amount of China's vast hidden resources should be employed by the opposite camp (the Communists) for the massacre of the human race and the destruction of human civilization...'

WALL STREET
 NEW YORK, June 11—(AP)—Stocks turned up sharply in today's market for one of the year's best advances. Demand for oils, chemicals, farm implements, steels and some motors attracted late support to rally and other sections of the list. Activity slackened at times but held a fast enough pace to bring total transactions to approximately 1,200,000 shares. Leaders finished ahead 1 to 4 points, most at the day's top.

New 1947 highs were scattered through the list, including Standard Oil (N. J.), Union Carbide and Texas Pacific Land Trust. Outstanding gains were recorded for Coca-Cola, American Can, Bethlehem, Youngstown Sheet, U. S. Steel, Chrysler, General Motors, Montgomery Ward, International Harvester, J. I. Case Douglas Aircraft, Allied Chemical, Du Pont, Western Union, Southern Railway, Santa Fe and Texas Co.

Boston Reds Take Cleveland Tribe Into Camp 3 to 0

By the Associated Press
Things were looking up for general Joe Crokin and his Boston Red Sox today.

Back in undisputed possession of third place, and in the midst of their longest winning streak in a month, the American League champions are beginning to look like the club that swept through the circuit like a prairie fire last season.

The old slugging bunch of Ted Williams, Bobby Doer, Rudy York, Don DiMaggio and John Pesky still is in the throes of a puzzling batting slump, but the pitching department appears to have taken a new lease on life.

The biggest lift, however, has been the return of lefthander Mickey Tarras and not because he is the court jester of the club either. The 26-year-old southpaw, one of last year's big four, hadn't seen an inning of service on the mound until yesterday.

Making his first appearance of the 47 season, the native New York southpaw pitched seven scoreless innings as the Red Sox won their third straight over the Cleveland Indians 3-0. Three places, 14 percentage points ahead of the Indians, the Red Sox won that many in a row.

The victory put the Sox only 2 1/2 games in back of the league leading Detroit Tigers who divided a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Athletics. The Bengals easily won the first game 7-1 behind the seven hit pitching of big Al Benton, but were shut out 4-0 in the nightcap by Carl Scheib, a 20-year-old unheralded rookie who was making his first Major League start.

The split, however, dropped the A's into fourth place.

Another rookie hurler, Frank Shea of the New York Yankees, had his seven-game winning streak broken when Don Koloway tripled and George Dickey singled in the 11th inning to give Joe Haynes and the Chicago White Sox a 3-2 win in Chicago. The victory moved the White Sox into fifth place, six percentage points ahead of the Indians. The second place Yankees, in losing dropped to a full game behind the Tigers.

The Chicago Cubs further tightened the slugging National League pennant race turning back the Boston Braves twice in Boston 4-0 and 5-2 to replace the Braves in third place and move within a game and a half the front running New York Giants. The Giants dropped an 8-7 slugfest to the Pittsburgh Pirates in New York.

Ray Mueller's pinch hit double with the bases loaded in the sixth inning drove in three mates and gave the Cincinnati Reds a 5-4 victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers at Ebbets' Field. Jackie Robinson of the Braves enjoys a perfect game with a triple, double and two singles.

The Philadelphia Phillies shoved the St. Louis Cardinals back into a last place tie with Pittsburgh by losing out the Redbirds 5-4 in Philadelphia.

Washington dumped the St. Louis Browns back into the American League cellar with a 4-2 victory in St. Louis last night.

Abilene Pins Sixth Straight Loss on Luckless Oilers 10-9

ABILENE—The Blue Sox came from behind twice here last night to nudge the third-place Pampa Oilers 10-9, and snap a six game losing streak. The game was witnessed by over two thousand fans, which represented one of the biggest turnouts this season.

Responding to the heavy attendance the Blue Hose displayed the most power they have shown in several games when they climaxed their attack in the eighth frame by driving lefthander Bob Bailey from the mound in the seventh, and accomplished three safe plate crossings that eventually won the ball game.

The Sox morale was bolstered somewhat by the fine showing of Bill Means, new first sacker, who gave a brilliant exhibition at first base.

SPORTS LINEUP

By Bob Bray

Mr. Hal Crozier, who spreads "Local Color in the Field of Sports" for the Amarillo Times, recently sneared some dark shades on his county's commission. He cast dark clouds on the officials for their decision to make Mr. Dory Detton, who at the present reading releases his primitive instincts by parading grunts and groan artists before Amarilloans once each week, booked for all events to be held in Amarillo (now being built) sports arena.

Crozier, being of at least normal intelligence and having met Mr. Detton, has arrived at the very apparent and logical conclusion that sports fans will, if the proposed arrangement is completed, soon be consuming a heavier diet of gorilla-flavored wrestling than an abnormally strong stomach can digest.

