WASHINGTON, June 10 - UP - Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy Thursday swore he personally heard Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens and Army counselor John G. Adams attempt to divert his Communist hunting into the Navy and the Air Force.

Guild Denies Charges Made By McCarthy

NEW YORK, June 9 - UP - The National Lawyers Guild said Wednesday night the charge made by Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy against the organization was "irresponsible."

McCarthy said at the Army-McCarthy hearings Wednesday that one of Army counsel Joseph N. Welch's partners had been a member of an organization cited by Attorney General Herbert Brownell as "the legal bulwark" of the Communist party.

McCarthy said Stevens and Adams felt this would be a good idea, since he had refused to call off the investigation of the Army.

Rio Grande Canal Termed 'Feasible'

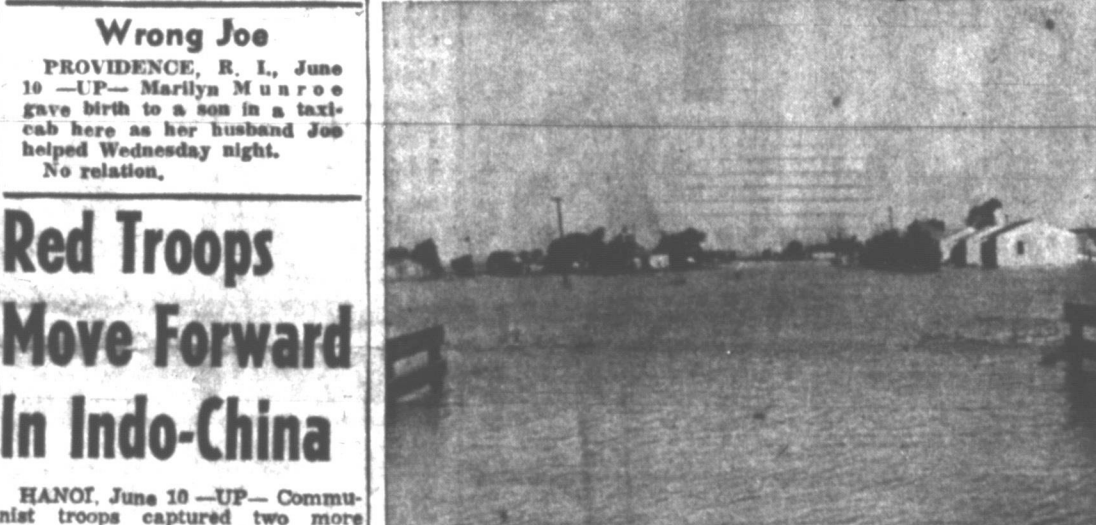

AUSTIN, June 10 - UP - An official of the U. S. Bureau of Reclamation thinks a proposed canal system in the Lower Rio Grande Valley is feasible, but believes it would take 25 years to put it in effect.

Harry Burleigh of the reclamation bureau's Austin office testified Wednesday before the Texas Water Resources committee about the diversion of irrigation water from the Rio Grande.

Burleigh said it might take a quarter of a century to adjudicate water rights in the Lower Rio Grande Valley. He said his agency has prepared four plans for irrigation canals, ranging in cost from $33 million to twice that, depending on the location of canals and their length.

ACRES OF WATER - A seven-inch rain overflowed the Groom city lake Wednesday night, flooding nearby homes and other buildings. Scenes, such as the one pictured above, were common sights in the southern Gray county town this morning. Residents in houses on the left were forced to evacuate them when several inches of water seeped in. However, the central part of the city was not flooded.

LAKE OVERFLOWS - Residents of Groom were surveying damage caused by Wednesday night's torrential rainfall that overflowed the city's lake and caused at least five families to evacuate their homes. In the above picture a portion of the overflowed area is shown. The handrail of a bridge over a creek are visible in the foreground. This area may be under water for several days, city officials said.

Shivers Accused Of Misstatement

AUSTIN, June 10 - UP - Ralph W. Hammonds Thursday accused Gov. Allan Shivers of making "an obvious misstatement" as the burly ex-wrestler appeared in court to fight state efforts to put his insurance company, Lloyd's of North America, out of business.

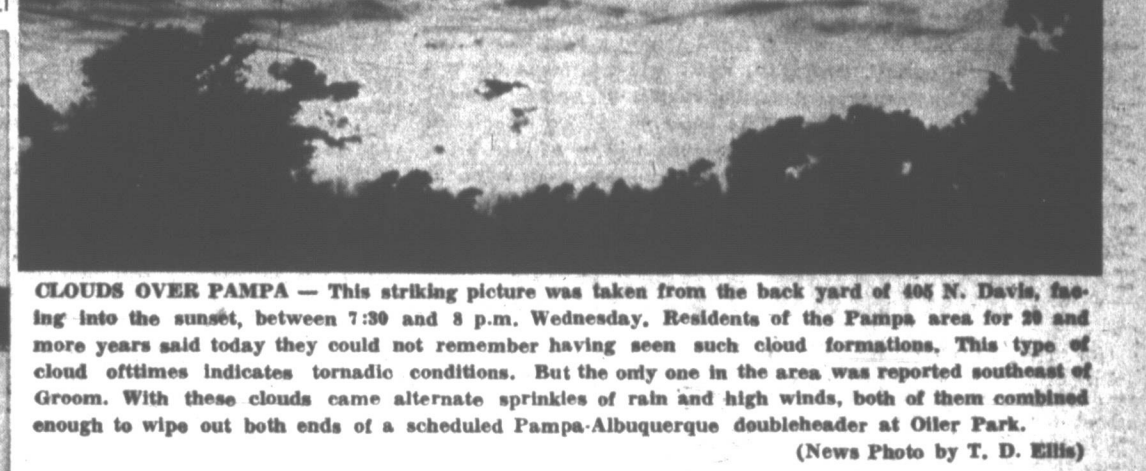

Hammonds, who had played hide and seek with the prosecution, arrived at court in answer to a summons from the presiding judge. The defense had announced earlier its intention to keep Hammonds under wraps until the state finished its case.

Marine Killed

KINGSVILLE, Tex., June 10 - UP - Marine Corps Capt. L. A. Krohne, 28, Corpus Christi, Tex., was killed Wednesday when his F4U Corsair fighter crashed as he tried to land at Kingville Naval Air Station.

Naval officials said Krohne's wife, Margie, lived at Corpus Christi, while his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Krohne, lived at 579 Bayard St., Blind, Miss.

Shivers met an unidentified representative of Red China in the second attempt to gain freedom for the Americans through direct negotiations. Diplomatic Point Made Clear. The Chinese informed Johnson that mail addressed to imprisoned civilians in care of the Red Cross Society of China, Peking (Peiping), China, would be delivered to them and that the prisoners would be permitted to send letters home through the same channel.

CLOUDS OVER PAMPA - This striking picture was taken from the back yard of 406 N. Davis, looking into the sunset, between 7:30 and 8 p.m. Wednesday. Residents of the Pampa area for 26 and more years said today they could not remember having seen such cloud formations. This type of cloud oftentimes indicates tornado conditions. But the only one in the area was reported southeast of Groom. With these clouds came alternate sprinkles of rain and high winds, both of them combined enough to wipe out both ends of a scheduled Pampa-Albuquerque doubleheader at Oiler Park.

Four-Hour, Seven-Inch Rain Inundates Groom

GROOM - (Special) - A four-hour downpour that overflowed both roads and bridges, beat down ripening wheat and deluged at least seven buildings in town. Area residents late this morning were "afraid to say" what the total damages would run. But the consensus was it would be thousands of dollars.

Wind-lashed rains began slapping the soil and highways at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday and did not stop till they had pushed water over the top of the rain gauges which have a mark one inch above the six-inch mark.

The highway patrol this morning reported motorists were turned back at Groom last night for two hours on U. S. Hwy. 66 that water was running over the McClellan Creek bridge and that the bridge over the Salt Fork of the Red River - between U.S. 66 and Clarendon - was out. The last was still reported out late this morning, as a center span was gone.

Flooded this morning were the Groom Community Club House, the Boy Scout building and at least five residences in the north part of town near the lake. The water was lapping at still others - and it was still rising.

Hail, rain and wind combined caused crop damage. A passing motorist reported hail ruined several hundred acres of wheat between Groom and Goodnight. "It laid it flat," he said. In Groom proper, the hail damage was not extensive but the banks of the community lake overflowed, making "acres and acres of water."

A tornado was added to the storm, too, it was reported. It hit on the C. F. Hermesmyer farm, seven miles southeast of here, and tore down the barn and hen house. It damaged the farmer's combine. Glen Hall, a Groom resident, was in Pampa Wednesday night. When he heard word of the flood in Groom at 11 p.m., he took off and arrived here at 11:30 p.m.

"I almost had to swim into the house to get in," he said. The water was up to the doorstep. Possibility of damage to the Groom sewer system was the concern late this morning. It was feared that the entire system may have been lost. There was a possibility that lake overflow might contaminate the town water supply.

A 4,400-gallon gas storage tank was literally pulled out of the ground and washed out by the storm, it was reported. It was at the B. H. Robinson service station, east of Groom on U.S. 66.

Ray Knorrp, who lives seven miles east of Groom, told Thomas he got about three inches of rain, which had damaged his wheat which had damaged his wheat (See RAIN, Page 2).

Gore stuck by his guns after District Attorney Harlan Kelley issued a subpoena for the recall petition of the editor's ill-fated "Joe Must Go" movement Wednesday. Hundreds of the petition signers were promised their names would not be revealed and I have no choice," Gore said.

"If I am ordered to jail I will go. But I will never give up those petitions." Gore spirited about 300,000 petitions out of Wisconsin after his anti-McCarthy drive failed Saturday. He had been trying to gather more than 400,000 signatures to make McCarthy run again for his Senate seat.

The insurance company head said his firm had been investigated by state authorities three times in one year. "It appeared to me it was persecution. I told him (Shivers) I thought I had nothing to do but get somebody on the opposite side of the fence," Hammonds related.

