

U.S. Nearing Success In New Missiles

By C. YATES McDANIEL
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—The United States is reported today to be nearing the "pay-off stage" in developing atomic missiles that can be guided from this continent to the heart of Communist Russia.

A Defense official said: "We are today at the pay-off stage in the development of the missile art that far exceeds anything anybody known to me has yet done."

Difficult problems remain to be solved, but the official's words indicated that great advances have been achieved toward fashioning projectiles that can span the space between the hemispheres. One type is a rocket which would attain an early burst of speed of about 9,000 miles per hour, to drop like a bullet behind the Iron Curtain.

The other advanced type of inter-continental missile is jet-powered, travelling more slowly, but built-in guidance mechanisms capable of taking bearings from the stars.

The missiles men say that the accuracy of strategic weapons should be such that half of those launched should explode their devastating nuclear loads within a target circle of no more than 20 miles in diameter.

Guided missiles are already in the nation's combat arsenal, but American defense engineers say none with a range of 5,000 miles will be fired, even in tests, until they are accurate enough to deliver a payload with a fair probability of accuracy.

To achieve this degree of accuracy, the scientists are developing more effective propulsion, for both rockets and jet missiles. They are simultaneously pushing the refinement of mechanisms to teach the missiles' electronic brains precisely how to find their way to their targets.

Officials say equal emphasis is going into the job of protecting the United States against the missile threat from Russia. Already, the experts say, no enemy bomber could approach in Washington without coming within the destructive range of Nike anti-aircraft missiles with which the Army is ringing the nation's capital. But there is still no guarantee that all of the enemy raiders would be knocked down.

Evidence that the United States is well along in the development of such truly intercontinental weapons is contained in the technical and diplomatic work going into completion of the test range extending 5,000 miles from Banana River, Fla., to British-held Ascension Island in the South Atlantic Ocean.

Grand Jury Is To Be Impaneled

Judge Charlie Sullivan Monday will impanel the grand jury for the January term of 118th District Court.

He also will call the docket for the setting of civil cases for trial during the term.

Twenty men have been summoned for grand jury service. The group is to report to the district courtroom at 10 a.m.

District Attorney Gullford Jones said approximately 30 criminal charges will be investigated by the panel. Cases to be investigated include charges of murder, filed against A. C. Cooper following the shotgun death of Jessie Warren on Jan. 8; charges of attempted rape filed against David Benefield after a disturbance in which a nurse was injured at the Webb Air Force Base Hospital Dec. 21; and charges of narcotics possession, lodged against Robert Morales last week.

Also to be investigated are the attempted robbery charges against Ronald Beck, Robert O. Bowen and Francis Cain, Webb airmen arrested following an effort to hold up Brown's Trading Post No. 2 on Dec. 18.

The agenda for the grand jury session lists four worthless check charges; four charges of assault with intent to murder; four charges of second offense drunken driving; three cases of forgery; two robbery charges; burglary, theft, and perjury cases, Jones said.

Summons for grand jury service have been: Brooks G. Bedell, G. L. Broughton, J. W. Bennett, G. L. Brooks, Glenn Cantrell, Roy Cornelson, Clifton L. Cook, U. S. Dalmont, Gladys Duling, Cecil Leatherwood, W. C. Carroll, T. M. Dunagan, Wayne Monroy, C. D. Read, Donald Lay, Ed Carpenter, R. A. Merrick, R. R. Yancey, Dewey Stewart and Edgar Phillips.

Bullet Fragments Might Be Left In C-City Boy's Head

COLORADO CITY — Johnny Joe Brown, Colorado City 12-year-old, was still under observation Tuesday at Lubbock hospital Saturday night, according to his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Wiggins of Colorado City.

The youth was injured Wednesday night when his little brother, Dwight, 4, playfully aimed a rifle and pulled the trigger. The supposedly empty gun fired and sent a .22-caliber bullet through the side of Johnny's head and into a mirror on the opposite wall.

The bullet left tiny fragments of lead inside the skull, one in or near the brain and others just under the skin of Johnny's neck, Wiggins said.

Johnny was rushed to a brain specialist at Lubbock where he has been under observation with the possibility of surgery to remove the largest bullet fragment. His physician hesitated to operate because of the possibility of further damage and the small bits of lead may be left permanently.

The youth is cheerful and able to talk, his grandparents said.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll J. Brown, his parents, and their three small children, are in Lubbock pending further developments.

Water District Slates Exclusion Hearing Monday

COAHOMA (SC) — Directors of the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District will hold an exclusion hearing at 10 a. m. Monday at the Coahoma City Hall.

The hearing is preliminary to the calling of an election to determine if the district shall be permitted to issue bonds, proceeds to be used for construction of water supply facilities. It is expected that such an election will be called in the next few weeks.

The exclusion hearing is for the purpose of permitting owners of property within the district to ask that their holdings be excluded. The district covers 12 square miles, including Coahoma, Sand Springs and Midway. It was created for the purpose of providing the area with a suitable supply of water. The district has considered the possibility of purchasing treated water from the City of Big Spring for distribution to residents. It has been estimated that facilities can be provided for $150,000.

Senators Propose Panel To Aid Aged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Sen. Potter (R-Mich) and 34 other senators proposed today that a commission be set up to gather information on the problems of old people.

The 10-member "Commission on the Aging and the Aged" would be empowered to make recommendations on what can be done about such things as jobs, income, health, housing and use of leisure time.

Rising Waters Invade Famous Paris Cathedral

PARIS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Rising flood waters of the river Seine washed into the crypt of Notre Dame Cathedral and forced curators at the Louvre to remove some of their priceless art treasures to safety on upper floors today.

With a light rain still falling and the flood crest not yet reached, the government ordered all troops and police in the Paris area to stand by on an emergency basis.

More than 1,000 army engineers, equipped with self-propelled barges, motorboats, two-way field radios and searchlights came into the area for rescue work.

Some 3,000 persons already had been moved from homes in low areas of three departments in the metropolitan area and volunteer groups of students worked sandbags and manned posts to help rescue people from flooded homes.

The U. S. air base at Chateauroux sent several plane loads of blankets, food packages and portable rafts to the French capital.

Thousands of anxious Parisians lined the banks of the river as the water swirled dangerously near the top of retaining stone parapets and officials gloomily predicted there was worse to come.

The special flood service of the Public Works Ministry warned that the peak of the flood would come Monday and would be slightly above earlier predictions. Heavy rain along the upper course of the river today caused them to revise their estimate. They now forecast a crest of around 24 1/2 feet. That would exceed the mark of 1924.

Although central Paris is not yet too badly affected, there is considerable anxiety among those living in low-lying Left Bank areas, which are actually below river level, if the retaining walls should be breached.

In the big industrial suburbs of Vitry, Ivry, Gennevilliers Anieres and Boulogne — Billancourt, the situation is already serious. Hundreds have had to be removed from their homes and a number of factories, including part of the big nationalized Renault motor works, have been forced to close.

The main danger to Paris now seems to come from the Marne, which is in equally high flood. A dam protecting the port of Creteil at St. Maur, some miles east of Paris, burst early today. Within an hour, most of the two little towns were under water. One hundred and fifty police were rushed from Paris to evacuate 1,000 inhabitants. They soon had to change their cars for boats.

MAIL ORDER ROMANCE NOT FOR BEAUTY

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Jan. 22 (AP)—Miss North Carolina has a date to get married in February—a date she isn't particularly anxious to keep.

Seems a poor but law-abiding Texas farmer wrote her, declaring his love and offering to come to see her with matrimony as his objective.

The state's beauty queen, who as Miss Betty Jo Ring teaches at Lexington High School, showed the letter to an English teacher who read it to her class.

Later a couple of students wrote the man, signing Miss Ring's name. In it they set a date in late February.

"But I'm married to this job," wailed Miss Ring, learning of the trick.

MAY REVISE POLICY

MOSCOW, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Soviet Union has called home its top-ranking diplomats from Western capitals for what is believed to be a comprehensive review and possible revisions of the Kremlin's policy in those areas.

Either here or en route are ambassadors Jacob Malik from London, Georgi Zarubin from Washington, Sergei Vinogradov from Paris and Georgi Pushkin from Berlin. They are members of the Foreign Ministry's policy-making board.

The last time the ambassadors from important Western capitals assembled in Moscow was immediately after Stalin's death in 1953. A "relaxation of world tension" policy was initiated shortly thereafter.

Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov and his deputies have been making every effort to prevent Western ratification of the Paris agreements on rearming West Germany and integrating that country into the Western defense system. A stream of diplomatic notes and statements has been pouring from the skyscraper Foreign Ministry building; there have been public meetings, news conferences and a nonstop series of newspaper articles on the subject.

An earlier campaign was aimed primarily at France, but France ignored it and went ahead with ratification. Now Moscow is directing its efforts toward West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer's government and the people of West and East Germany. The basis of this approach is the Soviet Union's warning that a tense military situation will be created by ratification of the agreements, while West German rejection could result in reunification of Germany.

Western diplomats in Moscow believe Molotov wants a first-hand report from his trusted representatives abroad on what move might work now and also wants to discuss with them the next phase of Soviet policy if ratification of the Paris agreements goes through anyway.

Attempt To Trap Caller In Car Bomb Death Fails

SAN ANGELO, Tex., Jan. 22 (AP)—An attempt at Ardmore, Okla., to trap a man who phoned Harry E. Weaver that he would send him a picture of his wife's killer for $3,000 failed today.

Ardmore Police Chief Hubert Bartlett said that officers watched the post office until it closed at noon but no arrest was made.

Bartlett said he was checking on the possibility of the caller being a service man formerly stationed at Goodfellow Air Force Base at San Angelo and now at Ardmore Air Force Base.

The caller warned Weaver that his life was in danger if he told police about the call he received yesterday about 3:20 p. m. at the home of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ralph Harris of San Angelo.

It was in the driveway of Mrs. Harris' home that Mrs. Weaver was killed Wednesday by a bomb placed in the car she was attempting to start.

The caller yesterday said that for $3,000 he would provide Weaver with information on the killer as well as a picture of him.

Weaver was instructed to send the money to general delivery, at Ardmore if possible before Monday. Attempting to stall the man, Weaver said he didn't have that much money on hand and the banks were closed.

However, he did tell the man he would send the money as soon as he could get it. Despite the threat, Weaver promptly informed police of the call and San Angelo officers alerted police in Ardmore.

The husband and other relatives of Mrs. Weaver testified before the grand jury today.

Meanwhile, the filing of Mrs. Weaver's will stated she already had made a settlement with her husband but left him considerable other property. The remainder of the large estate, not estimated exactly, was left to her two daughters.

The grand jury session lasted from about 9 a. m. until nearly 1 p. m.

First to testify was Weaver. Appearing composed, he entered the grand jury meeting at 9:10 a. m., remained about five minutes, then came out and went to another part of the building accompanied by his attorneys, Joe Foy and Earl Smith.

At 10:10 a. m. he returned to the jury room, remained a few minutes, then left.

These were the persons subpoenaed who testified in addition to Weaver:

H. H. Lamb, who operates a service station east of the Harris home where Mrs. Weaver was killed.

Mrs. Lamb.

Mrs. Beverley St. George Tucker, sister of Mrs. Weaver.

Special Message Planned Monday

By LEE GARRETT
WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—President Eisenhower will ask Congress in an extraordinary message Monday to support his plans for drawing a defense line in the Formosa area and holding it against Communist aggression.

The White House announced the move today but gave no details. Press secretary James C. Hagerty said the message will "clarify the purposes and application of United States policy in relation to the security of Formosa and ask for the support thereof by the Congress."

House Republican Leader Martin Mans' said in advance of the formal announcement he understood Eisenhower would ask authority to define and hold a line of U. S. defenses in the Far East.

Martin said he felt Eisenhower already has all the powers he needs, "but he wants the support of Congress so the world will know that in the defense of that area, America stands united."

Both Martin and Senate Republican Leader Knowland of California, who also discussed the message with Eisenhower, said they assured him of strong congressional support. Speaker Rayburn indicated the House would act almost immediately. He advised all members to be present "not later than Tuesday."

It was considered significant that Knowland, who has been pushing for a stronger policy in the Far East than the administration deems advisable, swung into line behind the Eisenhower move.

Knowland and others of his school of thought evidently were impressed that the government was moving to serve notice on all the world that, come what may, it is determined to keep Formosa, the Pescadores and areas vital to their defense out of the hands of the Communists.

However, implicit in the situation is another aspect which holds no great appeal to all-out backers of the Chinese Nationalist cause. This is that the administration apparently is seeking power to regroup the defense forces in the Formosa area and in the process, to abandon some islands off the Red China coast if that is deemed necessary.

This could mean, for example, part or complete evacuation of the Tachen islands if military developments dictate. However, administration officials contend any regrouping that took place would strengthen the defense of Formosa and the Pescadores.

Today's action followed a comment by Rep. Richards (D-SC), chairman of the House Foreign Affairs Committee, that there should be no "appeasement, fear or weakness" in this country's Formosa policy.

Russia and Red China must be made to understand, he said in an interview, that "if new lines are established as the best military perimeter for the defense of Formosa, we will defend it, by arms if necessary, and retreat no farther."

"It would risk a shooting war," he added, "but we run a far greater risk the other way."

Ships Head For Formosa Strait

By SPENCER MOOSA
TAIPEH, Formosa, Sunday, Jan. 23 (AP)—Departure of a task force of three U. S. carriers with destroyers from Manila and sudden sailing of the U. S. 7th Fleet flagship from Hong Kong added fuel today to the fires of speculation on Formosan strategy.

But it was apparent here that Nationalist opinion is stiffening against any idea of quitting the bomb-battered Tachens and other outpost islands without a fight.

First official comment from the admittedly disturbed Philippines also favored defense of the outposts against Red Chinese invaders.

Recent reports that U. S. warships might have to help evacuate Chiang's troops from some outpost islands, such as the 20,000 in the Tachens, seem to focus interest on the warship movements.

Three 33,000-ton U. S. aircraft carriers — Essex, Yorktown and Kearsarge—headed north from the Philippines Friday. At Pearl Harbor, a Navy official said presumably at least 12 destroyers accompanied them.

Vice Adm. Alfred M. Pride, whose U. S. 7th Fleet is committed to defend Formosa and the Pescadores, sailed suddenly from Hong Kong Saturday on his flagship, the cruiser Helena, presumably for Formosa Strait.

Nationalist Premier O. K. Yui told newsmen Saturday his government "firmly opposed" any idea of withdrawing from the Tachens.

Nationalist war planes bombed Yikiangshan Friday night and Saturday for the first time since its 720 guerrilla defenders were overwhelmed by a Red invading force. The raiding planes ran into anti-aircraft fire.

Nationalist air force headquarters also reported damaging air attacks on Red shipping 16 miles southwest and 13 miles northwest of the Tachens.

Arab Premiers Open Meeting On Defense

CAIRO, Egypt, Jan. 22 (AP)—The premiers of five Arab states opened a conference on Middle East defense tonight and sent a new invitation to Iraq's Nuri Said to join the talks.

Earlier in the week Nuri sent word he was too ill to attend. But Arab diplomats assumed his main reason for refusing to come was because of his reported anger at violent Egyptian attacks on the projected Iraqi-Turkish defense pact.

OPINIONS DIVIDED

By The Associated Press
Relatives of Americans imprisoned by Red China appeared yesterday to be looking somewhat more favorably on a Chinese offer to let them visit their loved ones.

One father who had been skeptical at first said the idea of a trip to China now "looks good."

Wives of two Air Force officers held prisoner said they would be more inclined to make the journey if they could go in a group along with other Americans.

The mother of another airman, who with her husband already has announced intention of going to China, said she hoped other Americans would accept the Chinese invitation because it might help bring about the release of those imprisoned.

However, relatives of others among the 17 Americans in prison continued to hold divided opinions on the matter.

It was the mother of Capt. Harold Fischer Jr., jet ace from Sweetwater, Iowa, who expressed hope that more kin of the prisoners would accept the Chinese offer.

Mrs. Fischer reaffirmed a previous announcement that she and her husband would fly to China as soon as they could make arrangements.

Then she added: "We believe the Chinese offer is made in complete good faith and I am not at all afraid of going in."

"I think all (relatives) should show a little confidence and more of a desire to make the trip."

Mrs. Fischer said she feels reaction to the invitation might well have a bearing on the release of the prisoners.

At Montgomery, Ala., Mrs. Wallace L. Brown and Mrs. John K. Arnold, wives of two Air Force officers, said they hadn't come to a final decision.

But they said they would be much more inclined to make the trip if they could go with a group of other Americans.

They expressed the feeling it would not be wise for them to go alone or in small groups.

At Omaha, W. G. Parks took a different view of the question after a visit from Canadian Squadron Leader A. R. (Andy) MacKenzie, who spent two years in a Chinese prison.

Parks previously had been somewhat skeptical of going to China, but after talking with MacKenzie said the idea "looks good."

Parks' son, Lt. Ronald Parks, was one of the men MacKenzie left behind when he was released by the Reds last Dec. 5.

MacKenzie said in an interview that if he were still a prisoner he would want his wife to take up the Chinese offer.

"The Chinese are great for personal contact," he said. "Back in prison we thought if some personal contact could be made it would facilitate our release."

MacKenzie said he had no fears for safety of American relatives. He said the Chinese would "go overboard to treat these people in the most gracious way possible."

MacKenzie is visiting relatives of other imprisoned Americans.

Legislative Activities Are Due To Speed Up Beginning Monday

By BO BYERS
AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—The Legislature will speed up next week. The Senate Labor Committee will meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday to set hearing dates on two restrictive labor bills by Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas.

One, to prevent strikes or picketing to force recognition of a union or to coerce employees to affiliate with the union, is in line with Gov. Shivers' labor recommendations.

Other bills responsive to the governor's suggestions also will begin moving.

Rep. Charles Murphy's proposal to raise the gasoline tax two cents a gallon is ready to be read to the House Monday. The first revenue-raising suggestion of the session, it will be referred to the Taxation Committee, where all tax bills must originate.

Murphy's bill, which would raise 60 million dollars a year, is Shivers' answer to the highway financing problem.

It would provide the added 45 million dollars yearly the governor wants spent on modernizing Texas roads.

The other 15 million would go to the public school fund, easing the strain on the state's general revenue fund.

Sharp opposition to increasing the gasoline sales tax has been indicated by many lawmakers.

Insurance hearings are scheduled in both the Senate and House Tuesday. Shivers has asked for stronger insurance laws. Some 17 firms were thrown into receivership in two years.

Solon Sees Failure For Bill Barring State Park Hotels

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Rep. J. H. Jackson, Atlanta, today predicted failure for a bill which would had off a proposed multi-million dollar hotel construction program in state parks.

The bill to which he referred is one by Rep. Ben Atwell, Hutchins, who said the measure is designed to keep from pledging the state's credit to such projects.

"The House killed the same bill in 1953, and I predict the same attitude will prevail this time," Jackson told a reporter.

"I believe the people of Texas and members of the Legislature appreciate the value of state parks even more now than they did two years ago.

"The more recreational facilities we can provide, the more people we will have visiting and appreciating Texas."

Jackson said he feels sure introduction of the bill by Atwell "will not delay in any way the Parks Board's plan to build lodges at Eisenhower State Park, Inks Lake and Atlanta State Park."

The Parks Board hopes to start construction of resort type lodges and tourist cabins at the three parks by July 1.

The board has agreed with two finance firms last Jan. 4 for the issuance of the first three million dollars worth of bonds.

Issuance of as much as 25 million dollars in bonds is contemplated by the board before the projects finally are completed.

Blonde, Estranged Husband Both Die

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Jan. 22 (AP)—Four rapid shots from a .38 snub-nosed revolver this morning instantly killed an attractive Fort Sam Houston secretary and her estranged husband, a widely known San Antonio sportsman.

Detectives said the man, R.S. (Sy) Alexander, 53, apparently fired three shots at his wife, Mrs. Helen Alexander, 43, then turned the weapon on himself.

Alexander and his striking blonde wife had been separated for some time, officers said.

Boston Prison Siege Ends; Investigations Under Way

BOSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Two investigations were under way today to learn where four long-term convicts at state prison got the weapons to hold five guards and six other inmates hostages in a cell block during a four-day siege.

The stand ended peacefully yesterday when the rebels yielded to the persuasions of a seven-man citizens committee, handed over their guns and let the hostages go.

With the four convicts back in cells, their guard hostages at home beginning one-month vacations and state troopers withdrawn to their barracks, the 150-year-old prison was almost back to normal—except for the activities of state detectives from the state attorney general's office and prison officers conducting their own inquiry.

Deputy Warden Perley S. Vance disclosed that during the surrender negotiations three of the four rioters came out from the barricaded cell block to the prison library for a 1 a.m. conference on Friday with the citizens committee, headed by Erwin D. Canham, editor of the Christian Science Monitor, an international daily newspaper published at Boston.

The three were bank robber Theodore (Teddy) Green, 39, ringleader in the attempted escape; gunman Walter Balben, 38, and robber Joseph A. Flaherty, 32.

Eugene T. Wills, 40, of Somerville, one of the five guards taken prisoner, said he was "surprised that the convicts treated me and the other hostages so well."

Wills' 83-year-old mother said, "I'm going to say a prayer every day for Warden (John J.) O'Brien. He is the only man who knew what he was doing." O'Brien insisted from the start that the revolt could be ended without violence, and refused to consider plans to drive the convicts out.

They left behind Fritz Swensen, 31, slayer of a policeman. Presumably if the three had not returned to the Cherry Hill cell block, Swenson could have carried out the gang's threat to retaliate against the hostage guards.

Warm Springs Film To Be Shown Here

A film concerning the operation of Warm Springs foundation at Gonzales will be shown Thursday night at St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, 810 Birdwell Lane.

The film, entitled "For This You Gave," will be sponsored by the Mu Zeta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi sorority. Moderator will be Al Hawkins, Warm Springs field agent in Odessa.

Members of the sorority stressed that the public is invited to see the film. There will not be a solicitation for funds. The showing will start at 8 p.m., and there will be a question period following the movie.

Kilgore Industrial Campaign Is Begun

KILGORE, Tex., Jan. 22 (AP)—A drive for the Kilgore Industrial Foundation, Inc., today had netted $82,000 in stock subscriptions within 24 hours.

One hundred civic workers kicked off the campaign yesterday noon, following a mass meeting attended by 300 citizens at the Community Center.

Work Starts On Last Phase Of Landscaping

Work started Saturday on one of the last phases of landscaping for the courthouse square.

The Naud Burnett Landscape Company started sodding the lawn with Bermuda grass. Truman Hicks, representative of the company, said the project will be completed this week if weather remains favorable.

Hicks said some trees remain to be trimmed, also.

Murray Tells Scout Meet Of Need To Help Youth

Adults had better be concerned about the challenge to help young people, W. J. Murray Jr., Texas Railroad Commission member, told more than 300 people at the 32nd annual meeting of the Buffalo Trail Council here Friday evening.

More than by anything else a nation's destiny is determined by its youth movement, he warned, adding that in times of crisis it is imperative to work all the harder in the various phases of Scouting.

Recognized for distinguished service to boyhood were four new recipients of the Silver Beaver, highest award within the province of the council. They were James E. Payne, Colorado City; J. T. Baker, Midland; Roger Ashford, Odessa; and Charlie Fitzgerald Jr., Pecos. The Rev. Clyde Lindley, Midland, was assisted in making the awards by J. L. Rhoades, Odessa, Emmett Beauchamp, Pecos, Charles Klapproth, Midland, and G. D. Foster, Colorado City. R. A. Lipscomb, Odessa, presented the council president, Roy Carter, Kermit, for a plaque denoting outstanding service.

In another colorful ceremony, W. C. Blankenship, Big Spring, council advancement chairman, assisted by Allen Orr, Big Spring, presented the Eagle neckerchief to Scouts who had attained this highest rank during the year. They were Bill Owen, Charles Morris, and Stanley Chessir, Big Spring; Glenn Howze, Dwight Reagan, Ronald Jones, Monahan; Garland Wood, Notrees; Sherwood Reaves, Odessa; J. E. Woods and Tommy Roberts were recognized for having earned the Silver Award in Explorer Scouting.

Entertainment at the banquet session in the Settles Hotel was furnished by the girl's Triple Trio of Big Spring High School. Darrell Mock, accompanied by Mrs. W. T. McRee, led the singing. Invocation was by the Rev. C. W. Parmenter and the benediction by the Rev. William D. Boyd. Dr. G. F. Dillon, immediate past chairman of the Big Spring district, gave the welcome.

At the business meeting, officers were reelected and the following district chairmen were approved as new members of the executive board: Omah J. McLaurin, Pecos; James W. Dorris, Odessa; Charles A. Wegg, Big Spring; W. W. Park, Snyder; O. O. Whitten, Wink. Other

Solution Of Water Problem Can Open Future For Texans

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—If Texans can solve their water problems, they can write their own ticket for the future, Algin Burger, executive director of the Texas Research League, said today.

Burger told the Texas Press Assn. the opportunity that Texas has to build an efficient governmental service structure is unparalleled.

Texas is young, industrializing and with plenty of space in which to expand, Burger said.

He recalled that a forecast of Texas trends made a year ago by the league estimated the state's population is growing at a rate one-third faster than for the nation as a whole.

By 1975, he said, Texas will have more than 12 million people, an increase of 60 per cent over 1950.

Wright Morrow's Brother Succumbs

HILLSBORO, Jan. 22 (AP)—William Morrow, 66, brother of National Democratic Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston, died here early today.

