Youth Discussions Should Include Youth, Panel Is Told

HOUSTON, Nov. 19—UP—A department of Public Welfare, earlier told the group that state mental hospitals now contain 2,500 persons who are not mentally ill. "A county judge has no other place to send a senile or emotionally disturbed person, so he sends him to a mental hospital," Watson said. "As a result, our understaffed hospitals must concentrate on the more serious cases and neglect the others."

Elizabeth Bids Farewell

NEW YORK, Nov. 19—UP—Queen Mother Elizabeth said reluctant goodbyes aboard the liner Queen Mary Thursday just before she left for home, ending her 23-day visit to this country and Canada.

"I assure you I shall take away with me the happiest memories of your hospitable land and of the many new friends I have made. I pray that our countries may go forward with deepening understanding, with courage to bear our common burdens and a firm resolve to uphold the ideals we hold so dear."

The queen mother came to this country Oct. 26 and spent nine days in and near New York before going to Washington Nov. 4 where she was a guest of President and Mrs. Eisenhower. Later she went to Canada. She flew back to New York late Wednesday.

Would Elevate Hirohito

Comic Book Czar Offers Parents Advice

NEW YORK —UP—The nation's new comics "czar" offers this formula for cutting juvenile crime—let parents work overtime at parenthood. Judge Charles F. Murphy, assigned to improve the comics' reputation, disagrees with those experts who say that crime and horror played up in some such publications have increased juvenile delinquency.

Approval Seal
"A home where the child is brought up with proper religious training," he said. "One where the child is taught to respect his parents, to respect authority. Being a parent is a 24-hour day job. Some parents barely give it a 40-hour week."

Murphy, a former New York magistrate and long active in working with teen-agers was appointed by the newly created Comics Magazine Association, representing 21 publishers voluntarily policing their product.

"Beginning Jan. 1, every book will carry your seal of approval," said Murphy. He already is weeding out things which he considers objectionable. Publishers submit books in the drawing stage, and those parts he disapproves of are returned for change.

"We have to be sweeping in this purification drive," said Murphy, in an interview. "I intend to seek the continuing advice of church and welfare groups, parents, educators, psychiatrists."

Has Three Children
If Murphy gets around to screening all comics, he has a monumental task. He estimated that 80 million are published monthly.

The "czar," a big, jovial man in his 40's, should be an authority on children's reading material—comics or classics. He has three children—aged 20, 15 and 14.

"I've burned comic books in my time," said Murphy. "But my kids always found replacements the minute my back was turned."

Since taking office, he has received thousands of letters—most of them praising the industry for its move.

One of his favorite letters came from the children of Grade Six, Helen Street School, Hamden, Conn.

"Dear Mr. Murphy," they wrote. "We pledge to buy only those comic books bearing your seal of approval. Further we will trade comics with our friends only if they trade approved magazines."

A woman in Indiana was more caustic than approving. "What is the use, she wrote, 'of taking nude women out of the comic books when they walk the streets just as naked?'"

World War II Jargon Is Old Hat -- Rather Un-Cool

FOR CARSON, Colo., Nov. 19—UP—Stay loose, short-timer... No sweat, you can bug out here more skosh without the honchos gettin' wind of it. Probably few discharged World War II veterans could interpret the above jargon, but to the "cool, nervous" GI of today it means simply—somebody is soon to be discharged from service with no strings attached.

Dig?
A recent survey by the Fort Carson public information staff showed "short-timer" means a serviceman with little time remaining before discharge.

"No sweat!" in the modern soldier's vocabulary means a mission accomplished without difficulty. "More skosh" is a distortion of the Japanese word "sukoshi" meaning small which GIs now say when they mean right away, soon.

And "honcho" means a boss, a pusher, or any other big sheeze. The survey indicates that the post-Korean war doughboy favors Japanese expressions to the "ancient" colloquialisms adopted from the French language by World War II GIs. For example, instead of beaoup, today's soldier now says tak' san when he means very much. He says jo-san for female and ichi-ban when referring to the best, the No. 1 boy.

Some of the other more popular expressions now include: "Beginning Jan. 1, every book will carry your seal of approval," said Murphy.

Prexy's Views Deny College Church Okay

ATLANTA, Nov. 19—UP—Piedmont College, a small denominational school in mountainous North Georgia, will be denied church endorsement until its controversial president is ousted and granted from the white supremacy-advocating Texas Educational Association case.

A spokesman for the Southeast Convention of Congregational Christian Churches said the convention voted last Oct. 22 not to endorse the Demorest, Ga., school as long as Dr. James E. Walter remains president and as long as the college accepts donations from the TEA.

Erston Butterfield, convention superintendent, also denied that the convention's board of missions had given $25,000 to Piedmont, which has long been the center of bitter dispute.

A number of Piedmont faculty members have resigned in a dispute over Walter's policies and his acceptance of funds from the TEA which has been charged with anti-semitic, anti-Negro views.

Butterfield said the convention passed a resolution denying church endorsement until "receiving money from the Texas Educational Association is stopped and until the president of the college is replaced and his policies and practices ended."

U.S. Warns Russia Against Further Attacks On Planes

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19—UP—The United States told Russia Wednesday that unless it takes steps to prevent any further attacks on U. S. planes flying in the Japan area this government will be forced "to provide the necessary defensive protection" for such planes.

The warning was contained in a second U. S. note to Moscow protesting against the shooting down of a B-29 photographing plane in the Hokkaido area of Japan by two Soviet MIG fighters on Nov. 7. Ten crew members of the B-29 parachuted to safety but the 11th was killed.

"The United States government, Wednesday's note said, "again protests this latest incident in a long series of unprovoked Soviet attacks on American aircraft on peaceful missions..."

"The United States government requests that appropriate disciplinary measures be taken with regard to those responsible for this unprovoked attack and that all other possible steps be taken to prevent the recurrence of such incidents which are in flagrant contradiction of recent statements by high Soviet officials that the Soviet Union 3.75 pennies.

It is utterly impossible to make a better Bourbon whiskey than Old Charter...

Suppose we don't try to put in words what happens with your first taste of this great whiskey. Instead, do this... Imagine you have started with the basically finest whiskey ever made in old Kentucky... Then you have waited for 7 full, round years to ripen it slowly, perfectly... Then take from your memory the finest-tasting whiskey you have ever known and imagine one still silkier, still mellower, still smoother. Do all these things... and then taste Old Charter!

Tick, tock... tick, tock... the whiskey that didn't watch the clock... seven long years!

UN Prepared To Approve Atom Plan

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., Nov. 19.—UP—The United Nations prepared to give its overwhelming, if not unanimous, approval late Friday to President Eisenhower's "atoms for peace" plan. The Soviet Union indicated it would go along with the West in voting for the plan and only a plea for postponement by the Indian delegate could block approval. The United States and six other western atomic powers placed before the committee Thursday a revised resolution embodying most of the suggestions made in a two-week debate on setting up the plan. Russia did not join the other major atomic powers as a sponsor, but Soviet delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky announced Russian approval of the major part of the plan discussed by the 60-nation committee. The only contentious point between Russia and the West was the composition of the international conference of atomic scientists to be convened next summer to offer advice on putting the atom to peaceful work.

