Dewey Hopes To Confer With Leaders

Nominee Holds Large Press Conference

CHICAGO, June 29 (AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey at the close of the Republican convention, told what he called the "world's biggest press conference" today that he hopes to confer with all of the nation's Republican leaders, including Wendell L. Willkie, on presidential campaign plans.

VICE PRESIDENTIAL NOMINEE—This picture shows the republican vice presidential nominee, Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, who was nominated at the GOP convention session June 28, to be Gov. Thomas E. Dewey's running mate. (AP Wirephoto).

Declining to discuss cabinet possibilities—if he wins the White House—the smiling GOP nominee gave speedy indorsement to many planks of the party's platform, including those on foreign policy, the president's fair employment practices committee, foreign trade and others.

Dewey was asked specifically if he "welcomes the editorial support of the Chicago Tribune," which once criticized his views on foreign policy. There was a laugh from the reporters.

Smilingly, Dewey replied: "I don't know that I have the editorial support of the Tribune. I shall welcome the support of every good American in the whole United States."

The nominee sat on a table and puffed a cigarette-in-holder, much after the Franklin D. Roosevelt fashion, while the reporters asked their questions.

Dewey covered a wide range of issues in answer to questions. He said he had read the republican platform only once—while he was enroute here by plane—and that "it represents my views."

"The essence of the plank is to be found in the latter part," Dewey said. "The party promises that this nation will work with other nations to promote greater trade. This is not inconsistent with the tariff part of the plank."

Questioned closely about his views on postwar foreign policy, Dewey said he did not believe the United States should surrender its "sovereign right to make war" to any international organization.

"The sovereign power to make war is primarily a defensive power on our part," he declared. "We have never fought any offensive war."

"How about the Mexican war?" a reporter asked. "That depends on your interpretation," he said.

The nominee defended state regulation of insurance companies at length, and promised a negro reporter that he would live up to his oath to enforce the 13th and 14th amendments if he is elected.

Youth against age was the predominant theme of Dewey's acceptance speech as he set out to follow Franklin D. Roosevelt's trail from the executive mansion in Albany to the White House via Chicago nominating conventions. Mr. Roosevelt, too, flew to this city to accept the high honor in 1932.

The 42-year-old former racket-buster, in his opening statement to the American electoral jury last night, promised that "next year our government will again have a cabinet of the ablest men and women to be found in America."

"Its members," he declared, "will expect and will receive full delegation of the powers of their office. They will be capable of administering those powers. They will each be experienced in the task to be done and young enough to do it."

Motorists Without Stamp To Be Fined

Numerous motorists will be without federal tax use stamps Saturday, when the 1944 stamps will be required on all vehicles in use, unless a tremendous rush occurs Thursday afternoon and Friday at Big Spring postoffice, it was apparent Thursday morning.

Only 1,450 stamps had been sold up to late Thursday morning, Nat Shick, postmaster, announced. The stamps are on sale for $5 each at the parcel post window. The internal revenue department has charge of enforcement of the requirement that they be on vehicles in use. Penalty for operating vehicles without a stamp may include both fine and jail sentence.

US Troops Near Livorno On The Italian Coast

By NOLAND NORGAARD ROME, June 29 (AP)—Along a highway littered with enemy dead and abandoned equipment, American troops of the Fifth army punched forward another five miles along Italy's west coast yesterday and captured the town of Castagnia, only 25 miles from Livorno (Leghorn), while a second American column farther inland pierced through German lines to within a dozen miles of Siena, Allied headquarters said today.

Livorno is an important port 11 miles below Pisa, while Siena is a key rail and communications center 31 miles south of Florence.

The enemy intensified by every conceivable means the retarding of the Fifth army advance, felling trees across roads, then booby trapping them, destroying all bridges and laying minefields. The tactics failed to prevent a close pursuit, and an enemy infantry company which attempted to break the advance by infiltration back into the captured village of Sassetta was wiped out.

It was announced that the Fifth army alone has taken over 25,000 prisoners since the offensive began seven weeks ago today.

The total bag of prisoners for the offensive exceeds 32,000. The Eighth army reported limited gains in heavy fighting in the areas of Lake Trasimeno and north of Perugia.

West of Lake Trasimeno the villages of Frattavecchia and Lafoce were occupied. Among trophies taken were German railway guns with 70-foot barrels, firing 500 pound projectiles.

Mexican Youths Wounded In Action

Mrs. Lenora Fierro has received word that her brother, Pvt. Santiago Valdez, formerly of Big Spring, who has been serving in New Guinea, has been wounded in action. Pvt. Valdez' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Valdez, Sr., formerly resided here but now live in Toyah.

Mrs. Victoriana Parras also received word recently that her son, Pvt. Henry Parras, has been wounded in action in New Guinea.

Nye Overtakes Lynn In Tuesday Primary

FARGO, N. D., June 29 (AP)—Incumbent Gerald P. Nye overtook Lynn U. Stambaugh, Fargo attorney, today as late returns were received from Tuesday's primary election in the contest for the republican nomination for U.S. senator.

With an even 300 precincts still to be heard from Nye had a 64 vote margin over Stambaugh. The count was Nye 35,621; Stambaugh 35,557; Representative Usher L. Burdick 31,982, and A. C. Townley 1,238.

SELECTION CONFIRMED CHICAGO, June 29 (AP)—The republican convention has confirmed selection of the party's national committee for the next four years. The committee includes: Texas, H. B. Creeger and Mrs. Lena Gay Mora.

Germans Throw Bulk Of Two Armies Into Caen Defense

Allied Bombers Rain Destruction On Nazi Targets

LONDON, June 29 (AP)—Upwards of 1,000 Fortresses and Liberators attacked Germany today, hitting four aircraft producing centers, a synthetic oil refinery and a number of other military and industrial targets in the center of the reich.

Escorted by an equal number of fighters, the heavies attacked aircraft plants at Leipzig, Oschersleben, Aschersleben and Fallersleben, and a refinery at Bohlsen, capping a 12-hour Allied air offensive which saw more than 3,000 warplanes scouring important nazi installations across the face of northwestern Europe.

Leipzig, Oschersleben and Aschersleben are within 90 to 100 miles southwest of Berlin, while Fallersleben is 40 miles east of Hannover. Bohlsen also is in the Hannover area.

Railroad centers haltingly feeding reinforcements to the Germans' taxed battlelines were other targets in the big assault.

In darkness before the American heavies swept out, some 500 RAF Halifaxes carried the campaign against nazi supply lines to the German border, bombing railroad yards in the region of Metz, near the world war battlefield of Verdun.

The Berlin radio said Allied bombers had penetrated to Thuringia, an eastern German province bordering on Czechoslovakia, and declared that fierce air battles were raging there.

The night blows came after daylight attacks by both British and American heavy bomber formations yesterday, which included the bombing of the Saarbrücken rail yards.

The Germans gave further evidence of their growing concern over the effects of the Allied air attacks by their enlivened opposition over the Normandy battle front where lighter Allied war planes late yesterday made a few attacks on enemy transport and armed reconnaissance flights.

Ellis K. Douthit Dies In Abilene

Ellis K. Douthit, 72, Abilene attorney since 1928 and a pioneer attorney of Big Spring, died at his home in Abilene from effects of a stroke Wednesday evening.

He had come to Abilene from Fort Worth. Born in Lexington, Mo., he moved while a child to Sweetwater with his parents. Graduating from the University of Texas law school, he was admitted to the bar before he was 21 and for many years practiced law in Big Spring and served as district attorney of the old 32nd judicial district.

He was director of the First National bank in Big Spring at the time of his death. He also was interested in the Douthit ranch southeast of here.

Mr. Douthit was married Jan. 12, 1898 to Mary Kennedy, daughter of the first judge of the old 32nd judicial district. He was active in the Presbyterian church.

Besides his widow, survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Donald Knight, Midland, and Mrs. Harold Bold, Washington, D. C., a brother, Joe, San Antonio, a sister, Mrs. H. H. Brothhouse of Los Angeles, and a grandson, Ellis K. Douthit, Jr., Abilene.

Raging Near Flood Stage—River Thwarts Attempts Of Rescue

GRAND CANYON, Ariz., June 29 (AP)—The Colorado river raging at flood stage thwarted attempts of two rescue parties to save three parachutists camped on a Grand Canyon plateau but seasoned rangers, a mountaineer and Army personnel were descending into the gorge today hopeful by the hour of reaching the men.

A party left the north rim of the chasm yesterday and moved downward through fissures in the rock toward the marooned airman's shelter. With luck, they

Red Army Storms Nearer Capital

LONDON, June 29 (AP)—The Red army stormed closer to the White Russian capital of Minsk today after capturing the Nazi strongholds of Mogilev, Lepel and Osvipolich in a swift, crushing offensive that in less than a week has reclaimed 25,000 square miles of Russian soil and cut deeply in-

Finland Faced With Collapse

STOCKHOLM, June 29 (AP)—Finland was faced with the threatened collapse of virtually all semblance of democratic government today as nazi troops swarmed through that tragic Baltic country, now plunged into full military collaboration with Germany.

At a parliament meeting today the five cabinet ministers of the dominant social democratic party were scheduled to withdraw formally from the government of President Risto Ryti and Premier Edwin Linkomies, which opened the doors of southern Finland to nazi troops.

Such action would strip the Finnish government of a great segment of popular support. The Germans turned Helsinki into a parade ground when the Finnish government announced officially that Von Ribbentrop had sent troops in response to a Finnish appeal and that a "perfect understanding" had been reached between Finland and the reich.

(A London broadcast said a German pocket battleship and two cruisers "are said to have arrived off Helsinki and there are German infantry and tanks in the city where only a few Finnish forces remain.")

Man Charged With Stealing Truck

Sought almost a year ago on an indictment for car theft, Clyde Linney is in Howard county jail following his arrest at Seagraves by the highway patrol.

