Amarillo Firm Low Bridge Bidder

Cooper and Woodruff, Amarillo, the construction firm that is working on U. S. Hwy. 60, from its junction with Texas Hwy. 122 to the Roberts County line, late this morning was reported to have been apparent low bidder on a new bridge on Farm-to-Market Road 749 near Bowers City.

Resident highway engineers said Cooper and Woodruff officials had told them of the bidding last week before the Texas Highway Commission in Austin. It has been reported the bid submitted was approximately $89,000.

Cooper and Woodruff today was awaiting a work order. When it arrives, the firm will have 150 working days in which to complete the job.

The lengthening of structures was underway today on the Hwy. 60 job, engineers said. Later on, dirt work and surfacing will be undertaken.

18 Impounded Dogs Set Free

The lock of the city dog pound was pried open sometime Sunday night or Monday morning and 18 dogs, two of which were under observation for rabies, were "out" from the town, Police Chief Jim Conner reported Monday.

None of the dogs, as yet, has been rounded up, according to Carl Blue, dog warden.

"The dogs under observation for rabies had no symptoms, but they had bitten a couple of people. In order to be on the safe side we were keeping them out at the pound," Conner said.

"We are making every effort to locate the two dogs. I certainly would recognize them if they turn up," Blue said.

Pest Plague About Over, Officials Say

City officials are hoping the end of the week will see the last of the pests that have been plaguing Pampans in past week.

City's fogging machine was at work this morning and will continue its war against bugs during the week. James Cowan, city director of public works, said. The sprayer is still broken down.

Whether pest control continues after Saturday depends on the weather and the prevalence of the pests, Cowan continued. If the cold spell, which Pampans experienced this morning, can knock out the bugs, there will be no need of further spraying or fogging.

HEIDELBERG, Germany, Sept. 20—UP—The two American men snatched into Czechoslovakia by the Communists Friday were Lt. Lt. Richard H. Dries and Pfc. George M. Plak (hometown unknown), the U. S. Army announced Monday.

The two captives were identified a few hours after the Army's European headquarters had denied the customary Red charge the Americans crossed the Czech border on an "espionage mission."

"The three men (Dries, Plak and a sergeant who escaped the communists) were definitely not 'cloak and dagger' operatives," a spokesman said.

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

A SURPRISE is in store for all you Pampa women. I am starting a contest Tuesday in which you will want to take part. So keep watching this column, and it will all be explained tomorrow.

MY FRIEND Wilma Caldwell is working on a project which may be of interest to you mothers with school-age children. Wilma took an old wooden kitchen table, and sawed off part of the legs to make a low table. She then sanded the top and plans to varnish it. The result will be a nice-looking table for the children's room in which they can study and do their homework — away from the television set and other interruptions.

"HOME LIFE will look brighter this fall," says Kay Sherwood, NEA staff writer. In an article on lamps, "A concerted effort by lamp and electric bulb manufacturers, lighting engineers and decorators is aimed to make us more aware of the importance of a well-lighted room for comfort and beauty.

"The fussy, fringed lamp that dominated yesterday's parlor is gone along with the unshaded glare from the old central ceiling fixture. In their place will hear more about lamp ensembles, light conditioning and multipurpose bulbs.

"Most recent step towards the brighter future is the selection by a jury of three top-notch home fashion consultants of new lamps which merit a decorative achievement award by combining the best design for good lighting with tasteful, decorative effect.

"Prize was not used as a basis for judging. You'll see award-winning lamps from $9.95 to $150. Talking with one of the judges, Gladys Miller, nationally known interior decorator and author, I picked up some tips for selecting lamps.

"Think of your lamps as furniture, not simply as accessories," counsels Miss Miller. "She advises choosing lamps with some thought both as to their general effect on room decor and their purpose. Three guiding rules apply to the art of ensembling lamps, says the decorator. One, all lamps can match but the proportions may vary. Two, shades can match but the bases may vary. Three, light and dark shades can be mixed harmoniously if you stick to the same general motif.

"You wouldn't, for example, be doing a room justice if you added a fluffy ruffled and decorated lamp to a tailored modern decor. In this connection, her point of view on the use of lamps in picture windows is interesting.

"The lamp in the window has always been a gracious gesture of hospitality," she says. "Used in a picture window that overlooks a busy street, a lamp will tend to block the view into the room. Sometimes, however, I think the lamp selected is too ornate, the shade too fluffy, and the table it's resting on too high.

"Lamp and shade should conform to the general style of furnishings. I like to use a long low table with a tall lamp. You could add potted plants for balance. Then an easy chair can be pulled up so that the grouping becomes a natural, appropriate part of the room scene."

"Another note of caution is sounded in the selection of shades. Try to keep shade color the same relative value of the wall color, she says.

Poor Breakfast Habits Endanger Day's Stamina

By GAYNOR-MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Our 9-year-old son used to refuse to eat an adequate breakfast. He would come home from school tired and listless. But now he eats fruit juice, cereal with milk, sometimes an egg, bread and butter or margarine and always a tall glass of milk. And he enjoys it. He also comes roaring home from school ready for strenuous play.

What happened? Well, his mother explained in simple terms the part citrus juice, cereals, protein and milk play in his growing up strong and being able to get better grades and win more games. She took him to the market and taught him how to select the basic breakfast foods. He felt quite grown-up, being allowed to purchase what he needed for his own breakfast. He could purchase two or three different kinds of packaged cereal and alternate them as he chose, the type of bread he liked best.

In other words, he learned to purchase and plan his own breakfast menu, and on certain occasions was allowed to get it for himself, particularly when he wanted to leave for school very early before the usual family breakfast hour.

In Fargo, N.D., at the Agassiz School, Mrs. Neil Wohlrend followed much the same plan to make her pupils understand why a good breakfast keeps them healthy and able to learn easily.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
Betty F., 15, has developed an annoying habit. She runs to her Aunt Clare with every argument she has with her mother. Then, when her niece has arrived at her house, Aunt Clare calls her mother to say that she's "safe."

Always, Aunt Clare seizes her chance on these occasions to criticize her sister-in-law's "overstrictness," toward Betty and contrast it with her own sympathetic "understanding."

"My husband says and does nothing about this situation," writes Mrs. F. "I am seriously thinking of forbidding the girl to see her aunt. What do you think of this idea? This woman's influence..."

