Sale Of Station KPAT Announced Saturday

Owner J. C. Daniels announced Saturday the sale of Radio Station KPAT to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Gordon, Pueblo, Colo., and Ralph E. Duncan, Indianapolis, Ind. Negotiations were begun only last Tuesday and climaxed Friday night, according to the new owners. The sale price was not made public pending approval of the sale by the Federal Communications Commission in Washington.

Spy Immunity Law To Test

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—UP—The Justice Department is ready to seek immunity from prosecution for an unidentified witness in an effort to obtain information about operations of wartime Soviet spy rings in this country, it was disclosed Saturday.

Justice Department sources said that Attorney General Herbert Brownell Jr. already has signed the necessary papers giving his aides in the internal security division authority to go before a federal judge to obtain the immunity guarantee.

His action was the first he has taken under the provisions of the recently enacted immunity law.

It was learned that the contemplated immunity grant was directly connected with the grand jury investigations underway for weeks here, in Camden, N. J., and San Francisco into charges that at least two Communist spy rings operated within the government during World War II.

Noted Fashion Designer Dies

PARIS, Nov. 13—UP—Fashion king Jacques Fath, who dictated the styles for millions of women throughout the world, died Saturday after a lengthy illness. He was 42.

For nearly 10 years the fun-loving Parisian socialite had shared the limelight with Christian Dior as one of the two best known and most important designers of women's clothes. His creations set the pace of serenity in the world capital of fashion.

His father wanted him to be an accountant, but Fath followed from childhood the urge to fashion that first was apparent when as a youth he began designing dresses for his sister's dolls. His death, brought mourning to the world of fashion and expressions of regret from even his bitterest competitors.

City To Pick Tax Advisers

City commissioners on Tuesday morning are scheduled to select a new tax advisory board, the group that each year delves into City Tax Collector Aubrey Jones' equalization records to become familiar with the tax situation.

City Mgr. Fred Brook Saturday pointed out that action on the new appointments had been carried over from last Tuesday's city commission meeting.

Usually—though not necessarily—the tax advisory board becomes the city's board of equalization in late March or early April when the new ROE is appointed by the commission.

On the tax advisory board and the board of equalization last year were H. E. (Doc) Schwartz, Gene Lewis and Bob Sidwell, Technical announcer, and Earl Davis, announcer. "We want to perform the finest service to the community we can," Gordon emphasized. "Our aim is to give Pampa fine listening."

The new owner has had 15 years experience in radio. He is now station manager of KCSJ, a Mutual affiliate in Pueblo, a post which he will resign in the near future. He has worked in various station capacities in Hevra, Mont, Newark, N. J., Springfield and Steubenville, Ohio, and his home town of Indianapolis. He attended Carnegie Tech, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Mrs. Gordon has been active in radio work during the 11½ years of her marriage. She will work side by side with her husband and take an active part in station operation.

The Gordons have two children, Greta Lind, 4, and Laurie, 2. Founded in 1950 KPAT first began operations in 1950 under the ownership of Daniels. The station operated until a few months ago in what is now the Medical and Surgical Clinic, 1701 N. Hobart. When that building was sold, KPAT moved into a new structure located west and south of there.

Until about two months ago Daniels was sole owner, when at that time he turned over a quarter working interest in the station divided between Terrell and Murphree and another quarter to Pierson.

ly. Schwartz never became a member of the ROE as he became ill just before the new one was sworn in. Joe Miller was selected to take his place.

Also on the Tuesday agenda, Brook said, was the setting of a bid date for major capital budget equipment that is non-automotive. Items on the list are a motor grader, street sweeper, air compressor and tapping machine. The commission Dec. 7 is expected to set a bid date for the automotive items: six sedans (three for police, one executive, one engineer and one water), three pickup trucks (one for street, one sanitation and one water), three dump trucks (street), one packer truck (sanitation) and one winch truck (street).

Mine Explosion Traps 15 In West Virginia

One Known Dead; Others Are Buried

FARMINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 13 -- UP -- A terrific explosion, followed by fire, rocked the big Jamison Coal & Coke Co. mine Saturday and 16 men were believed killed. One man working outside the mine entrance was killed by falling debris. Fifteen maintenance workers were trapped deep inside the mine by the blast.

District Director Clyde Riley of the United Mine Workers health and welfare fund said: "We assume that all 15 men still inside the mine were killed in the explosion."

The blast sent a huge mushroom-like cloud of black smoke belching up from the 545-foot deep main shaft, destroyed a large steel ventilating fan house and a newly-constructed mine portal, and severely damaged other outside buildings.

Cause Unknown The cause of the explosion was not determined immediately. The first known victim was Howard Jenkins, 38, father of four children employed as a lamp man. He was standing in the fan house when it was crumpled by the blast, and was killed by falling debris.

"It was just like a big push, and everything blew out," said assistant mine foreman Ed Capel, one of five men in another portion of the fan house. The men trapped an estimated 1½ miles inside the mine were members of a maintenance crew. The last regular shift of about 200 men left at 11 p. m. Friday. About 400 men are employed at the operation.

Smoke Billows Out Heavy smoke billowed out of the ventilating shaft about 300 yards above the portal hours after the explosion which occurred at 1:45 p. m. It indicated a major fire raged inside the mine. The dense smoke kept rescue teams from entering the main portal for 2½ hours. The rescue operations were being directed by William Berry, northern district inspector-at-large for the state mines department.

The mine is located in the heart of the northern West Virginia coal fields—only five miles from Monongah, scene of the nation's worst mine disaster. A total of 360 miners were killed by a coal dust explosion at Monongah on Dec. 6, 1907. The blast also occurred on the 45th anniversary of the worst mine disaster in Illinois history. On Nov. 13, 1909, 268 miners lost their lives (See EXPLOSION, Page 3)

George Cree, Jr., chairman of the chamber of commerce and reception, will give a report on proposed chamber resolution concerning the recent Federal Power Commission ruling fixing the price of natural gas at wellhead, Watson continued. A report will be read, he said, on the program and plans for the Canadian River Bridge, between Pampa and Perryton, and its dedication sometime in April.

Sid Patterson, a former Pampa man who sold the city commission on the Dempster Dumpster method of trash disposal, will show a film on the system and on Pampa, "shot" by Pampa's Earl McConnell. There are 24 prints of the film and they will be shown in the next three or four years over the United States.

The PLWV group will be on (See COMMITTEE, Page 3)

Russ Bid Rejected By U. S.

Soviets Had Asked 25-Nation Talks

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—UP—American officials late Saturday rejected Moscow's new bid for a 25-nation conference on European security as an insincere sabre-rattling propaganda effort to stall Western progress on rearming free Germany.

Officials who analyzed Soviet invitations for the proposed talks in Moscow or Paris on Nov. 29 expressed confidence that the Western powers would maintain a united front in turning down the Russian invitation.

The first U. S. formal answer will come Monday when President Eisenhower will send to Congress the Oct. 23 agreement to grant Germany its sovereignty and rearmament. This will be carried out within the Brussels Treaty Organization and the North Atlantic Treaty Organization.

American reaction in advance of Allied conferences on a formal reply—followed these general lines:

1. The Russians never expected that a meeting would be held on Nov. 29. It would be physically impossible to do the advance work for such a conference in two short weeks.

2. The Russians engaged in a bald effort in their note to frighten Europeans with the spectre of atomic war. They also raised the grim pictures of Hitlerism, heavy defense burdens, death and destruction for all Europe if the German rearmament program supported by the West goes into effect.

3. The Russians tried to appeal to the emotions of European peoples directly instead of to their governments as is the usual diplomatic (See RUSS, Page 3)

Thin Disguise Fails To Hide 'Novel Facts'

EL RENO, Okla., Nov. 13—UP—This crossroads town of 12,000 in central Oklahoma has been shaken by tornado, earthquakes and flood in the past two years, but a pretty little brunette named Nancy Morgan has outdone Mother Nature with the stroke of her pen.

Nancy, who once lived here under another name, has written a thinly-disguised autobiographical account of sordid family life and teenage sex and wine parties on the nearby North Canadian River.

The pocket-sized, paper-backed novel—"Somebody Loves Me"—went on sale at local magazine stands this week—and then the shock wave hit. El Reno residents find "El Nola" in the book an amazing twin.

Nearly 1,000 copies have been sold, and new copies are being snatched up as quickly as dealers get them in. It is a 35-cent Gold Medal Giant book published by Fawcett Publications, New York.

According to Nancy, who lived here briefly in the early 1930s and paid a return visit about two years ago, El Nola was a town where "sin and virtue were classified according to how rich you were."

"If you were rich, it wasn't sin," she wrote. "It was just mischief." The volume has drawn not only scandalized whispers but nods of appreciation from El Reno citizens.

One local minister said that in past years he has directed many sermons toward the author and her companions.

PAMPANS FIND THANKFULNESS, TRAGEDY ARE COMPANIONS

Three Pampans are both sad and glad today. Sad because they lost their dog, and glad because the wreck in which they were involved caused no injuries.

Mr. and Mrs. George Day and daughter, Mrs. Vernell Rogers, were returning last week from a trip to Fort Worth when their pickup truck was rammed from behind by another as they crossed Lakewood Bridge. The dog, riding in the truck bed, was hurled into the lake by the impact. The Days were unable to find their pet.

McCarthy Looses Guns On Watkins

MILWAUKEE, Nov. 13—UP—Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy Saturday accused Sen. Arthur Watkins (R-Utah) of the "most unusual, most cowardly thing I've heard of" for saying he would answer no future oral question by McCarthy or any other senator.

"If a man is chairman of a committee, he should be willing to answer for errors in his report," McCarthy said. "Otherwise he is miserably failing his duty as chairman."

"The most cowardly, most unheard of thing, I've heard of so far," McCarthy told newsmen.

"I expected he would be afraid to answer the questions, but didn't think he'd be stupid enough to make a public statement," he said.

Watkins said he would not interrupt his speeches to answer oral questions and only questions submitted in writing or posed in speeches by other senators would be answered.

"I can't use the gavel to silence McCarthy as he did in the censure committee hearings; but I can determine how I extend courtesies," Watkins said in Washington.

Saturday night, Watkins said in reply to McCarthy's remarks that "I'm not going to follow him around and reply to everything he says."

"My statement is self-explanatory. It is based on the rules of the Senate and I am going to follow them."

The Senator was in his home state for a testimonial dinner in his honor Saturday night. McCarthy pinned the Republican loss of the election on (1) mishandling of the farm situation and (2) "the jungle warfare our own party has been waging against those of us who have been exposing Communists."

Kansas City Hood Found Murdered

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 13—UP—The bullet-torn body of a Kansas City hoodlum was found last Saturday in an automobile parked on an east side street and police said "it has all the appearances of a spot killing."

The victim was identified by police as Frank Pace, about 35, whose latest known address was 3317 College in Kansas City. Detective Joe McCormick said the body was "lying face up on the floor of the back seat" of the automobile. The face was smeared with dried blood, indicating he had been dead "for several hours."

THE MARQUEE BY DICK KLEINER

That well-known shadowy figure, the traveler just returned from Europe, told this story about the British and their somewhat cool reaction to TV. When Sir Alexander Cadogan became chairman of the board of the BBC, he felt he really ought to have a TV set in his home. He never had one before. So he got one in a lovely Chinese Chippendale cabinet. Lady Cadogan decided the only place in their home where the set would fit in with the decor would be on the stair landing. And there it sits — rather difficult to watch, but in very good taste.

On one of Herb Shriner's shows, he talked about "take-home pay." One of his listeners, who should be a gag writer, wrote in to say that it's called that because that's the only place you can afford to go with it.

Buster Keaton, his deadpan face and all the rest of him, dropped around to New York to do a TV show — one of the CBS' "Best of Broadway" series. And he lingered just long enough to give his theories about the advantages of being a silent comic.

Not that he's always silent. He's done some talking parts — even a straight dramatic role in England — but it's the non-vocal work for which Keaton will always be remembered.

"But I don't like to call it pantomime," he says. "That always makes people think of French or Old English pantomime — you know, where you try to say something with gestures, like you're in love so you throw your hands over your heart."

"The stuff I do is simply action that doesn't require dialogue. Like one routine I've been doing since 1928 — it was in the last silent movie ever made — is the husband and wife coming home after a party. They're not exactly drunk, just so tired they can't do anything right."

"Well, I did that on TV once, and now every time I go on a TV show they want it again. I think I've done it seven times by now. This no-dialogue stuff is a welcome relief on television — everything else is noise, shouting and puns."

"I'd really like to have my own show. A situation comedy. It would be built around a straw-hat theater in California. I'd be the owner and be in the shows. One situation, we could use would be where we are presenting Lady Windermere's Fan, and I'd be all dressed up in a corset and dress and everything. Then the building inspector comes and says the place has termites, so we have to make repairs and do the show at the same time."

"Sir Adolphe, who has put all this into a book, 'Woman: Man's Equal?' has a few kind words for his own sex — very few."

He says there has never been a woman genius in music, literature, or art and even those women who have been "truly famous for conspicuous mental ability reveal some of the anatomical characteristics of the male."

He names George Eliot, Rosa Bonheur, Madame Blavatsky, Madame De Stael, George Sand, and "sexually intermediate" types.

Teacher Will Address Lions Citizen Class

Mrs. McHenry Lane, Pampa Junior High School instructor and wife of the junior high principal, speaks this week to the Pampa Lions Club Americanization Class on "The Purposes and Organization of State Governments." The class asked Mrs. Lane to teach the lesson after hearing of the work her students have done recently in this particular study, according to Homer Craig, course director. Mrs. Lane will speak at 8:30 p.m. Friday in the Sam Houston School.

City Mgr. Fred Brook is scheduled to speak the night of Nov. 26 to the class on "The Purposes and Organization of Local Governments," Craig continued. "The National Courts and their Work" was the subject handled Friday night with oral reading and discussion by the class members.

The present Americanization course will end Dec. 17 after which class members will gather for review lessons until their naturalization examinations in February.

School Board To Decide On Band Uniforms

The Pampa School Board will meet at 7:30 p.m. Monday in the school business office in City Hall to make a decision on the purchase of uniforms for the Harvest Band.

Schools Supt. Knox Kinard Saturday said the meeting was being held at night, instead of the usual 5 p.m., to give prospective bidders a chance to show their wares to the board.

Meeting Oct. 28, board members decided a white or "forest" green would be acceptable for the uniform color. An estimated 80-100 uniforms, plus those for a drum major and drum major, will be bought by the board.

The tab is expected to be more than $5,000. A year ago the board bought 100 uniforms for the junior high school at $5 plus splices. And these for the high school are expected to cost more.

Busybody Says Woman Is Man's Equal, Then Some

LONDON, Nov. 13 —UP—Sir Adolphe Abrahams, who set out to discover scientifically if woman is man's equal, came up Saturday with the answer. —She is—and then some.

Sir Adolphe, 71-year-old president of the British Association of Medicine and Sport and honorary adviser to the British Olympic teams since 1912, has this bad news for the male sex. "Woman's biological superiority is unquestioned. Despite certain handicaps her life expectancy exceeds man's."

"She is less susceptible to malignant growths. In women, the incidence of certain other diseases and disabilities is remarkably lower."

"Her moral courage is, in general, superior. And if the comparison is pertinent in this connection, as a criminal she is capable of conspicuous superiority."

"The most passionate women are more oversexed and the most undersexed are more frigid than the extremes in men."

The most chaste of wives may also be the most sensual, Sir Adolphe continued, with the clear implication that when a man is sensual he is not likely to be chaste. But, he adds consolingly

Accused Of Cruelty To Son

Jailed Man Denied Right To Attend Daughter's Funeral

EBENSBURG, Pa., Nov. 13—UP—William G. Bell, accused of scalding his son's feet until the skin "peeled off like stockings," pleaded from a jail cell Saturday to attend the funeral of his two-year-old daughter, who died of pneumonia after he denied her medical attention.

John B. McHugh, warden at Cambria county jail here, quoted the 27-year-old Korean war veteran as saying, "I want to go to my little girl's funeral today."

Bell, who supplements a $166 monthly service disability pension by peddling junk, was jailed Friday night in lieu of $100,000 bond.

Bell also was being investigated in connection with the death of his daughter, Ruth Ann, who died Wednesday after eating a slice of bread saturated with rat poison.

Bell's wife, Eileen, 28, said Ruth Ann became violently ill after eating a piece of poisoned bread she had picked up from the floor of the couple's ramshackle, three-room shack near here.

Whatever Binns says is okay, Binns said St. Claire admitted he and Hagler were plotting the fraud and that Hagler was supposed to "get a body from a morgue for $500."

Golden Kennedy, Oklahoma Crime Bureau agent, who helped question Kennedy, immediately declared that St. Claire had been quoted correctly about the $200,000 insurance fraud scheme.

Kenney also declared that authorities now believe the victim of the murder was a six-foot-tall blond-haired man with a flat-top haircut and a southern accent who was seen with Hagler only a few hours before the body was found in the burning station wagon.

Predicts Her Death

Mrs. Bell, with the help of a neighbor, took the child to a physician's office and later to a hospital, where Ruth Ann died an hour after being admitted.

The couple's three other children—the oldest only six—were turned over to juvenile authorities. Two were suffering from malnutrition.

Bailey warned, however, that Einstein must pay $1 a month dues if he wants to keep his card active.

AROUND THE WORLD

MARIAN YEAR PATTERN—The Polo Grounds in New York became the scene of a formation of a rosary when 1300 children took part in a rehearsal for a Marian Year pilgrimage celebration. The Family Pilgrimage in honor of Our Lady, Queen of Mothers, was held under the auspices of the New York Archdiocesan Union of the Holy Name Society.

AIDING FLOOD VICTIMS—Natives of a small village near San Pedro Sula, the second largest city in Honduras, wade and swim through flood waters to pick up food and purified water being dropped to them from a U.S. Army helicopter. Joint Army-Navy-Air Force rescue operations of the Caribbean Command brought supplies in this manner to thousands of flood victims.

SHE'S HAPPY—Italian actress Gina Lollobrigida was all smiles when she received the first Humanities Award from Marco Brioschi, president of the Greater New York Italo-American Industries Organization. The lovely star got it in Manhattan for "outstanding contribution to better Italo-American relations."

OVERSIZE—And a good thing that it's not real, for this giant scale model of a monstrous housefly is complete in all details. It's on display with others like it at the American Museum of Natural History in New York, and seven-year-old Derace Schaffer can hardly believe his eyes.

