Laughlin Man Named Duval County Auditor

Woodrow Laughlin — as one of his last official acts before being ousted Wednesday as 79th District judge — named South Texas political boss George Parr's former personal accountant as the new Duval county auditor, it was re-vealed Thursday;

Laughlin, thrown out of office by the Texas Supreme Court on the Texas Supreme Court on charges of partiality and official misconduct, said Thursday he has not decided whether he will appeal to the U.S. Supreme Court. However, the portly former jurist said he would issue a written statement Thursday afternoon.

W. M. Benson of Alice, a certified public accountant linked with Parr as a tax consultant and bookkeeper for the millionaire political leader, was picked by Laughlin to succeed C. T. Stansell Jr. Stansell, under heavy fire from political factions opposing Parr, gave no reason for his resignation. Several taxpayers' suits had been filed against him, some asking for Duval county officials said Thurs. day Benson would be asked for a "full audit" of Duval county books.

Duval County Judge Dan C. Tobin Jr., announced Thursday that county officials will meet with Benson Thursday or Friday as a preliminary step to having a full audit of county books.

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A

to the FBI that American women are courageous and clever enough to do really effective undercover, counter-spy work. Women were included in hazardous undercover activity when it became apparent that the Communist Party's activity in the U.S. was so broad and integrated that there were many facets of its treacherous operations they could infiltrate easier than men.

Angela Calomiris, a small, dark and vivacious professional photographer, did her work in New York. So did Marlane Kowall, a model and daughter of movie actor Barton MacLane. Their reports to the FBI frequently contained each other's name.

Red Churchmen

The unfrocking of the Rev. Claude Williams by the Presbytery of Detroit, Presbyterian Church, U. S. A., must have given cause for concern by members of the Presbyterian Church and other Protestant denominations.

It will be remembered that there were serious charges of heresy and of his Communist dealings made by the International Council of Christian Churches and at the time the defenders of Williams were bitter in their denunciation of the ICCC and the Rev. Carl McIntire, pasfor of the Bible Presbyterian Church of Collingswood,

In the official action the Presbyterian Church convicted the Rev. Williams of heresy and dismissed a charge of "teaching and preaching Communism."

The House Committee on Un-American Activities as far back as 1948 apparently was not confused by Williams and his followers, declaring that the People's Institute of Applied Religion which Williams headed was one of the most vicious Communist organizations ever set up in this country."

As Rev. McIntire pointed out in a recent statement: The choice statement of Williams, made May 17, 1946, which we have circulated, was actually quoted in full by Congressman Jackson on the floor of the House on March 17, 1953, when he denounced Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam and other clergy for attacking their Committee on Congressman Velde's suggestion that they would investigate Communists among the clergy.

The Williams' statement reads: "Denominationally I am a Presbyterian, religiously a Unitarian and politically I'm a Communist. I'm not preaching to make people good or anything of the sort. I'm in the church because can reach people easier that way and get them organized for Communism.

Before anyone jumps to his feet screaming "Smear!" may we point out that this was exactly what was said during the defense of Williams before the Presbytery took the heresy action (and avoided the Communist

We comment not for the purpose of giving Williams his lumps, for he got those from the Presbytery, but to point out that Williams is not alone in his preachments and that the denomination has a real problem in determining what is to be done with other clergy in the church who have been preaching the same heresy that Williams has been convicted of. Moreover, the conviction of Williams ought to give additional credence to the statements made concerning other leading church members in other denominations for the defense of Williams has been patterned after by these others and has come from the same general source.

As illustration, there has been a great hue and cry about Bishop G. Bromley Oxnam and the same kind of thinking that defended Williams is found in the defense of Bishop Oxnam.

As we have said before, it is time for the Protestant Churches affiliated with the National Council of the Churches of Christ in the U. S. A. to start doing a little earnest and sincere thinking about the problems involved in having their churches used for political purposes by the high brass in the National Council. The opponents of the National Council didn't just dream up the whole Williams mess — they merely told about it, just as they have talked about others of the stripe of G. Bromley Oxnam. We wonder how many such instances will have to take place before there is an awakening.

