

Santa Claus will fly into Pampa Friday at 3 p.m., just half an hour before the Santa Day Parade begins.

All three Pampa school bands, as well as that of Lefors, will march amid floats and an entourage of children's pet, bicycle and costume sections.

The parade will form at the junior high school on W. Browning, move down Cuyler to Brown, turn left and break up at Poole's Drive Inn.

Candy will be distributed by Santa and his helpers to all children in the corridor of the courthouse.

New Dam Details Discussed

Bond Issue Set At $73 Million

If Pampa eventually votes to participate in the Canadian River Municipal Water Authority dam-and-reservoir project, she would have an estimated 19 per cent more water capacity in 1968 than today.

And, if each of the 11 Panhandle-Plains communities in the project use 1 1/4 times their share of the available water, the figure would be 35 per cent more.

Facts Given
These were among the facts brought out this morning in the City Commission Room at a discussion meeting of city officials, residents and a six-man team representing the authority. The team is making a tour this week of the 11 authority communities.

Seated at the head table, and each taking his turn speaking were A. A. Meredith, authority secretary-treasurer; A. Bahn, of Parsons, Brinckerhoff, Hall and MacDonald, New York City; Lawrence Hagy, authority finance committee chairman; A. B. Huguenin, authority counsel; William Smallwood, representing five investment firms; and George Finger, Borger director.

Cost $73 Million
The cost of the project will be an estimated $68,730,000, which does not include the flood control storage originally provided in the Bureau of Reclamation plans.

Hagy told the packed room. But, because of inflation, the bond issue will be $73,000,000.

Bahn pointed out the dam would be 4,300 feet long, 170 feet high with a 400-foot spillway. There will be a 72-inch conduit running to the water treatment plant and smaller lines to the authority communities (a 24-inch line to Pampa).

It would take one year for the blueprints and specifications to be drawn up and three more years actually to complete the project. Supply would be 128.6 million gal. of water a day, Bahn said. A $2 million bond issue is tentatively planned for use during that first year, Smallwood added.

To Be Finished 1959
The first year of operation would be 1959 when Pampa's cost for the water would be $176,000. In successive years, it would increase, but in the long run would save money, Smallwood said.

The authority group left before noon for Borger and Amarillo, for similar sessions today.

Five Survive New England Airliner Crash

BERLIN, N. H., Dec. 2—UP—The wreckage of a Northeast Airlines plane which crashed Tuesday with seven persons aboard was found Thursday on a snow-covered mountainside and a radio report said there were five survivors.

The Civil Aeronautics Administration, which intercepted the radio report from one of the search planes, said the most severely injured survivor, pilot Peter Carey, was evacuated by helicopter.

Carey, 37, of Swampscott, Mass., was removed to Berlin airport and then to a hospital. The helicopter then returned to the wreckage on Old Baldy, a 3,690-foot peak, for the others.

Northeast Airlines said at Boston two persons were killed, co-pilot George McCormick, 37, and dispatcher John McNulty, 39, both of Boston. McNulty previously had been reported alive by an airborne spotter.

The twin-engine DC-3, broken in half with its tail hanging over a sharp cliff, was sighted at 7:29 a.m. (est) by a search plane.

The airliner, en route from Boston to Berlin, crashed in a dense forest of fir trees, flattening them as if they were match sticks.

Sheppard Side On New Tack

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—UP—Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard's defense got its case underway in his wife-slaying trial Thursday with the claim that the real killer was bent on disfiguring—not murdering—pretty Marilyn Sheppard.

It was a theory based on medical evidence, of which William J. Corrigan, chief defense strategist, is a master. He will contend the state cannot produce a reason why the husband would deliberately try to disfigure the face of his wife of nine years.

Corrigan said Mrs. Sheppard was killed by blood that flooded her lungs—not by a bludgeoning on the head and face.

The defense got that and other points across in arguments on motions even before producing its first witness, Dr. Stephen A. Sheppard, 34, a brother of Dr. Sam, who is 30.

Mrs. Sheppard, 31, was beaten and hacked to death in her bed last July 4. The attacker inflicted 36 wounds, 15 of them savage blows above the eyes and ears that cracked her skull in many places.

SHE TOOK IT ON THE LAMB SO HE WENT DEAR HUNTING

LOS ANGELES — UP — Mrs. Dorothy Walters, 40, was granted a divorce Thursday when she testified that her husband ran the following ad in a newspaper immediately after she left for a vacation.

"Man, 53, no car, no looks, no job, no qualities, no money, no hero, no nothing, seeks congenial companion to go places and do things in pursuit of happiness."

Robert Walters, who did not contest the divorce, said he received a great many interesting replies.

Dulles Scored For Reversal Of Views

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—UP—Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was accused Thursday of changing policy to placate Republican critics on the question of blocking Red China to win freedom for 13 American prisoners.

Dulles said Wednesday a naval blockade might be considered as a last resort if peaceful efforts fail to free the prisoners who were jailed on "trumped-up" spy charges.

This brought a charge by Sen. Hubert Humphrey (D-Minn.) that Dulles had revamped his position since his major foreign policy address at Chicago Monday. In that speech, Dulles ruled out use of a blockade on grounds that it would amount to "war action."

Humphrey said Dulles' new statement indicates the secretary of state is trying to placate Senate Republican leader William F. Knowland, who first suggested the blockade, and other GOP critics in Congress, including Sen. Joseph McCarthy, who want a blockade.

Court Sets Parr Trial

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex., Dec. 2—UP—South Texas political boss George Parr will go on trial in March on a charge of evading $85,000 in income taxes for 1949, 1950 and 1953.

Federal Judge James V. Alfred set the trial after Parr pleaded innocent at his arraignment Wednesday. He did not specify the exact date nor the place where the trial will be held.

Parr's attorneys were given until Jan. 3 to file briefs and the government until Jan. 17 to file its reply.

The Internal Revenue Service has filed a $1,171,568 lien against the property of Parr and his divorcee, claiming he owed that much on 1945 and 1947 taxes. However, no criminal charge has been filed on these years.

Cool, Man, Cool
HERRICK, N. Y. — UP—Ernest E. Cummings, spokesman for the American Society of Engineers, has this advice for teenagers who drive or walk after sundown: "When the glow goes, whether you're strictly by hoof or on wheels, dig yourself the most, man, and cut that chassis juice or you'll be real gone."

Balloting Is 67 To 20 On Initial Count

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 — UP —The Senate gave overwhelming approval to one censure resolution against Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy and prepared to vote Thursday on two more.

The first blow fell heavily Wednesday night when the Senate voted 67 to 20 to adopt the first of two censure counts returned by a special committee. It censured McCarthy for "repeatedly abusing" a 1951-1952 elections subcommittee.

Remaining to be voted on were the censure committee's second count — a charge that McCarthy "intemperately" abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker during a Senate hearing last Feb. 18 — and a resolution by Sen. Wallace F. Bennett (R-Utah). He demanded McCarthy's censure for calling the censure committee the "unwitting handmaidens" of the Communist party.

A final vote was expected before Wednesday night's vote, the first such action in 25 years and only the fourth in Senate history, drove a steel wedge into the middle of Republican ranks.

McCarthy admitted defeat, charging he was being hit for "exposing Communists." He said that the solid Democratic vote against him "may give the American people the why" of the action. But his supporters launched a last-ditch fight Thursday anyway.

They pinned some hopes on the suggestion of Sen. Francis E. Case (R-S.D.) that a two-thirds rather than simple majority vote might be needed for final adoption of a censure resolution.

But Sen. Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), the censure committee's chairman, minimized the threat. He said Thursday that a simple majority could rule against the See MCCARTHY, Page 2)

BULLETIN

VATICAN CITY, Dec. 2 — UP—The condition of Pope Plus XII has taken a turn for the worse and the coming night will be "important" for him, unofficial Vatican sources reported Thursday.

There was no immediate official confirmation of these reports.

Earlier in the day Vatican sources said the pope, disturbed by hiccupps, was having difficulty in obtaining the absolute rest ordered by his doctors.

Churchill Slip Starts Mild Furor

LONDON, Dec. 2—UP—Prime Minister Winston Churchill appeared safe from censure Thursday on his "Germans versus Russians" speech, but one of London's biggest newspapers demanded to know if he would "stay in power until he drops dead."

Churchill, 69, in the House of Commons Wednesday that his memory may have failed him last week when he said in a speech he had ordered captured guns be stacked for use by the defeated Germans against the Russians in 1945 if the Soviets continued their advance into western Europe.

Parliamentary observers said it was most unlikely that a censure motion would be introduced against Churchill. The Laborites seemed content not to press their advantage after hearing the prime minister's remarkable expression of "regrets."

U.S. To Exact Chiang Vow

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—UP—The United States will press for a Nationalist Chinese promise to refrain from provocative attacks on Red China under the new U.S.-Formosa security treaty, informed sources said Thursday.

They reported that the United States hopes to get such a promise in the set of working rules which Secretary of State John Foster Dulles said will be worked out when the treaty becomes effective.

Dulles announced late Wednesday that the United States and Nationalist China have concluded negotiations on a mutual defense treaty and expect to sign the pact here in two or three days. Under the treaty, the United States will retaliate against Red China if the Communists attack Formosa.

While Dulles' statement did not specifically spell out the treaty's security area, it said U.S.-Nationalist Chinese interests are recognized in Formosa and the Pescadores and islands controlled by the United States in the Western Pacific.

The pact does not specifically commit the United States to the defense of such Nationalist-held trouble spots as Quemoy and the Tachen Islands which are very close to the Chinese mainland. Dulles said it will be up to the military—and ultimately the President—to decide whether a particular island is necessary to the defense of Formosa.

Dulles stressed that the pact is meant to be defensive. Authorities said that means the United States does not intend to let Nationalist China engage in unjustified, provocative attacks against the Red mainland and then have it insist the treaty binds the United States to action.

Police Launch Search For Child

HOUSTON, Dec. 2—UP—Police launched a search for a well-to-do Melbourne, Australia, builder Thursday after his four-year-old child was abducted while playing near her home here.

The child, Pamela, was hauled screaming into a car by two men who tossed onto the porch of the house a custody order issued by a court in Australia.

Lively Draws Life Sentence

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 2—UP—Pint-sized Victor H. Lively was convicted and sentenced to life imprisonment Thursday for strangling "naive country girl" in a sexual attack and stuffing her body into a hotel room dresser drawer.

The jury of 11 men and one woman brought in a verdict of first degree murder at 1:35 a.m., nine hours and four minutes after starting deliberation. The verdict said Lively committed the murder while attempting to perpetrate a rape.

Lively, a 25-year-old Beaumont, Tex., salesman, was trembling when he was brought into the packed basement courtroom to hear Judge Saul I. Rabb sentence him to life in the Indiana state penitentiary.

Accused Poisoner's Third Mate 'Dosed'

TULSA, Dec. 2—UP—Grandmother Nannie Doss faced a second murder charge in Kansas Thursday, while in North Carolina authorities disclosed the body of a third former husband was "loaded with arsenic" just as the talkative Nannie said.

The latest murder charge was filed at Emporia, Kan., in the death of husband No. 4, Richard Morton Sr., 64, who died last year.

Suspected Police Slayer Nabbed

HOUSTON, Dec. 2—UP—Merle Wayne Ellison, a 33-year-old ex-convict, said Thursday he was "all drunk up" when he fired the shot Saturday that killed Highway Patrolman Robert J. Crosby.

Ellison had been the object of the largest manhunt in Harris county in recent years. He was captured hiding in brush along a bayou Wednesday without a struggle.

Russ Get Chummy With Free Press

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
Soviet Russian leaders are pouring the charm these days in their personal contacts with representatives of Western countries. They are going out of their way to be friendly not only to foreign diplomatic envoys but to representatives of the Western press.
The reason is a minor diplomatic mystery. Of course, it fits in with the Communist campaign for "peaceful co-existence." It also could reflect the anxiety of the Kremlin over the prospect that ratification of the treaties for rearming Western Germany is in sight at last.
At the reception given in Moscow on Nov. 7, anniversary of the Bolshevik revolution, Premier Georgi M. Malenkov talked for nearly 40 minutes with United States Ambassador Charles E. Bohlen.