Sooner Solon Sings Hymn In Moscow Baptist Church

(Passed by Soviet censor) By KENNETH BRODNEY MOSCOW, Nov. 19.—UP—The Moscow Baptist Church choir and congregation sang "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and other familiar hymns in Russian at services attended Thursday by Congressman Victor Wickersham (D-Okla.). Thousands of Baptists packed the recently painted church and heard Wickersham greet them on behalf of all the Christian churches in America. "I bring you greetings from the churches of America, although I am not a Baptist," Wickersham, making his second tour of Russia in nine years, said through an interpreter. "I am a member of the Disciples of Christ, but we all are one in the sight of God." Wickersham said familiar hymns were sung after the sermon had been preached. "I recognized all of the melodies such as 'What a Friend We Have in Jesus,'" Wickersham said. The congressman said the minister told him there were 512,000 Baptists in the Soviet Union, of whom 12,000 joined during 1954. Wickersham said the minister told him that his church, the only Baptist church in Moscow, now has enough Bibles since the government recently resumed printing them in Russian. Returning Wednesday night from a week's trip through the southern part of the Soviet Union, Wickersham said he had noted many advances. "You can't compare the Soviet Union with the United States, but they have made considerable progress in rebuilding, transportation and agriculture since I was here in 1945," Wickersham said. "Most people thought there would be war," he added. "Their standard of living is far below ours but everybody seems to have their minimum needs."

Adobe Walls Scout Council Picks Officers

R. J. Rust, of Phillips, Thursday night was elected the new president of the Boy Scouts' Adobe Walls Council for 1955. The occasion was the annual council program planning conference in Borger during which a new advisory committee and executive board were also elected. Rust succeeds C. A. Huff as president and Gene Fatherson was re-elected council treasurer.

The new advisory committee includes Rev. E. Douglas Carver, M. K. Brown and Raymond Harrah, all of Pampa; M. M. Craig, Jr., Miami; Sam Lanning, Panhandle; A. W. Paris, Phillips; and C. L. Mathewson, Guymon, Okla. Twenty-eight of the 48-man executive board were re-elected, including eight Pampans. These are the new 20:

Explosion Rips Oilman's Boat

PORT ISABEL, Tex., Nov. 19.—UP—Two explosions blew a 74-foot oil exploration boat to bits near here Thursday, but all seven crewmen aboard escaped without serious injury. The seven were rescued from the water minutes after the "Amigo Mio" blew off Port Isabel. They were brought ashore by the vessel's sister ship, the "Gismo," and by crewmen of a shrimp boat which helped in the rescue.

Authorities at the Port Isabel Coast Guard Station said none appeared to have been injured. The "Amigo Mio" was about three-quarters of a mile southeast of the entrance to Brown Santiago Pass when a fire broke out. The first explosion was apparently in the fuel tank, and the second one, seconds later, apparently was from a cargo of explosives.

The subject will be "The Purposes and Organizations of State Governments," according to Homer Craig, Sam Houston principal and course director. The present Americanization course will end Dec. 17 after which class members will gather for review lessons until their naturalization examinations in February.

Also Dick Tweed, Borger; Bill Bartlett, Canadian; Edd Lee, Borger; Dr. R. A. Gruebel, Guymon; Carl Perry, Guymon; Dr. L. H. Kippenberger, Guymon; Rev. Thurman Harris, Guymon; and Bob Getty, Pampa.

Principal's Wife To Address Class

Mrs. McHenry Lane, Pampa Junior High School instructor and wife of the principal, speaks at 6:30 p.m. today in the Sam Houston School to the Pampa Lions Club Americanization class. Her subject will be "The Purposes and Organizations of State Governments," according to Homer Craig, Sam Houston principal and course director.

The present Americanization course will end Dec. 17 after which class members will gather for review lessons until their naturalization examinations in February.

Navy Shifts Atlantic Fleet

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—UP—The Navy said Friday that it is shifting 36 ships from the Atlantic fleet to the Pacific in an economy move. A spokesman said the shift, which has been quietly underway for about a month, and will be completed by January, is desirable because the ships, although based on the East Coast, normally operate in the Pacific. The spokesman emphasized the move is not due to increased tensions in the Far East.

Pajama Game Plays 1-Nighter At Rice

HOUSTON, Nov. 19.—UP—A nightgown-pajama girl-meets-boy riot erupted on the Rice Institute campus early Friday and police, trying to corral some 300 cat-calling students, collected little more than flat tires on their squad cars. But the law did finally manage to retrieve six scantily-clad and blushing San Jacinto high school girls who started it all when they invaded the men's dormitories area in a limping jalepy yelling "gig 'em Aggies!" at 1 a.m.

Rice whipped the Texas A&M Aggies 29-19 last week. Rice students came pouring out of dormitories, wearing pajamas, bathrobes or hastily-donned pants. They surrounded the car, let the air out of the tires, yanked the ignition wires and formed a bucket brigade to flood the inside of the car with water. The girls, wearing only nightgowns and robes, were trapped in the car and soaked by the lustily-heaved buckets of water. Cries of "riot, riot!" brought the campus alive with other students and faculty members trying to break it up. Police in five cars arrived but such Rice riots, tried to play it smart. They parked on Main Street off the campus and marched in on foot. The rioters scattered in all directions and the sopping wet girls were led back to the patrol cars. Only one car had any air left in its tires. A half-dozen officers were left to guard the stranded cars while the girls were taken to the station in the remaining cars. The station reformed ranks and jeered the departure but soon broke up and drifted, or were herded back to the dorms. The girls, unidentified, were turned over to their parents.

Milk Facilities Inspected Here

E. T. Jones, state milk inspector, Thursday completed an inspection of Pampa's milk facilities, the first one by a state official since August, 1953. But Pampa will not know what its rating is for about three weeks, according to A. N. Thorne, Pampa milk inspector. In the last inspection, Pampa made the honor roll which includes communities with a grade of 90 or more. Jones made a "general survey of the milkshed," Thorne said. Actually, Thorne covers three counties — Gray, Wheeler and Hemphill — in his inspections which take him 1,500-2,000 miles a month.

McCARTHY

(Continued from page one) would indicate that I want to prevent a vote. He made it clear, however, that he expects the recess to help his bid to push through a compromise. "Time is always a great healer," he remarked pointedly. And Sen. Karl E. Mundt (R-S.D.) backed his view. The vote to halt the debate came dramatically near the close of Thursday's session after Congress' official physician, Dr. George W. Calver, said McCarthy would have to stay in the hospital for 10 days. Calver, who examined McCarthy at the request of Senate leaders, said the senator is suffering from "traumatic neuritis" and would have to remain under treatment until Nov. 29. If McCarthy returned to action in the Senate any sooner, the doctor said, there might be a permanent injury. McCarthy hurt his elbow shaking hands with admirers in Milwaukee last weekend.

Bond Debts Bother U. S.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 19.—UP—The government will try next week to re-finance $11,740,000,000 worth of its debt. That amount of money is owed to investors who hold government bonds and notes maturing in a year or more. But the Treasury Department wants more time to pay.

What it plans to do is offer new securities to the investors, or, in effect, "re-borrow" the money. It will be the largest re-borrowing since the government re-financed nearly $21 billion of its indebtedness last February. The new securities are offered only to holders of maturing issues — generally banks, insurance companies and the Federal Reserve system — and inevitably some of these investors choose to take their money back instead.

