$130 Million Bid For Oil, Gas Leases

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—The government was assured of $130 million Thursday for the sale of oil and gas and sulphur leases in the outer continental shelf off Louisiana.

The Department of Interior Wednesday received bids for 27 tracts of submerged lands for oil and gas development. The high bids totaled $128,728,826. Five tracts of water-covered lands which are believed to contain sulphur brought high bids totalling $1,233,500.

As Interior official said all the high bids appeared to be in good order. He predicted the formal awards would be made by Nov. 1. In addition to checking the qualifications of the high bidders, the department also will have to return millions of dollars in checks to unsuccessful bidders. Each bidder accompanied his bid with a check for one-fifth of the total amount offered.

Lewis E. Hoffman, minerals officer of the Bureau of Land Management, said this is the biggest oil and gas sale he has seen in 41 years' service in government. Hoffman predicted the government will realize "at least three times this money in royalties."

When the submerged lands get into production the government will collect 1 1/2 per cent of the value of sulphur at the wellhead, and 16 2/3 per cent on oil and gas. Additionally, the government will get a small rental for the lands.

Cool Front Breaks Up Warm Spell

A fast-moving cold front, which rocketed into high gear unexpectedly, drove deep into the heart of Texas Thursday several hours ahead of schedule to break up an unseasonal record warm weather blanket.

The front, much deeper and steeper than forecasters had foreseen, isn't a "real cold snap," the weatherman said, but it will serve to bring temperatures back to normal.

By 8 a.m. it had covered the state above a line extending from northeast Texas south of Waco and on into the upper Pecos Valley region south of Midland. It was expected to cover the state by Friday morning.

Depth of the cold air mass indicated the pleasant, cool temperatures would hang around at least through Saturday for much of the state.

The mercury dropped to 43 degrees at Dalhart—not the lowest point of the season, however—and to 45 at Amarillo, 50 at Lubbock, 54 at Marfa, 57 at El Paso, 59 at Midland, 60 at Wichita Falls, 61 at Del Rio, 67 at Fort Worth, 68 at Abilene and Dallas, 72 at Waco, 73 at Tyler, 74 at Corpus Christi, San Antonio, Austin, Houston and Lufkin, 75 at Laredo, Brownsville and Beaumont and 80 at Galveston.

The front shattered the warm air mass which had sent temperatures to record seasonal highs of 100 Wednesday at Childress, 98 at Wichita Falls, Presidio and San Antonio, 95 at Mineral Wells and Wink, 95 at College Station, Laredo, Waco and Fort Worth.

Supreme Court Has Busy Day

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—The Supreme Court was expected to act on about 150 cases Thursday at its first business session of the fall term. A decision on a state's right to try Communists for sedition may be included.

The meeting was originally scheduled for Monday but Chief Justice Earl Warren postponed it until Thursday because of the death of Justice Robert H. Jackson.

About 400 cases were filed with the high tribunal during the summer. In about 150 of these, the justices were expected to issue brief orders either agreeing or refusing to review the matters raised. No opinions accompany the orders.

'Murder Victim' Is Accused Of Murder

FORT WORTH, Oct. 14—UP—David F. Hagler Jr., first believed a murder victim and now charged with murder himself, sought freedom Thursday on a writ of habeas corpus.

Hagler, 36, a Fort Worth asphalt company executive, first was thought to have been killed and his body burned in a car in Oklahoma last Sunday. But a check of dental records showed Hagler couldn't have been the man whose burned body was found, and Hagler himself turned up in Waco Wednesday.

Alaska Voters Go Demo

Landslide Win Seems Assured

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14—UP—Democratic hopes of capturing Congress in the Nov. 2 election surged higher Thursday as the rout of Republicans in the Alaska territorial contest took on landslide proportions.

Democrats said their party's sweep in Alaska Tuesday presaged a thumping Democratic victory in next month's congressional contest. But Republicans pooh-poohed the Democratic theme of "as goes Alaska, so goes the nation."

Rep. Michael J. Kirwin (Ohio), chairman of the Democratic congressional campaign committee, said the Alaska election points "to an overwhelming Democratic victory in November."

In the past, he said, the political fortunes of the Republican and Democratic parties in the United States have closely followed results of the Alaska House of Representatives contest. Late returns indicated Democrats had won 22 of the 24 House seats, reversing a similar GOP sweep of two years ago.

Republican National Chairman Leonard W. Hall insisted "no inference can be drawn" from the Alaska results, issues in the territory, he said, "had nothing to do with our congressional campaign."

Meanwhile, Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson sought to calm the storm kicked up by his off-hand "kennel dog-bird dog" remark on unemployment. He told a GOP rally in Chicago Wednesday night that his comment was "inept" and a "mistake."

Wilson said the remarks had been "distorted by our left-wing opponents" and accused Democrats of "hitting below the belt."

