WIND-BLOWN WHEAT FIRE — Flames raged uncontrolled for hours early Saturday morning through the Laketon community wheat elevator pictured above, resulting in an estimated $75,000 loss to the government loss wheat and the building, the latter owned by E. F. Tubb, White Deer, Bob Hood, who lives 300 yards from the elevator, reported the fire to the Pampa Fire Department at 1:15 a.m. Saturday and Pampa firemen were on the scene till 4 a.m. Flames also destroyed one of two nearby tanks, containing wheat, but firemen were able to save the other by wetting it down. Fire Chief Ernest Winborne said, Tubb reported 26,000 bushels of wheat in the elevator at the time (at an estimated $2.20 a bushel) and he thought the building, built in 1928 by the Oklahoma Wheat Pool, would cost $50,000 to rebuild. Winds, estimated at 45-50 miles an hour whipped the flames, Winborne said. Faulty electrical wiring was thought the cause of the blaze. Andrews and Shank, Dallas, hold the insurance. # Naguib Is Swept Back To Power By Loyal Group

Nassar Will Be Retained As Premier

CAIRO, Feb. 27—UP—President Mohammed Naguib swept back to power Saturday night on a wave of street demonstrations led by loyal army officers only two days after his ouster as Egypt's strong man. Apparently he was politically stronger than ever before. Demonstrators, led by army officers, surged through downtown Cairo and around Naguib's suburban villa Saturday forcing the revolutionary council to restore him to the presidency. Naguib made his comeback on the strength of the overwhelming support of the Egyptian people, including some of the officers who had deposed him.

French Hint At Recognition Of Red China

HANOI, Indo-China, Feb. 27—UP—French Secretary of War Pierre DeChavigne hinted Saturday France would support world recognition of China if the Reds agree to end the eight-year-long Indo-Chinese war. DeChavigne, here on a tour of inspection of the far-flung battlefronts, said France has no intention of abandoning the peoples of Indo-China to communism. But, he added:

"We cannot reject the chance of ending the conflict honorably and allow the Viet Minh, supported by China, to drag out the war 10, 20, or 30 years while the French army exhausts itself." He said he believed an agreement with the Peiping regime "is not impossible" although it may depend upon the aims of the men in the Kremlin. "We can help her (Red China) entry into the concert of nations and resume economic relations with her. The whole problem is to know what Russia wants exactly."

French sources said the phrase "concert of nations" is a French diplomatic term which can be translated as "normal relations between nations." Great Britain is the only one of the Big Three western powers to have granted recognition to the regime of Red China. The western and Soviet foreign ministers have invited China to the Far Eastern peace conference scheduled to open in Geneva on April 26. But U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said that does not mean the United States will recognize the Communist regime.

On the fighting fronts, French warplanes and patrols harassed a Communist division withdrawing northward through Laos after abandoning the offensive against the royal capital of Luang Prabang.

In the Red River delta around Hanoi, French River troops hurled back two violent Communist attacks and killed 72 of the rebels. Panel Subpoenas Eleven SAN DIEGO, Tex., Feb. 27—UP—The Duval county grand jury will continue its investigation of alleged financial irregularities in the domain of politician George B. Park next Wednesday, with witnesses subpoenaed for the session.

Martin Predicts House Will Disapprove Tax Exemptions

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—UP—House Speaker Joseph W. Martin Jr. predicted Saturday night the House will reject a Democratic move to cut income taxes by boosting personal tax exemptions. The Massachusetts Republican said in an interview he thinks that when members have had a chance to study other tax revisions to be recommended next week by the Ways and Means committee "they will stand by the committee's bill." The committee finished drafting the bill Friday. It would leave basic tax rates unchanged but through dozens of other revisions, would give businesses and individuals tax relief estimated at $1.3 billion in the first year. Democrats, twice defeated in the committee in an effort to include in the bill an increase in personal tax exemptions, claim they have the votes to write this into the measure on the House floor. "Can't Stand Loss" Raising the personal exemption from $600 to $700 as the Democrats propose would save taxpayers an estimated $2.3 billion a year. Treasury Secretary George M. Humphrey has said the government "can't stand a loss of revenue." President Eisenhower personally is expected to oppose it in a radio-television address. Martin declined to comment on administration strategy in trying to block the move in the House. It was no secret however that the plan is to delay action on the big revision bill and first call up another measure still to be considered by the Ways and Means group. "Trim Purchase Taxes" This is a bill expected to trim excise or sales taxes by about $1 billion. It also would delay a cut in the maximum tax rate for corporations, which is now scheduled to go into effect automatically on April 1.

Pampan Killed In Wyoming Rig Accident

A 21-year-old Pampan who was studying to be a minister was killed Saturday afternoon in an oil rig accident near Newcastle, Wyo. James Harold Lunford, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. L. (Nat) Lunford, 910 W. # Loyal Troops Kill Rioters In Damascus

DAMASCUS, Syria, Feb. 27—UP—Troops loyal to ousted President Adil Shshakel shot and killed a number of rioters attempting to seize the capital's radio station Saturday night and asked rebel army leaders to a conference in an attempt to head off a full-fledged civil war. The army under Col. Shawkat Shoukri, army chief of staff, still was in control of Damascus and imposed a strict 8 p.m. to 5 a.m. curfew. However, at 10 p.m., roaming demonstrators still were aiming occasional shots at troops. The troops dug in on the capital's outskirts against rebel forces reported about seven miles from the city. The revolutionary forces, headquartered in Aleppo, Syria's largest city and in command of the entire northern portion of the country, had given the Damascus garrison until 8 p.m. (10 a.m. est.) to surrender.

Solon Makes Peace Move

WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—UP—Senate Republican Leader William F. Knowland Saturday recommended in the aftermath of the Army-McCarthy dispute three steps to "improve and restore confidence" in congressional investigating committees. He made the proposals to reporters in commenting on the Senate GOP Policy committee decision Friday to study Senate investigating procedures. The policy committee decision was a direct result of the uproar this week over the conflict between Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Chairman Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) of the Senate subcommittee on investigations. Questions No Names While he mentioned no names, some of Knowland's proposals were clearly aimed at some of the practices for which McCarthy has drawn criticism. He recommended that: 1. All Senate committees and subcommittees should include minority members—a requirement which would rule out the one-man subcommittee technique often used by McCarthy and some others. 2. No subpoenas be issued for witnesses without notice to minority members of a committee or subcommittee. 3. Committee chairmen should not sign blank check subpoenas to be issued on the authority of the staff alone. If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware.

ing the arrival of the body in Pampa from Newcastle, Duencel-Carmichael Funeral Home officials said. Mr. Lunford was standing on the ground by the rig, it was reported, when a block hung in a piece of the fingerboard, tearing it off. It was the piece of fingerboard, about 1 1/2 feet square and weighing 35 pounds, that struck him. (A finger board is a small platform, about halfway up a rig.) He was employed by the Mesa Drilling Company. A 1952 graduate of Lefors High School, Mr. Lunford was reported to have been in his sophomore year in Oklahoma Baptist University, studying to be a minister, when he left school to obtain additional funds with which to continue. OBU is a St. of Oklahoma City. The minister-to-be was born Dec. 1, 1932, in Pampa. In high school he played in the band, played baseball and was a member of H-Y. Other survivors include a sister, Cletis, Pampa and an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Cartwright, Pampa.

Lions Club Rehearsal Set Today

This afternoon's dress rehearsal for the 1954 Pampa Lions Club Minstrel Show is the last thing before The Big Show itself. The rehearsal is scheduled for 8 p.m. today on the stage of the Pampa Junior High School Auditorium. And that's the exact spot where the curtain goes up at 8 p.m. Monday and Tuesday for the show's two-performance run. Ticket sales Saturday were reported "going well, though there are still some to be sold," according to Bunny Shultz, director, and Ed Myatt, business manager, two of the main wheelhorses behind the production. Ducats are going for $1 for adults, 50 cents for kids and 25 cents more — on either type of ticket — for a reserve seat. Richard Drug is handling the reserved seats. Ham Luna, properties chairman, has asked all who can to be on hand in the auditorium at 3 p.m. today so that the stage can be set up in the shortest amount of time possible. The full treatment—the 60-voice mixed chorus, the eight-piece Dixieland jazz band, the end-men, the soloists, everyone—will be in the order of the day this afternoon.

DALE DAVIS — heart disease victim

Future Brighter For Boy Victim Of Heart Disease Due to the Gray County Heart Association and Dr. Malcolm Wyatt, head of the High Plains District Heart Association, 2-year-old Dale Davis, victim of a defective heart, may receive hope for a normal life. Plans are now underway to send Dale to a children's hospital in Dallas for examination by a heart specialist. "The Gray County Association will see that Dale and his mother get there and see the proper people," Dr. Wyatt explained. Dale, who has been in and out of hospitals most of his life, was discovered to have the defective heart condition this summer. Dr. Wyatt explained that children with such defects are very susceptible to diseases, especially pneumonia, and can't live a normal life. "When he grows up, I think he'll be a regular Gene Kelly, the way he wiggles around to music — if we can fix it so he will grow up," stated his mother, Mrs. Jeff Davis of 736 N. Christie. Although Dale sometimes seems to have the energy of a normal child, he tires easily and is often listless, his mother explained. Mrs. Davis hasn't been given much encouragement by doctors in the past, but it is now hoped that surgery may help to correct Dale's heart condition. However, nothing will be definitely known until he is examined by the Dallas specialist. Dale's whose father is with the Air Force in Khatonek, Alaska, has one brother, Paul, who is 1 year old. Mrs. Davis related that when visiting children happen to "pick on" Paul, Dale puts up his fists to defend him — just like any other big brother.

Martha Gordon Is Runner-Up In Spelling Contest

Pampa's Martha Gordon was runner-up Saturday afternoon in the annual High Plains Spelling Bee, held in Amarillo. The Gray County spelling champion missed the word, "garulous." She made the second letter an "e" and thereby missed a chance to go to the National Spelling Bee in Washington, D. C. Miss Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gordon, 1309 Charles, lasted through 34 other champions from counties in Texas, Oklahoma, New Mexico and Kansas before she met the 35th — and lost. But she spelled correctly — word for word — some 15 or 20 words with the champ before she went down to defeat, according to County Schools Superintendent B. R. Nuckols, sponsor of the Gray County Spelling Bee, who accompanied her to Amarillo with her parents and Sam Begett, Horace Mann School principal. Gray County champion in 1953 and 1954 and county junior champ in 1951 and 1952 — the only four years she was eligible to compete — Miss Gordon was presented a cash prize, an engraved plaque and a gold pin.

Negro Kills 2 Police Officers

SHREVEPORT, La., Feb. 27—UP—A Negro shot and killed two police officers, including the Shreveport police chief, Saturday night in an alleyway. The Negro, a 25-year-old man, rushed his barricaded tenement house some 20 miles south of here. Killed in the furious gunbattle were Shreveport Chief of Police E. G. Huckabay, Maurice Miller, deputy sheriff of Bossier Parish, and the Negro identified as Man West, about 35. State Police Lt. W. T. Tanner said Miller was shot down and his head split open with an axe as he went to the home of the Negro's mother to serve a non-support warrant. Huckabay was killed and Shreveport detective J. B. Chandler was wounded in the hand as they rushed the tenement house where West had barricaded himself after killing "It took us three hours to get the Negro," said Tanner. "More than 100 shots may have been fired into the house — plus a lot of tear gas." Tanner said the Negro met Miller at the door of the house and fired a charge of buckshot from a double barreled shotgun into the deputy, then chopped his head open with an axe. Scores of peace officers from adjoining areas and state police moved into the area and opened fire on the house after allowing the Negro's mother and two children to leave.

Hero Of WWI Suffers Stroke

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Feb. 27—UP—Sgt. Alvin C. York, Medal of Honor winner and America's hero in World War I, was in serious condition at a Nashville hospital Saturday after suffering a stroke. York, 64, was brought here from his Pail Mall, Tenn. home on the Kentucky border after he was stricken Wednesday. (See SANDERS, Page 2)

City An Armed Camp . . . Rapists Terrorize Dallas

DALLAS, Feb. 27—UP—The brutal rape of a fireman's wife by two Negroes less than a week after a soldier's wife was ravished and murdered in an alley threatened to turn Dallas into a terror-stricken armed camp again Saturday. Men and women lined up at gunstores to buy pistols last October and bands of vigilantes roamed the streets after pretty Mrs. H. C. Parker, 29, was waylaid, raped, robbed and murdered under a bridge. That followed at least 16 rapes and dozen of appearances by a nude Negro, who stalked women with a knife in his hand. Now a new cycle of rapes, murders and nude prowlings appeared to be starting. A 29-year-old fireman's wife was raped Friday night by two Negro men — one wearing a fuzzy fedora "bop" style hat — who forced her automobile into the curb in southeast Dallas. Overtake Woman She leaped out of the automobile and tried to escape across a field. The Negroes caught her and dragged her back into the seat of an old car in which they were riding. They took turns raping her in the back seat. The body of Mrs. Jewell Coles, 55, of Tuccoon, Ariz., was found in a shed in central Dallas last Sunday. She had been raped and beaten to death, though apparently not robbed. A white woman complained a week earlier that a giant Negro caught her in a shop when she came to work early, forced her upstairs and raped her. Held for Questioning Capt. Will Fritz of the police homicide division said he was holding three Negroes for questioning about the rape of the fireman's wife. One was 28 and the other two were brothers, in their early 20s. Fritz said his men arrested them on a general description furnished by the woman. "People are getting mad again," Deputy Sheriff K. A. Scanlon said. "We have reports that the sale of guns is rising again and there is a lot of talking about these things. People don't like it."