KEEPING IN STEP—Rose Heilbron, the only woman in the Queen's Council in London, takes part in the procession from Westminster Abbey following a service held to mark the opening of the judicial year. Apparently Miss Heilbron has taken advantage of the traditional design of the Council shoe and buckle and has come up with a stylish pair of lady councillor shoes to wear on such splendid occasions.

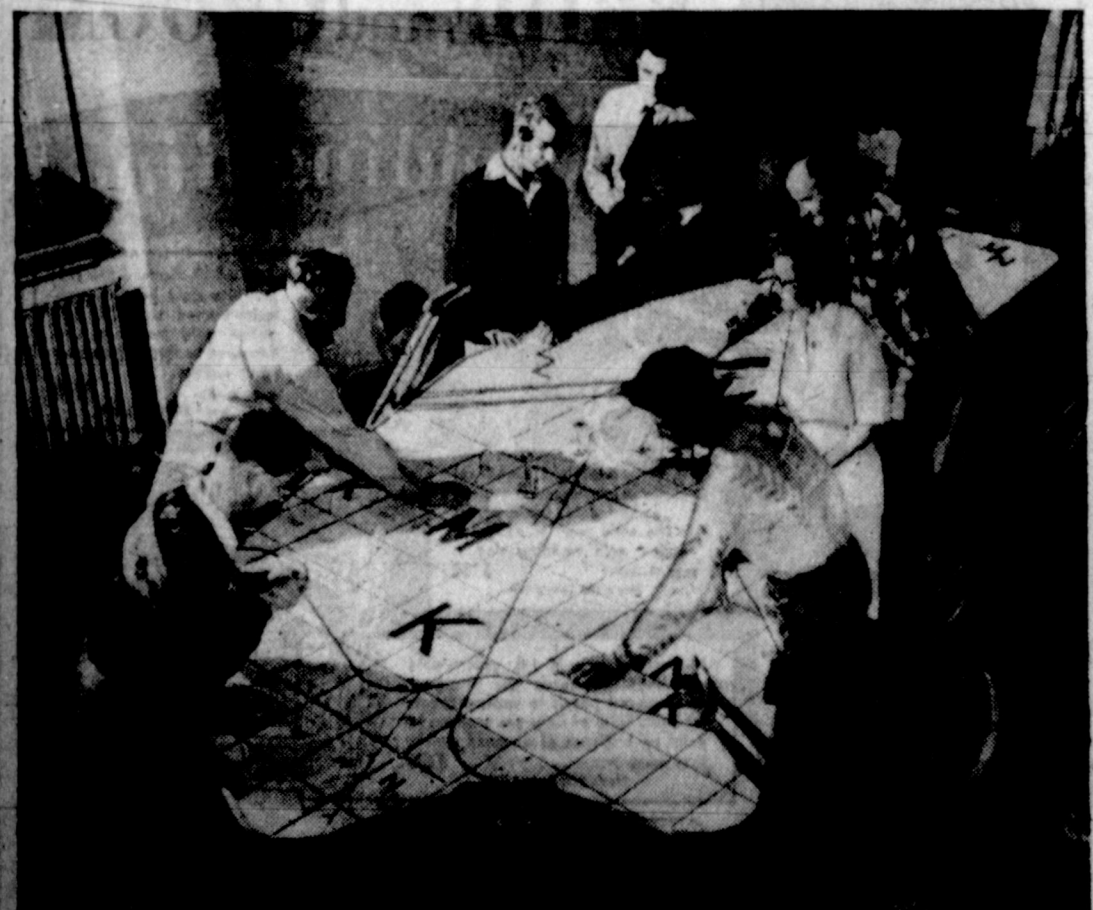

RED GLITTER—Embroidery, glitter and shirring enhance the shapely appeal of this scarlet latex swim suit worn by lovely model Doris Drake in Miami Beach. It's one of the new fall resort fashions to emanate from that resort city.

A CHANGE IN DIET—Two large monkey-eating eagles, imported from the Philippines, are giving the jitters to nearby simians at the zoo in Washington, D. C. Zoo officials say, however, that the eagles will get only horsemeat while roosting in their new home. The handsome birds are of a type very rarely exhibited in the U. S.

IT'S A RARE SIGHT—Bleached and gaunt, tree trunks of a long-submerged forest stand here for the first time since they were flooded in the 1920s to form lakes for a power project near Monticello, Ind. Sunken boats, outboard motors and plenty of fishing tackle were exposed along with the trees when the lakes were drained for dam repairs.

FITTING IN—Civil Defense authorities have found many physically handicapped persons invaluable as volunteer workers. Here, a group of them with crutches and canes in evidence work as air raid spotters around a plotting board at an Oakland, Calif., Air Force air raid warning filter center. They're better workers than many people without any handicap.

AUTUMN SCENE—A line of trees along Lake Calhoun in Minneapolis, Minn., stands out in vivid contrast to the dark sky as the summer sunshine fades into the chill of autumn. Not too long from now, they'll be covered with snow and, perhaps, a coating of ice.

GOING TO WORK—A whirlybird is shown being loaded onto a cargo plane in Miami to be flown south for health's sake. Part of a shipment of 11, the machine was sent to Barranquilla, Colombia, to be operated by the Colombian Air Force for the country's Ministry of Public Health. They'll transport patients and medicines to and from remote areas there.

Three Miami Youths To Be Awarded Eagle Badge Monday

MIAMI — (Special) — Three Miami Boy Scouts will be awarded Eagle Badges at a Scout Court of Honor Monday night in the First Christian Church. They are James T. Cunningham, Bill Ed O'Loughlin and Ronnie Gill.

James Cunningham James T., who will be 14 this month, known to everyone as Toby, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cunningham, of Miami. He served one year as den chief and at the same time was assistant patrol leader. He was next patrol leader, and is now senior patrol leader. Toby was one of 50,000 boys who went to the National Boy Scout Jamboree at Santa Ana, Calif. in July, 1953.

He was chosen for the Order of the Arrow at Camp Ki-o-wah in June. He has not missed a camping trip since he joined scouting in 1951. Toby finished his work on the God and Country Award in the Methodist Church Nov. 1, and will receive that award in about two weeks. He has a four-year perfect-attendance record in Sunday school. Toby has been a Pampa Daily News carrier in Miami the past two years.

Ed O'Loughlin Bill Ed who will be 14 in May, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. O'Loughlin, of Miami. He is a den chief this year and has been assistant patrol leader, and is now patrol leader. He has five more merit badges than the required twenty-one for the Eagle award.

He is now working on his God and Country Award in the Methodist Church.

Ronnie Gill Ronnie will be 14 in March, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Herchel Gill, of Miami. He served one year as den chief, was assistant patrol leader, patrol leader and is now serving as scribe. He also attended the National Scout Jamboree in 1953. He was chosen for the Order of the Arrow at Camp Ki-o-wah in 1953, and went into the Brotherhood of the Arrow at camp Jamboree at Santa Ana, Calif. in this past summer.

Ronnie is active in 4-H work, having won first and second place in the county on the two calves he fed out. He is now working on his God and Country Award in the Methodist Church, and has a three-year perfect-attendance record in Sunday school.

These three boys are in the eighth grade, of which Toby is class president.

Loron Grantham is Scoutmaster of Troop 79.

County Payroll Up Over 1953

The crude oil and natural gas payroll in Gray County increased in the first quarter of the year, but for wholesale and retail trade it went down.

The grand payroll total, however, for all firms and companies paying unemployment tax and which employ eight or more persons went up, according to a report received from the Texas Employment Commission by Bill Ragsdale, local TEC manager.

Total payroll in the county was $5,618,059.83 January through March of this year, Ragsdale said. The year before it was $5,407,936.33 and in 1952 it was $4,652,053.33.

This year the oil and gas payroll in the first three months totaled $2,082,984.05. A year ago it was $1,764,807.47. Wholesale and retail trade in 1954's first three months had a total payroll of $590,439.71; in 1953 it was $773,887.70 and a year before it was $752,572.87.

These industries are only two of the many in the report. Ragsdale does not receive such a report for any but the first quarter of the year.

Santa To Make Visit By Airplane

Santa Claus, in view of his present day need for speed, will dispense this year with his reindeers and descend on Pampa by airplane Dec. 3 after circling the town a few times.

His presence will be seen shortly thereafter in the line of march atop a fire truck in the Christmas parade scheduled to begin at 3:30 p. m.

The parade route will move east from W. Browning to Cuyler, then to Brown, and turn left, where the parade will break up.

Santa will then return to the Courthouse lawn where he will visit with all his little friends. Santa's helpers will set up shop in the Courthouse corridor and distribute sacks of candy to all the youngsters. Christmas carols will be sung by school-age children on the lawn.

Floats in the parade will be based on two themes, the Nativity and the Santa Claus.

There will be three contests in the children's division: Costumes based on Mother Goose, comic book or other comic characters — $15, $10, and $5 awards; Pet Section, with same three awards; and decorated bicycles with a $10, $5 and $2.50 award.

TV 'Temperament' Extends To Animal

By JACK GAVER
NEW YORK, Nov. 13—UP—Television directors not only have to contend with temperamental human actors at times, but also with animals which have their own ideas about what they should do before the camera.

Ralph Nelson, producer-director of the CBS "Mama" program and "Circle Theater" on NBC, recently ran into horse trouble on the latter show. The animal was supposed to be led over a small bridge, but first rehearsal efforts demonstrated that the horse didn't want to make the trip.

The director fell back on some elementary psychology. At the end of the bridge, out of camera range he set up a large brightly colored card. Behind the card was a lump of sugar. After considerable effort the horse was convinced that successful completion of the bridge trip to the card meant a lump of sugar, and there was no more trouble.

TV Disc Jockey Moves

Paul Dixon, a pioneering disc jockey in television, will begin doing his popular afternoon program from New York beginning Monday. He still will be on the Dumont network Monday through Friday, but he has abandoned his old base in Cincinnati.

Dixon established a regional reputation on a Cincinnati TV station several years before he went on the Dumont network two years ago.

Radio Listening Near High

John Karol, vice president in charge of network sales for CBS radio, told the annual meeting of the Association of National Advertisers that radio listening in this country in 1954 is at a rate of 927 million family hours a week. He added that the figure is only slightly less than the rate in 1948 before the full impact of television was felt.

A Favorite Dummy Returns

NBC-TV has good news for those who have been missing regular appearances by Paul Winchell and his dummy friend, Jerry Mahoney, this season.

The pair will take over a half-hour spot on the network beginning Nov. 20. Saturday mornings may not be ideal to get the adult audience, but still there are a lot of grown ups these days who do not have to work on Saturdays, so the kids won't get all the fun of having Paul and Jerry and Knucklehead Smiff back on the air every week.

Last Minute Changes

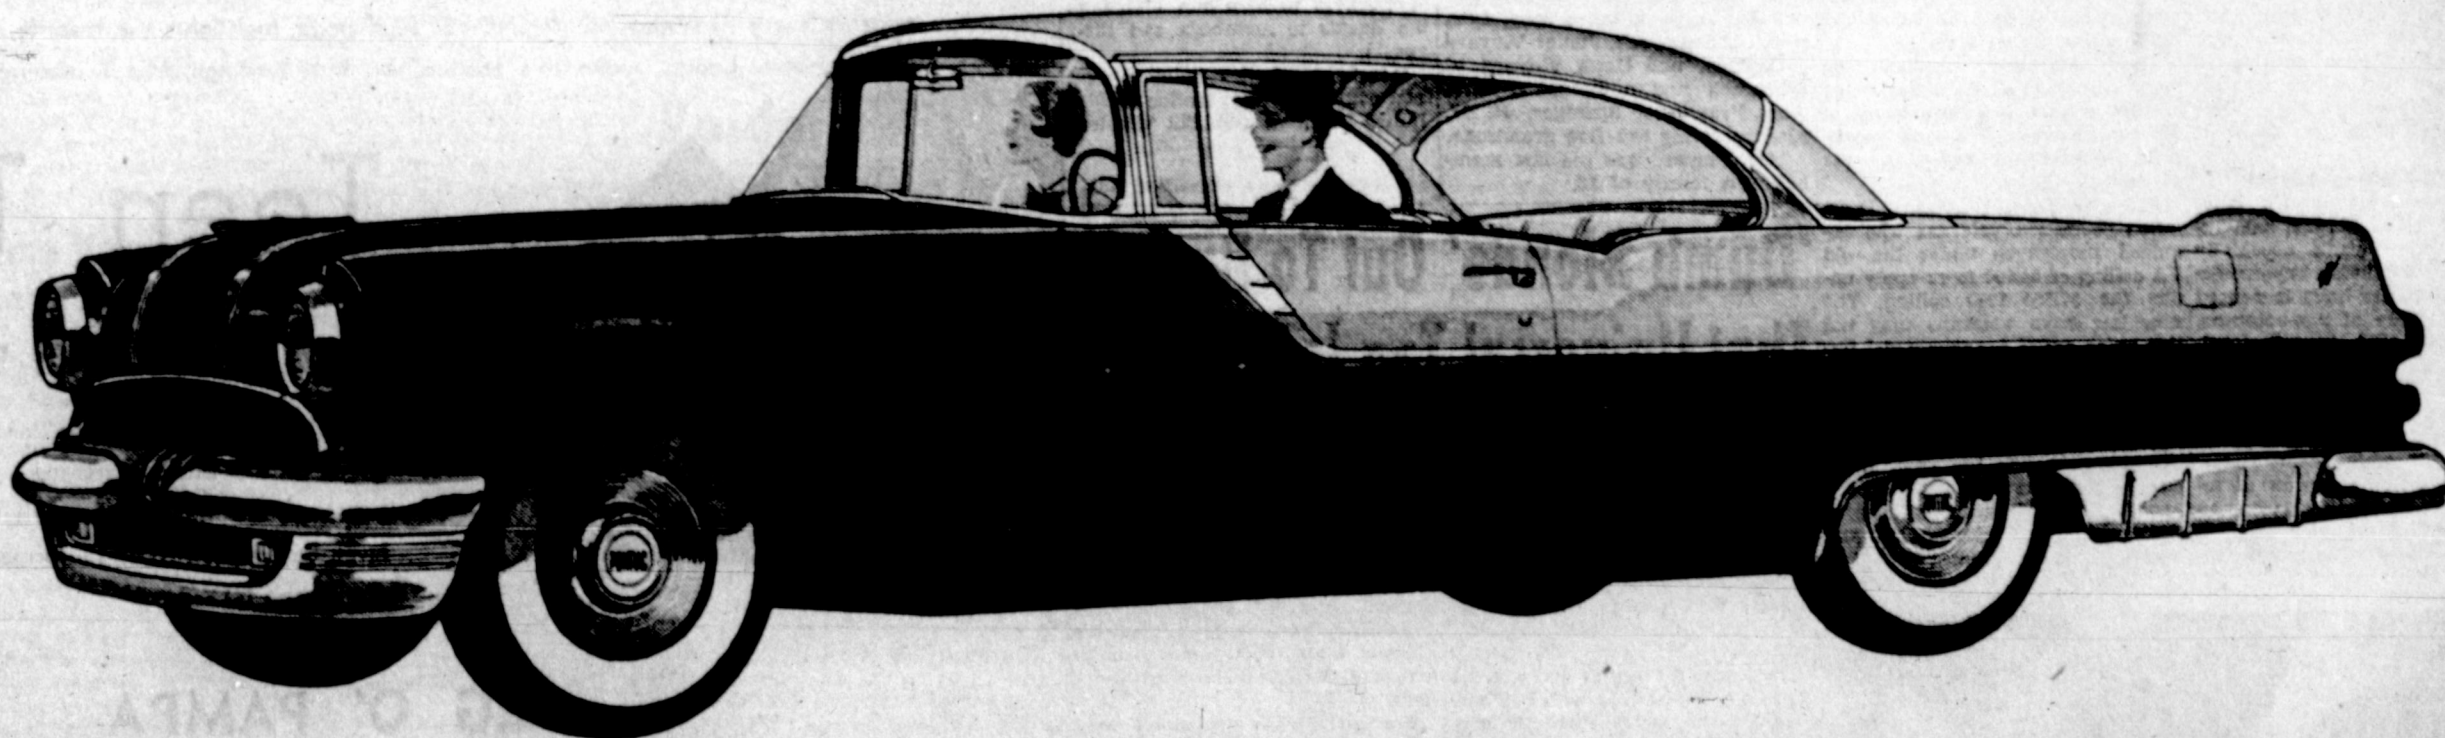

The script of "State of the Union," a 90-minute drama "spectacular" on NBC Monday, won't be in final form until about 10 minutes before air time.

This is no indication of crisis, merely that Howard Lindsay and Russell Crouse, the authors, are following for TV the same technique of keeping abreast of the news which they employed when the play was a stage hit several years ago.

It is a political play, and during the stage run there were script revisions before every performance to get in mention of the latest news events. In preparing the TV version, the authors went out on a limb and revised it with the idea that the Nov. 2 elections would put the Democrats back in control of Congress. Luckily for them and their actors, their guess was correct. Otherwise, the whole script would have had to be done over.

47th Year New Wheeler Well Flows

SHAMROCK — (Special) — A new oil well began pumping last week end in Wheeler County. The well is the Hal W. Vaughn-Tindall No. 1 — 1,960 ft. from the north line and 330 ft. from the east line of Section 5, Block A-5, H&GN Survey.

The well which the producer, Hal W. Vaughn, describes as "a pretty good one," was drilled in Sunday afternoon, one mile west of Twitty.

Last week was spent in running electric lines to the site and installing tanks. It was drilled by Colvin and Colvin. The well was bottomed at 2,227 feet in a granite wash and most of the production is from a dolomite formation.

The pay sand measures 26 feet and oil rose 800 feet in the hole. No plans have been made to San Frac the well, a process which has increased the production of many old and new oil and gas wells in this area in the past two years.

The well is 800 feet west of another producer — the Pendleton & Vaughn — Krey No. 1, which has been in production for some 20 years. The Krey well was sand-fraced about three months ago and recently pumped 104 barrels in 36 hours. The well will normally produce about 70 barrels per day since it was sandfraced, Vaughn said. The Tindall well is 1,320 feet from a hole that was declared dry and abandoned a few months ago. It is 600 feet from the old Skelly well which was produced for a few years and abandoned because of inadequate production.

