

Should Cities Ban Sex, Crime And Horror Comics?

PAUL JONES
"Something should be done"

By T. D. ELLIS
Quizzing Cameraman

"Do you think a city has the right to prohibit the sale of sex, crime and horror comic books?" was the question asked 10 persons on the streets of Pampa this week.

Four persons were of the opinion that the matter should be left up to the parents. Three of those asked were not sure, and three others said they believed a municipality has every right to censor book stands in this instance.

The following comments of these individuals are not necessarily intended to reflect the opinions of Mr. and Mrs. Average Pampa:

Mrs. J. C. Branscum, 341 Miami, housewife: "I wouldn't think a city has the right to ban any of the comic books. I do my own banning. I have a girl and I feel that it is strictly my duty to select the reading matter for my child."

J. R. Garland, Woodward, Okla., division lineman: "I believe the city has a right to ban comic books if it feels they are a detriment to the community. If it feels the books are deteriorating to the children's minds, and the mass of the population says yes, then power to 'em. One way to control the situation is to restrict the sale of those books to certain age youngsters."

Gene Hauradou, Panama City, Panama, baseball player: "Well, when I was a kid in Panama they never prohibited the sale of funny comic books but the horror books weren't on the market then. My parents didn't allow me to read immoral books, though. I think the city should do something about it."

Leota Weatherly, 355 S. Banks, high school student: "No, I don't. I think some of the books are crazy and I read some of them. The city could ban some of them if it wanted to, but the kids wouldn't buy them if they didn't want to read them."

Paul Jones, Laketon, farmer: "I think the city should do something about the sale of some of them if it can. It looks to me like the parents would stop the sale of them by forbidding their children to buy such trash. If they don't sell, they will stop printing them."

Mrs. James Luedecke, 412 Hill, housewife: "No, I don't. I read them when I was a child and nothing happened to me. There are some books on the market that children shouldn't read, I agree, but the parents should take care of those."

Leslie Hart, 1323 Mary Ellen, insurance man: "I think a city should be given the right to ban those things if it doesn't already have that right. I believe they contribute to delinquency among America's youth. It will be interesting to find out what action some of the book companies take."

Fred Forrester, 1021 Twiford, college student: "No. The city has no right to interfere in the matter. The problem is purely a personal problem for the parents."

Ruth Harris, 444 Elm, maid: "I really don't think the city should. It all depends on how the book will affect the child's mind. Each child is different. Anyway, those sex and crime stories are all through the daily newspapers. What's the difference?"

Anabel Moss, White Deer, retired school teacher: "I don't know if a city has the right to ban the sale of the books, but something should be done. There is too much juvenile delinquency, and some of the books contribute to that just as some of the movies and television programs."

What do you think about the subject? Be on hand next week when we will be back with another question that will be of interest to the readers of The Pampa News.

M'Carthy Winds Up Defense

'Jury' Agrees To Read FBI Letter

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10 — UP — Sen. Joseph E. McCarthy rested his defense Friday after the Senate's "censure" committee agreed to inspect the famous "FBI letter" — basis of one of five general charges against him.

While agreeing to inspect the controversial document, the six-man committee was undecided whether to admit it in evidence.

The committee recessed after a seven-minute morning session without making any decision on that matter. But the committee's counsel was directed to start cross-examination of the Wisconsin Republican at the afternoon session.

The committee made its decision on the FBI letter after McCarthy charged it would put itself in a "fantastic" position if it refused to read it.

Six New Quakes Hit Algerian City

Nationalist Planes Raid China Coast

TAIPEI, Formosa, Sept. 10 — UP — Nationalist Chinese warplanes raided Communist positions along the China coast near Fukien Friday and sank or demolished 23 vessels, the defense ministry said.

Fighter planes also plastered the red-held port of Amoy and adjacent areas with bombs, napalm and rockets. The navy joined in the shelling.

It was the seventh straight day of air strikes against forces threatening the Nationalist-held island of Quemoy and the fifth straight day of joint air-naval action.

Let's Go, Oilers

(An Editorial)

Everybody loves a champion, so the saying goes, but never so much as when he is a home-town boy. And today, the citizens of Pampa, not just the rabid baseball fans, but Pampans generally, are proud of their baseball team. Those Pampa Oilers have battled their way to a first place finish over the long, trying season, and tomorrow night they start the playoffs against Abilene.

The playoffs, in which the top four teams in the regular run of the season play are pitted against each other in a seven-game series, will determine the pennant winner. Winners in the first round play each other to determine the ultimate champion.

Pampans, now, can show some of that "home stretch" enthusiasm by backing the Oilers in the playoffs with full grandstands in the games against Abilene Saturday and Sunday in Oiler Park.

It will be a tough playoff, but the Oilers have shown they have the stuff by finishing first over the long pull, so there's reason enough to be in high hopes they will go all the way.

So, to the Oilers, from Manager Hershel Martin to the batboys, we say "well done, gang," and "let's take 'em Saturday night!"

Death Toll Near 1,000 From Shocks

ORLEANSVILLE, Algeria, Sept. 10 — UP — Six new earthquakes rocked the ruined city of Orleansville Friday and struck more terror into this valley of death.

Then a major shock threatened to collapse the Oued Fodda dam which holds back 50 million cubic feet of water.

None of the new tremors was as violent as Thursday morning's 12-second earthquake which battered this city of 50,000 and buried more than 1,000 bodies in the Cheliff River valley.

Rescue teams estimated more than 1,000 had been crushed to death in their sleep, killed by falling buildings or trampled to death by panic-stricken crowds.

2,000 More Injured

At least 2,000 more were feared injured and some 800 were missing.

Half of Orleansville was a jumble of dusty ruins. Many buildings still standing hung at odd angles on foundations and pillars.

Each jolt threatened to tumble the rest of the city into a jigsawed mass of what was two days ago a bustling modern town.

At 7 a. m. (midnight est), officials in Algiers announced the death toll stood at "about 1,000" but this tabulation did not include death lists from many native villages leveled by the quakes.

The 1,000 fatality figure was compiled from reports made by rescue teams and assembled by police at Algiers.

Eisenhower, GOP Chiefs Set Plans

DENVER, Sept. 10 — UP — President Eisenhower met Friday with top Republicans from 21 states to help map plans for a GOP drive in the congressional elections this fall.

The chief executive was the breakfast guest of the Republican state chairmen in the Middle West. The Rocky Mountain states and some of the Southwest.

The GOP leaders and the President met over a bountiful breakfast of Rocky Mountain fruit, eggs and sausage at the Brown Palace hotel.

The group represents the GOP organization in Arizona, Colorado, Idaho, Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Michigan, Minnesota, Missouri, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Utah, Wisconsin and Wyoming.

Overshadowing their meeting to a considerable extent was the continuing crisis in the Far East. Members of the Eisenhower staff seemed more apprehensive about the Communist threat to Formosa than any other international incident since Mr. Eisenhower's inauguration.

The President was on the telephone to Washington with some degree of frequency Thursday, checking with Defense and State Department officials on the latest word.

Dulles Has Report For Ike On East

TOKYO, Sept. 10 — UP — Secretary of State John Foster Dulles rushed through top-level military and economic conferences Friday and then left for an emergency meeting of the U.S. National Security Council in Denver Sunday.

Dulles' Constellation took off from Tokyo international airport at 4:56 p. m. (1:56 a. m. est).

Dulles delayed his departure almost two hours to allow time for military talks with Far East commander Gen. John E. Hull, presumably on the Communist Chinese threat to the island of Quemoy, and for a meeting with Burmese Acting Foreign Minister U Kyaw Nyein.

The meeting with the Burmese diplomat, coupled with Australian External Affairs Minister Richard G. Casey's trip to Rangoon this weekend, was part of a campaign to persuade Burma to join the new southeast Asia collective security system set up at Manila earlier this week.

