NOW YOU CAN TELL 'EM OFF

A system of answering the noisy blasts of any annoying motorist you happen to meet has been devised. When the person behind you starts to blow his horn without a letup, just wave the appropriate sign. You can demand "Quiet" (right) and, depending on how he responds, you can tell him "Thanks" or the nosethumbing brush-off. The signs were first demonstrated in Detroit. (NEA Photo)

Red Farmers

One of the best of the national TV programs recently showed a motion picture film taken in Communist East Germany. The cameraman, who made the film at enarmous personal risk, had escaped with his family

The film amounts to a grim exposure of the material and spiritual degradation of the people that is the hallmark of this and all other communist "workers' paradises." And it shows, for better than words can describe, the incredible low living and working standards imposed in the police states.

One series of scenes in the film should be of excepflanal interest to American formers. A large piece of machanized form equipment, which, like practically everything else, is under government control, is brought into a village. The local farmers make a major celebration of the occasion, out of gratitude to the authorities who are graciously giving them the temporary services of the machine. For a brief spell they will enjoy the wonderful boon of mechanical power. The rest of the time, of course, they must do the work with their own backs and arms, aided by a few undernourished

Here in America, first-class equipment is regarded by farmers as a basic necessity. They own it and they use it as they choose. It has resulted in more production accompanied by enormous drops in the amount of human and animal labor required. It is a bulwark of agriculture's earning power and living standards. It has been largely responsible for the transformation of farming into a business. What we should never forget is that it, tike all other tools we use, is a fruit of the free enterprise system which is the source of our strength and wealth.

Our Heritage

A thousand years from now, when the school kids open thair history books, what will they read about the United States of America?

Will the historians have chosen our massive wealth as the chief national characteristic? Or will they have looked below the glittering surface to see the philosophical foundation of freedom and individual importance that our country is built upon? If they do, they will see that the superior productiv-Ity and intricate organizational skills, of which America has more than any other country, are not the product of a superior national Intelligence Quotient -- nor of superior geography or resources. Instead, they grow out of the freedom of every person to try his hand and brain at any problem that he fancies.

They will see that, in a free country where every man is judged on his own individual character and ability. the best will be permitted to achieve and thus raise the level of all. And it will be obvious that business and manufacturing techniques have come to be judged in

The United States will be remembered for its freedom - not its wealth. Because freedom is the more important and, historically, the harder to find.

Let's Get Out Of The UN

The reason so many people believe in the United Nations is that nost people believe that it is a on justice. Anything, of course,

It seems to me what most people fail to see is that the United Nations cannot promote peace because it is a violation of moral law. We cannot get the opposite result from the means we use. In other words, like begets like.

and promoting peace is popular,

The real reason we cannot promote peace by the United Nations is that the United Nations is based on aggression. It is based on initiating force. It is based on involun-tary human relations. It is, in short, based on might makes right-that the end justifies the means, It is a violation of the Golden Rule and we cannot have peace by violating the Golden Rule. Now, just how does the United Nations violate the Golden Rule? It violates it because it makes individuals join and support movements against their will. And anything that coerces people to do things that they think are mor-ally wrong cannot create good will. The only way we can promote peace is to develop and increase the good will in men's hearts,

Another Taxing Unit The United Nations, in short, is based on taxation, and taxation is a form of coercion, Its aim is just another taxing unit. It is hard to conceive how we can develop individual responsibility by adding another overall government.

The best way of promoting peace is by example. The United States was on the road to promoting peace before it passed immigration quotas and made class legislation discriminating against several races. If we in the United States want to promote peace, we should do it by example. We should improve our government so that other people would see the advantages of having a government based on the ideologies set forth in the Declaration of Independence that "all men are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights" and "governments derive their just powers: from the consent of the governed" and not the consent of the ma-

Actually, Theis' department handles two types of film. There are filmed sequences, which fit directly into a program. And then there are shots for rear projection (called RPs), in front of which live actors stand and do their bit. The sunrise-sunset-moonlight scene is an RP strip.

They do sequences for integration into shows which, Theis says, even Hollywood wouldn't tackle. He talked about the opening for the coming Dorsey Brothers prothe coming Dorsey Brothers pro-gram, It'll show a man going into a theater — buying a ticket, walk-ing through the lobby, handing it-to the ticket taker, going to the balcony, finding a seat, sitting in it, and finally focusing on the stage, This sequence will run two solid minutes and was taken in one continuous shooting. continuous shooting.

"If you asked a Hollywood man to do that." Theis says, "he'd say you were out of your mind. They just wouldn't tackle it. We did." Eventually, he thinks, the film networks will out-spectacular Hollywood's efforts — they'll utilize special effects, trick photography, and the whole bag of cinema tricks. This will enable TV to stick to the better live program, yet

Aztec Calendar

Not A Calendar

Mexico city, July 1s — UP—
The tamous "Aztee calendar" is not really a calendar but instead an atronomical table used to measure the movement of planets, a Mexican historian claimed Monday.

The historian, Raul Noriega, said his studies convinced him the calendar, also known as the "sun stone," was designed by the Aztecs to trace the sky-paths of planets, most international bridges were replaced with temporary structures, and most of the flood ebys.

He said the earvings on the stone

Inspections on the Aztec calendar have puzzled researchers for almost 400 years. The massive stone, which is housed in a mu-seum here, is considered a major tourist attraction.

Flood-Stricken Rio Grande

He said the earvings on the stone match modern calculations for the movements of the planets Mercury, Venus, Mars, Jupiter, Saturn and the moon.