Z. Saburov made a point of approaching Bohlen and chatting cordially with him. When Bohlen said the American people had no aggressive intentions toward anyone Saburov replied: "That is true." Saburov added:
"We will not touch you if you don't touch us. But be sure that if you touch us it will be dangerous."
That could hardly be called effusive in friendliness, but the tone of Bohlen's dispatch seemed to make it plain that Saburov meant to be friendly.
It all adds up to a new look of some kind in the Kremlin. But the Kremlin can hardly be surprised if the West takes it with a grain of salt.

GLANCING BACKWARD

It was the first time Bohlen had met Malenkov since his arrival in Moscow in April, 1953.
Malenkov urged that the big powers use secret diplomacy to settle international incidents which might become big issues if they were made the vehicle for mutual public denunciations.
Bohlen's report to the state department on this conversation was regarded as so important that he was called home for consultation.
At the same reception, Malenkov and Nikita S. Khrushchev, first secretary of the Russian Communist party warmly praised President Eisenhower in talking to visiting Rep. Victor Wickersham of Oklahoma. Malenkov sent good wishes to the President and the American people.
The late Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet chief delegate to the United Nations, also gave a Nov. 7 reception in New York. Bruce Munn, chief of the United Press bureau at UN headquarters, attended. He was somewhat surprised when Vishinsky said, after he introduced himself:
"The United Press! You are welcome!"
John Heffernan, chief of the UN bureau of Reuters, then introduced himself.
"Ah, yes," Vishinsky said. "You are both welcome, indeed. Eat and drink and have a good time. I am indeed glad you are here."
Clifton Daniel, chief of the Moscow bureau of the New York Times, reported his experience at a reception at the Yugoslav embassy in Moscow last Sunday night.

'Litterbugs' Get Stiff Sentences In California

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—UP—A man in California was found guilty of "litterbugging." That is, throwing things out of his car and messing up the countryside. In his case, it was empty beer cans.

The unity character was sentenced to (1) pick up all beer cans along a quarter mile of highway and (2) sit in the jailhouse for 28 days.

That is the sort of thing that prompted a lot of folks, including the American Automobile Association, state legislatures, and officials to form-keep America Beautiful, Inc.

IT'S THE LAW IN TEXAS

(This column based on Texas and Federal law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

John Brown and Bill Smith desire to operate a business together. Should this be done as partners or as a corporation? The answer to this problem involves many legal questions.

Perhaps the most important factor is that the business or personal acts of either John or Bill may be binding upon the partnership. The corporation, however, can act only through its officers and agents, and then only within the limitations granted by the articles of incorporation.

As members of a partnership both John and Bill are liable for all of the debts of the business. In the case they have business losses, the creditors of the partnership could take all of the assets of the partnership, and all of the personal assets of either John or Bill, or both (except a few exempt by law) in order to satisfy the partnership debts.

On the other hand, if they form a corporation the creditors may go only against the assets of the corporation so that the most that either John or Bill can lose is the amount they have invested in the business. The creditors could not touch the personal property of either John or Bill.

Upon the death of John or Bill, it is necessary to liquidate the partnership but in the case of a corporation the operation of the business is not affected by the death of either. The firm continues as the same business with the heirs of the one who dies substituted as the owner of the stock.

Of primary interest to John and Bill is the amount of income taxes they have to pay. As a partnership, each includes on his individual income tax return his proportionate share of the income as shown on the partnership return. This is because the partnership is not recognized as a taxable entity. The corporation is recognized as a taxable entity, so it pays a tax on the amount of its net income after deducting the salaries of John and Bill and other expenses.

If over a period of years the earnings of the corporation exceed reasonable salaries for the two owners these earnings will be distributed to John and Bill in the form of dividends. The funds with which the dividends are paid have already been subject to tax in the hands of the corporation, but are again taxed on the individual returns of John and Bill when distributed.

The income tax advantage or disadvantage of a partnership as compared with a corporation depends on the net income from the business, the salaries John and Bill receive, the amount of their other income, and the requirements of the business for liquid funds.

In the event either of the owners is interested in planning his estate, to reduce taxes at the time of his death, he can do it more easily through a corporation than through a partnership.

Military Pay Raise Sought

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2—UP—The Defense Department is preparing legislation calling for military pay raises that may average from eight to 11 per cent, informed sources said Tuesday.

Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens told a Retired Officers Association meeting Monday that the department would ask Congress next year for "a substantial pay raise" for military personnel.

Stevens said other planks in the Army's prospective legislative program call for:

1. Revision of benefits for survivors of military men.
2. More reliable medical care for dependents.
3. Allowances for service families making a permanent change of station.
4. Tax exemptions for retirement pay and equalized retirement provisions among the services.

Three Children Die In Blaze

PHOENIX, Ariz., Dec. 2—UP—Three children, including 18-month-old twins, were burned to death Wednesday when fire swept through their frame house in south Phoenix minutes after their mother had left to go to the store.

The Maricopa county sheriff's office identified the dead as Donnie and Bonnie Westbrook, 16-month-old twins, and Audrey Westbrook, four months old. Investigators said Louise, 4, sister of the other children carried Audrey's twin-brother, Ardy, from the burning building and then ran to get help. Another child, three years old, also escaped.

Officers said they were the children of Mr. and Mrs. Max Westbrook.

Lovers, Convicted Of Murder Adultery, Are Separated

SALEM, Mass., Dec. 2—UP—Two lovers were separated Wednesday, convicted of murder and adultery.

Arthur G. Jackson, 23-year-old Haverhill shoe clerk, began a three-year jail sentence for adultery with Mrs. Lorraine Clark. Lorraine was "breaking in" as a life-term prisoner in Framingham women's reformatory for the Palm Sunday slaying of her husband.

Jackson, handsome, black-haired Cherokee Indian halfbreed, was convicted Tuesday in a three-hour jury-waived trial on adultery charges and given the maximum sentence.

Sentence was imposed by the same outraged judge who had sentenced the beautiful Lorraine to life imprisonment the day before. She pleaded guilty of second degree murder in the fatal shooting and stabbing of her husband, Melvin W. Clark Jr., 29.

Superior Judge Charles Fairhurst said the armorous shoe clerk should "take half the measure of responsibility" for the murder which "wrecked" a family of three children. Mrs. Clark's children are 5, 7, and 8 years old — two girls and a little brother, now living with her parents.

Lorraine shot and stabbed her husband in their Amesbury lake-side cottage April 10 and dumped his body in the Merrimack River where it bobbed to the surface and was found eight weeks later.

Jackson's adultery trail Tuesday brought out a vivid account of a love affair that started in Jackson's automobile and continued in his Newburyport love-nest after he left his wife last August. Lorraine had a key.

Doris Day Says She's Public Shy

By ALINE MOSBY
HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 2—UP—Doris Day, one of the world's top boxoffice stars, told how she has recovered from a near nervous breakdown because she's public-shy.
The singer with the short blonde hair and pert nose has been a mystery on the local scene for the past year, with rumors of an "inferiority complex" and "illness" peppering the gossip columns.
Sitting relaxed and smiling in her home, she shrugged off the "inferiority" phrase and preferred to put her problem this way: At times being a movie star is frightening. The goldfish-bowl life that goes with a fat paycheck and fame unnerved her, she said.
"I didn't exactly have a nervous breakdown, but the next thing to it," she said thoughtfully.
Her husband, Marty Melcher, explained, "Doris just hates being stared at."
"When I walked into a club, everybody's looking at me," the actress said. "If I could just be Mrs. Smith sometimes—"
"I didn't even particularly want to become a star," she went on.
"When I did my first picture I didn't think about seeing my name in lights. Having the contract gave me a certain amount of security. That's what I thought about."
"As I told the doctor, I used to hate going to movie premieres. I love show business, and I'm grateful that people ask for autographs, but the crowds— and when the lights go up I feel everybody turns to look at you. Haven't you ever torn up a snapshot of yourself you didn't like? Can you imagine looking at yourself on the screen and feeling that way?"
"When I first started work at MGM this month the trouble came back but I'm all right now," she smiled. "I never felt better. I've gotten to understand myself better. The goldfish life is part of show business and you have to go along with it."
"But the press when I was sick took such jabs at me. And I'm so sensitive," she added.
The first step in the new Day is her MGM picture, "Love Me or Leave Me," the life of Ruth Etting. It's her first loan-out from her own studio, Warner. MGM

Comic Book Screening Progressing

AUSTIN, Dec. 2—UP—Progress in ridding the state of undesirable comic books was reported Wednesday by a committee of distributors and retailers.
Attorney General John Ben Shepherd said he was told by C.J.M. Roesch, executive secretary of the Texas Pharmaceutical Association and chairman of the committee, that wholesale and retail outlets now are screening all comic magazines for objectionable material.
Roesch said all wholesale distributors are checking each comic publication before distribution to news stands, and retail outlets are urging individual members to make constant examinations of incoming comic magazines.
He said the committee would aid the legislature and attorney general's office in drafting legislation aimed at banning public sale of lewd magazines.
The committee was formed after a recent Austin meeting of representatives of magazine distributors and retailers. Members include magazine distributors, grocery stores, tobacco dealers and druggists.

Love-Crazed Man Shot Down In Hail Of Police Bullets

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 2 —UP— A love-crazed Oregon man was shot to death Wednesday in a gun fight with police who tried to arrest him as he stood on the stage of a deserted burlesque theater and caressed pictures of a dancer — his "red-headed angel."
Police identified the man from a driving license as Roger Wing Whittier, 26, North Bend, Ore. They said he apparently was driven into a distraught state of mind by his unreturned love for a beautiful red-haired stripper.
The dancer was identified as Loretta Miller, who appears nightly at the New Follies theater.
A note in Whittier's pocket read: "Angel face, dearest Loretta. Just to hold you in my arms. My red-headed angel. Goodbye."
A telephone tip sent police to the theater where two detectives and two uniformed police spotted Whittier standing on the deserted stage. The theater was darkened except for a low light which silhouetted the six-foot two-inch man on the stage.
The officers moved slowly down the theater aisles. Detective Ron Nathan ordered Whittier to drop a .32 foreign make automatic he was holding. In the other hand, Whittier clutched two pictures. Whittier whirled and fired at Nathan. The bullet nicked the detective in the left ear. Nathan and the other officers returned the fire. One bullet struck Whittier in the head and another bullet entered his heart.

The Right To Work

Seven men were recently fined and jailed for violating Alabama's new "Right to Work" law. "It is the public policy of the state as well as the policy of the laws and the Constitution that a man has a right to work without interference, intimidation or threat."

According to the story in "Alabama" part of the employees of Fayette, Alabama Telephone Co. struck at three of the company's plants. Some of the men who remained on the job were sent out to repair a line that had been cut and were met by three carloads of strikers who threatened violence and advanced on the repairmen until halted by the Chief of Police, who had to draw his gun to disperse them.

The repairmen swore out warrants against the strikers and seven were arrested, convicted and sentenced to six months at hard labor and fined $300 each.

Now the AFL is out to "get" the Alabama Right to Work Law and is planning to put pressure on the next legislature. But public sentiment, even among the workmen, seems to be against the unions in this.

It is certainly a paradox that with all our boasted liberties the various states find it necessary to pass such legislation as "Right to Work Laws." How has it come to pass that an American, protected by our Constitution, has to bow to a group of goons and beg for the right to hold a job? That is something that should be the business of only two men — the worker and his employer. If a man wants to strike, that's his business. But if he wanted to work while others are striking, that should be his business too. The unions haven't become all powerful in this country without political support.

Politicians, hoping to pull the mythical "union vote," have catered to the unions, and the Congress (under the "New Deal") has granted them all sorts of special privileges that set the unions up as a class apart, not subject to the laws that regulate the rest of us. All kinds of crimes, including murder, have been committed by strikers in the holy name of labor. In many instances the police have stood by and watched hoodlums wreck the cars of workers and seriously damage the property of the company they were employed by and expect to work for again when the strike is settled.

