Wilson Apology Ordered

Worker Reference Angers CIO Boss

DETROIT, Oct. 12 - UP - CIO President Walter Reuther has demanded that Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson "retire from public life" or apologize for saying that although he is sympathetic with the unemployed, he likes "bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs."

In an angry telegram to President Eisenhower, Reuther said he was "shocked" at Wilson's remarks made at a news conference Monday.

Wilson, in answer to newsmen's questions about unemployment, said: "While I have sympathy for the jobless and labor surplus areas, I also like bird dogs better than kennel-fed dogs. Bird dogs hunt around for their food while kennel-fed dogs sit upon their haunches and yell."

Decades in Past "Until I saw this story," Reuther said in his telegram to Mr. Eisenhower, "I had believed we were decades past the day when allegedly civilized men thought such things, let alone expressed them aloud and in public."

"Perhaps this is another example of Mr. Wilson's having again put his foot in his mouth publicly," Reuther said.

"I hope that this is the case. If it is, Mr. Wilson should retract publicly and apologize to the unemployed. If it is not, if Mr. Wilson's point of view is a considered opinion, he then should be asked to retire from public life, for such a point of view is immoral and incompatible with the purposes of free government."

Workers Waiting Reuther said "workers all over America are now waiting to see whether your secretary of defense expresses the attitude of your administration toward the unemployed workers."

Reuther blamed Wilson and the General Motors Corp., which Wilson headed before becoming defense secretary, for the increase in unemployment in the automotive industry.

He said the unemployed to whom Wilson referred "are jobs in substantial part because of the responsibility of his corporate colleagues in General Motors and other major auto corporations."

City Still Crippled The city was still partially crippled by the disastrous flood which followed up the nine inches of rain Sunday. Damage in the area was estimated at $25 million.

Demos Cry 'Hoax' At GOP Boast

FLYING 'YOU KNOW WHAT' REPORT IS ALL FOGGED UP

LOS ANGELES - UP - A Los Angeles man reported seeing a flying saucer land in MacArthur Park and "a little man in a white suit get out."

A truck then came and carted away both the saucer and the little man, the observer said.

He would have gotten the truck's license number, he said, except that the fog closed in and he couldn't see anymore.

The witness refused to give his name "because everybody would think I was crazy."

Say Risk Ouster Claim Was Rigged

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 - UP - The administration's latest report on security risk firings triggered a new political uproar Monday that is likely to rage until the congressional battle is settled in the Nov. 2 election.

With the crucial balloting just three weeks off, Democrats and Republicans lost no time in injecting the report into the struggle for control of the 84th Congress. The report said 6,926 federal workers have been fired or have resigned under the Eisenhower administration's loyalty - security program.

Republicans promptly declared that the report backs up their claims the administration has diligently ferreted out subversives and other security risks who wormed their way into the federal service under 20 years of Democratic rule.

Term Report 'Hoax' Democrats countered that the report was a "hoax" and "rotten politics." They said it was deliberately rigged to lure voters to Republican candidates next month.

The report was issued Monday by Philip Young, chairman of the Civil Service Commission. It said that the total number of ousters included 2,611 outright dismissals and 4,315 resignations.

The new total compared with the 2,488 dismissals and resignations reported by Young last March.

Sen. Olin D. Johnston (D-S. C.) ranking Democrat on the Senate Civil Service committee, challenged Young to swear that the ousted employees include a "single Communist." He called the report "nothing but politics and rotten politics at that."

Says Report Vindicates Nixon But Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall said the report "completely vindicates" Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his statement that the administration has been ousting Communists, fellow travelers and security risks from the federal payroll "by the thousands."

Noting that Democratic National Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell had called Nixon a "liar" on the basis of a news account of this statement, Hall added:

"Mr. Mitchell is now left holding the bag. He is also exposed as having perpetrated an all-time high in political chicanery."

Mitchell retorted that President Eisenhower said some months ago that communism - in government, would not be a campaign issue. Mitchell said this was before "the Maine election and before the prospects of a national defeat was brought before the President by his political advisers."

Only Banks Close For Columbus Day Columbus Day went virtually unnoticed in Pampa except for the banks which were closed in observance of a legal bank holiday.

O'Dwyer Is Expected In LA Today

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 12 - UP - William O'Dwyer, former U. S. ambassador to Mexico, said he expected to arrive here Tuesday to testify before a congressional committee probing Communist infiltration in Latin America.

The former mayor of New York, who arrived in the United States from Mexico Monday, said he had no idea what testimony he will give when he appears before the committee Thursday.

The probe will be conducted Thursday and Friday of this week by a subcommittee of the House Select Committee on Communist Aggression, headed by Rep. Patrick Hillings (R-Calif.).

Water-Soaked Chi Gaining On Rain

CHICAGO, Oct. 12 - UP - Rain fell on Chicago for the fourth straight day Monday, but the water-logged city appeared to be winning its battle against flood waters.

The light rain, fanned by a brisk wind, started to fall shortly after midnight as firemen worked through the night pumping water from skyscraper basements and mayors of outlying cities called for aid to fight the threat of rising rivers.

The U. S. Weather Bureau predicted showers and thunderstorms for the Chicago area Tuesday, Chl. engineers said the city's sewers could absorb another two inches of rain, providing it doesn't come down too fast.

City Still Crippled The city was still partially crippled by the disastrous flood which followed up the nine inches of rain Sunday. Damage in the area was estimated at $25 million.

Oil Progress Banquet Is A Sell-Out

There will be a sell-out crowd in the Pampa Country Club tonight for the annual Oil Progress Week banquet at which Rep. Martin Dies will speak.

Dies, who arrived in Amarillo this afternoon, was being escorted to Pampa by Rep. Walter Rogers, Attorney Curtis Douglass and the Pampa Chamber of Commerce Oil and Gas Committee which is spearheading the "week."

A social hour will be held at 7 p.m. today in the country club, followed by dinner at 8 p.m. and then Dies' speech, Cree said. It will be strictly a "stap" affair.

Rogers arrived in Amarillo this morning from Washington, D. C., and was waiting there for Dies' plane before coming to Pampa.

An Oil Progress Week parade is scheduled to get underway at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday at Foster and West and will end up at a platform between the City Hall and Courthouse where "Top o' Texas Oil Queen" will be picked from six competing Pampa High School girls.

Ike Speech Not Politics

DENVER, Oct. 12 - UP - The White House refused to concede Tuesday that there was a political motive behind the 30-minute speech which President Eisenhower will make Friday night at Indianapolis on his administration's farm policy.

Acting Press Secretary Murray Snyder said Mr. Eisenhower "will not make an appeal for the election of Republicans."

But Snyder said he assumed the Republican National committee would "make every effort" to purchase television and radio time for the address if the committee "considers the President's message on the present farm and food program important enough."

Other Top Figures Singled Out

Oct. 20. Excerpts were printed in the Oct. 15 issue of U. S. News & World Report magazine.

Hunt says MacArthur "always had to depend largely on his own enthusiasm and demand for victory and his own will to win, with little real help from Washington." He defends MacArthur's policies and actions from the time of the Pearl Harbor attack to his discharge by Mr. Truman in 1951.

Version of Incidents In his version of why Washington failed to heed MacArthur's urgent pleas for large-scale reinforcements to defend the Philippines in late 1941 and early 1942, Hunt writes:

City Defers Bus Action

City commissioners this morning decided to await a formal request from A. C. Howell, owner-operator of the city bus line, to discontinue service before cancelling the franchise.

City Atty. Bob Gordon advised such action. So City Mgr. Fred Brook will contact Howell, who is presently out of town, and get him to write a letter to the Pampa City Commission.

Last Run Wednesday The city buses made their last run Wednesday and, according to Mrs. Howell, the owner's wife, they will run no more. Reasons for discontinuance were financial.

City Director of Public Works James Cowan will make a check on the feasibility of putting up "Quiet" signs by both local hospitals, following the introduction this morning in commission meeting of a letter from the Pampa Business and Professional Women's Club. Cowan will make a recommendation at the next commission session.

Study Truck Nuisance Cowan also reported a traffic check in the 100- and 200-blocks of North Sumner, requested a week ago by the commission after residents of that area of town had complained of trucks using that method of avoiding the signal light at Hobart and Alcock. His recommendation was that stop signs might be put up, but that a traffic light was not feasible.

Fire Chief Ernest Winborne was on hand during the meeting to discuss the specifications for the new fire truck the city will buy. The new budget has $20,000 set aside.

Air Tour Welcome Set

City, county and Chamber of Commerce officials were preparing to give a hearty welcome to the All-Texas Air Tour, 150 participants and 75 planes strong, due to arrive at Perry LeFors Field at 2:10 this afternoon.

Six Oil Progress Week Queen candidates will pin Top o' Texas hats on visitors who will stop here for 20 minutes and take part in some "liquid refreshment," a watermelon feed requested by officials of the tour.

The Texas part of the tour, featuring the "March of Dimes" was kicked-off in Temple Saturday. Before their arrival here the tour today visited Mineral Wells, Olney, Quanah and Childress. From there they will proceed to Amarillo and spend the night in Plainview.

Accompanying the tour on its 3,000-mile, 40-stop flight is Brig. Gen. Jack H. Foster, commanding general of the "Alamo Wing," Brooks air Force Base, San Antonio.

The flight, which winds up in Brownsville on Oct. 18, will start the "international leg" of the tour the following day with a three-day, 800-mile tour of Mexico, featuring the "good neighbor policy."