McCarthy Speaks
In Washington, Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) told reporters he would support "all Republican candidates" in the Nov. 2 election except former Rep. Clifford P. Case who is the GOP Senate candidate in New Jersey. President Eisenhower has endorsed Case.

Uranium Hunters Stampede Alaska

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 14—UP—Alaska's first big uranium rush was on Thursday with an airborne stampede of prospectors armed with geiger counters pouring into the Happy River area 110 miles northwest of here.

Bush pilots reported a bustling tent town was mushrooming in the area and has been named Uranium City by hopeful prospectors. One of the original discoverers of eight uranium claims in the area, George Kitchen, a bush pilot, said, more than 100 men have been flown into the area.

Kitchen said he expected Uranium City to become the nerve center of a gigantic new atomic age mining boom but warned prospectors this was not the time to rush into the area.

"I am doing everything I can to discourage people from going into the area," he said. "There is no shelter there and the winter freeze up is expected in a week or two. When that comes planes won't be able to land and those who are at Uranium City will be marooned."

Kitchen returned from his claim Wednesday with several specimens of ore which he held up to a geiger counter causing the device to click wildly.

"I'm convinced we have hit one of the richest strikes in the country," he said.

Ore from the claims has been tested by a local assay office and found very encouraging. A report from the Atomic Energy Commission on ore samples from the Uranium City site confirmed only that the ore had passed preliminary tests. The AEC said it was subjecting the ore samples to further study.

Bus Drivers Accept Pact
SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14—UP—AFL bus drivers reached agreement with Pacific Greyhound Lines early Thursday on a new contract that averted a strike of bus drivers and station employes in 10 western states.

A strike would have affected 3,000 employes of the Pacific Greyhound in California, Arizona, Utah, New Mexico, Nevada, Oregon and a part of Texas.

President Is 64 Today

DENVER, Oct. 14—UP—President Eisenhower, in glowing good health, celebrates his 64th birthday Thursday night at a small steak dinner with his family and close friends.

Mrs. Eisenhower told the chef at the Brown Palace hotel to bake a small cake, adorned with a single candle, for the presidential dinner party. Sixteen persons, including Mrs. Eisenhower and her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud, will toast the President while he savors a charcoal broiled steak.

A hotel spokesman said "nothing pretentious has been planned." But stacks of cakes, books and other birthday gifts for the President, designed by the Denver White House, the gifts of his friends and admirers across the nation.

Addresses Druggists Convention

HOUSTON, Oct. 14—UP—Vice President Richard Nixon predicted Thursday that the "dog" remarks of Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson will end up as a "plus" for the Republican party.

He came to Houston from Van Nuys, Calif., to address the National Association of Retail Druggists convention and was interviewed at the airport. A newsman asked him who said, "who the hell did that?" at the end of a television speech in Van Nuys Wednesday night.

"It wasn't I who swore," Nixon said. "It was a technician who knocked over a microphone."

A spokesman for television station KTTV, which telecast the speech, said there were so many telephone calls that two TV technicians had to be called off their jobs to answer them. Many callers thought it was Nixon who swore.

"Distorted Picture" "I don't believe there has ever been a more distorted picture of a man's remarks," Nixon said of the Wilson-swear. "I don't blame the working press."

"It is a diversionary tactic of the 'dumbocrats' to take the minds of the people of the record of this administration which is the best this country has known in the past 25 years."

Wilson had compared people and dogs at a press conference this week in Detroit. Nixon said that "in my opinion because of the way a certain left wing element of the Democratic party distorted the 'Wilson incident,' the whole thing will end up as a 'plus' for our side."

Nixon said there were only 3.5 million unemployed now whereas there were 10 million during the Roosevelt administration and 2.5 million during the Truman administration.

He said this administration is "doing its utmost to alleviate these conditions while building a solid prosperity."

Discussing the congressional campaign in which he is taking an active part to elect Republican nominees in various states, Nixon predicted the Republicans would hold the House and Senate. This was in variance with Democratic House leader Sam Rayburn who predicted the Democrats would win control of Congress.

"Afraid to Face Record" Nixon said the Democrats were "afraid to face the record."

"Never before in our history," Nixon said, "has there been a Democratic campaign more barren, more devoid and more bankrupt of constructive suggestions."

Wilson Rift With Stratton Patched Up

CHICAGO, Oct. 14—UP—A public rift between Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson and Illinois Gov. William Stratton appeared healed Thursday in the wake of Wilson's apology for "bringing up those bird dogs."

The Republican governor introduced Wilson at a 100-a-plate Republican rally Wednesday night, despite his earlier suggestion that Wilson cancel his speech.

Wilson told an audience of 1,500 "I am sorry I made inept remarks" while talking about unemployment.

