Air Minister Says Situation Is Favorable

ATHENS—AP—Air Minister Panayotis Canelopoulos announced today that "the situation has radically changed in favor of National forces" in Epirus, where Greek Army troops were reported snapping a pincers on strong guerrilla units driving south on the key city of Ioannina (Janina).

Army sources said two important engagements with guerrilla columns were imminent in northwestern Greece. The government charged that the guerrillas had "invaded" Greek soil from Albania. Informants close to the Greek general staff said a new "invasion" was possible from the direction of Yugoslavia.

The informants quoted headquarters of the Second Army Corps and the Army of Northern Greece—both of which are involved in the current operations—as saying, "We've got the invading forces in a difficult position." Unofficial estimates said eight battalions—about 2,500 men—were in the guerrilla forces in the areas where the two battles impeded.

Two guerrilla columns were said to have started moving southward toward Ioannina, capital and largest city of Epirus, after the attack on Konitsa two days ago. Konitsa is about six miles from the Albanian frontier and 25 miles north of Ioannina.

One large force, estimated at more than 1,000 men, was reported caught between the reinforced Greek army units at Konitsa and reinforcements moving north toward Ioannina.

Government reports said the army's situation at both pressure points in the north had "improved considerably." The government, meanwhile, issued orders to all private citizens not to furnish transportation out of Greece for any men in the military classes from 1932 to 1948. This was interpreted to mean that a new general mobilization might be contemplated.

Guerrilla troops in Athens and Salonika have been forbidden to go outside a 15-mile perimeter of the two cities. A few military sources said British officers and men were not expected in any way with Greek military operations.

Dwight P. Griswold, administrator of the United States program of assistance to Greece, landed at the Hani Airport here last night. He will be in the city for a few days. Griswold last week said $35,000,000 worth of military supplies were en route to Greece under the $300,000,000 program.

A team of a United Nations Balkan subcommittee, meanwhile scheduled an on-the-spot investigation at Ioannina. The team took off from Salonika yesterday. The United States, Russia, Australia, Brazil and Syria were represented on it.

He said, however, that he would not press his demands because some delegates apparently were not ready to begin discussions this morning. He did not indicate which delegates objected.

Lange assured Johnson that all Council meetings this week, except this morning's session, would be devoted to the Balkan question. He said he would announce the schedule for next week later.

The Council then resumed its scheduled discussions of the global police force.

Johnson's move came after the Council received an urgent appeal from the Greek government to expedite the Balkan debate.

News of the extraordinary Greek letter reached the delegates last night as they were being entertained at a cocktail party in downtown Manhattan by Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei A. Gromyko. Dr. Oscar Lange of Poland, Council chairman, immediately initiated a personal poll of delegates on changing the schedule.

Declaring that he was acting "upon instructions from my government," Greek Ambassador Vassil Dendrakis advised the delegates officially that "strong and well-armed hostile forces invaded Greek territory from Albania July 13."

It is apparent that while the Council has been discussing the recommendations of its commission of investigation, the conditions reported by that commission have become drastically more serious. It is respectively requested of the members of the Security Council that they do everything possible to hasten action on the resolution now before the Security Council to give effect to the recommendations of this commission.

Typically mid-July weather prevailed over Texas today, with fair and hot conditions reported by the Weather Bureau.

A few showers fell along the upper coast and in the south and central portions of the state but generally they merely steamed things up. Palestine and Galveston both had 46 inches. Junction 44.

Hottest temperature yesterday was 104 degrees at Miami, Tex., both Seymour and Henrietta reported 103. Coolest today was Amarillo's 66. Tomorrow's forecast calls for partly cloudy skies a few very widely scattered showers and little change in temperature.

Money Delayed but Plans to Continue

PARIS—(AP)—A well-informed source at the 16-nation economic conference said today the organization of European cooperation for recovery would proceed despite indications that United States money for the Marshall plan would not be available before late winter.

The informant—commenting on Secretary of State Marshall's address last night in Salt Lake City, in which he said the program would not be submitted to Congress before January—said the Marshall timetable doubtless was fixed after careful consideration of the best means of preparing the legislation.

What the cost will be never has been stated definitely. Benjamin Cohen, State Department counselor, said a month ago Europe would need $24,000,000,000 during the next four years and would require $15,000,000,000 alone to prevent starvation.