Stamp Revolution

A revolution in United States postage stamps is in the making. The price of the stamp may be increased if proposed new postal rates are approved by Congress, but the cost of manufacturing them will be reduced if the change is authorized.

The change will mean giving up the 107-year-old handengraving method of making stamps and substituting for it the more economical process of rotogravure printing.

The result would be multi-color stamps replacing the single-color stamps in use for more than a century. Stamp collectors - more than 12,000,000 in this country are agog over the possibility. They anticipate a field day for collecting first issues of the new stamps, and a growing scarcity of the stamps now in use.

The new type of stamp would be made by private interests rather than the government, since the Bureau of Printing and Engraving lacks equipment for the roto-gravure processes. Already one sample, using two colors, red and blue, and depicting the Statue of Liberty, is in preparation by a Scranton, Pa., firm.

Perhaps the most important feature of the new process Is that it will halve the present cost of making stamps. This is a very important consideration in view of the recurrent deficits piled up by the Post Office Department. Certainly the process has much to commend it. The stamps would be more colorful, and the cost of making them would be less. No taxpayer should object to this

mmorality Of Taxation

Since most people have been so accustomed to believing in taxation, it is refreshing to read a philosophical discussion on the immorality of taxation.

I used to say that I believe in voluntary tax, but Frank Chodorov pointed out that that was a contradiction of terms because if a man didn't pay his taxes he would be coerced to pay them. What I really was trying to say was that I believe that the government should be supported on a voluntary basis rather than on a coercive basis.

Now I have had the pleasure of reading a very logica! presentaof Indianapolis, Indiana, He has given me the privilege of printing

Those people who have never thought about the immorality of taxation notice this gem in his article: "Surely there is inconsistency in the state's act of stealing from people in order to prevent another robber from stealing from them." If this question makes you face a dilemma, it might be well for you to read the whole article to see how logical Mr. Cooley presents his case against taxation.

From here on Mr. Cooley is

"There are two ways of looking at taxation. One is that all property belongs to society, that s, to the government; that it is held in temporary stewards hip by individuals; and that government therefore is warranted in taking such of its property as it needs, periodically, to finance itself. This denies private property and embraces communism. The other is that individuals actually own property and that through taxes government periodically takes a part of that property. The amount it takes is determined by formula, and a government official compels the payment. If the taxpayer fails to pay, it is taken from him by force. "To those who believe in private property, only the second view is open. "Now to take wealth from a person by force is robbery, which s a crime under the laws of this and every civilized country. Expbbery is also contrary to the universally accepted moral law. Is taxation, then, robbery?

"It may be argue: that taxes are not actually taken by force, that persons pay their taxes willingly, bel ag such action to be their civic duty. If this be true, why are tax collector continually bringing force to bear upon recalcitrant taxpayers? Their property is being seized and 'sold for taxes.' They are being fined, and even imprisoned, for paying too little tax, - too little, that is, in may oppose this a litional dent plain, so vivid, that even the nonfor paying it too late. If people pay taxes willingly, believing it to be their civic duty, this use of force by the tax-collecting authority is that force is being used, in every country regardless of the form of its government, demonstrates November's elections make it manish. "Being forced to admit that taxes are compulsory payments, a form of robbery, the tax defender may argue that taxation is nevertheless justified because every taxpayer benefits from the services of government and should puts the matter on a basis of paying 'for value received.' This is an honest and businesslike principle, but it does not prevail in the field of taxes. Some receive from government more services than others. Some pay more taxes han others. But in respect to most taxes there is little if any correspondence between what one receives and what he pays, For example, a childless couple often pays more tax to support the schools than does the father of a flock. A person who is frequent-ly involved in litigation may pay less taxes than a man who never

Some leagues have worked this out by offering membership to all persons in the town or league area thirteen years of age and up; some have held cake sales. There are any number of ways to raise Little League for your youngsters, the money can be raised.

However, the selling of chances will not be condoned, nor is the use of the youngsters in fund raising recommended.

