WHIRLWIND TOUR — LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, Republican, of Perryton, was in Pampa at 4:35 p.m. Saturday for a one-minute talk by loudspeaker to the people. ## Rogers Answers Opponent's Charge

Congressman Walter Rogers, Democrat, of Pampa, Saturday afternoon lashed back at accusations by his Republican opponent, LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, of Perryton, that the congressman's son, John, was listed as an employee of the federal government in Washington at a salary in excess of $2,300 a year.

"I am astounded that anyone would attempt to use a child as a weapon with which to attack the father," Rogers said.

See page four for Gray County election roundup story and location of polling places.

"Rogers told The Pampa Daily News, 'My son, John, is not on any payroll, he has never been on a payroll for $2,300 per year and he has never been employed for a year. Two summers ago he did some extra work for several weeks for which he received about one-third the pay an adult would have received. There were no adults available to do the work, and the taxpayers saved about $700.'"

LaMaster Visits Pampa
His statement came minutes before LaMaster hit Pampa on a two-day tour of 30 Panhandle communities. Speaking for one minute in front of the LaNora Theater beside a panel sound track, the Republican said he appreciated the reception, did not have time to go into the issues and asked for support in Tuesday's general election. He arrived at 4:35 p.m., 15 minutes behind schedule.

"I regret that attempts have been made to cast reflections on me and my family by the distortions and what amounts to political mud-slinging," Rogers said in arrival.

Getting back to the charge about his son, the congressman said, "I have never authorized the payment of any money to anybody for a service not connected with the duties of the congressional office and any statement to the contrary is a deliberate fabrication and distortion."

Points To Savings
"The truth is," he continued, "my office has been so operated that I have been able to save the American taxpayer over $20,000 in office expense since I have been in Congress. If all congressmen had done as well, the public treasury would be $10 million better off."

"Had my votes on all issues prevailed," the representative went on, "we would have a balanced federal budget and the national debt would not be the staggering sum of $278 billion."

Famed Speedster Killed In Crash
DECATUR, Ind., Oct. 30 — UP — Wilbur Shaw, who flitted with death hundreds of times as three-time winner of the Indianapolis 500-mile auto race, was one of three persons killed Saturday when their plane plunged into a field near here.

Shaw, president and general manager of the Speedway, was returning to Indianapolis from the Chrysler Corporation's Chelsea, Mich., testing grounds where he had viewed the firm's new autos. He would have celebrated his 52nd birthday Sunday.

A witness said the plane apparently "exploded" and nosed to earth, disintegrating on a farm three and one-half miles west of here.

Politicians Get In Gear To Get Out The Vote

Ex-TVA Chief Says:

Ike 'In Dark' On Dixon-Yates Pact

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — UP — Gordon Clapp, former chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority, said Saturday that President Eisenhower got "exceedingly misleading" advice on the controversial Dixon-Yates power contract and may not have understood "what he was getting into" when he approved it.

He voiced hope that "when the facts are smoked out about the still-secret contract, 'the revelation of informed citizens in a y somehow get through to the President and have this deal squashed.'"

Clapp blamed Budget Director Rowland H. Hughes for giving Mr. Eisenhower a "stuffed" picture of the contract, and said Hughes was guilty of "something approaching dereliction of duty."

Testifies Second Day
The former TVA chairman testified for the second day before a Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee which is investigating the 25-year power purchase contract which has been approved by the White House and the Atomic Energy Commission, but has not yet been formally signed.

The contract calls for the Dixon-Yates private utility combine to build a $107 million generating plant at West Memphis, Ark., to feed 600,000 kilowatts of power into the TVA system, to replace a like amount of TVA power used by the AEC.

Subcommittee Chairman William Langer said before Saturday's hearing that Mr. Eisenhower is "the only person" who can prevail on the AEC to reconsider the deal. He urged the President to do so.

No Response Indicated
There was no indication the Chief Executive would respond. He told his news conference last Wednesday that he has great confidence in AEC chairman Lewis L. Strauss, who negotiated the contract, and feels sure it protects the public interests splendidly and completely.

UN SOUND — Gordon Clapp, former TVA board chairman, in one of the sharpest attacks to date on the Dixon-Yates power contract, told a Senate anti-monopoly subcommittee the contract is a "bad financial" arrangement for the United States and is "unsound from an engineering standpoint."

Two Write-In Hopeluls Seek County Posts

H. C. Little, of Lefors, who was defeated in the July 24 Democratic primary for county commissioner of Pct. 1, will run again as a write-in candidate against Incumbent Artie Carpenter in Tuesday's general election.

Little was the second man in two days to be reported as a write-in candidate against an incumbent county commissioner. Courthouse sources Friday said that J. M. McCracken, Grandview, would be a write-in candidate against County Commissioner (Pct. 3) Paul Bowers.

Commission Sets Busy Day

The Pampa City Commission Tuesday will open two sets of bids and will probably award a wet-garbage contract and discontinue the city bus line.

In addition, the commission is expected to make a formal suggestion to the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority on how the City of Pampa, officially feels on the matter of financing the proposed dam-and-reservoir project.

To Open Pipe Bids
Bids will be opened on eight-inch water pipe and on a new, 750-gallon-capacity fire truck, City Mgr. Fred Brook said Saturday.

C. W. Long and James Lancaster, both Panhans, are expected to be awarded the contract by the commission for the hauling of wet garbage, Brook continued. The contract with W. S. Boykin ran out Oct. 1 and since that time the city has done its own hauling.

A. C. Howell, owner-operator of the city bus line, has signed a request to discontinue the city franchise and all that is left is for the commission to okay the discontinuance. Pampa has been without bus service for several weeks.

Decision On Financing
Commissioners are expected to make a decision on how to finance the Canadian River project so that the authority's board of directors, which meets Nov. 8 in Plainview, will have an idea how the 11 Panhandle-Plains communities in the authority are thinking. The final decision, however, is up to the authority.

'Ear Bending And Leather Pounding' Attempt Made To Blow Up Solon's Auto

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 — UP — President Eisenhower led the Republicans in a get out the vote drive Saturday by telephoning ten supporters across the country.

He urged them to get out and vote Tuesday and asked each of them to make 10 similar calls and spread the word through a sort of political chain reaction.

Democratic national chairman Stephen A. Mitchell quickly telegraphed party leaders and candidates to start a "Democratic walk-alon." Mitchell asked them to match the President by "walking to the homes of 10 people" to urge election of a Democratic Congress.