He was taken from Seagraves to Brownfield jail and transferred there this week by members of the Howard county sheriff's department.

He is under indictment for theft of a pick-up from Bill Croan of Big Spring, said R. L. Wolf, deputy. He was charged in July of 1943. Bond of $1,000 has been set.

Japanese Take Airforce Base At Henyang

Vital Chinese City Blazes Under Strong Pressure Of Attack

By J. E. KRUEGER Associated Press War Editor

Japanese troops hammering at Henyang have captured the U. S. airforce base there, thus reaping one of the first major fruits of their drive to slice China in two. It was partial recompense for the progressing American conquest of Saipan in the Pacific.

Chungking, conceding abandonment of the advance field, reported the vital Chinese city had burst into flames under the pressure of the greatest Japanese China offensive since 1938.

Loss of the base was a hard blow to the Allies, and Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's fliers quickly retaliated, dropping 1,000-pound bombs from their P-51s and knocking out one runway.

Henyang, key point on the Kankow-Canton railway, is surrounded. Its loss would greatly advance Japan's presumed aim of bisecting the country along the railline and blocking the Allies out of coastal China.

Marines and infantrymen advancing up both coasts of Saipan got strong support from U. S. naval and air forces which struck at the Kuriles north of Japan, at the Marianas and the Carolines.

Among the specific targets were Guam, Rota, Paramushiro, Shumshu, Tinian and Truk. Enemy air attacks against American warships and transports utterly failed, Adm. Nimitz announced in outlining the western Pacific situation through June 26.

The foot soldiers inched into Garapan, Saipan's capital, blasting out the defenders street by street. They moved two miles up the east coast through two villages. Japanese trying to break out of Nafutan peninsula trapped were mowed down, 200 dying in the vala effort.

Admittedly the Saipan fighting was as rough as anything yet encountered in the Pacific.

Capt. L. E. Long Class Speaker

Graduating bombardiers of class 44-9 Saturday will have as their principal speaker an officer who has been through the fight for which they have been trained.

He is Capt. Louis E. Long, Jr., a native of Gall and who saw many months of action in the North African and Italian theaters. Capt. Long has been a bombardier instructor at the Big Spring Bombardier school almost since he returned a year ago from overseas.

The class is the 26th to be graduated from the post and Col. J. P. Kenny, commanding officer, will present silver wings to each member. Oath of office will be administered by Capt. Pierre W. Curie, and invocation and benediction will be by Chaplain J. L. Patterson. French and United States national anthems will be played by the post orchestra since the class contains a group of French cadets. Exercises are set for 8:30 a. m. in the post theatre.

Tickets to the exercise may be picked up at The Herald office.

Employment Needs Are Still Critical

Employment needs, contrary to some reports, are still critical in most parts of the country and particularly in this-section, Henry Clark, U.S. Employment Service manager, said Thursday.

One needs to go no further than Big Spring to find a demand for workers in essential industry, pointing to a list of unfilled places with a local refinery.

Clark also pointed to long lists of requests for workers in a host of war industries in Texas. Besides these there are an unlimited number of requests for workers in essential and non-essential fields, he continued.

Large-Scale Tank Clashes Rage In Eastern Normandy

By WES GALLAGHER SUPREME HEADQUARTERS, Allied Expeditionary Force, June 29 (AP)—The Germans were reported today to have thrown the bulk of their 15th and 17th armies into the defense of Caen in an attempt to halt the British flanking thrust south of the inland port.

But Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery's men smashed nine counterattacks in 24 hours and widened a breach in the enemy lines.

Supreme headquarters announced British infantry and armor were streaming across the Odon river southwest of Caen in an ever-widening bridgehead.

Field dispatches said the German command had sent virtually the entire strength of the two armies into fierce armored fighting raging on three sides of the city.

(The German communiques said the British were attacking on a 17-mile front and had achieved a "minor break-in" in the bushy terrain southwest of Caen. One German tank formation destroyed 53 Allied tanks, the communique declared. The Germans' Hitler Youth 13th tank division was said to have distinguished itself in the fighting.)

The Germans threw 150 tanks into flank attacks yesterday, the dispatch said, and much hand-to-hand fighting occurred in the woods where the British hunted down Germans in camouflaged nests.

Heavy fighting, including large-scale tank clashes, raged at distances of two to four miles from the strongly defended German base in eastern Normandy.

Westward the Americans on the Cherbourg peninsula were mopping up isolated resistance in the Cap De La Hague, where it was unofficially estimated that about 3,000 Germans still are holding out.

The fighting around Caen in the present stage is a typical big tank battle, with none knowing exactly where the front lines are and towns being overrun, only to be retaken a few hours later.

"Every British advance has been met with a most violent local counter-attack," the supreme command said. "It is to be expected the Germans will make a co-ordinated major counterthrust."

It is considered unlikely that the battle for Caen will be decided before Marshal Erwin Rommel makes such an all-out bid.

The last field reports said 60 German tanks had been destroyed in three days of the Caen fighting, bringing the campaign total to 160.

Bond Sales Still $343,000 Short Of Overall Goal

After the air cleared Thursday following the rally, the bond sales for the Fifth War Loan drive were still $343,000 short of the goal of which amount $174,530 are E bonds. However, many pledges received at the rally have not been taken up at bond headquarters and of course, cannot be added to the total until the money is paid.

The overall sales stand at $1,237,466 while the E bond sales are now $249,669. The totals show that a large number of E bonds must be purchased during this week and next in order that Howard county makes its quota.

Bond pledges made at the bond rally should be picked up at bond headquarters as soon as possible, it was urged.

Today will mark the bond premiere show at the State Theater. Bond purchasers will be admitted only to see the Judy Canova musical "Louisiana Hayride." The picture will be shown throughout today.

Plans are also underway for a July 4th open air program at the amphitheater. The program will include talent from the AAFES and other entertainers. Since the majority of people will be unable to go out of town due to gas and tire shortage, the program will fill an entertainment need for the county.

Further plans for the event will be announced Friday, it was said, and all county citizens were urged to attend.

Rayburn Comments On GOP Platform

BONHAM, June 29 (AP)—Speaker of the House Sam Rayburn, home to the open his congressional campaign here tonight, said he considered the 1944 republican platform "a collection of ambiguities which cannot appeal to the American people."

"I doubt if anyone reading the republican platform can understand what the party stands for," he said. "The people of America want a bold and definite policy which is not couched in weasel words."

"The republican foreign relations plank is like the old Mother Hubbard—it covers a lot of territory but doesn't touch a thing."

US Casualties Total 244,158

WASHINGTON, June 29 (AP)—American casualties in the war, including the first two weeks of battle in Normandy, total 244,158. Of these, 55,206 are dead—35,104 soldiers and 20,102 navy, marine and coast guard personnel.

Secretary of War Stimson reported today that through June 13 American army casualties were 179,923, of which 32,823 were killed, 71,668 wounded, 37,766 missing and 26,467 prisoners. These figures, he explained, did not include casualties in France because completion of casualties from individual names transmitted from the field to the war department lagged behind actual events.

To be added in them, however, was the report of supreme allied headquarters that during the first two weeks of fighting in France American casualties totaled 24,162, with 3,082 killed, 13,121 wounded and 7,959 missing.

OPA Executive Will Hold Meeting Here

Meetings with used automobile dealers and with retail beer dealers will be sought here Friday by J. B. Mooney, Lubbock, district OPA price executive.

The Howard county ration office urged used car dealers to meet Mooney in room No. 1 at the Settles at 10:30 a. m. and retail beer dealers to confer with him in the same location at 2 p. m.

Mr. Average Buyer, Surprised At Hike In Prices Is Amazed At Pre-War Tags

By JEANNE DICKERSON
 Stumbling his way through a maze of wartime shortages, price ceilings, rationings and regulations, it is hardly surprising that any civilian finds his thoughts carrying him back to pre-war periods of practically unlimited displays of products in stores.

Realizing his failure to appreciate the bountiful counters when they were available, almost everyone is now promising himself that post-war opportunities will not be neglected.

Old newspapers are a never-ending source of amazement and speculation, where we find silk hose advertised for 49c, or "expensive" shoes for $2.49. Special offers are also made, and a company offers a second automobile tire for only $1.00, if of course a first is bought at regular price.

A complete chicken dinner with lead tea is priced at the prodigious sum of 25c; in the grocery stores eggs are 13c a dozen; butter, 25c per pound; whipping cream, 11c per half pint; coffee, two pounds for 25c.

The consumer is looking forward to the time when the merchant will take down his "we reserve the right to restrict quantities" sign and revert to his practice of urging customers to take all they want and more. And he is looking forward to the time that, when he states that a proffered product is not exactly what he was hoping to find, the clerk will not assume an attitude of indifference.

Five years have indeed made a remarkable change in the products of business firms and in the attitudes of sellers and buyers, and all are hoping for as notable a difference in the ensuing five years, as peace becomes a reality, and war an episode of the past.

FRIDAY

DOWNTOWN STROLLER

It seemed everybody and their child were trying to get a glimpse of BIG BOY WILLIAMS, particularly, when the stars arrived to assist in making Big Spring go over the top in its bond sales.

CLIFF WILEY always seems to make the best impression and always steals the show. WILEY was the bond auctioneer and sure did a bang-up job.

The little boy who was the luckiest, so the children thought, was the cute young fellow that got to sit on PEGGY O'NEILL'S lap during the program. HUNTZ HALL, Dead End Kid, kept the little boy entertained too, as well as the crowd.

CPL. JAMES C. SMITH and CPL. JAMES P. FOUCHE were the wounded veterans of action avatars, traveling with the stars. The service stripes they wore took one's breath away.