Official French circles said they saw no reason for altering the goal of Sep. 1 for completion of a survey of resources and dollar needs among the 16 nations participating in the Paris conference. (Russia and eight European nations declined to take part.)

The nations which make up the conference executive committee and four subcommittees on food and agriculture, iron and steel, transport and coal and power were selected yesterday by the rules committee. The nominations were to be submitted to a plenary session today.

This was expected to be the last plenary session until committee reports on assets and dollar needs are completed. A British spokesman said Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin probably would return to London tomorrow.

One conference source said France would be among the first to feel ill effects of any delay in U. S. credits. French officials sources said last week that France's dollar supply including all private French dollar holdings in the United States, would be exhausted by Jan. 1. The French government requisitioned by decree recently private French dollar holdings in the U. S.

French officials commented cautiously on Marshall's speech. A foreign office spokesman said he regarded the address as an explanation to Americans as to why they should help Europe. Swedish, Belgian, Dutch and Luxembourg delegates reserved comment.

The French and British view has been that should the Paris conference devise a program of self help it would have made a major step toward economic recovery although U. S. credits were not immediately forthcoming.

British Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin, conference chairman, had intimated that things were going so well with European proceedings under the Marshall plan that he

Royal Air Force Will Visit U. S.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sixteen four-engine Lincoln bombers of Royal Air Force Squadron 617 will arrive at Andrews Field on July 28 for a visit to the United States.

The Army Air Force and the British Embassy announced today that Squadron 617, famous during the war as "Dam Busters" and for helping sink the German warship, the Von Tirpitz, are coming here to assist in celebrating Air Force Day August 1.

After the celebration the squadron will go on a good-will tour to six AAF bases—Selfridge Field, Mich.; Smoky Hill Air Base at Salina, Kan.; Mather Field at Sacramento, Calif.; March Field at Riverside, Calif.; Fort Worth, Texas; Army Air Base at Maxwell Field in Alabama.

Squadron 617 got its name of "Dam Busters" when 15 planes from the unit broke the dams of the great German Noehne and Eder Reservoir.

Mrs. Pope, then employed at Camp Hood, Tex., suffered fatal injuries when her automobile was struck by an army truck near Killen, Tex., on Feb. 27, 1943.

The bill was introduced by Rep. Poage (D-Tex.).

Forces Are Now Reported In Albania

LONDON—(AP)—A Foreign Office spokesman said today Britain was investigating reports that an "international brigade" was invading Greece.

White Hall informants said that if the existence of such a brigade is proved, a joint British-American protest may be expected in the United Nations Security Council.

These sources added that American and British civil and military authorities in Greece already were in communication with one another over "the very serious turn of events" in Greece.

The foreign office spokesman, answering a Greek correspondent's questions at a news conference, declared:

"I cannot prophesy whether British troops will be ordered to take part in the fighting."

The foreign office said Britain had asked its diplomats in "several countries" to report on the purported existence, activities and composition of the international brigade. The countries were not named but authoritative informants said they included Bulgaria, Yugoslavia, Italy, France and Albania.

These sources said inquiries were being made in Paris because some newspaper dispatches have suggested that an international force was being trained in Southern France.

Scope of the British-American talks was not immediately ascertainable.

The informants emphasized, however, that if the British and American governments could establish that an international force was entering Greece from territories of her Northern neighbors a joint protest might be made in the Security Council on the grounds that peace was being threatened. Greece

Property Damage Suit Is Settled Out of Court

The $1,500 property damage suit of the Champlin Refining Company versus Hilliard and Hoover contractors was settled out of court over the noon hour yesterday shortly after attorneys for both sides announced they were ready for trial.

Sheriff's deputies had rounded up 16 talliesmen by 1:30 p. m. and had them sworn by the Court. When the case was called Attorney John Osborne, counsel for the plaintiff announced that the case had been settled for a consideration of $1,500.

This move cleared the way for the Otis Cooper Insurance Association case. Cooper, in his petition alleged that about October 17, 1945, he was suffering injuries to his back, hip and arm and a fractured leg that has permanently incapacitated him. Cooper is being represented by Attorneys John Merchant, Amarillo, and John Stuber, Pampa. Defense Counsel R. A. Wilson made a motion to quash the jury panel on the grounds of a pickup jury. The motion was overruled by the Court.

After selection and seating of the jury, Judge Goodrich dismissed them until 9:30 a. m. Wednesday and ordered all other jurors not selected for that case to report again at the same time to be ready for any other case that may come up for trial.

