Control Of Congress Goes Over To Demos

Parties Demand Recounts

6 States' Votes Under 'Scrutiny'

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4-UP- Angry charges of irregularities and demands for vote recounts came from both Democrats and Republicans Thursday as an aftermath of the election on Tuesday. Attorney General Nathaniel Goldstein of New York ordered an investigation by his elections fraud bureau "in view of the extensive challenge list and the number of complaints" which he said his office was receiving.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey ordered a recount of the vote by which Democrat Averell Harriman defeated Sen. Irving M. Ives (R-N.Y.) for the New York governorship.

Recount in New Jersey A recount already was underway in the close New Jersey senatorial race in which Republican Clifford P. Case led Rep. Charles R. Howell (D). An official canvass of the New Jersey ballot boxes will be made Nov. 30.

In Illinois, Sen. Paul H. Douglas (D-III), who was re-elected Tuesday after a strenuous campaign, demanded an investigation of an alleged "slow count" in Dupage, Kane and McHenry counties.

He said "all indications point to the fact that Republicans are holding out large numbers of precincts" in the three counties. U.S. Attorney Robert Ticken said he is investigating Douglas' complaint that in a fourth county the returns were taken home by election officials.

The FBI said it is looking into Douglas' charges to determine whether it should enter the investigations.

Close Senatorial Contests. Recounts appeared likely in close senatorial contests in Ohio and Oregon. In Ohio Republican George H. Bender defeated Democrat Thomas A. Burke by less than 10,000 votes out of more than 2.5 million cast.

HERE'S A POLITICIAN WHO REALLY NEEDED THE JOB

CROOKSTON, Minn. -- UP -- Republican Rep. Harold Hagen says he "doesn't know" what he'll do in January when he gives up the House seat he held since 1952 to Democrat Mrs. Coya Knutson. "I never anticipated I'd lose," former newspaperman Hagen said. "As a result, I wasn't thinking about a job other than the one I had."

9 County Officials Get Longer Terms

Nine Gray County public officials elected Tuesday will serve for four years instead of the present two. Ten others, however, will have only two years in office this time and must run again in 1956 for four-year terms. Those beginning two-year terms Jan. 1 are Sheriff Rufe Jordan, County Tax Collector Jack Back, Constables H. A. Doggett and Charlie Clendennen, incoming constable J. D. Fish, County Commissioner (Pct. 3) Arlie Carpenter, incoming County Commissioner (Pct. 3) J. M. McCracken, JP (Pct. 2, Pl. 1) D. R. Henry, incoming Dist. Atty. Bill Waters and incoming County Atty. Don Cain.

How Law Works The amendment provides that district and county clerks, county judges, treasurers, criminal district attorneys (in larger cities), surveyors, hide and animal inspectors, justices of the peace and commissioners of Pcts. 2 and 4 shall begin their four-year terms this Jan. 1. However, sheriffs, tax assessor-collectors, constables, and commissioners of Pcts. 1 and 3 will not begin four-year terms until 1957.

In the case where there is more than one justice of the peace in a precinct -- like in Pampa -- the one with the even-numbered "place" begins his term this Jan. 1. The other waits for two years.

The offices of county schools superintendent and district judge are not affected by the amendment -- they are four-year terms. Now that this amendment has been approved by the voters, the district judge and attorney will not again be elected in the same year.

Atom Debate On Tap At UN

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 4-UP- The United Nations prepared Thursday for debate on a plan for an international atomic pool for peace against a background of President Eisenhower's latest appeal for Soviet co-operation in his proposal in this field.

The United States sent Russia a new bid Wednesday seeking Kremlin support for the President's "atoms-for-peace" plan. The Russians cold-shouldered the idea previously.

The general assembly's main political committee was scheduled to start debate Friday on the most revolutionary proposal of the atomic age -- an international pool of atomic material and information for peaceful use.

Thursday, the assembly was expected to give routine, and probably unanimous, approval to the plan for renewed disarmament talks among the five major atomic powers.

Canada proposed the talks, and was joined in support of its resolution by the United States, Britain, France and Russia. It was the first East-West agreement on any aspect of the arms reduction question since 1948.

Deciding Factor Is Victory In Oregon

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 -- UP -- Democrats captured control of the Senate early Thursday with an eyelash victory in Oregon that dashed Republican hopes of maintaining a partial grip on the reins of power in the 84th Congress.

In a final pitter-patter of Oregon ballots that wound up the hardest fought mid-term election of recent history, Democrat Richard L. Neuberger unseated Republican Sen. Guy Gordon and gave the Democrats a gossamer grip on Senate control.

Barring reversals by the recounts demanded by losers in New Jersey and expected in Oregon and elsewhere, the lineup in the new Senate which meets Jan. 3 will be: Democrats, 48, Republicans 47, independent 1.

The pre-election lineup was: Republicans 49, Democrats 46, independent 1. Morse to Vote with Demos The lone independent, Sen. Wayne Morse of Oregon, has said he will vote with the Democrats to organize the Senate, giving them a makeshift majority.

In the House, the Democrats will have a slim working majority if they observe party discipline and vote together -- which they do not always do. The standing there on the basis of final unofficial returns: Democrats, 232, Republicans, 203.

The pre-election lineup: Republicans, 218, Democrats, 212, independent 1, vacancies 4. That represents a Democratic gain of 20 seats over the number they held in the expiring 83rd Congress.

The see-saw Oregon race kept control of Congress in doubt for more than 24 hours and New Jersey's Senate race was even closer.

Jersey Outcome Not Settled Indeed the New Jersey outcome is not finally settled yet since an official recount has been ordered of the tally which gave Republican Clifford Case Jr., a protégé of President Eisenhower, a plurality of 1,392 votes over Rep. Charles R. Howell, a Democrat.

Nueberger, 41-year-old state senator and free-lance writer, had trailed Gordon by as many as 13,000 votes in early returns, but he began to pull up on his opponent late Wednesday. Wednesday night he moved into a narrow lead and clung to it until his victory was nailed down early Thursday.

He was the first Democrat to win a Senate seat in Oregon in 40 years. The Pacific Northwest upset was a bitter pill for Republican leaders who had previously thought that the GOP would salvage control of the Senate from the off-year balloting in which the Democrats picked up seven formerly Republican governorships as well as a majority in the House.

White House Spirits Rise According to insiders, White House spirits rose abruptly Wednesday when House and Senate losses appeared to be less than early returns foreshadowed. But that was before control of the Senate shifted to the Democrats.

There was genuine grief at the White House over the defeat of Sen. John Sherman Cooper in Kentucky by former Vice President (See DEMOS, Page 2)

BULLETIN PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 4-UP- Early Mack said Thursday the Philadelphia Athletics were sold to Chicago realtor Arnold Johnson.

New Congress' Farm Leaders Face Big Job

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4-UP- Farm leaders of the new Democratic Congress will have tough sledding trying to deliver on their promise to restore rigid high price supports for basic farm crops.

Although Democrats won control, backers of President Eisenhower's flexible farm support program appeared to have held their own -- or perhaps picked up a vote or two -- in the Senate.

Last July the Senate approved a modified version of the President's flexible program by a 48 to 44 vote. Much to Mr. Eisenhower's satisfaction, the election returns showed you don't have to favor rigid high farm price supports to get elected to Congress from Midwest farm states.

In two key farm states -- Iowa and Ohio voters unseated Democratic senators who voted for rigid supports and chose in their place GOP congressmen who had voted in the House for a modified version of the administration's flexible plan.

The key congressional votes earlier this year came on legislation to provide flexible supports ranging from 82 1/2 to 90 per cent of parity for 1955 crops of wheat, corn, peanuts, rice and cotton in lieu of the mandatory 90 per cent scale that had prevailed since World War II.

Shoot To Kill Order Given Strike Guards

LA PLATTE, Nev., Nov. 4-UP- Encamped pickets at the strike-bound Allied Chemical and Dye Corp. charged Thursday that company guards have "shoot to kill" orders.

The striking workers, 280 strong, set up Army type cots and pup tents around the plant to insure around-the-clock picketing. Company officials meanwhile set up housekeeping inside the plant. The only shot fired so far in the dispute was when plant manager R. L. Riggs attempted to drive a food-laden truck through the picket lines Tuesday.

The shot was fired into the ground by a guard union official called "Trigger" happy.

Spokesmen for the International Chemical Workers' Union charged that Riggs has ordered his guards to "shoot to kill" to protect trucks entering the plant.

Dems Shake Fist At GOP

By JOHN A. GOLDSMITH WASHINGTON, Nov. 4-UP- Democrats called on the administration Thursday to back water on the Dixon-Yates deal in light of the election returns.

Otherwise, they warned, the controversial power contract will be "thoroughly ventilated" when they take charge of the House and Senate on Jan. 5. The Democrats hinted they may try to block it, if necessary, by withholding funds.

Con Accuses Ex-Detective

HOUSTON, Nov. 4-UP- A Leavenworth convict charged here Wednesday that Sidney Smith, former city detective, forced him to ride around town -- often in a police car -- to pick up narcotics and "split" with him.

Smith, who has hundreds of drug peddler arrests to his credit, was suspended, and later indicted, in the police department drug scandals. He went on trial here before Federal Judge Allan E. Hannay charged with falsifying prescriptions from June 14 to Aug. 17 of last year.

Carl E. Lawder, 44, who was brought here from Leavenworth where he is serving time for mail fraud, testified that Smith picked him up in June, 1953, with 50 dilaudid tablets in his car and held the charge over his head as a club to force him to get more of the drug.

From then on, Lawder testified, Smith forced him to buy dilaudid tablets on prescription, often "chauffeur" him from store to store to get narcotics. Smith, he said, would take part of the tablets and let him keep the rest.

Another witness, Charles (Red) Aaron, now under a narcotics charge, also testified, echoing Lawder's testimony that Smith forced him to buy dilaudid and "split" with him.

Reserve Unit Wins Plaudit

The Pampa Army reserve unit received one of the top ratings in the North Texas area following a recent inspection by a 4th Army inspection team from Austin, according to Sgt. Connor Hicks, chief of survey.

The unit classification has been changed from a cadre with a strength of 35 enlisted men and six officers to a full strength unit of 129 enlisted men and officers by 4th Army headquarters, Hicks said.

Men interested in joining the unit should contact Capt. Truett S. Ross, unit commander, or Sgt. Hicks at the Post Office.

Optimist Week Named By Mayor

Mayor Tom Rose today signed a proclamation making Nov. 7-13 Optimist Week and urged all Pampans to join in the observance and extend a heartfelt salute to the organization for its work with boys.

The mayor added that the Pampa Optimist Club is devoting much time, money and effort to the education and development of youth in all walks of life.

John Clark, club president, pointed out there are 45,000 members in 1,000 Optimist Clubs over the world who assisted more than 700,000 boys last year at a cost of more than $25 million.

Among the items accomplished by the local club in the last year are the building of three baseball parks, training of 12 baseball teams and the training of 80 boys in six boxing teams.

"We of the Optimist Club," Clark said, "do not take the credit for the success of our program but wish to say that the citizens of Pampa deserve the credit."

Sheppard Trial Drama Unfolds

CLEVELAND, Nov. 4-UP- Dr. Sam H. Sheppard sat with eyes closed and face deathly pale Thursday as the state's attorney described how his wife was beaten to death and pointed the finger of accusation to him as the murderer.

The 30-year-old brain surgeon's mouth trembled and he wiped a hand across his closed eyelids as Assistant Prosecutor John J. Mahon calmly recited to a jury of seven men and five women the death scene in the chill, windy pre-dawn hours of last July 4.

The state was making its opening statement in its effort to send "Dr. Sam" to the electric chair. It accuses him of the deliberate and premeditated slaying of his pretty wife, Marilyn, 31, after an argument about his affairs with "other women."

