THE CRACKER BARREL

Our government says fifteen million Chinese have been liquidated by torture and starvation since the Communists took over. This is what McCarthy is trying to save us from. So it makes me sick to hear people like Ike's brother say they like what McCarthy is doing, but they don't like his way of doing it. His way of doing it is a lot better than their way of not doing it. Jonathan Yank

THE MARQUEE

BY DICK KLEINER

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Portrait of a Party: Helen Hayes tossed a party for Jack Benny after their joint TV appearance. One of the biggest showbusiness crowds in years jammed the picturesque Lillian Russell room in Luchow's. One table had a producer's dream — Mel Ferrer, Audrey Hepburn (now blonde), Lloyd Nolan, Joseph Cotten and John Hodiak. . . . Robert Sherwood dodging chandeliers. . . . Gisele Mackenzie, prettiest of all, singing to herself. . . . A 74-year-old waiter telling everyone he served Lillian Russell. . . . Burn exchanging compliments. . . . Sloan Simpson sampling venison. . . . Otto Preminger looking sinister sipping a martini. . . . George Jessel following his cigar around the room. . . . Someone asked Jack Benny the usual question of whether he's really stung. He told a story that happened, he said, on his last trip to New York. "I gave a hatchback girl a dollar tip," Jack said, "and she handed it back to me. 'Mr. Benny,' she said, 'please leave me my illusions.'"

The first color TV set available to the public is advertised at $126. That includes Federal Tax and, presumably, the name of a good pawnbroker. . . . Celeste Holm is a woman of contrasts. At the same time as she talks in highbrow terms of "doing theater that teaches the virtues," she heartily dunks her roll in her coffee. A highbrow dunker is rare these days. . . . The blonde beauty is currently in the Broadway show, "His and Hers," which is closing soon. It wasn't much of a play, but her presence made it shine. She's doing some heavy thinking about her next move. (Dunk.) . . . "Being in show business is like being on a trapeze," she says. "You can't wait until one stop before you reach for another. You have to let go of one to grab something else. After a show opens, you automatically start thinking about what you'll do next."

C Of C Highway Group Plans Dual Meet With Borger

A delegation of Pampans, including members of the Highway and Transportation committee of the Chamber of Commerce and city and county officials, will be in Borger Thursday for a meeting with a group there to discuss joint action in support of an improvement program for State Highway 182 between the two cities. . . . The Pampa delegation will be headed by Fred Thompson, chairman of the chamber committee, who today said that the Borger chamber has offered its cooperation to the Pampa group in seeking improvements for the highway. . . . Members of Pampa City Commission and Gray County Commissioners Court are expected to be in the delegation, Thompson said. . . . Farmers can double their production of cranberries by increasing the number of bees per acre, according to tests made by the New Jersey Agricultural Experiment station.

Valuable Chair Dismantled . . . Couple Of Youngsters Nearly Drive Henry Out Of His Mind

By HENRY McLEMORE
I have never visited that celebrated place, Wil's End, but I hope it is a pleasant, comfortable spot for I am sure I am going to be there within a week, if not sooner. . . . My sister-in-law and her husband have gone on a ten-day trip and Mary and I have moved into their home to look after Susan, 7, and Timmy, 4-going-on-crazy. . . . I am writing this at noon on the first day of our new duties and hope to have it finished midnight if all goes well, which it won't. The morning has already proved to me that from here on out it is purely a battle for survival, and they having youth on their side, are top-heavy favorites. . . . Already I have run a distance equal to two marathons just chasing Timmy, if the state of Texas were his playground it wouldn't be large enough to keep him within its borders. He's a lighting-out kid if I ever laid eyes on one. To make matters worse, Santa Claus gave him an almost grown-up tool set for Christmas, but he is under the mistaken impression that it is for wrecking, not building. . . . This morning, at an hour when I am usually asleep, I discovered him dismantling an early American rocker his mother prizes. It seemed he needed some lumber to build a dog house for Cruiser, the family cocker spaniel. I put the chair back together, but I hope one with sacroiliac trouble ever is unlucky enough to sit in it. . . . Did you ever hear of a little girl going off to school at eight in the morning? I thought that sort of thing went out in Lincoln's time. Well, that's the mad hour Susan's bus honks out front for her, although her school is only three blocks away. The only way I can figure out this arrival time is that the driver takes the youngsters on an educational and scenic tour every morning. . . . Susan came home for lunch a minute ago and walked right up to me and said, "Uncle Henry, please wound you make me a valentine box right away?" . . . "Sure, Sue," I said, lying like a trooper because I have no dreaming idea of what a valentine box is. Then I told her Aunt Mary would make her one, figuring that Mary would know what the thing was. But no, Susan said her daddy always made her valentine boxes, so she wanted me to do it. . . . If any of you have any old valentine boxes hanging around the house, I wish you'd mail me one, airmail collect, and I'll pay you any amount for it. . . . Even in this short space of time I have learned one thing that all parents should know. A four-year-old boy who is drinking pop and eating cookies all the time won't give you a lick of trouble. I am treating Timmy just like an animal trainer treats his charges. Every time he is quiet, or not tearing something up, I reward him with food and drink. I can see that he already has picked up a few pounds and that his jeans are going to need letting out before too many more sunsets. . . . Maybe tomorrow won't be so bad, because Mary has been out all day and I have had the whole operation to handle. I don't like to be second in command in my house, but gladly will I pin on her five stars and hand her the field marshal's baton.

