MIG Kill Record Is Now At 56

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN
SEUL, Sept. 26 (AP)—U. S. Sabre jets today shot down four Communist MIG jets in the first air battles in four days, the Fifth Air Force said.

The blazing dogfights boosted the September toll of Russian-built jets to a record 56 destroyed. The old monthly mark of 44 was set last April.

The Air Force said the swift Sabres also damaged four MIG's in battles with 16 Red fighters east of Sinulju, south of the Yalu River. One damage claim was not confirmed.

The U. S. Eighth Army said Communist troops probed Allied outposts north and northeast of the Punchbowl on the Eastern Front Thursday night and early today. Six times the Reds fell back under withering U. N. mortar fire.

Allied fighter bombers renewed their attacks on the Communist supply system. Land-based U. S. Marine planes bombed Red military targets on the Saeki Peninsula on the Western Front.

Pilots said they wrecked 31 troop and supply buildings.

Marine pilots from the U. S. carrier Sicily said they knocked out seven transformers and a road bridge in 35 flights over Northwest Korea late Thursday.

B26 bombers took advantage of clearing weather with night raids on North Korean supply routes. The U. S. Fifth Air Force said they destroyed 71 Red supply trucks.

Nine B29 Superforts hurled nearly 100 tons of bombs at the Huiyang supply center, northwest of Pyongyang, capital of North Korea.

Switcheroo

Instead of examining, they will be examined. The above men are doctors and dentists being sent to Abilene to take their pre-induction physical examinations for the selective service. After the examination they will be subject to call by the armed forces. They are, left to right: Dr. Clifford W. Atherton, Dr. P. W. Malone, Dr. Wofford B. Hardy (dentist), Dr. Richard D. Bridgford (Colorado City dentist), Dr. Arch D. Carson, Dr. Jack V. Sanders, Dr. John M. Crymes (Colorado City), Dr. John E. Hogan, Dr. George F. Dillon, and Dr. Lee O. Rogers (dentist). Dr. Bruce H. Johnson of Lorraine, also on the local board list, will meet the group in Abilene. Draft board officials do not feel that the examination means the doctors are to be drafted, but rather it is to see who is available.

Two Webb Airmen Die In Crash Near Garden City

A training accident took the lives of two Webb Air Force Base airmen last night.

A pilot-instructor, 1st Lt. Gordon R. AcMoody, 30, of Bryan, and his student died when their T-28 training plane crashed some seven miles south of Garden City.

The name of the student, a foreign national training under the provision of the mutual defense assistance program, has been withheld pending notification of next of kin through official channels.

Air Search and Rescue officials organized a full scale search last night when the aircraft failed to return from a night transition flight started at 7:30 p.m. A team of search experts flew into Webb from Ellington AFB to direct the activities of Webb aircraft as well as Civil Air Patrol planes from Abilene and Sweetwater.

Actual discovery of the downed craft was made by a Webb pilot shortly after daylight this morning.

A ground convoy, dispatched to the scene, radioed confirmation of the death of the airmen.

Lt. AcMoody, a veteran of air combat in the European theatre of operations, during World War II, saw action in Korea before being assigned to Webb. He had been awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and the Air Medal, both with oak leaf clusters.

Mrs. AcMoody, and two children, Paul, 9, and Virginia Lee, 6, live in Bryan.

Soviet Targets Claimed Within Reach Of U. S.

SEATTLE, Sept. 26 (AP)—A top U. S. Air Force official said today targets in Russia are within reach of jet bombers flying from American-operated airbases abroad and refueling in the air en route.

The assertion by Undersecretary of Air Roswell Gilpatrick was contained in a prepared address during which he also cited other instances of progress in air power rearmament—and replied to critics who charge lagging production.

Among other things Gilpatrick said:

1. The Boeing B-47 jet bomber—"the highest performance medium jet bomber in volume production today anywhere in the world"—is coming off the line at a rate better than one a day from one plant. Two more plants will start producing the bomber.
2. The combined output of Republic Aircraft, making the F-84 jet fighter, and North American Aviation, producing the F-86 jet interceptor, now is about 250 a month, or better than a dozen a day. Two years ago, the total monthly production was about 55.
3. Two manufacturers, Allison and General Electric, between them are producing about 60 jet engines a day, compared with 17 only two years ago.
4. The changeover from World War II piston-engined fighters to jet planes has reached the point where "practically 100 per cent" of the fighter units are equipped with jet aircraft.

USO Tour Extended

SEUL, Sept. 26 (AP)—Songstress Frances Langford and her husband, movie actor Jon Hall, today extended their USO show tour of Korea three more days. They have played before nearly 100,000 servicemen in 10 days.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 26 (AP)—Harry (Pop) Sherman, 67, veteran producer of western films who made the first 54 Hopalong Cassidy pictures, died last night.

Greene, Liner Attend Highway 80 Meeting

J. H. Greene and Paul Liner are representing Big Spring businessmen at the U. S. Highway 80 Association's national convention in El Paso today and Saturday.

Greene, Chamber of Commerce manager, and Liner, hotel operator, motored to El Paso this morning for the meeting. They are to return late Saturday.

The highway organization is to plan promotion of tourist traffic on Highway 80 and encourage improvement of the transcontinental route.

Pravda Hits Kennan As Slanderer

MOSCOW, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Communist Party newspaper Pravda today attacked U. S. Ambassador George Kennan as a slanderer disguised as a diplomat who is an enemy of the country.

The strongly worded editorial in the leading Soviet paper charged Kennan with conduct improper to an ambassador in giving a recent statement to reporters at Berlin's Tempelhof Airport.

During a stopover there Sept. 19, the U. S. envoy said Russians recently have been forbidden all social contact with Americans in Moscow. Recalling his experiences while interned in Germany in 1941-42, Kennan said, "had the Nazis permitted us to walk the streets without having any right to talk to any Germans, that would be precisely how we have to live today in Moscow."

This, said Pravda, is untrue. To refute the statement, it cited a report in July, 1951, by an American trade union delegation after a trip to the U.S.S.R.

The 11 delegates toured Russia for several weeks last year as guests of the country's trade unions and visited Leningrad, Stalingrad and other centers in addition to Moscow.

Pravda said Kennan "used his meeting with representatives of Western Berlin newspapers and American correspondents to pile one slander upon another and lie about the Soviet Union."

THE 'LOAD' IS JUST TYPE METAL

Herb Feather, former advertising manager of the Big Spring Daily Herald, was stopped by deputy sheriffs this morning on the Snyder highway for carrying a "load."

Deputies V. G. Grady and Hoyt Halford saw Feather's sedan "nearly scraping bottom" as it drove down the highway. Suspecting he was transporting liquor, they stopped him to investigate.

Feather had a load of type metal in his car that he had just borrowed from The Herald to take to Snyder. Feather is now publisher of the Snyder Daily News. He was released—with apologies.

Acheson Is Studying Protestant Complaint

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—State Secretary Acheson said today the U. S. is giving careful study to complaints by American Protestant groups in Italy.

Acheson told a news conference protesters charging persecution by the Italian government are of great interest to this nation.

The Rome Embassy has taken up the matter with the Italian government, Acheson said.

Taft Sets GOP Goal

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft, Ohio, told Illinois Republican leaders today the GOP goal for the Nov. 4 election should be "eight million more Republican votes than we've ever had before."

Ike Opens Second Invasion Of Dixie

By JACK BELL

ABOARD EISENHOWER SPECIAL, Sept. 26 (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower opened a second invasion of the South today to the thunderous welcome of 43,000 cheering North Carolinians at Charlotte.

Greeted with a massed "I like Ike" chant from 18,000 persons who overflowed Charlotte Memorial Stadium, the smiling Republican nominee asserted he was going to recognize "no political mortgage" by the Democrats on Dixie.

Eisenhower hit at what he called the administration's "cheap money" policies.

Holding up a pine board he said would have cost 15 cents a few years ago, Eisenhower cracked it in the middle and announced that was all 15 cents would buy now.

"The administration is asking for a new four-year lease on your present holdings," he told the crowd. "If they continue to cheapen money for the next four years this is what you will get."

The Eisenhower invasion of North Carolina followed up a major address he made last night at Baltimore, where he received tumultuous acclaim for his slashing attack on the Truman administration's defense policies.

The Republican presidential nominee, speaking from his background as a general of the Army—told a howling crowd of 12,000 persons who jammed Baltimore's Fifth Regiment Armory that armed services unification is a virtual failure.

Continuing his blistering indictment, Eisenhower said instead of duplication the United States has reaped "triplification" from efforts to mould its fighting forces into one.

He adopted the same line pursued by Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, with whom he recently has joined forces, in opposing universal military training so long as the Korean War continues the necessity for the military draft.

Almost forgotten for the moment was the political battle over the acceptance of privately-raised expense funds by his vice presidential running mate and the counter-attack on a Democratic salary ante raised in Illinois with the approval of Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson.

Stevenson, the Democratic presidential nominee, indicated through his campaign manager, Wilson Wyatt, that he plans a "further statement" on the fund raised to increase the compensation of Illinois state appointive officials who otherwise could not afford to take such jobs.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, head of Eisenhower's advisory campaign committee said yesterday if Stevenson didn't make public the names of the contributors and beneficiaries it would prove the Democratic nominee had "something to hide."

Eisenhower made it clear, during a day of whistle stopping in West Virginia and Maryland, that Nixon is securely on the ticket with him after the latter's explanation of his acceptance of some $18,000 in expenses.

GETS HUGE WELCOME

Small fry of the community will have their day Saturday.

A full program honoring youngsters of the Big Spring area has been planned by the Big Spring Kiwanis Club, in cooperation with Webb Air Force base, local business firms and individuals.

The occasion will be observance of National Kids' Day, an event sponsored by Kiwanis International and the National Kids' Day Foundation.

Activities will begin with a downtown parade at 9:15 a. m. and continue through a Little League baseball game at Steer park Saturday night. In between the youngsters will be guests of R&R Theaters for a motion picture at the Ritz, make a tour of Webb Air Force Base and participate in a pet parade at the baseball park.

The parade will lineup at 5th and Rannels promptly at 9 a. m. The procession will move down Main and back south to the Ritz Theater, where they will file in for the movie.

The kids will meet at 1 p. m. at the Junior High school where transportation will be furnished to the Air Force Base for an afternoon tour. Children in the Airport area may assemble at the Airport school for the tour. The return from Webb AFB is scheduled for 4:30 p. m.

A pet parade is set for 7 p. m. at Steer Park, to be followed by a Little League baseball game between the Oilers and the Gold Sox.

Plenty of adult supervision will be on hand for all events. However, parents are especially invited to attend the Saturday night events at the ball park.

Jimmy Hale and Sam McComb are co-chairmen of the Kiwanis club committee in charge of arrangements. Jack Alexander and D. M. McKinney are in charge of the pet parade, S. M. Smith and Dick Clifton are handling arrangements for the theater party, while J. D. Elliott, W. D. Berry and Pkt Crosland are arranging the downtown parade.

Ten Doctors, Dentists Take Draft Exams

Seven doctors and three dentists left Big Spring this morning to take pre-induction physical examinations at Abilene for the selective service.

Mrs. Louise Block, clerk of the local board, said that the men would be in Abilene all day. They left on the 8:51 a. m. bus. Dr. Bruce H. Johnson of Lorraine—also on the local board list—will join the doctors in Abilene.

Those leaving this morning include Dr. John M. Crymes and Dr. Richard D. Bridgford of Colorado City and Doctors Arch D. Carson, Lee O. Rogers, Wofford B. Hardy, P. W. Malone, John E. Hogan, Jack V. Sanders, George F. Dillon and Clifford W. Atherton of Big Spring, Rogers, Hardy and Bridgford are dentists.

The examinations are in line with the recent announcement by the Department of Defense that more doctors are needed for the armed forces. Only those without World War II service are being considered.

None of the doctors being sent have seen service in the armed force. Mrs. Block said they were deferred during the last war to complete school or to carry on essential practice.

The draft board clerk doubts that any immediate action will be taken in drafting the doctors. The regular procedure is to give at least 21 days notice before induction.

There are only 13 doctors registered with the local board who are available. The physical examination of one has been postponed, and the other will be examined in Springfield, Mass., where he now lives.

The next induction date at the local draft board is Oct. 8, and 14 to 17 men will be drafted. On Oct. 29, pre-induction physicals will be given to 70 men in the area.

Butter Bean !

Mrs. Andrew T. Ferguson of Providence, R. I., wonders what to do with her 49 inch, 12 pound butter bean. Last spring her husband ordered some seeds from a seed catalogue described as "gigantic butter beans", and a farmer friend agreed to grow the seeds which were the size of a lima bean. The giant above was the largest of the crop. (AP Wirephoto).

General Is Said To Have Helped Set Perimeter

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—State Secretary Acheson accused Gen. Dwight Eisenhower today of misquoting him on his attitude toward the defense of Korea prior to the outbreak of the Korean War.

Acheson told a news conference that, as Army chief of staff, Eisenhower had been "wholly in accordance" with views on Pacific defense which Acheson set forth in January, 1950, and which Eisenhower, now running for president on the Republican ticket, assailed in a speech at Cincinnati Monday.

Eisenhower's Cincinnati talk was an attack on what he called Acheson's mistakes and on "incompetent" leaders and foreign policy. Much of this criticism was based on a speech which Acheson made to the National Press Club in January, 1950, when the secretary outlined a defense perimeter which included such places as Japan and the Philippines but did not include South Korea.

To his news conference today, Acheson read from a statement, authorizing direct quotation, and beginning with the charge that Eisenhower's account "distorts the facts." He added, "It says things I didn't say and omits things I did say."

One of the points Acheson stressed was that the "defense perimeter" he described was one which the United States would "defend alone" if necessary. He also stated emphatically that he did not exclude Korea or any other area and said he found it impossible to believe Eisenhower would have had him include Korea.

"It was a line developed by our military authorities at that time," Acheson asserted. "I cannot believe Gen. Eisenhower now means to imply that Korea should have been included by me within the defensive perimeter and that it should have been manned by American troops."

Certainly, as chief of staff of the Army, his opinion was quite to the contrary and wholly in accordance with the statement I made."

