

'It Takes Time' to Get Your Money Out of a Cartoon Feature

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—As an investment, the cartoon feature picture is getting to be like a toll bridge—you are sure to get your money out of it if you wait long enough. That can be gathered from the words of Walt Disney.

The economics of the movie industry are enough to make a business administration professor turn in his cap and gown. And trying to figure out the whereabouts of cartoon profit-making might cause him to blow his top. For instance, it might be 10 years from the moment an idea pops into Walt's head until the time the finished picture shows a profit.

As the cartoon wizard pointed out in his comfortable but inauspicious office, an ordinary movie can show a profit within a year of its conception. Four months of shooting, two of editing and printing and a half-year in the theaters can put a film in the black.

"Now we have to depend on a re-lease for a profit from cartoons," said Disney. The timetable of a feature reads something like this: preparation—one and a half years; drawing—two years; release—three years. Then it is withdrawn for

A LESSON FROM THE CHINESE

The story is told that the Chinese pay the doctor to keep them well, and if they contract illness, the doctor pays them instead. Whether or not this story is true, the general idea is sound. Serious illness often can be prevented by regular health examinations. Form a habit of visiting your doctor often—at least twice a year. If you do not have a family physician, we will be glad to recommend several from whom you can make your selection.

Farm Safety Week Begins July 20

AUSTIN—(AP)—Thomas Wagner, Red Cross general field representative for Texas, advises farmers to take particular interest in National Farm Safety Week beginning July 20.

"This concentrated effort to better agriculture's bad safety record, now worse than any other major industry, must put every farmer on the alert every week of the year if we are to save lives, limbs, crops and dollars of thousands hurt by accidents annually," he said.

Wagner said Texas, rural and urban, ranks 10th of the 47 states in safety in the Red Cross midwestern area.

Accidental deaths in Texas averaged 75.9 per 100,000 population, according to national statistics for 1946.

Presbyterians Make Last Minute Rally To Defeat Baptists

Staging a desperate last minute rally, the Presbyterian Junior Boys edged by the First Baptist Boys 14-13 Friday night. The Baptists ran up an early lead, scoring five runs in the first inning, one in the second and then 6 more in the third. The losers led by the score of 12-3 at one time but the Presbyterians soon led the fans know that they were still in the ball game by scoring 11 tallies in the last three frames. Karl Stephenson started on the mound for the winners but he rendered his position to Carl Kennedy who allowed the Baptists only one run in the four innings he pitched. Bill McPherson hurled for the losers and he kept the Presbyterians well in hand until the fatal last three innings.

The undefeated First Baptist Senior Girls ran into trouble in the openings of their Friday night's game with the McCullough Methodist Girls but the trouble soon proved to be of no great danger and they slugged their way to their seventh consecutive win, 23-11. The losers got off to a good start and they had a five run lead going into the third inning but the Baptists were not to be stopped as they scored 13 times in the sixth inning. Robbie Hawkins was the winning hurler.

Charles McCray pitched his First Christian Junior Boys to an easy 20-9 win last night over the hapless Calvary Baptists. McCray blanked the losers for five of the seven innings played while his teammates were scoring in each of the frames.

Only 27 men faced Row. He also made two hits. The Phillies, on the other hand, nicked Truett Sewell for 10 sides, including Al Laker's third homer to take a 3-1 lead in the fourth and go on to win and take the series 3-1.

Annual Jaycee Softball Tourney Opens Tomorrow

SHAMROCK—(Special)—At least six of the crack teams of the Texas Panhandle and Western Oklahoma will participate in the second annual Jaycee Softball Tournament which will open in Shamrock Monday, July 14, and continue through Sunday, July 27.

Teams that had sent in their entries to Chairman Jack Sims up to Wednesday night were: McAlester, Memphis, Redwood, Okla., and Montgomery Chevrolet team of Shamrock.

The tournament is open to amateur teams in this area. Cash prizes totaling $100 will be awarded the three top teams. The champions will receive $50, the runner-up $30, and third place winner $20.

Two games will be played each evening during the two weeks with the exception Saturday and Sunday. Two games will be played on Sunday afternoon, July 20, and the finals will take place Sunday afternoon, July 28.

Night games will start at 8 o'clock and the afternoon tilts at 2:30 o'clock. A public address system will be installed and an announcer will help the spectators follow the game by identifying the participants and calling the plays.

The first annual tournament in year attracted 12 teams and much interest. Shamrock won first place in the meet. Children took away place honors and Kellerville placed third.

Most American warships carry more than 40 foreign flags for ceremonial purposes, besides hundreds of naval pennants and signal flags.

Great Network of Power Generating Stations Used by Public Service Co.

By J. L. SWINDLE
News Managing Editor

The electric power used this morning in making your coffee may have come from Carlisbad, N. M., or Guymon, Okla., or from a point in between.

That is one of the interesting facts about the network of power generating stations now operated by the expanding Southwestern Public Service Company. That is true because all the plant generators in such locations as Guymon, Borger, Amarillo, Tuco (near Plainview), Lubbock, Clovis, Roswell, and Carlisbad, as well as intermediate points run in concert with each other.

This is the Kingsmill sub-station, which is charged with 66,000 volts of electricity. It serves this area with power it can receive from many sources in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

For that reason, trouble at one point will not mean interruption of service there, because that plant will then draw power from other stations—some of them many miles away.

Covering a territory comparable to the size of Pennsylvania and Rhode Island combined, with 25,000 miles of line, Southwestern serves about 450,000 persons.

And, in step with the industrial expansion of the area that brings in a bigger population, the company within the next several months will have added $35,000,000 in facilities to its present investment of $50,000,000, the officials report.

In a personal trip to these facilities a few days ago, we could see this work under way at all the plants where more power generators are being added: 30,000 kilowatts at Amarillo, 30,000 at Borger, 25,000 at Plainview, 20,000 at Denver City, and 15,000 at Carlisbad.

This expansion, the officials point out, will place in operation more power than is needed at this time, but within a matter of a few years will be required.

Giant turbines, which require the knowledge of experts and cost several hundreds of thousands of dollars, are being installed at this time. For instance, at Borger, the facilities will be almost doubled, with 39,000 kilowatts capacity at this time, and with 30,000 to be in operation by January 1.

The extent of Southwestern's service can be seen on the small map. That service extends as far south in Texas as Seminole, as far north in New Mexico as Malaga, as far west as Rosita, Okla., and as far east in Texas as Kellon.

Maintenance efficiency in the company's network of power lines is high. Two-way radio is used, and the power lines themselves transmit telephone messages. Telephone communication via power lines is comparatively new. The use of radio is being expanded. For instance, a two-ton construction truck here at Pampa carries a radio unit—both for receiving and transmitting messages. Radio stations are now at

Borger, Lubbock, and Amarillo. One is planned for Pampa. Two more mobile units, like that in the truck, will be installed here.

When trouble hits the lines, repair is expedited by the use of telephone and radio. Through a system of switch-pulling between stations and sub-stations, trouble can be rapidly traced.

Local officials are proud of the fact that there has not been a major interruption in power here for 20 years. Several times the power has been cut off for 10 and 15 minutes.

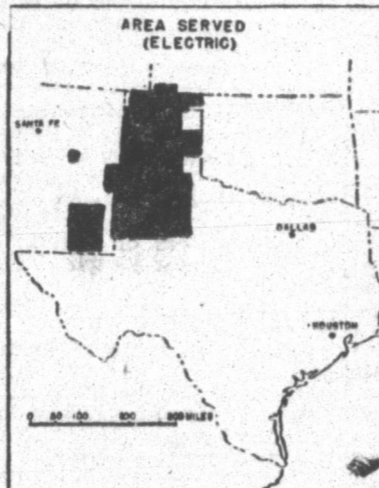

Pampa is hooked up in sections. There are six sections—or blocks—here, making it possible for one part of the town to be thrown into darkness without affecting five other parts.

If the city's supply of power from the Kingsmill sub-station is cut off, Pampa's three diesel generating units can be put into operation within three minutes. This is an emergency source of power for the city, but in the future it is very unlikely that it will be necessary to use it.

This is true, officials point out, because power now is fed to Pampa through a 13,200 volt feeder from Kingsmill, while materials are on order for another similar line to run into Pampa from the Kingsmill station by a different route. The different route is advisable since lightning often hits lines in a general area. If lines are separated, one is likely to be missed. This line will come in on the Borger highway after having been stringing across from the Kingsmill station which is charged with 66,000 volts. But the power coming into Pampa will be 13,200.

One might ask why the sub-station is at Kingsmill. Officials say it was practical to place it there since that is the center of an industrial area. The smaller the power line with power. For instance, carbon black electric furnace in that area. If run at full capacity, would use as much electricity as all of Pampa at the city's peak consumption.

The Kingsmill plant, which supplies this area, has four sources of power: 1—from Clarendon, through a power exchange arrangement with West Texas Utility; 2—from the Borger River view plant; 3—from the Map shows area served by Southwestern Public Service Company.

Jowett plant near Mobeetie; and 4—from WTU's plant at Magic City.

Many improvements are being made in the power industry. One of them is the placing of a single strand of wire atop the poles above the power lines. This strand of wire is grounded at about each third pole, and when lightning strikes at the power lines, the arrester wire takes the charge to the ground, leaving the power line undamaged.

The popular notion is that large power lines are the most heavily charged. It's to the contrary, officials explain. The smaller the power line, the heavier the charge. The heavier the charge, the greater must be the pressure on it, as is the case with automobile tire air pressure.

Company officials express the desire for the public to understand the operation of this vast power system. They state, also, that the public should know that the facilities are being expanded, keeping abreast—but ahead of the needs of the territory.

Keeping ahead is possible through constant expansion and coordination of facilities. That is why you don't know where you got your power this morning to cook the coffee.

Mexico Shocked To Learn Flight Of Dollar Credits

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico appeared shocked to learn of the flight of her dollar credits but determined to support drastic curtailments of luxury and non-essential imports ordered by the government.

The first reaction to publication of the government decrees prohibiting further imports of a series of luxuries from automobiles to washing machines and radios, and sharply increased duties on others termed "non-essentials" was summarized in an afternoon newspaper headline.

"We thought we were millionaires and find we are beggars."

Approval of the surprise government moves was general. Yesterday morning's newspaper editorial comment called the decrees "justified by necessity" and was concerned with expected sharp price increases.

Novelists said: "The president's decrees have a double purpose. They protect against wasting our dollar balance, and protect domestic industrial production."

Excelsior said: "We recommend strict obedience to the government decrees, and we urge energetic action by the government to prevent robbing of the people by black marketeers who like cutures always appear at the smell of rotten flesh."

At Nuevo Laredo, principal border railway link with the U. S. importers and their employees were reported "in panic." Dispatches said they planned a joint protest to the government alleging 80 percent of their business will be eliminated by the restrictions.

