Showdown Scheduled On Cohn-Army Feud

IN THE MAKING — This is the way the bridge now being built between Lefors and McLean on Texas Hwy. 275 looked late this morning. Located three miles southeast of Lefors, the bridge is "about 25 per cent complete." Pampa engineers said this morning. Steel H-pilings stretch up into the air and the horizontal steel forms are being placed atop them after "concrete caps" are installed. In the right foreground can be seen the state of the actual bridge roadway. In the foreground and up to the left is the parallel detour, on the left going toward McLean, which was the first thing constructed when work got underway in early January. Bell, Braden, Baker and Gilvin, Inc., Amarillo, is the contractor for the job. The bridge will have 30 spans and will be 910 feet long. (News Photo)

Paternity Accusations Anger Airmen Stationed In Britain

LONDON, March 16 —UP—The American air force in Britain is an easy-going outfit — in peacetime — but one persistent, widely believed rumor has it fighting mad. And that is that its members have sired 70,000 illegitimate babies in present-day Britain. This story has the U.S.A.F. so aggrieved that it has been relentlessly tracking it back to its origin. "But before you go into that," said Col. Lee Baker at Third Air Division headquarters at Ruislip. "Please make it clear that this figure is a straight phony. No one kept any statistics during the war and anyhow those offspring would be nine to 12 years old now—well out of the baby class, so it doesn't apply to them."

Said To Be A 'Killer'

LOS ANGELES, March 16 —UP—Eerie screams that "sounded like a cat but only more so," sent police officers into a wooded area north of downtown Los Angeles Tuesday searching for a vicious black panther. Two policemen heard the screams several times after they were summoned to the area by a man trembling with fright. Officers, who had been searching in a residential section about four miles away, where the missing 140-pound "killer" cat was reported seen Monday night, were called in on the new search. Patrolmen M. N. Alexander and R. E. Brown sent out a call for reinforcements at about 4 a. m. Tuesday only minutes after they answered the call of a frightened man. Moments after the man told them of hearing "a terrible cat-like scream" from a clump of nearby trees, the officers reported, they themselves heard a scream. "We heard an awful screaming and it was close," Alexander said. "It sounded like the scream of an injured cat."

Five Cited For Liquor Violations

Charges of liquor law violation were filed late this morning in Gray County court here against five Pampans. Filing of the charges resulted from raids made Saturday night by officials of the State Liquor Control board's Amarillo office. Charges filed in the office of County Attorney Bill Waters include: Roy Edwards, possession of liquor for purposes of sale; Glenda Allen, sale of liquor on Sunday; Mrs. A. B. Perry, sale of liquor on Sunday; W. T. Harris, possession of liquor at a place other than licensed premises, and A. J. Hindman, sale of beer during prohibitive hours. The last three named will be administrative cases, while those involving Glenda Allen and Edwards will be criminal cases, according to Bill Harris of the Amarillo office, who filed the charges. These administrative cases, along with others expected to be filed later, will be handled by the office of Coke R. Stevenson, Jr., administrator of the State Liquor Control Board, Harris said.

Rain Predicted In West Texas

By UNITED PRESS
Texas temperatures were expected to continue rising slowly Tuesday and Tuesday night, and increasing cloudiness was expected over the state. Very light rains were forecast for West Texas, to spread over the remainder of state Wednesday. The rains won't amount to much, the weather bureau said.

McCarthy Absent From Proceedings

WASHINGTON, March 16 —UP—The strife-torn Senate Permanent Investigating subcommittee was called into a showdown meeting Tuesday with all members except Chairman Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) demanding an immediate inquiry into charges against subcommittee chief counsel Roy M. Cohn. McCarthy said he had already investigated the Army's charge that Cohn used the pressure and threats to get special favors for his drafted friend and former subcommittee aide, Pvt. David G. Schine.

French Battle 4-To-1 Odds In Indo-China

HANOI, Indo-China, March 16 —UP—"Unbelievable" Communist artillery cut off Dien Bien Phu's two airports Tuesday and its besieged 10,000-man French garrison fighting against odds of four to one. French planes were shot down and the worst was yet to come in the biggest perhaps most decisive battle of the seven-year Indo-China war.

Communist hordes estimated at the start of the battle Saturday at 40,000 men, pressed their ground offensive, ignoring their own dead piled against Dien Bien Phu's barbed wire defenses. Some of the Reds made "human bombs" of themselves, lashing dynamite around their chests and blowing themselves to bits against the wire. Others poked explosive-packed bamboo rods through the French barbed wire thickets to blast paths for new attacks.

Death Toll In SA At 6

SAN ANTONIO, March 16 —UP—Two Randolph Air Force Base airmen died Monday in a four-car pileup on U.S. Highway 97 north-west of the city. Three other persons died of accidents, and the body of a 26-year-old barmaid was found in a debris-littered lot in a residential section. The airmen, Marvin C. Kumerth and Woodrow F. Kerwood, were killed when one auto plowed into the back of another, pushing it into the path of a third. A fourth car plunged into the three wrecked autos. Home towns of the two victims were not immediately available.

'Go' Signal For Offshore Production

WASHINGTON, March 16 —UP—The Supreme Court's sanction of state ownership of the tidelands completed the way Tuesday for increased offshore oil production and payment of millions in piled-up royalties to three states.

Bride Wants To Start Over

NEW YORK, March 16 —UP—A 67-year-old bride asked federal authorities Tuesday to drop the grand larceny charges she had brought against her husband for disappearing with $243,000 in cash and her cream-colored Cadillac. The bride, Mrs. Doyl Prather Herman, met and made up with the wayward groom in a courtroom Monday. She said she was anxious to resume the honeymoon which was interrupted by his disappearance in Virginia 12 days ago. The groom, Percy William Herman told U. S. Commissioner Edward McDonald it was car trouble that caused him to abandon his bride in a honeymoon cottage near Stafford, Va. He went out to look for a garage and first thing he knew he had driven clear to New Jersey.

W. B. (A) Neel To Represent City At Gas Rate Hearing

City Commissioner W. B. (A) Neel will represent the Pampa City commission at 10 a. m. Thursday in Austin when Judge Jack Roberts opens a hearing in 129th District court on a suit filed by Empire Southern Gas company against the City of Pampa and the Texas Railroad commission. Neel volunteered this morning to make the trip and the commission agreed. Empire seeks to have a TRCO compromise decision on the hiking of natural gas rates in Pampa set aside. The TRCO handed down its ruling effective Feb. 15. Approval of clean-up dates in the city's four wards, of a tax on the city's water meters, of air-conditioning estimates and of a transfer of funds between the city and the county took up the remainder of the commission's time. Following City-County Sanitation L. E. West's announcement Saturday of a city-clean-up, the commission decided on these dates for each ward's cleanup: Ward One, April 19-21; Ward Two, April 22-24; Ward Three, April 25-27; and Ward Four, April 28-30, May 1. Nothing will be picked up that two men can't handle. To help the Canadian River Municipal Water authority pay its installment expenses, the commission followed its Jan. 19 decision and okayed payment to the authority of $1,960. That is derived from 26 cents on each of the city's 5,440 water meters, as of Jan. 15 when the commission decided to go as high as $1 per meter as its share of the authority's expenses. Each of the 11 other Panhandle plains communities which passed Nov. 24 on the authority contribute to the authority's expenses. An estimate of $1,675.81 by Brown and Hinkle of Pampa, was approved (See HEARING, Page 3).

Jets Collide In Mid-Air Over Kansas

OVERBROOK, Kan., March 16 —UP—Two B-47 jet bombers from Wichita Air Force Base collided aloft Tuesday over eastern Kansas, sending one crashing to earth while the other reached its home field with a damaged tail section. Three bodies were recovered at the crash scene, the farm of Ira Faust, three miles east and two north of this small town. Part of the plane's landing gear and fuselage landed in a corn field about 100 yards east of the Faust farm home. Other parts were scattered for a quarter of a mile along a wooded ravine.

Butler Group Endorses Cut

WASHINGTON, March 16 —UP—The butter industry Tuesday endorsed a plan to cut grocery store prices of butter by 23 cents a pound. R. H. Farr, a spokesman for the American Butter Institute, Chicago, called for legislation authorizing the Commodity Credit Corp. to finance a 15 per cent pound roll-back in butter prices. Farr was among five witnesses of the Dairy Industry committee, an organization of seven national dairy associations, testifying on dairy problems before the Senate Agriculture committee.

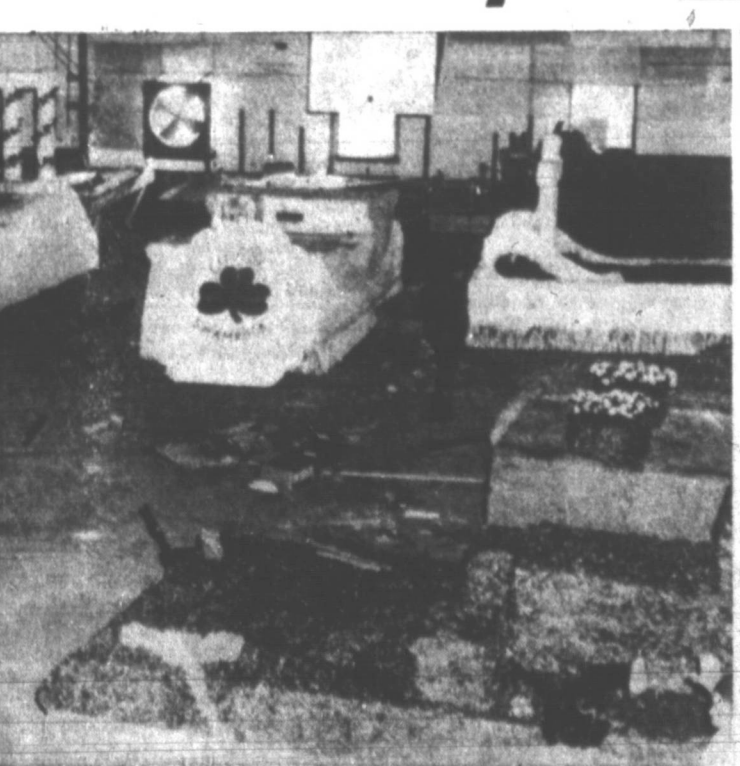

Story Of Our Hidden Heroes

The first of five installments about "Our Hidden Heroes," by NEA Staff Correspondent Douglas Larsen appears today on page 7 of the Pampa Daily News. This series of heretofore unpublished facts tells the story of a group of Americans who unselfishly assumed Red identities in order to help our government uncover Communist infiltration into the ranks of labor, professional groups, and federal workers.