He had been ill two months. Morrow was prominent in Hill County affairs. He was county attorney from 1927 to 1930 and as city attorney from 1942 to 1945. Survivors include the widow. Funeral arrangements were incomplete.

ACC Addition Set

ABILENE, Jan. 22 (AP)—Abilene Christian College will add a journalism department at the start of the 1955-56 school year. The head of the department will be Heber Taylor.

new executive board members were Sam A. McComb, Big Spring; Malcolm Brenneman, Midland; Mel Orman, Midland; Fred Pearson, Kermit; H. H. Simmons, Odessa; Wendell Faulkner, Pecos; Luther Reynolds, Andrews.

Commending the council on a 22.29 per cent gain which represented 1,030 boys, Murray cautioned council members not to become complacent. When as many boys who come into Scouting annually are turned away because of lack of units, there is need for soul searching among adults to see if what they are doing with their

OUTBREAK DUE? 'Flu' Vaccine May Be Available Soon

The possibility that an influenza vaccine will be available here in the not too distant future has been pointed out by Dr. Robert A. Hale, director of the Midland-Ector-Howard County Health Unit.

Dr. Hale stated that experiments have been under way for several years on a vaccine to combat type "A" flu, and that reports from doctors participating in the experiments indicate favorable results.

It has been reported from Chicago by Dr. D. J. Davis of the U. S. Public Health Service that the vaccine is already available, but Dr. Hale said so far as he knows there has been no distribution in this area.

Dr. Davis reported the vaccine as available when he announced in Chicago that an influenza outbreak from the "A" virus may occur this winter or next winter in the United States.

"When predictions are made from the U. S. Public Health Service, they are usually accurate," Dr. Hale said here. "A flu outbreak is entirely possible and in all likelihood the vaccine is available."

Dr. Hale stated that the influenza prediction probably is based on a table of cycles. There is usually an outbreak of the type "A" flu every 10 years or so, he pointed out, and the time is nearing for another heavy infection period.

However, the type of flu which has been common in the immediate area during the past two years has been type "A prime," he said, which is slightly worse than type "A."

Dr. Hale explained that the type "A" vaccine probably would not prevent a case of "A prime," because of the different virus involved.

If the vaccine is made available, it will be given just like typhoid shots, he said. Use would be as a preventive, rather than as a cure.

As a practical matter, the vaccine has probably been used by some physicians in the West Texas area as part of the U. S. Public Health Service experimental program, Dr. Hale said. As yet the vaccine has not been made available on the open market, however.

Sr. High Follies Slated Thursday

Senior High Follies of 1955, with an eye beamed on the March of Dimes campaign, will be unveiled Thursday at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium.

The affair is sponsored jointly by the Student Council and the Speech Department. Included on the bill are novelty numbers, musical selections, skits. More than 60 will be in the cast.

Among the acts will be can-can girls under direction of June Reynolds and Sandy Landau. In the line are Barbara Bowen, Barbara Lewter, Jeanne Landau, Lois Spivey, Joyce Edwards, Clara Freeman, Danne Green, Mary Lou Staggs, Lou Ann White, Jean Robinson, B. B. Hobbs and Sue Boykin.

Tom Henry Guin is general student director and Dell McComb, speech department head, is supervising. Tickets are on sale by members of the speech department.

The production is threaded on a continuing sequence of Zella Melear, as a spinster, wandering through the show looking for a man.

Included on the program are: Lois Spivey and Dickie Millam, musical skit; Amelia Duke singing "Count Your Blessings"; Don Lovelace (aided by David Ewing) in a comic monologue; Robbie Flowers and Laura Rhoton, twirling; Charles Long, golf skit; Eddie Swinney, popular songs; members of the Debate Club in "I Object"; the Dramatic Class in "Shoot"; and a dramatic melodrama, "Hissses and Kisses"; the Triple Trio. Among others participating are Jerry Robinson, Julie Rainwater, Lloyd Hampton, Amelia Duke, Ronnie King, Pattie Gregory, Gerry Girdner, Rodney Sheppard, Merle Dean Harter, Glen Rogers, and members of the Dramatic Class.

Old Age Grants Average $38 In County; Total $17,500 Monthly

By GLENN COOTES
There were 452 persons in Howard County receiving old age assistance payments on Jan. 1, according to E. L. Fisher, area supervisor of the State Department of Public Welfare. The average monthly OAA payment is $38.58, he said, making a total expenditure of about $17,500 per month.

Although OAA is not the only function of the welfare agency, it is a major phase of the department's work, Fisher said.

The maximum monthly assistance any one person may receive is $55. Fisher explained that the department realizes this is not always enough money for aged persons, but it is all that the department has to spend. Although $42 million has been authorized in 1955, Fisher pointed out that in past years the welfare department had only $36 million to divide among the needy individuals in the state.

The federal government has more than matched this figure but still the total amount of funds has not been sufficient to raise the maximum payment. Administrative costs are not paid with the welfare funds, Fisher said. The legislature appropriates separate funds for administrative costs for all state departments.

Old Age Assistance is sometimes confused with the Old Age and Survivors Insurance, commonly referred to as "social security," Fisher said. But the regulations and requirements of the two are different. The following information concerns only the state old age assistance and not the federal old age benefits.

Eligibility for old age assistance payments is governed by certain requirements.

First, the applicant must be 65 years of age or over.

Second, he must be a citizen of the United States.

Third, he must be a resident of Texas. To meet this requirement, the applicant must have lived in Texas at least five of the preceding nine years and at least one year immediately prior to making application.

Fourth, he must be in need. The department considers a person in need when he does not have the means to provide the necessities of life.

Generally, the applicant may own a homestead up to 200 acres, which furnishes him shelter. He may own an automobile under most circumstances. He may have $300 in cash or negotiable securities.

Having established eligibility, a welfare field worker then discusses with the applicant his financial needs. Together they plan a monthly budget which will be used in determining the amount of assistance the applicant may receive.

A factor taken into consideration is whether the applicant lives alone or with relatives. Then, different amounts are set aside for food, shelter, clothing, utilities, and incidental expenses.

Totalling up these figures, the applicant and worker arrive at the amount of money needed by the applicant each month. If he has no other regular or dependable income, he will receive monthly checks for this amount, up to $55.

The amount of any regular or dependable income will be deducted from the total amount the applicant needs. The balance left will be the amount he is to receive each month, provided this balance is not less than $5, which is the minimum.

Once each year, Fisher said, persons receiving OAA grants are interviewed by field workers to determine if their status has changed in any way which might affect the amount of their grant. Circumstances sometimes change and a grant can be adjusted to meet an increased need in some cases, the supervisor explained.

Personnel of the local state office besides Fisher are Mrs. Jimmie K. Freeman, Howard County field worker; Mrs. Bobbie Bohannon, area secretary; and Mrs. Merle Stevens, records secretary for three outlying field workers in this area.

Mrs. Freeman handles the old age assistance applications in Howard County. There are seven other offices in the 12-county area which Fisher supervises from the area offices at the courthouse. The other counties are Andrews, Borden, Dawson, Ector, Gaines, Martin, Midland, Mitchell, Scurry, Winkler, and Loving.

The old age assistance program in Texas has many problems, Fisher said. Trained field workers are difficult to obtain. The welfare department in the state employs 1,428 persons. In 1954, 384 left the department and only 341 were appointed to vacancies. This made a net loss of 43 employees for the year.

Administrative costs in Texas for each OAA case per month is $1.27. The average cost in the nation is $2.99. Fisher pointed out, and only one other state, Arkansas, has a lower administrative cost than Texas.

The caseload in Texas is the highest in the U. S. Field Workers in the state handle an average of 371 cases, 230 of which are old age assistance. Fisher said the average caseload in his particular area is 420. The national average is only 172.

Texas ranks 29th among the other states in the amount the average OAA applicants receive. The average payment in Texas is $38.83; in the nation, $31.46; and in Howard County, $38.58.

Texas is sixth in the nation with percentage of the population over 65 years of age on OAA rolls. Fisher said 37.4 per cent of the population over 65 of Texas are receiving OAA payments. Only 18.4 per cent of the U. S. population over 65 receives these payments.

Aid to needy Texans is a mounting problem, the area supervisor said, worthy of the attention of all Texans.

How To BE SURE

You Get Your Money's Worth

Facts About Circulation

You, as a successful businessman, expect to get your full money's worth on any transaction. You want to BE SURE you get your money's worth.

What about your advertising dollar? You want your money's worth there, too.

You advertise because you wish to communicate with people about your merchandise or service. When you buy newspaper advertising what you really are paying for is an opportunity to talk to the people who buy and read that newspaper.

In order to know what you are getting for your money, therefore, you should have certain facts about the paper's circulation.

Think of this circulation as an audience to which you are talking about your business and remember that you are investing your money for getting the most returns from the audience. The success of your talk, the goodwill that it generates, depends upon several things, but it depends to a great extent upon the size and makeup of your audience.

Guarantee By ABC

Well, you can be GUARANTEED of the audience provided by The Herald through its circulation.

One of the great forward steps The Herald has just taken is the enrollment in the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS (ABC). This is a national, cooperative association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. These buyers and sellers of advertising for many years have worked together in setting up and maintaining standards for measuring the circulation of newspapers and periodicals.

The ABC has a large staff of skilled circulation auditors. At regular intervals these men visit every ABC member (including The Herald) to make an audit of the circulation records just as a bank examiner inspects the books and assets of your bank.

When his report is made, then you have VERIFIED CIRCULATION DATA—the facts that can show you that you are getting your money's worth in advertising.

ABC reports give FACTS ONLY. There are no "estimates, calculations, conclusions, inferences, or guesswork on potentials." The facts are the REAL NET PAID CIRCULATION of the paper, and where these papers are sold and under what circumstances.

So, the Herald's ABC figures (and you are welcome to a report at any time) give you CERTIFIED CIRCULATION.

Is It Really "Cheap"?

This is worth money to you, because you know EXACTLY WHAT AUDIENCE YOU ARE BUYING.

Oh, yes, you can buy some "cheaper" advertising. But before you purchase something that seems "cheap", isn't it good business to be sure about the audience that you are reaching with such advertising?

"Cheap" advertising can be mighty expensive, when it brings little or no returns. You invest an advertising dollar to bring in returns on it. The worth of your advertising is the amount of RETURN.

You, as a successful businessman, are going to be surveying your advertising budget for 1955. There are a lot of demands for your advertising dollar, sure. So you want to find that medium that gives you that top RETURN.

You don't have to guess about a listening or a looking audience at any given second of the day or night, when you use Herald advertising. You do not have to wonder whether an advertising message is lost in entertainment interest. You do not have to pay a big price for a "show" name.

An Audience Every Day

You KNOW that people accept The Herald into their homes, because the ABC circulation report shows you they are ACCEPTING IT BY PAYING FOR IT. You know the home town daily paper is there, to be read at leisure, when your message can be read, digested, understood and ACTED UPON. There is no 30-second flash about your Herald ad. You know that The Herald is going to your audience EVERY DAY, not at rare intervals. The success story in advertising—for thousands of businesses, as well as YOUR business—is that the home town daily paper is the BASIC MEDIUM, the one with the TOP APPEAL.

This appeal is now matched for you with CERTIFIED CIRCULATION, the ABC auditor's stamp which is just as unimpeachable as the sterling stamp on silver.

Ingrid Bergman Doesn't Seem To Miss America

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (U-P)—A report on Ingrid Bergman comes today from actor Kurt Kreuger, just returned from making a film with her in Munich.

After five years in Europe, Kreuger is back in Hollywood, this time to stay. He is full of details on movie making abroad, and his most interesting engagement was acting with Bergman in "Fear." The film was directed in Germany by her husband Roberto Rossellini. "It happened quite by chance,"

Kreuger remarked. "I ran into Rossellini at a party. A picture I made here in 1942 with Humphrey Bogart—"Sahara"—is playing in Europe now, and he asked me if I didn't play the pilot in it. I said I did. He said he had a part for me in his next movie.

"I thought nothing would come of it. But I later was told that once he tells you something, he sticks by it."

Kreuger reported to the Munich studio for the film, which has only four characters. The picture was to be made in English and German versions, and the set became a Tower of Babel.

Miss Bergman, who is part German, could handle both languages. The other two actors spoke only German. They needed an interpreter with Rossellini, who can't speak German. The director explained scenes in French and English to Kreuger and in Italian to his wife.

Kreuger found Miss Bergman to be happy and talkative.

"Start her on any subject—say, maids—and she talks on and on until you stop her," he said. "Always she was knitting between scenes, and she talked as fast as she knitted. She was very helpful to the other actors and cooperative with the press. Was she like that in Hollywood?"

Does she miss America? "She doesn't seem to. I think she would be happy to return here. But she would make a picture here only under the condition that Rossellini would direct it."

That's the one thing Hollywood producers will not buy. They would not risk a big investment on a director who scorns scripts and refuses to comply with the suggestions of producers.

C-C To Study Members' Dues

Some members of the Chamber of Commerce are likely to find their yearly assessments increased when a re-evaluation of dues is undertaken this week.

The executive committee of the Chamber will meet Tuesday evening to re-evaluate dues so that the amount of money available for 1955 operations can be increased.

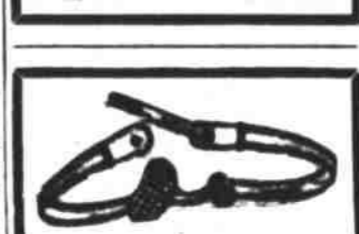

An attempt will be made to equalize dues so that individuals in the same business brackets will pay equal amounts. Manager Greene warned that some blanket raises might also be made.

More money is needed by the Chamber for an enlarged program of operations, it was announced. "There were some things which should have been done last year that we didn't do because we didn't know when the drought would be broken," Greene said.

Last year's operations were costly, but financial obligations were met more easily because of the saving made in not paying an assistant manager or projects supervisor.

Wheat Outlook Good Around Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 22 (U-P)—Molting conditions in Wichita County are the best in three years, but in the great wheat producing area around this city, subsoil moisture still is needed, a Wichita Daily Times survey shows.

Surface moisture is generally good, but more rain must come for a good harvest.

Two snowfalls and a series of gentle rains vastly improved things a few weeks ago. Moisture soaked deeply into the soil with virtually no run-off.

Farmers said the manner of falling made it worth twice as much as measurements indicate. More than 4 inches were gauged at the Wichita Valley Experiment Station near Iowa Park. Wheat crop prospects have made a complete reversal. Planted exceptionally late due to dry weather, Wichita County's 56,000 acres are up to a good stand and show great promise. Some farmers said prospects are now best in memory.

In 11 other counties in the Wichita Falls area, conditions are not so rosy. The survey shows surface moisture is generally good, but subsoil moisture is lacking and more rains must come.

Haskell County profited most from recent rains. Members of the Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park, headed by Elvy Sargent, made 18 tests in Wichita County this week. They found the soil completely wet in the entire northern section along the Red River, and almost complete saturation of the surface soil all over the county.

Mike Hartmangruber, farmer west of Wichita Falls, said wheat prospects are best in his memory. George Graham, owner of the 77 Ranch east of Wichita Falls, found moisture down a foot on his pastures.

Bob Crocker, county manager of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, said "crop conditions are getting better with each shower."

In Haskell County, where thousands of bales of cotton are grown, County Agent Frank Martin found moisture down 18 to 44 inches. "In some fields the auger couldn't find any dry soil," he declared. Martin termed farm conditions in his county best since 1949.

Vernon Duncan, Tillman County ASC office manager, said conditions in his county are best in six years. He said the county's 165,000 acres of wheat are in "good shape. Moisture has met in the sandy soils and more than a foot down in the tighter soils," he declared happily.

On west of Tillman County, conditions are not so bright. Leonard Solomon, Jackson County farm agent, said surface moisture there is satisfactory and the county's 137,000 acres of wheat are "up and in good shape." More subsoil moisture is needed, however, to mature the crop, he added.

At Hollis, county seat of Harmon, A. C. Hambright, ASC office manager, called the moisture situation "next to critical."

"We have moisture down from 8 to 10 inches," he said, but we have no subsoil moisture and we are worried about our 50,000 acres of wheat," he said.

In Childress County, Farm Agent Vernon Hafner said subsoil was needed there, too. Moisture is down 6 to 15 inches, he reported. The county's 55,000 acres of wheat is coming up to a good stand except in scattered areas. Conditions in Hardeman County are best in six years, according to Bomar Harris, soil conservationist. "The drought is not broken," he said, "but our 80,000 acres of wheat are looking good with moisture down from 8 to 12 inches."

Gas Price Warfare
SEYMOUR, Jan. 22 (U-P)—A gasoline price war has broken out again at Seymour filling stations. Most stations were selling regular at 17.9 cents a gallon and high-test at 18.9 cents to 19.9 today.

Wheat Outlook Good Around Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 22 (U-P)—Molting conditions in Wichita County are the best in three years, but in the great wheat producing area around this city, subsoil moisture still is needed, a Wichita Daily Times survey shows.

Surface moisture is generally good, but more rain must come for a good harvest.

Two snowfalls and a series of gentle rains vastly improved things a few weeks ago. Moisture soaked deeply into the soil with virtually no run-off.

Farmers said the manner of falling made it worth twice as much as measurements indicate. More

ABC Club Given Award By Hall

L. A. Robert Hall of the Salvation Army presented the loving cup to the American Business Club Friday for the second year in a row for its fund-raising efforts. During the club's day manning the Salvation Army kettles before Christmas, the club collected $141.

Second were the Knights of Pythias, who collected $128.

Robert Whippley spoke on the Big Spring Broncos' season ticket sale campaign. Others present in connection with the drive were Carl Bradley and Pepper Martin. R. E. McKinney, chairman of the club's campaign, distributed prospect cards to members.

Other guests were three Universal Oil Products personnel, L. E. Newton, Carl McCoy and Charles Bizilo.

New members, Kenneth Clark and Frank Franklin, were presented their club pins. J. B. Apple was presented with the past president's pin.

A combined meeting of the past presidents and the board of governors was set for 7 p.m. Monday at the Wagon Wheel.

Apple reported on the installation of officers at the Odessa club at which District Governor R. H. Weaver presided.

Clark presented plans for the proposed youth gym the Salvation Army has suggested.

President Reported Planning Federal School Aid Grants

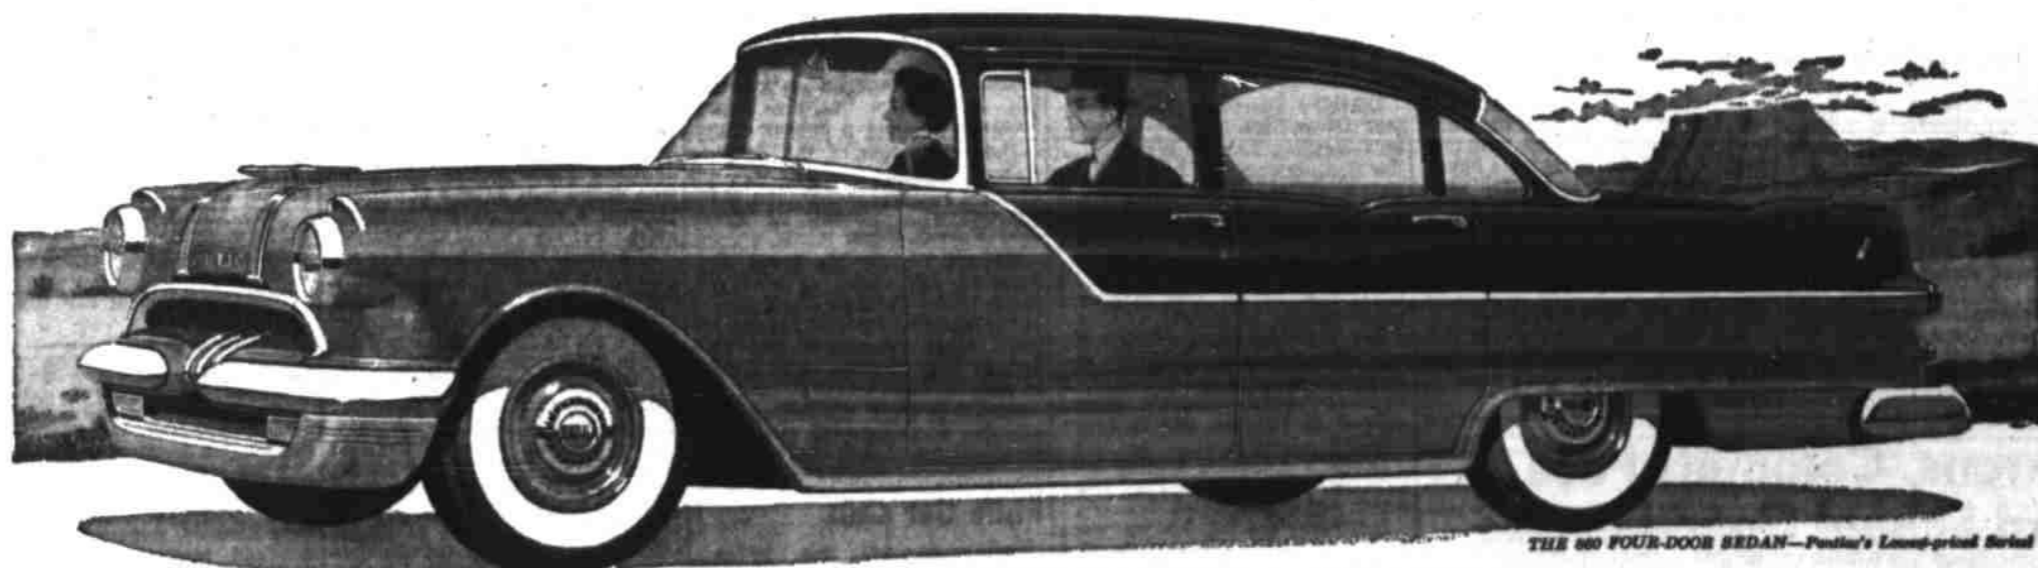

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (U-P)—President Eisenhower was reported today as determined to do something about federal aid for school construction to relieve the national shortage of classrooms.

White House callers interested in the question were Sen. Ives (R-NY), Rep. Kearns (R-Pa.) and Mrs. Eugene Meyer, wife of the chairman of the board of the Washington Post and Times-Herald.

The President is scheduled to send a special message to Congress on the subject Feb. 15.

Ives said no particular aid plan was discussed with the President but that the whole problem was considered. He added Eisenhower is "determined to do something about it."

Pro Player Draft Starts January 27

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 22 (AP)—The National Football League meets in annual convention at New York Jan. 27-30 with the college player draft, new rules and the Canadian problem main points on the agenda.

Logical candidates for bonus selection are quarterback Ralph Guilmeli of Notre Dame, fullback Alan Ameche of Wisconsin or center Kurt Burris of Oklahoma.

HCJC kept in hot water throughout because the Wranglers controlled the tip-offs consistently. HCJC's B team had to go all out to defeat Forsan's classy Buffaloes in the preliminary game, 48-43.

Spartans, Colonials Pace Ward School Cage League

When the smoke of battle in Elementary School Basketball League play had cleared Saturday night, Park Hill's Spartans and the Washington Place Colonials remained as the only undefeated teams.

Kate Morrison edged past Airport, 14-5; and Central Ward turned back North Ward, 35-7. Grabel led Kate Morrison with six points while Valdez counted four.

Individual scoring honors were well distributed. Nancy Dickens of Dibrell's was out front in individual games with a 188. Frances Glenn of the same team had a 182 for second place.

Buckies Defeated By Tigers, 64-25

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 22 (AP)—Air Battle and Taffia combined to give fabled Bettors a $1,542.80 daily double at the Fair Grounds track today. Air Battle, owned by Mrs. H. Coleman, won the first race, paying $40.80, and J. Timothy's Taffia took the second at $33.00.

SNYDER, Jan. 22 (SC)— Snyder remained in the running for the District I-AAA basketball pennant by downing Breckenridge, 64-25, here Friday night.

Jack Spikes and Alan Sneed roped 15 points each to pace Snyder to the easy win. Eight different Tigers got into the scoring act.

Williams Is Listed On Boston Roster

BOSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—It may be wishful thinking, but slugging outfielder Ted Williams was among the 45 players listed by the Boston Red Sox today to report for the opening of baseball spring training March 1 at Sarasota, Fla.

Williams, considered by many to be the greatest natural left-handed hitter of all time, has affirmed repeatedly his decision to quit baseball.

Gail Trounces Cats, 64-28

GARDEN CITY, Jan. 22 (SC)—The Gail Coyotes trounced Garden City, 64-28, in a practice basketball game here Friday night.

But speculation has been plentiful—most of it suggesting Ted, a man of fast-changing moods and a flair for the dramatic, would be back.

Garden City returned to action in Sterling City Tuesday night, meeting the Eagles in a conference game.

The Red Sox roster includes 20 pitchers, 4 catchers, 13 infielders and 8 outfielders.

Deer Losses Are Heavy In State

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Over 15,000 deer starved to death in three Texas counties last winter, according to wildlife restoration W. C. Glazener said today.

