Two new huge supermarkets will be built in Pampa by Ideal Food stores in the near future. Store officials completed transactions for sites for the new stores, according to Tom Wortham, Liberal, Kan., vice president of the company.

News this morning that each store would be of the most modern design, although plans have not yet been drawn. Each store will have about 15,000 square feet of floor space. Both stores will provide a large parking area for customers.

COURT HOUSE

four-wire electrical system was superior to the three-wire.
Other firms bidding on the mechanical part of the Court House renovation with their base bids and alternate (automatic) bids were Brown and Hinkle, Pampa, $7,735, $1,900; L. H. Sullins Plumbing, Pampa, $8,700, $800; and Bill Marsh Plumbing, Pampa, $9,222, $1,812.40. Only other bidder on the electrical part was Electric Supply, Pampa, $4,400, for a four-wire system.
Maguire told the court the county would be able to take care of the expense, probably out of its permanent improvement fund alone. Putnam explained the difference between the two automatic mechanical systems which were bid on. (The other, which would cost $5,000-$7,000 more according to the bids, would be a central compressor which supplies air.) The thermostat method he labeled an "economic solution."
Relatively little maintenance work has been done on the Court House building in its 24-year history, it was reported at the commissioners' court session.

Frank Evans Funeral Slated

FORT WORTH, June 17 (UP)—Funeral services will be held Friday morning for Frank G. Evans, 57-year-old Fort Worth newspaperman who died in a hospital Wednesday night.
His health had been failing many months. His last newspaper job was that of courthouse reporter for the Fort Worth Press. He left the Press a few years ago and since then had handled political campaigns and had done some publicity work.
Survivors, besides the widow, include two sons, Frank Jr. and Billie, both of Corpus Christi; a brother, Earl of Waco; and three sisters, Mrs. Clint C. Kinsey, Fort Worth; and Mrs. Lillian Porter and Mrs. F. Ruby Nolan, both of Houston.

ROYAL FOURSOME—Tops with the Duke and Duchess of Windsor are their pet dogs, Trooper and Disraeli. They are shown aboard the Queen Elizabeth in New York City, shortly before sailing for England.

Former Hotel Site

The Gillespie street site was owned by Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson. The American hotel and apartments now occupy the site. Five 50-foot lots are included in the Francis street property now occupied by residences, which will be moved.
The American hotel property transaction was handled by E. E. Ferrell and E. H. Ousley, real estate agents, while the other transaction was handled by Loyse Caldwell, who owns one of the houses on the property. Amount of the transactions was about $43,000, the store executive stated.
As to what will be done with the two stores already in existence here, Wortham said he did not know at the present time. He stated that as far as he knew the two new stores would continue to give Gunn Bros. thrift stamps with purchases.
The company now operates 26 stores from Scott City, Kan., through the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles as far south as Amarillo. Other officers are T. J. Blakemore, president; Glenn B. Faulkner, vice president, and J. A. Blakemore, treasurer.

MCCARTHY

portunity by contempt proceedings.
McCarthy apparently meant that some executive branch official, such as an Army loyalty board member, should be called upon to produce confidential loyalty information and cited for contempt of Congress if he refused. Such a citation could lead to a court test of the constitutional issue involved.
Long Precedent
Presidents from George Washington through Mr. Eisenhower have asserted their constitutional right to withhold executive branch secrets from Congress.
Thus, in their final hours, the hearings were sure swung to the constitutional question that has been a major theme in the row—the right of McCarthy and other congressional committee chairmen to receive classified information from the executive branch of government.
McCarthy, dominant figure in the hearings, was the last scheduled witness to face the television lights and questioning senators. The Wisconsin Republican was recalled for a final round of cross-examination.
Summing-Up Speeches
It was likely to be a day of summing-up speeches. Like lawyers resting their cases before a jury, McCarthy, Army counsel Joseph N. Welch and members of the Senate investigating subcommittee were expected to try to get in final pitches as before the acting chairman Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) gave the hearings to a close.
Both sides realized the public—which has watched, read and heard about the proceedings since they began April 22—was turning in an unofficial verdict in the case.
But the official verdict, not expected for another month, will come from members of the subcommittee.
Many are hopeful that the four Republicans and three Democrats on the subcommittee can get together on a single report. He called a closed meeting for Friday to see if they can agree.
Point to Split Decision
But indications pointed to a split decision on some crucial issues. The Republicans are likely to agree on a report but political observers expect the Democrats either to lodge strong dissents or file a separate minority report.
The hearings cost the taxpayers about $59,000. Thirty witnesses gave 7,000 pages of testimony bound into enough volumes to fill a library shelf. Army Secretary Robert T. Stevens, mild-mannered former textile executive, spent the longest time on the witness stand—all or part of 14 days.
The hearings were called after a long-smoldering dispute between McCarthy and Army officials flared into the open in March with explosive charges and counter-charges.
The Army said McCarthy, regular subcommittee chairman, Roy M. Cohn, McCarthy's chief counsel, and Francis P. Carr, subcommittee staff director, used "improper means" to secure favorable treatment for Pvt. G. David Schine, a drafted former McCarthy aide.
McCarthy flared back that the Army held Schine as a "hostage" to try to "blackmail" him out of investigating Communists at Army installations.

They are scheduled to spend tonight in Amarillo and will rest there Friday. Leaving Amarillo Saturday morning, they will spend that night in Panhandle. They average about four miles per hour. The riders will travel over Highway 80 the entire distance from Phoenix to New York and will boost that highway while on their trip. They are accompanied by a truck carrying spare horses. According to O. Lawless, advance agent who was in Pampa today, they change horses each day.
Lewellen told Chamber of Commerce President Clinton Evans today that Texas hospitality "has been better than any other place I have experienced along the line." The hospitality has been getting better since they reached Clovis, N. M., he said.
Sponsor of the trip is Paul Couch of Couch Enterprises, Springerville, Ariz.

Fish Ordered For County Ponds

Fish to stock 51 earthen tanks on 33 Gray county farms and ranches have been ordered by the county Soil Conservation district, according to Jim Strawn, work unit conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service.
The fish—bass and blue gill—were ordered from the Fish and Wildlife Service hatchery in Santa Rosa, N. M., and should arrive here about July 15, Strawn said. They will be used to restock tanks that have not had sufficient water until recent rains.
Strawn pointed out that these fish have been ordered for specific farms and no more can be ordered from the hatchery this year.
Six flags have flown over Texas, those of Spain, France, Mexico, the Republic of Texas, the United States and the Confederacy.

Premier-Elect Faces Defeat

PARIS, June 17 (UP)—Supporters of Pierre Mendes-France joined opponents in predicting the national assembly would defeat his bid to become premier.
The predictions were made as the 47-year-old Radical Socialist prepared to deliver a "shock treatment" speech with which he hoped to gain new support in the divided assembly.
Thursday's session was scheduled to start at 3 p.m. (8 a.m. est.). But at least two recesses were expected after Mendes-France's speech to permit parties to huddle on voting tactics. Some observers believed the critical ballot will not come before late Thursday night or early Friday.
The premier designate was expected to urge a swift end to the seven-year Indo-China war in his bid to form France's 20th postwar government.
He said he will consider himself elected premier only if he gets 314 non-Communist votes in the 527-seat chamber.
The most pessimistic predictions were that he would get only 250. Optimists said 300 or some of his supporters expected him to lose out by anywhere between five and 20 ballots.
A key role in the balloting was held by the 99-member Communist bloc.
Although Mendes-France insisted he will "neither solicit nor accept" Communist votes the Reds indicated they might support him.

Circus Train in Crash
FORT EDWARD, N. Y., June 17 (UP)—The Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus train was held up for four hours Wednesday when two cars were struck by a freight train after they were derailed. A flatcar carrying wagons and a car with circus horses toppled over on a second track in the path of the Delaware and Hudson freight. Cause of the derailment was not determined.

All youngsters living north of the Santa Fe railroad tracks go to Houston where there were 267 of them Wednesday. Those living south of the tracks go to Baker where 84 showed up for the first day.
There has been a change in the swimming pool hours this year. Craig continued. On swimming days, youngsters will be dismissed at 9:40 a.m., giving them 20 minutes to get to the city pool. Swimming will be for one hour, ending at 11 a.m.
A dried-out cigar can be re-steamed by slow, gradual process in a humidifier, taking from 10 days to several weeks.

The Ochliffree Home Demonstration Club was host to the Waka Home Demonstration Club recently.

PWGA To Sponsor Scotch Foursome

The Pampa Women's Golf Association will sponsor a Scotch Foursome tournament Friday at 4:30 p.m. at the Pampa Country Club.
The tournament was planned at a business meeting of the club yesterday.
It was decided at the business meeting to hold two sessions on each "Ladies Day" (Wednesdays) during the summer. The first session will be held at 9:30 a.m. with the second at 5 p.m.
The club held a Scotch Foursome tournament yesterday with only the members taking part. Jo McMurtry and Margie Austin were yesterday's winners.
Tomorrow's Scotch Foursome tournament will consist of both men and women.

Women Charged With Drunkenness

Gray county sheriff's officers today were holding two women on a charge of intoxication, following an accident in Recreation park Wednesday night.
The two women, Mrs. Pat Austin and Mrs. Arva Howard, both of Pampa, were only slightly injured when the pickup truck in which they were riding was driven off a concrete slab at the City lake dam in the park and overturned, officers said.

Three Wartime Leaders Serve Together
In Top Posts of United Defense Fund

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, honorary chairman of United Defense Fund, presents citation to Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, leader of World War II air raid on Tokyo, for his leadership as last year's national campaign chairman of UDF. General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, at right, is present campaign chairman of the Fund.

NEW YORK — Three famous comrades-in-arms of World War II, one of whom is now President of the United States, are serving together in peace time as leaders of the United Defense Fund—an organization financing the activities of USO and four other defense-related agencies.

The three generals, Dwight Eisenhower, Omar Bradley and "Jimmy" Doolittle, were among the principal speakers at UDF's recent leadership mobilization meeting in Washington, D.C., attended by more than 600 volunteer leaders of UDF, Community Chests and United Funds throughout the country.

At the opening session, held in the Rose Garden at the White House, President Eisenhower, UDF's honorary chairman, declared that "the big thing that the United Defense Fund does is to keep the soldier abroad understanding that he is part of America, no matter where he comes from, what may be his city, what may be his race, or his religion—he still thinks, through this kind of effort, primarily of America, and of himself as an American."

Commenting on the services of UDF agencies, General of the Army Omar N. Bradley, UDF national campaign chairman, said that through these services "we here at home, keep in touch with our young people in uniform, we make them aware that we appreciate and have respect for the job they're doing, and we let them know that, meanwhile, we are doing everything we can to strengthen democracy here."

Lt. Gen. James H. Doolittle, chairman of the board of UDF, asserted that "every American serviceman in addition to being fed and clothed and equipped, needs a spiritual and emotional gyroscope, a stabilizer to help him keep his balance in a world of confusion. The United Defense Fund program is designed to meet that basic need."

At the meeting, governmental, industrial, business, labor and religious leaders reported the need for UDF services and urged support of the Fund. The United Defense Fund is supported chiefly through Community Chest and United Fund campaigns held throughout the country. Last year, UDF received approximately $11 million through these drives. Because of unmet needs, however, UDF this year must raise an additional $4½ million.

Agencies included in UDF are USO, United Community Defense Services, American Social Hygiene Association, United Seaman's Service, and National Recreation Association.

It's Your Deal

By OSWALD JACOBY and ALFRED SHEINWOLD
Writers for NEA Service
"How do you decide what to discard in auction pinocle," asks a California reader. "If you decide to discard an ace or a trump, is it necessary to tell your opponents that you have done so?" We'll answer the second question first because it is much shorter. There is no rule that compels you to announce what you have discarded. It is seldom wise to discard a trump, but if you decide to do so you may go ahead and let the opponents guess what you have done.