To make matters even more distasteful for Crozier, he is apprehensive about the fact that sports programs, which would prove competitive to the wrestling shows, might encounter a great deal of difficulty in finding open dates to rent the arena, with the grunts and groan holding the keys.

As if all this weren't enough to worry all sports fans in this area, who will doubtless journey to Amarillo to various events, not all of which are expected to be gorilla bouts, Crozier, who is evidently a very thorough man when he gets started, has noted another interesting clause in the proposed Detton deal.

Grozier states: "Although the county will spend over $100,000 on the building, anyone desiring to hold an event will use Detton's chairs—that is, they can after giving Detton a five percent rake off of the gate receipts."

Babe Zaharias Wins British Golf Tourney

GULLANE, Scotland.—(AP)—Mrs. Babe Didrickson Zaharias of Denver, became the first American ever to win the British Women's Amateur Golf title today by defeating Jacqueline Gordon of London, 5 and 4, in the 36-hole final.

The Denver girl's triumph, fulfilled the worst fears of the British, who now do not retain a single one of their own golf titles on their side of the ocean. Only two weeks ago Willie Turnesa of New York City won their Men's Amateur crown in a final duel with Dick Chapman of Pinehurst, N. C.

Sam Sneed of Hot Springs, Va., won the Men's British Open Crown 3 years ago but will not return to defend his laurels next month.

Mrs. Zaharias, winner of 15 straight tournaments in the United States before she came here for the "only major title I have left to win," consistently outdrove her opponents all through the tournament.

Sports Defeat Tulsa to Edge Closer to Top

(By The Associated Press)
Houston may find things a bit crowded in the Texas League if Shreveport keeps on nudging closer to the first place perch.

The second place Sports found Tulsa fairly easy pickings on the home diamond, winning 7-3, while Houston bowed to a fighting crew from Dallas, 2-1.

Third place Fort Worth also came out on top last night, edging San Antonio 4-3.

Beaumont defeated the hapless Oklahoma City Indians, 3-0.

An outfield error in the first inning gave Dallas the two runs it needed to take out Houston. In the initial stanza Markland walked and the next two popped out. Then Hirshon lined a single to right. Vaughn Hazen let it get through him and both men came around. Houston tallied in the fifth from a walk, an error and a single.

Shreveport beat the Tulsans largely through air-tight pitching with runners on base and timely hitting with men on the bags. Nick Gregory smacked out his fourteenth home run of the season in the opening inning for the Sports with a drive over the left field wall.

At San Antonio, things looked like a walk, an error and a single. See SPORTS DEFEAT, Page 13

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Hold your hats: Luke Johnson, who should know a little about the subject, figures the Chicago Bears will have a team next fall that will be better than their 1946 championship squad.

He claims the other clubs likewise will be better, but maybe that's just caution, besides the old standbys, the Bears are looking for plenty of help from such guys as Bob Etnimore of Oklahoma A. and M., Eddie Ajen of Pen. Bill Miller and Ernie Knotts, Duke Inmen and Reid Moseley of Georgia, says Luke.

By the way, wonder if it was a typographical mistake when he mentioned the Los Angeles "Tums"? The pro golfers are grinding their teeth as well as those illegal clubs over the U. S. Open Championship.

Reports from St. Louis say the boys are peeved over high caddy fees (though a winner never mincs tossing his club over $50) and because players' wives have to pay admission.

An Oiler Baseball Fan Writes the News -

The following letter has been received by Ralph M. Julliard, publisher of The News in connection with a recent article by the publisher about the radio coverage of baseball games. It was written by D. B. Hamrick, 930 So. Faulkner.

I appreciate your statement in yesterday's (June 1's) Pampa News, and wish to offer a few comments on the baseball situation.

As I have been an invalid for the past nine years, I do my ball playing by radio, and I'm fully convinced that the broadcasts create interest, therefore it will increase the gate toll. I know that my dad had not been to a ball game in more than 20 years until last year, when we began listening to the broadcasts last year. He was soon interested and attended every home game possible. Moreover, as he used to play on his home town team, he likes to talk baseball. I would listen, while he went, but we enjoyed talking it over afterward, also to our friends.

I know that the broadcasts gained several paid admissions that would never of went except they were first interested by radio.

This year is the same, I've been confined to room B-4 here in Pampa hospital since March 27, but can listen to radio. My dad again never thought much about baseball till he listened to game or two, now he don't miss a game if he can help it.