In the crowd, noticed MRS. J. Y. ROBB, MRS. CARL BLOM-SHIELD, MRS. HARRY BLOM-SHIELD, MRS. D. P. WATTS and MRS. DAVID HURST gathering in the shade where it was a little cooler.

A good response was made by Big Spring citizens when the crowd pledged $180,000 in bonds Tuesday morning. We still have to do better!

Work Is Continuing At Issuing Agencies

Bond selling went on before and after the big rally on the courthouse lawn Wednesday as women from various organizations and clubs took charge at the usual issuing agencies.

Selling at the First National Bank were members of the Music Study club including Mrs. Pat Kenney, Mrs. Larson Lloyd, and Mrs. Ernest Hook.

Members of College Heights P-T-A. took charge at the State National Bank and included Mrs. Borace Beene, Mrs. R. E. Porter, and Mrs. M. H. Bennett.

Frank W. F. Brown and Mrs. Frank Argus sold for the Officer's Wives club at the Bond Headquarters and Inez Eaves and Elizabeth Stanford took charge at the Ritz Theater on Wednesday evening.

Those organizations to sell bonds on Friday include the Central Ward P-T-A. at the State National Bank; Modera Woman's Forum at the First National Bank; AAUW at Bond Headquarters; and members of the B & P W club at the Ritz.

Graduation Dance Will Be Given For Cadet Class 44-9

Members of the graduating cadet class 44-9 will be entertained this evening in the Cadet club with a dance at 9 o'clock.

Decorations, with the cadet wives in charge, will be of red, white and blue streamers. Also around the wall will be the words of the cadet song.

Refreshments will be served and the post orchestra will furnish music for the optional dance.

Cadets, wives and dates will attend.

PATSY WILSON GIVEN PARTY ON BIRTHDAY

Narrell-Hostad Vows Repeated At Loraine

COLORADO CITY, June 29—In a ceremony performed at the home of her parents at 8 o'clock Monday evening, Miss Doris Narrell became the bride of Sergeant Fred Hostad of Jackson, Mississippi. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Narrell.

The double ring vows were solemnized by the Rev. Huron Poinac, pastor of the Baptist church of Loraine in the presence of members of the family.

The bride wore a dress of black sheer crepe with matching lace trim. Her Dutch bonnet was of white lace, her shoulder corsage of white carnations.

Her only attendant was her sister, Mrs. G. E. Tiner of Abilene. She wore light blue crepe with a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Corporal Tiner attended the bridegroom as best man.

Mrs. Hostad was graduated from Loraine high school, attended McMurry college, and received her bachelor of arts degree from Hardin-Simmons University. She is a former teacher in Colorado City junior high school and recently has been employed in the finance office at Kelly Field, Texas.

Sergeant Hostad, son of Mr. and Mrs. Neis Hostad of Homewood, Ill., is a graduate of high school in Harvey, Ill., attended the University of Illinois, and was graduated from the University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyoming. Until he entered military training he was employed by the Mid-States Freight Lines in Chicago, Ill.

The couple left Thursday, after a visit with the bride's parents here, for a honeymoon trip to Chicago. Later they will be at home in Jackson, Miss., where the bridegroom is attached to the Mississippi Ordnance Plant.

Crops Completely Destroyed By Hail

Crops were completely destroyed by hail Tuesday night on a strip of farm land three miles long and half to three-fourths mile wide south of Coahoma, the AAA office has been informed.

No other reports of hail damage have been received in the office.

Much of the county is in need of additional moisture, that Tuesday night amounting to scattered showers except in Big Spring, Elbow and Lomax communities, which were desperately in need of moisture, received sufficient for planting. Except for parts of those two communities and a few areas which needed rainfall for replanting, seeding, all of the county's farm land had received moisture for planting.

Regulations On Selling Foods

By RHEBA MERLE BOYLES
Co. Home Demonstration Agent
Several people have called at my office and asked about selling processed foods. Here is the latest material I have been able to obtain regarding this question.

A home processor may sell home-canned foods, but he must observe some limitations. The processor must collect ration points in accordance with OPA's official table of point values, except that the point value of home-processed foods never exceeds eight points per quart or four points per pound. A farm woman who fails to collect points for home processed foods sold is participating in black market operations.

Frozen foods in private or rented lockers are governed by the same regulations. Home processors are urged to keep accurate records of dates and quantities sold. Points collected must be turned in to the local ration board by the tenth of each month.

It is permissible, the OPA has ruled, for a consumer to buy fresh produce from a farm woman and then to pay the producer by the day for canning the food. But this transaction must be carried out in good faith.

Farm families can give away or sell fresh foods for canning, but there is a limitation of 50 quarts to the amount of home-processed foods which can be given to any person or group in any one year without the exchange of point coupons. The food that is given away, however, must come from the supply intended for the household.

Means Of Reducing Shedding Of Tomato Blossoms Are Given

All through the late spring, summer and fall seasons, home gardeners as well as commercial producers all over the state have many and varied problems with their tomatoes. It is hoped that the suggestions given below, on holding these troubles to a minimum, may be of value.

Blossom Shedding
One of the troubles most common at this season of the year, and later into the summer, is shedding of blossoms. This condition apparently is brought on by more than one cause. It is, however, caused generally by blossom sterility or lack of proper pollination believed to be caused in the majority of cases by high temperature, high winds, and dry atmosphere and low humidity. There seems to be several ways of improving this condition: First, set out large, thrifty tomato plants early in the season as possible so that they will come into bloom and production prior to excessively hot, dry weather. Secondly, even though the pruning and staking of summer and fall tomatoes is not generally a recommended practice, pinching off

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 16 million tiny tubes or filaments which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sensation shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lose valuable, restful sleep. When function of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may also cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.
Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 16 million of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

City Of Big Spring And American Airlines Enter Into New Lease

A five-year lease with a renewal clause has been entered into by American Airlines, Inc., and the City of Big Spring for use of the municipal airport and terminal facilities. The contract has been under negotiation for several months. Under terms of the agreement, the airline will pay $150 per annum per squarefoot of space used in the administration building. If and when a new administration building is erected, the price for first floor space will be unchanged but a rate of $1 per square foot per annum will prevail for the second floor. American Airlines agreed to a $20 monthly garage rental and to a landing charge of $50 per scheduled round trip flight. Currently, American maintains one scheduled round trip flight (one east and westbound stop) and is adding another July 1. Thus, revenue from this source will be $100 monthly. Every additional scheduled round trip flight will draw a $25 monthly charge and any unscheduled landing will be charged at the rate of 15 cents. Certain provisions of the lease now contain contingencies in deference to the army air corps, which permits the commercial airlines to land at the port.

Golfers Still Agog Over Jug's Skinny Score

CHICAGO, June 29 (AP)—Golf's blue plate special—a team affair with more combinations than a slot machine—continued today at the old Edgewater playground, where club members still were agog over the 29 Jug McSpaden carved from the first nine.

A carnival atmosphere prevailed—even to the extent of using hand-talkies to broadcast scores back to the club house from out on the course — as mixed foursomes of pros, amateurs, women and seniors teed off on the final lap of their team tournament. The meet will become less involved tomorrow when a hand-picked field begins a 72-hole grind for the Chicago victory national championship.

Meanwhile, there are pro-amateur, pro-woman and pro-senior titles to be awarded.

McSpaden traveled around the compact Edgewater layout in 29-35-64 yesterday, equaling the course record. Par is 35-36-71, and 18 pros and two amateurs matched or bettered those figures in the limbering up exercises for the main tournament.

No one could remember any player ever before shooting as low as a 29 for nine holes in a major competition. McSpaden melted par with his putter, bagging an eagle 3 on the 493-yard fifth, and then firing birdies on the 7th, 8th and 9th with putts ranging from 10 to 15 feet.

Other scores yesterday indicated the par-wrecking frolic in store before the meet is finished Sunday. Lieut. Ben Hogan of Fort Worth, Tex., and Johnny Revolta had 67's, Ky Laffoon, Jimmy Hines and Byron Nelson, 68's, and Willie Goggin and Pvt. Chick Harbert of Chicago, 69's.

Football Schedule For Southwestern

GEORGETOWN, June 29 (AP)—A nine-game football schedule, including titles with three Southwest conference teams, is announced for Southwestern University by Coach R. M. Medley who plans to begin practice July 5.

The Pirates, champions of the Sun Bowl last Jan. 1, will meet Southern Methodist at Dallas, Texas at Austin and Rice at Houston. Southwestern also will play Tulsa and Louisiana Tech in inter-sectional titles. The schedule, which may be expanded by another game or two, follows:

- Sept. 30—Louisiana Tech at Ruston, La.
- Sept. 30—Texas at Austin.
- Oct. 7—Southern Methodist at Dallas.
- Oct. 13—North Texas Agricultural College at Georgetown.
- Oct. 21—Texas Tech at Lubbock.
- Nov. 4—South Plains Army Air Field at Georgetown.
- Nov. 11—Tulsa at Tulsa.
- Nov. 18—Randolph Field at San Antonio.
- Dec. 2—Rice at Houston.

Major League Game Nets $80,000 For War Relief

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

War relief picked up an estimated $80,000 today from the first four major league fund games but chunky Max Lanier of the St. Louis Cardinals just picked up a check for two more black marks in the loss column.

Lanier worked only six and two-thirds innings last night but he was beaten by the Phillies, 4-0 and charged with another 6-5 defeat in a continuation of a May 16 "suspended" game.

The largest crowd of the St. Louis season, 24,852, turned out for the novel doubleheader but Ken Raffensperger of the Phillies spoiled their fun with a neat four-hit job in the regulation game after Charley Schanz picked up where he had left off in the "suspended" tilt to notch his sixth victory.

Chicago whipped Brooklyn twice, 12-6 and 6-2 before 16,332 who paid $15,887.99 into the war fund. Bob Chipman and Hank Wyse were the winners over Whit Wyatt and Hal Gregg.

