

Pentagon Trying To Test New Broadcast Method

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Pentagon plans wide-scale tests next month on a radio warning system it wants to put in your bedroom.
The radio receiver listens silently to a government frequency and comes to life only when the military activates it with a special, coded signal.
The aim is to save lives by broadcasting warnings of tornadoes, hurricanes, floods or nuclear attack. Installation of the radio device would be voluntary.
Originally, Civil Defense officials hoped for a law requiring that the radio receivers be built into every new television set sold in the United States.
But White House broadcasting officials overruled the military, which runs Civil Defense operations. They feared the public might interpret mandatory installation of the receivers as part of a government propaganda and spy system similar to the one used by dictator Big Brother in George Orwell's novel "1984."

The Pentagon's system can only talk, not watch or listen.
Civil Defense officials, who conceived the warning system, have built a bombproof radio transmitter near Baltimore and plan to start test broadcasts to a 10-state area in early February.
About 400 high-priced receivers are being built, and will be distributed at first only to state and local government authorities who want them.

But technicians are close to perfecting a home receiver cheap enough—about $10—for almost anyone to afford.
The civil defense officials call the system DIDS, for Decision Information Distribution System.
Planning began in 1964. Small-scale field tests were conducted in 1968 and Congress appropriated $2 million for the first transmitter and receivers in 1970. Cost overruns have raised the initial price to $5.7 million.
If next month's tests are successful, and if Congress goes along, the Pentagon plans eventually to build a total of 10 transmitters that together would reach nearly every corner of the nation, except Alaska and Hawaii.

The automated transmitters could be operated by remote control from the North American Air Defense Command near Colorado Springs, Colo., or at either of two back-up points.
By pushing buttons on a console, a technician at one of these control points would be able to turn on air-raid sirens, broadcast messages by voice or teletype to state and local officials, or send announcements over home receivers.
For warning of a nuclear attack, the controller could turn on every home receiver in the country. For warning of a flash flood or other natural disaster, he could turn on receivers in a certain area. In some cases as small as one third of a single county. Specific instructions on how to cope with the disaster could be broadcast.

The Pentagon began thinking about improving its national warning system more than a decade ago, when missiles made the old, telephone-and-siren system obsolete.
That system, changed little today, would take an estimated 30 minutes to reach 75 per cent of the population, even under the best of circumstances.
Furthermore the present system relies heavily on sirens that don't send many people to cover in peacetime and may not wake up many people at night. Early tests showed DIDS receivers, using a siren-like signal about as loud as a ringing telephone, woke up almost anyone.

BLOWING AWAY — Sixth grade students at Travis Elementary School saw their work literally blow away late last week as they sent aloft a number of balloons to test wind currents under the direction of teacher Mrs. Wendell Watson, far right. The balloons contain a sheet listing information to be returned by people who later find the balloons when they return to the earth.

Gunmen Surrender To Police After 2-Day Siege Of Store

NEW YORK (AP) — Four gunmen who had vowed to die for Muslim paradise in a hail of police bullets have surrendered peacefully after their nine remaining hostages made a dramatic escape to signal the end of a two-day siege in a Brooklyn sporting goods store.
The end came late Sunday afternoon, over 47 hours after a silent robbery alarm alerted police who surprised the young gunmen in the store. One patrolman was killed and two others wounded in a flurry of gunfire.
After the initial shootout subsided to a standoff, police ringed John & Al's Sports, Inc., in Brooklyn's Williamsburg section, with sharpshooters. But fear for the hostages prevented any forced showdown and police concentrated on keeping communications with the gunmen.

The break came shortly before 1 p.m. Sunday when the hostages, led by a co-owner of the store, broke through plasterboard to a sealed off stairway and escaped to the roof while the gunmen were diverted.
Four hours later, following more negotiations with police and pleas from some relatives, the gunmen walked out. Two carried a stretcher with a third who was wounded and the fourth walked ahead.
Police said preliminary reports indicated their marksmen had not fired a shot since the original gunbattle, although the gunmen had fired volleys from time to time.
Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Eugene Gold said he would go before a grand jury today with charges against the four that probably would include the murder of Patrolman Stephen R. Gilroy, the attempted murder of Patrolman Jose Adorno and Frank Carpenter, kidnaping and weapons possession.
Police said they were searching for a fifth man who was said to have been driving a getaway car when the robbery began about 5:45 p.m. Friday. They said the motive for the robbery was to obtain guns, not money.