'Spurious' Document

Otherwise, he said, it could not judge the truth of the charge that the document — as he offered it to the recent Army — McCarthy hearings — was "spurious."

The Army-McCarthy investigating committee had refused even to read the letter after Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr., ruled that it still was "classified" — that is, secret — and should not be made public.

After a closed committee session, Watkins announced that it had been "decided at least to inspect the document preliminary to making a final decision on whether it will be received in evidence."

The chairman termed the issue a "rather important question."

Watkins promptly recessed the hearing so the staff could prepare for the cross-examination.

"The swift windup of McCarthy's defense apparently ended his plan to offer a final statement on how and why he had received the FBI document and why it was important."

McCarthy had said the "letter" showed the Army was guilty of "gross neglect" in handling subversion at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

Action Is Due On New Stores

Jim Blakemore, Liberal, Kan., an owner of the Ideal Food Store chain, is expected in Pampa in the next day or so to get the ball rolling on one of the two proposed new Ideal stores in the city.

Hugh Peoples, manager of Ideal No. 1, 220 N. Cuyler, late this morning said the property at the southwest corner of Francis and Purviance had been cleared and that he had written the company headquarters in Liberal to that effect.

When Blakemore and any other company official from Liberal show up, they are expected to announce the request for bids on construction of the new store. The request for bids has been held up, pending the settlement of property, Peoples said.

Another — a fourth — Ideal store will be built on Gillespie, between Francis and Browning, he continued. In addition to the Ideal No. 1, there is Ideal No. 2 at 306 S. Cuyler.

If it comes from a hardware store we have it. Lewis Hardware. Adv

The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce will meet Monday noon at Johnson's Cafe to work out the details for their annual banquet Oct. 19.

Featured speaker at the banquet will be Dr. Kenneth McFarland, general consultant of General Motors Corp. at Topeka, Kan., and according to E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, manager of the chamber, "McFarland is considered one of the top six after-dinner speakers in the nation."

Monday's meeting will be the first held since July. They are scheduled for the second Monday in each month through the winter and spring.

Col. Fleming Had Spunk Says Witness

FORT SHERIDAN, Ill., Sept. 10 — UP — Lt. Col. Harry Fleming, on trial for alleged collaboration with his Red captors in Korea, once was threatened with death for resisting them, a defense witness testified.

Maj. Clifford Allen, 34, Fort MacArthur, Calif., testified Thursday that both he and Fleming were threatened by Col. Kim, head of Prison Camp No. 12 at Pyongyang.

Allen said Kim pointed a pistol at them and said:

"I'm going to shoot you dead because you're influencing others against us."

Allen testified that Kim was angered because he and Fleming refused to write an article which, he learned later, the Communists wanted to use at the Korean peace conference.

Jury Rights Asked By Women Voters

Only criminals, the insane and women are barred from serving on juries in Texas.

Mrs. Finis Jordan, Pampa League of Women Voters chairman for jury service for women, brought out that point Thursday night in a meeting on that proposed constitutional amendment.

Texas is one of five states in the nation where women are not allowed to serve on juries. Mrs. H. H. Hahn, league president, quoted Mrs. Jordan as telling an estimated 45 persons in the County Courtroom, Others are Mississippi, Alabama, Georgia and South Carolina.

And, once women have been given the duty of serving on a jury in a state, it has never been

Tomorrow is the day for the citizens to put away those summer straws and to don the warmer felts that will keep the noggin more comfortable as the cool winds move in from the north.

Thermometer Dips To 58

The weatherman's thermometer hit a chilly low of 58 at 8 this morning, but the mid-afternoon mercurial reading will climb to an expected high of 88.

Thursday's temperature of 84 was a respite from the usual accustomed norm in the middle 90s.

The forecast calls for partly cloudy skies today, and a little warmer Saturday.

Strauss Claims A-Tests Do Not Affect Weather

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10—UP—Chairman Lewis L. Strauss of the Atomic Energy Commission said today that atomic tests, whether A or H, are not to blame for what happens to the weather, he said at a news conference Thursday. A reporter said he had heard people blame the AEC's test explosions for the drought which is plaguing so many parts of the country. Strauss said the AEC had studied the matter and had been assured there is "not the slightest possibility" that atomic explosions could have any general effect on the weather. He said a small thunderstorm generates more energy than a large A-bomb. So the A-bomb is not energetic enough to generate a thunderstorm. As for hurricanes and tornadoes, they are "far more energetic" than atomic weapons, he said.

Medical Units Talk Merger

Panhandle Technological Society at its meeting Thursday night appointed a committee of three to work out plans with the High Plains X-Ray Society for the merger of the two organizations. Committees of the two groups will meet Sept. 23, probably in the Northwest Texas State Hospital, Amarillo, to draw up by-laws for the new society. They will be submitted to the membership for approval at the next meeting of the Panhandle Technological Society at their meeting in Borger Oct. 7, according to Richard Cutting, former president of the society. The technological group is composed of laboratory technicians and the planned merger with the X-ray technicians would strengthen the membership in the Panhandle area by some 40 members, Cutting said. The Panhandle Technological-Society has 28 charter members. Members appointed to study and work on the planned merger are Ed Meredith, Amarillo; Mrs. Rosalyn Swenson, Borger; and Richard Cutting, Pampa. A film on the R-h factor in the blood was shown to the 25 members attending Thursday's meeting.

Typhoon Lashes Asiatic Coast

TOKYO, Sept. 10—UP—A 140-mile-an-hour typhoon lashed nearly 300,000 square miles of sea Friday as it crept toward the Asiatic coast, menacing U.S. installations in three countries and an occupied island. The new typhoon was the largest though not the most violent so far this season. Winds ranging from 60 MPH to 140 MPH scoured the Southwest Pacific over a radius of 300 miles from the center. At 2:30 p.m., the raging tropical storm was centered 350 miles west-southwest of Iwo Jima, moving slowly toward occupied Okinawa.

'Staff Breakfast' Discusses Adult Education Program

"Staff Breakfast," a regular morning radio program over KPON, met with Mrs. Lillian Snow and Mrs. Jack Foster for a morning discussion of the adult education program holding its organizational meeting at 8 p.m. Tuesday in City Hall. "Subjects for the fall program will be decided by those attending the meeting," Mrs. Snow, public librarian said. Any subject which generates enough interest will be made a part of the class discussion groups. "The program is set up for participants with no teaching as such, but directed by a discussion leader," Mrs. Foster said. "There are certainly no direct answers to the many problems to be considered, but we will give some serious thought to those problems facing us not only on the national but the community level." "Interests will determine the base of the discussion groups, with a possible range of subjects from juvenile delinquency to city planning," Mrs. Foster said.

Occupation License Drive On

City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones and his office deputies shortly after lunch today began going through their records to determine which outfits had not paid their city occupation taxes. The names of those which have not were to be turned over to Police Chief Jim Conner, Jones said. Most of the occupation taxes in the city went delinquent Aug. 31, but Jones gave them a 10-day extension before "Operation Crack-down" commenced. "Lots and lots of them have come in and paid up in the last week," he commented, adding he thought most of them had probably already paid.

It will be at 7 a.m. Oct. 5 in the Palm Room of City Hall and during that day-United Fund day—it is hoped that the drive can be 80 per cent completed. In 1953, a kick-off breakfast was also held the morning of the advance drive. Letters were in the mail today, Campbell continued, to all persons who contributed last year in the advance drive. They are being urged to send in their contributions by Sept. 23 at the latest to make it easier on fund officials. The letters will be reviewed Sept. 23 and those who have not contributed will be contacted that day. Rural Chairman Cole is also handling his drive that way this year. The Lefors Lions Club will handle the drive in that community, Campbell went on. Also included in the drive will be the various oil camps in the area. "Another meeting of the drive chairman will be held Thursday night and, Campbell said, it is hoped by that time that the United Fund will have a desk in its office—it is losing the one it has.