"I admit that I made a mistake—an unfortunate mistake—bringing up those bird dogs at the same time I was talking about people," Wilson said.

"Hitting Below Belt" He then accused "our left wing opponents" of "hitting below the belt" by "deliberate misrepresentation" of his famed remark about bird dogs and kennel dogs at a news conference in Detroit, Mich., Monday.

Wilson told the news conference he had "a lot of sympathy" for unemployed workers, but still "liked bird dogs better than kennel dogs" because a bird dog "gets out and hunts for food rather than sit on his fanny and yell."

Stratton said after the speech (See WILSON, Page 3)

In Dog Trouble, Too Community Rises To Aid Of Boy

MONROE, La., Oct. 14—UP—Aroused neighbors and friends pledged an all-out fight Thursday to free a fatherless 10-year-old boy from a reformatory where he was sent for pointing a loaded shotgun at two school officials who, he said, "were going to kill my dog."

The Rev. W. T. Hemphill, pastor of the Apostolic Church here, said a large group had volunteered to appear in defense of Joe Cooper at a second hearing on the boy's case Friday.

"We have an attorney employed and with the Lord's standing behind us we're going to do our best to get the boy out," he said.

The boy was committed to the Louisiana Training Institute last Friday for attempting to save his dog, "Tippie," which followed him to school.

Soviet Candidates Have It Pretty Soft

BERLIN, Oct. 14—UP—If U. S. congressmen get tired of having to beat the bushes for votes every two years to stay in office, they might be interested in how it's done in Communist East Germany. Over there, the candidates have it pretty soft.

A hot campaign is on right now to elect 400 members to the "Peoples Chamber," the lower house of the East German parliament.

Members who are running for re-election have no worries, for instance, about what folks back home think of their voting record. The voting record is the same for every member: "Yes" on every question.

Since the East German government was set up by the Communists in 1949, a "no" vote has never been recorded in parliament. Every law has been passed unanimously.

A Happy Group

No member ever criticizes or attacks another. No officials of the government are ever questioned by members of the chamber. In fact there is nothing like a congressional investigation that might have to be explained back home. And what makes being a candidate under Communist rule even more delightful is that you are bound to win. There are no opposition candidates.

Despite all these advantages, serving in the Peoples Chamber of East Germany is a rather perilous job.

Of the 400 members elected four years ago, 50 never finished out their terms. Fourteen fled to the West seeking political asylum, six were arrested and 30 were forced to resign by Communist overlords.

And only 180 were picked by Communist party leaders to run for re-election. The others simply were dropped with no reason given.

The 400 candidates up for election next Sunday are not running against anyone. But they are running furiously just the same.

In an effort to make East Germans believe something really is at stake in the election, candidates are making numerous speeches in their districts and the whole Communist propaganda machine is working overtime to "get out the vote."

Actually, the propagandists say, it's the single slate of candidates that makes the election truly democratic.

Deputy Premier Walter Ulbricht, who is Communist party secretary, explained it this way: "In the German democratic republic there are no opponents to the will of the people. Here the workers and farmers rule. We are holding elections that are really democratic because the enemies of democracy have been rooted out. The junkers, Nazis and militarists, the monopoly capitalists, the spokesman of imperialism have no voice in our government.

"There can be no opposition to the candidates of the national front because all segments of our population are united in a common program behind the national front to work for peace and unity."

Of the 400 candidates, about 75 per cent are Communists. The rest are members of parties which are dominated by Communists and allowed to exist only for appearance's sake.

At the polls next Sunday East Germans will be allowed to vote "yes" or "no" beside the name of the candidate in each district. The Communists count the ballots.

In the last election the Communists announced there were 12,097,185 "yes" votes and 34,060 "no" votes. It would be safe to bet there's going to be another landslide for the Communists this year.

Police Fear Missing Man Has Been Slain

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 14—UP—Police feared Wednesday an ex-union official here, missing since Friday, may have met the same fate as a Las Vegas union business agent who was slain in a recent gang-type killing.

The missing man was identified as John E. Fuller, 39, welfare fund administrator for Local 108 of the AFL Metal Workers Union before he was expelled by the international last June on charges he "promoted union strife and mis-handled union affairs."

Fuller's wife, Mrs. Virginia Fuller, told officers her husband had been in constant fear of his life since the murder in Las Vegas last March of James Hartley, 33.

Hartley, business agent for southern Nevada for the Sheet Metal Workers, was shot through the head and his body dumped into a shallow grave five miles from the Las Vegas strip area.

Mrs. Fuller said her husband had received several notes threatening him with death. One said "the next one will be buried hands down."

Fuller disappeared from his home in nearby Lynwood, saying he was going to see some friends before attending a union meeting, his wife said.

Democratic Trend In Alaska Voting

ANCHORAGE, Alaska, Oct. 14.—UP—Early and unofficial returns in Alaska's general election Wednesday indicated a Democratic trend as votes began trickling in from the territory's four judicial divisions.