In a hand-written letter carried out by a doctor who attended the wounded gunman, the four described themselves as "servants of Allah" and said they were "expressing solidarity with all Muslims and oppressed people of the world."
"We have nothing to lose and victory and paradise to gain," they declared. "We will not give in to your demands, but we will continue to hold the hostages who are being well treated and will not be harmed intentionally by us."
Earlier they had released three other hostages. The nine remaining included Jerry Riccio, a co-owner of the store.

Kissinger Flies To Paris Amid Rumors Of Peace

WASHINGTON (AP) — As captured enemy documents signaled a midweek initialing of a cease-fire accord, Henry A. Kissinger flew back to Paris today to join allied and Communist officials in the last steps toward ending the Vietnam war.
Before the presidential assistant left rain-swept Andrews Air Force Base at midmorning, he met with President Nixon for an hour at the White House to get last-minute instructions.
Officially, the White House continued to portray the purpose of Kissinger's return to the French capital as "completing the text of an agreement" to end the fight.
But a flurry of developments Sunday bolstered the belief that an agreement soon will be signed, calling for a cease-fire, the return of prisoners of war, and machinery to reshape the South Vietnamese government. The major developments:

—Senior South Vietnamese officials said captured documents from the Communist high command stated that an agreement will be initialled at 8 a.m. EST Wednesday, that it will be formally signed on Saturday and that a cease-fire will go into effect on Sunday, Jan. 28.

—While shying away from specific dates, Washington sources indicated that Nixon has set a goal of wrapping up the Vietnam agreement this week and that, barring unexpected snags, the President is confident of hitting that target.
—South Vietnamese Foreign Minister Tran Van Lam told an interviewer as he departed for Paris that Vice President Spiro T. Agnew will be in Saigon on Jan. 28, presumably to demonstrate that Washington and Saigon were entering the post-war era shoulder-to-shoulder.

—Agnew himself said he couldn't answer when asked whether he will be heading for Saigon, saying the President would have to make "that announcement."

—Congressional sources reported that Nixon plans a meeting with Capitol Hill leaders within the next few days, providing him a forum to brief them on details of a peace accord.
—The Viet Cong foreign minister, Mrs. Nguyen Thi Binh, arrived in Paris and said the Communists are ready to "do everything possible to achieve a quick settlement."

Nixon's Cabinet Picks Considered By Senate

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate takes up more of President Nixon's Cabinet nominations this week while the Democratic-controlled Congress awaits the two presidential messages expected to fill in details of his second-term program.
Nixon's 17-minute inaugural speech Saturday to a chilled crowd of 35,000 outside the Capitol and millions watching on television drew generally favorable congressional reaction.
But many Democrats echoed the reaction of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., that "the real test will be in the policies and programs yet to come," in the State of the Union message expected later this week and the budget due on Jan. 29.

With reports of widespread budget reductions in domestic programs already rampant, Sen. Walter F. Mondale, D-Minn., cautioned that, "if he intends to dismantle all the federal programs, there will be a major clash."
With two Cabinet choices already approved, the Senate plans to act Thursday on Nixon's nomination of Elliot L. Richardson as the new secretary of defense.
Action is due Tuesday on William P. Clements, who is slated to become deputy defense secretary, and James Schlesinger, to be director of the Central Intelligence Agency.
James Lynn's nomination as secretary of housing and urban development may be acted on also during the week as may the choice of New York union leader Peter Brennan to be secretary of labor.

Only one nomination, that of Caspar Weinberger to be secretary of health, education and welfare, faces any major delay. Some Democrats are vowing to hold it up until they find out the size of anticipated budget cuts in its programs.
Most of the generally muted criticism of Nixon's second inaugural address fell on the domestic section.
House Speaker Carl Albert, noting Nixon's statement that America was built by work, not welfare, said no one believes welfare can solve everyone's problem but that "we do have people who can't do it all for themselves."
Sens. Edmund S. Muskie, D-Maine, Frank E. Moss, D-Utah, and William Hathaway, D-Maine, all focused on the lack of specifics in the President's inaugural

Moslems Killed In Crash

KANO, Nigeria (AP) — A Jordanian jetliner bringing 202 Moslems home from a pilgrimage to Mecca crashed on landing in a fog here today and burst into flames. Officials said most aboard were killed.
The death toll was variously given as 162 and 191 as rescue teams went through the burned wreckage. Radio Nigeria reported about 40 survivors. Officials here said they have recovered 11 persons alive.
A witness said the plane was engulfed in flames after it crashed on the runway at about 10 a.m.
The world's worst air disaster took the lives of 176 persons in the crash of a Soviet Aeroflot jet near Moscow last Oct. 14.
Mecca, the holiest place of Moslems, is in Saudi Arabia.
The Royal Jordanian Airlines Boeing 707 left Saudi Arabia from Jidda, near Mecca, on the 2,100-mile flight to Kano.
Officials in Lagos, 730 miles south of Kano, said it was not likely that a full report on the crash will be available before Tuesday.