The New York Giants western trip started on a sour note as the Pittsburgh Pirates clubbed out a 9-2 edge for Max Butcher to hand Rube Fischer his sixth setback before 16,479 who dumped an estimated $20,000 into the fund.

Dain Clay's 10th inning single in the opener and Estel Crabtree's pinch single in the nightcap gave Cincinnati a double-decker win over Boston, 4-3 and 3-2 behind Jim Konstanty and Arnold Carter. Al Javery and Nate Andrews were the Boston losers.

The Yankee stadium "jinx" struck down the St. Louis Browns who bowed before Alley Donald's talented curving, 7-2. Bob Munchie's six-game win streak was snapped by the New Yorkers.

Don Black kept Philadelphia out of the American league cellar by scattering eight hits for win No. 5 by a 7-3 margin over Cleveland's Vern Kennedy and Washington's Niggeling turned back Detroit wit three scratchy hits to decision Rufe Gentry, 4-1, and dump the Tigers into seventh place.

Manager Joe Cronin's seventh inning double earned Boston a 4-3 twilight edge over Chicago, giving Joe Bowman his sixth win and Orval Grove his sixth setback.

Texans To Compete In Singles Tourney

PHILADELPHIA, June 29 (AP)—Two Texans compete today as singles play is resumed in the National Interscholastic tennis tournament.

MacDonald Mathey of Princeton, N. J., meets Ed Ray of Sinton, Texas, and Bernard Bartzon of San Angelo, Texas, plays Glenn Bassett of Santa Monica, Calif., in the semi-finals.

Yesterday Dean and MacDonald Mathey, defending champions, advanced to the final round in the doubles with two victories.

George Ball Pulls Into Texas Semi-Final Match

AUSTIN, June 29 (AP)—George Ball of El Paso, has pulled into the semi-finals of the Texas Tennis association championship matches but only after taking a three set match from W. B. Clinton of Dallas, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Ball meets Clyde Heppenstiel of Bergstrom Field, Austin, today in the semi-finals of the upper bracket as he continues defense of the singles title he won last year.

In the lower bracket semi-finals are Sam Match, Bergstrom Field, who yesterday defeated Franklin McCarter, Galveston, 6-0, 6-0, and Leo Laborde, Beaumont, who went three sets to down Edgar Braswell, San Antonio, 7-5, 3-6, 6-2.

In the junior boys division, Bobby Goldfarb, El Paso, defeated Howard Startzman, Houston, 6-2, 6-2 but a fellow townsman, Edgar Chew, lost to Ken Crawford, Dallas, 11-9, 6-0.

In junior doubles, Jack Blanton of Houston and Rodrigo De Llano of Laredo defeated Frank Barger, El Paso, and Bill Bailey, 5-7, 6-2, 6-3 and in men's doubles, Ball and Goldfarb of El Paso defeated Braswell and Harold Folkes of San Antonio, 7-5, 6-2.

Other junior boys results included McCarter's stunning the semi-finals with a 6-2, 7-5, 6-4 win over Jim Roberts of Fort Worth, and Jack Williams, Denison, defeating Jack Blanton, Houston, 6-3, 6-2. McCarter meets Goldfarb today and Crawford plays Williams.

Helene McCarter of Galveston gained the semi-finals by downing Ruby Matejka of Brownsville 6-3, 6-4. She will meet Mrs. John S. Scoggins of Galveston, who won from Ethel Norton of San Antonio by default.

One finalist already listed is Shelby Frizzell of Austin, who won from Suzanne Crissey of Corpus Christi and yesterday eliminated Peggy Eby of Houston, 6-4, 7-5. Miss Eby had defeated Marteen Ronk of San Antonio.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—Ed McKeever, Notre Dame's newest football coach who is visiting here, tells how a kid from Vandergrift, Pa., wrote Frank Leahy a couple of years ago enclosing a sketch of Leahy he had drawn and asking for an autograph.

Frank sent it, expressed the hope that the kid would some day realize his ambition to attend Notre Dame and forgot all about it.

During spring drill this year McKeever, badly in need of a passer, tried almost everyone on the squad before he discovered that freshman Joe Gasparella listed as a center, really could throw that hoghide.

Looking into the athletic department files to find Gasparella's background, McKeever found only the sketch of Leahy and Joe's letter.

Irish intelligence—Pat Filley, the '43 captain, likely will be back to lead Notre Dame next fall unless the operation he underwent last week fixes up his trick knees so that the armed forces will accept him. Pat recently was handed a medical discharge from the Marines.

Bob Kelly, a good runner and the only capable receiver of Gasparella's passes, will be available for only five games.

McKeever really is "high" on the Gasparella kid, who is 6 feet 4, weighs 200 and won't be 18 until next February.

Bernie Crimmins and Paul Lillis, who played side by side in the Irish line a few years ago, are in the same P-T boat outfit with Yale's Larry Kelley in the South Pacific.

Shorts and shells—What's this story that the Phillies are wooing Bucky Harris again because Freddie Fitzsimons is squabbling with his players? . . . If anybody cares, there's a wrestling "war" on in Los Angeles.

Promoter Walter Miller, who has leased the Olympic arena, says he won't deal with booking offices and that there'll be no biting, gouging, slugging or tossing-out of the ring. And if that's true, there'll probably be no attendance.

Minneapolis report is that Mike Kelley, one of the founders of the American association, won't field a team next year if the European war continues.

Although Babe Didrikson Zaharias inquired several months ago about becoming a tennis amateur, she failed to file an application, which wouldn't be acted upon for a year, anyway.

Over 550 Schools To Schedule Football

AUSTIN, June 29 (AP)—More than 550 schools have filed football acceptance cards with the Texas Interscholastic League for 1944. Athletic Director R. J. Kidd announced today.

This represents 106 schools in class AA, which plays to a state championship; 267 in class A, which determines regional titles; 146 in class B, which plays to bi-district championship, and 47 in six-man football, which determines bi-district titles.

Two schools that did not participate in football last year are returning to class AA play—Borger in District 1 and Kingsville in District 16.

TCU Pitted Against South Plains Field

LUBBOCK, June 29 (AP)—Texas Christian University of the Southwest conference is included in the football schedule of South Plains Army Air Field for 1944. Athletic Officer Ray Cagni announced today.

The Horned Frogs will be played Sept. 30 at Fort Worth.

FIGHT TONIGHT

BOSTON, June 29 (AP)—Manuel Ortiz, the little Mexican from El Centro, Calif., who holds the undisputed bantamweight title will make his first eastern boxing start against rugged Larry Bolvin of Providence, R. I., tonight in a 10-round overweight bout at Braves Field.

Andersson Can Boast Victory Over Haegg

STOCKHOLM, June 29 (AP)—Arne Andersson, who smashed a lot of Gunder Haegg's world records while Haegg was in America last summer, now can boast his first victory over his famous countryman. They met for the first time in two years yesterday and Andersson won a 1500 meter duel in 3:48.8, nearly four seconds slower than his own world mark. Haegg's time was 3:50.2. Andersson indicated that muggy weather had prevented breaking his record of 3:45.

Dewey

peace, he declared, "is no task to be entrusted to stubborn men, grown old and tired and quarrelsome in office."

"It seems," he declared, "that the great men who founded this nation really knew what they were talking about when they said that three terms were too many."

A middle course between international slothfulness and full membership in any world state was advocated by the shaggy-browed 1944 standard bearer on the touchy foreign policy issue.

"We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

"There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

Senator Robert Taft of Ohio, chairman of the platform committee, told reporters: "He stands on the platform 100 per cent."

Dewey made these other points: 1. The first and foremost job is to win the war, and to defeat "once and for all" the German and Japanese will to make war.

2. The present military high command is "doing a superb job" and should be allowed to continue without any civilian interference.

3. The administration now is beset by internal squabbles and feuds—"wringing, bungling and confusion." In seven pre-war years of "unequalled power and unparalleled spending, the new deal failed utterly to solve" the fundamental problem of providing jobs and opportunity. It has lived in "chattering fear of abundance," specializing in curtailment and restriction.

4. "This must be a land where every man and woman has a fair chance to work and get ahead. . . . We Republicans are agreed that full employment shall be a first objective of national policy."

5. "We are agreed, all of us," he said, "that America will participate with other sovereign nations in a cooperative effort to prevent future wars."

6. "There are only a very few," he added, "who really believe that America should try to remain aloof from the world. There are only a relatively few who believe it would be practical for America or her allies to renounce all sovereignty and join a super-state."

No one can accuse Cliff Wiley of letting an opportunity slip—not after Tuesday evening. When the young cloudburst poured out two or three inches of rain in about an hour's time, Cliff dashed out with a big pall and started throwing some of the run-off on his yard. He wasn't by himself. Red McMahan was making use of a roaring stream in front of his home on Owens street.

The rain, incidentally, did touch hard-hit Lomax. While the northern part of the community did not get much rain, it probably received enough for planting, said Arthur Stallings. On the Cross ranch to the south, however, the fall must have been six to seven inches, he said, for there were parts of the field where it was impossible to tell where furrows had ever been.

Hunt Oil Spuds Eastern Test

Hunt Oil Co. of Dallas has spudded its 4,500-foot wildcat test on the A. L. Wasson ranch in eastern Howard county.

Located on a 3,850-acre block, the Hunt No. 1 Wasson is 600 feet from the southwest corner of section 19-29-T&P, four miles north of the Iatan-East Howard pool and a mile and a half west of the Mitchell county line.

In eastern Howard county Cadden No. 3-B Read, in the southeast quarter of section 48-30-in, T&P, was cleaned out again after pulling tubing and rods when the hole mudded on a test run. Ray Oil No. 2-A Read, in the northeast quarter of the same section, ran tubing and rods after finishing a similar clean-out.