There was no session of the 31st District Court today.

Several other minor suits were settled yesterday in the judge's chambers.

Railroads File for Passenger Rate Hike

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Interstate Commerce Commission today assigned the problem of 36 Southern railroads for increased passenger fares in sleeping and parlor cars for hearing at Atlanta, Ga., on Aug. 26.

The Southern lines proposed to raise basic one-way passenger fares in pullman for 3.3 to 25 cents per mile, with proportionate revisions in roundtrip rates. The changes sought are in line with higher pullman passenger fares recently augmented on the Eastern railroads.

The Eastern carriers also raised basic coach fares from 2.2 to 2.5 cents per mile, but the Southern lines proposed to leave their present coach fares undisturbed.

Governors Hear Explanation Of Plan for Building Europe

SALT LAKE CITY—(AP)—Secretary of State Marshall told the nation's governors that the United States has reached a "turning point" in European relations and got prompt assurances today of bipartisan support for his plan to help rebuild Europe.

Unless it elects to lose its "incalculable stake" in Europe, the cabinet member said, America must extend a justifiable measure of aid to friendly countries or see them drift into a non-Democratic orbit.

In a crowded eight-hour stopover on a strenuous roundtrip flight from Washington, the graying soldier-diplomat grimly told the governors' conference here that there is "no blinking the fact that this country now stands at the turning point in its relations to its traditional friends among the nations of the Old World."

Before he climbed wearily aboard the Presidential plane "Sacred Cow" for the return trip to Washington, Marshall made a detailed explanation of his economic rehabilitation plan to the state executives in a closed door session.

There were indications that Marshall minced no language in describing to the governors Moscow's attitude but all said they were asked not to reveal any details.

The Secretary's public call for support from the governors in building up the public opinion to insure his program in order to insure its approval by Congress next year met with prompt responses of support from Republicans and Democrats.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, New York Republican, declined any comment but Gov. Earl Warren, California Republican said that Marshall's proposal for a "course of action fully consistent with our own national interests" constitutes "a very sound approach to the international situation."

Gov. Mon Wallgren, Washington Democrat and close personal friend of President Truman, told a reporter that he fully endorses Marshall's statement.

"It calls our shots, as I see it," Wallgren said. "I am satisfied that the whole country is behind Marshall's plan to do everything we can, within justifiable bounds, to help rebuild these European nations and keep them out of the hands of the Communists."

In his public address, Marshall said this country "must finish the task of assisting these countries to adjust themselves to the changed demands of a new age," he declared, "or it must reconcile itself to seeing them move in directions which are consistent neither with their own traditions nor with those of this country."

Before Marshall's speech, two prospective rivals for the Republican presidential nomination—Warren and Dewey—expressed clashing viewpoints on taxation.

Dewey, presiding at a round-table discussion of fiscal policy, advocated a division of sources of tax revenues between the federal government and states in order to eliminate overlapping, duplication and confusion. He suggested that the income tax be left entirely to the federal government and, in return, that Washington relinquish to the states exclusive rights to levy so-called nuisance taxes.

Warren said he believed in the "principle" of delineation of fields

Charged with taking a wheel from a parked car after the seventh flat, Bark, a Philadelphia naval base employe, got his first break when police recorded Howard J. Rowen suspended a $10 fine.

Negotiator Calls Contract 'Stabilizing'

WASHINGTON—(AP)—George M. Humphrey, Pittsburgh coal and steel executive, said today the new coal wage contract "will do more to stabilize the economy and retard inflation" than settlement of any controversy in the industry in several years.

Humphrey, who played a major role in negotiation of the agreement with John L. Lewis' United Mine Workers, told the joint congressional committee on the economic report that the contract will spur output of coal, and added:

"Production and only production which creates a balance of supply and demand is the only sure cure for the increasing wage and price spiral."

Humphrey said the contract retards inflation "by avoiding a strike and all of the attendant damage that would surely follow" from a deadlock.

Humphrey testified after Earl Bunting, president of the National Association of Manufacturers, told the committee that the nation should be able to absorb this year's "second round" wage without going on an inflationary spree.

The NAM head also declared that the key to continued economic growth and prosperity is a unified effort for greater production, plus tax cuts to provide "venture capital" for expansion of industry by 600,000 new jobs a year.