Shamrock Gets Ready For 'Big Day'

GETTING THEM READY — Every large building in Shamrock was a bee-hive of activity today as residents of this "Irish" city hustled through the construction of floats for the St. Patrick's Day parade, which begins at 11 a. m. Wednesday. Here are a half-dozen floats in the making. In the center of the room is the Seal of Shamrock with That Clover of the Day on it—the shamrock. Many of the floats being built, an estimated 85 of them, will be so large that the actual putting-up of them will have to be done outside the buildings. The huge stock-truck doorways are not high enough. Area cities and concerns are sending floats for the parade—even Shamrock's Negro school. (News Photo)

Drive Looms On Tax Cuts

WASHINGTON, March 16 —UP—Democratic leaders refused Tuesday to accept President Eisenhower's formula for taxes "fair to all" and made plans to press their drive to cut income taxes by boosting exemptions. They demanded and got free radio and television time Tuesday night to answer the President's statement opposing any "unsound tax proposal." Three congressional spokesmen will present the Democrats' case from 8 to 8:15 p. m. cat.

Senate Rules Group Votes Chavez Ouster

WASHINGTON, March 16 —UP—The Senate Rules committee Monday approved 5 to 4 an elections subcommittee report recommending the ouster of Sen. Dennis Chavez (D-N.M.). The action cleared the way for a Senate showdown on the question of whether Chavez shall be seated permanently or his seat declared vacant. The issue is expected to be decided on the Senate floor early next week.

3 Injured In Plane Crash

MIDLAND, Tex., March 16 —UP—A Continental Airlines plane with 11 persons aboard crashed in a rough field three miles from the Midland airport Tuesday and at least three persons were injured. A spokesman for the airline said all passengers "walked away." The plane, bound for Lubbock from Midland, had just taken off from the Midland airport. The pilot, Capt. H. E. Perkins, said the controls froze at about 500 feet and the plane fell to the ground. It crashed on the right wing, breaking off the wing. The hostess, P. A. Williams, was thrown out of the plane but her injuries were not serious.

5 Injured In Plane Crash

The injured included the stewardess, Miss P. A. Williams, who was thrown from the plane, Perkins, who suffered head injuries, and the co-pilot, R. B. Sager. None of the three required hospitalization.

Pampa News Staff Writer SHAMROCK — (Special) — This city with the Irish name today was going all-out in its final preparations for the annual Wearin' Of the Green.

For St. Patrick's Day — Wednesday is the one day of the year that the whole community, all 3,500 of them, gets together to put on a show that is becoming nationally recognized. This will be the eighth annual St. Patrick's Day Celebration and Shamrockians today were getting ready for the estimated 30,000 persons expected to be on hand. Already they were sporting their donegals, their green toppers and that native humor of the Irish.

Official recognition from Ireland itself was expected sometime today. The Lord Mayor of Dublin, Ireland, Bernard Butler, was to send by air some shamrocks for the occasion. Distinguished visitors pilots, collectors, old settlers, the parade, visiting bands and a drum-and-cornet corps drill team, balloon-tying contests, an old fiddlers' contest, a grand old opey, 38 floats, motor caravans and a canoe, all of them — and more — will be featured during this one big day.

But, more than anything else, it is a community-wide project with the entire population pitching in. "Everybody's involved, you can't get away from it," one resident said. An early bandmaster of the city just 14 miles west of the Oklahoma line, Glenn Truax, is the one who is attributed with "taking up" (See SHAMROCK, Page 3).

Senior Play Ends Tonight
The second and final presentation of "January Thaw," the Pampa high school senior class play, will be given at 8 p. m. today in the high school auditorium.

A large crowd was on hand for the opening performance Monday night to see the three-act comedy by William Roos. The play was adapted from a novel by Bellamy Partridge.

During the intermission between the second and third acts Miss Helen Schaffer, the play's director, presented a dozen roses from the cast and stage crew.

Tickets for tonight's final performance may be purchased at the door or from members of the senior class.

SHAMROCK

Shamrock Boosters Club, non-affiliated, carried the ball till "it got too big to handle." Then a St. Patrick's Day Association was formed and took over.

Actually, some of the preparations have been underway for two months and more. That's when the growing of the deneogals — a beard from ear to chin to ear — had begun. And was to be the resident in the "docks" to have come Wednesday. There's only one way to get out of it.

"I'm sorry but I have to obey my wife," is the way the shaving permit, issued upon payment of a fee, reads. It's either that or the stocks for those who don't comply.

First event in the celebration is slated for 8 p. m. today in the Shamrock National Guard armory. It will be a banquet honoring distinguished visitors and guests. Expected to be on hand are Olin Culbertson, Texas Railroad Commission member; Bascom Giles, state land commissioner; Mike Gray, Oklahoma state representative and senator, respectively.

Registration of Old Settlers comes at 9:30 a. m. in the Lewis Motor Company. Each of them, as he registers, will write down a short history of himself, which will be turned over to the Shamrock High School library now compiling a history of Wheeler County.

The Shamrock Irish Band will hold a concert at 8:30 a. m. on the sound stage at Main and Second Streets, followed by the opening ceremonies.

Registration of visiting colliers, who will compete for a "Miss Irish Rose" title, begins at 10 a. m. in the Montgomery Chevrolet Building.

An even 20 lassies were in the running late this morning. They were Marilyn Bogan, Berger; Marilyn Hunt, Dodson; Katherine Kildwell, Shamrock; Martha Ann Kirk, Groom; Glenda Richardson, Wheeler; Patricia Ann Long, Hollie; Joyce Greene, Gruver, Okla.; Marilyn Mabry, Amarillo, Frankie Tucker, McLean; Kay Jones, Allison; Linda Adcock, Miami; Rachel Carter, Wellington; Sue Tally Clarendon; Karen Hirdon, Kelton; Anne Riley, Spearman; Kathleen Ellis, Erick, Okla.; Kathleen Riley, Canadian; Fern Ottschell, Briscoe; Joy Anderson, Texola, Okla.

At 11 a. m. the parade kicks off with all manner of floats and riding teams expected to be on hand. Even a Shamrock Sheriff's posse has been formed and this morning the horsemen were taking their charges over the parade route to get the horses used to the pavement and the noise. The parade will go 15 blocks.

A luncheon for participating band members will be held at noon in the North ward Cafeteria and 15 minutes later the Bell Canto Chorus, of Quilan, will perform on the sound stage. Among the bands will be the Panhandle A & M Precision Drill Team and the Khiva Drum and Bugle Corps the former going on stage at 1 p. m.

Luncheon for the colliers comes at 1:30 p. m. in the First Christian Church. At that time the judges will get personal histories of them. Of course, they have already "decorated the floats" in the parade.

Mrs. J. R. Tindall will interview the lassies.

Between 2 p. m. and 2:30 p. m. there will be a baton twirling act, a Bell Canto Chorus concert, the presentation of awards for bands and floats, a roping contest featuring footballer Sammy Baugh, in Khiva Corps — and the coronation of "Miss Irish Rose" in the armory building. The West Texas State College Drill Team and an Old Fiddlers Contest will round out the afternoon.

The Collingsworth County Grand Old Opry will kick off at 7:30 p. m. in Clark Auditorium and a dance, featuring Ted Wesma and his orchestra, will end the day's activities.

Even the community's newspaper, The Shamrock Texan, has gone into the act. As has been the custom for years, it printed its pre-celebration issue in bright-green.

Visitor Loses Clothing

Pampa police today were investigating the theft of clothing from an Oklahoma City man's automobile here.

John Norman told police Monday night that someone had taken some clothing, including two suits, two pairs of slacks, a shirt, a jacket and a sport coat from his automobile during the early part of the evening.

He said he had parked his car near the Pennant club, 843 W. Brown, about 7 o'clock and had left there about 45 minutes later. However, he did not miss the clothing until about 11 o'clock, but he told police that he believed they had been stolen while the car was parked at the W. Brown address.

SHE'S THE HOSTESS — Miss Katherine Kildwell, "Miss Shamrock," will play hostess for the "Miss Irish Rose" contest, being staged in connection with the eighth annual St. Patrick's Day celebration Wednesday in Shamrock. Nineteen other colliers were entering in the contest late this morning.

The new Pampa Optimist club has enough members to make application for a charter, according to Buck Francis, acting chairman.

In order to receive a charter, a club must have at least 15 members signed up. The Pampa organization now has 17 members, he said.

The next meeting of the club will be held at 7 p. m. March 29, in the Schneider hotel.

Charter members of the club will be Tommie Ellis, Dr. Nicholas G. Kadango, Joe Fortin, Arthur Bruns, Joe Floyd Hunter, A. L. Taylor, F. A. Epps, Charles E. Scott, Joe Payne, Deck, Wold, W. F. Ridgway, John J. Clark, Al Jones, Newt Secrest and Francis.

Teacher Pay Hike Could Cost County Another $89,646

The salaries of the 173 teachers in the Pampa School district could be increased by $89,646 if the proposed teacher pay raise legislation is passed during the current special session of the state legislature, according to County Supt. B. R. Nuckols.

Salaries for Gray county's 223 teachers could be raised by $89,646, he added.

The pay increase would amount to $462 per teacher, Nuckols stated. The breakdown of county schools with the number of teachers in parenthesis is as follows: Grandview (2), $804; Hopkins (4), $1,808; Alameda (6), $2,412; Lefors (16), $6,432; McLean (22), $9,844; and Pampa (173) $69,546.

The minimum base pay allowed by the state would be raised under terms of the bill by $402, Nuckols said. This would not mean that all teachers in the county would receive an annual pay increase of that amount, since some teachers already are receiving more than the minimum.

Minimum pay for teachers with bachelor's degrees is $2,400, while those with master's degrees have a minimum base of $2,700.

Methodist Men To Hold Dinner

The men's organization of the First Methodist church will hold a dinner meeting at 7 p. m. Wednesday in the church's Fellowship hall.