After you get going, pass the hat at all games, Since each team must play eighteen games per season, there are thirty-six intra-league games scheduled. The avcontribution is probably around ten cents per person per game. If you have an average attendance of 200, that's $20 per game or $720 per season, Quite a boost to your treasury! Suggestion! Don't let the boys pass the hat. Use adults - preferably the ladies!

We say "pass the hat" because charging admission is against Littie League policy and youl' have tax problems if you charge. There is no tax on collections. The money from collections at games may field and its facilities. KANSAS CITY, March 18—UP—
The National Association of Bassekball Coaches opened its 28th annual convention Thursday, with the controversial one-and-one foul rule and the three-minute rule getting top attention.

But, the general belief was that the coaches, as in past years, would do a lot of agreeing that the rules should be changed, but reach no conclusion or how the changes should be made during the five day meeting.

The one-and-one rule provides that a player gets another try if he misses a one-shot free throw. Many coaches, including Eddie lilickey of St. Louis, president of the coaches association, are opposed to that regulations.

A sideline feature of the convention will be clinics stressing various technical phases of the game, and a general airing of the rules and regulations is expected to be made at the discussions.

Some other issues that were expected to be brought to the convention floor included:

S. For each foul after the third made by any player, make the penalty one free throw and two more if that is converted.

Bernhard Visits Bomber Plant On Southwest Visit

FORT WORTH, March 18—UP—
The Netheriands' Prince Bernhard inspected the United States' big B-35 bomber Thursday, and talked to the men who fly the 10-engined ship.

The prince, in Fort Worth as a guest of newspaper publisher Amon Carter, was scheduled to fly to Eglin, Fla., Air Force Base about 11 a.m. cst., with a short stop en-

Indicted For Fraud

NEW ORLEANS, March 18-UP The former manager of the New Orleans public grain elevator and two Fort Worth, Tex., grain offic-ials have been indicted on charges of mixing frost-damaged Canadian wheat with higher grade domest

The three men indicted Wednes day by a federal grand jury are C. J. Winters, the former manager of the New Orleans elevator; Loe Potishman, president of the Transit Grain Co., of Fort Worth, and Julian Scott, vice president of he Fort Worth company. They are charged with mixing the grain at the New Orleans elevator and representing the re-sulting mixture to the CCC as high Potishman and Scott pleaded guilty to a similar indictment in Houston, Tex., on Nov. 11, Winters quit his job at the New Orleans elevator April 16, 1953, after mixing of the wheat was made public at a Senate hearing. The indictment against the three men charges they conspired to defraud the Commodity Credit Corp.

by making false statements to obtain $45,000 from the CCC in connection with the mixed wheat.

The indictment charges the three made false statements to induce the CCC to purchase large quanti-ties of the damaged wheat from ransit, and also illegally taking for the use of Transit grain owned by the CCC and held in storage at the New Orleans elevator,

Shepperd Praises Legislation Which Would Outlaw Reds

HOUSTON, March 18 -UP-At-orney General John Ben Shepperd Wednesday night praised legisla-tion now before the state Legisla-ture which would outlaw the Comture which would outlaw the Com-munist party.

The best way to fight commu-nism, he said, is to "run them un-derground and let them suffocate."

Shepperd, speaking at an Amer-ican Legion gathering, said "Tex-as has got to have anti-Communist laws with teeth in them and these are the 'toothiest' ever proposed in Texas."

He said the most significant

He said the most significan measures offered in the speca session were those proposed by the Texas Industrial Commission. They would outlaw the Communist party and make it unlawful to participate in any activity designed to overthrow the government by violence, with punishment as high as 20 years in prison, a $20,000 fine or both.

FORT WORTH, - UP - Toby Ersery reported to police he was crossing a downtown street in his wheel chair when a passing man paused, hooked a finger into Ersery's watchchain and ran away with the timepiece.

MACON, Ga., —UP— A poli-man figured that a lumber tru parked on a downtown street he was creating a hazard — so heleft a ticket on the windshield.

About 20 minutes later anothe truck sideswiped the lumber truck
