'Wrong Way' Airlift Begun

TOKYO, June 29—UP—Forty-seven wounded French veterans of the Indo-China battlefields, including 18 litter patients, left the Far East Tuesday in the vanguard of a "wrong way" airlift home.

The stronger half of the group of 85 who arrived here Monday from Saigon via Manila were assigned Tuesday's trans-Pacific flight via Hawaii and Travis Air Base, Calif. The remainder will leave at 10 p.m. on Wednesday.

Smiling and joking in contrast to their somber arrival Monday, the heroes of Dien Bien Phu appeared to be enjoying the world gridding tour aboard U.S. Air Force planes. India's refusal to permit military planes from Indo-China to cross its territory blocked use of the shorter, more direct route to France.

Their C-97 Stratocruiser took off at 10 p.m. on Monday and will stop at Midway Island en route to Hickam Field, Hawaii.

The veterans of the siege of Dien Bien Phu are expected to receive a rousing welcome, including the traditional kiss, when they arrive in Hawaii.

The unwilling wounded warriors were reluctant to talk about their experiences when they arrived here Monday. They spoke little to each other and putted American cigarettes or leaved through American magazines supplied by the Red Cross.

They said only that the grim siege of Dien Bien Phu "made us very unhappy. We lost many good friends there."

Man Upholds Texas' Honor With Pistol

HOLLYWOOD, June 29—UP—Texas oilman Edward Neely, 61, faced charges Tuesday of shooting and critically wounding a Hollywood stunt man at the home of an oil heiress for allegedly making derogatory remarks about Texas.

Neely, quoted by officers as saying "nobody can say anything like that about Texas," was arrested late Monday on suspicion of assault with intent to commit murder at the home of his sister-in-law, 41-year-old oil heiress Barbara Ciampitt.

In critical condition at General Hospital from three gunshot wounds was Phillip Eugene Ahim, 44, veteran movie stunt man, who was shot while attending a drinking party at Mrs. Ciampitt's home, detectives said.

Neely and his wife, the former Leah Ciampitt, now reside in Beverly Hills, Calif. Neely is her sixth husband. Barbara Ciampitt recently divorced her sixth husband, movie writer Bill Counsellman.

The Ciampitt sisters are the daughters of the late E. A. Ciampitt, a pioneer Los Angeles oil developer and onetime city councilman.

Detectives said Ahim was shot while attending the party with a companion, Andrew Ackerman, 45, another movie stunt man.

None of the party guests could give a clear description of how the shooting actually had happened, officers said, but they reported that Neely admitted scuffling with Ahim after Ahim allegedly said, "I don't like Texas."

"The gun just went off," detectives quoted Neely as saying. "I guess that fellow shot himself."

Former Red Prisoner 'Cracks Up'

OKLAHOMA CITY, June 29—UP—A former Army private, who spent four years in a Russian prison camp, was held Tuesday for a sanity hearing at the request of his mother.

Mrs. Edith Spencer said her son, Homer H. Cox, "just cracked up" and I want to get him into a veteran's hospital."

"My boy needs mental treatment," Mrs. Cox said. "He knows it, too."

A sanity hearing was set for Thursday by County Judge C. J. Blinn.

Cox recently filed as a candidate for secretary of state and, Blinn said, because he is a candidate a second judge also would set in on the case.

Cox was arrested Monday night at a tavern by two deputy sheriffs. He offered no resistance.

"I was a military policeman for a number of years," Cox told them. "and you fellows don't know how to properly make an arrest."

The Oklahoman was freed by Russia last December after weeks of negotiation by the U. S. government. He said he had been kidnaped by Russian soldiers while drinking beer in an East Berlin club.

Ochiltree Harvest One-Third Normal

PERRYTON—(Special)—Wheat harvest in Ochiltree county is expected to get into full swing this week, according to County Agent Delbert Timmons. Harvesting on 100,000 acres is expected, although the estimate may vary since much wheat land has been plowed up.

Wheat is averaging from 6 to 12 bushels an acre. Most of this is dry land wheat.

One field of irrigated wheat yielded 22 bushels an acre while another, caught by the late frost, yielded 11 bushels. The best wheat is in the northeast part of the county where rain has been plentiful.

The harvest this year is about one-third normal according to Timmons. Ochiltree county hasn't had a normal wheat crop for the last two years, and this year's crop is about the same as 1952-53. The forecast for this year's crop is about 1,000,000 bushels, far below normal.

Gen. Dean Is Foe Of Comic Books

SAN FRANCISCO, June 29—UP—Maj. Gen. William F. Dean Tuesday said one way to protect the children of the United States against the "mental poison of communism" was by closer parental supervision of children's reading material.

Dean spoke at a celebration honoring San Francisco's 175th birthday.

Dean said protection of children from communism must "begin in our own homes. We can protect our children against the mental poison of the Communists by exercise of normal parental responsibility in regulating the reading material that shapes their thinking."

Dean explained that he was referring to "horror" comic books, which weaken "the country's moral fiber and produce a ripe field for Communist exploitation."

"The time wasted on such reading material," Dean said, "could be turned to better use if parents would urge their children to study American history."

"In the Communist world," he said, "every child spends two hours a day memorizing the history and objectives of communism. Should we do less?" he asked.

More than 1,000 persons were on hand in Union Square to hear Dean's speech.