KICK-OFF MONDAY

Chest Special Gift Report Due Today

Second report of "special gifts" to the Howard County Community Chest will be made at 4 p. m. today.

Special Gifts Chairman Ira Thurman said he anticipates a good report from his three teams of workers. First report Wednesday showed more than $7,000 pledged to the Chest.

The initial report represented accomplishments of only a few workers and the entire group is due to turn in pledges this afternoon.

Fil's report on the special gifts phase of the drive is due Monday, day set for start of the remainder of the 1952 Chest campaign. A kick-off dinner at 6:30 p. m. will signal start of the general canvass. Featured will be an address by Rep. George Mahon of the 19th Congressional District. More than 200 campaign workers are due to attend.

Meanwhile, work is being pushed on all plans for the annual Chest campaign. Area, residential and business and industry leaders still are recruiting workers to conduct the drive and Campaign Chairman Elmo Wasson urges all residents to accept responsibility of helping meet the needs of the five participating agencies.

Window displays to show activities of the YMCA, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scout's and plans for local servicemen's center will be set up in the Record Shop, Prager's, Mellinger's, Lee Hanson, and Elmo Wasson Military Store showcases.

Sunday will be Red Feather Day in local churches and ministers are expected to outline the Chest program and carry campaign announcements in Sunday bulletins. Mayor G. W. Dabney also will proclaim the following week "Community Chest Week" in Big Spring.

Adlai To Reveal More About Fund

By DOUGLAS CORNELL
SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Sept. 26 (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson said today he is contacting contributors to his much discussed fund for supplementing state salaries with a view to making their names public.

The Democratic nominee said he was having trouble with his canvass because there were "too many" donors. He did not indicate when the names might be made known.

Before boarding his plane for another campaign tour, Stevenson told newsmen "eight or nine" key state employes benefitted from the fund and he had been in touch with all of them.

The campaign tour, to last two days, takes Stevenson to Evansville, Ind., Indianapolis, Paducah, Ky., and Louisville.

After the nominee said he was contacting contributors, a reporter asked: "With a view to making their names public?"

Stevenson replied "yes."

He said he would issue a statement on the fund later on and possibly make a speech dealing with it. He did not say when.

Stevenson's new statement regarding his controversial fund for adding to salaries of Illinois of-

Stage Set For Style Show At Webb Tonight

Finishing touches on the fashion show to be presented at 8 p. m. today at the Academic Building by the Officers Wives Club of Webb Air Force Base were added last night at the final dress rehearsal.

The show, featuring fashions from Swartz's ready to wear shop and an exclusive collection of furs from New York Thursday, will include daytime, evening, after-five and spectator sports clothes.

The models, all officer wives, will be Mrs. Robert N. Moecker, Mrs. Philip L. Munn Jr., Mrs. Robert D. Ingram, Mrs. John A. Thomas Jr., Mrs. James S. White, Mrs. Alex P. Goodkin, Mrs. E. R. Connors, Mrs. Nolan I. Jones and Mrs. Ralph E. Kauffman Jr.

The furs will include champagne muskrat, natural ranch mink squirrel and other furs in short coats, capes and stoles.

Evening clothes will include ballerina and floor length models in nylon tulle and Chantilly lace—some with beaded, sequined, lame and applique trim. Outstanding are those in white and black, and many have attached or separate stoles of frothy tulle.

The costumes are completely accessorized, including shoes, hats and jewelry.

Mrs. Walter L. Harter is style show chairman. Mrs. William S. Smallwood will play organ music as the models enter a huge picture frame, carrying out the theme of "Portrait Fashions," and promenade the length of a ramp extending into the seating area.

Refreshments will be served following the show.

(Recipe for Starred Dish Follows)
PINEAPPLE-COCUNUT ICE CREAM
Ingredients: 2 eggs, ¼ cup sugar, 1 tablespoon cornstarch, 1 cup milk, 1 cup pineapple syrup (drained), 2 can of crushed pineapple, 1 cup heavy cream, 2 drops lemon flavoring, 1½ cups drained crushed pineapple, ¼ cup moist shredded cocunut.
Method: Turn freezer control on refrigerator to coldest setting. In a saucepan, mix together thoroughly the eggs, sugar, cornstarch, milk and pineapple syrup. Cook over moderate heat, stirring constantly, until smoothly thickened. Chill. Whip cream with lemon flavoring until stiff. Fold into chilled pineapple custard. Pour into refrigerator tray and freeze until firm (several hours). Turn out into a large bowl, break up and beat with rotary beater (hand or electric) until creamy. Stir in the drained crushed pineapple and cocunut. Return to tray and refreeze. Makes over a quart, enough for 8 servings.

Mrs. Watkins Wins High At Bridge

GARDEN CITY, (Sp1)—Mrs. I. L. Watkins took high score prize Wednesday when the Afternoon Bridge Club met with Mrs. W. K. Garden Camp.

Mrs. Glenn Riley won second high and bingos were awarded Mrs. Bill Jessie and Mrs. Alby Crouch.

Mrs. Riley was elected president of the club at a business meeting that followed the party. Six ladies were elected for membership in the club. They were Mrs. Bill Jessie, Mrs. Walter Lowe, Mrs. Buster Cox, Mrs. W. E. Chaney, Mrs. W. C. Underwood and Mrs. Roy Carter.

The club will meet with Mrs. Bill Jessie for a covered dish luncheon Oct. 8, at her home in the Shell Drive Camp.

Due to the rain, there was not a sufficient number of people attending the meeting of the Garden City Cemetery Association Tuesday evening to transact the necessary business.

A second meeting has been called for 7 p. m. Oct. 1, at the Cumberland Presbyterian Church. It is important that new officers be elected at this time.

Mrs. Jim Johnson of Loraine will review the book, "The Man Called Peter," when the Garden City Federated Missionary Society meets with the Baptist ladies at their church Monday afternoon at 2.

Ladies of the Cumberland Presbyterian Church have charge of the program and the Methodist ladies will direct the recreation period.

Mrs. Doll Long of Le Veta, Colo. was a recent visitor in Garden City.

Elbow Club Has Election Of Officers

New officers were elected at the meeting Wednesday of the Elbow Home Demonstration Club in the home of Mrs. I. B. Cauble and Mrs. Rexie Cauble.

Co-hostess was Mrs. R. P. Morton.

Mrs. Ross Hill was named president and other officers include Mrs. W. B. Hobbs, vice president; Mrs. Pearl Cauble, council delegate; Mrs. Edward Low, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. B. J. Petty, reporter; and Mrs. G. T. Baum, alternate council delegate.

Mrs. Petty gave the council report and summarized the work of the council for the year.

Mrs. Eugenia Toland, county agent, demonstrated the art of refishing furniture. She showed the group samples of different woods and told the methods for working on each to the best advantage.

Eleven members and one guest, Mrs. A. H. Massey, attended. The next meeting will be in the home of Mrs. W. R. Hobbs, Oct. 8. Mrs. Petty will be co-hostess.

Technique Of Reds Revealed In Review

"One thing a non-communist will never believe," Mrs. Charlotte Sullivan told a book review audience Thursday afternoon. "Is that any of his friends could possibly be communists."

Mrs. Sullivan was reviewing "I Led Three Lives" by Herbert Philbrick — communist, citizen and counter spy — for the Junior Woman's Forum book review club.

Mrs. Sullivan revealed that the noted speaker Helen Poe, who addressed religious groups here last year, told the story of a missionary family who had recently returned from China who refused to speak in Lubbock because as Mrs. Poe said, of the alleged strength of the communist cell there.

Mrs. Sullivan recommended the book from an economic viewpoint as well as interesting reading. "It is almost as good as a 'whodunit,'" she said.

The story starts in April 1949 in the courtroom of Judge Medina where the 11 communists were being tried. Philbrick was a witness against them. He had helped organize a Youth Council in Cambridge, Mass., which later was reorganized into the Young Communist League, which changed its name in 1934 to American Youth for Democracy. Still later, in 1945, it became the Political Action Committee.

During all this time, from within a few months after he first organized the Youth Council, Philbrick was reporting events to the FBI.

As a final word relative to what ordinary citizens can do in fighting communism, he admonishes them to avoid behaving like communists — avoiding hatred, uncertainty and fear.

Mrs. Sullivan was introduced by Mrs. Jack Y. Smith, book review chairman, who was introduced by Mrs. J. D. Elliott, Junior Forum president.

Approximately 50 women attended the review.

Epsilon Sigma Alpha Has First Rush Party Thursday

The first in a series of rush parties for prospective members of the Epsilon Sigma Alpha sorority was held Thursday night.

The group attended a movie at a local theatre and then adjourned to the home of Mrs. Curtis Driver for a social hour.

Bo Bowen was hostess for the affair.

Refreshments were served from a table laid with a linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums.

During the brief business session, the organization voted to entertain the children at the West Side Recreation Center with movies and refreshments in the near future.

The group also agreed to contribute clothing and assist in packing boxes for Korean civilians.

The next rush function will be a picnic next Thursday at the City Park for members, their guests and families.

Seventeen members and four guests, Ann Blankenship, Bennie Reagan, Flo Nobles and Dorothy Gaunt, attended the Thursday party.

Fitzhughs Are Honored At Farewell Party At Church

GARDEN CITY, (Sp1)—Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh and children were honored with a farewell party in the recreation room of the Garden City Methodist Church Wednesday evening.

The Fitzhughs are moving to Big Spring where he has accepted the position as secretary-treasurer of the Big Spring National Farm Loan Association. They will make their home at 408 Edwards Blvd. in Big Spring.

Fitzhugh came to Garden City in 1938 as vocational agriculture teacher. He remained here for two years in that capacity and then returned to Garden City in 1946 as the Glasscock County Agent.

He has been serving as treasurer of the Glasscock County Livestock Association. He has served as secretary-treasurer of the Board of Stewards of the local Methodist Church and he is a past master of the Garden City Masonic Lodge.

Mrs. Fitzhugh, the former Myrl Bryans, was born in Glasscock County. After their marriage the Fitzhughs lived in Eldorado for a few years and upon her return, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bryans and children, the Rev. and Mrs. J. P. Boswell and children, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Parker, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Parker and children, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Teale, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Teale and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Asbill and children.

Rev. Parks Speaks At Altrusa Meeting

The Rev. James S. Parks, pastor of the Baptist Temple Church, was guest speaker at the regular luncheon meeting of the Altrusa Club Thursday at the Settles Hotel.

The Rev. Parks chose as his topic, "Good Neighbors."

Attending were 23 members and four guests; the Rev. and Mrs. Parks, Anne Grey and Narrell Dene Choate.

Students, Teacher Are Entertained

WESTBROOK, (Sp1)—Second grade students and their teacher, Mrs. Orin Cook, were honored recently with a surprise party by the room mothers.

Mothers attending were Mrs. S. Mrs. Dalton Conaway, Mrs. Clarence King, Mrs. Russell Bird, Mrs. Alta Clemmer and Mrs. A. D. Wilson.

The P-TA honored faculty members at a reception Tuesday night at the school cafeteria.

The president welcomed and recognized the honor guests after which a musical program was presented.

Refreshments were served to about 75.

Mrs. Alta Clemmer brought the devotional at the meeting of the Dorcas Sunday School Class in the home of Mrs. Otha Conaway Thursday afternoon.

Names were drawn for sunshine friends and refreshments were served to eight.

Mrs. Edd Morren will be the hostess at the October social.

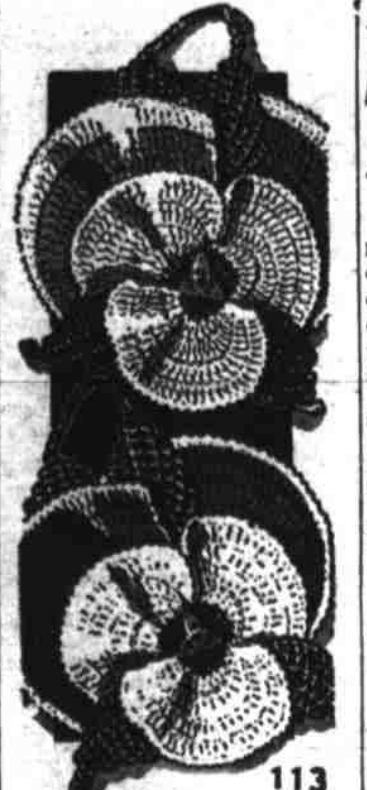

Howard Wood spent the week end with his parents and attended the funeral of his aunt.

Indoor Sports Have 3rd Birthday Party

The Indoor Sports, a club of physically handicapped persons ate chicken dinner last night and lighted three candles on a birthday cake to celebrate the third anniversary of the group's organization.

The party took place at the Girl Scout Little House, where the club meets twice monthly to talk, play games and perform community services.

Joe Pickle, guest speaker, gave an inspirational talk, reminding the members that misfortunes occasionally overtake everyone, and in many instances they can be turned into blessings if there is a will to do so.

The candles were lighted by Mrs. Amy O'Dell, club president.

Indoor Sports attending were Vivian Klnard, Dollie Ward, Claudia Arrick, W. R. Rayburn, James Horton, Courtney Davies and Mrs. O'Dell.

Assisting with the table decorations and with serving was a committee from B&PW Club, which helped organize the group, composed of Mrs. Nova Dean Rhoads, Mrs. Sidney Boyles and Mrs. Susie Long; and other B&PW members and special guests including Mr. and Mrs. Joe Roberts Jr., Mr. and Mrs. M. T. Kuykendall.

Mary Cantrell, Mrs. Irene Nelson, Adele Cole, Herman D. Anderson, Mrs. James Horton, Audie Stanford, Gary O'Dell, and from Ackerly, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace and children, Phil and Brenda.

B&PW Club To Have Breakfast

The second in a series of events in observance of National Business & Professional Women's Week, Sept. 29-Oct. 4, will be a breakfast Sunday at the Settles Hotel.

H. W. Whitney, city manager, will be guest speaker, and special music will be furnished by Mrs. Nell Frazier, pianist.

The breakfast will begin at 8:15, and following the affair, members and prospective members, who will be guests, will attend morning worship at First Baptist Church in a body.

Mary Cantrell is in charge of the committee on arrangements.