Two Airmen Held In NM Murder Case

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M., Sept. 10—UP—Two Kirtland Air Force Base soldiers, who manned a radar station at Moriarty, N.M., 40 miles east of here, were arrested Thursday night in connection with the murder of Pvt. Roy E. Pohl, of Omaha, Neb. Torrance county Sheriff Harold Hubbell said the soldiers, 18 and 23, "almost definitely drove the car outside in which (Pohl) was shot to death." He said questioning of the soldiers, whom he would not identify, had disclosed nothing definite but "we're sure we're on the right track." Pohl was stationed at the White Sands, N.M., proving ground and was enroute to Omaha to spend a furlough with his pregnant wife when he was shot seven times and thrown into a gravel pit on ranch property just off U.S. 80, near Moriarty. Air Force and civilian authorities learned that Pohl caught a ride on an Air Force plane from White Sands to Kirtland AFB here, but missed a plane bound for Omaha. He apparently decided to hitchhike to his home, and has been traced as far as Central and Wyoming Aves., an intersection on the U.S. 80 route leading east from Albuquerque.

In the separate military detachment, there are six enlisted men and no officers.

JURY

(Continued from Page 1) of the proposed amendment was pretty much a matter of public education, that it was a duty of citizenship to serve on juries. Copies of a league booklet, "Well, Honestly," will be made available to all Pampans in the near future, Mrs. Hahn said. It deals with jury service for all citizens. And the local league, she continued, will furnish speakers on the subject for any local organization. Five women's groups in Texas have gone on record in favor of the proposed amendment: General Federation of Women's Clubs, Business and Professional Women, Congress of Parent-Teacher Association, American Association of University Women and the League of Women Voters.

Batchelor Attorney Proves Star Witness Made Error

SAN ANTONIO, Tex., Sept. 10.—Ex-Progressive Cpl. Claude J. Batchelor's civilian lawyer proved Thursday that a star Army witness told one story about Batchelor in Washington last June and another on the witness stand in Batchelor's court martial Wednesday.

The witness was S-Sgt. Bernard Bull of Wilkes-Barre, Pa. He testified Thursday that he stood with his car against the wall of the office of the commandant of Chinese Communist Prison Camp No. 5 in August, 1951, and heard Batchelor turn informer.

The information Batchelor gave the commandant, known as "The Screaming Skull," was that an American prisoner had a movie camera and was taking pictures of Red atrocities, according to Bull.

The specific charge against Batchelor is that "on or about August, 1951" he squealed on the American POW who had the camera to curry favor with the Japanese. Bull so testified Wednesday.

But Bull admitted Thursday, under questioning by Lt. Col. Donald L. Mames Jr., law officer for the court, that he made a statement in Washington last June that he heard Batchelor turn informer in August, 1952 — not August, 1951, as the charge said.

Joel Westbrook, Batchelor's civilian attorney, had demanded that the statement Bull made in Washington be introduced in a 25-minute closed session of the trial Thursday, the Army admitted that part of the statement was lost.

But Westbrook got a stipulation from Lt. Col. Francis R. Broyles, chief prosecutor, that if Broyles were to testify under oath he would say that the missing part of the statement said Bull heard Batchelor squeal in August, 1952. Mames, who functions as a sort of judge at the court martial, asked for the stipulation and started to question Bull. After bringing out the difference in the dates, he asked Bull:

"Did you tell Col. Broyles that when you were released from confinement you told Megeyst that Batchelor had informed on him?"

(Former Army Pvt. John J. Megeyst of Farrell, Pa., was the man Batchelor allegedly informed on. Megeyst testified that somebody had squealed, but he could not say it was Batchelor.

Bull said he had told Broyles that he reported to Megeyst that Batchelor was the squealer as soon as Megeyst got out of solitary, where "The Skull" sent him for two months and eight days.

Bull testified Wednesday that it was on the ship coming home — two years later — that he told Megeyst that Batchelor was the squealer.

Who Pulls Strings

Some people may not know from which quarter the American State Department takes its orders — but the Chinese Reds seem to think they know. One of the most astonishing bits of diplomatic talk in a long time was given by Mao Tze-tung, the Red China leader who asked Clement Attlee and his fellow British Socialist now on a world junket to help the Chinese Reds get the American Seventh Fleet out of Formosa waters.

The assumption on the part of Mao that the Washington coterie in the State Department bend an attentive ear to the British view is not so far fetched as it seems. Apparently Mao thinks that Washington is as obedient to London as it used to be when Dean Acheson was Secretary of State.

Well, having lost round after round at Geneva and now in the attempt to get a six-nation army together for the defense of Europe against Russia, Mr. John Foster Dulles will have to turn his attention to Southeast Asia and the various islands and nations of the South Pacific. Dulles is getting ready to attend the Manila conference where we are supposed to be able to set up a Southeast Asia Treaty Organization (SEATO) that will be modeled along the lines of the one supposed to have been arranged in Europe (NATO).

Mao gets into this act, too, as the result of the non-aggression pact that has been signed between Mao and India's prime minister Nehru who has distinguished himself in this country as being solidly for the United States at the time he has been making all sorts of pacts with Communist nations and making us like it. Nehru has sunk a good sized harpoon into the plans for the Pacific pact by telling the Indian parliament that such things are nonsense and that what is needed are more pacts such as the one he signed with the Chinese Reds. Mao tells everyone who will listen, including Nehru, that Red China is as peaceable as a kitten and that the real danger is aggression from the United States.

Discipline Best Attained With The Old Hickory Stick

By HENRY McLEMORE

Now that the public schools are opening up again I find myself wondering if these old eyes aren't deceiving me. Take all those stories about kids tearing up schoolrooms, destroying taxpayers' property, and school teachers, in mortal terror of their pupils, not allowed to raise a hand in self-defense. We old timers who went to those little one-and-two-room country school houses years ago are completely mystified by such goings on.

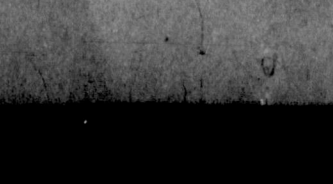

I remember down in southern Illinois in a little town called New Burnside when I was in the 7th Grade and we had a teacher with a wooden leg. He was a terror. So was each and every one of us — but we didn't terrorize him. In the room were the Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Grades and a lot of big, husky farm boys who would be in Junior College now, but there were no Junior Colleges in those days and there was no work on the farms in the winter so they naturally came to school and hated every minute of it.

I remember one day there was a mutiny or an insurrection — all of us starting to yell, scream and throw books and ink wells. Our teacher watched this grimly until one big, rawboned youth made the mistake of throwing a book at him. This was when Teacher took off his wooden leg and started down the aisle swinging it, laying out farm boys like mowing a wheat field. If any parents objected to this kind of discipline, I never heard of it. He was the kind of character who would just as soon have swung on a parent with his wooden leg if he had tried to interfere.

My father was a country school teacher for forty-odd years. That was rough and tough country down there in southern Illinois in those days. But old students of his, grown up, with children of his own, have told me how he would walk down the aisles, pick them up by the scruff of the neck and shake them like a terrier shaking a rat. There were no juvenile delinquents in his classrooms and maybe I can explain why from my own experience.

"America In Danger"

I want to continue to quote from "America In Danger," as published in the Defender Magazine. This is from a speech made by Dr. Nicholas Nyaradi, former Minister of Finance of Hungary, under the auspices of the Lutheran Men in America.

Under the sub-heading of "Great American Heritage" Dr. Nyaradi writes: "Never in the history of the world has a case been won by being merely negative, by being merely anti. We are, of course, very right if we are anti-Russian, but I'm telling you we will not get too far with this negative attitude. What we must be in this present crisis is just as positive as the Russians. As they are pro-Russian and pro-communism, so must we become pro-God, pro-freedom. . . ."

"The indifference of so many Americans today springs from one common denominator — that most of you take everything for granted. You take the blessings you have as the most natural things on earth. . . ."