Mahon, a 63-year-old widower who has a record of 100 murder convictions in 22 years as a prosecutor, leaned back, half sitting, as he spoke softly to the jury.

"Her head had been brutally beaten," he said in describing what the police found in Marilyn's upstairs bedroom of the Sheppard Bay Village home.

Sheppard, his chin jutting, flicked his eyes at the jury. Then he closed them and paled.

World Renowned Painter Dies

NICE, France, Nov. 4-UP- Henri Matisse, world-famous French modernist painter, died Wednesday of a heart attack, his doctor announced Thursday. He was 85.

Matisse suffered the fatal heart attack after returning from a vacation in the countryside. He had just finished a stained glass window design.

Pampans Injured In Car Wreck

Two Pampans were involved in an automobile accident at 7:45 p.m. Wednesday on the Amarillo highway, 3 of a mile west of Pampa.

Mrs. Martha Louise Nelson, 30, was admitted to Highland General Hospital where her condition late this morning was reported as "fair," according to the highway patrol. Will Everett Larson, 30, was given first-aid and released.

Estimated damages to the two vehicles totaled $1,350, the patrol reported.

Larson was headed into Pampa and Mrs. Nelson, away from town at the time of the collision, the patrol said. No charges had been filed by late this morning.

Republican Claims Irk House Leader

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4-UP- Speaker designate Sam Rayburn said Thursday that when the Democrats take control of the House they will demand that the Republicans "put up or shut up" on their claims of mass dismissal of federal risks.

Obviously irritated by Republican campaign charges that scores of holdovers from past Democratic administrations have been found questionable security risks, Rayburn said in a telephone interview from his home in Bonham, Tex., that the Democrats will "make them (the Republicans) lay it on the line on who they've fired and for what."

The Texas Democrat, whose election to a new term as speaker was assured when Democrats captured House control in Tuesday's election, made clear that investigations will rank along with important legislation on the agenda of the new 84th Congress.

WILL TRY -- Sam Rayburn, grand old man of the House of Representatives and scheduled to become Speaker of the House in the 84th Congress, said that the Democratic majority will try to "iron out the farm program." Rayburn has served 21 terms in Congress. (NEA Telephoto)

HOLLYWOOD—(NEA)—Excitively Yours: If the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences is planning any special Oscar awards for 1954, there should be one for 87-year-old Kate Gould of Glencoe, Minn.

Kate, as far as I'm concerned, is the original Miss Movie Business.

Way back in 1909 she went to work as cashier of the Crystal Theater in Glencoe, and she's still punching out tickets nightly. A theater chain, National Allied, is honoring Kate at its silver anniversary convention in Milwaukee in mid-October, but 45 years of "How many, please?" in the same theater is worthy of an Oscar spotlight.

How about it, Hollywood?

Esperanza Wayne, who expects the finish that John Wayne has married Pilar Paletta any day now, left for Mexico to be with mama when it happens... Inside on the divorce of the Dewey Martins is that Mrs. M. wanted him to quit his acting career and go into business in Portland, Ore. Dewey couldn't see it that way.

The rarely apart Jeanne Crain and her mate, Paul Brinkman, said goodbye in Paris, where she's starring with Jane Russell in "Gentlemen Marry Brunettes." But Brinkman rushes back to her side after he attends to business matters in Hollywood.

RENCH NEWS SCRIBES, by the way, couldn't resist asking Jane Russell if she had any hanging over her when it happens... "I think he's pretty well taken care of."

There's nostalgia you can slice with a knife in the news that Hollywood's old Trocadero Cafe will be leveled to make way for an office building. It was at the Trocadero that a star—Judy Garland—was really born.

"I know—because I saw it happen."

The year was 1937 and the Trocadero was a Sunday night showcase for new talent. One Sunday night two little girls were introduced on the same bill. Both were singers. Both won tremendous applause—and both won MGM contracts the next day. One was Deanna Durbin and the other was Judy Garland.

THE WOES ON MGM'S Anne Baxter—Steve Forrest costar, "Boulevarde in Paris," are piling higher than the Eiffel Tower. Most of the footage may have to be reshot... Joseph Cotton broke with his big-talent agency that's handled him for years and found another stable.

Paulette Goddard's intimates insist she will be returning to the U.S. as Mrs. Erich Maria Remarque. If true, the novelist must have untangled the binding ties of an early marriage.

Rumors of marriage bells may start when Maureen O'Hara goes to Mexico for her costarring role with Anthony Quinn in "The Nun and the Devil." But the truth is that Maureen and the wealthy one have given up the idea of marriage.

Tic Mature, now dating Lili St. Cyr in Las Vegas, will be able to afford the stiff alimony Dorothy Mature is asking. When his Fox contract expires in January, he will do two pictures for Columbia—$200,000 each.

War Or Peace?

Diplomats in Washington cannot decide whether an inevitable collision of live-and-let-live coexistence between the Democratic and Communist powers has been produced by the latest and prospective realignment of the world's military and economic balances.

It was, however, agreed that these historic changes portend either a terrible war for survival or promise a long period of peace. Not since the Congress of Vienna, which shored up a broken and bankrupt Europe after the Napoleonic Wars, in their opinion, has there been such a revolutionary revision of the great nations' relations with one another.

Such leading actors in the current drama as President Eisenhower and Secretary Dulles, Prime Minister Churchill and Foreign Secretary Eden, as well as the European counterparts, share that viewpoint. Despite a sort of breathless confidence, none dares predict how the curtain will fall on the pageant they have just witnessed.

Prospective formation of the Western European Union, as the new Brussels-NATO organization has been formally baptized, reflects an about-face in Anglo-American policy. Since the rout of Napoleon, Britain has held aloof from continental entanglements.

Believing that her economic and security interests were best served by a balance-of-power strategy, playing France against Germany and vice versa, and keeping Russia weak in Europe and the Far East, London has pursued a dog-in-the-manger attitude.

Now she promises to commit four divisions and a tactical air force, a good bite of her entire defense establishment, to Europe. Had it not been for this pledge, France would not have agreed to any kind of association with Germany.

But the United States has given equally solemn commitments, not only in Europe but in every part of the world. The nation which refused to become entangled in Wilson's League of Nations only 35 years ago is the ultimate guarantor of the West's new security organization. Had we not underwritten all these pacts, they would be uncollectible promissory notes.

Even a year ago, it would have been inconceivable for any administration to agree to retain four or more divisions in Europe and the British Isles for 44 years which is the proposed life of the Brussels-NATO alliance.

Despite lingering doubts of eventual agreement, the regrouping may mean that France and Germany will abandon their historic enmity, which has fomented three wars within 100 years. But if they do agree to live in peace and friendship, it will be only because of American and British willingness to serve as a combination of European empire and watchdog.

Our Pacific commitments guarantee the security of almost every nation in that vast area against Communist attack. Linked with us there, although as minor partners, are Britain, France, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, Korea, The Philippines, and Thailand.

Had these alliances existed 40 years ago, diplomats believe that the world might have been spared the two global wars. Their theory is that the Germany of the Kaiser or Hitler would not have dared to precipitate a conflict, if they had known at the time that the U. S. and Britain would have gone to the aid of France. Nor would Japan have dared to embark on her frenzied military adventures in the Far East.

These western shifts have had resounding repercussions on Russian foreign policy. In an effort to disrupt the Western European Union, Moscow now offers the unification of Germany, free elections and withdrawal of Red troops. In order to counter our offensive in the Far East, the Kremlin has agreed to transform China from a satellite into a full partner in Communism Incorporated. She also proposes atomic disarmament.

With the process of revision of these relationships still in an embryonic or fluid state, it is impossible to discern the outcome. It can mean, that once both sides consolidate their military territorial and diplomatic gains, unforeseen tensions will produce another and unimaginable disastrous battlefield showdown. Or it can mean that, with the alliances stalemated, there will emerge an uneasy century of peace like that which ensued after the Congress of Vienna in 1815.

How Not To Do It Yourself Is Subject Of New Book

By HENRY McLEMORE

I am writing the third chapter of a new book. It is entitled, "How Not To Do It Yourself."

The book is simplicity itself. A retarded child wearing a tight derby could understand it.

It explains in detail how not to paper a wall, how not to build a smokehouse for curing hams, how not to build a train for your youngster, and how not to repair a gas stove that is so mad at you that it hisses and growls around biting members of the family.

I hope the book will offset the thousands of books, articles, and radio and TV talks dealing with how to do it yourself.

The United States is being thrown slightly out of line by citizens doing things for themselves. I have the hand a paper, prepared by a research department, which shows that 1287 men were injured last year by calculating walls; that 1586 were laid up for an average of three days because of their efforts to do the electrical wiring in their new homes; and that 2872 required hospitalization due to working on barbecue pits.

Consider this hire-nobody craze. A Suburban one, it could reach proportions that would leave no time to bank, burn-ture upholsters would have time to upholster furniture, and so on.

My book, done after much thought, explains how simple it is to do nothing yourself. Take the first chapter, which deals with leaky hoses, spray guns, and creaking stairs.

When a hose starts leaking, let it leak. This means that it is tired. Would you go out and demand that a 101-year-old man pick up a shovel and start digging ditches? No, because you are a humanitarian. You should no more try to patch up a hose than a centenarian.

The best way to avoid a spray gun is to stay away from it. Let it stay right where it is. If a bush, a tree, or a vineyard, does not get along, let it live, the old adage says, and let it wither. The trees one admires are the ones that stand alone in a majestic forest—untouched and unaided by man.

A creaky stair is a poor man's burglar alarm. Let an intruder step on it and a husband is instantly awake and can ask his wife to investigate the noise. Too, this is a country that admires old things. Old stairs creak, and that is a sign of age. This makes a house more valuable.

America's Master Blunder—The United Nations

The November issue of the American Mercury has considerably to say about the United Nations, both by contributing writers and editorially. It has an article by Harold Lord Varney under the heading of "America's Master Blunder — The United Nations." Mr. Varney contends that there is not much probability of its getting out of the United Nations for a long time. He writes:

"Even in its present deglorified state, the UN is an almost indispensable instrument for the power politics of the Eleanor Roosevelt, the Adlai E. Stevenson and the James T. Shotwells. Its bandwagon has become a collect-all for the ambitious company of the internationalists, the peace-at-any-price, the Anglophiles, the Foundation top brass, the civil liberties, careerists, the Socialists, the ADA-ers, the special gosselers, the progressive educators, the trade-union Reutherites, the Mahatma Gandhi cultists, the Titoists and all the other softies who make up the so-called 'Liberal' coalition. This slippery coterie would never permit the UN to die or America to withdraw without a convulsive struggle which would tear apart our national unity. Barring some unexpected major world development, we are probably saddled with the United Nations for years to come.

"Unhappily, while the UN lasts, its effect upon American foreign policy will be poisonous. Since 1945, virtually every humiliating American defeat at the hands of Russia has been directly traceable to our abject subordination to the UN."

The editor of the magazine, Russell Maguire, quotes Dr. J. B. Matthews in a speech at Chicago on August 9 as saying:

"I challenge the illusion that the United Nations is an instrument of peace. I hold that it could not be less of a cruel hoax if it had been organized in hell for the sole purpose of aiding and abetting the destruction of the United States. I hold that the sooner we withdraw from membership and send its delegations scurrying to the four corners of the earth, whence they came, the greater will be our security.

"I challenge the basic intelligence of those who vociferously oppose the diplomatic recognition of Red China by the United States and do not at the same time demand the severance of all diplomatic relations with the Soviet Union and all her satellites. We are in the ludicrous position of entertaining the devil as a house guest, but slamming the front door on one of his little nips.

"I challenge the assumption that as a nation we have any enduring friends or allies. We have only enduring national interests.

