Administration Seeks Red Bill Compromise

REGISTER

Mrs. Dwight Eisenhower watches as President registers at headquarters of New York county board of elections for vote in November balloting. The Eisenhowers are registering "centrally" so they will not have to return from Denver vacation early.

Present Wording Too Strong

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 - Administration leaders worked behind the scenes Wednesday to find compromise language to keep House - Senate legislation "outlawing" the Communist party from damaging existing anti-subversive laws.

Both houses went firmly on record Tuesday for outlawing the party by stripping it of its legal rights and making membership a crime.

But the wording of the provisions brought up the possibility of a veto by President Eisenhower and so the administration hard at work trying to find a compromise to carry out the intent of the lawmaking bodies without weakening existing laws.

The House dumped the measure into the laps of a House-Senate conference committee which had the job of working out the problem.

The big stumbling block was a relatively short section, sponsored by the Democrats, which would brand as a criminal anyone who "willfully or knowingly" becomes or remains a member of the Communist party. Active Reds would be subject to stiff jail sentences and heavy fines.

The administration strongly opposed the provisions on grounds it would nullify Communist - control laws now on the books and wreck the government's anti - subversive drive.

SUSAN HAYES: West Coast friend of Dr. Samuel H. Sheppard, waits to be called before Cleveland grand jury where she told jurors about friendship with Dr. Sheppard, charged with the bludgeon killing of his pregnant wife.

Sheppard Indicted In Slaying

CLEVELAND, Aug. 18 - UP - Authorities planned Wednesday to bring Dr. Samuel Sheppard into common pleas court Friday for arraignment on first degree murder charges in the Independence Day slaying of his pregnant 31-year-old wife, Marilyn.

A grand jury of five men and nine women returned the murder indictment against the young osteopath late Tuesday after hearing a dozen witnesses, during a two-day session. Sheppard, who had been released on $50,000 bond only 30 hours earlier, immediately was taken into custody and returned to jail.

Authorities said he would be arraigned Friday before Common Pleas Judge Arthur H. Day, unless his attorneys seek a postponement.

Attention during the grand jury session centered on the testimony of the defendant, attractive Susan Hayes, 24-year-old former laboratory technician here who told of relationship with Sheppard.

In a 30-minute appearance, the auburn-haired girl described a week-long "man and wife" relationship with Sheppard in Los Angeles earlier this year. He had gone there to take post graduate work while his wife visited friends in Monterey, Calif.

Three Men Buried Alive In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex., Aug. 18 - UP - Three men were killed Tuesday when the wall of a 16-foot sewer ditch collapsed and buried them. Five men were in the ditch when a 50-foot section of the wall gave way. Two scrambled to safety but Leo Fisher, 36, J. D. Brackett and Squire Evans, all of Amarillo, were caught.

"I yelled, 'Let's get out,'" said Paul Grimley, who escaped with Ray Lawson. "I saw it coming. I ran to one end of the ditch and Lawson was behind me."

"Some of the dirt hit us, but we got out. Those other three didn't have a chance in the world," Grimley said.

All were employees of Stockton Construction Co., and were putting tar on a newly-laid sewer when the wall collapsed. Bodies of the three victims were found after being uncovered by a bulldozer.

Russian Cruiser Shells Dutch Ship

DELFTZILL, Holland, Aug. 18 - UP - A Dutch sea captain reported Wednesday that a Russian cruiser fired several shots in the direction of his little 400-ton coastal steamer for no apparent reason.

The incident, according to Capt. H. Piek, occurred in the Gulf of Finland.

United Fund Sets Goal At $45,150

The Pampa community United Fund drive this year will be seeking the same amount as in 1953, if the recommendation of the fund budget and admissions committee is followed.

The fund's board of directors will meet at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday in the office of Hugh (Buck) Burdette in the Highes Building to pass on the recommendation, according to Dr. J. B. Veale, Jr., fund president.

Need $45,150 It took 4 1/2 hours Tuesday night for the committee to decide to seek again a total of $45,150 plus an extra $2,000 if it can be raised.

An advance solicitation has been set for Sept. 28 to precede the general fund raising drive. Oct. 5 Representatives of the eight participating agencies appeared before the committee and presented their requests. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cancer, United Service Organization and Red Cross asked for more money than a year ago. Salvation Army and Milk Fund requested less. Ad Heart Fund asked for the same which is what they all got.

This is the breakdown of the $45,150: Girl Scouts, $7,250; Red Cross, $9,500; Salvation Army, $9,500; Cancer, $2,000; Heart, $2,000; USO, $500; Milk, $2,250; Boy Scouts, $10,000; and expenses, $2,150. An extra $2,000 was raised last year and it is hoped it will be again this year.

HOSPITAL WILL HAVE TO CHANGE EITHER JOB TITLE OR HIS SEX

ROTHWELL, England, Aug. 18 - UP - Arthur R. Williams, 33-year-old husband and father, took up his new duties Wednesday as matron of the Haigh hospital.

Williams, a former Navy medic and male district nurse, told reporters, "There has never been a male matron before. This strikes a blow for the male."

A Weakened EDC Plan On Sale Block

BRUSSELS, Belgium, Aug. 18 - UP - French Premier Pierre Mendes-France arrived Wednesday to tackle the difficult task of selling his five EDC partners a watered-down European army plan.

His plan, which would confine German units of the proposed continental defense force to their own soil and impose other restrictions, faces bitter opposition.

The United States, which has pinned its European defense strategy to the European army plan, has warned that acceptance of the French scheme could force Washington to make "an agonizing reappraisal" of its European policy.

West Germany is bitterly opposed to the "unequal status" France proposes for German soldiers in the European army.

Italy, Belgium and Holland also have expressed opposition. Luxembourg has given no opinion.

Secret Meet Spurred By Red Threat

TAIPEH, Aug. 18 - UP - Felix B. Stump, U.S. Pacific Fleet commander, arrived here Wednesday reportedly to confer with the commanders of the U. S. First and Seventh Fleets and Chinese Nationalist military leaders regarding joint defense of Formosa.

Stump arrived here after a 36-hour cruise with the Chinese navy in the Formosa straits aboard a destroyer recently turned over to the Nationalists by the United States.

It was not known how long he would stay in the island, but it was reported that he would confer with Vice Adm. William Phillips and Vice Adm. Alfred Pride, commanders of the First and Seventh Fleets respectively, who are expected here this week to map joint plans for the defense of the island.

Result from Threats Usually reliable sources said secret conferences resulted from Red China's threats to "liberate" Formosa.

The conferences would closely follow President Eisenhower's announcement that the Communists would have to run over the Seventh Fleet if they actually attempted an invasion of Formosa.

The Seventh Fleet, reportedly composed of at least two carriers and covering forces, is charged with protecting Formosa from any Communist attack.

The First Fleet, reportedly composed of another two carriers, is operating in South China Sea and would also be in position to aid in the defense of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's island bastion if the Communists struck.

De Castries Freedom May Be Near

HANOI, Indo-China, Aug. 18 - UP - French authorities told newsmen Wednesday they believe the Communist Indo-Chinese will release Brig. Gen. Christian de Castries, hero of Dien Bien Phu, Thursday in a propaganda show.

The Communist Indo-Chinese radio announced earlier Wednesday that De Castries would be turned over to the French with 4,910 other war prisoners in the exchange at Viet Tri in northern Viet Nam.

De Castries, who defended Dien Bien Phu until its fall to the Communists last May 5, last was reported in a heavily guarded prison camp near the Red China border.

He had made known his wishes to be among the last men repatriated in a gesture to others who had fought valiantly to save the fortress.

French authorities believe the Reds would repatriate De Castries Thursday in a propaganda fanfare because Aug. 19 is the anniversary of the day Red Indo-Chinese dictator Ho Chi Minh first came to power in Indo-China in 1945.

Adjourning Fever Hits Congressmen

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 - UP - An unusual burst of Senate progress fanned Congress' highly contagious "adjourning fever" Wednesday.

Leaders of both parties were confident that nothing except extraordinary, unexpected developments could prevent an adjournment by the weekend. Some privately predicted the end might come by Thursday night.

The Senate crowned a busy and productive 14 1/2 hour session by sending to the White House early Wednesday the compromise farm bill which the House approved several hours earlier.

With its members packing bags and eyeing train and plane schedules, the upper chamber scheduled a nother meeting early Wednesday to clear away more legislation.

More Bills Left The Senate planned to act on a commodity credit borrowing bill, a House - approved compromise $1.6 billion supplemental appropriations bill to provide last minute funds for a score of federal agencies and another anti-subversive bill Wednesday before tackling a bulging calendar of routine measures. Any of the routine bills that met with a single objection apparently was dead for the year.

The House, well caught up with its work, marked time pending final decisions of three important House-Senate conference committees. They are working on compromise versions of the foreign aid appropriations bill, Social Security legislation, and highly-controversial legislation to in effect outlaw the Communist party. Another conference committee was considering the rivers and harbors flood control authorization bill passed by the Senate Tuesday night.

Record Heat Wave Stays

The hottest summer ever seen in the Southwest rolled on without a break in sight Wednesday.

A disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico, that had given promise of possible rain in Texas and Oklahoma, blew ashore in Mexico Tuesday after touching off showers along the coast in the lower Rio Grande Valley.

Oklahoma sweltered under a heat wave that was cutting crop prospects further each day. Yesterday's top reading was 104 at both McAlester and Ponca City, with Guymon reporting the low maximum of 97 degrees.

In Texas, the highest reported temperature was 101 at Fort Worth, Mineral Wells and Presidio and the afternoon readings ranged down to 88 degrees at Marfa. It was 100 at Dallas, the 90th day of 1954 with a century or higher reading and thus, officially, the hottest summer ever, since 1952's 28 days of 100 degrees or more was the previous record.

Japan Typhoon Leaves 39 Dead

TOKYO, Aug. 18 - UP - A 115-mile-an-hour typhoon ripped across the south Japanese island of Kyushu Wednesday, killing an estimated 39 persons and howling on with slightly diminished fury toward the "main island" of Honshu.

Up to 20 inches of rain accompanied the raging tropical windstorm, undermining roads, flooding rivers and sweeping away an undetermined number of Japanese houses.

Agriculture Days Entries Total 75

With Top of Texas Agriculture and Livestock Achievement Days in the offing, Aug. 26 and 27, entries numbering 75 have already been received by Pampa Chamber of Commerce, sponsors of the two-day program. Six counties will participate.

Rep. Walter Rogers has indicated his intention of attending the festivities, but his showing up is dependent upon Congress' closing.

Order of Program The two-day program sponsored by the agricultural committee of the C of C, with the cooperation of the Gray County Soil Conservation District and the Top of Texas Hereford Breeders Association, will concentrate the first day on youth activities with heavy participation by 4-H clubs and the Future Farmers and Homemakers of America.

Following a day of livestock judging, rifle shooting, softball tournaments, tractor driving and goat roping, there will be a style show, an amateur contest, and a square dance climaxed by the presentation of awards to the boys and girls who have been outstanding in their respective fields during the past year. Women's activities will be on the first day's program.