Adlai E. Stevenson, Democratic presidential candidate in 1952, carried the speech-making load for the Democrats. Stevenson hit hard at the "internal conflict" within the GOP and said no war between the President and a Democratic Congress could be "colder, or hotter."

Refers to Fear
Stevenson referred to Mr. Eisenhower's expressed fear that a Democratic Congress would wage "cold war" with the GOP administration. Stevenson declared that Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) and his followers have been responsible for "the coldest political warfare waged within living memories between the executive branch of the government and members of Congress."

Stevenson charged that irresponsible Republicans are "tearing the country apart in their search for votes." He attacked President Eisenhower for stating the proposition that prosperity in the past has been "only at the price of war and bloodshed."

"This, of course, has been standard Communist propaganda for years and is believed by many to prove that the United States is ready to precipitate war in order to save capitalism," Stevenson said.

Radio-TV Program
Stevenson spoke on the Democratic portion of an NBC radio-TV program billed as a "final political report to the people." Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., Mrs. Ovetta Culp Hobby, secretary of health, education and welfare and Miss Bertha Adkins, assistant to the chairman of the Republican national committee joined in urging the election of a Republican Congress.

Brownell spoke that the administration be permitted to continue its "great strides forward" against crime and corruption with "a friendly Republican led Congress." He cautioned that a Democratic victory would put men in charge of congressional committees in those fields who are a new kind of five percenters — "The Democrats" (See VOTE, Page 2)

Pranksters Hampered By Dust, Chill

Halloween might have proved busier for the police and fire departments had it not been for the dust blowing in from the north-west which partially kept a few not-so-stalwart spirits from making sorties around town.

But a few of the boys got up sufficient gumption to go "on the town" and numerous calls were made to the police of egg and tomato throwing. A few street lights were knocked out, but the evening seemed to suffice itself with "minor" acts of vandalism.

Today's forecast for fair and cool weather may brighten the "pranksters" those suffering from some outlandish, childish prank.

Wife Discovers Bomb

The crudely-made bomb was discovered after Bender's wife, Edna, drove to the postoffice to get the morning mail. Bender said he was in his pajamas when his wife returned asking "what's the funny smell in the car."

He dressed and investigated, finding the dynamite sticks.

"They must have been placed there after I got home last night," he said. "I would have noticed them when I took some things out of the back seat after I parked the car in the driveway."

The two sticks of dynamite, however, had not exploded. They were charred on the ends.

Victim Was School Girl

ALIQUIPPA, Pa., Oct. 30 — UP — A suspect was taken into custody Saturday night in the slaying of a 16-year-old high school girl whose knife-slashed body was found on a hillside near here as police throughout western Pennsylvania pressed their search for the "trick or treat" slayer of a six-year-old girl near Johnstown.

Elijah Thompson, 22, a next door neighbor of Helen Jane Bryant, was arrested on a murder charge after police found a bloody pair of trousers in his home. Thompson, a Negro, also had two sex-crime books in his possession, police said.

District Attorney Richard Stewart said Thompson was picked up for questioning several hours after the Bryant girl's body was found covered with leaves and dirt about a quarter of a mile from her home. A posse found the body during a search when the victim was reported missing from her home Wednesday.

Police said they did not believe there was any connections with the murder here and the brutal slaying of little Karen Mauk at Johnstown, some 70 miles away.

Stewart said Thompson was arrested last Monday following a fight in which he suffered a head and hand injury, but was released.

Cops Hold Suspect In Brutal Slaying

LONDON, Oct. 30 — UP — Britain's worst dock strike in a generation ended Saturday. Stevedores and longshoremen in the nation's top ports return to work Monday.

The month-long strike tied up $500 million in food and export cargoes rotting and rusting on wharves. Shipping experts said it will take at least four weeks to unsnarl the tangle caused by the strike.

The walkout of about 44,000 dock workers in eight ports ended with an agreement between union leaders and port employes on overtime work. The strike started in tearing for it.

City Bus Hit By Truck: One Dead

DALLAS, Tex., Oct. 30 — UP — A gravel truck hit a city bus with 20 persons on it at an intersection Saturday, killing one woman passenger and injuring three other women.

The wreck jammed the doors of the bus, trapping the passengers and throwing them into panic. Police Sgt. L. L. Turner said they screamed until a door was forced open and they could escape.

Mrs. Matlock Is Friendly Clerk Choice

Mrs. J. L. Matlock, of J. C. Penney's, tried to sell Mrs. George Neef, Jr., a blouse and thereby became the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce's "courteous clerk" of the month.

JayCee President J. C. Hopkins was on hand Saturday morning to notify Mrs. Matlock of her selection by Mrs. Neef, the "mystery shopper." Mrs. Matlock will receive a check at the Tuesday noon meeting of the JayCees.

Each month the JayCees send a "mystery shopper," who is a wife of a JayCee, out to determine one of Pampa's most courteous clerks. In September they picked a clerk who sells ladies ready-to-wear apparel. This time it was a department store clerk.

On hand with Mrs. Matlock, Mrs. Neef and Hopkins for the short ceremony on the balcony of Penney's was Jack Dunham, who helped think up the "courteous clerk" idea.

Science Progresses In Cold Bug Hunt

BETHESDA, Md., Oct. 31 — The Microbiological Institute here reported "some progress" Saturday towards understanding man's most persistent ailment, the common cold.

Dr. Robert Huebner, chief of the institute's virus section, said after long research that he believes no single factor is responsible. Rather, there are many factors which must be isolated one by one.

"Probably the common cold syndrome (symptom) is due to a number of agents that may be isolated piecemeal just as in pneumonia," he said in an interview.

"Fifty years ago, there was only one kind of pneumonia—just plain old pneumonia. Now we know there are at least half a dozen common kinds. Some are bacterial and others are of the virus variety. With colds it may be the same story."

Two Groups Isolated

Huebner's department is a division of the National Health Institute. He said two groups of viruses already have been isolated that frequently cause illnesses mistaken for common colds. He identified them as the APC (adenoidal, Pharyngeal, conjunctival) and the influenza virus groups. Usually, he said, these diseases produce symptoms not included in the common cold syndrome such as a high fever and a longer incubation and duration of approximately 250, according to scientist explained, in certain patients these groups may duplicate common cold symptoms.

"In these cases," Huebner said, "the patient will have a contagious disease in the nose and throat which causes the nose to run profusely and become obstructed, or in other words, what appears to be the common cold."

Huebner is collaborating on cold research with a group directed by Dr. Thomas Ward, associate professor of microbiology at Johns Hopkins University, Baltimore.