Other events planned during the week are a covered dish supper Friday by the international relations group of the club to pack clothes for Germans who have escaped from behind the Iron Curtain, and a dinner and political crossfire forum scheduled for Tuesday, Oct. 7, to discuss political issues in the forthcoming national election.

Radio spots throughout the week will plug the B&PW Club's activities. Several observances are still in the planning stage.

Promotion Day Set At Christian Church

Promotion Day will be held at the First Christian Church Sunday with individual ceremonies being presented in each department.

Nineteen Bibles will be presented members of the third year primary department as they are promoted into the junior group.

Mrs. Lloyd Brooks is superintendent of the primary department.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Todd and son, Ray, returned Thursday morning from Temple where Ray received medical treatment.

U.S. Sees Hope For Iran Oil Settlement

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—United States officials saw some hope today but not very much—in Premier Mossadeq's latest proposal for a settlement of his country's oil dispute with Britain.

Dallas Prosecutor Jimmie MacNicoll Dies After Stroke

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Minutes after he had closed state arguments in a criminal trial last night, Asst. Dist. Atty. Jimmie MacNicoll, 52, widely known criminal prosecutor, died in the emergency room of St. Paul's Hospital.

MacNicoll, a veteran in the practice of criminal law here, was recognized as one of the state's ablest prosecutors. He had appeared over the years in many major criminal trials.

Applause And Cheers Greet Nixon In Salt Lake City Talk

By MORRIE LANDSBERG
SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Sen. Richard Nixon was greeted with shouts and applause during his speech here last night when he promised a counter-offensive against the Democrats who accused him of wrongdoing in accepting an $18,235 political fund.

Indictments Are Returned Against 2 Texas Sheriffs

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Indictments have been returned against two Texas sheriffs for allegedly beating a Negro prisoner.

The indictments charge the two officers "committed illegal assault and battery on a Negro prisoner, Henry Isaac, Sept. 21, 1951, while acting under the cover of the law, depriving him of his constitutional rights."

Deputy Sheriff John Mabry of Huntsville said Isaac was arrested on charges of receiving and concealing stolen property. He said the stolen property was cottonseed and feed taken from the W. S. Davis and Co. warehouse at Shiro in Grimes County.

Grand Jury Hears Grunewald Testify

NEW YORK (AP)—A grand jury probing tax frauds heard yesterday for the fifth time from Henry Grunewald, mystery man of the influence investigations in Washington.

was received here yesterday, addressed to President Truman. It was in the form of a copy of a detailed set of counter proposals which he addressed initially to British Prime Minister Churchill.

The message to the two Western leaders was considered tough in three respects:

1. Mossadeq rejected as "inequitable" a joint statement plan which Truman and Churchill placed before him on Aug. 30.

"In the present circumstances the Iranian nation may follow one of two roads; either it should endeavor to improve the social conditions and ameliorate the situation of the deprived classes, something that would be impossible without the income from oil, or, if this road should remain blocked, it should surrender itself to probable future events which would be to the detriment of world peace."

The principal reason for hope among American experts now is that Mossadeq has not closed the door to a settlement. One informant said, "Our policy certainly is to keep the door open and we will do all we can to that end now that he has not closed it."

Democratic presidential nominee. He spoke of Stevenson as "the chlorophyll candidate" and demanded a full, public airing of the Illinois governor's own special fund.

What Nixon described as "an important speech to me" drew an estimated 6,000 people. It was his first since flying away from Wheeling, W. Va., yesterday with a 112 to 0 vote by the Republican National Committee to retain him on the national ticket.

The California senator said if there was any question whether he would continue his attacks against crime and Communists in the government the answer was: he's going to redouble his efforts.

Frequent applause and cheers interrupted his speech in Utah's capital city. There was foot stamping once. The 6,000 figure was estimated by the owner of the downtown ballroom where Nixon gave his address.

Nixon, in his Salt Lake City appearance, insisted again that Stevenson lay all the facts about his special fund for Illinois state employees before the American people.

McCarthy Is Granted Mining Concession In Bolivia, Paper Says

HOUSTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—The Houston Post said yesterday that Oilman Glenn McCarthy has been granted a sulphur mining concession in Bolivia.

The paper quoted McCarthy as saying: "My plan is to develop a complete sulphur operation in Bolivia. We'll ship it all over the world."

Once financial and other arrangements are completed, McCarthy said, it will take between five and six months to get into actual mining.

by the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company as a result of Iranian nationalization of oil 18 months ago could be determined by the International Court of Justice at The Hague.

Mossadeq, however, laid down a number of conditions which would have to be agreed to before the case went to the court. One would limit Anglo-Iranian Oil Company claims to compensation for actual loss of physical property, thereby eliminating any claims for loss of profits.

But what is regarded here as the most difficult obstacle is a demand that Britain pay Iran an advance 49 million pounds which the Anglo-Iranian Oil Company had been accumulating to pay in royalties to Iran under an agreement which the Iranian Parliament never ratified.

Mossadeq has always contended this money really belonged to his country and now he has insisted, as State Department officials read his note, that it should be paid in pound sterling convertible into dollars. That would mean a maximum dollar demand on Britain's slender dollar reserves.

Cummings was quoted by the Chicago Tribune as saying he was present at a meeting in September, 1950, when the Illinois governor announced he would set up a fund for special purposes.

Cummings reportedly said the meeting was attended by Harry Hershey, then state director of finance; William Miller, an Ottawa, Ill., manufacturer, two of the governor's immediate staff, the late James W. Mulroy and Attorney Louis A. Kohn of Chicago who is now in private practice.

The newspaper quoted Cummings as saying "I told Stevenson I saw nothing wrong with his plan, and I don't now. Gov. Stevenson should tell who administered the fund, who gave and got the money and for what."

Stevenson has said he doesn't intend to give out the names of contributors to the fund collected to pay bonuses to state employees.

Nixon declared there is a "smelly mess" in Washington and added, "All of the alfalfa grown in the state of Utah can't produce enough chlorophyll to make that Washington mess smell sweet."

"We need a man like Gen. Eisenhower, willing to go in with a pick and shovel and clean out the mess. It can't be cleaned up by Stevenson, the chlorophyll candidate."

The GOP vice presidential nominee, without direct mention of his $18,000 fund, said the way in which Eisenhower handled the Nixon case bespoke his "sound judgement and great faith."

A "lesser man," he remarked, "would have said: 'I don't care what he did; he's my friend.'"

Nixon continued, reading from a prepared statement: "From the beginning he never wavered in his support of me as a friend and as an individual. But he properly insisted that as a candidate for public office I should make a full presentation of all the facts to the American people so there could never be an question that there was an attempt to cover up..."

Tells Of Fund

Herman Dunlop Smith (above), Chicago insurance executive, said in a statement in Chicago that he turned in between $500 and $1,000 to Gov. Adlai Stevenson's special fund that was donated by "two or three" of the governor's close friends who wished to remain impersonal.

Ex-Illinois Official Tells Of Adlai Fund

CHICAGO, Sept. 26 (AP)—A former state official's report that Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson announced in 1950 he would set up a special political fund was added today to stories about the controversial salary-supplementing funds.

David H. Cummings, a Peoria banker and businessman who formerly was an Illinois state purchasing agent, was quoted as saying he saw nothing wrong with the fund.

He could not be reached immediately for direct comment.

Sudden Hurricane Moves Along Coast

MIAMI, Fla., Sept. 26 (AP)—An upstart hurricane that sprang up without any warning continued its northerly course parallel with the Florida coast today.

The pinpoint tropical twister was about 230 miles east-southeast of Jacksonville at 4 a. m. (CST) and the weather bureau here said it was moving at a relatively slow pace of 10 miles an hour.

Winds of 85 miles an hour were near its center. Its stiffest wallow was packed in gusts up to 100 miles an hour.

The hurricane, the third of the season, suddenly came into being yesterday. From its inception it has swirled along in a north-northwesterly direction.

Weathermen here saw no danger for the Florida and Georgia coasts, but they said they'd have to wait until later today before forecasting what might be expected along the Carolina coast.

Nine Indicted By Jury For Starr Vote Irregularities

WHETHER YOU SEE EYE-TO-EYE with Adlai or Ike, one thing is certain: From now till November 4th, you'll want to know how they look at all the big issues... Europe... Korea... taxes... controls... income... all the problems that reach into your daily life here in our town.

And to help you weigh each candidate day by day as each issue comes to light—you turn to your newspaper. Just as you've turned to it daily for dozens of other reasons since you first learned to read.

For the latest facts... for goings-on in our town, our state, our entire world... to see what's for fun and what's for sale. Not only what—but where and when and how much it costs. And in the newspaper we read all about it...

or only as much as we want. We read any time we choose—any place we choose.

That's why nearly everybody reads the newspaper nearly every day.

• That's why so many people who sell advertised products insist that they be advertised in newspapers.

Because in newspapers an advertising message has a chance to reach all people who can buy. Not just sports fans or quiz fans or music fans or comedy fans... but everybody.

Yanks Hoping To Sew Up Fourth Title In A Row

By ORLO ROBERTSON
Associated Press Sports Writer
This is flag day for the New York Yankees.

A victory over the Athletics at Philadelphia tonight will give Casey Stengel's men their fourth straight American League pennant—a feat in major league history accomplished only by Joe McCarthy's 1936-39 Yanks and John McGraw's National League Giants of the roaring 20's.

To try to wrap up the pennant and earn the right to meet the Brooklyn Dodgers in the World Series opening next Wednesday at Ebbets Field, Stengel will send the junkman of his pitching staff, southpaw Eddie Lopat, against young Harry Byrd of the A's.

Lopat, back in the groove after suffering back miseries during the summer, has won his last five starts for a 10-5 record. Byrd, beaten 1-0 by the Yanks last Sunday, carried a 13-14 mark into the game.

There is nothing the runner-up Cleveland Indians can do about the situation today. They are idle until tomorrow, when they open a two-game final series in Detroit. Trailing by 2½ games the Tribe can only hope for a complete collapse by the champions and two triumphs by themselves over the Tigercats. Such an outcome would throw the race in a tie and force a one-game play-off in Cleveland Monday.

Cleveland right hander, assured the Yankees of a tie yesterday as he joined Hal Newhouser, another veteran moundman, in producing the outstanding performances of the day.

Reynolds' 3-2 conquest of the Boston Red Sox was not only an artistic but a financial success since it went a long way toward making each of the Yankee players some five or six thousand dollars richer.

Newhouser, in the twilight of his 14-year career with the Detroit Tigers, can look for no such financial gain, however, but his 3-2 triumph over the St. Louis Browns was the 200th of his major league career and placed him in a select group with 34 other pitchers.

It was a great day for Reynolds, who a year ago this week pitched a no-hitter against the same Red Sox to clinch the Yanks' 1951 championship. The pitching of the quarter-blooded Creek Indian was not of that variety yesterday, but he drove in the winning run with a ninth-inning single to rac k up his 20th win of the season.

Only 569 fans—smallest crowd in Briggs Stadium's history—saw the 31-year old Newhouser strike out eight, walk only one and pitch out of two bad spots in joining the comparatively small group of pitchers who have won 200 games. Only two other active pitchers—Bob Feller and Bob Newson—are in the group.

The only day game in the National League saw the New York Giants clinch second place with a two-run ninth inning rally that brought a 3-2 victory over the Boston Braves.

Relief ace Hoyt Wilhelm, taking over in the ninth from Jim Hearn, was credited with his 15th pitching triumph of the year and his second in as many days. Rookie catcher Ray Kat singled home the decisive run.

The only night game, like those played in the sunlight, was decided in the ninth inning when the St. Louis Cardinals defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 4-3. Billy Johnson's double and Solly Hemus' single accounted for the winning tally as the Cards scored their 33rd one-run victory of the season.

Shorthorns Play Sweetwater 'B' Team Saturday

The Big Spring B team Shorthorns travel to Sweetwater Saturday for an afternoon engagement with the Sweetwater B aggregation.

Kick-off time is set for 2:30 p.m. in the Mustang bowl. The Shorthorns will be seeking their first victory of the season, and Saturday's game will be their first action in two weeks.

In their opener two weeks ago the Shorthorns were defeated, 35-0, by the strong Stanton-Buffaloes.

Coaches Mack Alexander and Roy Baird have kept their charges busy on the practice field during the past two weeks. Consequently, the Shorthorns expect to field an improved eleven Saturday afternoon.

Probable starters for the Shorthorns include Don Washburn and Hughes and Dean Porter at tackles; Ray Shaw and Dickie Milam at guards; J. W. Thompson at center; Tommy McAdams at quarterback; Sonny Wimberley and Gene O'Call at half backs; and either Kirk Faulkner or Freddie Blalack at fullback.

'Strategy' Board Is Making A New Trial

(Sports Editor Tommy Hart is on vacation. His regular column, "Lookin' 'Em Over" will be resumed on his return.)

By WACIL McNAIR

The Herald Board of gridiron "strategy" may be a bit groggy after some of last week's supsets, but every member managed to answer the bell again this week. Last week, Fred Greene's average was better than the rest, or perhaps it would be more accurate to say his selections were not as bad as the rest.

AUTHORITY DECLARES

Marciano Tops For One-Punch Victory

(The following is the first in a series of three articles on Rocky Marciano, the heavyweight boxing champion.)

NEW YORK (AP)—"He's a greater puncher than Jack Dempsey and Joe Louis. He takes 'em out better with one punch."

This supreme compliment was handed out by Jack (Doc) Kearns, an eminent authority on power punching, and he was referring, of course, to Rocky Marciano, the newly crowned heavyweight champion.

There aren't many in the game more qualified to discuss sock specialists than Doc, who managed Dempsey in the great days of the Marianne Mandler's fabulous career.

"Maybe he's not much to look at the way he does it, but results are what counts," said the ring veteran.

"Gee, did he really say that?" asked Rocky. And that gives you a little tipoff on what kind of a guy the new champion is.

FIRST TIME IN HISTORY

Mustangs Try Duke Tonight In Big Intersectional Tilt

DALLAS, Sept. 26 (AP)—Southern Methodist and Duke open the college football season in Dallas tonight in one of the nation's top intersectional games.

Clashing for the first time in their football history, the teams are expected to wage an all-out offensive duel with defense merely incidental. If either is weak, it appears to be defensively.

