McCarthy Hits Back At Senate Accusers

Ulterior, Political Motives Charged

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 — UP — Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy (R-Wis.) struck back at Senate accusers in a series of vituperative attacks Tuesday by charging they have "ulterior, political" motives.

McCarthy said they also might be "unwitting victims of powerful pressure groups."

McCarthy released a brief statement in defense of his conduct as a senator as he went before the special Senate committee appointed to decide whether his activities should be censured by the Senate.

Chairman Arthur V. Watkins (R-Utah), after making his own statement outlining committee procedures, permitted McCarthy to read his statement, which he already had released to the press.

"Not Relevant to Issues" But Watkins commented the "most" of McCarthy's statement is not material and relevant to the issues in this case as we understand it.

"We want it understood that this is not a precedent," Watkins said. "We want it understood that this is not a precedent," Watkins said. "We want it understood that this is not a precedent," Watkins said.

McCarthy said in the statement that he thinks the fight against communism has achieved some success, and that he has played a part in this success.

"I cannot help but be proud of this," he said.

Files Two More Charges Before the hearing opened, Sen. Wayne Morse (Ind-Ore.), one of McCarthy's chief accusers, filed two more charges against him.

Morse asked the committee to consider that McCarthy tried to invade the President's powers by negotiating with Greek ship-owners on East-West trade, and that he permitted his former chief counsel, Roy M. Cohn, to "abuse" senatorial privileges.

"Invitation to Anarchy" McCarthy also accused McCarthy of issuing "an invitation to anarchy" in activities which the committee already has agreed to investigate.

Morse's attack on McCarthy was contained in a 22-page document submitted to the committee which will pass on the question of whether McCarthy's conduct should be censured. Morse made it public as the committee prepared to open the public hearings.

The hearings signaled the beginning of the greatest test yet in McCarthy's stormy public career. This year he has been under Senate investigation.

Sen. Arthur V. Watkins called the committee to order in the same Senate caucus room where the Army-McCarthy hearings were held. But the atmosphere was vastly different.

No Smoking Permitted There was no live television radio. No smoking. And Watkins, a former judge, decreed strict judicial procedures that may rule out the long speeches and "points of order" that became famous in the earlier proceedings.

The five general accusations being considered by the committee are: That McCarthy abused his office in improper use of a confidential FBI document, that he urged federal employees to violate their oaths to give him secret information, that he abused Brig. Gen. Ralph W. Zwicker, and that he refused to testify on his own behalf.

UMT Legislation Backed By Legion

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 — UP — The American Legion will go on record Wednesday in favor of a universal military training program calling for 18 weeks basic training for every able-bodied young man, informed sources predicted Tuesday.

These sources said the plan will also call for an additional 20 months of duty in the armed services or their active reserves.

The Legion's long campaign for UMT was given renewed impetus by President Eisenhower Monday. He told the Legion's 38th annual convention that he will give top priority next year to beefing up military reserves.

Although the administration has not spelled out its new reserve program yet, it appeared certain to include at least a modified UMT plan.

The Legion has not pushed its UMT plan for the past two years because of a belief that it had "no chance in the 83rd Congress." But now Legion leaders are optimistic that its UMT plan has "a reasonable chance of success" in the next Congress.

Special Legion committees scheduled secret sessions before Wednesday afternoon's parade to hammer out policy resolutions on UMT and other major issues.

Some 75,000 members of American Legion units gathered here to march, ride and strut up historic Pennsylvania and Constitution Avenues Tuesday in a gigantic 10 or 12-hour parade.

Veterans of two world wars and the Korean fighting were joined by youths of Junior Legion groups and women of the auxiliary for the colorful spectacle highlighting the Legion's four-day 36th annual convention.

Units of all the armed services headed the order of march. There were some 300 musical outfits, many headed by shapely majorities. States showed off their prize products in floats, such as Idaho potatoes and California oranges.

Forty and Eight, the Legion's fun-making group, was present with motorized locomotives and fire engines with ear-splitting whistles and clanging bells from throughout the nation as the marching got underway at noon.

Officials estimated the mammoth parade would run well past midnight. With government workers given a half-day holiday, estimates for crowds along the parade route ranged up to 500,000.

Airline Layoffs Foment Strike TULSA, Aug. 31 UP — A Tulsa union leader, whose organization represents a number of American Airlines' ground employees, says the Transport Workers of America (CIO) may strike because 1,200 workers were laid off.

E. R. Burns, president of Local 914 of the TWU, said Monday that American Airlines had violated its contract by the layoffs, which he blamed on a business decline.

Registration Of Students Begins Today

School days were once again with us, and little joy was expressed by vociferous segment of the population. Some 4,500 pupils were to be registered today and Wednesday for the coming school year.

One group of students hung on to their "freedom" for an additional day, though all students Tuesday were sent home after a short registration session.

All new students in grades one through six living on one of the school bus lines which never attended school in Pampa will report at 9 a.m. Wednesday to the Junior High School Auditorium.

A general staff meeting of all school personnel was held Monday. Superintendent Knox Kinard discussed the proper function of the school, and policies to be adopted for the coming year.

There are 194 members on the teaching staff of the Pampa schools for the coming year — three more than last year.

Enrollment will not begin until Sept. 7. The same is the case with Holy Souls Parochial School, Pampa.

Broadfoot Quits Post

SAN DIEGO, Tex. Aug. 31 UP — District Judge Maxwell Welch said Tuesday Judge A. S. Broadfoot has resigned as temporary judge of the stormy 79th District because of his health.

Welch, who shared Broadfoot's duties during much of the summer, said he would act as 79th District Judge until a replacement for Broadfoot is chosen. The replacement could be named by either Gov. Allan Shivers, or the chief justice of the Texas Supreme Court.