Wise animals pursued by a hunter do not charge him. The wiser they are, the more skillful they are in evading him and his traps. Can't Mrs. F. see that forbidding Betty to see her aunt is to fall into the trap that spite has prepared for her?

Let's not go for any silly action like that. Instead, let Mrs. F. look at herself. Why is she disturbed by Aunt Clare's accusation? If she knew herself not to be overreacting toward Betty, would it bother her? She'd laugh at it. Is she afraid that she is overreacting to Betty?

I think she is. Always, overseverity toward children is overseverity toward ourselves. The possibility that we have made a mistake in our treatment of them is intolerable to us. This unnatural and cruel demand we make upon ourselves accounts for the panic we feel when we are criticized. If we do not suffer from this need to appear an Always Right Person, we don't get too angry at people like Aunt Clare.

Fight All Statism

A very nice lady from London Bridge, Virginia, writes us about our editorial "Don't Outlaw Reds."

We knew when we wrote this that the strongest objections would come from people who are otherwise on the side of freedom.

The gracious lady from London Bridge avows that we have been at war with Russia ever since Roosevelt so arranged affairs.

But the fact is that the many people who still support the New Deal which includes not only Roosevelt's family, but Dewey, Dodge, Stassen, Sherman Adams, Adlai Stevenson, and even Ike himself, do not recognize that we are at war with Russia.

Whether the war is cold or hot (as it was in Korea) the fact is that we cannot afford to encourage politicians to ignore the Constitution.

The Constitution says that only Congress can declare war. In the absence of a legal declaration of war any law which assumes that we are at war must be considered illegal and unconstitutional.

The only constitutional method of outlawing Reds is to declare war on Russia.

The worst thing about asking Eisenhower's government to outlaw Reds is that we are fastening the blame for all our troubles on Reds. Our correspondent says, "Communism affects us more seriously than Socialism."

Let's consider this for a moment.

Many economists, including the staff of the Foundation for Economic Education, believe that one of the greatest threats to the United States is the income tax, which was pushed through by the Republican party in 1913.

Frank Chodorov, one of our favorite anti-Communist writers, goes so far as to call the income tax the "Root of All Evil" in his book by that name.

This pernicious tax, as well as Social Security, and most of the rest of the New Deal, was passed because Congress felt that the people wanted it that way. Ike asked that ten million more persons, including farmers and doctors, be forced to pay Social Security tax on wages.

Ike asked that private enterprise be prevented from harnessing the Niagara River and that Dewey's socialized electricity program be supported.

All this continuation of the New Deal has been at the behest of such ostensibly good Americans as Ike. Outlawing the Communist party will not get rid of one drop of Socialism which our popular(?) President favors.

The income tax, the New Deal, our needless involvement in three wars in this century, did not result primarily from Russian Communist activity. They resulted from the blunders and/or evil intentions of apparently benign humanitarians who believe in the philosophy of Statism.

Statism is our greatest danger, whether it be called Communism, Socialism or New Dealism. But asking a Statist New Deal government to outlaw its chief competitor, the Red Russian Communists, will not remove the danger of Statism.

Our correspondent suggests that Socialism should be abandoned. She did not use the word "outlawed." Why not?

Isn't it because it is obvious that particularly when our highest officials believe in it?

Suppose the Communists resigned in order to join the Socialist party.

How would he go about outlawing Socialism? Yet more harm has been done by the Socialists (who didn't realize that they were Socialists) who put over the income tax, the New Deal, and involved us in war, than has been done to us by the Red Russian Communists.

We are not defending the Communists. But outlawing them will not win us a single victory in the war of ideas. To win this war we must ultimately defeat all shades of collectivism, from that believed in by Ike at one end, to that believed in by the Reds at the other end. Passing laws which give more power to a socialistic government will advance Statism by giving it power to outlaw competitors. And, as J. Edgar Hoover says, outlawing Reds will not prevent the spread of Communism.

THE NATION'S PRESS

REDS ARE NATIVES

(The Freeman)

It had sent an army into Indochina (Vice President Nixon once suggested that we should), its immediate objective would have been to kill Indonesians, so as to intimidate those we did not kill. Of course, the dead would have died because they were Communists, and the intimidated would have been intimidated for the same reason. But, regardless of their ideology, our chosen targets would have been natives. There is no way of getting away from that fact. The same would have been true if we had intervened militarily in the Guatemalan affair, and it is a certainty that we moved down many thousands of natives in Korea.

The point is self-proving. When two nations make war, whatever their reasons, the purpose of each is to subdue the nationals of the other. The only point at issue is the validity of the reason advanced by each side trying to subjugate the other.

The historic reason for slaughtering natives is conquest: to grab land so as to be able to collect taxes from those who inhabit and work the land. However, the reason advanced by many Americans is that they carry an "ideological" mission. They destroy the natives, and they destroy the idea that they attack the natives.

tion is, will the desired end be achieved by the slaughter of Communist natives all over the world? There is no historic support for that belief. The Norman conquerors of England did not impose their culture on the natives they did not kill, but rather made their adjustment to what they found, and the traditional culture of the Jews managed to outlive the paganism of the Roman legions. The evidence of history is that ideas are impervious to weapons. That our culture—the body of ideas, habits and traditions indigenous to America—is under severe attack there is no doubt. But can we save it by killing off or subjugating the Communist natives of other lands? And, by the way, if that is the effective cure of communism, why not try it on our own natives infected with the disease? We harbor quite a few of them in our midst, and, far from slaughtering them, we grant them the protection of the American culture they aim to destroy, and even put them in positions of public trust.

Communism is not a person. It is an idea. True, communism without Communists is an imaginative notion, just as sin without sinners simply cannot be. But you cannot get rid of the idea that has possessed the Communist by killing him, because the idea may have spread and you cannot destroy every carrier of it. It is better, therefore, to attack the idea than to attack the natives.

The Right Of A Minority To Reject Government "Benefits"

I want to quote further from a release issued by the Committee for Constitutional Government which reproduces part of the testimony made by Dr. James L. Doenges of Anderson, Indiana, before the Senate Finance Committee opposing doctors being included in "social security."