Glazener saw little hope for improvement, saying a large feeding program or trapping and removal program would cost too much money, and that a special hunting season is not feasible.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Two of baseball's real 'characters' are Pete Simone and Medsell LaGrone, who were with Big Spring last year and who were purchased by Roswell manager, keeps his sanity and his sense of humor during the 1955 campaign, with unpredictable players like LaGrone and Simone to oversee, he deserves some sort of reward in the here-after . . . LaGrone and Simone are not bad apples but tend to be impish and do whacky things at the most unlikely moments . . . Simone, who is a Pole and not a Frenchman, is a lad of many moods and those change about as often as a neon sign . . . Let him go 'three for four' and he offers the suggestion he's the best player in the minor leagues . . . But, should he 'wear the collar' or boot one afield, he keeps out of sight of everyone the following morning for fear he'll draw his release . . . When he's in the throes of despair, he'll ask his teammates if they've heard about any new players on the way and make open predictions he'll be handed his pink slip before nightfall comes on . . . Some of the Longhorn League's umpires plastered a nickname on Pete that couldn't exactly be called flattering . . . They referred to him as "Martin's Parrot" . . . When ever Pepper went in to debate a decision, Pete was invariably around close to lend vocal support . . . On one occasion, this writer approached the dressing room at Steer Park to get the starting lineup from Martin and found Pete doing sentry-duty in front of the fieldhouse, using a bat for a rifle . . . His explanation was that he would have to go to the Army two years hence and was merely practicing up . . . Simone used to drive First Baseman Tony Martinez deaf . . . He had a good throwing arm, and knew it . . . For that reason, he'd accept a fielding chance, then wait until the last possible second to unloose his peg to first . . . The ball arrived at first base with the speed of a rifle shot . . . Tony would have to intercept it for self protection . . . A direct hit would have had him playing catch with the angels.

Breck Wanted Bonner Last Year

Now that able Wayne Bonner has signed on as head football coach at Anson High School, it would not be telling tales out of school to reveal that Breckenridge would have hired him away from Big Spring last year had he not been affiliated with a sister 1-AAA school . . . It's quite probable Stanton High School will lose not only Melvin Robertson but his coaching aide, Larry Wartes, after this year . . . Larry is apt to go right along with Mel, provided there are openings for both . . . There is so little basketball interest at Breckenridge that the school isn't fielding a B team . . . The squad which dropped that 54-11 decision to the Big Spring reserves in a game at Breck recently was composed of junior and senior high school boys together . . . Larry Brown, of the Cleveland Browns, as automatic a goal kicker as pro football has, missed two extra points and two field goal tries in the recent Pro Bowl game in Los Angeles . . . Moss Simms, who selected the All-America scholastic football team for the Wigwam Wisemen of America recently, could do with a bit more research . . . Cleburne's Don Ustry, named to Simms' first team (the only Texan so honored), made neither the first nor second Texas Sports-writers Association team . . . Come to think of it, the job of picking the 11 top schoolboy grid-ders in the land would be complex . . . Selecting the top 11 collegiate grid-ders in the country is impossible . . . Mount Vernon has a schoolboy caper named Don Meredith who sank 51 points in a recent game against Sulphur Springs . . . He's been averaging 36 points a game . . . Arkansas City, JC, conqueror of HCCIC in the National Juco Tournament two years ago, has again jelled as a basketball power . . . The Ark City quintet leads its conference race with a 4-0 won-lost record.

Situation Is Unstable At Odessa

Baseball men in the Longhorn League are more concerned over the Odessa situation than they let on . . . The club was on its way back when Bob Colwell served as general manager but Colwell apparently couldn't hit it off with Club Owner Tom Ray and returned to Central Texas . . . Since then, little or nothing has been done to help matters and the Oilers finished last season taking a bath in red ink . . . The Army-Michigan 1955 football game was switched from New York City to Ann Arbor recently for several reasons, among them (1) to avoid a possible conflict with the World Series, (2) Army had most of its games booked at home, (3) the bigger seating capacity at Ann Arbor, and (4) to avoid paying rental on the Yankee Stadium . . . New York City hosts very few big time college football games anymore because it costs a king's ransom to play a game either in the Stadium or the Polo Grounds . . . Three of the seven starting positions on the University of Texas starting line this fall are due to be manned by West Texans . . . They are tackles Langford Sneed (Levelland) and Ben Woodson (Brownwood) and center Johnny Tatum (Lubbock) . . . Bill Russell of the San Francisco University's crackerjack basketball team, the sensation of the recent Oklahoma City All-College Tournament, high jumped 6-feet-7 1/2 last year . . . Children of District 3-AAA has booked the toughest kind of football opposition for next fall . . . The North Texans play Phillips, Paducah and Breckenridge before heading into conference play . . . Long after he had pioneered by sending Big Spring a team of Cuban baseball players, Washington Scout Joe Cambria said he made his biggest mistake in trying to accommodate every team across the land which wanted them . . . He thinks he could have accomplished more good and made them a more magnificent draw by keeping them on one team.

Kerbel Quits Breckenridge Post For Amarillo Offer

AMARILLO, Tex., Jan. 22 (UP)—Joe Kerbel today accepted a three-year contract as head football coach at Amarillo High School, Supt. Charles Rogers announced. The 33-year-old graduate of the University of Oklahoma has been coach at Breckenridge High School the past three years. His team won the state Class AAA title in 1952 and last year. He coached at Cleveland, Okla., in 1950 and 1951 before coming to Breckenridge. Kerbel played tackle on the Sooner football team. Amarillo High School, in District 1 Class AAAA while another high school here, Palo Duro, will open this year competing in District Class AAAA. John Redd Ell, former coach at Classen High School in Oklahoma City, was named coach at Palo Duro earlier this week.

Bulldogs Upset By Tornadoes

LAMESA, Jan. 22 (SC)—The Plainview Bulldogs suffered a jolt here Saturday night when Lamesa rallied to win a 64-60 decision in a District 1-AAA basketball game. Wayland Reeves paced Lamesa with 20 points while Bob Seal accounted for 13 and Bennie Lybrand and Joe Bole 12 each. Bill Wall again was Plainview's top hand with 20 points. Stewart Webb came in for 13. Plainview led at half time, 32-31.

Vernon Is Downed By Tigers, 54-44

SNYDER, Jan. 22 (SC)—Jack Spikes and Alan Sneed played leading roles in Snyder's 54-44 District 1-AAA victory over Vernon here Saturday night. Spikes tossed in 18 points for Snyder while Sneed collected 12, most of them from the side. Carl Franks was Vernon's top man with 15 points while Gene Miller scored 12. Snyder led at the end of the first period, 10-8; at half time, 28-28; and at the end of the third quarter, 38-30.

UH Golfer Leads

LAREDO, Tex., Jan. 22 (UP)—Tommy Cruse, University of Houston golfer, shot a two under par 70 today to take a one stroke lead into the finals of the Laredo Invitational Amateur Golf Tournament. Cruse had a 75-72-70—217 total after 54 holes.

Steers Rally To Rip Lobos

Down 11 points at one stage late in the third period, the Big Spring Steers got off the deck to stage a furious fourth period rally that carried them to a 68-57 District 1-AAA basketball victory over the Levelland Lobos here Saturday night.

Two factors turned defeat into victory for the hustling Herd: The team shifted from a man-to-man to a zone defense and Wayne Tollett climbed off the bench to change the picture around the backboards, where the taller Levelland team had been controlling the ball. Tollett, held out of action the first half, didn't score a point but he changed the Longhorns into a hard running, ready-to-gamble outfit. Ken Harmon, Charles Clark, Al Kloven and Bobby Phillips combined to fashion the time bomb that exploded in Levelland's hands, beating them scoring all the points for Big Spring.

Clark, playing one of his better floor games, scored 22 points for scoring honors, eight of which came from the foul line. Harmon, deadily with a quarter-court shot in the first half, wound up with 18 points. Kloven had 16 and Phillips 12. Mac Freeman, looking to advance with a jump shot, collected 16 points to lead Levelland while Tommy Osherlein wound up with 13. Big Spring was down seven points at the end of the first quarter and trailed seven points at half time. The Steers outscored the visitors from that point, however, getting 19 in Round Three to 14 for the opposition.

Big Spring led, 45-43, just before the third period ran out but Levelland rebounded for baskets in the next three minutes to gain a 51-49 advantage a minute deep in the fourth period. The Steers then caught fire and quickly pulled away, as the local boys made a shambles of the Levelland defense with their fast break. The win was Big Spring's fourth in six conference starts and left them tied for second place, one game back of Plainview. Mike Musgrove stole the ball, passed to LeRoy LeFevre, who, in turn, passed to Jimmy Bice for a set-up shot that enabled Big

BEATS SANTEE Dane Runs 4:09.5 Mile On Boards

WASHINGTON, Jan. 22 (UP)—Gunnar Nielsen, the Dancing Dane, ran a spectacular 4:09.5 mile tonight to beat Wes Santee by 15 yards in the Evening Star Games. It probably was the fastest mile ever raced over a flat board indoor track. Nielsen evened his score with Santee, the former Kansas ace who beat him convincingly in the Inquirer Games in Philadelphia Friday night. The Dane's time was nearly four full seconds below the old record.

Bowie Defeats Junior Teams

ODESSA, Jan. 22 (SC)—Bowie Junior High of Odessa won both ends of a basketball doubleheader from Big Spring quintets here Friday. The Eighth Graders of Bowie copped a 31-21 verdict, after which Bowie Ninth Graders handed the Big Spring Yearling their second defeat of the season by winning, 50-46. Big Spring outshot the Bowie team from the field, 18-13, in that one, but had 24 fouls called against them, compared to 16 for the home club.

O'Neal Paces TCU To Win

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Jan. 22 (UP)—Dick O'Neal's 37 points paced Texas Christian to a 71-58 victory over Texas A&M tonight. The win gave TCU undisputed possession of first place in the Southwest Conference by one half game over Southern Methodist. Although the Frogs were never in trouble the Aggies made it close the first half, trailing TCU by three points. With O'Neal, the conference's leading scorer hitting from all angles including several hooks from almost behind the basket, the Frogs led by 18 points with nine minutes left in the game. The closest A&M came in the second half as after George Meahaffey, Aggie leader with 21 points, hit two quick buckets and Ted Harrod hit two to pull A&M within eight points—56-64 with 4 1/2 minutes remaining. The Frogs hit 33 per cent of their shots connecting on 33 of 73 field goal attempts. The Aggies hit 43 per cent but shot only 44 times and making 19 from the floor.

Sweetwater Roars Past Breckenridge

SWEETWATER, Jan. 22 (SC)—Sweetwater toyed with the Breckenridge Bucaroos in a District 1-AAA basketball game here Saturday night, winning, 64-50. Dale McKechnan again led the Ponies in scoring with a 27-point evening. Bubba Meyer and Ken Drewery each had 14 for the winners. Dick Carpenter and Sonny Everett paced Breckenridge with 15 and 13 points, respectively. Sweetwater led at the end of the opening period, 18-7; at half time, 35-19, and 48-29 after three periods of play.

FIGHT RESULTS

FRIDAY NIGHT SYRACUSE, N. Y. — Carmine Basilio, 147, New York, over Peter Magallon, 147, Germany, by decision, 10 rounds.

Jim Zapp Here; Awaits Season

Jim Zapp, who broke the club record for home runs although he was not with the Big Spring Broncs for the first five weeks of the 1954 campaign, has arrived here and will spend the remainder of the winter.

The massive Negro outfielder, a native of Nashville, Tenn., indicated he would start getting in shape as rapidly as possible in the hopes of making a fast get-away in the 1955 Longhorn League race. Big Jim hit 32 home runs here last year, smashing his final one on the last day of the season to break Julio Delatorre's record by one. Delatorre had set the record earlier in the year, before being sold to Amarillo. Zapp will again be a limited service player. Manager Pepper Martin, who recalled that Zapp hit some of the longest home runs ever seen in the local park and around the Longhorn League, said Zapp should be ready to contest Joe Hsman for the home run leadership in the league. Martin pointed out that many home runs are hit in the early days of the season, before the pitchers start catching up with the batters, and Jim should be able to make his big move at that time.

Michalske, Layne Named To Staff

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (UP)—A. M. (Mike) Michalske will join the University of Texas football staff as an assistant coach, and Bobby Layne, one of the Longhorns all-time stars, will serve as temporary quarterback coach during spring training. Both will report to head coach Ed Price Feb. 7, opening day of practice. Michalske, a Penn State graduate and later an all-pro player, was head coach at Iowa State for five years, line coach at Baylor three years and at Texas A&M in 1953. Layne, the greatest passer in Longhorn history, has led the Detroit Lions to two championships and a runner-up position in the National Professional League the past three years. Michalske's contract, like all other for Texas assistant coaches, is for one year.

Friend On Line

PITTSBURGH, Jan. 22 (UP)—Bob Friend, 24-year-old pitcher for the Pittsburgh Pirates, returned here signed 1955 contract today. Friend carried a narrow lead into the last of the eight laps but Nielsen pranced past him halfway around the track and made Santee look as if he were standing still. Nielsen ran the last quarter in 36.8 seconds, probably one of the fastest finishing 440 yards in indoor track history. Records for the mile on flat tracks are a bit sketchy, but veteran racing experts couldn't recall anyone who came within a second of Nielsen's mark. Gil Dadds' indoor record of 4:05.3 was set in the Millrose Games at New York in 1948 over a much faster track than the one in the National Guard Army here. Bob McMillen, former Occidental College star and a second place finisher in the 1,500 at the Olympics in 1952, tried to match Nielsen and Santee, but couldn't make it. He was a distant third, 20 yards behind Santee. Ensign Jack Davis, former star from Southern California, scored a major upset tonight in winning easily in the 70-yard high hurdles event, an early feature.

Bolt Has Three-Stroke Lead In San Diego Open

By BOB MYERS SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 22 (UP)—Fireball Tommy Bolt played even par 72 today for a 54-hole total of 203 and marched into the final round of the $15,000 San Diego Open golf tournament with a lead of three strokes over the field.

The 34-year-old professional from Houston failed to break par for the first time in three days but still was good enough to hold command. Jack Burke Jr., with a 68, came up from the rear to second place, at 206, and Johnny Palmer, with a 65, and Stan Leonard of Canada, with a 72, landed together in the 207 position. The biggest surprise of the day, and a crushing blow to the huge gallery, was the performance of the hometown pride and joy, Gene Littler. The pre-tournament favorite, and the man rated the best chance of overthrowing the free-wheeling Bolt, Littler helped himself to a 73. It gave him a total of 206 strokes and shoved him back to fifth place. Slender, youthful Bud Holscher, a newcomer to the tough tournament trail, added a 71 to previous rounds of 68-70 for a total of 209, while Fred Haas Jr., with a 70, and Ted Kroil, with a 71, were tied at 210.

JAMES BROTHERS MEET BRUNO AND TRUDELL

The James brothers, Jesse and Johnny, one of the wrestling game's best known brother teams, return to the Howard County Fair Building Tuesday night to meet Benny Trudell and Con Bruno in a tag match. Jesse and Johnny are well known in these parts, having built up quite a reputation in both tag and regular matches. Jesse is the older of the two and perhaps has the more established reputation, since he has been a television personality for years. Trudell is a newcomer to the local arena. Like his partner, Bruno, he's a ring villain and makes few friends where-ever he goes. The solidly-built Bruno, a Greek who spent most of his early years in and around Athens, brought a great war record to the states with him but evidently forgot some of his good breeding. He's a bad actor, in a ring sense, and bats referees and fans alike with his questionable tactics. In preliminary matches, Trudell goes after Johnny James and Bruno tries Jesse. Each bout is down for 15 minutes. The show gets started at 8:15 p.m.

Tommy made the first nine holes in 25, and then the pressure, or perhaps it was the obviously biased Littler galleries, began to tell. He got another birdie on the 11, but took successive bogeys on the 12th and 13th. Coming up to the crowded 18th, Bolt was wide for the second straight day reaching the green. But again he chipped up for an easy putt and escaped further damage. Littler, playing in a threesome just ahead, and with the largest gallery, began to show signs of trouble early in the round. He 3-putted the second, missing one putt of no more than 20 inches. He birdied the easy third, but required 3 to get down from 60 feet away on the sixth for his par. On the eighth Littler putted 19 feet past the cup and missed on the way back for another bogey. Known for his coolness as demonstrated in winning the recent Los Angeles Open, Littler settled down a bit on the trip home, with one bogey and one birdie dotting his progress. The 24-year-old Littler, who plays out of Palm Springs, won this tournament a year ago when he was reigning United States Amateur champion. He turned pro a week later. Bolt won the San Diego Open two years ago, and will be hard to beat Sunday. Paul McGuire, Wichita, Kan., who had a 65 in the first round, eased back again today with a 76 for 214. National Open champion Ed Furgol took a 75 for 215, and a former National Open winner, Cary McCord, who won the Bing Crosby 54-hole last Sunday, had a 73 for 214.

Cosden Directors Meet Here

Appreciation Dinner Set For Station Men

An appreciation dinner will be held here Monday evening for the service station operators of Big Spring. The dinner, slated for 7:30 p.m. in the Settles Hotel ballroom, is being sponsored jointly by the Chamber of Commerce and the Howard County Oil Industry Information Committee. It is expected that more than 100 station operators will attend, along with a number of local business men. John Shields of the Stewart-Warner Company of Chicago will be the guest speaker for the occasion, and Robert L. Dickey of the Forest Oil Corporation in Midland will also deliver a brief talk. Dickey is the chairman of the OIC in West Texas. Service station operators here will be the guests of their wholesalers. The dinner is an often planned and much delayed tribute to the station operators. Original plans were laid last year by Ted Groehl and the banquet had been tentatively slated for Oil Progress Week in October. It had to be postponed to coordinate the dates of speaker availability with ballroom bookings. The Chamber of Commerce is interested in the dinner because, as Manager J. H. Greene explains, the service station attendants here "sell" Big Spring to travellers who stop here for gasoline and oil. The city's stations are noted for their courteous service, he said. T. E. Mitchell, a Cosden agent from Plainview and originator of the service station appreciation dinner idea, will be in Big Spring for the occasion. A similar celebration in his city resulted in great success, it is reported. Champ Rainwater, president of the Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the dinner. Roy Bruce, a station operator and city commissioner, will act as master of ceremonies. Merrill Creighton will give the invocation. Entertainment will be furnished by Dee Phillips, student at Howard County Junior College who is well known here for his guitar playing and singing ability. He is a member of the HJJC choral club. A number of local businessmen who are not connected with the oil industry have already voiced their intentions to attend the dinner. Greene announced. Others wishing to go should contact the Chamber office before noon Monday. Theme of the banquet-dinner will be, "You Are Important." Groehl of the OIC and Carl Smith of the Chamber Petroleum Committee have made the majority of preparations for the banquet.

Renewal Of Gas Price Fixing Battle Seen In Legislature

AUSTIN — Renewal of the natural gas price fixing tug-of-war in the 54th Texas Legislature was assured this week when Rep. J. B. Walling, Wichita Falls, introduced House Bill 7. As vice-chairman of the House Oil, Gas & Mining Committee, Rep. Walling is in a strategic position to press hard for adoption of his measure which he describes as an "economic waste statute." Empowering the Texas Railroad Commission to establish minimum prices on natural gas in the fields has been advocated for a number of years by producers and royalty owners, particularly the Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Association. (TIPO). TIPO already has begun its energetic lobby in behalf of a conservation bill, urging its adoption to forestall intervention of the Federal Power Commission. Rep. Walling's HB-7 is calculated to empower the Texas Railroad Commission to regulate production of gas on the same basis as oil. It authorizes the commission to hold hearings, field by field, to establish minimum prices that will prevent existence of inordinately low wellhead gas prices and price discrimination against smaller producers and royalty owners, to the end that it discourages waste. Walling's bill in the Legislature fits nicely into the gas industry's chief attack on regulation by the Federal Power Commission (FPC). That attack is being carried on in Washington this session. The Texas delegation in Congress is united in an effort to pass legislation removing from FPC jurisdiction over production and gathering of natural gas. This would leave FPC with control over no phase of the gas industry other than interstate transmission. Even if Congress does not pass such a law, gas industry spokesmen say there is a chance that Walling's bill alone might succeed in taking gas price fixing out of the hands of the federal government and vesting it with the state's Railroad Commission. Their hope is based on the fact that FPC has recognized price fixing regulations by the states of Kansas and Oklahoma. They also point to FPC's Order No. 174-B, which recognizes "valid state conservation measures." It is their hope that, if passed, the Walling bill will be recognized as a valid conservation measure. But at best, gas industry spokesmen say the Walling bill would be only a partial defense against the expansion of FPC control over their business. What recognition FPC and federal courts would give it remains to be seen. House Bill 7 provides that "the production, transportation and use of natural gas in such manner, in such amount or under such conditions as to constitute waste is hereby declared to be unlawful and is prohibited. The term 'waste,' in addition to its ordinary meaning, shall include economic waste. Advocates of a minimum price on gas hold that it will eliminate waste and discrimination in natural gas production and that out-of-state purchasers will pay most of the increase. Testimony on the subject last year indicated it would cost the average Texas household 18 cents a month. Furthermore it would necessitate renegotiation of some old contracts under which some gas is purchased at 2 cents per cubic foot in fields where later contracts call for prices as high as 17 cents. Proponents also contend Texas Railroad Commission action now would prevent impending federal invasion of Texas gas industry. Opponents of a minimum price insist it will put out of business some gatherers with firm contracts to deliver gas to consumers at low rates—probably lower than any contemplated minimum price. Some claim it will make producers and royalty owners who already are rich, much richer.

Core Being Taken In Borden Venture, One Drills Ahead

A core was under way Saturday at Magnolia No. 1 York, wildcat in Borden County, about 12 miles east of Gall. It was being cut below 4,106 feet in lime. This prospector is slated for a 9,000-foot depth, and drillsite is C SE SE, 279-97-H&TC survey. Wrather No. 1 J. B. Simpson, wildcat some two miles northwest of the Oceanic field was reportedly making hole below 5,160 feet in lime on Saturday. It is slated for a test of the Canyon lime around 8,700 feet. Drillsite of the Simpson prospector is C NW NW, 14-23-3n, T&P survey. It is on a 43.23 acre lease.

Upton Outpost Is Good For 259 Bbls.

Humble Oil and Refining Company's No. 1 Henry M. Huff, wildcat about one and a half miles southeast of the Amacker-Tippett field, Drillsite is 880 from north and west lines, 20-Y-GCSF survey, 19 miles northwest of Rankin. Flow was through a quarter inch choke, and gas-oil ratio measured 3,850-1. Flowing tubing pressure was from 1,000 to 1,300 pounds. Perforations were from 9,675-85, from 9,690 to 9,708, from 9,708 to 9,714, from 9,720 to 9,724, and from 9,734 to 9,739 feet. The new discovery is about a mile and a half southeast of Humble's No. 1-63 Amacker, closest producer in the Amacker-Tippett field. Drillsite is 880 from north and west lines, 20-Y-GCSF survey, 19 miles northwest of Rankin.

Edger In South Field Making 100 Bbls. Fluid

Approximately 100 barrels of fluid — about 40 per cent oil — is being made daily at Duncan Drilling Company's No. 2-B Longshore, project in the Howard-Glasscock field. Total depth of the project is around 2,400 feet, and production zone was treated with 6,000 gallons of acid and petrofrac. Location is 330 from south and 990 from east lines, northwest quarter, 15-33-2s, T&P survey. Another Howard-Glasscock try, Duncan No. 4-A Currie, has set pipe at 2,478 feet, and a shift from rotary to cable tools is now under way. Location of the Currie venture is about 12 miles south of Big Spring, drillsite being 330 from south and 1,130 from east lines, 4-32-2s, T&P survey. To the southeast of the Howard-Glasscock field, Sunray's No. 1 W. N. Reed has total depth of 3,604 feet, where pipe has been set. Operator is preparing to perforate and test. The Reed project is listed as a wildcat stepout to field production, some six miles east of Forsan. Drillsite is 372 from north and 1,011 from east lines, 152-29-W&NW survey. In the Moore field of Southwest Howard County, Duncan Drilling Company has spotted location for the No. 6 Wilkinson. It is on the north side of field production, and operator is now rigging up for operations.

Forest Oil Company of Midland has announced the completion of its No. 1 H. H. Eiland and a wildcat discovery about one and a half miles south of the Kelly-Snyder (Canyon reef lime) field in Scurry County. It had a 24-hour flowing potential of 208 barrels of 42.8 gravity oil. Test production was through a 19-64th-inch choke, and recovery included 11.5 per cent water. The Central Scurry County discovery had gas-oil ratio of 353-1. Flowing tubing pressure was between 145 and 150 pounds, and completion was from perforations in the casing between 6,848 and 6,854 feet. Treatment was with 2,000 gallons of acid. Drillsite of the well was 648 from north and 672 from east lines, southeast quarter, 167-97-H&TC survey, about eight miles southwest of Snyder. Sun No. 1 Hudnall, wildcat about 12 miles east of Snyder, was reportedly drilling at 5,446 feet in sand, lime and shale over the weekend. Drillsite is C NE NE, 27-3-H&TC survey, and a test is to be made of the Ellenburger around 7,500 feet.

Scurry Reef Find Finals

Entertainment will be furnished by Dee Phillips, student at Howard County Junior College who is well known here for his guitar playing and singing ability. He is a member of the HJJC choral club. A number of local businessmen who are not connected with the oil industry have already voiced their intentions to attend the dinner. Greene announced. Others wishing to go should contact the Chamber office before noon Monday. Theme of the banquet-dinner will be, "You Are Important." Groehl of the OIC and Carl Smith of the Chamber Petroleum Committee have made the majority of preparations for the banquet.

Wildcat Staked In Southeast Nolan

Norworthy No. 1 Sears, C SE SE, 152-1A-H&TC survey, has been spotted as a wildcat in Southwest Nolan County about five miles west of Maryneal. The prospector will be drilled to around 7,500 feet for a sample of the Ellenburger, and operations are to start immediately.