Council Of Churches Ends World Meeting

EVANSTON, Ill., Aug. 31 — UP — The second World Council of Churches ended its history-making assembly Wednesday with a call to all Christians to "rejoice in hope."

The delegates, representing 161 faiths and 44 nations, came to the close of 17 days of heart-searching deliberations on the basic concepts of "Christ, the Hope of the World" and the unification of Christendom.

The assembly, called one of the most important events in religious history, held its last plenary session in McGraw hall on the Northwestern University campus. Delegates then attended closing worship services at Evanston's First Methodist Church, where the council was formally opened.

Greatest Achievement The council's greatest achievement was approved Monday night when the delegates, by a standing vote, approved a "message" proclaiming Jesus Christ as the only hope for uniting the world.

"We affirm our faith in Jesus Christ as the hope of the world, and desire to share that faith with all men," the message said. "Only at the Cross of Christ, where men know themselves as forgiven sinners, can they be made one."

The message spoke of man's struggle against oppression, poverty and injustice. But it warned that man cannot find peace of heart if he forgets God.

"He wants peace, but drifts toward war," the message said. "His very mastery of nature threatens him with ruin. Whether he acknowledges it or not, he stands under the judgment of God and the shadow of death."

Court Studies Matter

Immunity Pledged, Claims Batchelor

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 31 — UP — A court martial Tuesday debated whether it should drop charges of conniving with the Communists, brought against a turn-about Korean POW, on his plea a United Nations explainer promised immunity.

Cpl. Claude Batchelor, 23-year-old Kermit, Tex. soldier, went on trial Monday before a court martial composed of eight decorated officer veterans of the Korean fighting. The court rejected the first dismissal plea by Batchelor's civilian counsel, Joel Westbrook, then took the second under consideration overnight.

Westbrook said a UN explainer team broadcast a pledge of immunity and amnesty to the non-repatriated prisoners on Dec. 23, 1953.

Second Turn-About Trial Batchelor was the second of two American POWs to accept repatriation after first rejecting it, coming over to the United Nations side last Jan. 1. Cpl. Edward Dickerson, Crackers Neck, Va., was the first. He was court-martialed last spring and sentenced to 10 years imprisonment and a dishonorable discharge.

Westbrook's first grounds for dismissal of the charges against Batchelor were that he had been deprived of his constitutional rights. The court went into a two-day trial.

The information came when the Communists notified members of the Military Armistice Commission at Panmunjom that they were ready to act.

Allied officials told the Reds in turn that they will hand over the bodies of 200 North Koreans, 200 Chinese and 200 unknown.

The arrangement calls for delivery of United Nations and Allied dead during the morning and Communist dead in the afternoon.

An exchange of war dead was agreed upon under the terms of the Korean armistice document, but it has taken more than a year to implement the agreement.

Long Island Hit By Tail Of Hurricane

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 — UP — The lashing tail of a hurricane swept across the heavily populated center of Long Island Tuesday, cutting off electricity in large sections of New York city and the 120-mile island.

The weather bureau reported the hurricane, named Carol, had lost full hurricane force but gales in gusts up to 70 miles an hour howled across the island on which lie two boroughs of New York city and hundreds of suburban and resort communities.

An estimated 200,000 homes and businesses in Brooklyn, Queens, the Bronx and Long Island were without power. Topping trees blacked out electric lines in Southampton, at the island's southeastern tip, and in parts of Staten Island and Westchester county whipped by the western fringes of the gale.

A state of emergency was declared at New London, Conn., where power lines were blown down and residents were warned to remain indoors. At 7 a.m. the Coast Guard at New London reported it was no longer able to operate its boats on the tossing sound. Submarines at the U.S. submarine base were submerged to avoid the heavy waves.

At Mitchell Air Force Base on Long Island and at Long Island aircraft factories, planes were tied down and flying operations were suspended well in advance of the storm. Idlewild and LaGuardia airports, on the edge of the gale, reported some flights were diverted to other airports.

Dies, Eleanor Swap 'Lashes'

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 — UP — Rep. Martin Dies (D-Tex.) charged Tuesday that a letter written to him by Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt shows the "thinking and attitude of the Roosevelts" which he said led to the "tragic blunders" at the Yalta and Potsdam conferences.

Dies' salvo was the latest in a series of sharp exchanges between him and the former first lady. The Texan touched off the dispute recently when he said Mrs. Roosevelt once invited him to the White House in 1942 to seek a "clean bill of health" for a Joseph Lash who was trying to get a Navy commission.

Lash had testified in behalf of the American Youth Congress before the House Un-American Activities committee in 1942 when Dies was its chairman. Dies also said Mrs. Roosevelt told him that Lash admitted to her he was a Communist.

Denies Statements Mrs. Roosevelt promptly and vigorously denied Dies' statements which were carried two weeks ago in a copyrighted interview with U.S. News and World Report. She said Dies misinterpreted her words.

Dies also had said that the late President Roosevelt tried to get him to call off his investigations because they might alienate liberal groups and hurt the Democratic party.

To this, Mrs. Roosevelt has written Dies that she could see how her husband might "have said what you (See ELEANOR, Page 2)

The TEB said returns were complete from 234 of Texas' 254 counties, and only about 2,500 votes still were not counted.

Three Texas Cities Hit By Tornadoes

By UNITED PRESS Tornadoes struck three Texas cities Monday and the death toll from two days of storms rose to four Tuesday.

Three persons were killed by lightning one Sunday and two Monday and a fourth man was drowned in Possum Kingdom Lake when he stood up in his boat to put on a life preserver and strong winds blew him into the lake.

