Aims At State Control Over Social Issues

Veteran Senator Adds His Idea In Controversy Over Courts

14TH AMENDMENT AFFECTED BY PLAN Proposal Would Limit Federal Activity In Economic Legislation

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Senator Borah (R-Ida) introduced today a constitutional amendment to limit the due process clause of the fourteenth amendment so as to permit states to handle social and economic problems within their own borders.

Repeals 14th Amendment Borah's proposed amendment would repeal the fourteenth amendment and re-write it to limit the due process clause to procedure, rather than substance, of laws.

He told newspapermen it would make constitutional the New York minimum wage law, which the supreme court held invalid last year.

Borah tossed his proposal into the legislative hopper without comment on the senate floor, as the battle was raging warmer over President Roosevelt's proposal to reorganize the supreme court in an effort to broaden the federal government's power to handle such problems.

The Idaho senator, a long-time student of constitutional problems and one of the outstanding opponents of President Roosevelt's proposal, said it would have a "decided tendency to limit the activity of the federal government" in the field of social and economic legislation.

FD's Plan a "Club" Meanwhile, usually well informed persons said President Roosevelt was considering the use of his supreme court reorganization proposal as a weapon to force action on a constitutional amendment.

The chief executive was reported reliably to have discussed with congressional leaders the possibility of enacting his court bill with a clause making its operation conditional on failure to amend the constitution within a given time.

Not Enough Votes Senate leaders were understood to have advised Mr. Roosevelt it was doubtful whether they could

Terms Given In Vote Fraud

Sentences Range From Six Months In Jail To Three Years In Prison

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 25 (AP)—Sentences ranging from six-month jail terms to three years in prison were passed today by Federal Judge Merrill E. Otis on seven election workers convicted last week of vote fraud conspiracy in last November's general election.

Three-year sentences were pronounced for John A. Lutheran, democratic precinct captain; Frank H. Adams, republican judge, both from the seventeenth precinct, twelfth Kansas City ward.

Edson M. Walker, democratic judge in the thirteenth precinct of the same ward, was given a two-year sentence. He will be sentenced Saturday on an attempted subornation of perjury conviction returned in a separate trial yesterday.

Other sentences were: Lonnie E. Wells, democratic, two years; John H. Drummond, democratic precinct captain, two years; Joe Wells, Jr., democratic clerk, one year and one day; Leo B. Roach, police patrolman, six months in jail.

Walter L. Fry settled one of the strangest industrial disputes in American history — a joint sit-down of capital and labor, after a four-day strike in his Detroit factory which manufactures automobile seat covers.

APPLICATIONS ARE BEING TAKEN HERE FOR CROP LOANS

Farmers Denied Credit Elsewhere To Be Helped

Applications for emergency crop and feed loans for 1937 were being received Thursday at the county agent's office by Mrs. Ruby Smith, committee clerk, and Ed E. Jay, field supervisor of the emergency crop and feed loan section of the Farm Credit Administration.

Jay, who recently returned from a meeting in Dallas, completed the organization of his county committee here today and started taking applications. On the committee are Ben Carpenter, A. W. Thompson, Ira Thurman and R. H. McNew.

All applications for Howard and Glasscock counties will be handled through the office here. Jay will be here on Thursday of each week, while Mrs. Smith will take applications every day of the week so long as the demand holds.

Crop and feed loans will be made only to farmers who cannot obtain credit from any other source, as provided by the regulations issued by the governor of the farm credit administration, Jay said.

The money loaned will be limited to the farmer's immediate and actual needs for growing his 1937 crops or the purchase of feed for livestock and in no instance may exceed $400.

Farmers are not eligible for these loans if they can borrow from an individual, production credit association, bank or other concern," Jay explained. He added that emergency crop and feed loans will not be made to standard rehabilitation clients of the resettlement administration whose current needs are provided for by resettlement.

Lien On Crop As in the past, security for these loans will consist of a first lien on the crop financed if the loan is for the production of crops, and if for the purchase of feed for livestock, then a first lien on the livestock to be fed. Landlords, or others having an interest in the crops or the livestock to be fed, will be required to waive their claims in favor of the lien to the governor of the Farm Credit Administration until the loan is repaid.

Checks in payment of the approved loans will be issued by the regional emergency crop and feed loan office at Dallas.

Virtually all of the loans made here last year have been repaid.

City In Ruins After A Long, Bitter Fight

Last Insurgent Position Stormed By Besiegers Of Oviedo

DEFENDERS WAGING A BATTLE TO DEATH Hand-To-Hand Fighting Most Murderous Of Spain's War

BAYONNE, Franco-Spanish Border, Feb. 25 (AP)—Dynamite-hurling basque besiegers of Oviedo reported today they had stormed the heights dominating Naranco hill, last insurgent redoubt on the outer rim of the devastated city.

Relief Cut Off The straggling circle closed around the insurgent garrison during a night of the most murderous fighting of the civil war, the government forces, reported, cutting off the city's defenders from all hopes of relief.

At times struggling hand-to-hand, the dispatches from the lines about the northwestern provincial capital said, the Basque miners pushed slowly through the San Claudio quarters to a dominant position overlooking the insurgent fortifications.

At dawn there was an ominous lull in the fighting, like dead calm before a final assault. The once proud Oviedo was being methodically battered into a mass of smoking, jumbled ruins.

A hospital, an orphanage and a convent were said to have been wrecked by dynamite and hand grenades. A large segment of Oviedo's bloody but unbowed garrison was reported waging a fight to the death from the Vega arms factory on the sixth day of battle.

MADRID BATTLE MADRID, Feb. 25 (AP)—Government forces fought bitterly today to strengthen their position at the foot of strategic Pinzaron hill, southeast of the capital, preparatory to a mass assault up the slopes to dislodge insurgent artillery batteries.

The military command estimated 2,500 insurgents were slain in one phase of the battle for possession of the hill. BUCHANAN SERVICE AT BRENHAM FRIDAY

BREHMAN, Feb. 25 (AP)—A private car bearing the body of the late Congressman J. P. Buchanan, members of his family and the funeral party from Washington will arrive here tomorrow afternoon at 2:25 p. m.

The body will lie in state from 3 to 4 p. m., when the funeral service will be held. The Rev. H. C. Willis, pastor of the Giddings Memorial Methodist church will officiate.

Interment will be at Prairie Lea cemetery here, under Masonic auspices. Active pallbearers will be Jack Rout, Jack Green, Gus Fink, T. C. Thornhill, Oscar Hoffman and Mayor Reese B. Lockett, all of Brenham; Dick Folke of Giddings and Tom Nelson of Round Rock.

O'BRIEN IS SPEAKER FOR KIWANIS CLUB

Rev. P. D. O'Brien, Colorado, spoke to Kiwanians at their noon luncheon Thursday. The program was in charge of Floyd Wright.

A brief description of the General Motors Exposition which will be here next week was given by Bob Whipple.

A vocal number was rendered by Ira Powell. Visitors were Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of the First Baptist church, and Rev. O'Brien.

Church Meet Opens Friday

MIDLAND, Feb. 25 (AP)—More than 100 youths of the Christian churches of Abilene, San Angelo, Big Spring, Brady and various other West Texas towns will convene in Midland this week-end, Feb. 26, 27 and 28, in what will perhaps be the largest convention for young people ever held in West Texas.

OFFICIALS PREPARE TO DRIVE SIT-DOWNERS FROM FACTORY

HOUSE REFUSES TO ABOLISH THE DEPT. OF AGRICULTURE

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (AP)—The house of representatives today killed a bill recommended by Governor Allred to abolish the office of state commissioner of agriculture and his department. The vote was 85 to 45.

Rep. G. C. Morris, author of the proposal, had sought in print it on a minority committee report. The state 4 fails committee voted against it last night, 11 to 6.

The bill would have transferred duties of the state department to A. & M. college. Morris contended it would "abolish a useless department and save the taxpayers between $100,000 and $300,000 a year."

Rep. Virgil A. Fielden of Mt. Pleasant asserted that the state affairs committee held a long hearing on the proposal and therefore was in a better position to pass on its merits than the other house members.

This was the second of Allred's consolidation proposals to meet defeat. A bill to abolish the barber, beauty parlor and embolism's boards was killed unanimously by the house public health committee.

Much time was consumed in both houses in reading captions of new bills. This was the last day for members to introduce proposals without the consent of four-fifths of their colleagues.

Around 75 bills and proposed constitutional amendments were offered in the house and it was estimated the number would increase to 150 by the end of the day. Speaker Robert W. Calvert ruled that any proposal filed with the chief clerk today would be ahead of the deadline.

The senate refused today after long debate to agree to house amendments to a bill first passed by the upper chamber setting up a new pardon board under the constitutional amendment adopted last year.

It adopted a motion refusing to concur in the amendments but to ask a conference committee to adjust differences, chief of which was location of the board. The senate has voted for location at Austin and the house for Huntsville.

Sen. Gordon Burns of Huntsville urged prompt action citing Governor Allred's argument that many persons free on clemency acts would have to return to the penitentiary unless action was taken soon.

Sen. T. J. Holbrook of Galveston joined opponents, claiming removal of headquarters to Huntsville was impracticable and would delay rather than facilitate justice.

Removal to Huntsville would cause $15,000 added annual expense, Sen. Wilbourne B. Collins of Eastland charged, and would not place the board near the center of prison activities.

New Cosden Reorganizing Plan Mapped

Calls For Million In New Capital; Will Be Submitted To Judge

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—A second plan for reorganization of the Cosden Oil Corp., with producing properties in Texas and Oklahoma, was disclosed today by C. Stebbins Carter, New York chairman of a protective committee for common stockholders.

Aimed to inject about $1,000,000 of new capital into the company, the plan was drafted for submission to Federal Judge Wilson at Fort Worth next Monday in substitute for one proposed by the Cosden management.

Carter described it as a "more equitable proposal for all classes of security holders" and said it had the backing of "substantial interests" in the concern. Cosden As President

Under it J. S. Cosden would remain as president and James C. Wilson & Co., New York, underwriters of the plan, would have representation on the board.

"It eliminates the extravagant conversion features of the new first mortgage bonds provided under the Cosden management plan," added Carter.

"The emoluments to the underwriters and the management as provided in the Cosden plan are very materially changed to inure to the benefit of all security holders."

Capitalization It calls for organization of a new corporation with the following capitalization: Estimated $1,812,242 in 15-year 6 per cent first mortgage bonds. $350,000 tank car trust certificates. $2,432,998 in 5 per cent income debentures.

Authorized 1,000,000 shares of common stock, with about 530,255 to be issued. Holders of the present common stock would receive one-third of a share of the new, plus two rights to buy one-third of a share of the new stock at $5 a share.

The present 6 per cent mortgage bonds would be exchangeable dollar for dollar into the new 5 per cent bonds, plus ten shares of common.

Sub-Freezing Weather Due

The Big Spring area, spotted with a few early blossoming fruit trees, prepared for freezing weather tonight after a chill north blast Thursday drove the temperature below 40 degrees.

Snow or freezing rain for the north portion of West Texas was predicted by the weather bureau for tonight with lower temperatures generally over the state except in the lower Rio Grande valley.

Rain was expected to blanket southeast areas tonight with occasional precipitation Friday.

Lowest temperature reported in the state Wednesday night was 29 degrees at Lubbock.

The mercury, starting a decline at 8 p. m. Wednesday, had dropped to 47 degrees at 1 a. m. Thursday and to 38 degrees at 8 a. m. However, it rose slightly during the morning and at noon stood at 44 degrees.

Many peach and apricot trees in Big Spring and vicinity waited for the coldest weather in more than a week to burst into bloom today. Chinese elm, loc, were putting on their seed crop.

Worker Injured In Dynamite Explosion

J. E. Mansker, 32, employee of the McFadden Pipe Line company, engaged in construction work at Wickett, suffered severe injuries about the face and arm Wednesday at 12:30 o'clock when dynamite blew him out of a ditch near the carbon black plant at Wickett.

Mansker, who was rushed to the Big Spring hospital following the accident, said he was lighting fuses when the accident occurred, and believed that the dynamite went off prematurely, striking him in the face and blowing him out of the twenty-inch ditch. The McFadden crew of workers were working on a pipe line at the time.