Featured speaker for the event will be Morris Enloe of the First Christian church, who is expected to bring 20 men from his church to the dinner. Special music will be presented under the direction of Roy Johnson, presiding at the meeting will be John Hessey, president.

Galveston Business Figure Dies Monday

Galveston, March 16 — UP — Rosario (Rose) Maceo, immigrant barber from Sicily who with his late brother Sam organized one of Galveston's most powerful enterprises, will be buried Wednesday in the family mausoleum at Galveston Memorial Park.

Funeral services were scheduled for 9:30 a. m. Wednesday for the 65-year-old "Rose" Maceo who died at his home Monday following two years of critical illness.

"Rose" Maceo was recognized as head of the Maceo enterprises though he was not so well-known publicly and much less flamboyant than brother Sam.

Together they had extensive oil and real estate holdings on Galveston Island and on the mainland and were operators of several entertainment spots including the plush Ballroom on Galveston's beach front and the Turf Grill downtown.

No Surgery For Pampa's Heart Victim

Pampa's two-year-old heart defect victim, Dale Davis, is back in Pampa today after his examination by a heart specialist, Dr. Robert Barton, in Dallas last week.

In a letter to Dr. Malcolm Wyatt, president of the North Plains District Heart association, Dr. Barton explained that he felt Dale should be kept under observation for a while, as the operation for his type of heart defect is not perfected enough at this time. However, Dr. Barton stated he does want to see Dale later.

"The research money contributed to the heart association is being used to perfect such heart operations," Dr. Wyatt explained. He added that he plans to see Dale again soon. "What we want to do now is to keep him from getting an infection, such as pneumonia," he advised.

Dr. Wyatt had pointed out earlier that a person with Dale's heart defect are in a weakened condition and are more subject to diseases than normally. He also explained that such children do not grow as they should and cannot lead normal lives. However, it is hoped that in a year or so, research will have perfected the operation that might correct Dale's condition.

Dale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Davis, 738 N. Christy. His father is with the armed forces in Alaska, and he has a one-year-old brother.

Tibbets In Lefors School Board Race

Only two Gray County residents had filed in county school board races by late this morning.

Marvin Tibbets, Lefors, late this morning filed his candidacy for election to the Lefors school board with County School Superintendent B. R. Nuckols and County Judge J. B. Maguire Jr.

Aubrey Steele, Pampa, early this morning filed his candidacy for the Pampa school board with School Business Manager Roy McMillen.

And that is all, so far. A total of 12 post on seven school boards in the county is on the election in this year. They are two on Lefors, McLean, Alameda, Grandview and Gray County boards and one on each of the Pampa and Hopkins boards.

Aspirants for school board posts can file their intentions through March 23, one week from today. Elections will be held April 3.

JayCees Plan Musical Fare

Plans for the Junior Chamber of Commerce musical comedy, "You Can't Beat Fun," were to be made at the group's noon meeting today, according to J. C. Hopkins, president.

Wives of the JayCees were expected to be on hand to help with the plans for the show which will be presented March 25 and 26, Hopkins advised. Proceeds from the performances are to be used for a youth center, he stated.

Also expected to be at the meeting was Miss Virginia Wellman of Long Beach, Calif., a representative of the Empire Producing company, who will direct the production. Anyone in Pampa and the surrounding communities is eligible to compete for parts in the show and need not be members of the sponsoring organization. All the talent in the production will be local, and anyone interested should contact Mrs. Bill Carter.

Vandals Break Store Window

Brooks Electric company, 1101 Alcock, today had a new plate glass window in the front of the building.

The reason for the new window was that someone apparently threw a big rock through the old window early this morning.

Police were investigating the incident this morning.

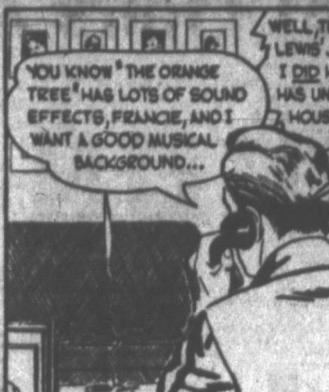

Cooper Services Are Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Frances E. Cooper, 86, who died Saturday in the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. D. Robbins, 1807 Coffee, will be held at 2:30 p. m. Wednesday in Mansford, Okla. Burial will be in Mansford.

The body was sent to Mansford Monday by Duengel-Carmichael Funeral home.

Cancer Quota Is $3,000 For '54

Plans for the Cancer Crusade to be held in April, was the main point of discussion at a meeting of committee chairman of the Gray County chapter of the American Cancer society Monday evening.

Quota for the county chapter this year is $3,000, advised Rev. Porter Brooks, chapter chairman, who presided at the meeting. He pointed out that the Cancer society was unable to join the United Fund this year, but hopes to do so at some time.

Also discussed was the public education campaign and the distribution of pamphlets, the showing of films, and the arranging of talks by cancer society heads and local doctors. Mrs. Walter Spooner, chapter secretary, announced that seven films are available for showing to local clubs and industrial groups.

Present at the meeting other than Rev. Brooks and Mrs. Spooner, were Jack Nichols, city schools chairman; Mrs. Charles Wolley, telephone chairman; Mrs. Kenneth Chalmers, radio chairman; Mrs. Nicholas Kadango, of newspaper committee; Joe Cantrell, industry chairman; Oscar Redd, Negro chairman; Rusty Ward, promotion chairman; Bud Plummer, Cancer Crusade chairman, and Buddy Hogan, of the crusade committee.

Robert Knott was announced as the county communities chairman.

Votes Will Surge

CHICAGO, March 16 — UP — Election officials made a bid Wednesday to get more housewives' votes in spring primaries.

They cancelled a rule requiring women to state their age. Men still have to.

Cabot Meeting Is Scheduled

Pampa's Cabot Company will hold its 21st Southwest Division Management Conference Wednesday and Thursday in the Cabot auditorium, Hughes building.

Principal speaker for the event will be Russell G. Allen, vice-president from Cabot's Boston office and former general manager of the Southwest Division. He will address the general assembly, which convenes at 9:30 a. m. Wednesday.

Cabot's management conferences usually include top management personnel from the Pampa office and surrounding areas and all outlying plants in Texas, New Mexico, and Louisiana. However, once each year employee committees, one from each principal location in the Southwest Division, are invited to attend the management general assembly and later to hold a central meeting of their own.

Following the general assembly, Wednesday a noon luncheon will be held in the Schneider Hotel and the central employee committees meeting will begin at 1:30 p. m. The management group will not meet again until Thursday.

Legion To Attend Amarillo Fete

Representatives from Pampa's American Legion post will attend a barbecue at the Hanson Post #54, Amarillo, which begins at 7:30 p. m. Wednesday, announced Fred Sloan, Pampa commander.

The event is a celebration of the 35th birthday anniversary of the American Legion, which began nationwide Monday and will end Wednesday, L. E. Page of Austin, state commander, is expected to be the featured speaker at the barbecue.

Family Loses Possessions In Home Fire

A Pampa family were without most of their worldly possessions today following a fire Monday which destroyed the house they were renting at 108 W. Craven, Pampa. Firemen answered the call at 4:30 p. m.

Firemen were unable to determine the exact cause of the blaze, but believe that some baby clothes hung over a lighted stove ignited and set fire to the kitchen. No one was in the building at the time of the fire.

Fifty chickens were among the property lost in another fire at 5:45 p. m. Monday about 7 miles south of town on the Sinclair-Merten lease, advised Fire Chief Ernest Winborne. The blaze started in a brooder house back of a large double garage, and destroyed about half of the structure, the chickens and other articles stored in the building.

Not a single visitor was on hand for this morning's city commission meeting.

And — at long last — the transfer of deeds for city land in Recreation park and county land in The Flats was consummated. Part of the "swap-out" deal for the county's new dual-purpose barn, the arrangement was decided on some time ago.

The county gets land in the park for its precinct shop building now being built and the city gets land in The Flats, originally used for the Negro recreation facility will be put up some day.

FBI Heirs Apparent To J. Edgar Hoover

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The subject of who can — or will succeed — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover holds all records as the most durable and intriguing source of speculation in this town.

It dates back to early New Deal days when political hatchet men were after Hoover's scalp.

The latest spark is the retirement of Daniel M. (Mickey) Ladd as "Anonymity Anonymous." And appointment of Leland V. Boardman as his successor.

By choice the key men around Hoover in the FBI are charter members of an organization known as "Anonymity Anonymous." And there's no question that Boardman will quickly pull "soundproof walls" of the Bureau around him, and quietly disappear from public view.

son, who's in charge when Hoover is out of town. His title is associate director.

He and Hoover became friends when they worked together on the arrest of gangster Alvin Karpis in New Orleans in 1935. They're both teachers and manage to conduct some of the Bureau's business over dinner several nights a week in one of Hoover's favorite Washington restaurants. Tolson is 82. He and Hoover are both graduates of George Washington University Law School.

No story ever speculates on Hoover's successor without mentioning the name of Lou Nichols, who is in charge of the Bureau's records and communications. He's very close to Hoover and if he can't produce from memory some fact or scrap of information on the FBI, which may be 30 years old, he'll get it from his voluminous files in five seconds flat.

Lou is a big, easy-going gent whose hobby is carpentry.

Before Ladd's retirement the trio of Tolson, Ladd and Nichols was considered the top echelon of the Bureau whose only ambition in life was the chance to put in a little more overtime for "The Boss." New Boardman is one of them.

Ladd's statement on the day of his retirement is typical of the devotion they all share for Hoover.

When asked what he considered to be the most significant development in crime detection during the many years he has been in charge of the Bureau's investigation, Ladd replied:

"Why, Mr. Hoover's leadership in making law-enforcement a respected profession and his development of scientific crime laboratory work, of course."

Ladd is the first to deny it, but he can share with Hoover some of the credit for developing the Bureau's crime lab, the finest of its kind in existence. He was assistant to Charles A. Appel, Jr. when Appel started the lab, was in charge of it for three years, and has inspired its work as overall boss of investigations.

Ladd's office was loaded with fishing gear, golf clubs and an outboard motor which Bureau employees gave him the day he retired. He's going to take up fishing and loafing in earnest in Florida from now on.