The body of the drowning victim, Lynn Boomman, 50, of McKinney, Tex., was recovered by search parties Tuesday.

More thunderstorms were predicted for Tuesday over most of the state, although forecasters did not believe they would produce any more of the vicious storms that have struck North and East Texas cities in the last two days.

The tornadoes struck at Kanawha and Woodland, near the Red River between Paris and Texarkana, and at Crockett, the county seat of Houston county, in East Texas.

One report said 50 homes in the Negro part of Crockett were severely damaged and 75 other homes in various parts of the city suffered less serious damage.

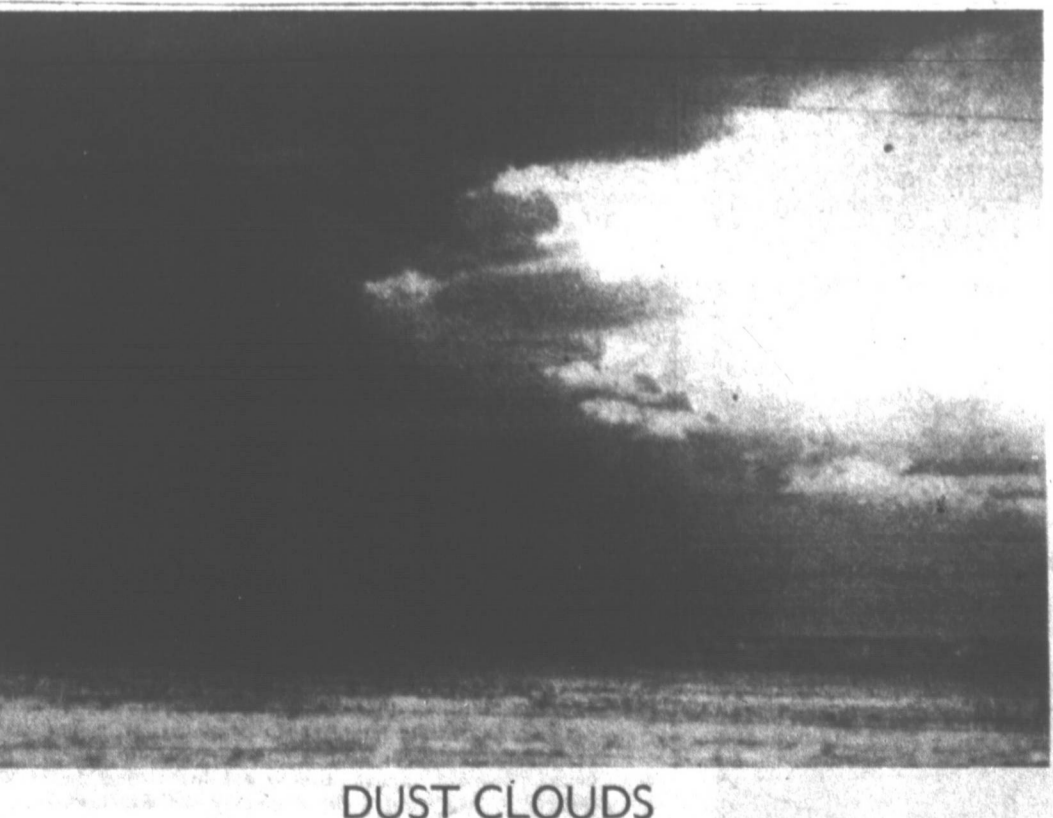

Sheriff Lovell Lovell said, however, he did not believe the damage was that severe and he had heard of no homes damaged worse than a few shingles blown off or a little bit of the roof blown away.

Power lines and trees were blown down, windows in the court house were blown out and three pumps at the city water works were temporarily disabled. However, there was no interruption in water service.

"Some tin business buildings had a few pieces of tin blown off," Lovell said. "But I don't think there was major damage to anything."

The other tornado hit Woodland and Kanawha, but Deputy Sheriff Robert Smith said there were no reports of serious damage or of anyone's being injured.

Church Group Elects Officers

New officers were elected last night at a meeting of the Palo Duro Association Brotherhood held in the First Baptist Church.

Approximately 300 men attended the meeting and heard an address by C. C. Kelly of White Deer, district president of the brotherhood.

Kelly spoke on the growth of Christian education pertaining to Baptist schools and pointed out the tremendous growth of denominational schools and the needs which still face the Christian workers.

The meeting was the first of a series of associational meetings to be held this week throughout district 10.

Chairman of the nominating committee which submitted names of the new associational officers was Dr. C. R. Tension, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church of Borger.

The officers elected were L. B. West, program vice-president; I. F. Haddock, promotional vice-president; E. L. Anderson, membership vice-president; Warren Jackson, Royal Ambassador Leader and L. C. Yager, secretary-treasurer.

Cash Stolen In Home Burglary

Three $20 bills and some change was stolen from the home of C. E. Hollis, 621 Lowry St., Monday morning sometime between 8:30 and 10 a.m. according to Pampa police.

The three $20's were on the kitchen cabinet while Mrs. Hollis and daughter, Carol, were out shopping. Upon returning, police said, Carol discovered one of her four piggy banks had been opened. A search disclosed that the other three had also been broken.

BATCHELOR

Two of the court martial's original 10 members were dismissed before the trial began. They were Lt. Edward R. Schowalter Jr., a 26-year-old former infantry company commander in Korea, and Col. Milo I. Gray, 50, next to the senior member of the court.

Schowalter, who won the Congressional Medal of Honor and was wounded in Korea, announced he was "hostile to the accused. I have formulated and expressed an opinion that Batchelor is a traitor."