Navy Clears Cuba Base For 'Hazel'

MIAMI, Oct. 12 - UP - The Navy ordered nearly 1,000 women and children into hurricane shelters at its huge base on Cuba's Guantanamo Bay Tuesday and sent its surface vessels scurrying to sea to escape the oncoming fury of Hurricane Hazel.

The first light sprinkle of rain began falling on the base, a warning of the 115-mile-an-hour winds expected later.

Since midnight, Hazel has been churning up windward passage, the straits between Haiti and Cuba.

Cuba's first hurricane death was reported from Santiago on the extreme eastward tip of the island. An unidentified fisherman was washed to his death while trying to fasten down two small boats. Heavy seas lashed the town.

The big blow - eighth of the storm season, passed 110 miles to the west of Fort Au Prince, Haiti, during the morning and the capital city of the thickly-populated western section of Hispaniola reported highest winds of only 40 miles an hour.

No reports were received from the westernmost part of the island which jutts like the barrel of a pistol at Jamaica to the west.

Ike Target Of New Book: 'Untold' MacArthur Story

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 - UP - A new book on Gen. Douglas MacArthur says that President Eisenhower while a brigadier general in the Army shortly after Pearl Harbor, drew up a high command plan to temporarily "sacrifice" MacArthur and his forces in the Philippines.

Mr. Eisenhower, Gen. George C. Marshall, former President Roosevelt and Truman and "State Department internationalists" are among the principal targets of the copyrighted book, "The Untold Story of General MacArthur" written by war correspondent Frazier Hunt for publication by the Devin - Adair Co., New York, on ... Marshall had been won over completely to Roosevelt's philosophy that the first and commanding demand on America was to help check Hitler's drive in Russia, thus keeping the Soviets in the war, and at the same time to go to the aid of Britain and her endangered empire. It was immediately necessary, however, to try to convince the American public that everything possible was being done for the relief of their own soldiers and their Filipino comrades in the Philippines.

Hunt relates that Marshall called in Gen. Eisenhower, who had been summoned to Washington (See MACARTHUR, Page 2)

Gnashings

By ED NASH
Pampa News Staff Writer

They say a good way to start off a local column is to answer a letter from a reader. That brings to mind what a guy, who was writing a piece on how to be a newspaper reporter, once said. As he put it, "First off, you might not get to have a pencil." In this case, first off, you might not get to have received a letter before you can answer it. . . . Therefore, not having any letters, the thing to do is . . .

Talk about donkey softball or the city's wet garbage, or Pampa Guardsmen in play, or the hazards of playing the Pampa golf course, or the noise around the Courthouse, or the fact there're more boys than girls in high school this year. Or whatever.

BET THE JAYCEES — and the City Fathers, too — are glad to have seen the last of the donkeys that showed up for the donkey softball series in Otter Park. And, for a good long while, too. And, from the donkeys' point of view, THEY'RE certainly glad it's all over. That journey was what you might call a "thumping success." There were thumps aplenty, that's for sure. And as if the Jaycees hadn't had enough of the animals with a mind of their own, they had one of them brought up to club meeting the noon after the first night of play (?) — to make sure they showed up the second night. The Jaycees did, all right, but as for the City Dads . . . well . . . they've been neglecting their business too long . . . things had to be attended to . . . you know.

STACKED HIGHER and higher. That's the city's daily nightmare with regard to wet garbage. The city's got a problem and wants out. W. S. Boykin had been hauling off the garbage for some time, but this year he decided he'd had enough. Since Oct. 1, the garbage has been in the city's lot. But no one seems to want to get his swine fed this way. The way Boykin did. And the city hasn't got any swine to feed. But it's still gotta haul off the wet garbage. Fred Brook, the city manager, will be only too glad to discuss with anyone this particular contract.

THE 100 - OR - 50 NATIONAL Guardsmen from Pampa put in a rough two weeks at Fort Sill, Okla., last summer. But there's always a chance for some tomfoolery. As came to light recently in a picture that Bill Leonard, the warrant officer in the Courthouse, got. On one side of the photo is Rev. Dick Crews, and a portable altar. On the other side is Sgt. Clyde (Mickey) White with some medical gear. (White is in the Guard's medical detachment, and that's it.)

Auto Burning Victim Still Unidentified
DAVIS, Okla., Oct. 12 — Officers expected to make positive identification Tuesday of the victim in a mysterious auto burning death near here. Meanwhile mounting evidence increased — investigators' suspicions that the victim was a Fort Worth, Tex., businessman and that he was robbed, murdered and deliberately burned, possibly by two other men. Cause of death was uncertain, although the body was burned beyond recognition. Dental records of 26-year-old David Fred Hagler Jr. of Fort Worth were to be received by State Crime Bureau officers Tuesday from Fort Worth police. Agents expected the charts, on comparison with the teeth of the corpse, to prove the victim was Hagler. An Oklahoma City motorist Monday night told police he saw a car which may have been Hagler's on I-35, Highway 77 Saturday. He said one of the three men in the car appeared to be in trouble as the car passed.

County Okays' New Tax Roll

County commissioners Monday signed the $42,990,115 tax roll, okayed the renewal of a $2,400 contract with the City of Pampa on the use of tax records and paid the monthly bills.

The roll will now be sent to Austin where it will be finally approved before being used in Gray County, according to County Judge J. B. Maguire, Jr.

The approved contract merely permits the county to use the city's valuation cards for informational purposes. The county then makes its own calculations for tax purposes.

Next meeting of the court will be Nov. 1, the meeting customarily held the first day of the month.

Farm Agents Discuss Stock

County Agent Ralph Thomas and Jerry Mobly, assistant, met Monday at Pantech Farms with specialist L. A. Maddox for a discussion on line stock improvement.

"We hope the new program will be a more satisfactory method of selecting heifer and cow replacements in the beef herd so as to produce the most pounds of beef," Mobly said.

Weighing the calf and recording the weight with the calf's dam seems a more accurate method than the one presently used, which is based on looks," according to Mobly. Persons interested in the method should contact the county agent's office.

MacARTHUR

(Continued from page one) from San Antonio, Tex., and was assigned to the war plans division at Army headquarters. Marshall asked him to propose a line of action, according to Hunt. "Eisenhower asked for a few hours to ponder the problem," Hunt writes. "Ten thousand miles away I was closing down on the chief under whom I had served seven years. Here at hand, however, was General Marshall, who probably would be the dominant military figure in the global struggle that lay ahead. To fathom precisely what lay in his senior officer's mind was a rare ability possessed by temporary Brigadier General Eisenhower. In this particular case he had only to translate into a plausible military plan his surmises of what General Marshall wanted."

Plans for Australian Boldup Hunt says that Eisenhower later reported back to Marshall with a plan calling for a build-up of Australia as a base for future U. S. operations in the Pacific. "In a gesture of complete agreement, Marshall turned from Eisenhower's verbal report with the order, 'do your best to save them.'"

Terminating the Korean conflict a war MacArthur was not permitted to win. Hunt writes "he (MacArthur) knew he was once again fighting a two-front war."

Constitutional Amendments To Be Voted On November 2

EDITOR'S NOTE: Following is the second in a series of six dispatches on the 11 proposed amendments to the Texas Constitution, upon which voters will ballot Nov. 2.

By O. B. LLOYD Jr., AUSTIN, Oct. 12—UP—Of 11 Constitutional Amendments that will be submitted for approval of the voters Nov. 2, two bear directly on county government and taxes. However, both proposals are based on local option—meaning that even if the amendments are adopted, voters directly concerned will later have to approve any change that is made.

One amendment would allow the Legislature to authorize creation of county-wide hospital districts. It would concern only Galveston county and counties having a population of 100,000 or more. The other amendment provides for creation of the office of county tax assessor-collector in counties having less than 10,000 population. The hospital district amendment, sponsored by Sens. George Parkhouse of Dallas and Doyle Willis of Fort Worth, would authorize levying of a tax not to exceed 75 cents on $100 valuation.

Must Be Balloted But before the district could be formed, the first step to levying of the hospital tax, property tax-paying voters of the county would have to vote acceptance of the plan.

A similar, but vastly broader plan, state-wide in scope, was submitted in 1949 and defeated at the polls. That proposal set no limitation on the tax rate and made creation of the district subject to vote of all the people—not just the taxpayers.

If the amendment should be adopted—and local taxpayers approve, the hospital district created under the act would then assume responsibility for medical and hospital care of needy residents of that county.

In addition to Galveston county, the proposal would specifically apply to Bexar, Dallas, El Paso, Harris, Jefferson and Tarrant counties.

Proponents argue that enactment of the proposal would result in economies by consolidating city and county hospital facilities, abolishing duplication and permit more effective aid to needy indigents. "Another Taxation" Those opposing the amendment charge the proposal opens the way to another form of taxation, that establishment of the hospitals would cause a rush of indigents to the county, and that the hospital district would become a political plaything.

The amendment allowing creation of the office of tax assessor-collector in counties of less than 10,000 is also permissive. The proposal requires that before the office could be created, the commissioners court of a county would have to submit the question to the "qualified property taxpayers."

Under present provisions of the state constitution, the sheriff functions as an ex-officio assessor-collector in counties of less than 10,000 population.

On the basis of present population, about 94 counties could create the separate office of tax assessor-collector if the amendment is adopted—providing the people want it.

However, opponents point out that adoption of the amendment would simply open the way to an increase in county expense, and create an unnecessary and additional office.