Lee Harrison No. 1 D. H. Snyder, section 20-31-in, T&P, mile and three-quarter northwest extension to the Snyder pool, continued to clean out, as did his No. 3 TXL, section 8-30-in, T&P, western outpost to the East Howard pool.

Northern Ordnance Co. has prospects of a 1,000 barrel well in Fisher county, according to reports received today. The test, No. 1-B Howard, westward extension of the Howard pool, swabbed at a rate sufficient to give estimates of 1,000-barrels. It is bot-tomed at 5,609 feet and is in section 180-2, H&TC.

Song Is Banned By 4 Major Networks

NEW YORK, June 29 (AP)—"Don't Change Horses," described by its authors as a typical tin pan alley song of the "Don't Leave Your Sweetheart" theme, has been banned by the four major radio networks for at least the duration of the political conventions on the basis of its possible election implications.

Written by the authors of the tune "Malry Doats," Al Hoffman, Milton Drake and Jerry Livingston, the novelty number has been broadcast several times during the past weeks.

A spokesman for the National Broadcasting company said that its ban on the tune started as the republican convention opened in Chicago and that it had informed the authors and publishers for its advance of the decision. Columbia Broadcasting System, the Blue Network and Mutual also said they had banned the song.

Curt Davis, veteran Dodger right hander won 138 games in his first 10 years in the majors.

Honey Tapioca Cream

(Recipes Serve Four)

Filled Hamburger Patties

3-4 pound ground beef

1-4 pound ground pork

1-4 teaspoon salt

1-4 teaspoon pepper

Cream to moisten

1-2 cup minced onion

2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce

Fat for frying

Mix meat with seasonings and cream. Press into very thin flat cakes. Put two cakes together with filling made from chopped onion and Worcestershire sauce. Press edges of cakes firmly together. Brown on both sides in frying pan, then reduce heat and turn meat for even cooking. The patties may be served on the toasted rolls.

Honey Tapioca Cream

1 egg yolk

2 cups milk

1-4 cup quick-cooking tapioca

1-4 cup honey

1-4 teaspoon salt

1 egg white

Mix egg yolk with half cup milk in saucepan. Add tapioca, honey, salt and remaining milk. Bring mixture quickly to a full boil over direct heat, stirring constantly. Remove from fire. (Mixture will be thin; do not overcook.) Beat egg whites until just stiff enough to hold shape. Fold hot tapioca mixture gradually into egg white. Cool. Mixture thickens as it cools. Chill and decorate with fruit just before serving, if desired.

(Recipes Serve Four)

Salmon Baked in Sour Cream

2 tablespoons margarine

2 tablespoons flour

2 cups sour cream

2 tablespoons prepared mustard

2 cups cooked or canned salmon, flaked

Melt margarine. Remove from stove and carefully blend in flour. Return to stove and add sour cream, stirring until thick and well blended. Stir in prepared mustard until thoroughly absorbed. Add salmon. Pour into baking dish and cover with crumbs. Dot with margarine. Bake in 400 degree oven twenty minutes, or until crumbs are brown.

Banana Fritters

1 cup sifted flour

2 tablespoons baking powder

2 teaspoons melted shortening

1-4 cup sugar

1 egg, well beaten

1-3 cup milk

1-4 cup flour

3 or 4 ripe bananas

Sift together the cup of flour, baking powder, salt and sugar. Combine egg, milk and shortening. Add to dry ingredients and mix until batter is smooth. Peel bananas and cut each into three or four diagonal pieces. Roll in the one-fourth cup flour. Drop into fritter batter, completely coating the banana pieces with the batter. Deep-fat fry or shallow fry in hot fat four to six minutes, turning frequently to brown evenly. Drain on a rack. Serve with all spice sugar in the proportion of one-half teaspoon allspice to one-half cup sugar.

(Recipes Serve Four)

Broiled Duckling

1 young duck

1 orange

Salt

Pepper

Flour

Margarine

Clean and quarter duck. Wipe dry and sprinkle with flour to which salt and pepper to taste have been added. Place in a broiling pan, skin side down, and dot with a little margarine. Put the juice of half an orange in the bottom of the pan. Place under a low flame in a broiler that has been preheated ten minutes at 375 degrees. Broil for twenty-five minutes, basting once. Then turn skin side up and baste with the juice in the bottom of the pan. Broil another twenty-five minutes, basting several times. If the duck is not golden brown in this length of time, turn flame up and brown quickly. Squeeze the remaining half orange over the duck. Cover the pan and put into oven for fifteen minutes at 350 degrees. Test duck with a fork and, if tender, uncover and bake another fifteen minutes to crisp the skin.

Sunday Calls For Low-Point Supper

COUNTRY SUPPER PLATE: Fried mush, bacon and gravy.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS

AP Food Editor

If Sunday mid-day is still the time for a roast of beef in your house, as it is in most houses the country over, you certainly want to serve a supper meal as nearly point-free, as possible. In New England that problem would always be solved by a pot of baked beans, as it was in my childhood. As a result I had to take several years out when I didn't look a baked bean in the face before I could begin liking them again, and I still like them least of all on Sundays!

Sunday supper time is a very nice moment for entertaining simply. A basic plan of a hot soup followed by a salad is excellent. It's just the amount of food that people want. It's well balanced. And it's very little trouble for the kitchen helper, which is probably you. If you want to add fruit and cookies for dessert, fine, but it's not necessary. It's always well to have good, basic soup stock in your refrigerator, and not hard to achieve, either. You should almost always have a covered jar of vegetable juices saved from cooking your daily vegetables, too. Either of these serves as a fine basis for invention in the matter of soups. One can of any sort of soup you happen to have handy can change the character of your basic stock completely. Seasonings, ditto.

For the salad? I especially like to prepare "planned left-overs" in the form of extra cooked vegetables for a day or two before. They are kept, tightly covered, in the refrigerator and mixed with mayonnaise and a dash of salad herbs just before serving in a bed of crisp lettuce. I often used stuffed eggs to garnish such a vegetable salad, and incidentally add protein to the meal. With the salad course, serve hot muffins or bread and butter sandwiches and all the hot coffee anybody wants to drink. It's a perfect meal.

You can have what amounts to a one course meal if you omit the soup and serve one hot dish and a tossed green salad. Our illustration shows you a perfect example. Breakfast food brought to supper in a thoroughly satisfying way.

Country Supper Plate

1-2 cup corn meal

1-2 cup cold water

2 1-2 cups boiling water

1-2 teaspoon salt

1-2 cup raisins

1-2 pound bacon

1 tablespoon flour

1 1-2 cups milk or water

Mix corn meal with 1-2 cup cold water. Gradually add with salt to boiling water, stirring constantly. Cook, stirring, 5 minutes or until thickened. Place over boiling water; cook 30 minutes, stirring occasionally. Add raisins. Pour into greased mold; chill until firm. Fry bacon slowly until browned; roll up each strip into curl. Keep warm. Slice the corn meal mush about a quarter of an inch thick. Dredge in additional corn meal or flour; fry in bacon fat until golden brown on both sides. Keep warm. Blend flour into drippings. Gradually add milk or water, stirring. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until thickened. Arrange bacon curls and corn meal mush slices on platter. Serve with gravy. Serves 4 to 6. Apple sauce makes a delicious accompaniment.

A salad of any of the fine spring greens goes beautifully with this. Use lettuce, but be sure to add also dandelion, chicory or one of the other greens that grows wild in the spring time.

Flying Lessons Common As Public Gets Ready For Post-War Air Age

An air conscious public is getting ready for the "age of air" for civilians after the war is over if flying instruction trends here may be taken as a criterion. Starting from scratch, the U. S. Flying Service here has finished (soled) well over 100 students, the larger percentage of them civilians. They come from all walks of life but particularly noticeable is the number of businessmen. Some are not waiting for the war to be over to start using planes in their businesses. One man has bought a plane and flits about the state on quick trips. Another, still in the student stage, charts trips to Dallas to conserve time.

OFF DUTY—Cpl. Mary Freeman, Niles, Mich., wears the new WAC off-duty dress authorized for recreation hours. Collar of shirtdress can be worn open or closed.

Even the operators, Johnny Underwood and Garland Sanders, utilize their own services. Wednesday they made a hop to Hobbs, N. M., where Sanders, a trucking contractor, picked up some truck parts. Enroute home, they stopped at Monahans so Underwood could check on a roofing job he had going there.

Women have no intention of assuming the role of back seat drivers as they did for so long with the automobile. Little less than 25 per cent of the school's students have been women, and three of the number have been accepted for ferrying command training at Avenger Field in Sweetwater.

The bombardier school has furnished a number of students. Not a few are bombardiers who want to learn to fly as well as to bomb. Some are officers, others enlisted men but the majority are civilian workers at the post.

Flying, while requiring a great deal of skill, can be learned by most anyone who can drive a car, according to Underwood. Very few students have been cut back for inability to learn. Some pick it up much faster than others.

During the week the school's four planes are sufficient to meet most training demands, but late in evenings and on weekends twice the number would hardly suffice. The port, northeast of town, has one 3,800-foot runway, a pair of 2,600-foot landing areas and one shorter one. Its hangar has contained as many as nine planes.

There's nothing to be afraid of in flying, say the operators. Just pick out a spot and land if an emergency occurs or fuel is needed. On their Wednesday trip they set a small ship down on a highway, taxied up to a filling station, took on more gasoline, fought off the natives and took off again.

Invasion Weapons

155 MM GUN

AP Features

The 3-inch gun serves three purposes: Anti-tank, anti-aircraft and coastal defense. The standard weapon for heavy tanks and anti-tank battalions, it is used primarily for direct fire on targets visible to gunners with both high explosive and armor piercing ammunition.

As a field artillery anti-tank piece, the highly mobile gun is either self-propelled or mounted on a truck or tractor-drawn carriage. As a self-propelled weapon, it is mounted on a semi-open top turret and may be fired in any direction.

