Cotton Growers To Meet Here Saturday

$21,134 Reduction Made In City's Annual Budget

Unwarranted Discrimination In Oil Prices For West Texas Pointed Out By Operators; 50-Cent Top Merited

Every farmer interviewed to noon today, including several who turned in questionnaires published in Tuesday's Herald favored either complete abandonment of cotton planting in 1932 or some other plan for controlling acreage.

A meeting of Howard county farmers to discuss the cotton situation will be held here Saturday afternoon.

One farmer was circulating a petition to be sent Governor Sterling asking that a special legislative session be called to consider cotton legislation.

The questionnaire is published again today. Cotton growers are again invited to make known their sentiments in this way. The result of this canvass will be forwarded to Governor Sterling.

If the south does hop into this business in an unselfish, determined manner something really may be done to provide a profitable market for this year's crop.

Any prospect of getting a fair price for what appears to be a large crop makes farmers mouth water like kids in front of a candy window. You know, one of those things you can see and want but have little hope of possessing.

The city manager and city commission are to be commended for the revised budget adopted Tuesday evening. At the beginning of the fiscal year last April estimated revenue was fixed conservatively. The months have shown that estimated revenue needed revision. Changes in conditions, therefore, are being met in the only wise manner—expenditures have been reduced.

This policy is certainly in line with prevailing conditions and will serve to keep the municipality up on a sound financial basis.

Economical operation is the greatest need of all government right now. It overhauls and needs for any additional development or capital expenditures.

Friends Fear Oil Man Is Kidnaped

SAN ANTONIO, Aug. 23 (AP)—W. P. Paulsen of San Francisco asked help today in locating R. K. Mitchell, 50, wealthy rancher and oil man of Oregon and California, who was believed to have been kidnaped here Saturday.

Robert Ingersoll, San Antonio oil man, said Mitchell was "scooped" to meet him today. He was informed Mitchell had $50,000 withdrawn from a safety deposit box last week.

QUESTIONNAIRE

What do cotton farmers of West Texas think about a legislative session for enactment of a law on the cotton situation? The Herald wants to know. The information will be passed on to Governor Sterling, who also wants to know.

This questionnaire is a convenient way to ascertain sentiment. Fill it out, and mail to The Herald at Big Spring, COTTON EDITOR, Herald, Big Spring, Texas:

Three Giant Oil Mergers Looming

NEW YORK, Aug. 26 (UP)—Three giant members in the oil industry, involving more than $3,000,000 in assets were nearing completion today. These consolidations were seen as a drastic attempt by the industry to set its economic house in order.

All the consolidations involve members of the Standard Oil group, which had been separated on anti-trust grounds by the government back in 1911. Way for this action was paved several months ago when the government failed in its attempt to prevent the consolidation of the Standard Oil Co. of New Jersey-Standard Oil of California, which would form the largest oil concern in the world, Sinclair-Prairie Oil & Gas-Prairie Pipe Line-Tidewater Associated and Standard Oil of Ohio-Solar.

The latter consolidation has reached advanced stages, awaiting only the formal approval of the companies' stockholders. Terms provide for Solar stockholders receiving one share of Ohio for each 3.6 shares of Solar or at their option $17 in cash.

The Standard of New Jersey-California merger, under discussion for more than two years, is understood to have reached a point where details have been placed in the hands of attorneys.

About the much discussed Sinclair-Prairie-Tidewater grouping officials are reticent. This consolidation would unite assets of more than a billion dollars.

ACROSS THE STREET, YET MILES AWAY

"There they are, thousands of customers daily going in and out, but as far as we're concerned they might as well be miles away.

"Jim, we've got to face the truth. There's nothing wrong with the customers. We're to blame. Ever since we cut down on our advertising, we've been cutting down on our number of customers. They're going over there, Jim, where they're invited every day."

Yes, customers are busy everywhere looking for goods to replace the worn out or depreciated things which they passed up in 1930. And 1931 is a replacement year, a recovery year, and people are buying in ever increasing volume, because they have to.