June Haver Weds Fred MacMurray

OJAI, Calif., June 29—UP—June Haver and Fred MacMurray, Hollywood's most heart-warming romance, slipped off to this valley resort Monday night for a surprise wedding ceremony in a hotel room.

The petite blonde actress, who once started classes towards becoming a nun, and the tall actor were married in a "double-ring ceremony" before Superior Judge Charles Blackstock.

The civil ceremony was chosen because the Catholic Church banned the marriage. It does not recognize divorce and the actress divorced her first husband, musician Jimmy Zito, after marrying him in a church ceremony.

The ceremony took place at 11:30 p.m. in the room of Mr. and Mrs. Don Burger, owners of the Ojai Valley Inn. Later the bride and groom and a small group of friends and relatives celebrated with champagne before the couple took off on a motor honeymoon through Grand Canyon and Bryce Canyon.

HARTFORD, Conn.—UP—James P. Brogan lost about everything except his sleep. He told police that while he was snoozing someone swiped a $350 wristwatch and two rings valued at $400, all of which he was wearing.

"You can't lose tonight, Dr. Brown—George said we'd apply anything we won on your bill!"

Moving Target - Pro and Cohn Boone Trouble - Humphrey

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Public Housing Commissioner Charles E. Slusser told a southwestern conference of housing officials meeting at Santa Barbara, Calif., the other day, that it was nice to escape from Washington every once in a while.

"To remain in Washington for any length of time is a little nerve-racking," he declared. "All troubles come to Washington, and anyone there all the time gets to feel like a sitting duck. It's a relief to become, at least, a moving target."

"Or to put it another way," Commissioner Slusser went on, "I can sympathize with the old lady who preferred to visit her neighbors."

"When I go visiting," she said, "I can pick my friends. When I stay home, God only knows who might come a-calling."

Provost Marshal Gen. William Maglin has figured in the Army-McCarthy hearings because Pvt. G. David Schine has been assigned to the Military Police Corps. As a result, General Maglin has received a huge amount of mail on the case. He has instructed his secretary to sort out the letters and file them under the headings of "Pro" and "Cohn."

Uncaptioned pictures of an American mule, Mount Vernon and the Liberty Bell somehow got all mixed up with photographs of the Geneva peace conference on the front page of a Saigon, Viet Nam, newspaper the other day.

On investigation, a representative of the U.S. Information Agency in Saigon discovered it was the result of a last-minute effort by the editor of the Dan Thanh, Viet Namese language newspaper, to fill space.

The picture of the mule was put in "just because it happened to be lying around handy," the editor explained.

The pictures of Mount Vernon and the Liberty Bell were put in "just because we thought they were beautiful." They had been sent to foreign newspapers generally by the U.S. Information Agency for possible use on Decoration Day or Fourth of July.

Rear Adm. Walter Frederick Boone, new commandant of the U.S. Naval Academy, and Adm. Joel T. Boone, director of medicine for the Veterans' Administration, are not related.

But because their last names are the same, they have been involved in innumerable mix-ups during their entire Navy careers.

Among other things, they used to get each other's tailor bills. One when they were young, there was a mix-up on blind dates. One of the Boones had to stand up a girl on shore and get back to his ship for a quick departure. Two years later this girl was introduced to the other Boone and gave him a severe bawling out for the incident.

The innocent Boone was extremely upset about this because "he had been married at the time, and he had to do a lot of fast talking with his wife to clear himself on what had been the other Boone's predicament.

On the first day of Turkish Prime Minister Adnan Menekes' visit to Washington, it was noticed that some of the Turk reporters accompanying him were not following him around and weren't filing any stories on his activities. When asked about it, one of them replied:

"That would be silly. His visit here is an official holiday back in Turkey and they aren't publishing any papers. Even if he were to die, we couldn't get the story printed."

The first Republican presidential boom for 1956—for a candidate other than Dwight D. Eisenhower—has been started in Michigan and it's for Secretary of the Treasury George Magoffin Humphrey.

"Almost needless to say, this move has been made without the knowledge or consent of Secretary Humphrey."

The secretary was born in Cheboygan, Mich., in 1880, was graduated from University of Michigan and got his start in law and business in that state. So this is a native-son suggestion.

The man who started it was Frank O. McKay, former GOP national committeeman from Michigan for many years.

He now operates a chain of hotels, food stores, a construction company and other enterprises. As a sideline he puts out a private weekly political newspaper, "The Times" which is mailed to RFD boxholders all over the state, from the McKay headquarters in Grand Rapids.

He uses about four columns of space in the current issue of his paper to launch the Humphrey candidacy.

Editor McKay leads off with charges that the Republican Party can't stand prosperity and "The Republican opportunity that came with its national election victory in 1952 has obviously been mishandled and sabotaged by petty jealousies and over-weening ambitions."

Our foreign policy has completely and shamefully collapsed and our prestige abroad is zero. Yet while all this is going on, our government is tied up in putting

JOHNSON IN HOLLYWOOD

By BRASKINE JOHNSON NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — (NEA) — Exclusively Yours: June Allyson is shaking her angel halo for the first time to play a scheming, evil-hearted babe opposite Jose Ferrer in U-I's film version of "The Sorcerer" and she can hardly wait to be an imperfect wife.

"I made the mistake of crying in a picture once and I've cried ever since," June winced on the set of "A Woman's World" at Fox.