Latest returns showed incumbent congressional delegate E. L. Bartlett, a Democrat, leading his Republican opponent, Barbara Dimmock, by a margin of 2,721 to 1,087.

In the territory's third division, which includes Anchorage, the trend was strongly Democratic and even in the "bush areas" where Republicans had been expected to show strength to offset the heavy Democratic vote in the Anchorage area, early reports indicated the Democrats were out in front.

The election was being watched closely because the territory's legislature has shifted from Democratic to Republican in recent years and closely paralleled the trend in later elections in the states.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE Play Depends On Your Objective

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How do you play today's hand at a contract of four hearts? Before you can answer this question, you must first find out whether you are playing for total points or for match points.

The difference is all-important. In ordinary rubber bridge or in a team contest scored in total points, you must play to assure the contract. In a match point contest, however, you must play for maximum even if you must risk the contract for the sake of trying for an extra trick.

In a match point game, for example, you would put up the queen of spades at the first trick. When East covers with the king, you must win with the ace. You now cash the two top hearts and begin on the clubs, hoping that the player who has the last trump also has at least two clubs.

There is no danger if two rounds of clubs get by. On the third club you can discard a spade, and even if this is ruffed you still lose only one other spade trick and the ace of diamonds. If three rounds of clubs get by, you are sure to make 11 tricks by this line of play.

As the cards lie, of course, the second round of clubs gets ruffed, and the defenders can then take two spade tricks and the ace of diamonds to defeat the contract.

At rubber bridge, an expert would see that this line of play risks the contract. The best way to assure the game contract is either to duck the first trick, or to win the first trick with the ace of spades and immediately lead a low trump towards dummy's jack.

If you let the opponents take the first trick, you expect to win the second spade and ruff your third spade in dummy before drawing trumps.

If you win the first spade trick but give up the first trump trick, you expect to draw all of the trumps early before beginning on the clubs. Either way, the contract

Shivers Asks Plan Be Set Up For Expansion Of State Roads

AUSTIN, Oct. 14.—UP—Gov. Allan Shivers Wednesday urged immediate planning for expansion of Texas highway system and said he was not committed to any "set formula" for carrying it out.

Shivers, addressing more than 150 persons attending a statewide conference, said the state's highway needs today are "probably greater" than they would have been if the programs proposed four years ago and two years ago had been adopted.

Population and industrial growth, he said, has caused greater wear and tear on the highway system than "if an earlier start had been made" on its expansion.

State and local officials, as well as representatives of some 30 organizations, ranging from trucking, rail, farm and ranch to oil and gas industries were present at the opening of the conference, suggested by Shivers earlier this year.

"None of us," he said, "have any set formula to proceed upon." The governor said Texans can "take a lot of pride in the highway system."

However, he called upon road users and taxpayers to formulate a program for highway expansion and asked statewide conference to make recommendations for submission to the legislature.

"Additional provisions must be made," he said. Shivers said in recent years "the emphasis has been in the field of farm-to-market roads," therefore the primary system has been neglected to a certain extent.

Demand Rehearing In Phillips Case

EDNA, Tex., Oct. 14.—UP—Attorney General John Ben Shepperd said Wednesday if the U.S. Supreme Court refuses to rehear the Phillips gas case, Texans should carry the fight to Congress.

In a speech prepared for delivery at dedication of the new Jackson county courthouse, Shepperd denounced the high court ruling as an invasion of the conservation powers of Texas.

"Unless the Supreme Court reverses the Phillips case and reverses the decision, the only solution lies in legislation by the federal congress that will clarify and re-assert its intention that the tens of thousands of independent producers and gatherers of natural gas shall be exempt from federal control. That's what it took to keep the tidelands, and it is that which it takes to keep the natural resources of Texas in the hands of the people who own them, then we must be prepared to get it," he said.

In the Phillips case, the Supreme Court gave the Federal Power Commission authority to regulate and fix prices on natural gas sold by independent producers for transport in interstate commerce for resale.

"The decision in the Phillips case is a giant stride toward the complete control of all the natural resources of Texas and the other states—your minerals, your timber, your water and your very soil," Shepperd said.

"Many people," Shepperd added, "have said, 'well, it's only gas. But it is not.'"

Actions of the Federal Power Commission "threaten to control oil as well. One third of the gas produced in Texas is casinghead gas—it comes out of the ground with the oil. You cannot control the flow of one without controlling both," he said.

Timbale Salads Are Quick, Low In Cost

Each colorful Timbale Salad is topped with a "cap" of mayonnaise and therefore the name "Snow-on-the-Mountain."