"I challenge the fallacy — dangerous in the extreme — that any form of socialism, whether the Norman Thomas, the ADA, or the Republican brand, is any 'third force' or 'vital center' which can mediate the conflict between freedom and Communism. The historic role of socialism is to bring about the deterioration of the collective morale of any nation that adopts it, or in other words, to make that nation a pushover for Communist conquest.

"I challenge the Pollyanna notion that Christianity possesses any superiority that automatically guarantees its survival in any given country or in any given age. Christianity faces its second major crisis in almost two thousand years. The crisis with which the Christian world is confronted in the twentieth century is comparable only with that which it faced from the conquests of Islam.

"Within a hundred years after the Hegira, or Mohammed's flight from Mecca to Medina, in 622 A. D., Islam had built an empire which surpassed in power and extent that of Rome at her zenith. In land after land, in Near Asia and Africa, Christianity was all but obliterated.

"For a thousand years after the Hegira, Christianity stood at the crossroads. It was not until the seventeenth century that the issue was settled when the Ottoman Turks were finally stopped at the gates of Vienna by Rudiger Von Stralemburg's heroic defense of the city.

"Today, we face a far more formidable foe."

Why build cupboards? Everyone has them, and who wants to be a copycat? I have trained Mary to store the pots and pans and canned goods in the living room, and their bright aluminum and gay wrappers add a definite decorative note.

I have lost two second cousins, an aunt, and a chance acquaintance because of overwork at do-it-yourself jobs. The average American does not have muscles required for tacking shingles on a roof. He risks his health when he starts laying bricks, mixing concrete for a driveway, and putting together a prefabricated pool table.

The best way to avoid a spray gun is to stay away from it. Let it stay right where it is. If a bush, a tree, or a vineyard, does not get along, let it live, the old adage says, and let it wither. The trees one admires are the ones that stand alone in a majestic forest—untouched and unaided by man.

Ike Republicans Due More Defeats Because Of Aides

By RAY TUCKER

WASHINGTON — Eisenhower Republicans will suffer many more political and legislative defeats, in the opinion of veteran Washington observers, unless Ike figuratively washes out of his hair his present group of so-called advisers and public relations experts.

Their press-agenting of his domestic and foreign achievements, even he agrees, has been the most atrocious in recent years. They have not dramatized or emphasized gains and accomplishments under Republican rule. They have given no, or bad, advice to their superiors in major matters. And their blunders on the positive side have been even worse.

The basic reason is that the men and women in these key positions are Roosevelt-Truman holdovers, or in certain instances, nominal Republicans of the New Deal stamp.

Except for a few departments—State, Commerce, Labor, Interior—anti-Republican figures have charge of publicity and promotion. In addition, Ike has retained policy and publicity-making officials in key posts throughout the Government. Only a few enjoy Civil Service status, and they could be dispensed with if he followed the Roosevelt-Truman strategy of placing only the faithful in power.

These New Deal-Fair Deal retainers are not openly hostile. And the experience of 20 years under Democratic regimes has made them competent in a routine way. They know the rules, regulations and personnel as "summer boarders" know the ropes in a summer resort they visit every year. But they drag their feet, as well as their minds and typewriters, in making good will for Ike and the Republicans.

They know and solace themselves with the fact that they will be attached to the Federal payroll many long years after Ike has retired to his beloved Gettysburg farm.

Although space does not permit the listing of recent sins of omission and commission on the public relations and advisory fronts, a few damning indictments may be cited as proof:

The still suppressed story of how F.D.R., Stettinius, Harry Hopkins and Alger Hiss made such generous and ruinous concessions to Moscow and Yalta might have won millions of votes on Tuesday. It would certainly furnish a contrast to the anti-Communist alliances forged in the last two years.

The Yalta papers were to have been published last June, and they are far more sensational than generally realized. But their publication has been deferred time and again on the advice of G. Bernard Noble, Chief of State's Division of Historical Policy Research. He is a Truman-Acheson holdover.

If anybody made a mess of the Army's case against Senator "Joe" McCarthy, his Cohn-Schins pals, that is John Adams, who wined and dined with them before Sherman Adams decided to fight the Wisconsin Senator. Adams too, whose advice apparently impresses high Pentagon officials, is a relic of previous regimes, as are other key figures at Pentagon.

The Budget Bureau, which serves as Ike's legislative clearing house and brain trust, has been the President's worst enemy. If there were any mistakes possible to make, Budget Director Rowland Hughes and his New Deal publicity staff have made them.

Hughes wobbled and wiggled on the Niagara power project. On Monday, he favored private development, but on Tuesday he preferred to let Governor Thomas E. Dewey's Power Authority take charge. He failed to make an excellent and accurate explanation for the TVA-AEC deal, which may have won the Democrats many votes in areas allergic to public power.

Agriculture, which still relies on Trumanesque advisers; also fell down. It had a logical defense against blaming Ike for falling farm prices because (1) they began two years before Truman quit the White House, and (2) the low farm price support law does not become effective until next year. But this effective retort got only the whisper treatment from Secretary Benson's publicists.

In the last analysis, the White House has only itself to blame. It does not realize the value of political publicity and salesmanship, or it does not know how to manufacture the stuff. Anyway, there has been no direction or co-ordination from the President, Sherman Adams or Press Secretary James C. Hagerty. They also have bungled their job in this field.

BALANCE SHEET IN INDO-CHINA

(Chicago Daily Tribune)

If we were obliged to designate some other country as having a screwier foreign policy than our own, that dubious distinction would unhesitatingly go to France. Indo-China provides the laboratory demonstration.

As is well known, France fought a nationalist rebellion, Communist-led, in that country for nine years, but the war was deeply unpopular with Frenchmen, so much so that no government had the courage to order French colonial troops and foreign legionnaires, mostly Germans and East European fugitives from Communism.

When this half-hearted effort collapsed, the French ceded northern Viet Nam, hoping to keep the southern half out of Communist hands, along with the two other native states of Laos and Cambodia. The French were obliged, however, to agree to an election within two years to determine whether southern Viet Nam should also be yielded to the Communist victors, whose movement goes by the name of Viet Minh.

The latest is that the French mission in Indo-China has concluded that the Viet Minh will take over all of Viet Nam in 1956 and, therefore, recommended that France immediately extend a commercial credit of 1 billion piasters to the triumphant Communist enemy which so recently defeated France. The idea, such as it is, is to get in on the ground floor with the Communist victors and get what business there is trading with them.

Such an extraordinary flipflop is remarkable in itself, but passes all bounds of credibility as an instance of falling for the Communist line of "co-existence" and as an example of the hallucinatory notion that you can do business with Communists.

Times Obit On Barrows Called Unfair Presentation

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

The policy of the New York Times in matters affected by Communism has become a subject of controversy. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, the publisher, a graduate of the textile industry, became a journalist of amusing, if not altogether valid, grandeur after he had married the daughter of Adolph Ochs, the publisher who founded such good repute as the paper once enjoyed. His son-in-law is a versatile fellow. He has plumped for both interpretive and strictly objective reporting.

The Times of Sunday, Oct. 2, published an obituary of Alice Prentice Barrows. The Times said she had been a "noted specialist in school building problems, who devoted 41 years to the cause of education." Her age was 77. Actually she devoted herself to Communist designs in public education.

This woman was as Red as a slit throat and was hostess to the historic and notorious dinner party in Washington in 1953 at which she and other Reds outlined their programs of Communist revolution in which Roosevelt was to play the role which Kerensky had played in Russia. Dr. William A. Wirt, a genuine educator, then superintendent of schools in Gary, Ind., was one of the guests. He soon became the victim of a ferocious and merciless campaign of character-assassination.

But the New York Times, which can froth at the mouth at the enormity of Joe McCarthy's hostility to traitors and their patrons and protectors did not think the persecution of Wirt was worthy of note in the obit of the hateful old harridan who was at the bottom of it.

A New York man who keeps track of the Times' inconsistencies wrote to Turner Catledge, managing editor, that the Barrows obit, though charitable to the deceased, "was not fair to the memory of Doctor Wirt." He reminded the Times that this woman had been the first witness before a select House Committee organized for the sole purpose of destroying Wirt. The Times' obituary absolutely ignored the Wirt episode, although it was by far the most important single occurrence in Miss Barrows' career.

The Times did report that in 1953 she refused to answer to the Senate subcommittee on internal security "whether she had ever been a Communist." The congressional record contains a challenge to this version. In an extension of remarks by Congressman Fred A. Busbey, of Chicago, a redoubtable Republican Red-hater, last April 12, Busbey said the Barrows woman was not asked merely whether she had ever been a Communist. She was asked whether she had ever been a member of the Communist Party." She took the fifth amendment.

Moreover, the Times assuaged her conduct in this particular instance by stating that she had often heard an uncle declare that the highest level of liberty was the liberty of the meanest citizen. Therefore, this uncle is alleged to have concluded that the Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence were the greatest "expressions of human freedom." And Miss Barrows, after her death, was made to rely on a high-flown but meaningless recourse to documents which she had worked many years to destroy.

Robert Garst, assistant managing editor of the Times, replied to the reader, that he was "a little puzzled" by the criticism of the obit, because it contained no mention whatever of Doctor Wirt. He said it was "completely adequate as to Miss Barrows' career and should not appear unfair to the memory of anyone else."

On the contrary, the obit was unfair, first of all to the public in failing to present appropriate evidence that this woman was not only at best a fellow-traveler of the Red Treason and let the readers draw their own conclusions. And it was unfair to Wirt's memory because he died under a cloud of disrepute which she and others equally hateful created not only to destroy him but to warn others against the risk of character-assassination inherent in any attack on the treason of the New Deal.

Alice Barrows had been Wirt's private secretary in the New York school system about 1914. He trusted her on the basis of that old confidential association when he accepted an invitation to dine at her home. After that party Wirt wrote a memorandum for limited circulation in Washington which presently came to the attention of a New Deal committee of Congress. Thereupon, a special house committee of three Democrats and two Republicans was chosen to hound Wirt, destroy his character and drive him into oblivion.

John O'Connor, New York Democrat who later was "purged" by Roosevelt for opposing the plan to pack the federal courts with pro-Communist judges, took counsel of his conscience in 1940 and wrote a total, albeit confession which he began by saying, "I desire to relieve my conscience of a matter which has long burdened it."

He then admitted that "the committee immediately met and discussed rules as how to prevent the Republican minority from covering the hearings into an investigation of the truth of the charges." He personally, mentioned limited the hearings to an examination of Wirt to bring out the names and exact statements of his informants. Over the protests of the Republicans an examination of other persons was excluded. I took a leading part as prosecutor and inquisitor. I was quite aware, going so far as to oppose the appearance of the late distinguished ex-senator James Reed as Wirt's counsel.

This courtesy had sometimes been extended to witnesses. Wirt, however was not allowed to have his counsel examine witnesses nor was he called in rebuttal after they had staged their well-staged denial. I say "well-staged" because it was known that six of them had met and rehearsed their denials. The pack got the smell of blood and a great job was done."

The Barrows woman was a pioneer Red in the New Deal and here is congressional data showing that she belonged to many notorious Communist fronts. She never made the slightest gesture of compassion toward the victim of her perfidy.

These further facts will balance the obit printed by the New York Times. In the minds of some they may leave some question still whether the Times upheld its own motto: "All the news that's fit to print."

The American Way

A PRODIGIOUS JOB

By GEORGE PECK

It was quite a surprise to me to learn that the federal power systems generate only about 12 percent of the power used in the United States. From the bus and city cranked by the advocates of public power I had concluded that if production matched noise, federal projects must be producing just about all the power needs of our people.