Commission's Agenda Light

City Manager Fred Brook goes into his first Pampa City Commission meeting this week with a lighter-than-usual agenda. Session is scheduled for 9 a.m. Tuesday in the city commission room of City Hall. The new city manager was named to the post near noon Tuesday and spent most of the remainder of the week learning the job from Former City Manager E. H. Cruce who left for Greeley, Colo., and another city manager's job early Saturday morning. High on the agenda will be the approval of Brook's $10,000 bond. "I can't even sign a 10-cent check," he said Saturday, adding that City Secretary Ed Vicars and City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones can, however. The third and final readings of two proposed ordinances are slated for the meeting. They concern a bus franchise for A. C. Howell and Bill McClellan and a loading zone for C & M Television, 304 W. Foster. Two publications and 10 days later, approved, and they'll become the law. Only other item definitely scheduled Saturday night on the agenda was a report from City Director of Public Works James Cowan on some nine streets in The Flats. They'll probably be gravelled, city commission figured at last week's commission meeting. Cowan was to make a survey and report his findings at this week's meeting.

Steele Enters Contest For School Board

A former principal of the Pampa Junior High School is the first person to enter the race for the one Pampa school board seat on the election block this year. Aubrey Steele, general manager, secretary and treasurer of Security Federal Savings and Loan Association, Saturday night said he would agree to make the race once the petitions now being circulated are filed formally. The election is scheduled for April 3 in the corridor of the junior high school. The last day that aspirants can file their intentions is March 25, according to Roy McMillen, school business manager, with whom aspirants file. This is Steele's first "go" at a political post. He will be running for the post of H. Raeburn Thompson, board president, who Jan. 1 took himself out of the race. This is Thompson's ninth year on the board. Steele was graduated from the University of Oklahoma in 1935 and received his Master's degree in 1938. He has been a history teacher in Frederick, Okla.; history teacher (1938-42) and assistant principal (1942-45) in Pampa High School; and junior high school principal (1945-Oct. 1, 1948). ### Highway 60 Group Names 2 Canadians

Two Canadian men have been elected to offices of the Texas branch of the U. S. Highway 60 association. Warren Harrington, Canadian, was named president and John Wilkinson, also of Canadian, was elected secretary of the branch at a joint convention of the Texas and New Mexico branches of the association held in Clovis Thursday and Friday. Elected president of the New Mexico branch was Bascom Weaver, Mountain Air, N. M. The Texas branch elected a board of directors composed of one representative from each town along the highway between the New Mexico and Oklahoma lines. Representing Pampa on the board will be Jack Vaughn. Attending the meeting from Pampa were Vaughn, Frank Lard, County Judge J. B. Maguire, Jr., and Chamber of Commerce Manager E. O. Wedgeworth. Vaughn and Lard attended both days of the convention, while Maguire and Wedgeworth were flown to Clovis Friday morning by M. W. Altord, manager of Perry LeFors field here. However, inclement weather caused cancellation of their return flight and Maguire and Wedgeworth returned with Vaughn and Lard by automobile. Both branches pledged cooperation toward a goal of increasing traffic on the highway through billboard advertising, pamphlets and other printed material. The Texas branch went on record, Wedgeworth said, in asking Highway Department of New Mexico to rearrange the junction of U. S. Highways 60 and 70 at Texico-Farwell, so that it can be better marked to avoid the possibility of drivers remaining on Highway 70, when they might wish to remain on Highway 60. Among speakers at Friday's business session were Harry Harville, Tonkawa, Okla., national president, and Hollis McGinnis, also of Tonkawa, secretary. Harville announced plans were practically complete for the national convention to be held in the late spring in Poplar Bluff, Mo.

Gray County 4-H Youngsters Ready For Annual Club Week

By WALT SWITZER
Pampa News Staff Writer

Gray County 4-H club boys and girls along with those throughout the nation, will celebrate National 4-H Club Week, March 6-13. Featured among the week's activities will be appearances at civic club meetings, on radio programs and at parties. The boys and girls will be on the air each day during the week, with two daily programs scheduled March 6 and March 13.

They will have a party in the American Legion-VFW Hall next Saturday, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Another party is slated for McLean on March 13.

Jerome Moberly, assistant county agent, and Miss Faye Burns, assistant home demonstration agent, this past week were reviewing the history and purpose of 4-H club work in the nation.

They indicated that 4-H club work for rural boys and girls is a part of the national agricultural extension system, which reaches every state in the United States, Puerto Rico and the territories of Alaska and Hawaii.

It is being developed also in many foreign countries. This system was organized by the United States Department of Agriculture in cooperation with state colleges of agriculture and county extension organizations under provisions of the Smith-Lever act of 1914 and other acts of Congress and of state legislatures authorizing establishment of agricultural extension work, they said.

Usually 4-H clubs are organized

4-H CLUB OFFICERS — There is plenty of paper work for 4-H club officers when club meetings are held. Pictured above are two of the officers of the Pampa Junior High School club as they check reports of club activities. They are, left to right, David Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Miller, west of Pampa, president, and Jimmy Eakin, son of Mrs. L. P. Eakin, southwest of Pampa, secretary. (News Photo) and conducted under the immediate supervision of county agents cooperatively employed by the Department of Agriculture, state colleges of agriculture and county governments. Clergymen, teachers and other professional men and women, together with outstanding farmers and homemakers, play an important part as local leaders in the development of this work which reaches almost two million rural young people each year, they pointed out.

Each 4-H club member does a "piece of work," under the supervision of the county agent or home demonstration agent, which depicts a better way of homemaking or agriculture, they pointed out.

"Problems are faced in farm homes, fields, barns, orchards, gardens and various community meeting places," Miss Burns stated. "In fact, farm boys and girls, through the 4-H club program, which in turn is an integral part of the community or county extension program, are brought into intimate contact with the many interwoven problems of their own home and community life.

"Through the various 4-H club activities involved, an effort is made to bring to each member the fine things in rural life and to develop in the young people the attitudes and ideals that make for upstanding manhood and womanhood," she said.

Each member keeps a record of costs, labor and results; explains the work to others; makes an exhibit, and writes a final report which summarizes the year's work, she added.

Educational objectives of 4-H work, as shown in the organizational manual, are as follows:

1. To help rural boys and girls develop desirable ideals and standards for farming, homemaking, community life and citizenship and a sense of responsibility for their attainment.
2. To afford rural boys and girls technical instruction in farming and homemaking that they may acquire skill and understanding in these fields and a clearer vision of agriculture as a basic industry and of homemaking as a worthy occupation.
3. To provide rural boys and girls an opportunity to "learn by doing" through conducting certain farm and home enterprises and demonstrating to others what they have learned.
4. To teach rural boys and girls the value of research and to develop in them a scientific attitude toward the problems of the farm and the home.
5. To train rural boys and girls in cooperative action to the end that they may increase their accomplishments and through associated efforts better assist in solving rural problems.
6. To develop in rural boys and girls habits of healthful living to provide them with information and direction in the intelligent use of leisure time and to arouse in them worthy ambitions and a desire to continue to learn in order that they may live fuller and richer lives.
7. To teach and to demonstrate to rural boys and girls methods designed to improve practices in agriculture and homemaking to the end that farm incomes may be increased, standards of living improved and the satisfactions of farm life enhanced.

There are 215 girls in the nine 4-H clubs of Gray County, Miss Burns stated. County clubs are Blue Bell, Southwest of Pampa; Wayadettes, north of Pampa; Grandview, Hopkins, Alameda, McLean, Pampa Junior High School and two clubs in Lester.

Among projects being carried out by the girls are foods, clothing and bedroom improvement. Each project is built on a three-year basis she declared.

The average age of 4-H club girls in Gray County is 12, she added.

Gray County girls have entered frozen foods, better baking and shrub identification contests annually in the Amarillo Fair. They also have participated in dress reviews.

There are seven 4-H clubs for boys in the county with a total membership of 146. These clubs are Pampa High School, Pampa Junior High School, Grandview, Groom, Hopkins Alameda and McLean.

English Playwright Sets Record Held By G. B. Shaw

LONDON, Feb. 27 — UP — Once upon a time people used to say: Life begins at 40.

But Saturday Eden Phillpotts stepped jauntily from his home in Exeter and took his usual walk as though he had not just established one of the rarest of world records.

By completing the script of his new play, "The Laughing Widow," Phillpotts — although he did not know it at the time — look from George Bernard Shaw one of the distinctions the great Irish playwright coveted most.

He became the oldest man known to have written a play that was actually produced.

Phillpotts is 91. Shaw's last produced play was written at 91, too but the British author has a couple months edge on Shaw.

A best selling novelist and hit shows throughout the aPnhandle including Top of Texas Fat Stock Show here, Moberly stated.

The grass and livestock judging teams of the county last week entered the judging contests at the Amarillo Fat Stock Show with the grass team taking seventh place and the livestock team placing eighth.

the letters come from girls one-fifth his age.

Matthews is the film actor in most demand in Britain. He neither looks nor acts within 40 years of his real age and adds that only a cad would compare the bobbysoxers of 1900 with the bobbysoxers of 1954.

"You can say," he said, "that both are delightful."

Fred Brook Took A 'Long Step'

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer
 A Brooklynite who married a Pampa girl, Fred Brook, Monday will enter his first regular week as Pampa's city manager.
 And it was the U.S. Army Air Force that did it.
 For, if Fred Brook had not entered the Air Force and had not been stationed in Pampa during World War II, he would not have met and married the former Miss Virginia Line and would not have become the Pampa city manager.
 It has been a long step — both occupationally and geographically — that Fred Brook has taken from his days in Brooklyn (N.Y.) Technical High School (Class of '28) to last Tuesday when the Pampa City Commission named him successor to City Manager B. H. Cruce.

THEY LIKE MANTOVANI — Pampa's new city manager, Fred Brook, and his wife, the former Miss Virginia Line, gather around their phonograph at home at 1805 N. Williston and listen to records. They like Mantovani and other light classical renditions. Saturday Brook was all on his own as city manager. (News Photo)

"My stomach did a flop," the former assistant city engineer said at the time, upon being advised of the commission decision. At week's end the sandy-haired city official was still shaking his head, as if he were unable to believe the events of the past few days.
 It was a Feb. 23 that Brook will long remember. Things popped lightning-fast. The commission named him. City Tax Assessor-Collector Aubrey Jones swore him into office. Cruce, City Attorney Bob Gordon and City Secretary Ed Vicars took him to lunch — and made him pay. ("I couldn't eat a thing," he recalled.) He moved into Cruce's office and was closeted with Cruce during the rest of the week. And then Cruce left town Saturday and Brook was on his own.