Feedlot Growth Expected

WASHINGTON (AP) — Feedlots will turn out seven per cent more cattle during the first three months of 1973 than a year ago, the Agriculture Department says.
As of Jan. 1, according to USDA surveys, feeders in 23 major beef states said they intend to market 6.9 million head during the January-March quarter, compared with fewer than 6.5 million a year earlier. Most of the gain is expected in Texas.

IN APRIL ELECTION City Commission Facing Changes

By TEX DEWEESE
More than likely there will be some new faces on Pampa's City Commission come next April 10.
Terms of three current commissioners expire on that date. They are Mayor Milo Carlson, Ward 1 commissioner George B. Cree Jr., and Ward 3 commissioner Leo Braswell.
Commissioners R. D. Witkerson and Arthur J. Rohde, representing Wards 2 and 4 respectively, are approaching the second year of two-year terms that do not expire until April of 1974.

Candidates seeking any of the three city posts may file any time up until the filing deadline Saturday, March 3 according to City Secretary S.M. Chittenden.
Absentee balloting will be from March 12 through March 30 and the election will be on Tuesday, April 3.
The posts of mayor and city commissioner are filled by city-wide balloting, although candidates must live within the ward they represent.
So far, there have been no filings for any of the three posts, Chittenden said.

Open Meeting Bill Vote Due

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Texas House members vote today on whether they want to broaden public access to government meetings and limit the scope of legislative compromises.
A vote also was set in the House on joint legislative rules.
Heading today's calendar—the first of the legislative session that began 13 days ago—was Port Arthur Rep. Carl Parker's bill expanding the 1967 open meetings law.
The bill would apply the open meetings requirement to legislative committees for the first time, with fines for lawmakers who participate in secret meetings. Conference committees, appointed to resolve disagreements between the House and Senate over individual bills, often have met secretly.

ONE HURT — Anthony G. Hernandez, 28, Amarillo, is in good condition in Highland General Hospital following his accident shortly after midnight Sunday. Hernandez was traveling west on Brown St. when he lost control of his vehicle and hit a light pole. He was taken to Highland General Hospital in serious condition following the crash. He was issued a citation for speeding. Damage to the pole and guard railing has been set at $300. Unofficially, the car is considered a total loss.

MRS. TONY FRANKLIN TEAKELL
 nee Miss Therisa Gail Smith

Therisa Smith Becomes Bride Of Tony Teakell

Therisa Gail Smith and Tony Franklin Teakell were united in marriage with double-ring wedding vows at 7:30 p.m., Jan. 5, in Pampa Baptist Temple with Rev. Ross Dickson officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F.N. Smith of 232 Canadian, and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Teakell of 920 Varnon Drive.

The background of the church was decorated with seven-branched candelabra and garland with clusters of salal foliage. Floor baskets of white gladioli flanked the wedding party. Pews of honor were noted with blue satin bows.

Organist, Mrs. JoAnn Timmons, played traditional wedding selections of "Wonderful One, and True One." Mrs. Barbara Cox, vocalist, sang "Twelfth of Never" and "Wedding Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal wedding gown of white satin fashioned in semi-fitted princess style. The yoke, petal point sleeves and chapel train of the gown were of lace and satin. Her shoulder-length veil of English net fell from a iridescent seed-pearl crown. She carried a bouquet fashioned of snow white roses, white sweetheart roses, baby's breath, and English ivy.

The maid of honor was Mrs. Carolyn Loveless, the bride's sister of Amarillo. She wore a floor-length blue gown with empire waistline, rounded neck with long sleeves. She carried a colonial nosegay of white feathered carnations.

Emmett Teakell, Jr., brother of the bridegroom was best man. Ushers were Tommy Smith, brother of the bride, Clifford Teakell, brother of the bridegroom, Pampa, and Terry Beals, cousin of the bride, Strong City, Okla.

White lace overlay a blue cloth covered the reception table in Fellowship Hall. The centerpiece was blue carnations and white chrysanthemums. The wedding cake was three-tiered, decorated with blue roses trimmed with white leaves and topped with bride and bridegroom.

