Allies Mass For Drives

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, July 24 (AP)—The Allies were massing their forces today for new drives to break out of the Normandy beachhead and only two engagements were reported all along the 100-mile front.

Eight miles east of Caen British Tommies pushed into the western edge of Troarn, ran into stiff resistance and fell back to the railway station just west of this gateway to the great port of Le Havre.

The salient which Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's forces drove across the little Seves river toward the German stronghold of Periers last Saturday was shoved back to the north bank by a German counterattack yesterday, and the village of Seves was lost.

Installations In Northern France Are Attacked

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—A maximum of 500 U. S. heavy bombers attacked German airbases, harbors and other objectives today in northern France, Northern Italy and Yugoslavia.

A great fleet of British bombers cast 2,800 tons of explosives on the great naval base of Kiel before dawn and Allied plans from Italy bombed the Romanian capital of Bucharest.

British heavy bombers attacked bomb installations in northern France for the third time in about a day's span. This was the only daylight operation reported from England up to late afternoon.

Weather worsened over Normandy with only a few small breaks in the virtually complete overcast.

Airdromes were hit in the south of France.

The leading Italian port of Genoa, 85 miles up the west coast from the battlefield at Pisa, was struck. Four German troops concentrations in southern Yugoslavia were targets across the Adriatic from Italy.

Other objectives included tank repair shops and a ball bearing factory.

Mustangs and lightning fighters escorted the heavy bombers from Italy. The French airfields were at Valence, La Treorriere and Les Canolles the tank repair shop was the north Italian city of Turin. The ball bearings works was ten miles southwest at Orbassano.

Five separate bomber forces were sent out from Britain last night by the RAF, the largest raiding destruction on Kiel at the rate of 150 tons of bombs per minute.

Troops Land On Tinian

Yanks Rapidly Ending Japan's Twenty-five Year Domination

By J. B. KRUEGER Associated Press War Editor American Marines and infantrymen today were rapidly finishing Japan's 25-year long dominion in the Marianas, keystones of Nippon's oceanic defenses.

Tinian was invaded Sunday and to the south on Guam other U. S. fighting men closed in from two beachheads to cut off Guam's fine Apra harbor and an airfield. Adm. Chester Nimitz disclosed the Tinian landings only a few hours after they started, reporting light ground opposition against the first waves of troops.

Tinian is three miles south of conquered Saipan and from the latter has been steadily blasted by planes and artillery. With this preparation, elements of the Second and Fourth Marine divisions moved in at dawn Sunday. Fleet-borne and land planes and guns backed them up.

To the south Agat village and Mt. Altan overlooking the harbor fell to the First Marine provisional brigade and the 7th army division. Then they swung north toward Orote peninsula for a junction with the northern force. Enemy opposition, compared to that on bloody Saipan, was light on Guam and Tinian.

Japan has held all the Marianas, except Guam, since the first World War, when under the Versailles treaty it got them by mandate.

Southwest Pacific planes bombed Yap, Palau and Woleai, south of the Marianas, in support of Nimitz' invasions. They also sank a small enemy vessel 70 miles off the southern Philippines, an achievement significant in that it revealed close patrol of these waters.

The Chinese still held Hengyang; the Allies slowly closed in on Myitkyina in north Burma, and British troops struggled across monsoon-gorged rivers in pursuit of the Japanese who vainly invaded India.

Americans Hold Southern Dist. Of Ancient Pisa

ROME, July 24 (AP)—Americans of the Fifth army held the southern district of historic Pisa today while other forces wiped out virtually all enemy positions on the southern banks of the Arno river from the sea to near Empoli, and additional columns pushed north from Poggibonsi to within 12 miles of Florence.

Advance elements crossed the Arno canal and occupied Cascina, 10 miles east of Pisa.

Latest official reports said the Americans had not crossed the Arno at Pisa, but held that part of the city on the southern side.

East of Pisa, where the river forms an inverted U, some enemy strongpoints remained. The Germans launched a determined counterattack about two miles south of San Miniato, using a number of self-propelled guns, and there were numerous encounters along the south banks of the Arno in the Fifth army cleanup of most enemy positions south of the river along the length of its right and central sectors.

In the upper Arno valley the Eighth army made new gains north of the river, clearing Terranova of the enemy and reaching a point almost as far as Mount Marciano. Advances were slight in the Arrezzo sector.

British troops advanced three miles in the upper Tiber valley after the capture of Città Di Castello.

The enemy still was holding out in the mountain fastness east of the Tiber valley where the German commander has threatened to turn the monastery of Saint Ubaldo near Gubbio into another Cassino.

Vincent had reported unofficially by telephone Saturday night however, and unofficial results listed in Sunday's Herald were complete.

Run-off candidates entered in the final four-week lap of their races before determination of final results in the August second primary. Results in at least 11 county and precinct offices were determined Saturday.

Circus Fire Death Toll Reaches 164

HARTFORD, Conn., July 24 (AP)—The death toll in the Ringling Brothers-Barnum and Bailey circus fire disaster here July 6 rose to 164 today when Miss Grace Clark, 48, whose 81-year-old parents also perished in the "big top" blaze, succumbed to burns.

Six persons remain missing since the catastrophe.

Gestapo Carries Forward Blood Purge in Germany

Reds Are Nearing Warsaw

Russian Road To Berlin Shrinks As Army Advances

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—The German radio acknowledged today that Russian troops had plunged within 50 miles of Warsaw, with Nazi troops abandoning Siedlce and Jaroslav.

The German communique reported fighting inside the great Polish rail centers of Lwow and Lublin.

The Polish capital. It lies 365 air miles from Berlin, by far the closest Allied approach to that bomb ridden capital of Nazidom.

The German reference to a Russian advance reaching a line from Siedlce to Jaroslav pointed to a general retreat along a 150-mile front across the center of Poland.

The enemy apparently was being swept along with no signs of letup by swift Red forces that left Lwow and Brest Litovsk by-passed more than 60 miles behind advanced Russian columns.

Elsewhere on the 950 mile rolling front, the Germans reported no major withdrawal.

Indeed, they claimed to be counter-attacking successfully between Brest Litovsk and Kaunas in Lithuania although this fighting cost them two more generals.

The German communique said Lt. Gen. Scheller and Maj. Gen. Von Treschow, chief of staff of an army, had been killed in action.

At midnight the Russian communique announced the capture of the 361st infantry division commander, Maj. Gen. Lindeman, and the slaying of the commander of the Nazi 340th infantry, Maj. Gen. Doldier.

In East Prussia, within two hours marching time the Russians were standing cautiously on the fringe of the Masurian Lakes, a strong natural defense positions in which Von Hindenburg defeated a Russian invasion in a welter of blood in 1914.

Flyers Missing Since Friday

SAN ANTONIO, July 24 (AP)—Two aviation cadets and a staff sergeant, members of the crew of an AT-24 and assigned to Brooks Field, have been reported missing since late Friday night at which time they were engaged in flying a routine night navigation training mission, according to Brooks Field authorities.

The mission flyers are: Aviation Cadet, Ambrose J. Gibbons, 23, of Pittston, Pa. Aviation Cadet Harold C. Gerbracht, 20, Buffalo, N. Y. Staff Sgt. N. V. Arnold, 25, of San Antonio, an aerial engineer.

Brooks Field authorities said the plane was last heard from while it was over Bryan, Tex., and enroute to Del Rio.

All army stations in this area have been alerted and are conducting search missions over the route the missing plane was supposed to have flown. Search missions also are being conducted in Mexico.

It was pointed out by army authorities that the flyers may have parachuted to safety over barren territory either in Texas or in Mexico.

Bussey Taged "Used Car Lot Charlie"

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY NEAR PISA, July 24 (AP)—For months now—ever since he and his tommygun held a hill near Cassino alone, killing so many Germans that no one bothered to count them—pals have been calling Texas Charley Bussey: "Used Car Lot Charlie."

Now they've added a new tag: "Used Car Lot Charlie."

Several months ago, the sharp shooting sergeant from Big Spring captured a German jeep and made the mistake of driving it to the rear where officers took it away from him. In the push on Pisa in the last few days, Charley's patrol spotted an enemy jeep loaded with five Germans. When the shooting was over, there were five dead Jerries and Charley had another jeep.

This time, he is going to keep his prize at the front with him, figuring that if someone wants to take it from him, he will have to come up where the fighting is hot.

Charley is burned up, however. In dispatching the Germans, one member of the squad shot up a spare tire.