Union members should be subject to the same laws against violence as anyone else. If violence were actually prevented, unions would not be much of a threat.

THE NATION'S PRESS

EISENHOWER'S "METHODS" (Reprinted From Tulsa Tribune and Monroe (La.) Morning World) WE ARE BEWILDERED. We are confused. We are frustrated. We have grown so apathetic that a lot of us no longer give a whoop. And that is no way to save our liberties. We need a PRESIDENT.

Eisenhower is attempting to make himself the master of a One-Party government. And that is the historic road to dictatorship. Where is the Republican party? Its leaders do not resist this attempt. During the 1952 campaign Eisenhower's spokesmen informed those who inquired about specific domestic matters that "General Eisenhower's position as an international commander does not permit his personal participation in domestic political affairs, even if his responsibilities to the two countries of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization afforded him time to do so."

That is what we elected. That is what he is, a man too busy to be interested in the problems of the American people. So, we have no leadership. Our President today is utter stranger to the candor and the direct honesty of Theodore Roosevelt. Why doesn't Eisenhower say exactly what he means instead of indulging in innuendoes? He is the thought promulgator for the Pink. Both he and the Pinks don't like McCarthy's "methods." Yet, no one can name one single American who has been hurt in the slightest by whatever may be defined as "McCarthy's methods." But it is time now to look at the Eisenhower methods, and the methods of George Marshall behind him.

In a recent speech Eisenhower said, "Through knowledge and understanding will drive from the temple of freedom all who seek to establish over us thought control whether they are agents of a foreign state or demagogues thirsty for personal power and public notice."

An honest President would explain himself. What did Eisenhower mean by this language? His lieutenants admit that it was a pot shot at Senator McCarthy. No one can find the slightest evidence that McCarthy ever attempted to establish thought control over the people. That assertion is so false it is silly. To imply such a thing is dishonest. To evade the direct question as to whom he had in mind is also dishonest.

the destruction of Joseph McCarthy? There is a "method" of attempting to destroy a patriotic Senator. Then he tries to hide the record. If the record is right, why not bring it out into the open? The forces that nominated Eisenhower at the Republican convention in '52 put up an infamous cry of "Thief," implying that the Taft forest had stolen certain Texas delegates. Had there been an Abraham Lincoln as a competing candidate for that nomination, there would have been no such infamous charge because there was no theft. None. And honest men Abraham Lincoln as a competing would not profit by a demagogic charge that had not the slightest substance.

A year ago today Senator Taft died. Taft was maligned by Eisenhower and his plot - planner, George Marshall. Taft, the great statesman, was condemned by the very people who profited by the manipulations in Aldrich's hotel rooms in Chicago. Eisenhower has talked piously about the crime of "burning books." But he can name nobody who has burned a book. No one, not one. Therefore to imply such a thing is to bear false witness. The Eisenhower crowd talks about the infamies of "smear." And not one of them can name a single soul whose honesty and patriotism is clear and above reproach who has been singled by smear.

BUT, on the Ike side, we now have the conspicuous example of Roy Cohn, a real patriot who has been tortured with Eisenhower-sanctioned smear for doing a great patriotic work.

Under the Truman administration we were prepared to accept performances that smelled of high heaven. But the people elected Eisenhower to clean house, to be a heroic patriot and to help the members of our Congress who are trying to rid us of enemy infiltrators. But we didn't get what we voted for. Under Eisenhower's administration we punish patriotism.

We began this business of punishing patriotism years ago when we witnessed the destruction of Dr. Wirt. Then we saw Martin Dies destroyed. We saw General MacArthur destroyed, then followed J. B. Matthews and Dean Manion. Now they have tortured with smear a brilliant young man whose only offense was that he was a competent defender of our country, a finder of our foes and an efficient prosecutor of our enemies. The White House outfit "got him." They

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Encouraging

Anyone who is trying to get more persons to understand the blessings that are sure to result from collective or government actions that are in agreement with what would be moral if done by an individual well knows that he will have many more persons trying to discourage him than encourage him.

Few people, now as in past ages, believe that Jesus laid the foundation of moral law when he said "Seek ye first the kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things will be added unto you." The majority prefer to first to seek the government instead of the moral laws of the commandments, believing that is the means of material and educational blessings. But because the great majority are slow to see the need of living by these principles is no reason for one to be discouraged. It was always thus. Remember: "Enter by the narrow gate: (live by principles) for the gate is broad and the road is wide that leads to destruction, and many enter that way. But the road that leads to life is both narrow and close, and there are few who find it."

So those looking for popularity will be disappointed if they try to live by the principles set down in the commandments. It, however, is encouraging to occasionally get a letter from a person who sees the need of living individually and collectively by these moral laws. One would wonder whether he himself was finding the "narrow and close gate" if he did not occasionally get a letter like the following:

"Dear Mr. Hoiles, Although I have been a reader of the Register for some eight months now, I did not start to read your column 'Better Jobs,' until recently — some three months ago, to be exact, yet I find in its contents a driving message I have found in few other newspapers and periodicals.

For me, the greatest appeal in Better Jobs lies in the uncompromising stand you have taken on issues with which I am vitally concerned. I find this stand refreshing and encouraging in an age where the discipline of un-compromise has largely withered away under the erosive philosophy of hedonistic modernism. For one man such as yourself to oppose the effects of a rising rate of appetite which so characterizes Western Civilization today, is indeed praiseworthy and, I hope, a symptom of a moral renaissance.

The value of your column lies not so much in what you write about as why you write it. I always feel that you are restating a principle or principles — a policy sorely needed in an age which pays only lip service to principle itself. And believe me, principles, especially Christian principles, by which our country professes to live, are useless to anyone if they merely remain silent in books written by dedicated men.

It is easy now for this nation, enthralled by the absurd notion of infinite material progress, to defer principle in favor of the expediency of the moment just as we find it easy to veritably mortgage our souls to possess a plethora of mechanical gadgets. In either case, however, bankruptcy is the liable consequence, and a nation, emptied of its ethical and spiritual heritage, indeed faces collapse.

The pall that hung over Hellenic civilization in its last days was that of disillusionment and despair. It is not unlike that which hangs over Western civilization today, and while some of us fear that increasing delinquency, moral laxity, the defeat of courtesy and consideration by the egotistical and barbaric resentment of modernism liable us to a rate similar to the Hellenes, we stubbornly cast about for any solution rather than restatement of principle. It may be because re-stating a good and valid principle entails a discipline of the mind and will — an effort made all the harder in this age of undisciplined and little thinking. In closing, I urge you, Mr. Hoiles, to keep hammering at these inexcusable evils that so infect Western civilization. Keep hammering, and may your mallet grow bigger every year.

Very truly, yours, Signed, Jefferson R. Scoville, Editorial Department, Costa Mesa Globe-Herald got him to cripple McCarthy. Now they are going to cripple Jenner and Velde. What about these methods?

FOR SHAME! A President of the American people engineering the repudiation of patriotism. And he accomplishes these ends by sneaky "methods," by innuendoes, by implications. We elected him to be forthright, courageous and heroically honest. And he has failed us. Part of the administration's "methods" is to destroy the Republican Party and the Democratic Party by amalgamation and thereby destroy the Republic itself. Then make a military master dictator. Then the One Worlders will include America in their conquest.

Already the Stars and Stripes are placed behind the United Nations flag on parades. There are now American citizens who are now alarmed to rally to the support of honest and courageous leadership. But we have had no leadership, and we have got none now.

National Whirligig Bolivia One Nation Not After Money Handouts From U. S.

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Almost the only Latin-American nation which has not demanded more generous handouts from the United States at the current Rio de Janeiro economic conference is Bolivia, and the reason for her failure to do so may have far-reaching political, diplomatic and military repercussions.

The answer lies in present and prospective strikes of oil fields that equal the rich treasures of Venezuela, the Middle East and our own Southwest. Geological experts, including non-Bolivians, report that the oil belt is 120 miles wide, extending across the inland state. Although there have been five or six separate discoveries actual operations have been at a minimum so far. But production is high enough to supply the country's domestic requirements, and soon there will be sufficient for export. Proven reserves are estimated at 50,000,000 barrels.

Bolivia is now seeking funds for greatly expanded development, but she does not feel that she has to beg for them. Her government is relatively conservative, and is enacting new petroleum laws favorable to private, foreign investors. Glenn McCarthy of Texas has received concessions on both natural gas and oil wells.

This new source of production has been watched by the U. S. State Department and the great petroleum interests in this country. If prospects are borne out, it will be a truly remarkable development.

It will, for instance, reduce or terminate our present dependence on the Middle East, with the long water haul through the narrow and, in wartime, dangerous Mediterranean. With the proposed pipelines to both the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans, it will provide greater mobility and range to U. S. naval and air fleets. The same assets would, of course, become available to our Allies in a war with Russia.

The Bolivian oil find may furnish a new and serious test of the Eisenhower Administration's economic policy toward Latin America. Although it is probable that private interests in this country will finance the larger and longer range developments, as in Venezuela, Bolivia may need U. S. Government assistance in the early stages.

As of today, Washington is notably conservative and cautious in advancing funds. The Export-Import Bank will not make loans to finance oil development, which it regards as speculative. This is a reversal of previous policies, for it advanced $8,500,000 for a Bolivian pipeline in 1946. The money has been repaid in full.

And here the Latin Americans believe that they have a legitimate grievance against Uncle Sam. Although the United States has advanced between $75 billion and $100 billion to European, Asian and Middle East countries since World War II without any demand or expectation of repayment, we insist on payment of both the interest

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

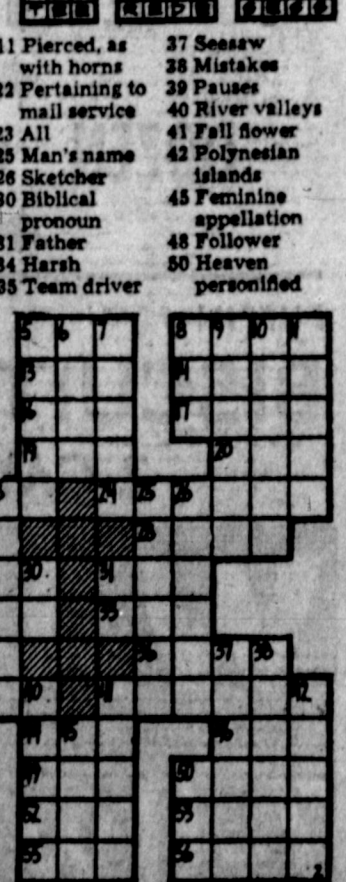

Mrs. Dorothy Ferguson of Greeley, Colorado is one housewife who can be glad she broke her leg. While recovering from the break, she got the idea of freezing cookie dough. The difference between Mrs. Ferguson and a number of other people who have "ideas" is that she acted on her idea. First she experimented in her kitchen until she had perfected the product. Then she persuaded a local grocer to try her frozen cookie dough. That idea has now skyrocketed to a $300,000 venture. Dottie's Quikie Cookies are now being produced at the rate of 1,000 packages per hour and are selling in markets all over the country.

Further Charting Of Hitler And New Deal Similarities

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

In charting the similarity of the Roosevelt innovations to Adolf Hitler's national socialism, we find a defiant impudence in Roosevelt's National Recovery Administration. The impudence lies not only in this drastic repudiation of the American Constitution but in Roosevelt's indignant contention that while Hitler, the crazy paperhanger, was a dictator, Roosevelt was a "democratic" president with no thought in his heart but to serve his beloved people.

True, Hitler had been a paperhanger, which meant that he was actually a worker and a member of "the people." Roosevelt was the pampered son of an indulgent, millionaire mother, so that comparison did not necessarily reflect discredit on Der Fuehrer. Hitler also had been an enlisted soldier in combat and had been wounded or said he had been. Roosevelt, on the other hand, had been a youthful physical giant of independent means, performing no duties as Assistant Secretary of the Navy which could not have been done by many another man.

