Eisenhower Predicts End To Current Economy Dip

Admits Forecasts May Be Wrong

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 —UP— President Eisenhower predicted Thursday the current economy dip will end soon. He expressed confidence of a "prosperity based on peace." "Our economy today is highly prosperous and enjoys great basic strength," he said in his first economic report to Congress. "The minor adjustments underway since mid-1953 are likely soon to come to a close, especially if the recommendations of the administration are adopted."

But the President conceded that economic forecasts can be wrong. And he pledged that his administration will act "promptly and vigorously" with the full powers of the federal government, if necessary to prevent a depression.

35,000-Word Report
His generally optimistic report, which ran 35,000 words, also proposed increased unemployment benefits and a higher minimum wage as new planks in his prosperity program.

He suggested that states raise their payments to the unemployed so they will equal "at least half" of the usual earnings. Unemployment benefit payments now average about one-third of the wage.

He also would have the payments by all states run for 26 weeks. He said that "at the proper time," he will recommend to Congress that the present minimum wage of 75 cents per hour be increased to an unspecified amount and that it be extended to cover more workers.

New R-Records Set
Despite the slight contraction in business in the latter half of last year, the report showed that new records were set in industrial activity, employment and income payments for 1953 as a whole.

Farmers, whose income fell 7.4 percent during the year, were the major group that did not share the "widespread prosperity."

Mr. Eisenhower attributed the recent economic downturn mainly to a pileup of inventories that occurred when production outran sales. He also conceded that the administration's stop inflation policies, designed to stop inflation, might have been a little too effective.

He added that the nation's economic growth "is likely to be resumed" this year, "especially if Congress strengthens the economic environment by translating into action the administration's far-reaching program."

But he warned that agriculture, "which is beset with more problems than any other major part of our economy," will never achieve lasting prosperity unless present federal farm laws requiring price supports of "basic" crops at 90 percent of parity.

"Both wheat and cotton have been priced out of important domestic markets by high and rigid price supports," he said. "These supports have encouraged domestic production beyond foreseeable needs, and have contributed to an expansion of competitive foreign production greater than would otherwise have occurred. They have resulted in huge surpluses in government hands, and have led to the imposition of drastic controls on individual producers. Such undesirable consequences are inevitable if present rigid price support policies are continued..."

He said Congress should also "study" the discrimination which present farm law makes between so-called "basic" crops, such as wheat, cotton, peanuts and tobacco, on which 90 percent price supports are mandatory, and other crops which are of increasingly greater importance to the nation's actual consumption habits. He noted that 90 percent of all farm crops, including those most widely used, receive no government support whatever under current programs.

'DISTORTED PICTURE' Medical Association Claims Fallacy In Health Problems

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 —UP— The American Medical Association told Congress Thursday that a "distorted picture" has been drawn of the nation's health problems in an effort to promote government-controlled medical care.

Dr. Walter B. Martin of Norfolk, Va., AMA president-elect, said "it is obvious that in the areas of medical progress, medical cost and doctor supply the picture is far brighter than some would have you believe."

In testimony prepared for a House Commerce committee hearing, Martin said nearly 92 million Americans already are covered by hospital insurance, 78 million by surgical insurance and 36 million by insurance involving some other medical costs.

"Without Government Help" "This amazing progress has been achieved without benefit of government subsidy," Martin said.

Show Officials View Results Of Stock Sale

Officials of the Top O' Texas Hereford Breeders association today were surveying the results of the three-day Top O' Texas Fat Stock Show and Sale that closed Wednesday.

A total of $39,542.12 was realized by exhibitors from the junior and the Hereford Breeders sales.

In Wednesday's sale of breeding cattle, the grand champion, T. P. Larry Mixer, 2nd, was sold to Frits Keller, Shattuck rancher, by Tommie Poite, Wheeler, for $1,100, top price of the sale. He sold his champion female, TP Larry Ann 21st, to Cliff and Edna Vincent, Lettors, for $1,000.

The reserve champion, GW Publican Domino 2nd, was sold by Gordon Whitlock, Wheeler, for $600. A total of 11,812 lbs. went to 471 Club and FFA boys of five Pampa schools.

The sale of breeding cattle brought exhibitors $50,400 Wednesday, with the 12 females bringing $29,750 and the bulls setting $14,150. Animals sold last year brought $29,810. The same number of animals were sold in last year's sale, but there were two more females this year and two fewer bulls.

Consignment in the sale were: John A. Baggerman and Sons, Groom; Alex Born and Sons, Floyd; J. P. Callahan, Conway; Clyde Carruth, Pampa; George Coffey, White Deer; Douglas Coffee, White Deer; Frank M. Carter, Pampa; (See OFFICIALS, Page 3)

This is the nearest he came to considering Chairman Charles A. Wolverson (R-N.J.) and a string of witnesses have complained that present health protection is inadequate.

Wolverson recently challenged the AMA to come up with its own plan to help Americans meet rising medical costs.

Advocates Voluntary Insurance Martin advocated "continued promotion of voluntary health insurance."

But he disagreed with the labor unions and other groups who advocate making the plans cover all costs of medical and hospital care.

"The individual should participate in the cost of his illness for the purpose of reducing long-stay and abuses," Martin said. "A certain amount of medical care is an expected item on any family budget."

Although the AMA generally has opposed federal aid, Martin told the committee that it endorses one-time federal grants for construction of medical schools.

SHARP PROTECTION — Louise McDaniel, 18-year-old Detroit, Mich., secretary, displays razor she used to put a molester to rout. She's been carrying the "weapon" for five months. Just in case. Recently, a man grabbed her; she slashed the assailant before he fled with a four-inch slash on his cheek.

SPRING A-TIRE — Five-year-old Cheryl McDonough looks in wonder at the headpiece dreamed up by her mother, Mrs. Colby McDonough, of Dallas. She robbed her husband's prize motor scooter for the makings. With a tire as a base, seat springs dangle at each side, a flashy torpedo light gives a symmetrical chic, while a can of motor-scooter grease and a silvery radiator ornament top off the "creation."

Dulles Asks To Drop Red China Dispute

BERLIN, Jan. 28 —UP— Secretary of State John Foster Dulles demanded Thursday that the Big Four foreign ministers abandon their dispute on peace talks with Red China—which he blasted as "a source of so much humanitarian suffering"—and get to work on German and Austrian treaties.

Dulles charged that Soviet Russia is trying to wreck the UN by replacing it with a set-up of the five great powers to dictate to the world.

Opening Thursday's fourth session of the four-power foreign ministers conference, Dulles blasted the Chinese Reds in replying to Molotov's latest demand that they be included in world talks.

"This regime is committing open aggression in Korea and promoting aggression against Indo-China," Dulles said.

Sources of Human Misery "We do not want this source of so much human misery to sit in judgment on the problems of the world."

The western foreign ministers believe that Russia may compromise its demand for a general five-power conference on world peace by dropping its demand for inclusion of the Chinese.

But if so, a western spokesman said, Soviet Foreign Minister Vyacheslav M. Molotov has given no indication of a compromise so far.

Both men climbed the 17 steps to the scaffold calmly, and each denied with his last words that he was guilty of the murder.

"You are just complying with an order, sir," Burns said to the officer in charge of the execution just before he was hanged. "You haven't missed the crime."

ON LUXURY ITEMS The federal government couldn't afford the estimated loss of $1 billion in revenue.

Martin indicated he is prepared to go along with the President on holding the April 1 cuts, but he countered with his proposal that a 10 per cent ceiling be fixed.

Airmen Hanged For Slaying Despite Innocence Claims

AGANA, Guam, Jan. 28 —UP— Two U.S. Negro airmen found guilty of the brutal sex slaying five years ago of Ruth Farnsworth, a white nurse, were hanged Thursday on a barren, aridly eight miles from the scene of the crime.

Robert Burns, 35, of Spokane, Wash., and Herman Dennis Jr., 25, of Calvert, Tex., who never had admitted guilt in the shocking crime, went to the gallows still protesting their innocence.

A third Negro, Dennis' 23-year-old half-brother, Calvin, also was sentenced to death. His sentence was commuted to life imprisonment by President Truman in 1951 on the ground that there was insufficient evidence of his participation in the actual assault.

President Eisenhower rejected the condemned men's last appeal last Dec. 10, and ordered the commutation.

FTC Investigates Big Coffee Price

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 —UP— The Federal Trade Commission said Thursday there will be no "dragging of heels" in its investigation of soaring coffee prices.

A top-ranking official told a reporter the commission's investigators intend to go "all out" to get the facts behind the price spiral and to report their findings to the public.

He was unable to predict how long the full-scale investigation will take. He said that depends "on what we find," during the course of the inquiry.

Meanwhile, there was a flurry of other developments on the coffee front:

1. Colombian Ambassador Dr. Eduardo Zuleta-Angel said the FTC investigation will "convince everyone, once and for all, that the coffee producing countries are not engaged in speculation or any other tactics to raise the price of coffee."

2. Government statistics showed that although the price of imported coffee rose from 51 to 54 cents a pound between January and November, 1953, retail prices climbed from 88 to 91 cents.

3. Sen. J. Glenn Beall (R-Md.) said he is going to press for a Senate Banking committee investigation in spite of the FTC inquiry. Sen. George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) said his Senate Agriculture committee plans early consideration of a bill to put the coffee market under federal control.

FTC Chairman Edward F. Hower said the retail of coffee has gone up about 25 cents a pound in the last few months "and may increase further in the near future."

Didn't Recall Hitting Mother OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 28 —UP— Police said Thursday Willie Buford LaGrand, 49, ran over Mrs. Leslie Bennett, 65, in his pickup truck and kept on going.

He was jailed on complaints charging him with drunkenness, driving and leaving the scene of an accident.

Mrs. Bennett was hospitalized with a broken leg, severe bruises and shock. LaGrand told officers he didn't remember hitting her.

Pampa Woman Flays Coffee Prices Although Mrs. Hallman blames the big wholesale concerns for the high prices, she said she believes Pampa firms selling coffee at a nickel a cup are still making a profit.

She figures an average of 88 cents can be produced from a pound of coffee. At 5 cents per cup, that would give the retailer an estimated $2.90 for each pound of coffee, she added.

County Poll Tax Payments Hit 4,397

Nearly half of the estimated eligible voters in Gray County had qualified themselves to vote this year by late this morning.

A total of 4,397 county residents had either paid their $1.75 poll tax or received their exemption by late morning, according to County Tax Assessor-Collector Jack Back.

The break-down of that figure was 1,817 poll taxes and 886 exemptions, Back said. Estimated number of eligible voters in the county is 10,000.

Back said that his office would be open Saturday afternoon, normally closing time is noon Saturday, but added he didn't know the precise hour he would close his office.

The Pampa League of Women Voters is maintaining a booth in Wilson Drug, 309 E. Cayles, for the convenience of those who can't get to the county tax office on the first floor of the Court House by 5 p.m. any day. The booth is open from 5 p.m. to 9 p.m. each day.

Detectives Seeking Sadistic Attacker

MONTREAL, Jan. 28 —UP— Nearly 100 plainclothes detectives mixed with crowds at Montreal streetcar and bus stops Thursday hoping to spot a sadistic "slasher" who has attacked 10 women with a razor-sharp blade within six days.

Chief of Detectives Wilfrid Bourdon said he was throwing "every available man" into the search for the slasher who strikes without warning on crowded buses and streetcars or at corners where they stop.

None of the victims had been seriously injured, although they received gouges which required as many as 15 stitches to close.

Three women were attacked Wednesday night as they were about to board streetcars. One of the attacks occurred several miles from the others, leading police to suspect that more than one slasher might be at large in the Montreal area.

Pampa Mothers Set Polio March

Screaming sirens will break the peaceful atmosphere of Pampa at 7 p.m. Friday, but it won't mean an invasion by men from Mars.

It will just be the siren of police cars located throughout the city and the fire siren announcing beginning of the Mothers' March on Polio.

Between 7 and 8 p.m. approximately 500 Pampa women and 100 county women will call at houses with lighted porches or with lamps lit in a front window to receive donations for the March of Dimes.

Following the Mothers' Drive will be the Elk Club "48c" party beginning at 8 p.m. in the Lodge Hall, with all the proceeds going to the March of Dimes. The party is open to Elk members and their guests.

Sunday will be the final day of the March of Dimes. The various fund raising events throughout the month and individual contributions had netted the campaign a total of $5,956.96 by late this morning. Of this amount $56.94 was collected at the hot cake eating contest at Johnson's Cafe Wednesday.

Ed Myatt, in charge of the Points for Polio campaign, for the Harvester basketball games Friday and Saturday, reported today that only nine Pampa merchants have entered, pledging 10 cents a point for each Harvester score.

Any merchants who wish to aid the campaign may submit the blanks shown on the Sports Page to Ed Myatt at Friendly Men's Wear Store.

Polio Fatal To Allison Youth One death from infantile paralysis and two cases have been reported in the community of Allison, near Wheeler.

James Markham, 16-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Markham, died from polio at 3:55 a.m. Wednesday. His nine-year-old sister, Clydene, also has the disease.

CURTAIN DROPS ON GIs

PANMUNJOM, Jan. 28 —UP— The Communists dropped the Iron Curtain Thursday on 21 Americans, a Briton and 235 Koreans in the last act of a grim drama about men without a country.

A handful of Allied newsmen selected by Communists witnessed the departure of the "world peace fighters" from their Indian prison camp.