"I've wanted to get away from playing perfect wives and angels ever since I can remember. An actress has to break away. I was a type-casting victim labeled only for devoted wives and weeping heroines.

"Now I'm going to be a meanie. Isn't it divine?"

Ava Gardner's refusal to star in a movie titled "Love Me or Leave Me" may be because she's had it.

Three husbands have loved her — and left.

Hedy Lamarr isn't ready to be referred to as "the former screen star." A script that may bring her back to Hollywood is on its way to Mrs. Howard Lee in Houston, Tex. . . . A leading man in a movie being filmed in Rome isn't taking to news scribes about his near death in a gas-filled apartment.

Vivica Lindfors and ex-mate Don Diegel called off the fireworks about the custody of their kiddies . . . Now it can be told that Paramount originally bought it. Dunne. But Shirley Booth's "Come Back, Little Sheba" hit won her the role.

Lauren Bacall, discussing suitable names for babies with Van Heflin on the set of "A Woman's World" at Fox, confessed that she once was set on the idea of naming her daughter Brandy Borsari.

"But Bogey didn't go for it at all," she said. "He thought that was carrying things too far."

Jackie Loughery of CBS' "Earn Your Vacation" TV viewer denies the flood of rumors that she and Guy Mitchell are hatching up a reconciliation. "No, I'm not going to England to join him and I haven't been writing letters to him," the redhead told us.

Mike Todd's paging Fred MacMurray for a Broadway musical version of "Merton of the Movies." The plot's been altered so that Merton is no longer a movie-struck country bumpkin, but an ex-U. S. President with a beguiling TV voice and manner. Hollywood sharpshooters give him a movie star build-up.

Movie film directors finally won their long-time fight for exclusive rights to the word "director" along with art and cinematography directors. Dialogue and dance directors, by industry agreement, now will be known as choreographers and dialogue coaches.

"Demetrius and the Gladiators" is a new switch o' sequel. It's billed as "The Continuation of the Robe."

The "Ziegfeld Follies" revival at the Sands Hotel sets a new high for Las Vegas show lavishness and beautiful dolls. There's a howl when Frank Sinatra walks out in a green suit in the closing number and a bigger one when he quips:

"What's the matter — haven't you ever seen a skinny pool table?"

Edmond O'Brien, about codirecting "Shield for Murder," in which he also stars:

"I'd rather be regarded as a young director than a fading leading man."

He hopes to make directing a career now.

Laugh line in "A Woman's World": Margalo Gilmore looks over Lauren Bacall and Ariene Dahl and says:

"I thought you'd be like some of Helen Hokinson's characters — all girled and bosomy."

"You're right," answers Lauren. "about the girleds."

Humphrey Bogart walked out of Warner Bros. because of too many gangster roles but now he'll do two in a row, "We're No Angels" and "The Desperate Hours." The former's played for laughs.

The word's out that a number of Movietown personalities are huddling with their lawyers on Joe Mankiewicz' "The Barefoot Contessa."

In addition to the Rita Hayworthish heroine played by Ava Gardner: the alcoholic movie director acted by Humphrey Bogart: the Aly Khanish character of Rossano Brazzi, and an aircraft executive who makes movies, there are other recognizable characters, it's said.

Lady Iceman Hangs Up Tongs, Trades Blue Jeans For Dress

WHITEWRIGHT, Tex., June 28 (UP)—Whitewright's iceman has made a big decision. She has decided, after all these years, to wear a dress.

She might even get married. The iceman is Mary Lou Thrasher, 28, who has been wearing trousers ever since she was knee-high to a yearling calf. And she's not telling anyone what made her give up her blue jeans and ice tongs, put on frilly things, and go to work — of all places — in a grocery store.

Mary Lou, who tips a drug store scales at just over 100 pounds, was the iceman in this Texas farm town for six years. Every morning she loaded her truck with 300 pound blocks of ice at the Southern Ice Co. and delivered it around town in 50 and 100 pound chunks.

Never Seen in a Dress

No one had ever given a second thought to the fact she was a woman and they have never seen her in a dress.

She did have a dress, but she kept it only to wear at funerals, and that wasn't often.

It was blue jeans, day in and day out, for Mary Lou. Even her feminine name gave way to a more masculine nickname, "Douse." No one was sure what it meant.

A short while ago "Douse" abandoned her ice truck and went to work in a garage. She tuned engines, washed cars and fixed flats. Still wearing blue jeans.

"I've been working ever since I can remember," she said. "I started out when I was old enough to drag a cotton sack."

Then "Douse" quit the garage, went to work as a waitress at the Highway 69 Cafe, and started putting on dresses. She just switched to a grocery store, but is sticking by her dresses.

J. H. Gonnell, the grocer, was only one of the townsmen who did a double-take.

"It Couldn't Be Douse"

"I don't gossip any more than the next fellow, but one day I saw this girl that looked like Douse pass the store. I said to myself that it couldn't be Douse. But I'll be dogged if it wasn't."

"Next thing I know I was at the telephone, calling everybody around town and telling them what I saw. Well, naturally, nobody could believe it."

Mary Lou's relatives all around Texas began writing for pictures. They had never seen Mary Lou in a dress. Her father, D. H. Thrasher, a plumber, felt as proud as a new papa.

"Douse" insisted she had just changed her mind. There was no friend involved.