I am convinced that the same thing will happen to many other instances. Recently, though, when Pampa was at Clovis I asked him if he was going to see the coming Pampa Vs. Lubbock game, his reply was "I don't know. I've kind of lost interest since I can't keep up with their out of town games." He went, however, and took friends all three nights. He wouldn't be going at all if it hadn't been for the few broadcasts.

I listen to the Borger Gasser broadcasts now and it's OK, but would prefer to hear from the Pampa Oilers. Would sure appreciate it if Bob Bray could give us the low-down on these new players.

I'd like to say for Al Donaldson, if there's a better announcer anywhere, I'd like to hear him, and I don't believe he can be beat at all on giving those wire reports. Also, I appreciate the pinch-hitting of Mr. Walthour, but hope the boys have took up a collection by now and purchased him a full set of "teeth." I don't have an education either, but do have good teeth. (Ed's note: Prompted by one of Walthour's own jokes of a few weeks ago.)

I can't write all I could say, but feel sure that Mr. Edmondson is

Wide Rift Is Seen in Pig State Loop Where Three Clubs Lead Pack Easily

Tracksters Move Into Dallas for 'Duel of Champs'

DALLAS—(P)—Track and field stars on the Southwest and Big Six Conferences start moving into Dallas today for the first annual meet between these two closely allied circuits.

There will be 71 runners, jumpers and throwers in all with 38 from the Big Six and 33 from the Southwest. The squads clash tomorrow night at Dal-Hi Stadium, home of Dallas High School athletes. This field boasts one of the best tracks in the South.

Those who have figured in the meet on the basis of best times and distances turned in by the athletes come up with the prediction that it will be a close battle. The Big Six has an apparent overwhelming superiority in the field events; the Southwest has both strength and depth in the dashes, hurdles, mile and two-mile. The Big Six seems destined to win the half-mile with the Southwest taking all places except first in the high jump.

The meet may depend upon how the mile relay comes out. In this event there will be all-star teams. Ervin Bildebeck, member of the great Texas A. and M. quartet, will be unable to compete, resulting in Monroe Northcutt of Texas substituting for him. The Big Six had similar trouble and its team will be made up of runners from Missouri and Oklahoma or Iowa State. First place only will count in the mile relay since there will be only two teams. It is difficult to figure which relay team should be favored because of the mixed make-ups. A. and M.'s team had a better time than Missouri's, which won the Big Six title.

Arkansas, Baylor, Rice, Texas and Texas A. and M. are contributing to the Southwest Conference's squad. From the Big Six will come stars from Iowa State, Kansas State, Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma and Nebraska.

The Southwest's athletes will come to town this afternoon, with the Arkansas athletes flying in. The Big Six aggregation arrives by train from Kansas City at 8:35 p. m. (CST), going immediately to the stadium for a workout.

There will be a luncheon for all the visiting tracksters and their coaches. The meet starts at 7:30 p. m.

Major Is Named Training Officer

AUSTIN—(P)—State Adjutant General K. L. Berry has announced the appointment and assignment of Major Lawrence Kelly of Marshall as plans and training officer, HQ, 14th Armored Infantry Battalion, 49th Armored Division.

Sports Defeat

rather gloomy for the Fort Worth Cats until Danny Ozark's homer with one man on in the eighth. Those were the last two runs of the night—but proved enough to give Fort Worth a one point win the series opener.

The Oklahoma City Indians, at the bottom of the loop, got a spanking in the first game of a short series at Beaumont. Burton Barklew shutout the Indians on seven scattered hits to give the home club the game. Frank Shone homered in the fourth inning to deliver Beaumont's first score.

The same schedule will be followed tonight.

Stars to Tee Off in Golf's Biggest Show

ST. LOUIS—(P)—They tee off today in golfdom's most grandiose show, the 47th United States Golf Association Open with South African Bobby Locke slightly favored to mow down 165 tense rivals on the short but deceptive St. Louis Country Club course.

Little 150-pound Lloyd Mangrum was defending his title in the 72-hole blue ribbon scramble, but the fellow to beat obviously was the red-hot importation from Johannesburg, South Africa. Arthur D'arcy (Bobby) Locke.

Cloudy weather with occasional thundershowers was predicted as the Phalanx of golf's big and little shots swarmed over the snug, narrow par-71 course which has plenty of trouble lurking in a 6,332-yard meander.

Locke, 29, winner of $8,437 and four titles in seven U. S. meets within two months, was the favorite although Mangrum, leading P. G. A. money winner, Jimmy Demaret and Ben Hogan also got respectable nods from the bet makers.

The quest for a slice of a $10,000 purse (for professionals) and the tradition steeped championship call for 18 holes today and tomorrow, when the field will be trimmed to 60, and a 36-hole windup Saturday.