The expatriates, still regarded by the Communists as "prisoners of war" instead of free men, piled into Molotov trucks which were decorated with "Down With McCarthyism" placards.

Commission guards waved them on and the Russian-made trucks lumbered down the dismal road to Kaesong where Red Chinese and North Korean Red Cross teams waited to take them into custody.

Flags fluttered in Kaesong and banners waved as the convoy rolled down the streets and Korean women dressed in blue, red and yellow traditional costumes greeted the arriving Americans, one Briton, 521 South Korean men and four South Korean women.

Communist sources at Panmunjom said the Americans would be wined and dined at a banquet Thursday night. Welcoming speeches will be made by Red Chinese and North Korean dignitaries.

Wine, Women and Song Wine, liquor and food were promised in "inexhaustible quantities" and that was a hint that Korean women would be available for Americans yearning for feminine companionship.

It was the promise of a better life with all the liquor and sex that they wanted that induced some of the Americans to turn their backs on their country, according to other Americans who chose freedom in "Operation Big Switch" last summer.

Three Days Left For Aliens To Register

Less than three days remain before the deadline for registration of Pampa aliens at the Post Office and it is believed there are still some who have not done so, according to Pampa Postmaster W. B. Weathered.

The Post Office closes at noon Saturday, so registration must be completed before that time. A total of 27 Pampa aliens have made dress reports so far. "But we know there are at least a few more," Weathered advised.

County Gets Bids Today

Gray County commissioners late this morning were pouring over the 10 different sets of bids and specifications submitted by four area companies seeking the contract for the construction of Commissioner W. E. (Bill) Jarvis' precinct barn in Recreation Park.

Submitting bids at 10 a.m. today were Link-Tschudy, Amarillo; Pampa Steel Building Company, Pampa; Armeso, Dealing and Metal Products, Inc., Houston; and Braden Steel Corporation (Osborne Construction Company), Amarillo.

Wayland Merriman, the county commissioners' court consultant engineer, and eight representatives of the competing firms were on hand when County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr. opened the bids.

A decision on the winning bidder will "probably" be made Monday, Maguire said. Monday is the first day of the new month and the customary day of meeting for the court.

The lowest apparent bid was one of $9,702.67 by Pampa Steel Building Company for a structure with dimensions of 80 by 84 by 15 feet.

There was a base bid ($9 by 108 by 14 feet) and four alternate bids ($9 by 96 by 14; $9 by 84 by 14; $9 by 100 by 84; $9 by 80 by 14) that bidders could use.

Other lowest apparent low bids by each concern were $10,888.50 by Link-Tschudy ($9 by 80 by 14); $10,645 by Braden ($9 by 84 by 14);

Funeral services are pending with Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home for George Wesley Voyles, who died suddenly of a heart attack at 2 p.m. Wednesday while working on the Phillips Urb Lease, 15 miles southwest of Pampa.

Mr. Voyles was born June 6, 1899 in Oklahoma. He was a pumpjack for the Phillips Petroleum Company for 31 years. He resided with his wife on the Phillips Annie Lease.

He is survived by his wife, Dorothy; one daughter, Mrs. Colleen Neal of Pampa; two sisters, Mrs. H. P. Wood of Phillips and Mrs. F. H. Dood of Delawar, Okla.; and three brothers, Roy Voyles of Nowata, Okla.; Ray Voyles of Oklahoma City, Okla.; and W. L. Voyles of Hominy, Okla.

Former Pampa Athlete Weds
Buddy Cockrell, former all-around athlete, Pampa High School, and Miss Joyce Ferguson, 1113 Charles, were wed in a semi-formal ceremony yesterday in the chapel of the First Presbyterian Church.

Following the ceremony, the couple left for Norman, Okla., where they will both enroll at Oklahoma University for the spring term.

Cockrell attended Oklahoma last fall while Mrs. Cockrell attended West Texas State. Cockrell lettered on the Oklahoma freshman football team last fall.

While at Pampa High School, Cockrell was a regular on the state champion Harvester basketball team last winter and lettered three years on the Harvester football team. He was a district and all-state tackle in 1952.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Cockrell are 1953 graduates of Pampa High School. Mrs. Cockrell is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Moyer and Mr. Cockrell is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Gray, 1599 Charles.

Lefors Schools Taking Census
LEFORS — (Special) — A. A. Roberts, superintendent of Lefors Public Schools, announced today that the Lefors School Census is nearing completion. The official census of eligible school children for 1954-55 school year is being taken during the month of January this year instead of during March. The change was made in order to give school officials the information needed to lay plans for another school year at an earlier date.

Mrs. Wanda Keeton is again working with the Lefors census and reports the job almost completed. It is urged that anyone with children with birth dates between Sept. 1, 1936, and Sept. 1, 1948, who have not been contacted during the month of January please contact her at the Lefors High School.

Church Completes Educational Unit
Pampa's Calvary Baptist Church will hold special services Sunday to observe the completion of its new, three-story addition, which will be used as an educational unit.

Four former pastors will be on hand for the event with Rev. E. M. Dunsworth delivering the morning message. Rev. Collins Webb, afternoon address, and Rev. John L. King, the evening sermon. The morning services begins at 9:45 a.m., the afternoon service at 2 p.m. and the evening service at 6:30 p.m. Lunch will be served at 12 noon at the church.

In addition to the new structure, the present auditorium has been enlarged and re-decorated, the basement has been re-decorated, the present education unit has been remodeled and kitchen facilities added.

Mainly About People

The Rebekah banquet scheduled for tonight in the IOOF Hall has been postponed because of the death yesterday of George Wesley Voyles.

The Altar Society of the Holy Souls church will hold a rummage sale tomorrow and Saturday starting at 9 a.m. on South Cuyler.

The annual meeting of the board of directors of the Pampa community's United Fund is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. today in the district courtroom on the third floor of the Court House. It will be open to the public.

The Rebekah banquet, scheduled for tonight has been postponed till further notice, according to Mrs. Connie Lockhart, Noble Grand of the Pampa chapter.

Scout Leaders' Session Slated
A junior leaders Scout conference session — the first of its kind in the Santa Fe District — will be conducted from 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. Saturday in the Education Building of the First Methodist Church.

H. H. Hahn is the chairman of the 1954 junior leaders conference, according to Phil Pegues, district scout executive.

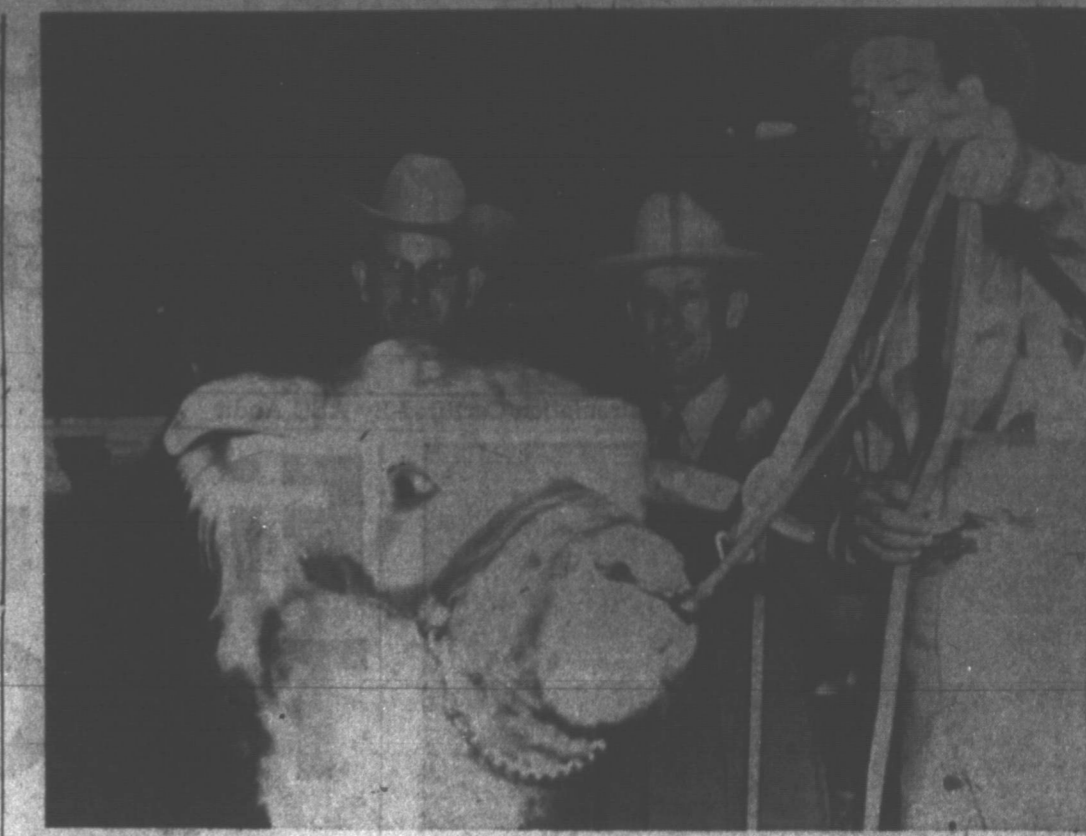

Following the 9:30 a. m. registration, there will be a general assembly at 10 a. m. One half-hour later the morning discussion period will get underway. All present will be divided into five groups, Pegues said.

Noon lunch will be followed by demonstrations at 1:30 p. m. Included in the demonstration will be knife and ax and fire building, packs and packing, compass and map-reading and personal first aid. Break-up of conference is slated for 4:30 p. m.

Leading the discussions will be Garvin Elkins, Bob Rasmussen, Walter Elliott, Elmer Radcliff and John R. Collard. Demonstrations will be handled by Jay Meador, Scout John Warner, J. C. Benson and R. M. Barrett.

Officers Return Hot Check Artist
A 42-43-year-old man who is suspected of writing a "hot" check on local automobile concern and then driving the car he got in return out of state was in Thibodaux, La., today — and was expected to be back in Pampa at an early date.

Theo E. Cates today was being held by Thibodaux authorities, according to Sheriff Rufe Jordan who added that Cates will be charged with removing mortgaged property out of the state.

Adventist Church Program Prepared
Mrs. Gladys Hickman of 715 N. Hobart, temperance leader of the local Seventh Day Adventist Church, will present a special program during the U. S. h. service Saturday in the S. D. A. Church at Purvisance and Browning.

Purpose of the program is to observe Temperance Commitment Day, which will be observed Saturday by S. D. A. churches throughout the country. Special temperance pledges will be provided for every member of the church and young people who are not yet members to sign, pledging total abstinence from alcoholic beverages and tobacco. The pledges will be arranged on a specially prepared scroll to be displayed at the Central Conference Session of the Church in San Francisco, in May or June.

Representatives from the church welfare society, headed by Mrs. Walter Noel, will attend a Dorcas Skellytown Sates MOD Drive Dance.

SKELLYTOWN — Hunter Bowen and His Happy-Go-Lucky Play Boys will play for the dance scheduled for 8:30 p.m. Friday in Skellytown's Odd Fellows Hall.

Purpose of the affair will be to help out the March of Dimes campaign, according to Bill Adams, chairman of the program committee.

It will be the third such annual affair and the charge is $1 — but anything more will be appreciated as the entire proceeds go to the March of Dimes campaign in the person of Con Foster, Carson County MOD chairman.

Lefors Mothers March On Polio
LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Mothers March for Polio will be held Friday night between 7 and 8:00 in conjunction with the county wide drive. Mrs. Fred Blackwell has been appointed Lefors Mothers Chairman and her group of volunteer ladies are ready for the March. Chairmen for the area camp collections are: Mrs. Bob Brown, Southern Production Co.; Mrs. George Clemmons, Northern Natural and Phillips Camp; Mrs. Bill Mullins, Colteco Gasoline; Mrs. Chas. Earhart, Colteco Carbon Plant; and Mrs. Bernard Johnson, Peerless Carbon.

The fire alarm will be sounded at 7:00 p.m. to remind everyone that the Mother's March is underway. This is the final activity for the 1954 March of Dimes and you are urged by the committee to be liberal with your contributions.

Border Labor Pool Offered

CALEXICO, Calif., Jan. 28 —UP—2,000 workers were expected to be processed within the next few days to fill the quota for January.
The labor problem arose with the expiration Jan. 15 of a U.S.-Mexican migratory worker agreement and the collapse in Mexico City last week of negotiations for a new pact. The U.S. adopted a unilateral, stop-gap policy under which it accepted any laborers who came across the border at legal points of entry.
Maldonado, recently installed governor of Baja California, proposed the vast labor pool which could be set up at Mexicali could be made up of workers who would make their homes there.
"I think that a private agency, supervised by our government," he said, could do this job without the need of establishing another bureau.
The population of the Corn Islands, a possession of the United States in the Caribbean, is 1,304.
U.S. Immigration officials closed the gate on their side of the border a short time later, however, when the quota of nearly 2,000 workers for the day was filled. Another

Is This Security?

While deciding how you stand on Ike's Social Security program which would make 10,000,000 more people-eligible for the "benefits," you might want to consider the program's main disadvantage.

The main disadvantage comes in trying to define the philosophy behind "Social Security."

It seems to be based on the premise that the government should force a man to provide for his own future. Men must decide for themselves to what extent, if any, the government should act as their keeper.