However, he could easily become one of the nation's more prosperous writers if he would agree to sell some of the fabulous stories and yarns about the FBI which he carries in his head. But on that score he says:

"I'm not the type who writes books. The information I have happens to belong to the Bureau and that's that."

Old Folk's March On Capitol Isn't

AUSTIN, March 16 —UP— A scheduled "march" by 10,000 old folks who threatened to camp on the Capitol grounds failed to materialize Monday — but bearded Arlon B. (Cyclone) Davis came in their place.

Davis didn't bring a tent. The colorful Dallas character, long known in Texas political circles, said he slept in his car on the Capitol grounds Sunday night.

Davis, president of the "Friends of the Aged Council," said he would be joined later by Russell Jack Ballard of Wichita Falls, president of the "Good Citizens League of Texas," another organization of the aged.

Ballard had said earlier 10,000 would join the march.

Davis blamed the fact he was the only one of the old folks present on "the inclement weather and the creeping infirmities of old age."

Davis is 73 himself.

Texas will vote next November on a proposed constitutional amendment raising the ceiling on old age pension and other welfare benefits from $35 million to $42 million a year.

The Last Weapon?

The spring series of nuclear weapon tests at the Pacific Eniwetok proving grounds are destined to make the country's military "new look" prematurely old and gray, and at the same time should be the loudest warning to the war-minded of this battered old planet that no nation is going to come out "winner" of the next international disagreement of a bloody nature.

The tests will include numerous nuclear detonations, but the featured attraction will be the dropping of history's first usable hydrogen bomb weapon from a B-36 bomber; that is, it will be the first if there's any truth in the Atomic Energy Commission's belief that the reported Russian explosion was only that of a "test device."

During the past months there has been feverish preparation for the current tests. Scientists, components of the various bombs and devices and tons of complicated measuring instruments have been flown to the Pacific.

As a result, discussions of the significance of the tests have been carried on at length recently by defense planners. The consensus of these talks is that the series will end up being an all-Air Force show.

The last series of continental tests a year ago at Las Vegas turned out to be an all-Army show, with the unveiling of the atomic cannon and the demonstration that ground troops could dig in a few hundreds yards from a blast and suffer no casualties from it.

Data from the last Las Vegas tests figured importantly in the new Joint Chiefs of Staff so-called "new look" that places emphasis on saving manpower through atomic fire power. It still weighs the balance of forces in favor of the Air Force.

It is believed that when all the information from the new Eniwetok tests is in it will force even far more emphasis on the need for more air power.

It's the belief that a hydrogen bomb, which requires an atomic bomb trigger, will never be packaged small enough to be fired from a cannon or even to be carried by a plane small enough to be based on a carrier. Thus, a successful B-test gives the Air Force exclusive delivery capability of the most powerful weapon in the nation's arsenal. It restores a monopoly which the Air Force had with the A-bomb for several years after World War II.

Improvements in the H-bomb which make it relatively cheap give the Air Force heavy bombers a new tactical role.

Informed reports say the new H-bomb is really a three-stage affair. The intense heat of the atomic bomb trigger starts the fusion process of the hydrogen substances with the tritium and deuterium. The final stage is the setting off of a substance known as lithium.

Lithium which gives the H-bomb its final unbelievably destructive "kick," the scientists report. And compared to tritium, which is said to cost $1,000,000 a pound, lithium is dirt cheap — a plentiful element.

Thus the addition of lithium, with minimum amounts of the expensive tritium, makes the final H-bomb a relatively inexpensive weapon. And it's this feature which will make H-bombs a tactical weapon worth using against enemy troops in the field.

Rep. W. Sterling Cole, chairman of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy, recently revealed this about the power of an earlier hydrogen explosion:

"It tore a cavity in the floor of the ocean a full mile in diameter and 175 feet deep in the center. The heat and blast over land would cause absolute destruction over an area six miles in diameter with an area of severe-to-moderate damage 14 miles in diameter. In other words, an area of 300 square miles would be blanketed by this one explosion."

This force plus the fact that it's relatively cheap makes the new H-bomb a good weapon against ground troops. No amount of dispersal of troops could save them.

Rep. Cole also claims that an H-bomb "gives one bomber with one load the destructive force exceeding all the TNT dropped on Germany, Italy, and Japan combined through all of World War II."

If the Eniwetok test of the B-36 is successful, it means that its new punch boosts the potential strength of the existing U. S. Strategic Air Command at least 20 per cent.

The test H-bomb may be released in the form of a captive guided missile. This will give the bomber time to escape the wide area of destruction created by the explosion. The bombardier on the B-36 could guide the bomb-missile to its target with any one of several control systems already perfected.

Finally, if the new, cheap H-bomb is as successful as everyone hopes, it will revise plans for developing long range missiles. The fabulous cost of just one so-called intercontinental missile has raised serious doubt as to whether they are even worth trying to make.

However, in view of the possibility that one H-bomb missile could deliver the punch of a whole wing of bombers, serious consideration is expected to be given to stepping up this phase of the missile program.

What the Eniwetok tests add up to, Pentagon experts agree, is the possibility of a revolution in strategic and tactical planning.

And what everyone else should agree to is that only the world's prize collection of fools would start dropping such deadly monstrosities on each other.

Do We Grant Government A Monopoly In Use Of Force?

I have been commenting for several days on Paul Poirot's booklet on "Public Housing." It is a splendid presentation. There is only one statement in this article that I think is in error. He writes: "The people of the United States have delegated to government a monopoly of the use of force." If that statement were true, then the courts would not free a man for killing another in self-defense. The individual still retains the right to protect his life and property when the government is not available to do so. It is an erroneous idea to believe that individuals have granted the government a monopoly in the use of force. In fact, no individual has a moral right to grant any government the right to initiate force — to start a fight. The only purpose of a just government is to stop people from initiating force.

Under the sub-heading of "Social Gains" Poirot remarks:

"Despite the long record of facts exposing the economic waste involved in public housing, there are those who still insist that it must be done in order to clear the slums."

"A 'free' house isn't going to stop parents from bringing into this world more children than they can possibly rear to maturity in as genteel and ample a manner as other parents might like to prescribe. There is no assurance that a subsidized roof will impart to the tenant a more desirable character than might otherwise have leaked in upon him through a roof provided by his own effort."

Los Angeles Example

Those people who cannot define how government should be limited are always using the socialistic argument that crime and delinquency are a result of poverty — that they are a result of environment — they like to cite statistics as to the incidence of juvenile delinquency in "slum" areas, and then leave the inference that public housing projects would materially reduce such criminal tendencies. However, Mr. Poirot reports:

"When the Los Angeles Chief of Police was asked to make a statistical study of this matter in 1951, he found the incidence of crime in public housing projects to be nearly twice as heavy as in the 'slums' and 17 times as heavy as in a nearby privately-owned lower rent housing project."

Limited Government

Mr. Poirot continues as follows: "The idea of limited government is that there is somewhere a stopping point to the inevitable governmental grasp for authority. In other words, there are certain things which ought to remain matters of individual responsibility. And if providing his own housing isn't such a personal responsibility, then on what grounds does any of us claim a right to be different and enjoy the privacy of his own home his own property for what I claim to be in the common interest, why should I believe that you would still be interested in defending my property — or even my life? There is much dread that the individualism of competitive enterprise may lead to anarchy. But there is a worse form of anarchy — the anarchy of compulsory democracy, collectivism by which the majority rides a rug which shod over the last vestiges of individuality."

As Judge Van Orsdel has cautioned:

"It should be remembered that of the three fundamental principles which underlie government, and for which government exists, the protection of life, liberty and property, the chief of these is property, not that any amount of property is more valuable than the life or liberty of the citizen, but the history of civilization proves that, when the citizen is deprived of the free use and enjoyment of his property, anarchy and revolution follow, and life and liberty are without protection."

"There is no reason for any conscientious citizen to believe that the government of the United States gave him life or granted him liberty. Nor is it reasonable of him to believe that the government ought to give him a house or any other right to property, thereby denying the similar rights of all others. That an individual may possess the power to seize or to tear down the house of his neighbor does not mean that he has a right to do it. Such powers of criminal violence are relinquished by those who pledge allegiance to the government of the United States. That is the price of membership in any peaceful society. The authorized function of our government is to restrain those who might attempt to deal coercively with one another. The government was designed to be the defender, not the equalizer, of life and property."

"If a human being is ingenious and industrious enough, he can create a house and claim it as his own. If he is careless enough to let the government do it for him, he will live in the kind of walled enclosure which compulsory state socialism affords — public housing for those who serve political masters."

SHREWD TACTICS

Eisenhower will veto any measure reducing insurance (excise) taxes by $1 billion if it reaches him with the George scheme attached as an amendment. But the Georgian, a shrewd parliamentarian, will probably affix his exemption relief suggestion to the 900-page measure which overhauls the federal tax structure for the first time since the Civil War.

It will be virtually impossible for the President to disapprove Senator George's idea if it is submitted in this camouflaged form. The chief executive cannot vote a bill in piecemeal fashion, H must accept

National Whirligig... Higher Tax Exemption Scheme Is Opposed by Administration

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — High administration officials have brought far greater pressure against Sen. Walter F. George's exemption-raising and political-popular proposal than they did against his plan to amend the Constitution so as to limit the President's authority over foreign affairs. They regard this Democratic maneuver as the "key struggle" in the great debate over the Eisenhower-Humphrey taxation program.

Speakeading the opposition's demand for more generous relief to low-income groups, the George alternative would upset all carefully laid plans for balancing the budget in the 1956 fiscal year. It would, in Treasury opinion, prevent the expansion of industry necessary to provide new jobs for a constantly increasing labor force. It would, they believe, relieve the few at the expense of the many.

EXEMPTION — BOOSTING RESULTS — Boosting the exemptions by only $100, from the present $600 to $700, would reduce government income by almost $3 billion, doubling the expected deficit for fiscal 1955. It would remove 4,000,000 from the tax rolls.

Senator George's maximum exemption figure of $1,000 would deprive the Treasury of about $6 billion, with a resultant deficit of between $5 and $9 billion. It would permit 15,000,000 to escape payment of any federal taxes.