Not only was it surprising but it was gratifying to know that the electric companies, whose expansion is financed mostly by the investments of private citizens, generate over 80 percent of the nation's electric power. The remaining 6 percent is produced by municipal plants, cooperatives and other governmental bodies.

If you have any doubt that the privately-owned electric companies can continue to supply America's electric needs, please disabuse your mind of any such thought.

The expansion plans of the electric industry mean that by 1956 the country will have twice the generating capacity of 1946. Quite an expansion to be carried out in a period of just eleven years, isn't it? It proves that the electric companies stand ready, willing and able to do the job wherever power is needed most.

To accomplish this miraculous expansion from 1946 through 1953, the electric companies spent 16 billion dollars and they will spend another 9 billion from 1954 through 1956. Sort of proves their confidence not only in their ability to supply America's power needs, but their unbounded faith in the future of America, doesn't it?

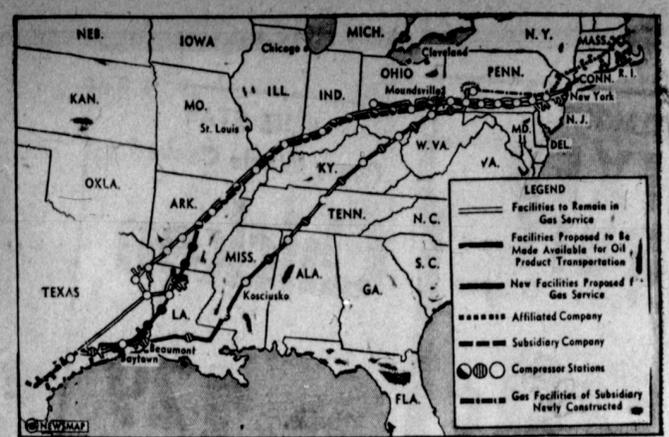

Largely because of this excellent performance, more and more people have been taking a careful look at United States federal power advocates stressed the idea that increasing our power supply was a job for federal agencies. But in time it became clear that the government could not possibly do the job.

Today there is strong emphasis on the value of a constructive partnership among the electric companies, and federal, state and local governments in meeting our power needs. More and more people now see that it is not and should not be the responsibility of government to supply the power needs of any given section of the country.

The United Nations promises every good thing in the world. But it only promises. It provides no legal way to throw out those in control of it if they fail to keep those promises. If they give us tyranny instead of benefits. Every tyrant since the dawn of history has gained power by making promises. The Hitlers always have tried to sound like the Christs. But the people never have been able to force their leaders to keep promises unless they have the privilege of throwing unsatisfactory leaders out. And they don't have this under the United Nations. BIG SWITCH

The famous "Little Inch" natural gas pipeline may be an ace literally "in the hole" for Uncle Sam in case of war if an application filed with the Federal Power Commission is approved. It is from the Texas Eastern Transmission Corporation and seeks permission to reconvert part of the company's pipeline facilities to petroleum products transportation service. The Little Inch section would extend about 1168 miles, from near Baytown, Tex., to Moundsville, W. Va.

Hang Out The SRO Sign Quick

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 4 —UP—The world, barring wars, plagues and birth control, will be so jammed with humans in 1600 years that each person will have only one square yard in which to live, says a noted scientist.
 Dr. M. King Hubbert of Houston, chief geology consultant for the Shell Oil Co., said Tuesday at the Geological Society of America meeting that the world faces a "real crisis" in over-population.

"The world's population is doubling regularly every 90 years," Dr. Hubbert said. "It is now two and a half billion and, in only 90 years, it will be five billion."
 "Population stabilization plus greater conservation of resources are our two greatest problems," he added.

Building permits issued during the month of October were valued at $267,335, almost $35,000 more than those granted in September.

Cub Scouts Expect 300 At Meeting

An estimated 300 Cub Scouts are expected to be on hand Saturday afternoon for the "branding of the mavericks" scheduled for 2 p.m. Saturday in the Pampa Junior High School auditorium, according to Bob Mack, "climax event" chairman.
 This "climax event" — when the Cubs are "branded" — is an annual affair in the Boy Scouts' Santa Fe District, Mack pointed out.
 Earl McConnell, local film enthusiast, will show the Cubs some movies he has made on nature.
 Refreshments will be served. Parents and other Cubs are invited, though the Cubs to be "branded" will have adult supervision, Mack said. The program is expected to end about 4 p.m. Saturday.

and some $150,000 more than in the comparable period in 1953, according to records in the city engineer's office.
 For the first 10 months of 1954 estimated value of permits was $2,430,781.50, exceeding 1953's 10-month comparable total by slightly over $300,000. Each month for the past two months 16 residence permits have been issued with a total of 38 in October and 46 in September. In October 1953, 41 permits were granted, but only eight of them were for residences. Total value of residence permits during October and November was just over $185,000 each month, whereas in October, 1953, they amounted to $84,500.
 Two commercial projects granted permits in October were valued at over $15,000. They are a 12-unit motel and living quarters, issued to A. J. Ramming, 720 E. Frederic, valued at $35,000, and a two-unit motel and living quarters permit issued to L. F. Keough, 1325 N. Hobart, with an estimated building cost of $18,000.
 Waldon E. Moore, 810 W. Kingsmill, is building a new home at 2000 Mary Ellen at an estimated cost of $30,000.

Nobel Prize For Chemistry Won By Cal Tech Scientist

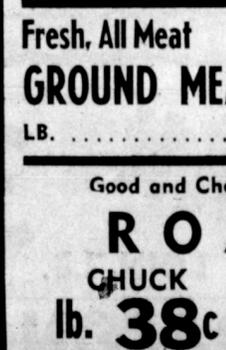

STOCKHOLM, Nov. 4 —UP—Dr. Linus Pauling, brilliant 53-year-old California Institute of Technology scientist who has been accused by Sen. Joseph McCarthy of being a "Communist front" Wednesday won the 1954 Nobel prize for chemistry.
 The Swedish Academy of Science gave the $35,066 award and the great prestige that goes with it to Pauling for his research into the hidden force that glues together the building blocks of matter.
 With the prize goes an invitation to the scientist to travel to Stockholm Dec. 10 to receive the honors in person.
 But Pauling faces passport difficulties if he decides on the trip. Two years after McCarthy accused him of being a leftist in 1950, the U. S. State Department denied him a passport to go abroad on grounds his travels were "not in the best interests of the United States."
 Pauling had applied, at that time, for a passport to go abroad to attend a 1952 chemical society meeting in London.
 Pauling is the 10th American to win the Nobel prize for chemistry. His choice for the coveted award gave the United States a sweep of the Nobel awards so far made for 1954. The prize for literature went to American author Ernest Hemingway. Three U. S. doctors won the prize for medicine. Still to be awarded is the 1954 physics prize. There is no peace prize this year.

Ft. Worth Gas Prices Being Upped

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4 —UP—Independent service station operators in Fort Worth, other than the Hudson Oil Co., Wednesday began upping their gasoline prices in what was called an effort to end the several-months-old price war.
 A spokesman said the independents have started prices up, trying to salvage something out of the situation.
 He said some of the stations, squeezed by the 16 and 17 cent gasoline prices here during the battle with the majors, have been up to 22.9 and 23.8 cents a gallon.
 "But unless Hudson and the majors follow suit immediately," he said, "we will be forced to go back down in a day or two to stay in business."
 The local gas war has been like money from home to motorists, while forcing lay-offs of personnel at both independent and major company stations.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Here's The Answer To Tough Question

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

How is it possible for a good player to go down at one no-trump in the hand shown today? It actually happened, and South was a good player. Unfortunately for South, however, West was an even better player.

West opened the queen of hearts, holding the trick. Since East had signaled encouragement by playing the seven of hearts, West continued with the jack of hearts. South held up again, quite properly, and West led his last heart to force out the ace.

South naturally went to work on his best suit by leading the king of diamonds. This time it was West who held up, thus showing that the hold-up play works just as well for the defenders as for the declarer.

South continued with a low diamond, and West played low again, allowing dummy to win with the jack. East discarded the four of clubs, and it was clear that declarer couldn't lead diamonds again profitably.

There was a chance that the spades would provide enough tricks for the contract, so declarer next led the ten of spades from the dummy, letting it ride for a finesse. West casually played a low spade, instead of winning the trick with his king.

It wasn't unnatural for South to believe that his finesse had succeeded. He led a low spade from dummy and finessed the ten of spades, whereupon West produced the king of spades to win the trick. West then cashed the ace of diamonds and got out with a spade, forcing South to win with the ace.

At this stage South was reduced to his four original clubs. He led the king of clubs hopefully, but West carefully refused the trick. South desperately led the queen of clubs next, but this time West took the trick with the ace of clubs.

He could now lead to East's established jack of clubs, allowing East to cash the king of hearts to defeat the contract.

Murray Weinger has a new idea. Before that, he was a song plugger. Weinger is a large shot in Miami, ger, arranger and vaudeville performer where he operates a fancy night spot called Copa City. Only a few years ago he ran a glorified frankfurter stand in Atlantic City, and turned it into a million-dollar Miami operation which is parlaying a hot dog into a roll.

Anyhow, in his Copa City this winter, Weinger will inaugurate a once-a-night floor show. He thinks the one - show - and - one - show - only idea is the best thing for nightclubs - the show can be bigger, the talent doesn't get exhausted.

Jimmy Durante Robert Q. Lewis and the patrons know for certain when the show is going on. Weinger will kick off the new party on Dec. 22 with Jimmy Durante, and he's also signed such as Red Skelton, Mae West, Betty Hutton, Nat "King" Cole and Jane Powell. Sounds like good, clean fun.

Down from Toronto has come another quartet, the Rover Boys, who seem to have it. Oddly, they come from the same church choir that spawned the Four Lads and the Crew Cuts. That choir, as somebody said, must really be jumping.

About a thousand kids a year, give or take a few kids, call Morty Howard "Uncle Morty." And it's a name that fits, for if ever there was an avuncular-looking gentleman, it's Morty. He's small and getting on in years, and he has a nice smile and nice eyes and a nice way with youngsters. He was born to be an uncle.

But what gives him a thousand nieces and nephews each year is a New York radio and TV show called "The Children's Hour." For 19 years, Uncle Morty has played the piano on the show, accompanying the kids through their screeching and mumbling versions of "Ten For Two," "My Wild Irish Rose" and other usual kiddie ditties.

IS THIS TRIP NECESSARY?—Ralph Osborne Campney, Canada's minister of national defense, and Maj. Deb Kearns, of Calgary, Canada, prepare to take a test ride in a strange-looking vehicle in Hemer, Germany. Lt. Carmen Darling sees the pair off on their ride in a German Messerschmitt three-wheel "bug."

Walter Wants To Disband Un-American Activities Group

WASHINGTON, Nov. 4 — UP — Rep. Francis E. Walter (D-Pa.), who is in line to become chairman of the House Un-American Activities committee in the next Congress, announced Wednesday he will ask the House in January to abolish that controversial committee.

Walter said he would ask the new Democratic-controlled House to transfer the functions of the Un-American Activities committee to the judiciary committee, of which he is second-ranking Democratic member.

"I think that if the transfer is made and a subcommittee of the judiciary committee is established to handle the investigative work of the Un-American Activities committee, there will not be so much abuse of power in the future," Walter told the United Press in a telephone interview from his home at Easton, Pa.

The Un-American Activities committee, headed during the last Congress by Rep. Harold H. Velde (R-Ill.), has been one of the most controversial groups in Congress.

Established as a standing committee of the House in 1945, most of the time and efforts of its members and staff has been directed toward investigations of Communists and communists. Vice President Richard M. Nixon formerly was a member of the committee.

Velde aroused a verbal storm in 1953 when he issued a subpoena for former President Truman to appear before the committee. Mr. Truman declined to honor the subpoena, and Velde never pressed it.