Miss Charlene Wood, Pampa, assisted at the punch service. Mrs. Elva Ring served cake and Miss Echo Ennis registered guests.

For the honeymoon trip to Arizona, the bride wore a navy blue and white checked pantsuit and the corsage of white roses lifted from her bouquet.

The bride is a 1972 mid-term graduate of Pampa High School. The bridegroom is a 1970 graduate of PHS and is currently serving in the U.S. Air Force.

Pre-nuptial events included a lingerie shower hosted by Mrs. Duane Nash, Miss Cindy Barrett, and Miss Susan Barrett.

Dear Abby

Overseas but not underloved

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are in our twenties. We have been married for almost a year and a half. We have no children. Our sex life is nil. We haven't slept in the same bed for nine months. In as many months we have not even eaten a meal together, nor have we held hands, watched TV together, or spent one evening together. We spoke to each other a month ago, and that was on the telephone.

Still, with our limited communication we have grown to love and appreciate each other more every day. You see, my husband is one of the thousands of men who is serving his country overseas. God willing, he will be home in three months, and then I will thank my lucky stars every day for having my husband near me. Every wife should follow suit. Courage to those who are separated from their loved ones.

MRS. RONALD M. HAYES

DEAR MRS. HAYES: Thank you for a beautiful reminder. Many of us casually take for granted the blessings others are denied.

DEAR ABBY: That woman who wrote to you about having a mad crush on her doctor has the same problem I had, only I didn't have sense enough to ask anybody's advice. I plunged right into a stupid affair with mine. All I can say is, if a woman has to have an affair, she should find herself a nice salesman. The last man in the world to pick is a doctor. He just doesn't have the time to carry on a decent affair. He has a hundred built-in excuses for not showing up, or canceling out, or running away early.

Mine never did call me by my first name, or last name. Or even the number on my chart. Sign me
CURED IN ALBANY

DEAR CURED: According to my mail, [with few exceptions], the only woman a doctor has time for other than his wife is his nurse.

DEAR ABBY: Our daughter and her fiance told us they would rather have $1,000 in cash than a big wedding. Our stipulation was that she would tell us when it was to occur and we would give her the money.

They were married on a Saturday and we were not told until the following Monday [they sent us a brief note]. Altho they didn't honor their part of the agreement, we honored ours.

At Christmastime we gave our son a new car. He's a college student and needed reliable transportation. Our daughter immediately asked us where "her" car was. In other words, she felt that since we gave her brother a car for Christmas, she had one coming, too. Her husband makes a good living, but as an appeasement gesture, we told our daughter that when she was ready to buy a home, we would give her the price of the automobile toward a down payment.

These are the only children we have, but how much do you think parents owe their grown children?
BAFFLED IN BALTIMORE

DEAR BAFFLED: They don't "owe" their grown children anything. I don't know much about your son, but your daughter appears to be taking you for all she can get, and she's getting plenty.

DEAR ABBY: That dentist who said the reason people lose their teeth is because of carelessness and neglect ought to meet my husband. He is 95 years old and he still has all his own teeth, and never had a filling in any one of them. He never had a toothbrush in his mouth and never even heard of dental floss. Besides that, his teeth are so white and pretty folks keep asking him what dentist made 'em. He must have kept his mouth sterilized with some of the hottest words a man could release between his teeth.

"Brief Case" --- The Family Money

COLLEGE STATION Families may be worth more than they think, according to a home management specialist. Lynn Bourland with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, advised families to make a net worth statement in order to find their real value.

"Net worth is a dollar figure obtained by subtracting debts (liabilities) from assets," she explained. "It's an attempt to place money value on the results of total financial operations."

"First step is taking stock of assets—amount of cash in checking and savings accounts, stocks, bonds and cash value of life insurance policies."

"Also, if sold today, the cash value of the home, car, furniture, appliances and other valuable items."

"Total assets give the total value of what is owned," the specialist noted.

"Next, calculate what is owed. Liabilities may include mortgage on a house, car loan, revolving credit, charge accounts and other debts."

"When these are totaled, subtract them from the total assets figure—this is the net worth statement."

"These statements—whether made yearly, monthly or before major purchases—can help families make financial plans, such as paying off small debts owed to several creditors or converting some assets into cash savings or investments."

Comparison of net worth statements at different times tells the family if its economic condition is improving, depreciating or remaining stable. Miss Bourland pointed out:

"If assets are larger than debts, the family is solvent and could raise enough cash from assets to pay all debts, if necessary," she concluded.