Hammonds said that "three or four days later" he called Ralph Yarborough, an Austin attorney and Shivers' major opponent in the Democratic primary race for governor.

Capital Is In Harmony

WASHINGTON, June 10 — UP— Washington is playing host to some 4,000 delegates of the SPEBSQSA. Those initials stand for the Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barber Shop Quartet Singing in America. The society is holding its annual convention and contests.

This event has been going on for 25 years and with increasing popularity. Society membership has jumped from an original 25 to 25,000. Constitution Hall, where the 1954 contests are being held, has been sold out since last January.

And certain critics who used to say that a bunch of barbershop quartets couldn't fill a phone booth with customers, are now eating their typewriters.

The society was born in 1928—the brainchild of a tax attorney in Tulsa, Owen C. Cash. Cash was fed up with all the problems of modern life and he wrote a letter to a number of friends, the gist of which was that the only privilege not in some way supervised or controlled by the government was barbershop singing.

Recipients of the letter were invited to a songfest April 21, 1928. Twenty-six showed up. About 70 attended a second meeting and on the third occasion more than 150 appeared. This resulted in a traffic jam outside the meeting place and a reporter arrived to ask where the wreck was.

"It's no wreck," said a harassed cop. "It's just some darn fools up there singing."

The darn fools wound up organizing the SPEBSQSA. They now have some 2,000 quartets, 400 choruses and an international headquarters in Detroit.

Search Widens For Lost PBV

IWAKUNI, Japan, June 10 — UP—Planes and ships ranged over the East China Sea Thursday in a vast hunt for a U.S. Navy patrol-bomber missing since Wednesday with 11 men aboard.

The search was spurred by the admittedly slim hope that the twin-engine amphibious patrol bomber could still be afloat if it landed undamaged in the sea south of Japan.

The plane "dropped out of sight" Wednesday while on a routine flight to Hong Kong from the Iwakuni air base.

Aboard were seven naval officers, two Marine officers and eight Navy enlisted men. Two of the enlisted men are brothers, Donald and James Landon, of Pittsburgh.

Navy headquarters in Washington said those aboard the PBV included: Ensign George Yeramian, husband of Mrs. Charlotte A. Yeramian, (746 Chas Dr.) Corpus Christi, Tex.

Mexican Miners Seek Tax Cut MEXICO CITY, June 10 — UP—The Mexican Federation of Mining Associations asked the government Wednesday to cut export and production taxes on six metals to help the mining industry.

Federation President Manuel Casas Alariste urged the Treasury Ministry to cut the combined production and export taxes of 23.8 per cent. on gold, silver, lead, copper and zinc to 10 per cent, and the 25 per cent export tax on tungsten to 7.5 per cent.

Casas Alariste said the high taxes "render investments practically impossible," and a reduction would "allow producers to undertake an intensive development program for the benefit of the national economy."

Dents Denser In Dent; Fender Loses Dent Derby

DENT, Minn.—Dents are denser in Dent than in America as a whole.

This town of 200 people has nearly four times as many dented fenders per car than the average in the country. "Get the Dents Out of Your Fenders Month" committee found in a survey of the cars parked on the main street. The "Dents Out of Fenders" committee counts such things as part of its job of inspiring car owners to take better care of their car's appearance in order to extend the car's life.

The "DOOF" committee found 33 cars with an average of 2.5 dents each in Dent, far ahead of the national average of two dents for every three cars, according to "DOOF" national committee chairman Clare W. Goodsell.

One of the towns Dent beat in the dent derby is Fender, Ga., which had a total of 37 dents in the fenders of 13 cars or an average of 2.85 dents per car at the time of the "DOOF" survey.

Proper attention to the appearance of your car will extend its life by a year, according to the "DOOF" committee, which is composed of representatives of the automotive industry.

June is "Dents Out of Fenders Month" and the "DOOF" committee has some tips on what to do about it.

1. Get the dents out of your fenders. In the committee's first point of advice: Other than summer heat, humidity and weathering of all kinds will increase damage to the extent that you may have to get a new fender because it will be too late for a minor repair.
2. Have every spot of rust on your car taken care of, no matter how small. Check the right rear fender particularly carefully, because small stones and abrasive material thrown up by the wheel wear away the finish and expose the metal to water and road chemicals that wash toward the curb and are splashed up on the fender.
3. Wash your car frequently, particularly if you live in an area where it is exposed to sea salts or where calcium chloride is used on roads or streets to melt ice or lay dust. Always use a hose for washing and an open meshed cloth for drying and polishing since tightly woven cloth is likely to catch abrasive particles that will scratch the finish of the car.
4. Have your car waxed as frequently as its appearance shows it needs it, which will depend on your weather conditions. The finish will last longer and look better if you do.
5. Have the underpart of your car coated with a rubber-base material. This part of your car will rust rapidly once rust begins, particularly if the car is more than two years old.
6. Be extremely careful of your chrome. Anything harmful to the finish of your car is even more harmful to the chromium parts. You can avoid much of the damage from road conditions by having the chrome coated with a protective covering. And have clips put on loose chrome strips immediately before the entire strip is lost.
7. For summer driving use a bug deflector and keep a can of bug remover on hand because the acids in the decomposing bodies of bugs eat into your car's finish.
8. To lessen the chance of having your car struck from behind at night, put a strip of red reflective tape to the rear bumper. This means added safety for the car when it is parked, and added safety for you when driving, because the tape can be seen farther than your car's tail lights.

NBC Hires New Sound In Bands

HOLLYWOOD, June 10 —UP—One of the new summer television stars is a jazz band that includes a high-brow harp, bells and two leaders, one of whom beats on his chest.

NBC put in a bid for hep-cat music when the network signed the unit Sauter, Finegan band, praised by music critics as the hottest new in popular music since Stan Kenton.

Eddie Sauter and Bill Finegan admit their provocative music causes either enthusiasm, confusion or hostility among listeners. But they aren't worried whether TV audiences will accept their unusual, exciting sounds.

"We've found we inspire a definite reaction among listeners, they hate us or love us," grinned Sauter. "But we think TV will be good for us."

The band is the only one in history with two regular conductors. Sauter was an arranger for Benny Goodman and Finegan arranged for Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey. The two arrangers, neighbors in Nyack, N.J., decided one day two years ago "the worm should turn."

"We weren't having very much fun," said Sauter. "We wanted to write music the way we wanted without a handless director."

The boys organized their own group that was a revolution to the conventional pattern. Unlike usual dance bands, it has such unexpected touches as a harp, oboe, flute, tuba, huge cymbals, triangles, drums, bells and a glockenspiel.

The players are not only jazz, but symphonic artists. The harp player is from the Detroit symphony orchestra, the oboe man from the Rochester symphony. The first trumpet player worked with Toscanini and didn't know jazz until he began with Sauter-Finegan. Many other members of the fresh, imaginative band are classical music students from Juilliard and other top schools.

Sauter and Finegan are a surprise as bandleaders, too. They are soft-spoken and serious, look like professors and announce the band numbers in an almost timid, Mr. Peppercorn style.

During one number about a sleigh ride, Sauter shakes sleigh bells and Finegan beats on his chest to imitate the sound of horse's hooves.

This number prompted a rival bandleader to dub them "comedians."

But Sauter insists "we don't set out for novel effects. We just want to sit in when we were recording the number," he said. "I don't think we are prostituting our music. We will do anything to keep the band going. We can do things that are intellectually deeper. But we must be accepted first. We hope criticism will do that for us."

Martial Law Imposed In Sonora

CANANEA, Sonora, Mex., June 10 —UP—Martial law prevailed in his mining city of 22,000 persons Thursday after more than 2,000 Communist-led men, women and teen-age youths staged a riot to free eight jail prisoners.

The state of Sonora declared martial law Wednesday and reportedly began prosecution of five men, described as leaders of the mob and known Mexican Communists belonging to the Popular party. They were being charged with making attacks on the state of Sonora and the Mexican federal government.

No one was injured in the riot, but witnesses said some windows were broken and other property damaged. The state moved 50 regular soldiers and 12 state rangers into the city for an indefinite stay.

The eight men removed from the jail had been arrested as squatters on land owned by the Cananea Cattle Company, an American-owned firm. The mob stoned the company offices, broke windows in the police department, the federal tax offices and then forced the release of the jailed men.

The eight men over which the outbreak apparently started — all members of the Popular party — settled on the land, claiming they held papers which entitled them to ownership. Officials of the cattle company had them arrested and jailed.

City Police Chief Tootillo Parilla said the speakers advocated the prisoners be released by "violence." The mob rushed the jail and police fired two harmless shots in a futile effort to restore order.

People often refer to chick cream as "heavy" cream, although actually it is the lightest. The huge butterfat content in "heavy" cream makes it much lighter in weight than the same volume of "light," or thin, cream as milk.

Rumor Mill Irks Grable

By ALINE MOSBY

HOLLYWOOD, June 10 —UP—Betty Grable's wife, Betty Grable, sighed Wednesday, in becoming tougher with the rumor factory "always trying to get me divorced."

Some rumors are standard in Hollywood. One hardy perennial is that Bing Crosby is dead or ill. Another is that the owner of movie-town's most famous legs has called off her marriage with bandleader Harry James.

Recently the divorce stories blanketed the country again, and Betty groaned, she's been busy on the phone with the usual denials.

"Honestly, everything is just fine with us," she blurted out at her Beverly Hills home. "We haven't even had an argument."

"These stories start every time Harry goes on the road. For the 11 years we've been married he has gone on tours. When he leaves town, people don't see us together here and they start talking."

The last divorce yarn snowballed after the Jameses decided to sell their traditional home and move into a modern house. To improve the old domicile for prospective buyers she had it painted.

"Harry can't stand the smell of paint so he moved into a hotel for a few days," she explained.

"The kids (Vicki, 10, and Jessica, 7) and I couldn't leave. I have to be with them to get them off to school. So we stayed and suffered."