Rogers Applauds Eisenhower's Statement On 'Give-Aways'

When President Eisenhower said "give-away" programs were going to stop, he received loud applause. Rep. and Mrs. Walter Rogers of Pampa, were present for a Newspaper Enterprises Association dinner in Washington when Eisenhower made the remark.

"I hope he meant this, both in this country and abroad," Rogers comments in his weekly newsletter, adding the difference between a domestic and a foreign give-away program is about 10 percent.

"Many of the people here want you to sell them government property at 10 cents on the dollar," the congressman states. "The foreign folks are willing to do the same thing, but you have to give them the 10 cents."

The dime adds up, Rogers insists, pointing to the $3.5 billion foreign aid bill with which the Congress is now wrestling.

Rogers expects to be in San Antonio Thursday, but he does not think he will be able to get up to Pampa until after Congress adjourns for the summer.

Hubby Choice A Dilemma

LOS ANGELES, June 29—UP—Mrs. Peggy Lou Wolfe, 28, Tuesday had a year in which to decide whether she prefers a half interest in a hotel or Texas gas well, depending on which of two husbands she chooses.

The attractive blonde was granted a divorce Monday from Glyn Wolfe, 45, Hollywood hotel man, with a California-style decree which gives her a year to decide between him and her second husband, William Hirsch, 47.

Mrs. Wolfe, now married to Hirsch but still undecided, will have until the divorce becomes final in a year to decide if she prefers Wolfe's offer of interest in his hotel or Hirsch's offer of interest in the gas well.

Monday's interlocutory divorce was granted by Superior Judge Philbrick McCoy, who pointed out that both Mrs. Wolfe and Wolfe agreed their 1952 Mexican divorce was illegal.

It was after that divorce that she married Hirsch, a wealthy Texan. Monday's ruling invalidates that marriage, attorneys said.

"You know . . . I hate to vote on this bill until I talk to my barber!"

Haymes Fights Deportation Order

HOLLYWOOD, June 29—UP—Attorney fighting to keep Dick Haymes from being deported implied Tuesday the Immigration Department broke a promise with the crooner and arrested him on direct orders from U.S. Atty. Gen. Herbert Brownell.

The inference came Monday following testimony by ex-immigration investigator Thomas McDermott, who said he told Haymes after his return from Hawaii last July 2 that he would have 60 days grace before possible arrest.

David C. Marcus, one of the crooner's attorneys, asked McDermott:

"Weren't you told to arrest him (Haymes) because the district immigration director, Herman London, had received orders from the attorney general?"

McDermott, who arrested Haymes last Aug. 6, said he could not recall any such orders.

Hobbies Help Relax Busy Housewife

By FLORENCE V. HARTEN
NEA Staff Writer
NEW YORK — (NEA) — A hobby by for everyone. It appears that in the past few years, people of all ages have been finding that hobbies can solve every problem from having too little to too much to do. And the hurried homemaker, we're told, should not exempt herself from the prescription. Fact is, a hobby can do double duty for the housewife: It can relieve the fatigue caused by the day's tensions and also lay the foundation for a new way of life after the children have grown up. As proof it's possible for you, an outstanding exponent of hobbies for housewives told her story in an interview recently. "The story reads more like a medical case book than like the history of a woman blessed with a wonderful husband and four lovely children" — and an award-winning talent in painting. "I've always put my husband and children first and yet, with all the difficulties, I managed to find some time for painting," Winnie Borne Sherman says. "All the difficulties" began in 1929, just one year after the birth of Marjorie, the Sherman's first child, and shortly after the premature birth of Bob, Marjorie contracted pneumonia and Bob, bleeding dysentery. Paul, who was born in 1933, developed asthma in 1935. By 1938 his weight was down to 25 pounds and the last born, two-year-old Lucy, had developed an allergic condition and rheumatic fever, which affected her heart and her eyes. As she catalogued the family history, one wondered at Winnie Sherman's smooth, unlined skin and dancing eyes. To what could she attribute her amazing hold on serenity? "Well, I do have a wonderful husband. Then, too, I'm convinced that painting helped me to keep my balance through all the troubles. "You know, I believe a woman owes it to her family to give them as much happiness as she can. And she can't do that unless she feels a certain amount of self satisfaction. "For me, painting and the graphic arts were the obvious means of realizing that satisfaction. I have always loved art. I studied it at Columbia University, and in the early days of my marriage, I taught art to supplement my husband's income. "But any woman can realize a similar satisfaction. She can try gardening or needlepoint, book binding, weaving — anything that is creative." The past several years have been relatively peaceful for the Shermans. Lately, hospital visits have been joyful occasions. Daughter Marjorie, now living in Oak Park, Mich., has a two-year-old son. And Bob, a medical student, lives in Philadelphia with his wife and seven-month-old daughter. Lucy is almost completely cured. With her children grown into healthy and happy adulthood (Paul attends Florida Southern College), Mrs. Sherman has had no problem, in her middle years, worrying about what to do with her spare time. By 1951 her accomplishment was impressively pointed up when one of her water colors won a prize at the Florida International Exhibition. She has held one-woman shows in communities neighboring her New Rochelle, N. Y., home. And she has just had her first one-woman show in New York City, no small accomplishment for a wife and mother whose homemaking years have not been easy ones.