Waco Veterans Demand Low-Cost Homesites

WACO—(P)—A Veterans of Foreign Wars resolution demanding the division of Rich Field, former municipal airport, into low-cost homesites for ex-service men will be considered by city aldermen at a meeting here Tuesday.

The veterans estimated that the 268-acre tract could be divided into at least 800 building lots which could sell for less than $100 each.

The Associated Press is entitled exclusively to the use for republication of all the local news printed in this newspaper, as well as all AP news dispatches. Entered as second class matter at the post office at Pampa, Texas, under the Act of March 3rd, 1879.

“Twas Him!”
During the declining days of the Boss Tweed regime newspaper readers were chuckling over an editorial cartoon depicting Tweed and his henchmen standing in a huge circle, shoulder to shoulder. They were being asked which was guilty of crookedness, fraud and dishonesty. Each of the men was pointing to the next one to him and all of them answered in one voice:

“Twas him!”
With a few modifications, that cartoon would be appropriate today. Instead of accusing them of fraud in office, which of them is guilty of seeking class legislation. The answer would be the same: “Twas him!”
The strange thing about class legislation is its resemblance to our old friend Anyface. It is all things to all men. To those seeking it, it's “for the general welfare.” Always. It is excused on the same grounds we plugged through some of the early New Deal legislation where “pump priming” was the answer to everything—subsidies, plowing under, inflating currency, paying bonuses for work not performed and goods not produced.

Every pressure group has the same cry: “Our boys must prosper or the whole economy will be sick.”
On that basis the federal and state treasury is an immense slush fund. The only rule is to get there fastest with the mostest and carry away the spoils before some other bunch makes off with the loot.
It is difficult to name a group which is not subsidized by the government. Some get outright grants of money, others are given grants in lower and special privilege. Immigration laws, tariffs, subsidies, graduated income tax rates—all of these are outright subsidization of particular groups. And for each of these subsidies, another group and perhaps the general welfare is penalized.

Even pressure groups are scandalized when they find out they are paying out good money to subsidize another group. The farmers are indignant when they subsidize manufacturers—which, of course, they do—and the businessmen object to subsidizing agriculture, which they do.
Newspapers are subsidized by both groups because of the second class mailing permit system. The lazy and shiftless are subsidized by the industrious. The successful are subsidizing the unsuccessful.
The remarkable thing about legislation is that we all oppose it. We all believe it to be wrong. Who, then, is guilty of promulgating the whole thing?
Simple. “Twas him!”

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Golly, I see that a man in Switzerland stuck skewers through his vital organs and then ran happily around in front of a group of doctors to show that he wasn't hurt a bit! He explained that he could turn himself into a human shish kebap without any damage because he didn't really exist.
Wouldn't it be wonderful if we could all learn Gracie's trick of not existing? Think how handy it would be when income tax payments are due and we could tell the collector that we were only optical illusions. Or we could stop existing when unexpected callers drop in at night and catch us in our bathrobe or when mothers with homely children ask us what we think of the little darlings.
Well, it proves the human race is getting tougher all the time. After years spent fighting with landlords and butchers, there's no reason why a few puny skewers should bother us!

Many municipalities and home owners have testified before several Congressional Committees that they want these cheaper fuels, if only as a safeguard against periodic coal strikes called by the United Mine Workers boss.

POSTPONE—The railroads, which obtain rich revenue from hauling Pennsylvania, Kentucky and West Virginia coal, have joined with Mr. Lewis in urging the FPC and Congress to check the advance of these competitive fuels.
FPC Chairman Nelson Lee Smith, New Hampshire New Dealer, has asked the Senate Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee, on which Senator Moore swings a big stick, to postpone any legislation until his agency has completed its investigation of the natural gas industry. He is strongly opposed to the Moore-Rixley measures.

DECEASED—The legislative struggle is only a part of the current showdown among the groups which heat our homes, propel our automobiles and run our factories. It is involved with President Truman's appointment of Burton N. Behling as vice chairman of the Federal Power Commission.
On a recent trip to Washington, Mr. Kerr urged senatorial friends on Capitol Hill—and he is a popular political figure—to vote for confirmation “in order to insure a continued liberal administration of FPC.” He urged that the commission would be in able hands with the membership of Chairman Smith, Vice-Chairman Behling and Harlington Wimberly.

LOOK—It so happens that Mr. Wimberly is also a Kerr man. He was Democratic State Chairman of Oklahoma during Mr. Kerr's gubernatorial regime, and obtained his present post through the former Governor's support.
G.O.P.-ers don't relish the idea of such a powerful Democrat dominating an agency whose policies may affect the politics of the great oil-producing states. That is why they have set out to block confirmation of Mr. Behling and to strip the authority of the commission.