More Important Than Oil

W. J. Murray Jr., Texas Railroad Commission chairman, told the 32nd annual meeting of the Buffalo Trail Council here Friday night that boys were more important than oil. Widely respected as an expert in the field of oil and gas conservation, Murray said that conservation of human resources was vastly more important. In a time of peril people have to be mighty busy not to have time for youth, he said.

Largest Midland Well Is Completed

Texas Gulf Producing Company completed the 3rd largest well ever reported in Midland County to extend the Dora Roberts (Ellenburger) field in the west portion of the county three-quarters of a mile northwest. The same operator also extended the field a half-mile due north with another new oiler. Texas Gulf No. 1-B Parks finished for a calculated 24-hour flowing potential of 3,439 barrels of 52.1-gravity oil, making it the sixth well in the Midland-Ellenburger Trend to be completed for more than 3,000 barrels of oil daily. Production was from open hole section at 12,953 to 13,003 feet after 750 gallons of mud acid. The flow was gauged through a one-inch choke. Gas-oil ratio was 790-1. The potential gauge was based on a five-hour flow of 716.22 barrels of oil. Texas Gulf No. 2-B Parks, north extender, was finished for a calculated 24-hour flowing potential of 1,244 barrels of 50.9-gravity oil through a half-inch choke and from open hole at 13,005-13,053 feet after 5,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 819-1. Potential was based on a 12-hour flow of 622.11 barrels of oil. Location for No. 1-B Parks is 660 feet from south and west lines

Cosden Venture Is Circulating

Fortune and Cosden No. 1 Wighton, wildcat in Coke County, was reportedly circulating for samples at 6,507 feet today after a drillstem test in the Ellenburger at a slightly higher zone. The test was taken from 6,497 to 6,502 feet with the tool open two hours. Recovery was 280 feet of free gas and 85 feet of gas-cut mud. There were no shows of oil or water, and pressure was 200 pounds. Another Fortune-Cosden project, at 5,062 feet in shale after a drillstem test from 4,851 to 4,904 feet. The tool was open an hour and recovery was 10 feet of drilling mud with no shows.

Executives Warn Of Federal Controls

By MAX B. SKELTON
HOUSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—A committee of oil and gas executives began this week a national campaign to warn of federal controls. The Natural Gas and Oil Resources Committee, independent of industry organizations, plans to carry its campaign to the consumer. A Supreme Court decision last spring placed production of natural gas under the regulation of the Federal Power Commission. FPC promptly froze field gas prices. The action set off the hottest of post-war battles affecting the industry. Oilmen began organizing last October to take the battle before the public. The campaign started this week with an advertisement in over 1,000 newspapers. The ad carried this heading: "What the Regulation of Gas Supply Means to 25,000,000 American Families." In Houston, L. F. McCollum, committee chairman and president of Continental Oil Co., explained his group's goal: "It is important that the public know the dangers of federal control—not in technical or legal terms but in terms of how they curtail exploration, deplete reserves and diminish supplies." McCollum's group has divided the nation into 15 regions, with each region supervising the campaign on state and local levels. The campaign will be supported through pro-rate contributions from committee members. The committee has no connection with another industry group involved in the FPC control dispute. An industry-wide natural gas committee also was organized last year but its objective is to obtain "corrective legislation." A field manual used by McCollum's committee said demand for natural gas promises to increase some 2½ times by 1975. The industry now supplies nearly one-half of the nation's total energy requirements, serves 21 million homes and hundreds of industries in 43 states. The manual stated there has been persistent widespread misunderstanding of the industry, particularly of phases involving discovery and production of natural gas. "As a result, gas producers now find themselves subject to federal control," the manual continued. "This control promises to discourage and thwart the kind of enterprising exploration and development of new gas supplies which are vitally necessary to meet the requirements of our expanding economy." Five points will be emphasized in the campaign: "Natural gas producers, when free of controls, furnished consumers greatly increased supplies of gas at low cost. "Federal control can curtail exploration, deplete reserves and inevitably diminish supplies. "Because about 90 per cent of consumer bills represent transportation and local distribution costs now already regulated, federal control of production cannot effect any significant savings for consumers. "Because of keen competition in producing and gathering gas among thousands of producers, there is no need for regulation. "If competitive production of gas is controlled by government, it opens the door for the spread of federal regulation to any other competitively produced commodity."

Twenty-Five Year Pin Said Missing

Marvin Miller, vice president of Cosden Petroleum Corporation, reported to police Saturday that his 25-year Cosden service pin, which contains a diamond is missing. Miller said the pin was expensive, but he indicated to police the value was sentimental. The pins are given to all Cosden employees when they work for the corporation 25 years. Miller said he must have lost the pin Friday evening.

AUDITED PAID CIRCULATION

There are standards for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

T&P Employees Attend Meeting Of Credit Union

Annual meeting of members of the Texas & Pacific Credit Union for the area between Fort Worth and El Paso drew representatives here Friday evening from as far as Toyah and Sweetwater.

There was good news for them, too, for a five cent dividend was declared, plus a loan patronage refund in the amount of five per cent of the interest earned during the year.

The dividend payment was made to 947 members in the amount of $9,234.48, which left a residue of $5,301.78 in undivided profits. Total earnings for the year amounted to $24,471.06 and total expense to $12,619.71, and this included full payment of more than $4,000 on office machines bought during the year. The patronage refund aggregated $1,166.34.

At the end of the year the credit union had loans outstanding in the amount of $246,258.98, which was about $95,000 more than for the same time a year ago. Shares amounted to $249,429.67. Reserve for bad loans stood at $5,498.83. Since organization the credit union has made 3,371 loans in the amount of $1,076,047.12. In recognition of having been the one to borrow the million dollar, A. S. Buford, fireman, was given a pen and pencil set.

F. G. L. (Las) Snow was re-elected president; C. W. Dickerson, vice president; D. C. Sadler, treasurer; W. B. Graddy, A. J. Conroy, S. V. Jordan and C. L. Wright, directors.

Others elected were R. C. Williams, H. D. Stanley, A. W. Page, L. M. Tucker and D. D. Dyer on the credit committee; L. C. McDanel, C. A. Boyd, Frank Neill, on the supervisory committee; J. F. Botvidson, Jack Haptonstall and W. L. Slate, publicity committee; Euna Lee Everett, assistant treasurer.

Eighty members attended the meeting, which was held in the parish house of the St. Mary's Episcopal Church.

Our Religious Faiths

What Is An Episcopalian? (Part I Of Article V)

This is another in a series of informative articles on the role of religion in today's world, written for the Herald by leading authorities of the various faiths and denominations. Later articles will discuss Methodism and the Church of Christ.

By W. NORMAN PITTENER
General Theological Seminary
Professor of Christian Apologetics
What is an Episcopalian?

An Episcopalian is a member of the Protestant Episcopal Church, which is one branch of the Anglican Communion—a religious group spread throughout the world and numbering some forty million Christians.

There are "Episcopal Churches" in all parts of the globe. The Church of England is the mother of them all. Many of our churches are self-governing, like the Japanese church (called the Holy Catholic Church in Japan) or the Canadian. They all use the Book of Common Prayer; they are in communion with the Archbishop of Canterbury; they all recognize bishops as their chief pastors. Is the Episcopalian Church Catholic or Protestant?

In a profound sense, it is both. It is sometimes called "the bridge church."

The Episcopal Church preserves the ancient Catholic sacraments and professes the ancient Catholic creeds; this was the intention of its reformers in the 16th century. On the other hand, it is a "reformed" church, for during that century, the authority of the Bishop of Rome (the Pope) was rejected and many modifications were made in worship and doctrine. But in no sense did the early reformers in England intend to deny "Catholic truth."

The official title of the Church in America, "The Protestant Episcopal Church," was adopted when the word "Protestant" meant "non-Roman" or "non-papal."

What is the Episcopalian attitude to Roman Catholicism?

The Episcopalian Church has no official position in regard to present-day Roman Catholicism. It believes that the Anglican Communion possesses all the essential marks of historical Catholicism—the apostolic faith, sacraments and ministry.

Did Henry VIII found the Episcopal Church?

No. Under Henry, the freedom of the English Church from the authority of the Bishop of Rome was achieved; but that was the end of a long period of protest and agitation against what were conceived to be the Pope's unwarranted usurpations of authority. Henry's desire for a divorce provided the occasion but was not the cause of the independence of the Church of England.

What are the basic beliefs of Episcopals?

They are affirmed in the Apostles' Creed and the Nicene Creed. The Apostles' Creed is the ancient baptismal statement of faith. As used in Episcopalian services, it runs: "I believe in God the Father Almighty, Maker of heaven and earth;

"And in Jesus Christ his only Son our Lord; Who was conceived by the Holy Ghost, Born of the Virgin Mary; Suffered under Pontius Pilate; Was crucified, dead, and buried; He descended into hell; The third day He arose again from the dead; He ascended into heaven, and sitteth on the right hand of God the Father Almighty; From thence He shall come to judge the quick and the dead."

"I believe in the Holy Ghost; The holy Catholic Church; The Communion of Saints; The Forgiveness of Sins; The Resurrection of the body; And the Life everlasting. Amen."

The Nicene Creed, used at the service of Holy Communion, is an expanded statement of the Christian faith, essentially the same as the Apostles' Creed.

Both creeds state the main points of Christian belief in a pictorial and dramatic form. Some of the phrases are clearly "symbolic" (as, "sitteth on the right hand of God the Father," which of course not be literally true); some parts are historical in intention (as "born," "crucified," "dead," "buried," "rose again"); and some parts are philosophical often phrased in the pictorial language which the early Church acquired from its Jewish background.

What do Episcopals believe about Jesus Christ?

They believe that he is "truly God and truly man, united in one person for the salvation of mankind. There are different ways of understanding and teaching this doctrine, but it is central and unchangeable for all Episcopals.

What is the Episcopalian view of the Virgin Birth?

The creeds and the liturgy of the Episcopal Church assert the traditional belief that Jesus was born of Mary without a human father.

There is no disagreement within the Church on the theological meaning of the Virgin Birth. There has been, and still is, disagreement about the Virgin Birth in its biological detail. Most Episcopals probably accept it as literally true; some regard it as symbolic in character.

The Episcopal Church is able to contain both types of thinking within it, since all Episcopals accept the Incarnation—the true deity and humanity of Jesus—as the central truth about Christ.

What about the Trinity?

The Trinity is the Christian teaching about God. In the light of man's experience of God's working in the world, Christians have been driven to assert that God is as he reveals himself. He is Creative Reality (God the Father); he is Expressive Act (God the Son); he is Responsive Power (God the Holy Spirit). Yet he is one God. This is "theology." What matters most, in the Book of Common Prayer, about the Trinity is that we worship God and experience him in a "trinitarian" fashion.

Do Episcopals practice private confession?

They may, since provision is made in the Prayer Book for private confession of sins to a priest, with the declaration of absolution by him. However, this is not enforced, as in the Roman Catholic Church; it is entirely optional.

Many Episcopals avail themselves of the privilege, some frequently, some occasionally. Many do not desire to use this "means of grace" and find satisfaction in the general confessions and absolutions which are provided in the regular services of the Church.

How do Episcopals regard the Bible?

The Holy Scriptures are, for Episcopals, the great source and testing ground of Christian doctrine. Nothing may be taught "as necessary to eternal salvation" excepting what can be "proved" (the Elizabethan word for "tested") by Holy Scripture.

But the Episcopal Church does not hold to the literal inerrancy of Scripture. The Bible is considered sacred for its general inspiration, as the record of God's revelation.

The Episcopal Church maintains a balance between gospel and tradition, on the one hand, and the use of reason on the other. Freedom of investigation, restatements of the Christian faith and incorporation of scientific truths are possible without creating violent fundamentalist-modernist controversies.

The Episcopal Church has accepted the theory of evolution as an account of man's origin, as well as other new scientific discoveries, without disturbing its central beliefs.

In both freedom of inquiry and Biblical criticism, the Episcopal Church's position has sometimes been called a "liberal" or even a "modernist" Catholicism.

What is the Book of Common Prayer?

At the time of the English reforms, the old service books of the Church were translated into English. Some of the services were combined and edited; many were shortened and simplified. The result was the Book of Common Prayer, completed in 1549.

All later Prayer Books, including that used in America today, are re-editions of the 1549 book, whose beautiful, stately language, simplicity and dignity are unparalleled. The regular services, like the Holy Communion or Holy Eucharist, Morning and Evening Prayer, the Litany, are all taken from the Prayer Book.

Episcopals believe that a prescribed form of service, with parts assigned to clergy and people, is the most fitting way to adore God. Frequent revisions are made to meet the needs of succeeding ages; but the principle of ordered worship remains at the heart of Anglicanism.

The worship of the Episcopal Church is not rigid. Many variations are found in the Prayer Book; the special prayers ("collects") and the different readings from the Bible give considerable variety for each Sunday and holy day.

Dividend Is Paid To Conoco Credit Union's Members

Members in the Conoco Federal Credit Union split a 4% per cent dividend in the amount of $3,087.63 at their annual meeting Friday afternoon at the Forsan Country Club.

Out of a total of 222 members, covering a wide area of West Texas, 57 turned out for the shareholders session.

Elected president of the credit union was C. S. Ellis; vice president; J. A. Underwood; secretary-treasurer, Mildred Olive, all of the district office at Forsan. Other directors named were J. A. Rackley, Big Lake, W. E. Lott, Big Lake, Jack Collins, Midland, and R. L. Shelton, Forsan.

Those named on the credit committee were J. F. Duncan, W. M. Richards and D. L. Henderson, all of the district office; to the supervisory committee, C. J. Wise, E. W. Hansen, and J. D. Gilmore, all of the district office.

During the past year the association made 179 loans in the aggregate amount of $87,680, which was $11,000 less than the previous year. There were loans aggregating $94,731.82 outstanding as of Dec. 31, 1954.

Since organization, the credit union has made 909 loans in the aggregate of $455,095.

After payment of the dividend, undivided profits amounted to $574.78. The 222 members have a total of $86,048.09 in shares.

Two Fliers Die In Jet Bomber Crash

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 22 (AP)—Investigators sought today the cause of a jet bomber crash that killed two Randolph Air Force Base fliers on a farm east of here last night.

They were Capt. Charles Adams, 33, of Selma, and Lt. John Cargill, 26, observer, of Larchmont, N.Y.

The twin-engine B-57 crashed and burned one mile south of the base—the first fatal aircraft accident at Randolph in 21 months.

Adams was a World War II pilot called back to active duty in 1951. Both had seen action in the Korean War.

Bodies of the two were badly mangled in the crash and subsequent explosion. The blazing wreckage was scattered over about half an acre of the Henry Hofferichter farm.

Base operations said the plane was making its final approach on its return from a routine training mission.

'Y' Groups Hold Planning Sessions

Approximately 75 junior high youngsters took part in Junior Hi-Y and Tr-Hi-Y activities at the YMCA on Thursday evening.

The eighth grade girls heard a talk by the Rev. E. Otis Moore, pastor of the St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, and the ninth grade girls had a program planning session. Boys were addressed by Dr. Clyde E. Thomas Jr. on boy and girl relations. There were about 40 girls attending and 35 boys.

New Mexico A&M Gets New President

LAS CRUCES, N. M., Jan. 22 (AP)—A Maryland educator, Dr. Roger Corbett, was appointed president of New Mexico A&M today. He succeeds Dr. John Branson, who is retiring.

Corbett was associate dean of agriculture and director of the extension service at the University of Maryland until April 11, 1949, when he resigned to become agricultural counsel for the National Assn. of Food Chains in Washington.

Chamber Dinner Tickets Ordered

Tickets for the annual Big Spring Chamber of Commerce banquet should be available in the near future, it was announced Saturday by Chamber Manager J. H. Greene.

The executive committee met Friday and authorized that the tickets be printed. They will sell for $3 each.

C. T. Evans, vice president of public relations for the Arkansas Power and Light Company, will be the guest speaker for the banquet, which is slated for the evening of Feb. 28.

It will be at the banquet that the new officers and directors for the year will be announced. Hold-over directors of the Chamber will meet Monday to nominate 45 people for membership election.

Manager Greene stated that the 45-man election slate should be mailed to members by Tuesday so that the ballots can be returned and counted in time for the banquet. Members will elect 15 new directors.

Hold-over directors will also elect 10 new directors, which will make a total of 40 for the coming year. The hold-over directors will meet at noon Monday in the Chamber offices to make their nominations.

Complete plans for the annual Chamber banquet have not yet been made, but Manager Greene has been given authority to appoint the committees necessary for preparations.

New Books Arrive At County Library

A new shipment of books has been received at the Howard County Library according to librarian Opal McDaniel. Many of them are current "best sellers," she said, and have been nominated for the National Book Award.

The books received at the library are: "The Healer" by Frank G. Slaughter; "The Singing and the Gold" by A. B. Matthews; "Face Value" by Robert Standish; "The Bombay Meeting" by Ivor Morris; "The Captain Leaves the Ship" by Jan Cwiklinski; "The Adventurers" by Ernest Haycox; "The Four Winds" by David Beaty; "Song of the Sky" by Guy Murchie. A collection of short stories, "The Golden Argosy," was also in the shipment.

Appellate Court Grants Motion

The 11th District Court of Civil Appeals in Eastland has granted a motion which will permit the appellee to file brief in the case of Ellis Iden, et al. versus Mildred Ackerman, et al. The case involves trespass to try title.

Two cases, that of J. S. Garlington, et al. versus A. L. Wasson, et al., and of G. H. Hayward versus Hazel Duiker, individually and as executrix, have been set for submission in the appellate court on Feb. 4.

Student Pilot Killed

LAREDO, Jan. 22 (AP)—A student pilot who was killed in a crash near Laredo Wednesday night was identified today by the base as Sgt. Rena Vandemulder, 19, of Belgium.

Good Neighbor Group Planning Session Held

LAREDO, Jan. 22 (AP)—A program for a Good Neighbor Council meeting to be held here Feb. 17-19 was planned today by representatives from Texas and four north Mexico states.

The Texas group was headed by Claude Meadows of San Angelo, member of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Shivers Sets Trip

AUSTIN, Jan. 22 (AP)—Gov. Shivers will leave about noon tomorrow for Washington to attend a meeting of the commission on intergovernmental relations. He plans to return Wednesday night.

New Sandwich Introduced By Toby's

A new type of sandwich in this area is now being prepared to go at TOBY'S FAST CHICK. It is called a SUBMARINE SANDWICH. The SUBMARINE is a noble edifice built of meat, cheese, fresh vegetables and lavished generously with oil, all stuffed into a long loaf of bread. This sandwich is of Italian descent and is a great favorite in other parts of the country.

A real treat is in store for you when you try a SUBMARINE SANDWICH. Truly a whole meal for 30c. The place is TOBY'S FAST CHICK, 1801 Gregg.

Nation Shows Gain In Business Activity

NEW YORK, Jan. 22 (AP)—Business activity picked up speed this week even as trading on the stock market slackened.

Auto production came within a hair's breadth of matching the record set in the week of June, 17, 1950.

Steel output hovered around two million tons, highest in 14 months, while production of crude oil and electric power smashed all prior records. Department store sales, at latest count, were running a hefty 16 per cent ahead of year-ago levels. Toolmakers reported a sharp upturn in new orders.

There were expressions of glowing optimism from the President of the United States and the president of the world's largest manufacturing corporation.

It was against this rosy background that several "go-slow" signals flashed.

At the Chicago convention of the National Assn. of Home Builders, Dr. George Conklin, economist for the Guardian Life Insurance Co., warned contractors they'd be confronted with a "very tight mortgage market" if home building continues at last year's pace. Predicting further moves by the Federal Reserve Board to tighten the money market, he declared: "The government doesn't want an all-out boom now and then a decline in 1956, just before the elections. You can be sure they will act."

Evidence of a tighter money supply right now was seen in the higher interest rates posted by dealers in commercial paper. It was the second increase in less than a week.

There were new rumblings on the labor front. Steel industry leaders said it was practically a dead

Talent Is Added For MOD Show

Mrs. W. V. Seals, talent show chairman of the March of Dimes, has announced additional performers for the talent show scheduled for Tuesday at 8 p.m. at the High School auditorium.

The latest list of talent included the Rhythm-ettes made up of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boland, Bill Bradley, Norman Gound and Darrell Sanders; a song skit by Lana Satterwhite and Ray Blum; a twirling duet by Mary Jane Engstrom and Sharon Seals; an octet formed of Edith Stuteville, Patricia Moore, Jean Jackson, Clarice Wright, Karon Koger, Linda McNew, LaJuan McPherson and Shirley Masters.

Tap dance by Virginia Ruth Morris; square dance with Ross Reagan as caller and Modesta Simpson, Jane Guin, Mary Reed, Lynn Clawson, Rip Patterson, Tommy Reed, Jimmy Haynes and Jimmy Patterson; accordion solos by Judy Mitchell and Ann Willis and songs by Linda Sudberry and Judy Dunbar.

Others who were announced earlier as participating in the show are Clyde McMahon, Jimmy Allen, Marlene Mann, J. C. Prevo, Larry Nix, Marguerita Arista, Richard Marquez, Carmen DeLeon and Mary Lou Lopez.

Admission to the show will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

Two Young Sisters Die In Houston Fire

HOUSTON, Jan. 22 (AP)—Two young sisters died last night in a fire which quickly swept through their one-room frame home. Three other children escaped injury.

The dead were Brenda Hall, 2, and Mona Babino, 15 days old.

Mrs. James Babino, the mother, said the fire broke out while she was at a house next door to fix a bottle for the girl.

BOOK REVIEWS

Something Refreshing Told About Juvenile—Of Past

"RECOLLECTION CREEK" by Fred Gipson, Harper, 208 pp., $2.75.

The attention given juvenile delinquency in many current novels and newspapers has somewhat obscured the more pleasant childhoods of past generations. Gipson brings back these pleasant memories through the eyes of a nine-year-old boy, Hopper Creech.

The refreshing adventures, trials, and foibles of a boy growing up on a farm are told in simple and realistic language. The narrative moves quickly from scene to scene, touched now with humor and then with sadness.

There is the story of an outcast who entered a bull in a horse race and won. And there is Grandpa's feud with a phantom turkey gobbler, which the turkey won.

Another time Grandpa hiked the boys all over the county looking for a suitable tree limb with which to spank them. Weary and tired from so much walking and selecting branches, they finally found one about the size of a bull whip. Grandpa said he thought it would do. The boys were scared to death. Then Grandpa laughed and went home without spanking them. They didn't forget that close shave either.

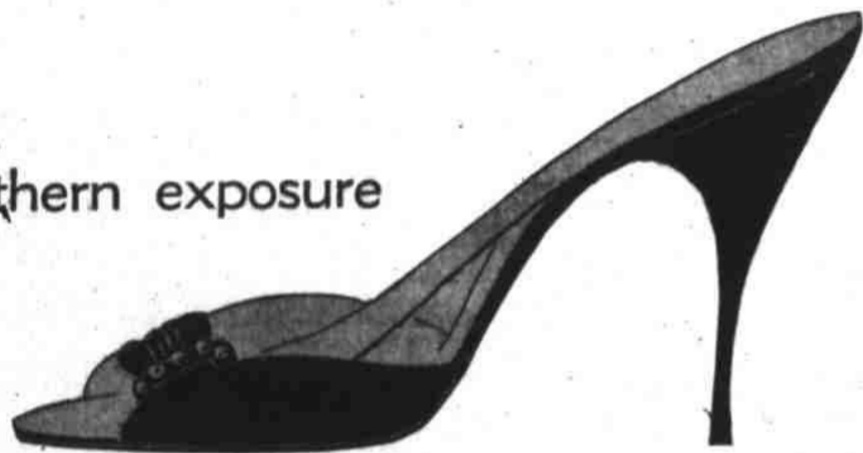

parently encouraged a host of writers to reflect today's events in the world of the future. Some of them, "MESSIAH" (by Gore Vidal), are interesting novels. Others such as this book are failures.

Author Karp has added nothing to the genre in his book and has developed no theme not already handled in many of the current science fiction pulps. His characters are cardboard figures and the hapless central figure appals the reader with his stupidity. That such a person should be the ideal of the future is not convincing.

The attempt at suspense is trying for the reader. Karp might make a success of comic book writing.

214 RUNNELS

"SOMEONE LIKE YOU" by Roland Dahl, Knopf, 350 pp.

This collection of 18 stories is perhaps the authors' best work to date. Taken from the New Yorker, Harper's and Town and Country, among others, his brilliant examples of fictional wit and humor are displayed.

Dahl exhibits a macabre form of humor in much the same manner as Charles Addams' cartoons. In this volume is his story of the man who bets Cadillac against his victim's fingers and another who gambles his daughter against an ability to judge wine.

Perhaps the best of the lot is about a woman who murders her husband with a frozen leg of lamb and then prepares the lamb for the dinner of the police officers who are investigating the crime. The officers are unable to find a murder weapon and as they eat the lamb, one remarks that it is probably right under their noses.

Dahl has a rare talent for the unexpected and superior writing ability.

Not Just Music, But Hi-Fi

FAMILY STYLE — Dr. Edward V. Swift has combined high fidelity, phonograph, radio, TV and tape recorder into one central and handsome built-in cabinet. Everything comes through a big bi-axial 15-inch speaker. Extra powerful, the set has an amplifier of 15 watts. When the cabinet doors are closed you'd never guess it houses such an array of equipment. The rich, polished wood is a background for black trivet handles and wrought-iron hinges. Pictured with Dr. Swift are Mrs. Swift and their daughter, Virginia.