Duke has a senior football squad whereas Southern Methodist will be liberally sprinkled with sophomores. In fact, several of them are due to start—Doyle Nix at left end, and Duane Nutt a quarterback if the veteran Benton Musslewhite still favors an ankle sprain that has kept him slowed down this week.

Nutt is one of a group of talented passers that will have the Southern Methodist aerial circus performing as usual.

Herman Morgan, assistant Southern Methodist coach, scouted Duke last week in its season-opening 24-9 victory over Washington and Lee and he says SMU couldn't have picked a tougher outfit to start the campaign against. But Southern Methodist is a mild favorite to beat the Blue Devils.

A crowd of 35,000 is expected to be in the Cotton Bowl. That attendance is lower than usual for an opening game but SMU athletic officials explained it by pointing to last year's record. The Methodists wound up last in the Southwest Conference.

Duke's attack is built around Ward Lutz, passer, runner and quarterback of note. He stood out in last week's conquest of Washington and Lee. Jack Kistler, the Blue Devils' fullback, averaged 11.3 yards carrying the ball in that game.

The punting is expected to be top drawer. Red Smith of Duke led the Southern Conference last year with an average of 40.7 yards. Jer-son and Les. Jack Kistler, the Blue Devils' fullback, averaged 11.3 yards carrying the ball in that game.

Carter Eagles Challenge Steers Here Tonight

Locals Seeking Second Victory Of '52 Season

Big Spring football fans, who took quite a fancy to the things they saw there one week ago are due to flock back to Steer stadium this evening.

The attraction will be a high school football game, the second of the season for the Big Spring Steers who meet a challenge by the Amon Carter-Riverside Eagles of Fort Worth.

Kick-off time is set for 8 p. m. The Steers, duly warned that they face a "dangerous" team, have gone through a rugged practice grind this week, despite the fact that rain hampered operations on Monday and Tuesday.

They are going all out in an effort to continue on the victory trail following a comforting 33-0 decision over San Angelo their last time out. The Eagles will be seeking victory No. 2 in as many starts this year.

The Fort Worth boys launched their campaign last Saturday night with a 20-13 triumph over a good Sherman team.

Based on last week's performance, the Steer defense which kept the door closed on San Angelo all evening, will get a severe test this evening. The Eagles, who do their offensive maneuvering from a spread formation, have a reputation for speed and smooth play.

A 134-pound sprint champion appeared to be the Eagles' top runner against Sherman. He is Boyd Dollar, who operates from the tail-back position in the TCU spread used by the Eagles. Dollar scored all of his team's points last week against Sherman.

Burdette Warner, 167-pound quarterback, impressed most observers with his passing in the Carter-Sherman game, and he is due to be around to worry the Longhorns tonight.

Bill Hammett and Bill Plemons, operating at the end positions, along with Dollar, Elton Bettle and Neil Pugsley in the backfield give Warner plenty of capable receivers. And, some of the other boys in the backfield chip in on the passing chores occasionally.

At times when they are not concentrating on stopping the Eagle attack, the Steers will be throwing their own offensive weapons at the Eagles from a split T formation.

Such operatives as Bobby Hayworth, J. C. Armistead, Billy Martin, Doyle Maynard, James Hollis, Ted Scott, Frank Long and as many more are expected to be ready to go at full speed.

And in the line Tiny Ellison, Gie Gilstrap, Junior Suter, Norman Dudley, Louis Stipp, Jackie Milam, Carlisle Robinson, Wayne Medlin, Bill Earley, Jim Porter and their cohorts appear to be in top shape.

All hands answered the call Thursday afternoon for the final

Yearlings Score First

Lyle Spencer crashes over the double stripe for the first touchdown in Thursday night's Yearling-Sweetwater game. The Yearling standing at the right of Spencer is Johnny McDonald (No. 63). The Sweetwater team won the close match by a score of 13-12.

Sweetwater Nudges Yearlings By 13-12

The Big Spring Junior High Yearlings almost won themselves a victory on the last play of the game Thursday night, but a plunge into touchdown-land was nullified when officials ruled that playing time had expired before the play got started.

That saved a 13-12 decision for the Sweetwater Junior High aggregation, which had battled the Yearlings on virtually even terms for most of the evening.

The Sweetwater lads surged from behind twice to cop their narrow victory.

After a scoreless first quarter, Edwin Faulbon swiped a Sweetwater pass on the Big Spring 45 and raced to the Sweetwater 25. The Yearlings were destined to score on that drive, and Lyle Spencer plunged over from the four for the first touchdown of the game. A running play for the extra point was bogged down short of the goal line.

Early in the third period, the Sweetwater team moved to the Big Spring 12 on a long pass play, and Harold Hobbs, who did just about everything for the Nolan County delegation, bulled his way over from 10 yards out. Hobbs then booted the extra point to give his team a 7-6 advantage.

The Yearlings came roaring back and recaptured the lead within a couple of minutes. Larry Hodnett fought his way through the Sweetwater team, finally burst into the clear and romped 44 yards for a touchdown to put the Yearlings ahead 12-7.

Midway of the fourth quarter, Hobbs threw another monkey wrench into the works. He accepted a pass and darted across the double stripe on a play that covered 33 yards.

The Yearlings again fought back, but saw their chance for victory die on the one-foot line as time ran out.

The disputed extra play, on which the Yearlings carried over for what would have been the winning touchdown, resulted in considerable confusion, as players, coaches and fans stampeded to the south end of the field to learn the ultimate decision.

Lubbock-Scot Game Features High Schedule

By The Associated Press
 Highland Park (Dallas) plays Lubbock Friday night at Lubbock in the feature game of Texas schoolboy football for the week.

It matches unbeaten teams of Class AAAA—teams that could win their district championships and meet later on in the state playoffs.

Another headliner pits Temple, the terror of Class AAA, against Waco of Class AAAA at Waco, and still another standout sends Jefferson (San Antonio) against mighty Baytown.

The feature of Classes AA and A is the Pecos-Wink game at Pecos. Each is a favorite in its class.

Two undefeated teams fell in the scattering games over the state Thursday night.

In Class AAAA Edison of San Antonio whipped San Antonio Tech, 38-6, to knock the latter from the unbeaten ranks. In Class AA Mt. Pleasant rolled on undefeated by taking out Atlanta, 46-0.

Other games played last night were:
 Class AAAA—Bowie (El Paso) 39, Cathedral (El Paso) 7; Arlington Heights (Fort Worth) 19, Sunset (Dallas) 13; North Dallas 12, North Side (Fort Worth) 8; San Jacinto (Houston) 14 St. Thomas (Houston) 13.

Class AAA—Seguin 28, Lanier (San Antonio) 6.
 Class AA—Jesuit (Dallas) 60 White Settlement 6; Teague 13, Waco Tech 6.
 Class A—Wills Point 19, Rockwall 0.

All Major Grid Teams Will Get Into Real Action

By E. CORRIGAN
 NEW YORK (AP)—Autumn's annual madness, college football, swings into full stride tonight and tomorrow from coast to coast with every major team in the country scheduled to get into action.

Headed by Michigan State, the No. 1 team in the pre-season Associated Press poll, the big boys will flex their muscles against opponents who, for the most part, will not play dead when they show up.

State, for example, opens with no less an adversary than Michigan. The Spartans, who won't count in the Big 10 standings until next year, rule a two-touchdown favorite over the sophomore-laden Wolverines.

Tonight's action also is heavy with some intersectional tussles that will have a bearing on the final outcome in December. Southern California, which has pretensions toward the Pacific Coast Conference title, entertains Northwestern of the Big 10—almost like a Rose Bowl game.

The result should give some indication of how serious a challenge the two schools can throw up against the favorites of the conference—California on the coast and Illinois in the Midwest.

California and Illinois, incidentally, appear to have easy tasks. They are prohibitive favorites to trounce Missouri and Illinois goes against Iowa State, which proved that it could score when it lashed South Dakota State last week.

From an audience standpoint, the big one will bring together a pair of old Ivy League rivals—Princeton and Columbia—in New York. The game will be the weekly televised contest of the NCAA's program. It will be beamed throughout the country except in the Philadelphia area, which will show the Penn-Notre Dame fray.

Princeton, which owns the longest winning streak among the major colleges—22 games—will be the choice.

Texas and Kansas will be out to prove their victories of last week over Louisiana State and Texas Christian, respectively, were no flukes. The Longhorns meet North Carolina, always a toughie, and Kansas tackles Santa Clara.

Texas Christian, the defending champion in the Southwest Conference and the favorite to win it again will be tested against UCLA. The Horned Frogs don't figure to lose two in a row, but if they do, Texas probably will take over the favorite's post.

But then that loop is so unpredictable that the No. 1 team changes every week.

Kansas' victory over TCU came as a surprise and if the Jayhawks look good again, they might make it a fight with Oklahoma for the Big Seven championship. The Sooners play the University of Colorado, which should present no problem.

The nation's sports writers and sportscasters voted the University of Maryland the No. 2 team before the season started but on the basis of the Terrapins' last-ditch 13-10 win over Missouri, it's doubtful if they'd be accorded the same spot if another poll were taken now. They will be out to regain their lost prestige against Auburn.

Georgia Tech, another powerhouse, and probably the best team in the South, warms up against Florida, Tennessee, which finished on top of the heap last year and would like to debate the Engineers' claim to the No. 1 team in Dixie-land, plays Mississippi State.

Other major games:
 Tonight—Boston College vs. Richmond, Boston U. vs. Syracuse, Detroit vs. Wichita, U. of Miami (Fla.) vs. UMT, Southern Methodist vs. Duke, Temple vs. Albright.

Tomorrow—Alabama vs. LSU, Arizona State (Tempe) vs. Colorado A & M, Army vs. South Carolina, Bucknell vs. Lafayette, Cincinnati vs. Kansas State, Clemson vs. Villanova, Cornell vs. Colgate, Georgia vs. Tulane, Holy Cross vs. Dartmouth, Kentucky vs. Mississippi, Navy vs. Yale, North Carolina State vs. George Washington and Ohio State vs. Indiana.

Gold Sox Take WT-NM Crown

AMARILLO, Sept. 26 (AP)—Amarillo is champion of the West Texas-New Mexico League in one of the greatest fights against adversity in baseball history.

The up-and-down story of the Gold Sox has gripped this Texas Panhandle city like no other sports happening.

Changes in ownership, changes in ball parks, changes in most everything came before the Sox battled their way into the play-offs of this Class C League.

Amarillo lost a coin toss to Borger and drew first place Clovis in the play-offs. Clovis had finished 17½ games ahead of second-place Albuquerque and 23½ ahead of Amarillo and Borger. Amarillo lost the series opener but won the next four, then beat Borger four straight in the final series.

The Sox finished with four injured players in the regular lineup.

The best prospect of the club? It's Clyde Perry, former Texas League shortstop who was released by Dallas in early season. Perry, still a youngster, played great baseball for Amarillo and is expected to go up next season.

Buffaloes To Tangle With Coahoma Bulldogs Today

COAHOMA — This area's little giants of the gridiron, the Stanton Buffaloes and the Coahoma Bulldogs, tangle here tonight in what is expected to be one of the toughest grid matches in West Texas this week end.

Quarterbackers To Join Rally This Afternoon

Members of the Big Spring Quarterback Club and all interested football fans will meet at 5:30 p.m. today in the 200 block of Main Street for a pre-game pep rally.

Joe Williamson, co-captain of the club, announced in last night's meeting that members of the club would line up at the goal posts to welcome the players onto the field tonight as the Big Spring-Carter game begins.

Herby Smith and Bill Dyer were to hang a huge 30-foot banner reading "Football Tonight" over 3rd Street today. The banner was to have been between the Settles Hotel and the Club Cafe. The banner is gold and has 24-inch black letters.

Approximately 100 people attended the Quarterback Club meeting Thursday evening. Jack Millam, Junior Suter and Donald Swinney of the football team were introduced to those present.

Marvin Miller, president of the school board, told the Quarterback Club that the school board will send the High School Band to Brownwood on Oct. 19 for the football game there. The club had previously decided to raise the money for the trip.

Clyde Angel, secretary-treasurer, reported membership of about 325 persons. He said that $358 was in the club treasury. The club has a membership goal of $1,000, and membership cards were distributed to members Thursday for a drive. Cost of membership is $1.

The club also discussed placing markers at the side of the football field and building a movie camera platform at the top of the press box. Committees have been appointed to look into each project.

A report was made that the time clock would be in good working order Friday night. A transformer burned out last week causing it to not work during the first half of the game.

Members of the club saw moving pictures of the Big Spring-San Angelo game in the meeting last night. They also voted to have Horace Garrett take movies of the future games.

Victoria Win Is Impressive

Victoria's impressive debut and Paris' winning 83-yard drive in the fourth period Thursday night opened Texas Junior College's third week of football action on a high note.

Victoria tripped a loaded Schreiner Institute eleven 18-0 after breaking open a scoreless battle in the third quarter. As on all of the winning teams, halfbacks set the pace.

Pirate Bill Box scampered 12 yards in three tries for another in the same period and Allen Janke pushed over from the two in the fourth period.

Paris shaded Tarleton State, 20-14, while junior colleges came out even-Stephen in two battles with College B teams. Kilgore won over North Texas B, 15-7, and East Texas B ran away from Decatur Baptist, 40-0.

After touchdowns by Ray Chandler and Charles Williams enabled Paris to enter the fourth period at 14-14, the Dragons drove 83

Harlingen Needs Only One More Triumph For Crown

HARLINGEN, Sept. 25 (U)—The Gulf Coast League is Texas' last hold-out in pro baseball—and Harlingen may wind things up here Saturday night.

Harlingen, that is, needs only one more victory to capture the play-off championship from Port Arthur. And their fourth and next bat-yards, reserve Halfback Don Schmidt skipping the last four, to go ahead of Tarleton State, 20-14, with 12 minutes left. Flowby scores came by a Joe Fox-to-Bill Mims pass and a 13-yard run by Fox.

John Jennings ran over from the one and Sam Buchmeyer from the two for the Kilgore tallies, both in the first half. Buchmeyer along with the other halfback, Wernert Trich, paced Kilgore to 146 yards rushing. North Texas' Bob DeLong scored in the third period on a 70-yard interception return.

the comes Saturday night after a holiday to avoid schoolboy football Friday night.