Mansker lost his left eye by the explosion, and serious injury was done to the other, it was believed. A small rock was blown deep into his arm, causing a fracture. Other bruises about the face and body were sustained by the explosion.

Strikers At Douglas Shop Are Indicted

200 Deputies Mobilized, Given Orders To Use Arms If Necessary

ORDERS ISSUED TO REPOSSESS PLANT

Laborers At Same Time Are Encouraged To Resist Officers

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Los Angeles county moved today to drive the sit-down strikers from the Douglas aircraft factory and arrest the men on felony conspiracy charges, using guns and tear gas if necessary.

400 Indictments The county grand jury voted 400 indictments, after hearing testimony of Donald W. Douglas, president of the corporation.

Two hundred deputy sheriffs were mobilized there and ordered to move here immediately, with sidearms and tear gas bombs. They were ordered by District Attorney Buren Pitts to repossess the plant and government property therein for its lawful owners.

As the grand jury was voting the indictments 18 miles from here, an unidentified speaker warned the strikers to assist the law officers, and "give 'em everything you've got."

The indictment named William Busick and Andrew M. Schmolder, organizers here in the C.L.O. movement, 66 job employees at the plant and 332 John Does.

It charged the 400 with two counts of conspiracy to violate the section of the penal code which prohibits forcible entry and occupancy of any property.

Won't Evacuate Douglas said he would enter no negotiations while strikers remained in the plant. But they, receiving food and attention encouragement from associates on the outside, showed no intention of evacuating.

Sporadic picketing by men and a few women wearing Committee for Industrial Organization arm bands continued as organizers for the United Automobile Workers union, aircraft division, tried to win new converts among Douglas employes association members.

The association, a company union, was conducting a vote of all Douglas employes on whether they wanted to return to work, but its officials said there was no assurance it would be possible for them to do so if the majority voted "yes."

New Collins, association president, said a new union was being formed from association members, one "free from company influence and also free from labor leaders outside the aviation industry, who knew nothing about our problems."

Towne J. Nylander, director of the federal regional labor board, sought again today to bring Douglas and union officials together. Doors of the Northrup corporation, subsidiary of the strike-affected Douglas Aircraft Manufacturing company, were closed to employes as picketed lines formed around the place.

When the men arrived this morning they were met by representatives of the officials who informed them the plant would be closed during the strike trouble.

The employes would be summoned when needed, the men were told. Closing down of the plant made picketing a useless activity and the picket lines disappeared.

At the Northrup plant, where army pursuit planes are being manufactured, about 1,000 men are employed.

Shades Of Pastel! That Decree For Dinner Jackets Bewildering To Men

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—Shades of bewilderment settled larkily over New York's average well-dressed men today.

In a wistful way, they wondered if it was not just a dream that came haunting around as an aftermath of lobster and crepes suzette at midnight.

But it was only the prediction of delegates to the men's style show of the New York Custom Cutters' club of what the well-dressed man will wear.

Dinner jackets in robin's-egg blue . . . or pastel shades of plum, maroon, green, fawn, espy blue . . . with four-pleated cummerbunds in harmonizing colors around the waist.

Instead of military-cut blue evening capes, a la vienna, with flaming scarlet lining . . . and Tyrolean bonnets with a 4-inch shaving brush on the side, clipped from the chin of a bearded mountain-goat.

"We have simply stopped making black frockcoats," announced Frank C. Nagel, official spokesman for the stylists. "They are out-pass-ay."

He shuddered slightly, emphasizing the pain that clutched him at memory of the "funereal-toned" tux.

"From now on, there will be nothing but midnight blue for winter wear. And when summer comes—"

He stopped shuddering and beamed. "Men are on the verge of escaping from the humdrum and the drab," he said.

"The colors must compliment the wearer and bring out the best features in his complexion. Florid-faced men, for example, should wear greens, browns, grays and blues. The blond should wear blues, greens and mixed greys. The black-haired shik should wear light greys and browns, not too red, and blacks and whites. "But color is the main thing—not garish, but bright. After all, it's time we gave the girls a treat, don't you think so?" he asked a circle of interviewers.

"It's Lent," one reporter said. "I gave up thinking for Lent." He seemed to have something there.

MISSIONARY WILL SPEAK TONIGHT AT CHRISTIAN CHURCH

Dr. C. L. Pickett, medical missionary to the Philippines, will deliver the feature address at the "all church night" program this evening at the First Christian church. The affair will start at 7:30 o'clock.

Dr. Pickett is considered one of the outstanding missionaries of his denomination. He is to appear on the program of a youth conference at Midland during the week-end. Members of the churches are being asked to attend the program and to bring their lunches, as has been the custom for the monthly all church nights.

cheese. Cook in broiling oven to melt cheese and brown.

By MRS. ALEXANDER GEORGE

Meatless recipes have a double value at this time of year. In the first place many family appetites are suffering from severe cases of winter-jade which a change in menu will do much to remedy. And in the second place the Lenten season began Feb. 10.

Consequently egg, fish and cheese dishes and escalloped mixtures of various kinds will play major menu roles during the next few weeks.

Camouflage Eggs
Eggs, for instance may be camouflaged in a number of different ways. Combined with mushrooms, fish, cheese or vegetables they supply most of the food values provided in meat. Or frankly unmasked they may be poached, shirred or scrambled, made into omelets or served flanked with vegetables.

Many such dishes are good served with rice. Rice may also be mixed with crab-meat (which lends a very distinctive flavor to many cooked foods), topped by highly-seasoned white sauces and baked in a mold.

Crab-Meat Croquettes
Crab-meat and salmon make delicious croquettes. They may be served with such side dishes as creamed peas or beans, home-made noodles or marshmallows topped sweet potato patties. Mixed with egg yolks in a thick white sauce (with chopped pimientos, cooked green peppers and celery added to lend distinction to the flavor) they also make excellent a la king mixtures.

Other meatless suggestions include swanson, spaghetti or rice loaves (with creamed vegetable or mushroom sauces), codfish balls (served with cabbage salad), creamed mushrooms in patty shells, broiled and baked fish, macaroni and cheese and souffles or fondues of numerous varieties.

Not only do such dishes revive appetites. They also save time in preparation. Consequently, many housewives will now have time to fulfill long over-due promises for pecan pies, coconut cream pudding, cinnamon buns and other family favorites—thanks to a meatless menu.

Crab-Meat Mornay
2 cups cooked rice,
4 tablespoons butter,
3 tablespoons flour,
2 1/2 tablespoons cornstarch,
3/4 teaspoon salt,
3/4 cup chicken stock or milk,
3/4 cup milk,
2 egg yolks,
1 1/4 cups crabmeat,
1/2 cup grated cheese.

Melt butter. Add flour, cornstarch, and salt. Stir until well blended. Pour stock on gradually, while stirring constantly. Bring to boiling point and boil 3 minutes. Add milk gradually. Again bring to boiling point, and add egg yolks. Butter ramekin dishes. Cover bottoms with rice and make a border of rice. Add crabmeat. Cover meat with sauce and sprinkle with

No-Man's Land Bobs Up Again Along Rockies

Surveyor Finds 30 Blank Miles In New Mexico-Colorado Dispute

DENVER, Feb. 25 (UP)—Another "no-man's land" in which residents do not know whether they are living in Colorado or New Mexico was disclosed today in a half-century old boundary dispute between the two states.

Arthur D. Kidder, named by the U. S. supreme court in 1925 as commissioner to run, locate and mark the boundary between the states, informed Colorado Attorney General Eyrin G. Rogers that all but 95 miles of the survey had been completed. He requested $3,000 from Colorado to match a similar amount from New Mexico.

The boundary dispute, all but forgotten by Colorado officials, brought about a situation similar to the recent one at Breckenridge, Colo., where residents found they were living in a territory that had not been annexed by the state.

Cost Near $50,000
Field work was carried to completion from the northeast corner of New Mexico westward to the 28th mile corner, Kidder reported. Costs of $24,270.59 were paid by Colorado, and $24,234.38 by New Mexico between 1927 to 1932.

The remaining 95 miles to be surveyed include 30 miles across high cliffs of the Mesa Verde, where a survey line has never been run.

The first survey made to establish boundary lines was run by Ebud N. Darling, a federal surveyor, in 1868. In 1902 and 1903 another federal surveyor, Howard B. Carpenter, established a new line, which varied from the Darling line from a few feet to nearly three-quarters of a mile. No estimate has been made of the amount of land involved between the two survey lines.

Plea Made In 1924
In 1924, New Mexico asked the U. S. supreme court to establish the Carpenter survey, favorable to New Mexico, as the official boundary.

Colorado contested the suit, and finally won when the court held the Darling line was the correct boundary. The case is now the oldest on the supreme court docket.

"I have succeeded in the identification of a large number of the 1868 markers that were established by Darling," Kidder said.

He said he had also completed the intervals that were not marked in the 1868 survey, and had constructed approximately 380 concrete monuments to mark the boundary. The court decree also called for the removal of iron posts established by Carpenter.

Kidder reported the greater part of the boundary was extremely rough and mountainous, and a sizeable section was located at a high altitude.

Four tons of ancient coins dating to the fourth century B.C. recently were turned over to the Moscow Museum of History by the Soviet Philatelic association.

Menus Of The Lenten Season Are Easily Planned By Using Cheese

By MARTHA LOGAN
Surely Lenten "fast days" cause no inconvenience to the menu planner who knows her cheese. With the wide variety of flavors and types of this highly nutritious dairy product, there is little need to worry about what to serve as the main dish of the Lenten meal.

In the south, a popular breakfast item is a thick clabbered milk, locally termed "cream cheese," served with cream and sugar. To most housewives, however, cream cheese is the delicately flavored soft cheese which forms such a delightful foundation to an array of luncheon sandwich combinations with jelly, preserves, ground ham, or dried beef, pickle relish, minced chives, celery, or green peppers, or chopped nuts.

Although there is scarcely any food that cannot be combined happily with one of the types of cheese most people think that eggs and cheese have a natural affinity for each other. A fluffy tender cheese souffle is one of the most delectable forms of this union.

Cheese souffles taste and look like the culmination of culinary skill, yet they are easily prepared and may be varied by using tomato, mushroom, or chicken soup in place of the milk in the basic sauce. Then, too, we should note that mothers may serve these souffles and other cheese dishes to their families with the assurance of providing many of the so essential food elements in a readily available form.

You know it takes over a gallon of milk to make a pound of cheese. In this appetizing and highly nutritious food, one gets concentrated proteins, vitamin A, calcium, phosphorus and other valuable milk minerals as well as energy producing sugars and fats. You see in cheese, we have a bundle of nutrients in a digestible form presented to us in an array of flavors from the mild cheddars to the tangy sharpness of the mature-mellowed varieties.

Of the many egg and cheese dishes, we should mention, too, the delicate omelets served with melted cheese or a cheese sauce. When these are accompanied by a green vegetable and a fruit, one has a luncheon that is indeed a treat.

Then, for dinner or luncheon we have the classic scalloped dishes in which cheese, melted in a smooth white or tomato sauce, is combined with a starch as potatoes, rice, or macaroni. To this combination we may add fish—as scalloped oysters, rice, and cheese sauce, or scalloped salmon, macaroni and cheese. Or, perhaps you choose a loaf type for your purpose as baked noodles, white sauce, and cheese served with creamed peas or a brown mushroom sauce.

In fact, there is no limit to the number of cheese suggestions. We haven't even mentioned cheese salads, soups, cakes, and countless others. There's a cheese for every occasion and a flavor for every taste. We do, however, want to give you two tempting recipes that should be in every homemaker's recipe file.

Creamy Omelette With Cheese Sauce
3 eggs
1 cup milk
4 tablespoons flour
1-2 teaspoon salt
4 tablespoons butter or margarine
1-2 cup grated cheese (tangy flavored)
1-8 teaspoon mustard.
Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, milk, and seasonings.

Cook until smooth and thickened. Separate the eggs. Beat the yolks thoroughly. Fold in one-half the white sauce. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites. Pour the mixture into a greased heavy frying pan (9 inch). Cook over a moderate heat until the lower surface is browned but not burned. Place in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for five minutes or until the omelet is set. While this is baking, add the cheese to the remaining white sauce. Blend thoroughly. Spread some of the cheese sauce on the cooked omelet. Fold the omelet and turn onto a hot platter. Pour the remaining sauce over the omelet. Serve at once with buttered peas, asparagus, or some other green succulent vegetable.