MUSIC FROM ALL SIDES — Dr. P. W. Malone can get a three-dimensional effect with his high fidelity equipment by using a bi-aural pickup and special bi-aural records with two tracks. Malone probably has the most complete layout of high fidelity sound equipment in town. It consists of two speaker cabinets, one which he built himself containing three speakers, and another custom-built job; a 16-inch professional-type turntable; two amplifiers of 10 watts power; the bi-aural turntable; a 45-rpm turntable; radio, and two professional-type tape recorders. His record library is so immense he gave up the job of trying to count how many it includes. A favorite hobby of his is recording concerts and other musical events presented in this area. His tape recording collection is also extensive.

THREE SPEAKER MAN — An avid interest in jazz led Bill Bell, 2004 N. Monticello, to invest in some high fidelity equipment. He used the record player and cabinet of an old radio-phonograph combination, added a woofer and a tweeter and a mid-range horn speaker (or squawker). The latter he built himself and placed it across the roof from the amplifier and cabinet shown here. Bell is a laboratory technician at the VA Hospital.

SUITE MUSIC — Enhancing Dr. Houston J. Zinn's downtown hotel suite is a 12-watt complete with woofer and tweeter on one side of the room and a fine squawker cabinet similar to Dr. Malone's, on the other side. He uses a 45-rpm turntable and he estimates he owns over 1,000 records — mostly jazz. His favorite is Louis Armstrong. Dr. Zinn is a surgeon at the VA Hospital.

NOW YOU SEE IT, NOW YOU DON'T — When the curtain is back in place no high fidelity speaker is in sight and Bill Dawes usually tells children that the music comes from the blue plate over the fireplace. Dawes wired his outfit and built the fireplace speaker himself. The speaker is a co-axial, 12-incher and his amplifier has 12 watts of power. Mrs. Dawes' job is to keep their large record collection catalogued. Dawes spent less than $200 on his complete set. He says the fireplace is a good one — no bricks have been jarred loose yet.

WANTA HEAR IT AGAIN? — Although newcomers to the clan of high fidelity enthusiasts, Lt. and Mrs. Wallace Dunning are "crazy about" their table model set which boasts two horns. Mrs. Dunning says it's wonderful turned up full blast with marching music for her den of cub scouts. They can hear it very well in the backyard. It gets played in the Dunning home on an average of three hours a day. Like the Dunnings', many small sets on the market have a frequency range of 50 to 20,000 cycles per second. BIG SPRING HERALD

Society Big Spring Herald, Sun., Jan. 23, 1955 Sec. II

To Wed In February

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Tuckness, 1313 Stadium, are announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Claudia O'Donnell, to Earl Wayne Holt of Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio. He is the son of Mrs. Alice Holt, 402 Presidio. The ceremony will take place Feb. 5 at the home of the bride's parents, with the Rev. Sidney Knox, pastor of the Nazarene Church, officiating. Mr. Holt is now taking his basic training at Lackland. (Photo by Barr, Photocenter).

Food, Fashion And Home Covered In Forum Talks

A three-part program was given for the Woman's Forum at its meeting Friday in the home of Mrs. Jack Y. Smith.

Mrs. W. N. Norred spoke on "Attractive Serving Hints and Tempting Refreshments." Mrs. J. D. Jones told about "Flower Arrangement Hints and Room Accessories" and Mrs. Leroy Tidwell discussed "Fashion News."

Mrs. Norred told how attractive food can change the entire meal and illustrated her talk with pictures of food attractively arranged. In her talk, Mrs. Jones said that room accessories depend on one's own personality and that they should reflect originality.

Mrs. Tidwell, who had just returned from two days in Dallas studying the new fashions, pointed out that the most popular style is still the suit, especially the costume suit. The longer jackets are good this year, she said.

Another trend Mrs. Tidwell noted was that the voluminous petticoats appear to be going out of style.

But coming into fashion prominence are checks, the overblouse, pale yellow and bright colored coats.

On make-up trends, Mrs. Tidwell noticed that the pale interesting look is gaining popularity and that hair coloring is becoming more accepted.

It was announced at the meeting that Mrs. H. W. Kirby, Mrs. J. D. Elliott and Mrs. Charles Tompkins would hold a March of Dimes coffee next Friday from 9:30 to 11 a.m. in Mrs. Tompkins' home.

Members were invited to attend the tea to be given by the Modern Women's Forum on Feb. 3 at Howard and County Junior College.

Mrs. Norred was co-hostess for the meeting which 17 attended.

Bake Bosc pears and serve them with a soft custard sauce for a company dessert. The pears will bake tender in three-quarters to one hour in a moderate oven. Baste the pears with a light sugar syrup while they are baking.

Married Recently

Mr. and Mrs. Irwin Charles Benn are at home in Pierre, S. D., following their recent marriage at the home of her parents, the Rev. and Mrs. C. E. Lancaster, in San Saba. She is the former Margery Lancaster, who was adopted by the Lancasters when he was pastor of the First Baptist Church here. Mrs. Benn is a graduate of Baylor University where she had an outstanding record as a music major. She is a teacher in the Pierre schools.

Contest Rules Given By Medical Group

"The Advantages of Private Medical Care" is the subject of the essay contest to be sponsored by the Permian Basin Medical Auxiliary this year. Locally, the contest will carry prizes of $50 for first prize, $25 for second prize and $15 for third prize.

On a state-wide basis, $1,000 in prizes will be awarded. In the national contest, first prize will be $1,000, second prize will be $500, and third prize will be $100. There will be three other prizes of $25 each.

The contest is open to high school students and the deadline for essays to be turned in is March 1. Last year's winner in Big Spring, Nancy Conway, was also the winner of the district contest. There were two Texas students in the list of national winner for 1954. These were third placer, David Curry of El Paso, and Kate Wood of El Campo, who won sixth prize.

Rules of the contest are as follows:

1. High school students (10th, 11th and 12th grades) from all public and parochial schools located in the United States are eligible to enter the contest - except sons and daughters of physicians.
2. Essays must be limited to 1,500 words.
3. Essays should be written on one side of letter size paper (8 1/2 x 11) and if typewritten, double spaced.
4. Each essayist must type his name, address, telephone number, school and grade on either the cover or the first page of his essay.
5. Contest starts January 1, 1955 and essays must be submitted on or before March 1, 1955 to:
 - (a) County or local medical society or auxiliary sponsoring contest; or
 - (b) State society or auxiliary sponsoring contest (in the event no county or local group sponsors it); or

(c) Association of American Physicians and Surgeons, 360 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 1, Illinois, in the event no contest is sponsored by either a county or state society.

6. First three prize winning essays from each county or local medical society must be sent to:

- (a) The state medical society on or before March 15, 1955 (if it is sponsoring a state contest) to compete for state awards; or
- (b) To Association of American Physicians and Surgeons on or before April 1, 1955 360 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 1, Illinois, to compete for national awards (in the event no state contest is held.)

7. First three prize winning essays from each state must be sent to the Association of American Physicians and Surgeons on or before April 1, 1955, 360 N. Michigan Avenue, Chicago 1, Illinois, to compete for national awards.

8. Compositions must be original and should be well documented.

9. JUDGING: Will be based solely on knowledge and grasp of the subject supported with documentation, and sound, logical conclusions.

10. JUDGES: For county and state contests and the national Contest: A physician, an educator, and another person, all of whom shall have some special knowledge of the subject.

CAMPUS CHATTER

By FRANCES WALKER

The Dramatics Club constitution was read and accepted in a student council meeting Monday morning. Mrs. Cluffard, the club's sponsor, has announced that the group will go into production next semester. Several plays including "Dear Ruth" and "Annie Get Your Gun" are being considered.

The student body was entertained by an artist's model in an assembly Tuesday morning.

Jayhawkers supporting the Hawks at San Angelo Tuesday night were Jan Burns, Neil Glover, Peggy Knight, Norma Blount, Myrna Talley, Connie Crow, Barbara White, Frances Walker, Silas Flournoy, Loy Loudamy, Roy Loudamy, Frank Hunt, Lonnie Martin, Dennis Phillips, Ben Grimes, Dee Phillips, Mr. and Mrs. Lillard, Mr. and Mrs. Brown, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson.

Attention all girl! Twirl (The Woman is Requested To Pay) Week is on its way. It will begin on Feb. 7, and last through the Lass-O Club Valentine Dance on the 14th.

Ranch Days will be staged on Feb. 24-25.

Mary Ellen Hayes and Barbara White have been named associate editors of the yearbook for the second semester. Joe Welch, the former associate editor, resigned as she is moving to another state in the near future.

Who's Who and Department Standouts will be named by the faculty at the beginning of the new semester. Who's Who will be selected on scholarship alone.

Phil Gore was elected sophomore class representative to the Student Council with the resignation of Richard Read. A runoff election was staged yesterday for student body treasurer. In the runoff were Barbara White and Mary Ellen Hayes.

One of our exes Reba (Taylor) Eaton, visited school Wednesday. Grayford Auten and Glen Barnes were also exes who returned to the campus this week.

The choir has been working overtime lately preparing an hour and a half program to be presented in Stanton on Jan. 31. A special committee met in the home of director Mr. Orland Johnson Thursday night to proof-read the script which combines humor and seriousness into a very entertaining program.

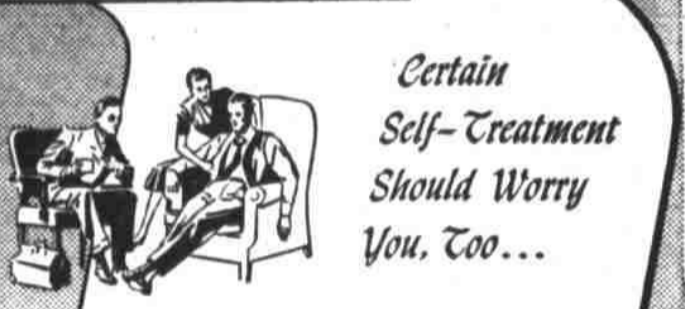

Mary Ellen Hayes was crowned Basketball Sweetheart by the team Co-Captain Arlen White before the game with Odessa Friday night. Hawk Captain Jim Knotts was her escort. Other nominees and their escorts were Myrna Talley, Ray Crooks, Jan Burns, Paschal Wickard, Mary Ann Moore, Oakley Hagood, Loretta Blum and Ronald Anderson. A reception was held in the SUB after the game for the visiting team, and the Odessa fans. Refreshments of punch and cake were served. Semester exams begin on Monday.

Prescription Pharmacists

Certain Self-Treatment Should Worry You, Too...
Powerful and effective, many new drugs can produce remarkable results. Likewise, much damage can result from improper use or overdose. Dangerous immunities can develop. Permanent injury can be done - even life can be endangered.

For good reason, there are restrictions on the use of penicillin, Chloromycetin, certain sulfa compounds and other drugs without the care and prescription of a physician. When your health requires it, consult your Doctor. He will prescribe these new and potent remedies when he feels they are required.

You Need Your CHURCH.....Your CHURCH Needs You!

HOW TO KEEP UP WITH THE JONESES

Do you keep your nose to the grindstone trying to give your family everything the Joneses have? Then observe these neighbors carefully. They probably have something that escapes your notice. They have family, friends, and material possessions. But they have something more. Notice that the Joneses always attend the services of the Church. They have found that without spiritual guidance their other treasures are worthless. And they have discovered new solutions to their everyday problems. They view the world from a different slant, for they have found the faith to take life as it comes along. The Joneses and more than 88 million other Americans are now church members. If you really want to keep up with the Joneses, follow their lead. Find and cultivate the faith they've found. Go to Church this week... and every week, and make yours a Christian home.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Spring Silhouette Has Long Torso

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
Here's how you'll know it's new this spring:
The most important silhouette for the advance guard of the 1955 Easter Parade will be the long-torso shape. It comes in suits, in dresses and three-piece costumes.
The long-torso silhouette is not, as previously reported, the shapeless sack of the 1920s. It hugs every curve of the figure, and requires more careful corseting than any fashions that have come along in the last decade. It is fitted from bustline to hipline, and has its belt around the hips. But woe to the gal who lets her midriff sag, if she aspires to one of these new spring outfits.
American manufacturers have adapted the Christian Dior line to the national taste. The newest spring outfits will preserve all the feminine curves, but will accent curves instead of points. The bustline will be natural, without falter, the waistline will be as nature made it, without cinchers. The idea is a straight, stem-like line from bust to hips, with the bosom following its natural curves above. Fabrics this spring will be more sumptuous than in many years. Pure silk tweeds, chiffon weight wools and silklike cottons are all in the picture. The top color is, as usual, navy.

There will be lots of trim white collars, and a return of the navy and white polka dot silk dress, with a prim schoolgirl simplicity. Costumes, consisting of three-quarter coat, slim skirt, and hip-length overblouse will be much in evidence. The coat is lined in fabric to match the blouse.
The year-round weatherwise theory again is evident in spring clothes, which are designed for 12-month wear. Easter suits will be lighter-weight than ever, planned to be worn throughout the summer and on into fall. Under coats, they can do winter duty also.
Necklines will be higher, skirts slightly shorter, bosoms raised and rounded—and you'll still have to diet, to be in step with the fashion parade of 1955.

The 1955 Look

Here are major silhouettes shown by New York designers in current advance previews of spring styles. The Dior line is adapted to the American taste, with the long-torso shape the most important silhouette.

HOLLYWOOD BEAUTY

Proper Food And Rest Stressed By Diana Lynn

By LYDIA LANE
HOLLYWOOD — In the Green Room at Warner Bros., Diana Lynn and I chatted about her current films, "The Track of the Cat," and Paramount's "You're Never Too Young."
"I've finally grown up," Diana said with a wry smile. "This can be a pretty painful process when you start in pictures as a child, but when I was offered the part of a girl who falls in love with a boy too young for her, I knew I'd made the grade."
One of the make-up men stopped at our table to talk to Diana about going blonde for a test.
"I was blonde as a child," Diana admitted, "but still, changing the color of your hair is a lot of trouble because you can't keep it up yourself. And I like to do my own hair."
"One thing I've learned from traveling is the great influence water has on the quality of your hair. Soft water makes such a difference in the sheen and the way it behaves that I have had a softener installed in my home."
"My hair looks so much better when it is clean. When I haven't time to wash it, I've found dry shampoos very helpful because they remove the dirt without spoiling the coiffure."
Diana ordered a simple lunch of meat and salad. "I am a great believer in using your head in planning meals rather than catering to your sense of taste," she said. "It stands to reason that the quality of your health is related to the quality of your food. After all what is taste? A Japanese boy brought up in Los Angeles prefers our food to his native dishes. So it's only sensible to break bad habits when you tend to go overboard for unhealthy foods."
"Eating well-balanced meals is a sure way to lick an over-weight problem," Diana explained. "When you have the proper proportions of meat, fruit, green vegetables and salads you won't be bothered with hunger signals. It is not always a low calorie diet that makes you hungry."
"You are headed for disastrous effects when you upset your body chemistry with extreme reducing diets. I've known girls who have ruined their hair and skin by eliminating all butter and fats from their diet."
"I don't overdo the health routine but I know I feel and look better when I pay attention to the rules of nutrition."
"Proper food and rest — that's how beauty is built," Diana said thoughtfully. "no two people require exactly the same amount of sleep to feel in the pink. I need nine hours. But finding out what makes you feel rested is an important point."
"The quality of sleep is significant, too," Diana continued. "If you drop off when you are all keyed up, you won't get the same degree of relaxation. Even if it means less hours of actual sleep you'll be better off doing some unwinding before you retire.

"I've had to learn to let myself run down normally. I've worked at it and now I can turn-off what is on my mind to the point where even when I'm working on a picture I can fall asleep during part of my lunch hour."
"It may be difficult at first but be patient. Get into a comfortable position — I like my feet higher than my head — and try to block out everything on your mind. One by one push aside every thought which comes into your stream of consciousness. As for your problems, adopt that old Scarlett O'Hara philosophy — 'I'll think about it tomorrow.'
"Sometimes light reading will divert your mind and induce sleep. Don't choose anything very stimulating or absorbing or it might prove to have just the opposite effect."
Diana was wearing a beautiful tweed suit which she bought in London. "It was a broadening experience for me to play 'The Moon is Blue' there," she said. "Living in a foreign country made me reconsider my sense of values. It contributes to that elusive something called maturity. And it gives you more confidence. It did me — to know that I could make a place for myself, independent of hometown support and the encouragement of family and friends. I felt that I was completely on my own for the first time."
"I used to be shy to the point of being openly criticized for it," Diana admitted. "I know now that it had its roots in being too concerned about the impression I made on others. I couldn't face criticism."
"Success is a good tonic for such feelings," I commented.
"Yes and no," Diana said cryptically. "Sometimes a person who has harbored such feelings and suddenly finds herself well-received and in the limelight will go too far in the other direction. I know at sixteen I couldn't take stardom in my stride. My only defense was my youth and undeveloped sense of responsibility."
"I used to buy everything I wanted. My closet was full of clothes I never wore. I've learned that it's best to have a plan for building a wardrobe. Anticipate what you are going to need, never shop in a hurry, and learn color coordination. Limiting yourself as to color certainly cuts down on the accessories you need. Right now I'm wearing mostly black and white and my accessory needs are simple."
"But being sensible about clothes doesn't mean you can't be gay — that's where coordination comes in. And it helps to know a bargain when you see one," Diana concluded, with a merry twinkle in her eye. "But my idea of a bargain is true value rather than reduced price — and if it isn't your kind of dress, it isn't a bargain."
RELAXATION IMPORTANT
Diana is right when she stresses the importance of relaxation. And to give you more information on this vital subject, why not get a copy of leaflet M-38, "Routine for Releasing Nervous Tension." Here you'll find tips on breathing, bathing and exercising to relax. Added at no extra cost, exercises for the eyes. Get your copy by sending only 5 cents AND a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Lydia Lane, Hollywood Beauty, in care of The Big Spring Herald. Remember to ask for M-38.

Relax, Eat Right

Beauty is built with proper food and rest, says lovely Diana Lynn. The popular star, soon to be seen in Paramount's "You're Never Too Young," also talks to Lydia Lane about clothes.

COSDEN CHATTER

Former Employee From Canada Office Visitor

Mrs. T. A. Newman, formerly Pattie McDonald of Dunbarton, Ontario, Canada, was a visitor in the office Wednesday. She is a former Cosden employee.
On Thursday Dan Krausse, George Grimes, E. B. McCormick, George Harvell, Al Orr, and Carol Belton visited the El Dorado, Ark., refinery of Pan Am-Southern Corporation to inspect an ultraforming unit. An additional catalyst reforming unit is being considered for the Big Spring refinery and several different processes are being investigated.
Dewey Mark left yesterday for an extended business trip that will take him through Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas, Illinois, Michigan, Ohio, and Minnesota before his return to Big Spring on Feb. 15.
Bruce Kirtley with the Catalyst Division of the National Aluminate Corporation from Houston was a visitor this week.
Jack Smith, Paul Soidan, and George Grimes were in Kansas City Monday and Tuesday attending a meeting of the Training Division of the American Petroleum Institute.
Following the meeting of Board of Directors held in Big Spring, last Monday, the directors flew to East Texas to inspect a modern refinery with equipment similar to ours. Besides the Board of Directors, Dan M. Krausse of Big Spring made the trip. In Tyler the group was joined by R. M. Johnson and R. O. Wilson. The return trip was via Dallas. Krausse returned Tuesday evening; Tollett and Miller returned late Wednesday afternoon.
Walter J. Dougherty of the Davison Chemical Company with offices at Houston and Mr. Kenneth M. Cusick of James S. Kone & Company, Amarillo, were visitors in the office Thursday.
Harmon Smith will begin a week's vacation Monday.
M. W. Griffice returned to work Monday after a week's absence due to illness.
L. F. Hughes, W. W. Mooser, E. G. Rainey, D. B. McKinley, and Robert Long served on the County Jury panel last week.
R. L. Tollett will leave Monday evening for the Naval Air Station at Dallas. On Tuesday, Mr. Tollett will fly to Pensacola and spend three days on a United States Navy Orientation Cruise for civilians.
He will return to Big Spring Friday.
H. D. Rice returned to work this week after a long absence due to illness.
Returning to work Monday after a week's vacation will be John H. Hensley, C. E. Millam, Oscar C. Jenkins, L. V. Morgan, and Donald A. Allen.
Guests in the Tommy Harvell home last week were the J. C. Carotherses from Des Moines, N.M.
Mr. and Mrs. Arch Radloff and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Hazelwood attended the Hippodrome 1955 at the new Ector County Coliseum at Odessa Wednesday.
Bill Sneed visited in Odessa with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Ike Haines.
Zudora Peterson's sister, Mrs. M. E. Butler from San Antonio, visited with her this weekend.
Angy Glenn spent Thursday in Lovington and Eunice, N.M. on company business.
R. L. Edwards from Lubbock was in the office this week.
Evelyn Merrill spent the weekend in Dallas visiting friends and relatives.

TRADE JOURNAL CITES LOCAL DECORATORS

Featured on the cover of a January issue of the magazine, "Interior Design," is the interior decorating studio of Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Boullion, operated under the name of Lucelle's.
Inside the magazine, there are views of the studio, with a description of the office and the showroom. Made from an old service station, the studio is described by the magazine as showing "what a little money, a lot of hard work and the right imagination can do."
"Interior Design" is a trade journal which, in its own words, is for "the interior designing profession only." There is no newsstand circulation of it. The magazine is published by Harry V. Anderson, who founded it in 1932, in East Stroudsburg, Pa.

Skit Given For Forsan WMU

FORSAN — A skit, "Housecleaning Time" was presented for the WMU of the Forsan Baptist Church when they met recently at the church. Emphasizing the importance of Baptist periodicals in the home, the skit was given by Mrs. R. F. Garrett, Mrs. Luther Moore and Mrs. Bob Cowley.
Others taking part on the program were Mrs. C. C. Suttles, Mrs. Dee Anderson, Mrs. E. E. Blankenship, Mrs. Roy Klair, Mrs. C. V. Wash, Mrs. Frank Thieme, Mrs. Jesse Overton and Mrs. Carl Tippie.
In observance of Focus Week, members will sit in a body at the service Sunday morning. Preceding the sermon, Mrs. Wayne Monroey will speak on "Women and Evangelism." Seventeen were present for the meeting.

If your child catches more than one cold a winter— SHE NEEDS RELIEF THAT DOES MORE THAN WORK ON CHEST

Relief from Stiffness, Coughing and Muscular Aches
The worst part of suffering from a cold is due to congestion and coughing. That's why your child needs medication that does more than just work on the chest. She needs Vicks VapoRub — because it acts two ways at once:
1. VapoRub relieves muscular soreness and tightness, stimulates chest surfaces.
2. At the same time, VapoRub's special medicated vapors also bring relief with every breath. You can't see these vapors, but your child can feel them.
... feel them as they travel deep into the nose, throat and large bronchial tubes. Congestion starts breaking up. Coughing eases. Soon she enjoys warming relief that lasts for hours.
So when colds strike, use the best-known home remedy to relieve suffering of colds— Vicks VapoRub.
Rub on Relief... Breathe in Relief

Fairview HD Club To Make Bandages

At a meeting of the Fairview Home Demonstration Club Tuesday afternoon, members made plans for an all-day meeting in the home of Mrs. J. W. Wooten, 500 Gollad on Friday. At this time bandages will be made for the Cancer Society.
Mrs. W. A. Langley, who was hostess for the Tuesday meeting, read the scripture. Mrs. W. E. Buckner gave the opening prayer. Members answered roll call with a current event.
Recommendations for committee work were read to the group and accepted. Mrs. Shirley Fryar presided for the business meeting. The next business will be Mrs. J. M. Smith, 1904 Runnels, on Feb. 1.

A Bible Thought For Today—

Cast thy bread upon the waters: for thou shalt find it after many days. (Ecc. 11:1).

Perhaps We Could Help Hospital Patients Feel More Like Home

Sometimes, we fear, our people take our hospital facilities too much for granted. The presence of the Veterans Administration Hospital and the State Hospital accentuate the position of Big Spring as a hospital center in West Texas, but they do not dominate.

In general, we have organized to help at the VA Hospital, because we realize an obligation as a community to help cheer men who come here for treatment. Although we have been lagging in this respect at the Big Spring State Hospital because of an over-cautiousness born of a knowledge that patients there are sick people and not curiosities, we are doing a better job. We have reason to believe that the community will pay more and more attention to helping state hospital patients.

As odd as it might seem, the forgotten link in the pattern might easily be our four private hospitals, and to a degree the base hospital at Webb. To be sure patients who are local and who have family or close friend connections will not lack for daily ministry to their needs. It is the visiting patient that gives us concern.

Last year Big Spring's private hospitals attracted something like 9,000 patients. A large number of these came from a number of New Mexico points, as far west as Pecos, south to Fort Stockton, Big Lake and Sterling City, east to Colorado City and north to Snyder and Lubbock.

Usually, some relative accompanies them for a short period of time, but if hospitalization must continue over several days, they frequently are alone.

Fortunately, a number of our ministers make an effort to get around, but this is almost an impossibility. Others make some systematic effort to be of service. Still, some are left alone with a feeling they have no way to contact the outside.