This green pea, rice and cheese salad is quick to fix and exceptionally low in cost — and is full of good tasting, as well as "good for you" food. You may wish to serve this salad as a main dish or as a salad with the meal — but any time it appears it will be a happy eating experience — perhaps due to the exceptionally delightful flavor contributed by the sweet pickles.

INGREDIENTS:
 2 1/2 cup uncooked white rice
 2 teaspoons salt
 1 1/2 cups water
 1/4 cup French dressing
 1/2 cup sweet pickles, diced
 1/4 teaspoon pepper
 1 cup American cheese, cut into 1/2" cubes
 1 cup cooked and seasoned green peas
 10 tomato slices or wedges

Mayonnaise:
 Lettuce cups or salad greens

METHOD: Put the rice, salt and water in a 2-quart saucepan. Bring to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and cook over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but

Treat For Halloween Callers Recommended

NEW YORK — UP — When pint-sized witches and spooks ring the doorbell on Halloween, better have something for their "trick or treat" collection.

Here is one novel candy favor — Jack O' Lanterns — Made of puffed rice coated with peanut butter and marshmallow sauce for delicious nibbling. You will need:

8 cups puffed rice; 1-3 cup butter or margarine; 1/4 cup peanut butter; 1/2 pound marshmallows; red gumdrops and red cinnamon candies.

Heat the puffed rice in a shallow pan in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 10 minutes. Pour into a large greased bowl. Melt butter, peanut butter and marshmallows in the top of a double boiler over hot water; stir until smooth. Pour the marshmallow mixture over puffed rice, stirring until the kernels are evenly coated. Leave the lid on for 15 minutes. Add the French dressing, sweet pickles and pepper. Mix well. Stir in the cheese and green peas. Press into custard cups. Unmold by shaking out of the custard cups onto a plate or to a vigorous boil over a high heat. Turn the heat as low as possible. Cover and cook over this low heat for 14 minutes. Remove the saucepan from the heat but

Peach Recipes, Old-Fashioned And Modern, Rated High For Popularity

Here are some recipes for peaches ranging from Grandma's kitchen to your own modern, streamlined one. Whether you're old-fashioned or modern in your tastes, these should appeal:

PEACH COBBLER
 1 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon cornstarch
 1 cup boiling water
 3 cups sliced peaches
 1/2 tablespoon butter

Mix sugar and cornstarch in saucepan. Stir in gradually 1 cup boiling water. Bring to boil, boil 1 minute, stirring gradually, then add sliced peaches, and pour into a deep dish. Dot with butter.

COBBLER DOUGH
 1 cup flour
 1 tablespoon sugar
 1 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 3 tablespoons shortening
 1/2 cup milk

Sift together the flour, sugar, baking powder, and salt. Cut shortening in fine with pastry blender or knife. Stir in milk to make a soft dough. Drop by spoonfuls onto fruit. Bake at 400 F. 30 minutes. Serves six.

Cobbler is better served with cream and white wine.

PEACH PRESERVES
 1 lb. peaches
 1/2 lb. Sugar
 None or 1/2 cup water

Wash and pare peaches. Cut into uniform pieces — halves, quarters, or eighths. Combine sugar and fruit in alternate layers and allow to stand 8 or 10 hours to extract juice or add the sugar and water and cook at once. Stir while heating slowly to boiling and then boil rapidly. Cook until syrup is rather thick. Pour into hot jars and seal. Process in a waterbath canner for 10 minutes to prevent mold.

PEACH CHEFON PIE
 1 1/2 cups sliced fresh peaches or 1/2 cup sugar
 1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin
 1/4 cup cold water
 2 egg whites
 1/2 cup boiling water
 1 tablespoon lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 1/2 cup whipping cream

Sprinkle peaches with sugar and allow to stand for 30 minutes. Soften gelatin in cold water. Dissolve in boiling water and stir in lemon juice and salt. Combine with peaches. Chill until mixture begins to set. Whip cream until stiff. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Fold whipped cream and beaten egg whites into gelatin mixture. Spread in chilled crumb crust. Let stand until firm. Garnish with additional sliced peaches if desired.

FROZEN PEACHES
 Sort, pit, skin peaches (skins may be loosened by scalding whole peaches 15 to 20 minutes in boiling water). Cut into sections, keep from darkening. Dip sections into a solution of 1/2 teaspoon citric acid dissolved in one quart of water for 1 to 2 minutes. Pack in one part by weight of sugar to 3 or 4 parts by weight of the fruit (1/2 cup sugar to 4 1/2 cups fruit) or in syrup to cover (3 cups sugar to 4 cups water).

This Is My Dish

Mrs. Hooper Makes Unique Pecan Drops

By JANE KADINGO
 Pampa News Women's Editor

Cookies made with cake flour are a favorite of Mrs. Louie Hooper, west of town. They are especially good for parties as they go well with punch, she advised.