"It seems to be generally accepted that the system referred to as Social Security, is not insurance. It is patently not secure, and there is serious doubt if there is anything 'social' about it, except that it has—in every nation—led to and been a most important part of the imposition of Socialism upon the people. So there will be no doubt about my meaning, permit me to quote Webster. Socialism is defined as—'A political and economic theory of social organization based on collective or governmental ownership and democratic management of the essential means for the production and distribution of goods; socialism favors extension of government action.' 'We are told now that the groups presently 'excluded' should be brought into the Social Security system, to pay their rightful share of a welfare program for all. We reject this type of thinking. It is false. It is a mask for the acceptance of the communist idea of the redistribution of wealth, as a number of the proponents have admitted that most of the professionals will never claim one 'benefit' from the program. This last group is, in essence, regarded as a source of funds to attempt to salvage an impossible, actuarially unsound system of federal grants. It is no less than another tax, a very poorly disguised and unfair 'class discrimination' tax at that. 'The intent of the Social Security Law is clear. It is to make everyone a ward of the government, destroy personal responsibility and incentive, and to be an agent in the process of 'leveling.' 'In the publication 'Social Security Financing,' published by the Social Security Administration in Bureau Report No. 17, 1952, frequent reference is made to acceptance of this principle and it is plainly stated and admitted in a number of places in that publication that one of the principal features of universal Social Security involves the redistribution of wealth. Another publication by the same Agency, entitled 'Common Human Needs,' states on page 57, and I quote, 'Social Security and public assistance programs are a basic essential for attainment of the socialized state envisaged in democratic ideology, a way of life which so far has been realized only in slight measure.' 'Social Security has been used as one of the very important levers to secure compulsory retirement at the age of 65. The ramifications of this single act are too extensive and too numerous to mention. However, we must admit that Social Security is, and has been used as an important part of the argument used to force many perfectly capable individuals to retire, to leave productive activity. A great number of these individuals, by far the majority of them, are still in some of their very productive years. No one denies that the strength of this nation depends upon the productivity of its people. Social Security and other similar measures have done irreparable damage to the moral fiber and the morale of our people, and has reduced the total productivity of our nation, by forcing them out of productive activity at this arbitrarily set early age. 'I feel certain that you, Senators would never approve a measure forcing legislators to retire at the age of sixty-five. We have had several Presidents and many Senators and Representatives who have served their country well at ages far in excess of that set up by the Social Security system for retirement. 'We do not understand how the supply of physicians can be increased by forcing our senior physicians, our consultants, to retire at the age of sixty-five. Especially, in the field of medicine and its allied arts, we find the men of sixty-five and over, to be our best consultants. Every one of them carries a definite and sizeable 'patient load.' Those of us who have not reached that stage of maturity, depend upon them for opinions based on their years of experience. They help us become more proficient in our profession, and we learn from their experience. At the age of sixty-five, a physician's judgment, as a whole, is certainly at or near its peak. It is well known that very few physicians ever retire. The percentage is so small that to apply compulsion to force any of them to retire at that age would do serious damage to the practice of medicine, and could very real and serious shortage in our numbers. It would remove many of the best minds of medicine from availability to those of us who need and desire their assistance and counsel. 'Since very few doctors retire, we must in turn admit that Congress would be forcing a calculated fraud upon the physicians to compel them to enter the Social Security system. You are very well aware of the fact that if the physicians, or any other person, fails to retire he does not receive the 'benefits' for which he will supposedly have paid. He will, in this manner, have been forced to pay an additional discriminatory and unfair tax. 'A feature of the law which is

Russians Trying Out Navy Strength For First Time

By RAY TUCKER

NAPLES — Russia's powerful, postwar naval fleet has recently taken to sea for the first serious test of warships specially designed to challenge historic Anglo-American control of supply lines vital to the Western nations in event of war.

The Kremlin's military strategists know from bitter experience that Russia was spared final defeat at Stalingrad in 1944 only by the weapons transport and supplies which the United States shipped through the Mediterranean, Indian Ocean and Suez Canal. They realize, too, that the NATO nations would be helpless against a Red invasion of Western Europe without a similar stream of material from Detroit, Pittsburgh and California's aircraft plants.

As a result of that experience, the Soviet now has more and far better naval weapons than Hitler did when he boasted that "America and American troops will never reach Europe."

Thus, contrary to Moscow's report, the British Admiralty and the Navy spokesman at Washington were not simply setting the stage for larger appropriations in their recent analyses of the Red's strength on the water. But unless Parliament and Congress do provide more funds within the next few years, Russia's armada, which has been built since the end of World War II, will exceed and excel the combined naval forces of NATO members.

The Anglo-American fleet, with the exception of a few aircraft carriers and modernized cruisers, will then be growing old. Moreover, Russia's naval aircraft, shore-based because she has no carriers, is larger than the combined British and American total.

It has been charged that Roosevelt and Truman turned over control of Central Europe and China to the Reds at Yalta and Potsdam. Unless President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill reverse the current economy trends, naval wise, they will be accused of surrendering domination of the seven seas to the Soviet.

There are many signs that the Russians are trying out their water wings in the very year when they are trying to force the world, totally wrong, and even dishonest, is the provision which prevents any individual from drawing his so-called 'benefits' if he refuses to be relegated to a life of useless inactivity and finds a job at which he earns more than a stated figure. It matters not what that figure may be. It is wrong, even dishonest, to punish any individual for refusing to become a ward of the government.

Big Obligation
"This is not a funded program. All agree it is actuarially unsound. Many realize that the obligations are rapidly approaching, even exceeding, our total national worth. It is not insurance. It has no guarantee to the taxpayer. At this moment it has an obligation of between one hundred and seventy-five and two hundred billion dollars, with less than twenty-two billion so-called reserve to meet this obligation. It is difficult for anyone to explain how recipients can continue to receive not less than six times the amount of their tax, in so-called benefits, and in many instances even a hundred fold return on their tax."

BID FOR A SMILE

Diogenes was looking for an honest man in New York. Wayfarer — What luck? Diogenes — Oh, pretty fair. I still have my lantern.

Smith stopped his car at a desolate crossroads and yelled to a farmer driving a load of hay. Smith — Hey, Cornick, is this the way to Calgary? The farmer looked up in feigned astonishment. Farmer — By heck, stranger, how did you know my name is Cornick? Smith — I guessed it. Farmer — Then, by heck, guess your way to Calgary.