 2 sticks (1 cup) butter or margarine
 2 cups salad oil
Sauce for Dipping
 Cut beef into 3/4 inch cubes. Carefully trim off all fat and connective tissue. Place meat in bowl and refrigerate. Prepare a sauce for dipping. About 20 minutes before serving, heat together in a saucepan the butter and salad oil. When the mixture bubbles and begins to brown, pour it into a 2 quart fondue dish, leaving any solids in bottom of saucepan. The hot fat should not be more than 2 inches deep. Place it on the stand over heat. When the fat begins to bubble, invite each guest to spear a cube of beef with fondue fork or bamboo stick and lower it into the hot fat. Cook 2 to 3 minutes. Push meat off fork onto individual plate or eat from disposable bamboo stick. Dip into a sauce of your choice.

Bruce Crampton Wins Second Straight Crown

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP) — Bruce Crampton has taken two in a row, but the Australian veteran harbors no illusions about winning three consecutive events on the tough American pro golf tour.

"No, I don't think so," Crampton said with an almost sad smile when asked if he planned to make this week's Bing Crosby National Pro-Am his third successive triumph.

"This one took a lot out of me," Crampton said Sunday after his easy, front-running victory in the Dean Martin-Tucson Open, a decision that was tarnished just a trifle by a meaningless triple bogey seven on Crampton's finishing hole.

"I'm pretty tired," he said. "I

George Archer, who lost to Miller Barber in a playoff for the Tucson title a year ago, Labron Harris and Gay Brewer tied for second at 282. Archer had a 72 while Harris and Brewer matched 70s in the weather that changed from bitter cold to mild and sunny.

Rod Funseth, winner of the Glen Campbell-Los Angeles Open three weeks ago, Bobby Nichols and Richie Karl were next at 283. Nichols shot 72, Karl 73 and Funseth 74.

Lee Trevino, a two-time Tucson champion and the tournament favorite, really was never in it. He had a final round 70 for 285.

Crampton, winner of 12 titles in his 17 years on the American tour, picked up $30,000 from the total purse of $150,000 and pushed his earnings to $60,000 for just two weeks.

Romeo Anaya Wins Bantamweight Title

PANAMA CITY (AP) — Panama has lost its world boxing bantamweight crown to Mexico Saturday night, but retains its light-weight championship.

In the first such doubleheader staged in Latin America, Roberto Duran kept his 135-pound title when he scored a third round knockout over Jimmy Robertson of Los Angeles and Romeo Anaya was crowned the new bantamweight king when he kayoed Enrique Pinder in the third round. Both bouts were scheduled for 15 rounds and only the World Boxing Association versions of the titles were at stake.

Duran floored Robertson in the third round and then cut him down with a solid right to the jaw in the fifth for the final count. The 28-year-old challenger also lost two front teeth from the blow. Both fighters weighed 135 pounds and the victory boosted Duran's record to 32 wins, one loss and no ties. It was Robertson's fifth defeat against 30 victories and one tie.

"I was missing too many punches so I slowed down in the fourth round," said Duran after the fight. Robertson ended the third round wobbling on the ropes from the champion's two-fisted attack which began at the opening bell.

AFC Makes Historic Sweep With 33-28 Win

DALLAS (AP) — The American Football Conference, formed in a fiery merger with the old National Football League, had every right to be chesty today—at least for a year.

The AFC made it a historic clean sweep over the National Football Conference in Sunday's 33-28 Pro Bowl victory.

Previously, the AFC had captured the exhibition season 27-25-4 and the regular season 20-19-1 from their older rivals and Miami dropped NFC member Washington 14-7 in the Super Bowl.

Sunday was the clincher in a collision of All-Stars between the two leagues.

"Last year the NFC got the most ink—we wanted to prove something," said running back O.J. Simpson of Buffalo, the game's Most Valuable Player.

Simpson, who led the NFL in rushing with 1,251 yards, scored one touchdown, rushed for 112 yards and caught three passes for 58 yards.

The victory before 47,879 chilled fans in Texas Stadium gave the AFC a 2-1 lead over the NFC in the series.

Simpson said offensive linemen Gene Upshaw of Oakland, Walt Sweeney of San Diego, Larry Little of Miami and Winston Hill of the New York Jets had him wide-eyed because they were so fired up for the game.

"These guys talked all week about how they were going to kill their man," Simpson said.