Scouts Plan Week At Camp Ki-O-Wah

Adobe Valley Council Boy Scouts — 583 of 'em — are already looking forward to the summertime and a week at the council's Camp Ki-O-Wah.

For that's the total number of Scouts that had been registered for the camp by late this morning, according to Paul Beisenherz, council Scout executive.

"The first four weeks are full," Beisenherz said, adding that camp gets underway May 30. All 18 of the troops in the Santa Clara County, Hemphill and Roberts Counties, council (part of Lipscomb County) have been registered, Phil Pegues, district Scout executive, added.

That means that 50 of the 71 troops in the 15-county council have been registered, leaving nine campsites left, Beisenherz continued.

Work on the spillway of the camp dam is "progressing" and is expected to be completed "in time to give us a lake this summer," he went on.

Fall winds and water damaged the spillway at the camp, located on Lake Marvin north of Canadian, and it is being repaired by the Texas Fish, Game and Oyster Commission.

Board May Close Alnreed School

The Alnreed High School may be discontinued after this year because of its decreasing enrollment. Following a recent school board meeting, attended by County School Superintendent B. R. Nuckols, letters were sent to Alnreed school district residents requesting them to present their opinions to board members on the subject and explaining why the action may be necessary.

If the high school, which has only 22 students this year, is discontinued, plans call for maintaining the Alnreed elementary school from the first through the eighth grades. If the action to close the school is taken, the students of high school age would be transferred to another district's school.

The $124,000 structure will be constructed of cut stone and brick in Modern Gothic style, Rev. Brooks advised. Although work has been delayed by the lateness of a steel shipment, it is hoped that construction will swing back on schedule, with the building being completed by June 1, he added.

Today's service is under the direction of the mission committee, with Rev. Brooks in charge. Members of the committee include C. P. Sucker, Dr. Malcolm Wyatt, Dr. Frank Kelley, Joe Daniel, Harry D. McWaters, Clam Followell, Carl Johnson and David Pobst.

The ceremony is open to the public and will take place at the site of the new church.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend: This is about a wealthy woman who was the mother of two grown children. Her neighbor was the mother of six and the father was a salaried man and it was not a large salary.

The wealthy woman said to the less fortunate mother in a whiney voice, "Why do poor people have so many children?"

The less fortunate woman replied with another question, "Did you ever hear of a man named Benjamin Franklin? Did you know he was the youngest of 12 children?"

Well, no, she hadn't thought of it, but now she remembered and did wonder how he could be so intelligent.

If our American women have from four to six or eight children should they be criticized for their ignorance of birth control?

Our American children may be instrumental in promoting a more intelligent way of life if Uncle Sam finds a way to promote encouragement and hope.

To be sure there are many orphans who are better off in some respects than children born in discordant homes where parents are nervous wrecks trying to practice a system of birth control that destroy lives.

Dear Selah: The Franklin story is frequently used by advocates of large families. I have never been convinced by it since I feel that when the time comes a man or woman will rise to the occasion.

Nor do I believe that we should have large families just on the chance that the 10th child might be another Benjamin Franklin. He was his mother's 10th, his father's 13th.

When destiny calls, someone answers and if only first born hear the call, then one of them will arise to lead the way.

I am not critical of anyone's having large families. I like them and am a member of one myself. I am critical of people having children they cannot care for financially. I believe that children are their parents' responsibility and that responsible parents don't have large families which must be brought up by the state.

I would not criticize women who are ignorant of birth control. Instead I would see that they learn the proper use of birth control which is not harmful in any way.

If you really believe in your own arguments, why do you persist in referring to the woman with the large family as the "less fortunate" of the two.

Manners Make Friends: It's a sad but true fact that you don't make or keep friends just by feeling kindly toward them. Unless you can express your feelings in some kind of action, the persons never know they stand high with you.

So don't expect the friend in the hospital to know you are concerned about him unless you express your concern with a note, flowers, or a visit.

Harvester Tracksters State Saturday

von Replaces Tips As PHS Track Mentor

The Harvester tracksters will depart for their journey Saturday when they journey to Graham to participate in the annual Possum Kingdom Relays.