STRATEGIC—Incidentally, the Behling nomination has precipitated an intra-party scrap among the Republicans.
The appointment was mistakenly referred to the Senate Public Works Committee for consideration, instead of to the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee.
As a member of the latter body, Senator Moore would be in a more strategic position to block favorable action. Head of the Public Works group is Senator Chapman Revere of West Virginia.
Two other Republicans from coal-mining areas serve on the Revercomb Committee, while there is only one lone Democrat from a coal-mining area—Francis J. Myers of Pennsylvania—on Mr. Moore's committee.

Pensions, Labor Unions, Progressive Taxation Bring On Fiat Money
It is foolish to try to resist higher prices and fiat money. Fiat money and high prices are the inevitable result of people believing in pensions, labor unions, progressive taxation, minimum wages etc. Fiat money is the necessary sequence of these acts.

Money is a measure of the law of action and reaction. When people believe that an employer or the government can pension men and pay men when they are not producing anything, the employer does not even know his cost. The government cannot then tax people in proportion to the cost of the service rendered.
And when people believe that wages can be raised by labor monopolies limiting production, the only protection those people outside of labor unions and who are being robbed have is to give these labor union workers money that does not buy as much. And when people believe that each and every individual need not pay to the cost of the support of the government in proportion as he uses the government—that is in proportion as he has property protected—and that the rich will pay the bills for the masses, then it is only a question of time until we get fiat money. Then it is only a question of time until the government cannot pay its bills, until the government cannot either tax enough or borrow enough money to meet its obligations, then it begins to print money or directly print fiat money or to change the gold content of the dollar in order to get money to spend.

And we have had all of these things—pensions and labor unions and minimum wages and progressive taxation which are bound to bring on fiat or counterfeit money. Yet we are trying to stop by artificial laws price increases in this fiat money.

This fiat money costs very little to produce. It is just as easy for the government to print a one thousand dollar bill as it is to print a one hundred dollar bill. It takes no more labor or paper. It is just as easy for the government to print a one thousand dollar bill as it is to print a one dollar bill and of course when “money” can be created so easily, it will be created instead of real wealth so long as it can be traded for real wealth with less energy to produce the money than the wealth.
Yes, pensions, social security, minimum wages, labor unions progressive taxation are the incubators, the seeds that are bound to grow into money that will buy less and less and less and less as time goes on.

'How Now, Hecate' Is Premiered at Dallas

DALLAS (AP)—“How Now, Hecate,” a play by Marty Coleman, was well received in its world premiere here last night. The play was the second production in the summer repertory season of theatre 47 and was directed by Margo Jones.
The numerous production deals with the predicament of an author who writes about the ignorance of superstition and who finds in his consternation, that witchcraft really works.

The all-New York cast included Geoffrey Lumsden who played the author; Margo Ann Deighton, who experimented quite successfully with sorcery; Carol Godner; Raymond van Sickle and Betty Greene Little. Coleman, a native Englishman, has been working recently in Hollywood and New York. “How Now, Hecate,” is his second play.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
FUEL—President Truman stepped into the middle of a blazing economic and political controversy involving coal, oil, gas and railroad interests when he warned of the depletion of our natural resources, especially fuels, in his recent Kansas City address.
In fact, he poured all varieties of fuel on the fire, which has stirred middle west and northeast, when he highlighted sporadic shortages of petroleum today. Obedient though, he gave comfort to his old enemy, John L. Lewis who wants no competitive product to narrow the markets for anthracite and bituminous.

CONFLICT—Ralph K. Davies, wartime fuel czar under Harold L. Ickes, sharpened the conflict with the somewhat casual but premonitory suggestion that the United States might have to return to a system of oil-and-gas rationing on the eve of what promises to be the greatest, see-America, vacation summer in history.
The battle has human interest because it arrays two powerful oilmen and politicians against each other. They are Senator E. H. Moore, Oklahoma Republican, and ex-Governor Robert S. Kerr of that state, Democratic National Committeeman and 1944 convention keynoter.

Mr. Kerr is expected to oppose Senator Moore in next fall's elections, and one of the backstage charges against the former Governor is that he aims to control the Federal Power Commission for personal and political reasons. He seems to exert considerable influence with President Truman and National Chairman Robert E. Hannegan.

FPC—Senator Moore and Representative Ross Rixley, another Oklahoma man and a member of the influential Rules Committee, have read measures designed to redefine and clip the authority of the Federal Power Commission. They charge that this agency is exceeding its power by seeking to determine questions involving the production and the “end use” of oil and natural gas.
The Moore-Rixley faction want a completely free market at both ends of the oil-natural gas line. They insist that the FPC enjoys no jurisdiction over production methods or quotas, or how these products shall be used by consumers.