Ninety-nine times out of a hundred the correct discard is from a short suit. Your object is to avoid losing any tricks at all in a particular suit.
For example, suppose you have the following hand: Spades A-10-K-Q-J-9, Hearts A-10-K-Q-9, Diamonds A-10-J-9, Clubs A-Q-Q. The bid is 430, and you meld the flush, the pinocle and ace, for a total of 800 points. You need 120 points in cards. Which three cards should you discard?

If you think of discarding the two red tens and one other card, you can get rid of nines, red tens and one other card, you can get rid of only one club. The remaining queen of clubs will cost you 24 points, if the opponents play ace and ten on it, as they almost surely will.

If you take the ten of hearts instead of discarding it, you may win a trick with it; and it probably won't cost you more than 24 points even if you lose it.

There is a further argument against discarding the ten of hearts. A long side suit is your best protection against a bad trump break. If the opponent with long trumps has to trump hearts, he will have to use up his trumps and get only the high hearts that his partner was going to make anyway.

If you have no long side suit, the player with long trumps will get an assortment of aces and tens from his partner on the trump tricks that he wins.

Once you decide to save the ten of hearts, your problem is simplified. You must discard the two clubs and one other card. The ten of diamonds is the obvious choice as your third discard.

Now you will save some of the loss in diamonds, and you will lose nothing at all in clubs. With normal breaks, or even with mildy bad breaks, you should make the 130 points.

If you needed only 100 points in cards, you would discard both of the red tens and the nine of diamonds. This would start you off with 20 points and a pretty short diamond holding.

★ EDSON IN WASHINGTON ★

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent
Job Tip For June Grads:
Congressional Investigator

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — A leading citizen faced with delivering a commencement address to a graduating class sure has a tough assignment on his hands this year. What can he tell 'em?

This is the age of science, he may think as he begins to prepare his speech. There is a shortage of engineers. So tell the young folk to carry on their educations and become engineers. Let the graduates build one of those new atomic power plants — or a bigger and better bomb — and the world will beat a path to his door.

Or tell him to become a great scientist like that fellow who built the first A-bomb and later became head of the Institute of Advanced Studies at Princeton. What was his name? Oh, yes — J. Robert Oppenheimer.

No, that wouldn't do. Better leave science out of the speech. Too many people thought scientists were odd — like Albert Einstein. Better get an example with no question of security involved.

Well, there is always public service. No question about that. With so many charges of disloyalty flying around, there should be a great field in government service. So tell 'em to become honest administrators.

Start as a clerk and climb the ladder of success, round by round, making your agency a model of efficiency, free from politics.

Work hard. And in 30 years you'll become as good and as respected as that red-headed fellow who became head of TVA — the Tennessee Valley Authority — what was his name? Oh, yes — Gordon Clapp.

No, that wouldn't do, either. Something in the papers the other day about his not being reappointed. Never explained, either, and they hadn't found anyone as good as he was to replace him. Well, no use telling young people to follow in his footsteps.

But the graduates could be told to go into business. That is always safe. Business people are the best people of the community. Respected. Chance to make money. Make a million dollars. Make a hundred million.

Not just for the sake of becoming rich but to give away. Do some good in the world. Endow colleges and things.

Build public libraries as old Andy Carnegie did. Found research institutes to fight disease all over the world the way the Rockefeller did. Establish trust funds to take over the profits of your business empire, the way old Henry Ford did, so that the income could be spent to make life better in America.

There is no reason why others couldn't establish foundations like these — Foundations? What was that word? What was that in the papers about Congress or somebody down in Washington investigating a list of foundations—Carnegie, Rockefeller, Ford and the others — because they were all in a big conspiracy to plant socialism and other subversive things in the good old U.S.A.?

HITCHHIKER — "Quackers" has a personal chauffeur every time she decides to take a dip, and Mack doesn't mind packing the quacker around. In fact, the lack of Quackers on his back makes him miserable, according to their owner, Fred Hanna, of Fayetteville, Ark.

It wouldn't do to tell members of a graduating class to get mixed up in anything like that. Besides, their parents might not like it. Cross out that stuff about becoming rich for the joy of service to others. Try something else. Steer 'em on to something that won't be investigated.

Sure. That's it. Tell 'em to become investigators. Why wasn't that thought of before? That's where the future lies. Study law. Noble profession, the law. Great chance for public service. Get into politics — to clean it up, of course.

Hillary Aids Companion
DHANKUWA, Nepal, June 17 — UP — St. Edmund Hillary, fully recovered from an attack of malaria, prepared Monday to rush a fellow mountaineer injured on Makalu Peak to London. Hillary, who made history in May 1953 by scaling the world's highest peak, Mt. Everest, walked unaided into this Nepalese military station Sunday with a team of Sherpa guides carrying injured Charles McFarlane in a woden-box seat. Hillary suffered an attack of malaria on Makalu peak after rescuing McFarlane from a 60-foot deep crevasse. Hillary sustained rib fractures saving his companion.

Canoeing Adventure Begins in Canada

Supplies and the canoe are carried on the back by a canoe party making a portage on their 161-mile trip from Plaster Rock to Estherville in New Brunswick.

THE remarkable system of waterways which snake across the length and breadth of Canada marks it as a country designed for the adventurous canoeist. Days, weeks and months can be spent on a single cruise, traveling along the rivers and across the lakes that abound north of the 49th parallel.

In the developed summer resort districts, there are pleasant canoe trips through placid water, every foot of which is charted; or one may journey by Canadian National train to beautiful waters, abounding in fish and well-stocked, with islands providing excellent camping grounds beneath the pines.

In the north, the routes are the same today as when traveled by the voyageurs of the Hudson's Bay and North West Companies more than 200 years ago. A canoe trip over these routes, where the only contact with civilization is a stop at a trading post for supplies or a chance meeting with a Royal Canadian Mounted Police patrol, is America's last challenge to the pioneer spirit.

Harry J. Nevin of Montreal, Manager of the Canadian National Railway's tourist and convention bu-rean, has compiled a route list of 24 suggested canoe trips in eight of the Canadian provinces. These trips range from 60-mile jaunts in Nova Scotia to a 761-mile "canoe voyage" in Alberta. The average distance covered in a day is from 18 to 20 miles, depending on the number of portages and whether the trip is up or down stream.

Outfitters located at or near the starting points, being familiar with the country to be traversed, can supply tent, canoe, suitable equipment and supplies, and also make arrangements for the services of guides. Competent guides are a necessity for those inexperienced in wilderness travel and the navigation of northern rivers.

Easy paddling along the tree-shaded shores of a peaceful lake the breath-taking dash through the white water of wild rapids, portage trails worn by the moccasined feet of generations of Indians, the evening camp with trout and bacon sizzling over the fire, and the soft bed of fragrant balsam boughs, all help to make a Canadian canoe trip an adventure long to be remembered.

Soil Men Split On Penalty For Farmers Who Let Land Blow

AMARILLO, June 17—UP—Soil conservation men split sharply Wednesday night on a proposal to penalize farmers who let their land blow away, but reached substantial agreement on all other points of a soil protection plan advanced by Colorado's Gov. Dan Thornton.

The fight broke out at a wind erosion conference sponsored by the National Association of Soil Conservation Districts, that was attended by more than 300 delegates from Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas, Nebraska and Colorado.

New Kind of Record
The controversial proposal was that farmers who ruin land should be cut off from all government subsidies. In place of it, the delegates voted in favor of a new kind of record—combining land use records with production histories to form the basis for acreage allotments and price support subsidies.

Major objectives of Thornton's proposal that were acceptable included more education for farmers on the economic use of acreage to conform with proper land use, revision of conservation district laws, and increased research on the program, as well as more appropriations for it.

Among those who spoke out against economic penalties was New Mexico State Sen. Ike Morgan of Fortales, who said it would "ruin farmers who are doing out an existence on the only land they can afford." Noel McDade of Clayton, N.M., said it was a "vicious" proposal.

Balance Quick Profits
"No benefits can be derived from enforced regulations," said Zook Thomas of Wellington, Tex. Earlier, Assistant Agriculture Secretary Ross Ristey, a former Oklahoma congressman, told the meeting "the time has come when farmers and ranchers must balance quick profit against long-time survival."

"Too often, the lure of $2 wheat has prevented the farmer from exercising proper soil conservation methods," Ristey said.

Waters S. Davis Jr., League City, Tex., president of the sponsoring association, said a recent survey showed 20 per cent of the Great Plains area had been damaged by wind erosion.

"These conditions can't continue," Davis said. "If they do, there's a desert in the making."
Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas told the conference that it was time soil conservationists began asking the farmers themselves just what was needed and wanted.

Adequate Moisture Helps
Shivers pointed out that adequate moisture is a big help in any soil program. He said he attended a presidential drought conference in Amarillo a year ago, and the region had had only 2.01 inches of rain by the time in 1953.

More than that amount of rain has fallen already this month in the Amarillo area, Shivers said, and what looked like a poor wheat crop has been turned into a $35 million harvest.

Davis said the conference's recommendations would be sent to the 1,000 odd soil conservation districts in the "blow area," as well as to congressmen and senators from the affected regions and Secretary of Agriculture Ezra T. Benson.

There Are Strings Attached . . . One Needs 'Pull' To Join The Top O' Texas Bowmen

STEADY, NOW — Three archers take aim at their targets while receiving the moral support of two other "bow-benders." On the firing line, from left to right, are Reece Field, Jim Carter and Bill Rice. The two expectant watchers are, in the same order, H. E. Ward and Jimmy Rice. (News Photo)

LEARNING THE HARD WAY—It might have been tragedy. But, luckily for this rookie matador in a Mexico City bull ring, it turned out to be comedy. El Toro tossed him, but the only wounds inflicted were to his pride and to the seat of his pants, which were torn.

By ROY BULLIVAN
Pampa News Staff Writer

You may be among the many who think the bow and arrow went out with Robin Hood and the American Indian. If you do, you're in for a surprise, because in the Pampa area are 25 "Robin Hood's." Furthermore they can shoot as well as the legendary archer from Sherwood. The only difference is that they use more modern equipment.

The 25 are members of the Top O' Texas Bowmen, a fairly recent addition to the sports that Pampans are enjoying this summer. Organized a few months ago, the club is already a recognized member of the National Field Archery association.

On their range one mile southwest of Bowers City, the archers loose their arrows at all sorts of fixed targets. For safety's sake as well as to preserve their arrows, the targets are backed with sandbags, which stop the arrow without injuring the feather fletching.

Club officers are R. R. Field, president; Bill Rice, vice president; and Jimmy Carter, secretary. Dues in the bow-benders are only fifty cents a month. Meetings are held in the Boy Scout building at Bowers City every second Thursday of each month.

"Anyone interested in archery is more than welcome to join us," says Field. "If they don't already know how to shoot, we'll teach them everything we know free. We'd be pleased to lend our own equipment to beginners who want to learn the sport."

Classes of bowmen are novice or beginner, archer, expert class "B" and expert class "A."
"Our group is scattered all over the four classes. We're not all experts by any means. New members would fit right into our club," Field continued.

The bow and arrow is by no means a toy, as evidenced by hunting trophies of members. In 1953 members of the NFAA killed 254 deer with their bows and hunting arrows. Most of the hunting bows exert 70 or more pounds of pull and can down animals as large as elk, moose and bear, when used by an expert archer. The locals confine most of their hickory hunting to rabbits, coyotes, squirrels and prairie dogs.

Brando Not Married
HOLLYWOOD, June 17—UP—Actor Marlon Brando explained Wednesday that a report he was married to French actress Denise Darcel was the result of a joke he thought he was pulling on a friend and was not true. The actor said he wrote to the friend, French actor Christian Marquand, and as a joke inserted the statement, "I just got married to Darcel." Rumors of the marriage then began circulating in Paris.

Swiss Law Permits World Arms Trade

Editor's Note: Despite government embargoes, there is a steady flow of arms to iron curtain countries and to countries like Guatemala—which are regarded as under Communist influence. The following dispatch by a U.P. correspondent discloses one of the leaks.