Textile plant owners, who told government officials yesterday they may have to shut down because of over-production and a discouraging market, were persuaded to continue operation temporarily. The restrictions cover imported clothing and the government predicted an early revival in the domestic market.

Derby Trophies to Sick Boy

A tough break—an appendectomy almost on the eve of his participation in the Flint (Mich.) Soap Box Derby—was eased up a bit for Eugene Bovee, an entrant in the Pampa Journal's local race. Hospitalized, with his car awaiting final touches and the race only a few days away, Eugene still can smile... especially as T. H. Keating, general sales manager of Chevrolet, national co-sponsor of the Derby with leading American newspapers, presents him with the official helmet and shirt he would have worn in the race. Convalescing in Harley Hospital, the youngster was the first boy in his town to be presented with these souvenirs of "the world's greatest amateur racing event."

Career of Rupert 81st Ends; Mercifully Killed

SULPHUR Okla.—(AP)—The career of Hazard Rupert 81st as sire to nearly a million dollars worth of famous calves ended as cowhands mercifully put to death and buried the noble Hereford bull, enfeebled by arthritis.

The animal, buried Friday in a limestone tomb on Oklahoma Governor Roy J. Turner's ranch was purchased with 11 other head of cattle for $56,000 in 1937. Turner realized $486,225 from the sale of his calves and descendants owned by other ranchers brought thousands more.

The 13-year-old champion's blood line was one of the most sought-after in cattle history, but his famous son T. Royal Rupert 99 which sold for $38,000, was sterile.

Association to Revise Water Laws of Texas

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Guy Jackson, Jr., of Anaheim, president of the Texas Water Conservation Association, says the Water Law Committee of the association will meet July 25 in Houston to begin drastic revision of the water laws of Texas.

Jackson made the announcement following a meeting here Friday. The executive board of the group He said the work of the committee will be continued until the Legislature meets again in 1949, when enactment of the changes will be recommended. It is possible, he stated, that the advisory board system may be adopted to supplant the present setup in which three engineers comprise the State Water Board.

Jackson suggested a five-man advisory board to supervise each of the five water uses, including municipal irrigation, industrial, navigation and power use. These boards would supervise the work of a state water engineer.

Competent attorneys will be chosen to make a thorough analysis of existing water laws in Texas and other states and conferences will be held with water engineers in West (Tex.) states, Jackson said, adding: "Texas is being strangled because water has not been provided for chemical and other industries desiring to locate in Texas. Many industries would locate in the Fort Worth-Dallas area if sufficient water supply were provided. If Texas is to grow, we must recognize the fact now that we are behind many other states in water development."

Members of the Water Law Committee of T. W. C. A. include: E. L. Easterlin, Beaumont, chairman; N. D. Griswold, Freeport, vice chairman; Dave Evans, Angleton; Paul Weaver, Houston; Forrest Park, Fort Worth; Savnie Smith, Edinburg; Roland Harwell, El Paso; E. E. M. Adams, Austin; F. W. Pulliam, Crystal City; H. N. Roberts, Lubbock; and Victor Bouldin, Houston.

Gaudy Flamingo Night Club Sells

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(AP)—Stanford D. Adler, Las Vegas and Los Angeles business man, announced yesterday he had purchased the gaudy Flamingo night club, hotel and gambling casino here, for which Benjamin (Bugsy) Siegel, slain racketeer, was front man and part owner.

Adler, who owns the Rosslyn and Normandie hotels in Los Angeles, the Del Mar at Del Mar, Calif., and the El Rancho Vegas here, said the purchase price was $3,000,000 and that he would take over the Flamingo's operation next Wednesday. The Flamingo, one of the most ornate of Las Vegas' many casinos and hosteleries, reportedly cost between $5,500,000 and $6,000,000 to build.

Adler said he hoped within a few weeks to take a number of Las Vegas casino operators and other businessmen into partnership in the Flamingo enterprise. The Flamingo reportedly had been losing money heavily for Siegel and his associates.

Adler made his purchase, he announced, from the Nevada Felt Corp., in which Siegel held 33 1/3 percent of the stock. Siegel, former public enemy, was killed June 20 by a rifle fusillade through the window of a Beverly Hills residence.

Pampa Oilers Drop Opener With Albuquerque Dukes by 11-7 Count

Presbyterians Make Last Minute Rally To Defeat Baptists

Staging a desperate last minute rally, the Presbyterian Junior Boys edged by the First Baptist Boys, 14-13 Friday night. The Baptists ran up an early lead, scoring five runs in the first inning, one in the second and then three in the third. The losers led by the score of 12-3 at one time but the Presbyterians soon let the fans know that they were still in the ball game by scoring 11 tallies in the last three frames. Karl Stephenson started on the mound for the winners but he rendered his position to Carl Kennedy who allowed the Baptists only one run in the four innings he pitched. Bill McPherson hurled for the losers and he kept the Presbyterians well in hand until the fatal last three innings.

The undefeated First Baptist Senior Girls ran into trouble in the openings of their Friday night's game with the McCullough Methodist Girls but the trouble soon proved to be of no great danger and they slugged their way to their seventh consecutive win, 23-11. The losers got off to a good start and they had a five run lead going into the third inning but the Baptists were not to be stopped as they scored 13 times in the sixth inning. Robbie Hawkins was the winning hurler.

Charles McCray pitched his First Christian Junior Boys to an easy 20-9 win last night over the hapless Calvary Baptists. McCray blanked the losers for five of the seven innings played while his teammates were scoring in each of the frames.

PAMP.—Pampa Oilers dropped their opener to the Albuquerque Dukes by a 11-7 count. Old lady luck evaded her account with Gil Archuleta Friday night as the Oilers opened a nine-day stand at Tinsley Field by knocking off the Pampa Oilers, 11 to 7.

Archy had had sorry fortune on his last previous outing, losing a 2-1 game at Abilene but this time breaks were on his side for sure. The Oilers got to him for 14 hits, but the Dukes ground out 17, two of which were the handiwork of Gil himself.

Manager Buck Fawcett had a fine, large evening to lead the Albuquerque attack with four hits in five times at bat, one of them a triple. He scored three runs and batted in five.

Wick Hewitt was the losing pitcher. He tolled the first 4 2/3 innings, giving up nine hits and seven runs. First baseman Bob Batley relieved him in the fifth and went the rest of the way on the mound.

Ray Bauer, with four for five including two doubles, was the most pestiferous man in the Pampa lineup. Tom O'Connell, with a triple, double and single, also was a friend of Gilbert Archuleta.

The ... WAY it LOOKS to Bob Bray

(Bray is on vacation. This column is written by Bill Schirman, pinch-hitter.)

What might be called the "wild antics" of umpire Atkins and Yemmer in the final Amarillo-Pampa game here Thursday night even bewildered The News' humble proof-readers. Part of Friday's story said his score was 8-57, while the other part had it right—3 to 5.

Many fans believed the judgment of Oiler Manager Seitz the cause of the loss of the game, when he pulled Al Matos, the starting Oiler hurler, in the eighth inning for Al Johnston as a pinch hitter. It is our belief that Grover is the most capable playing-manager in the league, and we do believe that records prove him to be the most successful. Therefore, when he put George Payne, who had beaten the Sox the night before, on the mound, we believe Grover wasn't trying to out-guess the opposition but sought to out-guess the umpires.

Had it been someone else managing the local ball club, I am sure, that the poor officiating would have been taken a more severe attitude than that was shown by Grover. However, since Grover has been ousted from the Berger park for voicing opinions at ump Atkins earlier in the season, again, maybe he used good judgment in letting his case rest.

We are sure that when it comes to a state where the umpires have to be escorted from the ball park by the local police, we are not strong in saying they had a bad night.

In the seventh inning, when Bob Batley, Oiler first baseman, was called out at home as he attempted to score from second on a single by Bauer, when Juliano, the Sox catcher, took a complete swing at it, Payne's offering in the ninth and umpire Atkins called it a ball, and the constant poor calling of balls and strikes for both teams throughout the game—the matter got old.

Maybe there is something in Bob's holding a No. 1 Base night in honor of the West Texas-New Mexico League's umpire-in-chief, Maybe each club in the league should hold such a night for one of the league's umpires, in an effort to raise enough money to retire, in most cases the aged ones, so that they will be financially able to quit the game before they are required to leave the services of the league and to come-and-go from the ball park.

Corn constitutes 30 percent of all harvested crops in the United States.

Trailing 2-0 in the eighth of the nightcap, Furillo singled with two out and Dixie Walker followed with a homer to tie the count.

Great Network of Power Generating Stations Used by Public Service Co.

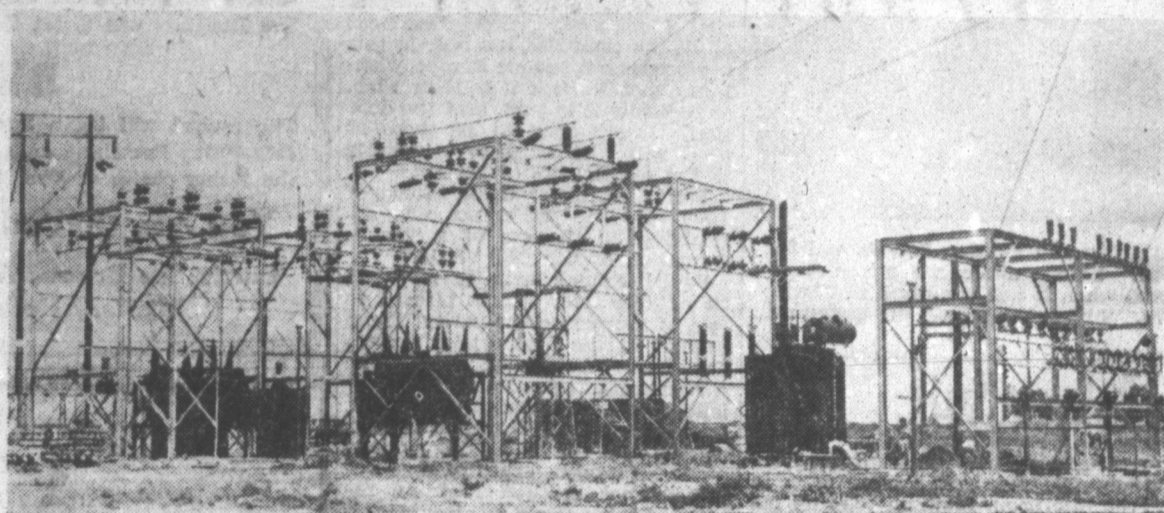

By J. L. SWINDLE
News Managing Editor

The electric power used this morning in making your coffee may have come from Carlsbad, N. M., or Guymon, Okla., or from a point in between.