Mrs. Hooper has been cooking for about 7 years, ever since she was married, although she states she did do a little at home before that time.

"I really enjoy cooking," she pointed out. "And I just love to try new recipes. Louie doesn't especially appreciate that, though. He'll come in and say, 'What's this you've made now?'"

Mrs. Hooper cooks for her husband, who is a salesman at Reeves Oldsmobile, and her 14-month-old son, Billy Wade. Mrs. Hooper has lived in Pampa for about 25 years and her husband, a native of Hastings, Okla., has lived here about 14 years. Mrs. Hooper is the daughter of Wade Thomason.

Although she says cooking, keeping house and taking care of Billy is a full-time job, Mrs. Hooper does belong to Epsilon Sigma Alpha Sorority.

The recipe mentioned earlier is for pecan drops. The ingredients are:

1 cup confectioners sugar
 2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
 2 tsp. vanilla extract

Start your oven at 325 degrees or "slow" and chop pecans rather coarsely. Work or cream butter and shortening together until smooth. Then add confectioners sugar gradually. Stir in flour thoroughly and add vanilla extract and pecans. (Makes "real thick" batter.) Mix well and drop by teaspoonfuls onto an ungreased baking sheet. Bake 15 to 20 minutes, or until a delicate brown. Makes 4 dozen.

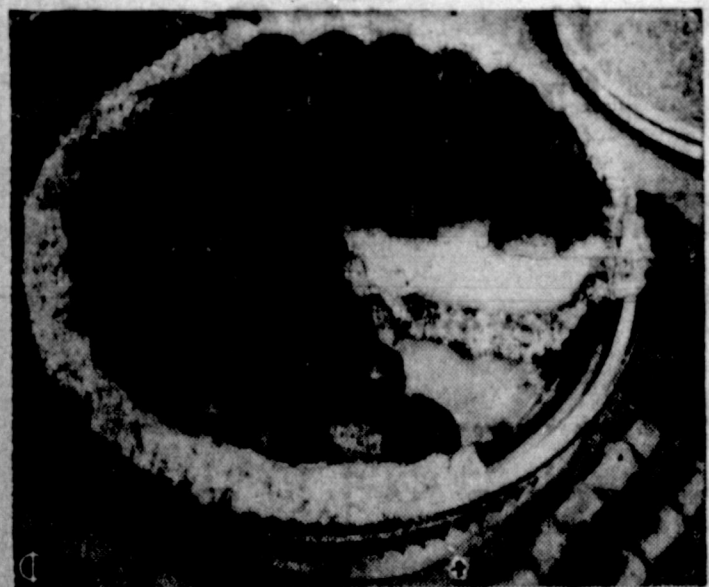

Although the recipe calls for cake flour, Mrs. Hooper says she sometimes uses the regular flour if she doesn't have any cake flour.

Snaps sew on correctly by this method: Sew all the halves on one side first, then rub chalk on them and press against the side of the material where the other halves go. The chalks marks the position exactly.

Splinters left from a broken glass or other pieces of glassware can be picked up easily by wiping the area where the glass has been broken with absorbent cotton or moist paper.

New Cereal Magic

There's a lot of magic to be found in the packages of pre-sweetened ready-to-serve cereals—whether eaten out of bowl for breakfast, out of hand for munching, or used in the making of a glamorous dessert such as this Strawberry Cream Pie.

The magic touch at breakfast is the variety of grains, flavors, textures, shapes of these sugar or honey-coated cereals. There are pre-sweetened corn flakes, puffed corn, rice cereal, puffed wheat, wheat and oat cereal.

Served with milk alone—they require no sugar—these pre-sweetened cereals provide quickly-available food energy as well as contributing their fair share of essential nutrients—protein, minerals, vitamins. These new cereals, by the way, are put up in special new light packages to protect their flavor and high quality.

And it's near-magic the way you can whip up cookies, confections, and quick desserts with so little effort. This luscious pie is an example.

Strawberry Cream Pie

Cereal Crumb Crust:
 1 1/2 cups finely crushed pre-sweetened corn flakes or pre-sweetened rice cereal (about 4 cups cereal before crushing)
 1/4 cup butter or margarine, melted or softened

To crush cereal: place a long length of waxed paper on pastry board or counter top. Four half the cereal down the center of the paper. Make double fold lengthwise in the paper; tuck ends under. Gently roll with a rolling pin to desired fineness. Repeat to get 1 1/2 cups fine cereal crumbs.

To make filling: prepare vanilla-flavor instant pudding according to directions on package. Pour into well-chilled crust. Cover with fresh strawberry halves. Melt 1 cup currant jelly over low heat, beating until smooth. When cool but still syrupy, pour over strawberry topping. Chill again before serving.