Vaughn stated that he planned further drilling activity in the future if the new well lives up to present expectations.

He was formerly active in the Junior Chamber of Commerce and held state and national position in that civic organization. At one time he was named "Young Man of the Year," through his accomplishments in JayCee activities.

The banquet will start at 7:30 p. m. in the National Guard Armory. The banquet and program will be open to all Chamber of Commerce members and guests, according to Chamber of Commerce Manager Robert Laycock. Tickets for the banquet will go on sale Monday, Nov. 15, at the chamber of commerce office and the W. H. 'Dumb Blonde' Out To Prove That Universal Tag Is Wrong

NEW YORK, Nov. 13—UP—Blondes are bright, there's just no getting around it, as any doubter can deduce by counting the growing number of blonde business successes.

Take the case of Lillian Randall, a blonde from Fort Worth who came here a number of years back to be a fashion model.

There are plenty of people around who'll tell you that a girl's IQ has nothing to do with her success, in this field. Show them a beautiful blonde model, they'll say and they'll show you a girl who thinks the EDC is a new cure for the common cold. That is folk lore. The only reason more people aren't aware the legend of dumb blondes is a myth is that blondes are too bright to say so.

But back to today's example. Miss Randall made a couple of observations while she was paying the rent as a model.

Men like personalized accessories, she noticed around some of the town's better clubs. You know, the subtle monogram on the $2 linen handkerchief, and the small block initials below the pocket of the white shirt.

Also, women buy most of these accessories for men. Now you have to admit that neither of these conclusions is exactly startling. But it takes a smart girl to put two commonplace behavior patterns together and make money for herself.

The third necessary ingredient Miss Randall already had — a knack for painting on fabric. The result?

She is in the necktie business besides being a fur coat model. With the money she makes painting neckties for women to give their best fellas, she can buy herself some of the merchandise she models.

Now business is so good Lillian hires other painters to keep up with the orders. She mixes pleasure with business, and when she's out dining and dancing at the plush night spots, she usually manages to take a few necktie orders. For girls who are afraid they didn't make a very lasting first impression on a new man, this blonde suggests her phone number necktie. It's a handsome silk foulard fabric in navy, maroon or dark brown with a single graceful design at the bottom — the girl's phone number.

"It works sometimes," Miss Randall said modestly, arraying her professional-looking sample catalogue on a table.

More secure girls send initialed neckties. The man's initials, that is.

"Most men like initials if they aren't gaudy," Lillian explained. "All men like something personalized."

She also does huge necktie collections for various companies to send customers or give away to friends. She's painted smoked sausagees, cigarette packages, book covers and soft drink bottles on neckties, always with an eye to making the tie handsome enough to please a conservative man.

Members of the U. S. Walker cup golf team have Randall-designed neckties. So does President Eisenhower. Mighty clever, these beautiful blondes.

Holdover members, in addition to Frye, Teegerstrom and Sanders, are Roy Scrivner, Bill Clayton and Curtis Chasteen.

Central Baptist To Build New Church

The Central Baptist Church recently voted approval of building plans which include the construction of a new auditorium and the remodeling of the present auditorium into an educational building.

The new auditorium, planned to seat 842 persons, will be built on the vacant lot just east of the present auditorium, 513 E. Francis. Both the auditorium and the educational building will be air conditioned throughout.

The new auditorium will be of brick and hollow tile construction. The entrance will be three steps above ground level. Offices for pastor, secretary and educational director will be located at the back of the auditorium. Sunday school classrooms will be located on the second floor, above the offices.

The present auditorium of the church will be made into two floors for educational space. Five nurseries and two beginner departments will be provided on the first floor, and departments for intermediates and seniors will be provided on the second floor.

When the remodeling and new building is completed, the church will be able to provide for some 1200 in Sunday school, with a department for each year through the intermediate age, two departments for young people and three for adults.

It is expected that construction on the new auditorium will begin early next year. Estimated cost of the project is approximately $150,000.

ing applications but processing is awaiting Defense Department and Armed Services action to set up their phase of the program. This may be completed in a few days.

FHA Washington headquarters reports the idea is going over big with men in service. It permits men on active duty to apply for insurance on mortgages up to $17,100 with the FHA standing behind 95 per cent of it. This is better than the FHA guarantee on non-GI mortgage insurance.

The new GI program also provides for payment of the one-half per cent mortgage insurance premium to FHA by the Defense Department as long as the buyer is in service.

Under the requirements, the serviceman must get from his commanding officer a certification of more than two years service, and must occupy the house he buys unless transferred.

The VA's new emphasis on loans to repair or improve homes results in part from provisions of the new housing law, and partly from independent action by the agency.

Previous federal housing legislation permitted veterans who acquired mortgages under the old VA ceiling of $4,000 to re-apply under the $7,500 1950 ceiling. The new law says veterans may use this extra credit for repair and improvement if they want to.

Thus far the VA's repair-and-improvement loan guarantee program has backed 28,000 loans. The program has not been pushed and lenders have not been keen about such loans because of the required low-interest-rate and long-term specifications.

New Housing Benefits Due Servicemen And Veterans

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—UP—New housing benefits for servicemen and veterans:

The Federal Housing Administration soon will begin a program of insuring mortgages on GI homes.

The Veterans Administration is giving a new boost to its current program of insuring loans for home repairs and improvements.

These are in addition to continuing VA programs, including guarantees for veterans' home mortgages and direct loans for ex-servicemen who cannot get private loans on terms as good as those of the VA.

Biggest of these is the VA's mortgage guarantee program for veterans of World War II and veterans who entered the service after the start of the Korean conflict.

There is a boom in such housing, as in all private housing now. Applications for insurance on new mortgages have been pouring in at near-record volume for months. October applications were more than double those of October, 1953.

Potential Home Buyers

The Labor Department's chief statistician, Evan Clague, said recently veterans rank especially high as potential home buyers. He said their incomes have increased more than those of non-veterans.

Clague estimated some five million veterans will use VA home loan guarantee benefits during the next three years in addition to 3.5 million who have already benefited.

The FHA's new program of insuring home loans to servicemen is a product of the new housing law. FHA offices already are tak-

Inspired Harvesters Stun Odessa With 28-14 Victory

Ball Control Play Throttles Broncs

By BUCK FRANCIS
Pampa News Sports Editor

ODESSA, Nov. 13 — An inspired bunch of Fighting Pampa Harvesters rose up here this bright sunny afternoon to smack down the favored Odessa Bronchos in a grueling District 1-AAAA grid contest, 28-14, before an estimated 10,000 fans.

The Harvester victory was no fluke although it stunned a partisan crowd of Broncho rooters. The Green and Golders, playing heads up ball throughout the game, were never behind in today's clash but Odessa did pull even with the Pampanos on two occasions at 7-7 and 14-14.

But the Harvesters were not to be denied as they broke the 14-14 deadlock early in the fourth quarter and then added another TD late in the game for good measure.

The Harvesters dominated the statistics, netting 297 yards on the ground to 276 for Odessa and adding 61 yards through the air to 26 for the Broncs. In first downs, the Harvesters held a distinct edge, 24-11.

Ability to control the ball was another big factor in the Pampa triumph. The Harvesters got off 82 plays from scrimmage to only 51 for the Broncs.

In the final quarter when the Broncs wanted the ball so badly, recovered an Odessa fumble on the Pampa 28.

The drive consumed 11 plays, 17 yards from the keeper play. After two plays netted three yards, Sharp hit end Marion Stone for a 12-yard gain to Odessa's 40.

The drive bogged momentarily as three plays gained only three yards but Sharp connected with end Bill Culpepper for a 14-yard pass gain and a first down on Odessa's 23. Lewis then carried the remaining distance the next three plays on gains of 2, 14 and seven yards.

Stone, who ran his conversion streak to 15 straight without a miss, booted the point for a 7-0 lead which is the way the first quarter ended.

Odessa tied the score early in the second when Dick Stice sliced through from the Harvester nine for six points, climaxing a 69-yard march. A 33-yard run by Leroy Scott featured the Odessa drive. Ray Stoker converted to knot the count at 7-7.

An Odessa fumble on their own 40 set up the second Harvester touchdown. Strickland made the recovery of the Broncho fumble and the Pampanos marched to a touchdown in six plays. A Sharp to Stone pass combination set up a 22 of the 49 yard drive. Lewis climaxed the drive by driving over from the two. Stone booted for a 14-7 Pampa lead.

A blocked punt late in the first half enabled Odessa to tie the score before the intermission. End Russell Rumbaugh of the Bronchos broke through to block Sharp's attempted punt and Odessa took over on Pampa's 25. Tyler, on a keeper, sped the 25 yards on the ensuing play for the final Odessa TD with 2:32 minutes left in the second period. Stoker made it 14-14 and that's the way it stood at halftime.

Neither team scored in the third quarter. Odessa, with the wind to their backs, made the only serious threat in the third. They drove to the Harvester 14 but Blonkvist broke up the drive by intercepting Tyler's pass on the two and returning it 16 yards to the 18.

The Harvesters assumed command early in the fourth and they won coming away. The Harvesters started their winning touchdown drive in the third quarter and completed in the fourth as they covered 72 yards to go ahead. A 20-yard run by Lewis and a 14-yarder run by Gene Emerson featured the scoring drive. Boyle, on a fourth down try, drove through the middle from the Odessa two for the TD, 2:30 minutes deep in the final period. Stone converted and it was 21-14.

Odessa came right back, in threaten when they reached the Harvester 15 but a 15-yard roughing penalty shoved Odessa back to the 30 and the Broncs could get no further than the 22 before the Harvesters took over.

And the fired-up Harvesters took the ball at this point and drove 73 yards for their game-clinching touchdown and ending up just about all the time they was left.

Mauldin, who climaxed the drive on a four-yard run, figured heavily in moving the ball downfield. Mauldin carried four times for 28 yards on the drive. Stone again converted to complete the day's scoring. The Harvesters surging to a 28-14 lead with 2:55 minutes left in the game.

It was the second Harvester win over Odessa in four starts since district 1-AAAA has been in operation.

Score by periods:
Pampa 7 7 0 14—28
Odessa 0 14 0 0—14
Scoring: Touchdowns—Pampa: Lewis 2, Boyle, Mauldin. Odessa: Stice, Tyler. PAT—Pampa: Stone 4. Odessa: Stoker 2.

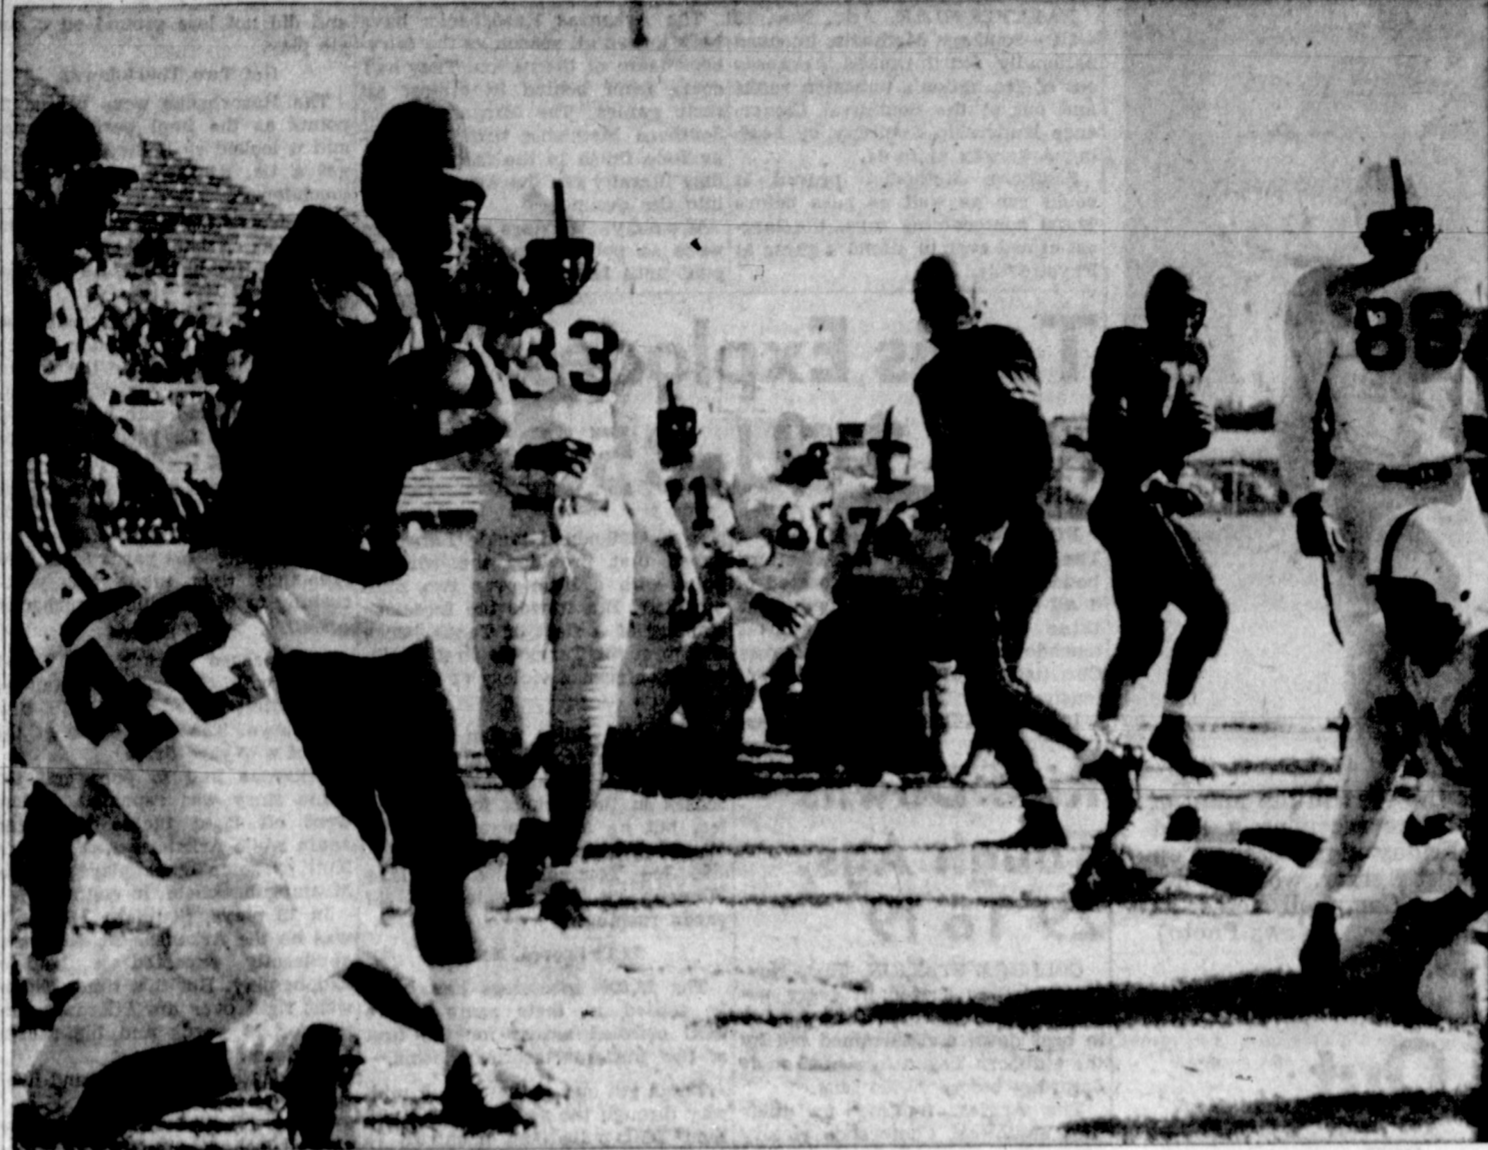

Florida Blanks Tennessee, 14-0

KNOXVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 13 — UP—Florida bounced back from last week's defeat to knock over Tennessee 14 to 0 Saturday with substitute quarterback Dick Allen passing for both touchdowns and adding the extra points.

Florida lost a 14 to 13 heartbreaker to Georgia last week, but it was another day.

Allen came in for Bobby Lane in the last minutes of the second quarter and connected on three attempts out of five for a total of 36 yards. He previously had connected on 19 out of 45 efforts for 30 yards and two touchdowns this season.

He gave the Gators their first win over the Vols in this 11th game of a series dating back to 1916.

PAMPA'S FIRST TOUCHDOWN — Harold Lewis, who gained 130 yards against Odessa Saturday, races across the goal early in the first quarter to score Pampa's first touchdown in the 28-14 upset victory. Defensive back Bill Fewin (42) grabs Lewis, but too late. Some of the Bronco players appear a bit bewildered. Other Pampa players are Marion Stone (85) John Watson (56) and Ed Strickland (73). For Odessa Dale DeHart (33), Monte Reed (88) and Melvin McLendon (70) things looked rough. (Odessa American Photo)

Much has been said in the last year or so concerning the so-called "over emphasis of sports" in various phases of community life.

Usually it has to do with the role of athletics in college or high school.

There is no question but that athletics can be over-emphasized, but there is a definite question about the many claims on this score.

People who have had experience with athletics of one type or another have found the participation in athletics by youngsters is a definite aid to the development of their personalities.

This, of course, can work to the subsequent advantage or disadvantage to the individual when the boy becomes a grown man.

And so it is with any activity the boy undertakes. So it seems that an indictment against sports for over emphasis is a bit out of line.

To indulge in any activity to extreme should bring the same unfavorable comment.

Sports provides an outlet for emotion. It provides activity to utilize the ever-growing leisure time seems to be the biggest problem in the US today. But most of all, it provides youngsters with a vehicle to exercise that good old American idea of competition, and if they learn to appreciate that when they are young, they will make good citizens as they grow into manhood.

CONGRATULATIONS are certainly due the Pampa Harvesters after their terrific victory over Odessa Saturday afternoon. I had picked them to lose, and I am happy to be wrong.

The midnight rally-reception which, at this writing, is being planned by students, is an outstanding example of spirit. Few athletic teams are blessed with the support given the Harvesters.

The setup of conference championships for the various Bowl Games has lousied up a good deal in my book.

The fact that the champions get to play in the New Year's Day classic is good, but when they add the clause that prevents a team from repeating, they have killed the whole idea.