Sgt. Bussey is the son of Mrs. Walter Hightower of Deming, N. M., and a nephew of Mrs. Harry

Totals In Returns To Texas Election Bureau

DALLAS, July 24 (AP)—Returns to the Texas Election Bureau at 11 a. m., from 243 out of 254 counties in the state, including 120 complete, show the following totals for candidates in Saturday's democratic primary election:

Governor—Carey 4,220, Cunningham 42,737, Ferguson 11,181, Grimes 8,537, Jones 19,639, Mills 6,002, Minton 8,041, Porter 14,613, Stevenson 602,115.

Lieut. Governor—Davis 59,951, Satterwhite 207,084, Smith 337,675, Turner 62,579.

Attorney General — Erisman 110,875, Martin 255,820, Sellers 321,109.

Supreme Court—Critz 240,958, Hubbard 63,691, Rowland 106,034.

Simpson 160,802, Smiley 71,774.

DALLAS, July 24 (AP)—Texas' primary election returns today revealed the polling strength of two army captains serving overseas, one of whom defeated Rep. Richard Kleberg and the other of whom was running Rep. Lindley Beckworth a close race.

In other races, ten Texas congressmen were renominated in Saturday's balloting and at least two runoff for congressional seats were indicated by latest returns last night from the Texas Election Bureau.

Capt. John Lyle, a mobile anti-aircraft officer in Italy, whose friends placed his name on the congressional ticket in the 19 counties of Texas' district 14, was apparently winner over Kleberg, member of the King ranch family. When the election bureau stopped tabulating votes in the contest early yesterday afternoon, Capt. Lyle's count was 19,121 as against 11,836 for Kleberg. Lyle's wife was active in his campaign.

Capt. D. S. Meredith, Jr., with the Army's judge advocate general's department stationed in the South Pacific, was pushing Beckworth in District 3, the latter maintaining a slight lead. Meredith was backed by a team of ten East Texas political leaders and attorneys who stumped the district in his behalf under the direction of Mrs. Meredith. Latest returns gave Beckworth 22,504 votes, Meredith 17,191 and E. A. Martin, Longview, third man in the race, 4,544.

Robot Attacks On Britain Continue

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—As the robot attacks on Britain continued for the 40th day, military experts today expressed belief that the Germans were using a number of new flying bomb bases, including some in Belgium.

London, as well as areas in the southern counties, suffered casualties and damage during the night, when the Nazis sent a fairly large number of the flying bombs hurtling across the channel. There were few interludes in the assault over the weekend.

It was disclosed, meanwhile, that more than 100,000 mothers and babies and 82,000 school children have been evacuated from London under government auspices.

No Evidence Yet Of Trouble In Nazi Front Lines

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—Hitler's Gestapo was reported carrying forward a vast, unprecedented blood purge in Germany today to quell what Winston Churchill called a revolution.

The Germans announced grave new reverses in Poland, placing the Russian army within 50 miles of Warsaw, Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said events inside the reich "seem to show that experienced German generals have seen the writing on the wall."

By German and Russian accounts, three more generals died in action in the east and a fourth joined the swelling ranks of those in prison cages. The German radio exhorted the home front to "mobilize to the last strength" and asserted "no one has the right to live, not even breathe, who does not carry arms or forge them."

The Berlin correspondent of Tidningen of Stockholm cabled the Germans had acknowledged recruiting and supply for the war fronts had bogged down because of "bureaucracy in the staff of the German home army," the command of which was assumed by Himmler shortly after a bomb scorched and scratched Hitler last week.

While German army morale appeared badly shaken, there was no concrete evidence yet of any disaffection in the front lines. The Nazis clearly were still in firm control both of the army and of Germany itself.

Reports from France pictured Adolph Hitler's purge of rebellious army officers as having spread to the fighting fronts in Germany, France and possibly Italy.

Churchill, now back in Britain after a three-day tour of the Normandy front, gave the first official Allied word on the crisis in Germany. While visiting an RAF flying field in France yesterday, Churchill declared there were "grave signs of weakness" in Germany. He predicted the war "might come to an end earlier than we have a right to say."

Berlin was silent on the counter-measures taken against the German officers whom Hitler said had planned to kill him. German uneasiness was underscored in these things which were left unsaid:

Not a single general on the eastern front, where the German armies have been reeling back toward their own borders, has come forward personally to pledge loyalty to the Fuehrer, though the Nazis claimed a blanket pledge.

Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels, the most effective and probably the shrewdest of all Nazi orators, has not appeared once on the radio, nor has he been reported at any meetings with Hitler.

What he did not report—and what no correspondent could report—was that scores of German army reserve battalions were confined to barracks without knowing why until Hitler spoke, and then it was too late.

The Germans who received these reports from Germany today led friends to suppose that hundreds, and perhaps thousands, of regular army officers of the old Prussian school fell before SS firing squads throughout Germany even before they could be reached by the orders of the generals they would have followed.

ALBANY, N. Y., July 24 (AP)—Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York and his running-mate, Governor John W. Bricker of Ohio will blueprint to some extent Wednesday the campaigning responsibilities of each in their democratic national administration drive to unseat a 12-year lion.

Coming to Albany for his first huddle with the presidential nominee since leaving Chicago last month, the GOP vice-presidential candidate will arrive Wednesday morning and be guest at the executive mansion. Bricker will visit national committee headquarters in New York City Thursday.

"Governor Bricker and I will spend the day and evening Wednesday, conferring on campaign issues and some problems we will be discussing during the campaign," Dewey said.

Bricker, who made an extensive speaking tour of the country in his pre-convention fight for the presidential nomination, is expected to wage a vigorous objection campaign designed to supplement and dovetail with—but not duplicate—the efforts of Governor Dewey.

Bricker, Dewey Plan Meeting

KANSAS CITY, July 24 (AP)—"I'm quitting a tremendously important job to do another even more important," said Senator Harry S. Truman, democratic vice presidential nominee, when he returned today to his Kansas City office to greet a long line of friends and well wishers.

"My job now is to help bring the war to a close as quickly as possible by keeping the democratic party in power," Truman declared, and added:

"We are going to win overwhelmingly in the November election."

Truman said he had definitely decided to resign his chairmanship of the senate committee investigating war production "just as soon as we have our next meeting" and that he would "pitch into" the campaign whenever and wherever President Roosevelt told him to.

That was as far as he'd go in setting his plans for the campaign. The senator sat behind a desk piled high with congratulatory telegrams and letters. The door was wide open and old friends, republican and democratic alike, walked in to say "hello" and visit with the smiling senator.

LONDON, July 24 (AP)—A broadcast dispatch by DNB, German news agency, said today that Yang Ma Chin, first Corps commander in the Second Szechuan army, had been shot to death by "terrorists" on the streets of Japanese-held Nanking.

Reports Received From Precincts

Tabulation of official election returns was postponed until Monday afternoon and reports were received from several precinct conventions Monday morning.

At least two precinct conventions passed resolutions asking democratic voters to support democratic nominees and one voted a resolution supporting the "regulars," so-called anti-Roosevelt democrats, according to reports.

Precinct 2, Big Spring, was one of the precincts passing a resolution to vote as a unit and asking that those voting the democratic ticket support democratic nominees and precinct 8, Big Spring, passed a similar resolution.

Precinct 3, Big Spring, reportedly endorsed the "regulars." Coahons held a precinct convention but no information had been received on action taken.

Precinct conventions were scheduled for Saturday, election day, but slight interest had been expressed in advance and whether other precincts held conventions had not been learned.

The county convention has been set for 2 p. m. Saturday in district courtroom and action will be taken on sending delegates to the state convention.

Meeting for purpose of canvassing election returns officially, the county committee had not received official returns from Vincent and adjourned until 1:30 p. m. The committee met in the office of L. S. Patterson, county democratic executive committee chairman.

Vincent had reported unofficially by telephone Saturday night however, and unofficial results listed in Sunday's Herald were complete.

Run-off candidates entered in the final four-week lap of their races before determination of final results in the August second primary. Results in at least 11 county and precinct offices were determined Saturday.

Body Of Plane Crash Victim Is Shipped

The body of Lt. Schofield was shipped by Valley Funeral home Monday to Jefferson, Ohio, his home, for burial.

Lt. Schofield was killed Saturday morning when the fighter plane he was ferrying crashed on the Space ranch in southwest Mitchell county.