"Prices are high, as compared to pre-war, but the increase has been less than the rise of wages and during the last four months the price level has definitely flattened out," Bunting said in a statement prepared for the joint committee on the economic report.

"We yet have to see the full effects on prices of the current round of wage increases. But if we can keep production and productive efficiency high, we can handle it."

Communications Cut by 'Quake In South Colombia'

BOGOTA, Colombia—(AP)—The government rushed medical supplies and assistance today to quake-stricken Pasto in Southern Colombia, cut off since yesterday by communications with this capital by an earthquake in the town.

Unofficial reports said that hundreds of buildings in Pasto, a city of 50,000 near the Ecuador frontier almost 300 miles South of Bogota, had been wrecked. There also were indications that Ipiales, a town of 15,000 to 20,000 30 miles Southwest of Pasto, had been affected.

There was some speculation that the tremors might have been caused by an eruption of Mt. Pasto volcano, at the foot of which the city of Pasto is situated.

News of the earthquake filtered into Bogota by roundabout sources many hours later.

The first tremor was reported to have devastated by a quake in 1927, was reported panic stricken, and refugees were said to be fleeing the area. Electricity and water services were said to be no longer functioning.

Pasto, Capital of the Narino department, is a center of the Colombian woolen industry. Situated 36 miles from the Ecuador frontier, it is built on an elevated plateau 8,340 feet above sea level. Mt. Pasto volcano towers 6,000 feet over the city.

(Advice from Quito, Ecuadorian Capital 150 miles South of Pasto, said last night that the Pasto quake was known to have caused a number of fatalities, but there was no immediate indication of the total casualties or extent of damage.)

Rides Are Added To Central Park

The first signs of progress in equipping Central Park with children's amusements appeared over the weekend when the city completed installation of the "Miracle Whirl."

City Manager Steve Matthews said the Whirl was installed by Lee Roberts and is used in concrete. It is operated by the children themselves with foot pedals. He added the little merry go round was being fully initiated by the children since its erection Saturday.

The City Commission indicated that this was only the first piece of equipment they planned on installing in the park. Other equipment will be installed from time to time as it becomes available for shipment. Up to this time the only amusement offered in Central Park was a tennis court.

Matthews added that the successful insurance bidder on the city employees group insurance plan is expected to be decided on tomorrow during the Commission's meeting in City Hall. Because the Board of Equalization meeting is being held in the Commission Room, the Commission will meet in Matthews' office.

DEATH of a DOLL

By Hilda Lawrence

THE STORY: Ruth Miller, a salaried girl at Blackman's department store, has been looking forward to moving into an attractive residence club for girls. But the evening she arrives, after being greeted by Angelina Small, assistant to the head, something in the lobby appears to terrify her. She makes an excuse to go out again immediately, tries to renege on an acquaintance, leaves an urgent note for him to telephone her. A cleaning woman sweeps away the note when Ruth finally returns to the club, she is aware of someone in her room.

SHE found the switch and turned it. In one of the two beds a small girl sat up in a welter of blankets, rubbing her short, fair curls and yawning. "Hello," she said. "I had to go back to work after dinner, did you?" "No, I went shopping," Ruth hesitated. "I'm sorry, but I didn't tell you my name. I'm Ruth Miller."

The small girl laughed. "I know that. There's not much I miss! I'm April Hooper. I work around the corner in the drugstore. Where do you work?" Ruth untied the string on the suit box. "I work at Blackman's."

"Like Moke and Poke. Have you known them very long? You do know them, don't you?" "They sent me here," she held up the suit and the hat. "I was folded. She was tired, but she knew she had to be polite. She needed April. 'Look, April,' she said. She held up the suit.

But April had no eyes for clothing. She rattled on. Moke and Poke are nice. Some people think they're fresh, but I don't. When the weather's bad and there's ice on the pavement, they call for me. Even when they have dates, they call for me. They take the time. That's nice, isn't it?"

"I think they're pretty, too," this year to cut taxes. It plans to quit for 1947 by the end of this month.

Its next regular session starts in January. But Mr. Truman may have to call it back into special session before for some reason or other, such as voting relief for Europe.

Can they cut taxes when they come back in January? They'll almost surely try but any cut they make then, if they can make it, will be for 1948.

In vetoing the bill on June 16, Mr. Truman gave these reasons:

1. The government got into the debt by borrowing right and left to keep running and pay for the war. It will take years, maybe generations, to pay it off.