That's one better marketing pointer from the Kroger Consumer Information Program designed primarily to teach young shoppers how to shop more wisely. Here are other pointers from the same source: Poultry tips: Chicken pieces with large proportions of bone are very inexpensive and are good for soups, stews, chicken and dumplings. Buying chicken-by-the-piece is of course more expensive by weight than buying whole chicken, but it has advantages. Allow 3/4 pound per person for frying chicken. Look for smooth thin skin, firm flesh, some fat under the skin, flexible breast bones, and a well-cleaned bird. Egg facts: Grade B eggs are good for scrambling, baking and cooking. They have the same nutritional value but are less expensive than Grade A eggs, which are for poaching, trying and cooking in the shell. The big difference is that Grade A eggs, when broken into a saucer, have yolks that stand high and round, with most of the white thick, while Grade B have slightly flattened yolks and somewhat more of the thin white. Egg sizes have no correlation to grades. Shell color has no effect on flavor, food value, performance or color of yolk. Eggs are always placed in cartons with small ends down to keep the yolks centered. Keep them in the same position in the home refrigerator. Weight and number of servings should be carefully compared in pricing breads, cakes and frozen foods of all kinds. This information is stated on wrappers and should be read carefully, particularly in the case of frozen food packages, which include instruction in storing and preparation.

Among the latest wardrobe stretchers is a scarf that boasts a big, attached flower. It can be worn in a variety of ways: Around the neck, from neck to hip as a sash, or around the waist. Anyway you use it, it will give a new look to a costume. Read The News Classified Ads

RUTH MILLET Girl Scouts Return From Camping Trip

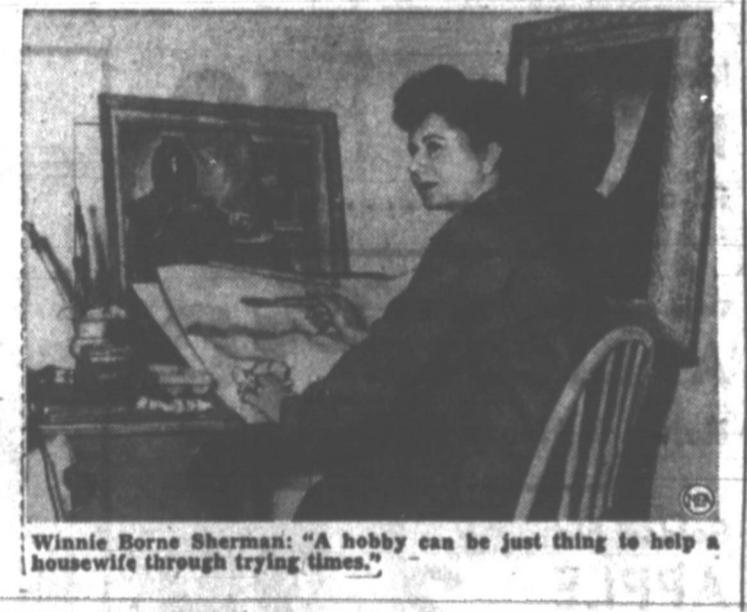

"With so-called progressive education we have been losing sight of two of the most fundamental things that we ought to teach our children. That is, to work and to think," comments a man who has interviewed more than 100,000 college students for jobs. A great many parents today will agree with him that our public schools are falling down on the job of teaching our young people to work and to think. But a fact that is more difficult for parents to admit is that the home is also falling down on that job. Today's parents are so concerned with keeping their children "happy" at all costs that too much is given to them and too little expected of them. And today's parents are real pushovers for the plea that "all the other kids are going to do such-and-such" and "none of the other kids have to do so-and-so." Using those two weapons against their parents, kids can pretty much get their own way because modern parents don't want their children to be "different" from the crowd in any way. So Papa works hard and Mama works hard, and the kids do pretty much as they please. If they get into mischief in their leisure someone decides that's what they need is a teen-age center where they can spend all their out-of-school hours loafing in a safe environment. Nobody suggests that instead of being helped and encouraged to kill time safely, they ought to be taught to make use of time. In short, that they need to be taught to work. And nobody figures that if they are running wild and getting into trouble there is something more that is wrong than lack of supervised loafing places. That there is something wrong with their ability to work. No, we parents can't blame progressive education in the schools for everything that is wrong with our children. We've become a little too "progressive" in the home, too.

Balanced Diet Aids Healthful Old Age

Things are happening to those in the grandparent years — there is more possibility of their moving into the great grandparent bracket and science is showing them how to enjoy those vintage years with comparative good health. Our population is getting older — it is not just that grandfather's friends look that way to him. Since 1900, the number of folks over 60 has increased about twice as fast as the total population. Many of these persons are in good health and apparently free from diseases usually associated with aging. In these cases, their food habits have been and continue to be, sound. This fact is pointed out by scientists as the best evidence that food practices have an important bearing on the origin and development of diseases commonly considered to "go along with growing old." In contrast, there are many in this age bracket who invite health hazards: irregularity of mealtimes, extreme lack of variety and disinterest in food, it is among these persons, that many of the ills related to aging are found. Monotonous diets, because they are made up of such a limited number of foods are apt to be deficient in one or more of the essential nutrients. Studies reveal that when any one is missing, changes occur, changes leading to premature aging. An authority, Dr. Charles Glenn King, scientific director of the Nutrition Foundation, Inc., points out that, "Fundamentally there can be no substitute for adequate nutrition. To supply the body with billions and billions of body cells, food with dozens of balanced nutrients is necessary to maintain them in a state of repair called 'health.'" To get all the foods in the health picture from the crib cradle on, select foods with an eye to variety and balance.