Texas Tech Gets Peter Hurd Mural

LUBBOCK, Nov. 19.—UP—A mural by famed artist Peter Hurd, covering 1,300 square feet, was officially presented to Texas Technological College Thursday, night by author Paul Horgan. About 500 persons attended the presentation ceremony in the Texas Tech museum, among them actress Linda Darnell, a friend of Hurd. The New Mexico artist had worked on the mural for about three years. Included are 16 panels of representative Texas pioneers, with an unbroken panorama of life on the Texas plains in early days in the background.

June Talk

By JANE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

THE WOMAN who makes the most of her appearance is bound to attract attention, whether she is a striking beauty or not. Below is some advice that appeared originally for teenagers, but is certainly applicable for us all — even us older ones.

HELP YOURSELF to beauty — with daily portions of the proper foods. That's the advice offered in a recent issue of a teenage magazine which charts a daily routine of foods to help you eat your way to beauty. Here are the six categories of beauty-building foods. Glow of Health is in eggs, meat, fish, poultry, sea food, legumes (dried peas and beans) all rich in protein, minerals. Pretty Smile, Strong Nails come from milk, milk products, which also build the muscle tone good figures depend on. Clear Skin, Shining Hair flourish on grapefruit, oranges, tomatoes. Eat broccoli, raw cabbage, strawberries, canteloupe, too. Sparkling Eyes depend on green and orange vegetables like spinach, green string beans, carrots, squash, sweet potatoes. Energy, Bounce are built by an apple a day or other fresh fruit. Vegetables and potatoes also give vitality. Strength, Stamina require whole grain and enriched breads and cereals. Butter, fortified margarine for healthy skin.

THE PRETTIEST girl in the class gets a real brush-off every day. She bathes with plenty of soap and water, scrubs with a long-handled bath brush to keep back and shoulders smooth as satin, free of bumps. She discourages blackheads by scrubbing her face gently with a complexion brush. She uses the right brush the right way for every daily beauty cleanliness routine. When teeth get a scrubbing, brush goes up and down, not across. Hair has a daily session with a firm brush, laundered as often as the hair it polishes. SHINING HAIR and eyes, firm graceful figure, pretty hands and feet, exquisite cleanliness and fragrance . . . these are yours without fail if you simply do something about them every day. This is the advice a recent issue of Seventeen offers would-be beauties — and follows it up with this daily routine of beauty care. Before anything else comes a daily tubbing with really warm water and plenty of soap. Scrub all over with special attention to back, hands, elbows, knees, heels. Follow up with a deodorant-salt-perfume.

2. Complexion care includes face and scalp. Thoroughly cleanse your face at least twice a day, more often if possible. Brush your hair every day and shampoo it as often as necessary. For special skin or scalp troubles, consult your doctor. 3. Pretty hands and feet start with the daily tubbing. At least one a week shape fingernails with smooth aids of emery board; trim toenails straight across. Once in a while wear a pair of old white or pastel cotton gloves to bed with lots of heavy lubricating cream underneath. Basic hand-care has the nicest result — it enables you to wear colored nail polish with a flourish. 4. Apply makeup with skill. Find the lipstick with the best color and consistency for you. Lipsticks are getting better, redder, longer-lasting and yet creamier all the time. Bring lip color out to the corners of your mouth — and follow the natural outline. Background makeup is light-weight and lightly applied: foundation and powder to match skin, a feathering of mascara on upper lashes, a short, delicate stroke or two of brow pencil if brows are pale and the use of an eyelash curler. 5. Most magical of all ingredients in your beauty routine is fragrance. . . . perfume to make a girl who is sweet and fresh as a blossom smell that way.

The Wesleyan Service Guild, First Methodist Church, met recently in the home of Miss Lillian Mullinax, 403 N. Somerville. Mrs. J. M. Turner, president, conducted a brief business session, after which Mrs. Aubrey Jones gave a devotional, "Church Spirit."

Wesleyan Guild Holds Meeting

The study, "Within These Borders," was continued by Mrs. Lee Harrah, study leader, on the migrants and Spanish-speaking Americans. Mrs. Frank Shotwell assisted with the study by telling of the work of Charlotte Collins in the migrant camp at Lubbock. Next meeting will be Dec. 4, in the home of Mrs. Harold Wright, 930 Christie. The program, "Our Newest Neighbors, the Puerto Ricans," will be presented by Miss Minnie Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom O. Kirby of Pampa were complimented with an open house on their golden wedding anniversary recently in the home of their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Turner Kirby, south of Pampa. More than 225 friends and relatives attended. Decorations included tall baskets of golden mums, interlaced with gold gill, gold grape clusters, and yellow carnations with goldbells.

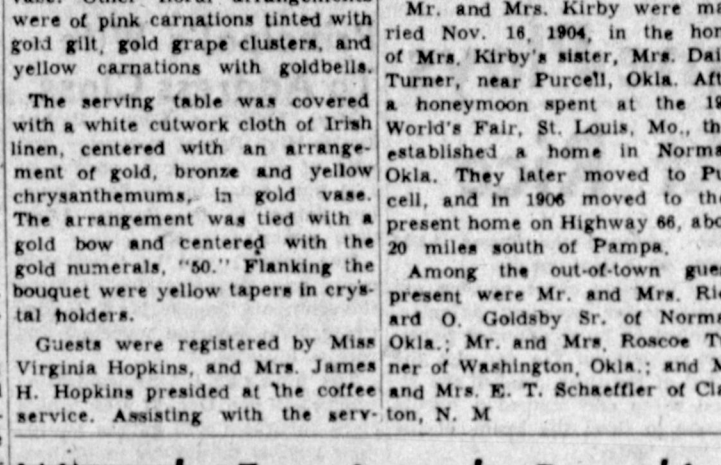

Twentieth Century Allegro's Program On Mental Health

Twentieth Century Allegro met recently in the home of Mrs. George Cree Jr., with Mrs. Robert Karr as co-hostess. The program, "Mental Health For Effective Living," was opened with a talk by Mrs. Evert Duncan on mental health from the standpoint of a child. She recommended six ways for guiding and promoting emotional development of children, which were understanding how they grow up, giving them the right kind of love, providing emotional security, fostering a feeling of belonging, supplying continuity, consistency and predictability to their daily lives and encouraging wholesome fun and adventure.

"It is not so much what you do, but how you feel about what you do at any particular moment that usually counts most," she concluded. "The way in which we meet situations in our own life, our whole relationship with our children, influences them far more than any special technique for producing desirable behavior."

When the Frost Is on the Pumpkin

FOR A UNIQUE FLAVORFUL GINGER PUMPKIN CAKE use a downy textured cake flour, with a combination of spice and rich pumpkin. Then as a special decorative treat try your hand at frosted pumpkins made from the same luscious frosting base that rosters the entire cake.