Lenten Loaf
1-2 pound matured cheddar cheese.
2 cups cooked rice.
2 eggs.
1-2 teaspoon salt.
1-2 cup tuna fish.
2 tablespoons butter.
2 tablespoons flour.
1 cup milk.
Make a white sauce of the butter, flour, and milk. Melt the cheese in the sauce. Add the beaten eggs. Combine all the ingredients. Bake in a greased loaf baking pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) until firm—about 30 minutes. Serve hot with tomato or mushroom sauce.

Start Work On Farm Bills

Preliminaries Opened On Crop Insurance, Conservation Plans

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Two major segments of the administration farm program—crop insurance and soil conservation benefits—started through congress today.

A senate agriculture subcommittee invited Secretary Wallace to give his views on the vast crop insurance system recommended by President Roosevelt. It would start with the 1938 wheat crop.

Chairman Jones (D-Tex.) called the house agriculture committee together to hear Wallace's assistants discuss a proposal to extend until 1940 complete federal administration of the soil conservation act. The administration had hoped states would enact laws combining soil conservation and crop control. The supreme court in invalidating the AAA denied to the federal government the latter function.

The bill would repeal a provision that the soil conservation program go on a state basis next year. The states were slow to act, and the agricultural department decided to continue on the present basis until stronger federal crop control measures can be enacted.

Congress appropriated $470,000,000 for payments last year to farmers cooperating under the program. These will be continued if the bill is enacted.

The program fosters a shift from soil-depleting cash crops such as wheat, corn and cotton to soil-building crops such as grasses and legumes.

Texas state board of health authorities say the state spends only three cents annually for each of its 6,000,000 citizens for public health facilities.

And Can It Be The Old West Is Dying, Boys? Cowhands Pause To Ponder Sheik Question

COWBOYS MAY TRADE THIS...

Real cowhands get up at 4 a. m. saddle from dawn to dusk, sometimes all night. They work hard, talk rough, have little time for romance. BUT...

FOR THIS

Some dude ranch owners think a v-shaped cowboy, properly attentive, will attract more wealthy feminine guests. So "that old cowboy" may become a prairie Romeo.

By ROBERT GEIGER (AP Feature Service Writer)

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Feb. 25 (UP)—If the moon shines bright, should a cowboy steal a kiss?

In a quiet nook, by a babbling brook, should he whisper: "I love you?" If an heiress thaws, should he turn cold?

The wild and sometimes woolly west is choosing up sides over whether dude ranch cowboys, after wrestling steers all day, should spend their nights courting feminine greenhorns from the effete east.

"A bow-legged cowboy was made for work, not romance," says Charles Belden, dude rancher of Pitchfork, Wyo.

How Far To Go? But Stow L. Witwer, president of the Colorado Dude & Guest Ranch Association, contends:

"Give the gals romance if they want it."

And there are the two sides of a question agitating the dude ranch industry: Just how far should a dude ranch go in giving service to its guests?

Witwer believes the ranch managers should provide anything a guest might request, from a pill for a stomach-ache to a good-looking cowboy to go with moonlit nights.

"It costs no more to hire good-looking cowboys to help entertain our feminine guests than it does to hire a tongue-tied one who knows how to toss a lasso," says Witwer.

"I speak from experience. A charming eastern girl came to the ranch and now she is Mrs. Witwer. Today she is one of the best dude ranch hostesses in the business."

Belden, who has one of the largest dude ranches in the west, says

Wyoming and not cowboys should provide the "atmosphere" for a dude ranch vacation.

Costly And Inefficient

"Good cowboys are needed. In the summer they have the dudes to wrangle in addition to tree spring, and fall branding, skinning and weaning of calves. A 'dude store' cowboy can't do it.

"The atmosphere idea is all right, maybe, but it runs up the overhead, decreases general efficiency and is just as cut of place as a uniformed groom would be on a western ranch.

"A cowboy should be homely and weather beater."

Paul Holmes of Encampment, who herds dudes and white-faced cattle in the Saratoga valley, said he has no place on his ranch for a cowpuncher who "can't punch cows."

"But a lot of Wyoming cowboys are just naturally good-looking," he added. "They have the v-figure, bronzed features and the healthy look that women go for. I recall that Ann Gould Meader went for one. There have been other heiresses who like them.

"I believe eastern women have good judgment. They can't be fooled by a fancy face with nothing behind it, no more than an ornery hess can."

PERIOD FOR SUBMITTING BILLS IN LEGISLATURE NEARS CLOSE

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (UP)—Final hours for unrestricted introduction of legislation to be considered in the current session drew to a close today for Texas lawmakers.

Legislators noted 1,087 bills and 32 proposed constitutional amendments already submitted when presiding officers in both houses called them to order. A four-fifths permission vote will be required hereafter.

Committee action will form a large part of the lawmakers' work; the next 15 days after which approved legislation will receive final floor consideration.

While a legislative committee investigating charges of price discrimination against West Texas oil recessed until March 9, a house group unanimously recommended a proposal intended to permit drilling on land subdivided with no intention of circumventing railroad commission spacing rules.

A farmer-controlled soil conservation plan was approved by the senate committee on agriculture which also tabled a bill creating a Trinity watershed soil and water conservation district. House committees sent both proposals to sub-committees for further consideration.

The senate finance committee reported favorably $239,000 summer school and $167,000 emergency appropriations for institutions of higher learning.

An "easy-divorce" proposal introduced in the house would reduce state residence requirements from a year to 42 days and county residence six months to 30 days.

Decision Is Due Soon On Security Act

Test Case Before Same Appeals Court Which Voided AAA

BOSTON, Feb. 25 (UP)—A test of the federal social security act rests with the same U. S. circuit court of appeals that first outlawed the Agricultural Adjustment Administration processing taxes.

The court must affirm or reverse the decisions of a federal district judge holding constitutional taxes assessed under the old age assistance and unemployment insurance provisions of the act.

In the AAA case, the court reversed a district judge's decision and subsequently was upheld by the supreme court.

Now at stake in two cases, the first in the nation to reach a circuit court, are these taxes:

1. An excise tax on payrolls levied under the act's Title Nine (unemployment insurance).

2. A tax on employees deducted by employers under Title Eight (old age assistance).

A tax on employers equal to the total of that of their employees, also under Title Eight.

Second Point Ruled Out The first and third taxes have been held constitutional by District Judge George C. Sweeney, a Roosevelt appointee and a former assistant U. S. attorney-general. He declined to rule on the second on grounds the plaintiff had no standing to question its constitutionality.

Plaintiff in both cases is George P. Davis of Waltham. In the first suit, he seeks to restrain the Boston & Maine railroad from paying the payroll tax under Title Nine.

In the second, he asks the court to restrain the Edison Electric Illuminating company of Boston from paying the employers' and employees' taxes under Title Eight. Davis is a stockholder in both corporations.

Sitting in judgment are Scott Wilson, James M. Morton, Jr., and George H. Bingham. In the AAA case, Judge Morton declined to sit because, as a mill official, he was an interested party. In his place was District Judge George F. Morris, of New Hampshire.

Early Decisions Expected

Early decisions were anticipated in both cases. First payment—for January—under Title Eight is due Feb. 28. First payment—for the calendar year 1936—under Title Nine is due April 1.

The government has been permitted to intervene as defendant in both cases. Assistant Attorney-General Robert H. Jackson of Washington argued for the government at hearings.

As counsel for Davis, Edward F. McClennen, frock-coated, white-haired attorney, contended the taxes were "utterly absurd, capricious and non-uniform." He contended that Davis had a right to question the constitutionality of the Title Eight tax on employees because the tax actually was paid by the employer, who in turn reimbursed himself by deducting from employees' pay checks.

General Welfare Clause Cited. Judge Sweeney ruled, however, that the employers' and payroll taxes came under the general welfare clause of the constitution and were uniform and valid.

As to the tax on employees, the district court said:

"The Edison company is simply an agency for the collection of taxes assessed against its employees and is not subject to the tax. The corporation has no standing to challenge its validity and therefore Davis cannot challenge the validity as he is a stockholder and as a stockholder has no more standing than the corporation."

TO START HEARING ON CRUDE COSTS

AUSTIN, Feb. 25 (UP)—The railroad commission planned to begin this afternoon a hearing on pipeline transportation and storage rates for crude oil in Texas.

It will investigate especially rates for transporting oil from the Yates and other West Texas fields to tidewater.

A legislative committee is investigating prices paid for West and Northwest Texas crude, which some allege are unjustly less than those for oil in other sections of the state.

In 1877 congress forgot to pass a military appropriation bill, and the army, in order to carry on, had to purchase supplies on credit.

Wage, Hour Bill Expected

Report Submitted To The President By Special Committee

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (UP)—Administration supporters predicted today the president soon would send wage and hour proposals to congress.

The forecast followed delivery to the White House of the report of a committee of government experts who have been studying the problem.

Those who made the study were Benjamin V. Cohen and Thomas G. Corcoran, who have helped shape several major administration measures, John G. Winant, former chairman of the social security board, and Robert H. Jackson assistant attorney general.

Some administration officials expressed the belief the president would ask congress to outlaw excessively low wages and long hours in a revision of the anti-trust laws.

Voluntary agreements among the business men to ban unfair and wasteful trade practices also may be proposed, although it was emphasized the president has made no final decision on the form of the legislation.

Secretary Perkins said Tuesday she had drafted a tentative wage and hour bill, which did not deal with fair trade practices.

BAKERS LOSE THEIR STRIKE—AND JOBS

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 (AP)—A bleak future was cooked up today for 11 bakers, crushed with all-town strikers in the Browne Pie Shop.

Now they have neither job nor strike. Obeying a temporary injunction granted by the superior court, the pie-makers peacefully walked out of the oven room last night after a three-day resistance.

The strike began Monday when the men were refused their demands for a 25 per cent wage increase and a 44-hour week.

Although not allowed to receive food from outside sympathizers, the strikers were advised by Manager William Pletchy they could eat pies if they wanted to. The diet lasted long before yesterday despite the fact there were 10 to 12 flavors to select from.

"I guess they ate 35 or 40 dozen pies," Pletchy said.

A Three Days' Cough Is Your Danger Signal

A cough, chest cold or bronchial irritation today may lead to serious trouble tomorrow. You can relieve them now with Creosolium, an emulsified Creosote that is pleasant to take. Creosolium is a medical discovery that aids nature to soothe and heal the infected membranes and to relieve the irritation and inflammation as the germ-laden phlegm is loosened and expelled.

Medical authorities have for many years recognized the wonderful effects of Beechwood Creosote for treating coughs, chest colds and bronchial irritations. A chemist worked out a special process of blending Creosote with other ingredients so that now in Creosolium you get a real dose of Beechwood Creosote which is palatable and can even be taken frequently and continuously by adults and children. Thousands of doctors now use Creosolium in their own families and practice, and druggists rank Creosolium top because in this genuine, original product you can get a real dose of Creosote so emulsified that it goes to the very seat of the trouble to help loosen and expel germ-laden phlegm.

Creosolium is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles, especially those that start with a common cold and hang on and on. Get a bottle of Creosolium right now from your druggist, use it all up as directed and if you fail to get satisfactory relief, he is authorized to refund every cent of your money. Get Creosolium right now. (Adv.)

PACED TO BE OUT IN FRONT but priced with the sixes!

CARWISE you're out in front when you take your comfortable place behind this Buick SPECIAL's wheel—under its bonnet is not merely an eight, but an oil-cushioned valve-in-head straight-eight, which means the ablest of them all!

It will show fleet heels to any highway challenger except another Buick—yet the unbelievable thing is not this gorgeous car's performance, but its price. Big, handsome, smartly styled as it is, it costs close to the sixes that it so easily out-performs.

This four-door sedan pictured here actually costs less delivered, than some cars with two fewer cylinders and less efficient engine design.

Even when you average all the sixes outside of the lowest price field, you find little more than a dollar-a-week difference the first year and after that it's velvet.