June Talk

By JUNE KADINGO

Pampa News Women's Editor

BEFORE I GO INTO BREAKFASTS, and then take you to two Midwestern and one Eastern city for cooking hints, I thought I'd mention the VFW Auxiliary poppy sale, to be held Saturday. Sometimes we're apt to skip over such events, thinking that as an annual event everyone else will support it, so why should we bother. Don't be in too much of a hurry to skip and buy one from the VFW ladies or from the Economic Scouts who are helping them. It's really a worthy cause . . . gives aid to needy and disabled veterans and their families and to veterans' widows and orphans.

WE'D PROBABLY have far fewer grouchy males on the job each morning, if we girls just fed them a better breakfast. Oh, I've heard a lot of excuses, too . . . not having time; more fun to sleep late; can't eat that early; and so on and so on. But when sound medical advice tells us that breakfast is the most important meal, and skipping it may do serious damage to our health, it's apt to start to even the most carefree male at a moment of consideration.

Not only does Dad have to be convinced, the kids are often worse offenders. Actually, it's a matter of habit, and it's up to Mom to get everybody off to the right start. At least a quarter of the day's total calories and proteins should be consumed at the first meal of the day. A breakfast that packs the proper punch is like a drawing account you can't dip without digging into your reserve fund of energy and vitality. Those who are on a reducing diet will find that a better breakfast — including fruit, cereal, eggs and bacon, toast and leverage — adds up to fewer calories in the end, by eliminating the mid-morning snack and lightening the luncheon requirement.

To some, breakfast is still a sort of duty meal unless the menu includes something especially intriguing. Many of us look forward to our regular eye-opener of frozen fruit juice, but for a change, you might like a whole fresh orange. Just slice off the top, score the skin in sixths, and strip off. The segments or slices can be made into an attractive arrangement in a jiffy.

Just a simple thing like serving frozen strawberries, still a bit frosty and with little sugar dusted on will lend a special air. Pineapple cubes, or any one of a dozen other fruits . . . including the unsweetened variety, packed in their own juice . . . will start off any breakfast with a smile.

If you really like your fruit, there's no reason why you can't have some . . . canned or frozen . . . sliced right into a steaming bowl of your favorite hot cereal, and it's equally fine for ready-to-eat packaged cereals. An idea guaranteed to relieve menu monotony.

The aroma of bread or rolls in the oven is really hard to resist . . . almost a sure way of teasing the appetite. It's accomplished in the 1954 kitchen quite satisfactorily with the wide variety of canned and frozen biscuits, and brown-and-serve rolls that we can get right at the local grocery store. With plenty of butter or margarine to ooze over the hot bread, and a choice of honey, jams and jellies to grace the table, how can breakfast help but be popular?

THE UNITED PRESS provides us with some hints from different parts of the country on pre-food preparation.

URBANA, Ill. — UP — Frozen strawberries make excellent strawberry jam, according to a University of Illinois food specialist, Virginia Charles, who recommends this recipe:

Use three cups of sliced frozen strawberries and 3 1/2 cups of sugar. Combine the fruit and sugar and bring to a full rolling boil. Keep mixture boiling hard for one minute, stirring constantly. Remove the mixture from the heat and add:

pectin—either one-half cup of liquid pectin (1/2 bottle) or one box of powdered pectin dissolved in water, then stir and skim by turns for five minutes. Pour into jelly glass and cover immediately with one-eighth inch of paraffin.

MADISON, Wis. — UP — The Wisconsin Turkey Federation has started a campaign to convince American housewives that the turkey is not merely a Thanksgiving treat.

The organization says turkey is good at any time of the year and points out that with the nation's largest turkey crop now coming to market the price is bound to go down.

Besides the traditional roast turkey, the fowl can be served broiled, barbecued, or sliced for salads or sandwiches. The federation offers this recipe for turkey and ham mousses for left-overs:

1 tablespoon unflavored gelatin; 1/4 cup cold water; 2 tablespoons fat; 2 tablespoons flour; 1/4 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1/2 cup ground cooked turkey; 1/2 cup ground cooked ham; 1 hard cooked egg, minced; 1/2 cup finely cut celery; 1/4 cup chopped pimento; 1/2 cup mayonnaise and 2 cups milk or equal parts milk and stock. Soften gelatin in cold water, melt fat, blend in flour, salt and pepper. Add milk and cook until thickened, stirring constantly. Dissolve gelatin in hot sauce. Add turkey, ham, egg, celery, pimento and mayonnaise and mix thoroughly. Pour into ring mold and chill until firm. Unmold and garnish with chery, tomato wedges and sliced pineapple. Serves 8.

NEW YORK — UP — Beef loaf takes on extra taste and eye appeal when baked in layers, like a cake. Here's how:

You will need 1 pound hamburger; 2 tablespoons chopped onion; 1 egg, beaten; 1 teaspoon salt; 1/4 teaspoon pepper; 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce; 2 tablespoons catsup; 1 cup cooked rice, and 1/2 cup chopped green peppers.

Combine hamburger, onion, egg, salt, pepper and Worcestershire sauce. Place half the mixture in a loaf pan (9 by 5 by 3 inches). Spread 1 tablespoon of catsup on top. Combine rice and green pepper. Place on top of mixture. Cover with remaining meat mixture and top with 1 tablespoon catsup. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for 40 minutes.

Style Review Given For Beta Sigma Phi

The "Old and The New" in styles was shown recently in the City Club Rooms at the meeting of Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, with Mrs. Thelma Bray as narrator.

Modeling complete ensembles for various occasions worn in the 1950s were Mmes. R. J. Sailor, Jr., W. F. Goode, Jr., and H. Buckingham, Jr. The costumes of this period were the possessions of Mrs. L. H. Green and Mrs. Caroline Duncan, grandmother of Wade and Ivy Duncan. They ranged from under garments to what the well-dressed woman wore when riding on a Sunday afternoon.

The second half of the program included a review on styles to come — the "new look" of Christian Dior, Mrs. Norman Fulps discussed the latest styles, colors and fabrics, pointing out the trend towards longer waist lines, lots of bows and plain necklines. The dresses shown by courtesy of the Bentley, Murfee and Gilbert stores.

A business meeting was held prior to the style show during which the resignation of Mrs. John Campbell was read and accepted. Mrs. B. M. McMullan was elected president by acclamation.

Final plans were made for the table setting contest, to be held Nov. 12, in the Pampa High School Field House. Reports were given by Mrs. Ross Buzzard, music chairman; Mrs. John Phelps, decorations; Mrs. Homer Deck, publicity; Mrs. R. J. Sailor, personnel; H. Buckingham, signs and advisors; and Mrs. R. McKimney and Mrs. John Campbell.

Tickets for the contest were distributed to the members. Tickets will be on sale at the door or may be purchased from any Beta Sigma Phi member. Admission will be $1 for adults and 35 cents for children.

Refreshments of doughnuts and coffee were served by the hostesses, Mrs. W. F. Goode, Jr., and Mrs. Malcolm Hinkle.

History Of Folk Music Is Exolained During Meeting Of Treble Clef Club

"Music, Work and Play" was the theme of the Treble Clef Club in the City Club Room. Mrs. J. G. Morrison, program leader, was introduced by Miss Eloise Lane.

"Art of the Middle Ages was the picture book for those who couldn't read the Bible," Mrs. Morrison explained. "Music was also used by the church as a method of teaching. Once music reached the market place and country fair, it became a democratic art."

"Singing is one of the oldest forms of musical expression," she went on. "The folk song in the truest sense is a product of the national group from which it sprang — a crystallization of the emotions of the entire group. In the broadest sense, it transcends national boundaries and is the musical equivalent of the folk tale."

Mrs. Morrison also explained how the waltz, a product of the court of the French king, Henry IV, filtered out of the court circle to become a folk dance. She explained that the minuet, another form of music in play, was the perfect expression of an age in which department was cultivated and most vividly polished. Each country and race has its own type of folk dances, she pointed out.

Mrs. Morrison's presentation was interspersed with piano numbers and folk games. Malcolm Brown Jr. played Berg's arrangement of "Arkansas Traveler," an example of American folk music, and Mrs. May F. Carr played Mousorgsky's "Hopak," a Russian folk dance. For an encore, Mrs. Carr presented the American folk tune, "Casey Jones."

A group of Mrs. John Branham's music students from Horace Mann School presented the minuet, while Mrs. Faye Dellis Adams played Mozart's "Minuet." They also demonstrated the American folk game, "Coming Around the Mountain," and sang a Scotch folk song, "Coming Through the Rye."

Roy Johnson led the club in the American cowboy song, "Home on the Range," and gave a solo, "Men of the Range." A war marching song of Wales, "For an encore, he sang the Negro spiritual, "Nothing But the Negro spiritual," "Nothing Plus Nothing."

During the short business session, led by Mrs. Mack Hiatt, president, it was announced that the Treble Clef Club choral group will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in the educational building of the First Methodist Church.

Hostesses for the event were Mmes. Leon Fain, John J. Jones, W. C. Scott and Miss Edith Kral.

This Is My Dish

Mrs. E. Anderson's 'Rancher's Ravioli'

By JANE KADINGO
Pampa News Women's Editor

"When I take the blues, I like to go into my kitchen and cook," stated Mrs. E. L. Anderson, 1002 E. Francis. Mrs. Anderson says she has always liked to cook. Even as a child, she made mud pies and decorated them with colored berries.

Mrs. Anderson, who learned to cook as a child, now just cooks for her husband and herself and for her children when they come home. She has three sons and two daughters, and eight grandchildren. Mr. Anderson works for the city.

A Pampa since 1918, Mrs. Anderson found time from her cooking and taking care of her family to take part in many activities. She has been president of the Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association, as well as the Woodrow Wilson and High School P-TAs, and has been P-TA Council president. Her P-TA work also included

Beef Stew Makes Plain, Wonderful Eating For Family During The Fall

MENU
Beef Stew with
Potato Balls, Green Beans
Gravy
Tomato, Onion, Green Pepper
Salad
Hot Biscuits
Butter or Margarine
Blueberry Pie
Beverage

For plain, wonderful eating, serve your family a fine beef stew. Make this stew a bit different from the usual by combining tender beef chunks with potato balls and green beans. Accompany it with the good meat gravy.

To have beef stew at its finest here are a few pointers on preparation given by meat expert Reba Staggs. First of all, if you want a rich, golden brown stew, thoroughly brown the meat cubes in lard or drippings. Keep the temperature low and take your time in browning them — up to twenty minutes or longer. To increase browning, first dredge the meat cubes with flour. Simply place flour in a paper bag, add the beef cubes and shake the bag. After browning the meat, cover it completely with water. Then place a cover on the utensil and let the meat simmer until tender. Add vegetables to the meat just long enough before the end of cooking so they will be tender. After browning, a stew may be cooked in the oven if you wish. Set your oven regulator at 300 degrees F. For the homemaker who likes to prepare meals with maximum of efficiency and a minimum of work, this suggests an oven meal. Apples can be baked while the meat is cooked. After the meat is removed, the oven heat can be increased for baking biscuits, muffins or not rolls.

Well I see they are after Coach Bill DeFee's hide over in Amarillo — isn't that a shame!
I have never been able to accept the idea that fans, alumni or sports writers should be able to oust a football coach. But they do, and we might as well learn to live with it.