GINGER PUMPKIN CAKE
2 1/2 cups sifted cake flour
3 cups granulated sugar
3 teaspoon double-acting baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/4 teaspoon ginger
1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
1 cup canned pumpkin
1/2 cup buttermilk
1 egg
2 egg yolks
1. Into sifter, measure sifted flour, sugar, baking powder, soda, salt, and spices.
2. Into mixing bowl, place butter; stir just to soften. Add sifted dry ingredients, brown sugar, pumpkin, and 1/2 cup of the buttermilk. Mix until flour is dampened. Then beat 2 minutes at a low speed of electric mixer, or 300 vigorous strokes by hand.
3. Add egg, yolks, and remaining 1/2 cup buttermilk. Beat 1 minute longer in mixer, or 150 strokes by hand.
4. BAKING. Pour batter into two round 8-inch layer pans, which have been lined on the bottoms with paper. Bake in moderate oven (350° F.) about 30 minutes. Frost cake with seven-minute frosting, reserving some frosting to make pumpkins.
5. TO MAKE PUMPKINS, trim off 1/4-inch from tops of 2 marshmallows. Press cut sides of marshmallows together. Stick toothpick through marshmallows to hold them in place. Tint reserved frosting bright orange with red and orange coloring; spread on marshmallows. Then with top of a demitasse spoon, make indentations to resemble a pumpkin. Place on cake. Use half of a long green gumdrop for the stem. Use half a marshmallow for each pumpkin on side of cake. (ANS Features)

OES Gavel Club Has Dinner Meet

The monthly covered dish dinner of the Order of the Eastern Star Gavel Club was held Wednesday evening in the home of Miss Corinne Landrum, 1255 Mary Ellen, with Mes. W. B. Murphy and R. A. Hankhouse as co-hostesses. Dinner was served by candlelight in the dining room from a table covered with a lace cloth. After dinner Mrs. Ora Wagner, president, led the business session. Visitors were Mes. Lydia Burba, H. B. Landrum and Viola Pennington. Members present, other than the hostesses, were Mes. W. A. Rankin, J. S. Fuqua, Earl C. Casey, Oscar Shearer, Hal Buttle, O. A. Wagner, Leslie B. Hale, M. L. Ralston, Kelly Vinson, W. S. Kiser, Artie Reber, W. W. Voyles, J. G. Cynkiewicz, W. M. Murphy, Ethel Alexander, Dennis Stilwell, Clara Mealer, Guy Andis and G. C. Crocker.

Members present, other than the hostesses, were Mes. W. A. Rankin, J. S. Fuqua, Earl C. Casey, Oscar Shearer, Hal Buttle, O. A. Wagner, Leslie B. Hale, M. L. Ralston, Kelly Vinson, W. S. Hints On Thawing A Frozen Turkey

More turkeys are now sold frozen and ready-to-cook than most other ways because this is such an easy, efficient and economical way of handling these birds. The main thing to watch for when buying a frozen turkey is proper packaging, for this prevents loss of moisture and keeps the quality high, points out the Agricultural Marketing Service. Thawing frozen ready to cook turkey before cooking saves time. But if not thawed first, allow one and a half times as long as usual to cook. The refrigerator is one of the best places for thawing whole birds or parts. Take off the wrappings and cover the turkey loosely with waxed paper.

For thawing in the refrigerator, here's a guide tested by the U. S. Department of Agriculture; large whole bird — about two days; small bird, half quarts or half breast — at least overnight. Whole birds may be thawed under cold running water which takes several hours. Never use warm water or let the bird stand in water.

Canadian ESA Group Has Initiation Service

Plans were made for the WCTU Bazaar, the Toys for Tots drive, and the Mother's March. Chocolate cake and soft drinks were served by Mrs. Tipples. Those attending were Mes. Charles Wright, Loren Blackmore, Glen Walker, Cleo Coffee, Tex Hill, Buddy Hobdy, Bill Jackson, Jean Muir, Ben Farnell, Bill McIntyre and the hostess.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE
A young motherly I know recently sought professional help with what she believed was a psychological problem. Directed to an expert not much older than herself, she said, "I often have to force myself to do child caring routines that bore me."

So scared was the expert by her use of the word "force" that she recommended the lengthy treatment of psychoanalysis. When this advice was reported to me, I held my tongue. For my young friend, like other millions among us, reverses psychological opinion as I reverse God. So I could not say, "My dear, what you've heard is a human opinion. All that's happened is that you've talked to a girl who thinks self-discipline is symptom of mental disease. I don't think so. What a pity you haven't an opinion of your own so that you can forget our opinions."

Several noted psychiatrists recently linked the teaching of child psychology to the increasing uncertainty among American parents and spreading emotional problems in children. I don't agree. The child psychologists are not our problem. Our dependence upon them is.

A child psychologist's opinion of the way to treat Billy's tantrum cannot possibly make us uncertain if we have one of our own opinions to check against it. On the contrary, we can occasionally use his opinion by discarding what we don't want in it, and retaining what we do. But when we have no opinion of our own, we are indeed in peril. Because we must somehow fill our vacuum, we dare not examine his opinion. We dare not remember that it represents the conclusion a man has drawn from his individual experience. We have to forget that his experience is subject to limitations and his conclusion to error. Why do we depend on the psychologists? Isn't this the Age of the Pusher, the Commissioner? What's new about our fear of what Thomas Mann calls "the I and its burdens"? Up to now, this century of ours has just varied the volume of its cry, "Show me the nearest exit from myself!" Once a man who loved us understood our distrust of the Self. So he told us what it was. He gave us the definition that has supported every self-reliant step yet taken by western man. He said, "The kingdom of God is within you."

Bradshaw-Lewis Vows Exchanged In Wheeler Church

WHEELER — (Special) — In an informal ceremony, read in the Wheeler Church of Christ Nov. 8, Miss Beverly Lee Bradshaw became the bride of Jerry Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Lewis, Wheeler, D. S. Mallory, minister, read the single-ring ceremony.

Attending the couple were Mrs. Larry Jones of Dumas as matron-of-honor, and Ronald Richardson as best man.

The bride wore an ice-blue winter-falls afternoon dress with black accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. She carried out the tradition of wearing something old, new, borrowed and blue with a linen handkerchief that had belonged to her grandmother Penelope; a string of pearls belonging to her aunt, Mrs. O. W. Pennington Sr.; a blue garter; and her new ensemble.

After a wedding trip to Amarillo, the couple will be at home temporarily in Dumas. After about two weeks, they will leave for New Jersey, where the bridegroom will attend a National Guard electronics school.

RUTH MILLET

Among all the hurried, harried, unsure women trying to keep up with each other and live by somebody else's standards, the woman who stands out simply by not trying to is the woman who —

Isn't apologetic about being "just" a housewife and isn't ashamed to let it be known she is doing what she would rather be doing than anything else in the world — devoting her full time to being a wife, mother and homemaker.

Is able to accept her children as they are and enjoy them without feeling the need to try out all the latest theories on child training because she has no faith at all in her own standards and her own common sense.

Is content with what she has and not envious of what other women have in the way of possessions.

Can say "No" to her children firmly yet quietly with feeling guilty or wondering if she shouldn't say "Yes" just because other mothers are saying "Yes."

Isn't pretending to be younger than she is and so is free to enjoy whatever age she happens to be.

Isn't always in a hurry, and so can take time to enjoy the little things in life as they come along.

Is honest in her relationships with others, without being tactless or unkind.

Is so interested in the world that she hasn't time to be avidly interested in small, malicious gossip.

Lets her husband be himself, because even though he is her husband, she has never lost sight of the fact that he is also an individual and everything he does or wants to do cannot be judged on the basis of how it affects her.

Such women stand out today simply by their refusal to hurry along with the crowd.

Pampa Concert Association Schedules Appearance Of Robert Shaw Chorale

The Pampa Community Concert Association will present the Robert Shaw Chorale at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Junior High School auditorium.