By PETER UEBERSAX
ZURICH, Switzerland, June 17—UP—Switzerland forbids exportation of arms—but a little fine print in the law permits manufacturers to send weapons all over the world.

In the interest of complete neutrality, the government has imposed a blanket ban on shipment of arms to foreign countries. Nevertheless, production of munitions in Switzerland exceeds the amount needed for Swiss armed forces.

And the other day some Swiss munitions turned up in a shipment consigned to Guatemala. The answer is that there is a clause in the arms law permitting export, 1) If the government decides it is "in the interest of maintaining Swiss arms production" and, 2) If the weapons are not going to a war area.

Swiss arms exports always go to a non-war area. But after they get there, re-exporters are able through the "third party" address system, to relay them anywhere. Hence much of the Swiss munitions exports in recent years has ended up in war areas.

The Swiss exports are not large. Total arms production is estimated at about $2 million a year. Four-fifths of the production goes to the Swiss armed forces. The remaining $18.6 million goes abroad.

Switzerland is no neutral it will not even join the United Nations.

Radford Asks Security Pact In Asia

LOS ANGELES, June 17—UP—Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, Thursday urged countries with vital interests in Southeast Asia to form a security pact to halt the spread of communism in that part of the world.

Adm. Radford, speaking at the first session of the national convention of the American Red Cross Wednesday night, declared any policy of "passivity" accepting the Communist threat in Southeast Asia, and said it was time for possible collective actions.

He did not advocate directly that the United States should offer military aid in Southeast Asia to stem communism, but said "a Communist Southeast Asia would be a threat to many."

The admiral scoffed at Red China's claim that it is seeking an "Asia for Asia," saying it actually seeks a "Red Asia for Asia" as part of a long-term Communist dream of "one big Red world."

Southeast Asia is of special strategic importance because it is astride the best sea and air routes between the Pacific and South Asia and is the gateway to South Asia and Indonesia, he said.

Communist control of that area, he added, would have "repercussions on situations in other parts of the world, including Europe, almost beyond calculation."

"In a world menaced by power-hungry aggressors, there are certain positions and issues which free nations must show themselves willing to defend with firm measures; diplomatic measures where possible, and military measures if necessary when all others have failed," he said.

Moscow to Be Burned
HOLLYWOOD, June 17—UP—David O. Selznick, who burned down Atlanta, Ga., for "Gone With the Wind," said Wednesday night he intends doing the same thing with Moscow, Russia, in a film version of Tolstoy's "War and Peace." The noted producer, inactive in motion pictures for several years, said he considered "War and Peace" as having the same story for the movies that he found in "Gone With the Wind." He said the Tolstoy novel was ideal for the new large-screen processes.

Arthur's Desk
SCHENECTADY, N. Y.,—UP—A desk used by Chester A. Arthur before he became president in 1881 has been donated to Union College by the Albany County Historical Society. He was graduated from Union in 1848.

The number of television stations in the United States has increased from 125 in 1953 to 328 in 1954, reports the 1954 Encyclopaedia Americana Annual.

Retirement Benefits Upped

WASHINGTON, June 17 —UP— President Eisenhower Wednesday signed a bill increasing Social Security retirement benefits of about 26 percent to an average of $24 a month. The increase will cost the government $385 million in 1954, when about 120,000 workers are scheduled to be covered by the law.

For this reason, Mr. Eisenhower suggested that Congress try to find the most equitable means for the railroads to finance the extra benefits. The new law makes the added benefits retroactive to 1951.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE One Bad Play Leads To Bridge Disaster

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

South couldn't open today's hand with a bid of two no-trump, since that would show 22-24 points with all suits stopped. South had only 21 points, and the spade suit was very much unstopped.

When North could respond with one spade, however, South had to come out from behind the bushes. North could be counted on for a spade stopper with a count of at least 6 points. Hence all suits would be safely stopped and the combined count would be at least enough for game. South's energetic leap to three no-trump showed his immense strength.

The contract was quite reasonable, but South should have been defeated. He made his contract because East is the sort of player who likes to trust to his instinct rather than to scientific play.

West led the jack of diamonds, and South won and led a spade of dummy's king. West played the six of spades, and East very properly held off. Declarer successfully finessed the queen of clubs and led his other spade towards dummy's queen. West followed suit with the eight of spades, and East consulted his instinct once again.

It was a bad day for instinct, or perhaps the wind was blowing from the wrong direction. At any rate, East held up his ace a second time. This was a serious mistake.

South took a second club finesse and then clanked down the ace of clubs. He wound up with ten tricks: four clubs, three diamonds, two spades and the one heart.

It had had been scientific, he would have known that West held three spades and that South could therefore hold only two. (If West

Ever-Shaky French Republic Girds For Trouble In Colonies

By CHARLES M. MCCANN
United Press Foreign Analyst
France is facing more trouble in its colonial empire.
The demand of Prime Minister Jawaharlal Nehru that France give up its four tiny settlements along the coast of Southern India could develop into a crisis.
If there is one thing France does not need right now, it is a new crisis. It is plagued by a cabinet crisis in France itself and by crises in Indo-China, Tunisia and Morocco.
Increasingly Insistent
Nehru's demand for the four settlements — Pondicherry, Karikal, Yanam and Mahe — is getting increasingly insistent.
Ever since India attained its independence in 1947, Nehru has been trying to get hold of the four French settlements and Portugal's colony of Goa, the only other foreign foothold in his country.
Nehru is an India-for-the-Indians and Asia-for-the-Asians man. He wants to see the end of Western "colonialism" not only in India but in all of Asia and, for that matter, in Africa too.
The situation in the French settlements has been getting more explosive for several months.
There have been serious riots, some led by Communists from India. Pro-Indian groups have attempted to take over control by force.
In the latest development, Nehru protested to the French government Wednesday that French "troops" had been landed in Pondicherry. He demanded that they be withdrawn.
"Troops"
Paris reported that the "troops" were 50 policemen, landed to help maintain order. A Navy spokesman said he will probably be called to active duty for two years after that.

Area 53 Square Miles
Karikal is on the east coast south of Pondicherry. Its area is 53 square miles, its population 70,000. France got it first in 1739 and last in 1819.
Mahe is on the west coast. Its area is 22.85 square miles and its population 18,000. France first got it in 1725 and has had it, the last time, since 1817.

Yanam, north of Pondicherry, is but 5 1/2 square miles in area, with 6,000 people. Only last Sunday, pro-Indians tried to take it over by force.

Snake 'Believer' Dies

Jim Thomas Gifford, 30, a Trenton, Ga., sawmill worker, died of a rattlesnake bite Friday without having received medical attention. He was steadfast to the last that his faith would pull him through.

Navy Calls Lindbergh
SAN FRANCISCO, June 17 — UP — Jon Morrow Lindbergh, 21-year-old son of the famed flyer, has been ordered to the Naval Officers Candidate School at Newport, R.I., the 12th Naval District announced Monday. Lindbergh will take eight weeks of training to qualify for a commission as an ensign. A Navy spokesman said he will probably be called to active duty for two years after that.

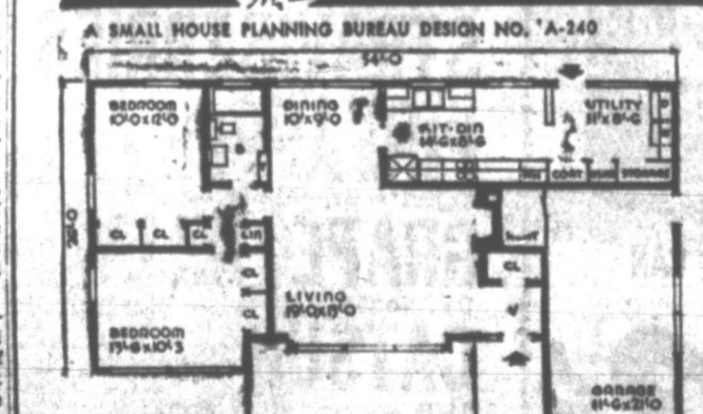

CONGRESS WILL MEET UNDER "NEW" FLAG—Vice President Richard M. Nixon, right, accepts a new 8'x12' American flag from American Legion National Commander Arthur J. ## Colorado Site Scrutinized By AF Brass

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo., June 17 — UP — Ten Air Force inspectors, getting a quiet come-on from every quarter, began a specialized survey of 15,100 acres 11 miles north of here Wednesday to determine whether the mountain-shadowed site is right for the air academy.
Gov. Dan Thornton met the Air Force team, headed by Col. L. J. Eriery, at the start of a bus tour of the whole tract and surrounding landmarks — including the spectacular Garden of the Gods in the lee of the Rockies — Tuesday.
"We believe the location Colorado Springs has to offer" for the $126 million to train 2,500 cadets "is one of inspiration and beauty," Thornton said. "The state government and El Paso county will meet your every need and requirement."
Making Strong Bid
While looking over the other tentative sites near Alton, Ill., and at Lake Geneva, Wis., recently the Air Force inspectors were informed by placard-carrying property owners that they did not want to be displaced by the air academy.
But from Thornton on down, Colorado was making a strong though subdued bid to obtain the installation, which one day will rival West Point and Annapolis as a military college.
The Colorado legislature in a recent special session appropriated $1 million toward purchase of whatever site the Air Force might choose in Colorado, as a gift to the government. Colorado Springs businessmen have promised that if the city is not enough, they will chip in to make up the balance.

The city has pledged to make available from its expanded water facilities an ample supply for the academy, and business and labor have promised Air Secretary Harold E. Talbot full co-operation.
Both Colorado College here and Denver University, 70 miles to the north, have offered the use of their stadiums for air academy athletic events. Colorado College additionally has offered the use of its library to cadets, scientific laboratories "and such other facilities and assistance as we may be able to provide" while the multi-million-dollar academy is abuilding.
Wednesday the inspectors separated and began surveying the ranch land for specialized characteristics.

Fijians Drink Kava ... Hank Finds Cocktail Parties Are Held Around The World

By HENRY McEMORE
KORO LEVU, FIJI — There is no escaping the cocktail party.

No matter where you go in the world you will find men and women gathering in the late afternoon to gossip and grieve.
Fiji is no exception. Mary and I were taking a stroll along a jungle path the other afternoon and before we knew it we were guests of honor at a Fijian version of the cocktail hour.
In Fiji it is known as a kava party, kava being to the natives of these islands what martinis, Manhattan, Scotch and sodas, and Bourbon highballs are to Americans.
The party was in full swing when we came along and were waved in. It was being held in a small clearing, around which were clustered eight or ten thatched bureas, or huts. Spread on the grass were several large straw mats, and on the center one sat the Turaga, or Big Chief, of the village.
The Turaga looked much like a South Sea Buddha. He was a giant of a man with a stomach to match, and wore nothing but a wrap-around skirt of bright cloth. Back of him, seated in a semi-circle, were lesser village officials and half a hundred small boys.
Knowing no Fijian protocol, I could think of nothing to do but hand the chief a package of American cigarettes. From the look on his face, and the way he reached for them, I apparently hit the protocol jackpot.
We were then offered kava, which was dipped out of a huge three-legged bowl and served in half coconut shells. When the Fijian who served us handed us the kava he cried, "Bula!" and then clapped his hands three times.
We later learned that "Bula" is the same as our "Cheers" and "Down the hatch," and that the Four and one-half million dollars was saved by Army installations in Japan during a single three-month period. Biggest savings — $2,500,000 — were reported by Ordnance units. Most of this came from the reclamation and reuse of scrap and salvage materials.

If East had known this, he would have taken the second round of spades with his ace. South would make only one spade trick and would have to give up a club trick sooner or later. He would therefore win only eight tricks, for a one-trick set.

Numerous Flags Flown
WAUKESHA, Wis., June 17 — UP — American flags flew in abundance Monday in this Ozaukee county village, the hometown of the founder of Flag Day, Bernard J. Cigrand, as the tradition that has been honored into National Flag Day in 1954. He had his pupils in nearby Fremont school write essays about the adoption by Congress of the Stars and Stripes June 14, 1777.