Historic Material Tabbed For Pegler Memorial Library

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

NEW YORK — It is hard to tell you about some of the historic material which will be placed on view as a public treasure in the Pegler Memorial Library and-or museum which I am projecting as a recognition of my own monumental virtue and my leadership in the fight, thus far unsuccessful, for freedom from the draft, the unions and the thrall of the Philip Dru Cult. From the Civil War to 1917, we never had a draft. Wilson, the first Philip Dru Democrat, got us into a jam and we accepted it, temporarily. In 1938 Roosevelt, another Philip Dru Administrator, got us into another war to save Soviet Russia and now it is permanent.

One of the subjects is the organized smear attack on James J. Forrestal at the climax of a false charge that Forrestal ran out the back door and fled through an alley while his wife was struggling in the clutches of highwaymen. Of course, nothing of the kind happened but there was a formal campaign going to discredit Forrestal because he wanted to prosecute oil-bearing countries in the middle-east. He wanted to cultivate these countries so that they would let us at the oil and thus keep it away from Soviet Russia. The smear was ferocious and vicious.

Forrestal was very tired and nervous and he finally was so badly upset that he jumped out a window. I will also place in this Pegler Memorial Library the facts of the situation in the naval hospital at Bethesda, Md., which enabled a man to destroy himself who was known to be demented and in suicidal mood. These facts concern the responsibility for guarding him and he names and the conduct of individuals who had the responsibility but failed. I will place on file also the correspondence in the conspiracy to smear Standard Oil of New Jersey which was directed from secret offices in New York. Standard was accused of coming with the Nazis to keep synthetic rubber from us. This correspondence was accumulated by Congressional committees and, as often happens, portions or all of it escaped from the song of secrecy. It is almost impossible to preserve secrecy anyway. In the first place we always have a proportion of rogue senators and representatives who will jangle confidential details of caucuses and executive sessions and other information to backguards of the press and radio who will then ballyhoo them with such adjectives as "able," "forthright," and "energetic." There are also attorneys, who sitch or make copies of such stuff.

Of course there are some fine attorneys in such committee work. I will name you William F. McKenna, of California, who has exposed both the Teamsters' Union and the Federal Housing racket all over the country, and Robert Morris, now a municipal judge in New York, who did wonderful work on the Red traitors for the McCarran and then the Jenner committee, a sub-committee of Senate Judiciary. And there are investigators and clerks who, after all, are entitled to private life after hours and relax their caution and tattle. Or, being fired, go south with documents out of the main confidence under such conditions.

But by no means all the information which gets into a more or less public domain gets published. Most of it does not. I doubt that you have ever heard about Sanford Griffith, who was up to his eyes in the smear against Standard Oil of New Jersey which was directed from New York. The Pegler Memorial Library will have a great mass of documentary material on this case, showing that Griffith and Francis Adams Hamilton, an old Lovestones Communist, worked together on the job. There will also be photostats of checks from a prominent New York politician and former judge which are denied publication, however, under the great taboo. A government investigating agency went to Arthur J. Goldsmith, the political propagandist with a lair in the Waldorf Tower, to ask questions about Henson and Goldsmith gave him a good report, copy of which I will place in the Pegler Memorial Library.

Griffith is a mysterious influence in the Overseas Press Club of New York and he recently was invited to make a speech to some of the students at Colgate University. It is weird that certain characters get invited to address the young at institutions of higher learning. Pearson gets a call to sound off at a leaky rock college in Kansas. Edward, or Egbert, R. Morrow gets a bid to West Point to attack Senator McCarthy which must have had the general's permission because no cadet has any right to throw the academy into any such political fight. And Griffith goes to Colgate.

A further detail on Griffith is a decree by the New York Supreme Court on Feb. 18, 1938, restraining him from "making any false statements or promises" regarding securities offered for sale in the state of New York and from "any fraudulent acts." The complaint upon which this order was based alleged that Griffith had "committed a fraud" as a dealer in securities at 120 Broadway. I suppose mine is the greatest collection in existence of union stuff showing criminality in the racket unions of the American Federation of Labor and proving that the AF of L is the holding company of a great criminal band.

Girl Advertising Genius Has Foreign Policy Idea

By HENRY McLEMORE

"Nobody, but nobody could know less about the international scene than I," said Bernice Pitt-Gibbon, the girl wonder of the advertising world, who invented that way of talking in her department store ads.

And then she went on to say, "But I do know this—that Americans should make themselves appear more lovable in the eyes of the world." She said she didn't know exactly how we should go about this but some of us, eating and drinking in her honor at the time, could cite a few examples of honest tries.

I can recall one—a good-will tour of Latin America that wound up in Havana early this year with double-action bang. This was an Air Force project and included a magnificent team of acrobatic jet fliers headed by World's Champion Capt. Yeager who had flown more than 1600 miles an hour. They were concluding their Latin American tour in Havana and it was announced that the air show would be climaxed by Yeager and two teammates breaking the sound barrier.

The Cubans were plenty excited about this but not as excited as the American Ambassador and his staff, who were just getting nicely settled in their new Embassy building on the waterfront. This is a miniature echo of the United Nations Building in New York, only the American Embassy Building is all glass—nothing but glass, seemingly held together with protocol and red tape.

The Embassy, so the story goes, sent out word to the Air Force that if they flew through the sound barrier in Havana the tremendous concussion would surely break up the glass in the Embassy building, so they could just forget that part of the Good-Will program. When this news was relayed to President Batista he is reported to have said that any Good-Will exhibition would have to include breaking the sound barrier to get his Good-Will, and he would be sitting out there in the grandstand on the waterfront, personally checking on the situation. A compromise was arranged—they would break the sound barrier—but far out over the water.

The grandstand was in front of the Embassy Building and not far from the Presidential Palace—happened to be there that day and sure enough President Batista was sitting in the grandstand and so was Ambassador Gardner. Over their heads the Good-Will fliers chased each other playfully and executed hair-raising maneuvers.

All Havana was out on the waterfront for the big climax which the loudspeaker told them would consist of three planes successively crashing through the sound barrier. "You will hear a double report like two guns going off close together for each plane. They are going into their power dives now," said the announcer. "You can see the little silver streaks high in the sky above Morro Castle. Now they are diving. Listen!"