Count just the mechanical differences—torque-tube drive, valve-in-head engine design, double-end stabilization, Aerobat carburetion, a whole carful of such features—and that dollar-plus added each week to the easy payments begins to pale into no burden at all.

Just get in a Buick—give yourself over to a real thrill for ten or fifteen minutes—you'll forget about price entirely! You can afford it—because it's priced down with the sixes, so why be content with any lesser car?

LOWEST PRICE EVER ON A BUICK 4-DOOR SEDAN!

Today's price for a Buick 4-door sedan is the lowest in all Buick history—and you get longer wheelbase—greater power—valve-in-head thrust—straight-eight smoothness—rammer body—safety glass all around—bigger luggage compartment—and immeasurably greater performance, comfort and style! See your dealer for low delivered prices, and see what a buy Buick really is, compared to the average six outside the lowest price field.

Reading AND Writing By John Selby

The "Provincial Lady" has been to Russia, and in spite of innumerable exaggerations, she emerged from Russia with her head up and her sense of humor unimpaired.

Miss Delafield began her Russian experience with a stay on a collective farm, really a commune in itself. It bore the unexpected name of the Seattle collective farm, and was begun by some people who called themselves Americans.

After leaving the farm she explored the more conventional centers, and penetrated the south—in fact, she left Russia by boat from Odessa. She left settled, ill and rather baffled. She had so wanted to speak her mind about things, and she had been unable to do it.

At any rate she expresses it thus: Perhaps it is inevitable that a country which has fought its way through centuries of tyranny and ignorance through bloody civil war, into the throes of a colossal rebirth, should meet criticism with this blind, aggressive self-assertion.

Music Club In Study Of The Opera

Mrs. Clyde Angel Leads Study Group; Wagner's Works Are Discussed

Mrs. Clyde Angel led the program on Opera of the 19th Century at the meeting of the Music Study Club at the Settles Hotel Wednesday afternoon that included some most interesting discussions in addition to musical numbers.

Dwelling principally on the life of Wagner, Mrs. Angel gave a brief talk on his early life and was followed on the program by Mrs. Elsie Willis who gave a discussion on "Wagner and His Reforms in Opera." Enlarging on her specified topic, Mrs. Willis discussed the beginning of opera and listed studies that may be found in opera, the Italian word for work. Among these named in addition to music were drama, architecture, poetry and, as in the instance of French opera, ballet.

As a vocal selection of the meeting Mrs. Roy Carter sang from the Wagner opera, "Tannhauser." "Oh, Thou Sublime Sweet Evening Star."

Proceeding to the recording of "The Ride of the Valkyries," Mrs. Edmund Terzag gave an interesting story of the "Valkyrie," one of a group of four works included in "The Ring of the Nibelungen."

Guests of the afternoon were Mrs. Sutton of Tulsa, Okla., who is a guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. P. Kountz, and Mrs. F. C. Cummings of Midland, a guest of Mrs. Bernard Lamm.

March 10, an open meeting will be held in the evening with Mrs. G. C. Schurman in charge, according to an announcement made by Mrs. Schurman who presided at the season. At this time a program will be offered that will include some outstanding chorus and instrumental numbers. The public will be welcomed to join the club members and their guests for the evening's entertainment, the place of which is to be announced at a later date.

ITEMS FROM MOORE

New pupils in school the past week were Merie and Evelyn Ray and Rita Jean Ross. There will probably be no more enrollments in the future, due to the fact that school is so near the term end.

The Moore school entertained at the regular school program hour over station KBST last Sunday afternoon. The program was as follows: Stein song—Moore band; a talk by Miss Arah Phillips; song, "Chapel in the Moonlight"—Moore band; quartet, "When My Dream Boat Comes In"—Geneva Brown, Dollie Jones, Loveda Shultz, and Mrs. Doyle Turney; musical number, "On the Beach of Bali Bali"—Moore band; "Old Faithful"—girls' quartet; solo, "Pennies From Heaven"—Delbert Shultz; band number, "Wa-Hu"—Moore band; solo, "Plenty of Money and You"—Loveda Shultz; musical number, "Whispering"—Moore band; musical number, "What's the Reason"—Moore band. Band members were: Dale Hart, saxophone; J. D. Rowland, violin; Bill Rowland, guitar; Doyle Turney, mandolin; Mrs. Doyle Turney, piano; Henry Long, banjo.

Friends of the former Miss Lotie Harrell are grieved to hear of the death of her husband, Alton Holland, who passed away last week-end. Mrs. Holland's father, W. L. Harrell, was a trustee in the Moore school three years ago.

Farmers in this community are appreciative of the bright sunny weather, and are working diligently, some with teams, and others with tractors. Tractor farming, however, seems to have taken this community to a large extent. Tractor farmers are G. C. Broughton, O. A. Goodman, Dale Hart, Cecil and Edgar Phillips, Milton Newton, E. M. Newton, M. L. Rowland, J. M. Thomas, L. J. Davidson, Bob and Low Wheeler and others.

O. P. Griffin, county agent, made a trip to Moore last Monday afternoon for the purpose of organizing a boys' Four-H club here. A meeting was held in the gymnasium for those interested in this activity. Those present were: Victor Watta, Joe Lusk, Bob Fields, Reuben Bill, Delbert Shultz, Pug Fields, and Bell Newton. Several of these boys have good club records to their credit for past work, and some of them won prizes in different fields of work last year.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Ray and family of the Morgan community have moved to the farm vacated by Mrs. J. A. Suggs and family who have moved to Clyde.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Read and daughter of Tarzan were visitors here last week-end. Mr. and Mrs. Read are former residents of this community.

Joe Lusk of Big Spring high school was a visitor here last Monday.

Those on the sick list this week are Mrs. C. C. Harris, Miss Louise Douglas, Dollie Jones, Callie Wheeler, Mary Billalba, Lawrence Adkins, and Lilly Billalba.

Students are entering into literary events with energetic enthusiasm, and from all appearances, they intend to make some showing for Moore in the interscholastic league meet.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Edwards and Miss Louise Douglas made a trip to the plains last week-end. Miss Douglas stopped at Plainview for a visit with her father and Mr. and

Iowa Digs Out of Season's Worst Blizzard

Mrs. Edwards went on to Dimmitt where Mrs. Edwards' parents reside.

Marion Newton left Monday morning for Los Angeles where he will enroll in the Diesel School of Aviation.

Miss Zan Grant, who is teaching in the Mt. Olive school at Lamesa, Texas, came down last Saturday for the funeral of Alton Holland.

Troy Newton visited school part of the day Tuesday.

Mrs. Edd Phillips of South Bend is visiting her son, Verdie Phillips, and family this week.

Ollie Goodman and Bob Wheeler made a business trip to Lamesa last Saturday afternoon, stopping on the return trip at the Hi-Way Baptist church, some few miles this side of Lamesa where Rev. John R. Denning of Littlefield was conducting a service Saturday night.

Cleo Carter suffered a gash in his right eyebrow when he ran into a barbed wire fence last Tuesday.

Friends of Mrs. Emily Higgs, former teacher in this school, regret to hear of her death in Breckenridge last week. Mrs. Higgs taught the fifth and sixth grades here five years ago, remaining in the school for two successive years.

Mrs. J. W. Phillips visited in the school last Tuesday, and took lunch with Misses Arah Phillips, Twila Lomax, and Anna Smith.

Pupils are glad to have Miss Twila Lomax back at school again. She has been very ill with influenza for the past few days.

Misses Arah Phillips and Twila Lomax have purchased a new Ford.

Margaret and Callie Wheeler were the Sunday guests of Rev. and Mrs. H. C. Goodman and children, Horace, Jr., Jimmie, and Joy, of Big Spring.

Tulsa, Okla., police are considered adequate for almost any emergency. On the force are former lawyers, radio operators, mechanics, professional football stars, pharmacists and airplane pilots.

Railsback, Miss McGregor Will Serve For Another Year

H. F. RAILSBACK

Re-election of H. F. Railsback, superintendent, and Miss Floy McGregor, principal, has been announced by the board of trustees at the John N. Garner school, outgrowth of a Knott-Highway consolidation voted last spring. Election of the remainder of the faculty, composed this year of 13 teachers, was postponed.

Railsback, honor graduate of West Texas State Teachers college, Canyon, has been a teacher and administrator in Texas schools for 10 years. Before assuming duties at the Garner school, he was superintendent two years at Highway. He has done graduate work at Texas Tech. Miss McGregor, who was principal of the Knott school eight years, is a graduate of Sul Ross State Teachers college, Alpine.

After the two schools consolidated all the buildings of each system were moved to a new location two miles east of the Knott townsite. An extensive building and improvement project, underway since fall, has recently been completed. The seven buildings on the campus include a cafeteria, a new gymnasium-auditorium, fully equipped commercial department, laboratory for manual training, besides other classroom buildings.

With an enrollment well over 300 the Garner school is one of the largest in Howard county. Starting its first year and consequently without state affiliation, the school hopes to secure such recognition on work done this year. Besides a regular course of study, the curriculum at Garner includes such electives as typing, shorthand, bookkeeping, shop work, economics and journalism.

Freak State Legislation Piling Up; One Bill Makes Frogs Game Fish

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (UP)—Measures introduced in state legislatures throughout the country show promise of running the full gamut of freakishness before the sessions adjourn, according to a United Press survey. Ranging from a bill that would make installation of ashtrays compulsory on all automobiles to one requiring that all school buses be painted red, white and blue, the proposed bills exemplify some vivid imaginations. Among the bills introduced in the Massachusetts legislature was one that would make the governor "King of the Commonwealth." Another, intended to dispel any illusions about the incomes of hat check and cigarette girls, provided that all such employees working on straight salary must wear signs visible at 30 feet, warning that all tips go to the "house."

Georgia legislators contributed a bill that would abolish the time-honored institution of "horse-trading." Misrepresentation of a horse's age or teeth would be a criminal offense. Bullfrogs were classed as game fish in a bill passed by the Oregon senate. Legislators of Pennsylvania introduced a bill that would compel city firemen to take motion pictures of all two and three-alarm fires to be used later in the in-

Fans Howl For Another Dean Detton-Lopez Bout

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 (AP)—The publicity tom-toms began pounding today for another rematch between Dean Detton, Salt Lake City heavyweight wrestler, and Vincent Lopez, Los Angeles Mexican, following Detton's victory on a foul last night. Detton, risking his claim to the world championship, lost the first fall and was in danger of losing the second when the referee disqualified Lopez for illegally twisting Detton's arms back of the ropes. An all-time record for shipments of bituminous coal was made on the Great Lakes in 1936.

City Prepares For 2 Special Progress Days

Parade To Mark Arrival Here Of 'World's Fair On Wheels' By L. M. COOGEAN Progress—forward Big Spring. This will be the theme of the official Parade of Progress days, next Tuesday and Wednesday. Merchants of the city are preparing for the coming event with special values and "parades of progress" in their respective fields. The occasion comes as a result of the General Motors Parade of Progress which is to play in Big Spring on the showgrounds on West Third street—on March 2 and 3. The exposition, heralded as a "circus of science," is a "world's fair on wheels." It comes here in 40 trucks, they themselves being a glimpse of the future, streamlined, as they are, to the nth degree and said to be the largest "cab over engine" trucks ever built. They are finished in brilliant chromium, scarlet and silver, and are driven by a group of uniformed pilots especially selected for the job.

Let's Have A Party

Fine! Whom shall we ask? Well, we want the Harrisons, of course. And the Johnsons. And the Coopers and the Wallaces. Say, they'll be fun together. What'll we have for dinner? Oh, let's make it something different this time. Not just the same old things all over again.

I know! We can get a lot of new ideas looking through the advertisements in this paper. Here's a suggestion to start with right here...

The advertisements are your guide to modern living. They bring you today's news about the food you eat and the clothes you wear, the stores you visit and the home you live in. Factories are busy everywhere turning out new and interesting products for you... trimming costs to meet your budget.

And the place to find out about these new things is right here in this newspaper. Every day its columns are filled with important messages which you should read. Whether you're planning a party or remodeling a room you should follow the advertisements... to learn what's new... and cheaper... and better.