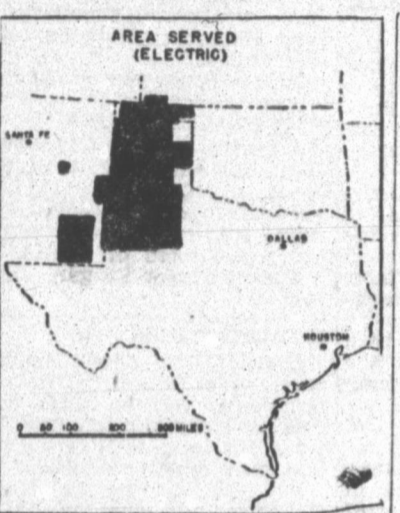

That is one of the interesting facts about the network of power generating stations now operated by the expanding Southwestern Public Service Company. That is true because all the plant generators in such locations as Guymon, Borger, Amarillo, Tucco (near Plainview), Lubbock, Clovis, Roswell, and Carlsbad, as well as intermediate points run in concert with each other.

For that reason, trouble at one point will not mean interruption of service there, because that plant will then draw power from other stations—some of them many miles away.

Covering a territory comparable

Sub-station, which is charged with 66,000 volts of electricity, power it can receive from many sources in Texas, New

Map shows area served by Southwestern Public Service Company.

Jovett plant near Mobeetie; and 4—from WTU's plant at Magic City.

Many improvements are being made in the power industry. One of them is the placing of a single strand of wire atop the poles above the power lines. This strand of wire is grounded at about each third pole, and when lightning strikes at the power lines, the arrester wire takes the charge to the ground, leaving the power line undamaged.

The popular notion is that large power lines are the most heavily charged. It's to the contrary, officials explain. The smaller the power line, the heavier the charge. The heavier the charge, the greater must be the pressure on it, as is the case with automobile tire air pressure.

Company officials express the desire for the public to understand the operation of this vast power system. They state also that the public should know that the facilities are being expanded, keeping—not abreast—but ahead of the needs of the territory.

Keeping ahead is possible through constant expansion and coordination of facilities. That is why you don't know where you got your power this morning to cook the coffee.

Mexico Shocked To Learn Flight Of Dollar Credits

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico appeared shocked to learn of the flight of her dollar credits but determined to support drastic curtailments of luxury and non-essential imports ordered by the government.

The first reaction to publication of the government decrees prohibiting further imports of a series of luxuries from automobiles to washing machines and radios, and sharply increased duties on others termed "non-essentials" was summarized in an afternoon newspaper headline.

"We thought we were millionaires and find we are beggars."

Approval of the surprise government moves was general. Yesterday morning's newspaper editorial commented on the decrees "justified by necessity" and "was concerned with expected sharp price increases."

Novades said: "The presidential decrees have a double purpose. They prevent against wasting our dollar balance and protect domestic industrial production."

Excelsior said: "We recommend strict obedience to the government decrees, and we urge energetic action by the government to prevent robbing of the people by black marketers who like cultures always appear at the smell of rotten flesh."

At Nuevo Laredo, principal border railway link with the U. S. imports and their employees were reported "in panic." Dispatches said they planned a joint protest to the government alleging 80 percent of their business will be eliminated by the restrictions.

Textile plant owners, who told government officials yesterday they may have to shut down because of over-production and a discouraging market, were persuaded to continue operation temporarily. The restrictions cover imported clothing, and the government predicted an early revival in the domestic market.

Derby Trophies to Sick Boy

A tough break—an appendectomy almost on the eve of his participation in the Flint (Mich.) Soap Box Derby—was eased up a bit by Eugene Bovee, an entrant in the First Journal's local race. Hospitalized, with his car awaiting final touches and the race only a few days away, Eugene still can smile. . . . especially as T. H. Keating, general sales manager of Chevrolet, national co-sponsor of the Derby with leading American newspapers, presents him with the official helmet and shirt he would have worn in the race. Convalescing in Hurley Hospital, the youngster was the first boy in his town to be presented with these souvenirs of "the world's greatest amateur racing event."

Association to Revise Water Laws of Texas

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Guy J. Jackson, Jr., of Anahuac, president of the Texas Water Conservancy Association, says the Water Law Committee of the association will meet July 25 in Houston to begin a drastic revision of the water laws of Texas.

Jackson made the announcement following a meeting here Friday of the executive board of the group. He said the work of the committee will be continued until the State Legislature meets again in 1949, when enactment of the changes will be recommended. It is possible, he stated, that the advisory board of five water uses, including municipal irrigation, industrial, navigation and power use. These boards would supervise the work of a state water engineer.

Competent attorneys will be chosen to make a thorough analysis of existing water laws in Texas and other states and conferences will be held with water engineers in Western states, Jackson said, adding: "Texas is being strangled because water has not been provided for chemical and other industries desiring to locate in Texas. Many industries would locate in the Fort Worth-Dallas area if sufficient water supply were provided. If Texas is to grow, we must recognize the fact now that we are behind many other states in water development."

Members of the Water Laws Committee of T. W. C. A. include E. Easterlin, Beaumont, chairman; N. D. Griswold, Freeport, vice chairman; Dave Evans, Angleton; Paul Weaver, Houston; Forrest Park, Fort Worth; Swain Smith, Edinburg; Roland Harwell, El Paso; E. E. Adams, Austin; F. W. Gaudy Flamingo Night Club Sells

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(AP)—Sanford D. Adler, Los Vegas and Los Angeles business man, announced yesterday he had purchased the gaudy Flamingo night club, hotel and gambling casino here, for which Benjamin (Bugs) Siegel, slain racketeer, was front man and part owner.

Adler, who owns the Rosslyn and Normandie hotels in Los Angeles, the Del Mar at Del Mar, Calif., and the El Rancho Vegas here, said the purchase price was $3,000,000 and that he would take over the Flamingo's operation next Wednesday. The Flamingo, one of the most ornate of Las Vegas' many casinos and hosteleries, reportedly cost between $5,500,000 and $6,000,000 to build.

Adler said he hoped within a few weeks to take a number of Las Vegas casino operators and other businessmen into partnership in the Flamingo enterprise. The Flamingo reportedly had been losing money heavily for Siegel and his associates.

Adler made his purchase, he announced, from the Nevada Project Corp., in which Siegel held 33 1/3 per cent of the stock. Siegel, former public enemy, was killed June 20 by a rifle fusillade through the window of a Beverly Hills residence.

AUSTIN—(AP)—It is too late now for the courts to inquire into the validity of a 1910 local option election in Zavala County, the Attorney General ruled yesterday in an opinion requested by R. A. Taylor, county attorney at Crystal City.

"From the time the local option election of 1910 became effective until the sale of 3.2 percent beer was localized by a local option election in 1933, that county was a 'dry area' the opinion recited.

"Since that time the county has been a 'dry' area only as to the sale of whiskey and other alcoholic beverages containing more than 3.2 percent alcohol by weight."

Presbyterians Make Last Minute Rally To Defeat Baptists

Staging a desperate last minute rally, the Presbyterian Junior Boys edged by the First Baptist Boys, 14-13 Friday night. The Baptists ran up an early lead, scoring five runs in the first inning, one in the second and then 7 more in the third. The losers led by the score of 12-3 at one time but the Presbyterians soon let the fans know that they were still in the ball game by scoring 11 tallies in the last three frames.

Wick Hewitt was the losing pitcher. He tossed the first 4 2/3 innings, giving up nine hits and seven runs. First baseman Bob Batley relieved him in the fifth and vent the rest of the way on the mound.

Ray Bauer, with four for five including two doubles, was the most picturesque man in the Pampa lineup. Tom O'Connell, with a triple, double and single, also was no friend of Gilbert Archuleta.

The undefeated First Baptist Senior Girls ran into trouble in the openings of their Friday night game with the McCullough Methodist Girls, but the trouble soon proved to be of no great danger and they slugged their way to their seventh consecutive win, 23-11.

The losers got off to a good start and they had a five run lead going into the third inning but the Baptists were not to be stopped as they scored 13 times in the sixth inning. Robble Hawkins was the winning hurler.

Charles McCray pitched his First Christian Junior Boys to an easy 20-9 win last night over the hapless Calvary Baptists. McCray blanked the losers for five of the seven innings played while his teammates were scoring in each of the frames.

Great Network of Power Generating Stations Used by Public Service Co.

By J. L. SWINDLE
News Managing Editor

The electric power used this morning in making your coffee may have come from Carlsbad, N. M., or Guymon, Okla., or from a point in between.

That is one of the interesting facts about the network of power generating stations now operated by the expanding Southwestern Public Service Company. That is true because all the plant generators in such locations as Guymon, Borger, Amarillo, Tuco (near Plainview), Lubbock, Clovis, Roswell, and Carlsbad, as well as intermediate points run in concert with each other.

For that reason, trouble at one point will not mean interruption of service there, because that plant will then draw power from other stations—some of them many miles away.

This is the Kingsmill sub-station, which is charged with 66,000 volts of electricity. It serves this area with power it can receive from many sources in Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

Covering a territory comparable to the size of Pennsylvania and Rhode Island combined, with 25,000 miles of line, Southwestern serves about 450,000 persons.

And in step with the industrial expansion of the area that brings in a bigger population, the company within the next several months will have added $35,000,000 in facilities to its present investment of $50,000,000, the officials report.

In a personal trip to these facilities a few days ago, we could see this work underway at all the plants where more power generators are being added: 30,000 kilowatts at Amarillo, 30,000 at Borger, 25,000 at Plainview, 20,000 at Denver City, and 15,000 at Carlsbad.

This expansion, the officials point out, will place in operation more power than is needed at this time, but within a matter of a few years be required.

Giant turbines, which require the knowledge of experts, and cost several hundreds of thousands of dollars, are being installed at this time. For instance, at Borger, the facilities will be almost doubled, what with 39,000 kilowatts capacity at this time, and with 30,000 to be in operation by January 1.

The extent of Southwestern's service can be seen on the small map. That service extends as far south in Texas as Matamoros, as far north in New Mexico as Malaga, as far west as Roswell, Okla., and as far east in Texas as Ft. Worth.

Local officials are proud of the fact that there has not been a major interruption in power here for 20 years. Several times the power has been cut off for 10 and 15 minutes.

Pampa is hooked up in sections. There are six sections—or blocks—here, making it possible for one part of the town to be thrown into darkness without affecting five other parts.

If the city's supply of power from the Kingsmill sub-station is cut off, Pampa's three diesel generating units can be put into operation within three minutes. This is an emergency source of power for the city, but in the future it is very unlikely that it will be necessary to use it.

Jowett plant, near Mobeetie; and 4—from WTU's plant at Magie City.