Suppose they decide, yes, the government should be our keeper, and say to themselves: "We have not got enough self-discipline to save for ourselves. It's all right with us if the government acts like our dads when we were children and tells us what to do. What's wrong with the government taking our money away from us and giving it back later?"

We need not dwell on what's wrong with such an idea now. Some of you readers will see what's wrong with it for yourselves.

The point here is to ask: "Is this what the government does? Does it take our money and give it back to us?"

When the University of Michigan's economist, William A. Patton, labeled Social Security as a "swindle" he was asked why he called it that. He replied to the effect that:

It is neither social nor security. There is no fund. You pay in your money and it is immediately spent on government projects. When the time comes to pay you back new taxes are levied. SOMEBODY ELSE MUST PAY FOR YOU.

It was conceded that there was no Social Security fund and that the money is immediately spent, not saved, on what is perhaps an admittedly non-essential project but it was objected:

A perfectly good government bond is put in the place of your money which the government spends. It's true that the bond requires new taxes to pay both the principal and the interest, but you shouldn't object to holding government bonds. A bond is as good as the government. This last statement is true.

And while making up our minds on Social Security, we might want to consider HOW good government bonds are as an investment. If we buy a bond, or if the government taxes us for our own social security and puts a bond in the place of the money, all of us will be interested in knowing whether we gain or lose on the deal.

When the bond is cashed in it's worth only what it will buy. If we bought a bond for $18.75 in 1930 and cashed it in for $25 in 1950, we lost exactly $12.50 on the deal.

Without going into the mathematics of inflation by which we arrived at this figure, it should be necessary only to remind ourselves that hamburger cost 10 cents per pound in 1930 and 70 cents per pound in 1950.

Put it very simply. If we could pick our year and had a choice, would we rather have had $18.75 to spend in the year 1930 or $25 to spend in 1950?

It might be answered: That's because we had inflation. If we had deflation we'd gain on the deal.

But politicians, all of them, including Ike, believe that inflation is better than deflation. Ike's recent flooding of the market with $6 billion of paper backed up by nothing started another inflationary rise on the stock market.

We may safely bet on inflation as long as New Deal economics dominates our government. A return to the gold standard with a one-to-one exchange between paper and gold would help out inflation. Until that happens we may gamble on inflation.

So before making up our minds on Social Security, let's ask ourselves:

"Will the dollars we're paid off in buy anything? Which would we rather have: $18.75 in 1954 — or $25 in 1974?"

If inflation continues, as the politicians seem to desire, we will be much better off putting our money into something else — stocks, land or a business which will GROW WITH INFLATION: than for the government to take our money, spend it, tax everybody to pay it back, and then give it back to us in dollars which are worth $12.50 less than those it took from us in the first place.

Cummerbunds, Yet!

A London dispatch tells us that the "authoritative" journal, Tailor and Cutter, has decreed that 1954's properly dressed gentleman will sport a sash — or cummerbund — around his middle.

This exciting item of male apparel is described as a six-inch strip of gaily colored silk, artfully draped to cover the ugly wrinkled gap between shirt and top of trousers. Borrowed from India during the last century, it long ago fell into disuse. Now staging a comeback, it is predicted that it will replace the vest, which only recently replaced the waist.

In spite of Tailor and Cutter's enthusiasm for the cummerbund, we fear it will be a long time reaching our town. We haven't even gotten to the westcoat stage yet. We didn't replace the vest; we just discarded it. And if we get to worrying about that ugly wrinkled gap between shirt and pants, we'll probably just quit wearing shirts.

Looking Ahead

TOWARD BETTER LIVING

Something good has been happening to the American farmer. In a single generation he has been able to double the productivity of his farming effort. That's the greatest advance on his land since men of ancient times fashioned the first crude plows from tree boughs and cultivated the world's first plows from tree boughs and cultivated the world's first farms. The farm implement companies, the chemical industries and agricultural agencies have teamed with the enterprising American farmers to achieve this great advance. And it has contributed to the improving welfare of every man, woman, and child in the nation.

Du Pont, one of the pace setting pioneers in farm chemicals research, presents the story of John D. Burkholder, of Litzitz, Pa., as an example of what's happening to industrious, progressive farm families throughout the nation. His farm life, his farming practices and his family's living standard are typical of conditions on perhaps 20 per cent of the family farms. The other 80 per cent are constantly improving their situation, but the degree of scientific farming practiced is varying lower than on the Burkholder 80 acres.

WELL EQUIPPED

John Burkholder has 26 cows, 8 steers, 6 heifers, 1500 chickens. He grows corn, wheat, hay tobacco potatoes. He uses chemical fertilizers, insecticides, and a barnful of modern mechanical equipment. In the course of a year on his various crops he uses 38 different chemicals, not counting 20 tons of fertilizer which is one of his best investments. Fungicide spraying has helped boost his potato yield 100 per cent. Insecticides, medicinal and feed supplements for his chickens have increased egg output 71 per cent. And he estimates that just by eradicating flies which plagued his cattle, his milk production has been increased 20 per cent.

A big boost in his farm's productivity — and profit — came when he thoroughly mechanized his equipment. Either one of his two small tractors today do the work which used to require five men, five plows and ten horses. He has an automatic hay-baler, a self-propelled harrow, and a dozen other machines which help him plant more crops, fertilize, spray and harvest them faster.

PRODUCTION INCREASED

From his 80 acres, Burkholder is getting considerably more than twice as much production and, in some cases, the average 80 acres around the country produced 25 or 30 years ago. This fact is important not only to this one farmer, his wife and two children; it is vitally important to the whole population. By 1975, the U. S. population will be 210,000,000 — about 60,000,000 more appetites for the farms to satisfy. Ordinarily that would require on the basis of average production, an additional 20,000,000 new acres of farm land.

There just isn't that much additional land to break to the plow. In fact our farm acreage has expanded hardly at all since 1920. The solution to the food problem seems obvious: Burkholder and the million or more farmers who have utilized almost every scientific farming advancement must continue to push up their productivity; and the 80 per cent who have not fully mechanized nor taken advantage of chemical developments must do so or quit farming.

THE FUTURE

The chemical industries, the agricultural agencies and the equipment manufacturers are going to make available untold new services to the farmers. And when you look at John Burkholder's income, his spacious modern-looking home, his good-looking automobile and his happy family, you can feel confident that most American farmers who have the ability are going to adapt their farming to the new developments and practices. The incentive to the farmer is the opportunity for better living and greater service.

In the evolution toward this goal some of today's 5,000,000 farm families will not be able to keep pace, and will cease farming. This is a normal, healthy transition. John Burkholder was born on a farm and has adapted himself to agricultural progress. He fits the requirements for successful farming. Some don't. They will be better off doing something else, more productive for themselves and for society. It is my prediction that in a scientific evolution now taking place on the farms, the capable, industrious, enterprising American farmers will recognize the indispensable value of the competitive market and the economic law of supply and demand.

National Whirligig... Russia Still Has Good Chance Of Getting U.S. Surplus Butter

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Influential political, diplomatic and agricultural interests are still trying to frame a formula under which millions of pounds of surplus butter may be sold to Russia without angering American housewives now paying about 80 cents for the product or using margarine as a substitute.

Secretary Sinclair Weeks' premature revelation of Muscovite interest was designed to test public sentiment over such a trade.

He quickly banned the proposition when the lady of the house wondered aloud why we should subsidize our acknowledged enemies with the taxes her husband pays to the Treasury. He finances the $200,000,000 worth of the production of David Harum deal, the business based on purchases averaging 45 cents a pound. Then she is nicked for 80 cents!

But the significant factor is that Washington and Moscow representatives are now haggling only over the price to be paid, not over the question of whether it is advisable to aid Dictator Malenkov in raising the standards of living in his tasteless country. It has become a problem of kitchen economics rather than an affair of state.

BENSON NOT HOSTILE TO DEAL

Secretary Ezra Taft Benson is not hostile to the deal for obvious reasons. He will soon so much butter that he will not have adequate cold storage for it. Millions of pounds bought by his predecessors will soon spoil, and he does not want that to happen on his time. Although bitterly anti-Russian, the dairy farmers of Senator McCarthy's Wisconsin view the transaction as a simple bread-and-butter matter.

Two formulas suggest themselves. If butter continues to back up on Uncle Sam, Benson may lower the price supports to 60 or 65 cents a pound. Dairy spokesmen are discussing with him a scheme under which two pounds of mixed grades would be sold to domestic consumers for a dollar, or about 50 cents a pound. That is the figure which the Reds are understood to be willing to pay.

Finally, if we do not enter some sort of David Harum deal, the business will go to the Scandinavian market. Moscow will get the butter somehow.

REVERSAL FOR PRESIDENT

President Eisenhower will suffer a major reverse on Capitol Hill over his relatively streamlined budget. But it will not be a personal or a political body blow because proposed congressional alterations will not wreck the federal financial structure. On the other hand, they may give the GOP a needed momentum.

BID FOR A SMILE

An editor had a notice stuck up above his desk that read: "Accuracy! Accuracy! Accuracy!" and this notice he always pointed out to the new reporter. One day the youngest member of the staff came in with his report of a public meeting. The editor read it through, and came to the sentence: "Three thousand nine hundred and ninety-nine seats were fixed upon the speaker." Editor — What do you mean by making a silly blunder like that? Youngster — But it's not a blunder. There was a one-eyed man in the audience. Customer — I haven't come to any hair in this washcloth yet. Water — Try another bit. Customer — (Taking huge mouthful of Water) — You must have good hair past it.

The Nation's Press

DISMAYING BUDGET

(Chicago Daily Tribune) President Eisenhower yesterday blasted all lingering hopes that he would carry out his pledge to cut expenditures so that they could be covered by much lower rates of taxation than the country has been subjected to in recent years. In his budget message, the President called for expenditures in the year ending June 30, 1955, which would exceed income by 2.9 billion dollars. He placed the deficit for the year ending the middle of 1954 at 3.2 billions. In the fiscal year which ended June 30, 1953, which was half Eisenhower and half Truman, the deficit was 9.4 billions.

Mr. Eisenhower is a deficit President just as Truman and Roosevelt were before him. Elected in 1952, he now takes us in the red through the middle of 1953. It is his administration there is to be a single accounting period with a surplus, it will have to be in the year which ends in June, 1956, about the time the national convention will be convening to select candidates for the Presidential term which will expire in 1961.

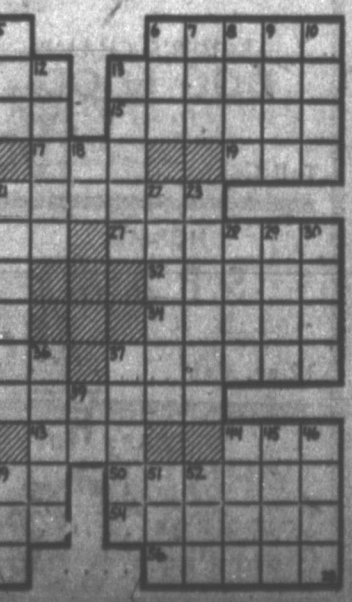

There is no certainty that Eisenhower will produce a surplus in his fourth year in office, let alone one that would wipe out his deficits. Thus the Eisenhower administration seems likely to be a deficit regime in all its parts as well as in the aggregate.

The deficit for the current year may turn out to be considerably larger than Mr. Eisenhower has just estimated, for the Eisenhower people are poor hands at estimating. In early June, 1953, his treasury department issued a bulletin which estimated the deficit for the year at 5.866 billions for the year which had less than a month to go. The actual deficit turned out to be 3 1/2 billions more than this. It is probably true that the administration speeded up the outgo in June in order to make that year's record look as bad as possible, but on the face of it, it was the poorest estimate known. If these people couldn't do better than that with only three weeks to go, how can they be right when estimating over a five month term?

Down South Right To Work Advanced As A Basic Government Principle

By THURMAN BENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
Nashville, Tennessee

Someone commented to me the other day: "You can't completely reverse the procedure of twenty years in just one or two years' time without a revolution."

Whether that is a correct statement of fact or not could be debated, but it is undoubtedly the approach to some of our problems now being taken by the present administration. In other instances, the administration seems to be making no effort to reverse the process.

It is to be supposed, of course, that officeholders by their very nature take the political approach to all problems. In other words, they look at these problems from the viewpoint of what will best suit the most voters. But the political approach is not always the sensible approach by any means, which only serves to emphasize the necessity of constantly considering these problems from a non-partisan viewpoint and stressing the principles involved rather than the political expediency.

Let's consider the labor legislation of the land, as set forth in the Taft-Hartley Act, for instance. The President submits a few changes to the Congress, apparently hoping to placate organized labor with some and please management with some — and some being of no particular interest to either group. This being an election year, the Congress will not be inclined to do much of anything about the Act, taking the attitude it will be less disturbing to the voters to leave it like it is rather than risk losing votes by changing it.

This political approach to our national labor legislation completely ignores the "right to work" principle that is basic to our whole philosophy of freedom. The whole purpose of labor legislation should be in the interest of and for the protection of the free individual American. This will never be the case until the "right to work" is made a basic part of this legislation — until compulsory unionism in any form — whether closed shop or union shop or what have you — is made completely illegal under the legislation. There will never be any reason, or even excuse, in a free country for forcing a man to pay tribute to a union in order to get or hold a job and make a living for himself and his family.