Mrs. Brook, a quiet, charming woman, was not among the first to hear of her husband's promotion. "I called to find out where the car was," she said, "and Fred answered, 'Mrs. Brook, this is the new city manager talking.'" By that time, he had been shaking hands and accepting congratulations for some time in the city commission room in City Hall. Brook explained, "Nobody gave me a chance to call my wife."
 Brook met his brunette wife in December, 1942, at a party for cadets stationed at the Pampa Air Base. Eight months later they were married in the base chapel by Chaplain Maurice P. Garner.
 The Army kept them separated from the time Brook was sent overseas in October, 1943, to the European Theater of Operations until his return to the United States in November, 1946, when he was discharged as a captain.
 And Brook has worked for the City of Pampa ever since, until last Tuesday in the engineering department, the last three years as assistant city engineer. Mr. Brook was born and reared in Pampa, was graduated from West Texas State College, and lived here "off and on" till she accepted the job of teaching English in the Pampa Junior High School. And that's what she does today.
 The Brook's live at 1805 N. Williston, a gray, white-trimmed house with that modern, well-scrubbed look about it. A large picture window in the front looks in on the living room — and a blond-colored photograph. They like to relax and listen to light classical music. Mantovani is a favorite.
 "We're a hobbyless family," Mrs. Brook said, adding that grading papers and generally taking care of school work is "fairly full hobby." The number of outside activities in which Brook participates would necessarily keep him from having many hobbies.
 For the fledgling city manager is on the board of directors of the Pampa Rotary Club (he and Cruce co-edited the weekly club paper); he was city chairman of the 1954 March of Dimes campaign; he is a member and past Master of the Pampa Masonic Lodge; he is chapter "dad" for Pampa DeMolays, a separate group; and he is on the Scouts' Santa Fe District organization and estimation committee. Mr. and Mrs. Brook attend the First Baptist Church.

admitted. Now, every summer, they go trout-fishing in Colorado.
 Another thing — a "hobby" — that he likes is the garage which may soon become a workshop as well. Construction on it was finished in September and Brook likes to "putter around out there," according to Mrs. Brook.
 That spring-time "green thumb" has an "in" at the Brook household, too. Brook passed over that subject with a laughing "We've got a front lawn, it's just getting started." But the missus likes roses. "Just run-of-the-mill roses." Said Brook: "We put 'em in and let 'em grow."
 The Brook's are almost as pleased with their home as they are with his new job. They'll have lived there two years this June and "this is our first real home."
 The perennial question about who does the dishes in the family produced a very diplomatic answer from the man of the house: "It's a joint affair." Added Mrs. Brook: "He's a handy rian to have around."
 His associates in City Hall have had a quite a chuckle in the past few days since Brook's appointment. As assistant city engineer, he was known for his open-throat sports shirts. But now there's been a change — sleeves rolled down, cuff links, conservative tie, even a tie clasp.

 That he's taking his new job seriously is evident. The first city commission meeting which he'll attend as city manager comes Tuesday morning and he's a bit worried—"naturally." The "first time," he said, "the first time, it's about the first thing on the agenda will be the approval of his $10,000 bond if it's prepared and the authorizing of the acceptance of his signature. "I can't even sign a check now," he said. (But Jones and Vicars can.)

 The new city manager is a permanent Northerner — turned Southerner all right. And that means a Pampan.
 "This is our home from here on out," he said. "We don't intend to leave."
 "Except," he added, with a quick wink at his wife and a far-off look toward, "for that Colorado fishing summer."

A SAW

... is to build with

And nobody in this neck-of-the-woods does a better job with one than "Speedy" Naylor. Whether it's building an entire home, a beautiful cabinet, or a chicken coop — "Speedy" is the best man for the job. One day I asked him how he became so expert with any type of carpentry work, and he said:

"I guess it's all a matter of pride. In the old days there was a lot of pride in craftsmanship, but you don't find the spirit too strong now-a-days. Course I learned from my father, and I'll tell you this: If I didn't approach every job as if I were doing it for myself, try to improve every day, and take good care of my tools—I'd be in for a "tanning." Those teachings have stood me in good stead through years of building in fair weather and foul... in sickness and health. Speaking of sickness; when that is my lot, I never forgot to practice the golden rule when it concerned another "craftsman" imbued with pride in his work—our family doctor. Since I always expect prompt payment after a job well done, I see to it that "Doc" gets the same treatment when he works for me."

Too bad we aren't all as meticulous in the handling of our medical expenses as neighbor Naylor. Perhaps we would be if we ever stopped to consider that our negligence may handicap our doctor, our dentist, and our hospital in extending to others the same wonderful medical attention that we appreciate so much at the time of our own need. If your medical servants are to maintain a high degree of competency, they will incur expense upon expense for staffs, equipment, research and supplies. Would we want it said that our negligence in making regular and prompt payment on our medical bills denied others needed medical attention?

Report Cards Situation In Maryland Is 'Snafued'

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Feb. 27—UP—I guess I would have done better in school if I had been born 35 or more years later.

Anyhow, it seems that in Anne Arundel county, Md., the teachers use report cards which have only two grades—"satisfactory" or "needs improvement."

There is quite a hassle about the cards at the moment in the state Legislature. Some want to keep the "S and N's." Others would like to go back to the old-fashioned, or five-level deal of four letters—and out, like A, B, C, D, and flunk.

In my day in the grammar school we were graded by numbers—100 for perfect, which few of us were, and 70 for barely passing and never mind the comments! At once got a minus 71 on department for dunking a blond curl in my ink-well in grade four.

SH Can Flunk
Anyhow, I looked into this "S and N" deal and found out that, after all, it is possible to flunk even if the kid is a "needs improvement" pupil!

But "is situation in Maryland runs even deeper.

Maryland Delegate Orlando Ridout, a Democrat, says some character has introduced what is known as the "wishing well" tests for school children.

What the tests have to do with the report cards is not too clear, but they must have been used because parents are protesting and said so the other day at a hearing in Annapolis.

If the kids answered, they also tattled at home.

What the questions on the "wishing well" were isn't clear either. But, according to Ridout, they must have been used.

"Parents," he said, "are upset about the things the kids brought home." The answers they gave—mistake—the questions that must have been asked.

Like:
"I wish my daddy made more money so I could go to more places and didn't have to wear these kinds of clothes. After all, my sister wears 'em out first."

A Big Question
"I wish I know how you can make a lot of money and still be a good citizen."

"I wish my dad and mommy wouldn't do things that embarrass me."

The tests and the question about the report cards somehow got tangled together. In my old schools we answered only the questions in the class room. Sometimes we dragged out the family wash to be laundered.

If we did and the high command at home found out about it, (which the family generally did), there was a woodshed behind the cabin where things like that were settled. And there was no appeal to a higher court.

GUESS WHAT?—If you think they're a boy's marbles on the sunspot floor or a multiple eclipse of the sun, you have another guess coming. It is one of the first pictures ever made of what University of Maryland scientists believe to be the common cold virus. The irritating headache and sneeze-producing viruses were caught by an electron microscope and camera, and magnified some 200,000 times.

THE MARQUEE

BY DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — "Your Show of Shows," which has dropped in public interest drastically of late, is going to do something about it. It's going to quit.

Rumors have been flying about Sid Caesar, Imogene Coca and producer Max Liebman, but it now seems definite that this is the last season for the once-mighty show. Next year should find:

Sid Caesar doing the Colgate Comedy Hour on Sunday nights, three weeks out of four.

Imogene Coca with a show of her own — she's shopping around now.

Max Liebman building a completely new program, in the same Saturday night time he made into TV's best.

"Sic Semper Formularis. (English translation: Thus Always with shows that get too formulaized.)

"Suspense," CBS-TV's mystery show with more chills than an Eskimo bathing beauty, is going to celebrate its fifth birthday come March 2. And for a birthday present, it's going to give you a Mickey Spillane, that is.

The show will present the first original Spillane TV script, with Mickey himself starring. How're you fixed for sleeping pills?

Birthdays to "Suspense": Happy birthday to you, buddy. But can't you be a little less bloody?

The surprise hit of the last few months is DuMont's "Dollar a Second," starring Jan Murray. It's a game-quiz that combines the best features of "Beat the Clock," "Break the Bank," and Saturday night at the Psychiatrist's. It comes out a very funny show.

And Murray seems to have finally found the right spot for himself. Talking to him in the office of producer Jess Kimmel, you get the definite impression that here's a guy who's happy in his work. And vice versa.

"I think this is the best show I've had," he said. "Of course, as a comic, I sometimes wish I had more chance to do comedy. But I still do benefits and things like that, to keep my hand in. If I didn't do some outside work, I'd miss not doing so much comedy. As it is, I'm having fun."

The Kimmel-Murray office is dominated by a blackboard that covers one wall. On it are scrawled the brief descriptions of coming shows, with phrases for each planned stunt and game. It reads like a coded message, with items like "squirrly candle," "lost dog," and "husband home late."

Murray, like most top TV figures, is no longer a private citizen. He's public property. The viewers regard him almost as a national monument.

"They know every blemish on your face," he says. "If I wear a dark suit, they write and say I look good in dark suits and should never wear anything else. Then I'll wear a light suit and I'll get letters saying they love me in light suits. If I cough, they send medicine."

The two-tone hair-dos, all the rage a year ago, have slipped down a few inches. Now it's two-tone eyebrows. The models at the Grace Downs agency started it. They wear one blonde and one brown eyebrow.

"It's way, say, they can go on a double-date by themselves.

Tinted auto windshields are adding another D to D movies; dilemma. Operators of outdoor movies are worried, because looking at a D movie through a tinted windshield distorts the effect.

There's one easy solution, men — back 'em in.

Comment by one of Judy Holliday's Columbia bosses when the erroneous report reached his desk that she would tour the night clubs with Basil Rathbone as a partner:

"What's Judy gonna play — Dr. Watson?"

Tallulah Best Seller Tallulah Bankhead, opening a months stand at the Sands Hotel in Las Vegas, flipped these at the first night mob: "My book has passed the million mark in sales. Now you know why the Kinsey report didn't sell too well."

And: "I wanted to get one of those new Italian haircuts, but I couldn't find a new Italian."

Alan Ladd has his career bomb-tight trained on a comedy, "The Reluctant Bride." . . . Maureen O'Hara has lawyers on an immigrant matter that will permit her parents and sister to leave Eire and settle in the U. S. Eddie Cantor says he'll play Las Vegas this summer if doctors give him the green light. . . . Rita Hayworth's father and brother are chewing the fat over the long-silence from her. Not one line or telephone call from Rita since she became Mrs. Dick Haymes.

Arlene Dahl, tired of just looking beautiful, has asked her agent to find her a comedy role — in a Martin and Lewis flicker if possible.

The Theater Guild wants Margaret O'Brien for a Broadway revival of Ibsen's "The Wild Duck."

Hot Water For Errol Errol Flynn's ex and mother of his two daughters, Nora Haymes, holds all the trump cards at the moment — their legal step-jack game. Papers to be served on him for failing to support his kiddies for over a year are all drawn up and ready to be served on him the minute he sets foot on U. S. soil probably next month. So are attachments on his movie, "Crossed Swords."

Nora and the daughters are moving back into the Flynn home as part of the big legal landslide headed in Flynn's direction.

Dennis Day and George Gobel were booked on the same night; bill in Manhattan, but one of them — I'm not spilling the beans — sneezed out in a hurry. Too much competition.

Now that Jack Lemmon and Gowder Champion have been set as Betty Grable's leading men in "The Pleasure of All Men," it can be told that Betty did not scream about the studio's choice of male players when she was originally announced for the musical last year. The story was manufactured to cover a big money battle between the shapely blonde and her former Fox studio bosses.

Uncle Sam has clapped an attachment on every dollar earmarked for Mario Lanza from the sale of his records. He's been living on the royalties since leaving MGM. Now what? No spaghetti, I guess.

"Paper" Plate Is Hard WATERVILLE, Me. — UP—One manufacturer is producing a "paper" plate made of chemical pulp which the company claims is hard to distinguish from china. The plate is white with a smooth finish and will resist "average pressure" from a carving knife, the company says. (Keyes Fiber Co.)

"I want a rug for our television room—something that will blend nicely with cigar ash and beer!"

Griffin, McIlvain Are On 2nd Team

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Two unanimous choices, Jimmy Bond of the champion Pampa Harvesters and Allen Simpson of the Borger Bulldogs, highlight the All-District 1-AAAA cage selections released today by district statistician Cliff Wright of Amarillo.

For Bond, it was the third straight year to land a spot on the All-1-4A first team which represents every year 1-4A has been in operation. The 6-5 center was also a unanimous choice last year. As a sophomore, Jimmy posted nine of a possible 14 votes in making the all-1-4A team the first time.

In addition to Bond and Simpson, others named on the first team were Ken Hutto of Amarillo, Milton Nickel of San Angelo and Dale Ball of Lubbock. Bond is the lone repeater off last year's all-district team. Simpson moved up from the second team.

Hutto lacked three votes of being a unanimous choice, the Sande guard posting 25 of a possible 28 votes. Nickel received 20 votes and Ball 19.

The all-district team was picked by the coaches and sports writers of the member cities. Each first team vote counted two points and a second team vote counted one. No coach or sports writer was permitted to vote for players on their own team but only for opposing players.

The Harvesters led the second team balloting, placing two players on the No. 2 team. E. Jay McIlvain and Gary Griffin, who form the Harvesters forwards, each garnered 13 votes to land on the second team. Others on the second team are Wade Wolfe of Lubbock (17 votes); Tom Dyer of Midland (14 votes); J. Jackie Collier of Amarillo (10 votes).

All five of the first team are seniors. Only two seniors are on the second team, Dyer and Collier. Griffin, McIlvain and Wolfe are all juniors.

Two teams, Abilene and Odessa, didn't place a boy on either the first or second team. Pampa led the overall balloting with three on the first and second teams and one honorable mention. George Depee was the Harvester named on the honorable mention list.

Amarillo and Lubbock followed Pampa in putting most players on the first and second team with two each. Both schools had one on each the first and second team. Borger, Midland and San Angelo had one player to make up the first or second team.