Asks 'Normal Life' For The Quins

Canadian Official Proposes Plan To Be Relieved Of Guardianship Of Babies

TORONTO, Feb. 25 (T)—The Ontario government—like a father who sees his children growing up—planned a future "normal life" today for the Dionne quintuplets with their reunited family. Dr. David A. Croll, welfare minister of the province, who has made the famous babes virtually millionaires in the two years he has been their special guardian, outlined the plans in speaking on a bill to relieve him of his stewardship. At present, Croll said, the five sisters are worth $543,046.39 in government bonds or government guaranteed securities, and in two more years will be worth $1,000,000. Contracts already signed will bring in $300,000 a year for the next two years, he said. "They have wealth," he said. "What they need most of all is a normal domestic life, association with their brothers and sisters, the love and discipline which their parents alone can completely provide. "There is no substitute for a mother. "Let them in these formative years have a little normality in their lives."

here today. Gentle and capable, but too youthful to merit the adjective "mother," Miss Smatlin is one of several trained nurses employed by a railroad to cope with transportation's newest problem—care of lonely children on their periodical trips to visit their divorced parents. Most of her young charges, Miss Smatlin explained, spend months with their mothers in the mild climate of the Pacific coast, then make extended visits with their fathers, in most cases in the business centers of the east and mid-west. "Once I had 17 children traveling alone on my train," she said, "talk about the old woman in the shoe."

Churches Map Revival Plans

Members of the Big Spring Ministerial association Wednesday made plans for simultaneous meetings of their churches the week preceding Easter, and went on record against persons who used church names without authorization in the solicitation of advertising.

Rev. C. A. Bickley, Rev. P. Walter Henckel, Ira Powell, and Rev. W. S. Garnett were named members of a committee to arrange for the pre-Easter meetings. Tentative plans are to have the pastors of the various churches do the preaching for evening services. The committee will select speakers for a union service in the morning.

Ira Powell and Herbert Findley are to have charge of music for the morning services.

The pastors adopted a resolution condemning free lance solicitors in the name of the church and urged that the chamber of commerce, retail merchants association and business men cooperate in curbing the practice where the solicitor does not carry a letter from the association.

Act To Halt Dirt Removal

Those Hauling From Highways To Be Prosecuted, Is Warning

Prosecution was promised today by County Judge Charles Sullivan to persons caught hauling dirt from roadways in Howard county.

Judge Sullivan and Commissioners Ed J. Carpenter and Hub Rutherford agreed after a discussion Thursday morning the matter had reached serious enough proportions to demand prompt action.

Rutherford said the lateral road extending west off highway No. 9 five miles south had been the target for dirt haulers. Countless tons taken from the roadbeds had harmed shoulder construction and was creating an erosion problem near the fence line.

The old highway to the Corder refinery has been another favorite spot with the truckers who haul dirt for yards, Carpenter reported. He said that the fence had actually been dug under in places.

A rural mail carrier reported that digging had been done in the center of a lateral road north of here.

Judge Sullivan pointed out that removal of the dirt from the roadways constituted a destruction of public property and said that officers would be instructed to apprehend and prosecute those engaged in the practice.

They blamed the practice upon the haulers who were getting dirt free from the roadways and reselling it as high as $2 a load. The judge warned them to make arrangements to secure their dirt from private property.

SPIDER BITE SEEN AS THE CAUSE OF STANDING'S DEATH

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Death of Sir Guy Standing, 63-year-old English actor, saddened the international industry of motion pictures today.

The noted character star knighted for service to his country in the World war, was seized by a fatal heart attack on a business errand yesterday.

His wife, now in London, is known on the stage as Dorothy Hammond.

The Englishman had managed to conceal in recent months he was ailing from the effects of a black widow spider's bite suffered in 1934 while playing a stern old colonel in "The Bengal Lancers."

Friends said the bite may have been an indirect cause of his death.

GERMANS WILL BE DEPORTED BY RUSSIA

MOSCOW, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ten Germans, arrested on suspicion of sabotage and espionage in November last year, will be deported from Russia immediately, the Soviet government informed the German embassy today.

The embassy declared it "was not advised" on the status of 34 other Germans known to be held in Russian jails.

(German Ambassador Count Friedrich von der Shuenburg made "casus" representations on behalf of the imprisoned Germans last week.

(Russian Vice-Commissar for Foreign Affairs N. N. Krestinsky, in reply, said he would attempt to determine the status of the prisoners but that investigation of their alleged saboteur activities had not been completed.)

FILM WRITER FOUND SHOT TO DEATH

PALM SPRINGS, Calif., Feb. 25 (AP)—Humphrey Pearson, prominent film writer, was found shot to death in his bed at his desert cottage here at midnight.

Deputy Sheriff W. W. Walrath said Pearson's wife, weeping and hysterical, was in the same bed when the tragedy was discovered. She was unable to give a coherent story of what had occurred.

Pearson was shot twice through the chest, the deputies said, and had been dead more than an hour before a butler summoned him to the Pearson home. The butler reported his attention had been attracted by Mrs. Pearson's sobs.

Walrath said the death pistol was not found in the room and a determined search failed to disclose it.

MRS. PHILLIPS TO ATTEND GOLF MEET

Mrs. G. I. Phillips, a director and secretary of the West Texas Women's Golf association, likely will attend a meeting of the organization's board of directors Saturday in San Angelo.

Dates for the tournament to be held in San Angelo this year will be set at the meet. Mrs. Rhea Varner, Abilene, also one of the outstanding women golfers of the section, is president of the association.

SPANISH ISOLATION PROGRAM IN DANGER

LONDON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Ticklish points involving the national honor of France and Russia and the "act of God" shelling of a British warship today endangered the international control plan to cut off warship Spain from the rest of Europe.

Authorities admitted the task of setting up non-intervention system had proved so complicated the plan to throw a patrol net around Spain probably could not be made effective on schedule at midnight Mar. 6.

A sub-committee meeting of the most interested powers of Britain, France, Russia, Germany, Italy and Portugal, was called for today, however, to salvage as much of the agreement as possible.

Some hope was expressed that a modified blockade, both by land and by sea, would be possible on March 6, leading to complete control by gradual stages.

BANKS' RESOURCES SEEN AS PROBLEM OF INVESTMENT

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 25 (AP)—Cash resources of American banks, mounting ever higher despite the fact banks are carrying 50 per cent of the government debt, offer a major investment problem to the nation's financial leaders, Tom K. Smith, president of the American Bankers association, said today.

In an address prepared for a regional northwest banking conference, here, the St. Louis, Mo., banker said he undertook only to point out the problem and not to offer any solution.

"A high degree of liquidity has been forced upon us by pressure of circumstances," he said, "but we cannot pay dividends with liquidity."

get sufficient votes to approve any of the constitutional amendments so far proposed.

Word that the chief executive had discussed the alternate proposal was the first intimation he might agree to make any change in his recommendation to increase the supreme court unless older justices retire.

Under the alternate proposal he still would have assurance of a court reorganization unless a constitutional amendment was adopted, an amendment would be submitted to the people at the same time the reorganization bill was enacted, or earlier.

The court bill then would carry a provision delaying its effective date until sometime next year, with a clause that it would not go into effect ever then, if the constitutional amendment meanwhile had been ratified.

Townsend To Ask New Trial

Pension Official Convicted On Charge Of Contempt Of House

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Dr. Francis E. Townsend, predicting eventual exoneration, helped his attorney draft a plea today for a new trial in an effort to overturn his conviction of contempt of the house of representatives.

The elderly California physician, who heard the verdict yesterday without emotion, said an appeal would be taken to a higher court if the request was denied.

Justice Peyton delayed sentence for three days. He can impose a maximum of a $1,000 fine and a year in jail.

The federal court jury of 11 men and one woman deliberated 50 minutes. It considered only whether Dr. Townsend had walked out of the house committee hearing last May without permission, another charge of refusing to appear before the committee having been dismissed.

Dr. Townsend, who claims millions of followers for his plan to give $200 a month pensions to those over 60 years of age, said the conviction would not affect the work of his organization, Old Age Revolving Pensions, Ltd.

"We will carry on," he said. "The work will go on and I expect to win this fight eventually."

KNOTT CHILD VICTIM OF PNEUMONIA ATTACK

Jewel Estes Martin, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Martin of Knott, succumbed at 11:30 a. m. today of pneumonia. She became ill Sunday.

Besides her parents, she is survived by one sister, Marjio Joyce Martin, her grand-parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Flemming, Knott, and Z. R. Martin, Merkel, and her great-grandmother, Mrs. R. J. Mitchell of Knott.

EXECUTIVE RETURNS FROM SCOUT PARLEY

David F. Wilson, field executive of the Buffalo Trail council, returned today from a three day conference of scouters of the ninth region at Mineral Wells. He accompanied Al Stiles, area executive, and Charles Paxton, council president, of Sweetwater, to the meeting.

Paxton is vice-chairman of the region while Stiles is a member of the findings committee.

This council compares favorably with others of the nation in the scouting and cubbing program, said Wilson.

Preliminary plans were made for the southern section of the council attendance at the national jamboree. The troop from this council will be in charge of Stiles and Wilson.

11TH STREET PAVING IS NEARING FINISH

Finishing touches were due to be added to the E. 11th street paving project Thursday afternoon, giving the city nine more blocks of surfaced streets.

Harring delay due to weather, the street is scheduled to be opened to traffic Sunday.

Accomplished as a WPA-city project, the street has been completed in less than three months, a record for speed here on that type of project.

Compact caliche base is encased in rounded curb and gutters and is topped with four courses of emulsion asphalt and crushed rock.

TES EMPLOYE AT SWEETWATER DEAD

C. E. (Skeets) Murphy, chief clerk for the Texas Electric Service company in Sweetwater, succumbed to an attack of pneumonia in a Sweetwater hospital Wednesday evening, according to word received here Thursday by the Texas Electric Service company office.

Murphy, well-known in Big Spring, had been critically ill for a number of days. He was about 50 years of age.

FUNERAL HELD FOR DR. BIVINGS' FATHER

Dr. Charles K. Bivings returned Thursday morning from Atlanta, Georgia, where he was called on account of the death of his father, Charles K. Bivings, Sr., which occurred Saturday night. Funeral services were held Monday in Atlanta.

Dr. Bivings, 73 had been in ill health for a number of months, and recently underwent a serious operation. Besides his wife, deceased is survived by two sons, Dr. Charles K. Bivings of this city; Dr. Las Bivings of Atlanta; and one daughter, Mrs. McDowell Rogers of Atlanta.

Cary Grant says:

"a light smoke rates aces high with my throat"

"Luckies have been my cigarette for five years now. I rate them a 4 star cigarette. They're always good to the throat, and taste so much better than other cigarettes that it seems to me this 'Toasting' process is a swell idea. Yes, a light smoke like Luckies rates aces high with both my throat and taste."

APPEARING IN THE NEW COLUMBIA PICTURE, "WHEN YOU'RE IN LOVE"

An independent survey was made recently among professional men and women—lawyers, doctors, lecturers, scientists, etc. Of those who said they smoke cigarettes, more than 87% stated they personally prefer a light smoke.

Mr. Grant verifies the wisdom of this preference, and so do other leading artists of the radio, stage, screen and opera. Their voices are their fortunes. That's why so many of them smoke Luckies. You, too, can have the throat protection of Luckies—a light smoke, free of certain harsh irritants removed by the exclusive process "It's Toasted". Luckies are gentle on the throat.

FEBRUARY IS a bad month to expect much from football candidates, since coaches will be busy. They started spring practice this week with intentions of continuing the work for six or maybe eight weeks, but players are not taking a great deal of interest. One day Coach Brown thinks he'll have one of the best teams in the district, and the next day he's not sure he'll have much of anything. The line seems to be his greatest concern. Without a doubt, the Steer secondary will be as good as any backfield formation in the sector, and Brown and Brandon will have plenty of replacements, too. Workouts last a little over an hour.

Rayburn, Coach Brown reveals is a real scrapper in a game but hates practice worse than any boy on the squad. We erroneously reported this week that nine lettermen were out for practice. Brown has nine squadmen back but only seven are lettermen, and out of that number only two were listed as regulars.