NO LAKE REPORTS

No reports were available on amount of water caught by the city lakes Sunday in absence of rain. From Frank Covert, lake superintendent, since late Sunday when he said some additional water was running into Moss Creek lake. The run-off came from showers which poured out .24 of an inch in this immediate area.

Hot Weather Food Hints Given By War Food Assistant Stationed Here

"If hot weather brings problems of 'what shall I have for dinner,' try a new recipe occasionally," suggests Mildred Atkinson, emergency war food assistant stationed in Big Spring temporarily. "Your family will enjoy a new dish and you will get a kick out of preparing it," she said.

She offered two suggestions, a snappy salad to dress up a dinner and apple sauce ice cream.

Garden Salad Suggested
An easily prepared but tasty salad is a garden salad, with the following ingredients:

3 cups shredded salad; 1-4 cup sliced spring onions; 1-2 cup sliced radishes; 1 medium sized green pepper, shredded; 1 tablespoon grated horseradish; 1 cup shredded carrots; 1 teaspoon salt; 1-4 teaspoon pepper; 1-8 teaspoon paprika; 1-3 cup French or cooked salad dressing.

Prepare the vegetables and place in refrigerator until very crisp. Then mix in order given. Serve in large bowl or on a large platter. Serves eight.

Ice Cream Is Favorite
Ice cream, she reminded is always a favorite with the adults as well as the children—and so are apples. So why not combine them into apple sauce ice cream, as follows:

2 eggs; 2 tablespoons sugar; 1 cup top milk; 1 cup whipping cream; 1-4 cup honey; 1-2 cup apple sauce, unsweetened; 1-2 teaspoon cinnamon; dash of salt.

Whip egg whites until light. Beat in two tablespoons of sugar. Beat apple sauce, milk, cinnamon, honey, salt and egg yolks together. Whip cream until thick, but not stiff, then fold it together. Pour into freezing tray of automatic refrigerator. When slightly frozen, stir well, and finish freezing. You also may freeze in an ice cream freezer. Serves six to eight.

Significant Strike Made In Texarkana

TEXARKANA, Ark., July 24 (AP) — The Barnsdall and Sohio Oil companies' Helbron No. 2 came in and flowed on a drill stem test at the rate of 600 barrels a day yesterday near here.

The strike was described as significant. Total depth of the well is 7,716 feet with the production coming from the Smackover lime. K. W. Haley, of Tulsa, general superintendent of the production department of the Barnsdall company, said that to his knowledge the well was the first producer from the Smackover lime in Texas.

Haley said gravity of the oil was 38 and the gas-oil ratio 1,200 cubic feet of gas per barrel of oil.

Scouts Collect Paper

DALLAS, July 24 (AP) — Two hundred and ten trucks manned by Boy Scouts picked up more than 1,000,000 pounds of newspapers, magazines and other paper products here yesterday in a concentrated drive to collect waste-paper for the war effort.

The paper will be processed at an Oak Cliff paper mill into cartons and wrappings for articles of armament ammunition, medical supplies and rations to be shipped overseas to fighting fronts.

Thanks To People Of Howard County

I sincerely appreciate the support Howard county voters gave me in the first democratic primary Saturday and which enabled me to almost achieve a majority. I realize that my friends made this possible and I am thankful for their efforts. I sincerely solicit a continuation of this support and vote to the end that I may be able to serve the people as county attorney of Howard county.

New Wrinkles In Fall Silhouette

By DOROTHY ROE AP Fashion Editor

Go on, girls, be frivolous.

Fall fashions demand it and your serviceman beau insists on it.

Soldiers home from the wars are tired of seeing their best girls in sober wartime garb. They have cherished visions of a glamor girl in feminine frumpiness and come home on furlough to find a businesslike female in a basic dress. It won't do, says G. I. Joe—gives us glamor. And fashion designers have heeded his cry.

Rail fashions are going elegantly feminine. The straight and narrow path of wartime restrictions has developed surprising curves. The unadorned straight line now is all caked up with tunics, peplums, bustles and drapes.

Long evening gowns are back, featured in every fall collection, glamorous as all get-out, bedecked with glitter, in two versions—wickedly slinky or girlishly bouffant. The short evening gown is now called a cocktail dress, as befits its state, and the spangled evening suit of last season is now just a "restaurant suit."

Shoulders are wider than ever, skirts are narrower and slit skirts appear, to make walking possible.

Colors are gaily flamboyant, hats are startling creations of flowers, feathers and fluff, even tailored suits go gay in brightly colored tweeds with dressmaker details and unexpected lapels.

So cheer up, girls, it's time to preen.

AAFBS Grad Was On 'Fort' When Two Demolition Bombs Collided

Two highly-explosive demolition bombs collided on their way out of the bomb bay of the Flying Fortress "Ole Bassar" and exploded violently just below the ship. The concussion gripped the big Fort, lifted it and tossed it around like a paper kite.

"I still can't understand why we weren't all blown to bits," said Lt. Raymond A. Lull, the bombardier, after they returned to their 8th Air Force base in England.

The "Ole Bassar" was over our target in Munich, Germany," he continued, "when I pressed the toggle switch to dump our load. Something went wrong with the bomb release mechanism and two of the bombs collided on their way out of the bomb bay. Fortunately for all of us, they didn't explode at the time of their collision, but very considerably waited until they were just far enough below the plane to miss us by the narrowest margin possible. Of course, we were all shaken up pretty badly, and the "Ole Bassar" almost split itself wide open at the seams, but no real damage was done."

Lt. Lull, a native of Ithaca, N. Y., and a member of the Big Spring Bombardier school graduating class 43-6, was lucky that day. His luck ran out, however, last December 5th over Bordeaux, France. After successfully smashing the target, the "Ole Bassar" was caught in a terrific anti-aircraft barrage. It was last seen wrapped in a huge sheet of flame, spiraling earthward.

It was later learned that the pilot, co-pilot and one of the gunners had managed to parachute to safety. All other crew members, including Lull, were reported killed. Lt. Lull's Purple Heart and Air Medal with several clusters were sent to his mother.

Miss Woods Is Honored

Mrs. Bob Satterwhite entertained in her home Sunday morning with a breakfast honoring Clarabelle Woods, who is to be married Thursday to S-Sgt. Ralph Rayermann of St. Petersburg, Fla. in a ceremony at the East Fourth Baptist church.

Roses, petunias and crepe myrtle were placed at vantage points about the entertaining rooms, and the breakfast was served at individual tables. Napkins and tablecloths carried out the chosen bridal theme.

A gift was presented to the honoree, and others present were Mollie Chapman, Maxine Waldrop, Wanda Don Watts, Wilma Evans Claudine Byrd, Dorothy Taylor and Dorothy Satterwhite.

Mrs. H. C. Stipp Is Honored At Party

Mrs. H. C. Stipp, new program director of the Beta Sigma Phi, was honored Sunday with a swimming party and picnic at Forsan at the home of Mrs. B. L. LeFevre by members of the sorority.

Present were Sis Smith, Eddyde Raye Smith, Cadet Leland C. Pete, Lt. Orlynn E. Schuett, Ann Meredith, Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Stipp, Lt. and Mrs. Avis M. Dohrill, Major Earl Hury, Mrs. Lucille Burke and Edmond, Harriet Smith, Billie Frances Shaffer.

A/C Joseph J. Krysa, Patty Toops, A/C D. J. Lemieux, Beatrice Stacey, Lt. George C. Wiley, Clarinda Mary Sanders, Lt. L. E. Dixon, Lt. and Mrs. M. E. Hoeger, Evelyn Merrill, Capt. D. M. Bass, Frances Hendricks, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd G. Wooten, Sarah Johnson, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Darrow and Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Willis.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Cook were Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Straughan, Mary Jo and Martha Ann of McKinney.

SWELL SPOT FOR SPORTSMEN. The West Texas Bowling Center alleys, among the finest in this section of the state are popular with bowling enthusiasts here. Moreover, there are a sufficient number of alleys to make it possible to play most hours of the day. From those who are just learning that the sport is a fascinating one to those who roll in the 200's, West Texas Bowling Center is a popular place these days. (Kelsey Photo.)

Dewey Collum Starred In Baseball And Cafe Role

Dewey Collum, one of Big Spring's leading restaurateurs, was at one time one of the most promising players in the American baseball league, and though the two professions are as far apart as the poles, Collum gradually changed from baseball to the restaurant business.

This change-over probably took place since Collum was acquainted with many well-known restaurateurs in the east and during the winter months after the season had closed and before spring practice began, he managed cafes.