The PHS thistles are now under direction of Coach Duval. von has replaced the departed Tipps as the head track coach.

von, who coached the Harvester basketball last season in addition to his football coaching duties, had been assisting Tips with the tracksters this spring.

Lyon has announced a 15-man squad for the Possum Kingdom Relays this weekend.

The Harvester thistles are expected to make their strongest showing in the spring relay, the coaches, hurdles and in the weight. The spring relay team of Ed Dudley, John Darby, Walker Bird and Harold Lewis remains intact for this year. Lewis, however, may not be ready for the meet this weekend since he has just joined the cindermen after serving with the Harvester basketballers.

Junior Jon Cantrell has been showing up well in the shot put, getting leaves of 90 feet or more in workouts.

Following are the boys who will make the Graham trip this week and the events in which they will enter:

Ed Dudley — sprint relay, both hurdles and discus.
John Darby — spring relay, both hurdles and high jump.
Walker Bird — sprint relay, 230 yard dash and mile relay.
Harold Lewis — sprint relay, 100 and 230 yard dashes.
Jon Cantrell — shot put.
Ed Backlund — shot put, 440 yard run, mile relay.
Jim Greene — 440 yard run.
Bobby Martin — mile relay.
Cald Blonkvist — mile relay.
Allen Holman — 880 yard run.
James Holmes — 880 yard run.
Jerry McNaughton — Discus.
Rabbi Jamies — mile relay.
Harlan Boyer — both hurdles.
The Harvester tracksters will leave Pampa Friday morning.

Turner, Jones In TV Bout

PHILADELPHIA, March 10-UP—Contender Phil Turner of Philadelphia will be a streaming midweight Wednesday night when he meets brawling Bobby Jones of Oakland, Calif., in a nationally televised and broadcast 10-round slugfest.

Favored Turner expects to weigh 152-153 or 153 against Jones in an eventually slim down to the welterweight division he deserted last year.

George Katz, Turner's pencil-thin manager, found his boxer a bit sluggish at 157 pounds in dropping a decision to Rocky Castellani and shading Pierre Langlois in his last two starts. If then ordered a reducing program, with a tab on the soft drinks and pastries the 23-year-old Turner loves so well.

Gil is ranked No. 4 in the middleweight hit, but there's talk of season resounding behind the move to return him to welterweight walking, where he made an unconvincing bid to dethrone Kid Gavilan.

The 160-pound division is top-heavy with talent and among those clamoring for a crack at Carl (Bob) Olson's crown are Castellani and Joey Giardello, both of whom have trimmed Rocky. There are also batters like Rube Walker, Jones and Willie Troy scrambling for the top.

Turner is after his 43rd triumph in 47 bouts. Troy has won 43 and lost 19.

TCU Beats Baylor

FORT WORTH, March 10-UP—TCU's Horned Frogs pushed over four runs in the ninth to beat Baylor's Bears 7 to 6 Tuesday and even a two-game non-conference baseball series between the teams. TCU scored after one was out on three walks, a double by Lee Madden and two wild pitches by Bear relief pitcher Fred Gottlieb.

Two Seeded Teams Bow Out In NAIA

Bevo Francis and his Rio Grande, Ocho, college teammates return to action as the National Athletic Intercollegiate Association enters its second round Wednesday following Tuesday's first-round scramble that eliminated two seeded teams, one a former NAIA champion.

Rio Grande meets Southeastern Louisiana College of Hammond, which advanced into the second round by shading Georgetown, Ky., 77 to 76 Wednesday, on a pair of free throws by Cliff Foster with seven seconds remaining.

Rio Grande moved into the second round after a day of rest on the strength of its 90 to 74 victory Monday night over Arizona State.

Former Champion Falls College of Beavertown, Pa., defeated Eastern University of Pennsylvania 79 to 78 Tuesday, on a pair of free throws by Cliff Foster with seven seconds remaining.

Athletic Record Of District 1-AAAA Unparalleled In Texas Schoolboy Ranks

THE RECORD DISTRICT 1-AAAA is building up in the Texas schoolboy athletic circles stands far and above any other district in this huge Lone Star State. Since the new setup of dividing the school-boys into five different divisions three years ago, Class B, Class I-A, 3-A, 3-A, 4-A, District 1-AAAA hasn't failed to land a team in the state 4A finals of the two major sports, football and basketball.

There have been six state title games in these two sports since this reorganization and District 1-AAAA has produced four state champions and two state runners-up.

Lubbock won the state 4A football crown in 1951-52 and the Harvester have taken the state city crowns the past two seasons, 1953-54.