The conductor of the 30-man chorale and orchestra was born in Red Bluff, Calif., 38 years ago, and educated for the ministry at Pomona College in Claremont. Although Virgil Thomson of the New York Herald Tribune has described him as "a musician of taste, high temperament and no mean skill," adding "I do not know his equal in the choral field today," the start of his career as a choral conductor suggests the story of the English lord who was asked if he could play the violin. "I don't know," said his lordship. "I've never tried."

Shaw's theoretical knowledge of music was limited to one course in harmony at Pomona, when he was asked to take over the college glee club. Long after he made his reputation as a serious musician by conducting the famous Collegiate Chorale in and around New York, he got a Guggenheim Fellowship, took a year's sabbatical, and studied intensively with the pianist Julius Herford, a German-trained musician, once conductor at the famous church of Pastor Martin Niemöller, who taught both at Columbia University and later at the Juilliard School of Music, where Shaw headed the choral department for four years following World War II.

The Chorale, a strictly professional group of 30 singers now embarked on their tenth tour of the U. S., was assembled in 1946 as a summer replacement for the popular Edger Bergen-Charlie McCarthy radio show. Most of their long list of recordings, ranging from such masterpieces of sacred music as the Mozart Requiem and the Beethoven Missa Solemnis, to a group of perennially popular Christmas carols, another group of Hymns of Thanksgiving and still another "Treasury of Easter Songs" have been waxed within the past eight years.

FOR NEW LOOK Thanksgiving pleasure—roasted "tucked" turkey with mixed apples.

Cook's Nook Good News For American Thanksgiving Menu — Record Crop Of Turkeys Ready

Good news for the American Thanksgiving menu — we have a record-large crop of turkeys. The trend in both large and small turkeys, according to S. J. Marsden of the United States Department of Agriculture, seems to be toward white birds. He adds that the ready-to-cook bird, processed by experts in sanitary plants, promises to supplant in popularity the "dressed" bird which has to be drawn and requires lots of preparation at home before it is ready for the oven.

There's also a new look to turkeys this year. They are coming to market in a convenient style which eliminates trussing and sewing after stuffing.

Both the small grown, Belleville-style turkeys for the small family and the large-size regular hen and tom turkeys are frozen "tucked." As purchased, the legs are pulled into and held by an opening cut low below the breast bone. After thawing the turkey according to directions on the wrapper, pull the legs back from the slit and remove the parchment-wrapped giblets. Stuff the turkey through the ready-cut opening, tuck the legs back into the original position and the bird is ready for the oven. Most experts now recommend

THANKSGIVING DINNER FOR TWO—casserole of chicken, flavored with chopped dill pickles.

Cook's Nook Zesty Casserole Of Chicken For Twosome Thanksgiving

BY GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor
Thanksgiving dinner for two — it sometimes happens you know — can be special and festive. But chicken seems to fit into this menu better than turkey.

CASSEROLE OF CHICKEN WITH DILL
(Makes 2-4 servings)
One 2½- to 3-pound frying chicken, cut in serving pieces, all-purpose flour, salt and pepper, ¼ cup tomato juice, salt to taste, dash freshly ground pepper, dash cayenne liquid, 3-4 tablespoon sugar, 1-2 clove garlic, minced, 1-2 cup chopped dill pickles, 1 teaspoon prepared mustard.

Dredge chicken in flour and sprinkle with salt and pepper. Brown in hot fat. Place in a 2-quart casserole. Meanwhile, combine remaining ingredients. Bring to a boil over medium heat and cook 10 minutes. Remove bay leaf and pour over chicken. Cover and bake in slow oven (325 degrees F.) 1½ hours or until tender.

New Hair Shades Flatter Skin Tones

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
It's amazing what a different hair coloring can do for a woman's appearance. Sometimes the new shades will flatter her skin tones or emphasize the color of her eyes.

For some women, changing a hair shade has often resulted in personality changes, too. A woman who considered herself in the "smoosy" stage before changing her hair coloring will suddenly become a vivid, sparkling personality.

For the health as well as the beauty of her hair, a woman who is contemplating a change should study the condition of her scalp and hair first, before deciding if she will make it a shade lighter or darker.

If your hair is weak from too many permanents, you should select a hair coloring that contains conditioning ingredients, too.

It's also considered smart to choose a "non-permanent" coloring rather than a permanent one, because you may be dissatisfied with the results.

One firm is offering a new hair coloring that is French in origin and is "non-permanent." It's marketed as being used effectively on hair that has been overdyed and overpermanented. Another advantage is that this hair coloring contains its own setting lotion for the woman whose hair is difficult to curl or wave.

THANKSGIVING

At this joyous season, many pause to thank God for the blessings of His goodness and bounty. Worshippers in this country and some other lands will attend Thanksgiving services. The ability to be thankful is one of the greatest gifts God has given man. It was gratitude that made the Psalmist say, "The Lord is my shepherd; I shall not want . . . Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life." (Psalm 23). Those who continue to place their trust in God realize that they shall not want for any good thing.

Although the national holiday of Thanksgiving is observed only one day each year, the ability to give thanks can be exercised every day of the year. Regardless of how seemingly unfortunate human existence may appear to some, everyone can always rejoice and be grateful that "The Lord is good" and that "His mercy endureth forever" (Psalm 107). Through the gratitude which comes of spiritual understanding, disease is often healed, human relations are adjusted, release is gained from worry, self-pity, and many other ills. Boundless indeed are the fruits of true gratitude!

Peaceful Co-Existence May Be Had By Russia For The Asking

United Press Foreign Analyst. There are increasing indications that Soviet Russia may really desire "peaceful co-existence" with the free world for a while.

As things are shaping up, it would not be surprising if President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill decided to hold a conference with Soviet Premier Georgi M. Malenkov next spring.

No sweeping agreements on specific issues would be expected. The object would be a broad agreement on what the Russians call peaceful co-existence.

There is talk now of an alliance of East-European Communist countries as an answer to West German armament.

Commercial A-Power 10 Years Away

DALLAS, Nov. 19 — UP — A spokesman for the electric power industry said Wednesday it would take at least 10 years before atomic production of power is commercially practical.

Walker L. Cliser, president of the Detroit Edison Co., made the statement in a speech before a Mineral Resources Conference sponsored by the Dallas Council on World Affairs.

"It will be five years or more before the (atomic power) reactors now under consideration can be built and fully tested," Cliser said. "It will be another five years before a second generation of reactors can be designed, constructed and evaluated, based upon the experience to be gained from those now being built or considered...."

"From that point on, however, the use of atomic power should accelerate and we should begin to enjoy the fruits of our present efforts," he said.

Cliser said one of the major problems was that "it does not seem possible at the present time to build reactors which have the possibility of being commercially competitive with older forms of power generation."

Another problem he foresaw was the disposal of atomic wastes, and said that might be "the deciding factor in determining whether a power reactor might be competitive."

Development of atomic energy, he said, not only has made available a vast new source of heat energy which probably can be used for peaceful purposes, but there also is a possibility that low cost methods of using it for production of electricity can be developed.

Coal Operators Seek Curb On Fuel Imports

PITTSBURGH, Nov. 19 — UP — The National Coal Association, representing operators in 28 states Thursday was prepared to pass a resolution calling for restrictions on imports of residual fuel oil as a means to aid the slumping coal industry.