Would it be possible to prepare some interesting literature about our community—about its resources—about its history, the air base, the oil fields, the legends, the personalities, the institutions, etc.? And then could this be made available to every patient who enters a hospital—but, right on the front of it have names and telephone numbers which will put the patient in touch with local people if they have any needs which can be served. There are enough organizations in town that one or more could handle the responsibility of answering all inquiries from patients in our hospitals to make them know that they are indeed surrounded by friends though away from home.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippman
Nation Should Keep A Force For Expeditionary Demands

The President's decision, overruling the Joint Chiefs of Staff, to reduce by 350,000 the number of men under arms, will have to be examined carefully by the Armed Services Committee under Sen. Russell. Both at home and abroad many questions have been raised about this decision. The most serious one is whether with the much smaller ground forces, we are working ourselves into a position where the only military choice will be to yield or to have an atomic war.

This question should be gone into thoroughly. As the military correspondent of "The St. Louis Post-Dispatch," Gen. Thomas R. Phillips has been saying, there is a strong tendency in our current military planning to reduce the number of soldiers and to increase the number of atomic weapons. He and many other informed men are worried that this could lead us to a point where we had to do everything or nothing, where we were no longer capable of applying power moderately and locally, where there was nothing between a policy of non-resistance and a strategy of annihilation.

The President has made it fairly clear, but not clear enough, that this is not what he wants or intends to permit. His view, it would appear, is that a highly trained but small force in being, with a large ready reserve behind it, is suited to the geographic fact that the United States must fight its wars across the oceans. While we could raise a massive standing army in the United States, it must always take many months to transport a large army across an ocean. Presumably the President believes that the army he favors fits this limiting condition. We must suppose that he can demonstrate his case.

often criticized but it was not outlawed. The big powers intervened to restore order, to protect and to promote their interests, and to prevent the weak state from being drawn into the sphere of influence of a rival power. In this century intervention is very nearly, if not entirely, outlawed in principle by the Charter of the United Nations and by the Inter-American Pacts. It is, moreover, effectively outlawed everywhere in Asia by the massive popular opposition to any kind of western military intervention in the Asian world.

When we study the problem of an American expeditionary corps—which is, I repeat, what we are really talking about in this debate—we must give great weight to the likelihood that in a military intervention on the mainland of Asia we would find ourselves opposed, directly or indirectly, by virtually all the nations of Asia. Intervention on the Asian mainland is almost certainly no longer something that can be decided upon in Washington alone, or for that matter in Washington and London.

This does not mean that there are not strategic points on the Asian periphery—for example the Malaya Peninsula and Singapore—where if worst came to the worst, a military intervention would be necessary and feasible. But we should stop giving the impression that we think the threat to South Viet Nam, to Thailand, to Burma, could be dealt with by a decision in Washington to carry out a military intervention. . . . Or that we could intervene more successfully if the Eisenhower reduction of the Army were overruled.

The problem is not a military problem. It is a political problem, and it can be treated only in cooperation with the political powers of the Asian world.

But there is another side to this question which needs to be studied very carefully. What we are talking about here is an expeditionary corps capable of being carried across either of the oceans, capable of landing in a foreign country and of fighting a local war of the Korea type. Now it is not enough to decide how large such an expeditionary corps needs to be, and what should be its equipment, and what are the logistics of its use. There is also the question, ever more impressive, as to whether in the vulnerable areas of the Asian periphery, a military intervention of this kind is any longer an answer to the problem.

The radically new elements in the problem are that these weak and threatened states are sovereign and that they are threatened not with orthodox invasion and conquest but with the subversion and internal revolution. In this vital respect the Korean War may not be a precedent at all. For there the aggression was external. Almost everywhere in Asia it would be a violation of national sovereignty to intervene while the weak government is being subverted and is falling apart, and it will be too late to intervene if it has already been overthrown. In fact intervention against the new revolutionary government would be twentieth century standards be deemed external aggression.

Fifty years ago intervention in weak states was a recognized practice. It was

"Now Run Along And Play"

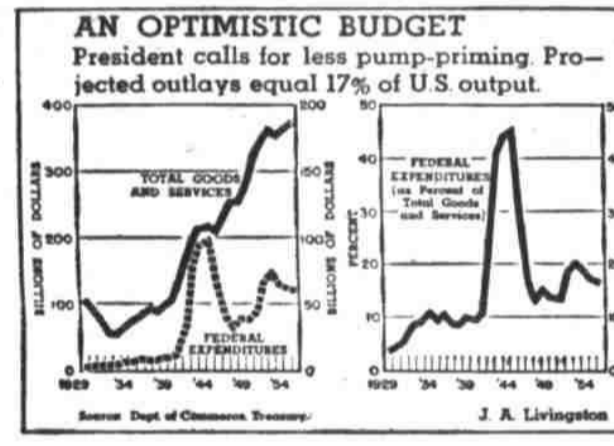

Business Outlook—J. A. Livingston
Optimistic Forecasts Are Based Upon Gains In Personal, Corporate Incomes

Optimistic. That's the word for President Eisenhower and his close advisers on business.

In discussing the 1956 budget, Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told reporters that receipts would rise from $59 billion in the fiscal year 1955 to $60 billion in fiscal '56.

Why?

Because of continued expansion in personal and corporate income. Specifically, corporate earnings, before taxes, which ran at an annual rate of about $35 billion last year will rise to $38.4 billion this calendar year. That won't quite equal the $39.4-billion high of 1953. But, considering that the excess profits tax has gone by-bye, it constitutes good news for stockholders.

The President's Economic Report to Congress was equally hearty. Said the President: "The vigor of the recent recovery . . . suggests that economic expansion will probably continue during coming months. It holds out the promise that we shall achieve a high and satisfactory level of employment and production within the current year."

Even lagging plant and equipment expenditures are expected to join the dance. Of this the President's Council of Economic Advisers—Arthur F. Burns, chairman, Neil H. Jacoby, and Walter W. Stewart—say:

"Rising orders for machinery, to say nothing of the new plans and revisions of old plans that are likely to accompany continued recovery, give a basis for expecting that (plant and equipment) will join, though perhaps only modestly, at the start, the general economic advance."

So, the federal injections into the spending stream will continue to slip. They reached 45 per cent of total output of goods and services during the war; ranged from 13 per cent to 15 per cent during the late 'forties; climbed to 20 per cent after Korea, and now are around 17 per cent (see chart). The budget, however, doesn't disclose all. The President plans to improve highways by creating an independent agency to finance expenditures outside the government. Home financing is also being done outside government. Ditto TVA. So the impact on business is greater than the figures suggest.

"It is essential to keep a close watch on financial developments. Continued economic recovery must not be jeopardized by overemphasis of speculative activity." The increase in margin requirements by the Federal Reserve Board demonstrates that the government is mindful of its great responsibility to help assure balanced economic growth.

Labor unrest is another cause for concern: "History tells us that industrial disputes have usually been more frequent in periods of expansion than in periods of contraction, and that (they) often have serious economic repercussions." In this setting, the President sees no need for economic pump-priming. The downturn in total government outlays will continue as follows:

Fiscal Year	Expenditures in Billions
1954 Actual	$67.8
1955 Estimate	63.5
1956 Estimate	62.4

The Council manifests its optimism in a projection of the nation's motor vehicle "population." Today, 38,000,000 cars and trucks are on the road. But by 1965 the total may reach 80,000,000. That's an increase of more than 2,000,000 additional vehicles a year. That implies, on the basis of recent annual scrapage, production of 6,800,000 this year, as compared with 6,500,000 in 1954. It also suggests output of 7,000,000 vehicles regularly in a few years.

You have to look hard for cautions. The stock market is one: "It is essential to keep a close watch on financial developments. Continued economic recovery must not be jeopardized by overemphasis of speculative activity." The increase in margin requirements by the Federal Reserve Board demonstrates that the government is mindful of its great responsibility to help assure balanced economic growth.

Labor unrest is another cause for concern: "History tells us that industrial disputes have usually been more frequent in periods of expansion than in periods of contraction, and that (they) often have serious economic repercussions." In this setting, the President sees no need for economic pump-priming. The downturn in total government outlays will continue as follows:

MISTER BREGER

One Killed, Four Hurt In Accident

FORT WORTH, Jan. 22 (AP)—Four members of a Lubbock family were in a hospital here today with injuries suffered last night in a traffic accident which killed Irvin Tipton, 67, a Poolville farmer.

Tipton's car was in a head-on collision with one occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lorenz and their two children on Highway 199, three miles east of Springtown in Parker County.

Mrs. Lorenz, 31, who suffered a head injury, was in critical condition. Her husband, 35, also had a head injury but was in fair condition.

Randa Lee, 4, and Sharon, 8, were shaken up but not seriously injured.

Children's Clothing Still Needed Badly

Another plea for help from the people of Big Spring in supplying clothing needs was voiced Friday by the Salvation Army.

La. Robert Hall, in charge of the SA work, said that there were repeated calls for children's clothing and that the supply had been exhausted. Anything from baby garments to raiment for 12-year olds could be used to good advantage. The acute shortage is in the middle bracket. If anyone has clothing to give, a call to No. 4-6141 will bring someone from the Salvation Army to pick it up.

Parade Entrants Will Need Horses

FORT WORTH, Jan. 22 (AP)—Everyone who likes a parade can be part of one this coming week. That is if they have a horse and Western clothes.

The parade marshal for the Fort Stock show, Ernest Allen, says those wanting to be in the opening parade be at the Fort Worth Cattle parking ground at noon Friday.

Around The Rim—The Herald Staff
We're Open To The Russians, And Should Plan Accordingly

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald. — Editor's Note.

If you see Ivan Ivanovitch clomping around here, fur hat on his head, boots on his feet and maybe a smoking bomb in his hand, think nothing of it. He has a right to be here.

Or I guess you could interpret that literally, the order recently issued out of Washington declaring certain parts of the United States "off limits" to the Russians.

What has happened is that somebody in Washington played favorites — or politics — and said that while the Russians could go and come in some parts of the country, they couldn't in others. And what do you know? They have left the gates wide open in West Texas, for those boggers to wander about without having to show as much as a ration card.

There was a map published to show where the Comies had entree and where not. I pondered this for considerable time, trying to figure it out. And, as is the case with a lot of things out of Washington, I concluded it was imponderable.

At first I started to get mad at Ike, which would call for a letter. I would write Mr. President and say "how come you think it's OK for these pinkies to come to Big Spring when they can't go to Mount Pleasant? We disloyal, or something, in these parts? Or did you count the votes and set up the barriers accordingly?"

I changed my mind on this. First, I figured Ike probably was misguided. The map, of a certainty, must have been drawn by somebody in Sub-Section A of Section XI, of Division 3-X of Department Two of the Bureau of Misplaced Ink Brushes, and finding the blame would be like finding out who discharged Major Peress. You just can't get there from here.

Then, encountering this obstacle, I looked at the map again, and came to the conclusion that maybe it was a compliment to have your own back yard open to the Muscovites, while people in other parts of the country couldn't let 'em in. We can handle 'em, you see.

Theory could be that if any Russian tried to stay in this country long, he would be swallowed up by (a) the dust; (b) the heavy snows, or (c) the lake water when it comes rushing in, at long last, in a sort of deluge.

If these things didn't get him, we could start making a civic leader out of him and put him on 143 committees, all for the betterment of the public welfare. This would (a) cause everybody else in town to write him off as a chump, (b) give him a heart attack, or (c) drive him screaming mad, so that he would say, "send me back to the Volga. It's so peaceful there."

Or, we could put him up as a candidate for public office, which would permit everybody to so slander him and all his tribe that he would prefer the firing squad of the OGPU (or successor) to the shafts he suffered at the hands of the populace.

Or, of course, we could always make an after-dinner speaker out of him, giving people the opportunity to kill him with their own bare hands.

There are other ways, naturally, and West Texas ingenuity undoubtedly will find a way. Just thought you ought to be thinking about steps to take, since this area is wide open to Russian travel. We gotta be prepared, since the government ain't protecting us.

These Days—George Sokolsky
Horrible Example Of Parents Worst Problem For Teen-Agers

This is a fact: There have always been teen-agers and they have always presented problems to their parents. Sometimes we parents forget that we were once teen-agers and that we learned by crawling and toddling, and that we were surprised when we discovered our bodies and even more so when we found that curious instrument of personality, the mind.

I sometimes hear conversations among very bright teen-age girls on their families and the families of their friends and I discovered a secret: They do not like divorced parents because they think it unfair and unjust and as one girl put it, a lousy trick.

My ears pricked up because I knew that some of these young ladies had far more direct knowledge and experience with the subject than I ever could have. What, for instance, is the responsibility of a father who has brought three children into the world, enjoyed their company for years, played with them, and then dumps them just as they are maturing and need him most? Some of my young friends ask me that.

He, of course, has to live his own life and cannot possibly endure his wife another day. He will give her anything she wants, if she will only go to Reno or Chihuahua or Mexico City, and get a divorce, accusing him of mental cruelty but not mentioning his paramour whose adulteries he must carefully protect. I was once told by a young lady that her father's passion for his fourth wife was wearing thin because she, the child, had discovered him in improprieties with a person whose name she mentioned.

We blame the teen-agers for too much when we elders cause them such pain and set them such a horrible example. The more the child adores the father, the worse the moral shock when the father deserts the household. For it is not his wife whom he leaves but his children. The wife may, on the rebound, find a friend, as the expression is, but the children have lost their illusions. The great big, friendly fellow, who played with trains and brought dolls at Christmas, has turned out to be a creep.

And there is another thing I learn from many teen-agers: They hate to see their parents drunk. This is a double-edged evil because while the children abominate drunken parents, they do imitate them, and many fathers and mothers, I am sure, would be surprised to know how their children spike their so-called soft drinks. I heard of a young fellow who was selling "spikes" for a nickel a shot out of an eyedropper.

Children in broken homes are of several kinds, but those I find most exciting are the little ones whose imaginations run riot over the intrigues, the adulteries, the recriminations among their profligate parents. As the fathers and mothers, brothers and sisters known and unrecognized, multiply, they live through it all excited, stimulated, almost boastful. They somehow manage to know details which ordinarily are behind closed doors.

I have never encountered a single one of these children who is happy about the divorce. I have never met one who does not blame either the father or mother or both. I have met some who are especially cruel to the mother because they know that the mother will not give up her child no matter what the child does.

With divorce so prevalent in this country, it is necessary, I am sure, to think a little about the children who are romantically brought into the world only to be left to their own devices at the wrong age.

Confident Living—Norman Vincent Peale
Acknowledgment Of Troubles Will Help To Eliminate Them

Many years ago, a woman had occasion to visit a neurologist for treatment. She was a talkative soul and she kept telling the doctor all about her troubles. As her visits went on, the doctor noticed that the more she talked the better she seemed to feel.

Soon the doctor was concentrating on permitting her to talk and decreasing his other treatment. Eventually, she achieved a complete cure from what had ailed her. The doctor practiced in Vienna; his name was Sigmund Freud; and this experience is supposed to have led to his founding of modern psychoanalysis.

Whether this story is apocryphal or not, long before Freud and his students, wise men had recognized the therapeutic importance of encouraging unhappy, troubled or sick people to release that which was pent up within them. Bishop Fulton J. Sheen calls this, "Another instance of how the world, which in the nineteenth century threw Christian doctrines in the waste basket, is now sneaking them back in isolated secularized form, thinking it has made a great discovery."

We find one of the first Bible references to the importance of unburdening yourself in the Psalms "I acknowledged my sin unto thee, and mine iniquity have I not hid. I said, I will confess my transgressions unto the Lord; and thou forgavest the iniquity of my sin." And the Epistle of James says "Confess your faults one to another, and pray for one another that ye may be healed."

Don't keep your troubles to yourself. Whatever your religion may be, it offers you adequate pastoral counseling about your troubles. Your pastor, priest or rabbi will listen to you and try to help you.

For Protestants, there is opportunity for public confession within the framework of their own denominations; and their pastors know how to bring relief and peace to troubled minds. Catholics are urged to go to confession weekly; and Jews, on their most important holy day of the year, the Day of Atonement, make a general public confession of sins. But, whether your confession be formal or informal, whether it be public or private, whether it takes place in a church or synagogue or in a psychiatrist's office or that of a trusted physician, don't keep your troubles to yourself. Don't allow weights to increase that will burden your soul.

Confession is only the first step. For after it must come forgiveness. And very important is the fact that you must forgive yourself just as God forgives you. If you commit sins that are not forgiven, they will plague you till the day you die. I am sorry about this. I record it not with pleasure but with regret. Yet the fact remains that the wrongs men do never leave them until God takes them away, until they are forgiven and cast out. If you do not get forgiveness, you will never have peace.

But, fortunately, God's forgiveness is yours for the asking. "The effectual fervent prayer of a righteous man availeth much." Simply tell your troubles to God in whatever way your own religious faith prescribes. Then sincerely, say: "Forgive me Lord. I'm sorry. Give me strength to do these things no more."

Do this and your troubles will be lifted from your mind. You will have a wondrous sense of peace and joy. You'll find that religion isn't something theoretical, but that it is the stuff of which life itself is made. It is as ancient as the great words which say, "In the beginning God created the heaven and the earth," and as up-to-date as the latest discovery of modern psychiatry. With your religion to help you, you don't have to keep your troubles to yourself.

Favorite Pastime

When this picture was taken, Mrs. R. D. Alderson was waiting for her husband to come home from his work with the telephone company. This is the best way she knows to entertain Ann and Danny, as they are developing into bookworms she says.

Girl Carrier Worked Way To Editorship

She might have been a heroine out of the Horatio Alger Jr. series—our newcomer for today. From carrying a newspaper route to society editor of the same paper is quite a jump, but Mrs. R. D. Alderson made it.

At that time, of course, she wasn't Mrs. Alderson. She was a schoolgirl in Mineral Wells; it was during World War II and she was not quite a teen-ager. First, since everyone was doing something to help win the war, she delivered papers. From that, she worked in the mail room and then became editor of the woman's page on the Mineral Wells Index.

The Aldersons are back here for the third time, and they are hoping that this is the well-known charm—that they will be settled here permanently. They felt almost as if they were coming home when the Telephone Company informed them of their destination.

Mrs. Alderson likes club work, but she hasn't done much of it due to the fact that they have moved around quite often. Mr. Alderson is quite a gun fancier, and she said that he feels that he must have every gun he reads about.

The family consists of two children, Danny 3, and Ann 1, and they seem to be following along in their parents' way of life. They like the out-of-doors and have been going hunting almost from the first part of their short lives. Billy, a parakeet that is almost too old to talk, entertains and is entertained by the children, and he can still make his wants known by his chatter.

John A. Freeman Is Hyperion Speaker

John A. Freeman was the speaker for the 1948 Hyperion Clubs Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. R. W. Whipkey. In talking on the subject, "Development from Infancy to Late Adulthood," he stressed the importance of pre-school training and experiences.

The resignation of Mrs. Grady Duling was accepted. She is moving to Tulsa, Okla. Mrs. Whipkey reported on the business transacted by the federation in their recent meeting. She urged all club members to pay their poll taxes before Jan. 31.

A nominating committee was appointed. Mrs. Otis Grafa is chairman, with Mrs. R. R. McEwen Jr., and Mrs. G. H. Wood as members of the committee. Seventeen attended the meeting.

Knott HD Club

Mrs. W. A. Burchell Jr. was hostess recently for the Knott Home Demonstration Club. Members studied council committee recommendations. The program originally scheduled to be given by the HD agent was cancelled. Mrs. O. B. Gaskins directed recreation. Roll call was answered with "My Favorite Hymn" by four members and one new member, Mrs. Larry Shaw.

DRESS PARADE

Equally good for afternoon parties or after five is the broadcaded faille worn by Mrs. J. E. Fort to the meeting of the 1948 Hyperion Club Thursday afternoon. In a beige background with a darker figure, it has just a fleck of dusty rose. The short jacket is decorated with one rhinestone ornament and she wears earrings to match.

For evening parties, the dress may be strapless or, if straps are worn they are attached to the fitted bodice with rhinestone ornaments, on a lapped-over fold of the material. Her pumps and bag are brown suede and her gloves match her dress. A brown velvet pancake hat is topped with a small ornament.

At the same club meeting, Mrs. G. H. Wood wore a two-piece wool suit in a tiny check of pecan and wheat mixture. Darker piping marked the diagonal pockets of the jacket. A darker brown blouse was set off by her topaz necklace and earrings.

A tiny satin hat in brown was worn well to the back of her head and was sparked with brown luster beads and a veil. Her bag and pumps were brown reptile and her furs were Russian sables. Brown gloves completed her costume.

Mrs. Marshall Cauley highlighted the gold of her brown and gold tweed suit with a gold jersey blouse. Fashioned with a high neck, the blouse was topped with a choker of green, complemented with matching earrings.

The soft tweed lent, itself well to the pleats in the skirt and the well-fitted jacket. Her small cloche-type hat was of brown velvet and she wore brown reptile pumps and bag. Her gloves were brown suede.

Fora Has Change

The meeting place for Spoudazio Fora on Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. has been changed to the home of Mrs. W. B. Hardy Jr., 1603 Tucson Rd.

Landscaping Topic At Luther HD Club

In showing slides in "Planning of Landscaping" for the Luther Home Demonstration Club Thursday, Elizabeth Pace, agent, stressed beauty, convenience and comfort.

The club met in the home of Mrs. Ruby Simpson.

It was voted to send six cakes to be sold at the bake sale for the March of Dimes.

Nine members were present and guests were Mrs. A. M. Simpson and Miss Faye.

The next meeting will be Thursday at 9:30 a.m. with Mrs. Mary Fleckenstein.

Junior Forum Meets

Advice on how to choose furniture was given to the members of the Junior Woman's Forum at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Russell Lawrence Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Dan Lewis was co-hostess. Mrs. Zack Gray and Mrs. John Nobles were in charge of the program, which was presented to nine members and one guest, Mrs. Charles Wilson.

Baptist Temple WMS Has Jubilee

Attired in costumes of the 1850's, members of the Baptist Temple WMS celebrated the 75th anniversary of their organization recently at the church.

The devotion was given by Mrs. Tom Buckner. Mrs. Joe Reynolds sang the hymn chosen for the year, "Lead On Oh King Eternal." This was followed by a duet, "Jubilee," sung by Mrs. Reynolds and Mrs. A. W. Page.

A skit, depicting the history of the WMS, was presented by Mrs. Page, Mrs. C. L. Kirkland and Mrs. A. R. Posey. The benediction was pronounced by Riley Fugitt.

Following the program, noths of the Auxiliary and the WMS were opened for inspection by the guests. Decorations were in the theme of covered wagon days with oil lamps, a family tree and other antiques being used. Mrs. Bill Sandridge received guests and Mrs. Rex Edwards and Mrs. Garland Sanders served from an old-fashioned table.

HI--TALK

By PEGGY HOGAN

GLENNA COFFEY

A sigh of relief seemed to fly from everyone's lips as Thursday, the last day of exams, ended. The halfway mark of this 1954-'55 school year has passed and the slate has been cleared for a brand new semester—one in which we'll really buckle down to hep that grade average.

Tomorrow morning at 9, a general assembly will be held in the auditorium where schedule changes will be straightened out. All of this confusion about changes in English classes can then be cleared. Recent English examinations determined the category best suited for each individual where he can be benefited most.

Debaters Tom Guin and Rodney Sheppard almost walked off with

Bill Congers Give Party For Daughter; Forsan Visits Told

FORSAN—Mr. and Mrs. Bill Conger honored their daughter, Bettye, with a party on her ninth birthday Friday.

Moving pictures were made of the group and basketball, bingo and TV furnished entertainment. Candy was given as favors.

Refreshments were served to Dena Parker, Helen Jo Holladay, Cheryl Ann Moore, Glenda and Nona Lee Prescott, Julia Lynn Asbury, Marilyn Huchton, Pat Honeycutt, Hubert Bardwell, Tommy Seward and Donnie Gooch.

Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Starr and children are in Lubbock for a weekend visit with their daughter and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Greer and infant son, Mark Robin.

Shower Is Given At Baptist Adult Social

Members of the Westside Baptist Adult Union surprised Mrs. O. G. Ward with a birthday shower Friday evening at a social in the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Vaughn.

A devotion was given by Jimmy Corbin and prayer by E. O. Sanderson. The group joined in singing a song.

A supper was served to 26.

the cake at the recent Denton Speech Tournament. The boys won all four preliminary rounds before being defeated in the finals. Out of the 63 boys' teams that were entered, Tom and Rodney were one of the three who won all four preliminary debates — placing them fourth in the tournament.

Robert Morehead also advanced to the finals in Bible reading before being defeated.

Several dozen kids donned levis and heavy woollens for the DeMolay hayride Friday. They ventured out in the cold for a lakeside picnic accompanied by lots of laughter and fun. Some of the windswept kids there were David Dibrell, Marylee James; Preston Mason, Adrienne Smith; Jim Allen, Nancy Pittman; Gary Tidwell and Gwen McCullough.

A quick glance is all that's needed to distinguish a football player from the rest 'cause they all sport shiny leather-sleeved letter jackets now. The cool new duds were presented to the boys at a special assembly Friday. Also a beautiful trophy, symbolizing our co-championship of the district, was presented to the team co-captains, Lefty Reynolds and Frosty Robison. The huge football-shaped trophy is indeed enough to pop the pride of all of us!

I know you've already heard a lot about the Senior High Follies of 1955 and you're making plans for a big evening of entertainment next Thursday. Remember, girls, to get your tickets from any student council member or members of the speech department for 50 cents. This is one talent show that's destined to give you your money's worth in laughs and chuckles.

Tomorrow begins a big week of reversed order as far as social conduct is concerned. The next six days have been determined by the student council as Twirp Week, meaning "The Woman Is Required to Pay." Not only does she uphold the financial end of dating, she furnishes a helping hand with books, doors, and all those polite little things that boys usually take care of.