The Pampa chapter consists of seven members but more are needed. Present members are A. G. (Salty) Garrett, Newt Secrest, W. M. Ledbetter, Clifford Everhart, Otto Mangold, Weldon Trice and Ralph Schneider. Garrett is the club's president and Ledbetter the secretary.

All men who are interested in basketball officiating and who would like to become a member of the S.B.O.A. Chapter in Pampa are cordially invited to the meeting. Previously membership has been in the Amarillo chapter.

Harvester Cagers Toast Of Town Upon Gaining 2nd Straight State Meet Berth

CONGRATULATIONS ARE IN order, of course, to the Hustlin' Harvesters and to the four boys receiving mention for All-District 1-4A honors.

We're glad we don't have to cancel our reservations in Austin this weekend now that the Green and Golders have nailed down another berth in the state tournament. The Harvesters added bidistrict laurels to their already glowing list of honors Friday by clinching the El Paso series.

And it's to Austin this week for the McNeelys.

Just as a matter of advice, if you want to see a show that is a show, take in the state tourney this week. Activity begins Thursday morning and continues right through Saturday night. Some 20 games of basketball will be played during this time that pits the very finest schoolboy basketballers in the state.

The Harvesters won't see action until Friday night but watching those other games will be well worth your while, especially if you're an ardent cage fan.

The state tournament story written by Dr. Rhea Williams, athletic director of the Texas Interscholastic League, that may be found elsewhere on this page gives a pretty good idea what to expect at Austin this week.

To Jimmy Bond, Gary Griffin, E. Jay McIlvain and George Depee congratulations for your mention on the all-district selections. For further details on the all-district honors, consult the above story.

IT'S GETTING TO THE POINT that every time a coaching vacancy opens up anywhere in the Southwest, Harvester coach Tom Tipps' name comes up as the probable successor to the outgoing coach.

We can readily see why other schools might want the popular Harvester grid mentor but it must be hard on Tipps to have these rumors flying around from one football season to the next that he is bound for such-and-such a school.

For one thing, some of the rumors that get out makes it seem that Tipps is wanting to leave Pampa High School. But it's not that at all. Tipps must be satisfied with the Pampa setup or he wouldn't have hung around seven years.

These rumors possibly keep the school officials here in a dither, wondering what Tipps' next move will be.

I could be wrong, but I don't believe Tipps has ever applied for another coaching job during the past two years. He's accepted interviews with various schools concerning coaching posts but you can't blame him for this.

Coaching is just like any other profession — that of wanting to get ahead in your chosen field. If some school offers Tipps more money than he's getting here, then he couldn't be blamed for taking it.

The scuttlebutt that had Tipps going to Fort Arthur spread so fast that still another rumor on Tipps' successor here was in the making.

Glenn Elkins, sports editor for the Dorgan News-Herald, made the following statements in his column Thursday:

"The Borger school board extended contracts to its two head coaches, Neal Dillman and E. B. (Tex) Hanna yesterday and it would appear that the athletic staff is set for at least another year.

"But rumors are already under way that Dillman may be offered the football job at Pampa, if and when Tom Tipps goes to Fort Arthur. Harvester fans like to go along with a winner and the personable Dillman proved he had the stuff when he upset Pampa in the final 1953 game."

Well, as we said in this space Friday, Tipps told us flatly he isn't going to Fort Arthur.

Don't know exactly what Elkins meant by "Pampa likes to go along with a winner." Tell me who doesn't.

Elkins might have been implying here that Pampa must have a winner or else. Such isn't the case, though.

So long as the boys are putting out and doing their best, there will be no protest here from the fans or school officials.

And Tipps usually gets the job done in this respect.

The only school we know of that MUST have a winner is Odessa. Loss one game — especially if it's to Lubbock — and that's all breaded with the Pampa setup or he

Santee Runs 4:06.5 Mile

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 27—UP—Wes Santee ran the mile in 4:06.5 in the Big Seven indoor track meet held off his bid for a four-minute mile, but a new conference record.

The old mark in the Big Seven was 4:08.2, set by Santee last year, The University of Kansas star, runner of the fastest American mile at 4:02.4 a year ago at Compton, Calif., was ahead all the way after the first lap.

But the cheering if 8,500 "go Santee" fans couldn't get the slim brush runner over the 12 laps anywhere near his four-minute goal.

Santee failed also to break Gil Dodd's board track record of 4:05.3 run in Madison Square Garden in 1948.

Kansas took four places in the mile, first, second, third and fifth with Missouri's Ken Halsey getting fourth. Kansas finishing behind Santee were Al Dalsell, Allen Frame, and Lloyd Koby.

Kansas won the meet with 68 points. Second place went to Missouri with 31. The other teams scored: Oklahoma 27½; Colorado 21; Kansas State 20; Nebraska 1½ and Iowa State 1½.

Wichita Falls Gains State Tourney Berth

WICHITA FALLS, Feb. 27—(Special)—The Wichita Falls Coyotes made it two in a row over Thomas Jefferson of San Antonio here Saturday night to capture the bidistrict series and gain a berth in the state tournament. The final score was 68-58.

Jeff had won the first game of the series Tuesday night at San Antonio but when the series switched to Wichita Falls Friday night, the Coyotes took command.

Pat King led the Coyotes in tonight's series clinching victory with 25 points, 15 coming in the last half. Marvin Kalisky was high for Jeff with 20 points.

Top-Rated Dukes Face 'Jinx' In NIT

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—UP—Duke's basketball team seems a cinch to be top-seeded in the National Invitation Tournament starting next Saturday—and that seems like piling one "jinx" on top of another.

First of all, the NIT itself has been a "jinx" for the Dukes, who never have been able to cop the title in this big post-season court carnival in six previous tries.

And jinx No. 2 is that, down through the years, the NIT has been a "graveyard" for favorites. That's why making the tall and talented team from Pittsburgh the official favorite seems like putting a "double whammy" on them.

In all their previous forays at the crown, the Dukes came closest in their very first try back in 1940. That year, Coach Chick Davies led the school into its first post-season tournament and led them right into the final round. But there they came a cropper, losing to Colorado 51 to 40.

They were back again in 1941, but lost to Ohio University in the first round 50 to 40. History repeated in 1947 when the Dukes once again were ousted in the opening round, this time by Utah, 49 to 44.

In 1950, present Coach Donald (Dudey) Moore led Duquesne into the NIT for the first time but was eliminated in the second round by CNY, the team which en route to a double championship 42 to 32, in the semi-finals. In 1952, the semi-finals again were the stumbling block as the Dukes bowed to title-bound La Salle 59 to 48.

And last year it was another semi-final defeat, this time to St. John's 64 to 55 in a stunning upset.

This, of course, will be the first time that Duquesne went into the tournament ranked as the No. 1 team in the nation in this week's coaches' balloting.

Then, too, the Dukes think they have a m a s h e d their Madison Square Garden hoodoo for all time coming through as the favorite to hold the Holiday Festival tournament in the big arena last Christmas week.

Mantle, Ford Come To Terms

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., Feb. 27—UP—Outfielder Mickey Mantle settled his salary dispute with the New York Yankees in a telephone conversation from his Commerce, Okla., home Saturday only a few hours after pitcher Whitey Ford also came to terms for 1954.

Mantle is believed to have received a $25,000 contract calling for a $7,500 raise over last season, even though his performance slipped somewhat from 1952. The 22-year-old star told General Manager George Weiss that he would leave immediately by automobile, with his family, for spring training camp. He is expected to arrive Tuesday.

Ford, expected to be the Yankees' No. 1 pitcher this season, signed for a sizeable raise over 1953 after a morning conference with Assistant General Manager Roy Hamey. The 25-year-old left-hander, who had an 18-6 record last season, agreed to a contract calling for $20,000 in $22,000, compared to his $12,000 for last year.

Two Hold Out The signing of Mantle and Ford still left regulars Gene Woodling and Bill Martin holding out. Infielder Ray Searcy, who had not yet come to terms, was sold Saturday to the Yankees' Kansas City farm team in the American Association.

Pitcher Johnny Sain also is unsigned but he has announced that he has retired from baseball. Weiss also announced that pitcher Tom Morgan, now in the Army at Fort Sill, Okla., will report to the Yankees' training camp on March 15. Morgan, who had a 9-3 record in 1953, is to be discharged from the service April 27.

Batted .395 Mantle batted .395 in 127 games last season, knocking in 92 runs and hitting 22 home runs. In the World Series, he hit only .208, although he walloped two home runs on a grand slam. His 1952 regular season average was .311.

The young centerfielder underwent an operation on his knee during the off-season and may not be in top playing shape for the early weeks of the season.

Ford was the Yankees' leading pitcher in win-and-lost record last season and also had a 3.00 earned run average. With Vic Raschi traded to the St. Louis Cardinals, and Allie Reynolds and Ed Lopat slowing down because of age, Ford is expected to be the club's top pitcher this year.

UP AND IN—E. Jay McIlvain, No. 22, Harvester forward, goes up and fires one in Friday's bi-district clash with the El Paso Tigers at Harvester Fieldhouse. McIlvain's shot was good despite the fact that Fernando Mercado, No. 25, El Paso center, appears to be holding in trying to prevent the shot. The pointer gave the Harvesters a n 8-1 lead midway through the first quarter. Watching the fierce action and standing by for aid are Joe Chavez, No. 21, of El Paso; Harold Lewis, No. 44, of the Harvesters; Freddy Palacios, No. 26, of El Paso. The Harvesters went on from this point to record a 72-46 victory and clinch a berth in the state tournament. (News Photo by T. D. Ellis)

Harvesters Beat EP To Enter State Meet

Jimmy Bond made his final appearance at Harvester Fieldhouse Friday night and in so doing turned in one of his finer performances of the season as he led the Hustlin' Harvesters to a bi-district series clinching victory over the El Paso Tigers before another sellout crowd of 2,500 fans.

The final count was 72-46 for the Green and Golders and Bond accounted for 29 tallies. In addition, Bond played an outstanding defensive game, knocking down numerous El Paso shots at the bucket and intercepting several tiger passes.

Friday's win, their 54th in succession, gained a state tournament berth for Coach Clifton McNeely's charges for the second straight year. The Harvesters thus will be defending the state title they won last year when they journey to Austin next weekend.

Harvesters wasted little time in taking command of Friday night's tilt. Gary Griffin pumped in a jump shot after 45 seconds of play to give the Harvesters a 2-0 lead and the PHSIans led the rest of the way.

Field goals by Ken Hinkle, Griffin, E. Jay McIlvain and Harold Lewis and free tosses by Lewis and McIlvain pushed the Harvesters out front 12-2 at the 6:00 minute mark.

El Paso, who hadn't counted a field goal at this point, hit two from the floor in the final two minutes of the first period to whittle the Harvester lead to 11-7. Wilbur Kohls made both of the first period El Paso field goals. His second 2-pointer cut the margin to 12-7 but Hinkle dropped in a one-hander just before the buzzer to make it 14-7 at the quarter mark.

The Tigers stayed within striking distance of catching up through most of the second period before the Green and Golders poured on the steam the latter portion of the first half to lead 34-18.

Before pulling away to a commanding lead, the Harvesters led by only 20-13.

There was no doubt of the final outcome after the intermission as the Harvesters made it 53-32 at the third-quarter stage.

The Harvesters fired 57 shots from the floor and hit 24 for 42.1 per cent. El Paso attempted 59 field goals, made 17 for 28.8.

McIlvain followed Bond in the scoring for the Harvesters with 251 points. Griffin's average is 18.5 per game. He has scored 141 times from the floor and 69 from the gift line.

McIlvain at 315 points and a 12.1 average is the third top Harvester. Ken Hinkle is fourth with 178 points while George Depece rounds out the top five with 80. Hernandez and Castillo are tied for 78.

Following are the Harvester scorers for the season:

Player	G	P	Ft	Pct	Av.

Boxing Head Scoffs At Betting Rumor On Perez-Pep Duel

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—UP—Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Commission scoffed Saturday at rumors of a betting coup in connection with young Lulu Perez's second-round technical knockout of ex-featherweight champion Willie Pep.

"Certainly I heard rumors Friday night in Madison Square Garden," Christenberry admitted. "But anyone who saw that fight to the chin flatter Pep the first time should know there was nothing wrong with the fight. It was an instance of youth must be served."

Fifth-ranking Perez of Brooklyn floored top-ranking Pep of Hartford, Conn., three times with straight rights in the second round. Referee Al Bert stopped the bout at 1:53 of that session when 31-year-old Willie was down the third time.

Bert obeyed the New York state rule which permits but three knockdowns in any one round of a non-title bout.

Bert's action snapped Pep's winning streak at 19 and shattered his dream of recapturing the crown he had twice won and lost during the days he was a feather-footed will-o'-th-wisp. He appeared a leaden-footed old man of the ring after a leaden night.