Amarillo has been living in the past for the last week or so, dreaming of the days of glory when Blair Cherry was their coach and they won a few state titles.
That same Blair Cherry was not so long ago encouraged to resign as mentor of the University of Texas because he lost a couple of bowl games.
I fussed at Blair Cherry a bit back in those days. But it was my usual gripe at University of Texas football tactics. The old conservative-type football that was good enough in the days of Dana X. Bible, somehow doesn't seem to fit in the modern game. My complaint was legitimate enough. Other schools were changing and were enjoying success... why does Texas run two, pass and punt?
But Mr. Cherry will live in the memory of Texas Sports Writers as concerned (all except one or two, anyway). In a magazine article after he quit the job, Cherry, of all things, blamed the sports writers for his unhappiness as a big-time coach. It would have been more in order to blame such gentlemen as Bud Wilkinson, Jess Neely and Rusty Russell. They gave him a pretty rough time.

HOWEVER CHERRY quit after his Longhorns had won six straight conference games and went into the Cotton Bowl against Tennessee. I saw his last game in which Hank Lauricella made his dazzling un and Tennessee came from behind to wreck the Steers 20 to 14, and I recall it as a well-earned defeat.

As a rule I like coaches. I think they have the toughest job in the world. If the team loses, the coach gets it from parents, alumni, fans in general and, sometimes, the undying discredit of the profession, from the sports writers. Now, I don't say that it isn't legitimate for a sports writer to criticize a coach. But to criticize merely because the team fails to win—there's another matter. There may be many areas in which a coach would be subject to legitimate criticism... but you hear the cries when the team gets on a losing jag.
Well, suppose the team is winning—What of the coach then? Then it's a case of having the material. Sure, any coach can win if you give 'em guys like Doak Walker, Bobby Layne, Jim Weatherall, Froggy Williams. Or else he's got a bunch of oil millionaires buying all the tackles and halfbacks in the world.

AFTER SEVERAL years of writing sports, a fellow gets to know a lot of coaches very personally. He learns to rejoice at their happy moments and to feel the heartache that comes with bitter defeats and unpleasant things.
So it is an unpleasant thing for me to see the "wolves" going for Bill DeFee at Amarillo.
I remember him as a pretty nice fellow. He used to coach football at Panola County Junior College in Carthage. That's a deep East Texas school — in the rich oil area.
I saw several of his games, and his teams always seemed well coached.

But, if that old beast, the Public, is out after DeFee, he's a goner, and make no mistake about that.
To back up this statement, I give you the case of H. N. "Rusty" Russell of SMU. The Dallas school boasted it had never fired a coach for a poor season. Most commendable. But the golden years 1947-1949 and Golden Boy Doak Walker spoiled the Mustang rooters. They had tasted blood. They grew into a major football power almost overnight. A football sched-

US, Brazil Still Lead Cage Meet
RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 4 — UP — The United States and Brazil, both undefeated and tied for first place, were heavily favored to score victories Thursday night and set up an all-important meeting with each other Friday night in the world amateur basketball championships.
The U.S. team — the Peoria, Ill. Caterpillars of the National Industrial League — was matched against Israel, while Brazil faced Uruguay. Both co-headers were idle Wednesday while the other six teams in the round-robin final round completed.

Neely Could Mess Up Loop

HOUSTON, Nov. 4 — UP — A combination of "Neely November" and a make-or-buy little game for the Rice Institute Owls could help make a fat mess of the Southwest Conference race this weekend.
The Owls face unbeaten and untied Arkansas in Little Rock Saturday for their first November game.
And the month is one in which Rice teams almost annually are the scourge of the conference. During the last nine years the Owls have won 28 Nov. 6 or 7 games, lost only seven and tied one.

Arkansas makes Rice its fifth victim and Texas A&M upsets Southern Methodist, Arkansas goes to the Cotton Bowl with at least a co-championship.

Rice Favored
But if Rice should win—and they are hoped to do just that by three points—the bowl and title decision is wide open with SMU and Baylor knocking at the gate. SMU tied Texas 13-13 last week and by beating Texas A&M in Dallas this weekend could wind up leading the race by a half-game, percentage-wise.

Baylor could come out of its Texas engagement in Waco with a 3-1 non-loss league mark. The Bears eliminated Texas Christian University last Saturday and take on Texas in the nationally-televised game this weekend.
But the big attention will be on War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock where the 38,000 seats have been sold out for weeks. Owl Coach Jess Neely "hopes" the odds-makers are right in predicting a Rice win.

SO RUSTY RUSSELL, once the toast of Dallas, whose coaching ability had been accepted as a matter of course after a history of victories at once powerful Masonic Home, and then at Highland Park and at SMU, had to bow out.

He went to Schreiner Institute, a junior college, and he is now at Victoria Junior College.
Such is the lot of the football coach... poor fellas. Now et tu DeFee!

Now I don't know much about the Amarillo situation, don't know if DeFee is doing the job he should be doing or not.
If lifting Rogers' material isn't a copyrighted practice, I would like to say that "all I know is what I read in the papers." And that indicates to me that the folks in Amarillo are straining too hard.
They have put too much emphasis on being the big city in every respect, and in football, they've put too much emphasis on winning. There are too many people inflating the Sandie football players, and I would guess that there are too many people giving instructions to the coaches.

Of course this could be all wrong, but that's the picture of Amarillo which the newspaper and television reports have painted for me. Everybody's straining.

4 West Texans Win Seats For Cotton Bowl Grid Game
DALLAS, Nov. 4 — UP — The first ticket for the 1955 Cotton Bowl football game Wednesday went to Joe Louis Jones, Center, Tex., in a public drawing of mailing applications.
Jones' name was first in a pack of 25 pulled from the applications for some 65,000 seats. Less than a third of those seats will go to the mail applicants, since the competing schools will share 30,000 seats and the other 20,000 to the 75,000 seat Cotton Bowl go to bondholders, who put up the money with which it was built.
Though many of the mailed applications were from Arkansas, whose university is leading the Southwest Conference for the first time in several years, Mrs. Paula Grant of Newport was the only Arkansas whose name was among the first 25.
She was third, following Jones and Karl H. Sherman, Waco.
Others, whose names were pulled in the first drawing included: Mrs. Scott George, Farwell, Tex. Mrs. J. S. Stanley, Matador, Tex.
D. D. Dollahan, Plainview, Tex. W. T. Jenkins, Abilene, Tex.

Freer Halfback Nears Mile Gain
FREER, Tex., Nov. 4 — UP — Halfback Joe Holcomb of Freer High School, undefeated, untied Buckaroos needs only 247 yards to reach the magic mile mark in rushing this season.
In seven games, the squat-legged, 161-pound senior star has carried the ball 165 times for 1,513 yards net from scrimmage, an average of 9.1 yards per carry and almost 217 yards per game.
Besides his amazing ground-gaining total, Holcomb has racked up 14 touchdowns for 84 points.
He is one of the principal reasons why Freer is undefeated, tied and favored to win the District 31-AA crown.

Olson Beats Panther With No Scratches
RICHMOND, Calif., Nov. 4 — UP — Carl (Bobo) Olson came out of his tune-up scrap with Garth Panther Wednesday night without a scratch or cut and next week goes right back to work to get in condition to defend his world middleweight title against Joey Giardello on Dec. 15.
Olson, performing a beautifully artistic job on Panther, scored technical knockout in eight rounds when the fight was stopped with Panther bleeding from cuts below his left eye and above his right.
Olson won every round of the fight on both judges and Referee Joe Louis' cards. The best that could be said for Panther was that he was willing.
But he was not match for the kid — and he and his managers admitted it afterwards. Although there were no knockdowns, many fans wondered what was holding Panther up after some of the savage left hooks that landed with full force on his jaw.

Boxing Head To Serve Out Term
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 — UP — Chairman Robert K. Christenberry of the New York State Athletic Commission, a Republican, planned Thursday to serve out his three-year term even if Democrat Averell Harriman becomes New York's new governor.
Christenberry explained that Gov. Tom Dewey had appointed him to "clean up boxing in the state." He added, "And I know if I have any political reason why I shouldn't try to finish the job." The chairman's re-appointment term expires on Jan. 1, 1957.

'Experts' Agree On 23 Grid Games

Art Aftergut, last Thursday's Masked Marvel became the fourth guest to "beat the experts" when he topped Sports Editor Buck Francis' predictions on 30 top football games.
The News' other expert, Warren Hasse, had one of his best weeks in the prediction department. He tabbed 25 scores correctly, missed three and two games ended in ties.
The "Masked Marvel" hit 23 correct, missed five and suffered from the two ties, while Francis hit 21 correct, missed seven and had the two ties.
The deadlocks, Texas and SMU and Alabama and Georgia, both ended all the experts. Alabama was

Weather Clears For SWC Drills
Clearing, warmer weather was expected to give Southwest Conference coaches a last chance Thursday to give their football squads a real workout for Saturday's full round of title games.
Wednesday's rain stopped or shortened workouts on all campuses, with most of the teams having only calisthenics or wind sprints and blackboard drills.
Coach Bowen Wyatt of Arkansas' surprising Razorbacks held a light workout indoors because of the rain. He reported the unbeaten Hogs were "in near perfect physical condition" for their fifth conference test, against Rice at Little Rock.
Baylor, preparing for its game with Texas, got in the day's most substantial workout—a scrimmage on a soggy field. Coach George Sauer had tackle James Ray Smith, who was injured in the TCU game last week, jogging around the field and it was believed Smith would play against the Longhorns in their nationally-televised game.
Rain kept Texas inside, except for some wind sprints. Coach Ed Price substituted a blackboard for the usual Wednesday rough work and said he was satisfied with the squad's morale.
"The boys seem in good spirits, in a good frame of mind," Price said. "They don't seem down, but don't seem up. They just look as well as we could expect."
He said nine players ousted from the athletic dormitory last week for breaking curfew were back on the squad, after missing the 13-13 tie with Southern Methodist.
SMU Coach Chalmers (Woody) Woodard also relied on a chalk talk instead of the scrimmage he had planned to prepare the Mustangs for Texas A&M, their third conference foe. Rain limited the SMU squad's physical exertions to 30-minute limbering up session.
It also rained at College Station, but A&M Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant recalled that SMU beat the Cadets 23 to 0 in a similar rain last year and the Aggies went through a somewhat shortened scrimmage session.
Bryant said A&M was in good physical condition for SMU after the scrimmage, which stressed defense against SMU passing.

Injuries Hit Top Powers In Pro Loop
Several contenders for division titles, particularly the San Francisco Forty Niners and Philadelphia Eagles, have been weakened by injuries as the National Football League teams prepare for important November games.
The Forty Niners, regarded by many observers as the top team when the season began, have suffered most. Ten of the club's stars have had serious injuries, four of them bowing out for the rest of the season.
San Francisco's latest loss came last Sunday when Hugh McElhenny, the league's leading ball carrier, was sidelined for the rest of the season with a shoulder separation. Guard Art Michalik and line-bakers Don Burke and Joe Mangley previously bowed out with leg injuries.
McElhenny was injured playing against the Chicago Bears. Gordie Soltau, the San Francisco end who led the league in scoring for the last two years, returned to full field action in that game after suffering a shoulder separation.
The Forty Niners, tied with the Detroit Lions for the Western Division lead, play Los Angeles, Detroit and Pittsburgh in their next three starts.
The Eagles are tied with the New York and Pittsburgh for the Eastern Division lead, but have lost their last two starts and the full-time services of Bob Walston, the high-scoring end.
Los Angeles also has been hampered by injuries. Bob Carey, one of the league's top ends, was sidelined with a broken leg. Eddie Hughes and Tom McCormick, two other Ram players, were injured against Green Bay several weeks ago.
This week's selections with worst-lod records in parentheses: Saturday night—Lions (4-1) over Colts (1-5) at Baltimore, Sunday—Forty Niners (4-1-1) over Rams (2-3-1) at Bears (3-3) over Packers (3-3) at Chicago; Eagles (4-2) over Cardinals (1-5) at Philadelphia; Steelers (4-2) over Giants (4-2) at Pittsburgh; Browns (3-3) over Redskins (1-5) at Cleveland.