"When I am talking to my American friends I never think about the washing machines, about the refrigerators or the automobiles you have here. I do not ever speak about your food markets and the abundance of food you have and the waste which could feed an entire European or Asiatic city. When I am talking to you about your privileges, I speak about the privilege which few Americans ever think about — this is your privilege: that tonight when you go home, you will go to bed and tomorrow morning you will wake up in the same bed. . . ."

"Constant Terrorism" "Behind the Iron Curtain, in the hours between midnight and four in the morning are the hours of frustration and anxiety. These are the hours when the Communist secret police go for their raids. They surround houses, blocks, districts or entire cities and take the population to the concentration camps. In these hours of the night, over there, when someone knocks at the door, you sit up in your bed and your heart beats in your throat because you don't know if it is you who must say goodbye for the last time to your loved ones or if it is your neighbor whom they are taking away. . . ."

"I can't blame you for not knowing what you had in this great country of yours, for I did not know myself what I had in Hungary when my country was free and happy and prosperous. We had a beautiful city, Budapest, the 'Queen of the Danube,' where one million happy men, women and children lived and worked and played. We had fine churches and parks and theaters and we all thought, exactly as you do here, that such a terrible thing couldn't happen to us. But then it happened. . . ."

"Stronger Than The Atom" "My friends, if I feel on my tongue this horrible taste of raw horse meat, do you blame me if I tell you happy Americans to go down on your knees in prayer and thank God for the tremendous blessings which He has bestowed upon this country of yours? If you ask me how come that I who am a newcomer here, am telling you how to appreciate your own country more, you whose ancestors and forefathers have lived here for centuries, well, my friends, I have a very good reason for doing so. . . ."

"I have a vested interest in America. When my wife and I fled Hungary we lost everything we had. The Communists confiscated all our wealth and belongings. They took away our Hungarian citizenship. We were blown across the highway of the world like two autumn leaves, without money and without friends. But the worst thing which happened to us was that the Communists have arrested almost every member of our family. We don't know what happened to them, whether they are still alive or dead. . . ."

"And then we came to America and here, exactly four years ago, our first child was born. He is a little boy. His name is Johnny and he is an American citizen by birth. Today Johnny feels and behaves like a full-fledged American. He doesn't speak another word but English. . . ."

Farm Vote Is Big Question In South Dakota Politics

By RAY TUCKER

(While Ray Tucker is on vacation there will be guest columns by several prominent editors. Today's column is by Fred H. Monfore, Editor and Publisher of THE PRESS & DAKOTAN, Yankton, S. D.)

YANKTON, South Dakota — The big question in the minds of party leaders in South Dakota as the 1954 November election approaches is over which way the bulk of the farm vote will go. In light of the Eisenhower Administration's successful fight for the principle of flexible price supports. . . ."

"There is undoubtedly considerable farm sentiment here for continued support at the present 90 per cent of parity figure, at least until a better program has been worked out. That has been the stand taken by South Dakota's delegation in Congress — Senators Karl E. Mundt and Francis Case, and Representatives Harold O. Lovre and E. Y. Berry. . . ."

"This disagreement with the Eisenhower Administration on the important farm issue has put the Republican party in this state in a rather awkward position. Its state party platform, adopted at the July convention, endorses the stand of the Congressional delegation but also praises the Eisenhower Administration for trying to solve the farm problem. . . ."

Naturally, the Democrats are out to make the most of this situation, and they apparently intend to put most of their eggs in the farm basket. Some of their biggest guns were unlimbered at a late August farm rally held in Sioux Falls, with Adlai Stevenson as the principal speaker. . . ."

Representative Lovre, from the First District, is opposed by Francis G. Dunn, Sioux Falls, an attorney. Senator Case is not up this year. . . ."

Success Secrets

By ELMER WHEELER

Chicago's John D. MACARTHUR, president of one of the top six of 800 accident and health insurance companies, owes his success to an idea born of the distress of the great depression, and his sympathy for the little "man-in-the-street." . . ."

In the early Thirties young MacArthur was trying to earn a living selling policies on an annual basis. He found it virtually impossible to obtain a yearly premium of $225 from people who badly needed insurance. . . ."

In 1933, the day President Franklin D. Roosevelt closed the banks, the young salesman hit upon an idea. Why not offer insurance protection to a man for what he could afford? Says MacArthur: "I got out a policy for a life insurance company which sold for one dollar a month. We were amazed at the response. Almost any man could scrape up a dollar. For twelve dollars his family was covered. It was revolutionary in the insurance business. . . ."

The firm grew steadily in the Thirties. In 1942 MacArthur merged several companies, and assets soared from $718,911 in 1942 to $66,589,120 in 1953. Accident and health premiums rose from $4,574,257 in 1947 to $64,720,000 in 1952. They jumped to $86,036,257 last year. This is when MacArthur's company, Bankers Life and Casualty, moved into the top six accident and health carriers. . . ."

MacArthur observes regretfully: "More than 40 per cent of the American people — mostly in the lower income brackets — have no health coverage. They can be covered through a pocketbook policy." His creed: Think first of the other man's needs. . . ."

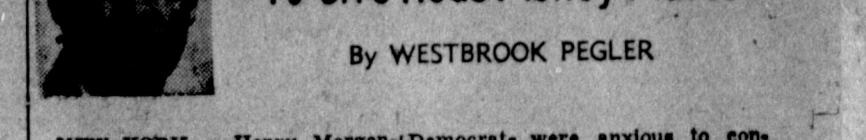

He rose to the top in his field because he thought of the man who really needed insurance, and had only a dollar a month to pay for it. . . ."

Morgenthau's Role In Bill To Give Reds Money Plates

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — Henry Morgenthau should be forced to tell the precise truth of the great embellishment of countless millions of dollars of our taxes which was put over by traitorous Americans in the treasury, when he was Secretary of the Treasury. . . ."

The most notorious of these traitors was Harry Dexter White. White was a member of the Boston clique including Alger Hiss, who was inducted into the government by Felix Frankfurter. Whether Morgenthau knowingly reached out for White or innocently permitted someone to impose White on him in the treasury, no government authority has ever tried to determine. Therefore, Morgenthau should be compelled to take the stand, under oath this time, and subject to the penalties of perjury and contempt of Congress, and forced to come clean. . . ."

This fellow certainly deserves no delicate consideration. His department was rotten and, on a previous occasion, he proved the folly of those who permit him to testify without being sworn. . . ."

That occasion was the effort of a Senate committee to ascertain who wrote the lend-lease bill and the "legislative intent" of the authors. Lend-lease was a fateful incident in the seduction of this republic into the war against the enemies of Soviet Russia. That betrayal entailed our subsequent betrayal into the United Nations with entailed sacrifice of our national sovereignty. . . ."

Edward Foley, one of Morgenthau's treasury lawyers, subsequently confessed to me in his office in the treasury that he and Oscar Cox, another such, wrote this act together under Morgenthau's orders in the treasury building during a busy week end. Although they were officers of the court, they kept silent when they knew, as Foley admitted he did, that the Senate committee was trying to obtain information, which they could give. . . ."

Thus whoever forbears to put Morgenthau under oath does so at considerable peril to the truth. Specifically, Senator La Follette asked Morgenthau whether one Beaman, a subordinate functionary of the house, "was primarily responsible for the drafting of this measure." . . ."

Morgenthau, on trust as a cabinet officer and a gentleman, replied: "I think he can answer that better than I can." Again: "Did anyone in your department take a major part in drafting this bill?" Morgenthau: "I would not know how to answer that." . . ."

When old Senator Hiram Johnson, striving to save this country from war, asked Morgenthau: "Wasn't the bill written by Mr. Foley?" Morgenthau wriggled and writhed but did not come clean. "I do not think that is a correct statement," he finally said. . . ."