Gray was dismissed on a pre-emptory challenge by Westbrook, for which no reason was given.

Mother at Trial Among spectators at the public trial at Fort Sam Houston were Batchelor's mother, Mrs. Clara Mae Batchelor of Kermit, and Mrs. Portia Howe, Alden, Minn., whose son still is with the Chinese Communists.

Batchelor has been in the Army since 1948, when he lied about his age to enlist at 16. He was stationed in Japan, where he married a Japanese girl in a Shinto ceremony, before the Korean fighting broke out.

The Texan was captured Nov. 2, 1950, after five months in combat, and was held a prisoner 38 months, mostly in Camp No. 5 at Fyokdang, North Korea. When repatriated, Batchelor admitted having been a "progressive" in prison camp and said he had planned to become a "peace fighter."

Batchelor said letters from his Japanese wife, Kyoko Araki, changed his mind. He married her in a ceremony recognized by the Army last Feb. 17, shortly before he returned to the United States.

Score Killed In Bus Crash

SAN JUAN DE LOS LAGOS, Mex., Aug. 31—UP—Police said Tuesday at least 20 persons were killed Monday when a crowded bus overturned and burned near San Juan de Los Lagos.

"The accident was so horrible that we will never know for sure how many were killed," an officer said. He said 14 bodies had been recovered by late Monday night, and "at least six or seven others" remained in the charred wreckage.

But a spokesman for the bus line said only 14 persons were killed, seven others injured seriously and 20 escaped unharmed.

Survivors said the bus rolled over on a sharp turn, soon after the driver, who was not identified, turned the vehicle over to an assistant, Cleofas Franco, who was among the dead. The driver fled after the accident, in which he was not injured.

Kansas City Youth Wears Pachuco Mark

The self-styled head of the "31st Street gang," Jerry Lewis Lowrie, said marks branching upward from the etched cross represented rape, burglary, fighting and murder.

Lowrie told detectives that the five marks above the cross on his hand were earned for fighting.

"The tattoo is the mark of a thief," the youngster said of the cross.

He said he acquired the mark a year ago by a man who etched it on with India ink and a pen point.

Detective Sgt. William J. Burch said the youth was recognized as the leader of the gang that operated in a crowded southside residential business district because of the Pachuco mark.

Three teen-agers, including Lowrie, were picked up by police for theft of a safe and six rings. A fourth was named as defendant in the safe robbery. Only Lowrie wore the Pachuco brand.

Burch said the group represented about one-third of the gang. Lowrie, Michael David Allen, 17, and Joseph A. Falk, 15, were jailed in lieu of bonds totalling $5,000.

Convincer's Slated By French Chief

PARIS, Aug. 31—UP—Premier Pierre Mendes-France sought Tuesday to convince his dismayed allies that France had not abandoned the western alliance in killing the European Defense Community.

The 47-year-old premier was reported by political sources to be planning a flying visit to Britain to consult Prime Minister Winston Churchill on ways to patch up the Western European defense plans.

Mendes-France also was reported to be preparing an important statement to the Assembly, possibly on an alternative plan for a European defense.

Mendes-France drove to his country hideout at Marly late Monday night after a bitterly fought national assembly vote to end debate on EDC.

"It is in the Atlantic framework that new solutions should be studied," Mendes-France said in a declaration issued from his hideout. "And this time we will not waste three years."

Three years ago France proposed the EDC setup and signed a treaty in 1952 but delayed taking action later for two reasons: EDC would rearm 600,000 West-Germans in an integrated European army and permit them to be stationed in all six nations of the pact—France, Italy, Germany, the Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg.

Mendes-France fled desperately at Brussels Tuesday, Aug. 30, to confine the Germans to their own soil.

EDC would have set up a federated states of Europe and sovereignty feared she would lose her union that nature.

Free Germany Plans Made

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31—UP—The United States and Britain set the wheels in motion Tuesday to grant sovereignty to West Germany to clear the way for its rearmament with or without France's approval.

Officials said quick action is essential to bolster the strategic position of the West and the political position of the West German government now that the French assembly has killed the European army plan.

Openly disappointed at the French decision, President Eisenhower said "there is no disguising the fact" that it was a "serious setback" for the West. The United States is properly dismayed, he said, but "shall not quit" its free world leadership.

The end of EDC means the United States and the West must find an alternative plan for rearming West Germany even though Allied diplomats have insisted that EDC was really the best possible scheme.

It means that the United States must gradually cut off the flow of military aid to France under the terms of a congressional act barring deliveries if EDC were not approved.

Ike Pleases GOP Leaders

CINCINNATI, Aug. 31—UP—The promise of an all-out campaign by President Eisenhower bolstered the faith of Republican leaders Tuesday in a November election victory.

Faith in the President's vote-winning power dominated a three-day workshop meeting of the Republican national committee to organize their off-year election campaign.

An all-out drive by Mr. Eisenhower was promised by Rep. Richard M. Simpson, chairman of the House Republican campaign committee.

He predicted it would reverse the tradition that the party in power loses in an off-year election and will net a Republican gain of at least 20 House seats.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen, chairman of the Senate Republican campaign committee, stressed the Eisenhower popularity in estimating a gain of at least five seats in that chamber.

Simpson said the role of the President in the fall campaign would overshadow the efforts of former Presidents Franklin D. Roosevelt or Harry S. Truman, including Mr. Truman's 1950 "white stop" tours.

"It is true there was no hysteria in those days," she continued, "and he (FDR) may have felt there were a great many liberals who were in sympathy with certain Communist doctrines that he and many others might not have wanted to antagonize."

But she said President Roosevelt "knew what the trends were and the differences between what was developing in the Communist party then and some of the writings and tenets of the Communist party in the past."