And sure enough we heard a frightening "BANG-BANG-BANG-BANG . . . BANG-BANG." The concussions jarred us like physical blows, as the jets came out of their dives and flashed away like meteors. Everyone was thrilled and happy. The U. S. Embassy windows had all been hurriedly thrown open, so all been hurriedly thrown open, so a few stars windows collapsed—but the only important window glass broken that day by our Good-Will fliers was in Batista's Presidential Palace. It just goes to show, Bernice, that with the best will in the world, Americans have trouble making themselves lovable.

Call On Service Cleaners For Cleaning And Repairs

As we anticipate zippy nights and cooler days, we think of the clothes we need for fall and winter, and what to do with summer garments.

Service Cleaners, 312 S. Cuyler, telephone 4-9751, is the answer. Service Cleaners will clean and press both your fall and summer clothes, do repair work on garments and fix peaky zippers.

Like New Clothes
Have your summer clothes cleaned and pressed by Service, then place them in a mothproof bag you get at Service, then be sure they are safe until the warm weather call next year.

Bring out your cool weather wear, check the garments for little places that need repair, notice whether the zipper is snagged, have the garments cleaned and pressed.

Step out in your cool weather garb that looks like new, feels like new, gives you a new, good looking appearance. You will know your summer wear is well protected in the mothproof bag to give you an equally good appearance next summer.

Gunn Bros. Stamps
At Service Cleaners you do all this at a savings because Service gives Gunn Brothers stamps which are redeemable in valuable, free gifts.

Service Cleaners always checks clothes, drapes, slipcovers and other materials to be sure they are clean. Sometimes the garments are returned to the vat for recleaning.

Check Wiring
In the fall and winter seasons every one uses more electricity because of longer nights, more time spent indoors, more after-dark recreation and study. In many homes there is a tendency to add a lamp to this corner, to use a larger bulb in that corner, to add an electrical appliance. All those changes and additions can overload old electrical circuits, create a safety hazard in the home. For that reason it is important to have your wiring checked to be sure it can carry the cold-weather load.

In many cases a home — or mercantile or office building — should be rewired for convenience. There may not be an adequate number of electrical outlets. Or the outlets may not be located correctly. The Electric Supply can correct those faults in a short time.

Oil Field Work
For oil field work The Electric Supply has all types of equipment, including a hole digger truck, electric line truck, flatbed unit to haul poles and heavy equipment, medium and light trucks.

Electricity is the cheapest, most convenient and most modern way to pump oil wells. In many cases the cost is as low as two cents a barrel. Maintenance costs often as low as $1 or 2 per horse power a year.

Call The Electric Supply, 4-6893 for all your electrical needs.

"She doesn't like women in pants," Jim muttered.

"The poor thing," Nancy said. She jumped from her perch on the arm of Jim's chair, ran into the bedroom. He followed slowly, half expecting to find her in tears. But she was very busy throwing her clothes from both the closet and the partially unpacked suitcases.

From time to time, she held up a garment, glared at it in speculation, then either discarded it completely or put it on a growing pile on the bed. "The possibilities," she explained.

"You getting ready to leave?" Jim asked.

"Not me," she said firmly. "But I'm not going to let my appearance be a hindrance to you in your work."

JIM walked grumpily to the end of the small wharf which extended a few feet into the lake. He had the feeling his client would summon him as soon as she saw him fishing, and he mumbled the well-chosen words he intended to use.

He had four fish in his creel, the largest a good 14 inches and the smallest either discarded or kept for the soup.

Even from some distance he had no difficulty making out the now familiar set smile Philip seemed always to wear. The man handled the small boat skillfully, brought it around in a sweeping turn which sent a wave splashing against the steel supports of the pier.

Philip let the boat glide to a stop about 20 feet out. "Have a message for you."

"All right. Let's have it. You're scaring the fish."

"Too bad, chum. The message is from Mrs. Hilton. Mrs. Hilton Carson. She sent me over to tell you the fish in this lake belong to her. You're not to catch any."

bridge and came to a stop. Jim walked over and opened the rear door, helped out the heavily veiled figure of his client. She stood beside him without a word, made no attempt to enter the house until he had helped out the other occupant of the back seat.

She was a huge woman, with roll upon roll of fat pushing and bulging her tightly stretched, pasty white skin. Her nose was a small red blob, like a currant set in a too suety pudding.

She held out both hands, small hands looking out of place at the ends of her flour sack arms. Jim took those hands. They were hot.

Yet once on her feet on solid ground, she showed an ability for motion which was surprising.

Mrs. Carlson paid off the driver, waited until he had turned the car and started the climb back toward the plateau before she spoke.

"This is Mrs. Gelstrap. My cook, and my friend. I don't know what I'd do without her."

The massive face broke into a broad smile, and a giggle came out. Her voice was high, with just the suggestion of a whine when she said, "How you do carry on."

Jim whirled around, saw that Nancy was walking toward them on the path from the caretaker's cabin.

Mrs. Carlson spoke before he could find words. "But of course, I did tell you to bring a woman along." Her eyes narrowed.

"And wearing pants," she turned toward the open front door. "I must say I find a woman in tight pants quite suggestive. I'll tell you now if there is anything I want."

Auto Unions Ask Annual Yearly Pay

By REY W. BRUNE
DETROIT, Sept. 20 —UP— The automobile industry received a reminder this week that CIO President Walter Reuther might prove a deciding factor in the stiff competitive fight shaping up for next year.

The sales fight for 1955 models, which just now are starting to roll off assembly lines, promises to be one of the stiffest the industry has ever seen.

Chrysler Corporation, one of the "big three" which has seen its share of the market dwindle from 20 per cent to slightly less than 12 per cent, has revamped all four of its lines and is ready to try for a comeback.

The smaller producers, squeezed to less than 4 per cent of the market by the Ford - General Motors sales fight, have merged and now are regrouped and ready for a comeback.

Another Race for Lead
Ford and GM's Chevrolet, who have been in a nip-and-tuck race for top producer and top seller honors for the past year, will be at each other's throats again.

Final plans are being put together now for the competitive fighting. Sales experts, designers, production experts, advertising men and publicity men all have carefully blue-printed their parts in the battle. But the action of Reuther and his big union could upset the best-laid plans.

The auto workers aren't blue-printing their plans for anyone, except to announce what they want. One of those demands will be the guaranteed annual wage. Reuther said in New York this week. He said the union was ready to go all-out to get it when the long-term auto contracts run out next spring.