Many improvements are being made in the power industry. One of them is the placing of a single strand of wire atop the poles above the power lines. This strand of wire is grounded at about each third pole, and when lightning strikes at the power lines, the arrester wire takes the charge to the ground, leaving the power line undamaged.

The popular notion is that large power lines are the most heavily charged. It's to the contrary, officials explain. The smaller the power line, the heavier the charge. The heavier the charge, the greater must be the pressure on it, as is the case with automobile tire air pressure.

Company officials express the desire for the public to understand the operation of this vast power system. They state, also, that the public should know that the facilities are being expanded, keeping abreast—but ahead of the needs of the territory.

Keeping ahead is possible through constant expansion and coordination of facilities. That is why you don't know where you got your power this morning to cook the coffee.

Gaudy Flamingo Night Club Sells

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—(AP)—Sanford D. Adler, Las Vegas and Los Angeles business man, announced yesterday he had purchased the gaudy Flamingo night club, hotel and gambling casino here, for which Benjamin (Bugs) Siegel, slain racketeer, was front man and part owner.

Adler, who owns the Rosslyn and Normandie hotels in Los Angeles, the Del Mar at Del Mar, Calif., and the El Rancho Vegas here, said the purchase price was $3,000,000 to build.

Adler said he hoped within a few weeks to take a number of Las Vegas casino operators and other businessmen into partnership in the Flamingo enterprise. The Flamingo reportedly had been losing money heavily for Siegel and his associates.

Adler made his purchase, he announced, from the Nevada Projects Corp., in which Siegel held 33 1/3 per cent of the stock. Siegel, former public enemy, was killed June 20 by a rifle fusillade through the window of a Beverly Hills residence.

Mexico Shocked To Learn Flight Of Dollar Credits

MEXICO CITY—(AP)—Mexico appeared shocked to learn of the flight of her dollar credits but determined to support drastic curtailments of luxury and non-essential imports ordered by the government.

The first reaction to publication of the government decrees prohibiting further imports of a series of luxuries from automobiles to washing machines and radios, and sharply increased duties on others termed "non-essentials" was summarized in an afternoon newspaper headline.

"We thought we were millionaires and find we are beggars."

Approval of the surprise government moves was general. Yesterday morning's newspaper editorial commented that the decrees "justified by necessity" and was concerned with expected sharp price increases.

Novedades said: "The presidential decrees have a double purpose. They protect against wasting our dollar balances and protect domestic industrial production."

Excelsior said: "We recommend strict obedience to the government decrees, and we urge energetic action by the government to prevent robbing of the people by black marketeers who like cultures always appear at the smell of rotten flesh."

At Nuevo Laredo, principal border railway link with the U. S. importers and their employees were reported "in panic." Dispatches said they planned a joint protest to the government alleging 30 percent of their business will be eliminated by the restrictions.

Textile plant owners, who told government officials yesterday they may have to shut down because of over-production and a discouraging market, were persuaded to continue operation temporarily. The restrictions cover imported clothing, and the government predicted an early revival in the domestic market.

Career of Rupert 81st Ends; Mercifully Killed

SULPHUR Okla.—(AP)—The career of Haxford Rupert 81st as sire to nearly a million dollars worth of famous calves ended as cowhands mercifully put to death and sadly buried the noble Hereford bull, entangled by arthritis.

The animal, buried Friday in a limestone tomb on Oklahoma Governor Roy J. Turner's ranch was purchased with 11 other head of cattle for $50,000 in 1927. Turner realized $485,225 from the sale of his calves and descendants owned by other ranchers brought thousands more.

The 13-year-old champion's blood line was one of the most sought-after in cattle history, but his famous son T. Royal Rupert 99 which sold for $38,000, was sterile.

Association to Revise Water Laws of Texas

FORT WORTH—(AP)—Guy J. Jackson, Jr., of Anahuac, president of the Texas Water Conservators Association, says the Water Law Committee of the association will meet July 23 in Houston to begin drastic revision of the water laws of Texas.

Jackson made the announcement following a meeting here Friday. The executive board of the group He said the work of the committee will be continued until the State Legislature meets again in 1949, when enactment of the changes will be recommended. It is possible, he stated, that the advisory board system may be provided to supply the present setup in which three engineers comprise the State Water Board.

Jackson suggested a five-man advisory board to supervise each of five water uses, including municipal, irrigation, industrial, navigation and power use. These boards would supervise the work of a state water engineer.

Competent attorneys will be chosen to make a thorough analysis of existing water laws in Texas and other states and conferences will be held with water engineers in Western states, Jackson said, adding: "Texas is being strangled because water has not been provided for chemical and other industries desiring to locate in Texas. Many industries would locate in the Fort Worth-Dallas area, if sufficient water supply were provided. If Texas is to grow, we must recognize the fact now that we are behind many other states in water development."

Members of the Water Law Committee of T. W. C. A. include: E. Easterlin, Beaumont, chairman; N. D. Griswold, Freeport, vice chairman; Dave Evans, Angleton; P. Weaver, Houston; Forrest Park, Fort Worth; Sammie Smith, Edinburg; Roland Harwell, El Paso; E. E. Adams, Austin; F. W. Pulliam, Crystal City; H. N. Roberts, Lubbock; and Victor Bouldin, Houston.

Shamrock Opens New Golf Course

SHAMROCK—(Special)—Shamrock's new grass greens golf course is now open to the public and local enthusiasts declare it is one of the classiest links in this section of the country. The nine-hole course, located on an 80-acre plot south of the City Swimming Pool, was opened for play on July 4, and many local linksters enjoyed getting the feel of the new grounds over the holiday weekend. A formal opening to which golfers from nearby towns will be invited will be held after a fairway mower has been received and put into operation. The new mower has been ordered and is expected to arrive soon. Billy Holmes, 1947 Greenbelt Champion, is holder of the lowest score reported to date. Holmes, whose smooth, machine-like swings and accurate putting make the most difficult courses seem easy, has rung up a 37, one above the 36 par.

Red Failure

(Continued From Page 1) where, of course, Russia's veto is still good. But it will meet any challenge the Soviets force. Thus in Germany it is pressing economic revival jointly with the British and despite of major Soviet disagreements on this point.

3. There are some Russo-American issues the American government will press in all probability. Among them are political conditions in Hungary and perhaps throughout the Balkans due to Russian domination. This part will be one of the great controversies of the United Nations assembly meeting at New York in September.

4. The United States government is unwilling at this time to close any avenue of cooperation between Eastern and Western Europe. It does not recognize fixed Eastern and Western blocs. If the Eastern countries can figure out some way to cooperate they may yet benefit to the extent of any contributions they can make to overall European trade and economic revival.

5. The great test which is involved in the present struggle over Europe is a test (as seen here) between the total political and economic resources of the United States and those of Russia, American Capitalism and Democracy against Soviet Communism and dictatorship. This test will go on for many years and European economic recovery is one phase of it in which the stakes are very high.

Against the background of these policy views State Department officials studied mounting reports from eastern Europe yesterday that powerful forces are working below the surface there to overcome the effect of the Kramlin's edict that barred eight Russian satellite governments from attendance at Paris.

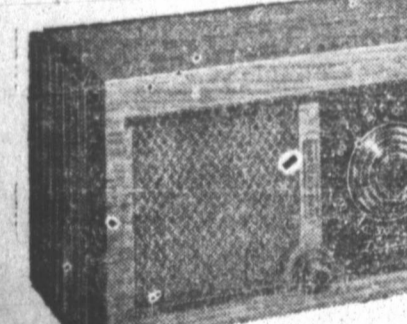

In Moscow itself two writers asserted in Pravda, Communist Party paper, that "foreign credits are required" to fulfill planned economic developments in all countries under Russia's thumb.

Concession stand will be operated by the club.

The programs will be sold in the city during this week and at the track next Sunday. Proceeds will go to the Lions Club Park fund.

A public address system, mounted in an automobile, is being furnished by the U. S. Army Recruiting Station in this area. A portable telephone unit will connect the finish line with hilltop, the place where the race begins.

Traffic patrols will be furnished by the Texas Highway Patrol, the County Sheriff's Department and the City Police Department. In addition, men will be mounted on horseback to help control crowds.

A warning to on-lookers has already been issued by Morris Elnoe, general chairman. He has stated that all persons will be required to adhere strictly to the instructions as to where they may stand at the track because if a car should go out of control it is dangerous. The car and the boy together may weigh as much as 250 pounds.

The winner of the local race will compete in the national race at Akron against boys from 134 other cities in the United States, Canada and Alaska. His trip will be financed, and he will be sponsored, by The Pampa Daily News. He will leave here by automobile during the week of August 11, and the race will be on the following Sunday.

The local winner will receive a Bulova sweep-second wrist watch at Akron.

All boys who participate in the race next Sunday will be guests of the Lions Club at the luncheon the following Thursday. Awards will be presented at that time. All boys will receive a prize.

The Akron contestant from Pampa will have a chance to get one of a number of prizes, ranging from a four-year college scholarship to an X-ray toolmaster set.

In addition, he will be the "toast of the town," inasmuch as officials of Akron declare "Derby Week," and as many as 100,000 persons from all over the U. S. converge on the city for the big contest.

It is broadcast over the radio networks, and the contestants and the winner are filmed in a special picture by Hollywood lensmen. Last year's winner, who beat out Carl Kennedy in their first heat by one-tenth of a second, was awarded a film contract for which he received a sum of money. He will get a free college education when he has finished high school.

The All-American Soap Box Derby this year celebrates its tenth anniversary, and it is a feature of Chevrolet Division, General Motors.

Governor Jester said he would call special elections for August 23, if possible, to fill the Congressional posts left vacant by Mansfield's death and that of Rep. Ewing Thompson of El Paso as a Federal Judge. Ejections to fill two Legislative vacancies have been set for that date, which coincides with the statewide Constitutional amendment election on the college building program. Jester said he would not set a specific date for the Congressional elections, however, until the secretary of state is notified formally of the vacancies.

Mansfield, a kinsman of Thomas Jefferson and the grandson of a Revolutionary soldier, was born at Wayne, then in the State of Virginia, and died in West Virginia, Feb. 9, 1861. His father, a Confederate soldier, was killed later the same year. Mrs. Mansfield, who SINGING CONVENTION—Music will fill the air in Pampa next Saturday and Sunday, July 19 and 20, when the Plateau Singing Convention holds its 26th Annual meeting. Shown above are members of the advisory board of the association which has been active since 1922. When it was organized at Clovis, N. M., and John F. Taylor shown front center was elected president. Taylor has served the organization actively since that time.