THE DOCTOR SAYS

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

There does not seem to be the slightest doubt that carrying more fat on the body than one should is dangerous to the health — as well as being unsightly. . . ."

There is also not the slightest doubt that an easy way to reduce is desired by all of those who are overweight. . . ."

E. F., for example, asks if there are any pills which one can take to get a slender figure and do no harm to the digestion. . . ."

Julius Epstein, writing in "The Brooklyn Tablet," says some frightening things to say about the recent Berlin conference. Ever since the war we have refused to sign the Soviet version of an Austrian Peace Treaty because, among other things it stipulated that "no relief should be given to persons who refuse to return to their countries of origin." This meant that the force of economic starvation should be used to FORCE refugees from Communism (who have been siding us in the cold war) to return behind the Iron Curtain to face Red firing squads. According to Mr. Epstein, John Foster Dulles AGREED to this at Berlin and the anti-Communist refugees were, ironically, saved by the fact that Russia still rejected the treaty. Only that, it seems, prevented our being guilty of a disgraceful sellout of our friends. JONATHAN YANK

Jane Talk

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

DUE TO the coming organization of the Adult Education groups in Pampa, I decided to deviate from the norm today and speak about that program, instead of beauty exclusively. You might say there is a little tie-in because exercising our powers of thinking and reasoning may give an inner satisfaction that will reflect in our faces, thus making us more attractive. You see, I'm a great believer in the fact that beauty comes from within — without an inner "glow" no amount of work on the exterior will give beauty. Enough of my rambling.

MRS. JACK FOSTER, president of the Adult Education group, called me the other day and explained the workings and purpose of the program to me. She believes that last year people were "scared away" by the terms Great Books and American Heritage, thinking they were deep studies of deep subjects. Actually the units are merely discussion groups. The unit leaders are elected from the group, by the group, and officers are chosen the same way. Purpose of the program, Mrs. Foster stated, is to promote thinking. Topics for discussion can be on any subject of interest to the group, such as juvenile delinquency, adolescent problems, civic projects. The program is aimed at promoting understanding of the problems of the American people.

A meeting, open to anyone and everyone in Pampa, will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday in the city commission room of the City Hall. At this time, those attending will elect officers, choose discussion group leaders, and decide upon discussion topics. Meeting times and places will also be selected. It is hoped this year that more people will join the program.

What type of program it is this year depends upon the interests of those who attend. It is a program for Pampans, by Pampans, of Pampans.

IT IS OFTEN said that a person's eyes mirror his soul. Whether or not this is true, women with naturally attractive eyes, can emphasize them with careful grooming and those whose eyes aren't considered their best feature can improve them.

Hollywood stars are always considered excellent authorities on beauty. On the matter of eye care, Alicia Hart, NEA beauty editor, went to Audrey Hepburn, one of Hollywood's young actresses.

"Audrey Hepburn possesses the kind of fresh, pixie looks that are setting a new trend in Hollywood standards of beauty. With Miss Hepburn's piquant appeal and her interesting, irregularly featured face, the ultraglamorous, heavily made-up type of beauty is becoming a thing of the past.

"Her most outstanding facial asset are her eyes. They are brown, huge and fringed with thick, long, black eyelashes. Her eyebrows are dark brown, rather thick and neatly shaped. They, too, accentuate her big, dark eyes.

"This emphasis on pretty eyes should, of course, encourage women to better grooming of their own, and to use little or no eye make-up.

"Your eyes should be as well kept as your hair and nails. To keep them looking their best, you'll need only three grooming aids: Colossal lash pomade, an eyelash curler and good tweezers.

"You should use a scissor tweezers, one with a handle that's easy to hold and use. To prevent nipping of the skin around the hairs to be pulled, these tweezers are made with blunt ends. With the tweezers, remove all the extra hairs between the brows on the bridge of the nose.

"Then apply the lash pomade to both the brows and the lashes to keep the brows neat and give the lashes sheen. After the lashes have been thoroughly lubricated, use your eyelash curler. It may look complicated, but it is very simple to use and hold.

"Simply insert your lashes in the rubber bow designed to curl them, and press the handles of the curler firmly together. Count to 30 to allow half a minute for curling. If you are faithful to this ritual every day, you'll soon have thick, healthy, curly eyelashes to enhance sparkling eyes.

When applying the lash pomade, Miss Hepburn said you should be sure that each individual lash is completely lubricated. The smart girl, she advised, spends 30 minutes each week plucking straggly hairs from the undersides of each brow. To prevent thickness, pull the hair in the direction it's growing (center). Eyelashes should also be curled every day with an eyelash curler, sweeping them upward to make them look larger and revealing more of the iris.

Methodist WSCS Has General Meet

The general meeting of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist Church met at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in the church chapel.

The opening prayer was given by Mrs. Irene Osborn, and a short business session was conducted by Mrs. Coy Palmer. Mrs. G. T. Bran-son announced that the year books were ready.

The devotional, "Fret Not Thyself," was presented by Mrs. Gordon Hollenbeck. During her presentation, Mrs. Hollenbeck stated that life is not meaningless, but full of life. The sin of our day is being too busy, she pointed out, so the challenge is to select those things which are the most important to do, and to pray for the wisdom to choose between the good, better, and best.

Psalms 1, 3

And he shall be like a tree planted by the rivers of water, that bringeth forth his fruit in his season.

His leaf also shall not wither, And whatsoever he doeth shall prosper.

For it is the will of God for us to prosper when we serve God, On the last day of the fiest, That great day of the fiest.

Jesus stood and cried and, saying, "If any man thirst, let him come unto me, And drink".

If any one thirst let him come to Jesus and drink, and be made free from sin, "Come unto me, all that labour and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest". Saith the Lord.

Oilers, Abilene Open Playoff Series Here Tomorrow Night

Press Box Views

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

THE STORY BEHIND THE OILERS WINNING the straight-away season flag in the 1954 West Texas-New Mexico League race is told in the one-run decisions the locals chalked up during the season.

If you can win the close ones, statistics reveal, you stand an excellent chance of finishing in the chips. Well, the Oilers certainly won the close ones this year and they finished in the chips as you well know by now.

The Oilers were involved in 41 games this season which were decided by one run and the Pampans won 29 of these for an amazing .707 percentage.

Many of these one-run victories for the Oilers came with late-inning rallies, another factor that paid off immensely for the Oilers.

The '54 Oiler edition never knew when they were whipped. We know of several occasions when the most loyal Oiler fans gave up the ghost on various games through the year when the opponent was far out in the lead with time running out.

But the Oilers repeatedly through the season never gave up and, as aforementioned, it paid off in a straight-away season flag.

Twenty-three of the Oiler victories this season came as result of ninth inning rallies when they were either behind or the score was tied.

We certainly believe this kind of spirit deserves your utmost patronage during the coming playoff series that starts tomorrow night.

FUNNY THINGS HAPPEN IN baseball. The Oilers won 12 of their last 15 games of the season including their last seven in succession.

The only defeat during this span came on a night that was labeled "Oiler Appreciation Night."

Oh well, the Oilers did all right even that night as they battled Albuquerque to 11 innings before losing.

And to top it off, the win that night was one of four wins Albuquerque recorded over the Oilers in 20 games this season.

Against the other teams of the league, the Oilers held the advantage in the wins and losses with exception of two — Clovis and Abilene.

Clovis won 11 from the Oilers while losing seven (the other two games were cancelled because of rain).

Abilene defeated the Oilers 11 times, one more win than the Oilers recorded over the Blue Sox.

Otherwise the Oilers did well against the other teams. The Pampans won 12 out of 16 from Borger; 14 out of 21 from Plainview; 11 out of 19 from Lubbock; 11 out of 20 from Amarillo; in addition to the 16 out of 20 over Albuquerque.

IN CASE YOU MAY BE WON-dering what the Rudy Tanners need in the way of baby gifts for tomorrow night's shower at Oiler Park, we have been informed that anything will be fine.

