West Texas Crude Raised To Fifty Cents

Home Talk

As another land terracing season sets in Howard county people who have had one year or more of experience to determine the exact value of terracing are the strongest believers in the value of the work of a county agricultural agent, and county home demonstration agent as well.

More than 25,000 acres of Howard county land has been terraced and that amount is liable to be almost doubled this season, so great has been the value of this system.

At this time, when a number of counties have considered dropping the county farm and home agents as a part of a general policy of reducing cost of the government the following editorial from an agricultural journal is very timely:

THIS IS NO TIME TO DO WITHOUT COUNTY AGENTS

In such times as these, when the prices of farm products are low and taxes high, there is a strong urge to reduce county expenses. Some of the least productive expenditures and offices are created by state law or by the state constitution and therefore such constructive servants as the county agricultural agent and the home demonstration agent become a mark for those who seek a reduction in county expenses.

Cities' Rights In Regulating Filling Stations Clarified

AUSTIN, Texas, Nov. 2 (UP)—The supreme court has clarified the situation that obtains in many cities over the right of municipalities to pass ordinances forbidding construction of gasoline filling stations in certain districts.

In passing on the right of cities to bar such business enterprises from restricted residential areas the court decided a case that came to it from Wichita Falls.
 The opinion, written by Judge Joseph Ryan, member of the commission of appeals, and approved by the supreme court, said "the law can not and does not undertake to deny the ordinary right of an owner to use his property as he pleases upon a consideration that purely aesthetic, even though it does result in pecuniary loss."

However, the opinion clearly stated that the court was not passing on any zoning questions.
 "The fact that owners have invested hundreds of thousands of dollars in homes around the proposed filling station site that the presence in the neighborhood of structures such as that contemplated (referring to the Wichita Falls filling station) renders less desirable, and even less valuable, their property for home purposes does not constitute the proposed structure a nuisance so as to enjoin its construction as an unlawful interference with the rights of such owners," the opinion said.

 "The same result might follow from the construction of a number of cheap and undesirable residence cottages in the same neighborhood."
Midland Pilot Offered Job In South America
 MIDLAND, Texas, Nov. 2 (UP)—Harold M. Becherer, former army transport pilot, and manager of the Midland airport during the time of its greatest development, is undecided whether he wishes to attempt an exploration flight of 1500 miles up the Orinoco river in South America.

 Becherer has been offered a job as pilot of a plane on such a trip by William Hall, New York sportsman, who plans to chart the course of the Orinoco for the scientific world.

Marion Harmon, star tackle for Southern Methodist university, injured himself without going on the field. He twisted his shoulder pulling a jersey over his head.

Tobacco Raised In Nolan County

SWEETWATER, Nov. 2.—Add tobacco to the list of crops that Nolan County might produce in place of cotton, the price of which has made its planting almost prohibitive, and now legislated to where only a third of this year's acreage might be placed in the crop.

W. E. Senter, of Maryneal, believes tobacco will make a good crop here, and as "Exhibit A" has about 100 stalks of the crop drying in his barn.

He was in town the last of the week with one of the stalks, about three and a half feet high, showing it to his friends. The big leaves, which many Sweetwater residents had never seen before, are of a soft velvety appearance. He said that the only drawback to raising the crop here was that the wind sometimes whips the leaves, breaking them from the stalk.

Mr. Senter's early results were good, but the length of the season failed to mature some of the crop, and he believes that if it were first planted in hot beds, about February, and later transplanted, the added season would insure maturity of the entire crop.

Mr. Senter points out that he has raised enough here this year to insure his not having to buy any tobacco during the winter months.

Southern Illinois peach growers are seeking lower rates on peaches shipped to eastern markets.

On the same day in Los Cruces, N. M., Harold Lytle and Valera Sligh were married, surprising their relatives and friends. They returned Sunday.

Bob Halch and Jamie Barley accompanied them on the trip and they were met by Ray Stanley, of El Paso, a friend of the groom who was also an attendant at the wedding.

Harold Lytle has a position with the T. & P. shops. Both young couples are very popular in the younger set.

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Bettle have gone to El Paso.