CHARGED IN SLAYING

Kenneth Chapin, 18, is guarded by officer William Kelly en route to his arraignment in Springfield, Mass., in connection with the knife slaying of a neighborhood baby sitter, Lynn Ann Smith, 14, and her four-year-old charge, Steven Goldberg. A one-inch piece of crocheted thread found at the murder scene was traced to Chapin's home, and Springfield police say Chapin, who acted as a pallbearer at the murdered girl's funeral, admitted the slaying.

Rogers Says London Pact Has Cheered U.S. Officials

"The gloom that seemed to engulf so many of our government departments when EDC (European Defense Community) failed of ratification in France has turned into sunshine since the London pact has been agreed upon."

Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, continues in his weekly newsletter to the 18th Congressional District that "they feel that great forward progress has been made, and there is anticipation of greater things to come."

"Let us hope," Rogers says, "that it is the beginning of a unified Europe that will be the surest guarantee of peace."

The remainder of Rogers' newsletter deals with the doings in Washington while Congress is not in session and with an invitation that had to be turned down.

Rep. and Mrs. Rogers had dinner Wednesday in the Mayflower Hotel — it was her birthday and in the lobby they saw Sen. Richard Russell, Joseph Welch of McCarthy TV fame, Mrs. Eisenhower's sister and Ruby Lee Hughes of Pampa.

At home, later that night, they had a birthday cake. But, says the congressman thinking of his large family, "the cake had to be cut into so many pieces that there

THE MARQUEE
BY DICK KLEINER

When Sid Caesar makes his seasonal debut on his new NBC-TV show, the plot line will involve his making a date with a girl. The girl will be Gina Lollobrigida. Et tu, Sid?

Tyrone Power and John Ford were filming "The Long Gray Line" at West Point. The Army brass planned a big party after the shooting, so Ford, the director, and Power, the star, figured they should get their World War II uniforms out for the occasion. When in West Point, do as the West Pointers do.

Ford sent to Hollywood for his Navy uniform. Power sent for his Marine uniform — and he even had it re-tailored to fit.

Came the night of the affair. Ford and Power were properly resplendent. But all the Army brass, in honor of their Hollywood guests, kept their uniforms in the closet and wore tuxedos.

Jackie Gleason is telling the story of the two top musicians (yep, the same two) walking along Broadway. One of them said, "Man dig that crazy."

"Dig that crazy what?"

"I can't tell, I'm nearsighted."

Writing comedy is no joke. On a long shelf in the office of Jim Fritzell and Everett Greenbaum there is a collection of books, serious books. There's an encyclopedia and a book on insects and a book on fishes and a book on plants. From these, much comedy comes.

That's why Fritzell and Greenbaum write "Mr. Peepers," starring Wally Cox. The character Cox plays is that of a high school science teacher, and some of the finer laughs come from his interest in science. (Example — he wrote a paper entitled, "I Trapped Butterflies in a Government Game Preserve.")

"The scientific stuff is the hardest part," Fritzell said. "Neither of us is a scientist, so it all has to come out of those books."

"It's tougher than writing for a character who is supposed to be intelligent than for a stupid character," Greenbaum said.

"Sure," said Fritzell. "If you've got an idiot going for you, it's easy."

"The only trouble we ever had with Wally over a script," Greenbaum said, "was over some scientific fact. We'd written that a whale could eat a squid and he called up and said we were nuts. So we told him exactly what page in the encyclopedia we got our facts from and I guess he was satisfied."

It takes them anywhere from seven to 60 hours to complete a script. The seven-hour figure is for a rush, emergency job and they they work all night. But now they're three weeks ahead, and this season "Peepers" is only going to be seen on NBC-TV three out of four weeks, so they relaxed and happy.

Graham Hits New Orleans

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 12 — Bawdy Bourbon Street, the French Quarter area of jazz bands and strip teasers, bowed its neon head Monday under the weight of a new title: "The Middle of Hell."

The phrase was bestowed by evangelist Billy Graham in a sermon on the "Sinfulness of New Orleans" before a crowd of 14,000 Sunday.

Although not mentioning the street by name, Graham said he visited "a New Orleans street" Saturday night.

"I thought I was in the middle of hell," the evangelist said grimly. "It is a stench in the nostrils of God."

Graham, in the midst of a four-week crusade here, drew the largest crowd so far in his denunciation of "lawlessness, immorality, lying, drunkenness and hating" in the city.

Three Foreign Newsmen In U.S.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 — UP—The State Department announced Monday that three foreign newsmen have arrived in the United States to work as guest staff members of newspapers in Ohio and Texas.

They are Francis John Ayton Fox of Christ Church, New Zealand, who will work with the Toledo, Ohio, Blade; Klaus Schneider-Arnsparger of Munich, who will join the Cincinnati, Ohio, Times-Star; and Herbert Schumacher of Darmstadt, Germany, who will work with the Beaumont, Texas, Enterprise-Journal.

They will work on the papers for three months. The program is sponsored jointly by the State Department and American newspapers.

Life Is Kinda Soft For Grape Pickers

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
EPERNAY, France, Oct. 12 — UP—The next time I get a vacation, I think I'll put on my beret, come back here and hire out as a temporary grape picker.

And as Joseph Dargent, public relations director for the French champagne industry, was saying I can fetch Veronica along if I like.

The pickers have it pretty good, and many of the peasants work as man and wife teams.

"Uncle" Joe, who speaks French with a British accent, told us about the lot of the pickers. They take time off from their own small farm to gather in some pretty fancy take-home plus pretty nice living besides.

Coffee on House

They live in comfortable dormitories rent free. Like government workers in America, they are allowed to sneak a coffee break after working two hours. But unlike our help at home the coffee is on the house, plus a free hatful of the things they have been picking — grapes—and a yard or so of bread.

At noontime, they take a two-hour lunch, which the owner of the vines provides, and can search out a tree and work in a short nap.

Their pay runs from $2 to $2.50 a day with the extras coming on top. Once a week, or often, they are given a hall where they whoop it up on management-brought red wine and music they provide for themselves.

Supper Quite Filling

We sat down with them for supper and it was quite filling and better still, didn't have as many courses as are passed around by white-tied waiters in the manor houses.

We started out with palatable soup. Then came chickens, home-grown and killed that morning. The trimmings consisted of cabbage and potatoes seasoned to the tongue. For the wind-up there was tangy cheese and the wine flowed like champagne and even bubbled like it.

Please don't take the notion that the grapes are gathered one at a time. I am a novice picker and therefore somewhat of an authority and if you want proof you can drop into room 702 of the national press building in Washington one day and have a look at my beret, apron and boots.

Marie McCutcheon Speaks For Women On Juries At Women Voters' Luncheon

"We enjoy the privileges of citizenship," pointed out Miss Marie McCutcheon of Dallas at the League of Women Voters' luncheon Monday during a speech on jury service for women. "Let's assume our responsibilities. Let's not go along for a free ride."

Miss McCutcheon, a lawyer, is state chairman of the Texas Citizens' Committee on Jury Service For Women and president-elect of the Texas Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs.

During her speech, she pointed out that women on juries are not new in history. For 20 years, attempts have been made to get it through the Texas legislative bodies. It was finally passed in 1933 only to be defeated in the general election.

Forty-three states have women jurors; four do not, she advised the group. Other than the states, Hawaii, Puerto Rico, District of Columbia and Alaska have women serving on juries. Even some of the colonies had women jurors.

"Express your confidence in the women of Texas" is the slogan of the Texas Citizens' Commission, Miss McCutcheon pointed out. "If people don't vote for this (in the November general election), maybe they don't have that confidence."

Miss McCutcheon explained that in choosing a jury, all engineers or all doctors are not selected. A "good cross section" of men is sought. "We need the feminine mind on it for a good cross section," she maintained. "We need the woman's way of thinking."

She also stated that women in Texas are now only "half citizens." There are two ways a person can directly participate in the administration of his government—by voting and by serving on juries, she pointed out. Of those excluded from this right in Texas are criminals, those of unsound mind and women. "Women should not be relegated to that status," she declared.

Those against the amendment claim women are too emotional and there are not adequate overnight accommodations in some court-houses for both men and women jurors. However, statisticians, lawyers and judges agree that when women are on a jury in a criminal case, the sentence is usually more severe than when they are not. And most counties already have adequate overnight facilities for both men and women jurors. For those who do not, she asked: "What price is too much for citizenship?"

There are now 22 exemptions for serving on a jury, Miss McCutcheon explained, and women would come under them if the amendment is passed. If it is, the legislature will be asked to add three more—all persons who care for children under 16 years of age; all nurses actively engaged in their profession; and all persons physically disabled.

Miss McCutcheon was introduced by Mrs. Finis Jordan, a League member and a member of the local B&PW club. The invocation was presented by Mrs. Raymond Harrah, Sr. The business meeting that followed the luncheon was led by Mrs. Jess O'Brien, vice-president, in the absence of Mrs. H. H. Hahn, president.

June Talk
By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

AFTER WEEKS OF VOTING and suspense as to who would be the winner, Pampans have chosen Dr. M. C. Overton, Jr., as Pampa's most distinguished looking man. It was a fairly close contest, but Dr. Overton led most of time.

A PAMPAN since 1932, Dr. Overton lives north of town with his wife and two sons. One son is in high school and the other in college. Dr. Overton is also very active in medical circles. He is president of the Panhandle district medical association, has just finished a two-year term as chairman of the state medical board surgical section and is cancer chairman of the county medical association. He is also president of the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders' Association.

In addition to being chosen Pampa's most distinguished looking man by popular vote, he was one of five local men chosen last year by a special panel as the "Ten Best-Dressed Pampa Men."