BALTIC UNDERGROUND

By Upton Close
Hungary is going the way of the Baltic states. Like the stubborn Latvians, Lithuanians and Estonians, and the Poles, the Hungarians have resisted every step in the Communist invasion of their country.
Also like the Balts and Poles, the Hungarians are largely Christian, predominantly Catholic—which is sufficient reason for the dogged determination of the Soviet haters to destroy them.
With the principal members of Premier Nagy's cabinet running for safety across the western border and the Small Holder's Party virtually smashed, the Red army and secret police will now proceed to take control of police establishments throughout the Hungary. The usual pattern will be to charge non-Communist peace officers with any sort of crime, and ship them to slave labor camps. They will be replaced by indoctrinated collaborators largely under Soviet supervision.
Likewise the Hungarian army will be taken over, its anti-Communist officers liquidated and replaced by Reds, including Soviet citizens; the soldier personnel will progressively be indoctrinated or replaced by partisans.
As these jobs are accomplished the factories and merchandise establishments will be taken over. Banks already have been placed under a Red Star. Prominent “bourgeois” property holders and civic leaders will be removed from the scene.
At least, this was the pattern of development in the Baltic states; and Poland, and to some extent in other “liberated” areas.
Band Outwit Invaders
The rural areas of Hungary may be expected to fare better than the cities. Russia is in desperate need of food—the only regime doubtless will disturb the peasants no more than is necessary for control of crops and property. Taking advantage of this situation, the peasants no doubt will organize resistance groups.
This is precisely what happened in the three Baltic states. The cities have lost tens of thousands of families to slave labor camps in Siberia, their homes now occupied largely by transplanted Asians, who in some instances even adopt the names of the departing Baltic families.
It is not generally known in Africa today that the Balts have a highly organized underground which is so successful in harassing the occupying Communist forces that they make it unsafe for Soviet agents in rural areas except when heavily guarded. Lithuanian language newspapers in the United States frequently publish communications from this battlefield.
Bands operate from forests and remote areas. They arm themselves by wrecking and looting Red ammunition and provision trains. When a punitive expedition starts out after them, the warning travel swiftly—often by radio but sometimes by the ancient grapevine, because the countryside is about 99 percent cooperative. Inventor Says Arid Lands Of West Can Be Made Green Giraffes, when their food is juicy, can do without water almost as long as a camel.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dr. Lytle S. Adams says the arid lands of the west could be made green without irrigation through air sowing of seed pelleted with fertilizer, insecticide and other chemicals.

He estimates that use of pellets lowers the amount of seed required by 90 percent and in row crops saves the grower $14 or $15 an acre by reducing or eliminating thinning.

Already, he says, Australia, New Zealand, Chile and Argentina are negotiating to apply the new method to their deserts.

Adams, a retired Seattle dentist, developed the seed and the planting method. He persuaded the Interior Department to give his invention a trial on more than 50,000 acres of arid Indian lands in Arizona.

In Texas, he has air-planting more than 10,000 acres for private owners.

"We think we've got something, but we don't want to go out on a limb and say it's wonderful," says Edward N. Kavanagh, director of Soil and Moisture Conservation of the Interior Department.

"Time alone will tell. We should have a better idea this summer as to the results of the seeding of 10,000 acres of the Papago Reservation (near Sells, Ariz.) that was done in June, 1946. That seeding was followed by one of the wettest rainy seasons on record, and the seeded grass looked pretty good. There's an extreme drought in the area now, and the real test is under way."

At Tucson, Ariz., Joel Eugene Fletcher, Agriculture Department soil technologist, says air sowing with pelleted seed on the Papago Reservation had met with some success, but adds that "the method doesn't come anywhere near comparing with some of the other methods which cost about the same."

Adams counters that on a part of the Papago Reservation barren when it was seeded a year ago, there were eight bunches of grass per square rod by October. Thirty days later, he says, the plants had more than doubled although the region had not had 10 inches of rain since June.

Adams developed the pea-sized pellets he now employs. They contain husked seed, fertilizer, insect and rodent repellents and soil chemicals which may be lacking. At the first touch of rain the pellet dissolves, and the milled seed germinates, much more swiftly than does seed protected by its hull.

"In the Southwest," he says, "we have principally used Lehmann's live grass a palatable, hardy import from South Africa. Castle seed, it gains two pounds a day. It will grow with less than 10 inches of rain a year."

Normally at least 15 inches of annual rain is required for minimum storage.

In air seeding, the pellets are dropped on a pattern of one to a square foot. Each pellet contains a pair or a dozen or more seeds of a single or several grass varieties. Adams says there is a considerable saving in fertilizer, since all that is needed is clustered about the seed.