"IF THE proposed West Texas League is organized there is one club that is going to be in the hole all season," writes Jess Rodgers of Midland. "Sponsors of the Monahans club have announced all their home games would be played in the now disbanded million-buoyed underground storage tank near Monahans. What with the league being organized in the Carlsbad Caverns and the Monahans club playing as much as 40 feet below the surface of the earth, they might very appropriately name the new circuit Groundhog League. Backers of the Monahans club will install seats in the tank, the concrete floor will be torn up and dirt substituted and lights will be installed."

Just what clubs will make up the membership of the league remains to be seen, but at present it looks like Midland, Odessa, Lubbock, Wink and Hobbs have the inside track with positions. To round out the league (for an 8-team circuit) the choice will be made between Clovis, Roswell, Monahans and Big Spring.

BRADY NIX, coach of the Foran Buffaloes who lost out in the district basketball tournament, believes Hamilton will beat Crews for the regional final. Nix was unable to explain his team's loss in the district tournament. "We should have won it," he said.

The Buffs played forty games during the season, winning thirty-four. They lost two games to Meadows, one to Crews, two to Hamlin and one to Water Valley.

Women's Golf Tourney
To Be Held In Texarkana

DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—The Texas Women's Golf association will hold its annual tournament over the Texarkana Country club's lengthy course April 26 to May 1, Mrs. Syd Hines, president, said today.

Miss Betty Jamison of San Antonio, 17-year-old school girl who won the title last year, will defend her title.

It will be the second visit of the state's ranking women players to the Texarkana course, the championship having been held there in 1935. Mrs. E. Hopkins of Texarkana is chairman of the tournament committee.

HARRY TODD FAVORITE IN HOUSTON TOURNAMENT
BRADDOCK IMPATIENT FOR JOE LOUIS, SCHMELING BOUTS

TO PLAY
BEAUMONT
ACE TODAY

HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Big Harry Todd, the sub-par shooting medalist in the 23rd annual Houston Country Club invitation tourney, which had brilliant stars in nearly all flights of first round match play today, proved to be a dangerous golfer when he coupled fine putting with his long drives.

The combination gave the 20-year-old Dallas lad a sizzling 34-348 on the 36-35-71 par layout in yesterday's qualifying round and made him a favorite in his first-round match with Pobby Riegel, Beaumont ace, who qualified with a 38-37-75.

HOUSTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Pairings for today's first round in the championship flight of the 23rd annual Houston country club tournament:

Harry Todd, Dallas, vs. Bobby Riegel, Beaumont.
Edwin McClure, Shreveport, vs. J. D. Slaughter, Lubbock.
Gus Novotny, Chicago, vs. John Cummings, Memphis.
Louben Albaugh, Dallas, vs. Willie Maguire, Jr., Houston.
John Dawson, Chicago, vs. Milton Ward, Corpus Christi.
W. R. Long, Austin, vs. Ed Anderson, Houston.
Bob Davis, Fort Worth, vs. Paul Leslie, L. S. U.
Jack Malloy, Tulsa, vs. T. J. Alura, Houston.
David Davis, Tyler, vs. Dick Nau, Houston.
Jimmy Walkup, Fort Worth, vs. O'Hara Watts, Dallas.
Zyflus King, Wichita Falls, vs. Ezek Willford, San Antonio.
Jack Cameron, Houston, vs. Don Schumacher, Dallas.
Ed Herron, Jr., Houston, vs. Lawrence Larcade, L. S. U.
F. J. Clifford, Mexico City, vs. Bill Sauerndorf, Houston.
Preston Moore, Houston, vs. Reynolds Smith, Dallas.

Todd, 1935 Texas champion, didn't make a hobble in the competition which was too stiff for some former tourney champions and several brilliant shot-makers.

Crowding the medalist was another Dallas ace, Reynolds Smith, who drew Preston Moore of Houston as a first-round opponent. Smith toured the 6,256-yard layout in 35-35-70 and Moore shot 39-36-75.

227 Entries
The entry list of 227 from nine states and Mexico set a record for the tourney, in which it took a 77 to qualify.

Gus Moreland, of Peoria, Ill., champion four times, and George Ryan, of Houston, six times winner, failed to qualify and Jack Munger, Dallas star, and Bill Welch, the Southwest conference champion were among other first rank golfers failing to make the grade.

BUDGE, GRANT TO 'DOUBLE UP'

RIVALS Waiting For Court...

ATLANTA, Ga., Feb. 25 (AP)—Don Budge and Bryan (Bity) Grant give no quarter across the net, but are bouquet-tossing pals off the court.

Here for the fifth duel of their 1937 tennis rivalry, they doubled, lunched and generally buddied around before and after the match.

Says Budge of Grant: "He's certainly a marvel. You can't beat him." And Grant of Budge: "Don is tops, no doubt about it."

Neither has demonstrated his ability to consistently wallop the other so they're considering pairing up for doubles.

Budge says: "Bity is one of the greatest doubles players in the world if he has a partner who hits the ball as hard as he does. One knows when playing doubles with Grant that he will get the ball back."

Grant remarks he would like nothing better than to be the red-head's doubles mate.

Feller Leaves

Has New Wide-Breaking
Curve To Slip American League Sluggers

VAN METEER, Ia., Feb. 25 (AP)—Bob Feller, baseball's prize rookie, will leave tonight for the Cleveland Indians' training camp at New Orleans equipped with a new curve as well as a blinding fast ball.

Baseball, not books, says his father, is Bob's first love and he aims to get plenty of it during spring training.

He's been working on a new curve which he hopes to try out against American league sluggers this year.

"Why, the darn thing breaks so wide the boys down at the high school can't catch it," Bob's father says.

The 18-year-old farm boy, who startled the majors by setting a single game strikeout record for the American league last summer, was ready for the campaign.

There'll be little need for conditioning at New Orleans.

RAIN MAY CALL FOR MUDDER
IN BIG RACE

By ROBERT MYERS
LOS ANGELES, Feb. 25 (AP)—Possibility of rain and what the experts call "off going" for the $100,000 added Santa Anita handicap brought various reactions from horsemen today.

Weather forecasts were awaited with deep concern by Santa Anita park's official family.

With one eye on the turntables and the other on the "joke board," Dr. Charles Strub, general manager of the lavish racing plant, signified for it rained last night.

For one thing, the entry box closes Friday at 10:30 a. m. It costs $250 to send a name through, and $750 to start. In other words, $1,000 per horse to run for the biggest purse in the turf, not counting the initial $100 nominating fee paid at last November.

This final $1,000 may not mean much to a stable owned by the rich Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, Mrs. Ethel V. Mars or William du Pont, Jr., but it's considerable hay money to some of the less wealthy horsemen.

The Fox Catcher's Rosemont will remain a favorite, fast track or not. A. A. Baroni has been promising all winter that his Star Shadow would succeed his Top Row as the Santa Anita handicap king provided the track was heavy.

Major Austin C. Taylor has a great mudder in Indian Broom.

Scoring Mark

Scores Eighty-Six Points As Team Wins Game,
104 To 4

By FELIX R. MCKNIGHT
DALLAS, Feb. 25 (AP)—Girl goal school set up a mark that can stand for years.

Against Manor she parted the mesh with 43 field goals for 86 points.

Mer team escaped through a 104-4 triumph.

Coach Mable Lane Graves' Rockdaleers have won 45 of their 48 games played in the last three years.

Two more games stand between John Tarleton junior college's amazing basketballers and four straight seasons without defeat.

Toughest games of the year are those last two.

Wesleyan College's Rams stand in their way tonight at Stephenville while North Texas Agricultural college, which almost defeated them earlier in the season, bob up again Friday night.

The North Texas Aggies lost to the Flowboys in an overtime battle after a scoring error made it appear they had won over the regular distance.

JIM SAYS
BOMBER CAN BE BEATEN

By ALAN GOULD
NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—It will be quite all right with James J. Braddock when the lawyers retire from the heavyweight ring pull the zippers on their brief cases and permit him to concentrate on the job of putting his heavyweight title back in circulation.

James J. says he is not only bored by nearly two years of inactivity and all the legal papers, but as a husband and a father he more than anxious to feather the nest that was worn a trifle bare before he shocked the flaic experts by whipping the magnolia man, Max Baer.

Braddock wants to fight not once, but twice this year. That's how confident he is of his chances of beating Joe Louis, the first negro to get a shot at the heavyweight crown since Jack Johnson.

"Louis can be hit and any fighter who can be hit can be beaten," says Braddock. "I'm not underestimating him. He can punch—punch hard, with either hand. But he's got to get set for those punches. I don't expect to let him get set—not often."

"Besides I'm old enough now to know how to duck."

If and when he beats Louis, and collects, he hopes, the share of $500,000 for his share of the Chicago fight profits, Braddock wants to take on Max Schmeling, to remove any question about who's who in the heavyweight industry.

PITTSBURGH, Feb. 25 (AP)—Dr. John Bain (Jock) Sutherland, Pitt's head coach of football, came back from a "good will" tour today to hear that his clash with university athletic authorities "is closed."

Pitt athletes, alumni and student leaders, alarmed over the rift between the veteran coach and W. Don Harrison, athletic director, already had rallied to Sutherland's support for a "showdown" they believed was coming.

But, Chancellor John G. Bowman stepped in as peacemaker and flatly announced that "until more facts come directly to the athletic council, the matter, so far as the university is concerned, is closed."

Sutherland said the disagreement between him and Harrison developed "after the Rose Bowl game New Year's day when I gave the players some spending money."

Maxie Fails to Get License;
Is Heckled By Commissioner Brown

NEW YORK, Feb. 25 (AP)—The latest heavyweight fiasco—the failure of New York's fistie fathers to grant Max Baer a license to fight Bob Pastor for Madison Square Garden—found the Californian preparing today for a fistie invasion of England.

Baer's manager, Anell Hoffman, said that as a result of the collapse of plans to fight here, he would go through with an agreement with British promoters with a guarantee of 4,500 pounds for Baer to meet the winner of the Petersen-Foord bout for the British heavyweight title.

"We came here with every assurance the Baer-Pastor match would have official ok," said Hoffman.

"Now they want Baer to go down to another meeting, apologize, and get his license. Apologizes for what?"

DUST AND WATER

Too much water and too much dust are creating difficult problems for the government, though the government had absolutely nothing to do toward causing both or either.

Flood control, if such a thing is possible, will have to be undertaken by the Federal government. No other agency has the funds necessary to make even a dent in the problem. Whether it is to be by dams or dikes or both will have to be determined, and where the erection of man-made impediments to the floods will have to be settled by engineers who are competent to decide.

But there comes a geologist of Pennsylvania State college and reverting to history for his proof asserts that floods will never be wholly controlled—that people who built and live and do business in river bottoms are trespassers on nature and must forever pay the penalty unless they move to higher ground. Geological studies and Indian history show, he says, that floods occurred at intervals on all rivers even before the white man cut the forests and denuded the ground of permanent vegetation. Levees, he thinks, will be the best protection but even they will sometimes be inadequate to keep people in the river bottoms from overflows.

In the dust bowl various remedies are being suggested. One Panhandle resident of Oklahoma, thinks the whole area should be put under martial law to make farmers "toe the mark" and plant crops that will hold the soil in place. He had 600 acres of wheat that looked pretty good until the wind blew it away. So, though those farmers took away the protective grass covering of land that nature evidently intended for cattle grazing, without asking the government advice, they now call on the government to relieve them of the results of their own shortsightedness, just as the river bank dwellers think should be done.

Five amnesia victims are taken to Bellevue hospital... Restaurant and cafe owners admit being terrorized by organized gangs... A boy falls through the ice on a Long Island pond but is rescued by cops... Doug Fairbanks, Jr. cables from Southampton that he is sailing immediately, and...

But I'm all out of breath. Nevertheless, this hasn't been an extraordinary week by any means. It is merely the usual routine of a week in New York.

More Funds Sought To Renew Campaign On Soil Erosion

AMARILLO, Feb. 25 (AP)—A recommendation for more money to combat the threat of greater soil erosion went forward today from the regional advisory committee on land use in Secretary of Agriculture Henry Wallace.

The committee urged $2,000,000 be appropriated to stem erosion in Southwestern Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and Colorado. Government agency officials warned that soil erosion hazards in the plains area this year were greater than during the dust storms of 1935.