RUNNERS-UP in the contest include Dr. E. Douglas Carver, second, who had one more vote than F. E. Imel, who placed third. Ed Myatt and Dr. R. M. Bellamy tied for fourth, and Dr. Lloyd M. Hicks and Frank Fata tied for fifth. Other nominees in no particular order were E. Roy Smith, Bob Clements, Frank Smith, J. R. Stroble, Edgar J. Cralle, Dr. J. Edmund Kirby, and Fred Thompson.

YOUR RESPONSE to the contest was very gratifying. Votes came in from Lefors and Miami, as well as Pampa, and one even came from Dallas, signed "A Displaced Pampan." I also appreciated your comments about the contest, the nominees and my column.

One woman wrote: (I'm not using the correct name, of course) "I would like to nominate John Jones as Pampa's most distinguished-looking man. We are new to Pampa and this may be his only vote." Signed Mrs. John Jones.

Now that you can see how easy it is to send in a postcard, why don't you do it now and then, either commenting on something written in the column — if you agree or if you don't, and why — or if you have some way of doing something that would be of interest to other women — or if you know of someone who does. Or you can call me if you'd rather. I'd like to have your contribution, too, not just mine.

I'VE HAD a lot of fun with this contest, and hope you've enjoyed it as much as I. Maybe we can have some other type of contest again in a couple of months.

Baptist Martha Class Elects New Officers

New officers were chosen at the recent meeting of the Martha Class of the First Baptist Church.

Those elected were Mrs. Opal J. Aren, president; Mrs. Ray Priest vice-president; Mrs. W. G. Saulsbury, secretary-treasurer; and Mrs. D. W. Sasser, assistant treasurer. New group captains are Meses. E. L. Glenn, John R. Wheelchel, Grant H. Anderson, Viva Burgess and J. Lee Garrison.

The opening prayer was led by Mrs. Ed Schneider, and the closing prayer was given by Mrs. Saulsbury.

Community Concert Series Will Begin Here With Pianist

The Pampa Community Concert Association will present its first concert for the 1954-55 season at 8 p.m. Monday in the Junior High School Auditorium, when Richard Gregor, pianist, will appear here.

When Richard Gregor played his first Town Hall recital, the New York Times, under the title of "Young Man from Spokane," said "Richard Gregor has a technical facility, of course... more important, he is musical. He plays with balance, proportion and good taste."

With this reception Richard Gregor began his career. Since then he has returned again and again to repeat his initial success in New York's Town Hall. Born in Spokane, Wash., he first studied with Augusta Gentsch there, later going to Philadelphia for the tutelage of the late Olga Samaroff at the Philadelphia Conservatory. Further study with Mrs. Samaroff came on a four-year fellowship at the Juilliard Graduate School.

Gregor has concertized extensively in the United States and Canada. As a member of the Columbia Concert Trio (Teresa Festa, violin, and Ardyth Alton, cello) he has made many coast-to-coast tours. Last season alone, including his appearances with the Trio, he played almost 60 engagements.

Admittance to this concert is by membership cards only. No tickets will be sold at the door. Any newcomers to Pampa since April may obtain tickets by contacting Mrs. A. A. Schuneman.

The Army has approximately 45,000,000 square feet of space tied up in 147 maintenance shops in the United States and overseas.

FORGOT TO FROWN

In rare good humor, usually dour Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Russian delegate to the United Nations, drinks a toast in orange juice to Mrs. E. N. Van Kleffens, wife of the newly elected president of the United Nations General Assembly, at a reception sponsored by the city of New York in honor of the UN.

Hazing Disappears On College Campus

Editor's Note: To find out how college freshmen are faring in 1954 the United Press surveyed the latest trends in hazing — or what passes for it — at 10 leading universities. The survey showed that times have changed.

BY ROBERT ZIMMERMAN
NEW YORK, Oct. 12 — UP—Hazing as father and grandfather knew it, is disappearing from the campuses of American colleges. The wooden paddle, long a symbol of the warm and painful welcome extended to freshmen, is becoming as dated as the raccoon coat.

Law fraternity pledges now are hurried to a bottle of castor oil and told to start drinking. They are more likely to be loaded down with cans of floor wax, window cleaner and paint and told to get busy.

A survey of 10 leading universities around the country shows that hazing, in its barbaric, abusive and sometimes even fatal forms, is on the wane for two main reasons:

1. Student bodies are now made up of large numbers of war veterans who are too mature to go in for the old kind of pranks.

2. Upper classmen have discovered that a freshman can be hazed just as effectively by making him work. Besides, the freshman class is a good source of cheap labor.

On most of the campuses surveyed the traditional "Hell Week" has been replaced by "Help Week." The National Inter-Fraternity Council has helped the trend along by taking an official stand against hazing in the old sense.

At the University of Iowa, hazing is practically non-existent. Daily Faunce, dean of students, reported: "Hazing definitely is dying out here. Compared to 1940, it amounts to nothing."

The energy which freshmen used to expend rolling peanuts down a sidewalk with their noses, or hiking 30 miles from a country crossroads in their underwear, is being channelled into constructive work.

Jack Holland, dean of men at the University of Texas, said the fraternities put their pledges to work washing windows, mowing lawns, working in flower beds and waxing floors.

"I had to chew tobacco and dip snuff at the same time," Holland recalled. "What they do now couldn't really be called hazing, I guess."

At the University of Indiana, where hazing is "decidedly dying out," fraternity pledges are made available to work on community projects, such as cleaning up parks.

Vote Begins Tomorrow
Absentee voting for the Nov. 2 general election begins at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday in the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut on the second floor of the Courthouse.

Candidates must jump the gun, however, in the matter of making their first of two campaign expense reports to Thut. Today is the deadline.

Absentee balloting will end the night of Oct. 29, two days after candidates must have filed their second campaign expense report.

The only race on the ballot concerning Gray County residents is the one for U. S. representative from the 18th Congressional District, Rep. Walter Rogers, of Pampa, a Democrat, is opposed by LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, of Perryton, a Republican. No Republican is running for precinct, county or district office.

Shivers Says He Is Not Seeking President's Job

AUSTIN, Oct. 12 — UP — Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas denied Monday he was running for President, but told reporters he thought Sen. Earle Clements (D-Ky.) would make an "excellent" Democratic national chairman.

"As much as I know about him," said Shivers, "I think he would be excellent. He's a very able man."

Shivers has been at odds with the present chairman, Stephen A. Mitchell, ever since the Texas governor broke with his party's 1952 presidential nominee and backed Republican Dwight Eisenhower.

Mitchell said in Washington last week that Texas was a "political disaster area," and Shivers was politically dead.

"History will show that Shivers was mortally wounded by his repudiation of the party and its candidates in 1952," Mitchell said. "He has just delayed somewhat his political interment."

But Shivers told the newsmen: "I want you to know my demise as mentioned by Mr. Mitchell is not true."

The governor said he had had a "tremendous" response to a speech last week at New Orleans, in which he demanded equal representation in party affairs for the South and Southwest.

He said he had refused offers to pay for mailing the speech all over the United States, because he didn't "think that would be right."

"Someone wrote the Dallas Morning News, suggesting you run for President," a reporter told Shivers.

"I'm not running for anything," he replied. "I just finished a race."

Shivers was renominated in August to an unprecedented 10th term. He faces only token Republican opposition next month.

AGNES ARGYLE'S eyes were cloudy with a review of the past, with a search for some point at which to begin. They brightened at last with decision. "You've seen the 'Carlson' scene, the framed relic. It wasn't in the glass case when I was a child. Not when Father was alive. He believed in that creed, inscribed now on the case, and he practiced it. He was a tyrant whose word was irrevocable law. And the slightest breach brought punishment."

Agnes licked her thin dry lips as if tasting the bitterness. Her strong hands clenched and unclenched, yet the monotone of her voice did not change, as her words provided a commentary on her mental pictures of the past.

"We had it well drummed into us that the only law was the Carlson word. Everyone has something, some power they feel they must answer to. With us it was the Carlson law, represented by my father at this time. Nothing higher, and no appeal."

"I started running away from home in my very early teens. Not with any hope of escape, but with desperation. I was caught and brought back. Father whipped me. I used to pray that he would die. Finally he did, and I thought things would be better. They were, in a way. Mother—Mrs. Oswald—never actually used the whip on us. She had it framed. We had been taught so well and the threat was enough. Most of the time. But when I was 17 I ran away again. I had planned well and I had help. Toby, my husband. We were married and I was pregnant by the time we were found. Mrs. Oswald washed her hands of me. But she told me I'd never break away completely, that I'd always remember my early 'training.' I remembered. "And then our little girl was born. Times were hard for us and Toby was sick. It wasn't his fault, it wasn't mine." She looked up at Jim then. "We came to terms with Mrs. Oswald, turned our baby over to her."

"Why?" Jim demanded.

"MANY reasons," Agnes said. "They seemed to be good reasons then. I don't know. I think perhaps I would do the same thing under the same circumstances. Yet you're right. It isn't easy for a woman to give up her first child. But my brother Hilton had married by then, married with Mrs. Oswald's blessing. The baby, Angelica, was to be brought up as their own. She was to have all the benefits of the Carlson money. I thought my brother would be kind, thought he had suffered enough. And Toby needed an operation so desperately. Mrs. Oswald was right on hand with the money—provided. The alternative? Nothing. Nothing. Maybe she didn't mean it. Maybe she would have helped. I don't think so. And Angelica would have everything I realized Toby and I were never going to be able to give. I—I made the deal."