Henry Wallace, too, by the way, had been excused from World War I on the ground that he was necessary to the operation of his father's properties in Des Moines. He admitted this in correspondence with me during his term as vice president but added a claim that he had also been suspected of pulmonary disease, which did not develop, however. This hygienic doubt did not appear in the draft-board record which was somehow obtained by some Republicans but never resorted to in any political campaign. The Republicans were inexplicably fastidious in their rejection of useful political dirt.

And both Hitler and Roosevelt loved the Common Man with an overwhelming passion. Herbert Hoover wrote in his "memoirs" that Roosevelt's National Industrial Recovery Act of 1933 was a "fascist measure," and told us that Gerard Swope, of General Electric, first suggested the scheme. Swope is a brother of Herbert Bayard Swope, the old horse-player and race-track habitué, who latched on as a war department bureaucrat with McCloy and Patterson in World War II.

And this should remind us that for all his noisy lambasting of "economic royalists," "torches" and "patrons of privilege," Roosevelt had, from the beginning until his death, the same strong cooperation of such Masters of Men as Hitler received from the giants of German heavy industry and finance. Charles E. Wilson, who alternated with Gerard Swope as president of G. E., gave diligent and probably valuable service in the mobilization of war industrial power under both Roosevelt and Truman.

But he also let Truman use him as a stooge president of the so-called President's Committee on Civil Rights. He later revealed the fact that this strictly partisan ideological apparatus of Truman's party was picked by David K. Niles, Felix Frankfurter's plant in the White House.

"With his NRA, Roosevelt shackled his Common Man to unrestrained monopolies," Mr. Hoover continued. The act authorized Roosevelt to appoint a bureaucracy of appalling numbers and powers and to establish "codes of fair competition," for violation of which any offender could be fined and sent to prison. Some were so punished.

When the Supreme Court threw out the NRA in the sick chicken case, Roosevelt fetched a Hitlerian sneer at the court and, in due course, packed not only that court but all the federal courts with political henchmen and ideological toadies of a moral, social and intellectual grade far below the accustomed standard. There, again, he emulated Hitler and vice versa, although each continued to insult and deride the other until April, 1945, when Roosevelt died a few weeks before Hitler vanished in the grand barbecue in Berlin.

A defiant non-conformist in Hitler's people's court was no more repulsive to the bench than an un-reconstructed Constitutional, Nationalist American before a federal judge of the Roosevelt-Truman jurisprudence.

A symbolic eagle, blue in color, was adopted as the NRA insignia and Roosevelt threatened non-conformists thus: "Those who cooperate must know each other at a glance by the bright badge of the blue eagle." Hugh Johnson, an author of juvenile fiction and ghostwriter for Barney Baruch, was named administrator of the regime. He said: "May God Almighty have mercy on anyone who attempts to trifle with that bird."

Hitler repudiated his foreign debts to steady his wobbling venture. Roosevelt repudiated the obligation of the United States to redeem currency and debts in gold. Henry Morgenthau wrote a series of absolutely shocking confessions after Harry Truman had bounced him out of the treasury, where the traitor Harry Dexter White had held away with terrible results to the American people.

In one chapter Morgenthau said Roosevelt told him the Treasury would confiscate all gold in the federal reserve banks at $20.50 a ounce and then mark up the price to $35 an ounce. This would give

Touring Solon Says Russia Wages Educational Campaign

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., Dec. 2 —UP— Texas Congressman O. C. Fisher, who recently toured Russia, says the Soviets are waging a strong educational campaign to train more technicians. Fisher, in a speech Tuesday to a student group at Texas A&M College, said the Russians have a 10-year compulsory education program that covers everyone up to 17 years old.

Farm Prices Up Slightly In November

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 —UP— Farm prices increased slightly during the past month, but the farmer's standing on the economic ladder is unchanged from mid-October.

The Agriculture Department Tuesday reported that even though farm prices rose 8 per cent during the month ended Nov. 15 and the farm cost index remained stable, the gain was too small to change the overall farm price-cost picture.

It said farm prices in mid-November still averaged 87 per cent of parity as they did in mid-October. In mid-November last year farm prices averaged 90 per cent of parity.

The report showed that increases in prices of commercial vegetables, potatoes, eggs, milk and wheat were responsible for halting a two-month decline in farm prices.

Gains in prices on those crops offset lower prices for cotton, oranges, corn and beef cattle.

The combined commercial vegetable price index rose 24 per cent as marketings of most important vegetable crops began to decline with the arrival of fall.

The cotton price index fell 4 per cent and the fruit index 6 per cent. The potato, sweet potato and dry edible bean index and the poultry and egg price index each rose 12 per cent and the dairy product index rose 1 per cent.

Although the poultry and egg price index rose, it was still 29 per cent below the same time last year.

He said they were starting a large number of universities, colleges and technical institutes, and were waging a campaign for leadership in science, engineering and technology.

In the last eight years, Fisher said, the Russians have tripled the number of their graduates in science, an academic achievement corresponding to a master's degree in the United States. Last year the Russians graduated twice as many engineers as did the United States, he said.

"We must maintain our leadership in the educational field," the Texan said. "Leadership belongs to those who learn it."

Fisher said his trip revealed the average Russian isn't an "anti-American as you might expect." But he said it was very important for American people to do more to reach the Russian people than has been done in the past.

The congressman said he talked with Russians in all walks of life, from professors to shepherders. He said they were short of food, although about half live on farms compared to a 15 per cent farm population in this country.

Fisher said Russian clothing appeared to be crude according to our standards, but very serviceable.

Post Given Kin Of Late Governor

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 —UP— James E. Ferguson, a grand-nephew of the late Texas governor of the same name, will become district attorney in the 18th Judicial district Jan. 1.

Gov. Allan Shivers Monday appointed Ferguson, son of the late Judge Bryce Ferguson of Pharr, to succeed Jack C. Altaras of Cleburne, when Altaras' resignation is effective. Ferguson now is Johnson county attorney.

Shivers also re-appointed three men to the State Board of Public Accountancy and filled a vacancy on that board. B. S. Motherhead, Harlingen; Hatcher A. Pickens, Fort Worth, and Charles B. Hagans, Nacogdoches, were re-appointed, while John A. Thomason, Brownwood, was named to succeed Milton E. West, Lubbock. All four terms expire Sept. 4, 1956.

The Lewis and Clark expedition was organized by the Army in 1803.

Band Leader Gets Fan Mail For Fanning Memory Breezes

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 —UP— Barney Breeskin, the orchestra leader at the Shoreham hotel here, received a couple of "fan letters" recently which he's going to have framed. In twin gold frames.

Both of them came from 1600 Pennsylvania Ave., an address which is pretty well known hereabouts as the residence of Ike and Mamie Eisenhower.

Breeskin has played favorite tunes for our leader and his bride for many years. They exchange birthday cards, and all that.

Well, Breeskin turned up at a "citizens for Eisenhower" hoe-down during the recent election campaign and led the election singing.

Breeskin has played for many Eisenhower birthday and anniversaries, the old fiddler knew what he was doing.

He started the band off with "The Old Spinning Wheel." That's Mamie's favorite. The band and the assembled crowd went through that with some of the finest unharmonious braying in any hall anytime — the President and his lady adding to the din and clapping thereafter.

Then Breeskin cut loose with President Eisenhower's favorite, "I've Got Spurs That Jingle, Jangle, Jingle."

Well, the Eisenhowers thought it was swell. And they wrote Breeskin little notes to say thanks.

First to arrive was from the President:

"Mrs. Eisenhower and I join in warm thanks to you and the members of your orchestra for your contribution to the Citizens for Eisenhower rally. . . . You played so many of my 'favorite' songs that the evening was a truly happy one for both of us."

That was signed "Dwight Eisenhower."

Mrs. Ike wrote a separate letter. She said:

"What a pleasant surprise to see you in person at the dinner a few evenings ago! As usual we enjoyed your music immensely. . . . our thanks and appreciation to you for making the evening such a warm, jolly one. My kind regards to you and your wife, in which the President joins me."

This was signed simply:

"Mamie Eisenhower."

I offered to buy the letters from Breeskin, just to see what he'd say. He laughed and told me I couldn't afford it.

Stars Help Dedicate Skyscraper

DALLAS, Dec. 2 —UP— The tallest building west of the Mississippi River was formally dedicated Wednesday with comedian Bob Hope and Gov. Allan Shivers the headline stars at the ceremonies.

The building is the 598-foot tall Republic National Bank building, which is built with aluminum on the outside instead of brick and has a banking room nearly as large as a football field.

Besides Hope, there were other entertainers, including Mimi Benzell and Gordon MacRae. Dignitaries included Mayor R. L. Thornton (who is president of a competing bank); Republic Bank President Fred F. Florence, Board Chairman Karl Nobiltzelle, R. G. Storey, dean of the Southern Methodist University School of Law, and three preachers to offer prayers.

The bank put on a big show Tuesday night at Dallas' Fair Park Auditorium for some 4,000 out-of-town visitors. Hope, MacRae and Miss Benzell provided entertainment there.

Fire Damage Estimated

AMARILLO, Dec. 2 —UP— Damage from a fire that destroyed Hill Lines, Inc., a motor freight company, was estimated Monday at $150,000. Alvin Hill, the firm's president, said 12 trucks inside the garage, as well as the building itself, were destroyed by the fire Sunday.

PERRYTON HIGH THESPIANS

Rehearsing for their Dec. 16-17 presentation of William Shakespeare's "A Midsummer Night's Dream" are five members of the cast. The play will be presented in the Perryton High School Auditorium by the senior speech and English classes under the direction of Mrs. Rose Powell, speech teacher.

Benson Urges Agriculture Wildcatting

CHICAGO, Dec. 2 —UP— Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson Wednesday called for some "real wildcatting" in agriculture research to "tap new reservoirs of agricultural wealth." Benson said that although $30 billion worth of farm commodities are marketed each year "we don't spend as much wildcatting for new ideas as a few major oil companies do on exploratory operations." In a speech delivered before the American Agricultural Editors Association, Benson said another plant like the soybean to provide additional sources of high protein livestock feed would be worth some "wildcatting." He also suggested efforts to find a profitable alternative crop for great plains wheat producers; a frozen concentrate or stable, palatable whole dried milk and improved grasses for range country.

200 Trains A Day Needed For Christmas Mail

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 —UP— It will take an average of 200 mail-packed trains a day to haul the nation's Christmas mail between Dec. 1 and Christmas Day. If each of these trains carries a million pieces of mail, that would be enough to give every American, Canadian, and Mexican an average of 25 Christmas gifts each according to the Association of American Railroads. The Post Office Department anticipates more than 60,000 of these 60-foot cars will be needed to move the 5.5 billion pieces of mail expected during the next 24 days. Authorities estimate a slight increase over the 5.4 million pieces of mail, carried largely by rail, during the corresponding period last year. In addition to the 2,600 railway post office cars now in daily service, the railroads will make available 31,600 baggage and express cars for mail transport during this peak period.

Ag Department Warns Dusters Kicking Up Again In W-Texas

AUSTIN, Dec. 2 —UP— Dust storms are "already starting" on the West Texas plains, particularly in the northern low rolling plains, the U. S. Department of Agriculture reported Wednesday. The USDA said strong drying winds sapped the already short surface moisture and where vegetation cover was lacking, kicked up dust storms. Mechanical harvest moved in cotton fields throughout northwest irrigated areas in a full week of open, windy, chilly weather and gin yards in that area were over-run with loaded trailers. As sorghum combining rolled along toward completion in that area, additional tonnage was necessarily piled on the ground. Some dry-land wheat on the high plains was still holding up but over much of that country what prospects were dimming in the powder-dry soil. In the low rolling plains some acreage remained to be planted and that which was just coming up urgently needed rain. Progress of commercial vegetables in the lower Rio Grande valley was "very satisfactory," the USDA said, with planting of additional crops, mainly cabbage, carrots and lettuce active.