"Besides, if we were separating, wouldn't we? He could have moved widespread release of the half nude to the guest house or our ranch. photograph."

He wouldn't have gone to a hotel where everybody could see him. "We were a little upset at those divorce stories. When Harry phoned me from the East I told him what was in the papers. But we're kinda used to this by now. It happens so often. But it's odd that after 11 years we still have to put up with this sort of thing."

Many a movie couple has wound up divorced after denying the rumors. But Betty insisted she'll celebrate 11 years of happy wedded life in July, and plans to drink champagne at her 50th anniversary.

When the bandleader returns home June 21, they'll move to their rented home at Del Mar for the horse racing season. Now that Betty's a free-lancer, she can fit her movies between racing seasons.

"I won't do another picture until after the season next fall," she said.

Actress Seeks Works Permit

English actress Simone Silva, who stripped to the waist to pose for a picture with Robert Mitchum at the Cannes film festival, Wednesday sought a U.S. work permit and an extension of her visa. Miss Silva came to Hollywood on a four-month visitor's visa and signed a seven-year film contract following wide-spread release of the half nude photograph.

Educated Syrup built a sugar house at a cost of $120 and lots of hard work. Then school students here run a maple they hung 180 buckets for sap. They hope to produce at least 40 gallons of maple syrup this season.

Plans Made To Evacuate Yank Techs In Indo-China

WASHINGTON, June 10 —UP—The United States is making stand-by preparations for an emergency withdrawal of American men and equipment in case the Communists overrun the Red River Delta in Indo-China, a well-informed senator has disclosed.

The senator, who asked not to be identified, said this was the main reason behind the announcement Tuesday that the Air Force mission in Indo-China will not be called home as administration officials had previously.

The decision that it should stay, the senator said, was made in the last few days in the light of the fast deteriorating military situation. The plan was reported, secretly to a few key congressmen.

With Communist rebel troops poised for an all-out assault on the Delta, the senator said, the Defense Department wanted the 256-man mission — 200 are mechanics and specialists — to be on hand if it became necessary to get American planes and personnel out in a hurry.

The technicians maintain B-26 bombers rushed to the war zone from the United States. In addition, there are many members of a U.S. military aid mission in the Delta area.

Defense Secretary Charles E. Wilson, supported publicly by President Eisenhower, promised an aroused Senate armed services committee last February that the technicians would be withdrawn by mid-June. The Air Force said Tuesday that the original plan would be replaced but that the mission would be continued.

Wrong Is Wrong

WEWOKA, Okla. —UP—Two teenage boys found here it isn't right to right a wrong with a wrong. The boys got in trouble when they burglarized the same store in Seminole, Okla., twice. Officers said they passed two bogus checks to repay the store for what they had stolen.

A Chancellor Speaks

People concerned with the problems of education were intensely interested in what Denver University chancellor, Dr. Chester M. Alter, said on the subject of private education.

"In Europe efforts have been made to make the individual subservient to the state," Chancellor Alter said. "And that could happen in America. I am committed to do all that I can to see that it does not happen."

Not wanting to antagonize the public education monopoly Chancellor Alter stressed the importance of both government and private education. But it was obvious from his remarks that government education could take over private education, and that he believes we should embark on an opposite course of increasing private education.

Dr. Alter said that even in England private institutions were losing the private support they used to have. He said that both Oxford and Cambridge universities now derive 65 per cent of their support from grants from government.

"Many people," he said, "do not know this. This tendency is unrelated to the economic tendencies in Europe..."

Chancellor Alter's concern, illustrated by his words, "And that could happen in America..." indicates that he has taken a diametrically opposed position to that of the National Education Association and to Dr. James Conant and others who are opposed to private education.

What the National Education Association wants is a single school system over which they will have sole and undisputed jurisdiction, and unquestioned authority and power. Such a system is what Chancellor Alter of the University of Denver is fighting against.

How do we know that the NEA is opposed to private schools?

At a recent National Education Convention (NEA) in Detroit, Mrs. Eugene Meyer was a featured speaker. Mrs. Meyer was a member of President Truman's Commission on Higher Education.

Mrs. Eugene Meyer is wife of the owner of the Washington Post, which newspaper among other pinkish ideas still believes in the innocence of Alger Hiss.

Mrs. Meyer said at the NEA Convention that she agreed "with the statement of Dr. Conant of Harvard, saying that the greater the proportion of our youth who attend independent schools, the greater the threat to our democratic unity."

Mrs. Meyer was warmly received.

Mrs. Meyer's charge, like Dr. Conant's, is that religious or independent schools are divisive, anachronistic, un-democratic, un-American.

We are thankful for men like Chancellor Alter of the University of Denver who are willing to step up and do battle with the National Education Association and all others who want to increase the monopoly of public education until no competition whatsoever is permitted.

Chancellor Alter has reached the milestone of recognizing the value of competition in education. Perhaps by following this road Chancellor Alter will reach the point of understanding that competition should be increased in even larger doses until finally complete freedom of choice becomes the rule rather than the exception in the field of education.

Money Talks

It has taken a retired professor at Columbia University to offer the analysis that the Ford Foundation, an enterprise commanding half a billion dollars or more and having $30 million dollars a year in income to parcel out to its pet projects, is an intimidating force upon the educators of the nation. They hesitate to argue with its objectives or its specific projects because it has the money and they all feel that they can use whatever part of it that comes their way.

Dr. Thomas H. Briggs, professor emeritus at Columbia Teachers College, characterized the Ford Foundation as staffed with people not notably committed to the democratic ideal. He said that the foundation was used to advance pet theories which were not demonstrably sound or useful.

The foundation, in general, allocates cash to an educational institution for a specific project of its own choice. The grant does not serve the purpose of the recipient institution, but those of the foundation. It is necessary for the college or university getting the money to assign or recruit a special staff to carry out the job that the foundation wants done. The money would be far more useful if it were granted, with no strings attached, to help the institution receiving it to meet its overhead, grant scholarships, raise the standard of faculty salaries, obtain new professorial talent, or execute deferred projects for which the university itself has not been able to find funds.

But, such is the attraction of money, even if it is merely money appearing and disappearing, that educators cannot restrain themselves from leaping at the handout. The testimony of Dr. Briggs suggests that these gentlemen would rather serve their institutions if they bonded together in the firm resolve to decline all Ford handouts unless they granted exclusive discretion as to the use of the money.

After all, the foundation was established to avail itself of tax exemption while preserving voting control over the Ford enterprises. That purpose can be achieved even if the administrators of the foundation are deprived of the opportunity of riding their special hobbies at the expense of education in general.

The Income Tax, Root Of All Evil

By FRANK CHODOROV
Copyrighted by Frank Chodorov, Published by the Devin-Adair Co., New York

INSTALLMENT SEVEN

In 1862, Lincoln instituted the first income-tax law in American history. The debate in Congress over this major change in our fiscal policy makes curious reading. It was tacitly agreed that the law was unconstitutional, because it was a direct tax. A few Congressmen tried to stick the "excise" label on the proposed tax, thus forcing it into the formula of the Constitution. But, on the whole, the argument for it rested on the need for money to carry on the war. It was a matter of expediency only. The Constitution was set aside.

That is as it should be. If there is any moral justification for war, it is the need of safeguarding the life of the community. When the existence of the nation is at stake, the natural inclination of a people is to suspend their claim to rights. Their lives are forfeit in the common cause, and so should be their property. The only practical way for putting the property of the people to the common effort is to confiscate it, and income taxation is the perfect confiscator of property. But, since defense of the homeland is in the interests of all, both necessity and equity demand that there should be no discrimination and no limit: all that is needed should be taken without regard to rights, even as life is conscripted. It is everybody's house that is on fire, and every available water bucket, without regard to ownership, must be taken to put out the conflagration. So, if war is justified, unlimited and unrestrained income taxation can also be justified. The question is: when is war justified?

Every war is fought with current wealth. There is no way of shooting off cannons that have not yet been made, no way of feeding soldiers with the produce of the next generation. The argument that a future generation can be made to pay the costs of a present war is both specious and deceptive; it cannot be done. All the labor and all the materials expended in the struggle are current, not future, labor and materials. We pay as we fight.

The deception that some of the costs may be put on the future is created so as to ease the strain that total confiscation would put on patriotism. To prevent dissatisfaction with the war from getting out of hand, the government takes what it needs, and gives I.O.U.'s (bonds) to the owner. But, this I.O.U. is not payment for the goods taken; it is a claim to future production. So that, the holder of the I.O.U., the grandson of the one whose goods were taken for the war, can demand from other grandsons a share of their production. The bondholder is simply a partner of the tax collector. But how is this payment for a past war?