Eventually, restaurant business became his prime interest and during the past 15 years Collum has won wide acclaim for his restaurants.

Before coming to Big Spring in November 1943, Collum owned Tommie's Park 'N Eat in Odessa. Here he owns and operates the Club cafe, J & L Drug and fountain and the Waffle shop.

Collum's brother, C. L. (Jack) Collum who manages the J & L drug, has also chalked up an outstanding record in the drug business and gained his experience with the Renfro and Walgreen drugs in Texas. T. E. Cantrell, who operates the fountain service has also had many years experience in better serving the public.

Managing the Waffle shop is Lloyd McLeod, who was manager of an outstanding grill in Los Angeles, Calif. After he received a medical discharge from the army several months ago, Collum employed him to manage the Waffle shop.

At the Club cafe, Collum's

Robertson Is Appreciative Of Patronage

Appreciation to every customer in Howard county and from neighboring counties for the business they have given Jake Robertson and his staff since they have been at their new location at Gulley's cafe was expressed by Robertson.

Robertson still has all of the former employes of the Waffle shop, which he previously operated, and can assure prompt and courteous service and tasty, well-prepared foods.

Mr. Robertson has been an efficiency expert since his graduation from culinary schools. He has been a successful cafe and restaurant operator in this part of the country since that time.

The cafe operator reminded that there have been no bottles manufactured in well over two years for any purpose other than medical and requested that residents of the area collect all deposit bottles. He will be glad to refund their deposits. "It will bring a nearer victory and the county will have more beverages" and the retailer will not need to say "I had no bottles—I'm sorry," he said.

DROUTH NO BOTHER WHEN WELLS AVAILABLE FOR WASHING CARS

C. L. Tidwell, owner of the Gulf Service Station on Third and Austin Sts., has announced that the Gulf Oil Corporation has made it possible, by drilling water wells, for him to extend to the public a much-needed car-washing service.

Despite guarding regulations against such usage of water from the city lakes, he is now able to help citizens with their problems. He emphasized that now more than ever, because of wartime shortages of cars, civilians must care for what they have by keeping their automobiles in top condition.

The Gulf station's "car-saver" service includes competent and complete washing, polishing and greasing by expert mechanics. Four men are employed by Tidwell who work day and night shifts, keeping the place open for business 24 hours a day.

Other conveniences include a pick-up and delivery service for flats. Prices are reasonable, and all a customer must do for immediate service is phone number 3.

Tidwell handles third and first grade tires for those who are eligible to purchase them, and maintains the best in vulcanizing and re-capping.

He offers a recharging service for batteries, also handling a line of new Firestone batteries, and his lubrication service has won him many customers who depend on his station to keep their automobiles running smoothly. Featuring top-notch Gulf products, the station sells traffic gas for stoves, etc., and specializes in Gulf and No-Nox gasoline.

CITY OF BIG SPRING, TEXAS
By G. G. Dunham, Mayor.

The husky former Washington College (Maryland) football star hit four home runs and drove in seven runs to take over or share in the leadership in both departments, as the Cubs and the New York Giants divided a double header yesterday, the Cubs winning the opener 7-4 and the Giants the nightcap 12-10.

Nicholson's four homes in a twin-bill tied a major league record and placed him in a tie with Mel Ott of the Giants for the league lead with 21 each. It also gave Nick six homers in four games, tying another national league mark, held by four players.

Big Bill's seven RBI's gives him a total of 64, tops in the majors. He led the senior circuit last year with 29 home runs and 123 runs batted in. Only Rogers Hornsby of the St. Louis Cardinals in 1922 and '23, and Chuck Klein of the Philadelphia Phillies in 1931 and '33, ever led the loop in homers and runs-batted-in for two years, though neither led for successive years.

Each club tied a loop record when both the Giants and the Cubs seven pitchers in the wild and wooly second game. The total of 14 hurlers is a new major league record, displacing the old one of 12 set by the Cubs and Cincinnati in an 18-inning game during 1942.

The league-leading St. Louis Browns bounded back, after a 12-1 lacing, to defeat the Boston Red Sox 9-3 in the second game, aided by Vernon Stephens' grand slam home run in the fourth inning. In the opener, Tex Hughson joined Detroit's Hal Newhouser as the only 15-game winners in the American league by holding the Browns to six hits.

Two streaks were snapped when the Philadelphia Athletics took both games from the Detroit Tigers, 13-3 and 3-2. It marked the end of the Mackmen's eight-game losing streak, and snapped the Tigers winning skein at six. The double loss dropped the Tigers into fifth place.

Brooklyn sank deeper into the National league cellar by dropping both games of a twin bill to the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-5 and 9-4 in 11 innings. It marked the Dodgers fifth straight loss, and their 11st in the last 23 games.

The New York Yankees and the Chicago White Sox divided their two games, the Yankees winning the opener 7-5, and the Sox taking the second game 10-6. Johnny Lindell if the Yanks homered in the first game and Ralph Hodgins of the Pale Hose started with four hits in the second one.

The Phillies continued their Jinx over Bucky Walters of the Reds when they knocked him out of the box and overcame a six-run deficit to win the opener 7-6. Walters has beaten the Phillies only nine times in his seven years with the Reds. Cincinnati won the second game 2-1, when Catcher Ray Mueller homered in the seventh with one on.

Cleveland went over the .500 mark for the first time since May 11 by taking both games from the Washington Senators, 4-3 and 9-5, to move into fourth place. The Indians were helped by five double plays, four in the nightcap.

Cleveland went over the .500 mark for the first time since May 11 by taking both games from the Washington Senators, 4-3 and 9-5, to move into fourth place. The Indians were helped by five double plays, four in the nightcap.

The Jug won the $2,500 tournament with a 271, strokes under Byron Nelson of Toledo, Ohio, and another record.

At the end of 36 holes, Nelson had a 67-65-123 and McSpaden a 69-67-126. But Nelson's lead melted when McSpaden's putter ignited.

McSpaden's 63 was two strokes under the competitive course record of 65 set several years ago by Tee Branca, then home pro. His 271 total, 17 strokes under par for the 72 holes, was two under the Utah open record.

The others were left far afield. John Geartner of Salt Lake City was third with a 281, Leonard Ott of Denver fourth at 285 and Schnitzer, defending champion fifth with 286.