Fortunately, the Southwest Conference has no such stipulation. The champ in the SWC plays in the Cotton Bowl every year, no matter how many times the team has played here in the past.

THE ROSE BOWL this year will be a classic example of the unfortunate feature of the rule.

UCLA's powerful team will not be eligible for Rose Bowl competition this year.

The nod will, more than likely go to USC. Southern Cal has a good outfit, but they will probably lose to UCLA next week. They were beaten earlier this year by TCU.

So the Rose Bowl representative from the Pacific Coast Conference will have been a victim of the Southwest Conference's fourth or fifth place ball club — maybe TCU will wind up sixth. TCU has lost to Oklahoma, Arkansas, Baylor and Texas.

Oklahoma will also be ineligible for a bowl contest because the Sooners played last year in the Orange Bowl.

So, second rate clubs will play in the Rose and Orange bowl games. But, because the leagues have ruled that the conference can be represented in only one bowl game neither UCLA nor Oklahoma can go elsewhere to play.

THAT MEANS that the Sugar Bowl and the Cotton Bowl have to scrounge around for opposition for the champs of the SWC and the Southeast Conference.

SMU or Arkansas in the Cotton Bowl and Mississippi or Georgia Tech in the Sugar Bowl will be hurting for foes. What will probably happen will be that the two leagues will swap foes.

One thing you can probably bet is that the Sugar Bowl will not pull the deal it did last year with its mismatch of Georgia Tech and West Virginia. The Cotton Bowl was equally mismatched last year in the Rice-Alabama contest which Rice won 28 to 6.

It would be an interesting development to see the matching of SMU and Mississippi and Arkansas and Georgia Tech.

That could very well happen provided these four principals continue to play the football that is expected of them.

Hunters Urged To Save Hides

AUSTIN, Nov. 13 — UP — Texas deer hunters were urged Saturday to save their buckskins for use by tubercular patients in state hospitals.

Mrs. Mary Alice Coombs, occupational therapy director for the hospital system, said buckskins provided in this way last year are now being made into Christmas gifts patients are making for their families at home.

The collection is sponsored by the volunteer advisory council for state tubercular hospitals. Mrs. Helen Smith, Austin, is council chairman.

She pointed out the hides should be lightly salted, marked "charity," addressed to the Austin Taxidermist Studio, 2708 South Lamar, Austin, and shipped by motor freight.

Mrs. Smith said if this procedure is followed, "most of the motor freight lines in Texas will transport the hides free of charge."

Dukes Get 28-21 Win Over Deacs

WAKE FOREST, N. C., Nov. 13 — UP — Take-charge guy Jerry Barger showed the way and his understudy took the cue as Duke struck for three swift second-half touchdowns Saturday to beat stubborn Wake Forest 28 to 21 before 16,000 fans.

Barger passed 20 yards for one touchdown and ran 42 yards for another in the third period to move the favored Blue Devils into a 21-point lead before Wake Forest gathered steam for a late flurry that cheered a home-coming crowd with three touchdowns.

Quarterback Sonny Jurgenson, a sophomore substituting for Barger, accounted for the clincher with a 65-yard scoring pass play to halfback Ed Post early in the fourth.

Amarillo 21, San Angelo 21

San Angelo drove 84 yards in the closing moments, and scored with 42 seconds left on the clock to gain a 21-21 tie with Amarillo's Sandies Saturday afternoon in Amarillo.

Amarillo held a 7-0 halftime lead after scoring in the second quarter on a 12-yard run around left end by Bantee Wilson.

San Angelo came back in the third quarter to tie it up when Marvin Lasater passed to Elbert Baze on a 54 yard play.

The Sandies scored two quick touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Bobby Powell going nine yards for one score with 11 minutes left in the game, and Powell again plunged over from one yard out with 8:25 left.

San Angelo scored a minute and a half later with Lasater going over from one yard out.

Then San Angelo recovered a fumble by Ken Stephenson and started the final drive.

Extra points were perfect on all three scores. Stephenson kicked them for Amarillo and Bobby Smith added them for San Angelo.

DISTRICT 1-AAAA ROUNDUP

Abilene, Midland Battle Coming Up

Abilene and Midland continued their heated race for the championship of District 1-AAAA this week, both marking up victory number five in conference play and both priming for the big battle Friday night in Midland.

Abilene scored a 35 to 7 win over Lubbock Friday while Midland blasted Borger 41 to 13 in Borger Saturday afternoon.

Pampa's 28-14 upset victory over Odessa was the surprise of the district play for the week while Amarillo's 21-21 deadlock with San Angelo provided another mild shock.

Midland 41, Borger 13

Midland's Bulldogs, sparked by Wahoo McDaniell who scored three touchdowns and gained 202 yards in 26 carries, crushed Borger 41 to 13 Saturday afternoon in Borger to tune up for the district championship battle next week with Abilene.

McDaniell scored a touchdown in the first quarter and two in the third period. He left the game early in the fourth quarter as Midland reserves finished the contest.

Midland held a 21-7 halftime advantage.

Borger used an unusual spread formation to score both its touchdowns on long pass plays. In the second quarter, End Darrell Summers as the deep man, took a pass from center and passed to the quarterback, Johnny Baskin on a play that covered 43 yards.

Then in the third period, from the same type formation, Baskin, as the deep man passed to Summers on a play good for 56 yards and the score.

Other Midland scores were made by William Brooks and Jim Morris.

Abilene 35, Lubbock 7

Abilene's Eagles marked up their fifth District 1-AAAA victory Friday night in Abilene as they crushed the Lubbock Westerners 35 to 7.

The Eagles scored in a hurry, built up a 14-0 lead at the first quarter pause and held a 21-7 lead at halftime, then scored one touchdown in each of the second half quarters.

Glynn Gregory opened the scoring, going 43 yards early in the initial period with H. P. Hawkins kicking the point.

Jim Briggs went 19 yards for the second tally.

Jim Millerman's six yard run made it 21-0 after Hawkins' third conversion.

Lubbock got its lone tally on a 68 yard pass play in the second period. Jim Perry took a pass from Gehrig Garrison for the tally.

Hawkins scored another Abilene tally on a 20-yard run in the third quarter and then Briggs went 27 yards in the fourth quarter to wrap it up.

USC Stops Washington, 41 To 0

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 13 — UP — Southern California kept its slate clean in Pacific Coast Conference play Saturday by defeating a weak Washington team 41-0, and so far as 36,108 fans were concerned the game was won on the opening kickoff which Aramis Dandy drove back 85 yards for a touchdown.

Dandy took the kick on the run which equalled the longest kickoff return in Southern California history.

Southern California scored four touchdowns in the first period and two in the third, in both cases with the starters in the game. Against the reserves, however, the Huskies were able to keep their opponents scoreless in the second and fourth periods to what amounted to a moral victory.

Dandy's run was not the only spirit of the game. Fullback Gordon Duvall in the third period broke loose from scrimmage for 77 yards to score on the other half of the run of the day.

Score by periods:
Southern Cal 27 0 14 0—41
Washington 0 0 0 0—0

Cal Overpowers Oregon St., 46-7

BERKELEY, Calif., Nov. 13 — UP — The Oregon State Beavers stacked a five-man line against the passing of peerless Paul Larson Saturday and as a result the California Bears ran to an easy 46 to 7 victory.

With Larson sitting on the sidelines for more than half the game, the spotlight went to speedy halfback Jerry Dew, who scampered through the 5-2-4 defense on touchdown runs of 67, 59 and 54 yards to electrify a cold crowd of 22,000.

Despite the aerial defense set up by the Beavers, Larson didn't have too much trouble. He passed for one touchdown and set up another on an overhead drive. All told, he tossed 14 passes and completed 7 for 128 yards. He netted one yard on the ground for a net total yardage of 129.

But he had to take a back seat to the play of the elusive Dew, who easily skirted the short Oregon State forward wall, then side-stepped or outran the secondary.

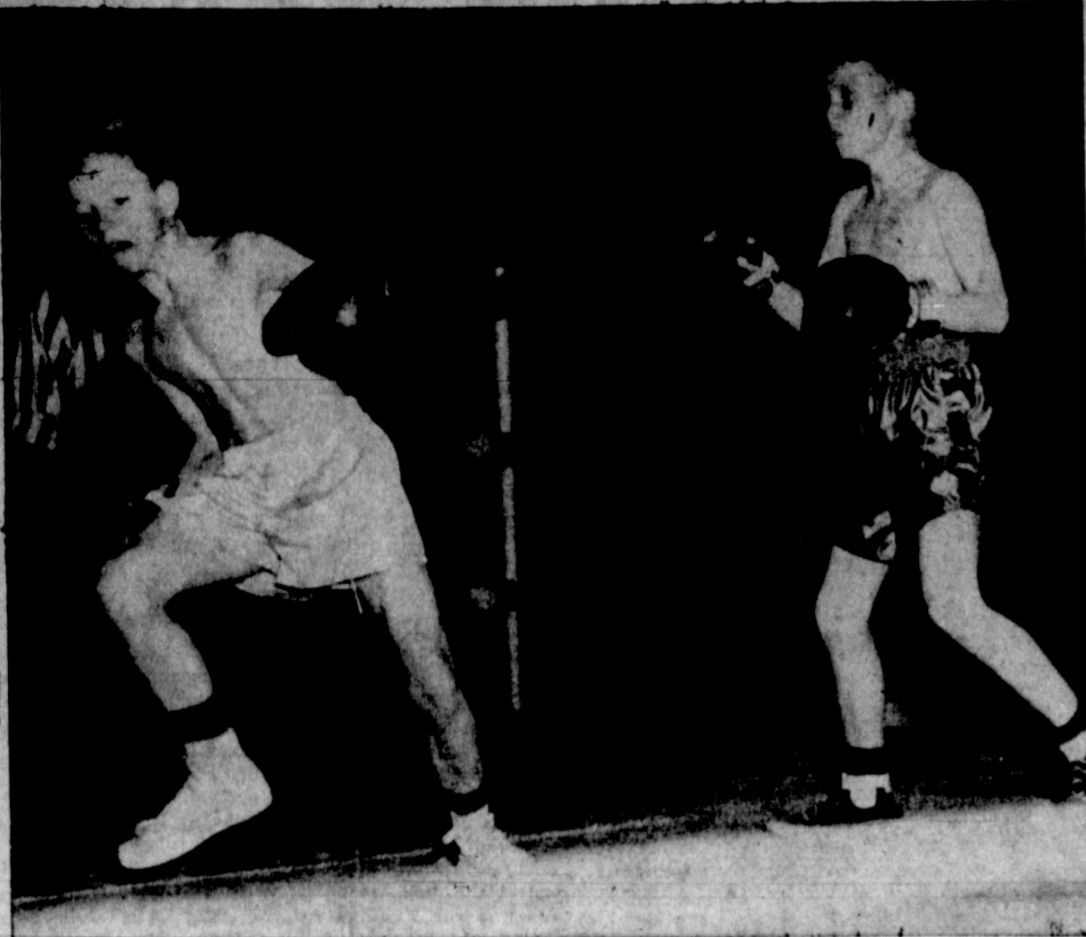

For the day, Dew carried the ball 11 times, gained 283 yards from scrimmage for a phenomenal 25.7 yards per carry average.

Wolf Killed by Car

HOUSTON, Nov. 13 — UP — Harvey Horton, a Houston motorist, reported Saturday he killed a 60-pound wolf that apparently became confused by stabbing auto lights and ran in front of his car on the Gulf Freeway Friday night near Wellington Air Base cutoff.

LEWIS ON RAMPAGE — Harold Lewis, Pampa's great fullback, runs for 13 yards in the first quarter of the game with Odessa to set up the first Pampa touchdown on the Odessa seven. Coming up on the left to help the unidentified Broncho tackler are Odessa players Melvin McLendon (70) and Billy King (60). John Watson (56) Pampa center is at the right. (Odessa American Photo)

WHOA THERE — "I'm gettin' outta here" seems to be the idea in the mind of Clayton Morton, left, 64 pound Guymon scrapper, just after receiving a hard right from Pampa's Paul Edwards. The action took place Friday night at the Top O' Texas Sportsman's Club Arena. Edwards, the Optimist fighter, won the decision. The Pampa club won 6 of the 11 team fights. KNOCKOUT, 2 TKOs SCORED

Pampa Boxers Slug Out Wins Over Guymon Team

A knock-out, two TKOs and three decisions Friday night gave the Pampa Optimist Boys Club sluggers a 6-5 victory over a visiting troupe of boxers from the Guymon (Okla.) Elks Club.

Ronnie James, Pampa, slapped out a fast left to the head and left to the stomach of Dewey Carlton, Guymon, to score the only knock-out of the night. Two other Pampans, Terry Timmens and Joe Dunn, got the TKOs.

Kenneth Lance decided Jim Murray in the final fight on the card, 153-pound rematch from the previous week. It was the only fight of the night in which two Pampans participated.

Southpaw James, showing good footwork and a good right jab in his defense, nevertheless used a wicked left to knock out Carlton who demonstrated a good one-two punch. Carlton used a crouch and wild lefts and kept ducking to the left — at one time he fell between the ropes. But James' staggering left was too much for him.

Timmens, who was the aggressor all the way, TKO'd Donald Price, Guymon, who threw rights well and fast enough to look very strong in the second round of the 113-pounder. Price had a wild one-two punch — and wild singleton rights, too — but was unable to beat Timmens' good offensive slugger.

The other TKO came in the 70-pound class with Dunn throwing a one-two punch to the body of Calvin Worth, Guymon, who looked stronger the longer he went. Dunn, however, started out strong and stayed that way through the second round. Worth got involved in wild clinches and kept dropping his hands.

Lance seemed stronger than Murray in the re-match, particularly in the first two of three rounds. He tossed many a hard right to the body and head of Murray who was weakened early in the fight by a jab to the head. Murray had good left jabs, but his right was wild. He tripped twice in the third and was knocked down — but the result was only a decision for Lance.

This is how the other eight decision fights went:

Mike McMurphy, Guymon, clinched excessively, but he was the aggressor and took a 62-pound fight from Rickie Higdon, Pampa, who was a slugger.

John Ironmonger, Pampa, took the offensive and with a good one-two punch decided Jimmie Bowen, Guymon, who would punch to the body, then move away. Bowen had a good right to the body in the 60-pound fight. Both boxers slipped once during the fight.

Kenny Powell, Pampa, started out strong and even scored knock-down, but only decided Jimmie Harris, Guymon, who had a one-two punch and looked stronger in the second round. Powell, the aggressor, kept up a string of left jabs and Harris finished weak and wild. It was a 70-pounder.

Dennis Kirk, Guymon, using a good one-two to the head and body, took a 73-pound decision from Butch Crossland, Pampa, who evidenced good body blows. Kirk was the aggressor for the first two rounds, but Crossland came back in the third. Kirk had good footwork, and Crossland slipped once.

Delbert Wilson, Guymon, was the aggressor in a 60-pounder, though Ronnie Goodwin, Pampa, started strong in the second and third rounds. Wilson kept tossing left jabs to the head, while most of Goodwin's blows did not land. Wilson won.

Paul Edwards, Pampa, employed a good one-two to the head of Clayton Morton, Guymon, to win the bout. Edwards used a good left to the head, along with left jabs, while Morton tripped in the first round and seemed stunned by one of Edwards' rights. Edwards did some wild swinging in the 64-pounder.

Bruce Potter, Guymon, using right blows to the head accompanied by a one-two to the head, took a 7-pounder decision from Jackie Bacon, Pampa, who also tossed a staggering right to the head. Potter was the aggressor and swung frequent wild blows. He had a strong third round, while Bacon had a strong second.

Dean Huddleton, Guymon, was good on the one-two punches and his opponent, Tony Hernandez, Pampa, was good on the left jabs and defensive footwork. But Huddleton was the stronger of the two. He slipped, though. It was a 70-pound event.

All bouts took place at the Top O' Texas Sportsman's Club, formerly the Southern Club. Johnny Campbell was the referee for all the matches. Next week — Friday — at least 12 Pampa boys will travel to Guymon for a return series of bouts.

SMU Knocks Out Porkers With Stunning 21-14 Win

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark., Nov. 13 —UP—Southern Methodist knocked nationally fourth-ranked Arkansas out of the nation's unbeaten ranks and out of the Southwest Conference leadership Saturday by beating Arkansas 21 to 14.

Southern Methodist proved it could run as fast as pass before 29,000 homecoming fans, the largest crowd ever to attend a game at Fayetteville.

The Arkansas Razorbacks have been known all season as the fairy-book team of the nation. They had come from behind in almost all their games. The Mustangs from Southern Methodist wrote a rather rude finish to the fairy tale as they literally ran the Arkansas line into the ground.

Woody Woodard's Mustangs were so potent that they did not punt until late in the third period and did not lose ground on a single play.

Get Two Touchdowns

The Razorbacks were behind 21 points as the final period opened and it looked as if they might still get a tie, as they got two quick touchdowns.

But it was too late and the game ended as Arkansas recovered a Mustang fumble on the 50-yard line.

The Mustangs ran up yardage as if they owned the stadium. Quarterback Doyle Nutt had the Arkansas line tackling the wrong man most of the time with his plays as SMU ran up 252 yards to Arkansas' 77 during the first half.

For the game as a whole, Southern Methodist out-rushed the Razorbacks 350 to 124. Arkansas got more passing—153 yards to 42. The Mustangs thus made 392 yards rushing to 277 for the Razorbacks.

SMU Scores

Nutt passed to right half Frank Eidom with 40 seconds remaining in the first period for SMU's first touchdown. The pass came at the end of a 75-yard drive.

Arkansas had to punt and the same story was repeated. Eidom went off right tackle time and again while Arkansas was tackling Nutt or some other player in the Mustang backfield, in confusion.

In 12 plays, Southern Methodist was on the Arkansas 28. Arkansas apparently expected a Nutt-to-Eidom play. But this time, Eidom went right over the Arkansas center for 28 yards and his second touchdown.

Undefeated Arkansas found itself behind 14 to 0 at the half.

For a moment in the third period it looked as if Arkansas had some fight in it. But the Razorbacks couldn't hold on fourth down on their own 23 and the Mustangs drove to the two with Eidom going over right guard for the score.

Forced to Punt

Southern Methodist was finally forced to punt late in the third period and Arkansas started rolling. It drove 80 yards in nine plays with tailback George Walker passing to wingback Joe Thompson from the 10 for the touchdown.