"I thought I was doing right at the time, and for a while, for almost 10 years, everything seemed to be working out. I thought I had done right, that my love for Toby and, yes, my actual fear of the Carlsons, had led me into doing the right thing. But after that 10 years, Mrs. Hilton had a son. That's Peter. Before, Angelica had been brought up as a true child, made over, maybe spoiled. Peter's birth made a difference."

The simple statement brought up a vivid picture of heartbreak.

"When did Angelica find out you were her mother?"

Tears started running unheeded and unchecked down Sheriff Agnes' face. "She never knew. Somehow I can't bear that. I thought I had all my emotions killed, every feeling so deeply buried I'd never let things touch me, not to show. I was even able to—do my official duties without it—showing."

"Do you know who poisoned her?"

"She says I did. I don't know. Maybe I did at that. Last night I brought her up a cup of chocolate, last thing. She likes it sweet. I put extra sugar in it from the bowl in the kitchen. She says that's where the arsenic came from."

MRS. KIT was in her bedroom, pacing the floor while Sue Gelstrap overflew a small dressing table chair, when Jim obeyed a called summons to "Come in."

"How's Mrs. Oswald?" Mrs. Gelstrap asked.

"She'll live," Jim said curtly. "But it's time now for some facts."

"What do you mean?" Mrs. Kit demanded.

"I think you know what I mean. I want the truth about the relationship between you and Mrs. Gelstrap."

"All right," Kit said defiantly. "It's nothing to be ashamed of. We're sisters."

"Stepsisters," Mrs. Gelstrap corrected wheezily. "And we're living proof that stepsisters do get along. Kit was always the pretty one."

"But you have the brains, Sue," Kit said.

Mrs. Gelstrap accepted that as the equal truth to the fact that Mrs. Kit had the beauty. "I got fat in my teens," she went on. "Glands or something. But Kit and I always got along, we never fought like members of some families. We made plans. We decided on what we wanted in life. We made plans to get it."

A New Angle On Monroe's Underpinning

LONDON, Oct. 7 —UP— Those things that Marilyn Monroe stands on aren't legs — they're camera angles.

Mistinguett said so—Mistinguett who was known as the "girl with the million dollar legs" a generation before Marilyn was born.

The darling of the Paris boulevards, now a neat and coquettish old lady of "about 80" was the pioneer who made legs respectable on stage and paved the way for the modern pinup girl.

So with the authority of an elder statesman she grumbled:

Whatever It Is

"This woman Monroe. Never does she show her legs frankly to the camera. Always one knee is pushing into the other, or she is standing with her legs apart and the toes pointed out or her dress is cleverly placed around the legs to hide je ne sais quoi (Translation: Whatever it is she is trying to hide)."

"Now in my day," said Mistinguett, who retired only recently and wouldn't need much encouragement to return to the stage, "I did not need such artificial posing. I had the finest legs in the world from any angle. Ah, if you could have but seen."

The next thing to turning time backward in its flight is to hear Mistinguett tell of the era when more champagne apparently was drunk from the slippers of dancing girls than out of goblets.

In a rest period between autographing copies of her recently published memoirs she sighed for the days when she used to meet King Edward VII of England in a friend's apartment "to avoid gossip," when she stood up King Alfonso of Spain, turned down an "invitation" from Czar Nicholas of Russia.

Mistinguett created the famous "Apache Dance" and helped devise the first of the big girly shows for which Paris is famous. She discovered Maurice Chevalier whom she frankly calls the one great love of her life.

A Special Song

She says the song "My Man" was written so she could sing it to him.

There will be a few blushes when her memoirs are more widely circulated. She lists all her stage partners with the insinuation that they were all off-stage sweethearts.

"We got more realism that way," she explained.

Mistinguett, whose legs are still passable, has this advice for Marilyn and any other pinup girl.

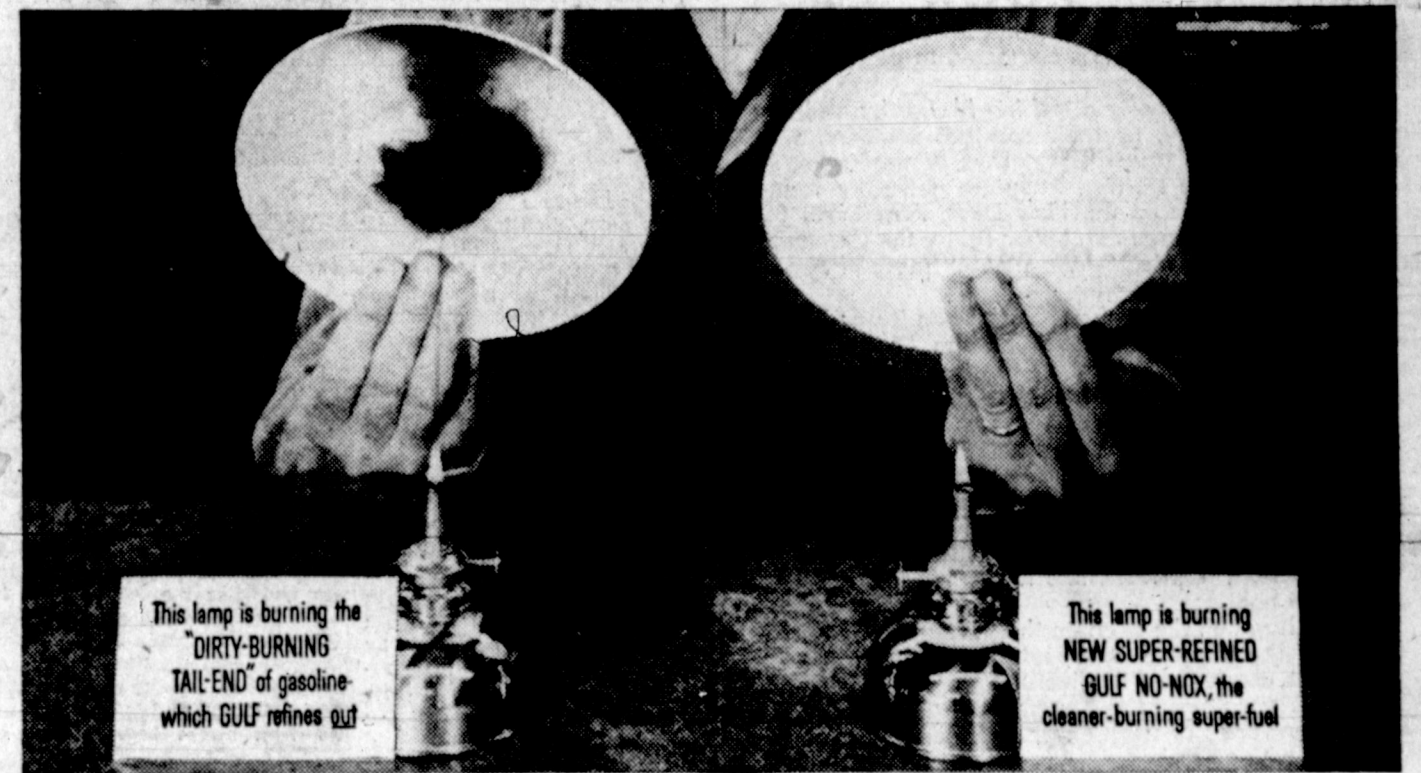

"Take your shoes off every chance you get. It keeps the ankles slim."

Now! Gulf takes out the cupful of trouble in every gallon

... to bring you the new Super-Refined No-Nox Gasoline that gives more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

1 Gulf takes out the cupful of trouble. Ordinary gasoline (left) contains a "dirty-burning tail-end" that forms trouble-making deposits. Gulf takes out this carbon-forming "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful from every gallon (center)—to bring you a super-refined gasoline (right) that offers more power-with-protection than you've ever known.

2 Lamp demonstration: Instead of trying to fight harmful deposits with so-called "miracle additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place; removes the cause—the "dirty-burning tail-end"—at the refinery. Just look at the plates in the untouched photo above and see what a difference Gulf super-refining makes!

3 Here's the pay-off for you! Both pistons (above), from Gulf test engines, ran the same number of hours under the same conditions. Clean piston, held by girl, is from engine using new Gulf NO-NOX. Note the deposits on other piston, held by Gulf technician, from engine using the "dirty-burning tail-end" that Gulf refines out.

What's more, besides giving your engine more complete protection, new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you extra gas mileage in the short-trip, stop-and-go driving motorists do most... no knock, no pre-ignition... stall-proof smoothness... instant starts and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

COMPLETELY NEW! SUPER-REFINED

Old Civilization To Be Explored

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 —UP— A scientific expedition will journey to Mexico next year to probe the mysteries of the La Venta civilization, one of the earliest known American cultures which reached a high state of development shortly after the time of Christ.

The expedition, which will dig for remains at La Venta in Mexico's northwestern state of Tabasco, will be conducted jointly by the National Geographic Society, the Smithsonian Institution and the University of California.

It will be headed by Dr. Philip Drucker, Smithsonian anthropologist and a veteran of many trips to the Mexican jungle, and Dr. Robert F. Heizer, of the University of California's department of anthropology.

FHA Mess May Call For Mass Firings, Solon Says

WASHINGTON, Oct. 12 —UP— Sen. Homer E. Capehart has notified President Eisenhower that a "large" number of employees probably will have to be fired to clear up the "mess" in the scandal-ridden Federal Housing Administration.

In a letter to the chief executive, made public Monday, Capehart said his banking committee has finished its scheduled hearings on "the biggest scandal in the history of the United States."