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD
By EBERHART JOHNSON
NRA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Hollywood on TV: Roll out the corpses, audiences are having a barrel of fun. They're watching a video point of view.

Cry-baby-gazers are singing the dirge for TV private eyes, but Queen, a late telefilm starlet in the big woodcut derby, believes there always will be room for one—more suspicious blonde, another bloodstain—and one more corpse.

Now sleuthing is, as the famous sudden-death expert, former movie profligate Markov, says:

"In spite of what everybody says, a mystery plot is one of the few things that can be resolved in 20 minutes. You don't need Robert E. Howard to write it, I would rather do a 20-minute mystery well than some great classic that would require 90 hours of rehearsal and would fall because it couldn't be crossed into an hour."

Cross-examination, anyone?

The "suspensions in the closet are out in the living room again, and three big stars, Imogene Coca, Danny Kaye and Berry Sullivan, are blushing.

Years ago, as unknowns, they emceed in a two-reeler, "Dime a Dance."

Now it's on home screens giving them nightmares. You'll have nightmares, too.

Latest eye opener on the importance of TV celluloid:

Film now takes up between 65 and 70 per cent of all TV time! Even the lease of old feature films has risen to new peaks in recent months.

Peter Lawford's advice to the loveless comedy in his pilot telefilm, "Dear Phoenix," is being compared to Cary Grant's early laugh-up celluloid.

Predicts Alex Gottlieb, who writes and produces the show: "He's going to be another 'Lucy.'"

Dennis Morgan and Jack Carson, who emceed in "Two Guys," comedies may repeat for home screens if irons in the fire get hot enough.

Big changes are due in the Ray Milland series. "The slapsstick's going out the window." "Friede of the Family," the Paul Hartman show, loses its sponsor after the summer reruns.

Roy Rogers and Dale Evans' new recording contract with Little Golden and Bell Records will guarantee them an output of 5,000,000 platters a year for the next 36 months. They're the first western stars signed by the recording company.

Aside to Ethel Merman, who better watch: A character named Ethel Merman will flip her lip-pipe at Cecil the Sea Dick Sea Serpent in "Time for Beany."

Guy Mitchell's former Mrs. Jackie Loughery, is now a permanent member of the CBS "Kam Your Vacation" TV sizer.

The grapevine still insists TV comedy star Paul Gilbert is a seven-time loser in the marriage sweepstakes but here's Paul on the touchy subject.

"Seven wives—that's an exaggeration. Maybe the rumor was started by some comic who doesn't like me. I've been legally married only three times."

Diana Lynn should a big "No" to another telefilm producer's offer to give her a "feminine Liberator" build-up. She's still a keyboard white, but prefers straight emoting.

This Has Gotten Go Dept.: A long blank screen waits between scenes of some of the live dramatic hours. On your toes, boys—throw those cues faster.

The Screen Actors' Guild is ready to take quick action if and when telefilms are shown in England over the new commercial network. More payment for actors.

Eve "Our Miss Brooks" Arden, about her 30-acre Hidden Valley ranch home:

"Some dolls get their kicks out of furs and jewelry. I like to wake up and see land—land I own."

Rubert Hutton and Adole Marx will emcee it up in American National's second telefilm soap opera, "My Sister and I." . . . Ron Randall, former movie moter, is now the British equivalent of John Daly on NBC's television of "What's My Line." "It's a lady lawyer role for Jane Haven in "The Artyl Miss Dodger," her filmed show hitting the screens in the fall.

Sheldon (Foreign Intrigue) Reynolds luncheon with five Hollywood agents.

Domestic intrigue.

Shadow of things to come: Rex Allen was offered telefilm series under the Republic studio banner before he left the lot to make one with Gene Autry's company.

Last News See Again
ORLAND, Fla.—UP—Alvertis E. Gray, 65, is back to wearing his old gold-rimmed eyeglasses again. The Record Shop: Sammy Kaye says that nowadays it's tough to find girl vocalists for hand work. "When I audition new girls," he says, "they will ask me one question—'Will I have to travel?'" (Answer—Yes.) But he has a new girl singer he's quite excited about—Mary McCoy.

Mary is a former Buffalo school teacher and soloist with the Buffalo Symphony. Apparently, she doesn't mind traveling.

CBS-Radio's "Glamor," a good Western show as Western shows go, will be a record soon. At least its theme music will be recorded, with lyrics added.

This is "DOOF" month and the "DOOF" national committee, composed of representatives of the automotive industry, hopes the unmarred lines of Merle Brown of Minneapolis will remind car owners to have the dents, scratches and other signs of rugged winter driving removed so they will have more beautiful and longer-lasting cars.

You'll play that on the juke-box by inserting a slug (30-30). Lots of people are confused by two Mercury record labels—one reads "The Gaylords" and the other "Ronnie Gaylord." At the moment, to keep the record straight, there's no connection. Once upon a time, however, there was.

Bert Bonaldi, a man in a flowered weskit, was telling about the whole business. Bert and his cousin, Ronnie Frediansell, began singing together in Detroit. For several years they were a team, calling themselves "The Gaylords" after a Detroit club.

"There were just two of us when we made our first record," Bert says. That was the famous "Tell Me You're Mine" which he made them. Then Ronnie went into the Army, and Bert carried on with the act with two fellows he knew from his University of Detroit days—Billy Christ and Doree Rea.

Suddenly, Ronnie popped up singing by himself, cutting records on his own in the Army. Bert wasn't too happy about that arrangement and the two split up. "The parting," Bert says, "was amicable—sort of."

But now they're both doing well separately, and are still friends.

Bert has a checkered background—which goes well with his flowered vest. Besides being a pre-law graduate, he's an exballplayer. He played through high school and American Legion ball with Cass Michaels, the Chicago White Sox third baseman, and was offered a contract in the Brooklyn Dodger system. ("It's a month, was a bit enough.") He's also acted, and is an expert golfer and bowler.

About his wild west—"I bought it in Philadelphia. It looks like a lamp shade, I know, but I like it." Well, that's what makes horseshoes.

Henry Boye, whose new song, "Call Off the Wedding," recorded by RCA's Sunny Gale, is a real tear-jerker, tells of a funny incident after the number came out. A man was sitting at a bar when the song was played on the juke-box. It begins with a minister's voice saying, "If there be any here who know why this marriage should not take place, let them speak now or forever hold their peace."

Auto Heads Discuss New Body Plant To Emphasize Safety Features

James J. Nance, left, Packard president, and Ray P. Powers, operations vice president, look over an aerial photo of the Detroit manufacturing facility just acquired by Packard Motor Car company for production of its own automobile bodies. Packard plans to emphasize safety as well as design features in its bodies to further strengthen its position in the prestige car field. The move returns Packard to making its own bodies for the first time since 1941.

Packard is taking over the facility, known as the Briggs-Connors plant, from Chrysler Corporation under a five-year lease agreement with an option to purchase. One of the most modern of its kind, the plant occupies a 24-acre tract and contains 700,000 square feet of manufacturing space.

Packard's decision to build its own bodies is the second step in the firm's manufacturing modernization program. Earlier this year the company announced plans to install its manufacture of engines, automatic transmissions and axles into a new multi-million-dollar plant at Utica, Michigan, just outside Detroit. This plant is scheduled to be ready for production operation by the end of the year. Nance said acquisition of the Briggs-Connors plant by Packard for manufacture of its own bodies was directly related to the company's long-range program "to develop new facilities and products in keeping with plans to confine the marketing of our cars to the medium and upper price ranges in the quality car field."

words and then said, "Now he tells me."

Dick's Picks: It's a good week with the new releases topped by the Ames Brothers' best, "Let's Walk and Talk" (RCA) and another great one from Joni James, "In a Garden of Roses" (MGM). Also good: "Climb Up the Wall" (Eydle Gorme, Coral); "There Must Be a Reason" (Frankie Lane, Columbia); "El Relicario" (Gisele MacKenzie, Capitol); "First Romance" (Bob Stewart, MGM); "Almost" (Mary Kaye, RCA); "Kay-Muleta" (Doris Day, Columbia); "The Vamp" (Pee Wee Hunt, Capitol).

Two more Broadway shows on original cast albums—RCA has shows that 5.2 per cent of America's vacation travelers come to Michigan; Researchers said that each vacation party includes $1 persons, stays 12.8 days and spends $286.

Also intriguing is MGM's "30th Anniversary Album," featuring sound-track reproductions from 31 great MGM musical movies, like Leslie Caron singing "Hi-Lili, Hi-Lo."

Mitropolis and the Philharmonic have a handsome rendition of Mendelssohn's Scotch Symphony (No. 3) and Reformation (No. 5) on Columbia; the Robert Shaw Coral sings Schubert's Mass in C, J. S. Bach's "Komm, Jesu, Komm" and three Brahms songs on RCA-Victor.

Wolverine Statistics

Doggone Dude Ranch Inexpensive

By ALINE MOSSY

HOLLYWOOD, June 17—UP—I have discovered a new Hollywood dude ranch which features, for $1.50 a day, a swimming pool, meals, private patios and rooms. Unfortunately, the clientele is restricted to dogs.

The world's only dog ranch is "the Double E," and after looking it over I would be happy to send my dog to Las Vegas and move into the Double-E myself.

Beside the swimming pool is a canopied miniature cabana, by a fire hydrant where a canine guest can lool before trying out the latest dog paddle.

A sign by the pool says, "Not to Be Contaminated by Humans." There's also a cement square where celebrated dogs leave their footprints.

But the crowning glory of the dog ranch is you get a letter from your dog to let you know he's "having a wonderful time."

The letter, on stationery decorated with dog drawings, usually says in childish writing, "Dear folks: I am having a grate time and play with the nicest people. . . . I write the letters while I'm taking each dog on his individual daily romp in the field," explained Edith Kienast, who, with her retired contractor husband runs the ranch.

Some owners write back to the dogs. In many of the private dog rooms hang postcards from the folks saying, "Be a good doggie and we'll see you soon."

The Kienasts bought the ranch for themselves and their nine dogs. Soon they built kennels for friends who wanted to park their pets on the 10-acre estate while they vacationed.

Now the ranch has private rooms in low, wooden stalls bordered by rose gardens for 88 four-footed customers. Most are left by movie big-wigs on location or socialites on vacation. Current guests include poochas owned by Betty Grable and Harry James, Anthony Quinn, Ann Miller, producer Stanley Kramer and television star Mary Shippe.

Besides a room with a covered bed, each dog has his own patio, covered with striped awning, and 40-foot exercise pen. The owner can dictate the menu.

Rig Activity Down Forty-One

DALLAS, June 17 —UP— The American Association of Oilwell Drilling Contractors reported Thursday the number of rigs active last Monday was 41 less than a week ago.

The report, compiled by Hughes Tool Co., said there were 2,681 rigs active June 14, compared with 2,692 on June 7. The number declined in all but three principal areas: North Texas, up 13 to 343; Kansas, up nine to 190, and Oklahoma, up seven to 340.

The biggest decline was along the Gulf Coast, where the number of drill rigs dropped 32 to 561. Other declines included Canada, 13 to 113; West Texas and New Mexico, 12 to 447; Illinois, nine to 135; Pacific Coast, two to 131, and Rocky Mountains and Arkansas - Louisiana - Texas, one each, to 261 and 170, respectively.

In the same week of 1953, there were 2,822 active rigs, the association said.

UN-Boon Or Boondoggle?

EDITOR'S NOTE: On his assignments to the hot news fronts of the world, global reporter Fred Sparks has seen the UN in action all over Europe and Asia. Now back in the U.S. from the front lines of the Far East, Sparks takes you to the UN's headquarters in New York for a frank and searching appraisal of what the United Nations means today. This is the last of three dispatches.

By FRED SPARKS
NEA Staff Correspondent
UNITED NATIONS, New York —(NEA)—Is the United Nations a boon — or a boondoggle?

Everybody has his own opinion about this organization which, among many things, feeds Asian children whose stomachs are swollen with hunger; protects the Tasmanian wolf — and makes Russia pay U.S. income tax.