COWBOY BAND—Johnny Regan, internationally known English Cowboy with the Hardin-Simmons University Cowboy Band, will be with the Cowboy musicians when they come to Pampa for the third annual Top of Texas Rodeo and Horse Show August 6-9, to act as official band for the rodeo. With the exception of the war years, Regan has been with the band since 1930, when he returned to the United States with the group following their European tour. Regan is featured with the Cowboy Band as trick roper and whip artist. His special numbers include tricks with the Australian stock whip and the popular "Texas Wagon Wheel" with the lariat. The Wagon Wheel was made famous by the late Will Rogers.

ded many years ago, was a member of the Byrd family of Virginia.

A Texas land grant which his father had received from the Mexican government before the Texas revolution beckoned Mansfield to Texas when he was 20 years old.

He worked first as a farm hand and laborer in a nursery, then as a railroad baggage master and freight clerk. He was admitted to the Texas bar in 1886 and was elected mayor of Eagle Lake in 1889. He was elected county attorney of Colorado County in 1892 and served 20 years as Colorado County judge from 1896 to 1916.

Four years after he went to Congress in 1917, he suffered the stroke of paralysis that confined him to a wheel chair the rest of his life.

His refusal to let his disability halt his activity won him the respect of both Democratic and Republican colleagues. Page boys pushed his chair about the Capitol and he had a special place in the House, just below the speaker's rostrum.

State President Commends Pampans

John Ben Shepperd of Glade-water, president of the United States Junior Chamber of Commerce, has commended Pampa Jaycees for their work on behalf of his successful candidacy.

"As one Texan to another," Shepperd said in a message to Local President Jack L. Nimma, "I want all of you to know that I am humbled by this great honor and am grateful for the support and encouragement I have received from Texas Jaycees and especially from Pampa Jaycees."

"As your national president, I hope that I shall be credited to Texas and its Junior Chamber of Commerce."

Shepperd took office July 1, and immediately began a tour of duty which will take him to all 48 states and the territories, as well as several foreign countries.

(Continued From Page 1) or not some one was negligent. Five minutes after court reconvened in the afternoon, Simpson took up his plea to the jury explaining the legal definition of "proximate cause" and "new and independent causes." Bringing up the latter, he argued that the unidentified voice telling Wilson to "go ahead" could very easily have been the cause of the injury to Taylor. Shortly before this argument however, Simpson argued that neither Wilson nor Taylor could be guilty of negligence and asked for a verdict of an unavoidable accident.

Further appeals were made to the jury by Attorneys Walter Rogers and Curtis Douglas, taking up rebuttal arguments respectively. Closing the case before the jury, Chief Plaintiff Counsel Will Saunders addressed the jury charging the defense with inconsistency both in pleading their case before the jury and in evidence given during the weeklong trial. Saunders addressed the jury in a one hour and 36 minute final rebuttal to all defense arguments. He closed asking the jury to return a verdict in favor of the plaintiff, and an award of $50,000, at 5:31 p. m.

At 5:34 the charge was handed to the jury, but recalled by Judge Goodrich to permit the 12 men to eat supper. They were instructed to return by 6:45 to commence deliberation on the first civil suit to go before a Gray County jury since February 1945.

"We fully understand, and we express our sympathy. But I think that I voice the general sentiment of all the countries, not only in this conference but outside Europe, when I say that I think it is their wish, as certainly it is ours, that the door shall remain open to all those of good will who want to contribute to the healthy life of Europe."

Foreign Minister Carlo Sforza of Italy said the conference was assembling on the eve of a "transformation of the Old World." British-French invitations went to 22 nations after Russia refused to join in sponsoring the parley. Those present at the first session yesterday were: Austria, Belgium, The Netherlands, Luxembourg, Eire, Iceland, Norway, Sweden, Denmark, Switzerland, Italy, Portugal, Greece, Turkey and the sponsoring powers. Czechoslovakia accepted but reserved that decision later on receipt of a telephone call from Czech Premier Klement Gottwald in Moscow, where he had gone after his government accepted the bid. Others refusing to come to the conference were: Poland, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Rumania, Bulgaria, Albania and Finland.

France Spain was not invited.

Cottons for Dress in Summer Styles

Fine-combed cottons are suavelly styled for summer dress-up occasions. Left, pale lavender mull is banded with delicate white-embroidered bariete from square neckline to new longer hemline. A bolero jacket tops the pink cambric dress, right, which has a tier-tucked camisole top.

BY EPSIE KINARD
NEA Fashion Editor
NEW YORK—(NEA) — Cottons step into the roped-off pews of summer church weddings and do full justice to the occasion. Capable of carrying style honors right alongside more gaudy fashions are the suave little dresses called "designer's cottons."
Designers with a flair for handling fabrics of fine-combed yarns show their respect by giving ready-made dresses the "precious look" of hand-made clothes of earlier days.
Reminiscent of the era when dainty cottons owed their patrician distinctions to fine needlework are tucked and lace-encrusted dresses of chambray, batiste pique and two revival-cottons: cambric and mull.
If you remember mull as a droopy cotton, you won't recognize its modern counterpart. Today's mull is pebbled for crease-resistance. A resin finish not only discourages musing but gives "body" and crisp line to today's church-going dresses. Mull '47 vintage, however is still deemed worthy of nice lace. Bandings of fine white embroidered bariete are used by designer Charles Armour, for example, to frost a dress of pale lavender mull. This lace is used in horizontal rows from the square neckline to the new longer hemline of the crisp, full-skirted dress.
Cambric is starred as a "designer's cotton" by Mildred Orick. Pink, blue and aqua cambric are used to make tier-tucked dresses with camisole tops, new longer skirts. Topping these are bolero jackets with push-up sleeves which may be peeled off when the thermometer runs wild.

Fruit Should Be Carefully Chosen

By GAYNOR MODDOX
NEA Staff Writer
The domestic fruit season is under way with raspberries, apricots, plums, cantaloupes, honeyballs and peaches.
It is important to do your own shopping. Be gentle with fruit when selecting. It is the consumer who pays for any bruises or other damages because the merchant is forced to charge prices high enough to make up for the loss resulting from careless handling by customers.
Also remember that the biggest fruit is not necessarily the best value. For some purposes it is good economy to buy smaller-sized fruit.
When fruit is tending toward over-ripeness the dealers try to move it as quickly as possible. In order to do so, they offer it at a

Divorces Granted by Judge of 31st District

Judge Lewis M. Goodrich Friday in Judge's chambers, granted five divorces and approved one title judgment in favor of the plaintiff.
Four of the divorce decrees were granted on grounds of cruelty and one on grounds of desertion.
The tri title suit was A. L. Gillis versus John W. Gilbreth et al. The judgment awarded the clear title of all of Lot number 4 situated in Block #0 of the Talley addition to the plaintiff.
Fessy Kelly Gise was granted a divorce from her husband, William R., on charges of cruelty. The plaintiff's petition alleged the couple were married in September of 1946 and separated in January of 1947. The court granted a divorce to Ruby Bailey from her husband, Pete Bailey, when the plaintiff charged cruelty. Date of marriage was given as January of 1941 and date of separation as February, 1947.
Charging cruelty, Edna V. Hamilton was divorced from Francis W. Hamilton. The plaintiff's petition stated they were married in January, 1941, and separated in December, 1946.
The wedding of Moses L. Kirkland to Margaret Joan Kirkland, performed in Strevsburg, England, in April, 1946, ended in divorce Friday on charges of cruelty by the plaintiff. The couple were separated in April of 1947.
Morris Howard won a divorce from his wife, Era Howard, on charges of desertion. The plaintiff's original petition stated they were married in April of 1929 and separated in January of 1943.

considerable reduction in cost. At times great savings can be effected by purchasing such fruits. However, you must pay particular attention to decay, else there may be so much waste in the purchase that the supposed bargain will be an extravagance.
If a fruit is featured at extremely low prices, use caution before buying. Unless you are a good judge of fruit values, you are taking a chance. Try to find out the reason for this condition. If it is the result of an over-supply on the market, you can feel pretty safe in taking advantage of it.
Keep advised of the fruits that are in season in the nearby orchards not only because home-grown fruits are usually fresher and at the peak of their quality, but also because transportation charges are comparatively negligible with the attendant saving passed on to the consumers. These economies may be appreciable, especially if you are buying in quantity for canning.
You can feel fairly safe about the content capacity of the standard type of fruit and berry baskets. In some cases, however, the basket may be trifled with by denting the sides or bottom, and consequently you will not be getting full measure. Have your dealer fill the basket so that you can see if the quality is uniform throughout.
DINNER: Green peppers, stuffed with leftover duck, rice and chopped nuts, tomato sauce, corn on cob, hard rolls, butter or fortified margarine, scallions and radishes, blackberry roll, sauce, coffee, milk.
LUNCHEON: Chopped pressed ham omelet, whole wheat bread, butter or fortified margarine, apple and cabbage salad, cup cakes with orange icing, tea, milk.

Shamrock Stages Very Successful Clean-Up

SHAMROCK. (Special) Shamrock's clean-up campaign staged Monday and Tuesday of last week was a success. Bob Clark, who was in charge of arrangements, said. Most residents, both in the residential and downtown sections cooperated by clearing their premises of trash and rubbish, most of which has been hauled to the city dump grounds. Trash that was not picked up by the special haulers engaged for the work on Tuesday only will be hauled away by the Load-packer which will start in its regular rounds this week, Clark said.

The moving operation was not as successful as had been expected. Clark declared. Most mowers are pulled by tractors and the tractors are being used to harvest the wheat. One mower, however, is making the rounds of the city, cutting the weeds along the side streets.

Shamrock's volunteer firemen are due thanks by everyone who enjoys living in a clean city. The firemen worked five hours Tuesday evening, washing down the streets. Main street from First to Fourth Street between Main and Wall were given a bath by the volunteer smoke eaters, working under the direction of Fire Chief Jack Taylor. The firemen began moving cars from the downtown streets at 6 p. m. and it was 11 p. m. when they completed rolling up their hose.

East Second Street from Main to Madden was to have washed, but too many cars were parked along the curbs for the firemen to operate.

Four Youths Build Own Version 'Flying Disc'

TWIN FALLS, Idaho.—(AP)—Four lads with an imagination that runs to flying discs may or may not be laughing up their sleeves today after their version of a flying saucer had practically the entire local populace, the FBI, Army intelligence officers and police on the run Friday.

The boys created and planted in a local yard an object that looked to them, as well as to the Army and civilian officers, just like a flying disc should look.

Their hoax was exposed after Assistant Police Chief L. D. McCracken was tipped one of the boys knew something about the disc.

The creation, which took two days to complete, was made from parts of an old phonograph, burned out radio tubes and other discarded electrical parts. It had a plexi-glass dome, radio tubes, burned wires and glistening gold and silver sides.

PRISCILLA'S POP

One Dies Following Hospital Explosion

NEW ORLEANS.—(AP)—One person is dead and four are being treated for injuries suffered here Friday in an operation room explosion at Baptist hospital.