In a statement also copyrighted by U. S. News and World Report, Dies Tuesday called Mrs. Roosevelt's letter "a historic document."

"It shows the thinking and attitude of the Roosevelts with reference to the Communists and Russia."

"It was this attitude that was responsible for the tragic murders at the Yalta and Potsdam conference which brought about the emergence of Russia from a third rate power to the status of a world menace," Dies said.

Shell Blast Kills Soldier

FORT HOOD, Tex., Aug. 31—P—A Colorado soldier, Pfc. George D. Laning of Loveland, was killed Monday when a howitzer shell exploded prematurely during firing practice.

Laning, 20, member of the headquarters battery, 91st Artillery Field Artillery Battalion, was killed when struck by a shell fragment as he squatted by a self-protection gun.

Pvt. Robert M. Bonnefield, 21, Sanborn, Ia., suffered minor wounds. He was some 200 yards away from the explosion, as the shell burst only 30 yards from Laning.

The Army said a preliminary investigation showed a faulty fuse caused the explosion. Ammunition on the same lot as the defective round will not be used, a spokesman said, pending a further investigation.

Laning was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy S. Laning of Loveland.

Formosa, stronghold of Chiang's Nationalists, is shown on above Newsmag in relation to the Chinese mainland. Many top officials in Washington believe that if Red China makes an attack on Formosa, the U.S. would go to war, but no formal pledge has as yet been made to Chiang. The Reds would probably use the Pescadorees controlled by the Nationalists as a steppingstone in their invasion of Formosa. The U. S. Seventh Fleet is under orders to defend these islands. The key islands are 100 miles from Communist China and only 30 miles from Formosa. Inset shows area of large map in relation to the rest of Asia.

Cops Ordered 'Shoot To Kill' In Manhunt

BOSTON, Aug. 31 — UP—Under "shoot-to-kill" orders, police along the Eastern Seaboard Monday hunted Elmer (Trigger) Burke, underworld assassin who escaped from jail and threatened to "get" a Massachusetts district attorney.

With the relentless manhunt underway, a Suffolk county grand jury convened to investigate Burke's spectacular escape from the 10-year-old Charles Street jail where he had been confined to await trial on a machine-gun-carrying charge.

Phantom Illness Masquerades As Polio In Hidalgo County

EDINBURGH, Tex., Aug. 31—UP—The Hidalgo county health officer said Monday that experts have so far been unable to identify the unknown disease that has masqueraded as polio in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

The officer, Dr. Charles H. Miller, said two more specialists are being sent to the Valley by the state health officer. They will join two other men, a physician and a veterinarian, already in the valley.

Miller said blood samples, a rube being taken from victims of the disease in both Hidalgo and Cameron counties. Samples from more than 70 victims have already been flown to the state virus laboratory in Austin.

"We're trying to get blood samples within 48 hours after these people see a doctor," Miller said.

Hidalgo county has pushed into first place among all 254 counties in Texas in reported polio cases. Miller said, however, that he's sure some of the cases are not actually polio.

"We're sure there's another disease here, and we think it's a form of encephalitis (sleeping sickness)," Saturday the Valley recorded its 11th apparent polio death of the year, compared with only three for all of 1953. Monday the cause of death was listed on the death certificate of the victim, Mrs. Angeltta Martinez, 72, of Weslaco, Tex.

It was listed as "bulbar polio and encephalitis." State Health Officer Henry Holle said it "may be two or three weeks before the mystery malady is definitely identified."

Mother Pleads For Son's Life

AUSTIN, Aug. 31 — UP—The mother of Walter E. Whitaker Jr., in a last-minute plea for her son's life, asked Monday that his death sentence be commuted to life imprisonment.

The former Air Force cadet, originally from Wethersfield, Conn., was convicted of strangling to death his 15-year-old Lubbock girl friend.

He is scheduled to be executed at Huntsville state penitentiary sometime after midnight Tuesday night.

Mrs. Whitaker was accompanied in her appearance before the Board of Pardons and Paroles by her son, Bruce, 19, and the Rev. A. P. Harrison, a retired Episcopal clergyman and former rector of the Whitaker's church at Wethersfield.

Mrs. Whitaker related a visit to Vernon, scene of her son's trial following a change of venue, where she talked with six of the jurors that sentenced her son to death.

Four of the jurors, she said, indicated they had changed their mind and would now favor life imprisonment, one juror was "hold title," she said, and a sixth said he would "write a letter to the board."

U.S. Boat Pinched For Poaching

TAMPICO, Mex., Aug. 31—UP—Mexican authorities have confiscated the fishing gear of the shrimp boat Scotsman, of Brownsville, Tex., and fined its owners $400 for "illegal fishing." It was announced Monday.

The Mexican gunboat Virgilio Uribe captured the Scotsman Friday, four miles off the Mexican coast and about 75 miles southeast of Brownsville. The shipper's captain, Jack Desormeaux, said his boat was crippled by engine trouble and was not fishing at the time.

THE MARQUEE
BY DICK KLEINER

Andy Griffith, Capitol Records' hillbilly comic with a college degree, has accent problems. He started doing his hillbilly routine down south, of course.

"And I put on an extra thick accent," he says, "because in the south everybody ordinarily is a southerner so my ordinary speech wouldn't be different. Then when I came to New York, I still used this extra thick accent, and it was too much. They didn't believe I came from the south. So I had to northernize myself a little. It sure is a problem."

Over the course of this past television season, Edward R. Murrow learned more about an assortment of famous people than you'll find in Who's Who. The occasion for this short course in personalities was the fine CBS-TV show "Person to Person."