Surely its original concept — to maintain peace and security — has failed, just as the post-war world has failed. Nations are stocking H-bombs — not goodwill.

But while most people have lost faith, few suggest liquidating UN — though one extreme group thinks this building would make an excellent hospital.

Meanwhile, the political machinery of the UN must be maintained, like a warship in mothballs, for possible emergency use. The citizens of many nations insist to maintain it will probably never be used, but have we a right to question their sincerity?

What few understand is that besides running an international political debating society, the UN directly or indirectly is involved in several wars against disease and stupidity.

Some of these wars look like a boon — some like a boondoggle. If a mighty TV camera could scan the earth it would pick up this kind of footage:

In the tiny mud and clay village of Sachkhera, in India, youngsters line up before a blue turbanned UN field worker to be tested for tuberculosis.

There's a real estate boom in the Quindus section of Afghanistan — six-acre parcels that a few years ago cost $1 are now going for $2000. The reason: UN teams taught malaria control; you can now live there without mosquito netting or quinine.

Outside of Bangkok, in Thailand, UN experts breed fish for hungry stomachs in the Philippines, Indonesia, Malaya, Ceylon and Indo-China. They feature a fish named Tilapia, which resides comfortably in a bathtub, can produce a leaming underwater city yearly. Each female has 400 small fry every 60 days.

In the sleepy tropical hamlet of Plared, in Indonesia, the UN's "Mr. Fixits" have revolutionized the clay pot industry. They streamlined production methods and a year later wages went up 150 per cent.

Some projects involve reports which probably gather dust in a "File & Forget" cabinet.

J. C. Dawes, a British engineer, was employed by a UN agency to tour the U.S. studying garbage disposal.

There is a scheme to preserve vanishing species of birds and mammals, including the Indian Pink Headed Duck and the Tasmanian Wolf.

And UNESCO struggles for the standardization of the musical pitch throughout the world — and to make traffic signs look alike in Peru as well as Feoria.

There are also UN units to needle global trade. A British colony asked for information on how to harness a volcano. And a remote Pacific atoll wanted to know if there is a good shark repellent.

If Panama, for instance, asked how to get rid of its surplus bananas, the UN would engage the right man to study the fruit. He might find a way to make banana skins into lamp shades — and a market in Africa for lamp shades.

The idea is: If you can crush poverty, disease and illiteracy, there's a better chance for eventual peace — if our present generation isn't entirely radio-activated.

Anything that brings people closer together, via trade or traffic signs, might assist. You're less likely to shoot a fellow if he has as much trouble making a left-hand turn as you have.

As might be expected, the Soviet Union and comrade-chums pay a tiny share of the regular budget, and seldom contribute to or cooperate with UN missions described.

The UN says its employees should not pay taxes on UN salaries in their own countries. Every nation pays a Yank $10,000 and he pays our Internal Revenue Department $1000. The UN reimburses him that sum.

The next year the U.S. taxes him on the reimbursement—$1100.

Perryton Gets Rebekah Lodge

PERRYTON — (Special) — A Rebekah Lodge was instituted in Perryton at a recent meeting when Jessie N. Ross, past president of Texas, presided at the ceremony. Skellytown was the initiating Lodge and members of the Pampa Lodge installed the officers.

The officers who were elected were: old grand, Mildred Hudson; vice grand, Sylvia Wilcox; recording secretary, Joya Doffer; financial secretary, Ruby Lee Malaney; treasurer, Leona Bryan; warden, Bertha McNally; conductor, Opal Symons; inside guardian, Lena Sheppard; outside guardian, Ruby Downey; right supporter to noble grand, Ruby Bullman; left supporter to noble grand, Miss Newingham; right supporter to vice grand, Ann Butler; left supporter to vice grand, Eva Fisher; chaplain, Maude Cox.

There are 39 charter members of the Lodge.

Floridaization Approved — CHICAGO, June 17 —UP— The Chicago city council climaxed three years of hearings and debate Wednesday by voting to start Floridaization of the water supply next year. Floridaization is regarded as an aid in preventing tooth decay, but opponents charged it was "poison" and its introduction in the water supply amounted to "mass prescription."

Work Starts On Elevator

PERRYTON — (Special) — The first load of material for the new Equity sub terminal elevator at Twitchell was unloaded last week, and a roadway has been graded to the new site. Excavation of the site is scheduled to start in the near future.

The new sub-terminal elevator is to be of concrete construction with a capacity of 500,000 bushels of grain and the bins are to be of the hexagon design.

Comic Book Report Highlights Meeting

WHITE DEER—(Special)—Mrs. Hoyt Taylor was hostess to the Busy Bee Home Demonstration club in her home recently.

During the business meeting, Mrs. Jay Phillips gave a report on the play-ground equipment which the club is placing in White Deer City Park. Mrs. Phillips stated that all equipment has been ordered. Some of it will be assembled here, while other equipment is to be made by local men.

Mrs. Taylor and Mrs. Carol Pearson were appointed to see the local librarian regarding posters advertising the summer reading program and the children's story hour, which is slated for July.

Mrs. Gene McCormick, president of the club, was elected as nominee for THDA delegate from the Busy Bee club to Carson County council in Panhandle. Mrs. Jay Phillips volunteered to represent the club by attending the cake decorating training meeting to be held soon in the office of Charlotte Tompkins, Carson home demonstration agent at Panhandle. A vote carried for the club to have a marketing committee, for which plans will be discussed at a later meeting.

Mrs. Leon Nicholson was in charge of the program "Comic Books, Blue Prints for Delinquen-

Hospital LVN Group Will Present Benefit

Licensed Vocational Nurses at Highland General hospital will present a party at 7 p.m. Friday in the recreation room of the hospital. The event is open to the public and games will be played. Proceeds will be used for further education of the nurses.

Plans were made for a picnic held in Central City Park, Pampa, later during the week. Members attending the picnic were accompanied by their families. Participating at the meeting and the picnic were Mrs. Mmes. Joe Wheeler, Dale Burch, Hoyt Taylor, C. L. Nicholson, B. O. Bartrand, L. A. Puckett, Carol Pearson, Jay Phillips, and Gene McCormick.

Apartment For Working Girls Offers Privacy And Sense Of Independence

By KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

A one-room "apartment" under the family roof has practical as well as psychological advantages for the young working girl who lives at home.

If she has her sights set on a future career as homemaker (and most girls I know do) she can develop her housekeeping skills and create a nucleus of furnishings for a future home.

Such an "apartment" also affords her the privacy to entertain her friends and some independence from family routine. This is a privilege which most young women feel they're entitled to when they are grown-up enough to hold down a full-time job.

Probably the simplest way to create an "apartment" is to re-

Shower Presented For Jean Cornelius

Miss Jean Cornelius, bride-elect of Ross McElreath of Houston, was honored with a miscellaneous bridal shower recently in the home of Mrs. J. C. McWilliams, 1515 Mary Ellen.

Co-hostesses were Mrs. McWilliams, George Taylor, E. E. Edridge, Roy Chisum, J. W. Robinson and Frank Land.

The honoree was presented a corsage of split white and green carnations by the hostesses. Other honored guests were Mrs. Laura Bella Cornelius, mother of the bride-elect; and Mrs. M. H. Smith of Canadian, grandmother of the honoree. More than 50 guests were present.

Special piano background music was provided by Miss Joan Lane.

Refreshments of frosted punch, cake and nuts were served. The table was covered with a green nylon-cloth over green tulle. A caught at the corners and center with nosegays of lily-of-the-valley. The centerpiece was an arrangement of green daisies and carnations, and white gladioli. It was flanked by crystal holders with white tapers.

Mrs. Roy Chisum presided at the guest register and Miss Lynn Cornelius, sister of the honoree, served the punch.

Harrah Methodists To Present Dinner

The Women's Society of Christian Service of the Harrah Methodist church will present a dinner from 2 to 3 p.m. Friday in the church's fellowship hall. The event is open to the public, and proceeds will be added to the church fund.

The menu will include baked ham, baked beans, potato salad; tomatoes, lettuce, dinner rolls, homemade ice cream, cake, iced tea and coffee.

Shut-ins may have plates delivered and transportation will be provided for those who need it. Anyone desiring these services should call 4-4929. Reservations may be made by calling 4-6322 or 4-3472.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MUREL LAWRENCE
Chip, his mother says, has developed the whining habit. He whines when playmates don't play as he wishes. He whines over TV restrictions, washing and coming to meals.

Complaining Chip takes so much soothing, special attention that his mother is exhausted by his time-wasting demands.

She asks, "Could there be something in me that has developed this whining habit in Chip?"

Yes—another whining habit.

By which I mean that Chip's mother may be as fearful of direct self-assertion as he is. If she wants this small boy washed for supper, she may not go, get him and wash him for supper.

Instead, when he refuses to leave the yard, she's probably used moral condemnation, not action, to get him washed. She may have characterized his opposition with such terms as "bad . . . naughty . . . disobedient."

As a result, Chip is scared of direct self-assertion. His opposition, damned up by his dread of moral judgment, seeps out in a steady trickle of whining complaint.

We often use moral condemnation to whine at children. It gives our fear of direct action toward them an air of respectability.

But Chip is not "bad" because he chooses a course of action in opposition to us. To morally condemn him for his opposition is about as thoughtless a performance as we can put on, for the problems involved in good and evil action are as far beyond his understanding as the theory of relativity is to ours.

At the age of five, Chip is not ready to resolve morality's great problem of duty to himself and duty to his society. His age immunizes him against moral attack for irresponsibility.

So when he refuses to consider others by refusing to come and get washed for supper, we get him washed by washing him, not by moral condemnation. We regard his opposition not as "bad" but as inconvenient.

The more we fear such direct action, the quicker we'll be to use moral condemnation.

Fear of direct action is, of course, fear of our own judgment. We cannot take it toward little children who need it because we doubt its good consequences and suspect we can't deal with its bad ones.

Such an attitude toward action is contagious. Since we have whined with moral words for action from Chip, he now whines for action from the playmate who has taken his ball.

Protect edges of leather heels from scuffs and scrapes by coating them with colorless nail polish. When buying white accessories, remember their attractiveness depends upon their being ever-bright. Check to be sure handbags, jewelry and collars, as well as gloves and scarves, will take to frequent washings.

Be prepared for those moments when something spots your dress in public, by carrying a purse-size spot remover at all times.

COOK'S MOOK

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Sweatened with apricot jam, these tender muffins, served hot, put a new taste thrill into family breakfasts. Mrs. Samuel Capin of Nogales, Arizona, sent us the recipe, along with the one for brown sugar biscuits.

Apricot Muffins
(Yield: 16 muffins)

Two cups sifted all-purpose flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 egg, slightly beaten, 1 cup milk, 1-3 cup thick apricot jam, 1/4 cup margarine (1/2 stick), melted.

Heat oven to 400 degrees F. (hot) Sift the first 4 ingredients together into a bowl. Combine eggs and milk. Add to flour mixture along with the jam and melted margarine. Stir only until the ingredients are blended (about 30 strokes), stopping at the 14th stroke to scrap down the bowl and spoon.

Drop batter into greased muffin tins (measuring 2 inches across the bottom), filling them 2/3 full. Bake 20 to 25 minutes, or until done. Serve piping hot with margarine.

Brown Sugar Biscuits
(Yield: 18 biscuits)

Two cups sifted flour, 3 teaspoons baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/4 cup margarine (1/2 stick), about 1/2 cup milk, 2 tablespoons margarine (1/2 stick), melted; brown sugar.

Heat oven to 450 degrees F. (very hot). Sift flour, baking powder and salt together. Cut in the 1/4 cup margarine with a pastry blender or 2 knives until the mixture resembles corn meal. Gradually stir in milk, using only enough milk to form a soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured pastry board. Knead about 30 strokes. Roll to 1/2-inch thickness. Shape with a 2-inch biscuit cutter. Place on ungreased baking sheets. Brush tops with the melted margarine, and sprinkle with brown sugar. Bake 12 to 15 minutes or until brown.