Certain rules have been laid down that every girl must abide by in taking on the responsibility of the male role. First of all she must purchase and wear a permit to show everybody she's well rehearsed in the rules of Twirp Week—found on the back of the permit. Girls with dates for a particular day must tie a ribbon around her date's neck to correspond with one she wears. All females are required to furnish the funds and car for a date. Steadies must be claimed as so by a sign on them not to exceed 5x7 inches. It's absolutely necessary that the girl ask her man for a date at least 30 minutes ahead of time and she must spend at least a nickel on him.

Some of the activities going on during Twirp Week begin tomorrow night at the "Y." There's to be a talent show and social for members of the Hi-Y and Tri-Hi-Y Clubs. Thursday night, of course, is the Senior High Follies of 1955 and Friday night the Spanish Club will sponsor a dance in the cafeteria. Naturally, all respectable girls will have a date, so hit up ole Dad and plan to make the most of Twirp Week, girls.

Though most of us have never been faced with the problem of infantile paralysis, I think some of our Big Spring youth are doing a marvelous job in the March of Dimes campaign. The DeMolays, Rainbow Girls, Hi-Y, Tri-Hi-Y, Girl Scouts and many others are taking part as groups in the street corner drives. Yet, it seems as though we, as a student body, have fallen below our mark. Mrs. Annen's guidance class is the only 100 per cent class in giving—that's way below our quota of last year. So, maybe we can push a little harder and let Susie, the little crippled doll, walk at least a hundred feet. How about that?

Don't forget to take part in the Personality Poll sponsored by the Corral. Vote on any senior or junior for the specific things on the chart in Friday's Corral.

Senior-of-the-Week is Glenna Coffey, editor of our school paper, the Corral. In addition to this big responsibility, Glenna is in Tri-Hi-Y, Rainbows, and very active in Sunday School and Training Union. Glenna started establishing her leadership ability early in serving as class president of the eighth grade and treasurer of the ninth. She has been a delegate to Youth-in-Government for two years, serving as reporter this year. Glenna is a former member of the Spanish Club and FHA. She was chosen last year as a representative to the Interscholastic League Typing contest. Next year she's planning to attend Baylor University.

Parade Of New Movies Set For Showings Here

A parade of some of the most heralded pictures of the new season is set for Big Spring showings during the remainder of January and during February.

With understandable pride, Ike Robb, Big Spring Theatres manager, points out that during one two-week period the Ritz will be showing films in four different film processes, Wide Screen, Vista Vision, CinemaScope and the Superscope.

Most of the films are in color, and stories range from the starkly dramatic to the comedy of Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis.

This week's offerings include "Phffft," the romantic comedy again teaming Judy Holliday and Jack Lemmon with Jack Carson and Kim Novak as co-stars. After "Phffft" concludes its run today and Monday, Irving Berlin's "There's No Business Like Show Business" begins a five-day showing. Starring in the CinemaScope musical are Ethel Merman, Dan Dailey, Marilyn Monroe, Donald O'Connor, Johnnie Ray and Mitz Gaynor.

Set for next Sunday and the following two days is Columbia's highly praised "On the Waterfront," starring Marlon Brando and Karl Malden. Brando plays a longshoreman sharing in the corruption of New York's harbor but at length stirred to reform with the help of a girl friend and a priest. Malden has the role of the Emperor Maximilian in the fading days of his struggle against Benito Juarez.

Following on Feb. 2-5, is "Vera Cruz," the Superscope production starring Gary Cooper, Burt Lancaster and Denise Darcel in an adventure with a Mexican setting. Cooper and Lancaster play Southwesterners who, in the days just after the Civil War, join the forces of the Emperor Maximilian in the fading days of his struggle against Benito Juarez.

On Feb. 6-8 the Vista Vision comedy "Three Ring Circus" with Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis will show. On Feb. 9-12 "Violent Men," with Barbara Stanwyck and Edward G. Robinson starring, will show. This film boasts CinemaScope and stereophonic sound.

Showing on Feb. 12-15 will be "Bridges of Toko Ri," the film based on James Michener's novel of the Korean War. William Holden has the role of Lt. Harry Brubaker, called back into the Navy to pilot a jet in a war he doesn't quite understand. Grace Kelly and Mickey Rooney are co-stars in this Wide Screen presentation.

Following through the rest of the month of February are such films as the Wide Screen "The Far Country," which stars Jimmy Stewart and Ruth Roman; Walt Disney's "20,000 Leagues Under the Sea"; and "Underwater" with Jane Russell and Gilbert Roland in Superscope. Disney's film version of the famed Jules Verne story features Kirk Douglas and James Mason. Mason has the role of Capt. Nemo, the anti-social submarine captain. The film is in CinemaScope with stereophonic sound.

During the same time the State Theatre will not be neglected. To be featured there will be such films as "This Is My Love," a story of two sisters who let one man come between them; "Athens" with Jane Powell, Debbie Reynolds and Vic Damone; and "Crossed Swords" with Errol Flynn and Gina Lollobrigida.

Linda Darnell, Faith Domergue, Dan Duryea and Rick Jason star in "This Is My Love," showing today through Tuesday at the State. "Athens," Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer color musical, shows three days starting next Sunday.

Big Spring moviegoers are already familiar with three of the movie processes to be used during the parade of films at the Ritz. CinemaScope had its first West Texas showing at the Ritz during January of 1954 with "The Robe," and a steady parade of CinemaScope attractions, most of them

New Superscope Film

Burt Lancaster receives money from Gary Cooper in a scene from "Vera Cruz," one of the films set for a showing soon at the Ritz Theatre. The picture, a United Artists release about two American adventurers in Mexico in the time of the Emperor Maximilian, is the first in the new Superscope process. The Technicolor film also features Denise Darcel in a leading role.

Nice Work If You Can Get It

Dean Martin is kissed by both Zsa Zsa Gabor and Joanne Dru in a scene from "Three Ring Circus," the first Martin-Lewis comedy to be filmed in Vista Vision, the new Paramount movie process. The film is also in Technicolor.

offering stereophonic sound as well, has followed. Seven of the 10 most popular films to show here during 1954 were CinemaScope pictures. Other of the most popular films of 1954 were in Wide Screen, featuring a screen ratio not quite so extensive as CinemaScope's 2.55:1 but advance from the once standard 1.33:1.

Vista Vision, Paramount's entry in the new film process sweepstakes, had its inaugural here last week with the showing of "White Christmas," the Irving Berlin musical featuring Bing Crosby, Danny Kay, Rosemary Clooney and Vera-Ellen. It features a wide-screen and new techniques for sharper photography.

Superscope, like CinemaScope, is an anamorphic process, but it is achieved from normal straight photography, permitting a variety of aspect ratios. Set costing up to $150,000 (the reproduction of the interior of Maximilian's palace) are featured in "Vera Cruz," the first film to be released in the new process, along with outdoor scenes taken in the Cuernavaca valley near Mexico City. Hundreds of extras are featured in mass scenes.

OLD FAVORITE
Shirtwaist Dress, Always Popular, Is High Style

A shirtwaist dress is one of the season's "musts," and what better shirtwaist than one designed by Claire McCardell who has always made a point of them in her collections. A high style fashion this year (it is often seen in fabulous fabrics for parties).

This one features a cornered collar with its tie ends cut all in one piece with the collar itself. Inverted tucks on the bodice front are opened at the bosom line for a flattering and pretty effect.

The skirt is a series of inverted pleats, stitched to just below the hip and then released for graceful skirt fullness. Make it in chambray, plain or printed cotton, shantung or silk and use fun buttons. Miss McCardell uses brass ones on the original.

This pattern is cut to DESIGNER MEASUREMENTS, not Standard Pattern Measurements. Size 10, bust 34, waist 24, hips 35 in.; size 12, bust 35, waist 25, hips 36 in.; size 14, bust 36, waist 26, hips 37 1/2 in.; size 16, bust 38, waist 27 1/2 in.; size 18, bust 40, waist 29, hips 41 in.

Size 12 requires 5 1/2 yards of 39-inch material for dress and 1/4 yard of 39-inch material for interfacing. To order Pattern No. 1207, address S P A D E A SYNDICATE INC., Box 535, G.P.O., Dept. B-5, New York 1, N.Y. State size. Send $1.00. Airmail handling 25 cents

Third Grade Gives C-Heights Program

A story in song, "Raggle Taggle Town Singers," was presented by Mrs. James Y. Butts' third grade at the meeting of College Heights P-TA Thursday at the school.

Doing the narrative portion of the song were Elvin House and Evelyn Wallace.

Mrs. Clayton Coats was elected treasurer to fill a vacancy.

It was announced that the College Heights pupils had contributed $74 to the March of Dimes. Mrs. Grady McCrary announced that the school would be represented on radio station KBST at 2:45 p.m. Feb. 24.

The hospitality chairman and a group of children were to put on a program and serve refreshments at the VA Hospital Thursday evening.

Mrs. W. S. Goodlett Jr., president, urged that members attend the Founders' Day tea Feb. 9.

About 75 attended. Mrs. Butts' class won the room count.

Power Of Prayer Told By Korean

If you have a problem that is old, ragged, and threadbare with handling and the answer has not come, let the hidden prayers help you pray. Jot it down, sign only your initials or a name which you want used in the lifting of your problem heavenward. When your prayer is answered, write in again and tell the prayers so, that their joy might flow upward with yours. The address is The Prayer Box, Box 1430, Big Spring, Texas.

The following is an excerpt from a Korean missionary:

"After keeping a prayer list for 18 years and examining the records of the results, I have learned four facts about prayer. The list automatically omitted adoration, thanksgiving, and confession, but was rather a list upon which I hung petitions. The list included the date they entered the prayer book for request, plus the date on which the answer came. These I could examine in the darkness of doubt as well as the bright light of faith.

"Four things stood out. (1) Miracles do happen when there is prayer. (2) Objective prayer, that is, prayer for others, is more effective than subjective prayer, for myself and my personal needs and development. (3) Some things never happen, or will not be done unless prayer rises that they will be done. By that I mean there are certain lives that will never be saved, certain harvests that will not be gathered, and certain tasks that will never be finished, some problems that will never find their solution. (4) In prayer, the one thing which breaks the power connection, is selfishness.

"Furthermore, two or more can pray better than one if they are in harmony with each other, hold no bitterness, anger, envy, or selfish thoughts in their hearts. Those

Junior Tri-Hi-Y Plans Odessa Jaunt

Plans were made to go to Odessa on Feb. 5 for a swim in the indoor pool at the high school there when members of the seventh grade Junior Tri-Hi-Y met Wednesday.

It was announced that a mother-daughter tea would be held next Thursday at the Wagon Wheel.

Sewing Hints Given For Center Point 4-H

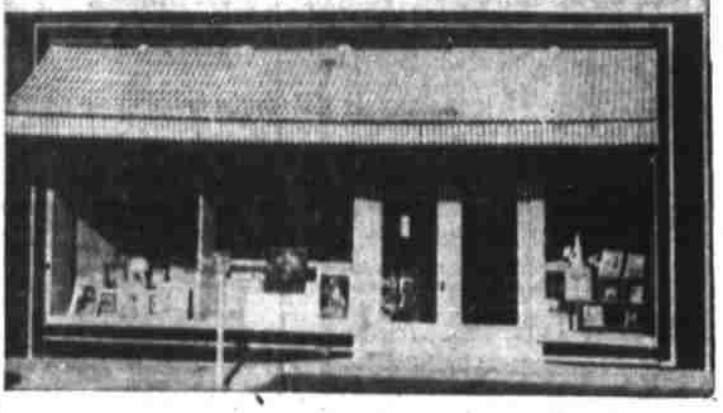

Members of the Center Point 4-H Club were instructed in how to put in a zipper and how to put in a placket by Elizabeth Pace, leader, when they met Thursday. Miss Pace illustrated her talk with a diagram. She also added information about how to put on a skirt band.

Nine members attended. The next meeting will be Feb. 17 and will feature a program on foods.

noon. Mrs. R. T. Hale was co-hostess. Election of officers, originally scheduled for this meeting, was postponed until the next time the group meets. This will be on Feb. 18, with Mrs. Riley Knightstep and Mrs. J. D. Jenkins as hostesses. Nine attended.

YEAH, BECAUSE OF HIM, JAKE AN' RED ARE IN JAIL!

IF IT HAD NOT BEEN FOR THAT MASKED MAN, WE'D HAVE HAD THE BANK'S MONEY THAT WAS ON THE STAGE, AND THE INSURANCE COMPANY WOULD HAVE MADE GOOD THE LOSS!

BOSS, HE AN' THE MARSHAL KNOW THAT I ESCAPED, AN' THEY KNOW OUR GANG HAS A BOSS!

DO THEY KNOW I'M THE BOSS?

NO, BUT THEY'VE WORKED OUT A PLAN TO FIND OUT WHO YOU ARE AND WHERE I'M HIDIN'. I KNOW THEIR PLAN!

THE LONE RANGER'LL POSE AS AN OUTLAW WHO'S SENTENCED TO HANG. THE MARSHAL WILL LOCK HIM UP WITH JAKE AND RED. WHILE HE'S IN JAIL, HE WILL TRY TO GET 'JAKE AN' RED' TO TALK.

UM-M. SO THAT'S THE PLAN!

WE'LL LET THEM GO AHEAD WITH THEIR PLAN, UP TO A POINT! ONLY WE'LL SEE THAT THE LONE RANGER REALLY DOES HANG!

In this issue: What Made You Love Him Can Make You Leave Him

... WHO YOU ARE," he said. "Now I remember. You're the one who writes those sad columns."

It was like a cold shower. I almost winced. But now that I've had time to consider, I don't think he was far wrong. I don't imagine I'd ever be labeled the poor man's Robert Benchley. I've tried to add up my literary ledger and I've found my honest friend saw more clearly than he knew.

I'm sorry. The gift of laughter is a wonderful thing. Some of the greatest photographs ever made have been of a child breaking into the delight of mirth or an old man toothlessly cackling.

Tears are commonplace. More moving, perhaps, but less inspiring.

Sometimes I write in sadness without meaning to do so. I find myself stirred to my roots by the ghost of twilight or the bruised toes of a small boy. And I feel a compulsion to set down those emotions.

And then I am startled to learn a reader was reduced to silent tears.

I suppose there is some virtue in being able to make someone cry. In choosing a combination of words which looses tears along with memory. Artists far greater than I can hope to be have won immortality by their ability to play or speak or act on the heartstrings and make them sob in response.

But the nature of us all is more prone to sorrow than to joy. And sometimes even in joy there is an exquisite anguish.

So, though I ask forgiveness of my candid friend and of those who find the thread of sadness strongest in the fabric of myself, there is a sadness, too, for me.

For I could ask no greater gift than that my crown should shine with something far more precious than the stars of sorrow.

The tears of laughter.

As You Were Saying...

Blames Broken Marriages on Easy Divorce

I disagree with the authors of your recent article about divorce and remarriage (Second Marriage Is No Cure-All, Nov. 14). They claim that most divorces are the result of a personality defect in one of the partners. If this were true, how does one account for the alarming increase in the divorce rate in recent years? Certainly our personality traits—good or bad—haven't changed that much. I think that the divorce rate can be laid directly to the fact that people are more divorce-conscious today. They know that they can get a divorce easily—in some states, too easily. Sometimes they're thinking about divorce even before they get married. Recently, for example, a Hollywood actress made a no-alimony vow, then said her wedding vows. When people enter marriage with such an attitude, how can they expect it to last?—M.H.R., Moorhead, Minn.

Is It Smart to Be Absent-Minded?

I wonder if all highly intelligent people are absent-minded? My husband, who is considered quite a brilliant man in his field, is very forgetful. He is always forgetting where he leaves things and forgetting little errands I ask him to do. If I write him a list of things to help him remember, he'll lose the list or forget where he put it. Sometimes he calls close friends by the wrong name, and this can be very embarrassing. It is not unusual for him to forget which day of the week it is, but once he sent his mother a birthday present when her birthday was months away! Maybe there's some truth to all those stories about the absent-minded professor.—Mrs. J.W., Tewksbury, Mass.

Dad Rebels

Against Wheeling the Baby

There's one domestic problem that causes a minor fuss in our house whenever it comes up. It's the business of taking our six-month-old son for a ride in his baby carriage. My wife thinks I shouldn't mind taking the baby for an airing. She always uses the argument that if I'm proud of the boy, I should be happy to perform this little chore. Well, I am proud of my son, naturally, and I don't mind helping with the domestic chores—even changing the baby's diapers occasionally. But pushing the baby buggy down the street just seems kind of unmasculine to me. And apparently other fathers agree with me because I seldom see anyone else doing it.—Proud father, Longmont, Colo.

When Winter takes a firm grip on the northern part of the country, ice fishing, one of the strangest forms of angling, comes into its own. Out over frozen lakes and rivers tramp the hardy devotees of this rugged sport. Some bring with them elaborate gear and portable shacks and stoves; others, nothing but an ice chisel, hook, line, and bait. The sport doesn't have the comforts of Summer fishing, but the fish are just as good to eat. (Photo by J. Julius Fanta.)

Four Fronts Against Polio in 1955

A WAR THAT has been fought for 165 years in laboratories, respirator centers, and hospitals will result in four critical battles in 1955, as scientists supported by the March of Dimes set their sights for the crippler that is polio. Joining in a $64,000,000 program, they have high hopes that a year from now the tide will have turned and victory will be in sight. The four fronts in this year's attack on polio are illustrated by the pictures on this page.

Since it was formed in 1938, the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis has spent $22.6 million for polio research and will allot $2.7 million to research this year. Here Dr. Gordon C. Brown of the University of Michigan studies the effect of polio virus on living organisms.

March of Dimes funds have furnished 4,761 educational grants for physical-therapy students such as Barbara King, who works with a polio victim.

Four-year-old Tommy Marquez receives leg exercises at Houston (Tex.) hospital. An estimated 94,000 Americans will fall victim to polio in 1955.

The scientist who developed the vaccine was given field tests last year, and its effectiveness will be known in the Spring. If it works, wide-scale immunizations will begin.

GIVE BLOOD NOW!

What Made You Love Him...

by Eleanore Redwin and Gudrun Alcock

Eleanore Redwin is a counseling psychologist who has collaborated

IF YOU'RE like most wives, particularly the younger ones, you'll scoff at the idea that at one time or another your marriage will reach the point where your only thought will be, "I can't stand that man any longer. I want a divorce!"

Yet, as you give in to the comfort of tears, there is one ironic fact you cannot see: The very trait which attracted you most to your husband is probably the one that's causing all the trouble! See if this isn't so by testing yourself against some other wives.

Take Harriet, for instance. Her moment came after a stormy fight with Arthur over how much money she spent.

"You don't know how to shop!" he finally told her. "This time I'm going to show you how. Come on!"

Then he rushed her out of the house and down to the grocery. As he grabbed a cart and pushed it down an aisle, she saw people glancing curiously at them. She was shivering with anger, and after three years of marriage all she could think of was a divorce.

Arthur hadn't changed

If Harriet could have realized it, Arthur was no different than when he had courted her. There had been obvious signs of penuriousness in the way he had carefully budgeted their every date. But to Harriet his cautiousness meant security. With Arthur she would never be in want, she thought happily. Harriet had had love-was-blind spots.

Arthur was a victim of love-was-blind spots, too. He did want to give Harriet security. But he was just an ordinary guy, and so afraid he might get sick or fail in some way that he became overthrifty. It was not hard to see how Harriet's light-hearted ways, which he once adored, now frightened him into constant nagging.

Perhaps your husband is

a money-worrier, too. Or perhaps he is one of those domineering husbands, like Celia's. As the youngest child in a large, protective family, Celia moved serenely along a carefully tended path until she met Paul. He simply took her by the hand and led her on from there. She thought he was wonderful.

But you can guess what happened after marriage. Paul managed everything. Their home, which should have been Celia's domain, was completely under his rule. He invited company for weeks ahead without her approval. She couldn't even shop for the children's clothes without his overriding her selections. Taking their cue from their father, the children, too, became bossy and tyrannical.

As Celia matured, she began to resent this constant oppression. Finally, one day when plans for remodeling the kitchen were being discussed and Paul started telling her exactly how it should be done, she suddenly rebelled. "Listen here," she said, "I'm the one who works in this kitchen, and I'm going to have it done exactly the way I want it!"

Her stored-up resentment now spilled over so that she fought Paul on every point in question.

You may say to yourself, "I know exactly how she feels." But do you know how Paul feels?

To Celia's surprise, Paul had been storing up resentments, too. His business had grown so that he no longer had the time to supervise everything around the house. Yet if he asked Celia to do the simplest thing, she always answered helplessly, "I don't know how."

Paul had thought he wanted a puppet for a wife, but in marriage he found his responsibilities were too overwhelming unless Celia became a real helpmate. Fortunately, the struggle between them ended happily.

Hard as it was for Paul, he relinquished some of his authority and found to his surprise that there were other ways than his for doing things. Both he and Celia began to realize that because she had been overprotected by her family, she had had no opportunity to develop her own personality so she could do things for herself, or assert herself when necessary. Now she was willing, even eager, to take on adult responsibilities. As a result, she and Paul were able to get their marriage into balance.

Compromise is required

That's the way it should be in any healthy marriage. Every couple has to make adjustments and compromises. More than that, both husband and wife must be willing to make real changes in themselves, as Paul and Celia did.

Perhaps, like Joan, you're a discouraged wife who found herself typing at an office desk in order to help meet expenses, instead of tending a baby in a house of her own, as she'd dreamed. Joan had been attracted to Foster because he was the intellectual type with whom she'd soared into the world of poetry and culture. Only his salary didn't amount to much, she discovered after marriage, and he wasn't seriously interested in getting ahead, either.

He was more interested in just enjoying the day-by-day

Can Make You Leave Him

beauty to be found in living, and sincerely felt that he earned enough for them to live comfortably in a modest way that left him free for cultural pursuits,

He said, "All Joan does is wish for something we don't have. A house! I'd hate it. I don't intend to become one of those harassed men who think of nothing but how to pay off the mortgage. Joan isn't the same, either. She's so tired every night that she's not the companion I thought she would be."

It's obvious that Joan had one precious thing in her marriage that she didn't appreciate — a husband who wanted to share his interests with her, rather than one who dashed off to the golf course or a baseball game every free moment. It was up to her to decide whether to keep on stubbornly wanting things "just so" before she started a family, or whether it wouldn't be wiser to try raising a baby in their little studio apartment.

There are as many variations of puzzling conflicts in marriage as there are people, but this last common complaint may be yours, just as it was Virginia's, who felt overburdened and slighted.

Share responsibilities

She said angrily, "Every time we go to a party, I have to sit on the sidelines and watch Tony having all the fun. Then, at home, if I ask his advice about the children or the house, his standard reply is, 'That's your problem.'

It's not fair; all he wants is a good time."

Her handsome Tony's viewpoint was quite different. His complaint was this: "There's enough trouble in the world without looking for worries. I work hard, support Virginia and the children the best I can. But I want some relaxation when I get home. My wife takes everything in life too seriously."

Who's right? Both of them — to a point. Their future happiness depends on their willingness to try to understand each other's viewpoint better and re-evaluate their relationship. Tony can't expect Virginia to be an anchor holding their home steady while he sails around having all the fun. He must start sharing the responsibilities.

If you take a good look at the man you married, you'll find he hasn't really changed; you're just seeing him in a new light!

Virginia, on the other hand, must recognize that Tony's attractiveness, his high-keyed love of gaiety—the very exciting things she married him for in the first place—make it impossible for him to become a staid homebody. She must compromise with her dreams and learn to accept reality. And, after all, that's the big thing we all must do.

For isn't it true that most of us enter marriage with the eager expectation that it will fulfill all our dreams? Self-centered dreams, let's admit now. You dreamed, didn't you, that your husband was going to devote his every moment toward your happiness? But take a look at him. There he stands, still clutching his shiny dream, expecting the same from you!

Radio's Hardy Perennial: "Grand Ole Opry"

On the air for 29 years, its hillbilly music, folk singing, and bucolic shenanigans have made it an American institution

WHEN YOU RECEIVE a ticket request for your radio program from a man in Saudi Arabia who has to travel 11,000 miles to Nashville, Tenn., your show is obviously making an impression. And when many of those in your radio and studio audience sit through four-and-a-half hours of song and patter, you can give odds that your show is here to stay!

Every Saturday night—and they haven't missed one yet—more than 10 million listeners tune in and a live audience of about 5,000 people turns out for "Grand Ole Opry," the oldest continuous commercial show on radio.

To the radio audience, "Opry" is a big, fast-moving country jamboree. To the audience in the auditorium, it is a hillbilly extravaganza. During the show, more than 125 artists—the stars and their "side men"—perform so spontaneously that the clocklike precision of the timing seems unbelievable.

The originator of "Grand Ole Opry" was George D. Hay, who later became known on the program as "The Solemn Old Judge." While killing time on a reporting assignment for a Memphis newspaper, he watched a "hoedown" in an Ozark Mountain town. Hay had such a good time watching the mountaineers have a good time, that several years later, as director of radio station WSM in Nashville, he launched the "Barn Dance" on November 28, 1925. Two years later, the program was renamed "Grand Ole Opry."

To out-of-towners, "Grand Ole Opry" is a special occasion for which plans are made well ahead of time. But to Nashville residents, the program has become the accepted way of entertainment "of a Saturday night."