2. We're in an inflationary period (prices higher than they should be). A tax cut now would give people extra money to spend and make the inflation worse.

3. This isn't a good tax-cut bill. Congress should do a real job of overhauling the entire tax set-up and produce a good bill.

hasn't developed a big name in recent years, with the exception of Ingrid Bergman. A star, you see, does not mean the same as a leading man or woman. To be a star, a player has to be able to carry the burden of a picture unaided. Few, if any, of the youngsters can do this.

Congress Again Votes Tax Cut, Veto Assured

WASHINGTON (AP)—Once more the second time this year—Congress has passed a bill to cut your income taxes.

And once again Mr. Truman will veto this bill just as he did the first one. The veto seems sure to stick. That will kill the bill again.

Just a month ago, June 16, Mr. Truman vetoed a similar tax-cut bill which the Republican controlled Congress had passed.

It went back to Congress but the Republicans couldn't get up enough votes to re-pass it into law over the veto. So the bill died.

It was hardly stiff before the Republicans got busy again and rammed through a bill exactly the same as the one Mr. Truman vetoed except for this:

The bill vetoed June 16 would have cut your taxes beginning July 1. This one would cut your taxes, starting next Jan. 1.

Last November, when they were running for Congress, the Republicans promised to cut taxes in 1947 if they won control of both Houses.

As noted, it's doubtful the Republicans can get up enough votes to re-pass it into law over the veto. What then? That will be about the end of any attempt by Congress

Safety Practices Recommended for Swimming Fun

NEW YORK, N. Y.—When you go swimming, bear in mind that drownings take fourth place in the United States as a cause of accidental death, and give due thought to your safety while enjoying yourself," warns Dr. Donald B. Armstrong, in charge of the health and welfare activities of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

To be a safe swimmer, points out Dr. Armstrong, means to be a good swimmer—to be master of at least one stroke, and to know how to float and tread water. It also means never swimming alone.

Here are other practices which Dr. Armstrong recommends for safety and fun in swimming:

After a hearty meal, wait at least two hours before swimming.

If you tire easily, stay in shallow water.

Get out of the water when you feel tired or start to shiver.

Get an instructor's advice about diving, so that you learn to dive properly.

Investigate a new diving place beforehand for rocks and obstacles, and recheck every season.

Never dive in the dark. The swimming pool may be dry. The tide at the beach may be low.

Heed the warnings of local health authorities as to the pollution of swimming places.

Learn the safest and best way of getting a drowning person out of the water.

Finally, learn artificial respiration. By doing so you will be ready to save the life of someone after rescue from drowning.

Details as to water rescuing and as to artificial respiration will be found in booklets obtainable from Red Cross chapters, from Metropolitan Insurance Company offices, and from other sources. Dr. Armstrong, author of the widely used first aid book "What to Do Till the Doctor Comes," also advocates taking first aid and safe swimming courses as offered by the Red Cross and other agencies.

Frozen apples have been kept four months without losing an appreciable amount of vitamin C.

Milking a cow three times daily, instead of two, increases her milk production 20 to 25 per cent.

MACKENZIE'S Column

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
From whatever angle you view it, that Greek situation doesn't look so good.
The Communist rebellion with its international complications constitutes a fuse which could set off a mighty charge of high explosive. Greece is perhaps the greatest danger spot on the globe today.

It is generally accepted that the world is in a state of tension. The only great power capable of waging a major offensive war is the United States, and she certainly isn't looking for trouble. Russia doesn't want it; nobody wants it. And yet we find aggressive Communism so determined on expansion that it is taking an enormous chance of precipitating a Balkan upheaval which in turn assuredly would threaten world peace. Greece furnishes an extreme example of this determination.

The Athens government claims the Red revolt is backed by the neighboring Communist countries of Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria. A majority of the United Nations Balkan investigating commission agrees that the rebellion is being fostered by these countries.

In short we have a situation which in any man's language amounts to war between fiery Greece and her equally fiery neighbors. Yet the quarrel hasn't been labeled "war"—and we hope it won't be, because that would almost inevitably accentuate the difficulties already existing between Russia and the Western democracies. For are not Red Albania, Yugoslavia and Bulgaria the minions of Moscow, and have not the Western powers vowed to halt the expansion of Communism by aggression?