Secretary of Interior Krug, in his 1947 report to the President, said: "Re-seeding of grazing lands can be speeded up and also be done most economically by plane."

"The cost of seeding by this method is about $2 an acre, compared to $4 for seeding with ordinary farm machinery."

As I See It--

By Sam Lewis Veitch

WASHINGTON, D. C. — The House Labor Committee last week made news by declaring that a 76-day strike at the Allis-Chalmers plant in 1941 was engineered by one Harold Christoffel at the direction of the Communist Party. The grounds the committee used in making their charge were findings of fact, conclusions, and recommendations of a subcommittee which they had appointed to study the strike and its causes. The Labor Committee said that they had adopted the report and its accompanying statements from the subcommittee.

"They said that the reason for calling the strike in that year was neither the U. S. nor Russia was at war, was that Russia and Germany had a non-aggression pact, and the Allis plant was producing navy equipment for use in fighting against Germany by our allies. Russia thought this was 'imperialism' on our part, and she directed the Allis strike which was dutifully called by Mr. Christoffel, then president of Local 248, United Automobile Workers, CIO."

The whole investigation grew out of a hearing held here in Washington the first part of March, during which Mr. Christoffel and Mr. Robert Buse, now president of Local 248, both denied that they were members of the Communist Party or even a somewhat lesser degree of sympathizers referred to as "Communists." The report by the committee said that there was conclusive evidence that both had willfully and feloniously testified at that time.

Perhaps it should be made clear that, while the 1941 strike was clearly marked out as being Communist-inspired, there is no effort made to do the same with the more recent and longer 329-day strike directed by Mr. Buse. That strike was still in progress at the time the investigation was made, but since there were no "witness" materials involved, the committee did not bother to include it in their study.

Citing as further evidence of the guilt of Mr. Christoffel in calling the strike, the report said that James Forrestal, Secretary of the Navy, made a statement in 1942 that the strike led by Christoffel had slowed down the cruiser and destroyer construction program. At the time the report was made, Allis had $45 million dollars in defense orders. The plant was singled out by the Communist Party, said the report, as a "focal point" because of its Navy work.

The charges then grew more serious, as the committee endeavored to link the actions of Christoffel and his pals of the Pearl Harbor attack on Hawaii. They said that it was impossible to say in dollars and cents and human lives what the extent of the cost to this country had been when Christoffel "betrayed his country, his employer and his fellow workers."

Meanwhile, Mr. Christoffel's successor at Local 248, Mr. Buse, said that he wasn't worried at all by the report, and charged it was all engineered by the Company in its effort to "smash our union." Both Buse and Christoffel were fired by the Company, along with about 100 others, when the union voted late in March to return to work without a contract. The have filed an appeal before the National Labor Relations Board over the firing, but it hasn't come up for action yet.

Farmers will be more than usually interested in the progress of these charges as they are handled by the Department of Justice for the Committee, since Allis is one of the major builders of farm equipment, farmers of the country because of the more recent strike, and most farmers will be interested to see if there was a connection between the two strikes.

It is hard for us here at home to comprehend the degree to which we are not comprehended but are misrepresented abroad. — Secretary of State Marshall.

New State Award Schedule in 4-H Program Given

Here's good news for 4-H Club members in Texas.

An all-expense trip to the National 4-H Club Convention in Chicago is now provided for the state winner in the 1947 4-H Farm Safety Program. Formerly only sectional winners received trip awards. There will be no sectional recognition this year. This change increases the possible number of Chicago trip winners in 4-H safety from 16 to 46.

Last year's state winner in Texas was Billy Preston Hancock of Lakeview, who received a $25 U. S. Savings Bond.

Medals of honor for a maximum of five members in each participating county, and a special plaque also provided by General Motors to the county reporting the most outstanding 4-H safety program in the state this year, will be awarded as in the past.

In 1946, county winners were named in Austin, Bowie, Brazos, Cass, Castro, Chambers, Clay, Coleman, Comal, Cooke, Cottle-King, Dallas, Dawson, Delta, Denton, Eastland, Fayette, Fort Bend, Freestone, Frio, Garza, Grimes, Hale, Hall, Harris, Haskell, Hockley, Hood, Howard, Hunt, Jones, Lamar, Lavaca, Lynn, Montgomery, Moore, Nolan, Nolan, Palo Pinto, Parker, Polk, Red River, Shackelford, Rains, Sabine, San Saba, Somervell, Taylor, Throckmorton, Walker, Wilson, Wood, Atascosa, Potter, Tyler, Waller and Wharton Counties.

Taylor County received the merit plaque last year.

This is the fifth consecutive year of the activity, which is influencing a steadily increasing number of rural people in becoming safety minded.

This program is conducted under the direction of the State Agricultural College Extension Service.