June Marriages Are Decreasing

June, 1954, will probably witness the smallest number of new brides of any June since 1946. That was the month, eight years ago, when marriages reached an all-time high. It looks like fewer than 170,000 couples will enter the happy estate of matrimony in June of 1954, according to an estimate of the Institute of Life Insurance. This is quite a difference from the situation in June, 1946, when 250,000 couples took the fatal step. The number of marriages each year has been on the decline since World War II, reflecting the low birth rate of the 1930's. The single exception was last year, when the number of weddings rose slightly, possibly because of the ending of the war in Korea. It is a matter of record that more marriages take place immediately after a period of war.

Mrs. W. F. Gribbon Honored With Tea

Mrs. William F. Gribbon, the former Barbara Murray of Albuquerque, N. M., was honored with a tea recently by her mother-in-law, Mrs. Dan J. Gribbon, 1317 Mary Ellen. In the receiving line were Mrs. A. D. McNamara, the hostess, the honoree, and Mrs. H. E. Murray of Albuquerque, mother of the honoree. More than 125 guests attended the event. The serving table was covered with a white, floor-length net skirt over pink, topped with a raw-linen outwork cloth. Around the edge of the table were green ferns and arrangements of pink split carnations. The centerpiece was of pale pink carnations and greenery in a crystal bowl, flanked by pink lilies in crystal holders. Refreshments of fruit punch, minis, nuts and white tea cakes decorated with rosebuds were served. Mrs. Jeff Bearden, Miss Judy Smith and Miss Jean Chisholm presided at the punch bowl, and Miss Sheila Chisholm registered the guests. Others assisting were Mrs. Ed Daley and Mrs. Hampton Waddell. The honoree was presented a corsage of pink rosebuds, and the members of the house party wore corsages of pink carnations.

Sunshine HD Club Presented Program On Blouse Making

The Sunshine Home Demonstration club met recently in the home of Mrs. K. R. Dodd, 1536 Hamilton. Highlight of the meeting was a demonstration on blouse making by Mrs. Dodd. Unit construction is important in making a blouse, she told the women. To reinforce buttonholes, a strip of material should be added to the facing, she advised. The business meeting was led by Mrs. A. A. McElrath, group president. Roll call was answered with suggestions on the care of blouses. Refreshments of ice punch and iced fruit were served. Those present were Meses, Jim King, Roy Franter, Cecil Deist, McElrath and Dodd, and Miss Ann Evert. Next meeting of the group will be at 1:30 p.m. July 8, in the home of Mrs. K. R. Dodd, 1536 Hamilton. A program on making skirts is planned.

AROUND THE WORLD

MATTERS IN HER OWN HANDS—Mrs. Beatrice Bates set up this blockade in Mt. Clemens, Mich., to keep cars out of a street she maintains as private property. Despite her efforts, and the assistance of her two-year-old son, police officers removed the obstruction.

SHIPMATES—A not-so-ancient mariner carries his own personal albatross around with him in the form of Skipper, a pet cockatoo, in Portsmouth, England. The bearded seaman is Joe Young, a $17-a-week British sailor, who's spending $840 and 60 days' leave to woo a gal in New York, a mere 3000-mile sea journey away from his home station.

ONE WAY TO DO IT—City beaches and parks were too crowded in Chicago for Betty Mae Roberts, so the nine-month-old lass did the next best thing; she just stayed as close to that thermos jug as she possibly could. When temperatures soared to 95 degrees and gripped the Windy City in an unprecedented heat wave, Betty Mae wasn't the only one attempting to cool off in some unique manner such as this one.

A STITCH IN TIME—At least pretty Alice Thomas isn't taking any chances on those clouds in the distance over St. Petersburg, Fla. She's got a big straw sun hat to protect her from the sun, and the umbrella will come in handy if rain starts to fall. Alice is a model at the local sunken gardens.

RESTORATION PLANS—As the "Save Our Churches" week began in London, nurses Barbara Salt, left, and Joyce Owen placed their contributions of silver on the steps of St. Martin's in the Fields, on Trafalgar Square. Some of the church steps had been roped off and the public was invited to cover them with silver coins to help restore about 2000 ancient English churches.

GOOD AUDIENCE—It seems the horses had a real "horse laugh" when the two beer wagon pullers encountered Juno, a Shetland pony, and Kiki, a local circus clown, in Copenhagen, Denmark. Of course, the purpose of Juno and Kiki is primarily to entertain, and obviously their antics are understandable to working horses which probably get very little joy out of life.

FOR DARK HOURS—A workman prepares to go under the Tiber River in Rome in a pressure tube to the foundations of a dam which will give the city electricity from a source right at its doorstep. In addition, the dam will furnish water for a vast cultivated area, boosting Italy's agriculture. The dam is due for completion some time next year.

A DOG'S LIFE

AN ENVIABLE THING—Life may have been tough for the poor mutts once upon a time, but dogs have never had it so good as nowadays. Young Freddie Leader, son of George Leader, Democratic candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, is shown rubbing noses in York with Butterball, the family's pet cocker spaniel pup, below.

THEY'RE HAVING IT—As his shapely mistress rests in the warm sun in Berlin, Germany, top photo, that pooch is on guard to keep her from being disturbed. Those French poodles, below, were parading Berlin streets in a flower-draped auto. The kinky canines were going to a poodle show.