But they are careful in their buying. They want to learn about the goods they soon will own. They scan the advertising pages more closely than ever before. In thousands of homes tonight men and women are deciding what they are going to buy tomorrow, and where.

Are you "in on" these home conferences? Do you have a representative—an advertisement—to tell how you can serve? Will they come to your store, or go across the street, or down in the next block, to a competitor who is adequately telling his story in advertising?

No Change Anticipated In Rodeos Following Enactment of New Law

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Aug. 26 (AP)—No radical changes in present rodeo practices are expected as the result of a new law which legalizes calf and goat roping "provided the calf or goat is not thrown or dragged and provided there is no betting or wagering" on the roping feat.

Article 614, making roping of livestock for exhibition purposes an offense punishable by fine of not less than $100 nor more than $500, was amended by the last legislature, the law going into effect 90 days after the adjournment on May 23.

Roping of calves and goats has been the feature of most rodeos in West Texas for years, even with the old law in effect. Cowboys say

It is not always possible to rope the animals without throwing or dragging them to some extent. And to stop the cowpunchers from wagering "two bits he misses" or "a dollar he catches" is another problem for the law enforcement officials.

BRIDGE PROJECT PLANNED

CLARENDON, Texas, Aug. 25 (AP)—Donley county commissioners, in the face of organized opposition, have abandoned plans to build a bridge across Salt Fork of the Red river, on the highway between Hedley and McLean.