The scientists' first problem is to isolate the cold-producing agent or agents, Huebner said the cold researchers are trying to duplicate the experiments of Dr. John Enders of Harvard University. Enders and his team won a 1954 Nobel prize for isolating the polio virus in tissue culture.

Humans Used

Huebner's group is attempting to grow cold-producing materials in a tissue culture and then produce the cold syndrome by dropping it down volunteers' throats.

Humans are used for these experiments because scientists have been unable to produce the common cold syndrome in any animal except the chimpanzee.

To date, experiments to produce colds in individuals by the tissue culture method have not been successful. But Huebner said scientists have succeeded in giving persons common colds by dropping down their throats the nasal secretions of infected persons.

Seeking a Vaccine

If the scientists succeed in isolating one or more cold-producing factors in tissue culture, the next step, Huebner said, would be to develop a vaccine against the disease. He stressed that at present there is no known drug that "cures" the common cold.

"Anti-biotics and sulfa drugs," he said, "if used judiciously help prevent side complications resulting from common colds. But they have not cured the cold itself. The anti-histamine drugs do not cure colds either, although they make some patients feel more comfortable."

Isolation of the cold factor or factors is only the first step in the group's fight against common colds. But it could mean scientists will some day have the tools to conquer the disease. Next, Ward and Huebner, and the other cold fighters, will study the disease through clinical and epidemiological methods. They will observe clinical symptoms of the common cold, take X-rays, and case histories. They will study not only the patient but his social contacts, his family, his community and other contributing environmental factors.

SAPITA MONTELL, the fiery 21-year-old Spanish beauty under contract to Burt Lancaster and Harold Hecht is making it tough for press agents.

As shapely a dish as ever hit Hollywood and as peppery as the late Lupe Velez, Sapita screamed "No, No" when I asked her if she was tossing her toso into the movie-town sex-appeal ring.

"I weel not permit," the dazzler who costars with Lancaster and Gary Cooper in "Vera Cruz" told me. "Maybe a leel see appeal, but I theenk today, tomorrow and before is better be an actress. I do not like these cheeseecake. My legs and body I weel not show. And believe me, they are not crooked of tweest. They are good."

A-Potential Monopoly Sought By Big Companies, Says CIO

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP— The CIO said Saturday there is a drive by "corporate giants" to take over the nation's atomic potential worth "trillions" of dollars. An article in the CIO Economic Outlook said nuclear fission has shown its "enormous" peacetime potential in commercial fields, including electric power. There is evidence, it said, that electric power can be produced from the atom "at a saving" in half or more of the United States.

"Therefore there is a great drive underway to let private interests (composed almost entirely of the nation's biggest corporate giants) take over the commercial development of the atom, leaving the nation only the field of war uses," it said.

The Outlook, published by the CIO Department of Education and Research, said the "interests" will not be satisfied with the right to own and use nuclear materials and patent the processes: "They also want Uncle Sam to give them subsidies as well as the nation's multi-billion dollar assets which include the government-developed knowledge, discoveries and processes, a government market for by-products, and government underwriting of the experimental work."

GOP Has Chance To Pick Up Senatorial Seat In Illinois

CHICAGO, Oct. 30 —UP— Illinois voters next Tuesday choose between Democratic Sen. Paul H. Douglas and a Republican political novice in one of the nation's key senatorial elections. The contest is one where the GOP sees a chance to pick up a badly-needed Senate seat, and the Democratic conversely expect the seasoned Douglas to hold the line for them.

Most independent observers give Douglas the edge over Republican Joseph T. Meek, a lobbyist at the state legislature for 20 years before he decided to run for public office.

Meek started his campaign as a pro-McCarthy candidate who voiced opposition to most of the policies which President Eisenhower laid down for his administration.

But in mid-stride Meek proclaimed himself a staunch supporter of the President and received a "blessing" in the form of a letter from the White House. Mr. Eisenhower also appeared in Illinois to shake Meek's hand and call for the election of Republican congressional candidates in the state.

Meek hailed the President's action as clinching an election victory for him, while Democratic opponents made much of the fact that Mr. Eisenhower failed to mention Meek by name.

Douglas, a former economics professor who gained national attention as a freshman senator, seeks a second term on the strength of his "record" in the last six years.

Douglas plastered the state with "America's No. 1 senator," a title conferred on him in several polls, including one among Washington newsmen.

The incumbent made much of his record of tireless efforts at government economy and contended he would be more of an asset to Mr. Eisenhower than would Meek.

Meek centered his campaign chiefly around the charge that Douglas is a "Socialist."

GOP Win May Halt Progress Toward Two-Party South

DURHAM, N.C., Oct. 30 —UP— The 1952 Republican victory may hinder rather than help progress toward a two-party South, Duke University political scientist Allan P. Sindler said Saturday.

Sindler is now making a study of possibilities for a two-party system in the traditionally Democratic solid South.

"The conservative Southern Democrats are the only group that might possibly join the Republicans or form another party," Sindler explained in an interview here. "If Stevenson had won the presidential election and the radical Democratic element had gained control, the conservative Democrats would have been under pressure to leave the party."

"The Eisenhower victory, however, lightened pressure in this direction," he said. "Conservative Democrats who voted Republican are now solidly back in state Democratic parties with no loss of face."

Sindler also said the Eisenhower administration has not taken many steps to build a grass roots Republican party in the deep south.

Sindler and seven faculty members of other universities are now engaged in separate research projects that utilize data collected in a nationwide survey. The survey was financed by a Carnegie Foundation grant and conducted by the

Duel For Dewey Post In New York

ALBANY, N. Y., Oct. 30—UP—stands to gain prestige and control of the powerful New York state Republican party by winning election as governor. He has long been associated with Dewey through service in the state Legislature.

President Eisenhower made a doorbell ringing tour of New York to promote Ives' candidacy.

Ives and Dewey brought the campaign to its highest pitch last week by opening a series of attacks on Harriman's ability to govern the state.

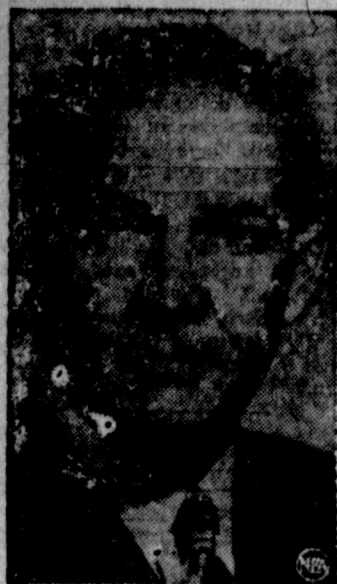

They charged a shipping company headed by Harriman in the 1930's paid a $250,000 bribe for leases on some New York piers; that another of his companies tried to do business with Hitler in the early 40's and lost $5 million of American investors' funds.