The nationally televised and broadcast bout attracted 7,396 fans—many from Connecticut—and $22,808, the Garden's biggest boxing gate this year. From the net gate and TV-radio money, Pep will receive approximately $11,127; Perez, about $10,889.

This first meeting between 26-year-old Perez, scaling 120 1/2 pounds, and veteran Pep, 127 1/2, appeared such an excellent match that the odds hovered around "even money" until Wednesday when Lulu became favorite at 9 to 5.

But late Friday a flood of Perez money rocketed Lulu to 4 to 1 and "out." Bookies would accept no more wagers on the Brooklyn youngster. And wild rumors swept the Garden.

Begins Art Studies At 80

Mrs. John Hodge Is Pampa Version Of Grandma Moses

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Staff Writer

"I think everyone should start taking art lessons at 80," proclaimed Mrs. John Hodge, Pampa's counterpart of Grandma Moses. "Since I've been taking lessons, I feel like I'm 65 again."

What could have been a calamity for her, Mrs. Hodge turned into a blessing. Following a heart attack, Mrs. Hodge was told that she must limit her activities greatly. "I couldn't just sit and do nothing," Mrs. Hodge explained, so partly through the encouragement of her sister, who was taking lessons in ceramics, Mrs. Hodge began to work at that.

"I just bought me a kiln and started in," she explained. She never took lessons but learned "just by observation." Through-out her apartment are displayed many of her ceramic pieces, such as plates, cups and saucers, ash trays, salt and pepper shakers, and a holly-hock dish. On each of her ceramic pieces, Mrs. Hodge painted her own designs.

"There is a lot of art in ceramics," she explained. Many of her ceramics she molded with her fingers, and for some she used ready-made molds.

Then calamity struck again when Mrs. Hodge broke her arm. "I couldn't work my clay anymore," Mrs. Hodge pointed out, and that was the end of her ceramics. "But I thought that if I could paint the designs on my ceramics, maybe I could do art work."

So, Mrs. Hodge bought a "numbers picture." This is a drawing with numbered sections that correspond to different colors of paint. You match the number on the paint with the section, and you have a picture.

MRS. JOHN HODGE — Pampa's Grandma Moses, points out her favorite painting. Behind her, on the wall, is her "second favorite" work. Mrs. Hodge, 80, has had only four and a half months of instruction. "I just love it," she explained, "I feel like I'm young again since I've been painting." (News Photo)

"But I decided I wasn't learning anything from that," Mrs. Hodge explained. She did do some still-life paintings of her cat and some original scenes, but decided she needed some lessons.

"I started taking lessons the last day of March a year ago," she said. But due to hot weather and company, she has had a total of only four and a half months of instruction.

Now Mrs. Hodge is very enthused about her painting. "It's just like music," Mrs. Hodge pointed out. "You have to practice a lot. I love it better than anything, though. I'd paint all the time if I could."

Mrs. Hodge explained that the tedious part of painting is the detail, but it's what makes the picture. She gets most of her ideas from pictures in magazines, but draws her own version and puts in her own detail.

"I like nature scenes the best," she proclaimed. She also stated that she isn't interested in modern art.

"I'm afraid I don't appreciate modernistic painting," she explained. "It's because I haven't studied it or paid any attention to it."

In addition to her painting, Mrs. Hodge finishes most of the frames for her paintings.

"I buy boiled linseed oil and heat it on the stove," she explained. "Then I brush it on the frame. After it dries, I polish it with plain old floor wax." And the result is a lovely, natural-wood frame.

Before taking lessons, she tried some watercolor paintings, but it "didn't work so well," she stated. "With oil, if I make a dab, I can take it off. With water color you can't do that. Once it's on, you can't change it. I've got some water colors there in the closet, but I don't show them to anyone."

Mrs. Hodge is a pupil of Mrs. John V. Andrews, who says her pupil is "wonderful at her age."

"She has a lot of personal interest and expressed herself very well," Mrs. Andrews went on. "She is a real inspiration to us all. She's very exacting and sees everything necessary to put into her subjects."

Mrs. Hodge is the oldest of Mrs. Andrews' pupils, whose youngest is eight years old.

Mrs. Hodge is excitedly looking forward to the exhibit March 13 of the work of Mrs. Andrews' pupils in the Public Library. Others who will have paintings on exhibit are Jerry Sloan, Marietta Mitchell, Phyllis Burns, Ann Triplehorn, Joann Thompson, Lucille Gordon, Larry Wood, Rocks Fade, and Curt Shelton.

Mrs. Hodge has been in Pampa since "about 1929." She is the mother of Mrs. W. B. Weathered of Pampa and the mother of Mrs. Paulin Waite, a former Pampa, who has just returned from a two years' stay in Alaska. Mrs. Waite is also an artist and spent some time studying in Taos, N. M.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I read your answer to a young pregnant mother recently, advising her that this is her last child because of difficulties in the home.
I believe only God should advise his people on matters of new life and to prevent conception of a new child by some is considered morally sinful.
There are times when I suspect you should refer a writer with a problem to a representative of God—her minister, when it concerns a moral issue. Also on problems of marriage, unfaithfulness and unlawful romances. If you really believe you should advise them publicly, perhaps consult with a man of God over the letter and answer it privately as your influence on the young people is great and you may be responsible for sins by suggestion of what is left unsaid. Some things are too sacred for public printing.
I do hope and pray God blesses your work as you do a lot of good. But be careful! Stay within your limit.
A Mother

Dear Mother
No one need write me asking for advice unless he wishes. All are privileged to go to their minister if that is their desire.
If I attempted to offer advice which I felt agreed with what certain other people might offer then it would no longer be my advice or my opinion but that of someone else.

If people write me asking me how I would solve a problem, then I try to answer as honestly and as realistically as I can. I tell them what I think which, after all, is why they have written me. If they wanted to know what a minister's advice would be, then they would write to him or go to him for his opinion.

Grace Friend
I enjoy the advice you give to your readers very much.
Grace, do you think it is polite every year you have a birthday party in the crowd asks your age? I don't think it is very bloom do you?

A. H.
Dear A. H.
I suppose if you give a birthday party, thus calling attention to the fact that you are a year older, that you shouldn't be hurt when someone asks how old you are. You can always say "39."
Next year don't have a birthday party. Give one at Christmas instead.

20th Century Club Sponsored Art Exhibit Opens Tomorrow In Library

Editor's note: The following is quoted from local artist Dord Fitz, who is displaying the work of his Pampa students in a week-long exhibit starting tomorrow in the Public Library. The show, which is sponsored by the Art Club of the 20th Century Club, will include two paintings each of 50 beginning and advanced students of all ages. Coffee and refreshments will be served by the 20th Century Club's art committee consisting of Mrs. Roy McKernan, Mrs. Bob Gordon and Mrs. Ann High.
"People have a tendency to want to excel quickly in any new field they enter. This is a good thing but all major professions take time to master. The arts are no exception. In making a painting one must exhaust (in his own way) the expressive possibilities of the elements and their space building properties. Many space problems and exercises must be solved and performed before one learns to make a painting that will hold up as a structure called art. One can start painting by copying and get fairly professional results but the important thing in this world is to live your own life, be yourself and

Rest Now And Then For Youthful Vigor

By ALICIA HART
NBA Beauty Editor
Ethel Barrymore, replying to a query about her seemingly inexhaustible supply of energy, has said that once a month she takes to her bed for 24 hours. During that interval she just revels in inactivity.
Miss Barrymore's plan may not appeal to you, but, if you are a busy careerist or housewife, you should have some plan for fortifying energy. Whether you think you need one day a month in bed or an evening a week lounging around the house, be faithful to your program.
Your revitalizing program might begin with a few limbering exercises — the stretch and pull kind that make the muscles feel good, rather than sore.
Next, draw a warm, soothing bath. If you don't already have one, you'll find a rubber head cushion a perfect accessory. After an hour's lounging in the tub, pat on a fragile fragrance as a further inducement to a serene mood.
In the opinion of one perfume house, its body sachet, a powdered perfume, is designed for this type of extravagance. It can be sprinkled liberally over the body without disturbing any budget.
And the scent, the firm claims, is also the perfect complement to a relaxing bath. Wild roses, honeysuckle, yarrow and heliotrope are prominent in this fragrant bouquet of the perfume's art.
Before the mood leaves you, get into bed and enjoy the fact of being there while the rest of the household is still a beehive. If you find it fun, give yourself a manicure before turning out the light.
And to coax sweet dreams, the perfume house suggests that you touch your pillow with a light sprinkle of the sachet.

The use of girls' names for hurricanes was begun during World War II. Storms in the Pacific were given girls' names, taken from an alphabetical list, and Atlantic hurricanes received names from the phonetic alphabet. Girls' names for all hurricanes came into general use in 1953, after a new phonetic alphabet was adopted. Names of the hurricanes start with Alice, Barbara and Carol.

Manners Make Friends

If your son has reached the age where girls occasionally invite him to parties be sure that you teach him how to accept an invitation. He must not, of course, tell the girl he'll let her know later, or accept in such a way that he sounds as though he is doing her a favor. And he shouldn't turn her down unless he has a good excuse ready to offer. Who knows? If you impress this on him young enough he may not grow up to be the kind of husband who grumbles every time his wife wants him to take her out.

Peg O' Pampa

LIFE CAN BE BEAUTIFUL and about the time I get discouraged with this place we call home and my back begins to ache from dishing out the dust (and I didn't say dirt!) along comes a M'oney of a day and brings the joy back to my soul.

FAIR WEATHER OR FOUL our own Pampa makes the news all over these United States when we manage a real duster-buster. I heard that Bob and Gertie Clark called up the Julian Keys from North Carolina during our "big blow" to ask in a meek and consoling tone, "How's the weather out there?"

GOT AROUND TO A BOOK the other day called "The Southerners" by Edna Lee. The skeleton plot reads something like an old fashioned melodrama, but it was interlaced with some rather interesting homespun philosophy. One bit that stuck in my mind said something to the effect that most of us fail to appreciate happiness when it knocks on the door because it doesn't carry a twenty-five year guarantee not to tarnish.

DO YOU AGREE that the up-and-coming generation of American kids will develop into an amoeba-like organism from being carried around in push carts until they finally end up in front of the television set? Frankly, I think the party that started this trend of thinking was just looking for something to write about. The young sprouts I see around still seem to be able to ride their bikes and play a heap of football in spite of these new-fangled inventions. Maybe it's this invigorating West Texas air that motivates them out of their chairs!

WHILE GROCERY SHOPPING yesterday morning I heard two sleepy-eyed housewives discussing the big time they had at the Celanese Recreation Club dance the night before at the Country Club. They said the informal atmosphere was gay and loads of fun. Mary Ann and George Perkins were there with Jo and John Gentry, and Ruth and Bob Goodwyn were adding their spark to make it a good party.

GOTTA PEEK at the rehearsals for the Lions Club Minstrel the other night, and let me tell you that show is going to be a real laugh getter and a knee slapper. It comes off with a bang Monday and Tuesday nights at 8 and features some of those famous community comedians like Dr. Joe Donaldson, Ed Myatt, Rusty Ward, Aaron Sturgeon, and Rufe Jordan. There'll be some black-face gals in the show too — two chorus cuties I saw were Leatrice Clements and Mary Ann Guthrie. Better get your tickets now from the Lions or Barber-shoppers.

BETCHA AN ICE CREAM CONE there are lots of you fellers and wives who might be interested in organizing a Garden Club or two for Pampa. Our gardens and yards are something we are all interested in, and certainly we could benefit by exchanging ideas and plants. It's a pretty rough go to fight the elements around here at times, and the real answer might be to get together and make a study of what things grow best according to soil and climate, and what to do and when. In lots of communities the idea spreads to include studies and competitions in flower arrangements and civic beautification projects. Peg would like to put in her plug for a general "pick up wind blown rubbish" week to be followed by doing something to eliminate the cause. I would like to hear your ideas on this little ditty.

HERE'S A TOAST to the Twentieth Century Club which celebrated its Silver Anniversary Tuesday afternoon with a tea and style show for members and their guests at the home of Mrs. Frank Culberson, 2005 Charles. Mrs. Ann High, who was in charge of the decorations, really did herself proud as the silver-grey and white appointments were out of this world. Mrs. Fred Neslage served as commentator for the "now and then" fashion show depicting the best in fashion at the origin of the club and today. The entire commentary was in verse and she included a cute little ditty:

Please to look forward,
Please not to look behind,
Count your birthdays with a grateful mind.