Mounted on a split-trail carriage equipped with pneumatic tires, it is almost equally maneuverable. The gunner can adjust direction and elevation using one sighting apparatus. For rapid fire, a two-man system is used with the gunner adjusting direction, a cannoneer adjusting elevation.

July 4th Brings To Mind The Wonderful Holiday Picnics

PICNIC STANDBYS: "Hot dogs," coffee and doughnuts.

By CHARLOTTE ADAMS, AP Food Editor. Like all picnic devotees, I feel that people who never want to go on a picnic have missed a good-sized slice of the pleasure in life.

In any case, even if you disagree with me, I'm sure your children like to picnic and I hope that you do it with them sometimes even if it's only because you know that whole-family parties are good for all concerned.

July 4th always brings to mind those wonderful holiday picnics when many people take this day to enjoy a day in the open.

What will you cook at the picnic? Frankfurters are perhaps the simplest meat to broil. Hamburger cakes, prepared at home, with the addition of an egg and good seasonings to a pound of meat, and placed between layers of waxed paper are also pretty easy to manage.

Have you ever tried broiling chicken over an open fire? If you haven't, there's a treat in store for you. That wonderful smoky taste which spells the best steak in the world, has also an affinity for chicken. Leave a clove of garlic, cut in two, in some salad oil for an hour or so. Salt and pepper your broilers and then rub them carefully all over with the garlic-flavored oil just before broiling. No sauce is needed to bring these birds to the point of perfection. They reach it when they're golden brown and done through from the heat of your fire's good red coals.

A green salad, assembled on the spot and tossed with dressing which you've brought in a bottle, goes well with picnic-cooked meats. Or bring raw vegetables to be eaten from the hand. Tomatoes, carrot sticks, cauliflower flowerets, strips of parsnip, radishes, cucumber sticks—in fact, almost any vegetable you can name is good to eat raw. And if you'd like to make them really alluring, especially to the young, take along a mixture of cream cheese mixed with milk, a dash of Worcestershire sauce, a pinch of herbs, and the tiniest pinch of curry powder. Use paprika, too, for color. The raw vegetables are "munked" into this and their flavor is greatly enhanced.

For dessert at a picnic, fruit is always acceptable, and so are crisp, brown, newly-fried doughnuts. Here's how to make them: Home-made Doughnuts 3 1/2 cups flour, 4 teaspoons baking powder, 2 1/2 teaspoons margarine, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon all-spice, 1/4 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 eggs, 1 cup milk.

Mix and sift flour, baking powder, salt and spices. Add sugar gradually to well-beaten eggs and beat until light. Add flour mixture alternately with milk, and stir lightly. Turn out on a floured board, roll one-fourth inch thick and cut with a doughnut cutter. Fry in hot deep fat for 2 to 3 minutes. Turn doughnuts when they rise to the top, so that both sides brown evenly. Drain on paper.

Wash clams. Place in saucepan with water to cover. Bring to the boil and simmer until clams open. Brown salt pork and onion together. Remove clams from pot in which they were cooked and bring remaining liquor to a boil. Strain liquor into pan with onions and pork and add milk, potatoes and seasonings. Simmer until potatoes are tender. Chop clams fine, all but the necks. Just before serving add them to the chowder and bring to the boil again. Add cream and heat on a very low flame just long enough to warm up.

Mixed Green Salad 1 small head lettuce, 1 bunch watercress, 1/4 pound Swiss chard, 2 tomatoes, French dressing (see below). Wash, drain and thoroughly chill greens. Put them into a wooden bowl, add dressing and toss until every leaf is coated. Quarter tomatoes and add after greens are tossed.

Saturday Night Party Chicken Casserole Escarole Corn Bread Strawberry Fluff (Recipes Serve Four) Chicken Casserole 2 cups cooked chicken, cut coarsely, 1/2 pound mushrooms, 1 cup chicken stock, 1/4 cup mushroom liquor, 1/2 cup light cream, 2 tablespoons margarine, 3 tablespoons flour, salt and pepper to taste, 2 ounces macaroni, cooked, 1/4 cup grated cheese.

Peel mushrooms and remove stems. Simmer stems and peelings in a cup of water until liquid is reduced to half. Slice mushrooms and saute in a little fat five minutes. Melt margarine. Blend in flour and add chicken stock, mushroom liquor, and cream, stirring constantly until smooth and thickened. Season with salt and pepper. Add chicken and mushroom with cooked macaroni. Pour chicken and mushroom mixture into center and cover whole with grated cheese. Dot with a little margarine. Bake at 400 degrees until top is golden brown.

Strawberry Fluff 1/2 pint strawberries, 1 cup powdered sugar, 1 egg white. Wash and hull strawberries. Crush slightly. Put into a bowl with the sugar and egg white and beat with a rotary beater until the mixture is stiff enough to hold its shape. This sometimes takes as long as a half hour, but the result is worth it.

Wash clams. Place in saucepan with water to cover. Bring to the boil and simmer until clams open. Brown salt pork and onion together. Remove clams from pot in which they were cooked and bring remaining liquor to a boil. Strain liquor into pan with onions and pork and add milk, potatoes and seasonings. Simmer until potatoes are tender. Chop clams fine, all but the necks. Just before serving add them to the chowder and bring to the boil again. Add cream and heat on a very low flame just long enough to warm up.

War Correspondent Thanks Major From Knott For All His Favors

By KENNETH L. DIXON WITH THE AEF IN ITALY, June 15 (Delayed) (AP)—Disinterested customers can turn now to the classified page because this isn't a story at all but a reporter's way of saying thanks to a lot of guys who went out of their way to do him a favor during the past few weeks.

There was Maj. Clifford J. Clyburn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Clyburn, 24-year-old infantry officer from Knott, Tex., who carried the pack shovel all the way up into the hills that night and then willingly loaned it the next morning when digging a foxhole seemed to be the smart thing to do. He also came out with a box of K rations and said "don't give me any back talk; if you don't eat it I'll throw it away."

And there was Capt. John B. Hunley, 31, former Cincinnati Steel company employee who took time off from his job as assistant regimental executive officer to explain how things were going from time to time.

cigarettes and explained the meaning of the eerie, mysterious messages.

Don't forget Pfc. George L. Struys, a big, rawboned 23-year-old rifleman from Worth, Ill., who came rambling out of the woods after two days and two nights of hiking and fighting and stopped long enough to tell you how L. company was getting along, even though it meant he had to run to catch up with the others, exhausted as he was. And Corp. Randolph T. Myers, 24, of Bentleyville, Pa., who brought you down the mountain through the mixed up lines that night when it looked impossible to get through.

Then there was Staff Sgt. Jack Martin of Memphis, Tenn., a 28-year old pilot of an artillery observation Cub who took the only day off he'd had in weeks to fly up below Velletri all the way back to Naples so you could cable your story before it was ancient history. To all these guys: If these notes bring news of you to your folks at home, perhaps it will serve as another way of saying "thanks again."

Consumption Of Water To Be Cut

Water consumption must be cut a quarter of a million gallons a day in Big Spring.

This was the word from city commissioners following a discussion of the water problem Tuesday evening.

City wells will not stand the present rate of 1,800,000 gallons of water daily, commissioners were told by City Manager B. J. McDaniel. The static level of the water in section 33, from whence comes the heaviest part of the city's supply, is sinking steadily, he said. It is considerably below anything heretofore known.

Commissioners appealed to the citizenry to cut consumption in every way possible.

Knowles Claims To Be Better Golfer Now

RYE, N. Y., June 29 (AP)—Ellis Knowles, who is likely to become the first three-time winner of the United States senior golf championship, contends that he is a better golfer now than when he was intercollegiate champion and quarter-finalist in the National amateur tourney in 1907. The 57-year-old Knowles shot 71-74-145 to lead the first division of seniors over Apawamis course. He pointed out that in 1906, a 77 was a good enough score to win the intercollegiate qualifying medal. The second division of seniors will play today and tomorrow but none is expected to threaten Knowles' lead.

Texas Heads For Home Stretch In War Loan Sales

DALLAS, June 29 (AP)—Chairman Nathan Adams of the Texas war finance committee says Texas is heading for the "home stretch" in Fifth War Loan sales, having passed the half way mark. On June 27, official sales totaled $287,372,243 or 51.3 per cent of the over-all quota of $464,000,000, said Adams.

Meanwhile, U. S. treasury officials reported that metropolitan Dallas led the nation's largest cities in the drive, with purchases of $78,545,887.09 in bonds compared with a $74,890,000 quota.

According to latest official reports, seventeen of the state's 254 counties had gone over the top. They were Andrews, Angellina, Archer, Callahan, Camp, Clay, Fisher, Harrison, Jim Hogg, Mills, Panola, Real, Stephens, Sutton, Taylor, Upshur and Willacy counties.

Let's Button It Up

We may be too easily impressed by total figures reported from the bond rally Wednesday. Plugged in there are some pretty good licks to bring up the lagging E bond total, which was admittedly disappointing to Fifth War Loan leaders.

It is a source of personal disappointment to these men and women to have worked so hard and so long in planning an event which failed somehow to strike a spontaneous and generous response. Big Spring people were, to borrow the old vaudeville term, "sitting on their hands" at the rally. They scarcely applauded and scarcely bought.

This is not a good record, but a cool analysis indicates that it is no worse a record than failing to meet the assigned quotas in the first two weeks of the campaign. The money is right here in our banks credited to the accounts of Big Spring and Howard county people to subscribe our over-all quota in E bonds alone if we were a mind to do it. When we get down to brass tacks, those fat balances are what the government actually is after. They are the Damocles sword of inflation. The person who maintains an inflated balance and who doesn't do his honest duty by his bond purchases isn't the sort of a citizen he ought to be.

The money is in the bank. There's no use stalling around longer. Let's button up this bond job and let the men and women who have given so generously of their time get back to their work.