Otis Taylor of Kansas City, who caught a five-yard touchdown pass from Oakland's Darley Lamonica, said there was much more at stake than the difference between $2,000 and $1,500 for the winners and losers.

"The rivalry still exists. It may not be as intense as the old days, but it's there," Taylor said. "Coach (Chuck) Noll (of Pittsburgh) told us the first day we were here to win and that was the attitude of the entire team all week."

John Brockington of Green Bay scored three touchdowns and quarterback Norm Snead of the New York Giants hit tight end Ted Kwalick of San Francisco with a 12-yard scoring pass but it wasn't enough.

Marv Hubbard of Oakland scored on an 11-yard run. Bobby Bell of Kansas City intercepted a Snead pass and returned it 12 yards for a touchdown and Pittsburgh's Roy Gerela kicked field goals of 18 and 22 yards for the AFC which overcame a 14-0 first quarter deficit.

Joe Frazier Defends Title Against Foreman

KINGSTON, Jamaica (AP) — Joe Frazier makes the fifth defense of his world heavyweight ring title tonight against young, bull-strong George Foreman with the shadow of Muhammad Ali still haunting him from the wings.

It is a definite crisis in the three-year reign of the savage, swarming champion, who was born on a South Carolina plantation, reared in a Philadelphia ghetto and prepared for his profession by work as a butcher in a slaughterhouse.

Should Frazier lose, the heavyweight division could be thrown into temporary turmoil and all the wind would be knocked out of the awaited Frazier-Ali rematch, which has promoters dreaming of a $20 million or $30 million extravaganza.

"Don't worry, I'm not gonna lose," the bearded Frazier says grimly. "I have never been more ready than I am for this fight. Then I'll talk about Clay."

The day before the showdown, Foreman appeared loose and confident, saying, "Look at the records. Most heavyweight champions don't last more than two or three years. Frazier has had his day. Now it's my turn. I will win."

Las Vegas oddsmakers have made the 34-year-old champion a 3-1 favorite over the 24-year-old challenger, who, like Frazier, is a former Olympic gold medalist and is unbeaten in his pro career.

Still, nobody knows for sure. Foreman is an enigma. As a pro, he has never been floored and ringsiders wonder if he has the fiber to come off the deck and keep fighting.

It's certain to be a rough-and-tumble physical brawl, unlikely to go the 15-round limit.

Frazier is a punishing, brawling slugger, a black Rocky Marciano, who disdains personal injury to mete out punishment to his foes. Foreman is a powerful giant with none of Ali's grace and speed. He doesn't swing arms, he swings wagon tongues.

Fight time is 9:15 CST, and the place is the outdoor National Stadium, an oval built for soccer and cycling.

The fight will not be on home television but will be beamed by cable to 225 sites in the United States and Canada and by satellite to special theaters in Britain, France, Japan and a half-dozen other countries.

Son of a railroad construction worker, Foreman, at 24 is five years younger than Frazier, yet has more pro fights under his belt. His record is 37-0, with 34 knockout victims. Frazier has had 29 pro fights and won them all, 25 by knockout.

A strapping, handsome athlete, Foreman is 6-foot-3, has a five-inch-longer reach than Frazier and probably will carry a 10-pound weight advantage into the ring. He is expected to weigh in at around 220 pounds, with Frazier between 208 and 210.

Houston Rockets Hire Egan

HOUSTON (AP) — The Houston Rockets have a new coach, a new winning streak and perhaps a new philosophy in the wake of Sunday's firing of Coach Tex Winter.

Rockets President and General Manager Ray Patterson announced shortly before gametime that Winter had been fired and that assistant coach Johnny Egan would take Winter's place.

With Egan in command, the Rockets then went out and shocked the rugged New York Knicks 107-103 in a nationally televised game that ended a 10-game losing streak.

Ignoring any personal consideration, Egan said "when you've been 0-10, any game you win is important. It doesn't mean anything personally. We've still got some more games this season."

Patterson said Winter was fired because the Rockets had not improved as had been expected. Going into Sunday's game, they were 17-30, identical to last year.

The end came Saturday night when the Rockets played one of their worst games of the season—losing 130-115 to the Portland Trail Blazers, who have the second worst record in the NBA.

"We used the excuses of the referees, excuses about players getting hot against us," Patterson said, "but it started to develop into a pattern that we would bring out the best in the offense of the team we were playing."

Winter, 50, was in the midst of his second season as Rocket coach. He has one more year to go on his contract and Patterson said Winter would be offered a scouting position with the Rockets.