After all that was brought out during the inquiry he said he was "shocked" to read a newspaper interview in which FHA employees still defended Clyde L. Powell, ousted FHA assistant commissioner who has been accused of accepting payoffs and banking $138,000 more than his income in a 10-year period.

"Mr. President, I am disturbed by the moral fiber of government employees who still hold admiration for Mr. Powell," Capehart (R-Ind.) wrote. "No wonder your administration is having such trouble clearing up the mess."

"I fear the whole rental housing division of FHA needs renovating and possibly a large percentage of those employees will have to be removed. If legislation is required to do so, I should be pleased to introduce such legislation."

Lost 32 Pounds With Barconrate

"When I commenced to take Barconrate, I weighed 140 pounds" writes Mrs. L. J. Oliver, 115 Alton Street, Lufkin, Texas. "After seven weeks and seven bottles, I had lost 32 pounds. I am only four feet eleven and you can see that 140 was a lot of weight for me. Barconrate has also helped me in other ways. I was always bothered with indigestion but I can now eat whatever I want and feel fine.

Barconrate can be obtained at any Texas drugist. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Welcome Martin Dies

Pampa is today honoring a man who will help fill the pages of honest American history yet to be written and yet to be read by generations unborn. He is a man who has lived one of the most dramatic and courageous experiences of the American twentieth century.

That man is Congressman Martin Dies.

Martin Dies is a patriot in the true sense of the word. He is a patriot of no less stature than those who risked their lives, their fortunes and their sacred honor to stand up and declare their independence from the foreign oppressor in 1776.

However, Martin Dies is "guilty" of committing a serious sin. For those with a short memory, he attacked the Communist cancer, during its formative stages, and in so doing, incurred the wrath of his national party to the point of ostracism. Now that the evidence continues to pile up illustrating that his early and almost single-handed efforts in fighting Communism have proved him right, do you think that he is recognized by his party's leaders for his great service in awakening the nation? Of course not!

Opportunists like Sam Rayburn and Lyndon Johnson are the Texans "honored" in national party circles, for they have been well educated that party comes first.

It is interesting to note that the same intellectual eggheads who were screaming against Martin Dies in the late thirties scream against Senator McCarthy today and we view the spectacle of a Republican president dedicated to discredit and destroy Senator McCarthy just as Franklin Roosevelt was dedicated to destroy Martin Dies.

Take a look at the gang attacking McCarthy and you find the same people, or their spiritual brothers, who were endeavoring to burn Martin Dies at the stake, so to speak, in the late thirties. They are generally found in such organizations as the New Deal, Americans for Democratic Action, American Labor Party, the Communist press and the so-called "great liberal" press of America.

First it was Martin Dies they hated. Then it was Russia they loved. Then their hate fell on the "reactionary" Senator Taft. Then their love for the "agrarian reformers" of China. Then their hate was directed to Senator McCarthy.

The national Republican party patted Martin Dies on the back when he was rupturing the Democrats in Washington and a lot of us folks thought this was because of dedication to principle. But with the advent of the Eisenhower and "liberal" Republican persecution of Senator McCarthy, it now looks like it was more a question of expedient politics.

But then how can I like alienate the "New York Times"? How can I like alienate Paul Hoffman and his ilk? And what about the "intellectuals" who damned the "Chicago Tribune" and the Hearst press as low-brow for their constant cries of the Communist menace? Certainly they can't be offended.

Well, thank God for the few men in national political life who have stood their ground and fought, for they, indeed, have a reward far superior to the plaudits of the professional politicians of Washington.

Martin Dies, the patriots (and we Top O' Texans aren't ashamed of the word) of Pampa bid you welcome upon our humble thanks for the trial you endured to warn sleeping mankind of the Communist terror which today holds virtually the whole world in fear.

Joining Fan Clubs Leads To Heartbreak Sometimes

By HENRY McLEMORE

Never join a movie star fan club — it can only lead to heartbreak.

The truth of this never hit me more strongly than last week when Marilyn and Joe decided to quit running the bases together.

I was in the attic of my home at the time, sorting out the buttons of fan clubs to which I have belonged, pasting in a scrapbook the receipts of paid-up club dues, and wiping the cobwebs off pictures of stars who once sent blood racing through my veins much faster than Dr. Bannister ever ran, or than was good for me.

I couldn't believe it at first. When I last talked to Marilyn, a few months ago, she was reading a book on how to slide, how to hit behind a runner, and John McGraw's definitive work on the squeeze play. All this reading for just one reason — to please Joe.

Joe wasn't present at the time, but I could picture him studying the intricacies of Cinemascope, the practice of the proper stance for a pitcher, and reading the life of David Wark Griffith, in order to talk Marilyn's studio language.

I joined Joe's fan club the day he joined the Yankees, and I was a sports writer. I saw him swing and paid my dues.

I joined Marilyn's fan club the first time I saw her, too. She was in "The Seven Year Itch" and I paid my dues.

The parting of the ways of Rita and Orson caused an extra-deep hurt. I learned about it while sitting at a table in a lovely little restaurant almost half-way between Florence and Rome.

It was the restaurant where Hitler and Mussolini often met during their running-wild days, but the No. 1 table was not the one at which Der Fuehrer and Il Duce sat, but the one where Rita and Orson had held hands and eaten spaghetti and, I suppose, Rita had listened to Orson talk without let-up for three or four hours.

The proprietor, when he told me he had just learned that Rita and Orson were to be no more than friends, asked that I move my ravioli to another table.

"I am going to drape the table in black," he said, "and forever it will remain idle."

He was a Rita fan club member. Leaning Tower of Pisa Local No. 146. He was sobbing in his Chianti practice the proper stance for a pitcher when I left. I only hope he threw away his button, and so didn't have to go through the heartaches of Prince Alfy, and the trials of Dick Haymes.

Now that Marilyn and Joe have hit to different fields, I worry about paying my dues to the fan clubs. Will Vic Damone and Pier Angeli make a permanent go of it? Is my two bucks membership in the Debbie Reynolds club going to last? Or will Eddie Fisher get mad at her biscuits and go back to "My Papa?"

The fan club market is shaky, else, down through the years it has been the same old story. Mickey Bennett with Mary Livingstone? Eddy with Ida? Fred with June? Trying times, indeed.

BETTER JOBS

Robber Barons

I want to continue to quote from a pamphlet written by Rev. Edmund A. Opitz, and published by The Foundation for Economic Education, Inc. under the heading of "The Lengthening Shadow of Government."

Under the sub-heading of "Robber Barons" Opitz writes: "When it is pointed out that two wrongs don't add up to a right, the collectivist cites the post Civil War period as a horrible example of a few freebooters and pirates preying upon the nation. He has a finely developed conscience over the wickedness of the 'robber barons.' When his attention is called to the fact that the plundering of that era was done with the help of political intervention and was perfectly legal, he replies: 'Maybe so, but it was immoral.' Now call his attention to the fact that the principle of plunder of that era — that is, using political action to give some people an advantage at the expense of others — is the principle of the welfare state and all other forms of modern collectivism. Point out to him that, by his own characterization, his principle is immoral. When he finally understands his untenable moral position, he will reply: 'Yes, but it's legal!'"

"Pressed still further, the welfare-stater takes refuge in the notion that political plunder is today spread more evenly to more people, which gives it a moral advantage over the political intervention of the post Civil War period. Thus the collectivist position comes perilously close to making morality a function of time and numbers; what was wrong three quarters of a century ago is right now, and what was wrong for a few then is right now for many."

A Necessary Choice "Now it is possible to argue that there is no such thing as morality; that there is only custom, habit, legislation, and mores. But if there is such a thing as morality, it is the idea that some things are right and ought to be pursued though the heavens fall, and that these things are independent of time and numbers."

"The collectivist cannot have it both ways. If he seeks to apply moral principles to ends and means alike, then his own means are suspect because they violate the moral norms which most persons recognize as binding upon themselves as individuals. If he ceases to apply moral principles to his ends, as he has never applied them to his means, he will lose his chief stock in trade — his tedious moralities about what he is going to do for some people when he commands the resources of other people."

"Government has the means of compelling assent to its decrees; it is the social apparatus of coercion. Its apparatus has always been available to those who gain control of it to be used by them for ends which they regard as desirable. But persistently throughout history, the political apparatus has been used by some of us seeking some advantage for ourselves at the expense of others of us. Control of the political apparatus gives a legal sanction to predation, reversing the true function of government which is to curb predation."

Then Rev. Opitz explains that most acts of society are done on a voluntary basis. There is very little violence. Occasionally, he says a man beats his wife or someone robs something and that has to be taken care of by the government with force to stop individuals from initiating force.

Under "The Function of Government" he writes: "In order to redress injury, the political agency intervenes with violence on behalf of the injured person, neutralizing by its action the privately initiated violence. All that government does in this rather simple negative intervention, is to use its allotment of violence to cancel out or reason away the violence that has partially paralyzed and poisoned the hitherto peaceful relationship."

"In brief, there is a social use for violence properly used. The political agency, which wields power for society with society's consent, preserves the peaceful business of society by restraining those who break the peace by initiating violence. This division of labor permits the individual to devote his full time to productive efforts instead of having to use much of his time carrying a gun to defend himself."

"But suppose that when the wife-beater has sobered up after a night in the cell and is pleading to go back to his family, the political agency should reason thusly: 'We did so well last night in preventing this man from inflicting further injury on his wife, that it seems irresponsible to limit ourselves to these negative functions. Let's act positively and use the power of government to make this man love his wife. If he declines at first to go along with us, we'll look him up until he sees things our way.'"