Let's consider the farm legislation proposed by the President — fixing price supports on a flexible scale rather than a rigid scale. This seems to be a commendable effort to at least begin a return to a more sensible farm program — assuming it is necessary to keep price supports at all. But we should always remember that the farmers would have no market for their products at all without the existence of at least a minimum of important segments of our economy. Why not give Mrs. America a break for a change? Why price butter out of the market, for instance, by high price supports just as the United Mine Workers have similarly priced coal out of the market by high wage scales?

Butter is a good healthy article of food. When I was a boy my mother would hardly cook with anything else. Housewives would like to use it today — if they could afford it. Children would like to spread it on their bread if their parents could buy it for them; those who have tasted it before would like to have it again, while those who are too young to have tasted it would very soon cultivate the taste!

Instead of that, the government holds 280 million pounds of butter at a high price — with more on the way. Instead of giving Mrs. America a chance to get a pocket of Pleasant View, Red Lion, Pa., and she says she comes to New York a lot and wanders about Broadway but she never sees the "evasive celebrities" you seem to see

Well, supposing Mrs. Craley were in New York right now and walking down Broadway with you as a sort of proof-ambler that they do exist and what would the good lady have drawn for her efforts thus far? Let's see, Lewis and Ned, Armstrong, each of whom is a kind of celebrity yet not exactly so in the meaning of the word to Mrs. Craley. . . . She means actors and actresses like Lilo, that gorgeous creature Jessie Royce Landis, Faye Emerson, Martha Scott, John Emery, Bob Rayn and dozens of others you see around daily because you all work in the same vineyard. . . . They eat the lush, hot grapes and you bend over and pick up the weeds. . . . That's fair or Klarnet or something and King you see, putting the top of his skull into the icy wind, Alfred Drake, who sings the star role in that tawful scamper of lightly-pled girls and Rahadlakoum. . . . "Kismet" fooled all the boys, who knew it cost high over $400,000 to produce and weren't happy about either the score or the libretto but admitted that Doretta Morrow, Drake and Joan Diener were exceedingly special. . . . Fle for the critics, the thing is doing $58,000 a week to standees. . . . And if Mrs. Craley had been with you this night and had seen Drake approaching, his skulltop pressed to the winds and his face pulled down in his overcast collar she would not have recognized him at all, which is why, perhaps, she misses the "evasive celebrities" on her walks. . . . They seldom look as you expect them to look.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

MIDNIGHT MEANDERS: You drop your wife off at a party for ballerinas, of whom she is not one, and wander on your way down a cold and blowy Broadway, wondering with a minimum of understanding how anyone in her right mind would go to a party composed entirely and totally of ballerinas with the exception of herself. . . . Musing thus, you come across a tall, slim, eyeglassed fellow with his coat collar hunched up and after three long looks you decide that it is Lester Lewis, the man who manages Betty Gurness, Eloise McIlhonne and other well-regarded dolls. . . . You tell Lester, when he inquires, that your bride is apt with the entree set and he says that reminds him, do you ever listen to and look at Garroway and you say you do not, and why does he ask? . . . Well, he says, he would have bet money at odds that Garroway would never mix up the English language while broadcasting and yet recently he did. . . . So you pick up the gambit and ask what did he say, and Lester says: "He was introducing Maria Tallchief who was to dance to 'The Firebird' music and he called her Maria Firechief." . . . This fails to fracture either one of you and proves nothing at all except that even Garroway is fallible.

Why does it always have to sleet when you are breaking in a new car? . . . Great strain on clutch, transmission and everything else important to break in as effortlessly as possible. . . . You walk down a few more blocks and run into Ned Armstrong, momentarily in from Florida, who says he saw the piece you did on Death Valley. . . . "Good piece," he says. "I know that region and also the Santa Fe area of New Mexico. . . . I've seen the sun set on the foothills of the Sangre de Cristos, the disappearing mountains purple, and the sky cerulean, and it was like watching the last great herd of mastodons going away over the horizon. . . . This is the magic of our planet, for its wastelands are newage tomorrow, the wasteland is gone, there is what has and is now like like in time." . . . You decide that you haven't run into a more facile curstone poet in years and you ask him what he is doing. . . . "Oh, I'm with an outfit that is giving away a race horse in a national contest in March," he says. . . . And all you can wonder, as you part, is what would happen if it were won by someone who hadn't the slightest idea of what to do with a race horse and didn't want it under any circumstances? . . . There's a note in your pocket from Mrs. Neiman Craley Jr., of Pleasant View, Red Lion, Pa., and she says she comes to New York a lot and wanders about Broadway but she never sees the "evasive celebrities" you seem to see

Pampa News Correspondent
LEFORS — (Special) — Friday night is the date for the Mothers' March for March of Dimes campaign. Residents are asked to turn on their porch lights.

Bill and Jean Johnson and the Claude Taylors of Pampa, went to Juarez over the weekend.

The Art & Civics Club of Lefors will sell coffee and doughnuts during the basketball games. The proceeds will go to the March of Dimes.

Mr. and Mrs. Blackie Bishop of Lefors attended a Guit reunion party at the recreation hall in the Dial Camp at Stinnett.

Kathy Wright, formerly Kathy Henson, was visiting in Lefors Tuesday night.

Harmon Crutcher called his parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Crutcher from Parks, Calif., Monday night. He has just returned to the states from Japan.

A slumber party was held at the community hall last Friday night. Barbara Tillman, the hostess, served coffee and sandwiches. Approximately 12 girls attended.

Paul Wells, son of C. O. Wells of Lefors, is home from Oklahoma A. and M. where he graduated with a degree in geology at mid-term.

The A team football boys got their jackets this week. The jackets are grey, trimmed in orange and black. This year they are styled like an Eisenhower type jacket, instead of the usual hip length type.

Forty-three students made the semester honor roll and 56 were on the six weeks roster.

Can't Figure Retirement

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Jan. 28 — UP — Allyn C. Breed, aged 70, doesn't mind so much about being retired from government service. What he is confused about is how the government did it.

Breed, a kindly gentleman who is an executive director of locomotive inspection in the interstate commerce commission, was thinking about putting on the carpet slippers and buying a pipe anyhow.

"But why," he asked, "did they send me to the States? I would like to fiddle and faddle and fish and travel around, but I didn't ask to."

What disturbed Breed a little was President Eisenhower's action in revoking an executive order issued by Franklin D. Roosevelt in 1942 which exempted federal employees from compulsory retirement at age 70. Breed is believed to be the only employee affected now.

To Relieve Shortage
The original FDR order was issued to relieve the wartime manpower shortages.

"I don't mind it," Breed told me. "I was planning to retire and do a little fishing and hunting and such, anyway. But I wanted to do it my way. I didn't want to be forced to. This isn't my way of quitting. I just wanted to say goodbye to the folks I have worked with and walk out. Nothing like this public notice before I was ready."

Allyn Breed has been in government service since Aug. 10, 1911. In those days, he said, the government did not grade the workers. "I started railroad in your part of the country," he told me, "and an old Illinois kid. 'Out in Peoria. Sure, we had a few collisions and some wrecks, but we didn't kill any people. We were careful in those days. Like they are careful now.'"

Breed "ran" an engine on the old Peoria and Pekin line and "with the equipment we had it's a wonder we didn't run into some real trouble."

THE WINNER—A modern piece of art called "Montana" (Mountain) won Brazilian sculptor Bruno Giorgi a first prize at Sao Paulo's Second Biennial. Some 4000 pieces of modern art from all over the world are on exhibition at the South American city.

"In my present job," he said, "I make $10,000 a year. Which isn't much. I don't know what the pension will be. I don't care much. But I wish the President had given me a little notice about being cut loose. In the old days they didn't turn a man off without telling him a little in advance. Six months maybe, I don't exactly belong to the brotherhood, since I am kind of an executive, like. So I guess that come March 31 all I can do is put on my cap and walk out. I don't like it that way."

President Eisenhower probably has never heard of Allyn C. Breed. But he's about to. The old man is settin' himself down and writing a little letter.

A nice one, couched in the kind of language an old soldier can understand.

Economic Report Topical Summary

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—UP—Topical summary of President Eisenhower's economic report to Congress:

GENERAL OUTLOOK
The minor readjustment underway since mid-1953 is likely soon to come to a close, especially if the recommendations of the administration are adopted. There is "every reason for confidence" that U. S. economic growth will be resumed this year.

WHERE WE STAND
Last year was "very prosperous" overall with total output hitting a record $367 billion and prices generally "stable." There was a "slight contraction" in the last half of 1953, "leading to unemployment

Lyle Won't Run For Re-Election

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Jan. 28—UP—A second member of Texas' 22-man Congressional delegation, Rep. John E. Lyle of Corpus Christi, announced Wednesday he will not run for re-election.

Lyle, 43, will complete his 10th year in Congress next January. He said he would return to his law practice.

By a coincidence, the first Texas congressman to announce he wouldn't seek re-election was Lloyd M. Bentsen Jr., of McAllen, who represents the South Texas district immediately west of Lyle's.

At Cuero, Tex., State Sen. John J. Bell announced he would run for Lyle's seat. Bell has been a state legislator since 1936 and is the fourth senior senator, with service dating from 1917. Bell's state Senate term won't expire until 1954.

State Rep. Gabe Garrett of Corpus Christi and Clinton DeWitt, Cuero businessman, also were rumored as possible candidates to succeed Lyle.

The decision not to run again by Bentsen and Lyle meant that Texas, as usual, would have some new faces in its congressional delegation. Although Rep. Sam Rayburn, who'll complete 41 years in Congress on March 4, is the senior congressman from any state, on only a few occasions in the past has the entire delegation been rejected.

in some localities." During the final quarter last year, production was off 1.5 per cent, personal income was down 0.4 per cent and unemployment rose from 1,162,000 in October to 1,480,000 in December. (Government economists reckon unemployment now tops two million.)

BASIC ECONOMIC STRENGTHS
Jan. 1 tax cuts will pump about $5 billion in new buying power into the economy. Business plans record $6.5 billion for new plant and equipment. "There is a good market for housing." Farm prices appear to have stabilized. Banks and other financial institutions are in a strong position. Built-in safety valves for the economy include social security, unemployment insurance, farm price supports and similar federal programs.

NEW PROGRAMS
The states should raise maximum unemployment aid, which now averages about 33 per cent of the worker's regular wage, to at least half that level. It is "desirable" to raise the present minimum wage of 75 cents an hour. He will give details in a later message.

ANTI-DEPRESSION PLANS
The government has a "formidable arsenal of weapons" to fight depression if one should come. They include easier credit terms, new tax cuts and a vast backlog of public works. "We shall not hesitate to use any or all of these weapons."

"Our approach to a position of military preparedness now makes it possible for the United States to turn more of its attention to a sustained improvement of national living standards. Our economic goal is an increasing national income, shared equitably among those who contribute to its growth, and achieved in dollars of stable buying power."

GOVERNMENT'S ROLE
"Government must use its vast power to help maintain employment and purchasing power as well as to maintain reasonably stable prices. It must be prepared to take preventive as well as remedial action."

TAXES
Further cuts will be made "as rapidly as additional savings in government expenses are in sight," or whenever necessary as a pump-priming measure. But revenue needs, and the economy's basic strength, "make it unwise to enact a further broad reduction in taxes at this time."

FARM
Farm prices show "signs of stabilizing" and should hold close to current levels in 1954 barring an unexpected drop in demand. But the administration's flexible price support program is the long-range cure to the problems of rising surpluses and falling prices. Present rigid high supports are a cause—not a cure—of farm problems.

Federal and state public works spending could be increased sharply to offset a business slump. Many needs are now being put off. The nation is spending $5 billion a year on highways compared with $3 billion necessary to maintain an effective road system; $2.5 billion on schools compared with a needed $6.75 billion. Interest-free federal loans should be made to states and cities to plan a shelf of public works.

PAVING THE WAY—Just the right thing for walking around on dark streets are these sport shoes with tiny light bulbs on each sole. Batteries hidden in the sole furnish power for the lights. Designed by D. Coore, the footwear is on exhibition at a Paris, France, leather show.

Moody Appeals For Convicted Woman

AUSTIN, Tex., Jan. 28—UP—Former Texas Gov. Dan Moody told the Court of Criminal Appeals here that Mary Jean Parsons, Tulsa, Okla., socialite convicted of murdering her husband as he slept, was deprived of her constitutional rights.

The action was interpreted as possibly laying the foundation for a later appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court if the state's highest criminal tribunal rejects the arguments. Wednesday's hearing marked the second time the court has considered the 10-year prison sentence assessed the 23-year-old former University of Oklahoma coed.

The original judgment, returned following a trial at Wichita Falls, Tex., was sustained. Motion by the defense for a rehearing marked the second appeal.

Arguments were taken under advisement and the court announced no immediate action.