The second day's agenda will be dominated by adult activities with a tour of local soil conservation and irrigation projects and ranches in the area. Topping off the morning activities will be a barbecue at 11 a. m. The afternoon will be taken up with judging of Hereford Breeding classes, and several talks.

Featured Speakers A. P. "Red" Atkins, of Guymon, Okla., director of the National Soil Conservation District Association, will speak on soil conservation, with Bob Thurman, of Lubbock, Extension Service Irrigation specialist giving a talk on irrigation problems confronting the farmer.

Recreation Park is being put in final shape to accommodate the large crowds, with permanent seating for 350 now being installed in the new barn. E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of the C of C, reported.

Both Ted Alexander, president of the Texas Hereford Breeders, and the association's secretary, Henry Elder, will join in the two-day gathering.

Hoover, Jr. Confirmed In Senate Post

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 - UP - The Senate confirmed scarcely 30 minutes after it convened the nomination of Herbert Hoover Jr., son of the former President, to be undersecretary of state.

Hoover's appointment was approved by unanimous consent without discussion. He succeeds Gen. Walter Redell Smith, who is resigning to enter private business in the fall.

The 31-year-old Hoover has spent the past year as Secretary of State John Foster Dulles' special consultant in settling the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute.

Harrison Wins In Wyoming

CHEYENNE, Wyo., Aug. 18 - UP - Rep. William Henry Harrison won a clear victory for the senatorial nomination and Millward Simpson substantially defeated incumbent C. J. Rogers for the gubernatorial nomination in Wyoming's Republican primary with more than two-thirds of the vote tabulated early Wednesday.

Governor Rogers conceded to Simpson when, with 402 of Wyoming's 648 precincts reporting, he had dropped 1,800 votes behind.

Sam C. Hyatt and Ewing T. Kerr conceded victory to Harrison when the congressman, although embattled by the axing of Wyoming's cherished $2 million Glen do unit in a House committee, swept far ahead of them.

Unofficial returns from 492 precincts gave Harrison 18,520 votes to 7,386 for Hyatt and 6,971 for Kerr. William Taber had only 611. Simpson led Rogers at that point in the counting, 11,828 to 8,862. Four other candidates were running far behind.

Rogers was secretary of state when Gov. Frank Barrett resigned after defeating Joseph C. O'Mahoney for the U.S. Senate in the 1952 Republican sweep. Wyoming has no lieutenant governor, and Rogers succeeded Barrett.

O'Mahoney was unopposed on the Democratic senatorial ballot but had his draft made official with 19,720 votes in the 492 precincts.

Rabies Epidemic In Houston Area

HOUSTON, Aug. 18 - UP - A nationally-known public health expert said Wednesday Houston has the worst rabies epidemic he has ever seen in the United States.

Dr. Ernest S. Tierkel of the U.S. Public Health Service communicable disease center, Atlanta, Ga., arrived here Tuesday for a conference with state and local health officials.

"In terms of incident, it's the worst I've ever run into in this country," Dr. Tierkel said. "I knew that Houston was grappling with a problem but I didn't know it was this bad."

GOP Solon Pushes A-Contract Inquiry

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18 —UP— Chairman William Langer of the Senate Monopoly subcommittee Wednesday accused GOP leaders of blocking funds for his investigation of an administration - proposed power contract which Democratic Chairman Stephen A. Mitchell called a "scandal."

But the North Dakota Republican said he would continue to push for the "fullest, most detailed, most thorough" inquiry into the so-called Dixon-Yates contract. The proposal involves the Atomic Energy Commission and the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Mitchell's charge touched off a political storm that reached all the way to the White House. He said President Eisenhower personally ordered the contract awarded to a private power "syndicate" and noted that one of the President's close friends, identified as golfer Bobby Jones, is a director of one of the firms involved.

President Defends Jones

Mr. Eisenhower expressed astonishment at his new conference Tuesday that Mitchell had brought the character and integrity of Jones into his charges. He strongly defended Jones as a man of unexcelled character.

Mr. Eisenhower said he knew that once he went into political life he would be subjected to many kinds of innuendo and allegation. He said he had approved recommendations for awarding the contract to Dixon-Yates and added that, except in national security cases, all such matters should be open to the public.

The President then invited reporters to see the entire budget bureau and AEC records on the controversial contract. But the two agencies said they could not assemble the material before the end of the week.

Reply from Mitchell

Mitchell replied from Chicago that he was glad Mr. Eisenhower "is now ready to make public the whole story behind the Dixon-Yates deal." He said "there are bound to be suspicions about this multi-million dollar give-away as long as the administration failed to disclose how it originated and developed."

The national Democratic chairman Tuesday night filed 10 questions about the contract that he said should be answered. Mitchell wanted to know, among other things, who originated the proposal, if any undisclosed power companies were involved, whether the government solicited competing bids, whether any government agencies had reservations about the proposal, and why records of the contract are to be "kept under lock and key for four days and four nights."

Mitchell also said he accepted Jones' statement that he did not discuss the proposed contract, involving the Southern Co., of which Jones is a board member, with the President.

500 Attend Tax Hearings

An estimated 450-500 persons visited the Gray County Commissioner's Court, acting as the county's board of equalization, during the period of Aug. 9-17 when public hearings were held.

Some 250-300 of them were on hand Thursday through Monday for the hearing on local property and those not on the oil and gas rolls. County Judge J. B. Maguire, Jr., said this morning. More than 100 of the total showed up Thursday, the first day.

The others appeared in the first days of the hearings for oil operators, independents and royalty owners and owners of fee land on the oil' roll.

Now the court will continue on its budget work. Judge Maguire continued. County commissioners have been working on the budget for sometime now, though most of the work had to be halted during the past hearings. The public budget meeting will probably be held early in September, Judge Maguire said.

L. A. Atkinson Rites Thursday

Services for Lawrence Amiel Atkinson, 62-year-old retired engineer for the Phillips Petroleum Co. and a resident of Guymon, will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday in the Lefors Methodist Church, Rev. I. T. Hucksby, officiating. He died Tuesday in Fort Supply, Okla.

A native of Jamestown, Mo., Atkinson made his home in Guymon the last 10 years. Upon his retirement three years ago, because of poor health, Atkinson had worked for Phillips 20 years.

Survivors include his wife, Ora, of the home in Guymon; a son Eugene of Lefors; two daughters, Mrs. Edith Watson, and Mrs. Evelyn Bagwell, both of Lefors; his stepmother, Mrs. Mary Atkinson, Kansas City, Mo.; five sisters, Mrs. Emma Madren, Coffeyville, Kan.; Mrs. Anna Harris and Mrs. Hattie Venable, both of Kansas City, Mo.; Mrs. Edith Anderson, Arkansas City, Kan., and Mrs. Bertie Kirkland, Carroton, Tex., and nine grandchildren.

Arrangements are under the direction of the Duenkel-Carmichael Funeral Home.

Church Council Seeks Common Denominator

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 18 —UP— Delegates to the second World Council of Churches, representing 161 different faiths, Wednesday sought a common stand on the meeting's major theme — "Christ, the Hope of the World."

The great debate coincided with another discussion along the same lines — how to bring unity to the world's Christian churches.

Deliberations on the main theme began Tuesday night as 600 delegates split into 15 separate groups. They were to spend three days studying the report of an advisory commission on the subject.

Basic Differences

Although the talks were private, delegates indicated that the meetings had already brought basic differences of viewpoint into the open.

Some delegates confessed the talks became so intense they were almost moved to tears.

A basic difference, it appeared, was whether Christ's hope is to be found in this world or the next.

Some European churches, including Prof. Etienne Schlink of the Evangelical Church in Germany, have already said man's hope should be sought in the hereafter.

American theologians appeared to hold to the view that man should find his hope in this world, also.

Account of Controversy

Dr. Martin Niemoller, the German Evangelical pastor who was one of the first to defy Hitler, indicated the advisory commission's report should take account of the controversy.

A churchman from Africa pleaded for a statement of hope that will serve Negroes as well as white persons.

"In Kenya there is a hope of a return to tribalism in the Mau Mau movement and people are caught between terror and confusion," he said. "Some whites will use the beliefs in the Christian hope as a means of keeping Negroes subordinate to them."

Bishop John Peter of Communist Hungary, who dominated attention Tuesday with his statement that the church is growing behind the Iron Curtain, reworded the theme to "Christ, the only hope of the world."

United Fund Needs Helpers

Dr. J. B. Veale, Jr., president of the Pampa community United Fund, late this morning announced that from four to six persons are needed immediately to work on the fund's survey of business and industrial concerns.

Those hired will probably begin work late in the week and should be finished by the end of next week, Dr. Veale said, adding that it was a good chance for school teachers, college students or the like to earn some extra money.

Interested persons may contact Mrs. Emmett Gee, the fund's permanent paid associate, at 4-4822.

It will just be a question, Dr. Veale pointed out, of taking a mimeograph form around to Pampa firms and getting a list of the employees. The fund operates only through business and industrial concerns—there is no house-to-house canvassing.

Holy Souls School Opens September 7

Holy Souls Parochial School will start classes Sept. 7. Registration for new students will be accepted from 9 a.m. to 12 noon on Sept. 8, according to Sister James Aloysius, principal.

Returning to classes this fall will be 132 pupils, not including new registrants. Children entering the first grade will not be expected to present birth certificates, but will be required to have health certificates, the Sister said.

Considerable refurbishing has been done to the Holy Souls building. All classroom floors have been revarnished along with many of the desks; halls have been painted; and improvements will be made on the playground later this month.

The eight grades of the school are staffed by a faculty of five, including Sister James Aloysius, principal; Sister Mary Assumption, who is coming here from Jefferson City, Mo., to rejoin the faculty; Sister Mary Patrick, and Sister Mary Baptist; and Sister Mary Catherine the music instructor.

All are members of the Sisters of Charity of the Incarnate Word, Provincial House in St. Louis, Mo. The mother house is in San Antonio.

Scout Count To Be Made

The annual school survey by Boy Scout officials will be held the week of Sept. 18-17.

Harry McWaters, Santa Fe District commissioner, presided over a district roundtable Tuesday night when it was decided how the survey would be handled this year.

During the selected week, Scout officials will visit the homerooms containing boys 8 and older to offer them an information card, McWaters said. On the card the youngsters will write their names, the names of their parents, their addresses and church preferences.

At a roundtable, slated for Sept. 21, Scout officials will distribute the cards to the scoutmasters who will then visit the potential Scouts at their homes, McWaters explained. Finally, there will be a "maverick night" when the boys interested in Scouting will be "branded" into the organization.

John Campbell and Jack Dunham Tuesday night explained to the Scout officials how the survey is run.

These are the men who will go to the schools: Fred Neslage, Holy Souls; Tom Dever, Carver; E. Roy Smith, Lamar; Don Cain, Houston; Jack Shelly, Baker; McWaters, Mann; Rufus Jordan, Wilson; and Dick Crews, junior high school.