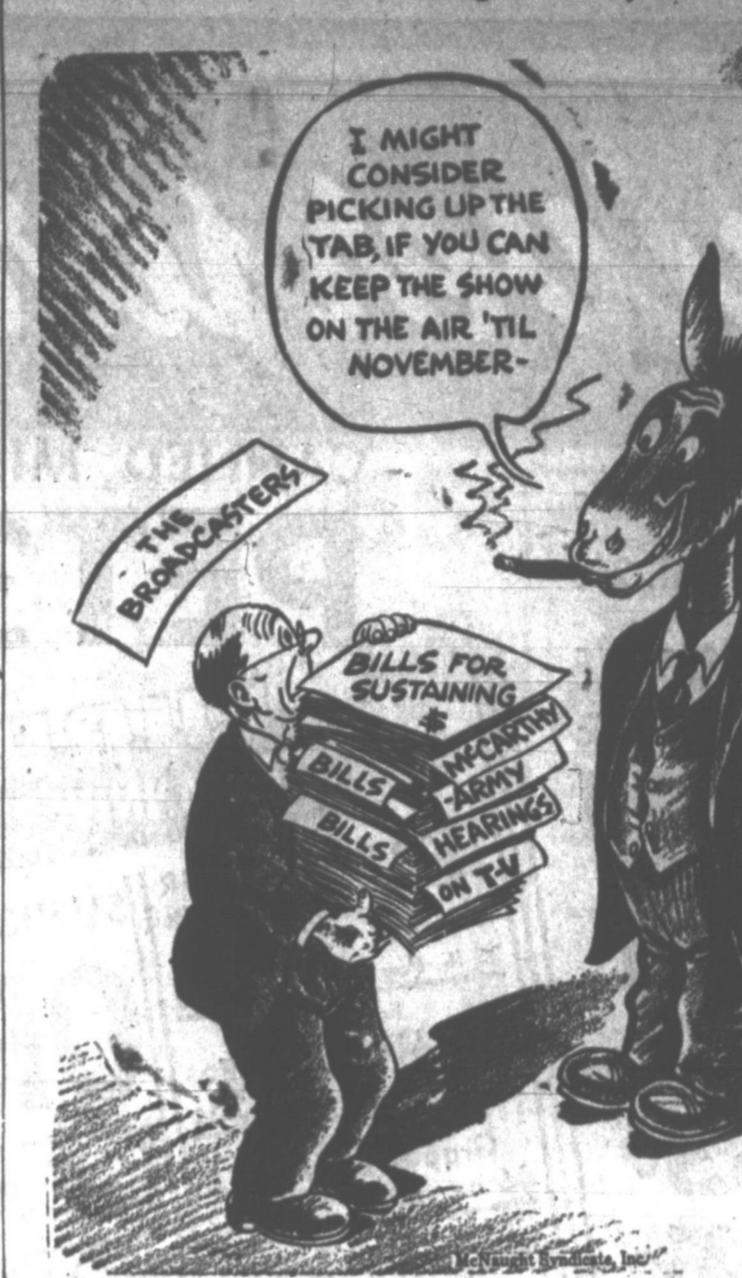

It has been argued that if the government could not borrow it could so wage war. This may be true; neither could it wage war without soldiers. But if people will not give up their property or risk their lives, then the war is not wanted. If the war is not wanted, why should it be waged? If, instead of resorting to loans, the government should confiscate whatever it needs for the purpose, perhaps a waning patriotism would cause the war to be called off.

Those who describe bonds as payment for past wars are wont to overlook the fact that the bonds, taken as a whole, are never paid up. The bonded debt of a nation has a way of increasing from generation to generation. That is so because each generation, or its government, encounters a new emergency that needs financing, and it is most convenient to say that the next generation ought to pay for the benefits it will derive from meeting the present emergency. But every generation conveniently ignores the obligation it has inherited. And so, the national debt grows.

Since all bonds are claims on production, what really happens when bonds are issued is—let's call it by its right name—counterfeiting; the amount of purchasing power, or money, is increased. There are several ways by which bonds are monetized, but that is not germane to the present subject; the point is that all bonds add to the fund of money in circulation, and unless the additional money is accompanied by an additional amount of goods in the market, we have inflation. Inflation is simply a greater amount of money bidding for the same amount of goods. The dollar looks like the old dollar, but it buys less. Hence, even the bond buyers are eventually cheated. The dollars they put into the bonds could have bought them more goods than the dollars they earn after the bonds have been issued, or the dollars they get from the government when the bonds mature. It takes a violent wrench of logic to say that we pay for past wars by depreciating the value of the dollar.

Government borrows on its ability to tax, because taxes are its only source of revenue, the only security it has to offer the lender. Thanks to its low taxing power, the Lincoln administration had difficulty in disposing an issue of bonds bearing twelve percent interest. That means that its credit was very poor, and it had to resort to confiscation. Its first income-tax law called for a flat three percent of net income over $500 a year; this was quite an exemption in itself, since at that time a man could buy an all-wood suit of clothes for $5. The method of collection was sinister. It

National Whirligig... Army-McCarthy Hearings Will Be A Relatively Cheap Inquiry

By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON — Although the Army-McCarthy hearings impress the vast television audience as weighted with a larger cast and more lavish scenery than many Broadway productions, it will be one of the cheapest investigations that Congress ever conducted. The total cost will amount to between $18,000 and $20,000, depending on how much longer it drags along.

Chairman Karl E. Mundt of South Dakota, as well as senators on the investigating committee, have received hundreds of letters, bewailing the "wasteful extravagance." Besides asking whether the taxpayers will foot the bill, they usually estimate that the citizens will be set back by several hundred thousand dollars for what Senator McCarthy derides as a "farce," a "show" and a "red minnow burlesque."

SMALL PAY FOR JENKINS — Despite the exacting work and the sacrifice of his own $60,000-a-year legal business, Committee Chairman Ray H. Jenkins receives only the salary paid to a senator's administrative assistant, which is $10,000 a year. But he is paid only for the time he works, which amounts to about $633 a month. He must pay his own living expenses here, which probably exceeds his Senate income.

His three assistants draw the same pay. Thus, the Committee's legal staff for a month costs about $3,300. Army Counsel Joseph N. Welch serves without pay. His one Boston civilian assistant also gets $633 a month. The Army lawyers and aids receive nothing.

WHERE MONEY COMES FROM — The money for the inquiry will be paid out of the specific appropriation of the Committee on Government Operations, which is headed by Senator McCarthy. That body was recently granted an additional $307,000 with only one dissenting vote — Sen. J. William Fulbright of Arkansas.

The members of the Mundt Subcommittee, however, have agreed unanimously to ask the Senate to reimburse the Government Committee on Operations for all expenses incurred in the current controversy. If the Senate should refuse, which is doubtful, the committee would have a smaller amount for its normal work.

But even if the full Senate withheld reimbursement money, McCarthy would simply request a larger appropriation later on. Unless he is hurt beyond repair in the showdown with the Army, he will pay his own living expenses here, which probably exceeds his Senate income.

Reinforcing the prohibition of a direct tax is the requirement that taxes shall be levied in proportion to the population. The meaning is clear: that in respect to the law all citizens are to be considered equal, as persons, and should be taxed accordingly; their possessions have nothing to do with their legal status. A man who has acquired (presumably by honest methods) a large amount of wealth is legally on a par with the one less fortunate or less proficient. The dictum that "all men are created free and equal" held in the matter of taxes as it did in the matter of social stratification; the Constitution recognized no caste system. No one, and no group, could be singled out by the government for special spoliation. (To Be Continued.)

Fair Enough... Much interesting information Expected in CIA Investigation

By WESTBROOK PEGLER (Copyright, 1954, King Features Syndicate, Inc.)
NEW YORK — I think I can contribute to the confusion about the Central Intelligence Agency Intelligence Agency which Senator McCarthy has been investigating, to the consternation of a sort of secret circle of the White House and State Department.
One individual implicated in this weird business is Carmel Offit, who was secretary to Bill Bullitt in the Paris embassy, and whose arrest on a charge of indecent conduct toward maid in Lafayette Park, opposite the White House, has been dealt with here before.
Two other persons, one in Arizona and another in San Francisco, seem to me to be utterly harmless and unobjectionable and another in a New England city hard by New York, once connected with both the State Department and the CIA, is constantly needing Sam Cary of Bridgeport, Molotov's brother-in-law.
An agent of a Senate committee was actively digging into the CIA a few months ago but got diverted into the Dave Schine case and had to suspend operations.
And I recall that when I wrote to Allen Dulles, the brother of John Foster, about the CIA asking for information for publication his answer was myet.
We have no right to know anything about this crazy thing. We have no right to even know how much of our money it spends for what or whether its people are competent, honest or patriotic. In view of the record of incompetence, crookedness and treachery established in the years since 1931, I believe this agency is more dangerous to us than to the enemy.
I continue to receive communications from two individuals whom I have good reason to regard as former agents of the CIA who seem to go in fear of violence even unto death. I have not yet tried to make a practical investigation of their situation so I have no report to offer.
Walter Beedle Smith, now assistant secretary of State, was the last chief of the CIA before Dulles. He was one of the clique in George Marshall's office at the time of Pearl Harbor and one of the many officers of the general staff who were promoted to an extent which has caused the CIA to be outrageous in view of the disaster which ensued upon the failure to communicate the last warning to General Marshall if it be true that it was not communicated. I never have been convinced that Marshall was unable to account for about eight fateful hours of his time which doomed Pearl Harbor and 3,000 American servicemen in that sunny morning strike by the Japs and God knows how many other Americans in the remainder of the war in consequence of the failure to get word to Admiral Kimmel and General E. H. Rasmusen.
Smith has friends high in the Army who think he is a great fellow and a monumental American who has given much and broken his health in the service of his country. I have no desire to hurt a man who has been put to serious surgery and looks weak and wan, but I simply have to abide by my own judgment which is that Smith is a lightweight who that carried $50,000 in currency to Europe in a satchel soon after VE Day to mess around in European intrigue through the CIA.
Offit said the CIA had put a lot of our tax money into this pet project, the CIA, the CIA, the CIA, workers in European politics, but again you are reminded that, although it is your own money, it is none of your business what it is used for.
The Communists I refer to I have named repeatedly as Jay Lovestone and Irving Brown. The

Looking Sideways

By WHITNEY BOLTON

Tom Weatherly, who has been mentioned here at odd times in the last weeks only because in prowling the town I have run into him here and there, is perhaps the only poet alive (or dead) for whom I could honestly say a kind word. I was born with an in-built aversion to anything that is long-hair. Weatherly has no hair at all and, therefore, is my kind of poet. His new book of poems, "Main Stem Suck," is now at hand, from the presses of Library Publishers, and the kind word will be along any paragraph.
The men who mould the poems and plays, the paintings and pastorals of human art, are almost always totally bald. Shakespeare had a sort of neglected fringe, but you could call him bald. Beethoven had hair like a bushy sofa, but I'll debate the greatness of a lot of his music. Show me a man who needs a haircut and I'll prove him a lack — Beethoven and Prof. Albert Einstein, notwithstanding. Show me a man who can comb his head with a damp cloth and I'll show you an artist.
Weatherly is an artist. There are four blunt words. But I mean them. Almost anyone old enough or strong enough to hold a pencil can write doggerel. Very few individuals write poetry. Weatherly writes exceptional poetry, not because it scans or has a certain lyric thrust, but because it is an evaluation of our times. He has an ear for the slightest murmur; he looks upon pomp and pride and the parade of the pouter pigeons with a lean satirist's distaste. He reduces the "servicing" to basic patterns. In short, he writes with a cunning, keen and skilled knife. He wouldn't be caught dead in a picturesque phrase, but he can be picturesque.
I've known Weatherly across a span of 25 years, during which at times we have both had it and not had it. It didn't seem to change him either way. Beneath that lambent dose lies a nimble brain, a set of nerveless neurons harnessed to a dry wit and a cagey eye. I haven't the slightest idea why his cool opinion of the world and its sometimes fumbling mankind comes out as tight, definitive poetry, but it does. The kind I, as poet, like to read. And recommended.