You see, this is the first baby for the Tanners and they don't have anything in the way of baby things.

Why not bring along a gift for the Tanners tomorrow night. If anyone ever needed any help along this line, the Tanners do.

Fake Call Pulls Robinson /BROOKLYN, Sept. 10 —UP— Jackie Robinson of the Brooklyn Dodgers quit Thursday's game with the Cardinals in the third inning when he received an anonymous telephone call informing him that one of his children was seriously ill. Minutes later, Jackie learned all of his three children were perfectly well, but he already had been replaced in the lineup by rookie Don Hoak.

Sad Sam Due To Start In Series Opener

The stage is all set for the opening round of the West Texas-New Mexico League Shaughnessy Playoff series for first place Pampa Oilers who will host the fourth place Abilene Blue Sox at Oiler Park tomorrow night.

Manager Hershel Martin of the Oilers sent his charges through a snappy workout this morning in their final activity before tonight's playoff opener.

The Oilers were scheduled to play Borger last night and tonight in their season windup but they got the two days off as result of Borger having folded during the year.

Martin has named Sad Sam Williams to open against the Blue Sox tomorrow night. Williams owns a 16-10 record over the season.

Williams has been bothered with a sore finger the past few days, and it's possible that he won't be able to start tomorrow's game. "If Sam isn't ready to go it will be Valesquez in the opener," Martin says.

Manager Martin said he would go along with his usual lineup for tomorrow's series opener.

The probable lineup and batting order is as follows:
Louis Johnson, rf.
Doug Lewis, lb.
Rudy Tanner, cf.
I. B. Palmer, c.
Dick Hairston, lf.
Curtis Hardaway, 3b.
Ben Felder, 2b.
Sad Sam Williams, p.
Gene Hauradou, ss.

Tomorrow's game will be the first of two games to be played at Oiler Park before the series switches to Abilene. Second game of the series will be played Sunday afternoon here.

Then the two teams will go to Abilene for the next three games, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. If the winner still isn't decided by the fifth game, the two teams will then come back to Pampa to finish up the seven-game series.

Manager Jay Haney of the Blue Sox will likely go along with his ace in tomorrow night's opener — Andy Alonso. The Blue Sox right-hander has 22 wins to his credit this season.

Abilene's probable starting lineup is as follows:
Pete Mackenzie, ss.
Ozzie Walker, cf.
Art Bowland, c.
Glenn Burn, lf.
Bob Pascal, lb.
Jim Matthews, 3b.
Joe Ellison, rf.
Mil Varona, 2b.
Andy Alonso, p.

Abilene holds the seasonal advantage over the Oilers by a scant one game margin. The Blue Sox have defeated the Oilers 11 times this season while the Oilers have won 10 from the Blue Sox.

Tickets to the first two games here are now available. Fans may either drop by the Oiler business office at Oiler Park and pick up your ducats or call the office and reserve the tickets. To reserve tickets, fans may call 4-8551 or 4-3588.

Admission prices, as set up by the league, is $1 for adults and 50 cents for students.

There is still time for fans to reserve box seats for the playoff series. Each box (which includes four chairs) is priced at $8 for the entire first round series at Oiler Park.

Ponies, Dukes Battle For 5th Place In Final Standings

By UNITED PRESS
The West Texas - New Mexico League enters its final night of regular season play Friday, with the only excitement created by the battle for fifth place between Albuquerque and Plainview.

Pampa ended its schedule by sewing up first place Wednesday night and runner-up Clovis can climb to no higher than one-half game back with a win. Amarillo and Abilene, the third and fourth place teams, are in the playoffs.

Plainview takes on Albuquerque Thursday night with the winner getting clear possession of fifth place. The two teams are virtually tied now, both 20 and a half games off the pace, although Albuquerque is two percentage points ahead.

Other Friday night season finales find Abilene at Clovis and Lubbock at Amarillo.

All the games Thursday night found the hitters getting way ahead of the pitchers with an average of just under 17 hits per game. Plainview dropped Albuquerque 13 to 6. Clovis outscored Abilene 10 to 5 and Amarillo downed Lubbock 6 to 2.

Cecil Davis took the mound decision for Plainview, although needing help from Don Tierney as the two hurlers combined to set Albuquerque down on eight hits. Bill Adelhelm hit a home run for the winners in the only round-tripper of the game.

Jim Waugh pitched a neat three-hitter, but still had to have help from Jack Venable in the eighth inning as Clovis beat Abilene by a handy five runs. Pete Mackenzie led off the Abilene sixth inning with a home run to start a four run rally. The Pioneers got 10 hits off a trio of Blue Sox hurlers with Dink Whisenhant getting the loss.

Three Amarillo hurlers teamed up to limit Lubbock to three hits with credit for the decision going to reliever Jim Clarich. Bud Reagan hit a home run with a mate aboard for the two Hubber runs.

Brewer Stars In First UT Fall Scrimmage Session

By UNITED PRESS
Charley Brewer quarterbacked the Texas Longhorns' first two units to a 16 to 9 scrimmage victory Thursday over the third and fourth teams in the first workout held under full game conditions.

But the game condition scrimmage was old hat to the TCU Horned Frogs, who completed their third with the No. 1 team, led by quarterback speedster Ronnie Clinkscales, on top of a 14 to 0 score over the No. 2 team. The Frogs also have a full game scrimmage scheduled for Saturday.

The Rice Owls, meanwhile, turned their attention to defense in preparation for the annual Blue-Gray intra-squad game Saturday. Coach Jess Neely explained that it was the first "real" defensive drill of the season and he kept his first team on defense during most of the scrimmage that followed the afternoon workout.

Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant praised his under-manned Texas A&M team for "trying hard and handling and moving the ball well," but added that "the lack of their being in good physical condition was obvious."

The Aggies went through a 30-minute scrimmage Thursday with Elwood Ketter doing a good job of quarterbacking the first team with a backfield composed of Don Watson and Joe Schero at half and Don Kaechik at fullback.

In the Texas scrimmage, the second unit Oranges got off to a quick lead with Dick Miller and Don Maroney playing a big part in a 62-yard scoring drive. A field goal gave the first team Whites a brief 9 to 7 lead, but then the Oranges wrapped it up with Pat Tolar and Delano Womack leading the way for a safety and the final TD.

In addition to the victory by the top team over the second unit in the TCU drills, the third and fourth teams played each other to a 7 to 7 standoff, and then the second team blanked the third unit 12 to 0 with Chuck Curtis doing the quarterbacking.

SMU players got to take it a little easier Thursday after a strenuous game-condition scrimmage the day before. The morning workout was devoted to passing with Duane Nutt, who tossed for one TD, and Hayes Gilliam, who threw for two more, doing most of the chumking. Coach Chalmer (Woody) Woodward then gave the Mustangs a new series of plays to learn in the afternoon.

Pampa 'B' Opens 1954 Slate Tonite

Pampa High School's "B" team Guerrillas will open their 1954 schedule tonight, when they go against the Amarillo "B" team Yannigans at Amarillo.

Mervin Bowman will be making his debut as the Guerrillas coach in tonight's contest. Bowman has been serving as the Junior High Repeater coach.

Orville Lewis is serving as Bowman's assistant.

About 40 boys have been working out for the Guerrillas this season. Bowman revealed the following boys as his probable starters for tonight's game:

ENDS — Gerald Smith and Don Allen.
GUARDS — Doug Simmons and Tommy Gindorf.
GUARDS — Jerry Bonsal and Bill Green.
CENTER — Billy Kirbie
QUARTERBACK — Jerry Hopkins
HALFBACKS — Bobby Dehls and Duane Lovingood.
FULLBACK — Buddy Lamberon or Lynn Garner.
Kickoff time tonight has been set for 8.

Michigan has eight inland lakes that cover areas of between 10,000 and 20,000 acres.