A sub-committee report estimated Kansas has about 3,000,000 acres endangered; Texas 1,500,000; Colorado 1,400,000; Oklahoma, 900,000, and New Mexico 680,000.

The committee made no specific suggestions for erosion control through a long-term program.

British rearmament viewed as move toward peace.

Davis pessimistic on disarmament in 1937.

Chances for anti-lynching law held good.

Supreme Court presents threat to employ control.

Disarming Armament

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25—Silent concern was expressed upon the official face here when Britain announced this vast new rearmament program, but the pose was really a wrestler's grimace. American officialdom was tipped two weeks in advance of the program and secretly considers that it may yet turn out to be a constructive move toward world peace.

The attitude of apprehension was adapted for domestic purposes. For example, Assistant Navy Secretary Edison was called in to see the president shortly after the public news came from London. The subject of the conference was the serious effect that the British Healey labor act has had upon naval construction here. But that is a touchy subject around the White House. So the president informed Mr. Edison upon his departure that, inasmuch as they had also mentioned the subject of British rearmament, he should mention only the rearmament matter to the awaiting press outside. At least, this is the story current on the bridge at the navy department.

There, no concern whatever is felt over the British rearmament move. Note—Labor Secretary Perkins is highly wrought up against any possible modification of the steel manufacturing restrictions of the Walsh-Healey act and must be handled cautiously. The president is advising the rearmament matter to the laboring press as well as the laboring press outside. The subterfuge he employed to keep quiet the main purpose of the Edison conference is a common and legitimate White House practice.

Enigma

The American disarmament maestro, Norman Davis, has been gunhoing around Washington during recent weeks. He is working on something, although no one seems to know just what. After the British move was announced, he came down from New York for one day, but gave no inkling of future plans.

Davis lately has been telling his friends that any disarmament move this year is out of the question. He has convinced some of them that he is speaking the truth because, until recently, he always radiated hope at the slightest provocation.

However, Davis rarely says all he thinks. If Hitler gets some economic help, Spain quiets down and Mussolini comes forward with a peace proposal, disarmament seems yet cease to be the lost word of 1937.

Chance

For the first time in history, anti-lynching legislation stands a good chance of adoption. A change in sentiment among the historic opponents may soon be evident. The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People quotes a newspaper poll (Institute of Public Opinion) indicating the south is 65 per cent for and only 35 per cent against. Southern congressmen are having a hard time believing that the majority in their districts is as strong as that, but their mental attitude is nevertheless shifting.

If he house judiciary committee does not grant hearings and report at a bill, you will probably see a petition circulated to force the bill to the floor. This move would require 218 signatures.

A similar petition was signed up before congress adjourned last July, but adjournment came before the time to vote on it. The bill now seems certain to pass the house. The attitude of the senate is yet unclear, but Senator Wagner is advocating it and Mr. R. will speak a word for it at the proper time.

Resentment

No one has mentioned it yet, but the supreme court does not like Roosevelt's executive reorganization plan any better than his proposed judicial reorganization.

His executive reorganization would give him the power to blanket all government employees into the civil service; that is, all employees except those who make policy. This means all supreme court employees and even the employees of other federal courts would fall into a civil service category. The judge would lose control of their own assistants.

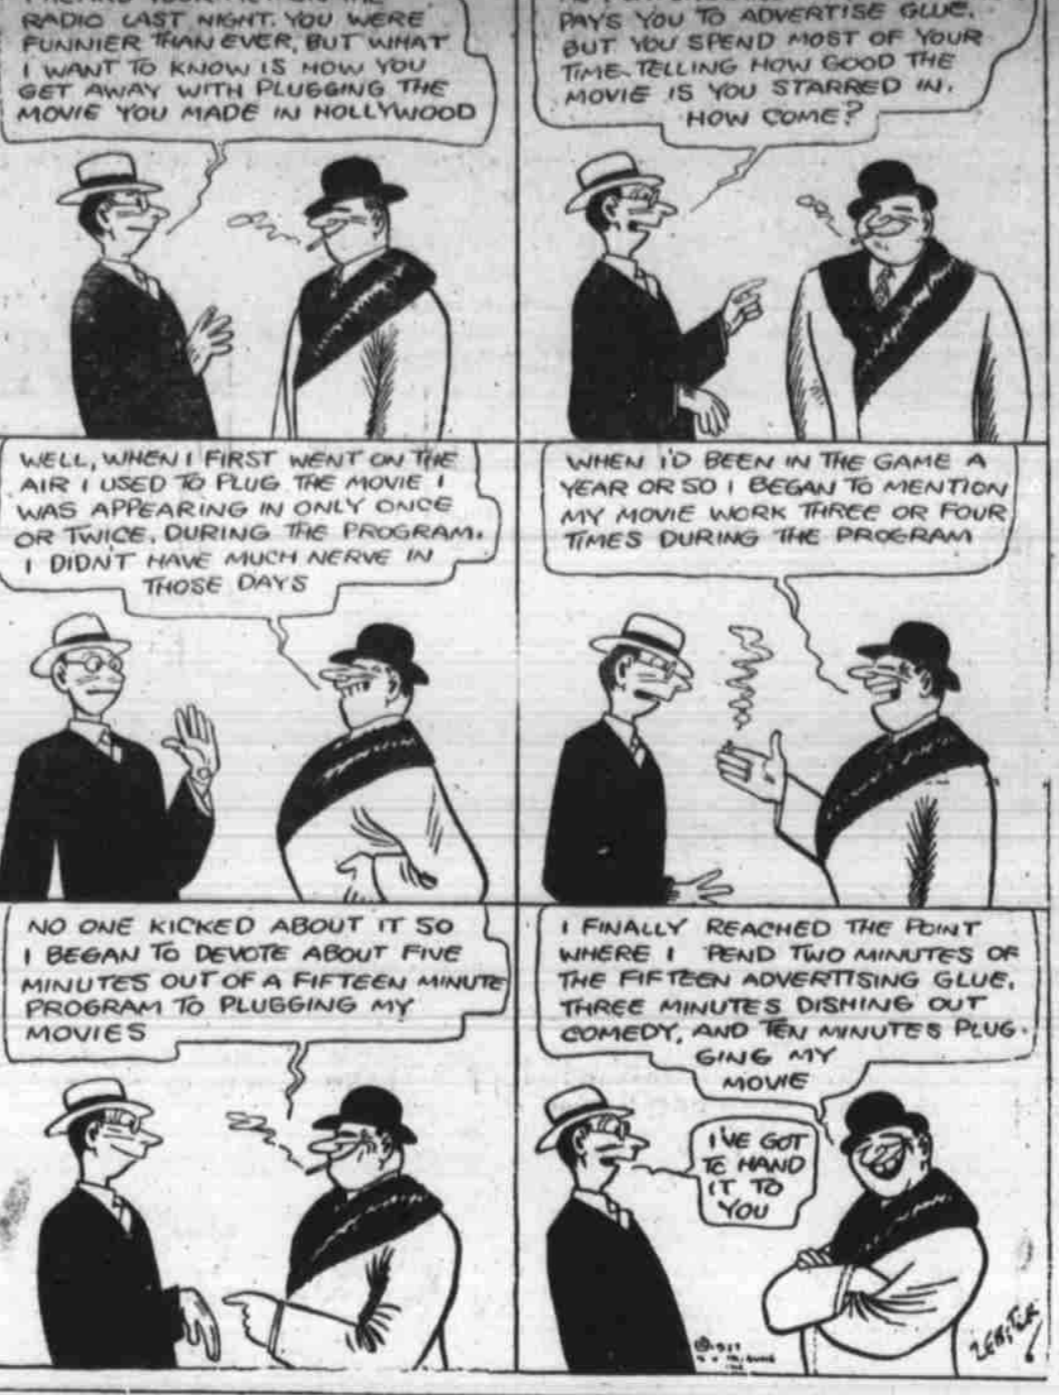

It may be said, upon the authority of a congressman who knows that the supreme court does not like it.

Upset

If there was any public comment upon Hoover's speech against the court packing plan, it was not apparent in Washington. However, the republican morning and democratic cheering were almost loud enough to be heard without a radio.

It seems that republican National Chairman John Hamilton, who has never previously been known to consider silence a virtue, has been studiously silent on this issue. There is also inside evidence available indicating he has advised republicans in congress to avoid making it a party issue if they can. Governor Landon followed that course. Political tacticians all appreciate the wisdom of the mouse not fighting the cat, especially when others are doing it better.

It should therefore be no strain upon your imagination to improve the private comments of republican legislators upon reading Hoover's forthright attack.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds

By Robin Coons

ing," said the champion scene thief of 1936, "is contemptible."

And Gale Sondergaard, Hollywood's unmelancholy Dane, meant that heartily. She could say it with sincerity for the type of histrionic robbery to which she referred was not her type, which Hollywood admires.

The actor who strives by trickery to crowd out a fellow player in a sequence gets the short shrift; the actor who plays his own role convincingly, without other mesmerism than acting act, gets the plaudits. Miss Sondergaard's achievement in "Anthony Adverse" in which her character of Faith shone clear of its surroundings, human and scenic, belongs in the latter group.

Music In Her Acting

This darkly handsome young woman, as vivid a personality off-screen as on, and with vastly more humor than any of her screen roles to date have permitted her to show, stems from an extremely musical family.

She alone of the Sondergaard brood from Litchfield, Minn., where she was born of Danish parents, did not perfect herself in music. Her early passion for expression turned to the theatre instead. And yet today there is music in her acting.

One divines as much, watching her screen work, and is confirmed in the thought when she speaks of acting in terms of "emotion and mood" as well as of technique.

Piece-meal acting, the bane of many a stage player's film life, she finds fascinating. At her previews she feels a coldly impersonal curiosity to see if she has succeeded, step by step, in creating the character she conceived at the outset. And she is that rarely among players: her own severest critic.

A Symphony Of Effort

"The making of a picture," she said, again of scene-stealing, "is a great symphony of effort. For one player to step out of character to attract undue attention is as unfortunate as it would be in an orchestra, say, for the French horn to sound during a passage for strings alone."

Her three screen roles to date—"Adverse," "Maid of Salem," and "Seventh Heaven"—all have been on the "heavy" side but each, she assures, has been different.

There is one death to every million passenger-miles on air lines, statistics show, and one death to every billion railroad passenger-miles.

ESCAPE IF YOU CAN

BY FREDERICK JACKSON

Chapter 18
IN A TIGHT PLACE

Bigelow carefully buttered a bit of roll. He had been dreading this conclusion. It meant that he and Austrelitz would eventually have to account to the police for their movements in connection with Vronski. For Dryden's word could easily be corroborated by the patrolman who had also seen them. They would have to fall back on the explanation that Vronski was a patient of the doctor's and had been waiting at the doctor's house very drunk when they returned there after the party. It was a pretty thin tale and not very plausible, but at least it did not jeopardize Anne.

"Well—" asked the lawyer, unable to read anything in Bigelow's face.

"I've nothing to say at the moment," answered Bigelow.

"You don't deny that you and Dr. Austrelitz brought Vronski home?"

"I neither admit nor deny it," said Bigelow.

"I'm sorry you feel disposed to take that attitude," said Strong, no longer bothering now, to keep up his pretense of friendliness. "I came here prepared to cooperate with you. Dryden has not yet made any statement to the police because he doesn't want to incriminate anyone else if he can avoid it. But I can assure you he is not going to continue holding his tongue. He's not going to take the rap for this killing to shield anyone! And you know as well as we do that Vronski was dead that night when you and Austrelitz brought him home!"

"Can You Prove That?"

Bigelow looked up speculatively to find the lawyer's keen eyes fixed on his face. But Bigelow's expression told him nothing.

"Can you prove that?"

"If I can't now, I will be able to before I'm through," declared Strong, his jaws working. "For the present, I've enough to go on to be satisfied myself that it's true."

"I wonder what you have to go on," murmured Bigelow.

"For one thing, the statement of the medical examiner that Vronski died between one and two o'clock."

"As nearly as he was able to estimate," added Bigelow.

"He is willing to swear that death occurred well before four o'clock in any case. And you did not bring Vronski home until 20 minutes past five. Moreover, Dryden states that you and Dr. Austrelitz dragged him from the car into his hallway. And when Dryden knocked on the door a few minutes later, you ignored the summons and would not open the door. Why Mr. Bigelow, if Vronski was not already dead and you were not afraid of being discovered there with his body?"