Serve piping hot with margarine.

One way to keep smart-looking through a rainy spring day is to team up a well-tailored raincoat in a neutral shade with an umbrella and rain hood that are designed for dramatic effect. Hood and umbrella, for example, may be in jewel tones of green or purple, or a dashing leopard pattern.

RUTH MILLET

It should never happen in a marriage, but it frequently does. A man falls in love with a girl, thinks she's the prettiest, finest and wisest girl in the world, and marries her.

Then he starts in to make her feel like a nobody and a failure. Oh, that isn't his aim. But that is what happens when he forgets that she is more than a wife. He forgets she is a person in her own right, the very same person who fell in love with him, partly because he thought she was so wonderful.

When she makes even a minor decision without asking his advice, he manages to find fault with it. When she expresses an opinion, he doesn't really bother to listen. When she wants him to take her out, he acts as though he were doing her a favor.

When an idea of hers proves to be a good one, he promptly forgets whose idea it was.

When she joins a club, he dismisses the meetings as "hen parties"—however worth while the club's work may be.

When she is tired out at the end of a difficult day, he doesn't want to be bothered listening to her troubles.

And, if after this kind of treatment she seems to be unhappy, he decides that there's just no use trying to understand a woman.

Here his wife has everything in the world to make her happy and she just doesn't know how lucky she is—that's what HE thinks.

Presbyterian Women Have Program On Hospitals And Clinics In Africa

One of the highlights of the mer offering was taken for new residences for the native medical assistants at Ilong, Africa. A program on Presbyterian hospitals and clinics in Africa, led by Mrs. E. C. Casey.

There are 11 such hospitals and clinics in Africa, the women were told. Native nurses and medical assistants, trained in Africa, are used in the hospitals. Natives come as far as 1,000 miles for operations, Mrs. Casey advised. In the clinics, Bible primers by Frank Lauback, in the natives own language are sold, she added.

Following the program, a summer offering was taken for new residences for the native medical assistants at Ilong, Africa. A single home costs $2,000 and a two-family home costs $3,000, Mrs. Casey reported.

The devotional, "What Makes Me Strong," was presented by Mrs. E. J. O'Brien. The points she listed were prayer, church attendance, Bible reading, the Sacraments, Sabbath offering, Christian fellowship, and witnessing.

It was announced that a sewing meeting will be held at 9:30 a.m. July 7, in the church basement as part of the group's national and overseas projects. At this time, women's pajamas, sizes 12 to 40, in serviceable condition, will be accepted. They will be sent to the hospital at Embudo, N. M., the women were told.

It was also announced that Mrs. A. D. Hills and Mrs. Carl Hills will attend a training program at Buffalo Gap.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. C. B. Wilkinson and Joe Cantrell.

Skelly Schafer Club Has Business Meet

SKELLYTOWN — (Special) — The Skelly Schafer club held a meeting recently in the club house, with Mrs. T. A. Ingram and Mrs. L. Barrett as hostesses. Mrs. R. E. McAllister was in charge of a short business session.

Mrs. Leo Dyer, social chairman, announced a coffee will be held the latter part of the month. Secret pal gifts were exchanged by the members.

Hostesses for the next meeting, July 1st, will be Mrs. Walter Reed and Mrs. LeRoy Allen.

Refreshments were served. Those present were Mrs. Fred Powell, Edd Harmon, Merle Kramer, H. W. Gentry, Lewis Richards, L. F. Karlin, R. E. McAllister, LeRoy Allen, Fred Genett, Leo Dyer, T. A. Ingram, L. Barrett, George Forter, Tommy Owens, L. D. Cowart, and B. A. Wesner. Mrs. Mary Chapman from Okmugee, Okla., was a visitor.

You can buy brassieres with wide-set shoulder straps to go with the wide-necked dresses that will be worn through summer.

Shamrock's OES Installs Officers

SHAMROCK — (Special) Mrs. Helen Laycock was installed as worthy matron of the Shamrock Chapter 284, Order of Eastern Star, in formal ceremonies at the Masonic hall recently.

Blue and white were featured in the decorations. On the arch in the East the words "Garden of Love" were inscribed, and trollees entwined with flowers and vines gave a garden effect to the setting.

Mrs. Virginia Clay, retiring worthy matron, opened the meeting. Installing officers were Mrs. Katherine Palmer, installing officer; Mrs. Dessie McCall, installing marshal; Mrs. Katherine Harbour, installing chaplain; Mrs. Vyvyan Boddy of Canyon, installing organist; Mrs. Eula Benson, secretary pro tem.

The registration committee was composed of Mrs. Ira Reavis, Faye Montgomery, Peggy Griffin and Zell Williams.

Officers installed were Mrs. Helen Laycock, worthy matron; Mrs. Mildred Gierhart, conductress; Mrs. Texas Ryan, associate conductress; Mrs. Ada Risk, secretary; Mrs. Leona Nichols, treasurer; Mrs. Vera Abbott, chaplain; Mrs. Bonnie Dodson, marshal; Mrs. Lela Kersh, organist; Mrs. Bonnie Brothers, Adah; Mrs. Geraldine Howard, Ruth; Mrs. Jo Anna Williams, Esther; Mrs. Carolyn LaDus, Martha; Mrs. Edna Gooch, Electa; Mrs. Ramah Hollibaugh, warder; and Mrs. Ernest Henderson, sentinel.

Mrs. Inez Montgomery gave a musical reading, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Lela Kersh. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Palmer presented their daughter, Mrs. Laycock, a gavel on which her name was inscribed.

Oilers Take Opener From G-Sox, 8-5

Henson Has Appendectomy

Jack Henson, veteran pitcher for the Pampa Oilers, underwent an appendicitis operation last night and may be lost to the team for the remainder of the season.

Henson was reported resting well this morning by the team physician, Dr. Malcolm Brown, who performed the operation.

The veteran pitcher is in Room 308 in Worley Hospital. He may receive visitors at the regular visiting hours according to hospital authorities.

Henson had been ill the past week, missing several Oiler games. But he returned for duty Monday night and suited out for the home-stand finale against Borger Monday and again at Borger Tuesday night.

But Henson became ill again and was admitted to the hospital yesterday for observation. The team physician announced yesterday following an examination that Henson was suffering from appendicitis, but it was believed he might have gotten by without an operation.

However, Henson's condition became worse during the night and the operation was performed at 5 a.m. today.

The big pitcher, who had won three games for the Oilers in addition to valuable pinch-hitting chores, listened to the Oiler victory at Amarillo last night by radio account from his bed.

Clark Goes Distance For Fourth Win

AMARILLO, June 17 — The Pampa Oilers extended their winning streak to three here Wednesday night when Vibert Clark hurled the Pampans to an eight hit 8-5 win over the Amarillo Gold Sox in the opener of a two-game series.

Clark whiffed 11 over the route which ran his strike-out total for the year to 82. Wednesday's win was Clark's fourth of the season against five losses. It was also Clark's 17th mound appearance for the Oilers this season.

The two clubs will wind up their series tonight with Eddie Locke, ace of the Gold Sox mound staff, going against Big Don Tierney of the Oilers. Tierney will be making his first start since going 15 innings against Plainview last Sunday.

In Wednesday's opener, every Oiler getting into the game hit safely at least one time. The Oilers clobbered the offerings of Ray Faust and Len Ruyie for 12 safeties.

Curtis Hardaway, Doug Lewis and Tierney led the Oiler attack in the series opener with two hits apiece.

Hardaway connected for a home run in the fourth inning with the bases empty after he had singled across a run the previous inning.

The Oilers scored twice each in the third, fourth, and fifth innings and once each in the eighth and ninth. Clark got the Oiler attack going in the third with a double which was followed by another two-baser by Ben Felder. Felder counted on Hardaway's single.

In the fourth, Dick Hairston got aboard on an error, moved up on a walk to Eddie Daniels and successive singles by Dick Hutzler and Dub Weibright scored both Hairston and Daniels.

Hardaway led off the Oiler fifth with a homerun, his 12th of the year. The second Oiler run in the fifth came when Hairston doubled to score Tierney who was on base via an error.

Chamber Of Commerce Seeking Support Of Citizens In Backing Pampa Oilers

WE AREN'T TAKING ANY bets, but we'll say Rocky Marciano will knock out Ezzard Charles before the 10th round in tonight's world's heavyweight championship bout.

The fight shouldn't take too long to unravel. Rocky will be going after an early "kill" because Charles may win if the fight goes the 15-round limit.

Charles or any other boxer as far as that goes, won't be able to take too many of Rocky's explosive punches.

For further details on the fight, consult stories elsewhere on this page.

THE PAMPA CHAMBER OF Commerce is getting behind the Pampa Oilers and they are seeking the help of all Pampa citizens to keep professional baseball in Pampa.

Clinton Evans, president of the Chamber of Commerce, has sent letters to all members of the organization reminding them what an asset the Oilers are to Pampa and otherwise seeking their wholehearted support in helping keep professional baseball in Pampa.

The Oilers are returning home tomorrow for a six-day home stand and with baseball weather here, good crowds should be in the offing.

Since everyone in Pampa won't see a copy of the letter sent out by the Chamber of Commerce, we would like to pass it along to you. Without further ado, here is the letter.

(To the city of Pampa: "This letter is to call your attention to the fact that the PAMPA OILERS, who are now in the first division and playing fine baseball, return home Friday, June 18th, for a six-day stand with Borger, Clovis, and Amarillo.

"We realize the weather up to now has not been conducive to good crowds; but now that we may expect good baseball weather, we would like to urge your attendance as often as possible at Oiler Park.

"It's exciting baseball, as the OILERS are now playing, provides the wholesome family entertainment that every progressive industrial community, such as we claim to be, needs. And it goes without saying, that unless we support professional baseball, we cannot expect it to continue indefinitely.

"Wherever the OILERS go, they are representing the city of Pampa and affording us good publicity, continuously keeping the name of our town before the public — this is the type of publicity that cannot be bought!

"This letter is being sent without the knowledge of Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Mills, owners of the club, nor have they intimated in any way that they are at all dissatisfied with the support given them by the community to date.

Marciano 17-5 Favorite Over Ezzy Charles Tonight

NEW YORK, June 17 — Unbeaten Rocky Marciano, banking on dynamite and durability, will risk his heavyweight crown in the third time Thursday night against ex-champ Ezzard Charles, Negro master-boxer, at Yankee Stadium.

The latest weather forecast for Thursday night was "mostly fair and a little warmer." However, previously unfavorable forecasts and hours of cloudy, cool weather retarded the ticket sale and may limit the crowd to 30,000 and the gate to $400,000.

A spokesman at the U.S. Weather Bureau said, "the night should be clear for the fight." It is scheduled to start at 8:30 p.m. (est.)

Marciano favored 17 to 5. Marciano was favored at 17 to 5 to blast Charles' dream of becoming the first man in modern history to recapture the heavyweight title. Eight tried it before and failed.

Swarthy, muscular Rocky — who belted out Joe Louis, Jersey Joe Walcott and Roland LaStarza — will be seeking his 46th straight professional victory and his 61st knock-out.

With his fists, the son of a Brooklyn, Mass., former shoemaker will answer questions about whether he is ring-rusty and whether he is stale from over-training. The 29-year-old champion hasn't fought since last Sept. 24, when he made his second defense on an 11th-round kayo over LaStarza. However, he went through an unprecedented five-month training grind that was criticized as too arduous by some experts.

Lacked Fire, Sharpness Charles, 32, will answer questions about whether he still has mental fire — the will to win, and whether he is physically "washed up." The supple Cincinnati stickler appeared to lack fire and physical sharpness while trying to recapture the title from Walcott in June, 1952. Two months later he dropped a decision to Rex Layne. And last summer he lost to Nino Valdes and Harold Johnson.

Ezzard showed signs of mental and physical rebirth when he knocked out Coley Wallace (10 rounds) on Dec. 18 and Bob Satterfield (2) on Jan. 15, his last fight.