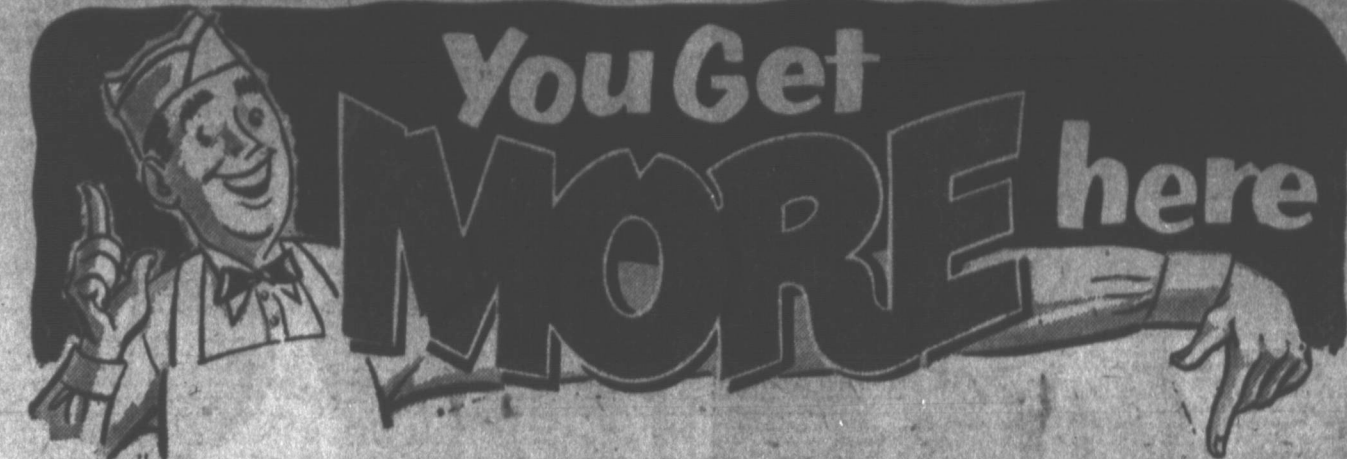

Mrs. Parsons was found guilty of killing Lt. Richard O. Parsons of Pleasantville, N. Y., her husband of six weeks, as he slept in their El Paso apartment Feb. 16, 1952. He had been stationed at Fort Bliss, Tex.

She has been free on bond. Moody, limited in his arguments to 20 minutes under rules of the court, charged the trial court erred in overruling a defense motion for continuance.

Contests Evidence
He also contested the admission as evidence of a statement the state said was given voluntarily by the defendant, as well as the introduction as evidence of certain love letters obtained in a search of the Parsons' apartment.

He said that under Texas law an affidavit seeking continuance of a trial may be signed by any defendant—except an insane person. Defense lawyers, he said, believed Mrs. Parsons insane at the time of the Wichita Falls trial—despite the previous ruling of an El Paso jury.

The attorneys, Moody said, could not have asked a person they "honestly believed insane" to sign the affidavit. The court struck down the motion because of this failure, Moody said.

NEW CADILLAC ON DISPLAY — The 1954 Cadillac went on display this morning in the showroom of Reeves Olds Inc., 333 W. Foster. The featured model is the series 62 sedan, shown above, which has dramatic new styling, new chassis, and suspension engineering. Panoramic windshield, new front and rear end designs, new low length of body lines and increased interior roominess are outstanding. With improved steering, braking, handling and riding qualities, the new Cadillac delivers even greater smoothness and responsiveness from its high compression V-8 engine.

Grand Jury In Parr Case Recedes

ALICE, Tex., Jan. 28—UP—A Jim Wells county grand jury which presumably has been investigating the affairs of South Texas politician George Parr was in recess Thursday until Saturday. The jury subpoenaed five Texas Rangers Wednesday, but questioned only a Ranger radio technician. He was Carl Putnam, who twisted Parr's ear until the blood ran during an altercation in the Jim Wells county courthouse Jan. 18. Four routine indictments were returned, but there was no report on Parr, the millionaire "Duke of Duval" county. District Attorney Raeburn Norris said the grand jury probably would finish its work and report Saturday. Archer Parr, who succeeded his uncle, George, as Duval county sheriff, will be questioned Saturday, Norris said. Sheriff Parr is the only witness or participant in the corridor scuffling who has not testified. George Parr had come to court to answer charges that he was carrying a pistol illegally on Jan. 26. Samuel Marroquin said Parr and another man, Juan Barrera, who also was charged, threatened him after a meeting of the Freedom party at San Diego. Parr has denied he was carrying a pistol. He said it was a pair of binoculars he had been using to watch the meeting of his political opponents.

Ike Asks Money For Mexican Labor Plan

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—UP—President Eisenhower asked Congress Wednesday for a supplemental appropriation of $50,000 so the Labor Department can continue the Mexican farm labor program through this fiscal year. The President said the existing appropriation of $1,250,000 was based on a law which expired last December, although Congress later voted to extend the program through 1955.

Spanish Students Bring Old Smouldering Quarrel To Head

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst
Long-smouldering Spanish annoyances and aspirations found violent expression this week. Spanish university students marched against the British embassy in Madrid, consulates and scattered other British institutions in Spain, in protest against Queen Elizabeth's scheduled visit to Gibraltar. And when Spanish police turned them back, their anger turned against the police. The student demonstrations were the physical evidences of one of two quarrels in which Spain suddenly found herself embroiled last week.

One was her 250-year-old quarrel with Britain over possession of Gibraltar. The other involved her with France over Morocco.

Like in Books
On the one hand, these quarrels recall the swashbuckling days when Britain and Spain fought for control of the seas and a vast, new colonial empire. On the other, they involve a modern-day cloak and dagger thriller as good as any on the book shelves.

And they also denote a growing Spanish determination to win a place among the world powers.

Neither France nor Britain ever has been overly friendly with the Franco regime of Spain, and they are inclined now to blame some of Spain's new confidence on the recently concluded United States deal for Spanish bases.

A great deal of Spanish pride is involved in the Gibraltar issue but it is a relatively simple one, based on the fact that the British have held "the rock" most of the mile since 1704 and the Spaniards want it back.

The Moroccan question is more involved and more interesting. Morocco is a sultanate, part of which is under Spanish jurisdiction and the remainder under French, French Morocco comprises an area of 153,870 square miles and 8,540,000 people, as opposed to Spanish Morocco's 18,000 square miles and 1,062,000 people.

Of the two areas, French Morocco represents by far the greatest investment and is by far the most advanced.

Rules Over Both

But the same sultan theoretically rules over both and the Spanish were irritated when the French, without consulting them, arbitrarily removed Sultan Sidi Mohamed Ben Youssef and replaced him with aging Sultan Ben Moulay Arata—who the Spanish refer to contemptuously as a "French poe-

Last week, with what seemed to be Spanish permission and encouragement, Moroccan tribesmen and religious leaders met in the Spanish Morocco capital of Tetouan, defied the rule of the new French-supported sultan and demanded separation from French Morocco.

The French hit the ceiling and officially protested to Spain. Also nervous was the United States. It is a signatory to the Algeiras Treaty which assures the unity of Morocco. Russia also is a signer and the U.S. feared the Reds might seize upon the situation to attack U.S. bases in Morocco.

Still Costs Him

PAWNEE, Okla., Jan. 28—UP—A Stillwater, Okla., man reported to state police he lost $1,100 along a highway when he got in an argument with his wife and his truck went out of control.

Highway Patrol Lt. Howard Flanagan went to the spot where the man's truck left the highway and found the missing money. He returned it, along with a summons for reckless driving.

Bricker Amendment Substitute Viewed

WASHINGTON, Jan. 28—UP—Sen. Walter F. George said Thursday he hoped his surprise treaty proposal would draw enough Democrat and Republican support to settle the fight over the Bricker Amendment. The veteran Georgia Democrat said his measure—introduced as a substitute to the Bricker Amendment—"is the best thing we can do to meet the situation."

But Sen. John W. Bricker (R-Ohio), chief sponsor of a proposal to curb the President's treaty-making powers, said George's substitute did not go far enough.

"I'll go down fighting rather than take something that isn't effective," he said. "And if I lose, I'll bring it up again next year."

Bricker planned to take the floor in defense of his Amendment Thursday afternoon as Senate debate moved into its second day.

Although Bricker turned a cold shoulder to the George proposal, Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland viewed it with some interest. Knowland and other GOP leaders are working on a substitute of their own. But it appeared they would line up behind George's proposal if President Eisenhower approves it.

Other congressional developments:

HEALTH
Dr. Walter E. Martin of Norfolk, Va., president-elect of the American Medical Association, told the House Commerce committee that a "distorted picture" has been drawn of the nation's health problems in an effort to promote government-controlled medical care.

TAFT-HARTLEY
Chairman H. Alexander Smith (R-N.J.) of the Senate Labor committee indicated he might withdraw his support of the administration's proposed government-supervised strike vote. He said he would agree that the plan is unnecessary if unions would promise to conduct secret votes before calling a strike.

TAXES
House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. won Republican and Democratic support for his proposal to put a 10 per cent ceiling on federal excise taxes on furs, jewelry, telephone bills, light bulbs and movie tickets.

FOOD STAMPS
Chairman George D. Aiken (R-Vt.) of the Senate Agriculture committee said "several" senators had offered to join him and Sen. Hubert H. Humphrey (D-Minn.) in sponsoring a proposal to distribute surplus food stocks owned by the government to needy families through a food stamp plan.

Arsonist To Go Before Grand Jury
HOUSTON, Jan. 28—UP—Officials said Thursday they would present the case of a 17-year-old confessed arsonist to a grand jury, although a psychiatrist said the youth was a schizophrenic.

Dr. C. A. Dwyer, Harris county psychiatrist, interviewed John Maurice Jordan Wednesday, and quoted the youth as answering "I guess I would" when asked if he would set more fires if he were released.

Jordan told newsmen he set 16 separate fires in Houston because he liked to see flames and watch fire trucks, and had an "impulse" to set things on fire.

The fires included those at four lumber yards, in which the damage totaled $1 million and were the largest in Houston in 1953.

The ancient Mexicans began the year on Feb. 23.

Hunt 'Regrets' Lee Charges

DALLAS, Jan. 28—UP—Oilman H. L. Hunt said Wednesday he regretted the "valuable time" of the U.S. Senate was taken up with "ridiculous charges" against Robert E. Lee.

Hunt, reputed to be one of the world's richest men, issued a statement in "reply to charges against him appearing in the press." The charges principally grew out of a fight by Sen. Mike Monroney (D-Okla.) Monday against Senate confirmation of Lee as a federal communications commissioner.

Lee, formerly clerk of the House Appropriations committee, was confirmed, 68 to 25.

Hunt said Lee's "long and valuable service as a key man in the FBI speaks for him."

"Knows As Red Fox"
"Robert E. Lee is definitely known as an effective anti-Communist and the foes of anti-Communists have not yet discovered that they cannot discredit a patriot by merely sounding off against him," he said.

The oilman said he didn't talk to Lee about a permit for a TV station at Corpus Christi, Tex., which was granted to Hunt, as "I believe him to be the kind of person one would not ask for a special favor and it is not my habit to request special favors from officials."

Hunt's statement also discussed "Facts Forum," a radio, television and press service of which the Dallas oilman is reported to be the largest single backer.

"Guise of Public Opinion"
He said Monroney spoke of Facts Forum as a "threat of mass production of propaganda on the air under the guise of public opinion exchange."

"To some Facts Forum becomes biased and slanted because it presents the claims on both sides of current issues," Hunt said. "Fortunately, no one has to take anyone's word for the good or evil of

Seek Missing House

WILMINGTON, N.C., Jan. 28—UP—Authorities searched for a missing house here Thursday.

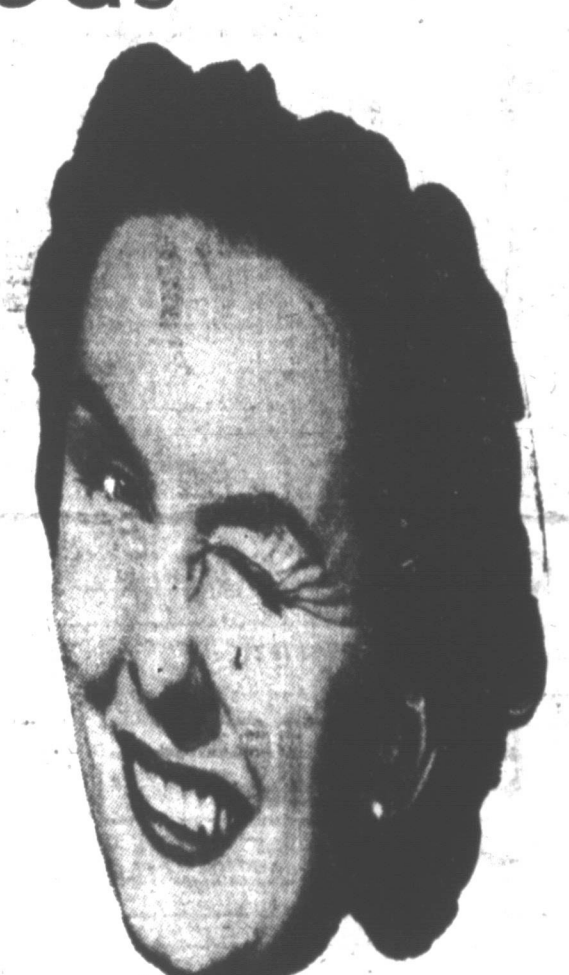

A constable last week tried to serve an eviction notice on some tenants in a three-room frame house and found no one at home. This week he returned and found the house was gone.

Neighbors said they had no idea what happened to the house.

Pampa Women At Skelly Baptist Valentine Banquet

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Women's Missionary Society of the First Baptist Church recently held a banquet in the recreation room of the church for all members of the Women's Missionary Society in this District. The banquet was the climax of Focus Week.