Peg always gets a bang out of the flappers in a show like this, and petite Mrs. John Frisby made an especially attractive one. Albertine Tripplehorn was a doll in a skating outfit complete with a long heavy white sweater. Miss Sarah Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Gordon, was one of the intermission entertainers, and did a very mean Charleston. The 1954 models were all dressed right to the minute. Two outfits that particularly caught my eye were the mustard-colored torador slacks worn by Mrs. Kay Fancher, and the Hawaiian six-piece ensemble of a hand-blocked treasure island motif modeled by Mrs. John Hines. Peg sends an orchid to that ever diligent Mrs. Jack Foster for the splendid job she did in organizing the show.

WOULD LIKE TO SAY HELLO to a couple of fairly recent newcomers to Pampa. Could be that they've been here for sometime and ole Peg just hadn't had the opportunity to meet them, but here's my personal welcome to you Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Svoboda, and Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Vesale!

THE MEN of the Presbyterian Church got together the other night for a meeting and super-duper Mexican dinner prepared under the supervision of the famous chef, Paul Schneider. The Rev. Dick Crews of the First Christian Church was the speaker and spoke on "You and Your Minister." He has a way of hitting the nail on the head, and very neatly tied the whole thing up by telling the boys the three great temptations. I'll pass them on to you, free of charge:

1) The temptation to recline; 2) The temptation to shine and, 3) The temptation to whine, think it over.

MY CURIOSITY IS AROUSED about the Pampa float which is being considered by the Publicity and Advertising Committee of the Chamber of Commerce headed by Paul West. From what I hear Charles Tooker, Gayle Herr and John Gentry are working on an idea for a float that will be partially permanent but versatile enough to be used as Pampa's contribution for parades and events in this area.

A SNEAK PREVIEW of milady's spring bonnet was seen about town at some of the various social affairs. Just to give you an idea of some of the cute little chapeaus I saw while nosing around: a posie in a wisp of pink straw worn by Mrs. E. E. Shelhamer; Mrs. George Newberry looking very chic in a black and white striped affair with a little red whatchamacallit on one side; Mrs. E. L. Henderson's tulip yellow straw; Mrs. E. J. Dunigan Jr. in a white straw pill-box with a dash of white velvet. I've been told that most of the hats will be small this year which does away with the problem of how to manage a cartwheel hat and circular skirt at the same time. Especially when lady wind is making a nuisance of herself!

THE SPIRIT OF OLE ERIN came to Pampa last Thursday afternoon when the girls in the Parent Education Club entertained with their benefit bridge and canasta tournament at the Holy Souls Parish House; Saint Patrick's Day theme was carried out completely, and what a beautiful thing it was to see. The serving table was an eye-catcher with its green cloth and centerpiece of a gilded spike-like plant combined with various sized shamrocks. Mrs. Bob Curry was in charge of the decorating committee which, with her wealth of talent, should be enough said. Irish potatoes served as stands for the table numbers, and the tallies and score pads were shamrocks also. Personally, Peg enjoyed all those wonderful sandwiches and cookies the hostesses kept passing and tempting me with. Could be, I was so busy eating and drinking Cokes and coffee I failed to pay enough attention to the game, tennyrate, I too was green when they passed out those scrumptious looking packages. Mrs. M. V. Ward won the first prize for bridge, second high went to a Mrs. Randall (sorry Mrs. R., I never did get to meet you and learn your first name!) and Mrs. Roy McKernan copped the low prize. Mrs. Otis Nace was the winner for the canasta players. I had fun, and would like to see a repeat someday.

Loved chatting with you, and I'll be back next week with more of the latest.

Always,
Your Peg

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Last summer, the R.'s sent their seven-year-old son to camp. He hated it. He made what the camp director called a "poor adjustment."
Now the camp director wants another whack at adjusting David. He's written Mrs. R. expressing hope that David will again attend his camp next summer. He urges it because of David's special need of "camping's healthful influences. She asks me if she should. "We don't want to overprotect the child, she writes. "He has this failure behind him. His father believes that he should be forced to go back next summer to try to correct his mistakes."
If David were mine, I should send him back to the camp he hated only if he were eager to go. For only if he were eager could I be certain he felt sure he could correct last summer's failure. Strictly speaking, we have no right to call last summer a "failure." I, for example, would find it hard to lift a 100-pound weight.

We would not call my muscular insufficiency "failure." So why should we apply this word in its accusing and anxious sense to David's emotional insufficiency? Isn't the real mistake in other people's unrealistic expectations of David and me? I am not suggesting that we should ignore children's limitations. We can't do that. We have to register the fact that David failed to accept impersonal discipline and care from strangers last summer just as we have to register that he fears the truth when he tells us a lie.
What I'm urging is that we

Knox Kinard To Speak On School Taxes At P-TA

Horace Mann Parent-Teachers Association will meet Thursday night at 7:30 at the school to hear Knox Kinard speak on "What Our School Taxes Provide." The school chorus, under the direction of Mrs. Branham, will provide special music. Third grade teachers and mothers will serve refreshments.
Every parent is urged to visit classes sometime during Public School Week. see the poor camp adjustment, or a lie, in relation to David's age, so that we keep in touch with his need for time. Otherwise, we will forget it, and begin to anxiously press for the good adjustment and the truth right away now.
We may make the mistake of thinking we must hurry up and make personal arrangements for David's growth immediately. If we do, we only pay for it with excitement and anxiety.

SPRING WEDDING PLANNED — Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Patterson, 329 N. Dwight, announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Barbara, to James Lueddecke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Lueddecke, 915 S. Reid. The couple plans to exchange vows April 8 in the Central Baptist Church.

RUTH MILLET

"Kids today just can't afford to be intelligent." A junior high school student explained to his father, who happens to be superintendent of schools in a large city.
Though they might not put it in those words, the majority of children who crowd our public schools feel pretty much that way about it.
And in this case it is the schools — and not the parents — who are largely to blame.
Public schools don't play up scholarship any more. There's little honor for the child who studies hard and gets straight "A's." Many schools don't even have an honor roll any more.
All the emphasis is on the students who make the football team, get to be cheer leaders, or those who are voted "best dressed," "most popular," "best personality," etc.
No wonder the kids get the idea that they can't afford to be intelligent. There's no recognition for studying and making good grades.
But other things pay off. You can get your picture in the school paper for being voted "cutest girl," or by getting on the pep squad.
You'd never be mentioned for merely making the highest grades in your class.
In fact, if you do make high grades — you keep still about it. The rumor might get around that you're a "brain" — and that would

Baptist Women Study Louisiana Missions

The First Baptist Church W.M.S. met in an all day meeting last Wednesday for the purpose of studying the mission book "In Evangeline's Country," by John Caylor.
Mrs. J. R. Stroble, General Mission Book Chairman, was in charge of the program. Women from the various circles reviewed chapters from the book which told the history of missionary work in Louisiana from its inception to the present time. The needs of the people in that area and how they have been met were an inspiration and at the same time a challenge. Mrs. Pernal Scotty reviewed the story "The Little Boat Family" by Jane Carroll McKee, which told how the coming of Christianity into their lives changed a typical Louisiana bayou family.

The meeting was closed with prayer by Mrs. Kenneth Cook.

Rest Is Important To Keep Weight Up

By ROSEMARY CLOONEY
(Written for NEA Service)

Probably the most challenging aspect of our design for wholesome living has been getting my husband to rest during the day. To keep his weight up, he would have to learn to keep tension down. When Joe is not acting, he is producing, directing, making records or taking guitar, dancing or fencing lessons.

Of course, a lot of his time is spent looking over or studying scripts. Obviously, therein lay an opportunity for rest: All I had to do was encourage him to take advantage of it. Whether he had five minutes or an hour to read, doing it in a completely relaxed position would be a great help. The doctor had pointed out to us that several short rest periods during the day would be as effective, if not more effective, than one long one. As soon as he discovered that he could concentrate as well on his scripts while reclining as when pacing back and forth, Joe was willing to cooperate. And when he realized that he bounced back to work with renewed energy after the shortest rest, he really became enthusiastic.

Now, anytime he picks up a script or a book, he looks around for a comfortable place to stretch out. At home, his feet are more often draped over the back of a couch than they are on the floor. And there are no pleas on behalf of the furniture or of decorum forthcoming from this household.

EDITOR'S NOTE: Here's the fourth of seven articles in a unique two-way diet plan for the whole family—the ones who can eat no fat and the ones who can eat no lean, as the Jack Spratt rhyme goes. The big-star man and wife who tell their experience with the diet are the Jose Ferrers (she's Rosemary Clooney). Along with their story, Adeline Garner, a top nutrition expert for business results.

Three tablespoons bacon drippings, 1 medium-sized onion, chopped, 3 stalks celery, cut in 1-inch lengths, 1 quart boiling water, 1/4 cup chopped green pepper, 6 medium-sized Louisiana yams, peeled and cut into length-wise halves, 2 cups chicken stock or bouillon, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/2 teaspoon pepper, 2 1/2-ounce cans lobster, 1 cup light cream. Heat bacon drippings; add onion and celery and saute over low heat until tender. Add boiling water, green pepper, yams, chicken stock, salt and pepper; cover and cook over medium heat about 30 minutes until yams are tender. Add lobster; meanwhile, remove cartilage and comes from bony tissue from lobster. Break lobster into larger pieces. Add lobster and light cream to yam mixture. Heat to serving temperature. Swiss Cheese Yam Chowder (Makes 4-6 servings)

New England lobster stew with yams from Louisiana in it is certainly something unexpected. But it's a wonderful dish. The recipe comes from Mrs. Roy Papin of Marblehead, Mass. She says it's her Sunday night supper special. Louisiana Yam and Lobster Stew (Massachusetts Style) (Makes about a quart)

Local Girl At TSCW Gets Professional TV Experience

DENTON, Texas, Feb. 28 — A group of students of Texas State College for Women, including Miss Mariola Duval, Pampa, are getting professional television experience by presenting regular programs over KRLL-TV of Dallas, one of the big Texas stations.

Miss Duval, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Duval, 451 N. Hessel, is a junior speech major.

Since the series opened in the fall of 1953, TSCW speech and journalism students have given an original television and radio show each week, except during examinations and college holidays, most of the programs originating at the KRLL stations in Dallas.

After each performance the girls meet with station representatives and their TSCW professors to discuss the work.

"They are getting valuable training," Ed Hallock, KRLL's TV production director, said.

"You can honestly put in your recommendation that you have had a year's professional experience in TV," he told one of the teams of writers and performers recently.

J. W. Crocker, assistant manager of the station and one of the originators of the TSCW series, estimates the program go into 25,000 homes.

"Besides furnishing practical experience for the girls, the programs are entertaining and contain material of educational value to the listeners," Josh F. Roach, TSCW radio and drama professor, said.

He believes the girls are doing a better job now than last fall, as planners as well as performers. In fact, in one week a five-girl team sometimes comes up with enough

10 Area Students Named On Texas Tech Honor Roll

Ten Pampa area students at Texas technological College, Lubbock have been named on the Dean's honor roll for the fall semester. A perfect grade average is 3.00 and a student must have at least a 2.47 average to make the honor list.

Highest among the Pampa area group was Dibrail Stovall of Pampa, a sophomore student in agriculture with a perfect 3.00 average. Georgia Snyder of Wheeler, a junior in business administration, ranked a 2.81 average followed by Betty J. Nelson of Pampa, a sophomore in business administration with a 2.80 average.

Next in line were Lynn D. Speer of Pampa, a senior in engineering, and Edward L. Dwyer of McLean, a graduate student both with an average of 2.78. Billie L. McCendon of Pampa, a junior in engineering, rated a 2.76, with Marilyn Russell of Miami holding a 2.69 average.

Conservation Head Declares Farmers Are Misusing Lands

NEW YORK, Feb. 27 —UP—The swirling black clouds that rose in the western United States last week to haunt victims of the dust bowl disaster of the 1930s should serve as a warning to many farmers that they are misusing their land, one of the nation's leading conservationists said Friday.

Fairfield Osborn, president of the Conservation Foundation and a director of Resources for the Future, said many landowners along the western fringes of the fertile Great Plains states are courting trouble by exploiting their own property.

All along the vast strip of land stretching from the western Dakotas through Texas to the Mexican border, many farmers eager to cash in on property are putting too many cattle out to graze on sparse grass or are plowing the grass under and replacing it with wheat instead, he said.

"They are trying to get more out of their land than it can give them over a long term," Osborn said.

Flowing Loosens Soil

This fringe land can support wheat crops, which bring in more money under government price supports, for only a few years, he said. Land must be plowed for wheat planting. Flowing loosens topsoil. The fringe lands are dry, even in the best years.

So, Osborn said, it might not be long before the topsoil is blown away, leaving desolation behind and threatening death to crops in use.

Vandals Have Field Day At Auto Shows

WASHINGTON, Feb. 28 —UP—The trouble with automobile shows is that they are awfully hard on automobiles.

At least that was the case at the local show.