The Capitols won their third straight from Port Arthur Thursday night as Earl Caldwell spun a four-hit, 8-0 triumph. Five Port Arthur errors helped.

Caldwell was never in danger, notching his 23rd victory, except for the seventh inning when Frank Jettens tripled. He died on third, the farthest advanced Seahawk runner.

Lozer Ray Woodward lasted only two-thirds of an inning and was relieved in succession by Lee Kash, for six and one-third innings, and Ray Chipman, for one. The three gave up 10 runs.

Harlingen, on a seven-game win streak, needs but one triumph in four remaining games to take the play-off title.

It finished tied-for-second in the regular season races.

Southwest Elevens To Face Tough Foes

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist meets Duke at Dallas Friday night to open a big week-end of inter-sectional football for the Southwest Conference.

Four of six games are against teams from other areas and the other two are against strong outfits in the conference's own backyard.

Two of the teams travel far, with Texas Christian, down-hearted over losing its opening game of the season against Kansas last week, journeying to Los Angeles to take out its spite on UCLA, and Texas going to Chapel Hill, N. C., for a clash with North Carolina. These games are Saturday afternoon.

The other inter-sectional struggle pits Texas A&M with Oklahoma A&M in the Cotton Bowl Saturday night.

Rice, which along with Southern Methodist, waited until this week to open the season, engages a tough Texas Tech team at Houston in a night game. Arkansas, with a 22-20 victory over Oklahoma A&M under its belt, takes on University of Houston, at Fayetteville in a daytime affair.

Baylor, which opened the season with a 17-14 victory over Wake Forest last week, rests this week.

Texas, Rice, Arkansas and Southern Methodist are definite favorites to win their games but Texas Christian is an underdog against UCLA and Texas A&M is expected to have its hands more than full with the Oklahoma Aggies.

Southern Methodist and Duke, top-rated team of the Southern Conference, will be playing for the first time and the initial meeting is expected to produce offensive fireworks for which games in the Cotton Bowl have become noted.

Duke has a veteran team. Southern Methodist has an experienced nucleus but is depending on many sophomores to dig it out of the cellar where the Methodists reposed last season.

Texas goes to the stadium where it was humiliated in 1948 with a crushing 34-7 defeat. The Longhorns have played the Tar Heels three times, winning two games at home. Last year Texas lashed North Carolina, 45-20. North Carolina hasn't played a game as yet this campaign. Texas opened the season last week with a 35-14 strapping of Louisiana State.

Texas Christian is due to be a greatly improved team this week against UCLA, and if the field is dry should get back into the wild offensive groove for which the Frogs were famous last season. The 13-0 defeat to Kansas last week was the first time in 43 games that the Frogs have failed to score. They blamed a muddy field for most of their troubles.

Texas Aggie scouts, who saw Oklahoma A&M play Arkansas last week, reported that the Cowboys should have won the game, throwing away a couple of opportunities to score. But Texas A&M appears to have a much better team than anticipated. The Aggies' 21-13 victory over University of Houston

Price Boss Hears From The Women!

DENTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Denton still buzzed today about the way North Texas women jumped on Price Boss Tighe Woods yesterday. Some suggested the best thing Woods could do was resign. And a German war bride said she thought the Office of Price Stabilization which Woods heads "is leading us into dictatorship."

Woods, who got a round of applause for being a good sport, said the reaction here was the most critical of his nationwide grass-roots tour.

The meeting at Texas State College for Women, attended by about 125 housewives, was the fifth held by Woods to find out how housewives feel about OPS and price control.

Several of the women spoke up favoring controls, but the cheers and applause were reserved for 16 who criticized OPS. Woods forecast a two or three per cent rise in prices during the next six months.

"I was born in Germany and know what dictatorship is like," said Mrs. John A. Brewer of Denton, a pretty young war bride. "I think OPS is leading us into a dictatorship."

Mrs. Boyd Armstrong, also of Denton, "I do like paying your salary. If you would let the supply and demand alone they would adjust themselves."

"Don't you think it's time we stopped being dictated to?" queried a Denton County farmer's wife, Mrs. P. S. Travis. "Why can't we go back to the good old days like when Ma was alive. My kids ask me why my table isn't loaded down like Grandma's was. I tell them the good old days are gone forever."

Woods pleaded with the women to give specific replies to his questions, which included: "What category of prices is giving you the most trouble?"

To this the audience chorused: "All prices."

Explaining that "the consumer will bear the freight in any event," Woods asked the women whether they wanted inflated prices of commodities added to the cost of building ships, tanks and airplanes.

"I don't see what that has to do with prices," reported Dean Pauline Berry Mack of TSCW college of household arts and sciences. Later she told a reporter "They keep dragging in defense and waving it like a red flag."

Martin County Officials Speak At Road Hearing

Martin County Judge James McMorris, accompanied by Commissioners Oliver Vaughn, Irvin Welch, Ed Bloomer and Joe Froman, appeared before the Highway Commission Thursday and urged improvement for Martin County highways.

McMorris asked the Commission for a northeast extension of State Highway 349 of 2.2 miles from Farm Road 87, which will connect these two roads with a previously designated project.

Farm Road 87 is the Big Spring-Andrews highway, and 349 which makes a junction with 87 in the western part of Martin County is more familiarly known to residents of that section as the Midland road. At present it does not extend north of 87.

The Martin County delegation also asked the commission to extend the city section of U.S. 80 for one-half mile beyond the present city limits of Stanton, explaining that this will be necessary to take care of a prospective city expansion program.

The commission was also asked to take over maintenance of the paved roads in Martin County.

Roy Bell To Preside At Eagles Meeting

Roy Bell, district chairman, will preside at the district meeting of the Fraternal Order of Eagles to be held Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Eagle Hall.

Fifteen newly-elected candidates will be initiated at the meeting. All Eagles, their wives and members of the Eagles' Auxiliary are urged to attend.

Large Continent Of Mexican Cattle Due For California

EL PASO, Sept. 26 (AP)—About 500 head of Mexican cattle are expected to enter the U. S. here soon. But they won't say long.

The first large contingent of cattle to reach the U. S. since the lifting of the foot and mouth disease embargo, Sept. 1, the stock will be exported to Lower California.

Shipments of fresh meat are increasing sharply. All the meat has come from Juarez, Mex., packing plants to date. Carloads from the interior of Chihuahua are expected to reach here next week.

About 250,000 pounds of beef have entered since Sept. 1. At least 70,000 pounds will reach El Paso today for shipment east.

Some Mexican cattlemen say it is more profitable to slaughter their animals below the border and send the meat to U. S. markets than to bring live animals here for pasture and feeding.

20th Jet Ace

Capt. Robert Riser (above) of Oklahoma City, Okla., became America's 20th jet ace by downing his fourth and fifth MIGs in a battle with the Red Air Force in northwest Korea. The Air Force said Riser qualified as an ace after checking gun camera films following the air battle. (AP Wirephoto).

Farm Prosperity Drop Is Brake On Price Hike

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—A decline in the prosperity of farmers is acting as a brake on a long upswing in prices of farm land, the Agriculture Department reported today.

Land prices increased less during the four-month period ended last July 1 than in any other four-month period since the Korean War began in mid-1950.

The department has reported that farm income will be smaller this year than last, largely because of higher production costs.

In a report on the farm real estate situation, the department said that in the broad Midwestern corn-livestock area, weaknesses in producer prices of hogs and cattle and some uncertainty as to the long-range outlook for farm product prices are slowing further increases in farm land prices.

High labor costs on Wisconsin and Minnesota dairy farms was said to be price depressing factors in those states.

In the Southeast, apprehension is being expressed, the department said, concerning "high" farm wage rates and uncertainties as to how long farm income will continue to present levels.

The department reported prices of farm real estate for the country as a whole rose an average of one per cent from March 1 to July 1. In the corresponding period last year, the increase was 5 per cent.

The department also reported that the number of farms being sold is declining. The dollar amount of farm mortgage recordings during the first half of this year was 2 per cent below the same period last year.

Youth's Death Is Blamed On Police By Colombia Group

BOGOTA, Colombia (AP)—The Evangelical Confederation of Protestant Churches has accused Colombian police of shooting and killing a youth and stabbing two others during a district prayer meeting.

The purported attack was one of 30 cases of religious persecution in this predominantly Catholic country between June 21 and Aug. 31. The confederation reported yesterday.

It charged also that Wade Coggin, a member of the U. S. Christian and Missionary Alliance Mission, was beaten with a machete by a civilian while the missionary was conducting a religious service. In other incidents, it was charged, Protestants were beaten, abused, insulted and jailed.

The confederation, a group of 17 Protestant denominations, has issued periodic reports of trouble here between Protestants and Catholics. The government has replied in the past that it depletes the religious strife but cannot guarantee protection to the Protestants if they try to win converts in what is officially a Catholic state.

When Term Expires Trygve Lie Is Due To Leave UN Post

By FRANCIS W. CARPENTER

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. (AP)—Secretary-General Trygve Lie has decided to step down from his $40,000 a year United Nations post on Feb. 1, 1954, at the end of a three-year extension of his term, and retire to Norway. Some day he would like to be prime minister of that country.

This was disclosed today by persons who know the mind of Norway's former foreign minister. He has been top boss of the 4,000-man U. N. Secretariat since 1946.

When he leaves, he will get a lifetime pension of $10,000 a year, but he cannot hold public office until he has been away from the U. N. for five years. Lie now is 56.

Lie's intentions came to the fore as U. N. officials studied a draft of a staff reorganization scheme which would abolish the posts of eight assistant secretaries general, each paid $22,000 annually, and would create three deputy secretaries general, each at a considerably higher salary.

Lie was said to have described this plan as his "last will and testament." He is known to be extremely anxious to have the Secretariat staff on a sound footing before he leaves.

Some of his assistants are not optimistic about the fate of this plan. They foresee opposition from U. N. countries which could not expect to have a deputy under the new arrangement. There also is a growing feeling among the small countries that such big powers as the United States, Britain, France and Russia have too much of the gravy in U. N. posts. The smaller countries seem determined to cut the big power representation in the high brackets as much as possible. The plan likely will be discussed, then put off to the 1953 assembly, which must choose Lie's successor.

The secretary-general originally was hired in 1946 for a five-year term. The five permanent members of the Security Council—the United States, France, Britain, Russia and China, which hold the veto power—agreed unanimously on him as a compromise candidate after the East and West had turned down each other's nominee.

Lie began work to find some middle ground between the Soviet Union and the West. Often he was attacked from both quarters. In June, 1950, when the Communist North Koreans invaded South Korea, Lie sounded a blistering denunciation of the North Koreans and demanded U. N. action. Moscow put him on its blacklist and vetoed his reelection.

The U. S. refused to accept anyone else, insisting that the Russians must not punish Lie for doing his duty.

The assembly in 1950 adopted the expedient of extending Lie's term for three years. There is no hint of his attitude toward a draft in the event of a stalemate in the 1953 assembly, but his big idea now is to go home in February, 1954.

True plants must have light to exist.

Experienced Traveler Learns His Lesson

Editor's Note: Edward H. Harle, assistant publisher of the Standard-Times with Mrs. Harle and their son, Christopher, are on a visit to France and Italy. The trip appears to be more expensive than originally expected.

By EDWARD H. HARLE

PARIS, Sept. 25.—This is a little story about innocence abroad, or how dumb can you be.

It is a sad story, because it involves loss—the most painful loss of all, loss of money.

It concerns my first venture into that world of brigands and thieves, the black market money changer. I have today emerged from the clutches of three underworld characters who robbed me of $82.50 by a sleight of hand so perfectly executed that I did not know until hours later what had happened to me.

The story is this—

The French franc is now worth only one-fourth of a cent. At banks outside France it is openly and legally traded at that rate, 400 to the dollar.

But not so in France. Here all banks must trade money at the government rate, established by the government, of 350 francs to the dollar. The franc, therefore, can be traded in Paris at its true value only in the black market.

Experienced travelers take advantage of the black market to make their dollars go further.

Today, imagining that I was a seasoned traveler, I sought out a black marketer in one of the favorite haunts of this tribe, the dark old streets behind the swank Place Vendôme and the Rue de la Paix.

A man wearing a beret and bearing a grotesque scar on his unshaven face drifted toward me. He looked utterly depraved and obviously knew every vice, every trick, and every vice of the underworld.

When he asked me under his breath if I had money to change, I said that I needed French money and wanted to change $100.

I did not ask him his rate—I told him the terms on which I would trade. I wanted 400 francs for the dollar. To demonstrate that I knew all about this business, I showed him the quotation from the morning paper which stated that the franc was "unofficially" traded at 405 to the American dollar.

"You walk to corner I meet you there," he said in broken English. "I go get my boss."

A few minutes later, he signaled to me from an open doorway in the middle of the block. Lurking behind the door in the dark courtyard was the boss, unmistakably another refugee from the underworld.

The boss was counting a large wad of 1,000-franc notes. He appeared nervous, and frequently he darted glances over his shoulder. His nervousness only confirmed my opinion that I was a seasoned traveler and that I held the upper hand in this transaction.

He thrust the money into my hand and whispered, "Count it. Hurry!"

With great deliberation, I began to count the bills. There should have been 40 of the 1,000-franc notes. He said there were.

Aha, murmurs the experienced traveler. Only 36,000 francs. There should be 40,000. Why monster give me 4,000 more?

Little did I suspect that it was all an act, that it was planned this way, and that without my prompting I was playing my role to perfection.

I return the 36,000 francs for him to count. He agrees—only 36,000. Holding this wad in one hand, he fumbles in another pocket for a monstrous roll of 100-franc notes. He counts off 4,000 francs in 100-franc notes, then gives them to me to count. While I am counting the chicken feed, the 100-franc notes, he is holding the 36,000 francs in 1,000-franc denominations. The experienced traveler becomes engrossed in the little money and does not note a movement subtly executed, by which the money changer removes from the pile of big notes all but 3,000 francs.

When I have finished counting, I return the little notes to him, he quickly slips them on top of the three remaining 1,000-franc notes, rolls the whole into a wad and tells me to stuff it in my pocket at once, before we are seen and arrested. For this sum of 7,000 francs, worth $17.50, I obligingly give the thief $100 in American currency, and we part with a show of civility which must have made the habits of that dark street hold their sides with laughter.