Colts Trade Unitas

BALTIMORE (AP) — Veteran quarterback John Unitas of the Baltimore Colts was traded to the San Diego Chargers, Colt General Manager Joe Thomas said today.

The trade was "for future considerations," Thomas said.

No present players or draft choices were involved in the trade, the Colts said. The Chargers will assume Unitas' standard player contract and the Colts will meet all future obligations accrued by Unitas during his playing career with the Colts, the NFL club said.

Basketball Roundup

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Johnny Egan found a job. Walt Frazier lost his shoe and the New York Knicks lost a game.

The three events happened in Houston Sunday when Johnny Egan was made head coach of the Houston Rockets, Walt Frazier lost his sneaker with five seconds left in the game and the Knicks lost the game 107-103 in National Basketball Association play.

Egan said he hadn't thought too much about being named coach and beating the Knicks in his first game. "If it had been for the championship or something, maybe so, but we've got to play more games next week."

Newlin said, "It was just our turn to win that's all. It's a funny thing in basketball, sometimes you win and it has nothing to do with talent, like a guy falls down or loses his shoe."

The Rockets led by 14 points late in the third quarter, but the Knicks charged back in the final quarter and tied it 103-103 with 22 seconds to go on a basket by Dean Meminger.

In other NBA action, Milwaukee rolled over Golden State 124-108. Boston stopped Buffalo 104-97. Baltimore beat the hapless Philadelphia 76ers 108-97 and the Los Angeles Lakers crushed the Kansas City-Omaha Kings 123-102.

Milwaukee Coach Larry Costello said the return of Kareem Abdul-Jabbar shows what a strong person the Buck star is. "He has to be strong after what happened to him," Costello said, referring to the recent shootings at a house owned by Jabbar in Washington, D.C. Jabbar scored 27 points as the Bucks rolled to a 14-point victory over Golden State.

Rick Barry suffered an ankle injury in the first half and the Warriors were never the same. Lucius Allen added 25 points for the Bucks and Jeff Mullins led Golden State with 17.

The Boston Celtics staged off a late period rally by the Buffalo Braves thanks to baskets by John Haylick and Jo-Jo White and defeated the Braves for the ninth consecutive win.

Mark Donohue Takes Winston-Western 500

RIVERSIDE, Calif. (AP) — Mark Donohue, a member of Philadelphia's social set, has officially joined the exclusive club that belongs to the "good old boys" of Southern stock car racing.

He acquired his membership Sunday when he drove a box-like American Motors Matador to an easy victory in the $100,000 Winston-Western 500 at Riverside International Raceway.

The race opened a 31-event schedule for the National Association for Stock Car Auto Racing and it drew 31,000 persons into the sprawling road course grounds.

Donohue, 35, who lives in the Philadelphia suburb of Newtown Square, Pa., didn't become involved in NASCAR until last year, when he made his debut in Roger Penske's unfired Matador in the traditional Riverside opener.

His Matador wasn't reliable or strong enough to cause the stock car boys even mild concern last year, but the moon-faced Pennsylvanian was hot as a pistol elsewhere: He won the Indianapolis 500, among other racing plums.

This year he came back to Riverside and qualified the red white and blue machine fourth-fastest among 40 starters—just slightly behind front-row sitters David Pearson in a Mercury and Bobby Allison in a Chevrolet. Next to Donohue in the second row was Hershel McGriff, third fastest qualifier, in a Dodge.

But when the race got under way, it became evident that the combination of Donohue's road course ability and the Matador's handling qualities would become a major factor over the 500-mile distance.

He raced strongly with early leaders Pearson, Allison and Richard Petty, stock car racing's all-time champion.

When Pearson was forced out by mechanical woes, to be followed a short time later by Petty's Dodge, Donohue had things pretty much his own way.

Third place went to Ray Elder, Caruthers, Calif., in a Dodge, fourth to Bobby Unser of Albuquerque in a Ford and fifth to Jimmy Insolo, Mission Hills, Calif., in a Chevrolet.

What Must Taxes Pay For?

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Dr. Gerard M. Brannon, former director of the Treasury Department's Office of Tax Analysis, is director of the Tax Analysts Division of Tax Analysts and Advocates, a public interest law firm which helps promote public understanding of tax policy issues.)

(Second in a Series)
By GERARD M. BRANNON

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — Do we need a tax increase in the next two years? As President Nixon keeps saying, it is a matter of how much government spends.

For fiscal year 1973, (which ends in June, 1973), the President is trying to hold expenditures down to $250 billion. This will mean a federal budget deficit of about $25 billion.