In the other two title games, a District 1-AAAA team reached the finals only to lose at this stage. Borger reached the state basketball finals in 1952 but lost to Poly of Fort Worth for the title.

Then last fall Odessa went to the state finals in football but bowed to Lamar of Houston for the crown.

This should be reason enough for why District 1-AAAA has adopted the moniker of "The Little West Conference."

Ablene's Eagles will likely keep the 1-AAAA record intact next football season. We're picking them to win the 1-AAAA crown and also the state title.

In most instances, the District 1-AAAA champs usually encounter more opposition in their own district than they do when they enter the playoffs.

Lubbock's toughest game in the 1952 state title march was with the Harvester. Lubbock trailed the Harvester as late as middle of the fourth quarter. It was the only time that season that Lubbock had been behind past halftime.

Then the Harvester cagers encountered tougher opposition right here in District 1-AAAA both of the years they mailed down the state in 1953-54 seasons.

Although the Harvester had to go overtime to down Crosier Tech in the state tournament finals this year, the nearest Harvester came to tasting defeat was against a 1-AAAA rival — Amarillo.

Amarillo held the lead through most of the game in the second outing with the Harvester and it wasn't until the last seven seconds of play that the Harvester were able to come from behind for the victory.

In Crosier's case, the Harvester led the most of the way — they were never behind after the early moments of the second quarter—but the Dallasites managed to tie the score with a late rally to send the game into overtime.

Just as another reminder, you'd better be latching onto a ticket to the Harvester basketball banquet to be held in the high school cafeteria March 19.

Only 25 will be available to the general public and it looks like these ducks may be like hot cakes. It's not every day we get to honor state champions and this year's Harvester banquet promises to be the best of all time.

Tucker On All-State AA Team 3rd Time

AUSTIN, March 10—UP—Temple Tucker, high-scoring basketball player on Bowles' Class AA champion team, was named to the all-state team for the third straight year.

Tucker, six-foot, 11-inch sky-scraper on Bowles' team which won its fourth straight title in the tournament last weekend, holds a 10-foot height edge over Williams, five-foot, 11-inch sparkplug of the Big Sandy five.

Griffin 2nd With 372

Pampa's three all-stars, Jimmy Bond, Gary Griffin and E. Jay McIvlin finished 1-3 in the individual scoring among the state champion Harvester for the 1953-54 season.

Bond, for the third straight year, led the Harvester point-making. The 6-5 center poured in 875 points this season in 28 games for a 30.5 average. Bond this week upped his 1,484 points for his three-year stint from 2,800 to 3,275.

6 PHS Cagers Earn Letters

Six members of the state champion Harvester cagers have been awarded letters for the past season. Coach Clifton McNeely has revealed.

Heading the letterman list is Jimmy Bond who won his third national letter. The other five received their first letters. They were Gary Griffin, E. Jay McIvlin, George Depe, Kenny Hinkle and Harold Lewis, all of whom received reserve letters last year.

TCU Seeded Teams Bow Out In NAIA

Bevo Francis and his Rio Grande, Ocho, college teammates return to action as the National Athletic Intercollegiate Association enters its second round Wednesday following Tuesday's first-round scramble that eliminated two seeded teams, one a former NAIA champion.

Rio Grande meets Southeastern Louisiana College of Hammond, which advanced into the second round by shading Georgetown, Ky., 77 to 76 Wednesday, on a pair of free throws by Cliff Foster with seven seconds remaining.

Rio Grande moved into the second round after a day of rest on the strength of its 90 to 74 victory Monday night over Arizona State.

Kentucky 5 Withdraws From NCAA

NASHVILLE, Tenn., March 10-UP—Coach Cliff Rupp, who vowed vengeance for a year's suspension from Southeastern Conference play, withdrew unseated Kentucky from the NCAA tournament Wednesday after a 63 to 66 playoff win over Louisiana State to "not to jeopardize the conference's chances."

372 points in 28 tilts for a 13.3 average. McIvlin followed with 340 points — also in 28 games — for a 12.1 average.

One other player, Ken Hinkle, topped the 30 mark. Hinkle scored 185 points in 28 games for a 6.6 average. Rounding out the top five in the scoring was George Depe with 82 points.

Coin Toss Will Decide Big Seven NCAA Choice

COLUMBIA, Mo., March 10-UP—A coin will be tossed in the office of Big Seven Conference Commissioner Bob Rupp to see whether Kansas or Colorado will go to the NCAA regional basketball playoffs starting Friday in Stillwater, Okla.

Reeves decided to let the toss of a coin settle it after Missouri scored a stunning 76 to 47 upset over Kansas here last night to throw the title race into a dead-heat, leaving Kansas and Colorado as co-champions, each with 10-3 conference records.