Hours later, the experienced traveler is seen riding by cab down the Avenue des Champs Elysees. The expression on his face is that of a man with a lot of money in his pocket. Forty thousand francs.

Prehistoric Tusk

Bill Carter, partner in the Colorado Sand and Gravel Company, stands on mammoth or mastodon tusk underneath in the concern's pits south of Colorado City. Originally the tusk extended across the open space toward the point to which Carter is pointing. Most of it was snapped off by a gravel bucket. Several teeth have been found along with a deposit of large flat bones which could not be identified. Many bones from the prehistoric members of the elephant family have been found along the Colorado River and Lone Wolf valleys.

That's a lot of money. He thinks he will count it. As the counting progresses, the supply of big 1,000-franc notes suddenly stops.

There is an immediate reaction in the stomach. Pockets are searched frantically. The cab driver is ordered to stop where he is.

Stunned, as one can only be stunned by the realization that he has been cheated of nearly $100, I stumbled into the park and sat down.

Then came the dawn. It was a transparent ruse, probably so old that every Parisian and almost all experienced travelers know of it. First the attempt to short change me, which I am expected to catch, and do. Then the huge pile of little bills which I have to count. While I am so occupied, the money changer deftly removes to his sleeve or to a pocket most of the bill notes.

Returning to my hotel I learned

School Board Okays Bond And Tax Vote

Returns from the bond assumption and maintenance tax vote were made official by the Big Spring Independent School District Board of trustees at a called meeting Thursday afternoon.

The canvass of the returns, occasioned by the election which followed detachment of two sections on U.S. 80 west from the Caudle district and attachment to the Big Spring district, showed 60-4 approving the bond assumption and 58-8 confirming the maintenance tax.

The borrowing of $12,500 to pay bond and interest charges coming due Oct. 1 was authorized. Current tax rolls may not be ready by that time and to avoid the risk of being tardy, the board elected to float a short term loan.

Permission to the Baptist Temple church to continue rental of the senior high auditorium was extended. The new congregation has the auditorium of its church plant under construction.

Marvin Miller, board president, said that representatives of Busboom & Raub, general contractors, of Puckett & French, architects and engineers, would meet today to correct leaks in a portion of the new high school roof which developed in the wake of rains this week. The district accepted the buildings under a year's guarantee.

Use of the baseball field was granted to the Big Spring Shrine Club for a Shrine circus Oct. 21-22. A petition asking that students in the Airport area whose grades are not taught at the Airport school, be picked up in school buses was acted upon. The board approved the pickup only insofar as it applied to junior and senior high pupils residing outside the city limits and a distance of two miles from the schools. The state education agency rules that only in such instances was the service eligible for state transportation aid. In event the city limits were ever extended, service would have to be discontinued within the extended area, the board indicated. The pickup will affect only those who live west of the north-south center line of Harding and Louella streets.

The press will be given priority in seating at the press box, the board was informed. Last week some of the working press had difficulty getting seats at the Big Spring-San Angelo game. The board also voted to send the senior high school band to Brownwood when the football team plays there.

The Glory of Solomon's Empire

HIS WISDOM AND SPLENDOR WERE KNOWN BY ALL THE EARTH

Scripture—1 Kings 4:30-34; 7:1-8; 8:10-11:15.

By NEWMAN CAMPBELL
 IT HAS been suggested that Israel in the time of King Solomon was in much the same condition in which our own country is today. It was a rich nation. Great building operations were being conducted. Visitors came from far and near to see the glory and imitate the king's wisdom. Taxes, however, were becoming more and more burdensome, and luxury prevailed all over the kingdom.

The reign may be dated approximately between 950 and 930 B.C.—40 years. Nine hundred years before the birth of Christ, Solomon traded with faraway lands like Spain, northwestern Arabia, down on the Red Sea, near the Gulf of Akabah, and on the eastern coast of Africa, where it is thought Ophir may have been located.

"Solomon ruled over all the kingdom from the river (Euphrates) unto the land of the great power, and she came availing to discover for herself if all she had heard was true. She brought with her a list of questions, the nature of which we are not told. Solomon answered them all satisfactorily.

After she had seen all Solomon's wisdom, and the house that he had built, his manner of living, etc., she told the king: "It was a true report that I heard in mine own land of thy acts and of thy wisdom."

"Howbeit I believed not the words until I came, and mine eyes had seen it; and, behold, the half was not told me; thy wisdom and prosperity exceedeth the fame of which I heard."

"Happy are thy men, happy are these thy servants, which stand continually before thee, and that hear thy wisdom."

"Blessed be the Lord thy God, which delighteth in thee, to set thee on the throne of Israel for ever, therefore made He thee king, to do judgment and justice."

The Queen gave Solomon many valuable gifts before she returned home.

In all the world's history, said to say, there are far too many fine, gifted men who have attained power and fame, only to become tyrants, "drunk with power," who have misused their gifts and the high places which they have obtained.

So it was with Solomon. With all his wisdom, he fell from Jehovah's favor, and set a degrading example for the people who honored and trusted him. He had enlarged his harem to 1,000 women, which, of itself was a degrading influence, and these women placed a burden on the people of the country who were obliged to pay for their support and lives of luxury.

Furthermore, as Solomon grew old, some of these wives, who he had worshiped strange and abominable gods, weaned the king away from his perfect worship of Jehovah. Jehovah was angered, and told Solomon that he was no longer worthy of his great position.

However, the Lord remembered His servant David, and decreed that the kingdom should remain as it was as long as Solomon lived, but that when he "slept with his fathers" the kingdom would be divided, and his son, Rehoboam, would reign over only one tribe of Israel.

At the end of Solomon's reign he had several adversaries, and after his death one of these, Jeroboam, became king of Israel, while Rehoboam reigned only over Judah.

MEMORY VERSE
 "A man's life consisteth not in the abundance of the things which he possesseth."—Luke 12:15.

Philistines, and unto the border of Egypt; they brought tribute, and served Solomon all the days of his life."

His own people, Judah and Israel, who "were as many as the sand which is by the sea in multitude," ate and drank and made merry.

Enormous quantities of food were consumed by the king's household, and the king had many thousand horses for his chariots, and many horsemen.

"And Judah and Israel dwelt safely, every man under his own vine and under his own fig-tree, from Dan to Beersheba, all the days of Solomon."

"And God gave Solomon wisdom and understanding exceeding much, and largeness of heart, and Solomon's wisdom excelled the wisdom of all the children of the country, and all the wisdom of Egypt. Men of the east were noted for their wisdom."

"He spake 3,000 proverbs; and his songs were a thousand and five."

"And he spake of trees, from the cedar tree that is in Lebanon even unto the hyssop that springeth out of the well; he spake also of beasts, and of fowl, and of creeping things, and of fishes."

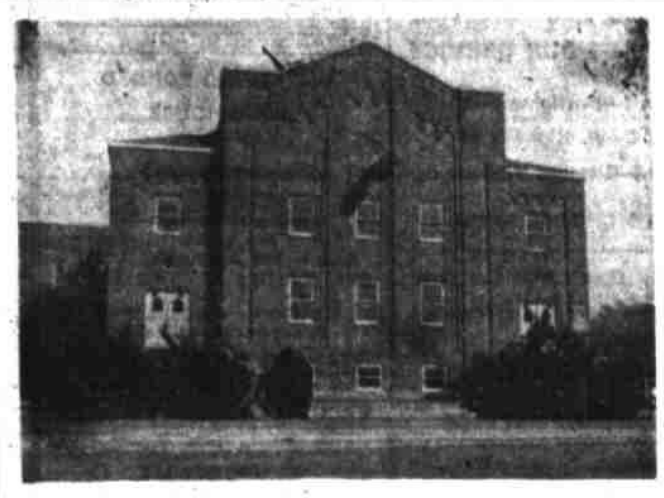

Doesn't that also remind you of our own day, when nature studies are so popular?

His building operations were extensive. He built a house for himself, and one for his Egyptian wife, daughter of the Pharaoh, and many other beautiful and elaborate buildings besides the temple.

The Queen of Sheba heard of the wisdom of Solomon and his

"A Friendly Church Where Salvation Makes You A Member."

"Daddy, give me a PUSH!"

There is a man in our community who doesn't understand the importance of religious education. He has never taken his little boy to Sunday School because he figures "it's time enough for a child to learn about religion when he's old enough to know what it's all about!"

One day his little boy, while sitting on the swing, said "Daddy, give me a push."

Wouldn't you have thought he would refuse? (Time enough for a child to swing when he's old enough to know what it's all about.)

But he gave him a push . . . and another . . . and many more!

Which prompts us to observe that religious education has far more to do with a child's happiness and character than swinging. Those early years in the Church mold moral fibre and awaken spiritual discernment.

The soul of your own child . . . at the threshold of FAITH . . . cries "Daddy, give me a push!"

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake, (2) For his children's sake, (3) For the sake of his community and nation, (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Brewers Will Speak At Radio, TV Probe

By RUSSELL BRINES
 WASHINGTON (AP) — Investigating congressmen today hear the brewers' side of what they say is a growing controversy over television and radio advertising of beer.

Clinton M. Hester, representing the U. S. Brewers' Foundation, testifies at an opening hearing of a House Interstate Subcommittee which is surveying all "objectionable" material on the air.

Chairman Harris (D-Ark.) told newsmen the majority of complaints received from the public against TV and radio programs concerned beer advertising.

He said a new petition containing 2,000 names had just reached his office from Eldorado, Ark., opposing any liquor advertising over the air or in magazines. Arkansas has local option and is partially dry, he said.

The subcommittee is primarily concerned with broadcast programs considered immoral or those over-emphasizing crime, he said, but it also has authority to probe beer, cigarette and other advertising.

Today's hearing winds up the current phase of public sessions, and the group will recess until after the November elections, Harris added.

Other witnesses today include Miss Alice Keith, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the National Academy of Broadcasting Foundation and a representative of the Federal Communications Commission. The commission has considerable authority in licensing radio and TV stations.

Harris said he has been impressed by the extensive machinery established by major TV networks to catch objectionable material before it gets on the air.

He said the subcommittee has not discussed the recommendations it will make before the end of this year. The group is on record against any form of censorship but it has authority to suggest any legislation it decides might be required. Some members have indicated belief that a voluntary code of ethics, adopted six months ago by most TV stations, might be sufficient to regulate the industry.

RUTH, Nev. (AP)—This little Eastern Nevada copper town is to be moved so miners can dig beneath it.

John C. Kinnear Jr., general manager for Kennecott Copper Corp., here, said half the town will be shifted to a new site not far away by next summer.

The other half will be moved the following year.

SPARE PARTS FOR BODY Failures May Lead To Medical Success

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
 Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK (AP)—This is a story of mankind's great dream, and a law of nature that stands in the way.

It begins with an exciting fact: Spare human kidneys are being put into the legs of people doomed to death because their own kidneys are sick and failing.

The spare kidneys worked for a time, then failed.

The third kidney is taken from persons who just died, or whose own healthy kidney must be removed because of other illness.

The spare kidney is put into a pocket created in the sick person's thigh and is connected to veins and arteries in the leg, to help purify his blood. The ureter or drainage tube from the spare kidney leads to a cup strapped to the thigh.

Three Boston surgeons told today of making six such kidney transplants.

The failure of these six transplants may help lead to success in the dream of someday being able to give humans new kidneys, lungs, hearts or other spare parts when our own vital organs become sick or damaged.

One transplanted kidney worked for nearly two months, and actually survived in another person's leg for 101 days.

This one new chapter in attempts to transplant human organs was described to the Convention of the American College of Surgeons by Dr. David M. Hume, Dr. John P. Merrill and Dr. Benjamin F. Miller of Peter Bent Brigham Hospital and Harvard Medical School, Boston.

This week, other surgeons told of trying to transplant animals' lungs and hearts and gullets and windpipes.

Nature's law is that your body will destroy any protein or tissue other than its individual own, by creating antibodies against it.

All our organs are made of protein. If you put one person's tissue into another's body, he reacts against it with destructive antibodies. Bones and arteries and corneas or windows of eyes are being transplanted. But your own body uses them only as a scaffold, apparently, soon replacing the foreign tissue with its own cells and material.

Why won't one body tolerate tissue from another?

Over the world, many scientists are trying to learn why.

The Boston team doesn't have the answer, yet. The patients, helped for a time with kidney transplants, died of failure of their own sick kidneys.

But two of the six were able for a time to be up and about and to walk.

Maybe there is a clue in the kidney that lived the 101 days.

It was taken from a dead person and for 3 1/2 hours it had not had any blood supply.

Medical men generally believe a kidney dies, becomes useless, if deprived of blood supply for only half an hour.

Yet this kidney, when put into the living patient's thigh, not only started working but resisted for the longest time of all six the new body's attempt to destroy it.

The long lack of blood supply perhaps did something to this kidney, hurt and damaged it. In trying to recover, was it doing something that gave it weapons to resist the destructive reaction started by its new home? If so, exactly what happened?

This is only one clue, maybe not a good one.

A team of 20 Harvard scientists—surgeons, biochemists, immunologists and other experts—is working on the problem, seeking ways to make human transplants work.

Actress Says Going To Jail Has Helped Her

By GENE HANDSAKER

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Madge Meredith says going to prison helped her as an actress because: "I learned about women."

"My mother and three sisters were about the only women I really knew before," the brunette beauty told newsmen yesterday. "Through this opportunity (prison)—and I liked to consider it that, rather than a tragedy—I am able to understand women more."

"It was quite wonderful, but don't get me wrong. I wouldn't want to do it over."

Miss Meredith met reporters at the studio where she has completed three "Fireside Theater" television films due for coast to coast airing over NBC this winter.

In one she plays the waitress girl friend of a confidence man who is reformed by farm life. In another she is the bride of a British official in Africa. In the third she breaks away from a domineering mother.

The actress left the state women's prison a year ago last July after serving 20 months there and 11 months in the Los Angeles County Jail. She was convicted of conspiring to kidnap and beat up Gianaclis, and his bodyguard, Verne Davis.

Gov. Earl Warren commuted her 10-year sentence after the State Adult Authority and a state assembly subcommittee reported that she never would have been convicted if she had had a fair trial.