Firemen Have Drill

Fifteen firemen and five volunteers participated in a two-hour fire drill Tuesday night.

The truck left the station at 7 p.m. yesterday and went to the city lake, where the firemen pumped water for the drill.

The drill consisted of practice pumping, timed connections, and distance drills.

The fire department holds two such drills per month.

Sam Maceo Widows Marries

HOUSTON, Aug. 18 —UP— The Houston Press disclosed Tuesday that Edna Sedgwick (Sedgwick) Maceo widow of Sam Maceo, was remarried last Saturday.

Amusement editor Paul Hochull, a friend of Mrs. Maceo, said in an exclusive story that she was married to Henry G. Platt, vice president of Gulf Theaters, New Orleans, in a civil ceremony in Mississippi.

The marriage was to have taken place next month in Dallas where the former star dancer in Maceo's Hollywood dinner club at Galveston met Platt at the home of Mrs. Lillian Lutzer.

The marriage is the second for both.

Hochull said Mrs. Platt has placed her Galveston home on the "for sale" list and plans to move to New Orleans in the near future.

Mrs. Platt was not available for comment.

Church Council Lefors Schools To Open Later Than Most In County

Lefors public school students are getting a break this year — they will not begin school till Sept. 7.

All other schools in Gray County begin in August. Hopkins, Grandview, McLean and Alameed begin Aug. 30. And Pampa begins Aug. 31.

Enrollment in the county's public schools is not expected to change materially from the 1933-34 school year, according to County Schools Supt. B. R. Nuckols.

Biggest change should come in McLean, Nuckols said late this morning. McLean will pick up most of the students who would have gone to Alameed if Alameed had kept its high school. Alameed late in March was reclassified as an eight-year school.

McLean had about 470-75 students last year, Nuckols said. Lefors had some 375-80 and should remain about the same. Alameed had 80 a year ago. Hopkins had 90 and Grandview, which had 32, should have 28 or 27 this year.

Pampa's estimated public school population will be 4,600. Pampa Schools Supt. Knox Kinard has figured.

These are the principals in schools in the county outside of Pampa: Harry Garrison, Hopkins; F. M. Biddy, Grandview; Mr. McCollom, Alameed; G. N. Mounger, Lefors High School; Bob Peterson, Lefors Elementary School; J. E. Payne, McLean High School; and Claud Zevy, McLean Elementary School.

Freeman Melton is McLean schools superintendent and Archie Roberts, Lefors schools superintendent.

LaMaster Opens Headquarters

PERRYTON — LeRoy (Pete) LaMaster, Republican candidate for U.S. representative, opens his official campaign headquarters at 108 S. Main, Perryton, at 3 p.m. Thursday.

It will be held in conjunction with a meeting of LaMaster's county chairman and vice-chairmen who will be on hand, too, for opening day of the North Plains Fair.

LaMaster will be opposed in the general election Nov. 2 by incumbent Walter Rogers, of Pampa, who beat out easily two opponents in the July 24 Democratic primary. LaMaster had no opposition in the GOP primary.

Scouters To Meet In Alpine

Four officials from the Boy Scouts' Adobe Walls Council will leave Friday for Alpine and the annual week-long regional conference.

Attending the Region 9 conference will be Paul Betsenher, council Scout executive; Phil Pegues, Santa Fe District Scout executive; J. D. Ross, Adobe District executive; and Dave Agnew, North Plains District executive. There will be no executive from the Southern District as Ray Young has resigned.

Meeting will take place at Sul Ross College, Alpine, and will continue till Aug. 28.

Pooches Still Unlicensed

The City of Pampa continues to license its dogs, but it has a long way to go to get all of them.

A total of 884 canines had been licensed by late this morning in the city tax office. But it has been estimated there are 2,000 pooches roaming the streets of Pampa.

One wag said, "Yeah, and every one of them is on my block, too."

Newsman Lost On Sea Voyage
OAKLAND, Calif., Aug. 18 —UP— Two amateur radio operators said the American schooner "Windjammer," owned by newsman Peggy Poe who was on a round-the-world trip, is "feared lost or disabled" 100 miles off Easter Island.

Miss Poe of New Orleans, former reporter for the New Orleans Item and the Paris edition of the Washington Post, left New Orleans several months ago in the 37-foot auxiliary schooner. Her progress through the Panama Canal was reported about a month ago.

Medical Officer Exams To Be Held
Competitive examinations will be held to fill openings for medical officers in Texas, with a salary range of $2,340 to $3,360, the U. S. Civil Service Commission reported Tuesday. Information may be obtained at the Pampa post office.

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

Editor's note: While Women's Page Editor Jane Kadingo is on vacation this column is being written by guest authors. Today's column is by Marlene Kolb, Pampa News staff writer.

IT'S THAT TIME AGAIN! Party time of course! Starting right now is when those back-to-school parties are going to be so popular. And with so many August brides this year, showers offer a wonderful opportunity for the "coming out" of all those wonderful ideas that no one ever dreamed were in your head.

Got some really wonderful ideas from Leatrice Clemen's (Mrs. Bill) the other day. She's quite talented that way you know, and always comes up with something different.

She was telling about a Circus Party that she once gave for her son Robbie. For the centerpiece she made a merry-go-round, using animal cookies. It sounded adorable. She served old-fashioned stew, cornbread sticks, pumpkin pie from the center to the cookie to the child, with the child's name on the end.

Another centerpiece she told me about was for a Western Party. It was a miniature corral, with horses and all the trimmings to be, as Leatrice herself said, "fixed up very western." Place cards for this party were little guns with ropes attached to them.

Here is something, also passed on by Leatrice, which you might clip and keep until the last of October. It's a Halloween dinner. She served old-fashioned stew, cornbread sticks, pumpkin pie with little cheese pumpkins on top, and coffee. Already sounds like a good party, doesn't it? Halloween design cloths with matching napkins covered the card tables, and for color harmony she used green dishes.

The proper Halloweenish eerie effect was achieved by eating by candlelight. Leatrice placed a large orange candle in the center of each table and left the rest of the room completely dark.

Not only did Leatrice give centerpiece and decoration ideas, but some tips on how to make your party a success. She said that the first thing, no matter what, was to put the guests at ease. A party can succeed or flop in the first few minutes after the guests arrive unless they are made to relax. If there is someone among them whom you don't know really too well, Leatrice advises finding out more about them perhaps in an easy conversational sort of way. Both of you will have a lot better time, she says.

Informality is always good, says Leatrice, and men seem to be more comfortable when things are not too elaborate. "Oh they want it to be pretty and cute," she said, "but not stiff and formal. Of course there are occasions which call for elaborateness."

A tip given by Leatrice for a good "get acquainted" party was a "forty-two party." Changing tables as you do is a really good way to get to know people.

Was speaking of brides awhile ago, and just ran across a recipe for a "Sandwich Cake" for the Bride. Thought I would pass it along to you. (It's pictured below so you'll know how it's supposed to look.)

BRIDAL LUNCHEON MENU
Sandwich Cake
Pineapple, Melon Ball Salad
Coffee Tea

Nuts
Here's the answer to what to serve for a bridal luncheon—a glamorous decorated "sandwich cake." Its four layers are put together with flavorful fillings. Here's the good news—the fillings are quickly prepared with canned luncheon loaf and the "cake" itself is made from a package of roll mix.

One layer of this ring combines luncheon loaf (mash with a fork, there's no need for grinding) with pickle relish and mayonnaise. A second layer is the combination of luncheon loaf and chili sauce and the third, chopped hard-cooked egg, chopped parsley and mayonnaise.

In addition to the fillings, the Decorate with cream cheese forked through a pastry tube and garnish with slices of stuffed and ripe olives. To make umbrella, cut pimiento in half and use a strip of green pepper for the handle.

A quick sanding will renew the sparkle of your enamel costume jewelry. Use a soapy, soft brush to get into carvings, corners and crevices. But work quickly to avoid loosening cement—settings, rinse and dry in a towel.

Keep your costume jewelry from tarnishing by coating it with a thin coat of fresh, white shellac or colorless nail polish. A second coat of either will provide greater protection.

Wedding Told In Havana Paper

HIGGINS — (Special) — Of interest to friends of the Keffer family is the following notice that appeared recently in a Havana, Cuba, paper:

"Demanding the place of honor in our column today is the announcement of the wedding of the lovely and charming Miss Natalie Higgins in our social circles and the daughter of Baron and Baroness de Blanc.

"Her fiancé is Dr. John W. Keffer, distinguished American lawyer and general counsel of Standard Oil.

"The civil ceremony will take place in this city August 8th in the home of the bride-elect's uncle, Andres A. de Terry and his wife, Bianca Garcia Montes, and the religious ceremony on the 25th of August at Chateau de Toiochenez, the home of Baron de Blanc in Lausanne, Switzerland.

"Miss de Blanc, who leaves for Switzerland on the 9th, will be honored with a shower by her friends of Havana society on Thursday the fifth at the Habana Yacht Club, the hostesses for which occasion are Mrs. Hermuna Saladrigas de Terry and Misses Conchita Valverde and Marita de la Torre.

"Dr. Keffer was reared at Lipscomb and Shattuck, Okla., and attended Texas University before entering law school. He is a nephew of the late Charles Keffer, Amarillo, and is a brother of Mrs. Jesse Bussard, Higg.

"After spending their honeymoon in Paris, France, the couple will be at home in Havana after September 13th.

"Dr. Keffer has two other sisters, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, Odesa and Mrs. Pat Moore, San Angelo, and two brothers, Doug Keffer, Shattuck, Okla., and Jim Keffer, Calgary, Alberta, Canada.

Start Grooming Training Early

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Since most 7-year-old girls spend their summer in play-clothes, relaxing and dressing for children's games rather than for appearance's sake, the smart mother will start getting her daughter prepared for school well in advance.

You may think this will be a difficult task, and that it will take a small miracle or fantastic promise to get your little girl back into the immaculately groomed class.

If so, watch your daughter's expression the next time you make up your face, or give yourself a manicure. Isn't it one of complete interest? And doesn't she ask if she can paint her nails, too, or apply a little bit of your cologne? Well, there's your solution. By introducing her to a few cosmetics, made especially for small fry ladies, your grooming job is more than half done.

For she'll take to the junior-sized manicure kit the same way she admires your own. With her own hand lotion, colorless nail polish, polish-remover, orange stick and emery board, it'll be a nicely kept little hand that reaches for that first report card.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Grace Friend
I am writing to inquire if you still maintain a list of service men stationed abroad, who desire correspondence from home. If so I would be interested in writing.
Thank you very much. Our whole family enjoys your column.
J. W.

Dear J. W.
I don't maintain a list of service men who want letters from home. However, I am always glad to publish their addresses when they write asking for letters. Lately I haven't received any such requests.