County Services

Texas counties have largely abandoned the activities and purposes for which they were created. Some of this is due not to the county governments, while much of it is remediable by any county if it chooses to apply a remedy.

Review of the county situation by East Texas Chamber of Commerce discloses that the county used to provide for its paupers but now the Federal and State Governments allot old age assistance, called pensions, and to many who are not paupers.

The construction and maintenance of roads, once the entire duty of the county, has largely been turned over to the State Highway Department. Such work as the county continues to do is being done, with few exceptionally progressive counties, on the wasteful and inefficient district met'od, rather than by the money-saving and more efficient method of county-wide operation, under a qualified engineer.

The county was once supposed to look after the public health but this has become, as it should be, a State function, with the counties contributing a little.

Much of the control over the public schools has been taken over by the State. School districts, except perhaps in large cities, are a costly inefficient agency, which a county-wide district could to a considerable extent replace.

Many counties are paying too much for official services. That is because the counties, instead of insisting that each be allowed to set its own local official salaries, have accepted the figures set by the Legislature.

The citizens of the average Texas county get less essential service for the money they spend than any other division of government. This is not the fault of the officials—it is because of the laws regulating county affairs, which can and should be re-drawn.—Paris News.

Sen. Connally: "Why Not Unity?"

By GEORGE STIMPSON
WASHINGTON — There ought to be an amendment making it unconstitutional for any one person to serve as President of the United States for more than one life time.

One of the favorite ways of getting a word or two in edgewise on the floor of the House is for a congressman to get up and say, when a unanimous consent proposal is offered, "Mr. Speaker, reserving the right to object, and I shall not object."

"Why can't we have unity until the war is over?" asked Senator Tom Connally. "Why can't we stop this sniping and shooting behind the lines? Why can't we do away with sabotage until this struggle is over? When it is, then turn loose your dogs of war, bring on your political organizations and your militaristic groups representing this faction and that faction. But in the name of common sense, during time of war let us remain united."

Senator Connally asked and obtained unanimous consent "to have printed in the Appendix of the Congressional Record a very interesting address entitled 'What Shall We Do About Oil?' delivered by Judge J. C. Hunter, of Abilene.

"Texas," says Judge Hunter, "is in the oil business in a big way. Information developed by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas association discloses that 174 counties of the state are now producing oil or gas, and leasing and development are being carried on in the remaining 80 counties. About 50,000,000 acres, or approximately 28 per cent of the area of the state, are now under lease. We have approximately 100,000 oil wells from which nearly 600,000,000 barrels were produced last year and from which our daily production is now more than 2,000,000 barrels."

Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, wife of the President, came personally up to Capitol Hill to hand out the diplomas when the 10 page boys graduated from the Capitol page school the other night.

I don't know what to make of it. The other morning I had breakfast with two Democratic congressmen. One was an anti-New Dealer from Virginia and the other was a New Dealer from Kentucky. The New Dealer, who expects to stump his state for Roosevelt, assured me that the jig is up with the President politically and that he can't be re-elected under any circumstances. On the other hand, the anti-New Dealer, who won't lift a hand in the campaign for Roosevelt, assured me the President has a clinch and will be re-elected overwhelmingly.

ingly. Both these men are trying to be objective. Yet they have arrived at diametrically opposed conclusions, which are against their personal desires.

Many businessmen working for the government get nervous every time somebody predicts the end of the war in the near future. They want to get out of Washington and be at home when competition is resumed and the post-war pie is cut.

I doubt whether there has ever been a time in our history when the stock of the Supreme Court was as low as it is at present. Whether rightly or wrongly, millions of people no longer entertain the high respect and regard for the highest court in the land that they once did. Let us hope that this is only a temporary thing and that in the near future the Supreme Court will again have the respect and confidence of all the American people.

If you ask me, I think the shape of things to come in this country will be determined largely by the men who are doing the actual fighting in this war.

And Nothing Can Be Done About It

Hollywood—MYSTERY PICTURE WITHOUT FOG

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—What the man said, and I didn't believe it for a moment, was that somebody was making a mystery picture without fog.

He was a publicity man, and he wanted me out on his movie set, but I said that was silly, nobody in Hollywood would make a mystery picture without fog. Look at "Jane Eyre," (I said) look at "The Lodger," look at "The Maltese Falcon," look at any of 'em, you can't make a mystery movie without fog. You and I both know how many pictures are made with and in a fog.

Look at "Farewell, My Lovely," he said. It was true. No fog, not a wisp. Not a fog-pot on the set, so help him.

I helped him, but I still didn't believe it. We went out on the set. Dick Powell was there, and Anne Shirley, Otto Kruger, Claire Trevor, and Edward Dmytryk, the director.

They were all wearing themselves out, sitting around in a cozy circle chinning during one of those afternoon lulls.

Dick Powell was ordering hamburgers for everybody. Some weren't having any, but slight Anne Shirley loomed as a threat to the nation's food supply by wolfing two.

"I didn't get one, Dick," she said wistfully after devouring the first.

"You didn't?" said gullible Dick, and he sent out for another. Ah, the guile behind a hungry woman's innocent face!

"Is it true—no fog?" I asked Dymtryk.

Washington—Thoughts of Veterans Are Amazing

By JACK STINNETT
WASHINGTON — After spending a month traveling around the country, most of it through scenes and among people I had known and worked with before, I think that among the most important aspects of changing America are the new thought patterns being brought back by the men and women who have fought and bled on the global fronts of this war.

For the most part, they are a quiet, un-talking people. They are better versed on current events than most civilians and there's hardly a one now who can't name his congressman and tell you why he will or will not vote for him.

Almost unanimously they think that the end of the war (on both fronts) is a long time off and I've never talked to one yet who considers any of our enemies a "soft touch," regardless of whether the question is numerical strength, fighting ability, or efficiency of equipment.

They are almost unanimously bitter against labor strikes in war plants for any reason; but hold no brief for a recalcitrant management that is selfishly seeking excessive profits. They are almost supremely confident that when all the boys get back, the seifish in all fields of war endeavor will be punished by one method or another, although almost none talks in terms of physical violence.

They're very much concerned about their respective places in a postwar domestic economy but I've never run across one who wants more than a little place in the sun comparable to the one he or his neighbors held with security before Pearl Harbor.

They consider postwar world

"True. No fog. This is going to be different. We're trying things. No fog. Only a little smoke."

Same thing, fog, smoke, same old thing. "No," said Eddie. "Really different. The smoke is just in Dick Powell's brain, after he's been drugged and is coming in a hospital."

"Dick's the hero, but he gets kicked around and clouted throughout the picture. In no time he was back, indicating satisfactory performances by all."

"Another thing," he said. "I honestly believe our story hasn't any holes in it. We're not going to solve the mystery by dragging in something that happened when Powell wasn't there to see it. We're showing the audience everything Powell sees, no more, no less. No red herrings."

No fog, just smoke, and no red herrings. Maybe this thing IS different!

What else different, Eddie? "Well, we've a montage sequence, but it won't be the usual montage. That's where we use those Dalilike sets. And we're trying for some novel camera work. Mike Mazurki—he played the Jap wrestler in 'Behind the Rising Sun'—is a giant, but we're shooting him to make him even bigger, and... Okay!"

Eddie had to go and direct two hamburgers, surrounded by Anne Shirley, in a small scene. In no time he was back, indicating satisfactory performances by all.

"Another thing," he said. "I honestly believe our story hasn't any holes in it. We're not going to solve the mystery by dragging in something that happened when Powell wasn't there to see it. We're showing the audience everything Powell sees, no more, no less. No red herrings."

No fog, just smoke, and no red herrings. Maybe this thing IS different!

collaboration to maintain peace such an inevitability that it isn't even a topic for debate.

These are new patterns of thought. They are the results of broader horizons and greater depths of pain and sacrifice applied to everyday living. They aren't exceptions. They are the rule.

Many never had been more than ten miles from their front door before they were inducted. Most of them just want to get back there, but not to pick up mentally and socially and politically just where they left off. They've got ideas now and the problem for the United States and its economists and politicians will be to catch up with them.

Bridwell And His Boots

AN EIGHTH AIRFORCE BOMBER BASE IN ENGLAND, June 29 (AP)—Airman generally are superstitious, and Texans decidedly are no exception to the rule.

Consider the experiences of Lt. Ernal W. Bridwell of Winters, Elliot of the Flying Fortress, "Blue Blazing Blitzard," he has 23 missions over Europe, including two runs over to the "Big B."

His luck charm is not a picture of a girl friend nor a pair of baby shoes, but an old pair of high-heeled cowboy boots.

The boots have an impressive history and are coveted by every Texan in the combat crews at this base. A year and a half ago Capt. Lyster A. Brumley of Del Rio wore the boots not only on operations, but at dances and other social functions, where he would appear immaculately dressed—with his pants stuffed into the fancy footwear.

They attracted attention, and Capt. Brumley christened them his lucky boots. When he'd finished his first tour of operations, in which he won the Silver Star, the Air Medal and the DFC with three clusters, Capt. Brumley passed the boots on to a fellow Texan with the provision that when he had completed a tour, they be given to still another Texan.

Since then the boots have changed hands, or rather feet, at least a dozen times. They have been worn by Texans on missions over virtually every target in Europe and have always brought the wearer safely back to base. The heels are run down, the soles are getting thin, but they've never been repaired.

Their present owner, Lt. Bridwell, says, "Every guy has his 'bring me back alive,' and this is mine."

On one of Bridwell's earlier missions, an attack on Frankfurt, the oxygen system and part of the "Blue Blazing Blitzard's" control surfaces were shot away. The ship's navigator was mortally wounded but just managed to gasp out the course home. Bridwell and his co-pilot, Lt. John E. Talbert, another Texan from Corpus Christi, brought the ship safely back.