Investments of Government "The absurdity of this needs no comment. Whatever the good intentions of those who comprise the political agency, and of those who urge it to take a more positive position in human affairs, government can act only with the instruments at its disposal. The instruments of government are armies, police, courts, and jails — all means of committing violence. Government cannot be other than it is. While it may and does attempt to use its instruments of violence for productive purposes

Brownell's Ruling Against Steel Merger Called Politics

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr.'s advisory ruling against the proposed merger of Bethlehem Steel and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company has shocked the business community and Eisenhower conservatives, who regard it as an extreme application of anti-trust theory. They also charge that it conflicts with his attitude toward giant combinations in many other fields.

In fact, the general but unexpressed belief is that campaign politics rather than exact economic underpinnings of the Administration's attitude toward the steel proposal. Official approval on the eve of the Congressional elections would seem to substantiate the Democrats' too favorable to big business and its Wall Street backers.

The question assumes tremendous and current importance because trend toward industrial consolidation increases every year. Only through resulting economies and efficiencies, merger lawyers and executives have warned Brownell, can they continue to lower prices, pay high wages and provide employment.

Foreign competition built up with American workers' and taxpayers' funds, they also point out, forces domestic industry to strengthen its position at home and abroad.

"Do you want us to go back to horse-and-buggy days," is the ironical question which is frequently asked of the Attorney General in recent secret, advisory conferences and the legality of proposed industrial regroupings.

Regardless of Brownell's holdings or court decisions on this question, there is a feeling that the Department of Justice will modify its stand, or that Congress will soften prohibitions against consolidation. In any event, it is certain that the ancient battle over good and bad "trusters" will be revived as soon as Congress convenes. It will be political pie for the Democrats and their annex, the Americans for Democratic Action!

Brownell's decision is wholly inconsistent with his attitude in other fields, according to Bethlehem and Youngstown spokesmen. They recall in particular his behavior with respect to the recent mergers in the automotive field. Several months ago, the Attorney General delivered a similar shock to corporation executives and lawyers when he declared that he was contemplating anti-trust action against the "big three" in the automobile industry — General Motors, Ford and Chrysler. His ideas

— the Post Office, for example — the result is inevitably second rate because it is a monopoly against the threat of violence against would-be competitors.

"Due to the nature of government, political action is always violent action — covert violence for the most part, but violence nevertheless. The nature of government limits the ends which can be achieved by using it as a means. An appropriate instrument to restrain people, it is not appropriate to making them love each other, produce more goods, or engage in any creative activity."

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Gout is a most interesting disease, though not a very common one. Its cause or causes are still somewhat obscure, though perhaps most students of the disease agree in general that it is an inherited defect of metabolism (the way functioning) which causes some people to manufacture more uric acid than they can use or eliminate.

Certainly gout is one of the most painful of all human disorders. It is principally a disease of men and only about one case in 20 is in women.

When typical, an acute attack starts rather unexpectedly with great pain at the base of one of the big toes. It may, of course, start near some other joint. The pain is sharp and often contains a burning or stinging quality. Tenderness is extreme; even the weight of the bed clothes is often too much to bear.

AN ACUTE ATTACK is frequently brought on by overindulgence in food or alcoholic beverage. A good many of those who suffer an attack report an unusually rich or large meal immediately preceding the onset of their pain and quite often will have taken wine or some other alcoholic beverage.

At the present time there is some difference of opinion on the importance of dieting but probably most physicians who treat the disease still forbid those foods which contain a chemical substance called purine in large quantity. Among these foods containing much purine are liver, sweetbreads, beef kidneys, brains, meat extracts, sardines, anchovies and many gravies.

BY PROPER KNOWLEDGE of diet and sometimes by the addition of one or two drugs, it is often possible to prevent attacks of acute gout or at least to make them come less often. In those who have had acute gout for years, a chronic form often appears which doctors now call gouty arthritis.

In this stage of gout, crystalline substances are deposited in or near the joints. These cannot be dissolved, but are not very painful because acute attacks of gout are prevented by the use of drugs which break through the skin and drain out for a long time.

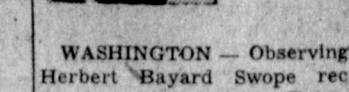

THERE ARE ALSO certain drugs which are useful both in acute attacks and in reducing the number of attacks. Curiously enough, cortisone or ACTH if given at the right time will help the progress of an attack, but if these preparations are stopped without other measures being simultaneously used the attack comes on later anyway.

A recent letter from "worried wife" says that her husband has gout and asks about tea. Tea can be allowed. She also asks about cigars, smoking and this, too, so far as is known, has no direct effect on gout.

Why Is Swope Qualified To Bestow Honor On Anyone?

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

WASHINGTON — Observing that Herbert Bayard Swope recently stood as sponsor for Egbert K. Murrow, at the presentation of an "award" by an organization called Freedom House, New York, I have made inquiries to ascertain what cultural, intellectual or other achievements qualify Mr. Swope to confer any honor on anyone.

I must say that Mr. Swope is not qualified to honor me. On the contrary, I would feel that I should degrade myself to submit to the process which Mr. Murrow seems to have rejoiced in. I would seem to concede that Herbert is somehow superior to me for, otherwise, how could his approval tend to ennoble or enhance me in any way? That I cannot concede.

Herbert is almost always mentioned as the "former executive editor of the New York World," which went out of business 23 years ago. Only a handful of Americans can remember seeing the New York World. He calls himself, in "Who's Who," a "policy consultant."

This is a rarefied euphemism for the honest old term "press agent."

Harry Reichenback, who hosted a luncheon in a hotel which was held in a hotel room on Broadway for delivery to a guest registered as Thomas R. Zann, was a press agent. The feat got a lot of publicity, possibly in Mr. Swope's own late World. But, in due course, a great light struck some ink-stained wretch on Park Row. A movie was opening called "Tarzan" and, when Thomas R. Zann failed to show up to calm his reservation and provide eat-meat for his pet, pearls of merriment swept Broadway.

Mr. Reichenback is remembered for a bon mot, too. A star actress with a melodious professional name left tickets at the box-office for her mother, whose name was Krausmeyer, more or less. The mother applied at the window for tickets in the daughter's assumed name and the clerk rifled the envelopes. He said "nothing here. Who was supposed to leave them for you, madam?"

"Oh, that press agent with the awful name," the mother said. "Sticklebaum or something like that."

Mr. Reichenback was in the box office, a little out of sight. He now thrust his aggressive countenance up to the grill and barked: "They are right here in your own name. Mrs. Krausmeyer. And that ain't no orchid, either!"

There are still some press agents about, but the craft, and it is a crafty, guileful calling, presently began to call themselves "public relations counselors." They really raised it. Some passionate convictions, which we earnestly believe to be our very own, are but inclined mass-reactions contrived by parties unknown to us from offices in New York and Washington. Most of the big charities use public relations counselors. Most of the massive corporations have either staff vice president in charge thereof or general practitioners on regular retainer.

Sometimes they make questionable decisions. It remains to be seen whether Mr. Hall, the public-relations vice president of Aluminum Company of America, wrought wisely and profitably or otherwise in sponsoring Murrow who attacked Joe McCarthy and thus aroused persons of Joe's adherence. Some of them, hearing in the "commercial" of the Murrow-Alcoa show that Alcoa foil was used to wrap certain brands of cigarettes, telephoned to ask what brands!

Generally, a public relations man will counsel his client to avoid all political and religious sensibilities. There is no need to offend one element, however small it be or

PAUSE FOR REFLECTION

...with JAMES C. INGEBRETSEN President, Spiritual Mobilization

In his autobiography, "Power and Influence," Lord Beveridge, author of Britain's cradle-to-grave security scheme, says:

"We have not solved two of the problems to which full employment in a free society gives rise—how to preserve the value of our money against needless rise of cost, wages and prices, and how without the maximum of output."

I think Lord Beveridge has failed to state his problems accurately. Where is the free society in which he says these problems arise? Certainly not in England—where a large measure of Socialism is still in force. Certainly not in this country—where the New Deal is still something more than a memory today, and where even in the roaring twenties and the sad thirties, there was not, strictly speaking, a free society.

Until we have the courage to give a genuinely free society a fair trial, how can we say whether or not these problems would exist in it? We know only that they plague us in an unfree society, because few—if any—of us know from actual experience what a genuinely free society would be like.

contemtable its sensibilities. Their money is just as good as the majority's money.

Herbert Swope invented a new "level" as the jargon goes. He raised press-agency to a plane called "the policy level." Carl Byoir, a subtle master who organized the Roosevelt birthday balls and admittedly cribbed the idea of a borrowed birthday from Robert Louis Stevenson, giving Roosevelt credit, quietly insists that a "policy consultant" is only a press agent or public relations fellow under the skin. To be sure, Herbert Swope's skin is more like a shell, but makes no difference. The contents count and the contents of Herbert Bayard Swope were such that Egbert Murrow knelt, as it were, to receive the accolade of Freedom House from him.

I have canvassed Herbert's biographical stuff in "Who's Who." He is not excessively modest, nor unduly sensitive to gibe and jest. He sets forth trivia which bespeak vanity more than value. He tells us that he was a Lieut.-Commander, U. S. Navy, in the first war and has been an army reserve since, but without stating how come or jolting down battles which, in view of collateral data, one feels almost sure he would have recounted. He does not tell us that he has been close to Barney Baruch for many years but perhaps he would have felt constrained to say in just what role. That might have led him into complications with B.M.B. Does an advisor of presidents need a hired policy consultant? Herbert demurely admitted that he counseled B.M.B. but never for a fee.