Mormons Cease Plural Practices

KINGMAN, Ariz., Dec. 2 —UP— Twenty-six apostate Mormons from the once-polygamous community of Short Creek Wednesday promised to cease practicing plural marriages after ending a year's probation. One of the men told Superior Judge Robert S. Tullar that all 26 men plan to "live according to the laws of Arizona." The men were arrested July 26, 1953, when Arizona officers raided Short Creek and seized the town's entire population. The raid on the tiny hamlet, which straddles the Arizona-Utah border, drew national attention. The men were given suspended sentences of a year on conspiracy charges Dec. 7, 1953. Their probation expired Tuesday midnight.

June Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

OFTEN THERE ARE simple, little ways of doing things that save so much time — or just a cleaning method that we haven't heard of that is so much easier than the one we've been using. Since we're always seeking ways of making housework easier or of saving time, the rest of the column is devoted to a few suggestions I found on cleaning silver, different uses of salt and cleaning the refrigerator.

WHISK STAINS from silver the electrolytic way. Line the bottom of an enamel pan with aluminum foil. Add enough water to cover silver. Then add 1 tablespoon baking soda to each quart water. Bring to boil. Remove from heat and immerse silver for a few minutes. Remove silver, rinse and dry. This is recommended for all flat silver except pieces with cemented joints or which have an oxidized pattern.

SALT, THE MOST indispensable product in the kitchen cupboard has some 14,000 recorded uses, yet its versatility continues to grow. Just as industry and agriculture continue to develop new uses for salt, housewives are discovering uses for salt beyond its time-tested seasoning properties.

For instance, a little salt speeds the whipping of cream or eggs. For those troubled with grainy cooked icing, a pinch of salt adds to keeping this frosting smooth while at the same time improving the flavoring.

Turning out mealy, tender boiled potatoes is no problem when this method is followed: Boil in salted water until done, then drain off the water and sprinkle salt over them. Shake the pan vigorously back and forth over a lighted burner. The salt draws out excess water and leaves the potatoes dry and flaky.

In the preparation of leafy vegetables to make certain they're clean and free of insects, use salt water to draw out dirt and any insects which may be lurking deep among the leaves.

Another salt hint for the busy housewife speeds double boiler cooking. Add salt to the water in the outside container. The water heats quicker and the foods in the inner pan cook faster with this method.

Pancakes won't stick if the griddle is rubbed with dry salt before heating. Using this method and an even cooking temperature, the pancakes turn out fluffy and golden brown.

And here's a tip for shelling nuts for holiday puddings and goodies. Soak the whole nuts overnight in salt water. The next morning the shells will crack easily and the kernels come out whole instead of in broken pieces. In addition, the nut flavor will be accentuated by the salt.

OLD MOTHER HUBBARD'S empty cupboards have gone into hibernation for the duration of the winter. With father's football team dropping by after school to raid the ice box and sis's best beau stopping in for a midnight snack, your kitchen has to be filled with food — and lots of it to satisfy ravenous appetites.

When you defrost your refrigerator (or every week if you are the proud owner of a self-defrosting refrigerator) a thorough cleaning is advisable. First, remove the contents of your refrigerator. This includes shelves, storage drawers and ice cube trays. Then, make a solution of three tablespoons baking soda to each quart of warm water and wash all parts of your refrigerator with this baking soda solution. Wash the inside lining of the refrigerator with this same soda solution, rinse and dry.

That's all there is to it. For every day spots and stubborn bits of stuck on food just sprinkle some dry baking soda on a damp cloth or sponge and rub over the spot, then rinse and dry.

Baking soda emulsifies the greasy film which can harbour germs and cause stale unpleasant odors. Soda is non-abrasive so it can't harm the porcelain enamel finish of your refrigerator — just leaves it wonderfully clean and sweet smelling.

Glitter for the holidays is added with metallic yarns in the hair. The low figure eight chignon (left) is of gold lurex interspersed with dymel for softness. The gold side strand is fastened invisibly and swept all the way to the chignon. The ballerina hairdo (center) is for special occasions. The twisted figure eight is pinned on high, where it's always visible. Side locks are invisibly fastened and swept to the crown of the head. The bustle back arrangement (right) is made by sweeping the hair into a high chignon shaped with four graceful loops. The side streaks here begin with jeweled combs put in halfway back from the temple. The gold metal band around the chignon adds a final note of classic beauty to a hair style that looks Grecian.

RUTH MILLET

"A man marries his boyhood sweetheart; then, as time goes on, he develops real intellectual or artistic interests. She remains uninterested in becoming anything more than a dull, limited person."

Would you call that grounds for divorce? A new booklet, "Saving Your Marriage," by Evelyn and Sylvanus Duvall, claims that it is — so long as there are no children. In the authors' words and in THEIR opinion: "If there are no children, he may properly seek someone who can be, in a true sense, a mate."

What do they mean "in a true sense, a mate"? Do they mean a woman can't be a real wife to a man if she reads 25-cent who-dunits while he is poring over a history of ancient Greece?

Do they mean a husband and wife might as well call it quits if she prefers TV comedians to an evening of his classical recitals?

Do they mean that a husband and wife are hopelessly incompatible if his idea of a pleasant Sunday afternoon is one spent at an art gallery while hers is to sit in a movie theater watching Clark Gable make love to Marilyn Monroe?

Is agreeing on such matters as those that make a husband and wife mates, in the true sense of the word?

Of course not. In plenty of good marriages, husbands and wives have nothing but tolerant amusement for each other's interests. Their love for each other and their dependence on each other is a woman's dependence on a man and a man's dependence on a woman, not some intellectual meeting of the minds.

Sure, it's fine when a husband and wife share intellectual and artistic interests. But a happy marriage doesn't depend on it. And certainly the lack of it isn't grounds for divorce.

Handedness Worries Many Mothers

Give baby a chance and don't force him. He'll use one hand for a while and then the other for a month or so. Don't get wrought up if he uses the left for a long while or even forever. The hobgoblin of the difficulties a person faces who is left-handed should be ignored. A child can get along fine in school if he's left-handed, but if you try to change him and he starts to stammer, he may not have it so easy.

It's so easy to get the house cleaned when baby's asleep. But then you can't understand why you're so hushed at night. The answer is, when baby's sleeping you nap, too. He's safe and needs no watching. While he plays quietly in the crib or carriage, do the housework, calm in the knowledge that you can hear him if he cries.

Avoid those so-naked sandals unless you are utterly comfortable with your heels three inches in the air. Better to walk with grace and ease in a medium heel pump than totter on the most glamorous pair of tiny straps and skinny heels.

A girl baby who is as bald as an egg may upset her mother, for people on the street say — "isn't he cute?" If it makes you unhappy, get a ruffy bonnet for trips outdoors. It will cover her baldness and yet not be as awkward as those dresses that get snarled up in her kicking legs. Her hair will grow in soon and then there'll be no mistaking her femininity.

Spark Yuletide Hairdo With Addition Of Metallic Yarn Streak Or Chignon

NEA Beauty Editor

All of a woman's yearnings for beauty — gay, regal and romantic — seem to burst into flower when the first Christmas wrappings appear on store counters. The housewife, dragging a baby, looks longingly at a red velvet dress that she knows is just plain foolishness. The career gal tries to plot ways of having a chafing dish dinner on a wiener budget. A grandmother wonders if it would be silly for her to invest in a long, sweeping robe.

And this is as it should be. The holidays — from the first scent of wood in the fireplace — should be warm and splendid. Colors should be rich, homes should be inviting, women should be glittery. For the budget-bound and the tied-down, there are ways of dressing for the party season without departing from the daily realities.

Not the least of the ways an imaginative woman or teenager can make herself splendid is in dealing with her hair and ears. However dreary last year's coat may be, if the head above it is pretty and glitters with light, the effect is as seasonal as holly. Attention to earrings, with an investment in a colorful or sparkling pair to be worn only in the core of winter, can be a help. A new hat — or a frothy piece spark a tired wardrobe. A scarf light as snowfall in a distracting color can point up the weary suit. For the gayest occasion, when starting splendor is as necessary to a woman as her lipstick, the hair can be turned into a real crown. Last year, this might have meant a dunk in a holly-red dye, but this year the news is an arresting streak or chignon of non-tarnishing metallic fiber, lurex.

This is not the hair streak to be passed off as your own tinted pink or purple. This is a frankly fake addition that has its own sparkle to point up the gleam of freshly-washed and set hair. With one of these hairpieces, the glitter generally left to a rhinestone clip on a hat can be incorporated right into the hair. Gold, silver, blue or black are the colors that can be a metallic bright spot in holiday hair.

For the chignons, the crisp metallic fiber has been interspersed with dymel for softness and shape. For the streaks, pure lurex sparkles solo.

Business Meet Held By Skelly Rebekahs

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — Rebekah Lodge met in the IOOF Hall recently with Mrs. Al Shubring, noble grand, in charge.

Those reported ill in the community this week were John Nichols, Donna Carpenter, Mike Tietz, Jeffery Houghton and Mrs. Chester Darnell. Members made 18 sick visits during the week. Plans for the Christmas party, which will be held at the Dec. 20 meeting were discussed.

Officers for the ensuing term were nominated and Everett Crawford gave a report on the building fund. It was decided to have a bingo party after the election of officers and closing of lodge at the next meeting. The public may attend this party and refreshments will be served.

Serving on the refreshment committee were Messrs. Carlos Beck, George Allen, and Clifford Coleman.

Attending were Messrs. Robert Marlar, Clyde Weaver, Delmar Sims, Clifton Hanna, Fred Genett, Ira Noble, Carlos Beck, Ross Neugin, Virgil Weaver, C. M. Estes, Al Shubring, Les Kreis, Everett Crawford; Miss Addie Fern Lick and Mr. Everett Crawford.

Special Christmas Tree Cake Provides Beautiful Surprise

By GAYNOR MADDOX

FOOD AND MARKETS Editor — We let our boys and their young friends decide which of three special cakes for Christmas they like best. They chose this recipe with the tender chocolate cake decorated with a frosty Xmas tree with coconut and red, green, and silver candies. It's a lovely cake, simple and luscious, perfect for a party, entertaining at dinner or a Christmas supper party.

CHRISTMAS TREE CAKE — 1 cup sifted cake flour, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup butter, margarine or other shortening, 1 cup sugar, 1 egg, 1/2 cup unsweetened cocoa, 1 teaspoon vanilla, 1/2 cup heavy cream, 1/2 cup milk, fluffy frosting, 1/2 cup coconut, 3/4 cup shredded coconut, 3/4 cup green, all-red and gumdrops, all-candy, and gumdrops, and gumdrops.

egg and beat thoroughly. Stir in chocolate and vanilla. Add about 1/4 of the flour and beat well; then add sour cream and beat thoroughly. Add remaining flour, alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth.

Pour batter quickly into 13x9x2-inch pan, which has been lined on bottom with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 to 30 minutes, or until cake springs back when pressed lightly. When cake is cool, frost top and sides with fluffy frosting and sprinkle coconut on sides. On top of cake trace Christmas tree, using a toothpick; then fill in with coconut. Outline tree with red cinnamon candies and silver dragées; then decorate with gumdrop "candies" and additional candies.

THAT'S FOR ME — Jay Lynn Watkins, 2, reaches for a sample of the nut bread his mother, Mrs. Melvin Watkins, has made, while Mrs. Watkins cuts the banana cake. Mrs. Watkins made both the bread and cake ahead of time and kept them in her freezer. Both are good for parties, and the bread makes especially good tea sandwiches. (News photo)

This Is My Dish

Banana Bread Makes Fine Tea Sandwiches

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

"I like to cook especially desserts, and to try new recipes," Mrs. Melvin Watkins, 1221 Terrace, advised. In fact, she liked cooking well-enough to major in home economics and applied arts at Texas Tech in Lubbock.

Practically a native Pampian, Mrs. Watkins has been here since 1929, and both she and her husband were graduated from Pampa High School. She's the daughter of Mrs. Frank Foster of Pampa.