In any event, one wonders whether for once Russia and the Western Allies might not agree to let the Security Council of the United Nations put the clamps on this

Attack Bomber Crashes, Texan Escapes Injury

TOKYO—(P)—Fifth Airforce headquarters said today that Lt. David A. Jones, Brownwood, Texas, and T/Sgt. Edwin M. Noonan, Alhambra, Calif., escaped serious injury when their A-26 attack bomber crashed into a Japanese freight train yesterday near Hachioji, west of here.

Both men suffered bruises, burns and shock. One Japanese was killed and 10 injured. The plane struck the train on a bridge, knocking one car into the river below.

The Airforce said a "sudden failure of both engines and loss of altitude caused the accident." It said the accident might have proved more serious if Jones "had not maneuvered the aircraft to lessen the impact of the crash."

LIARS AND THEIR SPONSORS

Establishment by a Senate committee that Drew Pearson, a columnist and radio commentator, is a liar will hardly come as a surprise. Pearson has been caught in falsehoods before and his victims have proved him a liar. His current conspiracy to blacken the name of Rep. Jones of Ohio was a particularly vicious one.

Jones has been nominated to membership in the Federal Communications Commission. Pearson had obvious selfish motives for opposing the nomination, inasmuch as the radio license in Baltimore which the FCC had the power to give him. He confessed before the Senate committee that he thought Jones would act unfavorably on his application.

Through his column and on the radio he launched a campaign of libel against Jones, asserting that the Ohio representative had been a member of the Black Legion, a sort of revival of the Ku Klux Klan which flourished in Michigan and Ohio some years ago. As a matter of fact, Jones had fought the Black Legion and as a county prosecutor waged a long and successful fight to extradite one of its leaders on a charge of murder.

When Pearson was required to produce proof of his allegations, he brought three witnesses before the Senate committee. One was a former inmate of an insane asylum, who had been committed there for homicidal tendencies. The second was so senile that he could not remember how he got to Washington the day before he appeared as a witness. He had served a jail term as a perjurer. The third, a CIO official and political opponent of Jones, was a confessed forger.

No court would give the slightest weight to the testimony of any one of the three. No reputable newspaper reporter would think of basing a news story on their authority. Pearson not only hunted them up in Ohio and had them brought to Washington, but also put one of them on his radio program. This witness, the former insane asylum inmate, couldn't remember what he said on the radio except that he had read a statement given him by Pearson.

Pearson has long been notorious as a member of the smear brigade in Washington. This time he found himself caught, tried to lie out of it, and instead got himself inextricably tangled in his own falsehoods. Jones had announced that he will take action against Pearson. The Senate may also wish to have him prosecuted for perjury and the presentation of perjuring witnesses.

Pearson, however, has involved others than himself and his immediate agents. He has involved all those who have lent newspaper or radio facilities to the dissemination of his lies. These persons can hardly plead that they were caught unawares in this case. The network and the hat manufacturer who sponsored his program knew that he was a liar when they put him on the air. They apparently were willing to accept that risk in order to profit by his lies.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

news behind the news

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

GENEROSITY—House Republicans privately charge that the Army and Navy, with the consent and cooperation of the White House and the Budget Bureau, have deliberately pork-barreled two key Republican Senators to persuade the upper chamber to restore half a billion dollars which was eliminated by Speaker "Joe" Martin's economizers.

The two Senators are Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, who heads the Senate Appropriations Subcommittee handling naval appropriations and Chan Gurney of South Dakota. They are held chiefly responsible for adding about $270,000,000 to Navy and more than $300,000,000 to Army appropriations.

The participants in the controversy have closed in executive sessions of the conference committees, where the House members are holding out against the increased grants sponsored by the men from the Bay State and the Black Hills.

The political importance of the Saltonstall-Gurney is that the extra appropriations tend to sabotage the G. O. P.'s attempt to cut from $4,500,000,000 to $6,000,000,000 from the presidential budget.

PORK—Senator Gurney's friendship with the Army High Command has always evoked surprise since the Dakotas are not a particularly important military area. But his curious colleagues had forgotten—until recently—that the military engineers also handle the work of building flood control dams throughout the country.

Their eyes were opened when the Budget Bureau forwarded the so-called Civil Functions Bill, which carries funds for these engineering projects. Although the measure asked appropriations for only $163,000,000, the sum of $19,000,000, or approximately 12 percent of the total, was allocated for Garrison Dam in North Dakota and Randall Dam in South Dakota.