"The flood of foreign residual oil continues unabated, thereby threatening further loss of employment in the United States," said a resolution prepared for presentation Thursday in the second day of the association's 37th annual conference.

The proposed resolution condemned as "unwise" dependence on foreign sources of fuel as "contrary to the best interests of the nation."

L. C. Campbell, association president, told the 500 delegates at Wednesday's session that the nation must formulate a fuel policy "to correct the blind, destructive, un-economic condition which is destroying the nation's fuel birthright."

Campbell admitted the industry "is beset with many difficulties," which he said were caused mainly by the importation of cheap residual fuel oil, high railroad rates and natural gas.

He placed the responsibility for connecting these ills squarely in the lap of the federal government, saying: "It takes governmental action to halt the imports of residual oil, to change railroad rates, to restore a prudent balance in the distribution of natural gas."

Ernest T. Weir, board chairman of National Steel Corp., said that the steel industry depends upon the independent coal mines to supply 80 to 90 percent of its coal supply. "For this reason, the commercial coal industry bears something more than its own direct responsibility... the responsibility to maintain itself at all times so that it is prepared to meet whatever demands may develop for coal," Weir said.

Frank Stanton, president of CBS, way soon in "Fanny" had to lose 14 pounds to fit the part. So, on his wedding anniversary, he celebrated by eating a full-course dinner. That's putting the la carte before the art.

The big question after seeing the revival of "On Your Toes" is — why? New York critics gave it what is politely called a "mixed reception," but the audiences were less favorably impressed. In its day, it was a good musical comedy, but its day is past.

Which brings up the basic problem — Why are such tired properties revived in the first place? There are so many young authors and composers whose works deserve a hearing — yet producers pour money into an old, dated show that completely lacks any freshness.

There's a big difference between revival and survival. Writers Al Johansen ("Duffy's Tavern") and Eleanor Hesoon ("Suspense") have combined to write a TV show called "Planet Sam." It's for kids, and they hope it will be less scary than some children's programs. To that end, they've had their five-year-old hero land on Planet Sam and find giants, a nasty man who wipes evil and a flood that may wipe everyone out.

This is non-scary? Writers Al Johansen ("Duffy's Tavern") and Eleanor Hesoon ("Suspense") have combined to write a TV show called "Planet Sam." It's for kids, and they hope it will be less scary than some children's programs. To that end, they've had their five-year-old hero land on Planet Sam and find giants, a nasty man who wipes evil and a flood that may wipe everyone out.

They laugh when Victor Borge sits down at the piano, which, of course, is the general idea. And they keep laughing. His one-man show on Broadway is now into its second year, and he's the first one-man (or one-woman, for that matter) who's ever had a solo show last that long.

This record, and the honors and awards and cash that go with it, mean quite a lot to the non-melancholy Dane. But he's a sensitive soul, and the most important part of his feat, to him, is something very different.

"I'm proudest of the fact that I'm keeping a theater open," he says. "You know, once in a while I would do a television show from a converted stage theater. I would see the beautiful proscenium full of lights and cameras and I would get sick. It's a desecration. Now I am happy because I am keeping a live theater alive."

After that statement, the Borge sense of humor took over and bubbled out as it always does. "Of course," he said, "I make a good living out of it, and money is nice, too."

Borge's success has somewhat puzzled a few of the Broadway historians, but his own explanation makes sense. "It really isn't a one-man show," he says. "They get tiresome, the same thing all night. I'm a variety show — I give a piano recital, I tell jokes standing up and I tell jokes while I play the piano. If I was only a pianist, I'd play one night at Carnegie Hall and lose money. If I only told jokes, I'd stay on television. But I give variety."

"Time out while the Sardi waiter took Borge's order for tea. Do you want tea with lemon or tea with cream?" he asked. "I want," said Borge, "tea with nothing — tea with tea."

Whatever it is — the variety of his performance or the quality of his high-quality wit — business keeps on being good. Borge laughed as he noted that last year his business was called "phenomenal." "This year, it's better," he said. "Is there such a word as 'phenomenal'?"

Peaceful Revolution

How many people realize just how completely mass-distribution revolutionized retail business in this country—and, in doing that, made one of the biggest and most lasting contributions to the nation's living standards?

Mass distribution did more than hold prices to levels much lower than would have been possible without it. It also gave us better and more convenient products, greater choice and improved services all along the line.

Party Line Changes

According to a top authority, J. Edgar Hoover of the FBI, the American Communist party has changed its line. It has, outwardly at least, abandoned the call for militant action and the defense of violence as a justifiable means to power.

Hankerings

A young couple that had received many valuable wedding presents established their home in a suburb. The morning after the wedding, the bride and groom were sitting at the breakfast table.

BETTER JOBS

Most of the supporters of the United Nations undoubtedly believe that it is a logical way to peace. I believe it is a way to war.

In previous articles I have tried to show why I believe the United Nations Organization leads to war, not peace. Its charter, its membership and its personnel commit it to teach and promote coercive collectivism.

The American idea of limited government put moral law—the law of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule—above statute law. This meant that individuals have God-given rights which no government can take away.

Their predicament is political rather than personal, for there seems to be a general agreement that the two wings must unite for the Party's good. Leaders of both factions concede that their 1954 fate may depend upon their interim behavior.

And yet, they also feel that their principal supporters, as well as their only hope of a nationwide triumph, lie among elements which generally favor greater Government expenditures and more extensive Federal control of the nation's economic machinery.

Representative John D. Dingell of Michigan, for instance, plans to demand a $100 increase in tax assumptions, which will nick the Treasury for about $2.5 billion annually.

Conservative, Liberal Dems Already In Policy Clashes

WASHINGTON. — Democratic ask postponement, in view of the Conservatives and Liberals have shaky state of Federal finances. It is doubtful if Democratic Conservatives will approve the Dingell proposals, although both are tempting from the standpoint of practical politics.

The Lehman-Humphrey bloc will renew their clamor for greater Government activity and subsidies for health, housing and education, which appeals to labor voters in the large cities.

Composing these controversies to the satisfaction of the American voters and Capitol Hill disputants will be a test of the Johnson-Rayburn leadership.

Dingell and his cohorts will also insist on the cut in excise taxes which becomes effective automatically on April 1. This reduction will reduce revenue by $1 billion a year, and there are reports that President Eisenhower may

Fair Enough

Public Has Begun To Doubt Sincerity, Honor Of Press

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

WASHINGTON — About three years ago, I began, with some trepidation, to question the sincerity, courage and honor of a substantial segment of the American free press.

Not many of our journalists have had longer experience than I have; and I hope I am not immodest in saying that my record of proficiency, performance and integrity compares well with that of the best, whoever the best is or are.

All of us who are of The Press now realize that The Press has come under suspicion among the people. Orators in Congress fight back at the "left wing" press and the "liberal" press. "Liberal" has come to mean untruthful, bigoted, hateful, socialistic and, on the whole, untrustworthy as it applies to newspapers and magazines.

The Doctor Says

By EDWIN J. JORDAN, M. D.

It is particularly distressing to see a small infant with that pesky nuisance, the common cold. They always seem so extremely uncomfortable and as though their feelings were hurt by this sign of cruelty in the world.