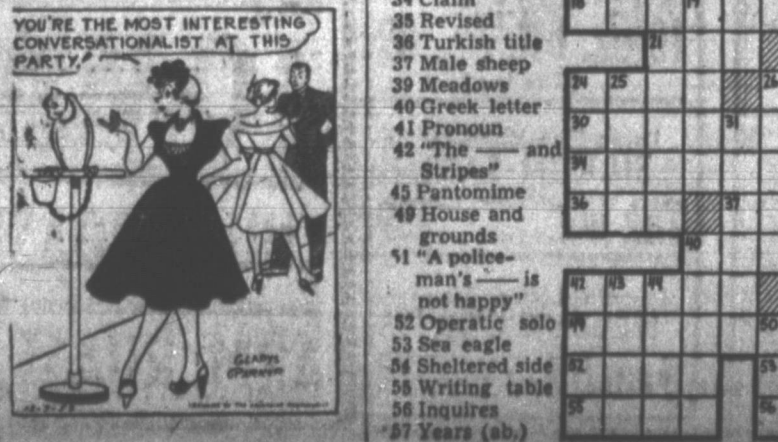

Secretary Humphrey regards the reduction of the number of taxpayers as an extremely disadvantageous step. Like so many of his predecessors, even Roosevelt, Truman and Eisenhower, he believes that the more people liable to taxes, the more people there will be with a deep and personal concern in federal finances, and especially economy.

A numerically large tax roll enlarges and intensifies the popular pressure on Congress and the executive for prudent management of their money. That is regarded as axiomatic at the Treasury.

SHREWD TACTICS — President Eisenhower will veto any measure reducing insurance (excise) taxes by $1 billion if it reaches him with the George scheme attached as an amendment. But the Georgian, a shrewd parliamentarian, will probably affix his exemption relief suggestion to the 900-page measure which overhauls the federal tax structure for the first time since the Civil War.

It will be virtually impossible for the President to disapprove Senator George's idea if it is submitted in this camouflaged form. The chief executive cannot vote a bill in piecemeal fashion, H must accept

The CRACKER BARREL

The internationalists sneer at patriotism as something narrow and provincial. But patriotism is not an insular love of American scenery. It is a devotion to American freedom. We were promised that the United Nations would extend this freedom to all men. It hasn't. The plain fact is that the United Nations has extended the areas of slavery, freedom everywhere are diminishing. The plain fact is that the United Nations, in its efforts to establish a world dictatorship, is repeating the techniques of every dictatorship in history. The internationalists do not want you to notice these plain facts. Therefore, THEY HAVE INVENTED UNESCO TO SUPPRESS AND DISTORT HISTORY. Through UNESCO we lose one more freedom — the freedom of honest scholarship. The freedom to profit by past experience, UNESCO, in a public school, is simply COMPULSORY IGNORANCE.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

Now is the time for parents who are considering sending their children to summer camps to complete their arrangements.

Such camps for boys and girls are now a part of the American scene which thousands of lucky youngsters enjoy each year.

A youngster must usually have a physical examination before going to camp. The purpose is to reveal any physical defect which might interfere with full activity so that proper measures can be taken to avoid undesirable risks.

The presence of near diseases, a severe allergy or diabetes, for example, should be known before the youngster gets into trouble from any activity normally conducted in a summer camp.

All camps give the parents in-

Fair Enough...

New Times And Herald Tribune Challenged On Veteran Policy

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

NEW YORK — I want to poke a few teeth down the gullet of the New York Times and the Herald Tribune which have been wailing about the awful, un-American injustice of anti-Communist espionage such as that attributed to the veterans of Foreign Wars of Norway, Conn.

The Times and the H-T got hysterical over this. But I remember that they were clamoring about the dirty work of a sniveling sneak, a faker and a liar calling himself John Roy Carlson who was declared by one United States judge to be unworthy of belief on oath and adjudged guilty of libelous falsehoods against innocent American citizens in two other court trials.

The Times and Herald Tribune were hard-put for words to praise him when he was doing his dirty work for "anti-nationalist" societies during the war.

"Don't ever let President Eisenhower's new-found friend, as of 1952, Arthur Hays Sulzberger, a Roosevelt New Dealer, the publisher of the New York Times, forget that. Don't ever let Mrs. Herald Tribune forget it. And never let her forget that she was personal and professional friend of Joe Barnes, for years her "foreign editor," who was named under oath as Communist by five witnesses. Noting his informal denials of these accusations, ask yourself if anyone ever has had reason to suspect you of being a Communist."

Barnes somehow attached himself to Wendell Willkie as guide and interpreter on his tour of Russia. And by some mysterious hocus pocus the same Barnes became the "editor" of the promotion and war book, "Crusade in Europe." This is a side-long thought that qualifies my opinion when he takes out after Joe McCarthy for bullying some brigadier who could have stopped the promotion and war book, "Crusade in Europe." This is a side-long thought that qualifies my opinion when he takes out after Joe McCarthy for bullying some brigadier who could have stopped the promotion and war book, "Crusade in Europe."

The Times and H-T certainly have changed since they were applauding the promotion and war book, "Crusade in Europe." This is a side-long thought that qualifies my opinion when he takes out after Joe McCarthy for bullying some brigadier who could have stopped the promotion and war book, "Crusade in Europe."

This cheap, quaking impostor, was so timid that he quailed before blubber Bob Reynolds, the gasbag senator from North Carolina, who couldn't scare a cottontail with a pumpkin.

"Born Derouin, a Levantine stray of no apparent principles, he published anti-Jewish tracts, he was a low-order politician, a Jew-baiter, a promoter of a vicious book, "Crusade in Europe," and worked in and out of the secretive headquarters of Friends of Democracy and other such things. This was a low-order politician, a Jew-baiter, a promoter of a vicious book, "Crusade in Europe," and worked in and out of the secretive headquarters of Friends of Democracy and other such things.

The Times and Herald Tribune squall against compulsory "conformity" now that loyal Americans will no longer abide treason on the protection of traitors by public officials. But "conformity" by compulsion of this louse was OK then.

Irita Van Doren, the editor of the weekly book review of the H-T, wrote a letter to the editor which she said: "We have taken some trouble to investigate Mr. Carlson's career and have found his claims substantiated at every point by the State Department and FBI with whom we worked at considerable danger to himself in the interest of his country's welfare."

I did not consult the State Department which was infested with sexual queers and-or traitors. But John Edgar Hoover answered, in effect, that this was a lie. Carlson had been an unimportant "informant" for the FBI for a brief time. His results were trifling and he was not heroic at all.

Carlson's "success" was a dirty smear called "Under Cover." This was the one which prompted Federal Judge John B. Barnes, in Chicago, to say, from the bench: "I wouldn't believe this author if he was under oath. (He) would write anything for a dollar."

It might be a slightly different case if the Times and H-T had boasted this liar without warning of his character. But they continued to praise him after it had been shown in court that he wrote and published savagely anti-Semitic tracts to be planted on German-Americans of professed American loyalty, to put them on the spot.

After this expose, the H-T nevertheless printed a "review" by Arthur M. Schlesinger, Jr., who works at odd jobs for both sheets. In a "review" of a thing called "The Fifties," published in the Herald Tribune, Schlesinger wrote furiously against "nationalist activity in

BID FOR A SMILE

The wife was trying to get her husband to pass on a new automobile, but he didn't seem to like the idea. Husband — What? Me buy a new car. Do you think automobiles grow on trees?

Wife (calmly) — Of course not, silly. Everyone knows they come from plants.

Art Club Members To Entertain Art Lovers At Coffee-Exhibit

Mrs. A. D. Hill, exhibit chairman of the Pampa Art Club, has announced that the public is invited to attend an art coffee Thursday morning at 9:30 in the Public Library.

The works of Dora Pitts, local artist and teacher, will be exhibited by the club during the coffee and throughout the following week. Mr. Pitts will speak about his paintings at 10 o'clock, following the coffee. Mrs. C. P. Purlley with Mrs. A. C. Houshins, Mrs. Kyle Bunche and Mr. J. T. Cornutt assisting. Mrs. Ervin will register guests.

Students of Dora Pitts will be special guests. Mrs. Hill reports, "for the coffee which is part of a continued effort on the part of the club to further art interest in Pampa."

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

Last Saturday after some extensive shopping, I took a taxi home. As I got in the driver said, "You're my last fare today."

"You sound pleased," I said.

Over his shoulder, the driver said without passion:

"Sure I'm pleased. I hate this job. What's a hack? A nothing. That's what I am. A Nothing."

"Have you children?" I asked.

"Yeah, I got kids," he said. "I got a Nothing for an old man. Always my oldest kid is ashamed I'm a hack."

He infected me. I suddenly felt ashamed of him, too.

I got over it. But Monday morning I got infected again. For the mail brought me an article on the general problem of parents who are ashamed of their work.

After presenting the effects of this shame on children, the psychiatrist author asked: "What can be done to stabilize emotionally the child whose father has an occupation which makes him feel socially inferior and jealous of children whose fathers have positions of social prestige?"

Said I to myself: Be patient. It takes time to make an American. It takes time to overcome the old, alien superstitions about royalty, nobility, peasantry and gentry. It takes time to learn to live by the principle that accords all men equal human dignity.

But thinking of the children infected by the superstitions, I find it hard to be patient. Because once in America, such thinking was treasonous. Human self-respect was our supreme cause. If you lived here, you inhaled its demands upon your faith and your strength in the very air you breathed.

Imagine someone walking into the shop of ink-stained Benjamin Franklin and telling him that his printer's trade was "socially inferior!" Why, the gusts of Ben's jovial laughter would have blown him right out the door!

My cab-driver's child doesn't despise him because he backs for a living, but because he disposes himself. If he didn't, and she brought home any feudal nonsense about his "inferior" work, he'd explode. His "inferior" work, he'd explode.

He'd say, "Don't give me that. You're not a baby to swallow whatever's given to you without judging whether it's good to eat. The way I earn my living is to be respected because I am to be respected."

Of course you have to be a conscious fighter for human dignity to talk like that. You have to be able to spot its enemies in yourself and others as fast as the farmers, clerks and tradesmen of 1776 learned to spot British redcoats advancing through the trees.

Motor traffic entering Germany rose 74 per cent in the first six months of 1933. A total of 1.85 million vehicles crossed the borders of which 1.5 million were automobiles, 400,000 more than the same period in 1932.

Cook's Nook

If you like chow mein, the new frozen product on the market is worth trying. Its freshness is amazing — all the vegetables have garden crispness. We think it's the best we've tasted.