Mrs. Watkins' first practical experience in cooking came when she was in junior high school, when she cooked for the family while her mother helped out in her father's store.

She says she is always saving recipes and trying them out on her husband, who says he sometimes feels like a "guinea pig." But Mr. Watkins, who works for Celanese, is a good cook in his own right, especially on the family outdoor barbecue. The couple have two boys, Tod and Jay Lynn.

Mrs. Watkins says the banana nut bread and the banana cake may be made ahead of time and keep well in the freezer. The banana nut bread makes nice tea sandwiches for coffee and teas.

BANANA NUT BREAD

Cream 1 cup sugar and 1/2 cup shortening. Add:

- 2 eggs
- 3 mashed bananas
- 2 cups flour
- 1 tsp. soda
- pinch salt
- 1/2 cups nuts.

BANANA CAKE

Cream 1 1/4 cups sugar and 1/2 cup shortening. Add 3 eggs. Then add 1 cup bananas, 1 1/4 cups flour, 1 tsp. vanilla, 1 cup nuts, 4 tbsps. soft milk or buttermilk, 1 tsp. soda and 1 tsp. baking powder. Bake at 350 degrees for 30 to 35 minutes.

ICING

Bring to boil 1/2 of 1/4 lb. butter and 1 cup brown sugar. Add 1/4

Budget Main Dish

NEW YORK — UP—Try stuffed onions next time the family's in the mood for a hearty meat and vegetable combination, if the budget is suffering. Pre-cook medium sized onions until they're almost tender. Cut an "x" almost through the onions. Stuff with this combination: 1/2 pound of ground beef; 2 tablespoons each of chopped onion and water; 1/4 cup of soft bread crumbs, and salt and ground black pepper to taste. Bake 20 to 40 minutes in a moderate oven (350 degrees).

In a cold climate, a coat without wind sleeves is a bad buy. If the coat is a bargain, buy the inner cuffs at the five-and-ten and install them. If you're handy with a needle, wool embroidery will brighten the edges of the cuff.

Fashion still means a lot to someone confined to bed in a hospital or at home. Short frilly nighties are more comfortable gifts than ankle-length ones. A pink bed jacket, with a matching lipstick in the pocket, is nice. Not often remembered for the home convalescent is a pillow-slip in a new, becoming pastel color.

We've been on the lookout for recipes to add to Christmas festivities. This Christmas-wreath pudding comes from a Michigan artist kitchen. The cranberry shrub is from the famous Toll House in Whitman, Mass. It is to start Christmas dinner with a toast to Santa Claus.

Christmas-Wreath Pudding

(Yield: 1 wreath, 9 inches in diameter)

Candied fruits to decorate, 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon cinnamon, 1/2 teaspoon allspice, 1 cup chopped dates, 1/2 cup chopped nut meats, 1 cup unsweetened pineapple juice, 1 teaspoon vanilla flavoring, 1/4 cup melted shortening, 1/2 cup ready-to-eat bran.

Arrange candied fruits in bottom of greased 9-inch ring mold. Sift together flour, baking powder, salt, sugar and spices. Stir in dates and nut meats. Combine pineapple juice, vanilla, shortening and ready-to-eat bran. Add pineapple juice mixture to dry ingredients, stirring until combined.

Four batter carefully over candied fruits; bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about one hour. Turn out on serving plate while hot and serve either hot or cold with lemon or hard sauce.

Toll House Fruit Shrub

(Yield: 3 to 4 servings)

One cup cranberry juice cocktail, 1/2 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup orange juice, 1 tablespoon rum, 1/2 cup syrup from spiced peaches, spiced watermelon rind, or other sweet pickled or spiced fruit.

Combine all ingredients and chill thoroughly. Add sugar if necessary.

Miami Club Meets

MIAMI — (Special) — The North Plains Club held its annual fall party in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Theo Jenkins, Turkey and all the trimmings were served to members and their husbands. After the meal, "42" was played.

If your work means a lot of moving around, a blouse with long tails that stays tucked means a lot.

You may find that the frilly styles you want have skinny tails. Attach some more fabric to the bottom. It will never show.

For a chic look this fall, get shoes to match, rather than contrast with, your favorite dress-up outfit. Gloves in the same fabric are a fine trick, but don't wear matching shoes and gloves and dress all at once.

Refreshing Salad Can Double As Dessert

Delicious red apples star in this glamorous jellied salad that's good eating for family or company dinners.

One of the prettiest salads of the season is this molded red apple ring which you can serve for salad or dessert. If you want to be very dressy, top the ring with whipped cream or fill the center with sliced strawberries. For best flavor, select a good eating apple like the crisp, spicy red Delicious variety from Washington State's famous orchards. These popular, broad-shouldered red apples are tender and juicy for fresh fruit eating and in salads and may be used without peeling. Lime or lemon-flavored gelatin will provide good color contrast.

RED APPLE RING SALAD

- 2 pkgs. lime or lemon-flavored gelatin
- 3 cups hot water
- 6 tbsps. lemon juice
- 3 red Delicious apples
- 1 cup celery, sliced
- 1/2 cup broken walnuts

Dissolve gelatin in hot water and blend in lemon juice. Chill until syrupy. Cut 1 1/2 apples in wedges but do not peel. Slice remaining apples. Fold apple wedges, celery and walnuts into slightly thickened gelatin and place a few apple slices near the top of the mixture. Turn into 8-inch ring mold and chill in refrigerator until firm. Unmold and garnish with sliced apples and salad greens. Serve with mayonnaise or mayonnaise mixed with an equal amount of sour cream. If served as dessert, top with whipped cream. Serves 6-8.

Pineapple Desserts For Holiday Season

With holiday entertaining in the air a recipe for "instant" sherbet can be just the thing to add a new note of variety to your menu plans. The easiest first course or dessert can be made in seconds using an electric blender and frozen fresh pineapple chunks. There's no freezing necessary and the frozen pineapple chunks provide the "ice" so you need to use no cracked or crushed ice as in many blender recipes.

Pineapple-Cranberry Sherbet

Measure into your electric blender 1/2 cup cold water and 1/2 cup canned whole cranberry sauce. Add the contents of one 14-ounce can (No. 211) frozen-fresh pineapple chunks, cut into 6 or 8 "frozen blocks" (don't add the whole frozen cylinder in one piece!). Flip the switch and blend just until the consistency of sherbet. Too much blending will liquefy it, so watch carefully! Serve immediately in chilled dessert dishes. Makes about 1 pint or 4 servings.

Pineapple-Milk Sherbet

Measure into your electric blender 1/2 cup cold milk and 1 teaspoon lemon juice. Add the contents of one 14-ounce can (No. 211) frozen-fresh pineapple chunks, cut into 6 or 8 "frozen blocks" (don't add the whole frozen cylinder in one piece!). Flip the switch and blend just until the consistency of sherbet. Too much blending will liquefy it, so watch carefully! Serve immediately in chilled dessert dishes. Makes about 1 pint or 4 servings.

Short gloves are very popular for winter. If you have just-right wrists and arms, cut and whip your old long gloves. If your arms are fat and your wrists wrinkled, cheat a little. Cut longer gloves off about two inches up your arm from your wrist bone.

Sweet Potatoes In Orange Cups

Here is a new and tasty way to prepare the ever-popular sweet potato. Makes a nice dish for a luncheon or buffet affair. Sweet potatoes in orange cups.

- 1 can (11 oz.) mashed sweet potatoes
- 4 oranges
- 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 Tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1 1/2 cups corn flakes
- 2 8 oz. can pineapple tidbits

Cut oranges into halves and remove the pulp. Cut pulp into small pieces. Add butter, salt, brown sugar, cinnamon, and orange pulp to the sweet potatoes. Mix well. Stir in corn flakes. Fill orange cups with the potato mixture. Press 3 or 4 pineapple tidbits into the top of each filled orange cup. Place in baking dish and bake at 350 degrees F. for 20 minutes. Excellent served around ham slice or roasted fowl.

Sweet Potato Nests Made With Sausage

Sweet potato nests, made with pork sausage, are nearly a meal in themselves. A different way to fix an old favorite.

- 1 8 oz. can sweet potatoes
- 2 Tablespoons brown sugar
- 1/2 cup applesauce
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 cup cereal flakes
- 1-2 lb. pork sausage

Drain and mash sweet potatoes. Combine drained sweet potatoes with all other ingredients except

Pre-Holiday Party Plans

Begin the season right! Plan some of your parties both for figure slimming and budget paring. For instance, a luncheon or supper where you serve an economical Cottage Cheese Barbecue Salad will make you popular with your weight-watching friends, as well as the greenhorn who watches your budget! Of course, this delicious salad is chock-full of protein energy.

Cottage Cheese Barbecue Salad

- 1 package lemon gelatin
- 1-1/4 cups hot water
- 1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
- 1-1/2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash of pepper
- 1 cup cottage cheese

Dissolve gelatin in hot water. Add tomato sauce, vinegar, salt and pepper. Blend. Chill until slightly thickened. Then fold in cottage cheese. Pour into 1-quart mold. Chill until firm. Serve on crisp salad greens with mayonnaise. Garnish with cucumber slices and parsley-stuffed bologna slices. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

sausage. Make sausage into three baking dish. Place one sausage patties and fry in skillet. Grease patty in each nest. Bake in oven a flat pan or baking dish. Shape 20 minutes at 375 degrees F. Three sweet potatoes into three nests in servings.

AMA Names Carolinian Doctor Of Year

MIAMI, Dec. 2 —UP—Dr. Karl B. Pace, 66-year-old country doctor of Greenville, N.C., said Tuesday being named General Practitioner of the Year came as his "greatest surprise" and struck like a "bolt of lightning."

"All my life I have gotten a great deal of pleasure out of doing things for other people and I never expected to receive any such honor," the slender, white-haired doctor said.

Pace, who won the American Medical Assn.'s award Monday, said "Everything I am and I hope to be I owe to my mother who taught me to do things for other people."

He also credited his wife with being a mainstay in "my life as a country doctor." She always exerted "every effort to locate me in cases of emergency calls," he said.

The AMA said Pace has been called "one of the most golden assets of his community" by a fellow citizen.

Crop Control Plan Is Out

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 —UP—Agriculture Department officials plan to bury the last remains of a super-tough crop control program that was slated to go into effect next year, it was reported Wednesday.

Informed sources also reported that officials hope to cut by 12 or possibly 23 per cent price support levels on barley, oats, rye and sorghum grain. All are now supported at 50 per cent of parity.

Secretary Ezra T. Benson had originally scheduled what was to be the toughest farm control program on record next year to halt growing surpluses.

Just before the November election he wiped out one of the two main provisions — the so-called "total allotment plan." That would have limited crop production on all acres idled by controls on basic crops.

The new provision expected to be dropped is the "cross-compliance" part of the program.

Under cross-compliance, farmers would have to abide by any and all allotments set to get price supports on any one crop.

If the cross-compliance provision is dropped as now planned, it will mean a farmer can ignore controls on any crop except the one he plans to put under price support. He will still have to comply with a corn allotment, for example to get price supports on corn.

Allotments are scheduled to be in effect on all the basic crops—corn, cotton, wheat, rice, tobacco and peanuts — as well as sugar beets and sugar cane.

Officials feel the cross-compliance provision will not be an effective enough device for cutting down surplus production to warrant the anticipated administrative red tape involved.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Turn Bridge Sleuth; Solve This Problem

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

If you fancy yourself as a bridge detective, get out your pipe and your magnifying glass, and get ready to solve the crime that took place in today's hand. You won't have much trouble spotting the crime, but you may try to put the handcuffs on the wrong player.

When the smoke of the bidding cleared away, West opened the king of spades. Declarer ruffed in dummy, took the ace of clubs, and then led out the ace and king of hearts. South next ruffed his remaining spade to get back to dummy and continued with three more rounds of hearts.

West could ruff the last heart, but South had discarded all of his diamonds by that time and the slam could no longer be defeated. Obviously the slam should have been defeated. It was a crime to let South make six clubs but who was the criminal? Decide for yourself before you read on.