Of all the issues apt to stir up a fight with the automobile companies, that one is the most explosive. The industry long has had post-war years when it had a big backlog of orders. The industry claims automobiles can't be piled up and stocked like candy bars.

The Ford contract will be the first big one to run out, on May 29. The GM contract expires several days later. Industry talk has it that Ford will be the company singled out by the auto workers as the place to hit with the demand. The union itself isn't saying.

Would Cost Production Lead
But whichever of the two is hit, a strike could cost it next year's competitive battle because of production loss.

Strikes can take a huge toll in production, toll that can't be made up later. When Chrysler was shut down by a 100-day strike in 1950, it was estimated it lost 500,000 cars and trucks because of idle production lines.

That strike hit Chrysler at a time when sales of other automobile companies were climbing to all-time highs.

Ironically, Chrysler, fighting for a comeback, could be on the receiving end of unexpected help this year. Ford or General Motors got hit with labor trouble next spring.

But when she stood on a jetty near the South Beach Hotel, an oversize ice cream cone took her fancy.

THROUGH FIRE—Instead of a hoop, this Pennsylvania state trooper jumps his horse through a fiery symbol of the Keystone State during a preview of a state police rodeo to be held in Hershey in mid-September. The all-state police event will feature marksmen and motorcycle drills, and a troop of precision-trained dogs, in addition to a display of the sort of expert horsemanship shown in this photo.

TROUBLE—N. Y. Yankee first baseman Joe Collins is sliding safely into second base as Cleveland Indian shortstop Sam Dente prepares to glove the relay from second baseman Bobby Avila. Indians' first baseman Vic Wertz muffed Collins' drive down the line for a two-base error leading to the back-breaking, three-run rally at Yankee Stadium. The Yanks won.

IN THE ACT—Trained police dogs in Berlin are demonstrating the excellent discipline and coordination instilled in them as they perform from a specially-rigged motorcycle. The animals were among the acts presented at a show by West German police. Their special training makes them particularly dangerous to fast-footed criminals trying to evade police.

THEY'RE OFF!—In a pouring rain, 122 racers from 24 countries are beginning the gruelling 95-mile Amateur Cycling World Championship in Solingen, Germany. Belgium's Emile van Cauter was the winner in four hours, 27.17 minutes. The weather did not prevent the populace from turning out to give the contestants a roar of encouragement as they started.

THE WATER WAY—Students in Dunnellon, Fla., decided to help their Uncle Sam—and themselves—by buying U. S. savings stamps in a unique manner. They put on swim suits and headed for Rainbow Springs to do their buying. Once there, they dived down and lined up at this underwater stand. The advantage here is that they don't have to lick the stamps!

GOOD OLD SUMMERTIME

WON'T LAST LONG—In fact, summer has just about departed and the fishermen at Pensacola Beach, on Florida's Santa Rosa Island, are making hay while the sun shines. At this spot, one can cast either in the Gulf of Mexico or in Santa Rosa Sound. These gentlemen, with their two youthful assistants, are shortening their lines—and lengthening their hopes.

CAUGHT!—George Fryer, 10, caught that 25½-pound muskellunge in the Thunder Bay River, near Alpena, Mich. The lad had enough excitement with his catch to last a long, long time. He caught his 50-inch prize with the aid of his dad, and boated it after a hard 35 minutes of battling.

LUCKY PUPILS—Pretty 22-year-old Barbara Brons has put away her tennis racquet and golf clubs as she prepares for the school semester ahead. The trim blonde will be teaching second grade students in West Hempstead, N. Y., and must cast away the idle activities of summer.

STOPPING FOR TEE—The cry of "fore," which might once have sounded an invitation to four o'clock tea, now means a different sort of tee to these office workers in London. They're playing golf on real turf transplanted to the rooftop of a building. Pedestrians below are now probably dodging golf balls, as well as traffic.

THE OILERS DIDN'T WIN 'EM both but local baseball fans were treated to two of the best games of the season at Oiler Park the past two days.

Yesterday's game was almost equally as good except the wrong team won. Actually, Sunday's game was a better mound duel than Saturday's game although both might be considered as fine pitching battles.

Schoolboy Grigger Is Fatally Injured

MANCHESTER, N.H., Sept. 20.—UP—A 17-year-old football player was fatally hurt Sunday while his parents watched him play in a game between St. John's prep and Central high school of Manchester.

Arthur J. Cronin Jr., a St. John's backfielder, suffered a broken neck in a third-period scramble for a loose ball. The honor student, who had been sent in for just one play, returned to the bench, complained to the coach of a head injury and then slumped to the ground. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Cronin of Beverly, Mass., rushed from the stands.

Young Cronin's death was announced to his teammates in the gloomy locker room after the game. They knelt and prayed. On the return trip by bus to the Catholic prep school at Danvers, Mass., the team said a rosary, and at the school a benediction service was held.

Harvesters To Vernon Friday

The Harvesters will continue their non-district warfare this week when they journey to Vernon to tackle the tough Vernon Lions of District I-AAA Friday night.

Seixas Captures Pacific SW Title

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 20.—UP—Vic Seixas, of Philadelphia, Monday held the men's singles title of the Pacific Southwest tennis championships thanks to his own dazzling forehand placements and errors by Tony Trabert, Cincinnati.

The U.S. National champion took Trabert in straight sets in the final Sunday, 7-5, 6-3, 6-4. It was the first final in five years in which Australia has not been represented, Trabert having slimly defeated Ken Rosewall the previous day in semifinals.

Louise Brough, Beverly Hills, won the women's singles from 16-year-old Barbara Breit, North Hollywood, U.S. junior champion, 6-4, 4-6, 7-1.

Australians Lewis Hoad and Rosewall beat Seixas and Trabert, 9-7, 9-7, 6-4, to retain the men's doubles title they won last year.

Clovis Pioneers Battle Back To Even Playoff Series, 3-1

Series Site Switches To Clovis Tonight

By BUCK FRANCIS Pampa News Sports Editor

Clovis' Pioneers pulled even with the Oilers at a game apiece in the final West Texas - New Mexico League playoff series by carving out a hard-earned 3-1 decision yesterday afternoon before another good sized Oiler Park crowd.

The series will switch to Clovis tonight for the next three games. Unless one of the clubs sweep the three games at Clovis, the series will come back to Pampa Thursday night to finish up the series.