Herbert does state that he was "policy consultant" to the "secretary of war" in W. W. II, but I believe that this counsel was given to Robert Patterson and John McCloy, now of the Chase National Bank. I am so inclined because Herbert had dropped those names, to me.

At any rate, for this service, Herbert, at long last, got a medal from Harry Truman. That bauble, will be the starting point of tomorrow's contribution to the history of these crazy, mixed-up years.

AMARILLO SPORTS SCRIBE PUTT POWELL

is trying to carry a good thing too far.

Naturally Powell is sitting atop the world now after his Sandies ended a long drouth by edging the Fighting Harvesters, 33-28, last Friday night.

But he made two or three statements concerning the game that didn't set very well with the Harvester fans.

First, Powell said the Sandies deserved to win. Don't see how he could come to such a conclusion since the Sandies had to use several breaks to win the game.

The big break, of course, which turned the tide of the game was the "raw" call on the part of the game's referee late in the game.

Secondly, Powell said the Sandies were more inspired than the Harvesters. Here again Putt didn't stop to reason, apparently.

He must have overlooked the fact that the Harvesters, with their backs to the wall after the first half of play, came back after the intermission to practically run the Sandies completely out of Amarillo Stadium.

And the Green and Golders might have succeeded in doing this had the referee been "on the ball." When he disallowed the Harvester first down inside the Sandie 10-yard line with the score tied at 21-21 midway in the fourth quarter, it gave the Sandies new life which they wouldn't have gotten otherwise.

The Harvesters recovered from this break against them even after Amarillo took the ball from this point and scored to take the lead. Pampa scored to take a 28-27 lead but the Sandies, inspired over the break they got a few minutes before, rallied to pull the game out of the fire.

Just as a reminder, all Harvester fans are invited to attend tonight's Quarterback Club meeting and view the Sandie-Harvester film.

Sooners Keep No. 1 Rating In Nation; Badgers Second

By NORMAN MILLER

NEW YORK, Oct. 12 —UP—Oklahoma, which surmounted its biggest obstacle toward an undefeated football season last week, retained the top spot in the United Press ratings Tuesday with Wisconsin moving up to second place.

Coach Bud Wilkinson's Sooners received 26 first-place votes from the 35 leading college coaches who make up the United Press rating board and thus held the No. 1 honor for the second week in a row.

Oklahoma, playing without first string quarterback Gene Calame, beat a tough Texas team 14 to 10 last Saturday for its 13th straight victory this season. The Sooners begin quest of their seventh consecutive Big Seven Conference championship Saturday against Kansas.

Of their conference rivals, only Colorado (rated 13th this week) is given much chance of providing trouble for Wilkinson's Penn State 48.

Minnesota Advances Most

Minnesota made the biggest advance among the top 10, vaulting seven places to ninth; Ohio State moved up six places to fourth; while Wisconsin, Notre Dame and Penn State each improved two places over the previous week.

The two service schools, Navy and Army, led the second 10 group in that order, with Colorado and Iowa next. Rice, Arkansas and Georgia Tech followed; Texas

The Fighting Harvesters didn't go up or down in the Williamson System ratings following Friday's 33-28 loss to the Amarillo Sandies. The Harvesters are ranked 30th in the state this week, the same spot they held last week.

Amarillo, by winning, took over the No. 20 spot.

San Angelo, this week's Harvesters foe, is ranked 12th in the state, 18 notches above the Harvesters.

Port Arthur moved into the No. 1 spot in the 4-A ratings with Baytown second and Abilene third.

Breckenridge continued as the No. 1 team in the Class 3A ratings while Phillips in 2A and Paducah in 1A continued as the top teams in their respective divisions.

Philly Heavy 1-AA Favorites

The Phillips Blackhawks, coached by Chesley Walker, took a long stride toward repeating as the District 1-AA football champions last week with a 30-0 victory over their "toughest" challengers, the Perrinton Rangers.

After Beating Perryton Phillips Heavy 1-AA Favorites

Coach Pete Peterson's Perryton 11 will be favored to win its remaining games but the Rangers probably would do no better than second place even if she does turn this trick.

'Double Feature' On Tap At Quarterback Meet Tonight

There will be a "double feature" tonight at the Pampa Quarterback Club meeting at the Sam Houston auditorium.

A movie of the Harvester-Amarillo game will be shown along with the "Southwest Conference Highlights of 1953" film. The latter is being shown through the compliments of the Humble Oil Company.

Tonight's meeting will start at 7:15.

In addition to the two films, head coach Aubra Ngoncaster will comment on the Harvester-Sandie game of last Friday. Reports also will be given on the San Angelo Bobcats, next Friday's Harvester opponents.

Shocker coach Marvin Bowman; Reaper coach Deck Wolff; and Fee Wee coach Frank Craig will speak to the Quarterback Clubbers.

All fans of Pampa are invited to attend tonight's meeting and become a member of the Quarterback Club.

After Beating Perryton Phillips Heavy 1-AA Favorites

The Phillips Blackhawks, coached by Chesley Walker, took a long stride toward repeating as the District 1-AA football champions last week with a 30-0 victory over their "toughest" challengers, the Perrinton Rangers.

Perryton thus suffered its first defeat in five games this season. None of the remaining teams on the Phillips slate stands an outside chance of derailing the Blackhawks.

Coach Pete Peterson's Perryton 11 will be favored to win its remaining games but the Rangers probably would do no better than second place even if she does turn this trick.

The Canyon Eagles have matched Phillips in the win column this season, winning all five of their starts including a conference victory. But the Warbirds aren't given much of a chance to outpoint Phillips when the two clubs meet Nov. 13.

Joining Phillips and Canyon in the victory column in the 1-AA opener last week were the Hereford Whitefaces who exploited for a 35-0 win over the Shamrock Irish.

It was the fifth straight loss for the sophomore and junior laden Irish team.

While the other six teams of the district were engaging in "play for keeps" contests, the Dumas Demons went outside the loop to battle Wellington to a 7-7 draw, the second tie game played by Dumas this season.

The other tie game by the Demons was an 18-18 stalemate with Clovis.

Dumas starts its district action this week by taking on the potent Phillips Blackhawks at Dumas.

In other games, Perryton goes to Shamrock and Dalhart to Hereford, Canyon is idle.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood on TV: Desi Arnaz's idea of good TV comedy or drama: Nothing must happen on the screen which you would not want to happen in your own home.

Okay for Lucy, maybe, but it doesn't fit for those corpse-lit, high-rated private-eye dramas. Latest entry in this department, by the way, is one-time movie queen, Marjorie Chapman in a new Ispy thriller titled, "Affairs of Ann Scotland."

Picking up atmosphere for his role of a detective in a new film, Frank Lovejoy went on a couple of raids with the L.A. police department juvenile squad. At a roundup of juvenile suspects by plain clothesmen, one bright hood snapped at the star.

"You look more like an actor than a cop, chum."

Most puzzling letter of the TV age arrived at the "Dragnet" offices addressed to Mr. Leighton Prince and asking for a signed photograph. Do posters—not Jack Webb—finally figured out that the letter-writer had heard the term "Latent Prints" in the "Dragnet" dialogue and had confused finger print procedure with an actor.

BEST "What's My Name?" TV game: Trying to guess the names of stars in old movies. There should be prizes.

THIS HAS GOTTA GO DEPT: Movie queens well over the 40-year mark who sit in on panel shows and let the tell-tale camera catch every wrinkle. The same belles would tear down the walls if a studio cameraman happened to catch the wrong side of their faces.

QUOTABLE QUOTES: IRENE DUNNE: "When a person becomes a star in Hollywood, a strange phenomenon occurs. The public automatically assumes that stardom makes a person an oracle on all manner of topics, from international to domestic affairs."

AUDREY TOTTER, on why so many actresses marry doctors: "Every little girl has two dreams. One is to be a movie actress. The other is to marry a doctor. Ask any psychiatrist. He'll tell you that."

HUMPHREY BOGART, on combining acting with producing: "As a producer I work myself to death as an actor. I'd never allow another producer to do it."

LESLIE IN HOW to become a TV comedy writer. As an aircraft engineer, Harry Winkler wrote a joke in his spare time and sold them to George Gobel. Now he's quit the blueprints to become Gobel's full-time writer.

Maybe I better read those jokes our milkman leaves between the bottles a couple of times a week.

Mary Astor's beautiful daughter, Marilyn, is putting the gears in high for another stab at movie stardom. The stork cut into her first start.

Director Michael Curtiz was lining up a shot featuring Humphrey Bogart on the set of "We're No Angels," and told one of his assistants: "I want Boogie here." A few minutes later, Curtiz saw Bogart stand in the spot he had indicated.

Houston Post In New 'Home'

HOUSTON, Oct. 12 — UP — The Houston Post, published every morning for the past 29 years at 2318 Polk Street, rolled off 15 new daily copies following an overnight high speed presses capable of delivering 120,000 papers an hour in a new $1 million plant Monday.

The new Goss headliner presses, operating in a three-story, air-conditioned press room, took over the current run of more than 200,000 daily copies following an overnight weekend move of composing rooms and circulation departments for another month.

The new building, not yet completed, is at Polk Avenue and Dowling Street, just east of the old building which will continue to house executive offices and business and circulation departments for another month.

Life of an Army parachute under normal conditions is between four and five years.

A paratrooper's chute costs the Army approximately $170.