Raymond Wilson, hospital business manager, said the explosion occurred while an anesthesia of ethylene and oxygen was being administered to Miss Louis Ellsworth, daughter of a retired banker.

She died several hours later of suffocation, Dr. C. Grenes Cole, Orleans parish coroner, reported. He classified the death as accidental.

State-Wide Probe Centers on Dallas

DALLAS.—(AP)—Dallas Monday is expected to become a focal point from which will stem the North Texas phase of a state-wide investigation by Attorney General Price Daniel to determine whether recent gasoline price increases are in violation of the state anti-trust law.

District Attorney Will Wilson said yesterday his co-operation was requested by Daniel in a long-distance telephone conversation. The Attorney General told Wilson four of his assistants from Austin would arrive here Monday to launch the inquiry in this area.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK.—(AP)—Let's look at this thing called military secrecy—if any.

A country that depends upon it too much is like a man leaning on a wax crutch on a hot day. It won't hold him forever.

The question of safeguarding what we know from the nations that would like to see what we have up our sleeve has been raised anew by the Congressional furor over the disappearance and return of secret atom bomb data.

Taking of these atom files by two sergeants as "souvenir" points up an old army truth: There is nothing the generals know that the sergeants don't find out.

And there is another axiom you can also accept about any military secret: more people know about it than the top leader has knowledge of. Their mouths in time will undo the work of all guards and fences.

If General Eisenhower should believe now, for example, that only his key command personnel knew in advance that we were going to land in Normandy in June, 1944, he would be entertaining an illusion. Scores were told who didn't even want to know by officers for whom the secret was simply too big to hold from their friends.

I remember after the landing in Sicily the dramatic relief of a young headquarters officer who for six months lived in mortal fear that he would spill his knowledge of that operation, learned incidentally, six months before at the Casablanca conference.

One midnight he saw a document absent-mindedly left behind by a general in one of the conference rooms. He stepped over and at a glance saw its significance—a landing by the allies in Sicily in July. He phoned the general who came down hurriedly in his bathrobe.

Incidentally, WAC personnel who did the secretarial work on both the Sicilian and Salerno operations proved women can hold a secret—at least in wartime—as well as men. No breach of security ever was laid to them.

One officer reportedly left the plans for the African landings in a Washington drugstore, but retrieved his brief case before Benji could hotfoot an agent to the scene.

Of course, foreign spies don't usually get their information from such obvious blunders. They learn more from bought or wagging tongues.

Although his officers often were afraid he would disclose his plans too soon, General Patton had a pretty healthy idea on military security. He observed precautions, but he never expected a secret to win a battle for him.

Few secrets do win wars. You still win wars by the old Southern cavalry principle of "getting that fustest with the mostest" of whatever you think will stun the enemy, whether you hit him with a pseudo-secret atom bomb or a handy crowbar.

The enduring secret of warfare is to have what it takes in the right place when you need it. No other secret brings victory.

'Flying Saucer' Craze Hits Most Every Town

SHAMROCK. (Special)—The age-old and customary greetings such as "hello" or "how do you do?" have passed out of the picture or gone down as old-fashioned or obsolete—for the time being, at least. The modern salutation is "have you seen any flying saucers lately?"

The disc-like "flying saucers" have been reported skimming through the air in 38 states, the District of Columbia and Canada at the time this is being written and it's three or four hours until press time.

And never let it be said that Shamrock has been outdone. Yep, the saucers have been reported flying over this city. They were seen by an excited housewife at 3:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon. The lady (we promised not to divulge her name) telephoned us and said "15 or 20 of the bright objects were flying over, coming in from the southwest and traveling toward the east."

Anxious for a first-hand interview with one of the discs, we rushed to the door and trained our 20-20 in the direction advised, but all we saw was a bunch of hand bills dropped by airplane circling over town.

YOUTHS DIE IN FIRE

700,000 Tons Supplies Slated for Middle East

About 700,000 tons of equipment and supplies will be sent to the Near East and Middle East during the next two and one-half years for construction of a pipe line from Saudi Arabia to the Mediterranean according to estimates of Arabian American Oil Company.

Approximately 35 percent of this tonnage will consist of pipe and casing for the projected 30-inch oil carrier to be operated by Trans-Arabian Pipe Line Company. The remainder of the tonnage will consist of other materials, equipment and supplies required for the construction programs of both companies and the maintenance of existing facilities.

Previous reports reported that a million tons of steel pipe would be sent this summer for construction of the pipe line.

ANGLO-AMERICAN PACT
 WASHINGTON—(AP)—Sen. Wm. Lee O'Daniel (D-Texas) told the Senate Friday that should the Anglo-American oil agreement reach the floor it will have his "uncompromising opposition."

The Senator said in a brief speech that the new deal tried to "nationalize" the U. S. oil industry and failed, and is "now entailing the aid of Great Britain to accomplish the same thing through the oil agreement."

Gasoline, Fuel Oil Prices May Go Even Higher

NEW YORK—(AP)—The prices of gasoline and home fuel oil, which have started climbing upward in various sections of the country in the past few days, are likely to go still higher and affect more areas, industry leaders have predicted.

The increases are attributed to advancing crude oil prices, "phenomenal demand" for petroleum products, shortages in some sections, notably the Midwest, and mounting costs of discovery and development of oil reserves.

Crude oil prices went to $2.05 a barrel, up 80 cents from the OPA ceiling, in the East Texas Field Thursday when the Premier Oil Refining Co. boosted its quotations 10 cents. Other companies in the field were still holding to $1.95.

Premier last January boosted prices 10 cents, from $1.70 to $1.80, and within two months other companies followed suit.

The latest price boost came only a few weeks after Eugene Holman, president of Standard Oil Co. (NJ), told Pennsylvania crude producers current prices were sufficient. Most major oil companies assented but several independents clamored for increases.

Crude oil increases were reflected by a half cent a gallon jump in Texas tank wagon prices, and a cent rise in retail prices there. Ohio gasoline prices went up a cent a gallon retail.

To meet what it described as "phenomenal demand" for oil products, the Texas Railroad Commission yesterday raised crude-oil production allowances 68,773 barrels a day until Sept 1.

The National Petroleum Council said crude production was running 700,000 barrels a day below demand, and urged that 18,000 tons of steel be set aside monthly for new tank cars.

Oil men said the industry was facing high price increases in the cost of finding and developing crude oil reserves and with big mounting costs of equipment and installation. Some said these mounting costs would be reflected inevitably in higher prices for gasoline and home fuel oils, in spite of the announced desire of major oil companies to hold prices down.

Rail Shipments of Crude From West Texas Rises

Rail shipments of crude from 7 loading points in West Texas and New Mexico averaged 60,100 barrels daily during the week ending June 22. This compares with 59,800 barrels daily from the previous week.

Humble Oil & Refining Company, the largest shipper in averaging 26,450 barrels daily, has abandoned plans to move 50,000 barrels daily through inability to obtain the required tank cars, and will attempt to maintain a schedule of 35,000 barrels daily in July to supplement 124,000 daily runs from the Permian Basin by Humble Pipe Line Company's 2 trunk line systems.

United Nations Get Cooperative Plan For Regulation of Middle East Fields

A proposal has been submitted to the United Nations for regulation of Middle East oil fields by that body. The plan was proposed by the International Cooperative Alliance, whose membership is said to represent co-operatives in 39 nations, with its principal membership in the United States, Britain and Sweden, and its proponents suggested that it favored eventual regulation by the United Nations of all the oil deposits of the world.

As a specialized agency officially attached to the United Nations, the alliance placed the plan on the Summer Session docket.

A spokesman described Middle Eastern oil as a danger spot in international regulations, and said that East-West tension would be decreased in regard to the current spirited competition for oil requirements and acquisition of other portions of the Middle East for prospecting. The five-part plan would call for:

1. Planning and enforcement of conservative measures.

2. Giving all governments the right to buy oil from the Middle East on an equal basis.

3. Barring discrimination as to types of buyers, whether governments, corporations or co-operatives.

4. Prohibition of price discrimination between governments, or large purchasers.

5. Sitting as a tribunal on complaints from governments, lessees or purchasers.

Carroll Lashes Out Against Amendment To Natural Gas Act

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Rep. Carroll (D-Cole) denounced yesterday legislation to amend that natural gas act of 1938, passed Friday by the House, "gives greater profits to the industry at the expense of the consumer."

"In short," Carroll said in a statement, "the Federal Power Commission has lost an important part of its jurisdiction in the regulation of the sale of gas to the consumer."

"If this bill is not blocked in the Senate the consumer will pay additional millions of dollars."

Under existing law, he explained, the commission has been able to "effectively" regulate the sale price of gas to the ultimate consumer.

The gas industry, he said, has been fighting in the courts for years in an effort to "cut down and curb" the commission's price fixing jurisdiction.

"Having lost their fights in the courts," he continued, "they now come to Congress asking for legislation which would nullify and destroy previous court decisions."

"Not long ago the people of Denver were repaid in the sum of $4,000,000 the result of overcharges in the sale of natural gas. They received that repayment only because the Federal Power Commission had jurisdiction to regulate and supervise rates of dollars."

"Had the original gas act contained the amendment just passed by the House the people of Denver would have been deprived of $4,000,000."

Carroll, who attempted unsuccessfully to have the House-approved bill recommitted, said he was "hopeful" that final passage of the bill would be blocked in the Senate.

Oklahoma Has 45 New Oil Wells

TULSA, Okla.—(AP)—Highlighted by extensions in the Antioch Field of Garvin County and the East Lindsay pool in McClain County, Oklahoma oil men successfully completed 45 oil wells and six gasers last week against a total of 70 holes found dry and abandoned.

The oil wells had an initial daily flow of 5,801 barrels and 64,670,000 cubic feet of gas. The figures compared with 67 oilers and five gasers a week ago that had 10,128 barrels of oil and 13,813,000 cubic feet of gas.

HEARING SET
 AUSTIN—(AP)—The Railroad Commission has set for hearing Aug. 28 the application of the Mid-States Oil Corporation for an exception to field rule 6 for its Frost Lumber industry of all lease in Waskon Field, Harrison County.

Intelligent American self-interest immediately requires a sound, overall inventory of our own resources to determine the latitudes within which we may consider these foreign needs. This comes first because if America ever sags, the world's hopes sag with her.

DEEP TEST WELL

CORTEZ, Colo.—(AP)—With five large companies associated in the venture, a deep test well was spudded Friday Southwest of Dove Creek across the Utah line.

The test at the El Paso Gas Company's Daryl Redd No. 1 is to be an 800 foot try with El Paso, Southern Union, Big West, Byrd-Frost and J. K. Wedley sharing the cost which may exceed $300,000.

In 1909, U. S. people spent about three-fourths of their income for food, clothing and shelter.