Sad Sam Williams, who won two games in the opening round of the playoffs to go with his 15-10 seasonal record, will face the Pioneers for the Oilers tonight. Clovis is expected to go with fast baller Rubeen Phillips who had a 6-5 record for the year.

Yesterday's game was just as tightly fought as the series opener Saturday night which was won by the Oilers in the 11th inning, 6-5.

Both Score In First The two clubs battled on even terms for eight innings after each had picked up a run apiece in the first inning. That ended the scoring until the ninth when the Pioneers pushed across two runs in the top half and then choked off a potential Oiler rally in the bottom portion of the final frame to protect their margin.

In the Oiler ninth, the locals started a rally with two away when pinch-hitters Vibert Clarke and Sad Sam Williams drew successive bases on balls. The latter free ticket sent the Clovis starter Ernie Sadler to the showers and brought on Rubeen Phillips to face Rookie Slick Johnson.

Johnson smashed one off first baseman Virgil Richardson's glove but Virg recovered in time to force Williams at second to end the game.

The Pioneers won the game in the top of the ninth with a two-run rally. Catcher John Warren started it with a single, Don Ford, who went in to run for Warren, eventually scored the winning run. He moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Sadler's double off the left field wall.

For all practical purposes, that was the ball game but the Pioneers added an unearned run when Hardaway threw wild to first on Red Dial's grounder that allowed Sadler to score.

In the first inning, Clovis picked up another unearned tally when shortstop Gene Hauradou, after making a putout at second base on an attempted double play, dropped the ball when starting a throw to first with Jim Lewis scoring on the miscue.

Palmer Doubles Twice The Oilers got the run back in the lower half of the inning when J. B. Palmer hit the first of his two doubles to score Rudy Tanner from first.

After that, Sadler and Jonas Gains of the Oilers hooked up in a tight mound duel as both hurled shutout ball until the ninth. Sadler didn't strike out an Oiler all afternoon while walking three. Gains whiffed eight Pioneers and walked only one.

The series moves to Artesia Monday night, and the NuMexers will be out to wind things up with a home victory in the best-of-seven series.

After the opening inning, Don Fornall came on to hurl for Carlsbad and was nicked for a run to move Artesia out in front 4-1. The NuMexers exploded for five more in the fourth to send Fornall to the showers, and although Carlsbad rallied for three tallies in their half of the inning, they never got back into the ball game.

Single runs in the last two innings completed the Artesia scoring. The game was loosely played afield, with Artesia committing two errors and Carlsbad 4.

Artesia 310 300 000—4 7 4 DiMaggio and Economides; Jimenez, Fornall (2), Burns (4) and Herring.

The Yellow Jackets, piling up a 35-7 victory over McNeese last week, stay at home Saturday night against a strong Sam Houston State team that walloped Corpus Christi 33 to 6.

GEORGE CURTIS to team with Tommy Martindale Sponsored By Shriners

Pro Wrestling Returns Tonight

Professional wrestling will make its first start in 16 months tonight on the Pampa sports scene.

The Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club, sponsored by the Pampa Shriners, is bringing wrestling back here which will be held weekly on Monday nights.

A tag-team match will feature tonight's opening card, Tommy Martindale and George Curtis, a couple of crowd favorites when the matches were last held here, will team against Bob Geigell and Scottie McFarland in the tag affair.

It will be the best two falls or one-hour time limit. The four huskies who'll be competing in the tag match will also make up the remainder of the card.

Curtis will take on Geigell while Martindale will oppose McFarland in the preliminary events, one fall or 15 minutes.

Admission prices for the mat shows here will be $1.50 ringside; $1.25 reserve bleachers; $1 general admission; and 50 cents for students under 12 years of age.

The matches will be held at the Top o' Texas Sportsman's Club arena, formerly known as the Southern Club.

Pros Start Playing For Keeps Sunday

With the pre-season warmups now completed, National Football League form-followers Monday were touting the Philadelphia Eagles as a good dark-horse threat for the 1954 campaign, which gets underway next Sunday.

Coach Jim Trimble's musclemen have been playing second fiddle to the Cleveland Browns in the loop's Eastern Conference ever since the Ohio representatives joined the NFL four years ago, but this could be the year the Eagles get their revenge.

Philadelphia wound up with the best exhibition season record among the eastern clubs, winning five and dropping two. The Eagles dropped their first two tests to Baltimore and Detroit, then whipped past Pittsburgh, Green Bay, Los Angeles, the Chicago Cardinals and the Chicago Bears.

The Browns, meanwhile, won only two of five warmups. Hampered by injuries, Paul Brown's one-time kinglypud drove Green Bay and the Bears while losing to San Francisco, Detroit and Los Angeles.

The Washington Redskins turned in the worst record among the 12 league teams, dropping all six of their exhibition games, while the records of other Eastern contenders were Pittsburgh 1-6, New York 2-4, and the Cardinals 2-5.

In the more powerful Western Conference, both defending champion Detroit and San Francisco went unbeaten in six games. The bears broke even in six tests, while Los Angeles had a 4-2 record. Baltimore surprised by losing only one of five games, and Green Bay wound up with a 2-4 mark.

Hershel Martin Due Home In About '3 Or 4' Days

ABILENE, Sept. 20.—(Special)—Hershel Martin, manager of the Pampa Oilers, who is hospitalized here with wreck injuries received in the Oiler bus crash here last week, will return to Pampa in about "three or four" days, his attending physician said today.

Martin received a badly cut arm and five broken ribs in the accident. The fractured ribs caused a fluid condition in Martin's lungs which is keeping him in the hospital.

Mrs. Martin, who is at her husband's bedside here, said Hershel will have to be returned to Pampa in an ambulance. "He hopes to return in time to see the win of the Oiler-Clovis series in Pampa if the series lasts that long," Mrs. Martin said.

Giants Can Sew Up Flag Tonight

By FRED DOWN United Press Sports Writer It'll be Sal (the barber) Maglie on the mound with the sharpest razor he can hone and owner Horace Stoneham waiting in the wings with the finest champagne he can buy Monday night when the New York Giants seek to clinch the National League pennant with a victory over the Brooklyn Dodgers in their own backyard.

It's the opener of a three-game series but there's "no tomorrow" for the Dodgers. If they lose, The Giants automatically achieve their "magic number" of two with a victory and earn the right to meet the Cleveland Indians in the richest World Series of all time. The Indians clinched the American League flag late Saturday and now are concerned only with breaking the 1927 New York Yankees' record of 110 triumphs in a season.