JOHNSON
By EROLINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Hollywood on TV: "I think television is not even nearly ready for color."
That's what ace TV writer-producer Goodson Ace believes. Fresh ideas and well-written scripts is what TV needs most of all, argues Ace, and I'll second the motion based on Hollywood's experiences with color.

If a black-and-white movie is good, like "From Here to Eternity," people will flock to see it. If black-and-white TV programs are good, people will tune them in.

A multicolored, unopened Christmas package can be a delight to the eyes, but the contents are what we remember. A pretty package can't help an old hat. TV should concentrate on the contents, not on the fancy wrappers.

Newest bait being offered to some Hollywood names by New York TV producers is a contract clause stipulating that the play can't be sold to Movietown unless the star repeats his video role. Jeff Morrow, who just arrived from his costarring stint in Dublin in "Captain Lightfoot," has already had two such TV propositions put to him.

How are you fixed for money? Glettle's okeh. Their World Series TV coverage is costing the company $2,000,000. . . . Tyrone Power and the Mrs. — Linda Christian—would like a TV series if the idea is right. . . . Cameras roll out Oct. 11 on Ann Sheridan's series. She plays a Las Vegas press agent.

HOLLYWOOD VS. New York casting: Kevin McCarthy was classed as the "unromantic" type in all his movies. On TV in New York, he always wins the girl.

Promised and hoped for: Donald O'Connor and Mitzi Gaynor in a dance routine you'll be talking about. They team up on his first show Oct. 9.

Eddie Meyhoff's explanation for the "he looks so familiar" reaction when he's emoting in "That's My Boy":
"I look like everybody."

THE ADVENTURES of Ozzie and Harriet may be emulating "Dragnet," "Make Room for Daddy" and other hit TV shows as a big screen movie.

The idea is buzzin' in the heads of Ozzie Nelson and Harriet Hilliard, they told me, and it may be a musical version because of their one-time band leader-vocalist partnership.

They were teamed by one Hollywood studio in a before-TV film but the result wasn't happy.

Says Ozzie: "We wanted to make it good, but the studio wanted to make it cheap. The studio won the argument."

One of the first to put a TV show on film, Ozzie's beaming over video's progress in projection of celluloid and he argues:
"The only way you can tell live TV from film now is that once in a while you know it's live because of the panic on an actor's face when he forgets a line or a cue."

David Nelson, 18, is a USC freshman this year and 14-year-old Ricky—Harriet laughed the news about him:
"We're putting bricks on Ricky's head to keep him from growing. He's wrecking the show."

CHARLIE CANTOR—remembered as Finnegan in the early radio version of "Duffy's Tavern"—is back in harness as a regular on the new Ray Bolger show. A year ago, when the TV version of Duffy's started shooting, he was too ill to resume his old role.

Gene Nelson's estranged wife, Miriam, is Nat Perrin's assistant for CBS's big TV entertainment blast, "Shower of Stars," with Betty Grable, Mario Lanza and Harry James. . . . Tempus in a teapot dept.: Tim Young, 17-year-old son of Lois (Waterfront) Moran is about to enter Stanford U.

Frank (Fireside Theater) Wisely will film a whodunit series for the picture-tube circuit, titled "Mystery Writers of America Present." It's a big money-tieup with scenes in the corpse field. . . . John Hodiak will do his first Studio One show Nov. 29, costarring in a comedy with Art Carney and Sam Levine.

It's bargain day at the Chicago, Ill., brick yard. The municipal government put two million granite blocks and bricks up for sale at two cents apiece. Once used for paving, they are no longer needed, as the city now paves with asphalt and concrete. Hundreds of Chicagoans reportedly besieged the yard to make purchases.

Wheeler 4-H Judgers Win 15th In U.S.

WHEELER — (Special) — The Wheeler County 4-H Dairy Judging team placed 15th in the national dairy judging contest that was held during the National Dairy Congress at Waterloo, Iowa on Oct. 4, 1954. The Wheeler County team placed 9th in judging Jerseys; 13th in Ayrshires; 15th in Holsteins; 20th in Brown Swisses; and 22nd in the judging of Guernseys.

Junior Haddox was high individual on the Wheeler County team and was tied for 37th high individual in the entire contest, with a score of 594 out of a possible 750 points. W. L. Williams had a score of 589, Gene Haddox had a score of 573, and Jerry Hays had a score of 549. W. L. Williams was tied for 10th high individual in the judging of Ayrshires; Gene Haddox was tied for 13th high individual in the judging of Jerseys and 42nd in the judging of Brown Swisses; Junior Haddox was 20th high individual in judging Holsteins, and Jerry Hays was tied for 30th high individual in the judging of Guernseys. Each member of the team received a medal in honor of the having judged in the national dairy judging contests.

Cleanup Of Chicago May Take Months

CHICAGO, Oct. 14 — UP — Chicago dried out from soaking rains and a $10 million flood Wednesday, but industries were still crippled and it may take months to finish the job of cleaning up.