Thursday Republicans charged Harriman would not be eligible to serve as governor even if elected because he voted in a Democratic primary in Washington, D. C., in 1932. Harriman replied by asking, "How silly can you get?"

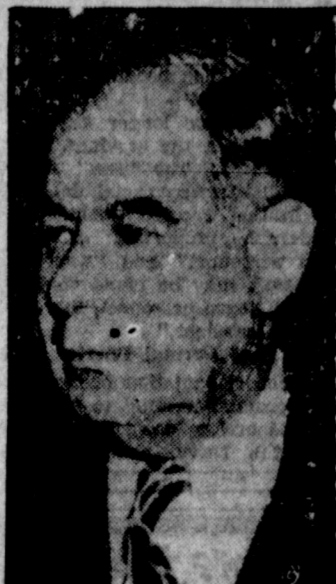

The election Tuesday will have a strong effect on national politics. Harriman was a presidential candidate in 1952 and if he should win election as governor would be in a better position to press his candidacy in 1956 if he wants. And the election will test the statewide popularity of Franklin D. Roosevelt Jr. The late President's son is running for attorney general on the Democratic ticket.

Ives, already a national figure through his service in the Senate,

Kiwanis Has Foreign Policy Discussion

Members of the Pampa Kiwanis Club Friday were given an opportunity to "play" the role of secretary of state in a program on international relations.

Dr. Lowell Harrison, government professor at West Texas State College, was guest speaker who outlined the complexities of evaluating national power in foreign relations.

Kiwanis Club members were asked to make their own evaluation of four major powers, The United States, Great Britain, Russia and Red China in such fields as geography, natural resources, population, national character, national morale, industrial capacity, military preparedness and diplomacy.

Dr. Harrison pointed out that the rating of the various nations is a difficult task, but he said it was the most important item conducting the foreign policy of a nation.

"BURIAL SUPERVISOR" in hooded suit keeps track of radiation as dragline covers atomic casket with dirt. Mirror on boom gives operator view of grave beyond earth and concrete shield.

ATOMIC-AGE FUNERAL TRAIN at Hanford has ten "spacer" cars between locomotive and "casket" at rear housing contaminated equipment. Cable on side will pull the casket to its "grave."

Radioactive Atom 'Corpse' Given Kid-Glove Funeral

By NEA Service
 RICHLAND, Wash. — (NEA) — It was a simple pine casket. It was sturdy with bracing. And when it was finished it weighed five tons.

The corpse was in a bad state of decay. You were sure to die if you came within 500 feet of it. It weighed five tons, too, and you stood way back on a knoll and watched with a pair of field glasses while a remote control crane eased it into the casket.

This kind of funeral is common here. For this is the site of the Hanford Atomic Products Operation run by General Electric for the Atomic Energy Commission. And the processing equipment, used in separating plutonium and uranium from the intensely radioactive fission products in the Hanford reactors, becomes highly contaminated with radioactive materials.

The campaign was marked by rumblings of revolutionary uprisings, up to the last moment. Only this week, more than 20 prominent opposition politicians were arrested following discovery of large caches of arms at the home of a former representative now serving time for alleged subversive activities.

the track area and roadblocks were set up 1000 feet back of each track crossing.

The time schedule, calculated against the deadly radiation in the hour's working time, the bulldozer operator would pull the box into the grave two hours, and the signalmen guiding train and bulldozer six minutes each.

But something went wrong. The dragline attached to bulldozer and casket was long enough to give only six minutes to the operator. Besides, the radiation levels were so high that mirrors and periscopes could not be adjusted. The bulldozer man could not see into the grave.

It was more than hazardous. The operation moved along a high and trembling tightwire, eyeless and slowly.

The method itself was successful. Planners and strategists would have to build heavier shielding walls. Draglines would have to be longer. Periscopes would have to be mounted on booms on the bulldozers that would drag protective earth over the deadly box.

But the plan of train-and-bulldozer burial had worked. The old-fashioned shielded crane method—useless at high levels of radiation—had been replaced. And one more step was taken into the Atomic Age.

Crash Victim Identified

AUSTIN, Oct. 30—UP—The Air Force Saturday identified the victim of a jet crash Friday night as Lt. William C. Smith, 24, of Asheville, N. C. He was killed when his plane crashed in a ravine about a mile-and-a-half short of the runway at Bergstrom Air Force Base.

Batista Favored In Cuba Election

HAVANA, Oct. 30—UP—Gen. Fulgencio Batista, who seized power in a military coup March 10, 1952, was a heavy favorite Saturday to win election as president of Cuba Monday.

Batista took a leave of absence as the nation's chief executive so he could run in the national elections in a constitutional bid for power.

He is opposed by Ramon Grau San Martin, scholarly "old fox" of Cuban politics.

Batista, who overthrew President Carlos Prío Socarras in 1952, was backed in the election by the national progressive coalition comprising four major political parties.

Batista is a heavy favorite: Of the nation's 2,737,953 registered voters, 1,671,553 are members of the Progressive, Liberal, Democrat and Revolutionary parties making up the government's coalition.

Gratu's party, the Cuban revolutionary party (authentic), has but "Neutral" or unaffiliated voters registered in Cuba number 865,833. Even if all of them voted for Grau, his total would be slightly over one million.

The campaign was marked by rumblings of revolutionary uprisings, up to the last moment. Only this week, more than 20 prominent opposition politicians were arrested following discovery of large caches of arms at the home of a former representative now serving time for alleged subversive activities.

Military Abolishes All Negro Units

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30—UP—A Defense Department report said Saturday that all Negro units have been abolished within the military and that the integration has been carried out ahead of schedule without any "untoward incidents."

The result of the integration, the report said, has been a "marked increase in overall combat effectiveness" and economies in manpower, materiel and money.

These statements were contained in "A Progress Report on Integration in the Armed Services," prepared by James C. Evans, civilian assistant to the assistant secretary of defense for manpower and personnel.

Based on Need, Proficiency

"During recent years," the report said, "the Armed Forces have continuously and vigorously implemented principles of equality of opportunity and treatment for Negro personnel" with the result that the Negro serviceman "is now utilized on the basis of individual merit and proficiency in meeting the needs of the services."