Grayson County Gets New Well

SHERMAN—(AP)—The Texas Company's No. 5 J. E. Handy test well in the Stewart survey of the Northwest corner of Grayson County, Delaware Bend area, came in early Thursday.

A company official said the potential was considered "very good." The well was producing between 2101-62 feet. A drill stem test earlier had indicated a 5,000-barrel well, the company spokesman said. The well is the third Texas producer in the vicinity, with the other two getting small production.

Children Bitten by Dog; Test Negative

SHAMROCK (Special)—Fears that a dog might have infected two Shamrock children with rabies early last week were squelched Thursday when laboratory test of the animal's head showed negative. The dog was killed and sent to the Terrell Laboratory by the Shamrock Clinic and Hospital after it had bitten Edus Ann Shipley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shipley, and Marilyn Huff, daughter of Mrs. Jack Huff.

The Shipley child was bitten severely on the left arm while playing in the yard of the Huff home about 4 o'clock Monday afternoon. The Huff baby had been bitten by the dog earlier in the day.

Herefords and 600 head of horses. The deal involves nearly one third of the original 450,000-acre ranch established in 1824 by an English syndicate.

Other eracts previously sold are 117,000 acres to a Mrs. Hoover of Tucumcari, and 80,000 acres to Sam Arnett, Lubbock rancher and banker.

Drive Is On To Promote Benefit Game

Members of the Pampa Kiwanis Club this past week were enlisted in a drive to "sell out the house" for a benefit baseball game—a regularly scheduled game—between Albuquerque and the Oilers here July 29.

The Club will split the proceeds with the management, and the money collected by the club will go to the benefit of the club's softball program on a yearly project.

Each member of the club has been given 25 tickets to sell. Chaplain Newell E. Taylor, now attached to the army at San Antonio, was guest speaker at the Friday meeting at the Methodist Church basement. The chaplain, who spent 31 months overseas, landing on Europe's coast D-day plus 6.

He said the price paid for our liberty has not already been invested with the death of America's sons in the last war, but rather, the price will be paid "with the integrity of our citizens still living."

If those war dead could speak now, he said, they would say "Look to your moral safeguards. Safeguard your future by investing yourself in keeping our moral standards high."

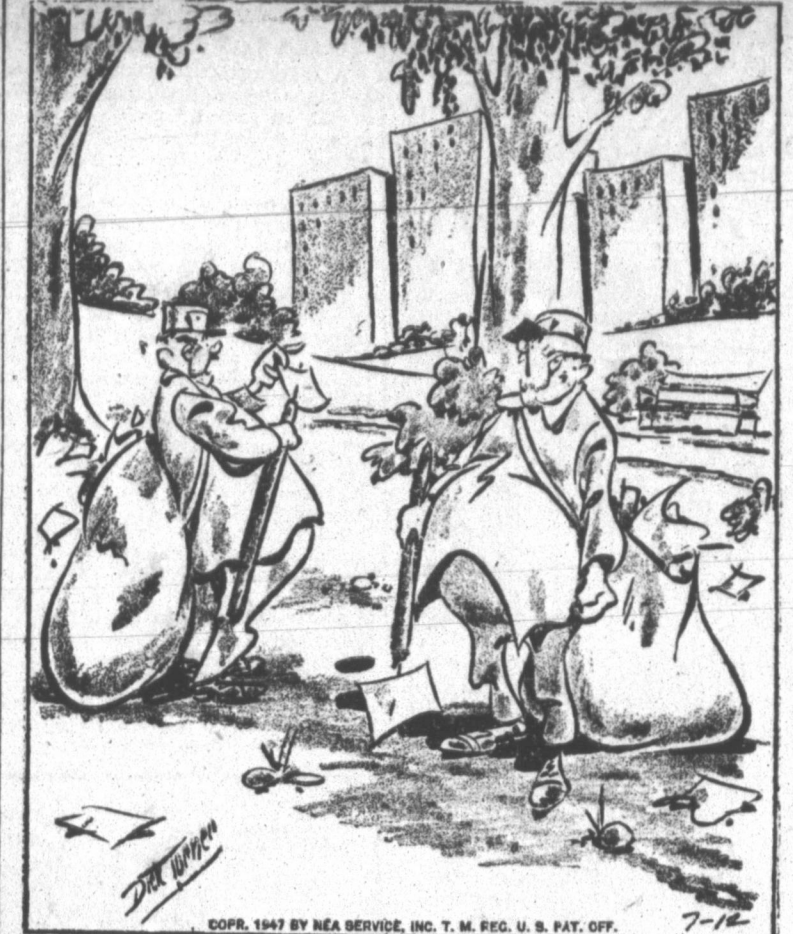

The Army, he stated, is learning that it is better for the chaplain to meet the new soldier in his first day in camp, and from that juncture is more likely to be able to help the soldier maintain his contact with the religious institution he had kept faith with in civilian life.

Seeking to keep men in the church is the objective of the chaplain program, he said.

Chaplain Taylor said there were 8,000 chaplains in World War II. Those men conducted a total of 5,400,000 religious services, with a total attendance of 389,000,000 men.

As for crime in and out of the ranks, he quoted these figures from the files of the Federal Bureau of

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
Well, I see that Czechoslovakia has apologized to the United States for a poem in one of their newspapers that attacked President Truman, but I don't imagine that poem upset the President nearly as much as some of the things that are said in our Congress. He can't read Czechoslovakian but he can hear Republican.

I'd never heard of poetry being used in connection with politics before. But I think it's quite a good idea because there's an old expression about something having neither rhyme nor reason. With poetry added, politics will at least have rhyme.

When my brother Willie read about the incident he went right to work on a political poem of his. It's called "A suggestion to President Truman that he should stop and think things over next time before he vetoes another tax-cut bill." The poem reads: "Tarry, Harry."

During World War II, the U. S. Government rated fish hooks so important that it gave them an "A-1" priority rating.

Leaves From a Correspondent's Life Note Book

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK—(AP)—The names of the strange towns went by like railway cars.

And who remembers them now... Gela... Ragusa... Licata... Agrigento... Nicosia... Caltagirone? Soft musical names spoken in the soft Sicilian tybials that always end on a half-sob, as if the pleasant language reflected the long heartache of their island history.

But four years ago the names were live unpronounceable pinpoints on the maps of scores of American infantry and tank platoons moving across the dry face of Sicily.

They meant populated places where death and comedy held alternate rendezvous.

For there never was a military campaign quite like Sicily in its first few days. The troops were never sure whether they would get flowers or a hand grenade in the face... and they sometimes got both in the same town. They never knew whether the next enemy soldier would meet them with a bottle of "vino" or a machine gun blast.

The Italian army was dissolving into happy, drunken, dirty fragments, washing apart like a sandcastle in a heavy tide. But the German army was colled like an iron spring, tempered and ready.

We came ashore at Scabbly Gela, sunbaked and unwashed since the Greek dramatist Aeschylus died there in 459 B.C. The German tanks rolled in waves against the slender beachhead, and when they recoiled, beaten, more bloody dead lay there than at any time since Agathocles treacherously put 5,000 inhabitants to the sword three centuries before Christ was born.

And then the towns began going by like railway cars... Narò... Favara... Caltanissetta... Marsala... Trapani... and Castelvetrano, where broken plane doors flapped in a windy graveyard of axis powder.

Light Sicilian ladies with the kisses of their departing German sweetheart still damp on their lips turned willing mouths to new conquerors. Thus it has always been in Sicily.

The war swung east then against veteran Teuton troops dug into the seacoast and rugged mountain villages. The gaudy days were over. The artillery guns pounded all day, and lit the sky by night. The bullet-dozers took over and built new roads around the blown-up bridges. Doughboys bled again on unnamed hills.

And the towns went by more slowly now, like a Jerry freight train, and the cars were colored red... Troina, that hill of horror... "Bloody Ridge," a rag populated only by American and German dead... San Stefano, with its creekside so worn with chain mines that eight soldiers died when one man jostled a wagon... and Erolo, where our surprise landing broke the Nazi line.

Remember, soldier, the tossed flowers and hand grenades and almonds? The watermelons and the wine? And Mt. Etna, smouldering on the right? Lying in a foxhole at night you could see it wore a halo, and wondered when you'd get yours.

Randazzo... Milazzo... Spadafora... and Messina... the end of the Sicilian campaign, with the Germans still firing from Italy across the straits.

The towns went by like railway cars... and who remembers them now?

the door glass, was given emergency treatment at a hospital.

The weather also can cause absent mindedness. Like the Texarkana man who went to a grocery and asked for a fifth of milk. His mind was elsewhere.

Some people are blaming the heat for the flying disks or saucers. But U. S. Commissioner J. Walker Cooke of Waco says maybe it's just spiders. He says he remembers the day 45 years ago when the report was current that the earth was passing through the tail of a comet. It was, he recalls, a hot afternoon.

He investigated, and sure enough, the air was full of shining objects. He said it turned out to be thistle-down ridden by tiny spiders, using them as gliders. He said they shone in the sun. He said people in those days exaggerated their size and speed, too.

Garfield Working on Plans for Filming of 'Volpone' in Italy

By BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD—(AP)—John Garfield is completely free to set his own course these days and among his ambitious plans is the filming of "Volpone" in its authentic setting—Venice, Italy.

John is leaving for Europe after he finishes "Gentleman's Agreement" and he told me his prime mission is to make arrangements for shooting the Ben Jonson classic abroad. John will play Mosca in the enterprise film and he hopes to get Charles Laughton for the title role.

Garfield said enterprise officials consider him as the "Deanna Durbin" of the new company. "Body and Soul," will pull the studio out of the red, as the chairper did for Universal years ago.

George Jessel and 20th Fox signed a new deal with which the producer is very happy. It gives him six months off each year to devote to his other activities.

Alan Ladd fans will be surprised to hear him sing "Tallahassee" in "Variety Girl" with Dotty Lamour. Tyrone Power isn't set on where to vacation after "Nightmare Alley," but thinks he'd like to fly back to some spots he touched in the Caribbean, particularly the Dominican Republic. Strangely enough, he'll take his vacation at the same time Lana Turner gets hers from MGM.

Joan Crawford goes back to Warner's after "Gaily Keenon" for one of three stories Jerry Wald is preparing for her. "I'd like to do something very dramatic," she said as she went riding away in her portable dressing room.

Frank Sinatra drops the interesting news that "Miracle of the Bells" will be the first picture he has started with a finished script. His current epic, "The Kissing Bandit," has been shooting 50 days and is still in the writing mill.

Dorothy Lamour is pleased with her Sunday air show for Army recruiting and would like a regular program after her 13-week stint for Uncle Sam. That would be a headache for the production boss of a "road" picture—three stars with radio shows.