If Charles is "sharp" Thursday night, he will be the best all-round opponent Rocky ever faced. He is a stand-up fighter with an excellent left jab and left hook and a potent straight right. He knocked out 63 of his 97 opponents and was stopped by twice himself, by Walcott and Lloyd Marshall.

Ezzard was expected to make his left hook the principal weapon Thursday night because Rocky — a forward-plodding bopper — never has been an easy target for left hooks. Walcott floored him with a portside blast in the first round of their first fight at Philadelphia, Sept. 23, 1952. That was the night Marciano took the title on a 13th-round kayo over Jersey Joe.

Broadcast-Nationally Charles will have advantages of weight, height, reach, skill, speed and experience. But it's doubtful that he ever met any one who could hit so hard and so persistently as the Massachusetts "iron man." Or anyone who could take a punch better.

The bout will not be televised to homes, but it will be broadcast nationally over the ABC network. It will be telecast to 65 theatres in 45 cities, where the total seating capacity will approach 180,000. Promoter Jim Norris and his International Boxing Club will receive one dollar for every theatre-TV seat sold. Movies will be distributed by United Artists.

Rocky, getting 40 per cent of all net receipts, should wind up with a purse of more than $250,000. Ezzard will receive 20 per cent in dollar of a Charles victory; they must meet in a return title bout within 90 days.

Weather — possible showers. If postponed — One week to Thursday, June 24.

Television — Notice to homes. Only to 41 theatres in 45 cities.

Broadcast-Nationally on ABC network.

Time of fight — 8:30 p.m. (est.)

Revenue from theatre-TV — 100 cents on dollar from every seat sold of the 185,000 available.

Purse — Marciano 40 per cent of all net receipts; Charles, 20 per cent.

Movies — Distributed by United Artists.

Return bout — Contract calls for return title fight within 90 days if Charles wins.

B-Sox Notch First Win Over Pioneers

By UNITED PRESS

The Abilene Blue Sox clipped Clovis 15 to 10 Wednesday night to move into fifth place in the West Texas-New Mexico League.

Clovis, the league leader, still held a three-and-one-half game buge over second-place Amarillo, which was beaten by Pampa, 8 to 6.

In other games, Borger slammed Lubbock, 16 to 4, and Albuquerque scored nine runs in the seventh inning to overtake Plainview, 13 to 6 before some 3,000 fans at Albuquerque.

A ninth-inning double by Abilene catcher Art Bowland drove in two runs that broke a 10-all deadlock. It was the first time Abilene had beaten Clovis this season.

The loss was charged to Pioneer star Red Dial, who came on in relief in the ninth inning, with Abilene reliever Andy Alonso getting the victory.

Borger went on an extra-base hitting spree against Lubbock. In the Gassers' total of 20 hits were 11 doubles, one triple and four home runs. Allan Maul hit two homers for the Gassers. E. D. Palmer poked another over the fence and Joe Uribe had an inside-the-park round-tripper. Dave Anderson pitched a seven-hitter for Borger.

Pampa pitcher Vibert Clarke fanned 11 of the first 13 Amarillo batters to face him. He weakened in the sixth and seventh innings, when the Gold Sox scored all their runs, but finished with an eight-hitter.

Albuquerque hurler Bud Bauhofer doubled twice in one inning — the ninth — when the Dukers scored nine runs to overhaul Plainview. Plainview held a 6 to 4 lead before the winning rally.

Scores by innings:

Pampa	002 220 011—8 12 3
Amarillo	000 004 100—5 8 4
Clarke and Hutzler; Faust, Ruyie and Hoekendorf.
Lubbock	000 001—4 7 2
Borger	002 136 044—16 20 1
Abilene	000 500 062—12 16 3
Clovis	212 120 200—10 16 8
Haney, Newcom, Singleton, Alonso and Bowland; Sadler, Dial and Benites.
Plainview	030 010 090—6 12 1
Albuquerque	020 002 003—13 15 2
Mickelson, Stoker, Genter, Pierce, Sullivan and Tate; Bauhofer and Jordan.

'Big Man' And 'Little Man' Put Titles On Line

NEW YORK, June 17 — The "little man" and the "big man" both lay their titles on the line Thursday and each is regarded as a double-dyed cinch.

The "little man" is Ben Hogan, who starts defense of his U.S. Open golf championship at Springfield, N. J. The "big man" is Rocky Marciano, who defends his world heavyweight championship at Yankee Stadium Thursday night.

They rank as prohibitive favorites because each is regarded as the greatest hitter in his individual sport.

Marciano's chore would shape up to be the easier of the two. He, after all, has only one man to beat. Hogan must come romping down in front of 161 challengers. From a physical standpoint, however, it figures in reverse.

They may cut Hogan up inside but he won't show a mark when this is over, which, if you can believe the fight publicity, is more than Marciano can hope for after 15 rounds — or less against Ezzard Charles.

One of the oddities of this double-barreled sports program is that in the boxing camps there is much interest in and little doubt of Hogan's victory on the fairways. And, in the locker rooms at Baltusro, where the golf gathering is getting ready for the big one, there is rabid interest in the fight and nobody gives Charles much of a chance.

It all comes back to the fact that, whether it is boxing or golf, you have to go with the big hitter.

Few people can see Charles, long regarded as a light-punching fancy dan type, staying away from Marciano's bull-like rushes for 15 rounds. The Brockton block-buster is a fighter who knows only to keep swinging. According to Joe Louis, he hurts even when he lands on the arms. Eventually the arms get so weary that they just won't come up quickly enough and that rain of roundhouse punches polishes off a horizontal job.

Ezzard believes sincerely that he has a fine chance, even though those on the outside don't.

Snead Given Best Chance Of Unseating Ben In U. S. Open

SPRINGFIELD, N.J., June 17—Ben Hogan, who has slipped his grasp in 18 years of campaigning, ruled the Open here in 1950, were more a part of the window-dressing than real contenders.

Hot Money Players
A newer corps of hot money players, led by Bob Toak of Livingston, N.J., was expected to give Hogan and Snead the stiffest battle.

Among them were Doug Ford, Jackie Buske, Shelley Mayfield, Bob Rosburg, Mary Purgo, Bill Nery and Gene Lattier.

Scheduled in the first threesome at 6 a.m. (est.) were amateur Red Baxter of Amarillo, Bud Lewis of Orelana, Pa., and Charley Penna, Chicago veteran.

Hogan, playing with Stewart (Skip) Alexander of St. Petersburg, Fla., and amateur Bill Campbell of Huntington, W.Va., was listed for a 12:05 p.m. start.

Little LEAGUERS

Optimist Club To Enter Pony Leaguers In Post Season Tournament Competition

The Optimist Club, sponsors of the kid baseball programs in Pampa, PONY League and Little League, voted last night to send the PONY League All-Stars to post-season tournaments later this summer.

Date for the District 1 tournament of which Pampa is a member, will be held July 23-24. Site of the tournament hasn't been determined.

Winner of the District 1 tournament will then vie in a bi-district series with the District 2 winner. The winner of this series will qualify for the Regional Tourney at Abilene, the last step before reaching the PONY League World Series Tournament at Washington, Pa.

It is estimated that should the local PONY Leaguers advance through all three tournaments it would take approximately $1,200 to finance the trips. The Optimists are in the process of arranging some fund raising campaigns. Collections at the local league games will go into this fund.

First Baptist Meets H-Souls In Feature

By RAUL (Rabbit) RAMIREZ
The Kiwanis softball league will resume play tonight with six more games on tap. Two games in each league, Senior Boys, Junior Boys, and Junior Girls.

In the Senior League Holy Souls will battle the First Baptist which promises to be one of the best games this year. Each team is undefeated (2-0) so far this year.

Ed Strickland, '34 Harvester footballer of the Holy Souls will pitch against a Harvester basketballer, Kenneth Hinkle, for the First Baptist.

Ed Strickland has one win against no defeats. The win was on 18-0 score and also he just gave up two hits.

Kenneth Hinkle has already won two games this year 21-8 and 12-1. Kenneth Hinkle has only given up three hits in these two games. One of them was a no-hitter.

The probable starting lineup for tonight will be:

First Baptist
1B Gary Griffin
2B Danny Johnson
3B Buddy Sharp
SS E. J. McVain
LF Billy Cuipepper
CF David Hutchens
RF Bob Douggett

Sports Hold Lead; Win Streak To 8

By UNITED PRESS
Jim Willis, a righthander from the Chicago Cubs who joined the Shreveport Sports last week, got his first win Wednesday night as the Sports beat Dallas, 5 to 3, for their eighth straight win.

The victory maintained the Sports half-game lead over San Antonio for first place in the Texas League.

Willis needed help from Fred Martin in the eighth inning. Four double-plays kept him out of trouble as the Sports grabbed the lead with three runs in the third inning to pin the loss on Red Murrif, Dallas ace pitcher. It was Murrif's second defeat against seven wins.

Missions Win in 11th
In other games, San Antonio at most duplicated its 3 to 5 win over Oklahoma City Tuesday night, winning by the same margin but this time in 11-innings where it took 12 the previous night. Houston mauled Tulsa, 10 to 2, and Fort Worth scored 10 runs in the ninth inning to beat Beaumont, 12 to 7. San Antonio scored the winning run against Oklahoma City in the 11th when pinch-hitter Karol Kwak opened with a double. Jim Snyder's bunt single advanced him to third and Chuck Bertel's single brought Kwak home.

Artesia, Roswell In Longhorn

By UNITED PRESS
Artesia and Roswell stayed neck-and-neck for the lead by winning a Longhorn League game Wednesday night. The NUmexers were still a half game ahead after beating Big Spring, 5 to 2, while Rockets handed Carlsbad a heavy trouncing, 23 to 3.

Sweetwater vacated the league cellar with a 10 to 2 victory over Midland's Indians and the Odessa Oilers won their fifth straight game by beating San Angelo, 8 to 4. The loss dropped San Angelo into the basement.

Jamie Fals scattered five hits in beating San Angelo but had control trouble as he walked 11 and hit one batter. Odessa sewed up the game with a three-run rally in the seventh inning.

Sweetwater pitcher Herb Dwire pitched an eight-hitter while his mates got 11 blows off starter Romeo Soto and two other Midland pitchers and actually won the game in the first inning when the Spudders scored seven runs.

Ken Foster, an Artesia resident and a rookie on the ball club, pulled himself out of one jam after the other to get credit for the NUmexers' 5 to 2 win over Big Spring. Foster relieved starter Scotty Robnett when the Broncos took a 2 to 1 lead in the second inning. Three and Bell.

Cleveland's New Keeping Team

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer
The old Cleveland victory formula of "Lemon, Garcia, and Wynn" again, and again, and again" was ready for revision Thursday because Manager Al Lopez now has a little three to go with his big three.

The insistent Indians now have a new victory streak of seven games and each of the last six games has been won by a different hurler.

Lefty Don Mossi, the 24-year-old speed ball lefty from Redwood City, Calif., came off the relief heap Wednesday night to pitch the latest triumph, a 5 to 1 decision over seventh inning rally.

Only four hits before being lifted for a seventh-inning pinch hitter.

Gamble Pays Off
Prior to Mossi's victory on a gamble by Manager Al Lopez which paid off, the Indians had gained victories by Art Houtteman, Bob Lemon, Mike Garcia, Early Wynn and Bob Feller. Houtteman started the streak, so he is the only hurler with two wins in the current skein.

Mossi, making his first start, gained his third victory with a defeat, striking out eight in a shutout only on a homer.

The White Sox are 11 games behind in second place on an 11 to 6 triumph which featured a seventh-inning rally slam homer by Perry.

AROUND THE WORLD

TAIL WITH A STING—Workers make the final adjustments to this radar controlled tail turret of a Boeing B-47E Stratofortress in Wichita, Kans. The radar system consists essentially of a tail turret mounting twin 20-mm. cannon, a computer, control equipment and search-track radar. The radar can maintain a watch to the rear in case of an impending attack.