This program of integration, the report said, "has advanced more rapidly than had been considered possible in some quarters, and there have been no untoward incidents."

The report noted that last June 30 had been agreed upon as the terminal date for abolishing all Negro units in the services but said the program "proceeded ahead of schedule" so that by that time the question became "one of mere definition."

 "There are no longer any all-Negro units in the services," the report stated. The "few" Army units still carrying racial designations in the records include "a considerable proportion of non-Negro personnel" and "where a small unit may be found containing only Negro personnel, the condition is transient."

A Last Formal Barrier

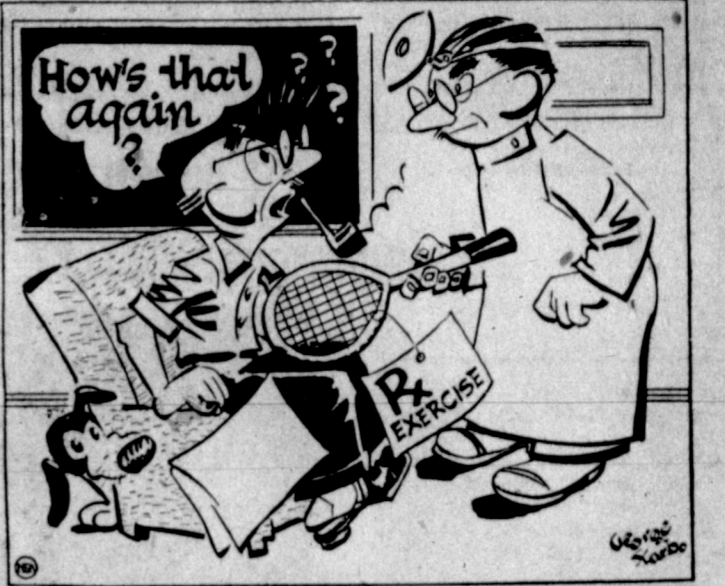

The report said that one of the last "formal barriers" to integration was broken down last March when the Navy abandoned its practice of maintaining separate recruitment of Negroes as stewards. Now all Navy recruits—white and Negro—are put through basic training with an equal opportunity to qualify and apply for specialty training.

The report also noted that implementation of policies providing for equality of opportunity among civilian employees of the Defense Department "lags far behind" the military integration program.

In another field, the report said, "much remains to be done" to improve community-military relationships regarding race. "It is paradoxical," it added, "that the Negro citizen in uniform has frequently been made to feel more at home overseas than in his home town."

Benson 'Takes' Farming Out Of Washington

CLAREMONT, Calif., Oct. 30—UP—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson took farming out of Washington and put it back with the nation's farmers Saturday.

Benson, speaking here before California Farm and Marketing Cooperative leaders, said government emphasis should "shift the next few years to encourage the farmer to do a better job on his farm."

"Headline readers," he said, "must have thought there was a more farming done down in Washington this spring and summer than on your ranches and farms. Congressional debate on the farm program left the impression that government was setting most farm prices and almost guaranteeing farm income. What a false and exaggerated picture."

Admitting the farm program enacted by the last Congress "is not perfect," Benson said it was a step towards "a stable, prosperous and free agriculture."

The program, he said, will reduce farm surpluses, recover foreign markets, establish a sound farm income, provide insurance against drastic price drops and encourage balanced production.

"Of vital importance to farmers everywhere is the increased appropriations for research and education. This, I see as the most exciting fact in our government-farmer partnership."

Government, the secretary said, should be a servant, never a master, to farmers. "You know and I know that the government can not run your farm for you," he emphasized.

Yet, he added, "high rigid supports have become a political smoke screen, blown up by those who are convinced that government can do a better job of running your farm than you can. We who work in government are merely your hired hands."

Mentioning the Truman administration's farm program Benson charged it had produced rising surpluses, falling farm prices, loss of foreign markets and excessive government controls.

The Democratic leaders, he said, "had forgotten or wanted to forget the fact it took two wars in the last 10 years to bail them out of similar trouble before."

Halloween

Goblins, witches, skeletons and leering jack-o-lanterns emerge for one night of the year for frolic and fun — Halloween! Below, waiting and prepared for the seemingly endless parade of mysterious masked little figures are Dr. and Mrs. Walter Purviance, 802 W. Francis. In school, art classes are devoted to making masks and other appropriate decorations. Lower left, John Fife, 1333 N. Hobart (left), shows the jack-o-lantern he made to Kitty Jo Gates, 1717 Coffee, and Dickie Spence, 627 N. Russell. All are third grade students of Miss Lillian Mullinax, Houston School. Greeting Pampons as they answer the door are the familiar trick or treaters. Lower right, front row, left to right, are Frank Kelley Jr., 504 Magnolia, and Smisson Goodlett, 515 Magnolia; back row, Martha Lou Kelley, and Janee and Jean Franklin, 513 Magnolia. Bobbing for apples is a favorite Halloween party game. Shown at right, left to right, are Larry Cantrell, 1152 Terrace; Pamela Ann Ludeman, 806 N. Frost; Cathy Larsen, 1208 Williston; Patricia Jane Ludeman, and George Henderson, 419 E. Foster.

Methodist Families Presented Program On United Nations

A United Nations program was presented by Mrs. R. I. Davis and her committee at a recent family night supper in the First Methodist Church. Nearly 150 persons attended the event.

Highlight of the evening was a one-act play on the UN by the Wesley Players, a new drama group of the church under the direction of Mrs. Bill Webster. In the play were Carolyn Ford, Ruth Gwen Adcock, Wanda Cook, Larry Cox, Keith Bonny, Johnnie Lee Smith, Eulene Moore, and Sylvia Grider.

Prior to the play, Mrs. F. M. Culbertson spoke on the organization of the UN, and Mrs. Paul Bowers presented "Eight Biggest Lies About the UN."

Roy Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. Johnson, sang a solo, "One Little Candle," a United Nations song arranged by the Fred Waring Workshop. The program closed

Margaret Sharp, V. F. Teichmann Engagement Told

The engagement of Miss Margaret Sharp to Vincent Fred Teichmann was announced at a tea held recently in the home of Mrs. Thomas L. Wade, 421 N. Gray.

The bride-elect is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Murphy of Granite, Okla., and is a graduate of Our Lady of Victory High School, Fort Worth. The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred C. Teichmann of Amarillo. He was graduated from Price College, Amarillo and has served four years with the navy. He is now attending Amarillo Junior College.