BIRTH CERTIFICATE

Dear Grace Friend
I want to thank you very much for your interest in my letter about getting a birth certificate in England and I want to thank those kind ladies for answering the letter you wrote for me in your paper.

MEDICAL INSURANCE

Dear Madame
We've read recently of people having "hospital insurance" difficulties. May we say from experience that these troubles can all be satisfactorily ironed out?
We got the RIGHT answer from a very good doctor in a time of terrible need and we feel that the general public should know that we have a state insurance investigator and that a letter addressed to him at the state capital will bring results in a short time.

HONEYMOON

Dear Grace
My nephew and his bride will come through our town on their honeymoon.
We have been wondering if it would be proper to invite them to stay a few days with us or whether it will be better just to let them stay where they will and look us up if they do desire.
Mrs. I. P.

Dear Mrs. P.

Why not write your nephew stating that you have heard he will be in your city during his honeymoon and telling him that he is always welcome to stay with you, or come to dinner as he wishes. Say that you realize they may just be driving through but that you want them to know you will be glad to entertain them if it fits in with their plans. Thus they can decide what they want to do and let you know.

Betty Joan Mills Becomes Bride Of Bruce C. Hanson

Miss Betty Joan Mills, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Mills, 254 N. Zimmers, and Bruce C. Hanson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hanson, Garden City, were married recently.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Maple Avery in the East 4th Baptist Church, Big Spring.

The bride wore a blue taffeta dress with white accessories. Immediately following the ceremony the couple left for Ruidoso, N.M. They will make their home in Garden City, where Mr. Hanson is engaged in ranching.

Attending the ceremony were Mrs. Leonard Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Bud Hanson.

MANNERS MAKE FRIENDS

One of the ways you can assure friends that you really care about them is by remembering to inquire about members of their family. For instance, if you met Sue's mother on a recent visit, inquire about her after she returns home. Or if you know that Jane's father has been ill, give her a chance to tell you how he is getting along next time you see her.

When we forget our own concerns long enough to show concern for others we truly are offering friendship.

Good Neighbors?

It has long been generally understood that the people of the United States have no quarrel with the people of the Soviet Union. We accept the fact that the peril to free men lies in the Communist party of Russia, the fanatics of the Kremlin, the leaders and the rulers of the Russians.

The object of the propaganda we are sending behind the Iron Curtain is to reassure the common people of Russia that we are not their enemy and do not consider them ours. We are spending a great deal of tax money to do this.

In this hemisphere we have been making a great show for some years of demonstrating our "good neighborliness" for the countries south of us, especially for Mexico.

But whether the administration taking the lead in this activity has been Democrat or Republican, all the friendship and generosity has been directed toward the politicians and no effort has been made to show the people of those countries that we even know they exist.

During the reign of Franklin the Great, we had Nelson Rockefeller spreading largess (extracted from the taxpayers) for paved highway and the like. It was no secret in these parts that the money was handed over to the politicians and most of it was wasted.

There was, for example, the Guatemala highway program in which the most magnificent stretch was built through difficult mountain country where there were no towns. But at the dead end of the road was the palace of the then president.

That was scarcely calculated to endear us to the ordinary citizen of Guatemala. It helped to earn us the name of Uncle Sucker. It was the same all over.

Down in Mexico it was common knowledge during the war days that entirely too much of the cash we gave away was employed to build and maintain handsome establishments for the mistresses of the generals.

Mighty little trickled down to the peon working for the equivalent of 50 cents a day or less. Those people heard much of generous Uncle Sam, but they never saw any evidence that his liberality benefitted anybody except those who already had it too good.

That is the sort of thing that helped to make a host of followers for Vincent Lombardo, Toledano and other devoted communist workers.

Now-a-days we are not lading the green stuff out so openly and freely, but we are doing it just the same. We have put up the money for the devaluation of the peso and the hungry Mexican is beginning to realize that devaluation was a device to make the rich richer at the expense of making the poor poorer and hungrier.

That also is helping to make more Mexican communists.

Now comes Operation Wetback. The border country, and especially the Lower Rio Grande Valley, has long been a comparative paradise for the more ambitious Mexican farm laborer. He has come here with his women in great numbers solely because he could make more money here and, for the vast majority, receive better treatment and better working conditions than he could find anywhere in his home land.

It is true that he come here in violation of our laws. It is true that the Immigration Service has every right to try to keep him out and to deport him when it catches him.

Until the laws are changed to provide a more common-sense and humane, a more neighborly border crossing plan, the Immigration Service will continue to have the right and duty to try to keep these hungry people out.

How Not To Be A Wallflower, Buy Some Uranium Stock

If you don't want to be a conversational wallflower, you'd be wise to get yourself some uranium stock.

Uranium has replaced mah jong, the pogo stick, attachments for sports cars, bridge, barbeque sauces, and politics, as the No. 1 subject of conversation.

If you don't have a few shares of the stuff, or haven't invested in a company that is digging in Utah, Colorado, and half a dozen other states in the hope of finding a vein of it, you'll just have to stand around tongue-tied, tugging at your forelock, wondering what to do with your hands and feet, and generally behaving like a dull lout.

At least that was my experience. Even the milkman talked to me about it, while he was delivering my two quarts of homogenized and pink of yogurt.

"How's your uranium?" he asked. "Mine's coming along fine."

"I thought he said uranium, and so I said, 'Oh, pretty well, though I guess it could stand a little more watering and a little bit of fertilizer.'"

"So I didn't have the milkman to talk to anymore."

But now I have some uranium stock and am again back in the conversational and social swim.

Not much, but enough to make me a bona fide well-eyed dreamer, with a glint of riches in my gaze. A mere soupcon of stock, in fact, but that's all you need if you don't go around telling everyone you have a mere soupcon.

I got mine for free, and in a rather extraordinary way.

I was on the Paramount lot, and dropped in to see Bob Hope, who was making a picture which now bears the rather lengthy title of

"Eddie Foy and The Seven Little Foys." Incidentally, I saw some of the rushes, and it will be Hope's best picture since "Sorrowful Jones."

I pulled up a chair, expecting to talk golf and horses as usual. But no. That's old stuff. Old and forgotten. He, like millions of others, is a uranium man. He keeps a prospector's outfit handy in his dressing room, just in case a strike is made on his Utah claims. He was, to be ready to go.

Heavy boots. Fligid shirt. Chewing tobacco. A shotgun. Two burros. Hardtack. Some beads for trading with the Indians. A letter to the Sheriff. A sun lamp, so he can leave tanned and weather-beaten.

"How's your uranium?" he asked. "Ain't got none, bud," I replied.

"Here's a man got no uranium claims a-working for him," Bob called to Cary Grant, who was passing by on his way to the set of Hitchcock's "To Catch a Thief."

"Not nary none?" said Grant who, like Hope, now talks in the language of the uranium prospector.

"Not nary," answered Hope. "But I am going to remedy that. I ain't sell him a bit of mine," and he did.

For one dollar, prospector Hope cut me in on one square-inch of one of his claims. Where my one inch is I don't know — and don't care. Could be half a mile down an abandoned mine shaft, but it wouldn't make any difference.

For now, when men talk of uranium, I can talk of my claim. I might even carry around a fock and point out the glitter in it, couldn't hurt a man's standing, could it?

BETTER JOBS

A Common Sense Means Of Fighting Communism

Here is the last installment of Dean Manion's way of combatting Communism.

"Clearing out our homegrown Communists, fellow travelers, and Communist germ peddlers will not be as easy as this. We seem to be afraid of Communism everywhere on earth, except in the United States itself. $75,000,000 of the money appropriated by the United States Senate to investigate Communism in our Government has just been spent on a picturesque investigation of the investigators.

"The center of our confusion in this vital contest with Communism here at home is in our widespread and all but official loss of faith in American freedom. Oh, the free voice of Jacob is loud and clear but the handwork is mostly that of Socialistic Esau. We need to remember that there is no permanently habitable middle ground between American freedom and Communist slavery. Between the two there is only a path of transition leading from one to the other. Communism is simply the complete concentration of governmental power in the hands of God-less gangsters. Mind you, the gangsters move in only after the power is completely concentrated for them in advance by fellow-traveling dupes, demagogues and do-gooders. The Founding Fathers gave us a complete, impregnable defense against Communism in the dispersion and division of vital governmental powers throughout the several states of the Union. MARK IT WELL—these Constitutional States' Rights are our best defense against Communism. Today, however, in the courts and out of the courts—these States' Rights are held in ever-increasing disrespect. The Founding Fathers, likewise, left us this simple and practical definition of liberty:—Liberty is the end result of strictly limited Civil Government.

"Where Government is unlimited, no Citizen is Free—human liberty diminishes in the proportion that governmental power is increased and concentrated. This is precisely why the Founding Fathers wrote the Constitution as they did.

"The implementation of such a theory obviously required and still requires courage and great faith in God—People who are conscientiously governed by the Ten Commandments can do away with a whole batch of bungling bureaucrats. It is in the very nature of Government to magnify its force and centralize its power. In doing so, government diminishes the size and importance of the people under it. This, unfortunately, has been the case with us and it is part and parcel of the helpless frustration now felt by millions of our citizens, including the poor mother who called me on the telephone. It is for her and the millions of American mothers that FOR AMERICA was organized:

"To promote Peace and National Defense; To promote Americanism as embraced in God, Country and limited Constitutional Government—States' Rights and enlightened patriotic nationalism; To oppose Communism and every other form of centralized despotic Governmental power; To oppose the loss of our independence in super-internationalism or one-worldism.

"FOR AMERICA IS NOT a political Party. It is a rallying point for Patriots of all Parties who are determined to save America for themselves, their children, and for mankind; for Patriots who are less anxious to lead the world than they are to follow the wise precepts of the Founders of this Republic. FOR AMERICA is an experiment in a new kind of collective security—collective security for millions of little people like you and me and the mother on the telephone; collective security for the little people against the whimsical, arbitrary and, often secret decrees, of big, impersonal, bureaucratic government.

"According to a transatlantic press dispatch, oriented a week ago, Mr. Churchill of Great Britain, is reported to have told his cabinet that, while the American people are deeply opposed to joining the Indochina War, it would take only two television appeals by President Eisenhower to change public thinking. Now, my fellow citizens, just try and find Malaya on a map of the world. It is 9,000 miles away. Yet, I what Churchill says is true, that oaf of yours may be just two television appearances removed from Malaya. Need I say more?"