There are some questions about colds which bear particularly on children. Mrs. L. asks whether it is true that babies cannot catch cold unless they get the germ from another person. The answer is that it is almost certainly true, since colds are caused by viruses which are spread from person to person.

Nearly every year our hopes are raised by the announcement of at least one new wonder cure for colds. Year after year these hopes are dashed. In spite of the enormous number of "cold cures" on the market, the statement "that no substance or combination of substances available at present can be relied on to prevent or cure the common cold" still holds good.

Nevertheless, nose drops, inhalants, liquid and solid medicines, gargles, special diets, lemon cures and innumerable treatments will be used by thousands.

The supply of moisture of the nose and throat by means of steam inhalations is probably of some help at the very beginning. Coughs or laxatives are hardly desirable unless needed for other reasons, and if used to extremes these may cause too much loss of fluids from the body.

80,000 To Watch Ohio State, Michigan TV Tilt Tomorrow

By UNITED PRESS
Ohio State, UCLA, and Oklahoma are favored to maintain their perfect records and clinch conference titles in Saturday's big games but only the Buckeyes can win gold as well as glory.

The next big weekend of college football activity kicks off Friday night with Miami (Fla.), a 12-1-2 point pick to defeat Alabama and end the Crimson Tide's last hope of obtaining a post-season bowl bid.

A crowd of at least 80,000 in addition to a national television audience will see Ohio State's Buckeyes attempt to clinch the Big Ten title and a probable bid to the Rose Bowl when they take on Michigan at Columbus, Ohio State is rated a 12-point favorite on the strength of eight straight victories in tough competition but the Wolverines have won six games and lost only to Army and Indiana.

UCLA and Oklahoma, the nation's only other unbeaten and untied major college eleven, also are strong favorites but both are ineligible for bowls because they played in them last Jan. 1.

UCLA has been installed as a 13-point favorite to complete a perfect campaign but could be in for trouble against a Southern California team which is out to prove it actually merits the Pacific Coast Conference's Rose Bowl invitation. Southern California will go to the "biggest of the bowls" regardless of the results because of UCLA's ineligibility.

Oklahoma, which hasn't lost a Big Seven Conference game since Bud Wilkinson's regime began in 1947, is a 10-sided 20-point choice over Nebraska. The Cornhuskers could become the conference's representative in the Orange Bowl if they upset Oklahoma.

Southern Methodist, conqueror of previously unbeaten Arkansas, and slightly battered Yale also figure in important games.

SMU, battling to stay in the Southwest Conference race and win a bid to the Cotton Bowl, faces a "must" game when it takes on Baylor. The Mustangs are rated four-point choices but Arkansas, which plays LSU in a non-league game, automatically clinches the title if Baylor wins.

Yale, beaten by Army and Princeton on successive weekends, hopes to bounce back and finally clinch the Ivy group title with a victory over Harvard.

In other games involving national powers, Notre Dame is a six-point pick over powerful Iowa; Duke seven over South Carolina, Auburn 16 over Clemson, Rice seven over TCU, Texas Tech 14 over Houston, Syracuse seven over Fordham and Princeton seven over Dartmouth.

Army and Navy are idle this weekend before their Nov. 27 renewal of the inter-service classic which this year will settle the Lambert Trophy winner — the award presented to the East's strongest eleven.

Other games find Kentucky a six-point favorite over Tennessee.

Moegle Virtually Assured Of All-America Recognition

DALLAS, Tex., Nov. 19 — UP. All-America recognition for the Southwest Conference could emerge from the fleet feet of a young halfback who first gained national attention by being tackled.

Dicky Moegle of Rice Institute was tackled under unusual circumstances — from the opposing team's bench — as he galloped by on a 95-yard touchdown run in the Cotton Bowl last New Year's Day.

In eight games this season, Moegle has gained 879 yards for a career total to date of 1,810 net yards. These regular season statistics do not include bowl performance.

Could Break School Record

The Taylor, Tex., youngster whom nobody wanted when he presented himself to three Southwest Conference colleges at the age of 16 could become in two remaining Rice games the all-time top ground gainer in history of the Houston school. He was sixth in the nation in rushing yardage last year, presently is ranked 11th and has a good opportunity to move up.

He leads Rice in rushing with an average 6.5 yards per carry thus far this season and is his team's leading scorer at 10 touchdowns for 60 points. He also is leading Rice pass receiver, snagging 18 passes for 198 yards. He has led the Southwest Conference in punt returns for the past two years and this year has returned 12 punts for 181 yards and a 15.9 average.

Moegle has returned six kickoffs for 60 points. He also is leading Rice pass receiver, snagging 18 passes for 198 yards. He has led the Southwest Conference in punt returns for the past two years and this year has returned 12 punts for 181 yards and a 15.9 average.

Rites Held For Ex-Baylor Star

DALLAS, Nov. 19—UP—Funeral services were held Friday for one of Baylor University's all-time great sports figures, Ralph E. Collier. Collier, quarterback of the 1922 and 1924 teams that won the Southwest Conference football championship the only times Baylor has ever done so, died Thursday at a Dallas hospital. Although he starred as a baseball player as well as in football for the Bears, Collier turned down offers to play professional baseball to enter the insurance industry in Dallas. Collier fans particularly recall Collier's field goals.

Baylor Gunning To Upset SMU

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Baylor's Bears make another big pitch for their first Southwest Conference championship laurels in three decades Saturday, but will be in an underdog role against a Southern Methodist team bent on furthering its own title chances and Cotton Bowl hopes.

Austin EP Captures 2-4A Grid Crown

By UNITED PRESS

El Paso Austin nabbed one of the eight coveted playoff spots in the AAAA schoolboy football championship chase Thursday night to open a big "decision" weekend for Texas prep gridirons.

Although El Paso Austin's offense sputtered a little, in comparison with its previous wins, it clanked out a 14 to 0 win over El Paso High to remain unbeaten and united in 2-AAAA play. Austin will meet the winner of Friday night's 2-AAAA championship game between Abilene and Midland in district play.

Rio Hondo and Hondo, similarly named but far apart, each moved into Class A M-district play with easy wins. Rio Hondo captured the 22nd district title with a 27 to 6 victory over LaFeria, while Hondo trounced Del Rio-San Felipe 63 to 0 in 29-A.

Rio Hondo will meet Hebronville of 21-A at Falfurrias Nov. 26, while Hondo was expected to tackle Three Rivers of 30-A.

More than 30 other playoff spots were up for grabs in Friday night's games, with Class AA providing the most action—18 title games. There were eight in Class A, where the other berths have already been clinched: one in AAAA, where defending champion Houston Lamar tackles Houston S. F. Austin in district 7, and two or possibly three in Class AAA.

Among the top games were Texas City at Fort Naches, the AAA defending champ, for the 4-AAA title; Terrell at Seagoville in 12-AA; Killen at Lampasas in 21-AA; Gonzales at Lockhart in 25-AA; Handley vs. Diamond Hill in 20-AA; and Fort Stockton at McCamey in 5-A.

Sherman and Alamo Heights each can capture AAA district titles. Sherman by taking Denison in 3-AAA and Alamo Heights with a win over Harlandale in District 7.

2 Killed In Pan-Am Trial

TUXTLA GUTIERREZ, Mex., Nov. 18—UP—The 1,980-mile Pan-American auto race, the world's toughest endurance test, began Friday morning despite a late-hour accident which claimed the event's third and fourth victims.