This new product comes in a divided freezer pack. It contains one generous serving of chow mein with individual waxed cardboard compartments separating each ingredient: Chinese vegetables, chow mein sauce, crisp, crunchy fried chow mein noodles. This divider pack method of packaging enables each separate ingredient to retain its full body texture and taste.

To prepare and serve: Package needs no defrosting. Take package directly from freezer. Open. Remove fried noodles. Let stand at room temperature, or they may be lightly heated in the upper part of a double boiler. Place sauce in bottom of lightly greased shallow skillet stirring slightly. Requires 5 to 8 minutes of medium heat. Stir frequently. Do not boil.

Varieties available are chicken chow mein, beef chow mein, meatless chow mein.

Here's an attractive way to serve chow mein. A good supper dish.

Chow Mein Roll-Ups Chun King (2 portions of 3 to 4 rolls each)

Two packages Chun King chicken chow mein, 3 eggs well beaten, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1-3/4 cup milk, 1-3/4 cup pancake mix.

Combine all ingredients and beat with hand or electric beater till smooth and well blended. Grease griddle and heat over high flame till a drop of water sizzles when added. Turn heat to medium and ladle pancake batter onto griddle using 1/4 cup mixture for each. Turn when golden on bottom side.

When under side of pancake is brown, pancakes are done. Meanwhile heat Frozen Chun King Chicken Chow Mein according to package directions. Place 1/4 cup each pancake and roll up jelly-roll fashion.

All United States postage stamps, except the issues of 1847 and 1851, are still valid for postage.

RUTH MILLET

Women have been told so often that they ought to encourage their husbands to talk about their business affairs that some of them get downright panicky because their husbands refuse to give out with any information about "their day."

For all the writers to this column who complain their husbands mumble when they ask them "What's new at the office?" or "How did things go today?" one word of advice: relax.

Maybe you are married to a man who likes to put work completely out of his mind when he comes home at night. Plenty may have happened at the office today, but he wants to put his mind on something else until tomorrow morning.

So don't give up your attempts at conversation simply because your efforts to get him to talk about business fall flat. Fish around and find something else to talk about — something interesting, or cheerful, or amusing.

If he has managed to put his mind on his own career and worries out of his mind he won't want you unloading yours on him. So don't tell him the laundry list two of his shirts, you got a parking ticket, and Junior got the worst end of a fight with the kid next door.

He can't do anything about your day's unpleasances, and, if he has taken care of the difficulties his own day, he'll expect you to have done the same.

So relax. Forget your problems and let him forget his. Keep your chatter lighthearted.

Don't feel you are falling as a wife just because your husband doesn't want to talk shop with you. Chances are you are married to a man who is able to forget his work and doesn't want to be prodded into having to think about it.

Hopkins PTA Has Officer Election

Hopkins' Parent-Teacher's Association met recently in the Community Hall for the election of officers. The devotion was given by Mrs. Ida M. Fiqua. Officers elected were Mrs. Buster Sublett, president; Mrs. Howard Brown, vice president; Mrs. John Stafford, secretary and Mrs. John Mackie, treasurer.

Five brownies participated in a fly-up ceremony to become Girl Scouts. Refreshments were served by the second, third and fifth grades.

Reapers Name New Group Leaders

The Reapers Class of the Central Baptist Church held their monthly social recently in the home of Miss Grace McCase, 531 N. Warren. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. L. C. Hagemann. Opening prayer was led by Mrs. A. F. Newman. The devotional was led by Mrs. A. F. Holligan and was taken from the book of Mark. She gave her personal experiences with a missionary and told the story of an African boy and the missionary.

Mrs. L. C. Hagemann conducted the business meeting. Plans were made for visitation. Secret pals were revealed and new names drawn.

New group leaders appointed were: Mrs. C. L. Reeves, R. E. Engle, R. V. Burns, Juanita Dodds and Burl Lewter. The teacher, Mrs. R. B. Leonard, led the closing prayer.

Refreshments of cake and coffee were served to Misses L. C. Hagemann, R. C. Brown, E. G. Riley, Ada McCase, Nat Lunford, Juanita Dodds, R. B. Leonard, R. V. Burns, Grace McCase, C. L. Reeves, A. R. Newman, D. L. Isby, R. E. Engle, A. F. Holligan, H. D. Wolfe, I. M. Virden and Burl Lewter.

'Noon' Steps Up To Take New Post

Aubra Nooncaster, Harvester backfield coach the past seven years, last night was promoted to the head coach position which had been vacated by Tom Tipps...

The official action on naming Nooncaster as the new head monitor, although it came as no surprise, came at a called meeting of the school board last night in school superintendent Knox Kinard's office...

"I just hope I can do a good job. We will continue to run on the T formation," Nooncaster said. When asked about his assistants, Nooncaster said: "We'll move someone from our present staff to the newly created position of assistant coach..."

Mexico Holds A Whopping Lead In American Games

MEXICO CITY, March 18.—The addition of the swimming championship gave host Mexico five sports titles and a whopping 529 point lead in the overall team race Tuesday...

Out of six titles decided thus far, Mexico has missed out on only one—track and field, in which it finished a close second...

The other four lettermen are Ed Strickland and Ben Sturgeon, tackle; Buddy Sharp, quarterback; and Bill Fulenwider, halfback...

Nooncaster, who came to Pampa from Midland where he had served as an assistant on the Midland football team...

Nooncaster turned out three district champions at Brownfield, 1948-49-51. Following the 1941 season Nooncaster went into the service...

In college at Sul Ross, Nooncaster was the star player of football, lettering the last three years...

Nooncaster attended high school at Lamesa where he played both football and basketball. Lamesa won the district title in the two sports in Nooncaster's senior year...

The Nooncasters reside at 2227 North Russell.

Promotion Of Nooncaster Keeps PHS In Highest Category In Coaching Ranks

OUR CONGRATULATIONS GO TO Aubra Nooncaster today upon being elevated to head football coach at Pampa High School...

Nooncaster has done a yeoman job as Tom Tipps' assistant for seven years and we see no reason why he won't be just as successful as head coach...

The Harvester will be shy on experience since 16 of last year's 21 lettermen graduated this spring. But Nooncaster will make the most of the material at hand...

Brooks Win 'Shutout' Over Henry Gault

By JACK CUDDY NEW YORK, March 16.—UP—Matchmaker Teddy Brenner of Brooklyn's Eastern Parkway arena Tuesday abandoned plans to revive the bantamweight class because of Nate Brooks' superiority and the lack of public interest in the division...

Monday night young Brooks of Cleveland, North American bantam champion, won a "shutout" non-title decision over ex-champ Henry (Fappy) Gault in a televised 10-rounder. None of the three ring officials gave Gault a round...

Like two previous bantam bouts staged at the Parkway, Monday night's tilt drew poorly—about 1,200 fans and $2,000...

Next year's Harvester edition, however, will be shooting for a 10-0 season. The kids returning have that kind of spirit and if they don't achieve this goal, then you can safely say they went down fighting...

SWITCHING TO another sport Saturday, he'll like to remind you that tomorrow is the last day to purchase tickets to the basketball banquet honoring the 2-time state champion Harvester...

The feed will be held Friday night in the high school cafeteria. Tickets are being sold for only $2. For the fine entertainment that is scheduled and for the privilege of honoring the state champs, that price can't be beaten...

It's not every day a community gets a chance to honor state champions and it would be wise for us all to make the most of it when a state champion does come our way...

Accordingly, Brenner hopes to have 20-year-old Brooks step out of his class and fight some good featherweight like Lulu Perez of New York or Gene Smith of Washington at the Parkway May 2...

TRAINING CAMP BRIEFS

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., March 16.—UP—Southpaw Ed Lopat of the Yankees, who failed to beat them even once last year, will face the Detroit Tigers Tuesday with Harry Byrd scheduled to relieve him in the fifth or sixth inning. Southpaws Fred Baczewski and Harry Perkowski limited the Yankees to six hits Monday in pacing Cincinnati to a 4 to 3 victory. Bob Cerv and Hal Smith each homered for the Yankees. Detroit dropped a 7 to 1 decision to Milwaukee at Bradenton, Fla., Monday as Billy Hoelt, Dick Marlowe and Al Aber were clocked for 11 hits.

ORLANDO, Fla., March 16.—UP—Outfielder Jim Busby and catcher Eddie Fitzgerald of the Senators were on the injured list Tuesday as Washington sought to snap a six-game losing streak at the expense of the Brooklyn Dodgers. Busby and Fitzgerald both were injured in Monday's 2 to 1 loss to the Dodgers at Vero Beach, Fla. Busby hurt his right knee while making a diving catch and Fitzgerald was hit on the right hand by a foul tip. Frank Shea and Dean Stone held the Dodgers hitless for six innings but Don Thompson's single with the bases full in the ninth gave Brooklyn the 2 to 1 victory.

MESA, Ariz., March 16.—UP—The Chicago Cubs were still looking for their first victory over the St. Louis Cardinals Tuesday as the two teams met for the fourth time this spring. St. Louis, which flew here from St. Petersburg, Fla., won its third straight game over the Cubs 16 to 7 at Fresno, Calif., Monday. The Cardinals triumph was featured by homers off the bats of Stan Musial, Ray Jablonski and Wally Moon. It was the Cubs' eighth defeat in nine exhibition games.

CLEARWATER, Fla., March 16.—UP—Manager Steve O'Neill, cheered by the recent hitting of his Phillies, said Tuesday he hoped the pitching would keep pace with it, too. The Phils scored two triumphs Monday, the main squod edging the Chicago White Sox 12 to 11 and the "B" team crushing Cincinnati's "B" squad 21 to 5. The Phillies met the Redlegs here Tuesday.

CONGRATULATIONS AND GOOD LUCK—Tom Tipps, left, who resigned as the Harvester head football coach recently to take an assistant coach position at Texas A&M, congratulates and extends good wishes to his successor, Aubra Nooncaster. Nooncaster moves up to head coach after seven years as Tipps' assistant. Tipps returned to Pampa yesterday to complete arrangements for moving his family to College Station and left soon after the above picture was taken to return to A&M (News Photo by T. D. Ellis)

Little League Here To Be Fully Protected By Insurance

[This is the third in a series of describing Little League baseball which is planned to be operated in Pampa this summer.]