Once, while courting through some back streets of Paris, I came upon a grimed old print shop, and in the window was a lithograph of that urchin of the streets, Francois Villon, his head bare and gleaming. It was then that I knew that sometimes the centuries did fold together and produce two men of motley with paired intellects. Either, I suspect, could have taken the other's place.

Abel Green, editor of the recedite bible of the show business, Variety, has written that Weatherly is "The Shelley of the Scord." Well, he's that, all right. And more, too. Let us look, for proof, upon two short lines which cover the moment from Boy Meets Girl to Man Surveys Wife:
"Apple blossoms and violets,
All in a sea of emeralds,
Glistening wet with the dew;
The freshness, the fragrance,
The sunshine,
And—
Red, red hands and an aching back."
All in a sea of soap suds
Made from the bubbles we blew
Dirty dishes and listless ideas, and—ugh—ugh!

And if you think that isn't the compassing story of many a marriage that began in moonlight and ended in equalizer and disillusion, you're wrong.

BID FOR A SMILE

A football player, wanting to keep in good condition, got a job for the summer on a farm. He worked in the fields from dawn until dusk, day after day, and he had to finish his chores by lantern light.
At the end of the first month he went to the farmer and said:
"Football Player — I'm going to quit. You promised me a steady job of work."
"Farmer (in surprise) — Well, haven't you a steady job of work?"
"Football Player — Nope. There are three or four other jobs that I don't have anything to do except foot away my time sleeping."
The farmer said:
"He — I used to play the trumpet."
"Farmer (shrugs) — A television comic in the Will Rogers tradition, observes: "A man will soon be able to get clear around the world in two hours, one hour for flying, and the other to get out of the airport." "We didn't need it when it was new, but now it's a must," he adds. "Wind blew on land and got a hen turned clear around the wrong way. Before we could get her straightened out and headed, she was gone again. It hit the same way etc. times!"

Clean drawers now to bring sunshine into your life next fall, when you unpack your winter things. A vacuuming, "dry" soaping application and a finishing touch with a damp cloth keep drawers fresh all summer long.

Clean Storage Should Be Given Items That Are Laid Away During Summer

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer
Nagging at many housewife's consciences these days is the need to thoroughly clean the drawers in chests, sideboards and dressers. The switch to summer clothing reminds us to tidy the bedroom dresser. The advent of more informal outdoor get-togethers indicates that a rest for fine table linens and flat silver is in order.

When drawers are completely empty and out of the case, hook up the vacuum. Clean inside the case, alternating brush and crevice attachment. Next, clean along drawer guides and dust-catchers and, finally, inside and outside each drawer.

Household Gloves Are Aid To Beauty

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Nothing acts more quickly than hot water in removing the natural oils from the skin. Consequently, the housewife who would keep her hands attractive must do more and give her hands a manicure weekly.

Making Up Well Is Vital After Forty

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Becoming her own make-up expert should be the aim of every older woman. She should come to realize that after 40, make-up plays a most important part in presenting an attractive face to her friends, relatives and "public."

Take eyebrows, for instance. Too often, the older woman draws a single, hard, thin, downward line. This tends to make even the prettiest face look harsh.

When you're storing lettuce in the refrigerator, use a paper towel rather than a cloth bag. Then the leaves won't turn rusty looking.

RUTH MILLET

A 16-year-old girl writes: "The other girls are nice enough to me at school, but when four or five of them make plans to do something together I am never included."

After cleaning your face thoroughly, cover it with a tissue oil; one made of vegetable and mineral oils is excellent. It will both cleanse the pores and stimulate the blood.

There are so many people in the world who wait to be asked to do things that anyone who is willing to do the asking can usually be one of a crowd.

Refreshing Facials Help Banish Blues

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Friday social engagements sometimes are the bane of a busy woman's life. Especially if she is past 40, she may feel more like flopping into an easy chair than going to a party.

After patting your face dry (rubbing breaks down tissues), put on more oil.

Now ignore that easy chair and relax the beauty way: with head lower than feet. If you do not have a beauty board, an ironing board is an adequate substitute.

HD Club Members Presented Program On Blouse Making

A program on blouse making, presented by Mrs. Jack Howard and Mrs. Jack Frather highlighted the recent meeting of the Merten Home Demonstration club in the home of Mrs. D. A. Rife, 1300 Christine.

Pointers to follow when making a blouse, given by the women, were to shrink the sleeve into the armhole, top-stitch the collar and yoke to give added strength and to prevent fraying and stay-stitch the bottom of the blouse to give a smoother hem.

During the recreation period, a musical game was led by Mrs. Frather. Next meeting of the group will be Tuesday at in the home of Mrs. O. A. Ruffines, 505 Lowry.

Plucking Brows Is Vital Beauty Care

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
Making up the eyebrows involves more than creating a lovely line. It can help to detract from less perfect features. The girl whose eyes are close together, for instance, can achieve the illusion of width by plucking well between the brows and extending their outer lines.

Ideally, the inner brows should begin at a point immediately above the outer nostrils. To add width to the eyes, however, pluck a few more hairs from this inner side. And to extend the outer line, pick up blonde fuzz with just a touch of mascara.

1,500 Sign For Lawn Water Rates

Pampa rains have been keeping down the number of applicants for the city's lawn water rate. At least that is what Miss Ellen Keough thinks. She is chief bookkeeper in charge of the city water office.

An estimated 150 more Pampans have applied for the special water rate in the last several weeks. Miss Keough said. At the same time, four or five have asked for cancellations. Total applicants number about 1,500.

Normally, there would be more applicants during the last of May and the first part of June applying for special rates. Miss Keough opined, forecasting there would be a higher than usual number applying the last of this month and in July.

All residential accounts are billed on residential rate unless the customer signs an application requesting lawn rates. Miss Keough pointed out. The lawn rate applies only to residential accounts inside the city limits.

Minimum for the lawn rate is $3.30 for 5,000 gallons. On the residential rate, the minimum is $1.65 for 3,000 gallons. Miss Keough said a good rule to go by is:

Official Gives Communists 30 Days To Win Indo-China

WASHINGTON, June 10—UP—A high-placed American official said Wednesday that the Communists may be able to complete their conquest of northern Indo-China in 30 days if the Allies do not intervene immediately.

This stark possibility is causing the deepest concern in administration circles. The official said his country still will make no move to intervene until the conditions it set for "united action" have been met.

They declared that Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov gave this action program a much-needed shot in the arm at the Geneva conference Tuesday by setting what they called an "outrageous" price for Indo-China peace.

Little Hope for Delta

If the "united action" move picks up steam, these officials said, the United States hopes at least some of the Viet Nam rebels can be saved from the Communist rebels. They did not extend this hope to the strategic Red River Delta area in the north, however.

The high-placed official said that if the Reds launch an all-out assault they probably would overrun Hanoi in a month. He said this is particularly true because of thousands of Communist sympathizers operating behind the French union lines.

There are two schools of thought regarding the chances of an all-out drive. The majority believes the Reds will attack soon. Secretary of State Dulles indicated at his news conference Tuesday that he inclines to this view.

Molotov's peace price called for Communist control of "three-fourths" of Vietnam, "about half" of Laos and a part of Cambodia, and agreement on political problems before any cease-fire.

U.S. diplomats said that if the British needed any one to act to convince them Geneva would not produce a fair Indo-Chinese peace, Molotov's action should be the clincher. Therefore, they predicted British reluctance to move ahead with the U.S.-proposed Southeast Asia alliance pending outcome of the Geneva conference should dissipate.

Officials here also think the Molotov action could strengthen the French government. They explained that the French government can now tell parliament the Communists are demanding the complete surrender of Indo-China despite Western efforts to negotiate a reasonable peace.

Filipino Calls For U. S. Entry In Indo-China War

SAN FRANCISCO, June 10—UP—Maj. Gen. Jesus Vargas, Philippine armed forces commander, has called for joint U.S. and Philippine intervention in the Indo-China war.

Vargas left for Washington Thursday for top-level talks on the Philippine-American mutual defense treaty.

Upon his arrival by Pan American airways Wednesday night, the general said he did not expect the conference in Washington to take up any military matters outside his country.

"But things look very bad in the South Pacific," he said. "It is time for us to join up in collective action against this encroachment."

Vargas was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Filipino Cabal, commander of the First Philippine military area, and Brig. Gen. R. M. Cannon, chief of the joint military advisory group in the Philippines.

Rotary Speaker Urges Support Be Given Water Safety School

If a child is taught the basic fundamentals of water safety, there is no need to worry about the child drowning.

This statement was made by Larry Fuller, manager of Southwestern Public Service company office in McLean, as he spoke at luncheon meeting of the Pampa Rotary club at noon Wednesday in the Palm Room of City Hall.

Children are governed by the actions of older children, he said, adding that this is the only thing they have to follow unless they are trained in water safety.

Fuller urged members of the club to support the water safety program to be conducted here by the Red Cross in August.