Ernie Pyle

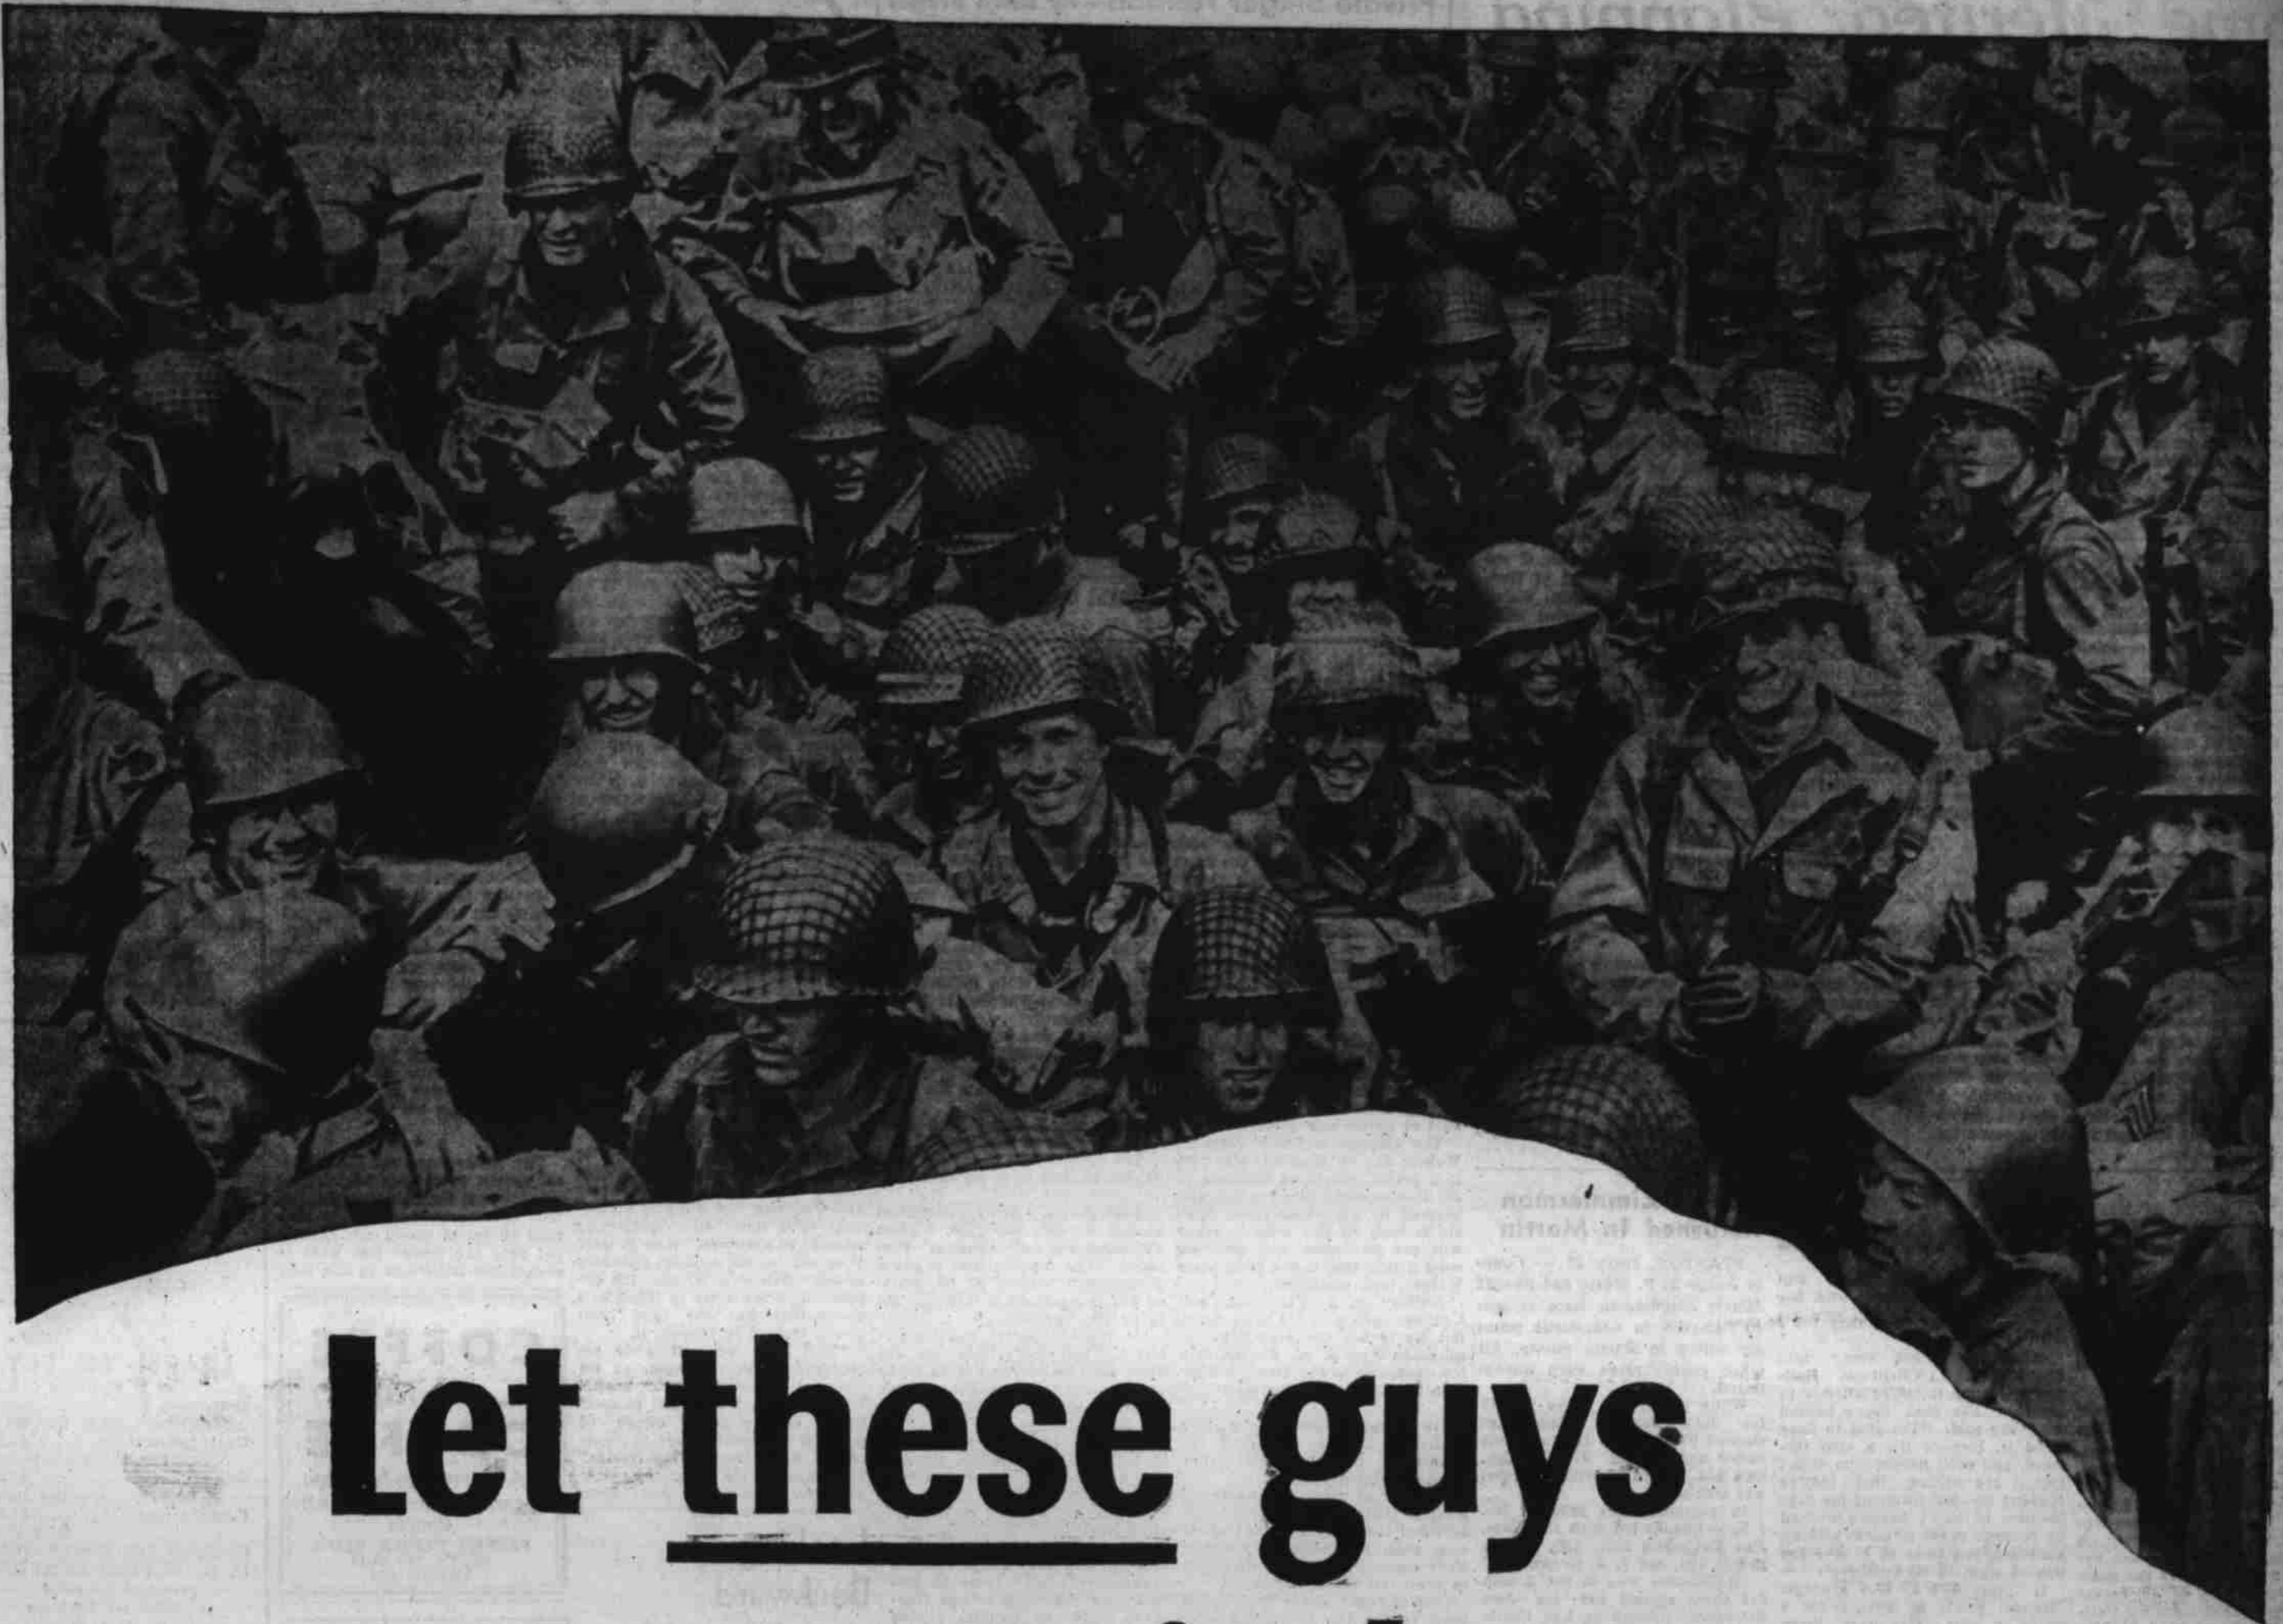

"America's most widely read war correspondent"