Two serious budget studies, done outside of the administration, predict that legislation now on the books will bring federal expenditures to $300 billion in fiscal 1975, two years from now. Our present tax rates, even at full employment, in 1975 were expected to produce about $285 billion, a $15 billion deficit.

Apparently the present large deficit isn't going away. A deficit this year, with unemployment over 5 per cent, is not serious. A deficit at full employment in 1975 is more serious.

We could just ignore the deficit, as we did in the early part of the Vietnam war (when we were at full employment). The result of that folly was the inflation that is only now coming under control. People who don't learn from history are condemned to relive it.

President Nixon says the answer to the problem is not to spend so much. A lot of people in Congress would tell you that this answer means cutting into programs of great social value. The fact is that in our system citizens don't have enough information to judge this. (The able Sen. Charles Mathias, R-Md. says the Congress doesn't, either.)

Budget debates rarely go much beyond the figures for next year. The newspapers carry stories about so many billions of additions or cuts but there is very little news which puts these numbers in perspective.

Since our total output, as well as wages and prices, goes up every year, the useful way to look at these unimaginable numbers — of billions of dollars — is to see them as shares of the total public and private expenditures in the economy; that is, as shares of the Gross National Product (GNP.)

The $300 billion forecasts see the defense, space and foreign aid budgets stabilizing at about 7½ per cent of GNP, which is about where it stands this year. As wages and prices go up even a smaller defense program can mean rising defense expenditures. The question is, how much increase?

In the cold days of the cold war in the 1950s the defense cost ran 9 to 10 per cent of GNP; in the early 1960s it drifted down to 7½ per cent. During Vietnam it was back to the 9 to 10 per cent. Hopefully, it will fall below 7½ per cent as we throw SALT on the cold war ice, but this will take determined efforts. The pressure for new programs seem unending.

The other expenditures are now about 12½ per cent of GNP, which brings all federal expenditures to about 20 per cent of GNP. The forecasts have this nondefense expenditure rising to about 13½ per cent of GNP which will put the federal total at 31 per cent. (In the first article we said the current tax bill was 31 per cent of GNP. This includes about 11 per cent for state and local taxes.)

Bearded Student Prexy Changes Look To Lobby

AUSTIN (AP) — When Dick Benson, the 23-year-old University of Texas student body president, campaigned for his office last spring he wore a bushy red beard, faded jeans and a worn jean jacket.

Benson, regarded by other student leaders as an "intellectual," was to the left of most of his opponents in programs and more casual in dress.

After nixing the job, however, he is taking a new tack.

He has cut off his beard, trimmed his hair and donned a coat and tie to lobby with state legislators and city officials.

Through such meetings, Benson says, he hopes to promote the interest of students and get public officials to understand such issues as tuition from the student point of view.

"I found that the beard intimidated people and prevented my communication from being as effective as possible," he explained. "Even if someone can tell from talking to you that you're not a 'mindless radical,' long hair and a beard can prevent maximum effectiveness. I want to be effective."

Though some of his friends have had difficulty recognizing him since his tonsorial trim, Benson says they'll get used to the change.

Television And Radio

NEW YORK (AP) — The ABC Television network is starting a new science series tonight called "What About Tomorrow?" They announced it by mental telepathy, so they may really be on to something big.

Actually, they didn't tout it that way. They used the phone. But if the shows prove a success, it wouldn't surprise me to see the series out probing the world of extrasensory perception some day.

The basic theme of the series is the effect of science and technology on our daily lives. It's a broad, difficult assignment, but the producers have some fair academic help.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology is collaborating with ABC on all the six half-hour shows now planned, providing both on-and-off-camera assistance for each program.

The first show — airing at 10:30 p.m. EST tonight — deals with new computer technology and its potential for good. It's titled "On the Side of Man."

The producers get off to a good start, particularly with a segment about MIT scientists trying to broaden the language of the computer.

Oddly enough, the segment sharply illustrates how imprecisely we convey our thoughts; it should be shown to students for whom three grunts and a shrug constitutes a sentence.

Another good episode involves children "teaching" computers to form geometric shapes and, in the process, getting what an MIT scientist calls "a taste of the beauty and power of mathematics."

The new series, which will appear once a month, comes none too late, according to Dr. Jerome Wiesner, president of MIT and former science advisor to the late President John F. Kennedy.

"In my own view, there is a desperate need for people to get a better understanding of the things now going on in science and hopefully learn a little bit about how science works," he said.