THE FRIENDLY SPIRIT—Soldiers of the Canadian Black Watch are a familiar sight in Korea, but one would expect the local ducks to get a wee bit upset when one of the men comes to share the water in their pond. However, these birds seem completely calm as this bearded member of the Pioneer Platoon "invades" their waterhole for a wash.

GONE, BUT NOT FORGOTTEN—Smoke obscured a pier in Edgewater, N. J., top photo, as Coast Guard and harbor tugs battled vainly to save almost 300 new autos stored on it. Flames reached 300 feet in the air. Some of the exhausted firemen, 15 of whom were injured, felt a little better when their three-hour battle ended and they were served some coffee, below.

BACK PAY—In London, Jackie Howells totes her beach trappings in the same manner as an Indian mother carries her papoose. The clever poncho in terry cloth is done in pink and black; the generous "knapsack," which can also serve as a hood, is fitted with slots to hold bottles of suntan lotion or soda pop.

STADIUM POP CHASERS—The hazard of pop-foul chasing was illustrated at Yankee Stadium when the N. Y. Yanks played host to the Washington Senators. Willie Miranda, left, of the Yanks, does his best to corral an ornery foul, but the ball eluded him as fans waited at the rail for a souvenir. Catcher Ed Fitzgerald of the Senators, right, lost the ball near the Washington dugout. Perhaps the sight of that snoozing gent in the lower box seat confused the Nat backstop.

HOME AGAIN—Returning from a spring tour with the Metropolitan Opera, mezzo-soprano Mildred Miller is glad to be back in New York. She's showing her young son the gateway in the station through which daddy, Air Force Captain Wesley Posvar, will come.

LUCKY GUY—Comic-dancer Ray Bolger certainly found himself in the middle of a lovely situation in a pool in Las Vegas, Nev. He's flanked by two of Hollywood's imports from Italy. That's Pier Angeli in the center and Anna Maria Alberghetti and they're both amused at Bolger's quips.

IT'S A RECORD!—Dr. Paul Schwarzkopf, president of the American Electro Metal Corp., in Yonkers, N. Y., seated, is shown watching the operation of a powder metallurgic machine with George Stern. Dr. Schwarzkopf, the inventor of the common "jet" blades now used in jet engines, started his company in 1929 and just celebrated the 25th year of its founding.

SWIMSUIT SLEEVES—Swimsuits sport tiny sleeves for the new resort season, harking back to grandma's day when ladies really covered up in the sun. This version of the romper swim-and-sun suit with abbreviated puffed sleeves is tucked and pleated in striped cotton. Grandma was never lucky enough to own one just like this.

YOU NEVER CAN TELL—Especially about the contents of an attic. In Correggio, Italy, Amos Bonacini was browsing through the one in his 200-year-old home and found this Stradivarius violin. Although it had the famed signature of its creator on it, Bonacini was not convinced of his good luck until an expert proclaimed it to be the real thing.

COMING UP—One little lass is all ready for Father's Day on June 20. Her dad's going to get that handsome shaving mug, a reproduction of the ones which were popular in the 1880s. With mother taken care of, dad's about to have his inning.

ENOUGH ROPE—You can hide your eyes under the big brim of this hat if your horse gets left at the starting gate. Emme has done this one in burnt leghorn straw, with rope trim as a "noose" around the shallow crown. It could be used as a basket to carry winnings.

HE PROBABLY CAN'T READ—If he can read the sign he's climbing over, this African goat is paying no attention to its words as he stands head and shoulders above his fellow residents of the Vincennes Zoo in Paris. Perhaps he was so intrigued by the two-legged visitors on the other side that he forgot the written notice not to climb over that fence. It appears that this goat at least made an effort to get over it.

THIS IS BING, SAWYER. DUCKS JUST DROVE AWAY FROM HER HOUSE. GOT HER PRINTING GEAR WITH HER.

THANKS, I'LL PUT BOB ON HER TRAIL.

DARN! I COULD SEE THE LAUNDRY FIELD A LOT BETTER FROM THAT HILL. THEY CAN BE OFF OF.

OBVIOUSLY, MRS. DUCK IS MORE INTERESTED IN PLANES THAN IN PRINTING.

Martha Wayne

OKAY, HOGAN, WHAT'S YOUR ALIBI? HOW COME LEN STONE SIPPED OUT ON YOU?

I DUNNO, JUST ONE OF THOSE THING, BOSS! NOBODY WHERE HE WORKED COULD GIVE ME A LEAD--

WHAT ABOUT HIS ROOMING HOUSE?

SURE, I CHECKED THERE, BUT HIS LANDLADY DON'T KNOW WHERE HE WENT-- HE JUST PACKED HIS BAG AND LEFT. I GOT A BREAK ABOUT AN HOUR AGO, THOUGH--

I BEEN CHECKING AT THE BUS DEPOT AND I CAN ACROSS A GUY IN THE INFORMATION BOOTH THAT GAD A FELLOW ANSWERING STONE'S DESCRIPTION ASKED FOR A CENTERVILLE SCHEDULE.

CENTERVILLE, EH? THAT'S NOT FAR FROM HERE-- YOU REPORT BACK TO THE HOME OFFICE, HOGAN, I'M GOING TO TAKE UP THE TRAIL FROM HERE!

Mutt & Jeff

YESTERDAY, I PLANE LANDED IN JEFF'S BACK YARD!

TODAY, JEFF IS GOING TO TRY A PARACHUTE JUMP! OH, WELL!

THERE HE GOES!

GOOD GRIEF! HIS CHUTE DIDN'T OPEN!

BOY YOU'RE LUCKY THESE TREES BROKE YOUR FALL! WHY DIDN'T YOU PULL YOUR RIP CORD?

I PULLED MY ZIPPER BY MISTAKE!

IT'S A PICTURE OF MY DEAR WIFE CLARRISSE!

OH, IT - IT - CAN'T BE!!!

Mickey Finn

BUT I HATE TO LET PHIL DOWN-- HE'S SUCH A SWELL GUY! WELL, THERE'S ONLY ONE THING TO DO!

Freckles

WELL, WHAT DO YOU WANT?

DO YOU HAVE TO USE THAT TONE OF VOICE? I KNOW I'M A NUISANCE!

BUT DO YOU THINK IT'S FUN BEING A KID BROTHER? A SHIRMAP FOLLOWER?

A PAIN-- IN THE-- NECK-- IN-- HAND-- ME-- DOWN CLOTHES-- THAT'S-- ME?

GOSH, TAD, IF I'D KNOWN YOU FELT THAT WAY--

IT WORKED! HE GAVE ME A QUARTER!

GREAT! I HOPES MY BROTHER HONRA!

Susie Q. Smith

OUCH!

YOU'RE A REFINED SOPHISTICATED LADY.

THAT'S BETTER!

OH, SUSIE... I TAKE IT BACK! YOU'RE NOT A TOMBOY....

"We couldn't afford a pony, but we got the next thing to it!"

Driver-Safety Talk Given Rotary By Insurance Man

Frank King, general executive for Associated Press in Texas will be speaker at the Pampa Rotary club luncheon meeting Wednesday noon in the Palm Room of City Hall, according to Paul Crossman Jr., program chairman for the month of June.

Roger Bridgwater, Amarillo insurance man, told Rotarians at this week's meeting that any program aimed at reducing automobile accidents and accident costs must find some way to get inside the driver's mind and make him a mature, socially responsible citizen while he drives an automobile.

Bridgwater, representing the Southwestern Insurance Information service of Dallas, said studies of accident causes all tend to indicate that the mental attitude of the driver is the important factor.

Concentrate On Youth

"If the rate of killing by automobiles follows its present course, by 1982 we will be killing and maiming more persons than are born each year," he pointed out. "There isn't time to educate you who are adults — you're too set in your driving habits," Bridgwater said. "Concentration must be made on the youthful driver for two reasons. First, he is young enough and flexible enough to be a good bet for education. Second, the experience he is having indicates that unless we can get to the young driver fast, he won't survive to maturity."

He offered these suggestions to meet the young driver's problems: (1) Youth driver training courses in high schools — now on a "catch as catch can" basis by Dad, but training on a professional level by professional educators; (2) strict law enforcement at the policeman and judge levels must be insisted upon; (3) licensing of drivers ought to be quite strict. It is much easier to get a driver's license than a gun permit — yet, guns kill only one person for every 100 people that are killed by automobiles. Maybe we should find out why we give an automobile to the man we deny a gun; (4) periodic inspection — a thorough inspection of all automobiles will force drivers to keep their automobiles up to a minimum standard of maintenance.

Our Brother's Keeper

"In traffic, we are immediately, endlessly, our brother's keeper. One little slip, one little inattention, a discourtesy, a flash of anger, and our brother is dead," the speaker concluded.

Bridgwater, a special agent in Amarillo for the Southwest General Insurance company, was introduced by Don Cain, general program chairman of the club.

Guests included Jerrie Keith and Norman Motley, both of Borger; Jim Selasky, Lubbock; Robert A. Denman, Amarillo; Bill Craig, Joe Fischer, Aubrey Jones and Mrs. J. M. Turner, all of Pampa. President E. S. Williams presided.

Man Spawns An Insect

CHICAGO, June 17 — UP — Dr. Harold Embley, a chiro-podist and amateur explorer, said Wednesday he may be the first man in history to have given birth to a bug.

Embley said he returned recently from an expedition to the jungles of Guatemala with many new insect bites, including one on the arm above the elbow which swelled to the size of a golf ball.

He said his physician, Dr. Mark Wicks, opened the swelling and found inside a full-sized insect about half an inch long.

Embley said he must have been bitten by a mosquito or other bug which deposited an insect egg in his arm. He and Wicks theorized that somehow the environment of human flesh was favorable to growth and the egg incubated.

DISOBEDIENCE—Parking restrictions don't bother a this stream of bees invading downtown Allentown, Pa. Police couldn't do a thing with the "honeybees" but a beekeeper has been called in to remove them.

Strenuous Voyage By Raft Planned

SAN FRANCISCO, June 17 — UP — Four adventurous westerners "expect to make nautical history" by drifting to Hawaii on a 16 by 32 foot Douglas fir raft which will not carry "a drop of water or a bit of food."

The group, which is made up of a lawyer, newspaperman, student and retired shipbuilder, might eventually include Jon Lindbergh, son of aviator Charles A. Lindbergh.

And they described the trip as "merely a shakedown" for one which they plan to make from the Gulf of Mexico, across the Indian and Pacific oceans, to the United States.

Spokesman Keith Pope said Wednesday that the 2600 mile expedition to Hawaii would start July 4, and "ought to be better than Kon-Tiki."

Study Human System

Pope, 34, recently resigned promoter of a Bay area newspaper, said those signed up for the projected 9½ week voyage were Devera Baker, 38, ex-shipbuilder of Petaluma, Calif.; Leonard Karsvar, 30, Petaluma attorney; and Judge Lamont Hawks, 23, Ogden, Utah, artist and a student at the University of Utah.

Pope said the trip, billed officially as a "scientific expedition," was organized to permit the group to study stress and strain on the human system while at the same time observing various phases of oceanic life.

"We are not going to take a drop of water or a bit of food when we leave here," he said. "We've got it figured out that there are an average of six squalls over the Pacific between here and Hawaii during July. They will give us rain water to drink."

"And as for food," he added, "We'll just fish it out of the sea."

Persistent Currents

Pope said he and his fellow adventurers expect to persistently carry the raft, a seven-ton pentagonal-shaped craft named the Lehi, to its destination.

The vessel's only nautical aids will be a 30 foot square sail, stern rudder, radio set, and two 16 horsepower outboard motors to be used for landing only.

Purpose of the longer voyage, Baker said, would be to "prove that the ancestors of the American Indian may have migrated from ancient Palestine, rather than Mongolia."

Laniel Detained

PARIS, June 17 — UP — Former Premier Joseph Laniel's brother, Rene, who resigned from the senate Tuesday, was prevented by authorities from leaving for Colombia Tuesday night.

The University of Michigan in 1970 became the nation's first major school to admit women.