Decorations carried out the valentine theme. Each of the 18 tables had a small white valentine in the center of a valentine with a light-colored white taper.

Mrs. Marshall Satterwhite, president of the Skellytown Women's Missionary Society, gave the welcome. Mrs. J. W. Hill of Pampa, who is the District President, gave the answer to the welcome. Mrs. R. E. Haley, also of Pampa gave the devotional.

Mrs. D. A. Carmiche, Association President, from Amarillo, was the guest speaker. Mr. Carmiche, Association President from Amarillo, was the guest speaker. Mr. Carmiche, Association President from Amarillo, was the guest speaker.

PORTLAND, Me. — (UP) — Joe Ciccone smelled a rat when the fan belt on his automobile wouldn't work — and that's what it was. A filling station attendant removed a dead rat from between the fan belt and the wheel to the crankshaft.

Academic Freedom Discussed By Twentieth Century Club Panel

The meeting of the Twentieth Century Club was called to order last Tuesday in the home of Mrs. V. J. Jamieson, 1324 Mary Ellen, by Mrs. Lloyd Hicks, president. The group was led in the reading of the pledge of allegiance by Mrs. Fred Neelase, followed by the devotional prayer taken from the current Club Woman's magazine. Mrs. W. R. Campbell, program leader for the day, led in the reading of the Club Litany. Mrs. Raymond Harrah read a letter from the National Federation of Clubs urging members to "Howl about unnecessary Governmental spending, stressing economy by both Democrats and Republicans — the 'IGHAT' campaign. A petition sponsored by the General Federation of Women's Clubs has been circulated with the goal of one million signatures against Red China's entrance to the United Nations. Mrs. Hicks thanked Mrs. Gordon and her committee for the entry in the recent table setting contest. Mrs. Campbell requested donations for Germany. Mrs. Thompson gave a favorable report on the Colored nursery, and listed the club's donations to it. Mrs. Gordon presented plans for the Guest Day Tea to be held Feb. 25, and announced that each member was entitled to bring two guests.

The program for the day, "What is Academic Freedom?" was presented by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Dick Stowers, and Mrs. Neelase in panel form. The women worked out their program during the meeting, building it on four major points.

B&PW Presents Awards At Meeting

Seven Girl Scouts, accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Bob Andis, were among Christmas decoration contest winners awarded prizes Tuesday night at the regular social meeting in the City Club room of the Business and Professional Women who sponsor the annual contest. The girls won first prize in the religious theme classification in the district 5 for their work at the Bob Andis home. Following award presentations by Mrs. Lorene Locke, Mrs. Vada Gibbins conducted a quiz program for the social hour.

Mrs. Helen Sprinkle and Mrs. Vada Gibbins served refreshments. The table setting committee, headed by Mrs. Alma Ash and Maxine Ethridge displayed the colorful western table that won third place at the Beta Sigma Phi table setting contest last week.

The following members were present: Mmes. Fred Neelase, Dick Stowers, E. L. Campbell, W. R. Campbell, Jack Foster, Joe Gordon, Ray Hagan, Raymond Harrah, Lloyd Hicks, I. B. Hughey, Roy McKernan, George Scott, H. R. Thompson, and George Vineyard.

To Put Off Compliments To Rob It Of Some Of Its Flavor

By RUTH MILLETT
One of the easiest things in the world to put off is saying a few kind words.

An acquaintance has his picture in the paper, or makes a fine talk, or appears on TV and we're pleased for him and proud of him. But instead of letting him know right then and there how we feel, we put it off and tell ourselves, "I must be sure to mention it next time I see him."

Even if we remember, it sounds kind of unimportant when we get around to mentioning it. We've classed our chance to make a big moment a little bigger for somebody else.

We do that kind of putting off all the time. We know Junior has a fine teacher from the little things she tells us about her. Maybe when we go to the last parent-teachers' meeting of the year we'll give her a pat on the back and maybe we'll never get around to it. But wouldn't it mean more to her to hear right now that at least one parent knows what a good teacher she is and is grateful for it?

We don't realize until the Browns have put a "For Sale" sign on their home across the street that we've never put into words the fact that we think they are fine neighbors. Now it's a little late to say anything that will mean anything to the Browns.

We miss so many chances of giving someone a boost or a word of appreciation just by putting it off until it is too late to carry much weight.

COLD WEATHER TIP—SERVE HOT LEMONADE

A SHORT MONTH AND A BREEZY ONE—that's February, in many parts of the country it brings that tag-end of winter feeling, often with a good dose of the sniffles. It makes good sense to pay special attention to diet right now, especially our daily Vitamin C requirements. And we can't think of a better way of taking this important vitamin than in lemonade—Minute Maid Fresh-Frozen Lemonade. After skating, sleighing, or a bout of shopping, we can't think of anything more refreshing than a glass of hot lemonade. The Minute Maid way to serve lemonade is quick, easy and so delicious. Spike it with a sifting of cinnamon, and for a party touch try stick cinnamon as the swizzle stick.

HOT LEMONADE
1 can (6 oz.) Minute Maid Water
Fresh-Frozen Lemonade Powdered cinnamon
6 sticks cinnamon (optional)

Add water to fresh-frozen lemonade, following directions on can. Place in pan over moderate heat, stirring occasionally. Do not allow mixture to boil. When hot, pour into glasses and sprinkle with cinnamon just before serving. Stick cinnamon is optional. Serves 4-6. (ANS Features)

Mrs. Ted Mastin Heads Training For Skelly Rebekahs

REBEKAH LODGE held a regular meeting in the IOOF Hall recently with noble grand, Mrs. Huber Cannon, in charge.

Members reported ill this week were Mrs. Ross Neugin, Mrs. Hugh Wall and Mrs. J. T. Crawford.

Mrs. Ted Mastin, District Deputy Supervisor, from Pampa held an interesting school of instruction for members of the Skellytown Lodge. A gift from the lodge in Skellytown was presented to Mrs. Mastin by noble grand, Mrs. Huber Cannon. A Past Noble Grand's pin was presented to J. Past Grand, Mrs. Clifton Hanna, by the lodge deputy, Mrs. Fred Anderson.

Mrs. C. M. Estes was presented a gift for a perfect attendance record for the last six months. Announcement was made by H. D. Club members that a coffee will be held in the Lodge Hall on Friday Jan. 29. Benefits will go to the March of Dimes Drive and the public is cordially invited. The degree was conferred upon Mrs. Wahleah Beck.

Refreshments of sandwiches, salad and coffee were served to Mmes. J. R. McKernan, George Allen, Clarence Hoskins, Al Shubring, Chester Yell, Delmar Sims, Wayne Davidson, Ira Noble, Willie Denham, W. Weaver, Lawrence Crawford, R. C. Heaton, C. M. Estes, Fred Genett, Huber Cannon, Miles Pearson, Les Kreis, Glyde Weaver, Clifford Coleman, Miss Addie Fern Lick and Les Kreis and Everett Crawford.

Varietas Studies Early Churches

Varietas Study Club was entertained Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. E. Kirchner, Mrs. H. H. Butler presided in the absence of the president. The program was on the topic, "The Heart of America." Mrs. Sherman White spoke first, discussing "Early American Churches." She gave the history and setting of five of America's first churches: St. James Episcopal, Wilmington, N. C.; Old Rock Presbyterian in McCurtain County, Okla.; the church of the first permanent English settlement in Jamestown, Va.; Waterford Baptist Church in Waterford, Conn.; and the first Methodist Church in Memphis, Tenn. After Mrs. White's talk, Mrs. J. G. Doggett spoke on "Early American Schools," stressing the history, prestige, and present curricula of Princeton University for men and Mount Holyoke College for women.

Mrs. Russell Veal Entertains In Home

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Mrs. Russell Veal recently gave a party for friends in her home at the Skelly-Schafer Camp. Mrs. Buck Durning entertained the guests.

Cakes and cookies were served to Mmes. Irwin Brown, Edd Harmon, Leo Dyer, LeRoy Allen, L. D. Cowart, Louis Karlin, George Porter, Joe Chapin, Tom Ingram and P. E. Steehenson.

Television Revolutionizes Family Life

By GAY PAULEY
NEW YORK — UP — Television work for some women, slowed it up for others.

SURVEY 100 FAMILIES
The changes wrought by the new medium were outlined in a survey of 100 families in the Philadelphia area. The check, made by door-to-door questioning, was conducted by a washing powder clinic, (Tide) which keeps tabs on how America lives, so it also can know how it keeps clean.

Nearly two-thirds of the women said their families often eat and watch television at the same time. One-third of the housewives planned their menus around their favorite shows. Meals which could be served on one platter, and eat-off end-tables, coffee tables or laps were the favorites.

Some of the homemakers reported the children made the shopping decisions. Mom has to buy the cereal (the specs man eats).

Eleven per cent of the women admitted to having burned at least one meal while engrossed in TV.

A bride of six months confessed, "I don't need TV to make me burn the meals."

Half the women said their dishwashing routine had been altered.

FAMILY ARGUMENTS, TOO
"Sometimes we leave them and rush out to the sink between acts," said one matron. "This is a show in itself."

One family said it hit on the idea of locking the kitchen door until the last pot was dried and put away.

Forty-eight per cent of the women tried to do housework and watch at the same time. The women reported scorching shirts as a result. One woman reported having her eyes crossed.

Others confessed family arguments.

"He hates comedians and plays," said one wife. "I hate fiction."

More than 50 per cent of the women said television definitely had helped them to do their job as homemakers. They praised the tips from cooking shows in particular.

These Coats Shine Anytime

NEW YORK — (NEA) — The "new" "new" coat is practically obsolete. The coats that women wear on a drizzly day are snugly waterproof. It's true, but they may be in a nearly any fabric, color or cut.

They have no resemblance to their country cousins, those stiff and unimaginative coats that used to be uniform for a wet, gray day. This year's coats are in silk or velveteen or corduroy, prints, in tweed or wool flannel. They're lined for insulation against cold, come in a range of sizes from petite to tall. They can go to the theater, to a party, or out to dinner just as readily as they can make a trip to the country or get about town on business.

coats, both fun to wear. Wool tweed wrap coat (left) in mixture of black and white is treated for water repellency and has lining that insulates against cold. For warm climates, there's this youthful coat (right) of water-repellent cotton with matching soft-waister. This comes in teen, junior and regular sizes and in vivid colors, pastels, navy and black. Both coats are shown in We show here two of the new styles.

Millie Chanel's Spring Fashions Fit Budgets

By BARBARA MILLER. PARIS — UP—Chanel, a by-word in the French fashion world, is back this season with a financial threat to the newer designers preparing their spring shows.

Despite financial woes and tough competition, Chanel has forced closing of two Paris houses in the last few months. Millie Gabrielle Chanel is ready for a comeback after 15 years' absence.

The see up her sleeve, when the shows begin next week (Feb. 1), is abolition of the $1,000 estimate for which Christian Dior, Jacques Fath and the other designers demand of visiting buyers. That fee is just to look. Cost of anything purchased is extra.

Away with that foolishness, says designer Chanel. Cotton coats, much more than wool, will reduce her prices to rock-bottom.

ANYONE CAN GO. Millie Chanel also will let anyone into her showings—a far cry from the secret sessions of other designers, who make admission to their salons as difficult as crashing a cabinet meeting.

Neither Millie Chanel nor the other members of the Chambre Syndicale de la Couture Parisienne is giving advance word on the spring lines.

The big question to be answered is: Did Dior's short skirts catch on?

Drastic shortening of hemlines killed in the United States. Ditto for Britain. French women, maybe, would sacrifice beauty for chic, but even their response was half-hearted. The spring showings will tell whether the old maestro wins or loses.

Millie Chanel made her fashion debut almost 50 years ago. Her triumphs were smart casual clothes (revolutionary in those days), introduction of jersey fabrics, and heavy use of costume jewelry.

She says she plans to continue her old styles—with adjustments to 1954.

But other designers are keeping quiet about their plans.

CURRENT RED ONE COLOR. The fabric makers however, have given one lip-off: greater use of stiffer formal materials.

Silk and wool, or silk-wool-cotton combinations will show in spring lines. Tweeds and suit wools will have interesting relief patterns. Printed cottons and silks will vary between abstract designs on somber backgrounds and gay floral patterns.

Colors will be currant red, brick

Mrs. Hahn Reviews Book At Club Meet

Mrs. H. H. Hahn, who reviewed the book, "Mary Lincoln," at the meeting Tuesday afternoon of the Twentieth Century Culture Club, described it as "a melancholy book relieved at times by flashes of gaiety and humor. It is a sympathetic treatment," she continued, "of a here-to-fore much maligned woman. When the veil of legend surrounding her is torn away, a new picture of a woman and marriage emerges."

Members present were Mmes. W. Edminister, Frank F. Fata, Phillip Gates, Hahn, Hart, E. L. Henderson, Hobbs, Warren Hesse, Doyle Osborne, E. E. Shellhamer, Michael Wilson, L. J. Zachary, Morgan and G. L. Craddock.

The next meeting will be a Husband's Night dinner Thursday, Feb. 11, in the City Club Room at 7:00 o'clock. Mmes. Henderson, Chase, Hesse, and Craddock will be the hostesses. And Mr. Lewis Nordyke of Amarillo will be the guest speaker.