The couple will be married Nov. 27, in the Sacred Heart Cathedral, Amarillo.

Each guest at the tea was presented a miniature corsage of white cushion mums and bridal bells, tied with a blue ribbon. In each corsage was concealed the wedding date.

The bride-elect's chosen colors of blue and white were carried out in the decorations. Refreshments were served from a table covered with a white cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white mums and blue pompons. On either side of the centerpiece were blue candles in crystal holders.

In the house party were Mrs. Fred C. Teichmann, mother and sister of the prospective bridegroom, with a showing of a short film strip on the UN, narrated by Aubrey Steele.

Arrangements for the covered dish supper were made by Circle 5, and tables were decorated along the United Nations theme by Circles 1 and 7.

MRS. RICHARD DARR

Martha Ann Turnbow, Richard R. Darr Are United In Marriage In Shamrock

SHAMROCK — (Special) — In a double ring ceremony Oct. 23, Miss Martha Ann Turnbow became the bride of A-1C Richard R. Darr. Miss Turnbow is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Turnbow of Shamrock. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar L. Darr of Ann Arbor, Mich.

Rev. A. O. Turnbow of Hickory, N.C., uncle of the bride, officiated at the candlelight ceremony. The nuptial altar was formed by and arch of huckleberry and jade leaves; flanked by baskets of white chrysanthemums and pompons. The pews were marked with bows of white satin ribbon.

A musical prelude was played by Hollice Turnbow, brother of the bride. He accompanied Miss Fredricka Abbott as she sang, "If I Could Tell You" by Firestone, and "Till Walk Beside You" by Lockton. The traditional wedding marches were used.

Eugene Griffin of Los Alamos, N.M., was best man. Ushers were Robert N. Peschok of Consmagh, Pa., and Jerry W. Sussman of New York, N.Y.

The gowns of all the feminine attendants were fashioned similar to the bride's gown. Candles were lit by Miss Ann Scrivner and Miss Annetta Turnbow, cousins of the bride. Their dresses were of rose and green nylon organdy and they wore wristlets of crown asters in matching hues.

Mrs. Eugene Griffin of Los Alamos, N.M., was matron of honor. Her walk-length dress was pale pink and she carried a colonial bouquet of blue pompons. Miss Marilyn Sue Turnbow, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. Blue dotted nylon over cotton was used in her dress and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink pompons.

Flower girl was Nancy Carol Turnbow, sister of the bride. She wore a dress of pale yellow.

Given in marriage by her father, E. A. Turnbow, the bride wore a walk-length gown of white nylon lace over taffeta. Three-quarter-length sleeves joined the fitted bodice styled with a scalloped neckline and yoke of illusion. A pearl-trimmed diadem bonnet held her waist length veil. Her bouquet of red delight roses set in a shower of ribbon was carried atop a Bible. She carried out the traditions of wedding blue and new, and wore a pin belonging to her paternal grandmother and a handkerchief borrowed from her maternal grandmother.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Turnbow chose a dress of charcoal gray with off-white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Mrs. Darr, mother of the bridegroom, chose a suit of purple faille and pink accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Mrs. Mary Martin, grandmother of the bride, wore black accessories with a dress of light-grey wool.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Scrivner.

Peg O' Pampa

HOBGOBLINS AND WITCHES . . . and wide-eyed youngsters scurrying around town . . . doesn't it make you wish you were young again? . . . Of course, there is almost as much vicarious enjoyment watching our own youngsters . . . their breathless enthusiasm for the Big Day . . . the excitement of planning a costume . . . their wonderment at the sight of their first jack-o-lantern . . . We oldsters get sort of blasé about holidays sometimes, but not our children! . . . We adults got in the act, too, though with the Country Club dance last night (Sorry! this was written before the dance) . . . even saw some local food store employees all dressed up — one as a clown and one as a pirate . . . Remember "dunking" for apples, trying to get a bite out of an apple on a string . . . and trying to reach a marshmallow in the center of the string before the person at the other end?

LIKE TO GIVE a "Hats Off" tribute to the Optimist Club members and their work with the boys' boxing program . . . Many of them are putting in long hours training the boys and just with the mechanics involved with sponsoring the program . . . The experts say idleness breeds juvenile delinquency and these men sure are making a wonderful contribution to combat it by giving their own free time to keeping the boys busy . . . and to developing some fine athletes . . . Among those men participating in the program are John Schofield, Tom Chisolm, Ollie Wilhelm, Foster White, Bill Garrett, Tommie Ellis, Jack Robinson, Clay Crossland, Jerry Sims, Oren James, W. H. Cooper, "Gip" Gipson (W. A.), Cotton Day, Mack Harmon . . . and Johnny Campbell is referee for all the matches . . . There are 75 to 100 boys in the boxing program, not to mention the countless number of parents and friends who attend the weekly matches . . . first the Little and PONY Leagues and now boxing . . . the club certainly is doing a fine job!

TIDBITS . . . Glad to see the happy smiling face of Mrs. W. R. Ewing who was reunited again this week with her daughter and son-in-law, the W. A. Wolfis, . . . understand they spent 2½ years on Guam and will return toward the first of the year . . . Sure is nice when families can get together again after so long a time . . . Saw cute Doris Hufflines the other day . . . seems they're expecting an addition to their family — hear this is also true of attractive Louise Chittenden . . . Saw Sally Smith driving along Browning the other day . . . ran into petite Elaine Ellis recently . . . sure wish I had her vivaciousness . . . Understand Perry Franklin is in the hospital with pneumonia . . . sure have a lot of people with bad colds lately . . . think we should start a Common Cold Association to provide funds for research into the cause and prevention . . . or maybe there already is one . . .

ARE YOU ALL SET TO VOTE TUESDAY? . . . the guide on the amendments put out by the League of Women Voters sure is a wonderful thing . . . Peg has been studying it like mad . . . gives the amendments and pros and cons . . . lets you make up your own mind . . . Some of the League women sure have been working hard giving programs on them . . . don't know them all but some of them are Mrs. George Friauf, Mrs. J. F. Curtiss, Mrs. E. J. O'Brien . . . Ola Gregory gave a program to the B&PW group, too . . . don't know if she's a League member though . . . almost every club in town has had talks on them . . . Not to start a battle of the sexes, but Peg bets most of Pampa's women know more about the amendments than many of the men.