Nation's Top Three Favored In Saturday Grid Play
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 — UP — The nation's top three teams—UCLA, Ohio State and Oklahoma—were made heavy favorites by the Minneapolis odds-making syndicate Thursday to extend their unbeaten and untied football records Saturday.
UCLA, ranked No. 1 nationally by the United Press board of coaches, was a 19-point choice over Oregon; Ohio State's Buckeyes were tabbed to win by 14 points over Pittsburgh, and Oklahoma was a lopsided 28-point choice over Iowa State.
Ignoring the national rankings, however, the odds-makers installed 13th ranked and twice-beaten Rice a three-point favorite over fourth-ranked and unbeaten Arkansas in a game to be played at Little Rock.
The nation's television audience is in store for a close game this weekend, with Baylor a one-point pick over Texas for their Southwest Conference tussle at Waco.
Rated as "pick 'em" or even gamewere the Big Ten clash between seventh-ranked Purdue and 12th-ranked Iowa at Iowa City, and the Big Seven skirmish between Colorado and Missouri at Columbia, Mo.
Marquette was a six-point selection over Boston College at Milwaukee in Friday night's inter-sectional contest, while in Saturday's inter-sectional clashes, Michigan State was favored by 19 points over Washington State; Notre Dame 33 over Pennsylvania; Minnesota 27 over Oregon State, and West Virginia 13 over Fordham. Notre Dame was the only visiting team favored in the group.
In the East, Cornell was rated one point better than Syracuse; Princeton six over Harvard; Dartmouth 15 over Columbia; Penn State over Holy Cross; Army 20 over Yale, and Boston University 21 over Villanova.
In the South, Duke was tabbed one point better than Navy; Miami (Fla.) six over Auburn; South Carolina six over North Carolina; Georgia Tech seven over Tennessee; Kentucky 13 over Vanderbilt, and Alabama 19 over Tulane.
In the Midwest, Michigan was seven over Illinois; Oklahoma A&M seven over Detroit; Indiana 14 over Miami (Ohio); Wisconsin 14 over Northwestern, and Nebraska 19 over Kansas.
In Southwest games, Southern Methodist was 13 over Texas A&M and Houston 14 over Tulsa, while in the Far West, California was 13 over Washington and Southern California 14 over Stanford.

Old Earth-Bound Cal Near Air Mark

NEW YORK, Nov. 4 — UP — California, on its way to an all-time major college record for pass completion average, must have only one interception in 88 attempts, Arizona is averaging a first down, 10.2 yards, for every pass thrown and Oklahoma's 22.4 yards for every pass completed.
Alabama and Cornell are second to Purdue in scoring passes with 12 each.
In pass defense, the official leader is Detroit, which has held its opponents to 223 aerial yards or 37.2 a game. Alabama with 38, Richmond with 38.7, Wyoming with 40.3 and Iowa with 42.7 follow.
Detroit moved up from fourth by holding Marquette to one 13-yard completion.
Purdue, with 129 thrown against it, has done the best job of keeping its end zone clear. Others underscored upon overhead are Detroit, second. Oregon has made 184.7 a game, California 177.4, Purdue 168.8 and Washington 165.4. Oregon has thrown the most, 180, but California has most completions and Purdue — one of six teams that have not yet been scored on by a pass — leads in touchdown passes with 13.
California's statistics are all the more noteworthy because last week it completed 25 out of 38 and gained 280 — all 1954 highs for one game — against unbeaten UCLA. Arizona is averaging 31.5 yards per kickoff return to Syracuse's 26.3, Wichita's 25.8, West Virginia's 24.7 and Texas Christian's 24.6.

Neely Could Mess Up Loop

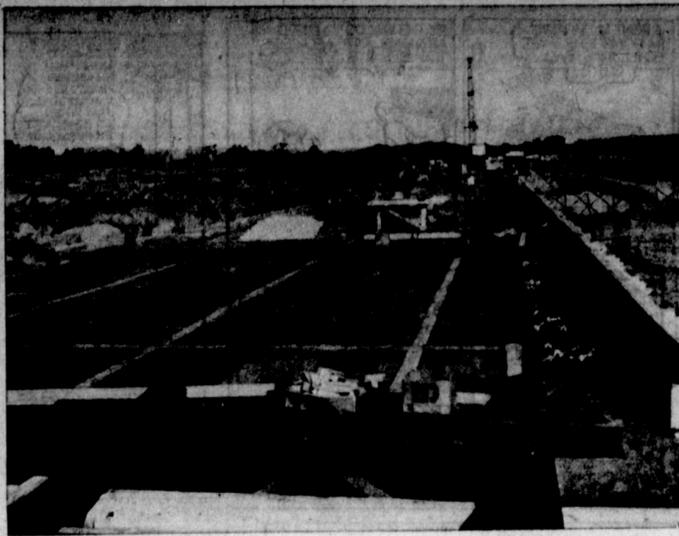

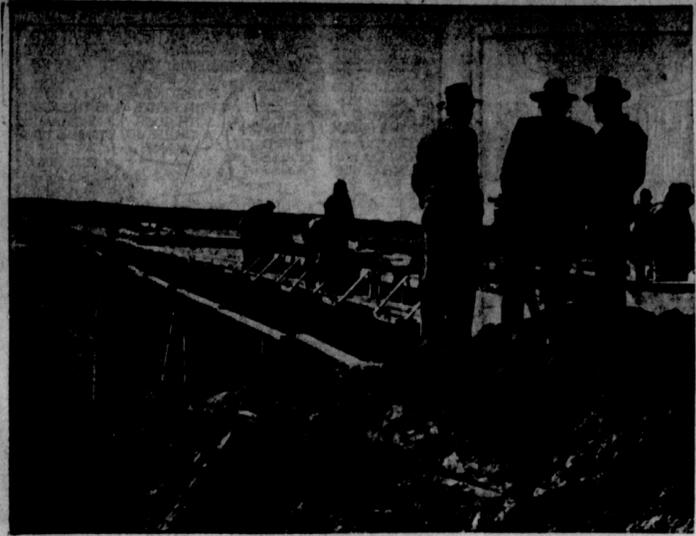

HOUSTON, Nov. 4 — UP — A combination of "Neely November" and a make-or-buy little game for the Rice Institute Owls could help make a fat mess of the Southwest Conference race this weekend.
The Owls face unbeaten and untied Arkansas in Little Rock Saturday for their first November game.
And the month is one in which Rice teams almost annually are the scourge of the conference. During the last nine years the Owls have won 28 Nov. 6 or 7 games, lost only seven and tied one.
Arkansas makes Rice its fifth victim and Texas A&M upsets Southern Methodist, Arkansas goes to the Cotton Bowl with at least a co-championship.
Rice Favored
But if Rice should win—and they are hoped to do just that by three points—the bowl and title decision is wide open with SMU and Baylor knocking at the gate. SMU tied Texas 13-13 last week and by beating Texas A&M in Dallas this weekend could wind up leading the race by a half-game, percentage-wise.
Baylor could come out of its Texas engagement in Waco with a 3-1 non-loss league mark. The Bears eliminated Texas Christian University last Saturday and take on Texas in the nationally-televised game this weekend.
But the big attention will be on War Memorial Stadium in Little Rock where the 38,000 seats have been sold out for weeks. Owl Coach Jess Neely "hopes" the odds-makers are right in predicting a Rice win.
"If hoping will do any good," he said, "we'll sure be all right because I assure you there isn't anybody that can out-hope us."
But just for insurance Neely is backing up his hopes with Dicky Moegle, the Owl running ace and loop-leading ball-carrier whose 508 yards gained rushing so far this season is double the total of any other Owl back, and veteran guard Kenny Paul, principal trail-blazer for tricky Dicky's nine touchdowns in six games.
Moegle is matched against Arkansas fullback Henry Moore, the league's second-leading ball-carrier with 419 yards in six games and a 5.2 average. Dicky's average per game is 7.1.
Neely is also counting on the passing of John (Pinky) Nisbet, who ranks third in the conference,

Weather Clears For SWC Drills
Clearing, warmer weather was expected to give Southwest Conference coaches a last chance Thursday to give their football squads a real workout for Saturday's full round of title games.
Wednesday's rain stopped or shortened workouts on all campuses, with most of the teams having only calisthenics or wind sprints and blackboard drills.
Coach Bowen Wyatt of Arkansas' surprising Razorbacks held a light workout indoors because of the rain. He reported the unbeaten Hogs were "in near perfect physical condition" for their fifth conference test, against Rice at Little Rock.
Baylor, preparing for its game with Texas, got in the day's most substantial workout—a scrimmage on a soggy field. Coach George Sauer had tackle James Ray Smith, who was injured in the TCU game last week, jogging around the field and it was believed Smith would play against the Longhorns in their nationally-televised game.
Rain kept Texas inside, except for some wind sprints. Coach Ed Price substituted a blackboard for the usual Wednesday rough work and said he was satisfied with the squad's morale.
"The boys seem in good spirits, in a good frame of mind," Price said. "They don't seem down, but don't seem up. They just look as well as we could expect."
He said nine players ousted from the athletic dormitory last week for breaking curfew were back on the squad, after missing the 13-13 tie with Southern Methodist.
SMU Coach Chalmers (Woody) Woodard also relied on a chalk talk instead of the scrimmage he had planned to prepare the Mustangs for Texas A&M, their third conference foe. Rain limited the SMU squad's physical exertions to 30-minute limbering up session.
It also rained at College Station, but A&M Coach Paul (Bear) Bryant recalled that SMU beat the Cadets 23 to 0 in a similar rain last year and the Aggies went through a somewhat shortened scrimmage session.
Bryant said A&M was in good physical condition for SMU after the scrimmage, which stressed defense against SMU passing.

Injuries Hit Top Powers In Pro Loop
Several contenders for division titles, particularly the San Francisco Forty Niners and Philadelphia Eagles, have been weakened by injuries as the National Football League teams prepare for important November games.
The Forty Niners, regarded by many observers as the top team when the season began, have suffered most. Ten of the club's stars have had serious injuries, four of them bowing out for the rest of the season.
San Francisco's latest loss came last Sunday when Hugh McElhenny, the league's leading ball carrier, was sidelined for the rest of the season with a shoulder separation. Guard Art Michalik and line-bakers Don Burke and Joe Mangley previously bowed out with leg injuries.
McElhenny was injured playing against the Chicago Bears. Gordie Soltau, the San Francisco end who led the league in scoring for the last two years, returned to full field action in that game after suffering a shoulder separation.
The Forty Niners, tied with the Detroit Lions for the Western Division lead, play Los Angeles, Detroit and Pittsburgh in their next three starts.
The Eagles are tied with the New York and Pittsburgh for the Eastern Division lead, but have lost their last two starts and the full-time services of Bob Walston, the high-scoring end.
Los Angeles also has been hampered by injuries. Bob Carey, one of the league's top ends, was sidelined with a broken leg. Eddie Hughes and Tom McCormick, two other Ram players, were injured against Green Bay several weeks ago.
This week's selections with worst-lod records in parentheses: Saturday night—Lions (4-1) over Colts (1-5) at Baltimore, Sunday—Forty Niners (4-1-1) over Rams (2-3-1) at Bears (3-3) over Packers (3-3) at Chicago; Eagles (4-2) over Cardinals (1-5) at Philadelphia; Steelers (4-2) over Giants (4-2) at Pittsburgh; Browns (3-3) over Redskins (1-5) at Cleveland.