A Group Accident Insurance policy is available to all leagues franchised by Little League Baseball, Inc. This insurance covers all boys and adults engaged in spring practice. Once the regular team rosters are selected, it covers all of these boys on these rosters plus the managers, umpires, scorer etc. In all cases the boys and adults are covered while travelling directly to or from the field as well as during the practice seasons or games.

For 1954 the benefits have been increased from $1,000 to $1,500 for accidental death or dismemberment and also for medical expenses.

The premium is $60 for a four-team league, $75 for a five-team league, or $90 for a six-team league.

This insurance is underwritten by American Casualty Co., not Little League Baseball, Inc. However, because it is known that sponsors of Little League are interested in providing every protection possible to the boys and because the coverage is available only to franchised leagues, applications are sent out by the National Little League headquarters. They must be returned to the National Headquarters for processing before being turned over to the insurance company.

A policy covering the local Little League, its officers, directors and sponsors against claims because of bodily injury or death of any person or persons or injury to or destruction of property caused by accident arising out of or incidental to the administration of the league, the ownership, maintenance or use of baseball parks, bleachers, etc., is also available to franchised leagues through National Headquarters.

This policy protects your league from claims for which it or its officers, directors or sponsors are legally liable. In addition, the insurance company pays the cost of investigation of claims and the defense of suits against the insured, even when groundless.

If you take this policy, you will not be insured against: (a) injury to or death of an employee; (b) accidents arising out of vehicles; (c) damages to property owned, rented or leased by and in charge of the league, its officers, directors or sponsors; (d) injury to or death of players (The Group Accident Insurance policy covers this); (e) accidents arising out of participation in Little League World Series Games (National Headquarters take care of this).

The protection afforded under this policy is $100,000 for injury to or death of one person in each accident; $300,000.00 for injury to or death of two or more persons in any one accident, but no one person may receive more than $100,000.00; $5,000.00 for injury to or destruction of property other than that owned, leased or rented by or in charge of the league, its officers, directors or sponsors.

Coverage for a full year from April 15, 1954 to April 14, 1955 costs only $50.00. The premium is the same whether the league comprises four or six teams. There is no extra premium even if you operate a farm system. However, if you operate two or more leagues, whether or not you consider them divisions of the same league, each must take out its own policy in order to be covered.

This insurance is underwritten by Indemnity Insurance Company of North America, but, as with the Group Accident Insurance, applicants are sent out by and must be returned to National Headquarters.

We strongly urge that you purchase this insurance for the protection of your league.

Broadcast to Go Ahead DUBLIN, Ireland, March 15.—UP—Ireland's state-owned broadcasting network said Monday it plans to go ahead with a scheduled broadcast of a soccer game on St. Patrick's Day despite Gaelic Athletic Association charges that the broadcast is an attempt to force an "imperialistic" game on sport-loving Irishmen. Maurice Gorham, head of radio broadcasting, said, "They're not going to tell us where we should or should not broadcast."

Jacksonville, Fla., Gibbs Shipbuilders cancelled out. Tuesday's schedule pits Riverland of New Roads, La., against the Associated Grocers of Ogden, Utah, at 12 noon; Cleveland Carmack Restiors vs. Des Moines Clarksons at 1:30 p.m.; CVE Travelers of Artesia, N.M., vs. St. Agnello of Amsterdam, N.Y., at 3 p.m.; Los Angeles Kirby Shoes vs. Allen Bradley of Milwaukee at 7 p.m., and Phipps of San Diego, Calif., vs. Fort Hill, Okla., at 9 p.m.

The seeded teams in the tournament, including the defending champion Florida Cats, the tournament favorite, won't see action until Wednesday. The Phillips Oilers are second seeded, Denver Central Bakers third seeded and Akron Goodyear fourth seeded.

Leading point makers Monday were John Foeppel of Lackland with 27, center Ray Scott of Warren with 25, and guard Bill Huffman of McPherson with 23.

Joostmen Undefeated A's Most Improved Major League Nine

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press Sports Writer Eddie Joost, who hasn't lost a game since he was named manager, had his undefeated Philadelphia Athletics at the top of the Grapefruit League standings Tuesday and many experts agree that they are "the most improved team" in Florida.

The Athletics won their sixth straight game of the spring by beating the Boston Red Sox 10 to 7 Monday, but even more important, as far as Joost is concerned, the winter trade with the Yankees is continuing to pay off.

Don Bollweg, one of the players acquired from the Yankees, slammed his second homer of the spring as did big Zoo Zernial, Ray Murray and rookies Tommy Giordano and Lou Limmer also homered for Philadelphia.

Like Fitching Joost is even delighted over his pitching. Until Monday's contest, no team had scored more than four runs off the Athletics this spring and hard-hitting Milwaukee was the only club to get that many.

Manager Phil Cavarretta of the Cubs on the other hand, keeps wondering when his club is going to win a ball game. The Cubs finally beat the Cubs for the fourth time in a row 16 to 7 at Fresno, Calif., and the loss was Chicago's eighth in nine games thus far.

Stan Musial, Ray Jablonski and Wally Moon each hit homers for St. Louis. The Yankees continued having their troubles, too, as southpaws Fred Baczewski and Harry Perkowski limited them to six hits while pitching Cincinnati to a 4 to 0 victory at St. Petersburg, Fla. Allie Reynolds started for the losers and was tagged for two runs before leaving in the fifth. It marked the Yankees' sixth setback in nine games.

Two-hit pitcher—2-1-3—innings the Dodgers finally defeated Washington 2 to 1, thanks to Don Thompson's single with the bases loaded in the ninth inning. Frank Shea and Dean Stone gave nary a hit in the six frame they worked but rookie Gonzalo Naranzo, who took over in the seventh was charged with the loss.

Giants Down Orioles Home runs by Ray Kalt, Monte Irvin, Willie Williams and Willie Mays accounted for nine runs and were instrumental in the Giants' 13 to 8 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles. It was the Giants' fourth straight victory and only the second defeat, in 10 games for the Orioles.

Six-hit pitching by 18-year-old Joey Jay, Ben Johnson and Dave Jolley, coupled with Jim Pendleton's two-run homer, helped Milwaukee defeat Detroit, 7 to 1. The Braves nipped Billy Hoelt, Dick Marlowe and Al Aber for 11 hits, including three by Danny O'Connell.

Despite the fact that starter Roberts in Roberts was bombed for eight runs in five innings, the Phillies overcame a six-run deficit to nip the White Sox 12 to 11. Roberts, Granny Hamner and Stan Jok each hit homers for the Phillies while Cass Michaels and Bill Wilcox clouted homers for the White Sox.

Ted Williams Is Out Of Hospital

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., March 16.—UP—Outfielder Ted Williams leaves Santa Maria Hospital here Tuesday on the first step of the long road back to active duty with the Boston Red Sox.

The slinger still wears the elaborate cast which encases the ailing left collarbone he fractured during the opening of spring practice at Sarasota, Fla. But this encumbrance soon may be removed.

Ted turned out his room lights early Monday night, happy that soon he will be able to rejoin his teammates for some real work, maybe as soon as April 5.

He said he felt "fine" and expected to return to Florida "as soon as possible."

Williams' physician, Dr. Russell G. Sullivan, said that with some rest and proper medication Williams may be back with the team early next month, though probably not for full duty.

Stitches from the special bone-setting operation will be removed Thursday.

Cabot Team Sets Pace In City Loop

Cabot Office set the pace in the City Bowling League last night at Pampa Bowl by rolling the high team game and series, furnishing the high series bowler and downing Brown and Hinkle, 3-1, in team competition.

The Cabot team rolled a 906 for high game and 3,272 for high series. Buck Donnell of the Cabot team had then high individual score with 578.

Individual game honors went to Ray Stephenson of Friendly Men's with 221.

Other results in team play saw Friendly Men's win over Nobilit Coffey, 3-1; Borger Lanes down Celanese, 3-1; and Your Laundry and Duenkel-Carmichael deadlock at 2-2.

The Story Of Our

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A few weeks ago an attractive young woman walked through the corridors of the Los Angeles adult school in which she had just enrolled. A classmate stepped quickly to her side and hissed into her ear: "Why don't you get out of here, you damn stool pigeon?"

For an instant the young lady's eyes blazed with anger. Then she relaxed, flashed her verbal attacker with a saucy smile and strode on unconcerned.

The woman to whom these vitriolic words were addressed is Mrs. Marlane MacLane Kowall, daughter of actor Barton MacLane. She is a brand new member of one of the most exclusive groups in America — the handful of individuals who are known to have joined the Communist Party and undercover agents for the FBI.

The incident involving Mrs. Kowall is just the start of a bitter, ceaseless hearing she is in for from the Communist Party and fellow travelers.

San. The Communist Party will never forget.

William G. Cummings of Toledo, Ohio, rated one of the most effective witnesses against the Communist conspiracy by the Justice Department, says:

"We're No. 1 on the Party's blacklist. If there should be a revolution we'd be the first ones to be shot. But that's why we did what we did, to make sure there will be no revolution in America."

MARLANE KOWALL: Classmates call her a stool-pigeon.

The survey reveals an almost identical pattern of retaliation against these individuals. There's a never-ending program of mental harassment which includes anonymous threatening letters, telephone calls in the early hours of morning, insults softly-spoken on crowded corners, and dead rats thrown on the lawn.

The Commies have put roadblocks in the efforts of these people to make a living. They've struck back at their children in school and college. They've worked hard to blacken their character through clubs, churches and communities.

"The only restraint imposed on the Communists in their retaliation against us is the need to stay 'legal,'" Cummings explains. "This would hurt them more than what they gain inside the Party."

The motive of the Communist Party in this program is given by FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover:

A survey by NEA Service shows that some of these former undercover agents have suffered broken homes, financial loss, community disfavor and wrecked health to help expose the Communist menace in the U.S.

MATT CVETIC: The only one with a net financial gain.

In some cases the public and community have forgotten the job these people have done for Uncle

Some got small regular salaries. Some got expense money. Money itself apparently was no motive. Today only one of the group, Matt Cvetic, admits a net financial gain from his undercover work, through writing, radio and lecturing. He is running for Congress.