Killed as a result of an accident near Tehuantepec, Mex., were two Americans identified as David Ramsey, a United States Army captain, and I. E. Shelton. Their hometowns were not learned immediately.

The two Americans were reported riding in a Jaguar, believed to be the service car for an entry in the small sports car class of the race, to be driven by Jim Cassidy of El Paso.

The Harvesters own the best offensive record of the two teams but the Westerners own the best defensive mark.

Pampa has scored 181 points in her first eight games to 146 for Lubbock. But the Westerners have yielded 134 points to her opponents while the Harvesters have given up 188.

The Harvesters, who have been outwighed in virtually every game they have played this fall, will again give away weight in tomorrow's meeting with Lubbock.

But never before this season have the Harvesters been so outwighed as they will be tomorrow. The Westerner line will scale in at a 188-pound per man average to 171 for the Harvesters.

And in the backfield, the Westerners average 175 to 156 for the Harvesters. The overall team weight average per man shows Lubbock with 182 to 145 for the Harvesters, a 17-pound per man advantage for the Westerners.

Neef Out

Jerry Neef, scrapping guard for the Harvesters, will miss tomorrow's game. Neef is suffering from a virus infection.

Otherwise all Harvesters who bulled up against the Odessa Bronco last week will be available for duty tomorrow.

Bill Fullenwider, who returned to action for the first time in a month in last week's game, is currently nursing a sprained ankle but is expected to play at least part time tomorrow.

The offensive starting lineups for the two teams are shown above. Defensively the Harvester starting lineup will run like this: Ends—Bill Culpepper, 195, and Jon Cantrell, 195.
Tackles—Ben Sturgeon, 206, and Ed Strickland, 187.
Guards—Ray Bonsal, 160, and John Claunch, 160.
Linebackers—J. R. Cross, 160, and Bobby Davis, 150.
Backfield—Harold Lewis, 118, Carl Blonkyst, 150; and Marlan Boyle, 150.

Speed Duel Seen

Tomorrow's game will pit two of the fastest runners in the district, Lewis of the Harvesters and Harber of the Westerners. Both have faced each other several times in 100-yard dashes in track meets with Harber holding an edge in the cinder meets.

Lubbock boasts the fastest backfield in the district, if not the state.

The Harvesters haven't beaten Lubbock since 1950 when the Green and Golders recorded a 27-20 win. Lubbock has won every game between the two clubs since the organization of District 1-AAAA.

Harvester coach Aubra Noonecaster may miss tomorrow's game. Noonecaster has been ordered by his physician to take a rest from his football duties and it was believed today that Noon wouldn't

TENSE MOMENT

This picture was snapped during the annual roundup of buffalo on the government-owned Fort Huachuca reserve, 85 miles south of Tucson, Ariz. At first glance all seems peaceful. But actually it's a tense moment, filled with danger. The buffalo have ranged unattended all year. As a result they are quite wild. It's risky for Game Warden M. S. McNeil to get that close to the beasts. The horse is tense, as he eyes the big bull eyeing him. In a similar situation, a few days later, this horse was badly gored and had to be destroyed.

CHICAGO — UP — Beds will be bigger than ever, Edward L. Bronstein, president of the National Association of Bedding Manufacturers, said recently. Bigger beds are needed because people are bigger, Bronstein said. The number of men six feet tall and over has increased 70 per cent since World War I, he said.

Accused Officer Wins Praise
From Officers And Non-Coms

AUGUSTA, Ga., Nov. 19 — UP — Superior officers, training non-coms who worked with a second lieutenant charged with brutality Thursday defended his stern disciplinary measures before a general court martial board and described the accused as a "fine outstanding officer."

Lt. Charles C. Anderson of St. Louis, who is on trial on 17 counts of humiliating and harassing trainees at Camp Gordon, Ga., heard two colonels, a major, four sergeants and a private testify that his training methods got his company "on the ball."

Maj. Ernest D. Snyder, training battalion executive officer, said that before Anderson arrived, a company was filthy. However, he said, following Anderson's arrival, an inspection revealed that a company "was on the ball, filled with esprit de corps, and the best in the battalion."

Snyder described Anderson as "fine, outstanding officer." A company platoon sergeant,

Sgt. Ike Castellaw, said the company was sub-standard before Anderson arrived, and the "best company I've seen" after he took command.

Sgt. Heyward Wallace, who scuffed over a rifle with a trainee that Anderson had strung up by his ankles, said that the trainee came at him with a stick "about the size of a baseball bat" during the struggle. Wallace said Anderson ordered the trainee three times to drop the stick before he ordered other trainees to hang him up by the ankles.

Col. James M. Bailey, chief of the psychiatry and neurology section of Camp Gordon, testified that he examined Anderson Nov. 12 and "found no evidence of any abnormal sadistic tendencies. I found him to be an intelligent, well motivated, well integrated individual."

'Cushiest' Job In Service Held
By Air Force Master Sergeant

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
—UP— My old friend Fred Miller admits, as the GI's like to say, that he "never had it so good." Fred is an Air Force master sergeant stationed here and a sort of human recruiting poster for a service career.

He and his lovely wife, Katherine, a brunette, are buying their own home. They get a carrots-and-steak allotment. They get something from the government for quarters, which more than pays for their payments on the cottage. And in about six years my pal Fred can retire on a lifetime pension and have enough in the bank to set himself up in business.

The master sergeant is a chauffeur for Maj. Gen. B. E. (Hungry) Gates. Our lad has been up in an aircraft only a couple of times since he has been in service.

"I'm a driver all right," he told me, "but I do my driving on the concrete. I wouldn't know a prop from a tail piece — except by sight."

Fred Miller has had a number of chances to go to officer candidate school and qualify for a commission. But he turned them all down because he's plenty satisfied with his present deal.

Look what he has. When Ferd and Katherine bought their house right off the base they paid only $1,500 down. As of now, their house and utilities cost only $65 a month. And from the government they take in $77.10 a month for "quarters" allowance.

The sergeant from Renova, Pa., also gets a monthly allowance from the Air Force for rations — that's military for groceries — plus his salary.

About the only entertainment the Millers need can be found on the base. If they want to storm up a dance on Saturday night, they go over to the non-commissioned-off-

Marijuana Cache
Found In Auto

SAN ANTONIO, Nov. 19 — UP — Police Thursday investigated an apparent dope ring, after finding 64 pounds of marijuana in a wrecked auto.

The marijuana, worth thousands of dollars at retail, was found in a car driven by Raul Navarro Hinojosa, 33, of McAllen, Tex., who was one of three persons killed in the wreck, near Devine, Tex., Tuesday night. Francisca Pacheco, 21, also of McAllen, who was riding with Hinojosa, and Benjamin R. Hokit, 26, of Moore, Tex., also were killed.

Highway Patrolman Bob Richardson, who found the marijuana, said there were also indications in the car that someone had been taking heroin injections.

Treasury Lauds
Aircraft Workers

FORT WORTH, Nov. 19 — UP — Workers of Fort Worth's Convair aircraft plant were lauded Thursday by a treasury official for setting a national $100 bond buying record among individual plants in the United States. Arthur E. Hill, assistant national director for savings bond sales of the Treasury Department, said an increase of 5,200 buyers at Convair earlier this year set a nationwide record. Hill presented Convair a copy of treasury department pennant.