DALLAS, Jan. 19 —UP—Five persons charged with conspiracy to ship arms into Mexico without an export license will be tried in Federal Court Feb. 8. The first trial of Thurman Randle and Thomas D. Park of Dallas and Edward Beckelmyer of Laredo ended in a hung jury, while Marcel and Pedro Munoz of El Paso were not tried previously.

Uncertainty In Judgment Is Your 17-Year-Old Child's Problem

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE. Elsie is just 17 and has become infatuated with a young man of 24. He has charm, but not much else, apparently. Two schools have expelled him; he can hold on to no work.

But when you point out these deficiencies to Elsie, she just flies into excited rage and threatens to marry him as soon as the law will allow.

Her mother is understandably distressed. "I am sick with fear for her," she writes. "She will listen to no criticism of him."

Then let's stop asking her to listen. And instead of fearing, let's begin to hope. For the key to Elsie's problem may be her excited defensiveness about her young man. It suggests that she's most uncertain about the judgment she has made of him.

This uncertainty in judgment accounts for many of the problems presented to us by 17-year-old people.

For at 17, the forces of growth compel them to exercise their own judgment. Torn between the need to exercise it and the uncertainty, they can become very excited by any challenge of their judgment. They may even threaten to marry someone they do not want to marry, to justify their judgment.

As we listen to their passionate

Presenting the 1954 CADILLAC

Styled to be Copied for Years to Come...

...and as Thrilling to Drive as to See!

The new "Standard of the World" is now on display in our showroom. It is not just a new model, but a wholly restyled and re-engineered Cadillac—new from its more massive grille to its more distinctive rear deck.

It is lower and longer in silhouette... more modern and graceful in its body lines... and with greater majesty and dignity in every detail. Beyond question, it is destined to influence the design of motor cars for years to come.

Matching this exterior beauty are Cadillac's luxurious new interiors—more generously proportioned and more beautifully appointed than ever before... and executed in a dazzling array of gorgeous new fabrics and leathers.

And, what is even more remarkable, this wonderful new Cadillac is as thrilling to drive as it is to see!

A great new 230-horsepower engine has added new power and responsiveness. A vastly improved Hydra-Matic Drive provides even greater smoothness and flexibility. Advanced Cadillac Power Steering, now standard equipment on every model, brings with it a whole new concept of steering and handling ease. And new Cadillac Power Braking* has introduced new motoring safety and convenience.

This greater Cadillac beauty—and this finer Cadillac performance—are available for 1954 in three brilliant new series of motor cars... the remarkable Series 62, the distinguished Fleetwood Series 60 Special and the magnificent Fleetwood Series 75. And, of course, there is the supremely beautiful Cadillac Eldorado.

These inspiring creations are in our showroom now—awaiting your critical inspection. We cordially invite you to see, inspect and drive them at your earliest opportunity.

Bond Holds Commanding District 1-4A Scoring Lead

Borger's Simpson Is 2nd; Griffin Listed In Top 10

All-state center Jimmy Bond of the pace-setting Pampa Harvesters continues to hold a commanding lead in individual scoring for District 1-4AA.

Bond has dunked in 156 points in seven district games to date to lead his nearest pursuer, Allen Simpson of Borger, by 87 points. Simpson has 119 points, also in seven games.

Bond's average in district play is 22.3 while Simpson's average is 17.1. Bond also leads the district in both field goal and free throw departments. He has hit 60 times from the floor and has made 37 free tosses.

Wade Wolfe, Lubbock, and a pair of Amarillo Sandies, Kenneth Hutto and Bub Farrell, round out the top five in the scoring race. Wolfe, at 6-6, is the third top point maker with 106 points, followed by Hutto with 105 and Farrell with 101.

Among the second five scorers are Dale Hall of Lubbock in sixth place with 97 points; Milton Gillespie of Odessa with 91; Gary Griffin of Pampa and Milton Nickel of San Angelo are tied for seventh and eighth with 89 points; and Jackie Collier of Amarillo and Don Tammen of San Angelo are tied for 10th with 79 points.

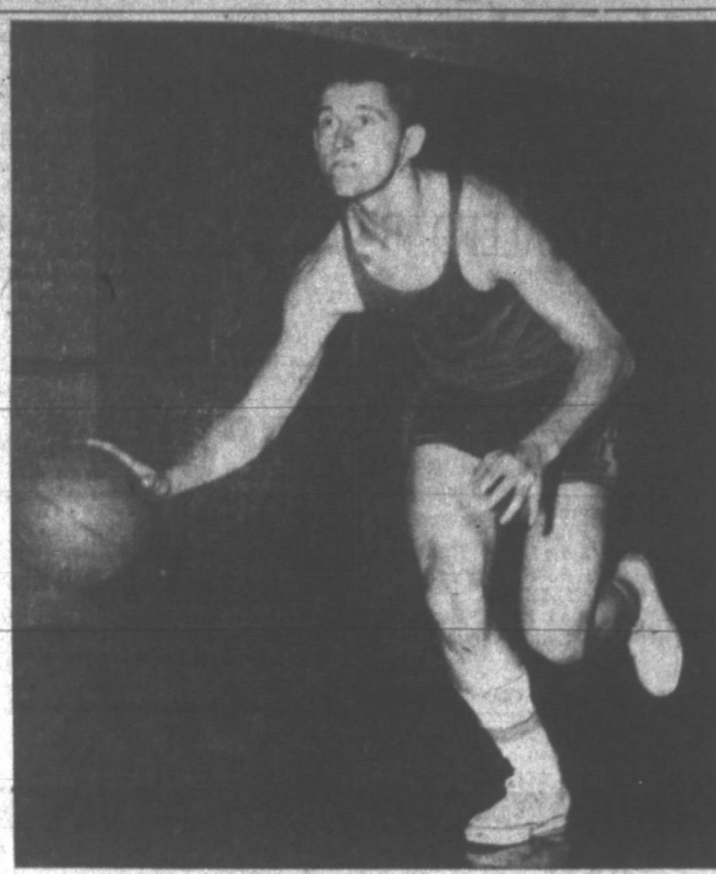

Amarillo has the most players represented among the scorers with 50 points or more — five, Pampa and Borger each has four with 30 tallies or more.

Following are all players in the district with at least 50 points in District 1-4AA play: (includes all games played through Tuesday night):

Fambrough Joins Sikes
COMMERCE, Tex., Jan. 28—UP—Don Fambrough, former line coach at the University of Kansas, joined his former boss J. V. Sikes at East Texas State Thursday after signing on as assistant football coach. Sikes left his job with Kansas to sign a one-year contract with the Texas school Tuesday. He succeeded Milburn (Cliffish) Smith, who resigned to take the head coaching job at Longview, Tex., high school. Fambrough played ball at Longview, was a blocking back at the University of Texas and guard at Kansas. He graduated from Kansas in 1948.

EAGLE FLASH—Ronnie Mulhern, above, is one of the top scorers for the Abilene Eagles who will meet the Hustlin' Harvesters at Harvester Fieldhouse Friday night. Mulhern has scored 66 points in seven District 1-4AAA games. The Harvesters will meet San Angelo Saturday night after meeting the Eagles Friday. Tickets for both games are on sale at the school business office.

Robinson Inks Bum Pact At $38,000

BROOKLYN, N.Y., Jan. 28—UP—Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn's "man in motion" in 1953, signed a contract estimated at $38,000 Thursday, making him the highest paid member of the National League champion Dodgers.

Robinson's early agreement left first-baseman Gil Hodges and third-baseman Billy Cox as the Dodgers' only unsigned regulars and little trouble is anticipated from either. Robinson's rapid progress in coming to terms with his key stars is in sharp contrast to the slow-motion pace at which the world champion New York Yankees are advancing.

The 34-year old Robinson received comparatively little publicity last season, due partly to the spectacular slugging feats of Roy Campanella and Duke Snider and partly to the fact that he played five different positions. Jackie was kept "in motion" due to ex-manager Charley Dressen's decision to play rookie Jim Gilliam regularly at second base and his desire to keep Robinson's effective bat in the lineup.

Dangerous Clutch Hitter
 But the constant shifting in no way affected Robinson's hitting and many National League pitchers continued to rate him more dangerous in clutch situations than Campanella, Snider or anybody else in the Brooklyn batting order. Jackie finished the season with a .329 mark, knocked in 85 runs and hit 12 homers. It was his fifth straight year over the .300-mark, a feat topped only by Ted Williams, George Kell and Stan Musial among active players. His lifetime .319 average is exceeded only by Williams and Musial.

The Chicago White Sox, meanwhile, announced that outfielder Sam Mele had signed, giving them 28 players under contract. Mele, one of the White Sox's most dangerous long-ball threats, hit .274, drove in 82 runs and connected for 12 homers.

Injury Healed
 Mele injured a shoulder diving to catch a pop fly on Aug. 6 but said in a letter to General Manager Frank Lane that a doctor reported it in excellent condition.

Outfielder Luis Marquez, who hit 13 homers and 292 for Toledo last season, came to terms with the Chicago Cubs. He currently is leading the Puerto Rican winter league with a .351 mark.

Borger Wins 'Moral Victory' In Tuesday's Tilt With Harvesters

BORGER BASKETBALL FANS at least won a moral victory in Tuesday night's thriller with the Harvesters at Borger.

The main thing they were gloating about was "holding" Jimmy Bond to 12 points. You'd think the Bulldogs had won the game the way they were boasting of limiting Bond to a dozen tallies.

Tuesday's game refuted one thing that a certain sports writer in Amarillo once pointed out. The scribe said the Harvesters would be lost without Bond.

Well, they would be hurt, to be sure, but they wouldn't be lost. With Bond being held to 12 points, his fellow teammates came through with a sparkling performance to outpoint the Bulldogs.

Bond's scoring isn't his only value to the team, however, as some of the Borger fans seem to think. His play off the backboard plus his ball handling and team play figures heavily in the Harvester attack.

Getting back to the Amarillo scribe, this writer said Pampa wouldn't have won the Borger game without Bond. Well, we don't know so much about that, but anyway, if you're going to take the leading player off a team, the Harvesters would have won by 20 or 30 points had both Bond and the Harvesters and Allen Simpson of Borger set out the fracas.

THE HARVESTERS EXEMPLIFIED one thing in the Borger game that, we thought, figured heavily in the Harvesters finally winning the game after having to go into an overtime period.

E. Jay McIlvain was almost in tears after making the bad pass that enabled Borger to tie up the game in the final second of play. During the rest period before the overtime period started, McIlvain's teammates along with coach Clifton McNeely realized that McIlvain was down on himself and they spent most of the period telling E. Jay to shake it off and offering encouragement. The game wasn't over yet and, after all, everyone makes mistakes.

Well, with this bit of encouragement, McIlvain played the leading role in the overtime period, scoring four of the seven Harvester points during the extra session. McIlvain opened the scoring in the overtime with a field goal and the Harvesters were in command the rest of the way.

The local cage fans certainly were treated to a fine evening of entertainment by the Trotters and their fellow trouper, the House of David, Kansas City Stars, and the Hawaiian Surriders, the ping-pong and the juggler.

We sincerely hope the Kiwanis Club, who sponsored the show, realized enough revenue out of the appearance of the Trotters here to bring 'em back next year.

Sam Houston Five Averaging 80.7

BEAUMONT, Jan. 28—UP—A pair of basketball marksmen, Tom Sewell and Kelly Duncan, are pacing Sam Houston State in the Lone Star Conference basketball race this year.

Sam Houston has scored an average of 80.7 points per game, with Sewell hitting for an average of 22.8 and Duncan, the conference's leader in accuracy, chipping in 12.7. Sam Houston has averaged 47.7 accuracy in winning 10 of 15 games, including nine of the last 10.

East Texas, which has an 11-3 won-lost record for the best in the circuit, leads in defense with 57.7 points allowed per game, and the Lions have hit 72 per cent of their free throws.

Mustangs Hire Backfield Coach

DALLAS, Jan. 28—UP—If you can't beat 'em, hire their coach.

That presumably was the logic behind the hiring of Southern Methodist's former backfield coach, Harold (Bo) Hagen.

Hagen will come to SMU, Athletic Director Matty Bell said Wednesday, from a post as freshman football coach at Georgia Tech. Tech defeated the Methodists in both 1952 and 1953.

Hagen, who also was basketball coach at Georgia Tech, will replace Dick Todd, who held the job on a part-time basis. Todd said he would not be able to leave his ranch at Crowell, Tex., this spring for SMU's drills, but Bell said the school hoped it would be able to find some spot for the former coach of the professional Washington Redskins.

Drop-Kick Features Trotter Appearance

A successful drop kick from mid-court featured last night's Harlem Globetrotter basketball appearance at Harvester Fieldhouse unopposed before an estimated 1,500 fans.

Sam Wheeler, who kept the fans in a contagious uproar throughout the game with his comedian tactics, performed the drop kicking feat. The Trotters lined up in a football formation with Wheeler the tailback, standing squarely in the mid-court circle.

Wheeler calmly took the snapback and drop-kicked the ball high in the air and the round ball sailed through the net. This feat left the crowd gasping.

Bobby Wilhelm, Jerry Lamar Record Wins In Regional GG

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer
AMARILLO, Jan. 28—Fighters in the 18th annual regional Golden Gloves tournament got a rest tonight, but action will be resumed Friday night and the tourney will end Saturday night.

Two more Pampa fighters saw action on Wednesday night's card in the Fair Grounds coliseum here. They were Jerry Lamar and Bobby Wilhelm. They both won their fights.