"This is all we need to cap the year," a jubilant Chub Feeny, vice president of the Giants, said on the eve of the series. "It'll just wind it up right if we clinch it right there in Ebbets Field—their own backyard."

Slim Ghanne The Dodgers weren't talking. They clung only to the slim mathematical hope left them plus the old baseball axiom that "it's never over 'til the last out."

Johnny Podres, 22-year-old left-handed speedballer, is manager Walt Alston's mound choice for the Dodgers' "do or die" effort. Podres owns a 2-0 record against the Giants this season but it's the biggest responsibility he's ever borne in his big league career.

Three years ago he was doing his pitching for hazard in the Mountain State League. For the Giants, it's his 37-year old curveballer Maglie, 3-2 over the Dodgers this year and a fabulous 21-8 over them for his career. Maglie, gunning for his 14th win of the year, has been rested since last Tuesday. He'll wear another week's rest if he wins Monday night.

Friend Beats Bums The Dodgers just about breathed their last Sunday when Bob Friend and the Pittsburgh Pirates scored a 1-0 victory over them. Friend entered the game with a 1-10 lifetime mark against the Dodgers but held them to six hits and got the run he needed in the fourth inning when Preston Ward singled, raced to third on Carl Furillo's error and scored on an outfield fly by Frank Thomas.

The Indians, meanwhile, reeled off their 108th triumph of the campaign with a 4-2 verdict over the Detroit Tigers as Mike Garcia won his 8th game. Hank Majeski's three-run first-inning homer was the big blow for the Indians, who need only three victories in their last six games to set a new league record for one campaign. Ted Gray was the loser for Detroit.

Roy McMillan's sacrifice fly gave the Cincinnati Reds a 10-inning, 7-6 victory over the Chicago Cubs and the St. Louis Cardinals overcame a six-run deficit to beat the Milwaukee Braves, 7-6, in their National League games. In the American League, the Boston Red Sox downed the Washington Senators, 6-2, the Baltimore Orioles beat the Chicago White Sox, 5-1, and the Yankees scored a 4-2 win over the Philadelphia Athletics.

Sunday's star — Bob Friend, was pitched a 1-0 victory for the Pirates over the Dodgers.

QB Club To See Harvester Movie

Movie of the Harvesters' 33-13 win over Austin of El Paso will be shown at the weekly meeting of the Pampa Quarterback Club tonight at the Sam Houston Auditorium.

The meeting will start at 8. All local coaches will be on hand for talks on their respective teams, Harvesters, Shockers (formerly the Guerrillas) and the Reapers.

Everyone is invited to attend the meeting and become a member of the club. Color TV sets contain more than twice as many parts as typical black-and-white sets, take three times as long to assemble and test before leaving the factory. That's why initially they will cost between $80 and $100.

Alabama Only Upset Victim In Major College Openers

By JOHN GRIFFIN United Press Sports Writer Oklahoma's opening weekend of 1954 struck mighty close to the form sheet as impressive triumphs by Oklahoma and Maryland paced the advance of favorites, but there are signs of real trouble ahead this weekend when such titans as Notre Dame, Michigan State and Army make their debut.

Oklahoma, operating in full view of a nationwide television audience stamped itself as a true contender for the national championship by the brilliance of its 27-13 victory over a rugged but somewhat green California team.

And Maryland, last year's national champion, showed off its completely new backfield to advantage in a 20-0 rout of Kentucky.

UNUSUAL HEN
DERBY, N. H. - Lloyd Stagg has a cross-breed hen that is the pride of his 2,000-hen flock. First, she laid an egg-within-an-egg which measured 9 1/4 inches. Then she produced one which weighed one-half pound and was 9 1/2 inches in circumference.

TAKE YOUR PICK
GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. - UP - A tree that produces both cherries and peaches is in the backyard of the John Slot home. Slot said he noticed a peach tree growing from the top of the four-year-old cherry tree just recently. Nurserymen said a peach sprout probably was grafted to the cherry bush before Slot bought it.

ROAD TESTS SHOW:

GULF'S COMPLETELY NEW AND DIFFERENT GASOLINE...

ACTUALLY MAKES CARS PERFORM BETTER THAN NEW...

AFTER 15,000 MILES!

NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX

HIGHER-THAN-NEW HORSEPOWER! BETTER-THAN-NEW ON GASOLINE MILEAGE! AND NOT A SINGLE TRACE OF CARBON KNOCK OR PRE-IGNITION AT ANY TIME—EVEN ON THE STEEPEST MOUNTAIN GRADES!

This lamp is burning the "DIRTY-BURNING" "DIRTY-END" of gasoline which GULF refines out!

This lamp is burning NEW SUPER-REFINED GULF NO-NOX, the cleaner-burning super-fuel!

Instead of trying to fight trouble-making deposits with so-called "miracle-additives"—inside your engine—Gulf believes in preventing them from forming in the first place. That's why Gulf, in making new Super-Refined NO-NOX, refines out the carbon-forming, "dirty-burning tail-end"—more than a cupful in every gallon. Just look at the plates the Gulf scientist is holding in the unretouched photo above, and see what a difference Gulf super refining makes!

Now—Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline—the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines. Result: a cleaner-burning super-fuel that gives you thousands of extra miles of full engine power . . . free from knock or pre-ignition.

Starting with your first tankful, this new, super-refined, super-powered fuel will give you these immediate and lasting benefits:

▶ More complete engine protection than the so-called "miracle-additive" gasolines. Why? Because Gulf refines out the "dirty-burning tail-end" of gasoline, the No. 1 troublemaker in high-compression engines—and then treats this new Super-Refined NO-NOX to give it a complete range of protective properties. It protects every part it touches against harmful deposits—carbon, rust, gum.

▶ Extra gas mileage. Why? Because new

NO-NOX is specially blended for the short-trip, stop-and-go driving you do most.

▶ No knock, no pre-ignition—even in today's super-compression engines. Why? Because the anti-knock power of new NO-NOX has been stepped up to an all-time high.

▶ Stall-proof smoothness—no more worries about carburetor icing in chilly weather, or vapor lock on warm days. Instant starts, too—and fast, fuel-saving warm-up.

That's why new Super-Refined Gulf NO-NOX gives you more power-with-protection-than you've ever known.