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 10—UP—Washington Manager Bucky Harris, who loves to beat the New York Yankees anywhere, any time—even if only in exhibition games, planned to throw three left-handed pitchers against the workshoppers Wednesday in their exhibition clash.

Started With Will Hays Film Censor Rules Stars' Every Move

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, March 10 —UP—
The late Will Hays, the first movie czar, blue-penciled the private lives of movie stars of the lusty '20's as well as their movies.
Current censors deal mostly with what appears on the screen. But Hays took a fatherly attitude toward celebrities of the day, and called to task such headline-makers as Tom Mix, Clara Bow, Mary Pickford and Fatty Arbuckle.
Hays was lured from his Washington postmaster's job in 1922 to police the free-wheeling movie industry following the sordid death of dancer Virginia Rappe at a party tossed by Arbuckle. Hays' first act as censor was to bar Arbuckle from the screen.
The comedian as popular then as Bob Hope and Jerry Lewis are now, worked under a false name
as a director for a while and finally quit movies.
The first censor made headlines
himself when he acted as mediator between Miss Pickford and her exchanged husband, Douglas Fairbanks, Sr. The famous screen couple got a divorce, anyway.
Miss Harlow was scolded by Hays for her plunging necklines in "Hell's Angels." He clipped some scenes out of that picture, produced by Howard Hughes who's tangled with censors ever since.
Hays once called the party-loving Tom Mix into his office. Mix later told how Hays, a religious man, got the star to get down on his knees and the two men prayed together.
The movie czar is credited with the clause in most stars' contracts giving the studio power to fire
them for morality reasons.
Hays' influence also was felt in films. He censored horizontal love scenes and limited the time of kisses. No longer did John Gilbert nip Greta Garbo on the ear.
A view of bathroom plumbing
was taken out of a 1924 classic,
"Greed." He rejected the script of a Universal picture, "Lady of Joy," and forbade the studio ever to use the title. A long shot of French girls bathing in the nude in "All Quiet on the Western Front" landed on the cutting room floor.
Mae West's suggestive ditties
were scissored from "She Done Him Wrong" in the early '30's.
When Fox remade the 1934 sizer,
"Fool There Was," the once-passionate hero and heroine were not censored; they conversed mainly over the telephone.

First Of Merchant Value Day Series Set For May 17

The first of a series of special promotion days, to be known as
"Top of Texas Value Day," will be held in most Pampa retail stores
on May 17.
After hearing a report by Ben Brookner, chairman of a special committee, appointed by the Merchants Activities Committee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce, to study promotional ideas, the chamber committee set May 17 as the first of the special days when it met Monday.
W. J. McNeill, chairman of the committee, pointed out that to insure the success of the special days, the committee will need the cooperation of all Pampa retail merchants.
It was decided that efforts would be made to stage these special promotional days once every three months. Newspapers and radio stations have promised to cooperate in helping to promote these special days, McNeill stated. Ample publicity will be released well in advance to inform residents of the dates of these days, he added.

Puerto Rican Nationalist Chief Was Once Peaceful

By PHIL NEWSON
United Press Analysis
The United States FBI and the Puerto Rican government have an especially urgent reason for their vigorous clampdown on the small and politically ineffective Nationalist party whose leader once claimed he was being bombed
by atomic rays.
The leader is 62-year-old Pedro
Albizu Campos who on Saturday fought a two gun battle with police and national guardsmen from his barricaded headquarters in San Juan and was taken only after being overcome by tear gas.
Once he advocated non-violence
in his campaign for Puerto Rican independence.
"Violence," he said, "is repugnant to the Puerto Rican character."
Now he leads sworn killers who will sacrifice themselves to reach their victims. A United Press dispatch from San Juan last week disclosed that his small Nationalist party (it has no more than 500 members) plotted not only the incredible shooting attack on Congress but also plotted attacks on other officials including President Eisenhower.
Hence the urgency with which the roundup of other party members is being conducted now.
Albizu, son of a white father and a Negro mother, attended Vermont College and Harvard University. While at Harvard he married a Peruvian girl—Laura Meneses—a student at nearby Radcliffe who became a strong right arm in spreading his propaganda.
He entered the United States Army in 1917, after his return to Puerto Rico.
Those who attempt to explain
his unbending hatred for the United States say it may have had its beginning during his time in the Army. He rose from private to rank of first lieutenant, but the Army sent the young Puerto Rican
to a Negro unit.
The Army segregation is said
perhaps to have formed the basis of his hatred.
By 1927 he was touring Latin America making hundreds of speeches against the U.S. as the "colossus of the north."
By 1930 he had established himself as president of the Nationalist party and stumped the island demanding that Puerto Rico's case
be taken to the League of Nations.
He still specifically opposed violence.
His agitation led to a fight between his followers and the police in which some of his followers were killed. He demanded revenge and got it in the slaying of the American chief of the island's police.
For that he was sentenced to 10 years in Atlanta's federal prison.
He returned to Puerto Rico in 1947, preaching the doctrine that Puerto Rico was a republic which the United States had invaded.
Then came a senseless attack by five of Albizu's "students" who attempted to assassinate the governor. Other outrages followed. Albizu was arrested and sentenced to life in prison. It was then that he began "seeing" strange things in his cell and to complain about atomic bombardment from nearby buildings.
Last September, on the recommendation of physicians and psychiatrists, he was paroled on the condition that he abstain from politics. First result was the attack on the U.S. Congress.