The score came with less than a minute gone in the fourth period. On the first play from scrimmage after the kickoff, Southern Methodist's Marilyn Murphy fumbled a handoff and Arkansas end Walter Mathews recovered.

The fumble was on the Southern Methodist 43. Walker started hitting with his passes to Carpenter and the Razorbacks got to the four yard line.

They couldn't move and Southern Methodist took over. Again the Mustangs fumbled and the Razorbacks recovered. A Walker-to-end Jerry McFadden pass with two minutes to go made it 21 to 14 after the kick.

Score by periods:

Arkansas	0	0	0	14
SMU	7	7	7	0

Arkansas scoring: Touchdowns, Thompson, McFadden, Conversions, Carpenter, Walker.

Southern Methodist scoring: Touchdown, Eidom 3, Conversions, Burnet 3.

Texas Explodes, Nips TCU, 35-34

FORT WORTH, Nov. 13 —UP—The University of Texas stamped with the venom expected of it all season Saturday, ripping out tremendous fourth quarter touchdowns to nose out Texas Christian 35 to 34 in a hectic offensive duel.

It was the fifth straight conversion by 220-pound tackle Lansford Sneed that provided the winning point with a little over two minutes left. But it was the ferocious running of a fleet of Texas backs that brought Texas its first Southwest Conference victory of the season.

Bouncing Billy Quinn led the Texas storm troopers through and around the Texas Christian defenses in the furious fourth quarter, but he had bruising help on all sides from little Chester Simcik, Joe Youngblood and Delano Womack as Texas rolled up 357 yards rushing.

TCU Scores Early

The 28,000 spectators has barely settled in their seats before TCU crushed across for the first of two first-quarter touchdowns.

Texas got one of them' back midway through the second period and then TCU pulled out ahead 27 to 14 by half time as the clubs swapped touchdowns 30 seconds apart in the final minute of the second quarter.

Texas, churning out chunks of yardage behind great blocking, got another touchdown with the final quarter only four seconds old, but TCU bounced right back and seemingly sewed up the game at 34 to 21 before Texas took over again.

Womack scored the first and last Texas touchdowns, the initial one on a 70-yard pass play and the latter a three - yard surge through a glaring weakness Texas quarterback Charles Brewer exploited at TCU's right guard.

Other Scorers

In between, Simcik raced 62 yards for one, Quinn plowed a yard and Brewer drove four for the other.

TCU's scoring also had its spectacular moments. After Stanley Bully drove a yard for the first touchdown, halfback Mac Taylor sped 55 yards for another, halfback James Swink scampered 65 yards for a third, Clinkscale drove a yard for the fourth and then Taylor on a 64-yard pass play for the other.

Both teams threw caution to the winds as far as defense was concerned and between them ate up 813 yards — Texas 357 on the ground and 86 passing to TCU's 278 rushing and 92 passing.

Score by periods:

TCU	14	13	0	7
Texas	0	14	0	21

TCU scoring: Touchdowns, Bull, Taylor 2, Swink, Clinkscale, Conversions, Pollard 4.

Texas scoring: Touchdowns, Womack 2, Simcik, Quinn, Brewer, Conversions, Lansford 5.

DISTRICT 1-A McLean Powers To Grid Crown

McLEAN — (Special) — Letors' strong defensive play gave the McLean Tigers a rough time here Friday night, but the Pirates couldn't stop them all the time.

McLean, with fleet-foot halfback James Smith, bottled up most of the time, put Ricky Mantooth's passing and running to good use and carved out a 27 to 6 victory to annex the championship of District 1-A.

A crowd of excited fans jammed the McLean stadium to overflowing to see Mantooth pass 25 yards to Rodney Gunn in the end zone for the first score. Then McLean added two more tallies before Letors got its first tally in the third period.

In the second quarter, Smith broke away for 69 yards to set up a scoring opportunity for McLean at the Pirate 10-yard stripe. Letors was penalized to the one yard line for piling on, and then Mantooth drove over for the score.

A 45 yard return with the second half kickoff gave McLean another scoring spot. Mantooth ran to the 14 and then passed to Don Haslam for the score.

Haslam kicked three extra points. Eddy Clemson climaxed a 65 yard Letors drive in the third period when he went over from the one-yard line on a quarterback sneak for the only pirate tally.

Smith scored McLean's final tally in the fourth on a plunge from the one yard line.

The contest, witnessed before a Dad's night crowd of 1900, found 13 McLean seniors playing their final game before the home fans. McLean will lose nine of this year's starting ball club by graduation. But the victory Friday wrapped up the district title.

Notre Dame Rips Tar Heels, 42-13

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Nov. 13 —UP—Notre Dame riddled North Carolina with crisply efficient blocking and tackling Saturday for a convincing 42 to 13 triumph, its sixth in seven games this season, before 55,410 fans.

Carolina was outclassed until the final 10 minutes when it scored both its touchdowns against the Irish third and fourth teams. Until this surge the Tarheels had made only four first downs and trailed by 35 points.

Paul Hornung, a sophomore who has played only as a fullback earlier, made his debut as an Irish signal-caller and was a standout success. He intercepted one Carolina pass and returned 70 yards to set up a four-yard touchdown plunge by Jack Witucki.

Strong Gainer

In addition, he romped 38 yards on an option play to the Carolina four before Frank Pinn plunged over, and he converted after three Irish touchdowns.

Ralph Guglielmi, the star Irish quarterback, played only in the first half and he paced his club to three touchdowns, hitting on seven of three touchdowns, hitting on seven of 12 passes for 119 yards and connecting to Jim Morse for eight yards and one touchdown.

His throws set up two touchdowns by Joe Heap, also in action only in the first half, on runs of one and 10 yards.

The other Irish score came when Tom Carey was at quarterback and he passed to Jim Munroe for nine yards and the marker.

Sixth Straight Win

It was Notre Dame's sixth consecutive win over the Tarheels in as many games and North Carolina's fourth loss against three wins and one tie this season.

Al Long was the major reason for Carolina's scores. He passed for 64 yards on six completions in 17 attempts, but connected on four in a row for 60 yards and the first touchdown.

Then Doug Farmer took over and connected to Larry McMullen for 18 yards and the other score.

Score by periods:

Notre Dame	7	21	7	42
North Carolina	0	0	13	13

Notre Dame scoring: Touchdowns, Whitehead, Adden.

Kansas State scoring: Touchdowns, Whitehead, Adden.

Iowa State scoring: Touchdown, Lorenzen, Conner, Callahan.

El Paso To Hold Texas PGA Meet

EL PASO, Tex., Nov. 13 —UP—The 1955 tournament of the Texas Professional Golfers Association will be held at the El Paso Country Club, Jack Harden, chairman of the Texas PGA tournament committee, announced Saturday.

He said the $5,000 medal play tournament will be held late in September but the exact dates have not been set. Harden is defending champion and also won the championship in 1952.

The Texas PGA meet has been held twice before in El Paso—in 1947 and 1948.

OU Knocks Missouri Out Of Orange Bowl Picture

NORMAN, Okla., Nov. 13 —UP—Oklahoma's third-ranked Sooners won at least a tie in the Big Seven Conference championship Saturday for the ninth straight season by defeating Missouri to break a deadlock with Missouri. The final score was 34 to 13.

The passing breakout came late in the first half, Oklahoma, which has one more conference game against Nebraska on its schedule, found its stride on the ground in the last half. Meanwhile, the Oklahoma line held Missouri to a total of only seven yards rushing.

A crowd of 87,000—third largest in Soonier history—cheered the serial assault guided by third-string quarterback Pat O'Neal. O'Neal's two touchdown passes, coming in a flurry which lasted only 25 seconds, put a wild finish on what had been a colorless first half.

Fine Punting

Fine punting had kept Missouri in the game up to that point.

The victory was Oklahoma's 17th straight—the longest major college streak in the nation. And it was Oklahoma's 40th Big Seven game without a loss. The Missourians were knocked out of the Orange Bowl race, leaving Nebraska and Kansas State to scramble for it since Oklahoma went last year and can't go two years in a row.

O'Neal passed 14 yards to halfback Bob Herndon for the first score, then Oklahoma covered Bill Rice's tumble of the kickoff return on Missouri's 22. O'Neal passed 22 yards to fullback Billy Pricer for the second score.

Halfback Buddy Leake, Big Seven top scorer, bucked for Oklahoma's third touchdown in the third period to cap a 59-yard drive. Leake also booted four extra points.

Calame Scores One

In the final period quarterback Gene Calame ripped across from one yard out after a 41-yard drive and Herndon added his second touchdown to close out a 31-yard drive.

Missouri quarterback Vic Eaton flipped 67 yards to halfback Jerry Schoonmaker for the first Missouri score. Later in the fourth period, quarterback Tony Scardino passed 11 yards to halfback Bob Musgrave for another tally.

Score by periods:

Oklahoma	0	14	6	14
Missouri	0	0	13	13

Oklahoma scoring: Touchdowns, Herndon 2, Pricer, Leake, Calame, Conversions, Leake 4.

Missouri scoring: Touchdowns, Schoonmaker, Musgrave, Conner, Fox.

Need For Sighting In Rifle Pointed Out

By J. FRED EDER United Press Outdoor Consultant With the Texas deer season fast approaching opening day, the necessity for sighting in a rifle is a highly enjoyable task for the experienced rifleman. He is careful to take care of this chore before shooting off on the annual deer hunting trip. To the beginner at deer hunting or rifle-shooting, the words "sighting-in" have an apprehensive sound, indicating a hard task accomplished only by the employment of highly technical knowledge and mathematical complications. To some the term "sighting-in" just means an impossible task and so the gun is taken to a gunsmith for sighting in. The odds are certainly against the hunter who has relied upon someone else to sight in his rifle. For no two men will handle the sights alike. Sighting in is really a pleasant undertaking which may mean the difference between a clean kill, a rank miss or a crippled animal. A few minutes spent studying the instruction sheet usually furnished with hunting sights, the guidance of an old hand at the game of rifle shooting and a dozen

I Yank Left In Net Meet

SYDNEY, Australia, Nov. 13.—UP—Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, O., former U. S. tennis champion, was eliminated in the third round of the New South Wales tennis tournament Saturday, leaving young Ham Richardson of Baton Rouge, La., as the lone American in the quarter-final round. Trabert, one of the United States leading Davis Cup hopes, was upset by Don Candy, one of Australia's second-line players, 4-6, 7-5, 10-12, 6-3, 7-5, in a marathon match that consumed three hours and 15 minutes. Richardson, 21-year-old U. S. Intercollegiate champion from Tulane, recovered from a shaky start to defeat Australia's Neil Fraser, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2, 8-6. Trabert and Richardson arrived in Australia last Monday. Each drew a first-round bye in the New South Wales tournament before scoring second round victories on Friday.

Midgets To Fight On Wrestling Card

Midget wrestlers, like midget racing automobiles, have their place and time on the international sports picture. Two of the former, named Tiny Tim and Ivan The Terrible, come to the Pampa Top of Texas Sportsman's Club Monday night to share main event honors with the big boys. As might be expected, bearded Ivan comes from Russia. Tiny Tim is a little Scotch-Irish fellow scaling not quite 100 pounds and less than 45 inches tall. Each is in the neighborhood of 27 years of age, meaning they are "full grown" for their size. They are vigorous, vicious fighters and they are fast and furious. They do little, if any, stalling, and the way they toss each other around is strictly professional. Tiny Tim and Ivan are on the first part of a double main event, wrestling for two best falls of three or to one hour. Top section of the twin feature is a tag team match, with the following line-up: Geigel and Gallagher refused to put their title on the line against Johnny and Jesse, former champions of the Southwest States junior heavyweight territory. The handsome, popular James brothers held the title for a good part of last year. They have only recently returned to this territory and they have let it be known that they plan to recapture the tag team championship. Geigel and Gallagher won it from the two highly regarded Mexican wrestlers, Gory Guerrero and Pepper Gomez, and have successfully defended it twice. Gomez meets Frank Murdock in Monday night's opener, 1 fall or 20 minutes.

SHE'S WELCOME

Memphis, Tenn., quarter-back club members are planning a "real southern welcome" for Fay Lloyd, United Press woman sports writer who got the cold shoulder from Yale athletic officials during Yale-Army game Nov. 6. Refused admittance to press box, Miss Lloyd had to cover game from stands. "When Miss Lloyd arrives to speak to our club Sunday," says Pres. Chauncey Barbour, "she will be accorded some real hospitality so conspicuously absent at New Haven." (NEA Telephoto)

King Inquiry To Continue, Czar Claims

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—Robert K. Christenberry, chairman of the New York State Athletic Commission, said Saturday he will continue an inquiry which already has brought to light the use of a "checkoff system" in paying fight purses participating in television bouts. After listening to seven hours of testimony regarding the practices employed by the International Boxing Guild Friday, Christenberry said he was willing to turn the inquiry into a formal hearing when the case is resumed next Friday. A total of 17 witnesses appeared before the commission to answer charges contained in 13 affidavits filed by the Metropolitan Boxing Alliance, which is opposing the I.B.G. The affidavits charge lack-listing, discrimination, extortion and monopolistic practices by the guild. Tex Sullivan, matchmaker for the St. Nicholas Arena, admitted that his club had used the "checkoff system" in paying 19 fighters of the 104 used thus far in the fight events. His club made out 100 checks to the guild and took the money off the "top" of the fighter-manager purse. Promoter Ray Arcel also admitted he had paid the guild $13,000 or approximately a year's advertising in the guild magazine before the magazine suspended publication a year ago. But Arcel had ready explanation.

10 Boys Sign Up For Rifle Training

Ten boys ranging in ages from 12 to 18 have been registered in the NRA Basic Rifle Training School that is currently being conducted under the sponsorship of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club. Two classes have already been held with the following subjects having been covered: Nomenclature and functioning of the rifle, safety and discipline, aiming, sight picture, principles underlying good firing, positions, use of the sling, prone position, breathing and pulse control, trigger squeeze, follow through and the clock system of scoring. The boys registered are: Jim Ayres, John Ayres, Ronnie Biggerstaff, Malcolm Brown, Bob Cogburn, Reeves King, Jim Kirkfield and Gene Shirley. Four more 2-hour classes remain in the course which will give every student who graduates a complete knowledge of the fundamentals of good shooting. This course is being conducted strictly according to National Rifle Association standards. It is interesting to note that last year more than 100,000 boys and girls under 18 years of age took part in the National Rifle Association's junior program and fired on over a thousand ranges in all parts of America and suffered no accident of any kind. And the National Rifle Association has been conducting this same program since 1898 without a single accident.

CRUCIAL PRO TILT Lions Favored Against 49ers

By UNITED PRESS The Detroit Lions are 7½ point favorites to take a big step toward their third straight Western Division title in the National Football League Sunday by whipping their closest rivals, the San Francisco Forty Niners, before a capacity crowd of more than 50,000 at Briggs Stadium. The other key games will be played at New York and Chicago. The Philadelphia Eagles and New York Giants, tied for the eastern division lead with 5-2 records, clash at the Polo Grounds. The game is rated a toss-up. More than 45,000 are expected to watch the Bears play host to the Cleveland Browns in an inter-division game at Wrigley Field. The Browns trail the two Eastern leaders by one-half game while the Bears, third in the West, trail Detroit by 1½ games. Rams, Steelers Favored—In the other games, the Rams (3-3) are 24 -point favorites against the Chicago Cardinals (1-6) at Los Angeles and the Pittsburgh Steelers (4-3) are 14-point favorites against the Redskins (1-6) at Washington. San Francisco (4-2) lost Hugh McElhenny, its brilliant ball-carrier and pass - catcher, since it handed Detroit (5-1) its only defeat 37 to 31 on the West Coast last month. McElhenny was leading the league in rushing with 513 yards when he was sidelined for the season with a shoulder injury suffered against the Bears two weeks ago. Buck Shaw of San Francisco is the only NFL coach who holds an edge on Detroit's Buddy Parker. Shaw leads 5-2. New York, leading the Eastern Division in scoring with 205 points, meets a Philadelphia team that has allowed seven rivals a total of only 1,159 yards. No other club has been so stingy in giving up yardage. The Eagles are hampered by injuries, particularly at end and in the backfield. Bob Walston, Eagle end who leads the league in scoring with 79 points, has a broken jaw and probably will be used only as a place-kicker. Cleveland never has lost to a Chicago club but George Halas' men have been looking more like the Bears of old while beating the Forty Niners and Green Bay Packers in their last two starts. One Less Game—Cleveland and Detroit have played one game less than the other 10 clubs because their Oct. 19 game was set back to Dec. 19 to prevent a possible conflict with the World Series. The Lions-Forty Niners, Eagles-Redskins game will be televised on various hookups to 149 stations by Dumont. The Browns-Bears game also will be telecast by ABC. Green Bay (3-4) and the Baltimore Colts (1-4) began the weekend action Saturday night at Milwaukee. The Packers are 14-point choices.

Shamrock Falls To Dalhart

DALHART — Shamrock fell again Friday night as Dalhart outscored the winless Irish 32 to 20. It was the ninth defeat for the Irishmen who held a 7-0 lead over Dalhart after the first quarter. The Irish drove 52 yards for the score after recovering a Dalhart fumble. James King went over from the seven and James Cannon kicked the point to put the Shamrock eleven in front. But the Wolves started moving in the second period. Johnny Cloud raced 55 yards up the middle to score and make it 7-6. Bill Willis scored on a four yard run, and two passes, Jim Wilson to Ronnie Hammock then to Bob Gray for the score put Dalhart in front 19-7 after Cloud's conversion was good. Dalon Perkins scored for Shamrock on a 31 yard scamper and Cloud went nine yards in the third quarter for Dalhart which put the score 25 to 13 in favor of Dalhart at the start of the final period. Cannon scored for Shamrock and Gray scored for Dalhart in the final period.

Oklahoma A&M Beats Kansas

STILLWATER, Okla., Nov. 13.—UP—Fullback Earl (Earthquake) Lunford lived up to the name Saturday as Oklahoma A&M smashed Kansas, 14-12. It was the 15th straight loss for downtrodden Kansas. Lunford, who led both teams rushing with 97 yards in 12 tries, plunged over for two A&M tallies and set up two others with 21 and 22-yard runs. Other A&M standouts, so far as the 10,000 spectators were concerned, were halfbacks Harvey Romans, who gained 60 yards in five tries and Keith Kashner, who scored twice from 14 yards out.