He told them to think what it would mean if one of their children should become a drowning victim. "Do you want to go through the rest of your life sitting across from a vacant chair at the dinner table," he asked. "Get in behind the Red Cross in this program and let's not have an empty chair at your dinner table."

The speaker was introduced by Paul Crossman Jr., program chairman for the month of June.

Visitors included Sid Patterson, Oklahoma City; Bill Philip and J. R. Dowell, of Dallas; Jack Miller, Austin; Jerris Keith and Kenneth Aselrod, Berger, David G. Talley and Dan Daniels, of Lubbock; R. E. Bonner, Panhandle; Claude Blackshear, the Rev. Woodrow W. Adcock and Aubrey Steele, all of Pampa. President E. S. Williams presided.

TV STAGE RADIO RECORDS PEOPLE

Down among the sweltering Congressmen, there's a vaudeville experiment that may be important in the long run. Martha Raye is appearing at a theater in Washington, and the show is unusual for two reasons. First, she's doing two a day — but both shows are at night. Nothing in the afternoon. Second, she's doing stunts from her TV appearance. These are complete with a 10-person cast and sets and costumes from TV.

This may be the greatest experiment since Prof. Water discovered cress.

A small child, originally from California, was listening to the new song "Hernando's Hideaway." Susan got all excited, called her Mommy and said, "Mommy, listen to this song, it's called 'San Fernando Hideaway.'"

They should retile "Person-to-Person." Dought to call it "Person-to-Person-via-Crowd." The original title makes it sound so simple, while actually more people have a finger in it, and there's more preparation, than most shows.

I went up with Ed Murrow to the Catskills to watch how he prepares this program. Unless his subject is on the West Coast, he makes a point of talking to him personally beforehand. On this last, he was working on the show which features Rocky Marciano and Ezzard Charles, both in training at Catskill resorts. A whole flock of CBS-TV people were along, too.

Murrow talked to each man about 20 minutes or so. Not long. But he chatted informally, sizing up the subject, and found out a lot of things you won't see in The Ring Record Book. (Example: first day after he quits training, Ed is going to eat a slice of cheesecake, several dishes of ice cream and a cup of coffee.) Co-producer

Oil Leader Sees Industry Nationalized

DALLAS — (Special) — A prominent Texas oilman has labeled putting interstate commerce of natural gas under federal control "another milestone down the road to nationalization of our natural resources."

Harry W. Bass, Dallas, president of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association today said the decision of the Court will give new encouragement to those who seek to use the power of the federal government to wrest from independent producers the gas which they found by hazardous risk-taking enterprises.

Insisting the majority of the Court has set up machinery for depriving the producer and the royalty owner of the right to sell his fuel in a competitive market, Bass exclaimed the tragedy is that 25,000,000 consumers of natural gas cannot look to the Court to find new gas reserves.

Unless Congress draws the line between what is independent production of natural gas and what is a public utility, he continued, "I predict we will see a rapid shrinking of the nation's gas reserves in the next few years."

Teacher Held In Connection With Car Theft

NEW YORK, June 10 — UP — A high school English teacher was held in $1,000 bail Wednesday on charges of promising three students passing grades if they would steal an automobile for him.

Jerome Binder, 29, who said he had taught for three years, denied the charge.

"I am innocent," he said. "I have made a statement to the district attorney's office."

According to the complaint, Binder conspired with three students at the Manhattan School of Aviation.

Binder's attorney, Samuel Golding, told the court the charges were "fantastic." He said none of the boys, one of whom was not identified, were his pupils and he could not alter any school records. Golding said Binder bought a 1948 Chrysler for $500 last May 30 and therefore had no reason to have a car stolen.

C Of C Agriculture Subcommittee Delays Meeting

A meeting of an Agriculture subcommittee of the Pampa Chamber of Commerce with the Gray county Commissioners court, originally scheduled to be held this morning, has been postponed until Monday.

The committee will meet with the commissioners at 11 a.m. that day at the regular commissioners' meeting, according to Quentin Williams, chairman of the chamber's Agriculture committee.

Expected to be discussed will be setting for the county's dual-purpose barn, recently constructed at Recreation park. Temporary bleachers were installed in the barn during the recent Top of Texas Fat Stock show and sale, but plans now call for installation of a permanent seating arrangement.

U.S. To Begin Wetback Arrests

MEXICO CITY, June 10 — UP — The United States embassy reported Wednesday the United States would begin a special "wetback" roundup next week.

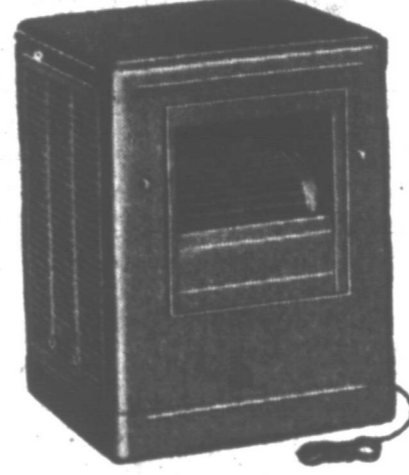

Embassy sources said the U. S. Border Patrol, bolstered by an additional 481 agents, would try to deport all Mexican workers who entered the United States illegally. The drive will be concentrated in California and Arizona when it begins June 17 and presumably will be extended to other border states later.

Oilers Will Likely Set Twinbill Record; Local Golfers Could Challenge All Comers

IT LOOKS LIKE THE OILERS AND Albuquerque Dukes are going to have to flip a coin or something to decide the winner and loser of the game between the two at Oiler Park. The Dukes have been scheduled to play here four times but Oiler Man Weather has intervened each time to prevent play. It all adds up that the Oilers and Dukes will be meeting in four doubleheaders the remainder of this season. Albuquerque is scheduled in here six more playing dates. That means in one of the series the two teams will have to play doubleheaders on successive nights. In addition to the four twinbills with the Oilers, the Oilers will have four more makeup games at home, two each with Amarillo and Clovis. Then the Oilers have one scheduled doubleheader here which brings the total of twinbills to be played here to nine. The Oilers have already played three doubleheaders this season, two here and one on the road. And they have three more to play on the road. Totalling all these twinbills up, the Oilers will play 18 doubleheaders this season which will probably set a new record in twinbills for one club during a single West Texas-New Mexico League season. FURT POWELL OF AMARILLO has been boasting quite a bit the past few weeks on what an array of fine golfers reside within the Amarillo city limits. He has been challenging all comers on a team match which would involve 10 golfers from each city. Most of his challenges have been the larger cities—Lubbock, Fort Worth and Dallas etc. If it's competition he is looking for, I don't believe he'd need to look farther than 55 miles north east of Amarillo, which of course, would be Pampa. Ft. Worth Man Is State Medalist

FORT WORTH, June 10—UP—W. A. (Bill) Landreth, a 33-year-old weekend golfer who admits he is a "scrambler" stole the limelight from better known Texas swingers Thursday as first-round matches got underway in the 45th State Amateur Golf tournament at River Crest Country Club. Landreth, playing on his home course, grabbed medalist honors Wednesday with a two-over-par 72 as a lashing wind sent scores skyrocketing and knocked an almost unbelievable number of the state's top players out of the championship flight of 32. Landreth had three birdies on his round and knocked in some long putts on the lightning-fast greens. He 72 gave him a one stroke edge over Marion (Sonny) Hickey of North Texas State and 1953 champion Billy Ehrforth of Lubbock. He almost paced the River Crest foursome to the team championship, but Preston Hollow Country Club of Dallas slipped in by one stroke. Hickey, with 73, Bobby Cull, with 78, and A. J. Triggs Jr., and Don Holland, with 80, gave the Dallas club a 311 winning total. Although many top-flight players didn't make the championship bracket, others who were safely in included Fort Worth's Ernie Vossler, with 75; Ed Hopkins of Abilene, 75; Bob French of Odessa, 75; Maj. Fred Moseley, Waco,

Rain Battered Oilers Open Series With Sox

Southpaw Clark To Face Abilene

Manager Doug Lewis' Pampa Oilers, idled by rain the past two nights, will open a two-game series with the Abilene Blue Sox tonight at Oiler Park. Game time will be 8 o'clock. The Oilers had a doubleheader with the Albuquerque Dukes rained out last night. It was the fourth straight time that games involving the Oilers and Dukes at Oiler Park were weathered out. Vibert Clark has been nominated by Manager Lewis as the Oiler hurler tonight. Clark's record is 4-3. Last night's doubleheader wasn't completely called off until 8:15. The twinbill was scheduled to start at 7:00. With rain falling at 7:00, the Oiler management elected to play only one game which would start at 8:00. But rain and high winds continued with both games having to be postponed. Abilene, tonight's Oiler foe, has just dropped a two-game series to the league leading Clovis Pioneers in the Sox's final homestand series. The Sox bowed by a 7-4 count to the Pioneers last night. Oiler business manager Jimmy Hamilton has announced that the "Father's Day" batting contest will start tonight. Three fathers will be selected out of the stands tonight and will get three whacks at the plate. This will be done five nights between now and Father's Day, June 20. The top 10 will be picked for the finals to be held on Father's Day. The father hitting the longest ball in the finals will receive a suit of clothes. Dates of the other preliminary nights are June 11, 14, 15, 19. Also on schedule this week is "Grocery Night" Saturday night. In conjunction with Buddy's Super Market, the Oilers will give away $100 worth of groceries each night at Oiler Park. The Oilers will be meeting Plainview Saturday. Ten baskets of groceries will be given away valued at $10 each. Lucky ticket holders will be the winners. Fans must be present to receive their baskets. All tickets sold to the Oiler games from now through Saturday night will be included in the drawing.

Midland Knocks Roswell Off Top

By UNITED PRESS
Bud Hill's two-run double in the ninth inning after two were out gave Midland a 7 to 6 victory over Roswell Wednesday night and knocked the Rockets into second place in the Longhorn League, a few percentage points behind Artesia. Artesia's Numexers played errorless ball and turned in four double plays to nullify Wayne Good's walk down a shaky 8 to 3 victory over Odessa. Carabid's Potashers used two big innings—the third and the sixth—to score 11 runs and get a 13 to 4 triumph over Sweetwater, and a Merchants' Night crowd of 2,700 at Big Spring saw the Oilers employ the long zap and two home runs each by Jim Zapp and Floyd Martin—for a 7 to 4 victory over San Angelo.