If some friend of yours at the war front wrote to tell you what was happening and what things looked like and whom he had met and talked to, the chances are that his letter would cover pretty much the same ground as one of Ernie Pyle's columns.

Pyle leaves the official news to the regular news writers, and himself writes about what strikes him personally, as he roams around, as most likely to interest you: what soldiers talk about and kick about and argue about, the songs and the food they like best; what a cross-country ride in a jeep does to your constitution and what an enemy shell headed your way does to your stomach.

You live the war from day to day as you read Pyle's column, you come to understand, as if you were with them, the men who are fighting it for you. That is why "America's most widely read war correspondent" is every day becoming still more widely read. Look for his column.

THE BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

Let these guys start it!

There's a day coming when the enemy will be licked, beaten, whipped to a fare-thee-well—every last vestige of fight knocked out of him.

And there's a day coming when every mother's son of us will want to stand up and yell, to cheer ourselves hoarse over the greatest victory in history.

But let's not start the cheering yet.

In fact, let's not start it at all—over here. Let's leave it to the fellows who are doing the job—the only fellows who will know when it's done—to begin the celebrating.

Our leaders have told us over and over again that the smashing of the Axis will be a slow job, a dangerous job, a bloody job.

And they've told us what our own common sense confirms: that if we at home start throwing our hats in the air and easing up before the job's completely done, it will be slower, more dangerous, bloodier.

Right now, it's still up to us to buy War Bonds—and to keep on buying War Bonds.

Let's do that. Let's keep bearing down till we get the news of final victory from the only place such news can come: the battle-line.

If we do that, we'll have the right to join the cheering when the time comes.

Editorial - Some Merited Planning

A national magazine, Readers Digest, is conducting a contest for best ideas on small businesses which might be developed after the war as an aid to reabsorbing servicemen.

Doubtless many good suggestions will come from this as it embodies the power of mass thinking and planning. It is impossible for people over the nation to put their minds to one problem without a large number of workable ideas coming from it.

There is no reason why we of our community and area could not be doing some similar thinking. Our problem is identical with that of the nation and our responsibility in meeting it is directly commensurate with ratio of our servicemen to the national totals.

Indeed our opportunities might seem great when one considers the many services we have lacked in the past. Obviously, we cannot pitch our thinking on a plane applicable to a metropolitan point, but we can scheme to open the way for establishment of businesses and services which would give us a better balanced local economy.

Any analysis of our situation, free from false community pride, tells us that we have long lacked many things which are required for proper inducement of greater area trade. While accessibility certainly counts for much, the ultimate basic reason for attracting area trade is having those things which people want and cannot readily get at home. In some fields we have been strong, and in others we have been woefully or totally weak.

We also have some resources in this area which have not been developed at all, or which have only been partially developed. These comprise more opportunities for new operations.

The beauty of a program of this sort is that it means the filling of a need, that it means the creation of productive activity which in turn begets other activity. It strikes us as being one phase of post-war planning that possesses considerable merit.

Cut Out Non-Essentials

During June our war bill amounted to $7,967,000,000—almost as much as was spent during the entire history of WPA. Our total war bill to date is $199,000,000.

WPA appropriations once provoked cries against waste and extravagance and were topics for controversies which rated the front page. Yet the war debt scarcely earns mention.

We cannot afford to cut down one penny on essential war expenditures, but we should do without anything that is not absolutely essential. If this is good business for individuals (and it certainly is), then it is good business for the government, which is the people, too.

Hollywood—Deanna Just Not The Outdoor Type

By ROBBIN COONS HOLLYWOOD — You and you may pine for days under sunny California's bright summer skies, and Deanna Durbin isn't going to spoil your dream.

"I guess," she said, fanning herself on a high stool behind the color camera, "I'm not the outdoor type. Give me a nice, clean, cool sound-stage any day."

Deanna was on location in the hills near Universal. The sun was beating down, hot, and hotter on Deanna than on anybody else because she was dressed in the manner of a young lady of '49, bound in a covered wagon train for California—a simple white dress billowing over mountains of petticoats to the ground.

Frank Ryan, the director, wore a light, loose shirt. Crewmen wore the same or were stripped to the waist, tanning or burning their hides. A bunch of half-baked Indians, led by Jim Thorpe, ran past Akim Tamiroff and Leonid Kinskey, who were sweating in the scene.

But Deanna was the only member of cast or crew who wore a hat. When she rehearsed with Tamiroff, Kinskey, and her new leading man, Robert Paige, she held a parasol.

"The heat, the dust, the bugs," she said later. "My make-up runs. I'm afraid of spiders—one scared me when I was little and I've never forgotten it. The big ants—no, I'm not the outdoor type."

Bob Paige said he wasn't, either. He liked swimming and tennis, but as for horseback-riding—"I'd just as soon lie down and be hit with a horse," he said. "If there's poison ivy in these hills I'll find me. And those ants, they bite holes in you."

All in all, it seemed a good thing that "Can't Help Singing" was a musical western rather than a rip-sportin' conventional horse opera.

Conventional? Deanna's role is not the usual schoolmarm—she's a senator's daughter instead—and as if that weren't departure enough, she is not going to sing Oh, Susanna, not even once, though it's a tale of '49. She'll sing instead a whole new score by

by Dewitt Mackenzie Associated Press War Analyst By DEWITT MACKENZIE Associated Press War Analyst

Hitler seems to have held his home-front fairly steady thus far in face of the rebellion by the Prussian high command, but we need feel no great disappointment over that since our main interest really lies in the military aspect of the situation—and things are coming our way fast.

Of course it would be a matter of vast rejoicing if civilian Germany should bring a quick ending to the war by deserting the gangster whom British Prime Minister Churchill yesterday labeled with an appropriate name which the newspaper boys delicately euphemized into "boulder." However, the belief in widespread among statesmen and military men that we shall get a more lasting peace if we achieve it through a crushing defeat of Germany's armed might on the battlefield. We've had one experience of letting Prussian militarism save its skin by yelling "Kamerad."

Whichever way you look at it, we have the satisfaction of knowing that, as Churchill told the troops in Normandy yesterday, "there are grave signs of weakness" in the reich and the war "might come to an end earlier than we have a right to say." The enemy's "central power is crumbling."

Hitler's blood purge, which is reported to have liquidated some of the greatest of the Prussian high command, and a host of lesser officers who supported them, is doing a grand two-fold job for the Allies:

1. It's saving us the postwar trouble of removing these keystones of militarism from circulation permanently.

2. It's knocking out Germany's best military brains and thus is vastly simplifying our task of smashing the reich's military machine in the field.

Say to them that are of a fearful heart, Be strong, fear not: behold, your God will come with vengeance, even God with a recompense; He will come and save you.—Isaiah 35:4.

Fearless minds climb soonest unto crowns.—Shakespeare.

Ernie Pyle: Peewee Didn't Push Hard Enough To Bruise

By EKKIE FYLE SOMEWHERE IN FRANCE — (by Wireless) — I'm sending this column for some rainy day when the regular piece doesn't get through on time.

This one contains a few odds and ends which I didn't get down before about our invasion voyage across the Channel to France.

I came on a Navy LST which was a veteran of Sicily and Italy. She went up to England during the winter and had just been lying around since then.