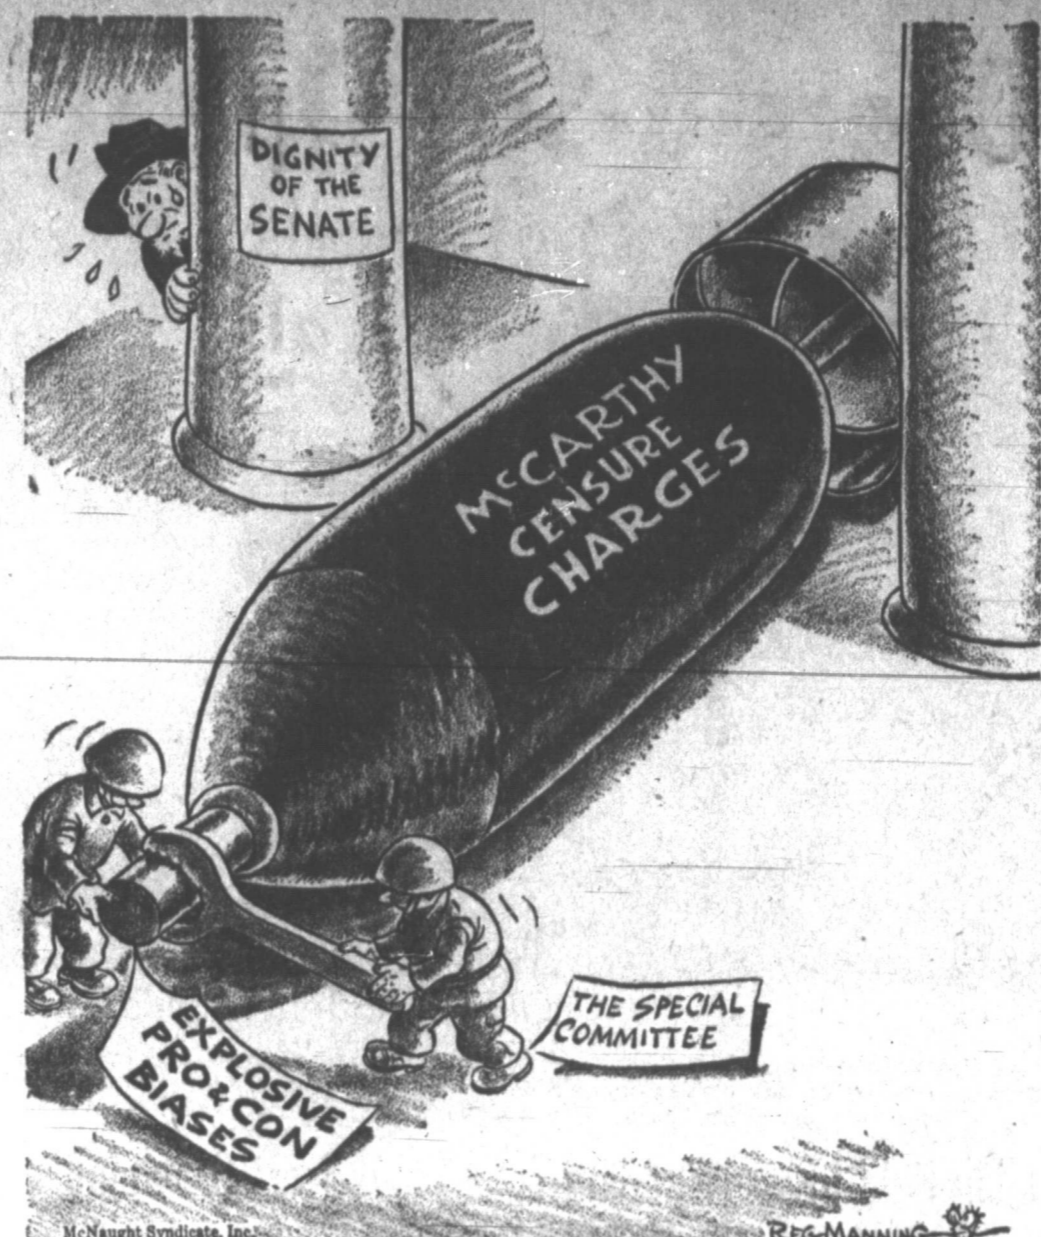

Despite these repeated CAB recommendations, Pan Am's influence with ex-President Truman's cronies — Matthew Connolly John R. Steelman — enabled it to prevent Presidential approval. A few days ago, with only Ryan voting in the negative, CAB again recommended a Miami split-up unfavorable to Pan Am.

National Whirligig Lobby Fighting White House Over New Airline Routes

WASHINGTON — The survival or death of President Eisenhower's program for a fair and anti-monopolistic revision of American commercial aviation will be determined by the outcome of the current struggle for new routes between several competitive companies. Powerful politico-economic interests seek to outmaneuver the White House on this problem.

The two cases heading toward his desk, and which he must decide within a few weeks, involve Juan Trippe's giant Pan American World Airways, which has been charged with seeking a monopoly in intercontinental flying.

It maintains an influential lobby here, including a Cabinet member, numerous senators, Democratic and Republican politicians, lawyers who once served in the Roosevelt-Truman households, Oswald Ryan, Civil Aeronautics Board member, has never voted against Pan Am.

The American Aviation Daily, which is the aviation industry's recognized trade journal, charges that Commerce Secretary Sinclair Weeks is trying to upset CAB and Justice Department decisions adverse to Pan Am in the famous Balboa case. Weeks also seeks to aid Pan Am's attempt to block establishment of a second, competitive American around-the-world airline.

It is the grimmest but most unwritten feud in Washington today, with Weeks defying Attorney General Herbert Brownell, Jr., who has filed an anti-trust suit against Pan American and its South American subsidiary, Panagra.

The domestic controversy concerns air service between the United States and South America. The current interchange at Miami connects Eastern Airlines (Eddie Rickenbacker's outfit) and Panagra, which is owned 50 per cent by Pan Am.

CAB has twice recommended that Eastern interchange at Miami with Braniff Airways, and that National Airlines merge there with Panagra, thus providing two strong competitive services in the South American area. Pan Am flies to South America through the Caribbean.

Despite these repeated CAB recommendations, Pan Am's influence with ex-President Truman's cronies — Matthew Connolly John R. Steelman — enabled it to prevent Presidential approval. A few days ago, with only Ryan voting in the negative, CAB again recommended a Miami split-up unfavorable to Pan Am.

The American Way

By Willis E. Stone

The bureaucratic plea for the cooperation of business, good as it may sound, has come to be considered the most deadly peril confronting private enterprise. In his report on the Bonneville project in the Pacific Northwest, Mr. Robert E. Lee, Chief of Staff of the Appropriations Committee of the House of Representatives in the 80th Congress, illustrated the ruthless character of the bureaucratic empire.

The report cited a memorandum on policy, issued by the Secretary of the Interior on January 3, 1946, which remains the bible of Interior Department empire builders. It states:

"Active assistance, from the very beginning of the planning and authorization of the project, shall be given to the organization of public agencies and cooperatives for the distribution of power in each project area."

Thus the powers of government are subverted from the function of protecting private property to the business of compelling taxpayers to pay for their own destruction. This attitude is made clear by Administrative Order 33, issued by Paul J. Faver, Bonneville administrator, dated September 16, 1940, which, among other things, says:

"The (Bonneville Power) Administration has a direct interest in connection with its construction program, in proposals for systematic acquisition of private utility properties by public agencies."

When Leo Jordan became Governor of Idaho he learned that the States were little more than pawns in the hands of federal bureaucrats. His battles against the central planners have at least delayed the socialization of the Pacific Northwest. The philosophy of these central planners has been well expressed by Dr. Carl D. Thompson, for many years consultant at Bonneville. He said:

"The movement for public super-power becomes the most vital movement. The control of electric power will obviously carry with it the control of the industries of the nation, the control of transportation, of mining, of agriculture. . . . It will also dominate and determine, very largely, the domestic life of the people."

In this spirit of rule or ruin, the bureaucrats repeatedly ask for the cooperation of private enterprise. There are countless examples of the disaster which attends bureaucratic cooperation for the public welfare.

One example when the Idaho Power Company was building a transmission line to serve eastern power plants to Boise and American Falls, the Interior Department filed suit, charging trespass. The case was dismissed as groundless, but the work had been delayed until winter and, to hurry the work to relieve a power shortage, many thousands of dollars in overtime and additional construction costs were required.

In another instance, Idaho Power's 69,000 volt Huntington-Baker transmission line to serve eastern Oregon was held up for two years by the Interior Department's contention that private taxing enterprises should not be permitted to transport power over land held by the Bureau of Land Management (which in 8 years became the proprietor of about 10 per cent of the land area of the United States).

Down South Americans Need Not Resign Themselves To Socialism

By THURMAN SENSING

There are some among us who have said for many years now that socialism is inevitable in this country, and that we had just as well resign ourselves to it. That, of course, is defeatism — not worthy of true Americans.

Even so, those of us who refuse to accept governmental control of our lives and our destinies would do well to stop and take stock of the serious dangers that still threaten us in this direction. It would be well for all Americans to realize how far we have traveled down this easy road to ruin.

For the fact that we have progressed far on the way to becoming a socialist state cannot be questioned by anyone who will face the facts.

In a great many cases now we have stopped arguing whether we shall have free enterprise or socialism; we spend our time arguing as to what degree of socialism shall be imposed upon the people.

It is true, of course, that a great many who support these governmental controls and regulations in one degree or another would not admit that they are in any way socialistic. But when they do so, they are simply hiding their heads in the sand, as they would very quickly realize if they ever took the trouble to sit down and analyze the matter.

This is a dangerous situation, for it has been proven by sad experience time and again that once the Socialist Camel gets his head in the tent of Free Enterprise he will never be satisfied until he is all the way in — and there is not room enough for both of them!

Socialism must keep on trying to justify itself; it cannot stop. By its very nature, socialism means complete control of production and distribution, of prices and wages — and it will never be satisfied until it gets this control.

We don't have to look far to find plenty of illustrations that in a great many instances our discussions are now mainly centered on the degree of socialism we shall have. Hear the acts of the administration; listen to the debates in Congress, read the editorial comments in the newspapers, consider the attitudes of the people.

We hear no mention any more of doing away with farm price supports and crop controls. The argument is over the percentage of control that shall be exercised. Yet the whole problem was started in the beginning simply to assure ample production in time of war emergency. But that emergency now was a seductive existence, and now the farmers of the country have placed themselves within the framework of a socialized agriculture.

We hear very little about doing away with federal housing; we hear a great deal about just how much federal housing we shall undertake each year. Yet federal housing is a government subsidized operation of a type that, once started, is hard to end.

We hear nothing about doing away with social security. We hear much about just how many shall be covered under social security and how large the benefits shall be. Yet social security is a snare and a delusion. It may be social, but it is certainly not secure. All the money paid into the fund is spent by the government as fast as it is received. The individual has no assurance whatever that he will benefit from the money he and his neighbor have paid out for social security; he must depend entirely upon the willingness of the people to tax themselves the question: How long has he reached retirement.

And even more important in this connection, we may well ask ourselves the question: How long has freedom ever survived in a nation wherein the government assumes the responsibility for taking care of the people? And make no mistake about it — under social security as it is now constituted, we are to that extent a "kept" people.

We see this same situation existent or arising in many other fields. We have seen the greatest cooperative example of free enterprise in history in the case of our great life and health and accident insurance companies, yet we are seeing insistent demands that the government be allowed to drive an enjoining wedge in this field.