10 Boys Sign Up For Rifle Training

Ten boys ranging in ages from 12 to 18 have been registered in the NRA Basic Rifle Training School that is currently being conducted under the sponsorship of the Pampa Rifle and Pistol Club. Two classes have already been held with the following subjects having been covered: Nomenclature and functioning of the rifle, safety and discipline, aiming, sight picture, principles underlying good firing, positions, use of the sling, prone position, breathing and pulse control, trigger squeeze, follow through and the clock system of scoring. The boys registered are: Jim Ayres, John Ayres, Ronnie Biggerstaff, Malcolm Brown, Bob Cogburn, Reeves King, Jim Kirkfield and Gene Shirley. Four more 2-hour classes remain in the course which will give every student who graduates a complete knowledge of the fundamentals of good shooting. This course is being conducted strictly according to National Rifle Association standards. It is interesting to note that last year more than 100,000 boys and girls under 18 years of age took part in the National Rifle Association's junior program and fired on over a thousand ranges in all parts of America and suffered no accident of any kind. And the National Rifle Association has been conducting this same program since 1898 without a single accident.

15-Day Doe Hunt

AUSTIN, Nov. 13.—UP—Game and Fish Commission officials said Thursday they planned to let Texas hunters kill more than 3,000 does in a 15-day antlerless deer season next month in three Hill Country counties. W. C. Glasener, wildlife restoration director for the commission, said the permits would be issued for the Dec. 1-15 period in Mason, Gillespie and Llano counties. He said a combination of poor food conditions and high deer populations dictated the doe hunt. One was held last year in Mason and Gillespie counties, but this is the first time does will be legal in Llano county. Player's Eligibility Studied—NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—UP—The Eastern College Athletic Conference expects to decide early next week whether Army halfback Tommy Bell is eligible to play this year. Bell, who has averaged 11 yards a try for the Cadets, is playing his fifth year for Army. Petticoats Soon To Rustle In Jury Boxes Over Texas

By ED NASH
Pampa News Correspondent
Pampa and Gray County women can begin serving on juries after Friday.

But, in all likelihood, none will serve in Gray County Court or 31st District Court until after Jan. 1.

Texas voters Nov. 2 approved an amendment to the Texas Constitution requiring women to serve on juries. And Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd last week ruled that women could serve after Friday, the date the general election vote will be certified.

"Pick up" Selection

The way the courts are set up, however — at least in Gray County — would indicate that there is only one way a woman here could find herself in a jury box before Jan. 1. That is via the "pick up" jury selection method, whereby additional talsmen are needed in a hurry and sheriff's deputies go into the street and "pick them up" as they pass by.

The persons on a jury are selected the same way in district court and county court; though, of course, the jurisdiction of cases, the number on a jury and the type of jury panel are different.

In a nutshell, the judge in each court picks a jury commission which, in turn, uses the poll list to choose the names of persons for grand juries, petit juries and special venues.

when Moncus Twitty was convicted on a charge of rape.

Commission Selects Jury

When the next term of district court comes up, the process is identical. The judge picks the jury commission, A new grand jury and petit jury panel are selected. And so on.

There are four terms a year in county court. But there are only two jury commissions. The process works the same, however.

The county judge chooses a jury commission (generally, three persons here) which picks two petit jury panels, one for each of two quarters of the year. There are usually 24 persons on a county court jury, though — that is all that sit in a county court jury box.

A county court petit jury handles both civil and criminal cases. Its criminal cases are only in the grade of misdemeanor. Anything more serious goes to district court. There has not been a county court jury case in the last year.

The reason for so many persons being on court jury panels is simple — it's a matter of "cuts." Each side in a case has three cuts, without any reason for it having to be given. But there is no limit on the number of "cuts with cause."

Can Be Excused

A cut with cause would occur if a potential juror were directly interested in the outcome of a case, if he had formed an opinion of the case before hearing any evidence or if he admitted he could not judge fairly the facts. If a special venire were concerned, a cut with cause could come from the state if a potential juror said he would not, under any circumstances, send a person to the electric chair.

"Pick up juries" are obtained in justice of the peace court cases, in county court luncy cases and when there are not enough talsmen available in a particular court.

Something else the women — and indeed the men, too — might be interested in is the pay for jury service. It is $4 a day for regularly drawn juries — grand juries, petit juries, special venues. It is $1 for a county court luncy case and 50 cents a case, not more than $1 a day, for a justice of the peace court case.

At any rate, it won't be long now before "picking up a petticoat" will be a legal as well as a bachelor's phrase.

TMA Group To Meet Here

The second meeting of the Adobe Walls Chapter of the Texas Manufacturers Association will be held in Pampa Friday night at the Cabot Companies Auditorium.

The meeting will be held at 7:30 p. m. when Vic Grima, staff public relations representative of the Texas Manufacturers Association, will conduct a clinic on the workman's compensation law.

A group of TMA members from Borger will attend the chapter meeting.

The newly-formed Adobe Walls Chapter, comprising representatives from Pampa and Borger, has about 20 members so far.

It is expected that 50 people will attend the meeting.

Land Use May Be Considered To Decide Future Allotments

By PATRICIA WIGGINS
WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—UP—A proposal that proper land use play a more important part in determining farm allotments under federal crop control programs is getting favorable consideration from top Agriculture Department officials.

James A. A. McConnell, chief of the Commodity Stabilization Service, spoke for many department officials when he told a reporter Saturday the present system is "terrifically unfair" to some farmers.

Under the present system each farmer's "production history" is the prime base used in determining his share of a county acreage allotment.

McConnell pointed out that many farmers who have been following sound farming practices—rotating cash crops with grass and other measures—feel they are penalized when farmers who have hiked production to expand their "production history" get bigger allotments.

and research are the answer to surpluses, he said.

Bad for Drouth Areas

Weather—The Weather Bureau's 30-day forecast predicts below normal rain and snow in November for a large part of the country—bad news for drouth area farmers attempting to get a winter cover crop in.

Below-normal precipitation is expected everywhere west of a curved line running from Wisconsin down to western Florida except for a pocket where rainfall is expected to be "near normal." That pocket covers most of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona and parts of Nevada, Utah, Colorado, and Oklahoma.

Corn Allotments — Arkansas is eliminated from the commercial corn producing area" in the Agriculture Department's 1955 corn allotment. With this and other revisions, next year's program will cover 805 counties in 21 states compared with this year's 834 in 22.

Serious Enough for Study

He said the department thinks the problem is serious enough to at least "take a look" at the possibility of making proper land use an important factor in the setting of allotments.

County committees now have discretion to make some adjustments in individual farm allotments on the basis of proper land use requirements. But because it is difficult to deal with neighbors on anything but a share-and-share-alike approach, they tend to lean mostly on the production history formula.

That problem is what makes some department experts feel any land-use emphasis would be difficult to achieve or administer.

There also is some question about the legality under present farm law of making proper land use a prime consideration in setting farm allotments.

Want Pilot Tests

Proponents think the problem can be worked out successfully by testing the plan in a "few pilot counties."

Elsewhere on the farm front: Farm vote—Analysts disagree over what the election outcome proves in regard to farm voting—particularly those in each political party.

Agriculture Secretary Ezra T. Benson says returns show farmers "generally have supported" administration flexible farm proposals. The Democratic national committee says Benson is "entirely wrong." Others feel the vote was inconclusive because of local issues.

May Slow Democrats

The outcome may cause some Democrats to think twice about any broad-axe attack on the flexible prop program.

Cotton — The November cotton report boosted prospective cotton output this year to 13,206,000 bales. Up 695,000 bales or 5.6 per cent from last month.

The gain, according to Benson, means "there is probably less need" for an increase in the announced cut-back for 1955—to the minimum 10 million bale acreage allowed by law.

The gain also bears out usual drouth year patterns. Pessimists forget how cotton thrives on heat and production generally exceeds their expectations.

Dairy — Should government be the dairy industry's biggest customer? Should the idea be expanded until the government also will buy all surplus cars, refrigerators and other products?

These questions were posed at the National Milk Producers Federation convention by Secretary Benson. He indicated no softening in his feeling that lower prices have stopped up sales promotion

U.S. Vacates Ellis Island

ELLIS ISLAND, N. Y., Nov. 13—UP—The seagulls took over Ellis Island Saturday.

Unlike the 20 million immigrants who had to wait on the island a day, a week, or even months and years while the U. S. government decided whether to let them in, the seagulls will come and go as they please.

The U. S. Immigration and Naturalization Service has completed an orderly and somewhat nostalgic retreat from the island in New York harbor which for 62 years stood as America's gateway for aliens from every country on the map.

For the time being at least the island and its 27 buildings will be vacant.

Edward J. Shaughnessy, New York district immigration director, admitted that while progress and economy are important, it is sad to leave a familiar place.

"It was never a penal institution, you know, and we always tried to keep it from being like a prison,"

Shaughnessy said. His words echoed through the main recreation and lounge room, which has a 65-foot arched ceiling, modern furniture and drapes and until a few days ago, a television set.

Signs around the corridors and dormitories give directions in English, German, Italian, Polish and Spanish but there is no one around to read them. A completely equipped kindergarten stands empty and quiet.

Reduced immigration quotas and streamlined processing of aliens has eliminated the need for the island detention center. Would-be immigrants now get most of their screening, and do their waiting, in their native country.

In its hey-day Ellis Island processed as many as 5,000 immigrants in a single day. They were taken from incoming ships by barge, put through physical examinations on the island and then ferried to Manhattan.

In recent years the island's "passengers" have been deportation cases for the most part.

PRESENT PLAY Singing the closing song in the play, "Johnny Has Comicopia," presented by fifth grade students at Horace Mann school.

Candlelight Service Honors Rena Webb

Miss Rena Webb, who will be married Nov. 28, was presented a white Bible by the Young Women's Auxiliary of Central Baptist Church recently during a candlelight ceremony.

The presentation was made by Rev. Carroll B. Ray, pastor of the church. During the rite, Mrs. Sue Davis sang "Bless This House."

Guests present were Rev. Ray, Mrs. Carroll Ray, J. B. Hilburn, Sam Batteas, L. J. Prescott, A. P. Holligan, E. P. Sheriff, Nolan Cole, E. C. Cox, D. L. Day, J. F. Webb, A. R. Shupp, Bill Davis, L. G. Lunsford, Namolia Henning.

GRACE FRIEND

Dear Miss Friend: Do you think if a fellow plans to marry a divorcee and where her ex-husband lives in the same town (so to speak) he should talk to her ex-husband and hear his side of the story before it is too late.

He knows her side but what about the other side. I believe he should know that story too before he takes the final step and then draw his own conclusions.

Dear XYZ: If the man loves the woman enough to have proposed to her, to want to spend the rest of his life with her, then he should not feel that he should check up on her previous marriage.

I would think that his talking about her previous marriage to her ex-husband would be humiliating in the extreme and would hurt her if not anger her.

She has a right to expect trust along with his love and if he starts off by feeling it is his right to question what she has told him about herself, then there is a good chance that he does not love her enough to make the marriage a happy one.

POST CARDS

I have a problem may be you can help me with. I have about 1000 picture post cards I have collected as a hobby.

Why not find out whether any school for handicapped children in your area might like to have them. Since I have been married I do not have room to keep them and I do not want to toss them out.

MATURE PARENT

By MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE: Mrs. Y. grew up under the authority of a "Do-it-because-I-say-so" father. So somewhere between childhood and her own parenthood she resolved to always tell her children "why" they had to obey.

Practically, this policy hasn't worked too well. Amy, her 14-year-old daughter, is an inveterate arguer. Just the other day, for example, Mrs. Y. came to a decision against blue jeans for school wear.

Perhaps Mrs. Y. might try saying, "Blue jeans for school are out, period. I like my reasons for saying so. If you want to hear them, let me hear."

To put decision so directly without their "whys" may be a little difficult for Mrs. Y.

If so, let's take it easy. The influence of a "Do-it-because-I-say-so" rearing is not overcome in one day. Living our tender years under authority that makes a point of squashing our point of view develops some suspicion of that authority, too.

So we aren't likely to realize that our policy of "explaining" every decision we make for our own children is really our appeal for their approval and endorsement.

We don't fool them, of course. They sense our uncertainty — and easily develop the arguing habit toward the parent whose mind is not really made up.

So I want to suggest to parents who may be having trouble with our fashionable "explaining" policy that making good decisions for children is hard work.

If we make them in sincerity and love, it is a little self-contemptuous to feel we must parade all the private thinking that has led us to the decision.

It is, of course, unfair of us to expect Amy and Jimmy to always agree with grownup thinking on blue jeans for school, home chores, late parties, etc. They don't possess our experience. So they simply can't share all our conclusions.

Only too often, teenage impatience with "explaining" parents is anger with our unspoken pressure for agreement with our point of view.

Ladies Say Styles Should Do Something For Silhouette -- Brave Designer Replies

NEW YORK — UP — Fashion should do something FOR the figure, not TO it.

"A talk with some of the nation's most clothes-conscious women shows the gals have a complaint against designers, mostly because of the constant tampering with the silhouette. And one top designer agrees the women have a legitimate "beef."

"Women complain that designers make too many silhouette changes too frequently; that clothes sometimes seem designed to "make a woman look like a pixie, not a woman"; that the tall woman, the short woman, and the older woman are neglected; and that designers should make clothes for all-season wear.

These are some of the complaints voiced in a United Press "Why

RUTH MILLET

Want to give your wife a gift without spending one thin dime? When you get home from work tomorrow night give her the kind of kiss that means, "Gee, but I'm glad to see you" instead of the absent-minded, "What's for dinner?" husbandly type of kiss.

Take five minutes to call her from the office — not to remind her to send your blue suit to the cleaners — but just to talk.

At night when she asks you what's new at the office, tell her a few things that happened during the day instead of mumbling "Nothing much." If she weren't really interested in your work she wouldn't be asking you about it.

When she gets all dressed up to go to a party, take time out for a long appraising look and maybe even an appreciative whistle.

Ask her advice about something, as if it is on a small scale, as which of two ties look better with your new suit.

Think around when you come home at night so you can comment on how nice the house looks after she has spent a day rearranging furniture. Or notice that the rose bush she has been giving tender, loving care is at last in bloom.

Compliment her once in a while on being a good and understanding mother.

If the thought ever crosses your mind that you are a pretty lucky fellow, share it with her, just as quickly as you let her know when you are discouraged, dissatisfied or feeling that you're on a treadmill.

No fooling, these are the gifts that women really treasure and they cost nothing.

don't they?" check of women in 12 cities. Not a single woman complained about the cost of clothes.

Here are some of the complaints, with answers from designer Claire McCardell, winner of several fashion awards and famous for her skill with casual clothes:

Mrs. John D. Lodge, well-dressed wife of Connecticut's governor:

"I'd settle for improvement of some of the old-fashioned things. I wish designers would keep things feminine and stop making women look like pixies."

Miss McCardell: "It's a woman's own fault if she looks like a pixie... it means she hasn't made up her mind what clothes type she wants to be."

Mrs. John Conway McDevitt, a San Diego, Calif., housewife and mother of four:

"Why don't designers stop conning us to do something to the feminine figure and do something for it! Flattening all women, regardless of shape or size, into one currently fashionable silhouette is ridiculous. Tell designers to look beyond the flat-chested, size 12 model, and consider all women, all sizes, ages and figures."

Miss McCardell: "That's what fashion is — change. But the less pronounced the line is more flattering. Some of my models are large bonomed, and the new silhouette takes 10 years off their appearance."

Mrs. Frances G. Altizer, Charleston, W. Va., Red Cross executive:

"All of the designers seem to concentrate on the younger woman. I'm not talking about lavender and old lace... I'd like something snappy."

Miss McCardell: "She's exactly right... it is a rare manufacturer who cuts youthful clothes in a size 20."

Mrs. Sidney Zell, one of Baltimore's best-dressed women:

"Why don't designers give us better cut, better materials and leave off the costly fur-trim. And those heavy tweeds are overpowering for the small figure."

Miss McCardell: "I agree... leave the design simple and let the woman add her own frills if she wants them. As for tweeds, this is the season — every manufacturer is making them and the tiny baby gets a cold. He will have it more mildly than the rest of the family and not seem to suffer much. The worst part of it, to his parents, will be the squeaks, whistles and gurgles when he tries to breathe through his bubbly nose. If it seems to bother him while he's taking his bottle or nursing, you might try this aid: get a small-bulbed ear syringe; cut the sharp nipple down to a rounder one and use it to take the runniness out of his nostrils. Don't stick it far up his nose or try to get too much suction, which will hurt him. Sterilize it often.

You see them on the counters, but they're made so easily; those hatpins with the felt covers over the head. If you need the secure help of pins and your hat is plain, do this touch of work to make your hatpins belong rather than look as if they were stolen from a corsage.

How-To' For Gay Lawn Ornaments

Brighten up your front lawn with these colorful ornaments that the man of the house can make easily and quickly with a hand coping or jig-saw. The littler fisherboy is 16 inches high; mama duck measures 11 inches, and baby ducks are 5 inches. Use shelving lumber or 1/2" exterior plywood.

First. Cut out pattern outline and paste it directly on lumber so you can follow the outline with the saw. Sawing is easier if you clamp the lumber in a vise.

Second. To make several ducklings, trace outline on several pieces of wood by placing carbon paper under pattern and following outline with a hard pencil.

Third. Smooth edges with a file and sandpaper. Paint entire wood figures, first with two coats of primer paint, following with an overall coat of white exterior enamel.

Fourth. Cut cleats of 1/4" solid lumber about 8" long. Fasten one cleat to the back of each figure. Push in ground to support the ornaments. Iron bars or pipe can be used instead for supports.

Complete directions and color suggestions are given on pattern 1427.

Lingerie Requires Gentle Handling

By ALICIA HART

The best description of the new foundation garments is contained in one word: lightness. Girdles, bras, corselettes all are made with lighter elastic, lighter trim.

Both corselettes and bras are made to take strain off the shoulders. To cut down on the number of aching shoulders, more foundation garments are provided with support beneath the bust, or off-the-shoulder straps for balance.

And with the new season's styles and designs, washability becomes surer and quicker. Drying is more rapid, too.

Of course, when sudsing any foundation garments or lingerie, remember that they require gentle handling. The water used in washing them should always be lukewarm. A mild soap is advisable, too, if you wish to prolong the life of your pretty underthings.