In the National League, where only three games were scheduled, the Cubs salvaged the nightcap of a doubleheader 3 to 0 after the Giants won the opener 7 to 6, and Brooklyn shelled St. Louis 10 to 1.

Giants Keep Lead
As a result, the Giants maintained their four-game lead over the idle Braves but New York's edge in the all-important "lost column" was pared to three games. The Giants have lost 51 games so far; the Braves 54. The Dodgers are 1-2-2 games behind the Braves.

Hank Thompson's surprise bunt with the bases full and two out in the ninth inning of the opener caught the Cubs flatfooted and scored Don Mueller with the winning run. Thompson, Al Dark and Monte Irvin each homered. But in the nightcap, Chicago went ahead on Clyde McCullough's third-inning homer off Johnny Antonelli and was never headed although winner Bob Rush needed relief.

Johnny Podres scattered six hits and hurled his first complete game in three months while leading the Dodgers to victory. Carl Furillo hit his 16th homer off loser Vic Raschi and Duke Snider connected for his 37th.

Thursday's Star
Joe Coleman of the Orioles, who capped a dramatic comeback with a one-hit 1 to 0 triumph over the Yankees.

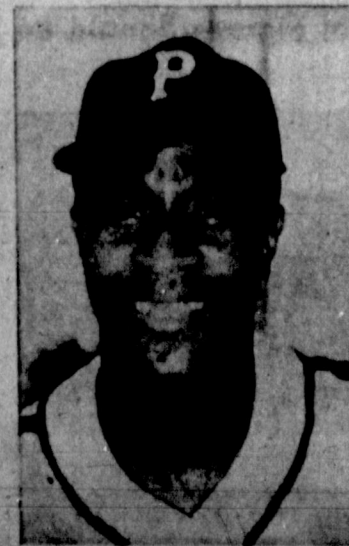

Jockey Suspended
CHICAGO, Sept. 10 —UP— Harry Trotsek, the nation's leading money-winning trainer last year, drew a 30-day suspension from the Illinois racing board Thursday for failing to report the use of a medicinal drug on Mister Black, a horse in his charge. Veterinarian Alex Harthill and Logan Fischer, an assistant trainer, each were handed 60-day suspensions.

Riddle, Petrie Win Bowling Honors

Buck Riddle and Ina Petrie hogged all individual honors in the Industrial and Lone Star Bowling Leagues as activity got underway for the 1954-55 winter season.

Riddle captured individual honors in the Industrial League with 225 for high game and 578 for high series.

Mrs. Petrie knocked down 178 pins to capture single game honors in the Lone Star Women's League and 497 for high series. Riddle bowls for Cabot Shops while Mrs. Petrie is a member of the Malone Pharmacy team.

Three shutouts were recorded in the two leagues, two in the Industrial and one in the Lone Star. In the Industrial, McClure's Nash blanked Cabot Tin Shop, 4-0, as did Culberson's over Northern Natural Pipeline. Other Industrial results saw Cabot Shops defeat Tom Rose and Northern Natural Gas win over Celanese, both by 3-1 counts.

LaBonita Beauty Shop and Cabot Carbon turned in the two shutouts in the Lone Star Loop. The Beauty Shoppers blanked B&B Pharmacy and Cabot Carbon won over Team No. 3, both by 4-0 scores. Other Lone Star results were C. A. Husted 3, Cabot Engineers 1, and Malone's 3, Shamrock Service Sta., 1.

Culberson had the high team scoring honors for both single game and series. The Chevrolet team had 9-1 for high game and 2,538 for high series.

Sports, Buffs Even Playoffs In TL

By UNITED PRESS

Everything was even Stephen after the second night of the Texas League's first-round playoffs, with Shreveport and Houston bouncing back from opening night defeats to tie up their best four-of-seven sets with Fort Worth and Oklahoma City.

A change of scenery features Friday night's action, with Houston moving to Oklahoma City and Shreveport going to Fort Worth. The next three games will be played there, and the series will shift back to Houston and Shreveport if the last two games are needed.

John Andre pitched and batted the regular season champion Sports to a 7 to 1 win over Fort Worth, setting the Cats down on five scattered hits. Andre got three hits, including a home run, in winning his 22nd game of the year. Shreveport got 13 hits off four Fort Worth hurlers, with starter Carroll Beringer getting charged with the loss. The Sports broke the scoring ice with a lone run in the third and were never behind as Andre maintained control all the way.

A pair of home runs by Willie Brown and Ken Boyer helped give Houston an early lead, but late inning rallies nearly tied it up for Oklahoma City as the Buffs squeaked by the Indians 5 to 4 in a game that ended in a rhabarb. Luis Arroyo was the winner.

Scores by innings:

Fort Worth	000-010-000-1 5 2
Shreveport	001-203-01x-7 13 1
Beringer, Butler (5), Waters (6), Mills (8) and Yelen; Andre and Jones.
Oklahoma City	000-000-202-4 9 0
Houston	202-010-00x-5 8 3
McLeland, Taylor (3), Olson (4), Aldridge (7), Cardey (7) and Tomkinson, Damato (8); Arroyo, Tiedeman (8) and Smith, Rand (8).

Indians 10 Games Shy Of Win Record

CLEVELAND, Sept. 10 — UP — The Cleveland Indians can set an all-time American League record for victories in one season by winning 11 of their remaining 18 games.

The league-leading Indians scored their 100th victory of the campaign Thursday 5 to 4 over Philadelphia in 11 innings. The Tribe has lost 40 games and its winning percentage is .714—the same percentage recorded by the New York Yankees at the end of the 1927 season in which they set the league record of 110 wins.

Wheeler Returns To Grid Wars With 15 Lettermen

(Another in a series dealing with football prospects for the 1954 season at area high schools.)

By RUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

WHEELER, Sept. 10 — The Wheeler Mustangs, after sitting out a year of suspension by the Texas Interscholastic League, are enthusiastic over their chances for the forthcoming gridiron season.

The Mustangs will be under the guidance of a new coach, J. D. Atwell, former Howard Payne grid star.

The biggest squad in Wheeler's history, 35, greeted Atwell at the start of this season's workouts.

Fifteen of those 35 boys are returning lettermen. Although Wheeler was suspended from competing against schools in the TIL setup last year, the Mustangs did play a three-game schedule against private schools, winning one, losing one and tying one.

Seven of the starters listed by Atwell for Friday night's opener against Price College of Amarillo here, are returning lettermen. Two of the other four starting berths will be manned by freshmen.

Atwell foresees a great future for his two freshmen starters. They are Roland Miles, 150 pound halfback and Jim Porter, 170-pound fullback.

The probable starting lineup for the Mustangs Friday night will be:

Ends — Denny Bowerman and Francis Pride.

Tackles — J. T. Grimes and Roger Topper.

Guards — Doyce Watson and Robert Denson.

Center — Arden Kenady.

Quarterback — Jerry Barton.

Halfbacks — Claude Cox and Roland Miles.

Fullback — Jim Porter.

The other non-lettermen in the starting lineup besides the two freshmen, Miles and Porter, are Grimes and Denson.

The Mustangs have eight other returning lettermen who aren't listed on the starting lineup. They are George Mize, Don Clark, Red Childress, Darrell Moore, Bruce Topper, Burley Owens, Joe Jaco and Harold Reid.

Atwell is handling the Mustangs by himself but he is enthused over his job. He comes to Wheeler after two years at Friendship.

Following is the Wheeler schedule and squad roster:

Lost 25 Pounds With Barcentrate

"The first week I took Barcentrate, I lost seven pounds" writes Mrs. Earnestine Mathis, 717 West Jefferson, Waxahachie, Texas. "I decided that was too much, so I only take Barcentrate at night. Now I lose from 2 1/2 to 3 pounds a week. In seven weeks, I have lost 25 1/2 pounds. My face is not wrinkled as a lot of my friends, who reduced in other ways. I was bothered with rheumatism, but since taking Barcentrate, I have not been bothered with it."
 If the very first bottle of Barcentrate doesn't show you the way to take off ugly fat, return the empty bottle for your money back. Get Barcentrate at any Texas drugist.