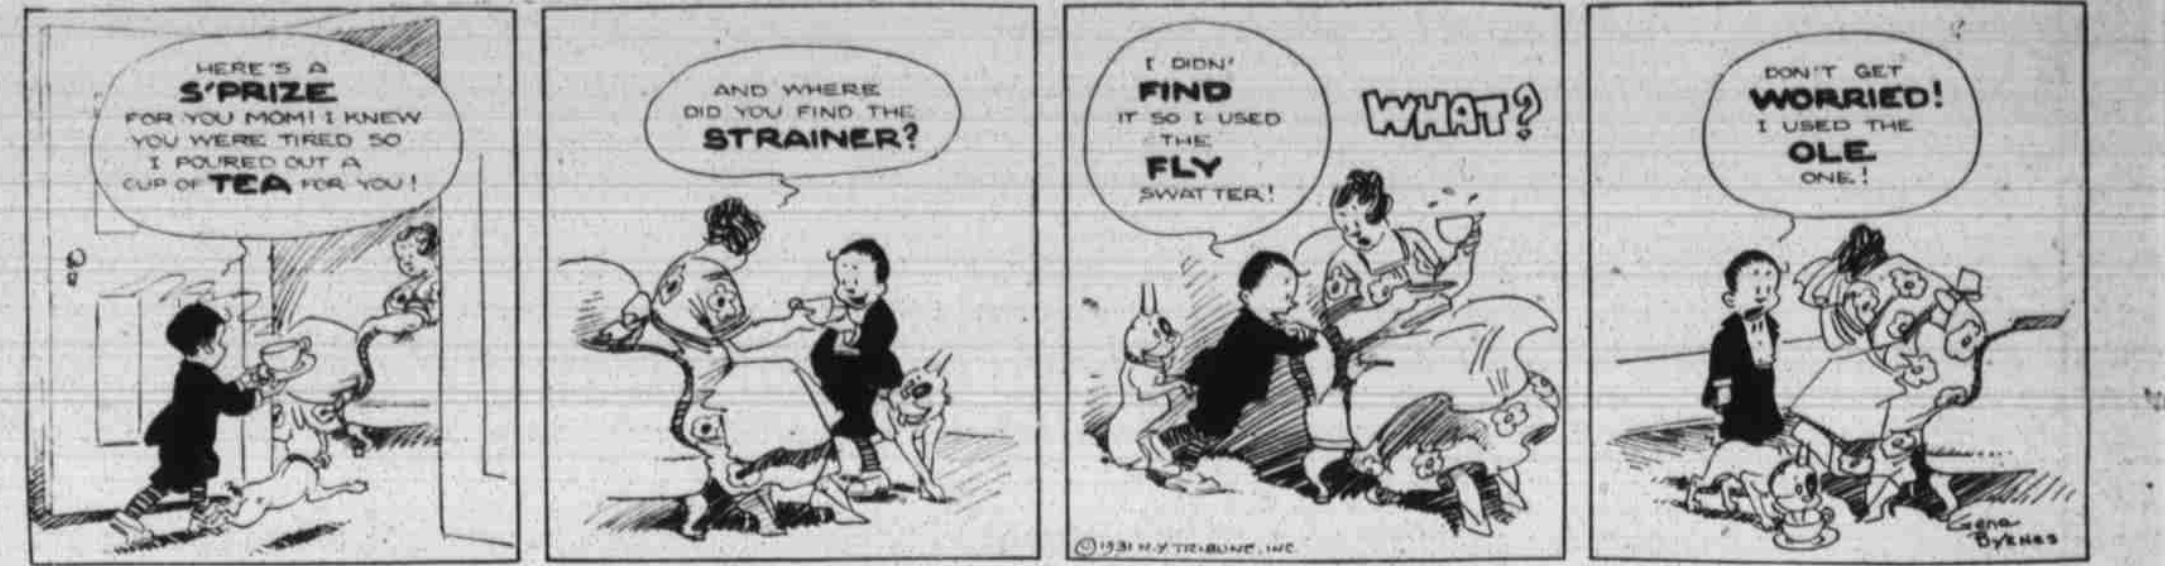

The Egtsch bill, passed by the recent legislature, was used to defeat the plans. The project called for an expenditure of more than $200,000, and the Egtsch bill provided that such matters must be submitted to a vote of the people if the cost exceeds $5,000, those opposing the bridge said.

New High Prices Assured For Crude Says Journal In Issuing Production Report For Week

TULSA, Aug. 26. (UP)—The military shutdown of the vast East Texas field resulted in the record daily average decline of 211,045 barrels of crude petroleum in the United States, the Oil & Gas Journal reported today.

Daily average production in the country dropped to 2,778,596 barrels, the lowest figure in several months, as troops patrolled three of the largest fields in the midcontinent.

Daily average production in East Texas, which flooded the market with price wrecking oil, tumbled 222,810 barrels to 515,225 barrels, which includes two days of production unrestricted by the decree of Gov. Ross Sterling of Texas.

Oklahoma production gained slightly because of new production in the Oklahoma City field, which is not curbed by Gov. William H. Murray's military orders. The 5,400 barrel increase to 209,430 barrels in Oklahoma was in the Oklahoma City pool where six gushers were allowed to flow their regular clean out period.

The midcontinent area, registering drops in almost every field except Kansas which rose 1,565 barrels to 104,205 barrels, declined 220,818 barrels to 1,346,842 barrels.

California registered a 2,000 barrel increase to 515,000 barrels.

In view of the drop, the Journal said the new high prices for crude were assured. Prices in the overproduced areas have leaped to triple amounts because of the shutdown.

Olmstead Pacifies Workers As Ranch Circus Ends Trip

PONCA CITY, Aug. 26. (UP)—The 101 Ranch Show, which rolled forth on 30 cars from the Maryland station more than a decade ago, returned today to play what may be its last stand.

The show and its straggling troupe of cowboys and Indians ended its complaining journey from Washington, D. C., shortly before midnight.

"Well, we're here," was the comment from Egypt Thompson, the hard-boiled cowboy boss. "Now let's get settled and quit your yammering," he shouted to silently rebellious cowhands.

The official welcoming party was a group of six deputies headed by Sheriff Isham of Noble county. They stood about with their coats pulled about their shoulders in the hall, murky night until the troupe retired to the train to sleep.

Less than half of the troupe reached Marland and Fred Olmstead, Col. Zack I. Miller's representative, said that less than half of the equipment was here. Most of the freaks, side show performers and actors left the train one by one to seek new jobs as the train slowly moved across the continent.