House members wondered why only two of the seventy-eight projects financed by the measure should be given such a large percentage. They promptly cut the Gurney fund to $11,000,000.

Providing "pork" for influential members of key committees is an old trick with the heads of executive departments at Washington. But there have been few instances in modern times of such lavish political tip as this proposal.

YARDS—Senator Saltonstall of Beacon Hill is the Gurney counterpart on the Senate Appropriations

DISAPPOINTMENT, by Upton Close

At last we understand—with deep regret—the position of Secretary of State George C. Marshall on the Communist issue.

For over five months we have waited to see whether or not this heroic figure would clean Red influence out of his department and would see the world issues in their true light.

At last we know Marshall, the great soldier, is confused as to what constitutes Marxism. Here was the final give-away:

In a conference with some Senators ten days ago, led by Bridges and Ball, Marshall was asked when he was going to clean the pro-Communists out of the State Department.

"I have cleaned them out," he answered emphatically, referring to ten he had discharged. He did not like it at all when one of the Senators waved at him a list of 28 State Department employees with very long, well established records of pro-Communist activities. Apparently Marshall could not understand that these men were undermining Americanism in his department, when turning our activities of State to the aid of the Soviets and socialism, rather than combating it.

Actually the department employs many more pro-Soviets than the 28. The determined Senators now are investigating and demanding that at least 60 be ousted because of well established leanings. Reportedly there are hundreds of pinks under Marshall. A top-flight Washington investigator recently told me the extent of their machinations to frustrate our aims and promote Marxism was "unbelievable."

Marshall's failure to distinguish between Marxists and non-Marxists is our trouble. European liberals are afraid to identify themselves with us. It is easy to understand why many a European, especially in Germany and Austria, fears that he faces Marxism whether he turns East or West.

Our European staffs are still loaded with pro-Soviets. The top American appointee in choosing the indeterminate films intended to educate peoples of our occupied zones to American democracy, is a notorious pro-Communist, for years identified with deep-dyed Red front organizations in New York and Hollywood. Much of the arrogance of our occupation forces toward the subjugated peoples, driving them toward the East, reportedly high in our Administration. Our short wave State Department propaganda abroad often is slanted toward Marxism.

Marshall still hoped right up to last week and perhaps still hopes to coax Bolshevik Russia into cooperating with capitalist nations.

Why should the Soviets have been invited at all to join European nations in despoiling how those needy nations shall spend U. S. taxpayers money? Marshall should have stipulated—as a group of Senators are now demanding—that Communist propaganda be eliminated from the Marshall Plan.

It is now clear that Marshall does not intend to save China—the nation contributing most to the United States to that of the Roman Empire in his "Roman Society in the Last Century of the Western Empire."

"The system of bureaucratic despotism, elaborated finally by Diocletian and Constantine, produced by the increasing centralization of power in the hands of a few, which, by an inexorable fate, the claims of fancied omnipotence ended in a humiliating paralysis of the people which the determined effort to remedy social evils only aggravated them till they became unendurable; in which the best intentions of the central power and government after generation, mocked and defeated alike by the irresistible laws of human nature, and by hopeless peridy and corruption in the servants of government."

Old Story of Omnipotence
Mr. Edmunds compares the countries contributing most to the United States to that of the Roman Empire by quoting what Samuel Dill says in his "Roman Society in the Last Century of the Western Empire."

"The system of bureaucratic despotism, elaborated finally by Diocletian and Constantine, produced by the increasing centralization of power in the hands of a few, which, by an inexorable fate, the claims of fancied omnipotence ended in a humiliating paralysis of the people which the determined effort to remedy social evils only aggravated them till they became unendurable; in which the best intentions of the central power and government after generation, mocked and defeated alike by the irresistible laws of human nature, and by hopeless peridy and corruption in the servants of government."

Colorado County Okays Road Issue
COLUMBIANA (AP)—Colorado County's $800,000 road issue today was virtually assured.

Incomplete returns showed that the county voted better than three to one for the measure, which would assure all-weather roads in every section of the county.

As the vote count neared completion, returns indicated 152 voted for the measure and 417 against it.

This I recall to my mind, therefore have I hope—Lamentations 3:21.
Hope is the pillar that holds up the world.
Hope is the dream of a waking man—Pliny.