Murrow and his staff recalled some of these tidbits — things about the subjects on his program which didn't come through to the home audience. You might be interested in them:

Maj. Gen. William F. Dean appeared on the program in an improper uniform; one of his pocket-knives was unfurled to hold the wireless mike.

James T. Shotwell, the historian, watched television for the very first time the day before his appearance. He wanted to see what he was letting himself in for.

Sir Roger Makins, the British Ambassador to the U.S., made a point of thanking each of the technical crew after the program. And he broke out beer for all.

Dr. Ralph Bunche doesn't have his Noble Peace Prize scroll displayed at his home. It's in a drawer. But on the wall is his son's letter, congratulating him on winning the award.

Mickey Spillane won money through his appearance on the show. He bet his friends that he'd appear in his usual attire — coveralls and a crewneck sweater — and he did. His wife, though, dressed up for the show.

Audrey and Jayne Meadows borrowed furniture from neighbors. The week they were on the show their own furniture was at the upholstery shop, being redone.

Eva Gabor loves pink. Not only in clothes and flowers, but this passion for pink even extends to pencils.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Rodgers differ on which of the composer's works they like best. He prefers "Bewitched, Bothered and Bewildered" while she likes "You'll Never Walk Alone" best.

Each week brought Murrow two new personalities and lots of surprises. People are stranger than fiction.

Faith Baldwin, the authoress, is a great admirer of "Ethel and Albert," and particularly Peg Lynch, who plays Ethel and also writes the series. Miss Baldwin has gone so far as to write fan letters to Peg. Finally, mutual friends arranged a meeting, and Peg was a little frightened at the prospect of meeting the famous writer.

Authorities tracked down scores of tips in their search for the puny New York gangster who fled the jail with two accomplices running interference. Burke's pals went through three doors and a set of iron bars to free him.

Hurricane Front Hits East Coast

WILMINGTON, N. C., Aug. 31 — UP—Advance fringes of a powerful hurricane battered the vacationland of the Atlantic Seaboard Monday, trapping inhabitants of an offshore island resort 20 miles northeast of here.

High water, shoved ahead by winds generated from a 104-mile-an-hour tropical disturbance which still was 100 miles at sea, washed over a causeway bridge which was the only route to the mainland from low-lying Topsail Island.

Highway Patrolman E. P. Simmons who went to the island to help with the evacuation was marooned himself. The island's only contact with the mainland was through Simmons' police car radio.

No casualties were reported from hurricane Carol, third tropical blow of the season.

The Miami Weather Bureau reported at noon, however, that the hurricane was a "very large storm" and that winds of at least 70 miles an hour had swept to within 25 miles of Cape Fear, Va.

That put a large area extending from Wilmington to the Virginia capes on the alert. The area is dotted with hundreds of beaches and resort islands and includes the famed North Carolina outer banks.

The center of the disturbance was expected to pass over or slightly east of Cape Hatteras, which is on the northern point of the banks, during the night or early Tuesday.

Mayor Alfred Cooper of Atlantic Beach, near Wilmington, ordered a house-to-house canvass to warn residents of the approaching storm.

Betty was touted off the Tucker role a few months back, much to Sophie's disappointment. But a doll can change her mind, and Betty changed it. That's the reason for her surprise "Friendship, Friendship" on-stage appearance at Sophie's opening at Ciro's.

Audrey Dalton surprised Hollywood when it turned out that she had gone through the entire filming of Bob Hope's "Casanova's Big Night" in an interesting condition and gave birth to a daughter six weeks after the picture wound up. Hollywood censors are clutching their scissors waiting for Anthony Quinn's Italian starrer, "Attila the Hun."

Love scenes between the star and Italian beauty Sophia Loren are said to be scorchers.

Cecil B. DeMille, reading "The Ten Commandments" for the screen, is insisting, as usual, that all of his actresses are as beautiful as well as beautiful.

Marilyn's wiggle has been compared to Mae's Diamond Lil walk but Mae can't speak with authority on the subject because she says she's never seen MM on the screen. "She's the Mae West type, though," she admitted. "So is Mammie Van Dorn."

Since 1944, when she made "The Heat's On," her last movie, Mae's been playing Diamond Lil in yearly stage tours and she now has plans for a telefilm series.

There's concern, she admits, about her "sex personality" — "even the simplest things I say sound naughty." But there is, she says, sponsor interest.

IF THE ENTHUSIASM OF PAMPA MERCHANTS is as strong as that of the members of the Sports Committee of the Chamber of Commerce in putting "Oiler Appreciation Night" over Thursday night, it will be the biggest night in history of Oiler Park.

In a meeting of the members of the said committee Monday that overflowed the CC conference room, the interest these men showed in making "Oiler Appreciation Night" a rousing success unparalleled anything we've seen for such an occasion.

The meeting was short and snappy but there was a lot accomplished in the brief time.

E. O. (Red) Wedgeworth, energetic manager of our local CC who is devoting a lot of attention to making Thursday night the "biggest" night in history of Oiler Park, presented a list of local merchants to the men attending Monday's meeting that numbered 37 pages.

In about 15 minutes time, 17 men volunteered their services in taking one whole page for the purpose of contacting these merchants in regards to Oiler Appreciation Night.

The idea of the whole thing is to sell a block of tickets to local merchants for Thursday's game with Albuquerque who would in turn pass them out to their customers.

The tickets are being distributed to the local merchants at 25 cents per ticket.

We'll have a list of these merchants who are taking part in the campaign as they purchase their block of tickets and you fans may go to these merchants and pick up tickets to Thursday's game.

It certainly looks like 7,500 tickets will be sold to Thursday's game and even if one-half of these are used at the park that night, it will be a huge success.