NEEDS MOON
The city of Liverpool, England, would be almost useless as a port without the moon, since it must have tides to keep its harbor channel clean.

FREIGHT STATE
More tons of freight of all kinds moved by rail originate in Pennsylvania than in any other state. West Virginia ranks second and Illinois third.

West Point was first occupied by troops during the U. S. Revolutionary War.

SPA to Sell Power To Texas Company

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Southwestern Power Administration yesterday was ready with approved rates to sell power from its Denison, Texas, dam project to the Texas Power and Light Company.

The approval was granted by the Federal Power Commission. The dam project is on the Red River in Oklahoma and Texas.

The Southwestern Power Administration, an Interior Department agency, and the privately-owned utility had asked approval of the rates for a 20-year period, but the FPC fixed a termination date of Feb. 13, 1953, a six-year period.

The reason, said the FPC, "during that period we can determine the desirability for their continuance or modification."

The government agency, which has authority to dispose of electric power from projects in Arkansas, Louisiana, Kansas, Missouri, Texas and Oklahoma, has been selling power for Denison Dam to Texas Power and Light for three years.

Only important city in the south to experience a decrease in colored population is Richmond, Va.

Wartime Airfield May Become Sanitarium

DALLAS—(AP)—The State of Texas' proposal to convert part of a wartime army airfield in the lower Rio Grande valley to a 2,000-bed tubercular sanitarium was one step nearer to realization today.

An official announcement was expected in Washington today on the approval of the State's application for the property, approximately one half of the area formerly comprising Moore Air Field.

Morgan R. Lewis, deputy state administrator for real property, said yesterday at Dallas that initial approval was given by the WAA's real property review board in Washington.

The state passed legislation early in May paving the way for the project.

The former army installation is situated 12 miles from each of three valley cities: Mission, Edinburg and McAllen.

When the military academy at West Point was "officially" opened in 1802 there were 10 cadets present for instruction.

RETIREMENT TO ACTIVE SERVICE

If General Eisenhower has decided that after 32 years in the Army he has discharged his duty to his country, his fellow Americans will not be so ungrateful as to contradict him. Yet there is certain to be a feeling of regret at his decision, along with the happier and no less heartfelt congratulations to the General and to Columbia University on their mutual good fortune.

Dwight D. Eisenhower is already one of the truly beloved figures of our military history. Millions of Americans who know him only through photographs and newsreels must instinctively have liked and trusted him. They could scarcely help it.

They have respected him as a brilliant commander and an able administrator. They have admired the diplomacy which enabled him to reason with some of the more positive and temperamental Allied leaders, convince them, and persuade them to a unanimous decision when unanimity was of decisive importance to the whole world's future.

As Chief of Staff, General Eisenhower has not only worked to give the country an adequate peacetime defense. He has also urged his countrymen, with compelling sincerity, to increase their individual efforts to bring about lasting peace.

Quite possibly General Eisenhower might have had a presidential nomination by the nod of his head. Instead he has chosen to accept leadership of one of the country's oldest, largest and most famous universities. In doing so he has chosen to limit somewhat his service to the nation. But there seems little reason to fear that that service will be continued within the boundaries of campus or academic schedule.

General Eisenhower will be working in the great city which is now the home and capital of the United Nations. The position he will occupy, beginning next year, is of considerable consequence in the educational and cultural life of that city. The schools over which he will preside attract students from all over the world.

Also the General inherits with his position a pattern, almost a tradition, of activity from his predecessor. The venerable Nicholas Murray Butler, now retired, led an incredibly busy life for 50 years as scholar, executive, author, politician, civic leader, and internationally influential educator.

Most important of all, General Eisenhower will be close to the source of future history. For history is only the sum of human activity. And that activity is only the sum of dreams and conscious thoughts in individual human minds.

Plans for conquest, plans for peace, economic systems, great discoveries, great books, great treacheries—these and all other history-making actions were first of all a secret thought.

General Eisenhower and all other educators can help to shape the thoughts of future leaders toward the best goals. They can help train the minds of the followers to recognize and choose the best leaders. With such an opportunity, it cannot be said that the Chief of Staff and General of the Army is resigning his active role in national and world affairs.

FERTILIZER By Peter Edson

WASHINGTON—(NEA)—Kansas Sen. Arthur Capper's Agriculture Committee is expected to report favorably this week on a bill to establish a national soil fertility policy. If this sounds as if Congress was about to pass a law to make the ground yield more crops per acre, that isn't quite it.

First thing the bill would do is give the Tennessee Valley Authority $6 million to build an experimental plant at Mobile, Ala., to make triple super-phosphate fertilizer by a new blast furnace process, using Florida phosphate rock and Alabama coal.

Then the Department of Agriculture will be empowered to take the 100,000 tons of fertilizer this plant would produce, buy another million tons from private industry, and give it all away free except for the freight costs.

Secretary of Agriculture Clinton Anderson is against doing it on this lavish a scale. But the idea of the bill is to conduct test demonstrations on 2 percent of all the farms in every state in the Union. This means the tests would be run on an average of 30 to 60 farms in every county. The program would cost $16 million a year.

All this would go on for five years. Then the test plant would have to be sold to private industry and the farmers who wanted triple superphosphate would have to buy it on the open market.

LOOKS LIKE A FAT SUBSIDY
Now this looks like a nice fat subsidy for the fertilizer trust. It makes the government do a basic research job, it develops a lot of new customers and then it turns the business over to private enterprise. But strangely enough, fertilizer manufacturers are trying to kill the bill.

American Plant Food Council and National Fertilizer Association, the manufacturers' trade organizations are against it. What their battle boils down to is another round in the old struggle of private enterprise vs. government operation of anything, any time.

Leading fertilizer manufacturers testified they feared that if the government made a success of this experiment, it might tend towards nationalization or socialization of fertilizer resources, manufacture and distribution. Also, these manufacturers fear competition from the Co-ops.

Original sponsor of this soil fertility bill is the American Farm Bureau Federation. Co-sponsor is the National Farmers' Union. This gives the bill support of big and little farmers, and it isn't often that they get together on anything. The Farm Bureau's real inspiration for this idea comes from Tennessee Valley Authority experiments on use of fertilizers. In 1933 TVA started test demonstrations on 2 percent of the farms in its area. Fertilizer use increased up to 400 percent.

ELECTRIC FURNACE DEVELOPED BY TVA
Then TVA developed an electric furnace method of producing phosphates. During the war TVA produced 60 percent of the phosphates used in munitions. In spite of all these benefits which the industry gained, it still bucks any extension of this type of research.

What really bothers farm experts is the need for re-enriching U. S. soil. Heavily drained by over-production in recent years, the fertility of American farmland is said to be running out.

TVA tests indicate that what is needed is the application of 75 pounds of triple superphosphate per acre per year to establish and maintain fertility of pastures and cropland. Present U. S. use averages only 14 pounds per acre per year.

In other words, what the country laid to need is an annual production of six million tons of triple superphosphate. What it is getting under the fertilizer industry's production of what it thinks it can sell is one million tons a year.

TVA is now producing about 6 percent of the total. The proposed Mobile plant would produce another 4 percent. So 90 percent of the business would still be in the hands of private industry. If industry was just smart enough to step up and take it.

In America it is not an army we must train for war; it is a nation. The spirit of man grows in freedom; it withers in chains. He has the right to live a free life. That right springs, inalienably, from within himself. It is not existent by decree of the state, let us better ourselves; then will come a bettered state.—Bernard M. Baruch.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON
By RAY TUCKER
EVIDENCE—Benjamin F. Fairless's willingness—in fact, his eagerness—to sign a new contract with John L. Lewis, giving the coal miners their fattest raise in the history of industrial relations in this key field, is regarded here by official and unofficial observers as the surest evidence that comparatively good times and brisk business activity will continue for several years.

In fact, the president of United States Steel, which is the nation's economic bellwether, intimated several times during the negotiations that he anticipates a peak level of production and consumption on the basis of high prices and high wages, which is virtually the Truman-Steelman formula.

Mr. Fairless did not make this optimistic statement without first having conducted a survey of the needs of the automobile, railroad, construction, equipment and machinery fields.

There was never any doubt of an agreement from the start of the talks between Messrs. Lewis and Fairless. The latter assented readily to increases in wages and royalties for the health and welfare fund. The only differences centered around provisions designed to safeguard the unions from penalties incorporated in the Hartley-Taft Labor Law.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD — Paramount will start filming Bob Hope's next picture, "The Paleface," before Bob returns from that South American vacation July 18. They don't want to give him a chance to yell for a couple of weeks off to rest up. . . . Diana Lynn will be starred in "Prelude to Night" for Allied Artists. Zachary Scott probably will get the lead opposite her. . . . Orson Welles, as a followup to "Macbeth," is considering filming "Romeo and Juliet." He wants to keep it a story of young love, as Shakespeare wrote it, with Roddy McDowell as Romeo.

The Jimmy Stewart-RKO deal for a western, "Blood on the Moon," is on the shelf.

ADS MIGHT COST LESS
A radio contact man at one of the big studios cooked up what he thought was a great idea. As a publicity stunt for a new movie he arranged to film a five-minute scene right on the stage of the radio studio. Then he got an estimate of the cost from the studio production department. After being revived, he canceled the whole thing. The cost ran to $2500 for the services of the following: four electricians, two grips, an assistant director, three cameramen, one sound truck, one camera car and two seven passenger cars. It was a Saturday show so everybody got time and a half, and dinner.

Walter Pidgeon and Angela Lansbury, as husband and wife, were playing a breakfast scene for "If Winter Comes." There was some discussion as to their dialog and actions.

"No married couple would do that," argued Angela.
"Don't tell me how a married couple would act," spoke up Pidgeon. "I've been married for 20 years."
"You're both doing all right," said director Victor Saville. "Just keep arguing and you'll be the perfect average married couple at breakfast."

Banks Report Jump In Money Deposits

SHAMROCK.—(Special) Deposits in the two Shamrock banks have jumped $174,713 during the last six months and stand at well above the four million dollar mark, a peak which they reached during the latter part of 1945.
The deposits in the two banking institutions at the close of business on June 30, this year, totaled $4,193,383, according to reports made last week to the state federal banking authorities. On June 30, 1946, the deposits totaled $4,019,270.

Since the reports were made just as the area's largest wheat crop in history was just starting to roll into the local elevators, it is thought that the deposits may reach or even surpass the all-time high of $4,479,238 on December 31, 1945.

Of the money on deposit at the present time, $2,374,730 is at the First National Bank, while the Farmers and Merchants State Bank has $1,819,253.

Loans of the two banks are slightly lower than at this time last year, the reports reveal. Loans at the F. & M. Bank total $399,285 at the present time, while the First National Bank has on loan $377,094. This combined loan of $776,379 is $38,618 below the total of $814,997 of June 30, 1946.