Graham Film Has Possible 'Hit' Tune

"Oil Town U. S. A.," Billy Gram-ham's latest film, which will be shown in Pampa Friday, will feature the song which one movie columnist predicted would soon be
"at the top of the hit parade."
The song is "Christian Cowboy," and will be sung in the film by its composer, Cindy Walker.
The movie will be shown at 7:30 p.m. in the Junior High School Auditorium and is sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance. No admission will be charged but a free-will offering will be taken. According to Rev. J. R. Stroble, Alliance president.
Long before her decision in 1961
to give her life for Christian service, Cindy Walker earned the title of "the true queen of western song writers." She made her first Christian film appearance in "Mr.
Texas," Billy Graham's first movie. The scenes in "Oil Town U.
S. A." were filmed on location in Houston.

Marilyn Monroe Names Her Ten Favorite Males

Practically every man in the world who has heard of or seen movie star Marilyn Monroe wants to hear and see more. But who are the men the new Mrs. DiMaggio finds most interesting? Pageant magazine asked her, and her answers ranged in the order set by herself appear in the April issue. She leads off with...
MICHAEL CHEKHOV (actor-director)
"He's a rare human being. And a great artist. For a serious person he has the most wonderful sense of humor. I love him as a person."
ARTHUR MILLER (playwright-novelist)
"He is one of the few contemporary playwrights who has found a way to successfully mirror our times. The thing I liked most was a book he wrote called "Focus." It was about anti-Semitism. I wish he'd write more books. It was a very serious, wonderful book."
JOHN HUSTON (director)
"Any woman around him couldn't help but be in love with him at least for the time she's with him.
You can be completely comfortable with him."
SIDNEY SKOLSKY (Hollywood
columnist)
"Sidney is one of the most interesting people to talk to. Maybe it seems strange but I can spend an hour and a half with him, and it seems like 10 minutes. I always felt I could trust him. He probably wouldn't want me to call him his favorite type, so I won't. But he's sweet and I love him dearly." MILTON GREENE (magazine photographer)
"Milton has a way... he's not just a photographer, he's an artist really. Even when he does fashions which are usually boring, he can make something so beautiful.

TV's Newest Smash Hit Is 7-Year-Old

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, March 9 —UP—
The newest smash on television is a curly-haired actor who supports a half-hour program and also goes to the top feature of the show.
Rusty Hamer, just turned seven, plays Danny Thomas' son on the ABC Emmy-winning program,
"Make Room for Daddy."
The blue-eyed charmer has become a top feature of the show and is set for a long stay, fortunately, because he's virtually the only bread-winner in the family.
"His father died last December,"
explained Rusty's mother, Mrs.
Arthur Hamer. "We had just bought a house and we would have given it up if Rusty hadn't been working."
Mrs. Hamer never figured Rusty would be an actor. The whole family was acting in a neighborhood amateur play, just for fun, when Thomas' secretary saw him and Rusty landed on the TV show.
Rusty bravely faced his first press interview between camera rehearsals. He alternately stood on his head and ate cookies.
"I don't wanna be an actor when I grow up," he announced. "I want to be an engineer. In an airplane. I want to keep flying through the clouds, black ones, and make rain. Because I like rain."
"Did you see Superman? He got in an airplane and dove through wires and it didn't kill him." Rusty shouted, and ran around the set,
making airplane noises.
Later he divulged he likes Roy Rogers, toy boats, his two older brothers and school. He can read from the fifth grade books, he said proudly.
"I like to act," said Rusty with a toothless grin.
Mrs. Hamer said Rusty memor-
izes the entire script in two days.
He hasn't fluffed a line since the show began last August. In his rehearsals he often prompted the other actors and poked them if they forgot to stand on the chalk lines that keep them in camera focus.
Sometimes Rusty is just plain boy. Once he hid giggling behind a curtain while Director Sheldon
Leonard scoured the set for him.

Wise Money Says Dulles' Red Push Will Succeed At Caracas

By PHIL NEWSOM
United Press Foreign Analyst

The betting now is that Secretary of State John Foster Dulles will be successful in ramming through the inter-American conference at Caracas a strong anti-Communist resolution.