TURNABOUT WAS THE THEME of the Southwesterners Halloween party Wednesday . . . adults looked like children and children looked like grownups . . . some of the costumes were a scream . . . Ruth Lassiter and Ken Hamon won prizes . . . Ken was hilarious as a little girl . . . Everyone had lots of fun . . . even played kiddie games . . . let's have more parties like that . . . where you can let your hair down a little.

THE FALL HUNTING SEASON is nearly upon us, which means Pampa men and women will be looking for game. To prepare yourself for the season, here is a recipe that is wonderfully good with venison and wild duck. But don't be too disappointed if you prepare some and your hunters come home empty handed — it's just as delicious with baked ham and ham loaf. It's called Hunter's Sauce.

½ cup red currant jelly
1-4 cup port wine
1-4 cup catsup
½ tsp. Worcestershire sauce
2 tbsp. butter or margarine

Combine all ingredients in a small saucepan; stir over low heat until jelly and butter are completely melted and sauce is piping hot. Serve warm with wild duck, venison chops, venison steak, roast venison, ham loaf or baked ham. Makes 1 cup.

THEY'RE REALLY GETTING BUSY — Those JayCee-Elles, the wives of the JayCees, are really getting active again . . . Last week they fed their Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce husbands before sending them out into the cold, cold weather to sell brooms . . . And, after their men returned from the broom wars, they held a party with them in the Palm Room of City Hall . . . Understand that Bob Parkinson had the best deal of all. He had to go to the weekly meeting of the Pampa barbershoppers, so he got to the broom-selling detail late. Know what he did? He entertained the ladies with his Jolson-type singing. Not bad work, if you can get it.

VOICES RAISED IN SONG . . . That's what will be in store for Pampa's next Saturday night when the annual Parade of Barber-shop Quartets will be held in the Junior high school . . . Peg sure does love to hear that kind of singing . . . That's one thing that the gals just can't do, and we take our hats off to the men who can . . . Besides the Pampa quartets and the high school A Cappella choir, there will be quartets from Amarillo and Madison, Wis. The out-of-town groups placed high in the national competition . . . Just thinking about that wonderful singing makes Peg's heart go fluttery . . . Reminds her of when . . . but let's not go back that many years.

THOUGHTS FOR THE WEEK . . . (Couldn't resist coming back to them) . . . Whenever there is a human being there is an opportunity for kindness (Seneca) . . . Kindness gives birth to kindness (Sophocles) . . . Kindness in women, not their beautiful looks, shall win my love (Shakespeare) . . . When we are willing to help and to be helped, divine aid is near (Mary Baker Eddy) . . . Kindness in ourselves is the honey that hums the sting of unkindness in another (Landon) . . . We cannot be just unless we are kindhearted (Vaue-nargues) . . . Peg especially likes the one by Landon . . . it seems so human to want to strike back, but how more rewarding if we don't.

Twentieth Century Brownies And Girl Scouts Complete Wide Games Skill Course At Camp Mel Davis

More than 80 Girl Scouts went through a skill course, called Wide Games, recently at Camp Mel Davis. Fifteen to 20 leaders were also present.

The games were under the direction of Miss Jo Crinklaw and Miss Barbara Goodnight, who learned them by actual participation in other camps, under the leadership of Mrs. Tommie Jeter, who learned them at Macy's Girl Scout camp in New York.

The games at Camp Mel Davis were simplified because of the age span between Brownies and Senior Scouts. The event began at 9 a.m. and lasted until 5 p.m.

The Brownie scouts were divided into eight patrols of nine girls each. The Intermediate and Senior Scouts were divided into two patrols of five girls each. There was also a larger division with Group 1 consisting of three-year Brownies and Tenderfoots, and Group 2 consisting of first and second year Girl Scouts and Curved Bar Scouts.

The day began with 15 minute skills, judged on originality and presentation, after which the girls ate nosebag lunches. Mrs. Dorothy bell, F. M. Culbertson, Kirk Duncan, Jack Foster, J. W. Gordon, Ray J. Hagan, Raymond Harrah Sr., C. E. High, I. B. Hughey, V. J. Jamieson, J. B. Massa, Roy McKernan, Fred Neslage, R. H. Sanford, Ralph Sidwell, R. W. Stowers, H. R. Thompson and George Vineyard.

The younger groups were sent out on patrols of 10 minute intervals, and the older girls on patrols of 15 minute intervals. For both age groups, the course required the performance of eight skills. For the younger girls they were: 1) identification of three leaves; 2) tying of four knots; 3) memory and observation test; 4) written questions; 5) singing of songs; 6) lashing picture frames; 7) making gadgets from sticks such as brooms and coat hangers; and 8) firebuilding. The older groups' skills were under the same classifications, only more complicated, except for the last, when they had to judge heights and perspectives.

All had to follow trail signs, such as use of binder twine, or compass, or verbal or written instruction. The more advanced group was given instructions in Morse code.

No sticky oatmeal pans this way — just cook the oats for the time specified on the package. Cover the pan then, remove from heat and let stand about five minutes. The steaming period prevents the cereal from sticking.

You can add new flavor to popcorn if you sprinkle the popped kernels with a little garlic salt.

For Sunday supper parties, Dutch potato salad is a welcome item. We learned to make it in California at the home of friends who entertain easily and warmly.

Potato Salad
(Makes 8 servings)
Six potatoes, cooked (4 cups cubed), 1 onion, finely chopped, 3 hard-cooked eggs, sliced, 1½ cups chopped celery, 1 cucumber, diced, 1½ teaspoons salt, ¼ teaspoon paprika.

Combine all ingredients. Sprinkle with ¼ cup French dressing and chill for 4 to 6 hours. Just before serving, add enough mayonnaise or salad dressing to moisten. Mix carefully.

Garlic Bread
Mince 2 peeled cloves of garlic and cream into ¼ cup butter or margarine. Slice a loaf of French bread in 2-inch slices not quite through to the bottom crust. Spread slices with garlic-flavored butter. Sprinkle with grated Parmesan cheese, if desired.

Place bread in a paper bag or wrap in aluminum foil, and heat in a moderate oven until heated through — 10 to 15 minutes. Serve at once.

Hot Southern Barbecue Sauce
(Yield: 2½ cups)
Three-quarters cup fresh lemon juice, ½ cup hot sauce, 1-3 cup tomato catsup, 1-3 cup cider vinegar, 1-2 cup water, 1-2 tablespoons brown sugar, 1½ teaspoons salt, 1½ teaspoons powdered dry mustard, 2 teaspoons paprika, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper, ¼ teaspoon ground cayenne pepper, ¼ cup margarine or butter.