The demand for money was repeated lustily in conversation with trouper. "We want our dough," was the only answer the cowboys would give to questioners.

The Indians, Arapahoes and Cheyennes, moved about sullenly in the chilly night air and refused to help unload the baggage. "Wantum-ah-ah-ah-ah," they murmured. They retired when Olmstead promised them breakfast and an early powwow on wampum.

When the show arrived, a group of creditors was meeting over at the 101 Ranch white house to decide whether Colonel Miller should ask a receivership for the vast ranch which has $50,000 in obligations outstanding. The ranch financial difficulties are not connected with the circus failure. They are two separate corporations.

No definite plan, however, was determined at the meeting.

Men rolled dice 40 centuries ago. Don Forayth, little 170-pound guard, may replace Jimmy Steele as stellar guard on the Florida gridiron this fall.

TEXAS OIL NOTES

DALLAS, Aug. 26. (UP)—Sun Oil company today had posted a price of 68 cents a barrel for crude oil in East Texas, the first time in many weeks that a company has had a posted price in the area.

Sun's new price became effective yesterday and followed a similar posting by Magnolia petroleum company, who also hiked their prices in Louisiana and Arkansas fields.

KILGORE, Aug. 26. (UP)—Sale of 500,000 barrels of East Texas crude to the Shell Petroleum Corporation by L. B. Manley, independent operator, was reported here today. The consideration was not announced.

Shell was reported arranging for delivery to refineries at Roxana and Wood River, Ill.

LONGVIEW, Aug. 26. (UP)—The first of a series of meetings for the discussion of fire prevention in the oil fields will be held here tonight under auspices of the East Texas chapter, American Petroleum Institute.

An inventory of fire fighting equipment available in the area will be made and arranged in book form.

Meetings will be held Wednesday night by E. L. Davenport, secretary of the chapter and district superintendent of the Shell Petroleum corporation.

New York Bank Urges Depositors To Spend More

NEW YORK, Aug. 26. (UP)—Here's a big New York bank that advises its depositors to withdraw money from their savings and thrift accounts and spend it—now, when the purchasing power of the dollar is 18 per cent above what it was in 1928.

The bank, the Emigrant Industrial Savings Bank, with 219,000 depositors, suggests that its clients leave on deposit a sufficient reserve against emergencies of at least six months' salary, and with the surplus "make careful purchases of things you want for permanent use while prices remain low."

"While spending at the right time is as much a part of thrift as saving all you can when prices are going up," the bank says. "Judicious spending will set the wheels of industry turning more rapidly and restore employment to thousands now out of work. In our opinion, the millions of savings and thrift deposits in this country have it in their power to change the whole aspect of industrial and trade conditions."

San Angelo, Texas, with a total of $2,750,000 in deposits, has the largest total deposits of any city between Fort Worth and El Paso.

Victor Mellinger
MAIN AT THIRD

"I'm older than you think I am..."

"BUT I remember some of the things that I heard when I was younger.

"I was told to watch out for one of those so-called friends who is so mighty glad to see you today—almost going to hug you; and the next time you see her, is holding her head high up in the air and won't even speak to you.

"I was thinking about this while I was enjoying a CHESTERFIELD cigarette. You know, I have been smoking CHESTERFIELDS quite a long time, and they are not like some of our friends—one thing today and another thing tomorrow. They are always the same—always mild—always so pleasing in taste. They just satisfy all the time.

"By the way, that reminds me of something. I was playing bridge recently with a girl friend of mine and two men, and after we finished the game they began lambasting a whole lot of things and folks. Some of the talk was right funny, you couldn't help laughing; but, really, they pulled down a whole lot of things, and didn't build up anything.

"And that reminded me of a salesman who called to see me the other day to tell me something about CHESTERFIELD. The thing that pleased me more than anything else was that he didn't lambast and cuss out any other cigarette; but, of course, he thought that CHESTERFIELD was the best... And I rather agree with him. They do satisfy."

GOOD... they've got to be good!