It's true that West could have defeated the slam by leading a diamond. Failure to open a dia-

AFL Union Hospital Plan Under Study

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 —UP—Congressional investigators sought more information Tuesday about an AFL union hospitalization program which paid more profits to the insurance company and its broker than benefits to the workers.

The broker, Earl Liever, Los Altos, Calif., subpoenaed before a House labor subcommittee, said Monday he couldn't "condone" the big commission payments he has received and announced he has voluntarily surrendered part of those still due him.

Rep. Roy W. Wiser (D-Minn.) snapped that Liever's "conscience" — after five years — was "finally starting to hurt."

Liever said commissions he has received amount to $45,773 or 28 per cent of the $163,268 paid in premiums during the first five years. Meanwhile, the policy beneficiaries — AFL Hotel and Restaurant Employes and Bartenders at Atlantic City, N.J. — collected $82,984 in medical hospitalization benefits.

The subcommittee is investigating alleged abuses in the handling of labor union welfare and pension funds which have mushroomed to an estimated $20 billion.

Dam Machinery Placed On Site

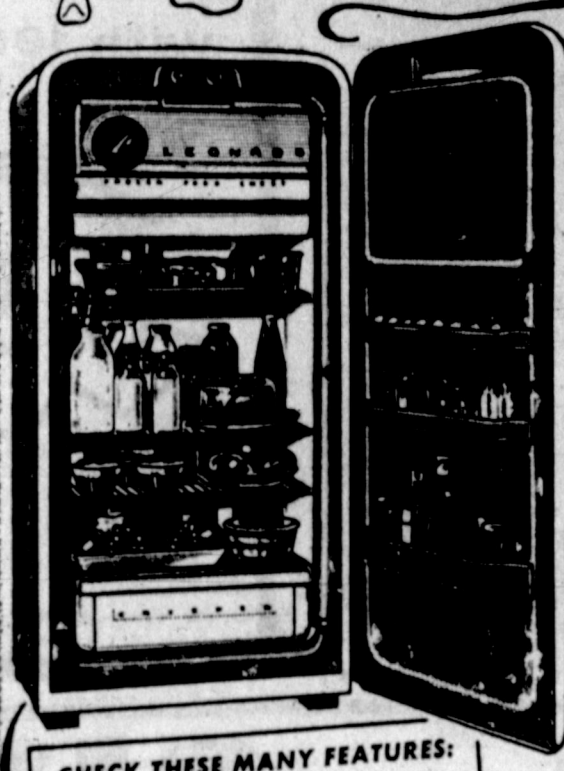

CUADRA ACUNA, Mex., Dec. 2 —UP—The first machinery which will be used to construct El Diablo dam across the Rio Grande, upstream from Ciudad Acuna and Del Rio, Tex., has arrived.

Construction of the dam, below the mouth of Devil's River on the U.S. side, will begin early next year and is expected to take some three years.

The Diablo dam will be the second international dam built jointly by the United States and Mexico for flood control and to supply water for irrigation and electric power. It will be larger than Fallston dam, finished in 1953, which is now under construction between Laredo and San Antonio, Tex.

Harvester Cagers Prep For Rugged Weekend Tilts Here

The Harvester basketball team, winners of their lone start to date, are preparing for a pair of weekend tussles scheduled at Harvester Fieldhouse this week end.

The Green and Gold five will entertain the Vernon Lions Friday night and the Sudan Hornets Saturday night.

In their first outing this season, the Harvesters downed the Tulla Hornets, 77-39, Tuesday night.

Meanwhile in the Harvester camp, Coach Clifton McNeely is confronted with the problem of finding a replacement for the injured Benny Cartwright.

The Harvesters will be in fine physical shape for their week end encounters with Vernon and Sudan.

The Hornets defeated Borger, 63-55, Saturday night and came back Tuesday to turn back Lubbock, 59-48.

The Harvesters will be seeking their 58th straight win in tomorrow's game with Vernon.

Sudan has an all-veteran team. Reports from Sudan has it that the Hornets plan to go all the way this year in winning the State Class A crown.

The Hornets lost to Sundown in last year's regional finals by a single point and have the same team returning this season for another try.

Cartwright injured an ankle in Tuesday's opener and will be unable to take the floor this weekend. Cartwright was one of the starting forwards.

Otherwise the Harvesters will be in fine physical shape for their week end encounters with Vernon and Sudan.

Sudan has an all-veteran team. Reports from Sudan has it that the

ALL-STATE -- James Jolly, McLean Tiger guard, has been chosen on the All-State Class A team as chosen by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram. Jolly, weighing 182 pounds, will lead the Tiger defense into Friday afternoon's regional finals against Sundown at Canyon. Two other players, quarterback Ricky Mantooth and end Rodney Gunn, won All-State Honorable Mention by the Star-Telegram. (News Photo)

Pampa, Borger Glovers In Inter-City Matches Tonight

Borger Team Coached By Ex-Pampan

The top action-packed card of the Pampa boxing season this year will be unreeled tonight when the Pampa Optimist Boys Club boxing team takes on the Borger Jay-Cee team at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club arena.

Tommy Richardson, 180 pounds, who has just completed a tour of duty with the Harvesters footballers, will go against Earl Young of the Borger team.

Then veteran Jessa Ring 140, of the Pampa squad, is pitted against Larry Fisk of Borger in what promises to be a slam-bang affair.

And still another fight that will be packed with action is the Gary Wilhelm-Scotter Darden scrap in the 126-pound division.

Wilhelm, who has gained upwards of 20 pounds since last season, is rapidly developing into a fine fisticuffer on the Pampa team.

Darden only Monday night of this week punched out an easy decision over highly regarded Marty Perez of Amarillo.

The Borger team, coached by T. J. Watt, who for several years coached the Pampa glovers, won Monday night's team match with Amarillo, 7-2.

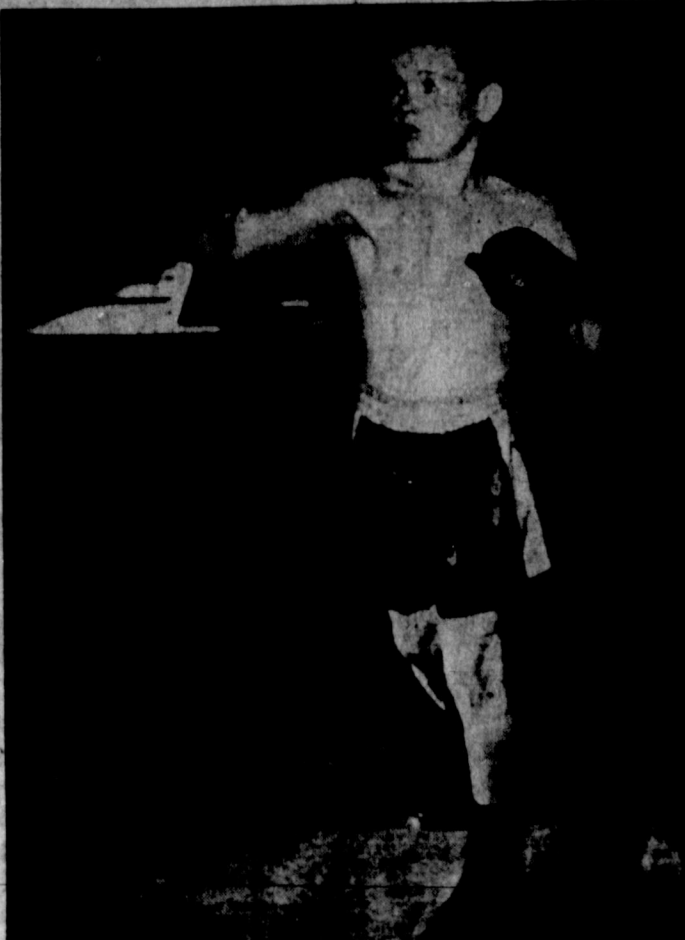

Watt is returning to Pampa boxing wars for the first time since leaving here last season.

Watt's two sons, Gary and Carl, are expected to appear on tonight's card.

All other Borger mittmen who recorded wins Monday are expected to be on tonight's slate.

Pampa will return the matches next Monday night at Borger.

Admission prices for the fights are 75 cents for adults and 25 for students. All proceeds go into the Optimist Club Boys Fund.

IN FEATURE BOUT -- Gary Wilhelm, Pampa, above, will fight Scotter Darden of Borger in tonight's inter-city boxing matches between the Pampa Optimist Boys Club and the Borger Jay-Cees at the Top of Texas Sportsman's Club arena. Wilhelm, in the photo above, scaled only 105 pounds, the weight he fought in last year, but he has now grown to 126 pounds. (News Photo)

Tech's Weaver To Speak At PHS Grid Feed

DeWitt Weaver, head coach at Texas Tech, will be the guest speaker at the Harvester football banquet, Ralph Gardner, chairman of the speakers' committee, has revealed.

The banquet date has been set for Jan. 20, at the Pampa High School cafeteria.

The banquet will be sponsored, as usual, by the Pampa Quarter-back Club.

Weaver has led the Texas Tech Red Raiders to the Borger Conference title three times in the four seasons he has been at the Red Raider helm.

The Raiders have just completed their season with a 7-2-1 slate and their second straight Borger Conference title.

Weaver guided the Raiders to the school's most successful season in 1953, 10 wins and one defeat.

One of the wins was a crushing 35-13 Galor-Bowl win over Auburn New Year's Day.

For his achievements last year, Weaver was chosen the "Southwesterner of the Year" for the 1953 season.

Weaver has gained a wide reputation as being a fine after-dinner speaker.

The Raider coach will probably bring along two of Pampa's gifts to Texas Tech, Jerry Walker and Elmer Wilson. Walker has just been chosen on the All-Borger Conference team for the second year in a row.

Middleweights Sign Bout CHICAGO, Dec. 2 --UP-- Middleweights Ninos Solomons and Joe Leudanski have signed to meet in the 10-round feature at the Marigold Garden Dec. 7.

Fans wishing to get in on the big saving of the Harvester season basketball ticket books must purchase the ducals by tomorrow at 5 p.m.

The 10-game Harvester home schedule will start with two games this week end and three next week.

Price of the 10-game book is $8 which is a saving of $2 over the 10 single admission prices of $1 each.

Tickets are available at the school business office in the City Hall. Roy McMillen, school business manager, reports that plenty of good seats still remain.

Jim Buonopane New Captain WORCESTER, Mass., Dec. 2 --UP-- Jim Buonopane, United Press All-New England guard in 1953 and 1954, was elected captain of the 1955 Holy Cross football team by the 26 Crusader lettermen.

The 23-year-old lineman from Malden, Mass., served two years in the Army, from 1952 through 1953.

Chamber Of Commerce To Aid Oiler Cause In Pampa

The Pampa Chamber of Commerce will make every effort to keep the Oiler franchise in Pampa, according to word handed down by Floyd Watson, CC president.

"If there is a plan feasible to work with, we'll do everything in our power to keep the club here," Watson said.

A meeting of the Chamber of Commerce sports Committee will be called as soon as it is learned what Doug Mills' plans are for disposal of the club.

Watson pointed out that when this meeting is called that all baseball fans in the city, member or not, will be cordially invited.

Mills has told West Texas-New Mexico League president, Hal Sayles, he doesn't intend to operate the Oilers for next year.

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

THERE'S CONSIDERABLE TALK circulating around town today concerning the status of the Pampa Oilers.

This department regrets that we can't throw much light on the matter, pro or con. Oiler owner Doug Mills has been "out of pocket" since it was announced at the Minor League meeting in Houston Tuesday night that the Oilers were up for sale.

And, as far as we know, no one here who is interested in doing something about keeping the club in Pampa has been able to contact Mills or even know his whereabouts.

Our baseball citizens can't do anything about the matter until they learn of Doug's plans.

The Sports Committee of the Chamber of Commerce is ready to start the ball rolling in striving to save the Oiler franchise.