AF Trainer Cracks Up; None Dead

HOUSTON, Sept. 10—UP—An Air Force training plane with 13 persons aboard crashed and burned just after takeoff at Ellington Air Force Base Thursday and at least four persons were injured.
 The crash occurred shortly after 6 a.m.
 The injured men, removed from the burning plane by fellow passengers, were hospitalized at the air base. An Air Force spokesman said the extent of their injuries was not known.
 The plane, a twin-engine T-29 Convair used for navigational training purposes, was piloted by 1st Lt. Russell R. Wilkinson. It carried a co-pilot, engineer and 10 trainees.
 An Ellington spokesman said it was a "routine" training flight.
 "The spokesman said the pilot did not report any trouble to the control tower as he took off.
 Seconds later the big plane dipped down and skidded on its nose some 200 yards off the runway onto an open field at the south end and caught fire as it came to a stop right side up.

$27,000 Awaits 3 Lost Heirs

DENVER, Sept. 10—UP—Three former New York residents, who cannot be found, are heirs to the $27,000 estate of a Denver butcher.
 Attorneys for the estate of Anton Grafy said when his will was filed for probate Wednesday that all efforts to locate the heirs — Anton Jr. and Yolán Grafy and Mrs. Gisella Sido — have failed. Grafy listed their addresses as New York.
 Grafy deserted his wife, Yolán, and their two children, 26 years ago at Bethlehem, Pa., estate attorney Robert McDougal said, and at the time paid a Bethlehem lawyer $25 to seek a divorce. McDougal doubts that a divorce was ever granted.
 Anton Jr. was 10 and the daughter, Yolán, was four when their father deserted.
 If the heirs cannot be located, the estate will be held in escrow for 21 years and then go to the Colorado school fund.

Farm Surplus Plan Outlined

DENVER, Sept. 10—UP—President Eisenhower Thursday laid down new United States policy for the "orderly and gradual" overseas disposal of farm surpluses up to $1 billion during the next three years.
 The chief executive from the summer White House issued a four-point statement of policy which will govern the disposal of farm surpluses.
 He issued an executive order providing for the administration of the agricultural trade development and assistance act.
 Under this law, surplus commodities worth $700 million may be sold abroad for foreign currency and $300 million in surplus commodities may be given to friendly nations of friendly peoples in event of national disaster or famine.
 The President promised that the United States would not dump its surpluses suddenly on the world market, but would proceed in an orderly and gradual way.

Brooding Prospective Draftee Shoots To Death Three Persons

ELIZABETH CITY, N. C., Sept. 10—UP—A man brooding over orders to report for an Army physical shot to death three employees of a freezer locker plant where he worked and wounded a fourth Thursday, police said.
 Police said Robert Jordan, 23, surrendered at the plant about 30 minutes after the shootings.
 Witnesses told police Jordan walked into the sales room of the Elizabeth City Freezer Locker plant about 8 a.m. and opened fire immediately with an automatic .22 caliber rifle.
 Edward Zimmerman, about 50, and Joe Parrish, 23, were killed instantly by bullet wounds in the head. Miss Audrey Brickhouse, a clerk, was shot through the left shoulder as she dived to get under a counter, police said.
 Jordan then stepped into a corridor and killed Alex Johnson, about 50, with a single shot in the temple. Johnson was a Negro butcher's helper.
 Johnson had been talking with his employer, Tully D. Old, Old fled as Jordan appeared with the rifle.
 Other plant employees who sought cover said they heard Jordan fire two or three more times and believed he fired out a door at a man running across a vacant lot nearby.
 Out of ammunition, Jordan then darted into another corridor and slammed the door, isolating himself.
 Police said Jordan finally was persuaded by shouted conversation through the closed corridor door to surrender. He threw out the rifle and emerged.
 A plant employee asked him what made him do it, Jordan replied: "I'm mad at everybody."

Surplus Property Goes On Block

SAN ANTONIO, Sept. 10—UP—A public auction of surplus government property, originally valued at more than $20 million will be sold at Kelly Air Force Base Sept. 13, 14 and 15.
 Among the thousands of items will be aircraft and vehicle parts, engine accessories, shop equipment and heavy duty contracting equipment.
 A spokesman said the property had no further value to the Defense Department because of many changes in aircraft and other defense equipment in recent years.

THE MARQUEE

 TV SINGS RADIO RECORDS PEOPLE

If you want to see the star of a New York production in the flesh, just go into the Town Room at New York's Park-Sheraton Hotel. Make sure you come in a o.m.e. time between 7:30 and 11:30 in the morning, any morning except Friday or Saturday. The hostess who shows you a table is our heroine.
 Her name is Jacqueline Brookes. The probability is that the name means nothing to you. But she's gotten an award as the most promising off-Broadway actress of the season, she's starring in "The Cretan Woman" at Greenwich Village's Provincetown Playhouse, two movie companies are dickeringing with her and she's being seriously considered for a couple of Broadway shows.
 Yet five mornings a week she hostesses at the Town Room, briskly showing customers to tables, handing out menus and keeping things moving. And she likes it.
 "I think it's a good idea," says the tall, Auburn-haired actress, "to have a steady income. I'm going to keep on working right here until I'm absolutely sure I don't have to."
 She confesses that she has a peculiar desire to eat three good meals a day, "at pretty near the same time each day." Her job gives her two — breakfast and lunch — and she makes dinner at home.
 And then every night the restaurant hostess becomes Phaedra, the Greek Queen, and instead of manipulating menus, she manipulates men.
 She's a New Yorker who studied dramatics at the University of Iowa (working her way through as a waitress, incidentally). Then she won a two-year Fulbright scholarship, and studied in England. When she got back, she had a summer doing stock, then came back to New York. But it was tough.
 "Two or three weeks of making the rounds without any results," she said, "is depressing. My family said I should get a job. I got this one through an ad in the paper. Two days later I got a part in "Othello" off-Broadway. And things have been progressing ever since."
 Shows you what a little gainful employment will do.
 Phoebe on that old nonsense about east is east and twains not meeting, Arthur Murray, the dancing master, says his letters from viewers of his TV show are revealing anti-east-is-east.
 For example, letters from rural areas request more fast, hot dances — 40 per cent more jitterbugging — while the letters from big cities have 37 per cent wanting more square dances.
 Swing your partner, do-si-do, down into the subway, let's go!
 What a difference a hit makes. A few months ago, Kaye Ballard got $400 a week for her nightly stint at the Bon Soir. Then came "The Golden Apple" and now she's on the Colgate Summer Comedy Hour (NBC-TV). She's just had an offer to play a Las Vegas dice-and-dance palace — at $4000.
 Any boxing fans in the crowd? Here's a few tips from Russ Hodges, who telecasts CBS-TV's Pabst Blue Ribbon Boula:
 "At ringside," Russ says, "I look at the pupils of the fighter's eyes to see whether they are crossed or glassy — the tell me whether he's in trouble. At home you have to depend on other symptoms. The best, of course, are wobbly legs. If a fighter is on the verge of being kayoed, his legs wobble and he walks around much like someone with too much alcohol under his belt."
 "A tired fighter's arms will drop to his side, his guard will be lowered, his mouth will be open and he'll be back on his heels without any spring in his legs."
 And then he'll probably win the decision.

Ag Census Will Begin On Sept. 28

The agricultural census of the U. S. Department of Commerce will begin Sept. 28 with Mr. E. E. Bridwell of Miami as local crew leader.
 Bridwell will canvass all farms in Gray, Roberts and Wheeler counties with a staff of enumerators following a week of training in the field office in Amarillo.
 After completion of the course, Bridwell will return to his district where he will recruit enumerators, checking district boundaries, and train his staff, according to Charles L. Joyner, field supervisor.