Tax Hike Puts Lawmakers On 'Spot,' Shivers Asserts

AUSTIN, March 16 —UP—Texas legislators settled down Tuesday to the task of raising the salaries of teachers and state employees, as well as passing new taxes to raise the $26.5 million necessary to pay for the boosts.

Gov. Allan Shivers, who spelled out his program for the 30-day special session Monday soon after it convened, acknowledged he was putting the lawmakers on a "spot."

"When the governor recommends the spending of money," Shivers said, "I think he ought to recommend also the means of raising that money. When he puts you on the spot, I think he ought to have the courage to get on that spot with you."

The recommendations for teacher pay raises followed a compromise reached last fall by a joint committee. It called for a $402 annual pay hike, a change in the state aid formula so the state will pay 80 per cent of the cost rather than 75 million annually, and established a $100 per teacher "allowance" that could be used for any purpose.

State workers would get $120 more, according to the governor's proposal.

New Natural Gas Tax

Shivers' tax program called for one-half cent per thousand cubic foot natural gas tax, to raise $14 million annually; a hike from $1.37 to $2 per barrel in the state beer tax, raising $3 million, and an increase in the corporation franchise tax from $1.25 to $2 per $1,000 of corporate assets, raising $8.6 million.

The governor, in his 25 minute speech, also asked the Communist party be outlawed in Texas, but said he would deal with the question in detail in a later message.

And he urged a $10,000,000 building program at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; University of Texas at dental branch, Houston; State School for the Deaf, Austin, and Eastham Prison Farm. He said it could be financed with the $11.9 million anticipated surplus reported earlier by State Auditor C. H. Cavness.

Legislators generally were in accord with Shivers' proposals, but there was some doubt they could be adopted by April 13, when the Legislature must adjourn. A second special session could be called. But the governor apparently was optimistic about the speed of the lawmakers, because he said he was thinking of submitting other subjects "if time permits and if the money is available."

"These include funds for operating the new medical school hospital at Galveston; for the nursing school at Texas Western; for junior colleges to meet the demands of increased enrollments, and for implementing, at long last, the adult probation law," Shivers said.

A Compromise

The teacher pay raise proposal was labeled a "genuine compromise," Shivers said. It was neither the "teachers' bill" or the administration bill or any other measure proposed in 1953.

He said the $190 for state employees, coupled with the $180 they received from the 1953 legislature, would give them a total raise "that was generally conceded to be the minimum at the start of the last regular session."

Strongest criticism of the governor's message came from Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., San Antonio. "All appropriations now called for by the governor, just before the summer elections," said Maverick, "are basically the same appropriations which he directly or indirectly helped kill or stall in the last regular session."

But other legislators said Shivers' program was "fundamentally sound," "an excellent speech," and "concise and to the point."

Rep. Joe M. Kilgore, McAllen, thought there was a "fairly good" chance the program could be enacted in 30 days. Rep. J. J. Vale of Rio Grande City "doubted" if the legislators could do the job within the constitutional time limit.

HIDDEN HEROES

"This group represents a vital reservoir of information which we plan to continue to draw from in our fight against Communist subversion in the United States," he says.

By trying to destroy the credibility of this group the Party is defending itself. Hoover pinpoints the motive of the Party for pure revenge against the group with this statement:

"Their testimony, along with that of such ex-Communists as Louis Budenz, Elizabeth Bentley, and John Lautner, starting with first Smith Act trial of the top 11 Communists in New York, has enabled the Government to break the back of the Party in the U.S."

He reveals that in 11 Smith Act trials in the U.S. and Hawaii, 81 top leaders of the Communist Party in America have been convicted, with sentences ranging from two to five years and fines up to $10,000 each. Testimony of members of the group before grand juries has led to the indictment of 304 Party

Shivers Called A Republican By Youngster

AUSTIN, March 16 —UP—Gov. Allan Shivers was attacked as a "Republican" Monday by a freshman state senator, who said he'd run for governor himself if no one else opposes Shivers.

Sen. Joe Russell of Royce City took the floor to criticize Shivers just after the governor had finished his message to an opening joint meeting of the special session.

"There is going to be a Democrat in the race," Russell said. "I'll run against him if I have to. I'm not qualified to be governor—and you know it, but if he doesn't have an opponent, just put my name down."

Shivers, who has been announced since July 11, 1948, has not announced whether he will seek an unprecedented third elected term this year. But he promised he would announce "something" before the May 3 filing deadline.

Russell's remarks were cut short by the Senate's adjournment on the motion of Sen. Dorsey Hardeman of San Angelo.

Russell was answered in part by Sen. Otis Lock of Lufkin, who said he had no objection to "triviality," but if anyone thought there was anything serious about this, "I'm sure things could be said on the other side."

"You're nothing but a Republican and never have been anything else," Russell rejoined. Hardeman's motion for adjournment stopped the debate there, but Russell and Lock later went to the Capitol press room together and Russell retracted his statement about Lock's being a Republican.

"As far as I know Otis is a good Democrat and I don't know any better," Russell said.

Midland Makes Dope Ring Catch

MIDLAND, Tex., March 16 —UP—Midland police disclosed Monday that they arrested nine men and three women yesterday and threw them into jail for investigation as marijuana peddlers. All 12 are Mexicans. Police said they recovered a total of two pounds of marijuana from the homes of two suspects and from the automobiles of others.

A woman who got into a knife fight with her lover was responsible for the arrests. She named names and gave addresses to police, after they sent her lover to the hospital for treatment.

The woman who talked is one of those being held. Police found marijuana in her home.

Police said they probably will file charges Monday against six of the men and one of the women.

Shepherd Hails Court's Defense Of Tideland Bill

AUSTIN, March 16 — Attorney General John Ben Shepperd Monday hailed the U.S. Supreme Court's refusal to permit filing of a suit challenging state ownership of tidelands legislation as "a milestone in the long fight of Texas to recover her off-shore lands."

Shepperd called "wonderful" the action of the U.S. Supreme Court in refusing to permit Alabama and Rhode Island to file a suit challenging off-shore oil legislation passed by Congress last year.

The Texas attorney general said the action sustained Texas' position that the two suits were "po-

National Draft 25,000 Monthly

WASHINGTON, March 16 — UP — Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens said Monday draft calls in the year starting July 1 will run at a rate of about 25,000 monthly.

Stevens also told a Senate Military Appropriations subcommittee that it will be necessary to continue the draft as long as the Army maintains a strength of more than 600,000 men.

During the fiscal year starting July 1, Stevens said the Army will have to draft nearly 300,000 men. "This we shall do at the rate of approximately 25,000 men per month," he said.

Draft calls have been running at the rate of 18,000 men monthly for the past several months. Starting next July, however, the Army enters a year of heavy personnel turnover necessitating higher draft calls.

Although Army strength is to be cut by about 250,000 men in the coming fiscal year, Stevens said manpower losses through men getting out of the service will exceed this reduction in strength.

Graham Plans To Double-Up

LONDON, March 16 — UP — Evangelist Billy Graham's sponsors are considering the advisability of holding two revival meetings a day to accommodate the overflow crowds that have turned out to hear him, it was made known Monday.

In 11 nights of meetings, Graham has drawn 145,000 persons to London's Harringway Arena.

Graham spent part of Sunday at a little country church near Hemel Hempstead, in Hertfordshire, with a congregation of about 100 persons.

Monday evening Graham was to be guest of honor at a dinner given by Cyril Black, member of the House of Commons and prominent Baptist layman, and will hold another meeting at Harringway Arena.

Sympathetic Cabbie - Soft Living - 'Oversold' Bomb

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Harold Russell, former president of AMVETS, was one of the featured speakers for Washington's Brotherhood Week observed by the National Conference of Christians and Jews. He was late leaving New York for LaGuardia Field, and as he jumped into a taxi, he urged the driver to hurry so that he wouldn't miss his plane.

Russell is perhaps best known as the Academy Award winning star of "The Best Years of Our Lives." The taxi driver didn't recognize him as such, but did notice the two hooks which Russell has had to use as the result of losing both hands in the war.

The driver asked Russell if he would mind a personal question. Russel said of course not. Well, the driver wanted to know, did he

'Sheepskin' A Lure To Girl Wife

HOUSTON, March 16 — UP — Mrs. Marian Rosen is a 19-year-old housewife with beauty, brains and a well-to-do husband to admire them, and she wants education, yet.

So badly, in fact, she commutes nearly 1,000 miles a week from her home in Port Arthur to the University of Houston campus.

With a life of leisure ahead if she chose, the ex-New Yorker instead prefers the grind of getting a law degree and thus, hops out of bed at 5:30 a. m., most mornings, gives her still-sleeping husband, Fred, a goodbye kiss and drives the 105 miles to class.

The 117-pound blend of personality, beauty and ambition, to every one's amazement, but her own, wants to be a lawyer—a practicing attorney with a shingle in front of her office.

Not Too Surprising
She says it shouldn't be too surprising a jump—from beauty queen to barrister.

"All my friends say it's crazy," she says with a smile certain to win juries and influence judges.

"But I don't see anything so strange about it. If I didn't spend my time studying law, I'd probably get interested in bridge clubs or flower gardening. And I just happen to prefer law to both bridge and petunias."

She prefers a capias to "cheese-cake," too, and nipped a very likely career as a bathing beauty after winning one contest while getting her bachelor's degree at the University of Miami, Florida.

She thinks a mandamus more intriguing than modeling and quit displaying her shapely form for a New York garment wholesaler after only six weeks.

"There just doesn't seem to be any future in modeling and all that stuff," Mrs. Rosen, wife of a metal dealer, said with almost as much sincerity as a co-ed struggling through school on $28 a week.

The brunet honor student says she also hopes to take a fling at politics when she gets her degree late this year, but disclaims any knowledge of recent publicity about her gubernatorial campaign, saying it was more embarrassing than truthful.

Nothing Repugnant
But the trim (35-24-35-inch measurements in strategic locations) five-foot, five-inch beauty says the idea of being a Texas governor is by no means repugnant to her.

"But I'd better wait at least until I'm old enough to vote to start thinking about getting into politics," she said.

"I certainly don't think a person's sex ought to keep them from running for office, though—including the governor's—if they have the ability and desire," she added thoughtfully.

Mrs. Rosen may be the only co-ed in the nation who can afford to commute to campus by commercial airliner if she decides to sleep an hour late.