Pioneers Sweep B-Sox Series, 7-4

By UNITED PRESS
Clovis moved two and one-half games ahead of runner-up Amarillo in the West Texas-New Mexico League Wednesday night by beating Abilene, 7 to 4. Amarillo split a doubleheader with Lubbock, winning the first game 6 to 5, and losing the nightcap, 6 to 4. Berger and Plainview also divided a pair. Berger winning the first, 2 to 2, and the Pioneers taking the second, 13 to 3. A scheduled doubleheader between Albuquerque and Pampa at Pampa was postponed because of rain. Clovis broke a 2-all tie against the Blue Sox by scoring three runs in the fifth inning for his third straight win over Abilene. Oscar Reguera pitched seventh-inning ball in winning his fifth game while John Shaw, Abilene starter, walked nine batters and his mates committed four errors. Plainview scored nine runs in the fifth inning of the second game. Catcher Bob Melton's three-run double was the big blow in that inning and enabled Ed Arthur to take his sixth win. Rookie John Coddington stopped Plainview with a five-inning shutout. John Radebaugh of Lubbock limited Amarillo to seven hits in the nightcap, which the Hubbers won with two runs in the fifth. Frank Kempa of Amarillo and E. C. Lester of the second baseman, got in a fight in the second game when Leslie blocked Kempa on a doubleplay attempt. Scores by innings: (1st game) Amarillo 000 200 0-4 7 3; Lubbock 001 300 1-5 4 1. Locke and Goff; Wise and H. (2nd game) Amarillo 002 000 0-4 7 3; Lubbock 040 020 0-8 7 3. Time Running Out On Bronx Bombers

NEW YORK, June 10—UP—Time is running out on the New York Yankees in their determined bid to swing a deal that might help win a sixth straight pennant and Manager Casey Stengel is just about reconciled to going along with what he has. In each of the past five world championship seasons the Yankees had only to wield the big bankroll, place a few expendable players on a trading market, or call up talent from their extensive farm system in order to get the man they needed for the pennant drive. But this year it's different. The farm teams have little or nothing in the way of help. And American League rivals are reluctant to give up players that may aid in prolonging the Yankee monopoly another year.

Three Harlingen Players Fined

BEVILLE, Tex., June 10—UP—Three Harlingen baseball players pleaded guilty via a pre-dawn telephone call Wednesday to a charge of resisting arrest so they could get to temple for a Big State League game. Police Chief Roy Ginn identified the trio as Keith Carpenter, John Margalier and Rene Urbanovich. Ginn said they resisted two police officers who told them to quiet down in a Beville cafe about 3 a.m., Wednesday. An altercation followed the argument. After pleading guilty, the athletes paid fines of $10 each and proceeded on to Temple.

Haddix Hurls Cardinals To Series Win Over Dodgers, 3-0

By CARE LUNDQUIST
The St. Louis Cardinals wondered if still new terrorists were in store for them Thursday in St. Louis, where first they were brought back to earth by "the Man" and "the Moon," then mauled out of their undeposited hold on first place by the Kitten. It amounted to two-way mayhem. Harvey Haddix, the little fellow they call "Kitten," took over Wednesday night and in a quiet but lethal manner, silenced the Dodgers with a three-hit, 3 to 0 shutout that gave him his ninth victory and his seventh in a row. It kept him tied with Bob Keegan of the White Sox for the major league pitching lead. Keegan also won his ninth last night, 5 to 4 over the Athletics. The Giants, capitalizing on the one-two punch delivered by the Cardinals, moved into a first-place tie with the Dodgers at Milwaukee on Johnny Antonelli's 4 to 3 seventh-inning win over his old Braves' team mates. The National League race was tightened all the way as third place Philadelphia moved to within two games of the top with a 4 to 0 and 14 to 6 victories at Chicago and the fifth place Cards who are 4 1/2 games out of the lead, moved to within half a game of fourth place Milwaukee. Cincinnati, only 8 1/2 games out of sixth place, kept pace with a 4 to 3 triumph over Pittsburgh. In the American Chicago stayed on top by a game with its victory by Keegan. Cleveland was right behind with a 1 to 0 five-hit triumph by Mike Garcia over Washington. The Yankees stayed 4 1/2 games behind in third by beating Detroit, 5 to 1, and Boston edged Baltimore, 7 to 0. The Dodgers had a 10-game winning streak when Stan (the Man) Musial and Wally Moon cracked them up by batting in four runs apiece in a 10 to 3 victory. Haddix followed through by winning his seventh game in a row and becoming the first lefty to beat the Dodgers this season. Jaibonski Leads Batters Ray Jaibonski set the hitting pace this time, taking over the NL

Lou Nova Says Charles Will Beat Rocky

GROSSINGER, N.Y., June 10—UP—Former heavyweight challenger Lou Nova predicted Thursday Rocky Marciano will beat Charles Ezzard Charles in a week from Thursday night at Yankee Stadium. Nova, of Los Angeles, who was stopped by Joe Louis in the sixth round in 1941, was positive exchange Ezzard will be the first man to recapture the heavy crown. "I don't see how he can miss," said big 37-year-old Lou. "Rocky is wide open to left hooks and Charles is a specialist with that punch. He has much more speed and power in his left than Willie Wilson. And Wilson nails Rocky four or five times in every sparring session. Wilson is a capable young Negro sparsmate from Providence, R.I. He gives the champion his best workouts here in the hangar at Grossinger air strip. Lou criticized Rocky's handlers for getting him the "wrong kind of sparring partners." He said Rocky should be working with fast, smart boxers instead of with "guys who war with him in every round and are easy to hit."

Collegiate World Series Starts Today

OMAHA, Neb., June 10—UP—The NCAA baseball tournament, the "world series" of campus baseball, opened Thursday with all eight teams scheduled for first round games in the double-elimination play-off system. A strong Arizona team that has played more games than any of the other seven contestants and Big Ten champion Michigan State were favored in the opening. Michigan State met the University of Massachusetts at 11 a.m. Arizona was to play Oregon at 2 p.m. Arizona, which clinched its district title three days ago at Greeley, Colo., is making its first appearance in the finals here. Oregon swept the Pacific Coast eliminations to gain a berth. Hot, humid weather with a threat of showers or thunderstorms was the weather outlook for the 14-game series which is scheduled to end next Monday. Defending champion Michigan lost out in the regional play-offs. In the night games Oklahoma A&M meets Rollins College of Florida, and Big Seven champion Missouri takes on Lafayette College of Easton, Pa., the only 1953 finalist team which again survived district eliminations. Coach John Kobs of Michigan State has a team with a 3.17 batting average to start against the darkhorse Massachusetts squad, which won the New England tournament. The cowboys from Tucson have won seven of their last eight games, including an 11-inning victory over Colorado State Monday to qualify for the trip here. The four winners will meet Friday while the losers clash in lower bracket play. Wednesday's winning play will toss out the first ball before the Missouri-Lafayette game to officially open the series. Major league scouts joined fans to watch the collegiate stars perform in Omaha's municipal stadium. Tennis Match Cancelled BIRMINGHAM, Eng., June 10—UP—The scheduled men's singles title match between Tony Trabert of Philadelphia and Vic Seixas of Philadelphia in the Priory Lawn tennis tournament Wednesday was called off because of rain. The doubles final, which was to have pitted Trabert and Seixas against Mark Overy and Jeff Robson of New Zealand, also was cancelled. Read The News Classified Ads

Capot, Pill Rollers Only Unbeaten Teams In Kid Baseball Leagues

Following their usual Wednesday layoff, the Pampa PONY and Little League will return to action today. Three games are on tap, one in each of the three leagues. Scheduled to play today are Elmer's and Pampa Druggist in the PONY League; Hoffman Oil and Cabot in the Eastern Little League; and Utility Oil and Your Laundry in the Western Little League. Tuesday's game pitting Elmer's and First National Bank that was called after three innings will be replayed next Saturday at 6 p.m. The Pampa Druggist team is the only undefeated nine in the PONY League. The Pill Rollers, managed by Dr. Nick Kadinger, won their first two starts before playing Kiat to the 7-7 deadlock. Fans attending the PONY and Little League games are urged to return all foul balls and home-run balls to the playing field. It has been noted that some of the spectators have been keeping the balls hit over the fence which is slowing down the progress of keeping the leagues going. ## Ex-Major Leaguer Sam Hale Enjoying Role As A Golf Pro

By ED FITE
MEMPHIS, Tex., June 10—UP—Sammy Hale wasn't much of a golfer during his decade of major league baseball, but at 37 the former Philadelphia Athletics' star is having the time of his life as a golf professional.

Actually, Hale says he still isn't much of a golfer since "if I have a wonderful round, I might shoot a 76," but he's having pretty fair luck teaching others how to play the game at the Memphis Country Club.

Hale, tanned, muscular and about as spry as when he was Connie Mack's $75,000 pride and joy at third base disclaims any of the credit, but his 21-year-old son—Tommy—has developed into quite a links star.

Tommy, a junior at Hardin-Simmons University at Abilene, Tex., won the NAIA individual national championship with a record 13-run round at 67 in the same competition last week.

But, Hale beams with even more pride about the prospects of another son, 14-year-old Richard, who he says already is booming 275-300 yard tee shots at that tender age.

"Give him a couple of years and he'll be pretty salty," the amiable former infielder says.

Hale isn't disappointed that his kids didn't follow in his diamond footsteps.

"They just happened to grow up around a golf course instead of the sandlots like I did," Hale said.

"The boys (he also has two girls) show signs of being adept at baseball, but there just aren't any teams for them to play on."

Hale, a professional for four years, got into the ranks by a rather devious route.