But efforts are being made to get all the tickets used up for the game and, of course, the park would be overflowing if this happens.

There hasn't been an overflowing crowd at Oiler Park since the West Texas-New Mexico League All-Star game in 1951 when more than 4,000 fans jammed their way into the park.

So, let's top that mark by turning out Thursday night en masse for "Oiler Appreciation Night."

Your patronage, of course, is urgently solicited Thursday night at Oiler Park, but it is also solicited for the entire home stand that gets underway Wednesday night with a doubleheader against Albuquerque.

It will be the final home stand of the season for the Oilers before the Shaughnessy Playoffs.

Rex Baxter Changes Mind

Rex Baxter, Jr., of Amarillo, who had previously indicated he would defend the Top of Texas tournament title here this week, changed his mind Monday and will enter the Alexandria 4-ball tourney instead.

The announcement of Baxter's change of plans was revealed yesterday when Baxter returned home from the U. S. Amateur tournament.

The Top of Texas tourney thus will have a new champion. It will be the second year in a row that the defending TOT champion wasn't on hand to defend his title.

Meanwhile, all golfers who do not plan to play in the championship flight may qualify for the tournament between now and Friday. Official qualifying day is Friday. A pro-amateur tournament will be held Thursday.

Match play will be held Saturday, Sunday and Monday. The Calcutta Pool is set for Friday night.

Evangeline Loop Ends 1954 Season

Lake Charles closed out the Evangeline League regular season by wrapping up fourth place in a doubleheader with Crowley, winning the opener 5 to 1 to clinch a playoff berth and then dropping the nightcap 8 to 4.

Baton Rouge, which could have tied for the fourth position by beating Alexandria had the Lakers dropped both ends of the doubleheader, fell victim to a four-run Alexandria eighth inning as the Aces beat the Red Sticks 5 to 4.

Only Five Seniors Listed On Shamrock Grid Squad Of 44

By BUCK FRANCIS

Pampa News Sports Editor

SHAMROCK, Aug. 31—The Shamrock Irish appear to be one year away from having a potential pennant winning ball club in the tough District 1-AA football division.

Coach Scott McCall was greeted by 44 grid hopefuls when practice for the coming season got underway last week. Only five of this group are seniors.

Boiling it down further, only three of the five senior members on the starting are expected to gain a squad berth.

The Irish, by no means, are not giving up the "ghost" so far as the 1954 season is concerned. They'll be in there fighting all the way but inexperience will likely be too much for the Irish to cope with such district powers as Phillips, Perryton et al.

Giants Pad Lead Over Brooklyn

By CARL LUNDQUIST

United Press Sports Writer

Don't try to tell those pennant-bound New York Giants now that the yidnit is the better of the Bobby Thomson-Johnny Antonelli deal with Milwaukee.

Antonelli Tuesday was the first 20-game winner in the National League and the first lefty to win 20 for the Giants since both Carl Hubbell and Cliff Melton turned the trick with the 1937 pennant-winners.

And Thomson — he keeps right on beating the Dodgers — just as if he had never taken off that Cincy uniform. Monday night he smashed a three-run blast in the seventh inning at Milwaukee to provide a 7 to 5 victory over the Dodgers. The Giants, winning 4 to 1 in St. Louis on Antonelli's fine four-hitter, thus boosted their first place lead to 2 1/2 games over the Dodgers and stayed 7 1/2 games in front of the Milwaukee Madcaps, who are all but statistically out of the running.

Bauman Hifs 64th Homer

By UNITED PRESS

Roswell celebrated Joe Bauman night Monday night and the powerful slugger responded with his 64th home run of the season, a 400-foot blast over the centerfield fence that highlighted the Rockets' 7-6 squeeze past Sweetwater.

Roswell led the services of pitcher Steve Nunez, however. Nunez broke his arm, between the shoulder and elbow, when he swung loose a pitch to open the Sweetwater second inning. The ball sailed into the grandstand and Nunez fell in pain. He will, of course, be unable to pitch the rest of this season.

The league-leading Artesia Nunez blanked Odessa 12-0 with Wayne Goodell and Al Chester teaming to pitch a six-hitter against the Oilers.

Ike Jackson's 201st hit of the season, a ground single to right field, scored Oliver Hardy from second base in the last of the ninth and gave Carlsbad a 1-0 win over Midland.

Cats Keep Playoff Hopes Flickering

By UNITED PRESS

A fight for fourth place between San Antonio and Fort Worth added zest Tuesday to a Texas League race that had become cut-and-dried in the final days.

Five straight San Antonio defeats — the last a 7 to 6 loss to Shreveport Monday night — and a Fort Worth victory string that amounts to six in the last nine games leaves the Missions holding a playoff spot by one game over the surging Cats. Fort Worth downed Dallas 7 to 1 Monday night.

Look Out, Washington, Here Comes The American Legion

NEW COMMANDER: Election of Seaborn Collings, Jr., is set.

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The District of Columbia has girded for its first experience with that hoodlum known as the American Legion National Convention.

From Aug. 30 to Sept. 2 the town will have as paying guests 30,000 delegates plus 120,000 wives, children and relatives who are coming along to do some sight-seeing and keep an eye on daddy.

It's the biggest event of its kind — short of presidential inaugurations — that the District of Columbia has ever experienced. Merchants, hotel managers and night-club owners are expecting $8,000,000 worth of business from it.

More than 20,000 rooms in hotels and motels have been reserved for the visitors who are also expected to overflow into Pullman cars and hotels in adjoining cities.

Despite the calm of Legion officials that this is going to be the most conservative, family-type convention ever held, D. C. residents and officials are relieved that they have some built-in brakes on the anticipated festivities.