As soon as Mills reveals his plans, the committee will get right to work in an attempt to solve the situation.

Most of the conversation in the air at the moment is to turn the club into a community project. This method of operation has saved a lot of minor league franchises down through the years.

Three clubs in the West Texas-New Mexico League formed a corporation last year with pretty good results. The three are Abilene, Plainview and Clovis.

A fourth W-T-N-M team, Albuquerque, will operate next year under the community project plan.

Well, we'll be passing along additional info on the Oiler situation as soon as it is available.

CONGRATULATIONS to James Jolly of the McLean Tigers who has been chosen on the All-State Class A team as chosen by the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Jolly, a 182-pound guard, is the only District I-A player chosen on the ST all-state eleven.

Two other McLean players won honorable mention, end Rodney Gunn and quarterback Ricky Mantooth.

Herb Owens, who authored the ST all-state selections, made the following statement on the quarterback position:

"Selection of quarterback was difficult with Ricky Mantooth of McLean and George Wright of Sonora both making strong bids."

"But Hal Sandefer, 'the Duke of Paducah,' can do everything, well. He is most outstanding as a play selector and runner. Since Paducah has a strong, well-balanced backfield, Sandefer is not the workhorse that other quarterbacks might be."

If McLean and Paducah are fortunate enough to stay in the running the next two weeks, the two teams will meet each other in the semi-finals which would be the "battle of the quarterbacks."

McLean takes on Sundown Friday, 2:30 p.m. at Canyon while Paducah meets Clifton Friday at Wichita Falls.

Nats Buy 2 Oilers

The Washington Senators Wednesday night bought two players from the Pampa Oilers of the West Texas-New Mexico League. They were Curtis Hardaway, left, a Negro infielder hitting .333 last season, and Vibert Clarke, a left-handed pitcher who had an 18-7 record. Hardaway was the WT-NM's "Rookie of the Year."

Longhorns Not Represented

Rice Lands Three On UP All-SWC 11

DALLAS, Dec. 2—UP—All-America Halfback Dicky Moegle anchored a three-man Rice Institute delegation on the 1954 United Press all-Southwest Conference football team, which was marked by the absence of any players from pre-season favored Texas.

Moegle, the slender speedster whose loping gait gave him the conference rushing leadership by a wide margin, was one of three stand-outs who gained unanimous approval of United Press sports writers and 14 conference scouts who balloted on the mythical team.

Sweeping endorsement of the voting panel also went to Bud Brooks, Arkansas' gifted guard who also was an all-America running mate of Moegle's this season, and halfback Frank Eldom, the sparkplug of Southern Methodist's rumbly running attack.

It was the first time in the memory of the balloters that perennially powerful Texas failed to place at least one man on the honor roll.

Texas Not Represented
This season, Texas was the only school not represented on the team, which was made up of three players from Rice, two each from Arkansas, Baylor and cellar-bound Texas A&M and one each from SMU and Texas Christian.

James Ray Smith, Baylor's rangy tackle, was the only repeater from the 1953 honor team, while Moegle, Eldom and Rice guard Kenny Paul made it up from last year's second team and Brooks jumped from the 1953 third team.

Rounding out the backfield were Elwood Kettler, the halfback Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant converted into his T-quarterback at Texas A&M, and Henry Moore, the driving fullback from Arkansas.

Besides Brooks, Paul and Smith, the line was made up of ends Henry Gremminger of Baylor and Bennie Sinclair of Texas A&M, tackle Eddie Rayburn of Rice and center Hugh Pitts of TCU.

Two Close Ones
The only close battles for a berth was at end where Sinclair nosed out SMU's Ray Berry by two points and at tackle where Rayburn edged Forrest Gregg of SMU by six points.

In addition to Moegle, Brooks and Eldom, who received the maximum 75 points, Smith came close to being unanimous with only one second-team vote breaking the chain to give him 73 points. Pitts was the next most popular choice with 70 points, followed by Paul with 65, Moore 63, Gremminger 54, Kettler 52, Sinclair 49 and Rayburn 48.

The second team backfield had five men due to a point tie between George Walker of Arkansas and Del Shofner of Baylor (24 each). The others were Bill Hooper of Baylor, James Swink of TCU

4 Southwesterners Named On Look's All-American Team

NEW YORK, Nov. 30—UP—The Midwest dominated the 23-man Look magazine All-America football team announced Saturday as selected by the Football Writers Association of America, placing nine players on the mythical squad.

There were five players from the South, four from the Southwest, three from the Pacific Coast and two from the East.

The writers, in making their selections, choose two players for each position and do not designate as first or second teams.

There are just too many top-ranking football players in the country for anyone to single out 11 of them and state categorically they are the best," the magazine stated in announcing its selections.

A special citation was given to Bud Brooks, the star tackle for the Arkansas Razorbacks, who was given the John B. Outland trophy as the outstanding lineman of the year. Only guards and tackles are eligible for this award.

Lunsford Only Unanimous On UP All-MVC

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 2—UP—Champion Wichita's sensational sophomore passing combination — Jack Conway to Jim Kilianin — was selected Thursday in the backfield of the United Press All-Missouri Valley Conference football team.

The team of stars, including two other Shockers from Coach Jack Mitchell's fabulous once-beaten crew, was dominated by undergraduates.

The only unanimous first-team choice was Oklahoma A&M's powerful fullback, earthquake Earl Lunsford. The 180-pound junior from Stillwater, Okla., tops the MVC in scoring with nine touchdowns and is one of the nation's leading ground gainers.

The valley's top passer was Conway, 18-year-old quarterback who tossed 25 completions for 643 yards and nine touchdowns to lead the Shockers to their first crown in the nine years they have been in the conference.

Kilianin, Conway's most consistent target, was chosen at fullback. The 20-year-old broken field runner ranks second in ball-lugging with 527 yards and was on the receiving end of eight aerials. He scored five touchdowns.

Lee Riley, one of Detroit's "touchdown twins," received votes on every ballot but one to take the other halfback post. He ranks high in yardage and scoring with another game to play.

A sophomore also won an end berth. He is Ronnie Emborg, Houston's 210-pound receiver. The other end is Neil Sikles of Wichita.

Guards Ralph Denton, the Shockers' 21-year-old honorable mention in the U.P. All-America poll, and Joe Belluso, Detroit's outstanding prospect, received the most votes among linemen.

Leland Kendall and Don Holcomb, both of Oklahoma A&M, were picked at the tackle positions.

Jim Sippy, Wichita's other halfback, barely missed displacing Kilianin as even the Shockers' other signal-caller, Connie Hoffmann, got enough recognition for a second-team berth.

Sugar Bowl a Sellout

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 2—UP—The Sugar Bowl announced Wednesday night that Navy Secretary Charles E. Thomas had confirmed that he would attend the Navy-Mississippi New Year's classic and also announced officially that the game is a sellout. President Bernie Grenrod said that no more orders would be taken and said that hundreds of checks and money orders had to be returned. The Sugar Bowl has seats for 82,895.

Jockey Scores Triple

BOWIE, Md., Dec. 2—UP—Hendry Block was credited with a riding triple at Bowie Wednesday when Thorncliff Farm's Rock Cottage was disqualified in the feature race at Bowie. Block scored on Top Value ($4) and Columille ($13.40) before being awarded the feature on Territory, who actually finished second to Rock Cottage. Territory paid $7.50.

PASADENA, Calif., Nov. 29—UP—El Camino Junior College of Lawndale, Calif., was chosen Monday to represent the West in the ninth annual Junior Rose Bowl game, Dec. 11. The eastern representative was to be announced Monday.

In Border Conference

Luppino Grabs 3 Individual Titles

By UNITED PRESS
A young tailback on the fourth-place team — Art Luppino of Arizona — left the whole field behind in winning most of the individual honors of the Border Conference football season, final statistics showed Thursday.

The flashy youngster, who is only a sophomore, led in scoring and rushing and in total offense.

Border Conference champion Texas Tech dominated final team statistics with a team that produced no individual stars.

While scoring an average of nearly 37 points per game, and running up 61 points against each of their last two opponents, the Red Raiders include no men among the nation's top individual football scorers.

Instead, 48 points were the most scored by any individual member of the team. Sixteen average per game scores 97 points in 10 games, slightly under the 1953 Tech average of 38.6.

Tech led the Border Conference in total team offense, rushing offense, total defense and rushing defense.

Hardin-Simmons, quarterbacked by ace heaver Ken (Model A) Ford, was the best passing team offensively and Texas Western won passing defense honors.

Tech, on total offense, averaged 424.3 yards per game, gaining a total of 4,243 yards in 667 plays. Rushing, Tech averaged 216.4 yards per game, for a total of 3,164 yards in 562 rushes.

The Red Raiders altogether gave up 267.1 yards average per game, a total of 2,671 over the season in rushing defense. Tech allowed opponents an average 180.3 yards per game, a total of 1,803.

Sports Briefs

West Shrine Team Filled
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2—UP—Burdette Heaz tackle and guard at the University of Idaho, was named to the West team Wednesday, thus completing the squad's roster for the 30th annual East-West Shrine game at Kezar Stadium, Jan. 1. UCLA, California and Oregon each named three of the 24 spots on the West roster.

Olson Prepares for Fight
SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2—UP—World middleweight champion Carl (Boke) Olson, who meets Frenchman Pierre Langlois in a title bout here on Dec. 15, worked eight rounds against two sparring partners Wednesday. The champ now has worked 56 rounds and his manager, Sid Flaherty, said Olson will speed up his drills early and will taper off gradually.

Paradise Junior College of Lawndale, Calif., was chosen Monday to represent the West in the ninth annual Junior Rose Bowl game, Dec. 11. The eastern representative was to be announced Monday.

Norkus Upsets R. LaStarza

CLEVELAND, Dec. 2—UP—Bull-shouldered Charley Norkus of Jersey City, fresh from an upset victory over heavyweight contender Roland LaStarza, proposed Thursday a three-man elimination for a shot at the crown.

Unranked Norkus disposed of seventh-rated LaStarza of New York Wednesday night on a unanimous 10-round decision before 9,112 bored fans in the Cleveland arena.

Sluggish Charley, a 3 to 1 underdog, was aflame with title ambition because he had beaten challenger La Starza, "although I'll admit I fought a stupid fight," he added, "I should have knocked him out."

Continuing eagerly, Norkus said, "Mino Valdes of Cuba and Don Cockeril of England want a title shot. I do, too. So, why don't the three of us fight it out, and let the winner meet Rocky Marciano for the title?"

The New Jersey joller, weighing 192 1/2 pounds to LaStarza's 190, forced the action in every round as "reluctant Roland" retreated from rope to rope and refused to lead.

Six Candidates Apply For Hurricane Coach Vacancy

TULSA, Dec. 2—UP—Six candidates have applied for the head football coaching job at Tulsa University, which fired Bernie Witucki after his teams won only three games in two years.

But Tulsa officials said the names of all six applicants would be held in confidence.

Witucki and his four assistants were booted out Monday. Tulsa won only three games in 1953 and won none in 11 tries this season.

Among candidates mentioned for the post were UCLA Line Coach Jim Meyers; Paul Young, highly successful high school coach at Muskogee Okla.; Glenn Dobbs, former Tulsa backfield star, and Pefry Moss, backfield coach at Miami of Florida.

Moss and Young expressed interest in the post while Meyers and Dobbs said they hadn't been approached.

Moss, who helped steer Tulsa to a two-touchdown victory over Georgia Tech in the Orange Bowl in 1945, told the Tulsa Tribune by telephone that he would like the job.

Young said, "A man is always interested in bettering himself." At Los Angeles, Meyers said he had heard nothing from Tulsa and hadn't applied "but naturally I'd be interested in any head coaching job that offered me a chance to improve my present status."

Determine Gets Top Weight

ALBANY, Calif., Dec. 2—UP—Andrew Crevolin's Determine, the little grey colt who won this year's Kentucky Derby, has been assigned top weight of 126 pounds for Saturday's running of the $15,000 added Oakland Handicap at Golden Gate Fields.