OF DIFFERENT STRIPS—Stripes of material, intricately put together in a diagonal design, are the feature of this sleeveless frock in Rome. The bodice is black and white while the skirt is red and green with funnel-shaped pockets at both sides of the hip line.

ADDING TO THE LINE—Starlet Cara Williams, the wife of actor John Barrymore, Jr., is holding her brand-new son, John III, in order for him to see some family profile portraits in New York. That's his famous grandfather on the left, and then his father. In the process of looking little John carries on the family tradition by showing his own profile.

The Oilers, taking on new life with the addition of veteran I. B. Palmer, coasted to a 10-4 win over the Lubbock Hubbers last night at Oiler Park after they had made good on their protested game in a preliminary event.

Manager Doug Lewis' leads captured the protested game, 3-7. About all the Hubs could do in catching up was just to narrow the gap as the Oilers led 7-5 when the play was resumed in the eighth inning of the protested game. A homerun by Bobby Fernandez in the ninth provided the other Hubber run.

The Oilers then took the field for the regulation game and recorded a 10-4 victory behind the effective hurling of left-hander Jonas Gaines.

Gaines, in going the route for the third time this season, gained his sixth win against only one loss. He allowed 11 hits but kept them well scattered.

Gaines received some good support by his teammates who played errorless ball and turned in two double plays, one of which ended the game.

Palmer, who joined the Oilers last night after having been a Bor-jo Valesquez has been named by Manager Doug Lewis to oppose the Lubbock Hubbers tonight in the series.

Valesquez will be seeking his seventh win against three defeats.

The Little League All-Star game will precede tonight's game. The Little Leaguers will take the field at 6:30. The fifth game will follow immediately.

Gene Gasser this season, broke in with two hits and drove in three runs. One of his hits was a double.

The veteran Palmer also caught the game.

Big Don Tierney was the big night in the Oilers' 11-hit attack with three safeties, one of them a double.

Lubbock jumped into a 1-0 lead in the second inning and the Oilers battled right back to tie the count in the lower portion of the second and go ahead with a single tally in the third. Dick Halstrom drove in the lead run for the Oilers in the third.

The Hubs regained the lead with two runs in the fourth that made the score read 3-2. Once again the Oilers retaliated by scoring four times in the bottom of the fourth and that was all the working margin Gaines needed.

Gaines settled down after his shaky start to blank the Hubs from the fourth inning until the ninth. The Oiler outpaw struck out nine and issued only one free pass over the route.

The Oilers wound up their scoring in the eighth inning when they broke loose for three runs. A two-run double by Palmer featured the rally.

Dukes Trip Clovis, 8-6

By UNITED PRESS
The Clovis Pioneers wasted most of the 15 hits they got off of Albuquerque pitchers Monday night, and as a result, dropped an 8-6 decision to the Dukes that cut their West Texas-New Mexico League lead to 2½ games over Pampa.

Pampa got credit for two wins over Lubbock, 5 to 7, and 10 to 4, although the final game was a continuation of a protested game May 31 and picked up in the eighth inning with Pampa leading 8 to 6.

In other games, Abilene downed Plainview, 4 to 2, and Amarillo blanked Clovis, 8 to 0.

Oscar Reguera, who was making his first start for Abilene after being released by Clovis, stopped Plainview with six hits, one a solo homer by Bobby Brown in the ninth inning.

Jonas Gaines went the route for Pampa in the second game with Lubbock and gave up 10 blows. Lubbock catcher Jack Johnson hit a solo homer in the second inning.

Albuquerque won its game with Clovis by scoring five runs in the fifth inning. The big blow was a clutch pinch-hitter Tom Jordan's double, followed by a triple by Ernie Bartolomei.

Ray Faust pitched six-hit ball for Amarillo in going the distance against Borger in a scoreless game until the sixth inning, but the Gold Sox counted twice in that frame on Joe Fortin's inside-the-park homer, scored five times in the seventh and then counted seven runs in the eighth.

LL All-Star Pilots Named

Joe Fortin, ex-Pampa Oiler and who has been on a five-day look with Amarillo in the Western Little League All-Stars for tonight's game against the Eastern Little League stars at Oiler Park.

Fortin, manager of the Pampa team, was a coin toss from New Secret, the C. M. Jeffries manager, for the management of the Western team. Jeffries and Spokesman currently share the lead in the Western loop, thus necessitating the coin toss.

Bill Ridgway of the Cabot team had been previously named as manager of the Eastern All-Stars. Ridgway's Cabot team is also tied for the lead at present with Hoffman Oil, managed by Lloyd Summers. Ridgway won a coin toss to determine the head pilot.

All Little League managers will be on hand as aides tonight. Game time has been set for 6:30.

Comeback Try Fails

MONTREAL, June 29 - UP - Billy Lourdelle, of Hialeah, Fla., ruined Johnny Greco's comeback Monday night by gaining a split decision over Greco in a 10-round Canadian welterweight champion.

Tommy Bolt Wins Playoff

WETHERSFIELD, Conn., June 29 - UP - Tempestuous Tommy Bolt, calling himself "extremely lucky" to beat Earl Stewart Jr. in a special regulation in the Insurance City Open golf tournament, said Tuesday he'll be aiming for another triumph next week in the Motor City Open at Detroit.