I talked with a lot of the folks who were showing shiny new models, and to a man, almost, they said that the wear and tear on their merchandise was not to be desired.

The dealers, of course, would like to sell what they are showing to the public and none of them wished to tongue-wag themselves out of business.

But one poor fellow showing off a fleet of pretty, stream-lined cars said: "Looks here."

I was amazed.

"Almost Stripped"

"You mean you took off all of the knobs and trills before you brought the cars on the floor?" I asked.

"That's where you're wrong mister," he replied. "We want the public to see the car just as it will look when a man drives it up and asks the family to come out and have a look."

Vandals and souvenir searchers — they are the culprits.

The man took me over to one cream-colored, hard top that was leather-lined inside.

Missing was a spotlight, worth a pretty. There wasn't a turning knob on the radio. The throttle button was gone. Also so was the little knob that screws onto the shift. Not to mention the controls for the air-cooling, the heat, and the windshield wipers and the starter for the flush of water that helps to keep the front glass on the modern cars clean. Even the screw-on inside door locks.

"Kids, mostly," the man said. "They come in with tiny little screw drivers and fat little hands and do a job on our cars while we are talking to their parents. Somebody even ran off with the wall-to-wall rug in the back of one of our best models the other day."

Even the wear and tear on the seats is terrific. Say a few hundred people, some of them fat and the air-cooling, the heat, and the windshield wipers and the starter for the flush of water that helps to keep the front glass on the modern cars clean. Even the screw-on inside door locks.

"That adds up to several loads of bouncing," he said.

One dealer told of the worst bit of vandalism. Somebody got into this back leather seat of a $4,800 model, took a razor blade, and ripped it from portals to stack-board board.

My ELECTRIC dryer's so gentle—the life of my clothes has increased!

"What's more, my electric clothes dryer gives me 'all weather' drying any season of the year. My time's my own when it comes to picking a drying day."

"By just opening my dryer door, and putting in the clothes, I save an hour and a half every washday. My trips to the clothesline are over, which saves one hour, and I no longer have to sprinkle the clothes for ironing, and that frees me from a half-hour of work."

"Because washing and drying is no longer back-breaking work, I wash more often. This saves money for me, because I can buy fewer clothes for the children. The dryer passes all the tests of true economy, it saves time, money, work, effort, and the clothes."

"You can't neglect your children just because it's washday. But it was hard not to neglect them before I had a dryer. Now I have much more time for the children and my other household duties."

TRY BEFORE YOU BUY

For 15 days, in your own home, you can try an electric clothes dryer without obligation. Tell your Reddy Kilowatt Dealer you want to TRY BEFORE YOU BUY and see for yourself, as Mrs. Hankla has, how much a dryer will do for you.

Scare Talk

It would be foolish to deny that considerable concern is being felt about the business and employment situation now. In some circles, the fear is openly expressed that we may be heading into really hard times. And it is certainly true that only the extremely optimistic expect 1954 to measure up to 1953, when all kinds of high records were established.

An excellent feature article on what is happening and what may be expected appeared in a recent issue of Newsweek. It started out with a $64 question — "just what is a depression, anyway?" It's a safe bet that very few people could give anything resembling a clear answer to that — too many imponderables are involved, and there are too many varying measures of comparison. Any depression will differ from others in degree. It is often said that we will be in a real depression if unemployment reaches 10,000,000. Yet, to scrape a bottom comparable to that of 1933, our unemployment rolls would have to total close to 16,000,000.

Newsweek said, "... a depression is a broad set of conditions which defies pin-pointing. In general, it's a sharp, steady, and prolonged drop in production. It's a steady growth in unemployment. ... And, as much as anything else, a depression is a state of mind ... fears mount ... It's a snowballing effect."

The magazine then presented the ideas of two economists. One is a British expert, who has been a close observer of American affairs, Colin Clark. Mr. Clark takes a pretty dark view. He thinks — with certain qualifications — that a depression is coming, even though it may be a short one. This opinion is based, in part, on what he considers a relatively low money supply, abnormally high business inventories, and not enough new construction.

An opposed case is offered by Professor E. S. Wright of Johns Hopkins, an economist of international reputation whose forecasts have often been remarkably accurate in the past. He contradicts Mr. Clark on every score, and writes: "There is no indication that depression conditions could develop. The bullish attitude of the consumers, the optimism of investment banks, the high level of construction activities, the active interest in business development shown by the government, the cut in taxes ... all these factors exclude the possibility of a major depression." He adds that we are now in a comparatively minor recession which soon will end, with the low reached before the middle of the year.

Newsweek also provided a forecast, based on a canvass of a large number of economists and businessmen. And it is certainly not a discouraging one, even though some people are due to be hurt and unemployment will probably average 3,000,000 for the year. The magazine said: "... it adds up to a time of appraisal, a breathing spell in which business can take time out, clear away the confusion, reset its sights. So how about the scare talk that is worrying so many Americans? The answer: a sliding off from the super-boom, yes. A bust, no — very far from it. The biggest problem: scare talk itself. And the facts make it clear such talk isn't justified."

Historical Note

On January 25, a married couple living in Mt. Vernon, New York, made financial history. They were the first people to buy common stock in an American corporation under a newly-devised installment purchase system. They had signed up to invest $40 a month in this fashion. On the same day several hundred other people also made initial purchases under plans calling for as little as $40 each quarter to as much as $999 a month.

This system of buying stock works just about like installment purchasing of automobiles or anything else — with the important exception that, if the investor decides to stop making payments, he receives the amount of stock he paid for and so takes no loss. The reception given it is interesting. Newspapers all over the country have praised it. It is significant that a number of labor papers have been enthusiastic about its potentialities for giving workers a chance to buy shares in enterprise. And the support the plan has received is not based on the financial aspects only. The thought is widely held that the American economic system and American freedom itself will be greatly supported and strengthened as more and more people of ordinary means get a direct personal interest in the concerns that provide much of our employment and supply us with our incredible wealth of goods and services.

Many millions of Americans now own stocks. The installment system will undoubtedly greatly increase that number. We're really becoming a nation of capitalists!

A Letter From An Individualist

I want to quote from a letter from an individualist who is 85 years old and who lives back in Syracuse, New York. His name is J. Murray Weed.

He writes that he was glad to know that there was a group of newspapers that really stand for a limited government and for the inalienable rights of the individual.

After he had ordered and paid for a year's subscription for one of Freedom Newspapers, he wrote:

"I am in full agreement with your ideas regarding the compulsory support of public schools through taxes. And I could write a tract myself regarding the vicious results which are being effected through the schools. Instead, I will send you a copy of an article on the subject by Frank Chodorov."

I have read the article referred to by Mr. Chodorov and commented on it in my column.

Then Mr. Weed goes on to say: "If I had my way, I would go further than Chodorov proposes in connection with the schools (remission of taxes to those using private schools) and do away with the public schools altogether. In my mind there is no doubt that the appalling youth delinquency which we are experiencing is very largely attributable to compulsory attendance to the public schools, the way they are conducted. Two books, just out, which you will want to see, are 'Communist-Socialist Propaganda in American Schools' by Verne P. Kaub ... and 'The Turning of the Tides' by Paul W. Shaffer and John Howland Snow."

I have already quoted from Mr. Kaub's book and also quoted much from Mr. Shaffer on his discovery as to what is being taught in public schools.

I had complained in a former letter to his daughter, which he had read, that I knew of no magazine that was consistently for freedom and a limited government. Mr. Weed mentions three magazines, two of which I am taking — but which are not really consistent in their advocacy of a limited government.

Then he mentions several books that I should read. One that he mentions is "The Law" by Frederic Bastiat. This was particularly interesting to me because I was responsible for "The Law" being reprinted. Leonard Read when he was president of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce wrote me asking if I knew where he could get a copy of an essay by Bastiat called "The Things that are Seen and the Things that are Not Seen." I wrote him that I had a book that contained this essay and would mail it to him, but while I was mailing it to him I wanted to call his attention to another essay — "The Law." Read and his associates thought so much of "The Law" that they republished it as one of the shorter masterpieces that they believed should be reprinted and made available to the general public.

This individualist mentions besides "The Law," "Man Versus the State" by Herbert Spencer and "The People's Potage" by Garet Garrett. I had previously read these books and commented on them.

In writing to another libertarian and taking the position of opposing a forum, Mr. Weed observes: "I think that many of those who would take part in these discussions, and of those who would hear them, also, are indoctrinated with incorrect views, and that few, at the present time, are prepared to refute them adequately. In this case, the wrong views would be confirmed, and the forum would do, not good, but harm."

"Most people of the present generation are the unconscious victims of a movement which originated in this country, in the early part of the present century, under the banner of Progressive Education. This movement eliminates proper discipline and embraces pragmatism, socialism, and finally, world government. Pragmatism is an abandonment of the fundamental principles of right and wrong, with adoption of the theory that end justifies the means, and complete dependence upon experimentation to teach what is good. Each generation must learn what is good for itself, and judgment is based upon immediate and sensuous, rather than on long term and moral, effects. Socialism destroys liberty and personal responsibility. It eliminates the opportunity for character formation, and clogs the wheels of progress. World Government would remove sovereignty, for which our fathers fought and died, entirely and permanently beyond the reach of the individual, where it so rightfully belongs.

"This movement has so thoroughly impregnated our whole educational system, that it has been practically impossible for anyone to escape its influence. But the tragedy of our time is found in the fact many of the best and most efficient people become its most active promoters. They are attracted by its appeal of 'humane welfare,' and do not realize that it is a counterfeit welfare which they are promoting."

Where This Individualist Errs. It seems to me that this individualist in his opposition to a forum to discuss moral and freedom issues errs in his belief that there should be no such forums because so many people are indoctrinated into a belief in collectivism. Those people who advocate some form of collectivism cannot defend their position in open discussion where they are obliged to answer questions without evasion. If they would establish a forum operated on rules that when a man is asked a question he must answer it without evasion or admit that what he is advocating is not practical and of no value. Individualists need no fear discussions with collectivists because one truth is always in agreement with every other truth and if a man is obliged to contradict himself or evade, as are all collectivists, it is prima-facie evidence that the brand of socialism or collectivism that he is proposing breaks down and is not practical. Any form of collectivism cannot stand up in a free and open discussion where both parties are limited in time allotted for answering questions.

History and memoirs of the times tell us very clearly now that the theory of progress emerging from the depression when the New Deal took over in 1933. Had the natural laws been allowed to run their course, we would undoubtedly very soon have emerged from these depressions and gone ahead to an ever higher standard of living.

Down South ... Private Enterprise Incentives Brought U.S. To Preeminence

By THURMAN SENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
Nashville, Tennessee

If the Congress goes along with the administration in its over-all program to shift from the socialistic economy to a private enterprise economy, then real prosperity lies directly ahead of us.

It was the incentive of private enterprise, giving vent to the initiative and ingenuity of the individual, that brought this nation from a few struggling colonies along the Atlantic seaboard to a position of preeminence among the nations of the world in the comparatively short period of 175 years — nothing else.

There were other nations during that period with just as large or larger areas, with just as many or more people, with just as great or greater natural resources. The difference was private enterprise, individual freedom, the opportunity given the individual to work and save and invest and profit thereby so long as he harmed no one else in the process.

With the advent of the New Deal, in 1933, this whole process was brought to an abrupt halt. And this is not a political statement. It would have remained the same under a Republican banner.

Under the New Deal, the government took over the direction and in large part the operation of our economy. It began to spend money, to provide jobs, to redistribute income, and the trend toward socialism began — and this in the face of the fact that no free people in history had ever prospered or could ever prosper under this form of government.

BID FOR A SMILE

The story is told that when Charles Davis was ambassador to Great Britain he bought a newspaper from a London newsboy, the boy charging the usual price of one penny for the paper.

Davis — I'd have to pay double that price for a paper in America. Newsboy — Well, sir, you can pay me double if it'll make you feel more at home.

Q. — Who invented the controversial "which clause" in the original Bricker amendment, the clause which Mr. Eisenhower, the state department, and all the seaboard interventionists say is utterly unacceptable?

A. — The Hon. Harold Stassen, the well known internationalist, who was rewarded with the position of Foreign Operations administrator for his part in delivering Minnesota delegates to Eisenhower.

For further details see the published record of the meeting of the house of delegates of the American Bar association on Sept. 29, 1950. Mr. Stassen introduced a resolution, which was adopted. It was intended to safeguard American liberty against the dangers that might flow from the adoption of multi-partite agreements "in social and economic areas such as those involved in the Covenant on Human Rights and in the Geneva pact." He proposed that if such treaties do not contain clauses to this effect, they should be ratified with this reservation:

"It is expressly stipulated (1) that this treaty is not intended to be self-executing nor to become a part of the domestic law of any of the contracting parties unless implemented by domestic legislation, and (2) that federal states are not bound by the treaty to cause their legislative authorities to enact any legislation which they deem not constitutionally enact in the absence of the treaty."