His resolution would extend the Monroe Doctrine against foreign intervention or further colonization in the Western Hemisphere to include international communism.

It would consider any Communist government set up in the Americas as under the control of Moscow and therefore to consist of direct foreign intervention.

United action by the various American nations "under existing treaties" then would follow.

Underlined by Events

Recent events have both underlined Dulles' warning against Communist infiltration in the Western Hemisphere and have illustrated the difficulties of dealing with it.

Dulles hopes for almost unanimous approval of his resolution. Guatemala, as was expected, opposes it vehemently.

The United States never officially has accused Guatemala of being Communist-run.

But Guatemala has been called a "bridgehead" for communism in Latin America and, at the least, is Communist-influenced.

Guatemala has attacked the Dulles resolution as another example of United States "dollar diplomacy" and "big stick" policies which would lead directly to U.S. intervention in Latin American affairs.

These are powerful arguments below the Rio Grande where a traditional suspicion of the "colossus of the north" still exists and where "colonization" is a hated word.

Last fall the British expelled the prime minister of British Guiana, Dr. Cheddi Jagan, and outlawed his Peoples' Progressive party as pro-Communist.

This week the British government in London received an urgent warning from Gov. Patrick Benson of British Honduras that there is a link between the People's united party of the colony and the Communists of Guatemala.

Investigation Urged

He urged an immediate investigation, especially in light of the fact that British Honduras elections come just six weeks from now.

Both cases might be taken as a warning to Latin American nations.

However, unfortunately for American solidarity, both occurred in colonies, and Central and South American nations are likely to get more morbid satisfaction out of British colonial difficulties than to take any warning that "it can happen here."

A situation with related factors exists in Puerto Rico. There the fanatic Nationalist party is not Communist but has welcomed help from the Communists.

It is noteworthy that not in Guiana, British Honduras or in Puerto Rico have the Reds made an open grab for power. They have operated in fronts or in collaboration, thus complicating any attempt at retaliation against them and making more dangerous the charge of intervention.

Star Witness In Bank Theft A Dope Addict

HOUSTON, March 10 —UP—The prosecution's star witness in the trial of three men, charged with the $50,000 robbery of the Houston National Bank last New Year's Day, admitted Wednesday he was addicted to narcotics.

Donny Allen, 19, former teller at the bank, said also that he perjured himself on the witness stand in testimony given earlier. The three men on trial are James Mitchell, Nick Mitchell (no relation) and Johnny Navarro.

Allen's perjury admission was in connection with a car he bought and on which he at first testified he paid $500. But when Defense Attorney Gabe Nehas cross-examined Allen, he admitted he paid the full $1,000 cost of the car.

He said he changed his story because he was afraid federal charges would be filed against him because "I made the money peddling dope."

Allen said he used narcotics and peddled some as well. Other defense question was aimed at showing Allen had an expensive dope habit and that, as a teller in the bank, he had ready access to the stolen money. The implication was that he took the $50,000, which has never been recovered, to buy narcotics.

All three of the defendants have denied having anything to do with the robbery, although Allen implicated all three. Allen himself pleaded guilty to a bank robbery charge and is awaiting sentencing.

Golden Glove Trophies To 11 Local Boys

Eleven young Pampa boxers, winners and runners-up in the Berger district Golden Gloves tournament, today had trophies and small G.G. replicas in their possession.

For the boys, all members of the Pampa Boys Club, Tuesday noon were presented their awards by John Campbell, Pampa G.G. director, at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Junior Chamber of Commerce.

On hand also as featured guests were T. J. Watt, club boxing coach, and Oren James, past president (for four years) of the club.

Boys awarded trophies were Tommy Lamar, Eddy Moore, Tommy Richardson, Raul Ramirez, Benny Dickerson, Bernice Derbyberry, Gary Wilhelm, Gary Willis, Joe Rutherford, Carson Watt and Dickie Willis.

Campbell, stating the "main purpose" in presenting the awards at the JayCee meeting, said it was to "recognize" each individual in the Berger tournament, held the second week of January. "And we only sent half our team over there," Campbell said, pointing to the winners.

JayCee President J. C. Hopkins thanked Watt, James and Campbell for the "splendid job" they've done with the Pampa Boys Club.

Other major portion of the Tuesday noon program was the showing of a film on eye examination by John Jones, who emphasized that this was "Save Your Vision Week." The film ran 21 minutes.

George Caddell, Amarillo JayCee and instructor for the current Dale Carnegie course being held in Pampa, announced there would be another free dinner for JayCees and their guests Friday night in Johnson's Cafe. For reservations, Pampans are asked to call Hopkins at 4-3358.