We cannot view these facts with any degree of complacency and at the same time remain true to the principles which built this nation in the first place.

Before The Dishes Are Done

By BETTY KNOWLES HUNT

CREATION IS WORK! Have you ever written a good story, or play, or essay, or poem? Have you ever composed a song, designed a costume, created a stage-setting? If not, it is doubtful if you have the foggiest notion of how much mental, emotional and physical effort can be required in their production. True, the good Lord sometimes blesses a rare individual with such creative genius that full-blown masterpieces seem to erupt without strain. But for most mortals the initial inspiration is but the first agile deed, and that seed requires an immeasurable amount of exhausting nourishment and growth and care before it ripens into final fruit.

Perhaps the first baby is the hardest to bear, and the first rosebush the most difficult to grow. In like fashion, there is a noticeable advantage of technical skill and artistic creative efforts from repetitive training and experience. Craftsmanship in any creative field can be studied, practiced and mastered, — and with it, even a mediocre creative seed can sometimes be cleverly camouflaged.

But in the long run, a fancy frame and a gaudy cover will not disguise a poor painting or a cheap book. And most artists learn that craftsmanship, however skilled, is no substitute for a basically good creative idea or impulse. Thus, even the once successful are driven on by the unrelenting urge to surpass the earlier effort.

Amateurs can become infected with this complex virus also, and although they proclaim, and even believe, that their creative efforts are simply and purely "FOR FUN," they too fall easy victims to the infectious by-product of creative effort, — the inner compulsion to surpass ones self again and again.

Such random thoughts have crossed my mind of late, as the limbo draws near for the initial planning of a new and THIRD, all-original, all-amateur Musical Comedy in this village. The first of these, produced in February 1953, was a minor miracle, apparently achieved through the collective, spontaneous-combustion of about a dozen starchy-eyed, determined villagers. The drive to do it bigger and better in 1954 led to a certainly bigger, and technically more proficient show, but in a way felt that the spontaneous charm of the first one — had been lost. Now — the time has come to start dreaming up the third, and the drive this time is to make it a combination of the best from the two previous productions.

The parenage of this third musical child is destined to be thirteen couples who have contributed in one way or another to the conception and delivery of the album. In other words, there are 26 fiercely individualistic men and women, of whom 16 have been rash or naive enough to suggest that they would like to help write the new "book" or story! For self-evident reasons, it was voted that this aspiring "mob," either as individuals, or as small groups, must submit their entries to the entire cast, or another, on the evening of September 1st. Each entry must consist of a general story synopsis, plus two completely-written scenes.

As one of the rash 16, this columnist immediately set to work to accomplish what she had foolishly assumed to be a relatively easy task. The absurd notion was based upon the supposition of the album that Musical Comedy plots are something less than Shakespearean, and appear to be little more than bare skeletons upon which the glamorous flesh of songs, dances, costumes and sets can be draped. Indeed, they often seem but reasonably-good "excuses" for singer — song — writers, choreographers, artists, designers, dancers, stage-designers and the like — to find a mutual medium of happy self-expression.

Yet — even so meager a story is less easy to contrive than one might suppose, for it must divide itself conveniently into likely scenes, and inspire a variety of different songs. It must also prove an opportunity for dance groups and singing choruses, as well as a stimulation to scenery and costume designers.

A week of work, and this would-be book-writer had produced what he kind but honest husband described as "a second-rate soap-opera that we wouldn't sit through cured." Yours truly readily concurred, and slyly suggested that a two amateurs might be more productive than one. Thus we combined our ignorance, and now at least we have a kind of fantasy, with six or eight scenes of contrasting moods and characters — a crisis resolved, and the required happy ending.

IT'S UNUSUAL TO SAY THE LEAST, but it has worked for two other clubs in this section and it is hoped it will succeed here.

We're speaking, of course, of the "Bucket Night" that is on tap at Oiler Park tonight.

Until Big Spring of the Longhorn League tried it two or three weeks ago, we had never heard of any professional athletic contest where the fans could pay whatever they wanted to gain admittance to the park.

But the deal went over big in Big Spring, bringing out the largest crowd of the season and also largest gate receipts. Big Spring took in over $500 when they tried it, far above their average for the season.

Then Amarillo, hearing of the success achieved by the idea at Big Spring, had "Bucket Night" of their own and it, too, went over with a bang.

You'll recall that Amarillo staged their "Bucket Night" last week when the Oilers visited Gold Sox Park. And the game drew the largest crowd of the year for a regular season game in Amarillo, attracting more than 2,500 fans and netting over $900 in revenue.

Both figures, of course, were far above the average per game for the season at Amarillo.

Well, all this prompted business manager Jimmy Hamilton of the

Indians Win Another Tense One-Run Tilt

By JOHN GRIFFIN
United Press Sports Writer

The cocky Cleveland Indians can point to an amazing record at winning the toughest ball games—those tense one-run affairs—as proof they won't buckle under the mounting pressure of the pennant drive.

Tuesday night's dramatic 4 to 3 conquest of the Detroit Tigers on two runs in the last half of the ninth inning, with Bobby Avila's single driving home the winning tally, marked the 32nd time this season that an Indians' game has been decided by a single run.

The Indians have won 23 of those pressure-packed games against only nine losses for a brilliant .719 winning percentage.

By contrast, the second-place New York Yankees have won 21 one-run games and lost 11 for a .654 mark, while the third-place Chicago White Sox have won only 17 while losing 21 for a .447 mark.

It was the Indians' seventh straight win and it kept their lead at three games over the Yankees. A pinch-hit, grand slam homer by Bill Skowron featured the Yankees' 15-hit attack as they scored their eighth straight win and 10th in a row over the seventh-place A's. Ex-Athletic Harry Byrd coasted to his eighth victory, his fourth over his ex-mates.

The Chicago White Sox kept their flickering hopes alive with a double-header sweep of the Baltimore Orioles 2 to 0 and 3 to 1, to move within nine games of the top. Billy Pierce gained his sixth win and Don Johnson his eighth, although both needed relief. The last-place Orioles now have lost seven straight.

The Boston Red Sox moved within a game of fifth place in the American League with a 4 to 3 win over Washington as an error by Pete Runnels set up the winning run.

Giants Stretch Lead
In the National League, the New York Giants stretched their lead to two games with an 8 to 3 win over the Philadelphia Phillies, as the second-place Dodgers lost to Pittsburgh 4 to 2, and third-place Milwaukee had its nine-game winning streak broken by St. Louis 4 to 1. The Chicago Cubs swept a twin bill from Cincinnati, 5 to 0 on Howie Pollet's five-hitter and 6 to 1 on Paul Minner's six-hitter.

Bobby Hofman, who hacked two homers for the Giants as southpaw Johnny Antonelli, the majors' top percentage hurler, tossed a seven-hitter for his 18th victory.

Max Surkont pitched a five-hitter for the astounding Pirates, who now have won five straight games as Frank Thomas drove in three of the Bucs' four runs with a pair of singles.

Rookie Brooks Lawrence stopped the Braves with seven hits and rookie Joe Frazier led the Card-attack with a three-run homer, his third pinch-hit circuit clout of the season. Jim Wilson of the Braves was lagged with his first loss after eight wins.

Oilers-G-Sox Open Series; 'Bucket Night' Set

Dial Leads Clovis Past Locals, 8-4

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

Amarillo's pesky Gold Sox move into Oiler Park tonight for a two-game series and it'll be up to Jim Lemons (5-7) to get the Oilers back on the win track.

Red Dial notched his 2nd win of the year last night as he defeated the Oilers for the Clovis Pioneers, 8-4. Clovis thus broke its tie for the lead with the Oilers with last night's victory.

Tonight will be "Bucket Night" at Oiler Park. No ticket sales will be around tonight but two buckets will be placed at the entrance and fans may toss any amount they wish into the buckets.

Tonight's Oiler foe, Amarillo, is in third place, 8 1/2 games behind the second place Oilers who are only one game back of the league leading Clovis Pioneers.

Game Protested
Last night's Clovis victory over the Oilers was protested by Oiler pilot, Hershel Martin. The protest was lodged in the 7th inning when umpires Helkie and Carleton allowed Pete Trabucco of the Pioneers to score all the way from first base on an overthrow at the initial sack by third baseman Curtis Hardaway.

Before the error occurred, Virgil Richardson and Trabucco were on second and first base respectively with none away. Catcher John Slick Johnson, rookie outfielder, is expected to join the Oilers tonight, Oiler business manager Jimmy Hamilton revealed.

Johnson is being optioned to the Oilers by the Pittsburgh Pirates. He has been with Lexington, Ky., of the now defunct Mountain States League.

A deal for Johnson had been in the fire the past several days and it was finally completed yesterday.

Jim Russo, a Baltimore Oriole scout, attended last night's game.

Warren forced Richardson at third as he attempted to sacrifice and Hardaway, after taking the throw from pitcher Sad Sam Williams, threw low to first base which got by second baseman Ben Felder, covering the bag on the play.

Manager Martin vowed that Trabucco should have been held up at third but was waved home by the umpires.

If the protest is allowed, play would be resumed in the top of the 7th with Clovis runners on first and third, one away, and the Pioneers leading 5-1.

Dial, in pitching the Pioneers to the all-important win last night, allowed only three hits to the Oilers until the ninth inning when the Pampanos rallied for three runs on four hits.

The lone Oiler run before the ninth came on Dick Hairston's triple in the second and an error on the play that allowed Hairston to circle the bases.

The other two Oiler hits through the first eight innings were singles, by Doug Lewis in the fourth and Dub Woodright in the fifth. Oiler Th. notes:

The Oilers threatened seriously to catch up in the ninth when the first three men up in the ninth, Rudy Tanner, Lewis and Hardaway rapped successive singles, Tanner scoring on Hardaway's safety. I. B. Palmer followed by drawing the only base on balls off Dial to load the bases.

But the rally died when Hairston bounced into a double-play, Lewis scoring the second run of inning on the DP. Felder kept the slim hopes of the Oilers alive by singling to score Hardaway and after Dub Woodright reached base on an error, Vibert

Kid Softball League Slate Nears An End

By RAUL (Rabbit) RAMIREZ

Four more games were played last night in the Kiwanis Softball league with only one day left before the 1954 season ends.

Again the Kiwanis League will take another day off, which is Thursday due to the Kiwanis Night at Oiler Park. All managers may pick up their tickets from Bob Todd at Smith's Quality Shoes.

Here are the run downs on last night's card:
-In the Senior Boys League, First Baptist ran over Harrah Methodist 22-3.

Kenneth Hinkle went all the way for the Baptist and also gave them just one hit during the night. Kenneth Hinkle and Benny Cartwright both of First Baptist got 3 hits each at the plate.

E. J. McElvain hit two home runs while Danny Johnson, Kenneth Hinkle, and Benny Cartwright hit one each.

Over in the Junior Boys League, First Christian downed First Methodist 17-3.