No hotel here, for instance, is higher than 12 stories because of building regulations. This means that paper bags full of water dropped from upper story windows, at worst will only maim.

Then there's the iron-clad closing hour of 2 a. m., plus the rule that you've got to be seated at a table to be served hard liquor. The latter rule is a limitation on alcoholic intake because most of the waiters in Washington are old, slow and have sore feet.

Delegates who attach significance to the fact that more liquor is consumed here per capita than in any city in the U. S., are going to be disappointed. That record is not set in night clubs or public drinking places where the average delegate will be seeking entertainment.

Washington is ranked by entertainers and customers alike as one of the worst night-club towns in the country. There aren't many of them and they're pretty colorless joints. There are no gambling dives and the local police are especially alert at breaking up roving crap games.

All 1900 of the District's uniformed police have been ordered to take no vacations during the convention and they will be on 12-hour duty. But nobody is expecting any serious trouble. A police official says:

"The rule is that the police will not interfere with the pleasures of visitors at events like this unless they're doing something which endangers their safety or the safety of somebody else."

Herbert C. Blunck, manager of the Statler Hotel Association, has checked hotels in cities where recent Legion conventions have been held and has received encouraging reports. One reply said: "Legion conventions are really very orderly. You can even leave new furniture in the lobby."

An old-time member of the Legion who claims to have attended every convention says wistfully:

"I hate to say it but us World War One guys are too old to whoop it up like we used to. And somehow these younger guys from the last war, who have the strength, just don't know how."

The business of the convention itself is almost incidental to the fact that delegates have gotten out of their home towns for a few days. A new national commander is elected. But to make sure this doesn't interfere with having a good time it's all cut and dried beforehand. The new commander will be Seaborn P. Collings, Jr., of Los Cruces, N. M., a former Air Force pilot and now a contractor and real estate man.

One of the traditional high spots of every Legion national convention is the big parade. This one is going to be the biggest and most colorful one ever, with 75,000 persons and an undetermined number of floats participating. The TV networks will carry most of the parade to viewers around the nation as well as important proceedings of the convention sessions.

Six Injured On Roller Coaster

GALVESTON, Aug. 31 — UP — A miniature roller coaster which operates by gravity crashed to the ground here Sunday night injuring five children, one critically, and one adult.

Most seriously injured was Albert Arena Jr., 7, of Lamarque. His spleen was removed in an emergency operation Sunday night. Albert Arena Sr., also a passenger on the tiny Kiddie Land Park machine, suffered a fractured rib when he and the five passengers were thrown five feet to the ground when the car jumped its track.

The accident occurred around 8 p. m. Park owner Luke Jones said he could find no mechanical defect. He said car probably was "pushed" from the track by a strong side wind which came up at the time.

Clean and peel fruits and vegetables on paper for easy disposal of the peelings. No mess to clean from the sink.

Wichita Falls' Geiger Counter Sales Clicking

WICHITA FALLS, Tex., Aug. 31 — UP — Geiger counters are getting to be about the "hottest" item of merchandise in this area.

You can even buy either a low-priced or an expensive model of the apparatus to detect radiation from off the counter of Sears Roebuck in Wichita Falls.

Many other stores stock the "clickers," used to find ore — especially uranium.

Stores report a brisk sale of the instruments to residents of the Red River Valley area. Scarcely a day passes but what somebody isn't checking on the radio-activity of some spot in southern Oklahoma or northern Texas.

Purchasers range all the way from geology-wise oilmen to absolute newcomers. One 15-year-old high school boy saved up money by doing yard-work this summer. He finally bought a $37 model and said he plans to test 100 acres of his father's land in Montague county.

Although every purchaser dreams of becoming rich by finding a rich vein of uranium, greatly in demand for atomic work, no one in this area has been very successful thus far.

A U. S. government geologist who has been checking areas in Cotton and Tillman counties in Oklahoma and has tested parts of the Wichita mountains area, has said there is a 80-50 chance that a paying uranium deposit has been found south of Randlett, Okla., on the north bank of the Red River. Bobby Eastman of Cotton county and Wesley Beard, science teacher at Randlett high school, have found traces of uranium in an old copper mine there.

The two men are considering forming a corporation to exploit their find. They have already hauled out several tons of ore, described as high grade.

Others, spurred by the success of the two, are busy looking. There's one hitch to the business. If you think you have found a real "hot-spot," you can't go make a down payment on a Geiger counter and then return it if the find is valueless. The stores which sell the sensitive instruments sell only for cash — not on time payments. They hope to make a little money out of uranium, too.

Bell, CIO Sign Pact

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 31 — UP — Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. and the CIO union representing 81,000 employees in six states signed a new one-year contract Monday after a marathon negotiating session of nearly 24 hours.

The contract calls for weekly wage increases ranging from $1.00 to $2.50. In addition, 14 cities in the Southwestern system were reclassified upward, meaning that phone company employees in those areas will be paid at a higher base rate.

The contract was signed at 3:30 a. m. (est) by company officials and negotiators for the CIO Communications Workers of America District 6. They had met with only brief recesses since 9 a. m. Sunday.

Britain Lifts Arms Embargo

LONDON, Aug. 31 — UP — Britain lifted its embargo on shipments of arms to Egypt Monday, the foreign office announced. The decision to end the three-year-old embargo followed Anglo-Egyptian agreement on Britain's withdrawal from the disputed Suez Canal Zone.

A foreign office spokesman said Egypt has given Britain assurance the arms will not be used for aggressive purposes.

The government of Egypt's neighbor, Israel, has been informed of the decision, the spokesman said.