Interest in Learning Good Crop Methods Is Increasing Among 4-H

Seventy-nine counties in Texas named medal winners in the 1946 National 4-H Field Crops awards program, as compared with thirty-five in the preceding year. The nation-wide total last year was 380 counties in 43 states, as compared with 733 in 42 states in 1945. Forty-four states are taking part in the program this year. G. L. Noble, director, National Committee on Boys and Girls Club work, has announced.

"These gains reflect the growing interest among farm youth in learning efficient crop production methods," Noble stated. "By taking part in the 4-H field crops program, they also receive special training in selection of seed and the most proficient use of available farm machinery."

In addition to county recognition of superior records in 4-H crop production, awards are provided by International Harvester on state and national levels. The state winner receives an educational trip to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago. Four state winners are selected for national honors, each receiving a $200.00 Fowler McCormick scholarship.

Last year's state winner in Texas was Harris Hill of Garland, who also won the national award.

The program is being conducted under the direction of the State Agricultural College Extension Service for the third consecutive year. County extension agents will furnish complete information.

SPROUTLESS POTATOES

It has long been known that potatoes do less sprouting if mixed with apples in a bin, writes G. B. Swanson in Capper's Farmer, The Farmers' explanation: Apples give off ethylene gas, which retards sprouting. A new synthetic acid is now available in powdered and liquid form which will take the place of apples. By dusting less than a quarter teaspoon of the powder in a bag of potatoes in August, you can be assured of sproutless potatoes until the following May.

Farm Land Boom May Be at Peak

NEW YORK—(AP)—Farm land sales have slackened almost everywhere, bringing predictions of an end of a boom in progress since 1929.

President Truman has asked Secretary of Agriculture Anderson to call a conference of government agencies and farm organizations very soon to develop a program for "discouraging further inflation in farm real estate prices."

Farm land prices are now 92 percent higher than in 1939. The first World War brought a rise of only 70 percent from the 1912-14 average to 1920.

Actual prices, however, are now still 6.5 percent lower than in 1920, because the 1939 level was below the 1912-14 average.

Recent surveys disclose that buyers have become increasingly reluctant to pay asking prices.

The tobacco state has shown the greatest inflationary trend. Kentucky farm lands are offered at 147 percent above normal, highest in the nation. Massachusetts, up 28 points, is the lowest.

Virginia, Tennessee, North Carolina, and South Carolina prices all range between 123 and 137 percent above 1939 levels. Pacific Coast states average increase of 98 percent, and Midwest prices are up 63 percent.

In Hollywood

BY ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent
(Johnson on KPBN Monday thru Friday, 5 p.m.)
HOLLYWOOD—Happy endings in the movies, says a famous feminine psychiatrist, are a hoax. I agree with the lady, whose name is Frieda Fromm-Reichmann.
Movies and stories that end with a happy closeup of a just-married couple give false education, which too many people unfortunately believe.
She went on to say that these movies give the idea that everything is going to be beer and skittles from then on for the couple. I'd like to draw a difference.

though, between the movies and the printed stories. When the wife reads a story, she knows it is fiction—printed entertainment, and to some extent, she accepts it as fiction.
But the trip to the movie theater is something else again. Here's what happens.
RUDE AWAKENING
After dinner the Mrs. talks the man of the house into going to a romantic movie. She knows it's just a movie when she goes in. And so does he. But after 20 minutes they are lost in the drama on the screen.
She is being made love to by the handsome hero. He fancies himself holding that luscious leading lady in his arms.
They go home without talking very much, still lost in their dream worlds.

Yes, it's a rather rude awakening. For a moment she wonders why hubby can't look like Robert Taylor. And he compares her to Hedy Lamarr.
Both forget, of course, that it took four weeks to six months with hundreds of workmen and the undivided attention of a couple of expert make-up men to cast that dream-world on the screen for its hour and 30 minutes.
JUST SUGAR-COATED
The movie ended happily. That's commercial.
But the daily life of Mr. and Mrs. America is matter of fact. There are troubles and adjustments. He is not always as kind as the hero of the picture. He's too tired.
Besides, he didn't get a chance to rehearse it a dozen times with memorized lines. His wife blames him, nevertheless, because she compares the way their day winds up to the glamorous clinch at the end of the movie.

Yes, I'm inclined to agree with the psychiatrist. Happy endings in motion pictures are a hoax.
They are misleading and dangerous unless they are taken for exactly what they are—rehearsed, fictionalized, sugar-coated, entertainment.
It would be interesting to see what an experiment in real life dramas might draw at the box office. The English pictures have made a stab in that direction, with considerable success. We have had some stories about real, little people come from Hollywood studios, too, but we may need more of them.