Home runs hit in that game were by Dale Duke and Gary Wilhelm of the First Christians, and Gary Killo of First Methodist.

In the junior girls, First Baptist dumped Calvary Baptist 23-1 but Calvary Baptist came right back to dump First Christian, 33-14.

Friday's Schedule
SENIOR BOYS
8:00 Holy Souls vs. Central Baptist

JUNIOR BOYS
7:00 First Christian vs. Central Baptist

8:30 First Christian vs. Harrah Methodist
7:00 Holy Souls vs. Trinity Baptist (N.W.D.)

JUNIOR GIRLS

8:30 First Methodist vs. Harrah Methodist

Cone's Injury Not Serious
STEVENS POINT, Wis., Aug. 17 —UP—Coach Lute Blackbourn of the Green Bay Packers announced Tuesday that X-rays showed that veteran fullback Fred Cone's back was not seriously injured in Saturday's exhibition game against the Chicago Cardinals.

WT-NM Loop May Become Class B League Next Year

ABILENE, Tex., Aug. 18—UP

The Class C West Texas-New Mexico League may become a Class B circuit next year.

League President Hal Sayles confirmed here Tuesday that several cities in the league were interested in moving into a higher classification. He declined to name them, but other sources have listed them as Albuquerque, Abilene, Lubbock, Amarillo and possibly Plainview.

El Paso, which is transferring from the Arizona-Texas League to the West Texas-New Mexico League next season, also was reported to be in favor of the move.

Clovis is expected to drop out of the league after this season and El Paso and possibly a Longhorn League club would be added to complete an eight-team league.

Pampa is the seventh member of the league as it is presently set up. The league has been operating with seven teams since the Berger franchise folded several weeks ago.

Sayles, however, would not discuss any Longhorn League teams as figuring in the West Texas-New Mexico League's plans.

He said there had been no formal meetings held to discuss the proposal. A bid for higher classification would have to be approved by the National Association of Professional Baseball Clubs at its winter meeting.

Hoffman Oil Joins Bankers In Winner's Bracket Of Kid Baseball Playoff Series

Hoffman Oil took a 1-0 lead in the Little League playoff series last night with a 6-7 win over the Spokesman at Oiler Park.

Second game of the series will be played Thursday at the Eastern League Park. If a third game is necessary, it will be unreeled at the Western League Park.

Hoffman put together two four-run innings in the first and second frames and then held on for the victory.

Two-run homers by Lynn Stephens and pitcher John Campbell featured the early attack of the Hoffman nine.

Third baseman George Duke of Spokesman put on a one-man show by driving in five of the seven loser's runs on a homerun and a double. Duke's homer came in the third inning with two on and opened the scoring for Joe Porlin's nine.

Duke then came back in the fourth to double in two more runs to pull the Spokesman to within one run of catching up at 6-7. There was no further scoring by either team.

Ernest Mathis went all the way for the Spokesman and pitched well after the first two innings.

Campbell hurled the first five innings for Hoffman but an injury forced him from the lineup in the sixth. Campbell was hit in the head by a thrown ball by one of his team mates during an infield warmup prior to the start of the bottom of the sixth inning.

Campbell's condition was not believed to be serious.

Over in the PONY League, the second game of the playoff series will also be unreeled tomorrow. First National currently holds a one-game lead over Pampa Drugists, having won the opening game of the series Monday, 13-10.

In Shamrock Tourney Cheyenne, Phillips Win

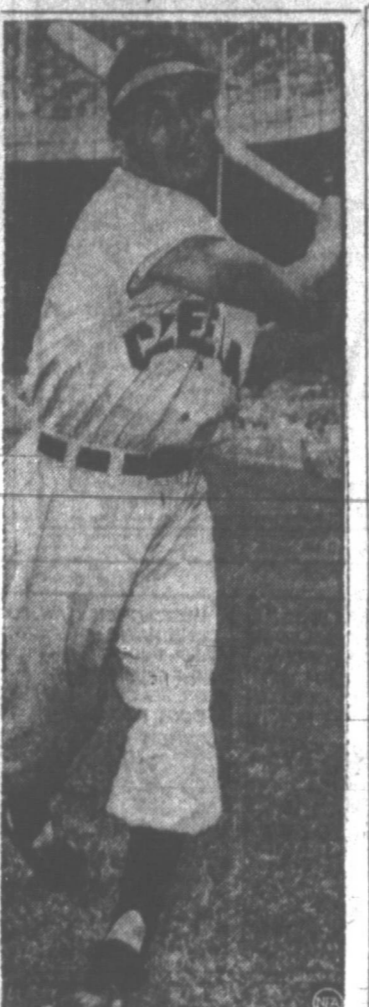

SHAMROCK, Aug. 18 — (Special) — Cheyenne, Okla., and Phillips advanced into the second round of the State Amateur Softball Tournament here last night.

Cheyenne won over Gould, Okla., 6-1. In the first game while Phillips blanked Canadian in the nightcap, 13-0.

Seven errors were costly to the Gould nine in its loss to Cheyenne. Leland Burns was credited with the Cheyenne win.

Art Phynagan pitched Phillips to its win over Canadian. Fandy was charged with the loss.

Play continues tonight in the double-elimination tourney with Bell Telephone of Pampa and K. C. Steak House of Shamrock clashing in the feature game at 8 p.m. meeting in the opener will be La-Casa and Elk City, Okla., at 7:30.

Indians Win Another Tense One-Run Tilt

By JOHN GRIFFIN

The cocky Cleveland Indians can point to an amazing record at winning the toughest ball games—those tense one-run affairs—as proof they won't buckle under the mounting pressure of the pennant drive.

Tuesday night's dramatic 4 to 3 conquest of the Detroit Tigers on two runs in the last half of the ninth inning, with Bobby Avila's single driving home the winning tally, marked the 32nd time this season that an Indians' game has been decided by a single run.

The Indians have won 23 of those pressure-packed games against only nine losses for a brilliant .719 winning percentage.

By contrast, the second-place New York Yankees have won 21 one-run games and lost 11 for a .654 mark, while the third-place Chicago White Sox have won only 17 while losing 21 for a .447 mark.

It was the Indians' seventh straight win and it kept their lead at three games over the Yankees. A pinch-hit, grand slam homer by Bill Skowron featured the Yankees' 15-hit attack as they scored their eighth straight win and 10th in a row over the seventh-place A's. Ex-Athletic Harry Byrd coasted to his eighth victory, his fourth over his ex-mates.

The Chicago White Sox kept their flickering hopes alive with a double-header sweep of the Baltimore Orioles 2 to 0 and 3 to 1, to move within nine games of the top. Billy Pierce gained his sixth win and Don Johnson his eighth, although both needed relief. The last-place Orioles now have lost seven straight.

The Boston Red Sox moved within a game of fifth place in the American League with a 4 to 3 win over Washington as an error by Pete Runnels set up the winning run.

Giants Stretch Lead
In the National League, the New York Giants stretched their lead to two games with an 8 to 3 win over the Philadelphia Phillies, as the second-place Dodgers lost to Pittsburgh 4 to 2, and third-place Milwaukee had its nine-game winning streak broken by St. Louis 4 to 1. The Chicago Cubs swept a twin bill from Cincinnati, 5 to 0 on Howie Pollet's five-hitter and 6 to 1 on Paul Minner's six-hitter.

Bobby Hofman, who hacked two homers for the Giants as southpaw Johnny Antonelli, the majors' top percentage hurler, tossed a seven-hitter for his 18th victory.

Max Surkont pitched a five-hitter for the astounding Pirates, who now have won five straight games as Frank Thomas drove in three of the Bucs' four runs with a pair of singles.

Rookie Brooks Lawrence stopped the Braves with seven hits and rookie Joe Frazier led the Card-attack with a three-run homer, his third pinch-hit circuit clout of the season. Jim Wilson of the Braves was lagged with his first loss after eight wins.

Tuesday's Star
Bobby Hofman, the Giants' substitute first baseman who walloped two homers and a single to drive in four runs in an 8 to 3 win over the Phils.

Long Shot Wins
MAYS LANDING, N.J., Aug. 17 —UP—Top Bet started at 17 to 1 and defeated Fandy, another long shot, by four lengths in yesterday's White Horse Handicap at Atlantic City track.

DAD, DO YOU EVER GET NERVOUS WHEN YOU'RE DRIVING A CAR?

WELL, MAYBE A LITTLE WHEN I'M NEAR A WOMAN DRIVER!

WHY? BECAUSE I KNOW SHE'S NERVOUS.

NOTHING MAKES A WOMAN DRIVER MORE NERVOUS THAN ANOTHER DRIVER USING THE SAME ROAD!

The Jackson Twins

I'M GLAD YOU BROUGHT THESE WITH NAME TAGS TO HELP YOUR OLD DAD OUT!

SAY, WHAT'S THE MATTER, JAN? GETTING TIRED OF OUTDOOR LIFE SO SOON?

OH, I SORTA MISS OUR RECORD PLAYER! IT'S SO QUIET UP HERE! AND I WISH I HAD JUST ONE LITTLE SWIDGE OF LIPSTICK!

CAN WE TAKE THE CAR AND RUN UP TO THE STORE, DADDY?

MR. AYUP HAS FISH BAIT! MAYBE HE HAS NOSE BAIT AND POWDER AN' STUFF!

BUT DON'T LET HIM SELL YOU ANY BOBLED SASSAFRAS JUICE OR AUNT MATTIE'S HERB LOTION!

HECK, I SAY ANYTHING I TELL ME! I'LL BE A WILD MAN!

I GUESS YOU WOULDN'T WANT TO BUY ONE OF THESE POT-HOLDERS.

THAT'S NO WAY TO MAKE A SALE, MISTER.

THINK POSITIVE—EXPLAIN THE MERITS OF YOUR PRODUCT.

TELL YOUR CUSTOMER HOW USEFUL IT IS—SHOW HIM THE FINE QUALITY—I'LL TAKE ONE.

GEE, I WISH I WAS AS GOOD A SALESMAN AS YOU.

YOU'LL LEARN.

Alley Oop

VOT 186? YOU TELLING ME TO SHUDDUP—ME, LUDWIG, KING OF THE NORHOLTZ?

YUH!!

IT'S RIGHT! I WANTCHA TO LISSEN! I GOT A SUMPIN' TO TELL.

PAPA!

YOU GOT NOTHING TO SAY I WANT TO HEAR!

I DON'T CARE WHOSE MAN THIS DUMMKOPF IS, I CHOP 'EM TO FRENCH FRIES! GROOF!

AWRIGHT, YOU SQUARE HEAD.

...YOU'RE GONNA HEAR WHAT I GOT TO SAY EVEN IF I HAFTA PIN YOUR EARS TO A TREE!

I LEFT YOUR MILK IN THE GARAGE, BUT GET RID OF THAT WILD CAT OR GET ANOTHER MILKMAN!

WE'VE GOT TO ORGANIZE THE NEIGHBORS AND DO SOMETHING ABOUT THAT OLD LADY AND HER GOATS.