Miss Meredith, 31, smartly clad in a watermelon-red gabardine suit, said it was "a technicality that my full pardon and exoneration haven't come through."

Major studios don't want to put her under contract, she added, "up until that cleared up."

wanted her to star in a "Madge Meredith story" based on her experiences.

But two majors, she added, "I didn't want to do that," she said. "I didn't feel it would do any good. Money isn't everything."

As for the future: "I just want to develop myself as an actress."

One Springfield Has Challenge For Others

SPRINGFIELD, Mo. (AP)—Mayor Bill Karchmer of Springfield has challenged three other Springfield mayors to a "get out the vote" contest.

Karchmer issued the challenge to the mayors of Springfield in Ohio, Illinois and Massachusetts. The results will be tabulated on the percentage of registered voters who cast their ballots Nov. 4.

Riding THE GRUB LINE With Franklin Reynolds

One of the feature stories in the October issue of The Western Horseman is about Goat Mayo of Petrolia, the man who produced the 4-H Club's Junior Rodeo here the latter part of August.

At the end of the 1951 rodeo season, according to the article written by Rufus Jackson, Goat had 198 horses, 156 bulls, 378 head of roping calves, over 300 head of yearlings, 279 wild cows and 33 'dogging' steers. He produced 24 shows in 1951 and is having a busy season this year.

Comments Jackson in his story: "Goat's ability as an arena director is unsurpassed. With limited facilities and untrained help, he will produce a fast moving show that sparks a genius at work. Through it all Goat is untruffed. He is the middle man—between the rodeo producer, the cowboy and the spectator, and he serves them all well and honestly. This is the secret of his success, or rather it is one of his secrets.

The others—well, there are five more: his four boys and Mrs. Mayo. All of them work as a team."

Mrs. Mayo is the daughter of another rodeo stock man, William Lyon, with whom she and her husband were formerly in partnership.

One of the most exciting rodeo events ever seen in Texas was once in Henrietta when Goat and his partner entered a wild cow milking event. Goat was to hold the cow while the partner did the milking.

Some of the boys at the chutes turned the meanest 'dogging' steer they could find into the arena instead of a cow and Goat didn't have time to look and see what he had until the steer had carried him around the arena for half an hour or longer.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce will not "take sides" in highway matters during the next session of the Texas Legislature, it has been declared by Virgil P. Patterson, chairman of the WTCC's Highway Policy Committee.

The WTCC had heard that rumors were in circulation in several places that the regional Chamber of Commerce would attempt to exert influence for or against allocation of additional funds for some types of roads as against other types.

Patterson said: "This report is not just unfounded. It directly contradicts the firmly expressed policy of this committee."

He said the committee will devote all its activities to making an inventory of highway needs and conducting a public information program on the whole situation.

Patterson commented that Governor Shivers has declared he will name a state-wide committee to report to him on highway matters before the Legislature convenes in January.

Patterson said: "We will try to be in a position to give the governor a complete picture of our highway needs, from big city expressways to farm roads, and that is all."

Burglary charges have been dismissed at Carlsbad, New Mexico, against Bud Linderman, well known Red Lodge, Montana rodeo hand. He contested in a Beutler Brothers rodeo the night of June 1, the same night in which the office of the Pecos Valley Construction Company was entered.

Friends said Linderman walked by the office several times going to and from his car, thus accounting for his foot prints at the robbery scene. Arrested shortly afterward he has been free on a $2,500 bond since.

A Bible Thought For Today—

But bees do not pursue us far. We must not let little annoyances and difficulties deter us from a manly task. "They chased you as bees do." — Deut. 1:44.

Two Amendments Are Of Doubtful Merit To Warrant Voter Approval

The voters of Texas on November 4, along with electing precinct, county, district and state officials, and choosing presidential electors, will have to decide the fate of two proposed amendments to the Constitution of Texas.

Both these amendments, it seems to us, are of doubtful validity and wisdom, and the people should ponder them well before approving them.

House Joint Resolution No. 20 would confer upon the Legislature the power to enact laws to enable cities, towns and villages to provide workmen's compensation insurance. At the same time it would give the Legislature power to provide laws for which means cities would have little or no leeway in administering such laws. The Constitution now provides the Legislature may set up workmen's compensation insurance for state and county employees, but our municipalities have always enjoyed a large measure of self-government because of the complex nature of their problems. HJR 20 would take away more of their freedom of choice, and make them more than ever the creatures of the Legislature. If cities choose to provide workmen's compensation for their employees, and can afford it well and good; this amendment would force them to do so whether they could afford it or not.

The other amendment is HJR No. 38, giving the legislature power to provide grants, loans or scholarships to students desiring to practice in rural areas on such terms as the law provides. During World War II, the federal government tried this with students agreeing to put in a certain amount of time in the armed services. In the end, many had to be drafted and nobody was particularly happy about it.

Medical schools have long waiting lists. Unless the state provided new medical colleges it is problematical whether those with proposed grants would stand any better chance of getting in. Moreover, the amendment does not define medical and this could encompass quite a lot of fields.

Public Silence Gives Consent To Proposed Fiscal Guide For County

The public was noticeably absent last Monday when the County Commissioners Court held the public hearing on the proposed budget for 1953. This fiscal guide set up expenditures of $537,000, which is a pretty fair piece of change even in these days.

Since no one was on hand to object to the proposal or to make any particular suggestions, the court could only assume that the guide they had laid out was satisfactory.

If not, then the public has no particular complaint coming.

With primaries past and their election a foregone conclusion, officials will carry, in a sense, a vote of confidence from the people in conduct of county affairs. This should prove a great challenge to them, not only in the administration of county affairs, but also in frugality as officers and policy makers.

The actual setting of salaries for top officials will remain for the January term of the new commissioners court. The budget, however, provides for increases of around $25 per month which will put the total to $5,280 per annum. While not providing for increases in their own scales of $3,600 per annum, commissioners (A. J. Stallings and Earl Hull spoke against it) did advance the expense allowance from $300 to $600 each per year.

While budgetary provision does not compel an expense, it does authorize it and as a practical matter, the appropriation is usually utilized. Thus, there is a real prospect that whatever is set up will become a reality. There is a point, however, at which the scale, plus expenses, will become a job instead of a service. In time the attraction would be not only to those with a sense of public duty, but also to a host of those who think they might happen into a good thing.

Merry-Go-Round — Drew Pearson

Eisenhower Was Torn Between Professional, Amateur Advice

WASHINGTON. — General Eisenhower's period of indecision regarding his vice presidential running-mate was due largely to the fact that he was torn between a crossfire of advice from two groups of backers.

One was the professional politicians who accompanied him on the train. These, led by GOP National Chairman Arthur Summerfield, fought hard to keep Nixon on the ticket. With him were Senator Seaton of Nebraska, Congressman Hugh Scott of Philadelphia; while Milton Eisenhower, the general's brother, a non-professional, was emphatically in favor of dropping Nixon and General Wilton Persons, one of Ike's old military friends, was on the fence.

But the enthusiastic amateurs who got on the train during its stops en route urged that Nixon be taken off. These were the leaders who had rounded up the big write-in votes for Eisenhower during the primaries, who sometimes had voted Democratic and who represented the independent bloc which can swing an election.

They felt that the general must give an example to the nation, must show that he meant business right at the start by cleaning out any taint or even suspicion of corruption. They argued that if the Nixon "expense gifts" had been known at Chicago he would not have been nominated, and that if the general put action to words the election would be in the bag.

One factor which hampered Eisenhower's decision was the fact that his advisers kept the Nixon news from him for 18 hours. Though they got the first query on the New York Post story via the United Press on Thursday afternoon, they did not tell the general about it until next morning.

And since the general seldom reads the newspapers carefully, he did not learn the bad news—even though his advisers sat up until 3 a. m. at Omaha trying to decide what to do while the man chiefly concerned slept peacefully in the next car, blissfully ignorant that the worst political storm in fifty years of presidential campaigns was about to break over his head.

Next morning the general was told what had happened and at first it was suggested that perhaps Senator Nixon should fly to Kansas City or St. Louis to talk things over. Finally it was decided that Senator Seaton of Nebraska would get off the train at the next stop and phone Nixon—which he did.

Nixon, when reached by telephone, had some strong opinions. He asked that no action be taken until he could give a full statement, and he put some of his staff on the phone to tell of the big crowds he'd been getting. They indicated that the people around Eisenhower had buck fever. The thing to do, they urged, was to play down the story and proceed as if nothing had happened.

That night, at the Muehlebach Hotel in Harry Truman's home town, the general called a staff conference in "the little White House," the penthouse used by President Truman when he comes back to Missouri. Truman's picture had been removed, though the plane on which he sometimes plays the "Missouri Waltz" remained.

At the meeting were Chairman Summerfield, Gov. Adams, Milton Eisenhower, President of Penn State College; Jim Magerty, press secretary; Senator Seaton, Ma). Gen. "Slick" Persons, Brig. Gen. Robert Cutler and Eisenhower himself. They decided to have the general make another statement, then wait for Nixon to explain all. It was also decided that the general himself should meet the press in an off-the-record conference and reiterate his determination for honesty in government. Next day this was done.

In doing so, the general, by pure coincidence, used the same expression used by President Harding in defending some of his associates — "clean as a hound's tooth."

Meanwhile Senator Taft was really sore at the general for not backing Nixon at the start. Taft thought that Eisenhower's tightrope walking was what made the Nixon affair a big headline and a big issue.

The general meanwhile was irked not only at his own staff for not telling him of the Nixon "gifts" when the news first broke, but also sore at Nixon himself because he had shot off to the press without clearing with him. The general especially didn't like Nixon's first statement blaming "Communists and crooks" for the newspaper stories.

One voice which kept urging the general to drop Nixon was that of Bert Andrews, ace political writer for the New York Herald Tribune who originally introduced Nixon to Eisenhower. Andrews felt that Nixon's position had materially hurt the ticket and that the general would be sure of election if he showed he was against any suspicion of unethical conduct.

On the other hand, the general was boiling mad at Chairman Summerfield for stating that Nixon would definitely remain on the ticket. Since Summerfield made the statement after Eisenhower had already said he was going to make up his mind only after Nixon told his story, he didn't like Summerfield's word to the contrary.

When word of Summerfield's precipitous statement reached the general, he snapped.

"Summerfield may be Republican national chairman but he doesn't speak for me."

Security aboard the Eisenhower train could be a lot better.

As a candidate, the general gets no official government protection so there are no Secret Service or FBI men on board. His bodyguard is a Chicago plain clothesman while Mamie has an ex-cop from Denver. The local cops in each town are chiefly depended upon for security. On several occasions Eisenhower has been separated from his police guard, which has had some of his advisers worried.

His concern is over fanatics, especially in Ohio where the GOP Old-Guard has been far more bitter than the Democrats. Because of this, the FBI was sufficiently worried in Cincinnati to slip some G-men quietly in the crowd for security purposes, even though officially the FBI is not supposed to guard candidates. This is the work of the Secret Service—though not until the candidate is elected.

Safety Directors, Organized Drives Underway In Many Large Corporations

NEW YORK, Sept. 26 (AP)—Many companies are stepping up safety campaigns as on-the-job injuries spurt upward.

They are using all kinds of devices to impress safety rules on employees' minds—from death's head pictures on letters to foremen to Bikini bathing beauties on match book covers.

Many larger corporations have safety directors and organized campaigns.

A 12 per cent rise in occupational injuries since the start of the Korean War is reported by the National Labor-Management Manpower Policy Committee.

It says that last year some 16,000 lost their lives and two million others had lost-time injuries. The committee adds that more than 70 per cent of the job injuries were in plants, stores and offices without organized safety programs.

The cost to industry and individuals may run well over 1½ billion dollars this year.

The foreman is regarded as the key man by many companies. Continental Oil, Houston, to keep its foremen alert, sends them reports of accidents on stationery with a skull as watermark and the caption, "Portrait of a man who wasn't careful."

The titanium division of the National Lead Co., St. Louis, has a different approach—match covers with alluring pictures of girls to illustrate safety rules. Example: a bathing-suit cutie to remind workers that materials in warehouses should be well-stacked.

The company's series of six designs has been selected by the Match Industry Information Bureau as "match book of the year" for 1,960 entries.

Here are some other companies using match covers as safety reminders.

Men, Avoid Marriage To Clinging-Vine Type Girl

NEW YORK (AP)—America is entering a new matrimonial age—the era of the all-around wife and the clinging vine husband.

The enlightened fellows who have been quick to capitalize on this situation are already among the happiest men of history.

My advice to any young man contemplating getting married today is this:

"Don't pick a clinging vine type of girl. Let yourself be chosen instead by a strong, vigorous-minded, clean-cut girl of wholesome character who will cherish you as a clinging vine husband and give you the feeling of comfort and security every man really needs."

Why spend your life holding her up if you can get her to hold you up? Ever since the Garden of Eden, women have had a lot of fun pretending to be weak and helpless and now it's man's turn.

The cave man, for all his grunting superiority, was a breast beating fool, a worried and unhappy victim of the frazzled-haired mate he theoretically dominated. Throughout the centuries the dumb male, whenever a problem came up, said with ignorant gallantry, "Let me worry about that."

He made all the big decisions and fretted himself to death young, for it is making decisions that kills people. The normal human tendency is never to decide anything and

Presidential Writings Are Not Always Good, Editor Believes

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Discounting all of the "meat" of things politics, such as corruption, prosperity vs. depression, etc., some of the more learned gentry are praising the two major presidential candidates for their dignity and personal qualities.

Scholars and some editors already are heaping praise upon Gov. Adlai Stevenson for his style in speaking and to a greater extent in writing. One has even gone so far as to compare the Democratic nominee with Winston Churchill and Voltaire, declaring that "at his best, he reminds us of no one except himself. In this rare case, the style actually is the man, scholarly, urbane and witty."

With this in view, it is interesting to note one metropolitan editor's observations on writings of all presidents of the twentieth century.

Here are some of the things he had to say:

Theodore Roosevelt... an historian... his writings were vivid, a bit wordy, but usually direct and exciting.

William Howard Taft, a jurist, wrote solemn pieces that few persons listened to and nobody reads today.