On the city's outskirts volunteers and more than 700 National Guardsmen fought flood waters that threatened the rich Hammond-Gary area. But there, too, the waters were falling back.

In the nation's soaking second city an electrical shortage had forced the layoff of about 130,000 industrial employees.

One of the city's major newspapers, the Chicago Daily News, published on its own presses for the first time since flood waters from the swollen Chicago River poured into its sub-basements, ruining $30,000 worth of newsprint; the huge Union Station, was still partially crippled. One railroad, the Milwaukee Road, continued to use outlying stations.

'Fanatics' Are Guilty

NEW YORK, Oct. 14 — UP — Thirteen members of the fanatical Puerto Rican Nationalist party were found guilty Tuesday night of conspiracy to overthrow the U.S. government by violence.

Four of the defendants, three men and one woman, already had been convicted and sentenced to long prison terms for the March 1 shooting of five Congressmen in the House of Representatives.

Federal Judge Lawrence G. Walsh set Oct. 26 for passing sentence. All thirteen, plus four others who pleaded guilty to the charges of seditious conspiracy, face a maximum sentence of six years in prison plus fines of $5,000 each.

Cotton Crop Allotments At Minimum

WASHINGTON, Oct. 14 — UP — Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson Wednesday was reported to "have no choice" but to set 1955 cotton acreage allotments at the minimum allowed by farm law.

An informed source said Benson—who by law must proclaim a marketing quota program, if needed, by Friday—will be forced by the continued cotton surplus to set a national acreage allotment of about 18 million acres.

Benson set the 1954 national acreage allotment at 17.9 million acres under a strict interpretation of farm law. But he urged Congress to increase the allotment to avoid such a sharp cutback in a single year.

Plant 21.5 Million Acres
This year, the first since 1950 that cotton marketing quotas have been in effect, farmers were finally allowed to plant 21.5 million acres of cotton, compared with about 24 million in 1953.

This is the supply situation that reportedly will force Benson's hand on the minimum allotment.

The law provides that whenever supplies exceed so-called normal—which is estimated needs plus a 30 per cent reserve—a marketing quota program shall be proclaimed and submitted to growers for approval or disapproval. The law says the minimum proclamation can set allotments to provide for the production of not less than 10 million bales of cotton.

Produce 10 Million Bales
With average yields, the 18 million acres would produce 10 million bales.

Current domestic and export needs for cotton are about 13.7 million bales. A 30 per cent reserve allowance would bring the estimated "normal" needs to about 17.8 million bales.

Prospective supplies, on the other hand, boosted by last week's improvement in 1954 cotton crop prospects, are expected to be about 22 million bales. The supply figure is made up of an estimated output this year of 12,511,000 bales plus a piled up surplus from prior years of about 9,700,000 bales.

GLANCING BACKWARD

(From the Files of the Pampa Daily News)

ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
Norman Rockwell, famed for his Saturday Evening Post cover illustrations, was in Pampa on his way to Denver, Colo., to establish a "famous artists' school."

Glenn Tarpley, Pampa, was appointed ROTC staff sergeant for the 1953-54 school year at the University of Oklahoma. Norman, according to an announcement by Col. Morgan Goodhart, commanding officer. Tarpley was given the promotion on "demonstrated leadership," Goodhart said.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
A contribution of $50 was made by F. M. Culbertson of Culbertson Chevrolet to the Fred Haiduk family who suffered a $9,000 loss following a severe storm in the Gray County area.

The Harvest Band and Cheerleaders were in Lubbock to attend the Pampa-Lubbock football game. Accompanying the students were Frank Wilson, principal; Orland Butler, band director; Wayne Cox, Clifton McNeely, Miss Oletha Branon, Mrs. Peggy McNeely, Miss Mary Winston, and Mrs. Mable Torvie, teachers.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Judge B. H. Powell, Texas chairman of the National War Fund, Inc., in a letter to J. W. Garman, chairman of the executive committee of the Gray County War Chest Fund, refused Gray County's petition to lower its war chest quota.

Horace Mann Parent-Teachers Association met for its regular meeting in the school auditorium with Mrs. R. E. Thompson, program chairman in charge.

No Mascot

LEXINGTON, KY. — UP — The University of Kentucky football team is playing this year without a mascot for the first time since 1947. In that year an alumnus presented the school with a live wildcat named Colonel. But the animal died early this year, and so far nobody has shown much interest in going out to catch a replacement.

In Clover

CHAMBERLAIN, S.D. — UP — If four-leaf clovers are lucky, Mrs. E. Alcy Gerard of Chamberlain would be the luckiest woman in the world. She has collected more than 26,000 of them during the last four years. She has found as many as 100 in five days. Her favorite hunting ground is the Chamberlain power plant.