Nation's Top Three Favored In Saturday Grid Play
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 — UP — The nation's top three teams—UCLA, Ohio State and Oklahoma—were made heavy favorites by the Minneapolis odds-making syndicate Thursday to extend their unbeaten and untied football records Saturday.
UCLA, ranked No. 1 nationally by the United Press board of coaches, was a 19-point choice over Oregon; Ohio State's Buckeyes were tabbed to win by 14 points over Pittsburgh, and Oklahoma was a lopsided 28-point choice over Iowa State.
Ignoring the national rankings, however, the odds-makers installed 13th ranked and twice-beaten Rice a three-point favorite over fourth-ranked and unbeaten Arkansas in a game to be played at Little Rock.
The nation's television audience is in store for a close game this weekend, with Baylor a one-point pick over Texas for their Southwest Conference tussle at Waco.
Rated as "pick 'em" or even gamewere the Big Ten clash between seventh-ranked Purdue and 12th-ranked Iowa at Iowa City, and the Big Seven skirmish between Colorado and Missouri at Columbia, Mo.
Marquette was a six-point selection over Boston College at Milwaukee in Friday night's inter-sectional contest, while in Saturday's inter-sectional clashes, Michigan State was favored by 19 points over Washington State; Notre Dame 33 over Pennsylvania; Minnesota 27 over Oregon State, and West Virginia 13 over Fordham. Notre Dame was the only visiting team favored in the group.
In the East, Cornell was rated one point better than Syracuse; Princeton six over Harvard; Dartmouth 15 over Columbia; Penn State over Holy Cross; Army 20 over Yale, and Boston University 21 over Villanova.
In the South, Duke was tabbed one point better than Navy; Miami (Fla.) six over Auburn; South Carolina six over North Carolina; Georgia Tech seven over Tennessee; Kentucky 13 over Vanderbilt, and Alabama 19 over Tulane.
In the Midwest, Michigan was seven over Illinois; Oklahoma A&M seven over Detroit; Indiana 14 over Miami (Ohio); Wisconsin 14 over Northwestern, and Nebraska 19 over Kansas.
In Southwest games, Southern Methodist was 13 over Texas A&M and Houston 14 over Tulsa, while in the Far West, California was 13 over Washington and Southern California 14 over Stanford.

Old Earth-Bound Cal Near Air Mark
NEW YORK, Nov. 4 — UP — California, on its way to an all-time major college record for pass completion average, must have only one interception in 88 attempts, Arizona is averaging a first down, 10.2 yards, for every pass thrown and Oklahoma's 22.4 yards for every pass completed.
Alabama and Cornell are second to Purdue in scoring passes with 12 each.
In pass defense, the official leader is Detroit, which has held its opponents to 223 aerial yards or 37.2 a game. Alabama with 38, Richmond with 38.7, Wyoming with 40.3 and Iowa with 42.7 follow.
Detroit moved up from fourth by holding Marquette to one 13-yard completion.
Purdue, with 129 thrown against it, has done the best job of keeping its end zone clear. Others underscored upon overhead are Detroit, second. Oregon has made 184.7 a game, California 177.4, Purdue 168.8 and Washington 165.4. Oregon has thrown the most, 180, but California has most completions and Purdue — one of six teams that have not yet been scored on by a pass — leads in touchdown passes with 13.
California's statistics are all the more noteworthy because last week it completed 2

Loan Firms Can't Unduly Harass Clients, Says Court

AUSTIN, Nov. 4—UP—The Texas Supreme Court ruled Wednesday a loan company is liable to damages when it harasses a borrower and causes mental anguish resulting in physical injury and loss of employment.

The court reversed judgments of lower courts and held in favor of David Duty and his wife, who brought suit in Dallas county against the General Finance Co.

"A decision of the case before us does not require that we undertake to outline the limits to which such a creditor may go, but we hold that resort to every cruel device which his cunning can invent in order to enforce collection when that course of conduct has the intended effect of causing great men-

Six Killed In Oklahoma Car Wreck

OOLOGAH, Okla., Nov. 4—UP—Six persons were killed in a truck-car collision in driving rain south of here Wednesday. Bodies of two victims, both men, remained trapped in the car wreckage and unidentified after two hours of rescue efforts.

Three women passengers in the back seat of the car, all killed, were identified as Lillian Hendricks, Garnett, Kan.; Hazel W. Jefferson, 65, Route 2, Garnett, Kan.; and Harriet S. Barry, 65, Twin Falls, Ida.

Driver of the truck died in a Nowata, Okla., hospital one hour after the collision. He was Rudolph Paulson, 54, of Route 1, Okmulgee, Okla.

Three ambulances were sent to the scene from Nowata and drivers waited for bodies to be removed from the mangled car. The accident occurred on U.S. Highway 169 one mile south of Oologah, in Rogers county, Oologah is a small community famed as the birthplace of Will Rogers.

Rayburn Promises Farm Action

BONHAM, Tex., Nov. 4—UP—House Democratic leader Sam Rayburn due to become speaker of the House in the 84th Congress, said Wednesday the Democratic majority will try to "iron out this farm program."

"We'll try to make the farm program more serviceable to farmers," Rayburn, who had no Republican opposition for re-election to his 22nd term in Congress, said in a statement issued from his ranch near Bonham.

"We'll look the tax structure over and iron out any inequities," he said. "We'll make a tax bill that will be fair to all people."

"We shall be for a strong foreign policy and we'll try to make it a non-partisan policy."

"We feel we should have a strong national defense, as we had when the Democrats were in, as long as the world is in danger and in the shape it is in now."

Republican Amazes Everyone With Senate Win In Colorado

DENVER, Nov. 4—UP—Republican Lt. Gov. Gordon Allott pulled one of the biggest upsets in the nation Tuesday when he captured the U. S. Senate seat being vacated by a Democrat in Colorado.

Allott took an early lead over John A. Carroll of Denver and never gave in, although at one time Carroll surged to close a 15,000 vote gap.

The latest unofficial standings with 1,506 of Colorado's 1,687 precincts reported showed Allott with 225,629 votes to 217,503 for Carroll.

Allott's victory was mute testimony to the personal vote getting power of President Eisenhower for the GOP lieutenant governor was given no chance of winning either by political observers or by independent polls.

Then Eisenhower's entourage hit Denver for an eight-week vacation, and Mr. Eisenhower personally endorsed the Colorado Republican state of candidates, including Allott.

But the Democrats captured Colorado's governorship when Sen. Edwin C. Johnson, who served two terms as governor before going to the Senate, defeated 32-year-old Donald G. Brotzman.

Johnson kept his long record of never having lost an election intact when he dashed the hopes of the youthful Republican of being Colorado's youngest governor.

Latest unofficial standings with 1,516 of Colorado's 1,687 precincts reported showed Johnson with 228,136 votes to 206,204 for Brotzman.

In the congressional races, all the incumbents were re-elected to leave Colorado's delegation in the House of Representatives evenly divided with two Republicans and two Democrats in office.

Convair Plant To Be Enlarged

FORT WORTH, Nov. 4—UP—More than $4 million will be spent for additions to the Convair-Fort Worth plant in preparation for large-scale B-58 "flying triangle" production, a company spokesman announced Wednesday.

This is part of $14 million the Air Force plans to spend this year on the new plane, expected to exceed 1,000 miles an hour. It will be the nation's first supersonic bomber.

Part of the outlay here will go for a new high altitude test chamber able to simulate heights up to 100,000 feet. Parts of the B-58 will be tested in the chamber before they are installed in the bomber.

Test chambers used for B-36 parts were inadequate, although the gigantic global bomber has a ceiling of more than 45,000 feet.

More than $2 million will be spent on additional B-58 testing equipment, including a radar sighting tower for testing electronic equipment for the new plane.

Wayne Weds Peru Beauty

HONOLULU, Nov. 3—UP—Lanky movie actor John Wayne honeymooned Tuesday with Pilar Palette, the raven-haired Peruvian beauty whom he married a few hours after his divorce from another Latin-American became final.

"This is the greatest thing that ever happened to me," Wayne said as he kissed his bride. "I've had a lot of wonderful things happen but this is the best."

Wayne and Pilar were married Monday at Kailua in the former home of King Kamehameha III. Some 150 persons, including members of the cast and crew of the picture "The Sea Chase," on which Wayne has been working, attended the brief ceremony and reception.

Wayne's divorce from Mexican-born Esperanza Bauer became final Monday. He began escorting Pilar about shortly after his divorce battle last year.

It was the third marriage for the 46-year-old actor and the second for his 21-year-old bride. Her 1950 marriage to airlines executive Richard Welby was annulled Friday.

Truman Not Overwhelmed With Vote

KANSAS CITY, Nov. 4—UP—Former President Harry S. Truman received election news with a wide smile Wednesday and said the results "suit me very well."

But he said returns were not "overwhelmingly enough" in favor of Democrats.

He listed two Democrat victories as "particularly pleasing"—Alben W. Barkley's senatorial triumph in Kentucky and George Christopher's defeat of Jeffrey P. in the Fourth Missouri congressional district. That is Mr. Truman's home district.

"I was most interested in the Fourth district race," Mr. Truman said. "You know the Republicans spent a lot of money there and brought in their big guns, including the prodigal son of my predecessor."

"But it didn't do them any good."

The former President was asked if he thought the Democratic trend in the election expressed more than casual dissatisfaction with the Eisenhower administration.

"Yes," he said. "I think it does."

"You know the Republicans don't know history. They campaigned on crime, communism and corruption. They don't know anything about Rome, Romanism and rebellion."

Merchant Sailor Confesses Murder

JOHNSTOWN, Pa., Nov. 4—UP—A 39-year-old merchant seaman, who said his tearful confession to the suffocation of a Halloweening six-year-old girl was the first time he had "cried in 20 years," was held here under heavy guard Wednesday.

Authorities said feeling "was running real high" in Conemaugh, a steel town of 8,000 persons, in the wake of the killing which police labeled the crime of a sex deviate.

He was arrested at Conemaugh, Ark., and M-Sgt. Rex W. Danner, Fort Bliss; two daughters, Mrs. Fax Calaway, Batesville, and Mrs. E. D. Sasseen, Cordell, Okla.; 10 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Sinclair Oil Discussing American Republic Purchase

NEW YORK, Nov. 4—UP—Negotiations are underway for the sale of American Republics Corp.'s properties and assets to Sinclair Oil Corp. for some $108 million it was disclosed Wednesday.

Torkil Rieber, chairman and president of American Republics, said that stockholders of his firm may shortly be asked to adopt a plan for the liquidation of the corporation. Main office of the oil company is in Houston, Tex.

Rieber said that "submission of the plan would be contingent upon the satisfactory outcome of pending negotiations for the sale of the corporation's properties and assets as a means of affecting the liquidation."

He disclosed that the price under discussion by Sinclair and American Republics should give stockholders of the latter firm around $72 a share when the corporation is dissolved.

American Republics has outstanding 15 million shares of common stock. At $72 per share, the total price would come to $108 million.

Sinclair, meanwhile, confirmed the fact that negotiations are being conducted, but said it could supply no further information now.

Upon completion of the transaction, Rieber stated, the properties would be operated by Sinclair Oil and Gas Co. This is Sinclair's crude oil producing subsidiary.

American Republics last year reported gross income of $25,694,405. Net earnings were $5,515,180, or equal to $3.68 a common share. This earnings figure includes a profit of $1,659,303 on the sale of securities.

The company is engaged in producing and processing crude oil and liquefied petroleum products and natural gas.

Whooping Cranes Arrive At Sanctuary

ROCKPORT, Tex., Nov. 4—UP—Manager Julian Howard of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge announced Wednesday three more members of the world's only flock of whooping cranes had arrived at the refuge.

Howard said this brings to 15 the number which has completed the annual migration from the crane's summer nesting grounds in Canada to the Texas coast.

All arrivals thus far, Howard said, are grown birds. Last year, 24 of the big birds showed at the coastal wintering grounds.