"If I was there—remember I admit nothing," said Bigelow, "but if I was there as Dryden says, and if Dryden knocked—it's possible that I did not hear him."

"He says not," said Strong. "He says he knocked sharply—three times. Then he went back to the area-way and watched you and Dr. Austrelitz drive away. And then he went across and knocked again. But there was still no reply. So eventually he went away. He thought at the time that Vronski was merely drunk. He did not realize the truth until next day."

"What he says is to be the truth," said Bigelow.

"What we are going to prove is the truth," said Strong. "And when we do, Mr. Bigelow, you'd better have a plausible story ready and a few unimpeachable witnesses lined up to swear to it. That's all I've got to say to you. Goodby."

"Drop in again," answered Bigelow pleasantly.

The lawyer looked up his hat and coat and slammed out. As the door closed, Bigelow's calm vanished and he sat staring before him with frowning, anxious eyes. They were in a mess, he and Austrelitz; no gainsaying that! Dryden would certainly give the police his story and the patrolman who had also seen them delivering Vronski to the apartment would corroborate it. After that, they would naturally seek out himself and Austrelitz and begin to ask questions. A flat denial would scarcely carry conviction. Should they perjure themselves and swear that Vronski was alive when they left him at half past five or thereabouts? The medical evidence declared that he had died before four. But if they admitted that, they would be called upon to explain how they came to be in possession of Vronski's dead body. And how could they do that and keep Anne clear?

He held his head distractedly for a moment, trying to think. Then he shook it violently, deciding the matter must wait until he could talk it out quietly with Austrelitz. And he went back to the bedroom to finish dressing.

Men In Lorna's Life

Anne had on a leaping suit of heavy silk suggested by the sailor's uniform. It was flattering, and she looked very young in it.

"Dr. Austrelitz telephoned me before I was awake and ordered me not to say or do anything," she cried, "and I'm half frantic! We must do something for poor Thorne Dryden. But what can we do without implicating ourselves?"

"Nothing," answered Bigelow. "Do you know him very well?"

"Rather. Lorna Dryden is one of my closest friends. You remember—she was to have lunched with me yesterday and called it off. I suppose this was brewing even then. Isn't it fantastic that he should have picked on just that night to go after Vronski?"

"Fantasy," agreed Bigelow. "But what sort of damn fool is he, in any case, to advertise his intentions the way he did? He's got only himself to thank for his present predicament. The police couldn't help finding the trail he blazed." "That's true, but he didn't kill Vronski—whatever his intentions were."

"If you mean we can't let him pay the penalty for it, of course we can't. I'm going around to see Austrelitz later, and will figure something out between us. Meanwhile, you needn't worry because the case against him looks very weak to me. And I understand he's got an excellent lawyer. And if one has money, one can be quite comfortable in American jails—or so I have been told."

"He has odious of money," admitted Anne. "And I suppose a short sojourn in jail won't do him a great deal of harm. As you say, he was intending murder and he did advertise the fact. But I'm thinking about Lorna. She must be frightfully anxious. And I'm afraid she's feeling remorseful, too. She was awfully friendly to Vronski before she married. It was through her that I first met him. But in those days, she was very gay and she was always surrounded by masses of men. You remember Dyke Kitterton who was killed at Brooklands in England, auto racing? They say he smashed up deliberately because he was crazy about Lorna and she turned him down. And Jacques Bessanquet and Lyman Strong were both faithful followers."

"Lyman Strong—" asked Bigelow. "Yes, do you know him?" "No. But I seem to have heard of him. He's a lawyer, isn't he?" "Yes. A most successful one, I've heard."

"And he was in love with Lorna Dryden?" "Still he, if you ask me. You've only to see them together. It's odd, too, because she's got no brains, but of course, she's very pretty and appealing and lovable and amusing. I really thought she was going to marry Lyman Strong at one time, but then Thorne Dryden turned up and simply bowled her over. They sloped, you know."

"And where did Vronski come into her life?" "Oh, she went about with him for a time before Dryden appeared. I often wondered whether Vronski was blackmailing her, too, but of course I couldn't ask without betraying the fact that he was blackmailing me. But I think now that she was blackmailing her and that she told Thorne and that's what caused the trouble between him and Vronski. That's why he won't make a statement to the police, don't you see? He doesn't want to give Lorna away."

"It all seems quite logical," admitted Bigelow.

Walters entered to announce lunch and Anne lead the way to the dining room.

"In my excitement, I forgot about cocktails," she said. "But you can have one if you don't mind waiting for it."

"How do you feel about it?" he asked.

She reflected. "Suppose we have some white wine with lunch, instead?"

"Suits me perfectly," he agreed.

"French wine," she suggested, nodding at Walters. Walters withdrew.

"Have you seen Madame Karasnakoff since?" asked Anne, investigating the food before her with an inquiring and interested fork.

"No. We've talked on the telephone, that's all."

"I think it might be good policy for us to go there," said Anne. "Suppose we drop in on her after lunch for a few minutes? Can you?"

"Yes, rather," agreed Bigelow. "She'll be wanting to know how things have been going. And she'll probably want to discuss this Dryden development, too." Anne explained. "Women like to talk things over. And we don't want her flaking this over with anyone but us."

"That's true," murmured Bigelow.

After lunch, Bigelow waited while she changed to something more suitable and then they drove down to Karasnakoff's hotel.

(Copyright, 1937, Frederick Jackson)

Bigelow and Austrelitz do a little strenuous reasoning.

An annual lecture has been instituted in the royal society and the department of scientific and industrial research, England, to honor the memory of Sir Charles Parsons, inventor of the compound steam turbine.

Thievery Worst Hazard To Growing Flowers At The Municipal Park

The worst hazard in keeping a growth of beautiful flowers about the city park is not the weather or insects, according to Luke Straughn, park caretaker. It is a pridesome group of human beings who regularly raid the park, particularly around planting time.

Each year hundreds of extra plants are raised in the hot house to make up for thievery after transplanting. Last year it required the services of one man for an entire day to replace petunias plants taken overnight.

Straughn is preparing to raise thousands of them in the hotbeds. He is planting far more than the park will need because he knows well that petunias appear to be a favorite among thieves.

He has now in the beds some 600 snapdragons ready to transplant when the weather will permit. Around 600 verbenas are also ready to take their place along the park curbs. Straughn fully expects many of these to be gouged out during the night after planting.

These marauders also have been known to take rose bushes and even trees. They have also made periodical raids on the fish pond.

The latest hobby among them appears to be catcreeching over curbs and driving with one wheel in flower beds. Several have made a small race track of the tennis court and others have used lawns for boulevards. In typical disdain, they have knocked down most of the signs warning against picking blossoms or walking in flower beds.

FEDERAL REVENUE SHOWS ANOTHER GAIN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 25 (AP)—Another increase in internal revenue collections during January, the treasury said today, lifted receipts for the first seven months of this fiscal year $290,845,853 above the same period last year.

January collections of $207,483,011 were $23,717,975 over the same 1936 month. These receipts brought government income for the seven-month period to $2,071,882,752.

The gain was achieved despite invalidation of taxes under the agricultural adjustment act, which accounted for $71,371,790 of revenue in the 1935-36 period.

Texas One Of The First States To Develop Farm Tenant-Aid Program

DALLAS, Feb. 25—Texas was the first to suggest the program for remedying farm tenancy which President Roosevelt submitted to congress last week, and Texas has already made definite progress toward putting this program into effect.

Texas has one-tenth of all the tenant farmers of the United States, and yet it has more virgin soil than all other southern states combined, waiting to be broken up into fertile farms for sale to these tenants. There are 286,000 farm families in Texas who are working somebody else's land, but there are also seven and three-quarter million acres of undeveloped farm land in Texas, which these tenant families might be helped to own.

A. G. (Pat) Mayes, newspaper publisher of Paris, Texas, was the man who 60 days ago laid before President Roosevelt's special committee on farm tenancy the program which that committee later adopted, substantially as Mayes submitted it, and this was the report which the president submitted to congress last week with recommendations that "we can no longer postpone action." Marvin Jones of Texas in the national house of representatives, and Tom Connally in the senate have already presented legislation to put into effect certain provisions of these recommendations.

One group of former tenants have been established for more than a year on their own farms at Ropesville, near Lubbock. In a dozen other Texas counties, carpenter's hammers are busy today building houses on farms to be sold to tenants, and remodeling the present houses.

Fifty-nine farms covering 10,610 acres have been bought scattered over North and Central Texas, at a price of $490,621. Tenant farmers are already located on these farms, having been nominated by local advisory committees who vouched for their ability and character. Another project, for $3 farms, is under construction on a block of irrigated land of the Wichita River valley, near Wichita Falls, and contract is about to be let for construction of buildings for 83 farms on a 5,000-acre tract 20 miles east of Houston. The Ropesville project, mentioned above, consists of 33 farms. Funds have been allocated for increasing it to a total of 100 farms, of 120 acres each. The other farms mentioned consist of 50 to 100 acres each.

ON HONOR LIST

KERRVILLE, Feb. 25—Thomas J. Good, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Good, 1404 Scurry, Big Spring, was listed on the high school honorable mention list for the first semester, according to an announcement from the office of the dean. Good is a high school junior.

Many Prizes At Angelo's Stock Show

Premiums To Winners In Event Next Month To Total $2,500

SAN ANGELO, Feb. 25—Winners in the six departments of the sixth annual San Angelo fat stock show and rodeo here March 6-9 will have a galaxy of prizes to look to. Contributions from the American Hereford Cattle Breeders' association, Kansas City, and the American Rambouillet association, Marysville, O., will swell the total premiums for the winners to $2,500.

The C. A. Broome Memorial annual prize of a registered Hereford heifer, in addition, will be given the youth showing the best calf at the show. Eligible for this award will be youths from Tom Green, Sterling, Coke, Irion, Schleicher, Coke, Concho and Runnels counties.

In the baby beef division, milked class, aggregate awards are $558. Abe Mayer is the superintendent. The same amount will be given in the dry lot class. R. M. Milhollin is superintendent of this class.

Total awards in the fat lamb department, headed by Foster Rust, is $268. In the boys' breeding sheep show, of which R. O. Sheffield is superintendent, awards will total $152.

In the 12 classes of the registered Hereford breeding cattle division awards aggregate $358. Ralph Lettlich is superintendent.

Forest Runce is superintendent of the men's breeding sheep show and awards here total $490.

Set Dates For Scout Event

Council Round-Up Here Scheduled Tentatively May 7 And 8

May 7 and 8 have been fixed as tentative dates for the annual Boy Scout Round Up of the Buffalo Trail council held in Big Spring. Alfred J. Siles area executive also listed dates for attendance at the national jamboree in Washington, and the tentative dates for summer camp. The jamboree will be held from June 30 to July 9 and the summer camp likely from July 20 to August 10.

Camp fees will remain the same this year, $6 per week. Site for the camp has not been selected, but Camp Fawcett at Barksdale appears to be the favorite.

The Round Up will include such competitive events this year as signaling, scout pace, chariot race, string burning, antelope race, obstacle race, knot tying, tug-of-war, bugling, and water boiling. Roscoe, winner of the Round Up for the past three years, is gunning for its fourth consecutive title.

More than 700 scouts and leaders are expected here for the annual spring gathering.

Mrs. Dell Brees of Leonardville, Kas., mother of nine children, says she is "hot." It's the first time in 35 years she hasn't had a child in school. Her youngest graduated from high school in 1936.

PIONEER MINISTER TO BE RE-INTERRED IN STATE CEMETERY
 AUSTIN, FEB 25 (UP)—Remains of Dr. William Crane, pioneer Baptist minister and educator, will be re-interred in the state cemetery Friday, fifty-second anniversary of his death.

Former Gov. Pat M. Neff, president of Baylor university, will deliver a funeral oration under auspices of Daughters of the Republic of Texas.

Dr. Crane, once president of Baylor, also was organizer and first president of the Texas State Teachers association. He served on a committee which submitted plans for establishment of the University of Texas by the legislature.

He died in 1886 and was buried in the old cemetery at Independence. A monument will mark his grave in the state cemetery.