If a garment is given frequent washings, a bra after each wearing, a girdle after one or two, there'll be no need for hard rubbing. Simply dip them into lukewarm soapsuds, and squeeze the suds through. Rinse them with the same squeezing motion in the same temperature water.

Pretty Accessories For New Handbags

Handbags for the Fall and Winter season are more fabulous and conversation-making than ever, fashion experts concur. It's also true, they say, that the accessories to be carried inside (your billfold, glass case, etc.) should be keyed in color or texture for a complete, coordinated picture.

To go with oversize tote-type bags, making it easy to find what giant billfolds are recommended. Many are actually clutch bags, you want quickly among your other accessories. Some come with a compact and lipstick attached, others with a pocket for glasses or cosmetics; there are styles which include space for keys, charge plates, a gallery of photos or identification cards.

For evening, the new, slightly larger than usual bag provides enough room to carry a set of accessories, including a slim, elegant clip wallet for mad money, and a matching cigarette case. To match the fabric or leather of the bag, these accessories are now available in tapestries, pett-point, velvet, beads or jewel-tone leathers with a deep lustre.

The woman who works will like handbag accessories to help her on the job, including wallets with a special device to permit access to both bills and change at the same time. The pocket secretary style has also been adapted for feminine use in high-colored leathers, with the addition of an outside coin purse. Matching glass cases have pockets for tissues and even a memo pad and pencil, which should prove very useful.

BABY

Vaccination and inoculation time is coming up now that summer and the polo season are over. Your doctor takes charge of this and, in many states, the kind and age regulations are set up by law. But if you're the vague kind about vital records, this is one set you should keep. Get the doctor to give you the record of the exact kind of shots your baby has received and the dates. Should there be an emergency or should you move away, the next doctor will need to know what your baby has had. Do not cover the vaccination with a plastic cap; it needs the air.

If you're budgeting closely for baby's arrival, one item you can pass by is scales unless your doctor specifically asks that you have them. A good set — the balance kind — is pretty costly. It may make you too nervous about baby's weight and might tend to make you force him to eat when he's getting what he needs. When he's tiny the doctor will weigh him every month anyway to make sure his formula is right and this is all you need to know. If you're given a pair, use them sparingly. Remember that he gains unevenly — a little this week, a lot next. Try to weigh him at the same time of day every week, with the same clothes on.

Parent Education Club Awarded First Place In Beta Sigma Phi Table Contest

Parent Education Study Club won the first place award with a formal table setting at the annual Beta Sigma Phi contest Friday night in the Pampa High School fieldhouse. Second place went to the Twentieth Century Cotillion table and third place honors were given to the Girl Scout table.

The winning table was covered with a grey and cloth centered with an arrangement of silver-sprayed dried plants, centered with two pink and silver artificial flowers.

The second-place table had a pink and purple formal setting. The tablecloth was pink, with a purple arrangement composed of a sea fan, sprayed dried weeds and grapes. Also decorating the table were pink tapers. The sea fan arrangement was made by Mrs. Martin Stubbe.

The Girl Scout table had a treasure hunt theme. It was covered with a light-blue cloth, with dark blue plates and light and dark blue cups. The centerpiece, in light blue, contained a pirate ship containing pirate figurines. Beside each plate were miniature pirate figurines and blue "poppers."

Mrs. Robert Vail was chairman of the first place table; Mrs. Charles Brauchle of the second

Wise Woman Knows Color That Helps Capture Man, Maintains Oleg Cassini

By ELIZABETH TOOMEY
NEW YORK, Nov. 14 — UP — A wise woman knows her own color, not only the shade that flatters her skin but the one that'll help capture her man, designer Oleg Cassini advises.

Certainly a girl never had a better chance to experiment, since this year her winter wardrobe is splashed with color from the tips of her pale leather shoes to the top of her bright-blue hat.

Cassini, who was married to Gene Tierney and now is "going steady" with beautiful Grace Kelly, starts off every color discussion with standby black.

When in doubt, the designer advises, wear black for a date with an important man. "It has a tremendous elegance," Cassini said. "Technically black is not a color, but most men think of it as a color they like on their women."

They'll Notice Red

But wisely used, other colors can play very important roles in a woman's life. Let's say, for instance, she wants to be noticed at a big party.

"Certain colors attract the eye," Cassini said. "All a man remembers when you ask him to describe what a girl wore is a very general idea of shape and color. A red dress is bound to attract a man's eye more than navy blue, for instance."

He made one exception to the rule of red dresses for eye-catching purposes.

"If you are very shy, it is foolish to appear in a bright red dress," Cassini said. "It makes your shyness so much more obvious. Choose

Learn His Favorites

Once a girl attracts a man at the first meeting, she can pick her colors cautiously for a while until she discovers his favorites.

"I don't think most men care too much for brown on a woman in the evening," Cassini said. "They like women to stay away from their own colors, such as brown and grey, in evening dresses."

"And orange is a difficult color. One of the worst dresses I ever made was an orange satin evening dress. It set me back several years in my own esteem."

Sound Off By A Leaguer

To paraphrase an old cliché, "Men work from sun to sun, but the League will never in the world get its work done if there is not a lot of member participation."

"The League of Frightened Women" (hope you read the article) is beginning to make a lot of sense to the Leaguer after attending the area conference. In this case, it is frightening indeed to consider the scope of information that a leaguer needs at her disposal concerning the League and its program.

The theme of the conference was, "The League in a Legislative Year," which is by way of saying for improvement of Election Laws in the field of voting procedures. This sounds like and is a large task, its largeness surpassed only by its importance.

To carry out this program there is a great need for active, well-informed members — informed not only on the election laws sketches which were studied last spring, but also on how a member can assume her role in carrying out the League program. The sources of information are your unit meetings, general meetings and League publications.

Now for some chest swelling. The Pampa League of Women Voters was referred to many times at the area conference as "that beautiful Pampa League," because of our membership which is large according to our population, because of our excellent bulletin, and because of the wonderful co-operation of our local publications and radio stations. You belong to a good league so support it with your attendance.

Homemaking Tips

When frosting a cake, avoid those crumbs that spoil the glamorous look this way: put in a thin layer first to hold down the crumbs and give a base coat; let it set. The final frothy layer goes on crumbless and smooth.

If you have a separate room for your baby or child, a good chair for it would be one covered in clear plastic. While the semishine of this plastic may not be for the living room, its wipe-off quality makes it perfect for hard and messy wear.

Puppy's first bath shouldn't come until he's past the three-month stage. Be careful when you bathe him; cotton in ears, no soap on the face. Until he's old enough, let daily brushing keep him clean.

If you've a passion for wall-to-wall carpeting, you may have it in your bathroom, too! It comes in sections, with instructions for cutting, installing and washing.

Starch and sprinkle at the same time, to save trouble. Mix a cold-water starch according to directions and dissolve completely in water. Sprinkle with it. Let rolled clothes sit for a couple of hours before ironing.

Gals rushed for time to their nylon lingerie in the machine — but separate from towels, etc., in warm water. If you've an old, decrepit stocking stuff your nylon hose into it, knot it at the top and put it in, too.

The best and most precious dust cloths of all are old knit cotton T-shirts. They are soft, lint free and durable. If you want to lengthen their lives as dusters and car-washers, wash them out in the machine with bleach and strong soap.

Good Foot Support Vital For Teenager

When it comes to classifying teen-agers who mistreat their feet, two definite types can be found in any group of girls.

The first type is the moccasin fan, or ballet slipper lover. This girl likes shoes that provide lots of comfort, but no support. She doesn't mind looking sloppy as long as she can shuffle along in loose, ill-fitting shoes. She doesn't realize that if her shoes don't provide the support needed, her whole foot is thrown out of line.

She may offer her school wardrobe with its casual, sport clothes as an excuse for wearing these shoes. But, even with sports clothes the correct shoe is a flat heel, but one that's not too low. The best height for flat shoes is from one-half to three-quarters inch.

The other "cruel-to-feet" type is the girl who insists upon wearing high heels, the highest she can find. It's impossible for any girl to balance herself on such high pinpoints.

You probably have a friend who just discovered high heels and wears them to every party and dance. Struggling to gain her balance, she is the best example poor posture (due to incorrect shoes) you could find.

As far as flattery is concerned, the mid-high pump is just as good looking as the spike heel and twice as healthful for your feet and posture.

The height of this pump is anywhere from two to two and a half inches. This height is ideal for school or dress and is beneficial to good posture.

The tall teen-ager, in particular, looks more graceful in mid-high heels, rather than flats, which only serve to call attention to her height anyway.

MRS. ROBERT D. ROACH

Miss Daphene Terry And Robert Roach Marry In Double-Ring Rite In Shamrock

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Terry chose a blue-grey suit with matching accessories. Mrs. Roach, mother of the bridegroom, wore a grey wool suit with black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink carnations.

Immediately following the ceremony, the couple left for a wedding trip to Shreveport, La., and points in East Texas. For travel the bride chose a blue suit and white hat. Her corsage was of pink carnations from her bridal bouquet. Following their trip, the couple will be at home at 511 N. Wall, Shamrock.

The bride is a graduate of Samnorwood High School. For the past two years she has been assistant bookkeeper in the Shamrock Gas Company.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Shamrock High School. He is an accountant and for ten years has been employed as bookkeeper by the Montgomery Chevrolet Company.

Miss Le Don Terry, sister of the bride was maid of honor. She wore a street-length dress of rose beige fashioned identical to that of the bride. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations.

John B. Roach served as his brother's best man. Ushers were Archie D. Southard and Eugene Terry of Amarillo, brother of the bride. Micheal O'Gorman was altar boy.

Measure Children's Growth With 'Stik'

How tall was Joan at the age of 2?

A child's growth is interesting to watch, but too often the record is marked haphazardly on a door frame or a basement post. Maybe it isn't marked down in the baby book and it's just left to Mother's memory.

For a permanent record, a simple device can be made in the home workshop. The young Dad who figured this out calls it a "Sprout Stik." It has his daughter's name and a record of how she has "sprouted" since the age of 1.

C. W. Bailey took a cutoff strip of Masonite quarter-inch tempered hardboard, which was left after he had sawed a panel for another purpose, rounded the corners and slightly beveled the edges with a file, painted a white strip along one edge, bored three holes for wood screws, and fastened it to a wall in his home.

So that the "Sprout Stik" would be both attractive and show a permanent record, he used die-cut white letters, obtained at an art store, to mark the child's height in inches at intervals of six months. The various dates, recorded opposite the record of inches, were first marked in pencil on the painted strip and then made permanent with India ink.

Masking tape was used when he painted the white strip. First he primed the area; then he applied a finish coat. He painted over the die-cut letters with a clear plastic sealer so they would "stay put."

The tempered Masonite, which is harder than wood and nearly indestructible, will last indefinitely. When Joan grows up, she will have an attractive, permanent record of her early "sprouting years" to take along when she gets married. The height comparisons with her children should be most interesting.

Pampa Parent-Teachers Associations Sponsor 'Fathers' Night' Programs

Fathers were in charge at the recent Fathers' Night programs presented by the elementary school Parent-Teachers Associations.

At Baker School, Otto Mangold served as president, with Homer Miller as program chairman. Mayor Tom Rose was featured speaker. He talked on city governments, followed by a question and answer period.

Following the program, room visitation was held. Refreshments of coffee, doughnuts, soft drinks were served during the social period.

HORACE MANN
The Horace Mann meeting was called to order by Vernon Hall, with Odell Giddens as program chairman. Guest speaker was County Attorney Bill Waters, whose talk was entitled "Establish Justice."

Special music was provided by the Top O' Texas Barber Shop Quartet. Refreshments were served by the fourth, fifth and sixth grade mothers and teachers.

During the executive board meeting held earlier, Mrs. Vernon Hall, Ott Shewmaker and Mrs. Ralph Delashaw were elected representatives to the state convention in Corpus Christi.

SAM HOUSTON
Paul Brown was acting president, and Rex Rose was program leader at the Sam Houston meeting. James Evans led group singing.

Large Skin Pores Clog With Make-Up

It is not always easy for the mature woman to discover why her pores are becoming enlarged at such a fast rate.

Sometimes the pores are clogged with make-up. Her foundation base or powder may be at fault. The woman who has used the same make-up for years and has never thought of changing should re-examine it closely.

Or, it may be her diet. Too many sweet desserts, or foods containing fat and grease contribute a great deal to overworking the natural oils of the skin and thus enlarging the pores.

An excess use of salt may also be a cause of enlarged pores. So the woman whose diet is at fault should strike any of these skin-damaging foods from her daily menus.

In caring for any skin condition, strict cleanliness is always the first and most important rule to follow. Since enlarged pores may act as good dirt boarders, extreme care must be taken to cleanse the face thoroughly.

Using a pure, neutral soap, work up a mild lather. Use warm, not hot, water. With a soft soapy washcloth, gently scrub the face, starting at the neck.

Rinse with warm water, then cold water. Rinse with warm water again, then dash cold water all over the face with your finger tips.

Pat your face dry with a soft towel, patting the entire face and neck. Remember to pat upward.

Using a piece of clean cotton, give your face an oil cleansing each day to remove the dirt stored deep in the pores.

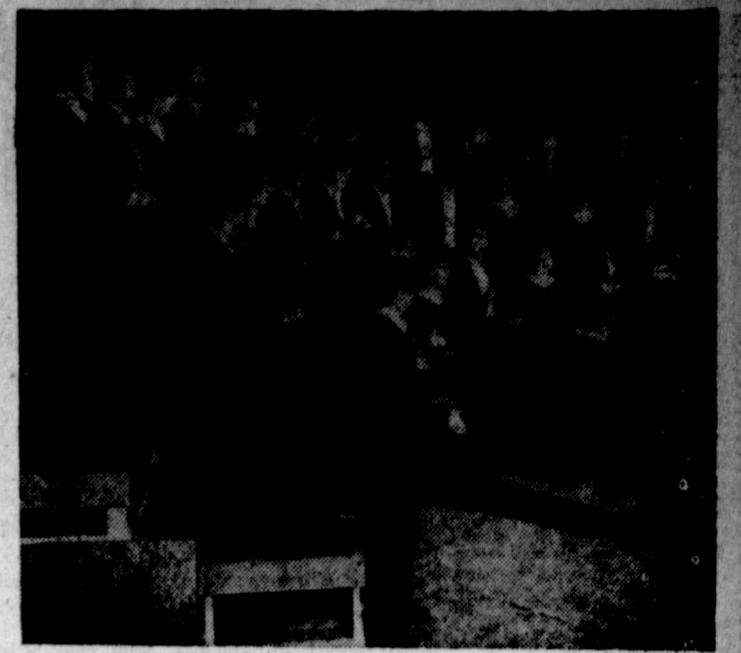

'Sprout Stik'

Keeping track of Joan's height is simple with a "Sprout Stik." Made of Masonite tempered hardboard, the novel device becomes a permanent record of how she "sprouted" as a youngster. Die-cut letters from an art store record her heights at six-month intervals, and Mother marks the white-painted strip with pencil and later permanently inscribes the dates with India ink. Dad got the tempered hardboard at a lumber yard and found the "Sprout Stik" project easy and satisfying.

CHORALE — Shown above is the Robert Shaw Chorale, to be presented here Saturday by the Community Concert Association in the Junior High School auditorium. The 30-man singing ensemble, the orchestra accompanying it, and its noted director, are best-known from tours and recordings.

Pampa Community Concert Association Will Present The Robert Shaw Chorale

Second presentation this season of Pampa's Community Concert Association will be the Robert Shaw Chorale, to appear at 8 p.m. Saturday in the Junior High School auditorium.

The chorale is a group of 30 singers whose Pampa appearance is one of about 90 concerts they will perform from coast to coast in their tenth American tour. Shaw and his singers have appeared in every state of the Union but two, South Dakota and Nevada.

Shaw, director of the 30-man singing ensemble and the orchestra which accompanies it, has been called one of the brightest stars in America's musical firmament. The 38-year-old conductor has gained recognition as a major figure in galvanizing the art of choral singing throughout the country.

Shaw has two honorary doctorates in music and is musical director of the San Diego Symphony. He has appeared with the Boston Symphony, the NBC, CBS and ABC symphonies, the Los Angeles Philharmonic, and the San Francisco symphony as well.

Shaw was first recognized by Fred Waring when the college glee club Shaw conducted appeared briefly in a film made of the campus of Pomona College, Claremont, Calif., by Waring and his Collegians. Waring offered Shaw a job in New York, and the fledgling conductor took over direction of the Waring glee club in 1938. To this job, he added assignments of training choruses for Broadway productions of "Carmen Jones," "Laughing Room Only," and "Seven Lively Arts."

After seven years in New York, Shaw had won a reputation as a conductor and performer of all types of choral music. During the war, he served with the Navy and was discharged in 1945. He was then appointed choral director of Berkshire Music Center in Tanglewood, a post he held for three years. The following year he also became director of choral activities at Juilliard School of Music, New York.

Shaw and the Chorale are perhaps best known nationally from tours, recordings, and for numerous appearances with Arturo Toscanini and the NBC Symphony, coast-to-coast broadcasts of such classics as Beethoven's Ninth Symphony and "Missa Solemnis," as well as three performances of Verdi operas, "Aida," "Falstaff," and "The Masked Ball."

Walker. Congratulations on a job well done Chairman Mrs. Ed Williams. We will be looking forward to hearing from these troops after they finish organizing!

Brownie Troop 66 under the leadership of Mrs. R. E. Dobbin made Indian Maiden headaddresses for use in a play later. They used brown paper sacks for the foundation and with crayolas colored the feathers and Indian designs.

Fly-up Troop 17 with Mrs. Joe Wells as leader went to Camp Mel Davis for a week-end camp out. They took food to be cooked over open trench fires and toasted marshmallows over their ceremonial fire Saturday evening. This week they practiced knot tying — one of the requirements for First Class Scouts.

Brownie Troop 66 held a winner roast to celebrate the beautiful fall weather. Thirteen girls with their leader, Mrs. R. E. Dobbin and the troop's outdoor mother, Mrs. John Nutting had a grand time.

Fly-up Troop 38 met at the church for their regular meeting with leader Mrs. Hermon Brown to work on paper costumes for an Indian play. Headaddresses were cut complete with paper feathers and 34 little Indians emerged.