She has a very fine crew, from the captain on down. Most of the crew have been through other amphibious campaigns, but there is a new batch of gunners who have been in the Navy only since December and who had never been shot at before our crossing.

The skipper is Lieut. John D. Walker Jr., of Houlton, Me. He is a gentle, courteous bachelor of 35, fine-looking, fine-minded, and beloved by his whole crew. Morale is high on this ship. A sailor will get you aside and tell you what a fine ship it has been since Walker took command.

Walker ran a Chevrolet and Cadillac agency in his home town, but he is not the high-powered-salesman type at all. Aboard ship his discipline is the kindly rather than the Simon Legree variety.

For example, there was a little exchange that I witnessed between him and the table waiter in the wardroom.

We had so many army officers aboard that they practically crowded the Navy staff out of its own ship. At mealtime the few Navy colored boys were hard put to keep the tables waited on.

One of these was a little sailor been out in the big world very much. At first you think he is sulen, but later you learn it is just a facial expression and he means all right. One day he went to Captain Walker and said:

"Captain, I guess you think I'm grouchy, but it ain't that. It's just that I'm worrying all the time."

Captain Walker had been trying to teach Peewee nice dining-room manners. Trying to teach him to put things before his guests delicately, and not to jostle the guests

Washington—ARMY AND NAVY HIT TOP RUNG

By JACK STINNETT WASHINGTON—According to reports filled with superlatives reaching here, the Army and Navy medical corps have hit the top rung of efficiency in the invasion of France.

With wounded casualties mounting into the thousands on the Cherbourg peninsula, the report of Maj. Gen. Paul R. Hawley, chief surgeon in the European theater, to Maj. Gen. Norman T. Kirk, U. S. Army surgeon general, should be of some comfort to families of men shot down in battle.

Normandy wounded now are being sent back to England by plane within an hour after they reach evacuation fields behind the lines. Twenty-four to 36 hours later, some of them are on hospital trains in the United States, headed for base hospitals near their homes. It is possible for wounded to be bedded in these hospitals here even before their next of kin can be notified of their injuries. Air evacuation from France has now supplanted almost all other types, Maj. Gen. Hawley reported.

Medical corps officials here say channel evacuations by boat were planned for the early days of the invasion and, under direction of R. Adm. Ross T. McIntire, Navy surgeon general, preparations were made to carry on for weeks until the air corps got its shuttle service working.

LSTs and hospital ships were staffed with surgeons, nurses, and medical corps, non-coms and privates. But within three days after D-day, the Ninth Air Force made its first evacuations and now has almost completely taken over the job.

Field hospitals are moving up behind the lines as fast as air strips can be built or repaired. It's rare when wounded are kept there as long as 12 hours. In England they are met by field hospital platoons who move them by ambulance to fixed hospitals nearby.

One phase of the general's report should be of double interest to the home front, for it is one factor in which many civilians have shared.

"Both whole blood and plasma," he said, "have been plentiful in every medical installation from the clearing station to the hospital, including LSTs and hospital carriers. There has been enough penicillin to treat all cases that required it and the freedom of wounds from infection has been a source of surprise to all our surgeons."

"In every medical unit I visited, I inquired especially as to the status of supply. I did not get a single answer that was not that they had everything they wanted."

In this connection, medical corps officers here think it's particularly significant that those German nurses captured the other day and permitted to visit a field hospital before they were "sent home" under a flag of truce, spent much time "oh-ing" and "ah-ing" over Allied hospital equipment.

Today And Tomorrow Coming German Civil War

By WALTER LIPPMANN

The broadcasts by Hitler, Goering and Doenitz make it clear that for some time a struggle has been waged under cover between powerful elements of the army and the Nazi leaders. For the attempt on Hitler's life was manifestly not the act of a small band of assassins, it was a big inside job.

Hitler himself described it as similar to the coup which overthrew Mussolini, and it is evident from his reference to "usurpers," and from the orders issued by Goering to the German air force that this was, perhaps still is, an attempt to set up a new government.

The authors of the attempt must have been powerful and numerous. For only important members of the German army could have got through to the kind of meeting where the attack was launched.

On the other hand, it is a reasonable inference that this is not a clear-cut struggle between the army and the Nazi hierarchy. For if it were, if the army were united the Nazis would easily have been arrested or killed. The lines of conflict run through the army which is itself partly but not completely Nazified. If this is a correct inference, it is very important. For it does not fore-shadow the elimination of a few Nazis, and then the appearance of a German Badoglio, some German general expecting to be treated as the representative of a purged and regenerated Germany.

Hitler's support within the German army and the German nation is much deeper than Mussolini's ever was in Italy, and it is reasonably certain that we are seeing now the beginning of a German civil war. There are powerful forces on both sides. The Nazis are not just a clique who can be ousted without a fierce struggle; neither are the instigators of the revolt the "extremely small clique" which Hitler said they were.

His own admissions go far to prove that they are a formidable force. By appointing Himmler and Guderian "we will now at last" deal with those who "constantly attempt to sabotage." Why at last? Why did he not appoint Himmler sooner? Evidently because the opposition in the army to Himmler's domination has for long been strong enough to prevent it.

"This time we will settle accounts in such a manner as we National Socialists are wont." Why this time? Why not sooner? Could "a very small clique of criminal elements" have prevented the Nazis from acting sooner? They must on the contrary be very powerful persons to have been tolerated by Hitler and to have held off Himmler, for so long. They are clearly a formidable movement within the army. Otherwise, how could they be "trying" as Goering said, "to spread confusion among the troops by issuing false orders—as a new government of the reich or as usurpers." What must be the condition of the German air force when Goering has to place all formations inside the Reich under his own personal orders and that of his new appointee Colonel General Stumpf, when he has to announce that "dispatch flights" which presumably mean carrying messages to the commands "can be carried out only with my or his permission"? And how does it happen that while Goering is issuing such orders to the air force and Admiral Doenitz similar orders to the navy, the chief of the general staff of the army has had to be replaced?

For the Allies there can be no central German government which they could recognize as capable of surrendering for the whole Reich. The Nazi soldiers and their fanatical leaders cannot be surrendered by nominally non-Nazi generals. They will take to the woods and the hills and the cellars and fight on. As Germany breaks up, the rule of unconditional surrender will have to be interpreted as applying to regimental, divisional, corps commanders who can in fact deliver into our hands as prisoners of war specific formations of German troops. Separately, in bits and pieces, we can offer them an end to battle and then the treatment stipulated in international law.

Let us consider nothing as surrendered which is not physically in our hands.

But we should not accept or encourage the idea of one general surrender: for no German authority which wishes to surrender will be much more capable than was Badoglio of giving effect to the surrender. Many separate surrenders, on the other hand, will mean that each unit which wants to surrender will have to fight its own way out of the Nazi power, and in this struggle, only by this struggle, will German Nazism and German militarism become thoroughly disgraced, demoralized and disintegrated.

Old-Style Sleeping Cars Headed For Same Limbo That Swallowed The Stage Coach

By JAMES MARLOW

CHICAGO, July 24 (AP) — You can say goodbye to the old style sleeping car—the pullman with the upper and lower berths and the curtain on the aisle. It's heading for the same limbo that swallowed the stage-coach. The Pullman company is not going to make any more. When the 6,500 old-style sleepers now in use wear out, that's about the end of them.

The railroads know they face a life and death struggle with motor buses and airplanes after the war to keep travelers riding the rails. To meet this competition the railroads will have to keep their rates low and make train traveling a lot more attractive than it ever has been. These are some of the plans the Pullman people have in mind: Fairly fancy traveling, berths to sell for $1 a night in a new style sleeper. A new and better way of handling luggage. Better washroom facilities. New high capacity commuter cars.

The trend is toward single and double roomettes — sleeping compartments with private wash basins, toilets and a door that closes off the rest of the car. Besides that, these roomettes will be airconditioned. And the new dressed-up car types will be made of aluminum and steel.

On Way Home From Last Mission, Lieut. Chandler Auter Shot Down

And how do you think you'd feel if they were going to send you home for a breather after your fiftieth mission and on the way home from that last target the Nazis shot you down? That's what happened to Lt. Chandler M. Auter, Covington, Ind., but the pilot of his ship crash landed the plane in friendly territory in Italy without injury to the crew. Overseas more than a year, Lt. Auter has served in N. Africa, Sicily and Italy and has won the Air Medal and several Oak Leaf clusters. Since the above incident, Lt. Auter has made a parachute jump. He has seen London,

The Holy Land, Africa and Sicily and dropped bombs on many other European countries, including Germany and Greece. Last April, he had only eight of his fifty missions left to go, and was anxious to return home to see a young son whom he has never seen.