HERBS AND SPICE MAKE EVERYTHING NICE

To the uninitiated, herbs and spices may suggest an unveiled mystery in which only professionals dare dabble. True, they may often be the mark of great food and fine cooks . . . all the more reason for you to add their excitement to your own dishes. Add a bit of oregano or rosemary to beef stews, a touch of thyme to tomato, of marjoram to soup. Introduce mint or basil to lamb roast; chopped chervil to butter sauces. Adorn whole cooked carrots with mint or chives. Cayenne adds bite to meats; nutmeg enriches the flavor of white sauces. The possibilities are inexhaustible. Use herbs scantily until you have mastered the art—or the herbs will master the dish you are preparing. If using fresh herbs—a tablespoon equals about a half teaspoon of dried. Buy in small quantities; store tightly covered. This will preserve the fine aroma that will entrance your family before they have had their first taste of the marvelous flavor of foods prepared with herbs and spices.

Spicy Cheese Muffins

Grease the bottoms only of 12 2½-in. muffin pan wells. If any wells remain empty, fill them one-half full with water before placing muffins in oven.

Grate enough cheese to yield
1 cup (about 4 oz.) grated
Cheddar cheese

Set aside.

Sift together into a bowl and set aside

- 2 cups sifted flour
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- ½ teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- ½ teaspoon nutmeg
- ¼ teaspoon cloves
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Beat until thick and piled softly

Add and blend until thoroughly mixed

- ½ cup buttermilk
- ½ cup molasses
- ¼ cup butter, melted and cooled slightly

Mix grated cheese into sifted dry ingredients. Make a well in center of dry ingredients. Add liquid ingredients all at one time. With not more than 25 strokes, quickly and lightly stir until flour mixture is barely moistened. Batter will be lumpy and will break from the spoon. (Overmixing will cause tunnels in muffins.)

Spoon out (cutting batter against side of bowl) enough batter at one time to fill each muffin well one-half full. Place spoon in well and push batter off with another spoon.

Run spatula around inside edge of each muffin well and gently lift out muffin.

If serving is delayed, keep muffins warm by loosening them and tipping slightly in the pan wells. Cover with a clean towel. Keep in a warm place.*

Queen's Biscuits

(Biscotti di Regina)

A cookie favorite in true Italian tradition.

Sift together into a large bowl

- 4 cups sifted flour
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 tablespoon baking powder
- ¼ teaspoon salt

Cut in with pastry blender or two knives until pieces are size of small peas

1 cup shortening

2 eggs, slightly beaten

Blend in, 1 tablespoon at a time

Mix together thoroughly.

Break dough into small pieces and roll each piece between palms of hands to form rolls about 1½ in. in length. Flatten rolls slightly and roll in sesame seeds

Place on cookie sheets about ¾ in. apart.

Bake at 375°F 12 to 15 min., or until cookies are lightly browned.

About 6 dozen cookies

An unusual but happy blend of cheese and spices enhances these tempting gems.

Green Goddess Salad Dressing

Combine in a 1-qt. screw-top jar

- 1 cup mayonnaise
- ½ cup thick sour cream
- 3 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 1 tablespoon lemon juice
- ½ cup finely chopped parsley
- 3 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 3 tablespoons mashed anchovy fillets
- 1 clove garlic, finely minced
- 1 tablespoon chopped chives
- 2 teaspoons chopped capers

Cover jar tightly and shake until mixture is well blended.

Put into refrigerator to chill 3 to 4 hrs.

About 2½ cups dressing

Sweet-Sour Red Cabbage

BASE RECIPE

Set out a heavy 3-qt. saucepan.

1 head (about 2 lbs.) red cabbage
Rinse, cut into quarters (discarding core), and coarsely shred (about 2 qts., shredded). Put cabbage into the saucepan and add

Boiling salted water to cover
(1 teaspoon salt per quart of water)

½ to ½ cup firmly packed brown sugar

4 whole cloves

Boil uncovered at a moderate rate 8 to 12 min., or until cabbage is just tender.

Remove from heat; drain.

Add to cabbage

¼ cup butter or margarine

Toss together lightly to mix.

Serve immediately.

Sweet-Sour Cabbage with Raisins

Follow Base Recipe. Wash 1 cup (about 5 oz.) raisins; soak in 1¼ cups hot water about 1 hr. Add raisins and water in which they have been soaking to cabbage with sugar and spices. Add boiling salted water to cover.

As colorful in taste as it is in appearance, this tangy, spicy-sweet cabbage is a zesty accompaniment for spareribs.

MAYONNAISE

Stuffed Spareribs

Set out a shallow roasting pan with a rack.

Prepare and set aside
Apple Stuffing

Wipe with a clean, damp cloth
2 sections (about 4 lbs.) spareribs
Season spareribs with a mixture of
1 teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon ground sage
½ teaspoon pepper

Place one section of spareribs on rack in the roasting pan. Spread stuffing over the section. Cover with second section of spareribs. Fasten the sections together with skewers.

Roast at 350°F for 1½ hrs.

Garnish with
Parsley

6 to 8 servings

Apple Stuffing

Wash, quarter, core, pare, dice, and set aside

1 medium-size apple (about 1 cup, diced)

Melt in a skillet over medium heat
¼ cup butter or margarine
Add and cook until transparent
½ cup (1 medium-size) chopped onion

Meanwhile, toss together the diced apple and

2 cups (about 2 slices) soft bread crumbs and a mixture of
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon celery seed
½ teaspoon ground sage
½ teaspoon pepper

Blend with onion and fat. Toss mixture lightly with

¼ cup apple juice (use only enough to barely moisten bread)

About 3½ cups stuffing

Full-Flavored Steak

Put in a bowl or screw-top jar
½ cup soy sauce
2½ tablespoons brown sugar
1½ tablespoons sugar
1 tablespoon tarragon vinegar
1 tablespoon ground ginger
1 clove garlic, crushed
Beat or shake until blended.

Put into a large, shallow pan
3 lbs. beef round steak, cut 1 in. thick

Using a sharp knife, cut through outside fat covering at 1-in. intervals to prevent "curling" of steak while broiling. Pour the marinade (liquid) over the meat. Marinate (allow meat to stand in liquid to impart additional flavor) steak for about 30 min., turning once or twice if steak is not covered with marinade.

Drain the steak, reserving marinade for basting.

Set temperature control of range at Broil (500°F or higher).

Place steak on broiler rack; place rack in broiler with top of steak 2 in. from heat source. Broil 9 to 12 min. (The shorter cooking time is for rare steak; the longer cooking time is for medium-done steak.) Brush steak occasionally with the marinade.

When steak is browned on one side, turn and broil second side about 9 to 12 min., occasionally brushing with marinade. Test for doneness by cutting a slit near the bone and noting color of meat.

Serve immediately.

Creamy Lima Beans in Rice Ring

BASE RECIPE

Lightly butter a 1-qt. ring mold and set aside.

Prepare in a heavy 3-qt. saucepan

2 qts. quick chicken broth (8 chicken bouillon cubes dissolved in 2 qts. hot water)

Add

1 teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon white pepper

¼ teaspoon marjoram

Bring chicken broth to boiling and add gradually so boiling will not stop

1 cup uncooked rice

(The Rice Industry no longer considers it necessary to wash rice before cooking.)

Boil rapidly, uncovered, 15 to 20 min., or until a kernel of rice is entirely soft when pressed between fingers.

Drain rice in a colander or sieve, reserving 1 cup of cooking liquid for use in preparing sauce. Rinse rice with hot water to remove loose starch. Keep rice hot by placing colander over hot water and covering with a folded towel.

Melt in a medium-size saucepan over low heat

3 tablespoons butter or margarine

Blend in a mixture of

3 tablespoons flour

½ teaspoon salt

½ teaspoon white pepper

Few grains paprika

Heat until mixture bubbles. Remove from heat. Add gradually, stirring constantly, the reserved cooking liquid and

Cook rapidly, stirring constantly, until sauce thickens. Cook 1 to 2 min. longer. Keep sauce warm over hot water while preparing beans.

Cook according to directions on package contents of 1 pkg. (10 oz.) frozen lima beans

Break apart block of beans with fork or spoon while cooking.

While beans are cooking, melt in a skillet over low heat

2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Add and cook until transparent

1 tablespoon finely chopped onion

Turn the cooked rice into a bowl. Add contents of skillet and

Using a fork, toss gently to mix thoroughly. Turn rice mixture into the prepared mold, packing down with a spoon.

When lima beans are tender, drain, if necessary, and stir into the sauce.

To unmold rice, cover ring mold with a warm serving platter. Invert and remove ring mold. Pour creamy lima beans into center of rice ring. Sprinkle with

Paprika

Serve immediately.

6 servings

Creamy Carrots in Rice Ring

Follow Base Recipe; substitute cooked carrots for the lima beans.

Braised Spicy Spareribs

Set out a heavy skillet and a roasting pan having a tight-fitting cover.

For Ribs—Wipe with a clean, damp cloth 2 sections (about 4 lbs.) spareribs, cracked through center

Cut into serving-size pieces. Coat meat evenly with a mixture of

2 teaspoons salt

¼ teaspoon pepper

Melt in the heavy skillet

3 tablespoons fat

Add ribs to fat and brown slowly on both sides.

While meat is browning, prepare

1½ cups quick meat broth (2 beef bouillon cubes or 1 teaspoon concentrated meat extract dissolved in 1½ cups hot water)

Mix into meat broth

3 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

2 tablespoons vinegar

½ teaspoon celery salt

3 whole cloves

3 whole allspice

½ bay leaf

Cut off root end and a thin slice from stem end of

1 medium-size onion

Peel, rinse, finely chop, and set aside.

Put meat into the roasting pan. Pour broth mixture over browned ribs. Add chopped onion. Cover and put in 350°F oven for about 1½ hrs., or until ribs are tender.

With a slotted spoon, remove meat from pan to a warm serving platter. Set aside to keep warm while preparing sauce.

For Sauce—If necessary, skim excess fat from cooking liquid. Pour cooking liquid into a small saucepan.

Put into a 1-pt. screw-top jar

Sprinkle onto it

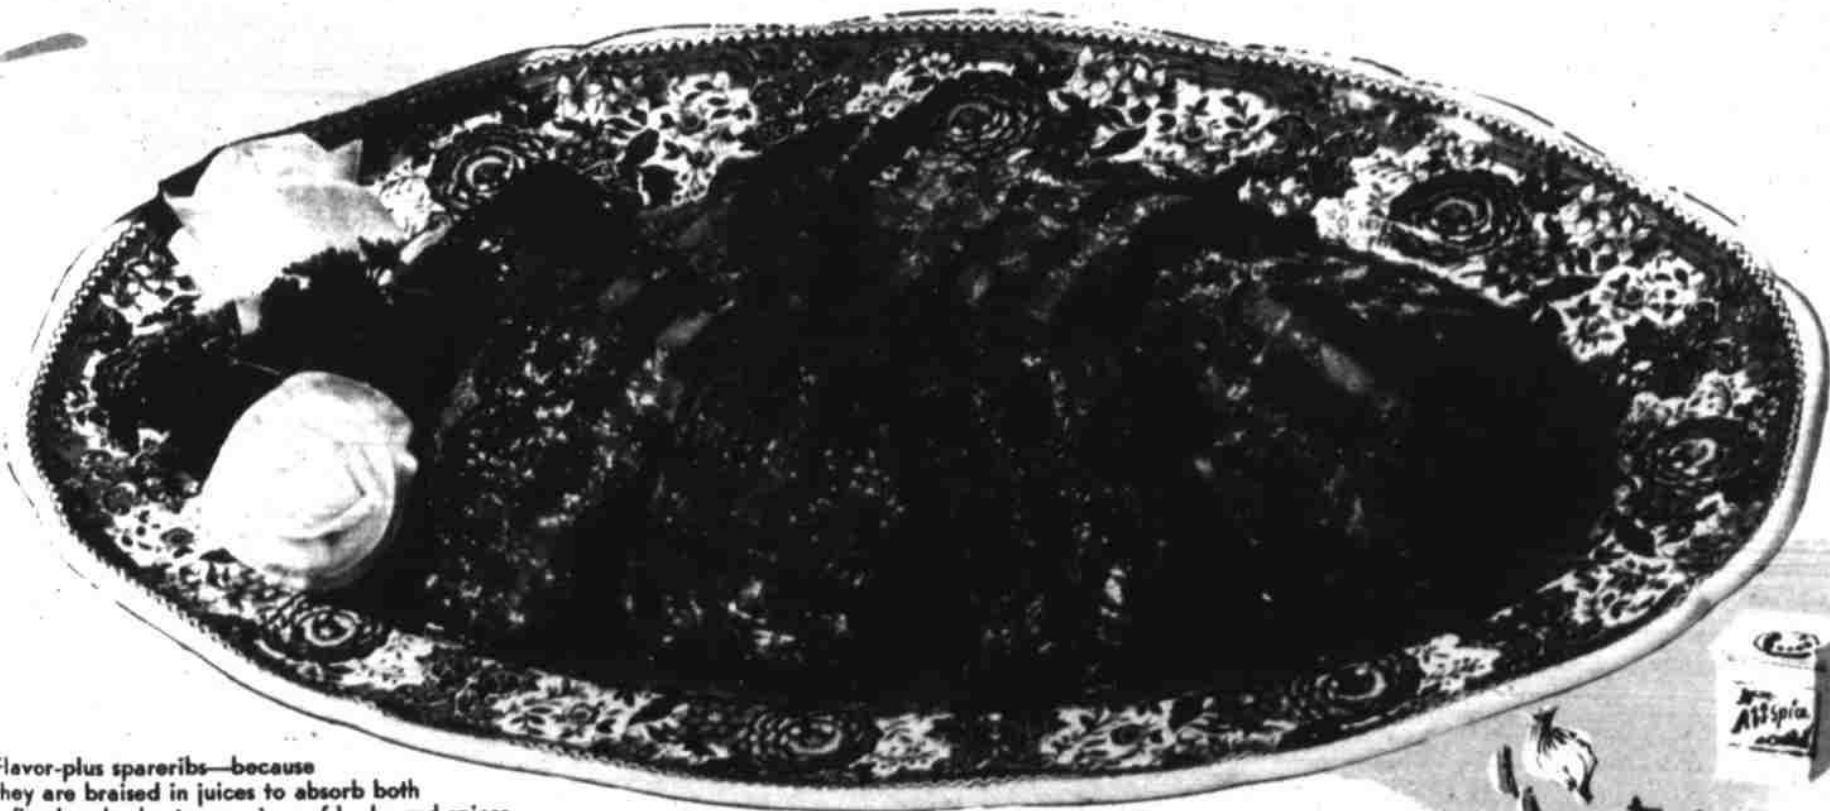

2 tablespoons flour

Cover jar tightly and shake until mixture is well blended.

Bring liquid in saucepan to boiling; stirring constantly, slowly pour one half of the blended mixture into cooking liquid. Bring to boiling. Gradually add only what is needed of the remaining blended mixture for consistency desired. Bring mixture to boiling after each addition. Cook 3 to 5 min.

Spoon or pour about one half of the hot sauce over spareribs on the platter. Serve remaining sauce in a gravy boat if desired.

6 to 8 servings

Flavor-plus spareribs—because they are braised in juices to absorb both refined and robust seasonings of herbs and spices.

Cream Cheese "Liptauer" Spread

BASE RECIPE

Liptauer cheese is a sharp, fat cheese made from the milk of sheep in the Carpathian Mountains in northern Hungary. It's usually made into a spread for appetizers or snacks by adding seasonings.

Since Liptauer cheese is not readily available in this country, we cannot duplicate this famous spread, but can make a very similar one with cream or cottage cheese.

Cream together in a bowl until well blended

- 8 oz. cream cheese, softened
- 1/2 cup butter or margarine, softened
- 3 tablespoons thick sour cream

A unique and captivating appetizer spread—seasonings and anchovies mingled with other carefully selected ingredients.

Mash together with mortar and pestle or with fork

- 2 anchovy fillets
- 1 teaspoon capers
- Add to cream cheese mixture with
- 1 tablespoon finely chopped onion or chives
- 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
- 1 1/2 teaspoons paprika
- 1 teaspoon caraway seeds
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend ingredients thoroughly. Transfer mixture to a serving plate and shape into a smooth mound. Make slight indentations in cheese mound with tines of a fork (as in photograph). Sprinkle with Paprika

Insert wooden picks into

- 10 stuffed and rolled anchovy fillets
- Arrange the picks on the cheese mound.

Chill slightly in refrigerator.

Garnish by arranging parsley sprigs around mound. Serve with crackers or pumpernickel or rye bread.

1 3/4 cups spread

Cottage Cheese

"Liptauer" Spread

Follow Base Recipe; substitute for the cream cheese 1 cup (about 1/2 lb.) cream-style cottage cheese, drained, and forced through a ricer or fine sieve.

Vitamin-Rich Cocktail

- Combine in a 1-qt. screw-top jar
- 2 1/4 cups (contents of 1 No. 2 can) tomato juice
 - 1 1/2 cups orange juice
 - 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 - 1/2 teaspoon onion juice
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/4 teaspoon celery salt

Cover and shake until ingredients are thoroughly blended.

Chill in refrigerator at least 1 hr. to allow flavors to blend.

About 3 3/4 cups

Apple Sauce Cake

Grease bottom of a 9-in. square cake pan. Line with waxed paper cut to fit pan bottom. Grease waxed paper.

Set out

- 3/4 cup (about 4 oz.) raisins
- Sift together and set aside
- 2 cups sifted cake flour
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon cloves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Cream until softened

- 1/2 cup butter or margarine
- Add gradually, creaming until fluffy after each addition

- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- Add in thirds, beating thoroughly after each addition

- 2 eggs, well beaten (until thick and piled softly)

Measure and blend together

- 1 cup applesauce
- 1/2 cup undiluted evaporated milk
- 2 tablespoons vinegar

Alternately add dry ingredients in fourths, applesauce mixture in thirds, to creamed mixture. After each addition, beat only until smooth. Finally beat only until batter is smooth (do not overbeat). Stir in the raisins. Turn batter into pan. With spatula, draw batter from center toward edges of pan. Tap bottom of pan sharply with hand to release air bubbles before placing in oven.

Bake at 350°F 40 min., or until cake tester or wooden pick comes out clean when inserted in center of cake, or until cake springs back when lightly touched at center. Place cake on cooling rack while preparing frosting.

For Frosting—Coarsely chop and set aside

- 1/2 cup (about 2 oz.) toasted, blanched almonds
- Cream until fluffy
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, softened
- 1/2 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- Add and continue creaming
- 2 tablespoons undiluted evaporated milk
- Stir in the chopped nuts.

Set temperature control of range at Broil (500°F or higher).

Spread frosting lightly over the cake after it has cooled in pan 10 to 15 min. Place cake in broiler with top of cake about 4 in. from source of heat. Broil about 1 min., or until frosting bubbles. Watch closely to avoid scorching.

How Do You Score as a Parent?

by Charles and Jean Komaiiko

There was a time when children were seen and not heard; when papa ruled the roost and nobody worried unduly about whether he was or was not a good parent. But today we take our role as parents very seriously.

If you can honestly answer "yes" to questions 1, 3, 5, 7 and 9, and "no" to questions 2, 4, 6, 8, and 10, you may consider yourself close to perfection as a parent.

HAUNTED HOUSE

I live in an old house on top of a hill.
The spooks that are in it give me a chill.
Every night at midnight
They wander around,

And up the stairs and down.
They make lots of noise

RIP VAN WINKLE

Book Review

Good-natured, lazy, ne'er-do-well Rip Van Winkle! One warm day he left his home in the little Dutch village at the foot of the Catskills to go hunting and when he returned the next day (as he thought), 20 years had passed!

Washington Irving, the author of "Rip Van Winkle," is often called the "Father of the American Short Story" because he was the first to put into story form some of the legends that had grown up among the early settlers of America.

Mr. Irving tells the story of easy going Rip in a mock-serious way that has made Americans chuckle almost as long as there has been a United States.

A Marble Bag Bess A. Lee

All you need to make this handy little bag is a piece of felt, some bright-colored yarn, and two pieces of tape or cord or two ordinary shoestrings to draw it up at the top.

First make a paper pattern for the bag. Cut out a circle about 12 inches in diameter, fold it in half, then in quarters, then in eighths, and cut out a notch as shown in Figure 1 in the diagram. The notch should be in the center of the section and should measure about two and three-fourths inches across the top. The sides run parallel to the outside edges. Open the circle out and it will look like the one shown in Figure 2 of the diagram. Pin this pattern onto a piece of colored felt and cut out around the edges, then cut two small slashes in each section about one-half inch apart and one-half inch from the top of the sections.

Thread a needle with some bright-colored yarn in a contrasting color to that of the felt. Bring the cut-out edges together and with the seam on the right side whip them together with the yarn. Fairly long stitches can be used, but keep them all the same size and the same distance apart. Be sure to fasten the ends securely at top and bottom so the yarn will not pull out. When all the seams are sewn, it is ready for the draw strings. Cut two pieces of the tape or cord about 18 inches long. Thread a bodkin with one of them, or if you haven't a bodkin, use a safety pin. Run it in and out the slashes as shown in Figure 3 until you reach the place you started; then tie the two ends of the tape firmly together near the end. Repeat this process with the other piece of tape, starting on the opposite side this time, and finish by tying the ends

Write your letter with figures instead of letters. To make your code more puzzling, use the number of the letter that comes before the letter you mean. For instance, if you want to say "Hello," number it this way: 7-4-11-11-14. See? Of course, when you want to use the letter A, you will have to say 26. Code writing is fun. Try it!

together in the same manner. This makes a double draw string. If cords or shoestrings are used, the ends can be raveled out, after tying, to make tassels.

A Hot-Pan Holder Bess A. Lee

Anyone who cooks cannot have too many hot-pan holders. The picture shows one you can make in a jiffy that will be nice enough to give to Mother or Auntie as a gift.

All you need for the holder is a strip of cotton flannel in white or some plain color twenty inches long and five inches wide, a piece of yellow bias tape about three and a quarter inches long for the chicken, and little black embroidery thread for the trimming. Fold the flannel as shown in Figure 2, with both ends in the center, then double this to make a square, as in Figure 3. Pin it together, then baste all the way around to hold it in place. Now buttonhole or blanket-stitch the edges together with black embroidery thread. The modern-looking chicken on the top of the holder is made from the bias tape. Make a V-fold in the center of the tape, as shown in Figure 4. Baste down the fold, then turn under a little of the top marked A, and then turn under the other end, B, on a slant as shown by the dotted lines. Baste these down also. Now pin the chicken onto the center of the holder, and then sew down by whipping the edges over and over with matching thread all the way around. Make two slanting stitches with the black thread at the top of the head for the bill, three longer ones for the tail, and two for legs, with another stitch across the ends for feet. Then make a French knot for the eye and several running stitches for the wing, and your chick is complete.

A Coin Purse Bess A. Lee

This handy little felt purse is made in the shape of a flower. It has a strap that snaps around your wrist.

Make the flower out of any bright-colored felt, such as pink, blue, orange, or red. Cut out two circles two and three-eighths inches across. Cut two slots in the center of one circle about three-eighths of an inch long, as shown in Figure 1. Cut away the top part of the other circle, leaving a crescent-shaped piece as in Figure 2. Place these pieces together, edges even, and baste, then whip or blanket stitch all around the edge with colored yarn.

Cut another circle for the center of the flower about one inch across, from yellow or brown felt or a deeper shade of the flower color. Make a cross-stitch in the middle of the circle with yarn, then place the circle on top of the flower, exactly in the center. Overcast the top edge down, as far as the crescent-shaped piece only. This makes a flap to cover the coins. Sew a snap fastener at the lower edge to keep it tightly closed. Now, cut a strip of green felt about three-eighths of an inch wide and long enough to reach around your wrist and lap one-half inch. Run this strip through the two slots at the back of the purse, as shown in Figure 5. Sew a snap or a hook and eye at the ends, and your purse is ready to use.

Spring Wools Come Early and Stay Late

by Allyn Rice

SPRING WOOLS are sprouting earlier than the crocus this year. Fashion-wise women wear them with Winter coats now, with short furs later. And still later, wafer-weight wools are worn alone, the perfect expressions of elegant design. They show the new shape of fashion—the higher bodice and lower torso. Lines are free-swinging, yet cling softly to the figure. Pleats of all kind are used ingeniously to add a slim, straight look to two-piece dresses. In colors, off-whites, pastels, and navy in all its new shades get special play; distinctive prints are new and important. With all these fashion advantages, it's no wonder smart women take to Spring-minded woolens early this year and plan to wear them longer than usual!

Whisper-weight woolen two-piece suit-dress has the look of Paris in its every detail. The skirt with sharp knife-pleating hugs the hips, while cuffed jacket top accentuates the straighter line. Across the new higher bust-line is a soft and feminine tie. Larry Aldrich under $95

Fashion focal point of this distinguished lightweight wool print is the fabulously contrived neckline that may be worn in a number of smart and sophisticated ways.

It's wonderful the way Chewing-Gum Laxative acts chiefly to REMOVE WASTE — NOT GOOD FOOD

Here's the secret millions have discovered about FEEN-A-MINT, the wonderfully different chewing-gum laxative. FEEN-A-MINT is different because you chew it. It's different, too, because it removes mostly waste—not good food! You see, FEEN-A-MINT does not work in the stomach, where food is being digested. That's why it does not take away a lot of the good food you need for energy.

Doctors know that FEEN-A-MINT works chiefly in the lower bowel... removes mostly waste, not good food!

So to feel like a million, do as millions do. Chew delicious FEEN-A-MINT... and feel full of life and energy! Get FEEN-A-MINT!