Girl Scout Troop 39 had a sorrowful meeting as they bade farewell to Mrs. Pascal Massey who had been their leader for five years. The troop met at the Girl Scout Rotary house and during the party presented Mrs. Massey with a lovely electric toaster and closed the affair with the Farewell Song. Eighteen girls were present.

Brownie Troop 13 with Mrs. A. L. Smiley as leader was busy making plans for Fathers' Night to be held at the Scout House Saturday evening. Folk dancing was practiced and two girls will be invested during the evening.

Girl Scout Troop 14 under the leadership of Mrs. Robert Huffhines worked on Xmas decorations made of star-foam and sequins — a nice project for the holidays.

Sr. Troop 22 missed their meeting this week as their leader Mrs. Marion Osborne was in Dallas at the Regional meeting.

Girl Scout Troop 39, with their leader Mrs. J. W. Wright, Jr. planned to leave Friday after school in the Girl Scout Bus for Camp Mel Davis and return Saturday evening. Each girl was to be responsible for her own cooking and plans were made for a Nature Study Hike Saturday morning.

Congratulations to Mrs. John Adams and her committee for winning third place in the table setting contest. The table was a boy birthday party table carrying out a pirate motif.

Sr. Troop 19 with Mrs. Burt Lester as leader went to the Air Base in the Girl Scout Bus and were given a lecture on parts of the plane, techniques of taking off and landing a plane and studied types of planes. This troop is working on Wing Scout awards.

Mrs. Dawson's Troop of Girl Scouts No. 55 packed and sorted boxes for Girls' Town. Fifteen boxes were made ready for shipment. Last week the Troop held a slumber party at the Scout House.

Girl Scout Troop 9 under the leadership of Mrs. Gene Fatheree earned the Patt-cake-Polka and then broke into three patrols to plan Christmas projects in handicraft fields.

Brownie Troop 68 of Mrs. Chris Walsh hiked through the park studying nature finds and went to M&B Pharmacy for refreshments.

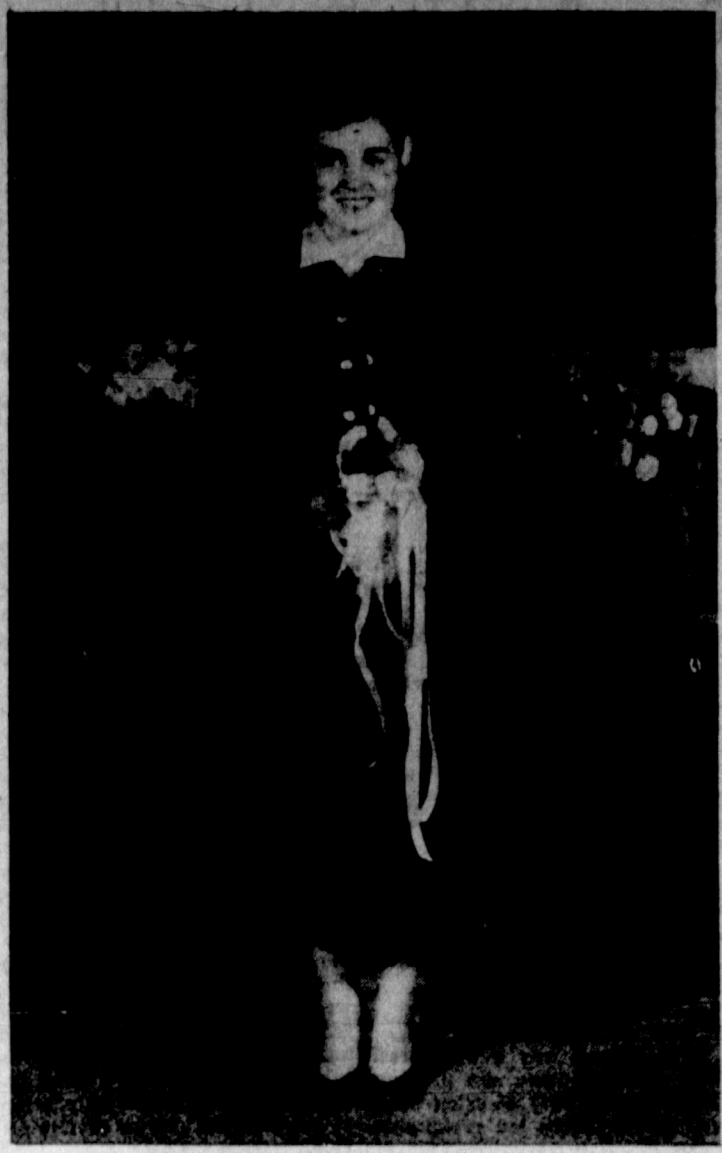

Fly-up Troop 75 of Mrs. George Andrus is busy planning a Thanksgiving Tea for the mothers and they will have a talent show for their entertainment. This will take place on Nov. 23 after school.

Mrs. Joe Wells' Troop No. 17 went to Camp Mel Davis over the week end and have been working on Knot-tying for one of their Girl Scout requirements.

The Top o' Texas Girl Scout Council wishes to express their appreciation to Mr. and Mrs. W. K. McDonald for the splendid job they did in cleaning up the Scout House.

Brownie Troop 42 went to the beach with their leader, Mrs. L. M. Padon to study fall colors and study leaves. They have been working on sewing techniques getting ready for a Xmas project.

Miss Mary Chisum And Charles Lacy Marry In Single Ring Rite In Lefors

LEFORS — (Special)—The First Baptist Church was scene of the marriage of Miss Mary Gertrude Chisum, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Chisum of Lefors, to Charles Calvin Lacy, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Lacy of the Coltexo Carbon Plant near Lefors.

Vases of white flowers decorated the chancel. Rev. Thurman Uphaw officiated at the single-ring ceremony, as Mrs. Charles Earhart played "The Lord's Prayer." "Proceeding" the ceremony "The Wedding Prayer" was sung by Carol Naves Graves and "Because," by Ray Luper. Traditional wedding marches were used.

The maid of honor, Miss Virginia Lacy, sister of the bridegroom, wore a cream colored dress with black accessories. Bill Lacy, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. Ushers were the bride's brothers, Jackie and Warren Chisum.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a navy blue linen suit with avocado accessories. She carried a white Bible topped by a corsage of red roses and white carnations.

For her daughter's wedding, Mr. Chisum wore a black dress with black accessories. The mother of the bridegroom also wore a black dress with matching accessories.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held. The serving table, covered with a white lace cloth over pink, was centered with a bouquet of white assorted flowers. The punch bowl and three-tiered white cake decorated with pink rosettes and a miniature bride and bridegroom, flanked the centerpiece. Miss Dorothy Benham served.

For the wedding trip, Mrs. Lacy wore a black velvet dress with matching accessories.

The bride is a senior in Lefors High School. The bridegroom is a graduate of Wellington High School and is employed by the Peerless

Carbon Company. The couple will make their home in Lefors. Out-of-town guests were Miss Dorothy Benham, Mrs. Fred Chisum, Mr. and Mrs. Marion Chisum, Edward Chisum, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Chisum, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Locke, Johnny Weckesser and Mrs. Vivian Thompson all of Pampa; and Mr. and Mrs. Billy Lacy of Amarillo.

Cook's Nook

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Old-fashioned country Thanksgiving menus included mashed rutabagas or yellow turnips. Want to try them this year mixed with sliced tart apples?

Mashed Rutabagas (or yellow turnips) and Fresh Apples
(Yield: 4 servings)

Three cups sliced rutabagas, 1½ cups sliced fresh tart cooking apples, 1-inch boiling water in pan, ¼ teaspoon each salt and sugar, 1½ tablespoons margarine or butter, ¼ teaspoon ground black pepper.

Cook rutabagas and apples until tender (about 5 minutes) in covered saucepan containing 1 inch boiling water and 1 teaspoon each salt and sugar. Remove from the heat and wash. Add margarine and ground black pepper.

Note: Cook rutabagas in uncovered saucepan in water to cover if you object to their strong flavor. However, more of the nutrients are lost by this method. The above method saves food value, but the flavor is stronger.

Here's a delightful vegetable combination. Goes well with roast turkey.

Fresh Spinach Ring with Shredded Beets
(Yield: 8 servings)

Two pounds fresh uncooked spinach, 3 tablespoons margarine or butter, ½ teaspoon salt, ¼ teaspoon sugar, 1 teaspoon chopped black pepper, 1 teaspoon chopped onion, 2 eggs, well beaten.

Heat oven to 325 degrees F. (slow). Cook spinach in covered saucepan, without water, over low heat until done. Chop fine. Add remaining ingredients. Pack into a buttered, 8-inch ring mold. Set in pan of hot water. Bake 25 to 30 minutes or until firm. Unmold onto a large serving plate. Fill center with shredded beets.

Shredded Beets
Three cups shredded raw beets, ¼ cup boiling water, ½ teaspoon salt, 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice, 1 tablespoon margarine or butter.

Cook beets in the boiling water in covered saucepan until tender (about 5 minutes). Add remaining ingredients. Spoon into center of spinach ring.

Well-Groomed Girls Need Satiny Legs To Compliment Fall Shades In Hosiery

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

Fall's gossamer sheer hosiery, in eye-catching colors, should make the well-groomed girl look twice at her legs.

In order to look well in these new stockings, your legs should be satin-smooth. And this, of course, means they should be completely free from hair.

No matter what your leg problems (too thin, too heavy) you can add to their attractiveness by keeping them soft and smooth-looking.

To keep them hair-free and in the best of condition, you can shave them or use a depilatory. Either method has proved satisfactory.

There's a depilatory cream out now that is, its maker claims, odorless, stainless, and when left on the legs for a minimum of time, removes all hair neatly.

If your hair is of fine or medium texture, leave the cream on for six minutes. Then, with a damp cloth, or piece of gauze, wipe both cream and hair from your legs.

The best time to apply the cream

Those receiving Brownie pins were Phillis Lamb, Nancy Jordan, Carolyn Presley, Donna Shipman, Marydee Jinks, Carolyn Barrett, Elaine Trumm, Frances Ann Clark, Barbara Blair, Gayle Tisdell, Nancy Bryant, Angelia Atchley were absent.

Parents present were Messrs. and Mmes. Ed Bryant, Troy Shipman, O. L. Presley, Foy Barrett, Ernie Trumm, Harold Call, Roy Jordan, J. E. Hall, Tolle Jinks, Jr., J. E. Krug; and Mmes. Joe Clark, and H. F. Blair.

Pastel Colors Are Chinaware Trend

Style developments in china and glass follow the pattern established in January of pastel coloration, platinum trim and graceful, contemporary decoration. Reviews of new lines by Retailing Daily show that colored rims are still good, as well as scattered leaves and that old standby, the center spray.

Earthenware is more interesting this year. Here the pastel color palette has been expanded to include apricot, mint green, turquoise and sandalwood. Blacks and grays are stronger than ever; a color just returned to the fashion fold is fire engine red.

The repertoire of decorative motifs follows the familiar patterns of jackstraws, stripes, starbursts, leaves and flowers. The latter two categories have undergone an eye-pleasing change, however. Center and side sprays have been exploded and the parts allowed to fall where they may. Worked in the season's exciting color palette, these random patterns appear fresh, indeed.

Styles strike off in three directions: A non-extreme modern, Provincial (Scandinavian and Early American) and imitation of the china look.

Stemware assumes silhouettes of middle height, favoring conical bowls and scattered gray or polished geometric cuttings.

Serving pieces reflect an aura of elegance with their sleek shapes and black, gold and white color schemes. Modern and Grecian motifs vie with one another for first place. Some lines incorporate the softer motifs and pastel color palette of dinnerware.

A Message from Joe Miller, "Your Pharmacist"

THE "MOST PRECIOUS DOCUMENT IN THE WORLD" is the prescription you get from your Physician. Before he can write it, he must do these important things:

1. AFTER GRADUATING FROM HIGH SCHOOL, and being carefully checked for moral character and adaptability to medicine, he attends a pre-medical college.
2. HE THEN STUDIES IN A MEDICAL UNIVERSITY for at least four more years.
3. AFTER GRADUATION HE IS EXAMINED BY THE STATE for knowledge and ability. When he passes these tests he is licensed to practice medicine.
4. THEN HE USUALLY SPENDS ABOUT TWO YEARS as a hospital interne, where thousands of sick people are examined by him. Here older Physicians give him the benefits of their experience.
5. AT LAST HE OPENS HIS OFFICE, but he never stops learning. He joins his County, State and National Medical societies, and from their reports he gets all the newest methods of treatment.

NOW HE CAN WRITE YOU THAT PRESCRIPTION which you bring to "Your Pharmacist," also licensed by the State, after many years at College, to Practice Pharmacy. We carefully compound it, exactly as your Physician specifies, and you have received the best treatment possible.

NLRB Ruling On Stock Hits Higher Courts

WASHINGTON, Nov. 13—UP—The oil industry soon may know whether it must make union employees stock-purchase plans part of the collective-bargaining package.

The National Labor Relations Board said "yes" recently in a controversial 3 to 1 decision affecting not only oil but all industries which have sponsored stock-purchase plans for their union workers.

The ruling was against the Richfield Oil Corp., Los Angeles, and in favor of Long Beach Local 128 of the CIO Oil Workers. Richfield promptly appealed to the circuit court at San Francisco on grounds the edict placed labor "on both sides of the bargaining table."

Subject to Negotiations
Substance of the ruling was that once an employer "contributes" to a stock-purchase program—as did Richfield—the plan becomes an integral part of "wages and working conditions" and thus subject to negotiations.

Free World Crude Oil Down For Third Month

TULSA, Okla. — Production of crude oil in countries of the Free World showed its third consecutive monthly decline in August. The Oil and Gas Journal reported Saturday.

Most of the drop occurred in the United States. Output of foreign fields was down slightly, with declines in Venezuela and Saudi Arabia offsetting an increase in Kuwait.

Average Free World production during the month was 12,060,300 barrels daily, 98,900 barrels daily below the previous month. U. S. production was off 74,400 barrels daily, while non-Communist foreign output was down 24,900 barrels daily.

The Journal noted that figures for the first eight months of the year show that the increase in world production during this period was entirely due to gains outside the United States. Free World output in the first eight months of the year show that the increase in world production during this period was entirely due to gains outside the United States.

eraged 12,181,000 barrels daily, up 2.9 per cent. At the same time, non-Communist foreign production increased 498,100 barrels daily, or 9.3 per cent.

Substantial gains continue in the Middle East. For the first eight months of the year, output of the countries in this region averaged 2,676,000 barrels daily, an increase of 11 per cent over the corresponding period of 1953.

During August, production in Kuwait climbed to a near record level of 1,011,300 barrels daily, less than 1,000 barrels daily below the all-time high for this country last March. Saudi Arabia, however, was down 32,400 barrels daily. Of the individual fields in Iraq, Zubair in the southern part of the country rose to a new high in August with an output of 104,500 barrels daily.

Production in France showed another encouraging gain during August, with about 4,000 barrels daily of the month's total coming from the new Parentis field of the Esso Standard company. Production in Venezuela dropped 20,100 barrels daily below July, while output in Trinidad rose to a new record of 65,400 barrels daily.

1955 May Be Top Auto Market Year

DETROIT, Nov. 13—UP—The enthusiastic predictions of a bigger automobile market in 1955 appear to have been justified, at least on the basis of early reports.

Dealers in lines where 1955 models have been introduced to the public report public interest running high in the new cars. Showrooms have been packed on introduction dates.

A steady stream of advance reports of "hot cars" and advertising teasers helped create the introduction date interest. Most of the "teasers" and advance reports were backed up by the new models.

Companies' Biggest Changes
The styling and engineering changes are just about the biggest most of the companies have ever accomplished in one year.

This was the year of the "new look" for most models. Bodies were lowered to give them more of a racy, sports car look. Windshields were swept back and wrapped-around on almost all models. Horsepower was stepped up and Chevrolet and Plymouth put V-8's in their low-priced models for the first time.

Colors in the new models run hog-wild, with some car makers offering three-tone paints.
But the automobile makers feel there are solid things to back up their predictions of a bigger car market in 1955 than the first flush of interest shown in the revamped 1955 models.

The trade paper, Automotive News, reported that unofficial figures show new car sales during the mid-October period, right before the first new models were unveiled, had climbed 7 per cent over the September rate.

Dealers also have reported the public showing a desire to buy the 1955 models, not just satisfy curiosity by looking at them.

Advance Sales High
Advance sales have been running at a high clip. Chrysler reported some 45,000 advance orders for its Chrysler and Imperial lines. That is more than a fourth of the 160,000 cars Chrysler has set as its 1955 goal in these two lines.

The biggest trouble to date has not been selling the new cars, but building them. With the new models being changed so radically some production difficulties have slowed down the rate at which the new cars are coming off the line. But if all goes according to schedule, output is due to start climbing.

By the end of this month, the automobile companies expect to turn out some 504,000 new cars. If it hits that mark it will be the biggest November in history.

MRS. CLEA HUSTED ... leaves Pampa

Gray County Clerk Deputy Leaves Pampa

Mrs. Clea Husted, a deputy in the office of County Clerk Charlie Thut for almost nine years, left Pampa Saturday for Camp Gordon, Augusta, Ga., to join her husband, Leonard.

Mrs. Husted, who lived at 737 N. Dwight, began working in Thut's office Jan. 7, 1946, as a deputy clerk and for the last three years has been chief deputy clerk.

She handled most of the county court business and, in the words of her boss, was a "jack-of-all-trades." Her husband, on leave from Pampa's Southwestern Public Service, is stationed at Camp Gordon as an instructor.

Mrs. Husted went to Dallas Saturday and from there will go to Georgia.

Pampan Named Local Head Of Rural Life

G. H. Goodwin, a Pampa resident for 15 years, has been appointed representative for the Rural Life Insurance Co. for Pampa and vicinity.

Rural Life, home offices in Dallas, made the announcement today. Goodwin has had several years experience in the insurance business.

He lives with his family at 818 S. Barnes.

NOW LET'S ALL RAISE THE NEW CRY OF '44 SKIDDOO'

SAN FRANCISCO — UP — The master of ceremonies of an engineers' smoker made sure that the affair was within the law by inviting a pair of policemen. However, they forgot to tell the star of the program, Miss Linx (Chesty) Lane, who danced right out of all that covered her 44-inch bustline — and was marched right off to the municipal jail.