The boys here say, "You can take a cowboy out of Texas, but you can't take the Texas out of a cowboy."

The trouble is, only Texans who can wear an 8½ shoe are eligible for the boots, which is tough on the big guys.

The next claimant for the boots is Lt. Robert L. Deveney of Waco, bombardier of the Fortress, "Coral Princess."

Water Revenues Drop Sharply

Decline in City of Big Spring revenues is easily explained by an examination of the water department records.

Water metered during May amounted to 21,151,800 gallons, an increase of 3,829,489 over April but 26,424,400 gallons less than for May of last year. Water and sewer service billed to customers in May amounted to $11,192.88. The loss from water alone from May of last year would be around $3,000.

General fund receipts in May amounted to $27,471, of which $832 was transferred from other funds, according to the monthly financial statement of the city. Current tax collections (last half of 1943) amounted to $100 and delinquent taxes to $2,014. The gas franchise returned $1,564, and payment on paving amounted to $6,493. Only other noteworthy item was $708 for fines and court costs. Revenues for the first two months of the fiscal year stood at $39,066.

Disbursements during the same period were $33,416, leaving a $5,649 excess on the right side of the ledger. May interest and sinking fund expenditures included $4,000 for bonds, $1,586 for interest. This made $9,000 bonds retired and $13,000 interest and exchange paid.

Golf course receipts were $849 and expenditures were $921, showing an operational loss of $72 for the month. Cemetery funds dropped $131 with $293 receipts and $474 disbursements. Both of these are non-tax revenue funds.

Expenditures for the new sewer plant work amounted to $41,327 and for the waterworks improvement project $9,412.

War Bond Sales In Mitchell County Boosted At Rally Here And There

COLORADO CITY, June 29—An afternoon bond rally on the Mitchell county courthouse lawn in Colorado City Wednesday afternoon boosted the total bond sales in the county by $28,000, Pat Bullock, Fifth War Loan drive chairman, reported late Wednesday.

All business houses in town were closed at 3 p. m. when a group of moving picture actors on tour through West Texas presented the entertainment features.

Mitchell county still lacks approximately $95,000 of its series E bond quota, and $140,000 of the over-all assignment. The county is trying for $200,000 in series E sales and $495,000 grand total. Downtown booths each Saturday with music and impromptu speeches via loud-speaker and a ticket-for-a-bond movie are the final features planned by the drive committee.

and for the waterworks improvement project $9,412.

Lions Officers Installed At Club Meeting

Officers of the Lions club were installed Wednesday by Joe Pond, past district governor, with a terse reminder of their basic duties and a challenge to carry on the service traditions of the organization.

Inducted into office were Dan Conley, president; Jack Y. Smith, Otis Grafa and Boone Horne, vice-presidents in order named; Jess Thornton, secretary-treasurer; Stanley Claiborne, tallistester; John Coffee, Liantamer; and Dewey Martin (holder). C. J. Stappes, Cecil Collins, directors. Conley and Horne were installed in absentia.

Speaking on behalf of the new president, Smith appealed for "100 per cent cooperation," reminding the club that "General Eisenhower couldn't have pulled the invasion by landing on the coast of France with his army watching from England."

Pond also presented the retiring president, K. H. McGibbon, with a past president's pen. McGibbon reviewed progress of the organization for the past year, reporting a net gain of 12 members for the period. Thornton said net increase in operating balance was in excess of $200 and had gone into war bonds.

Cpl. Donald Hoyt of the Big Spring Bombardier School was roundly applauded for two piano selections. Incoming officers spoke briefly. K. tributes were paid to Jake Douglas, program chairman, and to McGibbon.

Jones Says Farmers In Better Shape Than Ever Before

DALLAS, June 29 (AP)—Under the government's support price system, on more than 40 commodities, farmers have a gross income of more than $20,000,000,000, says War Food Administrator Marvin Jones.

In a radio address here last night, Jones called that sum "the largest income farmers have ever had."

Jones said "more food has been produced in the last three years than any nation ever produced in any three years in history."

"We have 81,000,000 cattle, several million more than ever before," Jones told the radio audience. "We have 120,000,000 hogs, far more than there ever were. We have more eggs and more potatoes and more poultry than at any time before. Our nation, the allied nations owe the producer a debt of gratitude."

Pilot Buys Skirt; Chief Throws In Owner As Well

FORT MORGAN, Colo. (AP)—In a recent letter to his wife, Lt. Robert Wankelman, B-24 pilot in the Pacific, told how a friend had difficulties buying a grass skirt as a memento. The salesman was the village chief who held title to the native girls who were sold as wives. The airman found the chief he wanted and offered the chief a half-pound ($1.60) for it. The chief took the money and gave him the skirt—and the girl who wore it. The souvenir-seeker had a tough time explaining he just wanted the skirt—not a wife.

"STOP FOLLOWING ME, I ONLY WANT THE SKIRT!"

Marvin H. Nance Succumbs At Home

Marvin H. Nance, storekeeper and farmer, died at his home five miles west of Stanton Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

He was born March 9, 1881 in Dallas county and has been a resident of Stanton since 1912. Mr. Nance had been ill since May 12.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, M. H. Nance, Jr. of Big Spring and Hubert Nance of Midland; one daughter, Mary Grace Nance of Stanton; one sister, Mrs. Z. T. Littlefield of Leesville; one brother, C. A. Nance of San Antonio.

Services will be Friday at 5 p. m. in the Methodist church at Stanton and burial will be in the Evergreen cemetery at Stanton. The Rev. Wayne Cook will officiate.

Eberley-Curry Funeral home is in charge of the arrangements.

Bombers Win Over Maint. & Supply

The Bombers out-hit and out-scored Maintenance and Supply Wednesday evening in a resumption of play in the enlisted men's softball league at the Big Spring Bombardier school.

In convention here were J. C. Vaughn, Amarillo, first vice-president; Tom C. Monroe, Austin, second vice-president and Oscar Nelson, El Paso, re-elected secretary-treasurer. San Antonio was chosen as the next convention city.

Farley Will Remain In Democratic Party

DALLAS, June 29 (AP)—Former Democratic National Committee Chairman James A. Farley planned to leave today for St. Louis enroute to New York, following a business trip to Mexico City.

In an interview with a Dallas News reporter yesterday, Farley declined to comment on Republican Presidential Nominee Thomas E. Dewey except to say he had been a good governor of New York state.

Farley said he would remain in the democratic party because "now and in the future, I want to be helpful to my party, my city and country."

Water Shortage Faces Colorado

COLORADO CITY, June 29—The first water shortage in this generation faces residents of Colorado City, Mayor J. A. Sadler warned citizens by circular here today. People of the town were urged to conserve water in every way possible and will be permitted to use water in limited amounts on watering yards.

Shrubbery, "because it takes years to grow," can be watered, the mayor said, but grass and gardens will have to go without water until the crisis is past.

Colorado City, supplied by deep wells, has always had an abundant supply of water for all purposes regardless of extremities of weather and dry seasons. In 1943 when many towns in this territory suffered for lack of sufficient water, no lack was felt here. Low pressure, at first believed to be the result of need for adjustment on a recently broken pump, has now been explained by the unexpected fact, "we just haven't got the water."

Invasion Weapons

AP Features

The 155mm gun, tabbed "Long Tom" by troops, combines great fire power with a high degree of mobility. A heavy field gun, it can also serve as a coast defense weapon and has seen extensive service in Africa, Italy and the South Pacific.

Firing a 95-pound demolition or chemical projectile about 15 miles at a rate of four rounds per minute, the gun weighs about 15 tons, and is self-propelled or tractor-drawn.

As a self-propelled weapon it is mounted on an armored full-track vehicle, has the running characteristics of a medium tank and requires a ten-man crew. As a tractor-drawn weapon, it has a crew of 15.

Oklahoman Speaks At Judges' Parley

FORT WORTH, June 29 (AP)—Federal Judge Edgar S. Vaughn of Oklahoma City says that "for an agent of the executive branch (of our government) to act as investigator, prosecutor and judge is repugnant to our form of government."

"The positive duty of our courts is plain when such situations are properly presented to them," Judge Vaughn yesterday told a luncheon for district and appellate judges held during the state bar of Texas convention.

Members of the district and appellate judges section of the convention threatened to withdraw from the state bar because of adoption of a resolution preventing members of the judiciary from holding office in the state bar. Final action was postponed until a committee studies the matter further and reports at a fall session of the judges.

Fred Much, Houston, was elected president of the junior bar at its meeting. Holman Jenkins, Austin, was elected first vice-president and Leon C. Levy, Houston, secretary-treasurer.

Marvin H. Nance Succumbs At Home

Marvin H. Nance, storekeeper and farmer, died at his home five miles west of Stanton Thursday at 7:30 a. m.

He was born March 9, 1881 in Dallas county and has been a resident of Stanton since 1912. Mr. Nance had been ill since May 12.

He is survived by his widow; two sons, M. H. Nance, Jr. of Big Spring and Hubert Nance of Midland; one daughter, Mary Grace Nance of Stanton; one sister, Mrs. Z. T. Littlefield of Leesville; one brother, C. A. Nance of San Antonio.

Services will be Friday at 5 p. m. in the Methodist church at Stanton and burial will be in the Evergreen cemetery at Stanton. The Rev. Wayne Cook will officiate.

Eberley-Curry Funeral home is in charge of the arrangements.

SERVICE RANKS HIGHEST

COLLEGE STATION, June 29 (AP)—Acting Texas extension director J. D. Prewitt says the Texas extension service is the largest of any in the nation, employing over 1,200 persons, more than 45 per cent of them due to emergency farm labor, food production and conservation programs.

In 1918, there were 85,000 farm tractors on U. S. farms and a year later the total was 158,000.

By 1914, there were 10,000 farm tractors in use throughout the United States.