Combine all ingredients. Heat only to boiling point. Use as the basting sauce for barbecuing all types of meat and poultry.

Small cocktail sausages, chopped nutmeats, mincemeat or marmalade all make tasty stuffing for baked apples.

Girl Scout Leaders Hold Planning Meet

Plans for the next several months were made at the recent meeting of the Girl Scout leaders, with Mrs. Gene Fatherea presiding.

It was decided that the Girl Scouts will help collect Christmas toys for the firemen and for each individual troop to be responsible for its entry in the Santa Day Parade. The women also voted not to meet in November and December.

Mrs. Burl Lowter and Mrs. Bob Andis were elected to a nominating committee for new officers with Mrs. Fatherea assisting in an advisory capacity.

Following the business session, a demonstration on making tree decorations and glass stockings was given by Mrs. Dorothy Statton, Girl Scout executive. She also taught the leaders the patil cake and Jessica polkas.

Sports Car With Luxuries Appeals To U. S. Motorist

DETROIT, Oct. 30 —UP—A new type of sports car that eliminates some of the rigors of sports car driving and substitutes some luxuries of standard automobiles is being tested on the comfort-loving American motorist.

The America motorist has admired sleek, racy sports cars, but to date hasn't shown much inclination to buy them in any volume. That is why the Ford Motor Co. is emphasizing the difference between its "Thunderbird" and normal sports cars. Ford has added some luxuries to the normal characteristics of sports cars. It even calls the "Thunderbird" a "personal car" rather than a "sports car."

The new, all-steel Thunderbird is being shown now to motorists in major cities across the country. Ford reports it has received an enthusiastic reception on the first few days of display. It said it has a backlog of over 3,000 orders for the new car.

Low Volume Expected

Spokesman for Ford said they anticipate the car will be a "low volume" car. But they said if the sales keep up they are prepared to shift into mass production if necessary.

By putting some luxuries into the normal sports car and cutting the price, Ford hopes to find a market that just hasn't been there for regular sports cars up to now.

Chevrolet, which once was turning out 1,000 of its plastic-body Corvettes a month, now has cut down to 50 units a month. President Harlow H. Curtice of General Motors, during his European trip, said the general trend in the United States doesn't run toward sports cars.

Ford is counting on the addition of luxuries, and a lower price, in pushing its Thunderbird. The car is built to appeal to motorists who like the raciness of sports cars. But it also has little appeal into sales.

For example, the Thunderbird has the features of a regular closed car, and may be bought with a hard top. It has regular convertible-type windows, a full-width seat instead of bucket seats and a radio and heater.

Thunderbird Prices Lower

The price is $2,695 FOB Detroit. That is considerably lower than the $3,250 price put on Corvettes. Corvette prices for 1955 were dropped to the $2,575 this week.

Ford has even carried the idea of combining comforts with sports car characteristics to the gear shift. Sports car enthusiasts like to shift gears, Ford has found. So it has put the old-style gear shift on the floor.

But to appeal to the luxuries Americans like, Ford also has made available an automatic transmission for the car. In those with the automatic transmission, it has left the gear shift on the floor. But the various shift spots have been made to conform to the drive positions on an automatic transmission lever.

Bout Not on TV

CHICAGO, Oct. 26 —UP— For the first time in more than three years, the feature bout on the Chicago Stadium boxing program will not be televised on Nov. 10. The International Boxing Club said it plans to match Chicago heavyweights Bob Satterfield and Johnny Holman in the blacked-out bout.

Gen. Ridgway May Remain Chief Of Staff

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30 —UP—The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal said Saturday there is a good chance that Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, army chief of staff, will be retained in that post when he reaches the retirement age of 60 in March.

It said that Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens may make known President Eisenhower's decision at the Army commanders conference at the Pentagon late next month. Best guess, the journal said, is that the general will be asked to stay on, although he will have completed 35 years of service.

The publication also said Stevens soon will announce a reshuffling of the Army's top command in Europe, due to the probable retirement in January of Gen. William H. Hoge, commander-in-chief of the U. S. Army in Europe.

Stevens, it said, is expected to name Lt. Gen. Anthony C. McAuliffe, present commander of the take Hoge's four-star billet.

80,000 To See Opening Of Metropolitan Opera

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—UP—Nearly 80,000 persons will see the glittering opening of the Metropolitan Opera's 70th season Nov. 8—but most of them will be thousands of miles from New York. Opera lovers from Brooklyn to San Francisco will dress up in their finest evening attire, jewels and furs for "little openings of the Met" at more than 30 theaters that have arranged to present the entire proceedings on closed circuit television.

A capacity audience of about 4,000 will fill the famed gilt-edged Metropolitan Opera House, with its diamond horseshoe and family circle, for a "gala performance" staged with the Met's brightest stars.

The Met contracted with Nathan L. Halperin, president of Theater Network Television, for its first nationwide TV opening and the glamor of Broadway will dazzle main street for almost four hours.

Those who go to the famed opera house to watch the opening in its full color will pay from $2.25 for seats in the gallery to $56.25 for cushioned chairs in the best boxes.

TV cameras will fill several boxes usually occupied by socialites and celebrities. Special lighting will be used on the stage to make the picture clear on theater screens and singers will wear special make-up.

In Brooklyn, the Bronx, Salt Lake City, Hollywood, San Francisco, Dallas, Houston, Chicago, Buffalo, Pittsburgh, Washington, D. C., Richmond, Albany, Denver, St. Louis and other cities, audiences will pay from $1.80 to $5.00 to see the opera televised in black and white.

The proceeds will be distributed among the Met, Halperin's firm, the theaters and in many instances local charities.

Not only will this be the Met's first opening to be televised across the country and on a closed circuit, General Manager Rudolf Bing arranged for another innovation in the "gala performance."

It will be a sort of opera buffet, consisting of the prologue to "Pagliacci," the first act of "La Boheme," Act II of "The Barber of Seville," and the first scene and second act of "Aida."

Usually the met stages a full opera on opening night, but a "gala" staged during the last season was so successful, Bing decided to try again, and he chose a huge cast of stars to perform in it. Different stars will appear in each opera segment. Among them are Richard Tucker, Roberta Peters, Robert Merrill, Zinka Milanov, Blanche Thebom, Leonard Warren, and Jerome Hines.

Armory Completion Date December 20

The new Texas National Guard armory building in Recreation Park should be completed by Dec. 20.

Jim Barrett, construction superintendent, Saturday gave the estimated completion date and pointed out that all that remained to be done was the brick work, roof and the installation of the kitchen cabinet.