The sentiment of Mr. Stassen's, or rather was. The language was closely paraphrased in the Bricker amendment. The italics are ours.

Recognition Comes Belatedly For INS Rome Correspondent

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1954)

King Features Syndicate, Inc.
NEW YORK — Recognition and fame have been a long time catching up with Mike Chingio.

Chingio, one of the best and bravest American correspondents of the second war, but who have tagged him at last in "Command Mission," the story of Lt. Gen. Lucian K. Truscott, Jr., whose attitude and style would be useful in the job of political essayist filling out of Washington.

For example, he writes of Gen. Mark Clark that he "usually arrived with an entourage including correspondents and photographers, that his public relations officer required all press dispatches to include the phrase 'Lt. Gen. Mark W. Clark's Fifth Army' and that his concern for national publicity was his greatest weakness."

He may assume that sting a little with some professional compliments, but these seem hardly strong enough to soften their eyes the next time these two meet. For judgment of his own career, I would say that he has scored a resounding failure in a weak effort to redeem the horrible butchery at Dieppe where Lord Louis Mountbatten sent an expedition ashore so badly planned and organized that even today, Truscott, the British Admiralty and other authorities who have tried to take Mountbatten off the hook can't agree even on the purpose, to say nothing of the "lessons" learned.

Truscott's other disaster, described as such by Winston Churchill, was Anzio, which he now tries to interpret as a victory on the ground that a lot of Germans were killed and seven German divisions were diverted from Russia, the Balkans and France.

We first encounter Mike Chingio as a mysterious individual who had been seen wandering around the Seventh Infantry area in Sicily. General Fruscato had no word from Army headquarters regarding this character and didn't even know who he was.

"I sent the division provost marshal out to arrest him and bring him in for an accounting," the general tells us. "I had a hunch. General Eagles, my assistant division commander, brought him in and introduced him. He was properly identified as the division but had not reported to division headquarters because he had wished to land with a combat unit and was afraid we would not permit it. He had therefore gone to the landing pier and had climbed on board an LCI, finding himself with Colonel Sherman's Seventh Infantry.

"Eagles and Sherman both reported that Chingio had landed with the Seventh under fire and had distinguished himself during the action on the beachhead and the advance inland. When the Seventh headquarters reached the railroad station a kilometer or so inland, the telephone was ringing. Chingio, speaking perfect Italian, answered. Agents at some inland town had heard that the Allies were landing, but Chingio assured them that conditions in the area were entirely normal.

"Subsequently, Colonel Sherman recommended that Chingio be awarded the Silver Star for his gallantry during this action. This was approved in Washington. Several months later I was to have the pleasure of pinning the decoration on him.

"Mike accompanied the Third Division throughout the Sicilian Campaign. He was the first correspondent to enter both Palermo and Messina. His dispatches, which were cleared at AFHQ, were a principal source of information as to the progress of the campaign during the early days of the landing. We became close friends. His intimate knowledge of Italian army life was to be invaluable to me."

At Anzio, during the breakout, General Truscott tipped Mike that if he wanted to be the first correspondent in Rome, he had better stick around. He did.

Several days later, General Truscott heard Mike's story. Knowing the city, he took his jeep out of the armored column to which he had attached himself and drove along a parallel street where he came upon a German column pulling out to the Hotel Excelsior where he signed the check-in card. Chingio was there. "Then he did the same at a number of other hotels.

The next morning he filed a piece and "so set off a rush for Rome," where, incidentally, some of the high New Dealers soon were to get rich black-marketing cigarettes, rations and soap.

of Balkan tongues, and he never dunk away from the war to come some to lecture, making moving pictures or ham it in battle-dress in the vaudeville stage. In fact, when the war ended he plunged right into the newspaper job in Rome. Barring a couple of brief visits home on office matters and personal affairs, he has been there ever since. He is not a military expert and even though he knows hundreds of generals, prime ministers and ambassadors, I have not set far into many a night with him and never heard him drop a name.

He fought the Reds so hard and with such effect in Rome that for a time the government had police around his home around the clock and he has never had to go to the pains of explaining how he happened to lend his name to some Russian relief because he never did.

One way and another Mike Chingio is a lot of man.

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Names near and far: There is a writing man out in California named Leo Guild, a lean, tall man with a typewriter who has made himself a handsome nugget by mastering the mathematics of the odds and writing books about the probabilities of odds on anything. Guild is also a man who passes hours with his eyes glued to television sets and with his fingers tapping notes with pad and pencil. He has come to the conclusion that most TV dramas base their audience mesmerism on direct threats. He is, of course, right. And it is only an extension into a new medium of the old suspense-threat gimmicks used forty years ago to keep you coming back to the neighborhood movie to see what was going to happen next to Pearl White, Wanda Hawley and girls like them.

"These are just some of the threats I noted in one week," he writes. "To drive a man off a 1,100 foot cliff with the car on fire. To lock the girl in the gas chamber of a dog-catching headquarters. To push a girl into a giant electric fan. To bury a man in a hollowed iceberg. To nail a man into the compartment of a roll-top desk. To throw a pair of lovers into an incinerator. To feed a man poison that will shrivel up his head to the size of a baseball. To slip a girl into the rollers of the printing presses of a big city newspaper."

He missed one threat: to fold an unconscious victim into one of the giant tires on a huge earth-moving tractor.

Radi Harris is a woman who writes about New York for several film papers. She knows everyone there is to know. When an actor named Marlon Brando walked mysteriously out of Hollywood and an expensive picture which could not be made without his presence, she didn't snipe at Brando as did most columnists and the studio, which threatened suits and reprisals. Instead, she tracked down friends and associates of Brando and discovered the true story:

"He was obviously under great mental strain," one associate told her. "He was in a dread of having to interview analysts at a particularly crucial period. We understand he had hoped his straitlaced might be able to accompany him (as a California) but when this proved impossible Brando left anyway in the hope that he could handle this interlude by himself. Unfortunately, he discovered he couldn't and so he flew back here to New York — not because of any Big Star temperament or deliberate intent to cost the studio valuable time and money, but because he really is sick and needs help."

More than a year ago Brando had issued a statement that he had made enough money from a stage and films to pay for a large cattle ranch and the rest of his life. He said he never would make another motion picture and perhaps never appear on the stage again. He had enough, I said then that I didn't believe it, that he was a distraught boy and although I didn't believe he made the statement just for publicity, I did believe he would work again at his profession. Since then he has done two movies; one, a bad one, in release now, and another soon to be released. He had agreed to make "The Egyptian," the picture on which he walked out. I have never been sympathetic to Brando's posturings, his odd ways, his wearing of sweat shirts in places where more formal attire is customary, or to any other exhibitionist attitudes of his on the premises that is to a good actor you don't have to be a boor and a clown. Apparently, he needed sympathy and either was in the condition which sent him at last to psychiatry or, else, was working up to it. It is always difficult to forgive a deliberately rude person. It is never difficult to forgive an ill person.

It is to be hoped that the studio will not press him for performance and add to his anxieties. His analyst already has stated, professionally, that he needs a lot of help.

Halsey Will Head Mental Health Fund

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—UP—Adm. William F. (Ret.) Halsey is the 1954 mental health fund campaign to raise $5 million for the fight against mental illness, it was announced Saturday.

Richard Weil Jr., president of the National Association for Mental Health, said the drive will begin at the opening of Mental Health Week, May 3-4 and continue through the month.

In a statement issued on accepting the chairmanship, Halsey said, "Mental illness is without question the most serious internal threat to the health and welfare of the American people."

"What is needed now to combat the nation's No. 1 health problem, is greatly expanded research to devise new, more effective, speedier and less expensive methods of treatment and to develop better methods of prevention; expanded training of psychiatric personnel; development of preventive services in communities throughout the country, and improved treatment of the mentally ill in hospital."

Many Top Models In Demand At 40

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY

NEW YORK, Feb. 27—UP—Hundreds of girls beseege model agencies each year hoping to turn their faces and figures into fortunes.

Beauty is at a premium in this highly competitive field, so if any career offers convincing evidence on the best years of a working girl's life—this should be it.

At first glance, the outlook is encouraging. Top models still made tidy livings at 35 and over. Lisa Fonsagrives, a favorite example of graceful aging before a camera, still models for high fashion photography. She is past 40.

Many As Models Fashion shows are favorite places to find models who have been in the business 15 years or more. Most of those top models, with long-lasting careers have taken time out for several children.

"The bloom of youth may be gone by the time a girl is in her 30's," said a spokesman for the

Hartford Model Agency, "but more important things are left—poise, charm and clothes know-how."

The glad tidings to women past 30, however, give a misleading picture of a lucrative field dominated by aging models.

If you are an established model when you pass your 30th birthday, you can count on another decade of glamour assignments. But you must start young!

Miss Fonsagrives started modeling when she was 23. Most agencies are reluctant to sign up a new girl older than 25.

"I prefer always to see a girl in her late teens and early 20s," said Eileen Ford, who heads her own model agency and specializes in photographic models. "I have found from experience that it is almost impossible to get a model started after 25."

Top photographic models make $50 an hour. A handful of these top-priced beauties make as much as $1,000 a week and only work four out of seven days.

The top weekly income for models who do only fashion shows is about $700. But for every model who gets into these upper brackets, there are 100 other girls who make a precarious living from infrequent jobs.

Photography modeling is restricted almost exclusively to girls under 30.

Mrs. E. S. Williams' review of the book, "Heritage and Destiny" by Methodist Bishop Gerald Kennedy, will be concluded at the Sunday evening service of the First Methodist Church. For three Sundays, she has given her review in installments in the church chapel at 8:45 p.m., but her concluding installment will be given in the Sanctuary at the regular evening services at 7:30 p.m., according to Dr. Tom Johnston, pastor.

The Assembly of God Churches of Pampa and the immediate area will present Rev. and Mrs. A. E. Capener, veteran missionaries to Alaska, at special services here Sunday and Monday. The Capeners will speak at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Sunday in the First Assembly of God Church at Brown and Cuyler.

Monday, churches of the neighboring communities will join in a joint missionary rally at 7:30 p.m. in the First Assembly of God Church here. Rev. and Mrs. Capener will feature colored slides of Alaska at this meeting and will exhibit Eskimo handicrafts. The pictures will include scenic views, pictures of Eskimo life, polar bears, whale hunting, as well as pictures of their missionary work.

Veterans of nine years as missionaries to Alaska, the Capeners plan to return to the extreme north to open a new mission station in Alaska's largest Eskimo community, following their furlough in the United States. The public is cordially invited to attend any of these services.

A sub-district Methodist Youth Fellowship meeting of the lighted cross will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the Harvest Methodist Church, Pampa, according to Rev. Edwin Hall, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist Church and district youth advisor.

Miss Linda of Miami, president of MYF, will preside, and Don Cook of Pampa will lead the recreation program. The sub-district includes the church of Lefors, Miami, Canadian, and the three Pampa churches.

Rev. Arthur A. Bruns, pastor of the Zion Lutheran Church of Pampa, is back after attending a two-day session of the regional conference of the Missouri Synod in Ft. Worth, and a meeting of the Lutheran Layman's League in Amarillo.

At the regional conference, Rev. Herbert Driesner of Dumas delivered a paper on "Women's Suffrage."

At the League meeting, Rev. Bruns reported a Layman's League was formed in Pampa Jan. 31, and Joy Thomas is laying plans for the first official meeting of the Pampa League in the near future, he stated.

Dr. E. Douglas Carver, pastor of the First Baptist Church, will be back in the pulpit Sunday after an absence of two weeks. His sermon for the 11 a.m. service will be "More Power," and for the evening service, which begins at 7:30, "Preaching Under Pressure."

Special music will be provided at the evening service by the Junior High School ninth grade choir, with Edmund Nichols directing.

The annual week of prayer for home missions of the First Baptist Church will begin Monday. Mrs. H. M. Stokes, W.M.U. president, will be in charge.

The church ladies will meet at 3 p.m. Monday and Tuesday in prayer service. W.M.U. services will be held at 10 a.m. Thursday and Friday.

The training union of the First Baptist Church will hold a covered dish supper at 6:45 p.m. Tuesday in the church dining room.

The Palo Duro Association Brotherhood of the Baptist Church will hold a quarterly meeting at 7 p.m. Monday in the First Baptist Church, Phillips. The event will begin with a barbecue supper, and its theme is evangelism.

Principal speaker for the affair will be Dr. Jesse Yelvington of the department of evangelism of the Texas Baptists. Others on the program include Dave Caddell of Borger; W. J. Kruckenberg of Phillips; H. L. Biggers, Association president, of Skellytown; E. L. Anderson, vice-president, of Pampa; Foy Handcock, and Beryl West, both of Phillips.