But loser Stewart announced his virtual retirement from tourney competition, except for a return to the insurance city event next year and a very few other tournaments.

Bolt, of Houston, and Stewart, of Dallas, clashed in a "battle of the Texans" after they had tied at the end of the regulation 72 holes on Sunday with identical scores of 271, a total of 13 strokes under par for the Wetherfield Country Club course. In Monday's special 18 hole playoff, Bolt clipped four more strokes off par with a 67 while Stewart logged a one-under par 70.

Bolt received a $2,000 winner's check for his triumph, a memorable one since it included one round of 11-under-par 60, which equalled the Professional Golfers Association competitive record.

Stewart received $1,800 for his second place finish, but he was right in the running for the top prize until the final hole.

On the 18th, one stroke behind, Stewart's long drive wound up out of bounds by a few scant inches. That cost him a two-stroke penalty and all chance of overtaking Bolt. Gately he finished the hole with a double-bogey six while Bolt came home safely with a par, four to win by three strokes.

Bolt opened the round with three straight birdies and never was headed.

HAPPY TALK—When Leo Durocher calls a Giants' squad meeting these league-leading days, it's a happy one. The manager goes through the motions in Polo Grounds dressing room as son Chris, 8, top row center, listens in, too. (NEA)

Giants, Bums Open Crucial Series Tonight

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The Giants and Dodgers, always on each other's back for no special reason, will be at each other's throat the next three days for mid-season custody of the National League lead.

Two home runs were hit in the Christian-First Baptist tilt. Donny King of the Christians and Buddy Sharp of the Baptists hit first round trippers. Jimmy Enloe of First Christian and Sharp and Bob Schoellkopf of First Baptist each got two hits.

Rex Fenton was the winning pitcher and Kenneth Hinkle the loser.

In the junior boys league, St. Paul Methodist surprised Holy Souls, 10-7. St. Paul's winning runs came in the last inning. Mike Valesquez and Paul David Jones hit home runs.

Calvary Baptist also scored three runs in the last inning to win over First Methodist 5-3.

First Methodist was leading Calvary Baptist, 2-1, until the 7th when Calvary ran over the winning runs.

Hobart St. Baptist won a forfeit from Harrah Methodist.

Over in junior girls division First Baptist stayed undefeated by downing First Christian 21-4. It was First Christian's first loss and First Baptist's fifth straight win.

In the other Junior girl game Harrah Methodist ran over First Methodist 28-4.

Tonight's Schedule:
SENIOR BOYS
7:30 Harrah Methodist vs. First Methodist.
8:30 Central Baptist vs. Trinity Baptist.
JUNIOR BOYS
8:30 Progressive Baptist vs. Central Baptist.
8:30 First Christian vs. Holy Souls (Northwest diamond)
JUNIOR GIRLS
7:00 Central Baptist vs. Trinity Baptist.
8:30 Hobart St. Baptist vs. First Methodist.

Batting Leaders Equally Divided In Pampa PONY, Little Leagues

While the kid baseball pennant races are at a standstill due to tonight's Little League All-Star game at Oiler Park, individual batting leaders were released today by Travis Lively, statistician for the PONY and Little Leagues.

There are different leaders in each of the four divisions in all three leagues, PONY, Western Little League and Eastern Little League.

In the PONY League, Ronnie Eckroat of First National Bank leads in home runs with four; Franklin Snow of Kist's and Larry Cruise of Pampa Druggists share the lead in most hits with 18. Billy Brown of Kist's has the most runs with 17; and Cruise tops the league in runs-batted-in with 16.

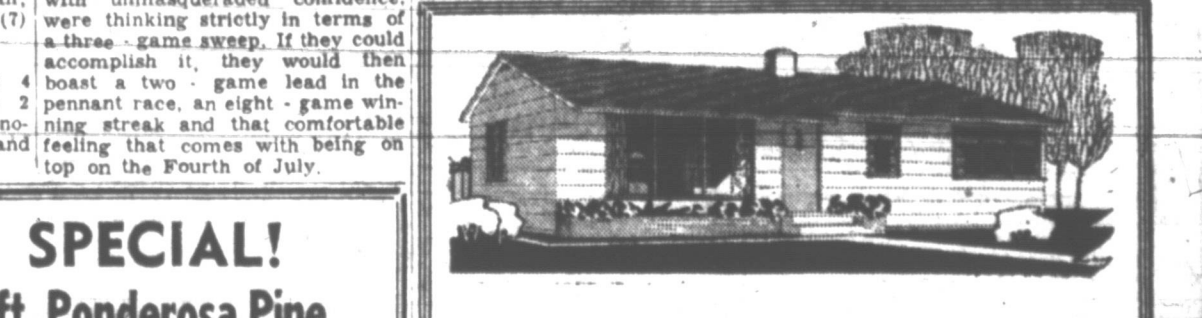

In Little League, Charles Phillips of Jeffries leads in home runs with three; Butch Fraser of Utility Oil has the most hits with 18; Jim Cambren of Spokesman share the runs lead with 13; and Buddy Rawls of Spokesman tops the Little Leaguers in runs-batted-in with 14.

Following are the individual leaders:

Home Runs
Ronnie Eckroat, Bankers
Afton Geary, Elmers
Darryl Ammons, Elmers
Robert Langford, Kists
Buster Baird, Bankers
Dale Lake, Druggists