YES, MRS. NEHER, WE'RE GOING TO HAVE A RALLY, AND OUR BIT WILD COULD WE HOLD IT AT YOUR HOUSE—WHAT?

NEHER'S CAT'S ON A GOAT'S MILK DIET TOO, AND SHE'S AFRAID TO HOLD THE RALLY, THERE FOR FEAR IT MIGHT ATTACK SOMEBODY!

Buzz Sawyer

IS COMMANDER DUCK GOING TO LIVE, DOCTOR?

YES, BUT WE'RE ALLOWING NO VISITORS UNTIL HE'S COMPLETELY OUT OF DANGER.

POOR DUCK... UNLUCKY IN LOVE!

ANYBODY CAN MAKE THE MISTAKE OF MARRYING THE WRONG WOMAN, BUZ.

HE WAS MAD ABOUT THAT WOMAN, SANDY.

YES, BUT WHEN HE LEARNED SHE WAS A S.P.Y., HE TURNED HER IN. A REAL GUY.

Martha Wayne

OLD LAFE GOT RID OF THEM ALL RIGHT! HEE-HEE!

WHO DO YOU SUPPOSE THAT UNFRIENDLY CHARACTER IS? HE LOOKS MORE LIKE A PIRATE THAN A TRUSTED WATCHMAN!

AND IT'S HARD TO BELIEVE THAT MR. HARKINS AND BIGGS HAVE GONE ON A TRIP... THEY'VE HARDLY LEFT THAT HOUSE IN 20 YEARS!

SO PHIL'S HORSE DIDN'T RUN AT NYLLEAF PARK 'TIL YESTERDAY—AFTER ALL HIS BRAGGING!—NOW IT'S ALWAYS GOIN' TO GET THERE—TOO LATE!

I HEARD THE VAN THAT'S WHAT PHIL THAT IT WAS CLAIMS! BUT I BEING TRANSPORTED I DON'T THINK IT IN BROKE DOWN!—I THINK IT WAS THE HAG ITSELF!

PHIL CERTAINLY MUST'VE BEEN DISAPPOINTED WHEN IT DIDN'T START! IT PROBABLY WOULDBE COLLAPSED HALF-WAY AROUND THE TRACK!

HE WAS—BUT I'M SURE HE'D HAVE FELT A LOT WORSE IF IT HAD!

IT WAS A TERRIBLE LET-DOWN FOR EVERYBODY! WE WERE ALL SET TO KID THE PAINTS OFF PHIL WHEN IT CAME IN LAST!

I KNOW! IT WAS A LET-DOWN FOR ME, TOO! I WAS COUNTING ON IT SHUTTING HIS BIG MOUTH FOR KEEPS!

Steady Enough

WATERBURY, Conn. — UP—George I. Holmes retired after 41 years with the fire department. When he was hired, recalled Holmes, the chief warned him that "the work won't be steady."
Reject Bond Issue
EDINBURG, Tex., Aug. 17.—UP—Edinburg property owners have rejected a proposed $820,000 paving bond issue by a vote of 349 for to 485 against. The money would have been used to pave dirt streets in the city.
Savings of nearly $13 million were effected in fiscal 1953 through adoption of 11,814 suggestions by the Department of the Army. Awards to civilian personnel who made these suggestions totaled $282,530.

THEATER-GOING AUDREY has an escort here as she enters theater for Oscar awards, but for movies she just stands in line.

Hepburn Filled With Charm, But Shyness Is Her Problem

(Third of Five)
By DICK KLEINER
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When Audrey Hepburn wants to go to the movies, she goes to the movies. Other stars may request private screenings, but Audrey Hepburn just picks up her purse and goes out to a theater. And you could have knocked a certain Paramount executive over with a dropped option one day last winter.

Teen Topics

By MARLENE KOLB

It keeps coming up more and more every day now, everywhere you turn — school, just think — in about three weeks (we hope no more) senior jocks will be on the fingers of the poor last-year juniors who thought they would never make it to seniorhood.

interest and efforts, but realize that it would be quite hard for one organization alone to carry through on a big project such as this. Aren't there others who would help?

And more and more preparations for the school year are being made nowadays. The Harvesters Band has begun practice sessions, the first one being last Monday night.

You'd be surprised what you'll find if you just look. Saw Doug Randolph, Jerry Sloan, Joan Miller, Freida Morris, Celia Miller, Carol Roundtree, Judith Baer, Buddy Epperson, Gary Green, Gene Doggett, Gene Vineyard and Jimmy Enloe, plus others-unreadable, on the little stands for score writing which are set up at one of the miniature golf courses.

Practices have been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. on the following dates August 19, 23, 24, 26 and 30. Meeting place is the PHS band room, and director Bill Trego wants all there who are supposed to be.

Did you know that one of "our" boys will be a pilot before long? That's right — Marvin Overton jacks just a few hours of flying time before he'll have his private license. Wes Lewis is his teacher.

Ever had a flat while hunting rabbits in the wheat field? Mona Coberly, Rich Hankins, Eddie Colburn and Mike Hawkins did the other night. Mona said it was the first time she had ever shot a gun.

Hear a lot of the boys talking about taking off for someplace for a few days. They must have that "just have to go ONE more place before school starts" fever. Don Cantrell, Jerry McNaughton, and Todd Overton were doing some of this wishful thinking.

Wonder what ever happened to all the "jokes"? The cat jokes don't seem to be around much anymore either. If you have some good ones, let me know.

Help wanted, please. Been reading "Freckles" lately? If so, perhaps you've noticed the two words (?) which have appeared daily in the strip for quite a while now. Has anyone figured out what "yuma skiri" means or stands for? The problem has been slowly driving this writer mad.

Seen some lonesome idle, bored looking characters wandering around Pampa lately? Some of the species would more probably be found roaming around in cars, hunting something to do. These "characters" are Pampa teenagers who, after the early show or before the late one, or after a couple of 20 minutes-at-the-most rounds of miniature golf — can find very little to do. And the cry for a Youth Center is still rising, still unheard and apparently unacted upon by all except the JayCees.

From the Files of The Pampa Daily News
ONE YEAR AGO TODAY
Pampa's model airplane enthusiasts were told to find a more suitable area for their hobby than the neighborhood of the Panhandle Packing plant. Paul Crouch told a city commission meeting it frightened the cattle, usually some 50 head.

Amarillo Firm Given Contract
Morrison Supply Co., Amarillo, will supply the City of Pampa with 8,700 feet of four-inch water pipe. City commissioners Tuesday picked Morrison from among the nine firms submitting bids on the pipe. It will be cement asbestos pipe with a coupling puller and will cost $5,073.

FIVE YEARS AGO TODAY
Pampa patients at the West Texas Polio Center, Plainview, were all responding satisfactorily to treatment, hospital personnel reported. At the hospital during the week were the following Pampans: Sue Monks; Mattie Lee Wright; Linda Ousley; George Adamie, Jr.; Barbara Harrison; C. L. Callan; and Harold Yost.

Youth Killed Eluding Law
HOUSTON, Aug. 18 — UP — A 20-year-old youth who found himself trapped after a petty candy theft was drowned Monday when he tried to elude police by jumping into a bayou.

TEN YEARS AGO TODAY
Shortage of popular brands of cigarettes had resulted in some retailers increasing prices in direct violation of OPA orders, District Price Executive J. B. Mooney reported in Lubbock. Prices of 25 to 30 cents a package were known to have been charged, Mooney said. Most popular-brand cigarettes sold locally for 19 cents.

own private idiosyncrasies. Her biggest personal problem is shyness. She is shy almost to the point of a fault. She has been shy most of her life, and her sudden fame, of course, aggravated the problem. Adulation and shyness don't mix too well.

She will tell no one—not even her closest advisers at the movie studios or at the theater—where she lives in New York. She has an apartment, but no one knows where or what kind of a place it is. And on weekends in New York, she generally goes off to a country place owned by some friends—but, again, she won't say which friends or where it is.

While she was in "Ondine" here, her usual practice was to head directly home after the theater. There was none of that stopping off at El Morocco or Sardi's for a late supper, like most of the stars do. Too public for Audrey Hepburn.

keeps them long. She can fall asleep easily — always a sign of a happy, well-adjusted person — and takes 15-minute naps frequently during the day.

But there is nothing childlike about her in her business dealings. She makes most of her own decisions, although she takes the advice of a select few, notably her lawyer, an elderly family friend. He advises her mostly on her financial matters.

She leaves her contracts and such affairs mostly up to her agent, although she has definite ideas about what she wants and what she should get. She's not dedicated to money, but she knows the value of a buck. Recently, she changed agents, a decision she made herself and the break was made quickly and neatly.

Juvenile Delinquency Subject Of Sheriff's JayCee Talk

The juvenile delinquent of yesterday is the criminal of today. Sheriff Rufe Jordan believes the main cause of juvenile delinquency — he prefers to call it parental delinquency — is a "lack of moral responsibility."

who committed murder during a gang fight earlier in the month to show what can happen. "I thank God we have a little delinquency in Texas as we have," the sheriff continued, adding that 95-97 per cent of Gray County does not need a sheriff.

Parents Are Yardstick
"If the parents are engaged in what we might call wild social activity," Jordan pointed out, "then we can not expect much of the children." One of the greatest crimes in the sheriff's eye is for parents not to conduct themselves so that their offspring will honor them.

JayCees To Help Fund
During the meeting, JayCees made plans to staff the corner of Cuyler and Tyng Saturday and Aug. 28 for the emergency March of Dimes drive. The day's kitty — into which each club member puts a dime — was handed over to the March of Dimes instead of the man whose name was drawn from the hat.

Lumber Yard Chain Sold
WACO, Aug. 18 — UP — Control of William Cameron and Co., a Southwestern lumber yard chain, was sold to Certain-teed Products Corp., Monday for about $13.2 million.

Ed Callahan was introduced as a new member. There were four guests on hand and JayCee President J. C. Hopkins presided.

Pampan Hurt On Vacation
Ivy Duncan, Pampa realtor who suffered a fractured spine Saturday afternoon at his summer home in Eagle Nest, N.M., is in Northwest Texas Hospital, Amarillo. Duncan, it was reported, had put up a radio aerial in order to get better reception and was climbing down when he slipped and fell about 10 feet, landing on his back.

Increased exports of crude oil and other tanker-carried products made the deepened harbor desirable, he said.

Bandits Rob, Beat Station Attendant

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18 — UP — Virgil E. Allard, 49-year-old filling station attendant fired six shots at two bandits early Tuesday as they fled after robbing him of $100 and beating him over the head with a blackjack.

An attempt by three men to rob the same station, Turner's on Vaughn Boulevard in the Polytechnic section of the city, failed on Aug. 2, when the intruders had difficulty opening the cash register, got nervous and hurried away.

Fort Worth May Hike Water Rates

FORT WORTH, Aug. 18 — UP — Water rates in Fort Worth may be increased as much as 12 per cent under a proposal to build a new water processing plant.