While enroute to Bougainville to bomb the Jap bases there, the plane on which Lt. William C. Montgomery, Forestville, N. Y., was bombardier was lost and he has been reported missing in action as of September 16. He was based on Guadalcanal, and the Air Medal with two clusters has been presented to his parents. After more than 30 missions, he spent a rest leave in Sidney, Australia.

Another Yank down under with the 5th Bomber Command is Lt. Oscar J. Bryant Jr., of Lynchburg, Va. He also spent his leave from his New Guinea base in Sidney, Australia.

First Lt. Clifford R. Sutherland of Houston calls his missions in the South Pacific the "Milkrun."

Sun. Ball Game Washed Out

A heavy downpour in the first half of the third inning washed out the ball game between the Bombers of AAFBS and the Seminole Indians, an independent aggregation from Seminole, Sunday afternoon at the WT-NM diamond, but not before the local team plastered the Indians 6-0.

In the first inning, the Bombers got on a four run scoring spree and tallied two more counts in the second. Meanwhile, Szymaniak, right-hander, let the opposition down without a hit.

The Bombers' next game will be Wednesday and Thursday when they meet a crack nine from the Altus AAF, Altus, Okla. Both contests are slated at 5 p. m.

The Altus team has beaten the Bombers in two previous games this season, but the local nine will be out and ready to avenge the previous records.

Nothing On Western Front In 1918 Equalled Military Might Of Today

By Lloyd Stratton

WITH THE ALLIED FORCES IN NORMANDY, July 24 (AP) — The pattern of war in France, 1944 model, follows much the outline of World War I, but the comparison ends there.

I saw nothing massed in the western front in 1918 that in magnitude and power equalled the concentration of military might that in this short time al-

Settles Brothers Meet In New Guinea

S/Sgt. Charles Ray Settles climbed out of his plane at a base in New Guinea as it stopped to refuel and hailed a passing Seabee. Striking up a conversation, he mentioned that his brother, Storekeeper 1/C Edward Settles was also in the Seabees and asked his new friend if he knew him.

"Do I?" was the answer. "Why he's stationed right here!"

Sgt. Settles lost no time finding his brother, and they spent the remainder of the day together. Both boys are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Settles of Big Spring. Charles Ray entered the service in 1940, and Edward in 1942.

Building Program For Airports Will Be Sent To Congress

WASHINGTON, July 24 (AP) — A billion dollar program for building 3,000 new airports will be recommended soon by the civil aeronautics administration for consideration by congress.

William A. M. Burden, assistant secretary of commerce, announcing the program in a broadcast address, said the CAA also will suggest improvements for 1,625 of the 3,086 airports now existing in the country. All but 100 of the 3,000 new airports, under the agency's plans, would be small fields largely intended for private flying.

The CAA plan was prepared in response to a house request for a survey of airport needs and preparation of a post-war program. Burden said no particular legislation has been offered to carry it out.

His announcement was followed by a statement by Chairman Colmer (-Miss.) of the house committee on postwar economic policy and planning that the Federal Works Agency is making a nationwide survey of contemplated public works construction. Governors, county officials and mayors of cities having more than 10,000 population are being asked for information on their plans.

Plane May Have Landed In France

The Liberator bomber, "Swing-time of the Rockies," on which Sgt. Clifford A. Clark, Phoenix, Ariz., was a tail-gunner, may have been able to land in occupied France.

Such is the report from fellow airmen who saw the ship fall out of formation while on a mission over France July 1. Sgt. Clark is the brother of Mrs. Ruby Caldwell, Big Spring.

One engine was knocked out by flak, according to the Associated Press, and another was set afire. Pilot Lt. Paul E. George, Denver, Colo., seemed to have the ship in control as it disappeared into overcast and crewmen in other ships thought he might have been able to land.

It was the 17th mission for Clark, who had a close call a short time before the ship returned from Bourges with 100 flak holes, one engine out and another disabled. His missions included two to robot installations in Pas de Calais area; tactical targets in Caen, Argenta and Nanturilles, Liege, Etampes, Metz, Laval, Essey and Conches, and oil refineries at Munster and Politz. Sgt. Clark held the Air Medal with oak leaf cluster.

Mrs. V. H. Fiewellen has written from Rochester, Minn., that Fiewellen is to undergo surgery this week and that they probably will be at Mayo's clinic for quite a time yet.

Tax Collections Hit An All-Time Record

Tax collections on the 1943 state, county and common school district rolls established an all-time record, reports from the office of Tax - Collector - Assessor John F. Wolcott showed Monday.

Actual money collected stood at $24,893.20 against a roll of $206,324.54. This included $3,602.75 in poll taxes.

This gave a per centage of 97.86, according to tax office tabulations.

Delinquent collections for the year ran the total take slightly above $230,000—or not so far under a cool quarter of a million dollars.

Sulak of La Grange faced a runoff in district 9 as did Rep. Sam Russell and former Congressman Clyde Garrett in district 17.

In district No. 7, Rep. Nat Patton, Crockett, had 14,212 votes to 17,044 for Tom Pickett, but was in a run-off. Rep. Ed Gossett, Wichita Falls, had 24,493 votes to lead State Sen. George Moffett, Chillicothe. Rep. Luther Johnson, Corsicana, continued his lead over Chester North, Waxahachie, while other results showed these incumbents voters: Speaker Sam Rayburn, Hatton Sumners, Wright Patman, Lyndon Johnson, Bob Poage, Fritz Lanham, Eugene Worley, George Mahon and Albert Thomas. Judge J. M. Combs, Beaumont, succeeded Martin Dies, who did not run. Reps. Milton West, Ewing Thomasou, Paul Kilday and O. C. Fisher were unopposed.

Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith was falling somewhat short of a majority for re-election. Run-offs were in prospect for incumbent Grover Sellers and Jesse Martin for attorney general; incumbent Richard C. Pitts and Lt. Col. Gordon Simpson, for associate justice supreme court.

In other state races incumbents were renominated. Milburn Long, Abilene, held a 24 apparently insurmountable lead over O. C. Funderburk, Eastland, for associate justice of 11th district court of civil appeals.

Early experiments in dive-bombing were conducted by U. S. Marines in Haiti in 1920.

First Father and Son Connection In Legion

The American Legion post Monday had affected his first father and son connection with the issuance of membership to James Bruce Frazier.

Young Frazier, who held a corporal's rank before he was issued a medical discharge at March Field, Calif., on April 15 due to asthma, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Frazier. His father saw service in World War I. Young Frazier is now connected with Continental Air Lines.

Appreciation

For every vote and for every good word and wish in my race for Justice of Peace, precinct No. 1, I am humbly grateful. I value these things as much as I would have valued the office.

Guard Company Officers Back

Capt. H. L. Bohannon, Lt. Joseph E. Pond, Lt. Raymond B. Dunivan, S-Sgt. James A. Falkner and Sgt. James G. Glenn returned Saturday night from Camp Bullis, Texas where they spent one week on maneuvers with the Texas State Guard.

Training was intensive and extensive, for both officers and enlisted men, the officers of the Big Spring guard company reported.

Lt. Dunivan is attached to the medical department of the 34th battalion but assigned to the Big Spring unit for duty.

Charges because of conflict of civilian occupation with guard duties were issued for Thomas B. Wood, James E. Cass, Arnulfo M. Hernandez, Johnny A. Hobbs and James P. Womack.

During drill last week the company participated in hand grenade practice under Lt. Dale Thompson and spent one evening cleaning new rifles.

Prospective Medical Technicians Will Be Interviewed Tuesday

Women interested in becoming medical technicians in the Women's Army corps will be interviewed here Tuesday by Capt. Nira E. V. Donahue, WAC representative from the office of officer procurement service, Dallas. It was announced Monday morning by Lt. Dede N. Cook of the Big Spring army recruiting station.

A big demand exists at present for technicians in various fields within the medical corps and some are needed in nearby posts, including Camp Barkley at Abilene. Captain Donahue has authority to guarantee station assignments.

Women interested may go to the recruiting office in the basement of the federal building. Some civilian women possibly will assist in recruiting Tuesday.

Three Juveniles Were Being Held In Custody of county officials Monday pending filing of complaints charging juvenile delinquency. They were transferred from custody of city officials, who made the arrests after the juveniles allegedly broke into a Coca-Cola machine in a filling station.