Woodrow Wilson... the master writer... historian, essayist and student of the Bible, wrote with precision, clarity and fervor.

Warren G. Harding, a newspaper man, but no writer. His thinking was vague, his phrasing ponderous. His speeches have been forgotten.

Calvin Coolidge wrote a clean, crisp style as lean as the man himself and cold as his visible emotions.

Herbert Hoover wrote poorly as a president, lacking the intimacy which he acquired in later years.

Franklin Delano Roosevelt... debatable as a writer. He was a perfect speaker in an auditorium and a welcome guest at a fireside, yet appraisals of his writings show them somewhat commonplace.

Harry S. Truman... as a writer is still a haberdasher in Missouri.

As yet Gen. Eisenhower has not distinguished himself as a speaker or writer, but other personal qualities he possesses appeal to the scholars.

Survey Shows Illinois Remains In Doubtful Column At Present

By GEORGE GALLUP
Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Sept. 26—One major state that must be put in the doubtful column today is Illinois, home state of Governor Stevenson, with a total of 27 electoral votes.

Three major facts emerge from the Institute's latest sampling of political opinion today in Illinois:

1—This state today has a large group of "undecided" voters, in fact, far more than has been found in other areas.

2—Coupled with this is the fact that a higher percentage of persons who voted for Dewey in 1948 say they are undecided than is found in the country as a whole.

3—Whereas Eisenhower has run ahead of the G.O.P. nationally by about 4 percentage points, in Illinois he runs ahead of the party by a very small margin.

Interviewers for the Institute put two questions to each Illinois voter in the survey. One dealt with the choice of party in the presidential race.

The other asked each voter his preference as between Eisenhower and Stevenson.

The vote on this latter question shows that even in Illinois, where Stevenson is relatively as well-known as Eisenhower, the General runs 1½ percentage points ahead of his party, as compared to 4 points in the rest of the country.

Here are the results in Illinois on the two survey questions:

"If the presidential election were being held today, which POLITICAL PARTY would you like to see win—the Republican party or the Democratic party?"

A total of 23 per cent were undecided, but half of these were willing to say which party they "lean" toward. With these "leaners" included, the results are:

ILLINOIS		(27 Electoral Votes)
Republican	47%	Democratic	42%
Still undecided	11%

White Girl Was Treated Kindly

From time to time, people give a little thought to the "mystery of Virginia Dare." Known as the first English white child born in the New World, she seems to have been carried away by Indians while still an infant. She was lost to the world of whites a few years before the founding of Jamestown. Her parents had taken part in an expedition sent out by Sir Walter Raleigh.

No proof was discovered about Virginia's fate. Years later a report was spread about a young white woman who had been seen living among Indians, but nothing seems to have been done to learn whether this young woman was the lost child.

A much better record of a lost white child exists in the case of Mary Jewison. She was born more than a century later than Virginia Dare, during the ocean voyage which brought her parents to the New World.

At about the time of her tenth birthday, Mary was captured by a party of Shawnees. The warriors were on the warpath. Two members of the family, at least, escaped to the home of an uncle, but the rest never were seen again by Mary. Into the woods went the Indians, and then to the headwaters of the Ohio River.

The Shawnees took their little captive down the Ohio. After they paused and went ashore, Mary soon found herself in a village. There she was adopted as a member of an Indian family.

The white girl was given new clothes to wear. These were made of deer skin and were decorated according to Indian custom. On her feet she now wore a pair of moccasins.

The years passed, and Mary was pleased by the kindness which was shown to her. She was given work to do, but only as much as the other daughters of the tribe.

When the Indian mother decided that the girl was old enough to be married, a husband was found for her. His name was She-nin-lee.

In later years she described She-nin-lee as "handsome, brave and kind." She was deeply in love with him, and there was joy in her heart as the years went by. Then came a great sorrow.

This Day In Texas

By CURTIS BISHOP

At least three Texas divisions were scrambling over the top on this day in 1918, launching one of the most decisive thrusts of World War I.

Into the thickly-wooded Argonne Forest of France stormed the doughboys. Further north their British allies were hammering away at the vaunted Hindenburg, finally breaking through on September 27.

Actually it is hard to establish a definite day for the beginning of the battle of Argonne Forest. Some historians of the first World War consider it and the Meuse campaign a simultaneous operation; if so, the campaign began on September 20 and did not end until November 11, when armistice was signed.

The first American troops arrived in France on June 26, 1917, after war had been declared April 6. The American doughboys did plunge into immediate action, and the first Texas casualty did not come until November 5. Texas divisions distinguished themselves in the battles of Cambrai, the Somme, the Marne, St. Mihiel, Belleau Wood and in the capture of St. Etienne in addition to valiant performance in the Argonne wilderness.

The first Texas-trained division reached France in late June, 1917. The first pilots trained at a Texas air base began combat flying a month later.

Figures Show Crime Rates In Texas Up

WASHINGTON, Sept. 26 (AP)—Crime rates in Texas cities increased in the first six months of 1952 as compared with the corresponding period last year.

The FBI reported the increase, which followed a nation-wide trend, on the basis of records submitted by police departments in 101 Texas cities.

For the state, there were 5,400 murders or non-negligent manslaughters per 100,000 population in the January-June period this year, against 5,16 for the first half of 1951.

This year's rates for other major crimes in Texas:

Robbery, 21.1; aggravated assault, 44.4; burglary, 274.6; larceny and theft, 634.1 and auto theft, 130.1.

Rates for the similar period of last year:

Robbery, 19.7; aggravated assault, 40.6; burglary, 258.4; larceny and theft, 615.5, and auto theft, 116.7.

The FBI report on the number of major crimes showed these figures:

Amarillo — Murders or non-negligent manslaughters, two; robbery, six; aggravated assault, 38; burglary, 145; larceny and theft, 737; auto theft, 176.

Lubbock — Murder or non-negligent manslaughter, one; robbery, nine; aggravated assault, 39; burglary, 261; larceny and theft, 760; auto theft, 82.

Odessa — Murders or non-negligent manslaughters, three; robbery, 12; aggravated assault, five; burglary, 73; larceny and theft, 221; auto theft, 68.

Waco — Murder or non-negligent manslaughter, one; robbery, six; aggravated assault, 48; burglary, 130; larceny and theft, 463; auto theft, 52.

Wichita Falls — Murders or non-negligent manslaughter, four; robbery, 24; aggravated assault, 105; burglary, 150; larceny or theft, 599; auto theft, 222.

Tulsa Has Plan To Get Out Vote

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Tulsa business, industrial and labor leaders swung today behind a proposal for a Nov. 4 city holiday designed to challenge any city in the country to a percentage-wide voting contest in the presidential election.

Mayor C. M. Warren said he would issue a proclamation asking all citizens to co-operate in the plan offered by John H. Dunkin, owner of one of Oklahoma's largest department stores.

Dunkin told 350 industrialists, business and professional men and union labor leaders he doesn't intend his plan as an ordinary holiday but as a chance for employees to work among voters and at the polls to get out the biggest possible vote.

Reds Ready To Launch New Peace Drive Against U.S.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

Opening barrages of a gigantic world Communist peace offensive will be fired this week end. The thunder of the propaganda guns will mark the first phase of a new Soviet tactical assault on the United States.

For about 30 countries — those in Asia and those such as Canada and Latin America bordering the Pacific — delegates have assembled in Peking, capital of Communist China, to do the bidding of the Moscow-Peking axis in this latest campaign.

The countries "represented" by the Communist-inspired delegates have a population of more than a billion and a half people and cover two-thirds of the earth's surface.

Plans for this assault were concocted in July, under Soviet guidance, at the conference of the Communist World Council of Peace in Berlin. The Peking meeting is a curtain raiser to the mighty peace offensive which reaches its climax Dec. 5 in Vienna with a world congress.

There is little doubt that the offensive is tied in with the decision of Moscow to summon an All-Union Congress of the Soviet Communist party Oct. 5, the first such congress in 13 years.

The major attack is in Asia. One goal is the expulsion of American influence through damage to American prestige. The ultimate goal is Communist domination of all Asia. But the Communist appetite will not even be satisfied with that. In the future are plans for domination of the Middle East, Africa and South and Central America.

Here is what will take place in Peking, under much noise.

The "Congress of Partisans in Defense of Peace in Asia and the Countries of the Pacific Ocean" — the mouthful title of this meeting — will dutifully adopt resolutions as follows:

1. Against remilitarization of Japan. Demanding withdrawal of all occupation forces (meaning American forces now there under a separate treaty) from Japan.
 2. Against bacteriological warfare and weapons of mass destruction.
 3. For the outlawing of war propaganda.
 4. For "peaceful solution" of the Korean conflict and other conflicts threatening world peace.
 5. For development of international trade on "the basis of equality and mutual advantage," for development of cultural relations among nations, for steps to raise living standards of nations.
- All these will be depicted as Communist goals thwarted by American warmongers and aggressors. There will be other resolutions, too, dealing with such matters as Indian-Pakistani relations, national independence of countries in North Africa and the Middle East, against remilitarization of Western Germany and for a united Germany, and so on.
- The presence of large delegations from Latin America can be regarded as a clear warning to the West.
- The Peking news agency announces that delegations will be present from Mexico, Guatemala, Colombia, Salvador, Honduras, Chile, Peru, Ecuador and Panama.
- The work of the peace congress is cut and dried. It has been decided well in advance, and the dupes present will be led about by the nose by the Communist manipulators of the sessions. The Communists are going to squeeze out every ounce of propaganda from this effort.
- In Moscow, the Soviet Union will use its party congress to announce that the USSR wants only peace and the right to build socialism. There will be a crashing crescendo of Soviet propaganda all through this fall and winter. The West has been forewarned in time to plan its counter-attack.

California Housing Fight Involves Reds

By HOWARD HEYN
LOS ANGELES (AP)—Agents of the California Department of Justice are hunting Reds in the attic of this city's $3 million dollar housing project.

This is the latest development in a municipal light opera which has kept the City Council in a tizzy for 10 months.

What ordinarily would be a routine administrative procedure in slum clearance has produced such sensational incidents as these:

Mayor Fletcher Bowron engaged in brief fistcuffs with a heckler. Nothing but dignity was damaged.

Councilman Ed Davenport accused another councilman of trying to draw a knife on him.

Having once approved the program, the council suddenly reversed itself.

Voters also turned down the project in a subsequent city election, but court rulings held the city was obligated to proceed.

As the controversy now stands, no one knows whether Los Angeles will get 7,000 new housing units or will have to dig down to repay the federal government 13 million dollars already spent for such preliminaries as landlites.

Another ruling by the California Supreme Court scheduled for Sept. 29 may provide the answer.

Nobody anticipated all this hubbalo when, like other cities, Los Angeles set up a housing authority under federal law back in 1945. The housing shortage then was acute. With little public reaction of any kind, the authority proceeded to build 17 temporary and 10 permanent low-rent structures which now house about 45,000 persons.

Then, in 1950, the authority launched its biggest project, to cost about 100 million dollars. Congress was to provide the money, over a period of years.

Suddenly, last December, loud protests were voiced by a citizen's group against condemnation of a certain piece of land. Opponents of the program claimed that slums weren't being cleared at all, that wide-open sites were being acquired for some of the 34 proposed 13-story apartment buildings.

They argued that, instead of a government gift, the program ultimately would cost the city about 200 million dollars in lost taxes and expenses.

It was at this point that the council, by a one-vote margin, rescinded its sanction. Mayor Bowron, however, stayed on the side of the housing authority, which immediately carried the matter to the courts.

In a series of see-saw legal maneuvers the state courts held to the opinion that, having made a contract with the government, the city would have to go through with it. A committee against socialized housing, set up under Chamber of Commerce auspices, thereupon put the issue up to the voters, on last June's municipal ballot.

The voters turned thumbs down on the program.

Despite repeated court orders and contempt proceedings, the council continued to block site acquisitions. Mayor Bowron finally went to Washington in an effort to break the deadlock. He returned with the announcement that the program had been cut from 100 million to $83,447,457 and the number of units from 10,000 to 7,000. Three projects were revised to provide three-story instead of 13-story units.

This revision failed to mollify the committee against socialized housing and other opponents. The next step is up to the State Supreme Court.

Ike Will Not Be Called As A Witness

BALTIMORE (AP)—Counsel for George Edward Grammer, charged with slaying his attractive wife and trying to make it look like an accident, says Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will not be summoned to appear as a character witness in Grammer's trial next month.

Attorney Anthony S. Federico said last week the Republican presidential nominee would be summoned to appear at the trial beginning Oct. 6. But yesterday he said he was withdrawing the request for the summons.

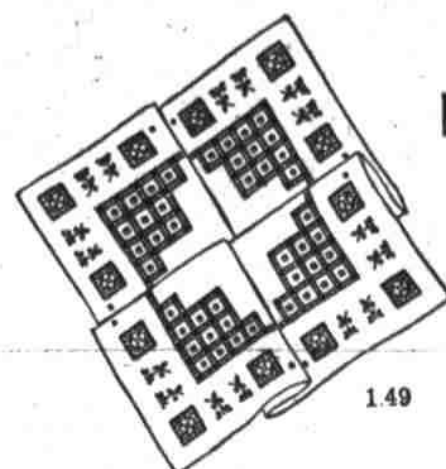

Grammer, 36-year-old New Yorker, is accused with the murder of his 33-year-old wife, Dorothy May Grammer. He has pleaded innocent.

Mrs. Grammer's body was found in her wrecked car last Aug. 20 after it plunged down a hilly street in North Baltimore. It appeared at first she had been killed in the crash, but medical experts determined she had been fatally injured before the car ran up an embankment and overturned.

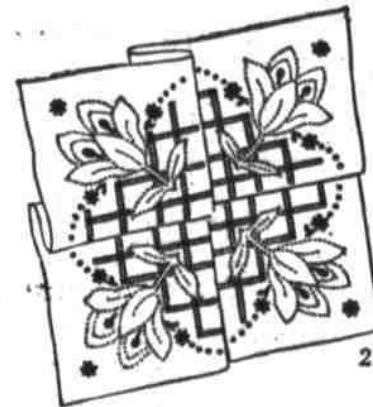

Grammer served in an intelligence unit in Europe during World War II. He reportedly received a recommendation for employment from Eisenhower.