Two other Gray County boys participated on the 22-bout card. They were Joe Martin, Lefors, who represented the Shamrock National Guard, and Eddie Clemmons, also of Lefors.

Lamar won a close decision over Wayne Tedder, Borger, in the 112-pound class.

Fighting in the 147-pound class, Wilhelm had to work hard for his victory over Leslie Burton, Amarillo Air Force Base. The judges and referee had a tough time judging the first two rounds of this bout, but in the third round Wilhelm outclassed his tiring opponent.

One of the judges was overheard to say that the third round of this, the final bout of the evening, made the judges' job easier.

Both boys were constantly throwing punches throughout the fight and at the end of the third round they were a couple of tired fighters. It definitely was one of the best bouts of the night.

Martin won a decision over Frank Callas, Amarillo Air Force Base, and Clemmons won a TKO victory over Franklin Boyce, Amarillo, when the referee stopped the fight after 1:26 of the third round. Results of Wednesday's fights were:

105 Pounds
 Leroy Hernandez, Amarillo, over Glen Crawford, Dumas, decision.
 Manny Parez, Amarillo, over Tom Rose, Canyon, TKO in 58 seconds of first round.

112 Pounds
 Jerry Lamar, Pampa, over Wayne Tedder, Borger, decision.

118 Pounds
 Dale Byrd, Dumas, over Roy Hunter, Canyon, TKO in 1:59 of first round.
 Jimmy Bennett, Dumas, over Wayne Tedder, Borger, decision.

126 Pounds
 Tommy Bosch, AAFB, over T. B. Back, Canyon, decision.
 Wayne Hillin, Amarillo, over Andrew Ablytes, Amarillo, TKO in 2:59 of third round.

135 Pounds
 Bill Thompson, Amarillo, over Bill Algeo, AAFB, TKO in 40 seconds of third round.
 Jerry Argovitz, Borger, over Joe McCollum, Amarillo, KO in 1:38 of first round.
 Tommy Crutchfield, Amarillo, over Melton Bailey, Amarillo, decision.

147 Pounds
 Bob Brent, Amarillo, over Bobby Patrick, Amarillo, KO in 50 seconds of third round.

147 Pounds
 Warren Eaton, Amarillo, over Harlie Adams, Happy, KO in 1:26 of second round.
 Bob Brent, Amarillo, over Bobby Patrick, Amarillo, KO in 50 seconds of third round.
 Joe Martin, Lefors, over Frank Callas, AAFB, decision.
 Jimmy Cooper, AAFB, over Richard Dumas, Amarillo, decision.

Another Spartan Assistant Gets Head Mentor's Job

RALEIGH, N.C., Jan. 28—UP—Quiet but coldly efficient Earle Edwards, the third of Biggie Munn's top Michigan State aids to become a head coach in the last 10 days, took over the Herculean task Tuesday of guiding North Carolina State back to gridiron glory.

Edwards, who coached Michigan State's ends since 1949, signed a three-year contract at $12,000 a year Monday ending North Carolina State's intensive search for a "name coach" to rebuild the Wolfpack. Jim Tatum, coach of Maryland's nationally powerful Terrapins, was among those considered for the post.

The 45-year old Edwards, a graduate of Penn State in 1931, revealed he would introduce the Michigan state system, including both the T-formation and the single wing offenses, at North Carolina State.

Hot Stove Gossip

By MILTON REICHMAN
NEW YORK, Jan. 27 —UP—
Heard over a hot stove.
Fred Williams insists three question marks hold the key to the Boston Red Sox pennant hopes this year.
"The three question marks," he says, "are Ellis Kinder, George Kell and myself."
Ernest Hemingway's escape from death came as good news to his numerous ball player friends in both the major and minor leagues. The novelist, an avid baseball fan, often invites players to his home in Cuba when they go there to play winter ball.

A Marcelino Thrill
Heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano says the biggest baseball thrill he could receive would be a 1954 World Series between his favorite two teams, the Milwaukee Braves and Boston Red Sox.
Murry Dickson, recently traded to the Phillies, was the only Philie player who refused to wear Branch Rickey's styled helmet and got away with it. Sid Gordon, obtained by Pittsburgh recently, said he didn't care for the helmet either but Rickey told him he'd have to wear it.

New York Giant officials feel Paul Richards is too premature in naming Jack Harshman as one of the White Sox starting pitchers for the '54 campaign. Harsh-man failed to land a regular job in two trials with the Giants.
Dick Groat's best friends are convinced he could make more money playing professional basketball than he will in professional baseball.
Before becoming blind, Spec Toporcer called outfielder Wally Post the finest prospect he had seen in the minors. With Willard Marshall gone, Post now is the top candidate for Cincinnati's right field job.
Won't Let Him Quit
Veteran Vern Stephens, who is partners with Cleveland pitcher
Bob Lemon in a thriving West Coast business, decided to quit baseball at the end of 1953 but the Baltimore Orioles are trying to lure him back for at least one more year.

Davey Williams To Report Early

DALLAS, Jan. 28 —UP—Davey
Williams, who has been bothered for two seasons with an ailment back, said Thursday he planned to go to the New York Giants' spring camp at Phoenix a week ahead of the pitchers and catchers in order to get in as much work as possible.
The little, hard-hitting second baseman said his back hasn't been giving him as much trouble this winter as in the past two, but he wanted to work out in the hot Arizona sun.
Williams said he had been taking things easy since his return from the Japanese tour, except for
"some exercise and a bit of running" to keep limber.
He said he planned to leave for Phoenix Feb. 14, a week before manager Leo Durocher had ordered up his battery contenders.

Road Ahead Looks Easy as Duquesne Five 10 Games Away From Perfect Season

By JOHN GRIFFIN
NEW YORK, Jan. 28 —UP—Du-quesne's unbeaten Dukes could glimpse the gleaming goal of a perfect season just 10 games ahead
Thursday, and on paper at least,
it looked like an easy downhill run all the way.
Coach Duddy Moore's tall terrors racked up their 18th victory of the campaign Wednesday night 69 to 56 over Georgetown to end a 12-day examination time "vacation" and also re-emphasize their ranking as the nation's No. 3 team.
Taken one by one, all 10 remaining games figure to be just as easy for the high-scoring Dukes as was Wednesday night's romp. Dayton, a tall club which must be met on its own court, figures as the Dukes' most formidable college foe.

Fired Too Late
Georgetown outscored the Dukes in Wednesday night's second half, but by then it was too late. Duquesne had rolled to a 46 to 29 half-time lead and was breezing the rest of the way. Dick Ricketts led the Dukes' scoring, as usual, with 28 points, although George-

Casey Stengel Fears Red Sox For Forthcoming Flag Race

By CARL LUNDQUIST
NEW YORK, Jan. 28 —UP—Casey Stengel said Thursday he hoped more managers and players write magazine articles and do television shows telling about the Yankee weaknesses because "that way we can find out what is wrong with us."
In high humor as he headed for a sports dinner in Boston, he stopped off in New York "so you guys here won't think those guys up there are scooping you," Sten-gel said that he thought the Red Sox would give the Yankees plenty of trouble next season.
"But we'll be all right if we can just find out what is wrong with us," he said. "And all these fellows on visiting clubs keep giving out with magazine articles and in newspapers and radio and television stations saying what they know about the Yankee weaknesses."
"All these guys say they know how to beat the Yankees, but we still went out and won again. Well, we have studied these weaknesses and I want to say we are glad to get that information. What's more,

Weather Slows Baylor Drills

WACO, Jan. 28 —UP—The plans of Baylor University to get a fast start on spring football practice were laid low by the weather.
Practice was scheduled to get underway Wednesday, but head coach George Sauer postponed drills until next Monday because of unfavorable weather conditions forecast for the remainder of the week.

Statistics Show Cage Sport Stable

NEW YORK, Jan. 28 —UP—
Major-college basketball, as reflected in statistics, has been more stable the past year and a half than at any time since the war, official NCAA service bureau mid-season figures showed Thursday.
With no changes in rules between last season and this, there has been a decrease in fouling, a slight increase in shooting accuracy and practically no change in scoring.
Last year at this time, both teams in the average major-college game had scored 136.1 points.
Right now the average is 136.8.
The 1953 season produced an average of 135.2 points per game. The field goal shooting percentage has advanced to 35.8 per cent from last year's 34.4 per cent, and foul shooting has gone down to 64.2 per cent from 63.2 per cent.

The average game has 41.4 personal fouls called, almost exactly 42.9 last year at mid-season, and 43.9 in all of 1951-52. On the average, there have been only 1.1 disqualifications (for five personal) per game.
However, although the general level of scoring is almost exactly where it was last year, there has been a decided increase in fouling and concentration of scoring, both individually and collectively. That is, there have been more high-scoring teams and individual scoring leaders are producing higher averages.
Miami of Ohio is the top scoring team in games through Tuesday, with 85.6 points a game, while Oklahoma A&M has its traditional place atop the defense standings with 50.2 points a game allowed.
For those who like big numbers,
the statistics report that 2,141 games involving 160 major teams have produced 292,532 points so far. The average game has 134.4 shots, 47.9 goals, 63.6 free throw attempts and 40.8 free throws made.

Lefors 5 Clips Canadian, 40-35

LEFORS — (Special) — The Lefors Pirates defeated the Canadian Wildcats in the Lefors gymnasium Tuesday night, 40-35.
The Lefors B team lost to Canadian by a score of 43-33, and the Lefors Girls team lost to the tune of 36-13, with Anita Tillman of Lefors scoring 10 points and the lead scored a total of 23 points.
The A team game was rough and tumble with Lefors winning 40 to 35. High point man for Canadian was Morris Wilson with 12 points. High point man for Lefors was Philip Earhart, scoring 11 points. Johnny Rowe and R. J.
Wootton fouled out during the third quarter and White of Canadian fouled out in the last quarter. Earhart took two hard spills during the fast second half, with the final score being, 40 to 35.

Retains Light Heavy Crown Moore Sets Sights On Heavy Crown

By JACK CUDDY
MIAMI, Jan. 28 —UP—Archie Moore, who starved himself in to his most impressive victory
Wednesday night, declared Thursday, "I want a shot at Rocky Marciano's heavyweight title as soon as possible. I can eat plenty while training for him."
Champion Archie, 37, went three days without eating in order to pare down to 175 pounds for his third light heavyweight title victory over ex-champ Joey Maxim of Cleveland.
"And I had to run four miles
Wednesday morning in a rubber suit," added the champion from San Diego who pounded out a top-sided 13-round decision over 31-year-old Maxim before an estimated 16,357 in Miami Stadium.

Ags Continue Coach Search

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Jan.
28 —UP—Texas A&M College continued its search for a head football coach Thursday, with no prospect apparently holding an inside track.
"We haven't come to any decision, haven't offered anybody the job,"
said Dean W. L. Penberthy, chairman of the athletic council. "We're just going to continue to survey the field."
The council met Wednesday and interviewed A&M Line Coach Mike Michalske, as well as former A&M backfield star Dick Todd. It was also believed the council talked with Bernie Crammins, head coach at Indiana University, but Penberthy refused to discuss Crammins.
Penberthy said the council probably would meet again next week,
but the exact date was indefinite.
The coaching spot has been vacant since Jan. 4, when Ray George announced he was resigning. George, who said he would go into business, will stay on as an assistant athletic director until August.
Todd, who has extensive ranching interests near Crowell, Tex., has said he is not interested in returning to football on a fulltime basis. A former coach of the professional Washington Redskins, Todd was backfield coach at Southern Methodist in 1952-53, but gave up even that part-time job recently.

YOU THINK THE GOVERNOR WANTS TO HIRE LOUIE—AND TAKE HIM BACK UP NORTH WITH HIM?

Y'YES! I AM! THAT'S JUST WHAT I INTENDED TO DO!

WELL, I'M SURE IF YOU TOLD THE GOVERNOR, HE'D UNDERSTAND!

I-I CAN'T RISK IT, MR. TUTTLE! HE MIGHT RESIST IT—AND I'VE GOT TO STAY IN RIGHT WITH HIM!

HMM! I SEE WHAT YOU MEANT! BUT IT REALLY ISN'T TOO IMPORTANT, PHIL! YOU PLAY SO WELL THAT YOU DON'T NEED LOUIE AND—

I-I KNOW, BUT I'M—AH—USED TO HIM, MR. TUTTLE! I-I HAS HE ALL UPSET—I-I THINK I'LL GO OUTSIDE FOR A MINUTE!

IF I CAN ONLY GET HOLD OF LOUIE FIRST, I'LL MAKE HIM AN OFFER THAT'LL SETTLE IT QUICK! AND THE GOVERNOR WON'T HAVE TO KNOW A THING ABOUT IT!

THE TOWN OF SHADYSIDE MAKES NATIONAL NEWS!

SHADYSIDE BABLES

CAREER LEADER TO PROMOTE SHADYSIDE NATIONAL SCHOOL EXPENSE

HURRY BACK, BAZOO!

MRS. BOTT, WED LIKE YOUR SON TO GIVE A DEMONSTRATION OF HIS PHENOMENAL VOICE AT OUR CONVENTION!

IT'LL BE FOR THE BENEFIT OF SCIENCE.

WELL, I SUPPOSE SO, PROVIDED IT'S ALL RIGHT WITH HIS SCHOOL.