Plans were also laid for a joint Pampa-Berger-Dumas JayCee stag night, tentatively set for the night of March 19 in Berger. Others will follow, Hopkins said.

Wayland Singers Have Appeared Internationally

PLAINVIEW — (Special) — Dr. Shelby Collier, director of the colorful Wayland College International A Cappella Choir which will appear at Lefors Baptist Church at 7:30 o'clock, on Monday, March 15, has won signal recognition for his musicianship, especially in choral direction and the promotion of church music programs of a high rank.

Dr. Collier organized the Wayland Choir in 1948 with a handful of students and today there is a waiting list for membership in the 40-voice group. In the summer of 1953, he took a 15-voice unit to Brazil for a 45-day tour and gained wide recognition in that country. His group sang in five of the largest Brazilian cities and assisted with evangelistic services attended by crowds of 1,000 to 10,000.

In the fall the full choir under Dr. Collier's direction visited another foreign country when they were invited to sing in Monterey, Mexico. They have also made two tours this season that included appearances in Arkansas, Colorado, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas, with many being return engagements. This year's program has songs in twelve languages, including Brazilian folk music, some of which has been arranged by Prof. David Appleby and Joe Abston, Houston, choir accompanist, who went on the trip to Brazil.

Many new and beautiful costumes have been added to the choir's wardrobe which is valued at more than $5,000. Their costumes have been most effectively screened over television programs in various actions of the state.

Legion was named. On it: Fred Myers, Charles Wilkerson, Bob Quick, Jerry Simms. In addition to the featured guests there were 11 other guests present.

No Money In Spelling Capitol Guides Have A 'Beef'

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, March 10 —UP—The men who whip it up for the capital for pay think they are underpaid.

The tourist guides, who lead the out-landers around our vast premises, have voiced a loud complaint against regulations put into effect many years ago. They guides want the rules changed.

As of now, they are limited to a maximum spelling charge of $1.50 an hour, or $10 for a full day. I talked with one speller, who didn't want to be named.

"Look at it this way," he said. "Suppose you get a $10 a day fee. That's only $50 a week, on a five-day job. Or say you take a few of those $1.50 an hour jobs, and stand idle the rest of the day, for half that."

"Look, mister. Some days you don't get a $10 job. And so the kids drink the skim of the milk and the old lady can afford only one rag she wouldn't be seen in at a night. We could afford it on my nights off."

"We have to know more about the capital buildings and points of interest in this area than most congressmen ever will know. Want a sample speech?"

"You go by the Capitol building see. And you tell 'em that it was built in installments. Now, it is 750 feet long, covers four acres. George Washington laid the cornerstone of the original north wing of the Capitol on Sept. 13, 1793. Washington wore a Masonic apron at the time."

"Then we tell 'em about the Senate chamber. Presided over by the Vice President. His chair is carved by the artist."

and upholstered in black leather. Looks like a classroom, the Senate does. That's what we say. The senators sometimes act like school boys and carve their initials on the desks. I could show you some if we had time. That's the way the spiel goes."

In most cars each front wheel has a kingpin for turning right and left and two hinge-like joints for moving up and down over rough spots in the road.

In the 1954 Ford you won't find either the kingpin or the hinge-like joints which most cars have. In their place are two sealed ball joints about which each front wheel moves both up and down and right and left. This new suspension not only makes the car easier to steer but permits greater total up-and-down front wheel travel for a smoother ride.

These new ball joints pivot in specially shaped seats so that wheels will turn more easily and are far less likely to get "out-of-line." This new ball joint system eliminates 12 points of wear.

Here's how Ford's new Ball-Joint Suspension works

It's the greatest advance in chassis design in 20 years!

Not since 1933, when independent front wheel suspension was introduced, has there been such an improvement in both riding and steering in an American car. Of course, only Ford in the low-price field has this new Ball-Joint Front Suspension.

With Ball-Joint Suspension "paving" the way, the "old" roads won't seem the same. You'll enjoy a softer, more level ride because Ford's new system allows greater shock-absorbing movement of the front wheels. Handling is better. And you'll enjoy Ford's new ride far longer because ball-joints are spring-loaded to compensate automatically for any wear.

It's just one of the "dividends" you get in a '54 Ford which make it worth more when you buy it, worth more when you sell it!

Ford also brings you the most modern high-compression, low-friction engines in the industry: the new 115-h.p. I-block Six and the new 130-h.p. Y-block V-8. These two new deep-block engines bring you dividends of greater horsepower, smooth, quiet performance, less wear due to friction, and more GO per gallon.

You can choose from 14 new body styles, each with completely new interiors and a beautiful Astral-Dial Control Panel. And as fine car options you can have power steering, power brakes, power windows, a power front seat and Fordomatic Drive. One Test Drive in this "worth more" Ford and you'll want to drive it home!