After 10 years in the majors with Detroit, the Athletics and the Browns, he drifted down through the minors to a semi-pro baseball job with the Phillips Petroleum Co.

"There wasn't enough work for us to do around the refineries, so to earn my pay I helped out on the company-owned golf course at Fortger in the Texas Panhandle," Hale said.

"It was really a greenskeeper as much as anything else, but after sticking around the course for six years I kinda absorbed the angles that went with the pro's job."

He then took his first club pro job four years ago at Shamrock, Tex., then moved here a year ago.

Bryant Says Loss Of Four Boys Will Hurt

COLLEGE STATION, Tex., June 10—UP—Texas A&M football coach Paul (Bear) Bryant faced a bigger rebuilding job than ever Thursday after four key players were ruled ineligible for belonging to secret societies in violation of college rules.

Bryant, who moved from Kentucky to become Aggie mentor as successor to Ray George, said the loss of the four players "will have a telling effect on our team next fall."

"Official notification was received Thursday that certain members of our football team will not be readmitted to Texas A&M College this fall and therefore will be lost for the 1954 football season," Bryant's statement said.

"Personally, I am very much in sympathy with those affected, and realize that losing them will have a telling effect on our team next fall. Nevertheless, in my opinion, an unnecessary obstacle has been removed, for whether good or bad, nothing should be present that in any way could affect one's loyalty to the team or the college."

The four players were reported to be Co-captain Norbert Ohlen-dorf, a two-letterman tackle, and end Bill Schroeder, both of Lockhart; guard Ray Ebert of San Angelo and halfback Billy Pete Huddleston of Iran. The four and 13 other students were placed under indefinite suspension for alleged membership in a secret fraternal organization.

Question: With two out and a runner on first base, the batter hits the ball into the center field bleachers. The ball rebounds into the field of play, the center fielder catching it on the rebound. The runner who was on first, thinking that the ball did not go into the bleachers, takes a look as he rounds third base, sees the center fielder catch the ball and throw to the infield. Almost halfway to the plate, he runs direct to his dug-out on the third base side. The batter rounds the bases and touches the plate. What happens?

Answer: The batter is out for passing a preceding baserunner. No score.

INSIDE BASEBALL for Little Leaguers

By MICKY McCONNELL
Director of the Brooklyn Dodgers Baseball School

DON'T LOOK AT THE BALL AFTER YOU HIT IT. START RUNNING TOWARD FIRST BASE THE MOMENT THE BALL LEAVES YOUR BAT.

WHEN ROUNDING A BASE, MAKE AS SHARP A TURN AS POSSIBLE, HITTING THE INSIDE CORNER OF THE BASE AND LEANING TOWARD THE PITCHER'S MOUND.

RUN ON YOUR TOES AND STUDY THE ARM ACTION AND STRIDING OF TRACK SPRINTERS TO IMPROVE YOUR SPEED. 6-5

EVERY TRACK STAR KNOWS THAT YOU CAN'T RUN FAST IF YOU DON'T LOOK WHERE YOU'RE RUNNING. Yet such an outstanding baseball authority as Barney Shotton believes that the most common mistake in major league baseball is that of the batter hitting the ball and then watching to see where it goes as he circles the bases. He may lose two strides going to first base by watching the ball.

You run fastest in regular stride, so never break stride to jump at a base. As you round the bases, hit the inside corner of each bag as you turn the corner. Dipping your left shoulder will help you make a sharp turn. You will lose more time changing stride to touch a base with one foot all the time than you will in hitting the base with the foot that comes to it in a normal stride.

Remember that a straight line is the shortest distance between two points in baseball, too.

As Tribe, Padres Split Burns Hits 3 HRs, Bats In Nine Runs

By UNITED PRESS
Rube Burns, a barrel-chested Texas League old-timer, slugged three home runs and knocked in nine runs in a doubleheader Oklahoma City split with the league-leading San Antonio Missions Wednesday night. San Antonio took the first game, 9 to 4, and Oklahoma City won the second by the same score.

Burns, at 34 one of the oldest players in the league, pounded a two run homer in the sixth inning of the first game, and slammed two in the nightcap, both coming with two men on base.

By splitting the twin-bill, San Antonio's lead was trimmed to a game and one-half over the Fort Worth Cats, who beat Beaumont, 1 to 0, in other games. Tulsa scored 14 runs for the second straight night to beat Houston, 11 to 6, and Shreveport defeated Dallas, 5 to 5.

Four-hitter by Paynich
Calvin Felix's home run, his seventh of the season and second in two nights, was Fort Worth's margin over Beaumont as Cat pitcher Rube Paynich pitched an air-tight four-hitter for his third shutout stint in a row. At that, Paynich had his hands full in beating Mike Clark, who gave the Brooklyn farmhands only four assties.

Bertie Groth's fine relief pitching in the nightcap held San Antonio in check as the Indians broke a 5-all tie with five runs in the eighth. Frank Kellerl homered for San Antonio and Joe Damato got a circuit clout for Oklahoma City in the second game, besides Burns' two homers.

Mike Latta's grand slam homer in the second inning started Tulsa to its 14-6 win over Houston. Willard Schmidt of the Butts, who was unbeaten in nine decisions until the Oilers shelled him Tuesday night, relieved starter Tony Stathos and committed four wild pitches, three in one inning to come within one of a Texas League record.

Shreveport Wins Slugfest
Joe Macko, Oiler first baseman, drove in three runs with his 12th homer of the year and a double. Fred Marolewski homered for Houston.

Shreveport won a slugfest from Dallas as each team collected 11 hits. Shreveport starter Doyle Lade, although reached for 10 hits and five runs in seven and a third innings, was the winner.

New engine power! New operating economy!

New Chevrolet Trucks... do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression engine power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum road speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability cut your time per trip.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground to make loading and unloading faster and easier.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you can forget about clutching and shifting—forget this proved, economical automatic transmission is optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton models.

You save on operating costs. The "Thrifmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer. For example, there are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay—and they never stop as long as you own a Chevrolet truck. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks.

Senate Side Show Is Used As Classroom By Scientists

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The philosophers and the psychiatrists and the psychoanalysts — along with millions of other Americans — have been watching and listening and reading about the great U.S. Senate's investigation of the monkeyshines over Army Pvt. G. David Schine.

These scientists, whose specialty is the mental life and capacity of individuals, have a special interest in cases like this. They see things in these daily, sustained disclosures of human behavior that ordinary individuals may miss. This show is better than a long series of sances with the patient on a psychiatrist's couch, revealing the subconscious mind.

There may be some highly interesting scientific papers prepared on the mental processes of the various principals engaged in this public show — after it is all over. For the present, one distinguished analyst, who for obvious reasons does not wish to be identified, has called to the attention of this writer some significant passages from a best-selling popular work in this field which put the whole business in perspective.

This book is Dr. Harry A. Overstreet's "The Mature Mind." First published in 1949, it has since then gone through 25 editions and sold over half a million copies.

Dr. Overstreet was formerly head of the department of philosophy at City College, New York, but he writes simply and with great understanding.

The current Senate hearings weren't even dreamed of when he wrote the manuscript for "The Mature Mind." But printed below, with the permission of the publisher, W. W. Norton & Co., are a few paragraphs which fit the present situation like a glove and may help analyze some of the principal characters involved.

In the middle of the book, Dr. Overstreet declares: "... politics has, by common practice, become

General Fly Becomes New Man 'On Spot'

By CHARLES M. McCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst

What happens in the Indo-China situation from now on will depend to a great extent on five - star French Gen. Paul Henry Ely.

The diplomats in Geneva may talk about a cease - fire. But Ely is the man on the spot.

He has been given the job of whipping the French Union forces in Indo-China into shape and turning the tide quickly and radically against the Communist rebels.

If Ely can do that, the entire situation in Southeast Asia may be changed for the better.

Effect on Intervention

His success — or failure — in the next few weeks will have an effect on the growing debate whether the United States ought to intervene in Indo-China. It will have an effect also on the Southeast Asia security pact which the United States is trying to negotiate.

It was a major move for France to send its chief of staff to Indo-China at this moment.

First, it was a major move at a critical time in a campaign to replace as commander in chief Gen. Henri Eugene Navarre, who was sent to Indo-China one year ago. But Ely also replaces Maurice de Jean as French high commissioner, and thus he will be in complete command politically as well as militarily.

May Have Surprises

Ely arrived in Saigon, where the French high command maintains its general headquarters, Tuesday — five days after his appointment. Dispatches say he is expected to go north to Hanoi and assume personal command there, where the rebels threaten a full - scale attack in the Red River Delta.

It is likely that, when he gets there, rebel commander in chief Vo Nguyen Giap may be in for some surprises.

Ely is regarded as a first rate strategist and tactician. At 57 he is a veteran of both world wars. He was still in his teens when he went to war in 1914 with his class at St. Cyr, the French West Point. His right arm was crippled by a wound in World War II.

Beating Underground Man

He was one of the most daring of French underground fighters after the collapse of France in 1940. He used to go back and forth between occupied France and Britain and he had many narrow escapes.

It is because Ely's political acumen is respected that he was made high commissioner in Indo-China as well as commander in chief.

He visited Washington on a combined military and political mission only last March. That visit, in a successful bid for more American arms aid, was based on the possibility — if not the probability — that the Geneva conference would fall to bring peace in Indo-China. The conference has not yet failed, though it has bogged down. The diplomats in Geneva will be watching Ely's moves closely while they talk on.

acts in all areas of his life, much as we are all permitted — or even encouraged — to act in the political area. As though we had set this area aside as a place for letting off steam and venting our otherwise pent-up hostilities, we put the basic ordering of our life at the mercy of our less mature emotions.

Quoting G. B. Chisholm, Dr. Overstreet repeats the observation that, "so far in the history of the world there have never been enough mature people in the right places."

Great Britain did not give up some of its territorial claims in Michigan until 1796, 13 years after the close of the Revolutionary War.
