Construction will start Friday or Monday on 42 defense rental housing units in the Banks Addition in northwest Big Spring.

In contrast, the Democratic nominee said in a speech prepared for Truman has proved himself to be a man of independence who has rallied the free peoples against the mortal threat of communism and Russian imperialism.

The Illinois governor took the political bit in his teeth on a flying tour of Missouri, the President's home state, to put into a few words a swiftly-developing trend in the presidential campaign.

This trend has found the Democrats attacking Eisenhower as only the tool of Taft, the man he defeated for the nomination. It has found the Republican concentrating their attacks on Truman and saying that Stevenson must accept responsibility for any and all administration "blunders."

Stevenson, who has been talking recently of Franklin D. Roosevelt's measures to fight the depression of the '30s, without mentioning Truman, gave the President a home area send-off as "a blue ribbon winner, among Democrats."

Noting that the President comes from nearby Independence, Mo., Stevenson declared: "Harry Truman is certainly a man of independence. I think that's the thing I like about him most. In your Missouri language, he won't take anything off anybody."

"No one knows this better than Joe Stalin. And every Missourian can be proud of the fact that a man from independence, through a series of heroic and historic decisions, has rallied the free peoples against the mortal threat of communism and Russian imperialism."

In this strong endorsement of Truman, Stevenson indicated he is accepting the challenge of the Republicans to the President's record — with the accent on foreign policy. Previously he had avoided too close identification with Truman, now while stopping in the nominee's behalf, Stevenson's statement was considered an answer, too, to Eisenhower's caustic references to a 1948 remark by Truman that "I like old Uncle Joe Stalin. Joe is a decent fellow."

Stevenson ripped into Eisenhower and the Republican "Old Guard."

94 Persons Dead In Train Wreck

HARROW, Eng., Oct. 9 (AP) — At least 14 bodies were dug today from deep in the debris of yesterday's triple train crash, bringing the death toll to at least 94.

All the victims were found inside two splintered coaches at the bottom of a 50-foot mound of debris piled up by yesterday's fantastic collision of two expresses and a suburban train in the Harrow Station.

Meanwhile, one of the many injured died in a hospital. Rescue workers reached the center of the wreckage mound shortly before noon.

Doctors said the first basket of tangled remains taken from one coach were those of at least three and possibly five persons.

A locomotive from one of the three trains sheared straight through the coach yesterday, reducing most of its wooden structure to splinters.

A government investigation already was underway to discover the cause of the accident — Britain's worst train disaster in 37 years — in which two fast expresses plied into a jam-packed commuter train in front of the railroad station in this suburban town during yesterday's morning rush hour.

At least three Americans possibly were among the dead. Donald G. Woodall, an American serviceman attached to a U. S. Air Force maintenance depot in Britain, was listed among those killed. A Mrs. Jean Woodall — presumably his wife — also was listed as killed.

Mrs. Nettie Lawrence, Green Island, N. Y., was listed as missing. Her husband, Thomas Lawrence, who was pulled out of the wreckage uninjured, told rescuers: "I tried to pull my wife towards me and couldn't. She kept saying 'I can't move.'"

The three trains carried more than 1,000 persons, many of them school children. Some 600 were jammed into the local commuter train when a Scotland-to-London express thundered at 70 miles an hour into its rear coaches as it stood in Harrow Station.

A minute after the splintered commuter coaches were strewn over the tracks, a northbound express out of London ploughed through the wreckage from the opposite direction.

U. S. Air Force medical personnel from nearby bases helped the injured.

Hacking and cutting through the debris, rescue squads managed just before dawn today to lift the locomotive of the northbound express off the track.

Truman Derides Price Cut Words Of Republicans

By ERNEST B. VACCARO ABOARD TRUMAN TRAIN, (AP) — President Truman said today that Dwight D. Eisenhower has "moaned and groaned about high prices" even as the Republicans plan to "murder what's left of price controls" if they win in November.

"To say that the Republicans are the party of low prices is like saying the shark is man's best friend, or that tigers make nice house hold pets," he said.

And he accused the Republican presidential candidate of practicing "the old saw-tooth" on the voters by "going up and down the country promising tax cuts, and budget cuts, and saying the people are on an 'economic treadmill.'"

That was in a speech prepared for delivery at Cleveland, Ohio, in the Public Square during a day of "give 'em hell" campaigning in Indiana and Ohio en route to Buffalo, N. Y., for a major address tonight.

With heavy sarcasm, Truman referred to Eisenhower's talk of bringing efficiency and eliminating waste in government.

He said the Army has "improved a great deal in that respect since the Republican candidate was its chief of staff."

And he said further improvement is possible under Adlai Stevenson, the Democratic nominee, "who is known in Illinois — and elsewhere — as a tight-fisted man with a dollar sign in his pocket."

"I see no reason to expect the Republican candidate to do as well," Truman declared. "He was in a position to cut waste in the military, as chief of staff of the Army. But I do not recall that he brought about any conspicuous examples of doing so."

"He certainly did no better in this respect than Gen. Marshall before him or Gen. Bradley and Gen. Collins after him. And he knows that military expenditures simply cannot be cut enough to reduce taxes, without weakening our defense and injuring our national safety."

"This is just the old film-film, and the Republican party hopes that we will be so dazzled by their general, that we will not see through his specious arguments."

The President chose the home state of Sen. Robert A. Taft, now

Ike Supporters To Go In Group To Lubbock Talk

Eisenhower supporters in Big Spring today announced plans for the organization of a motorcade to Lubbock next Tuesday, when the presidential candidate makes his nearest Texas campaign stop.

Doug Orme, heading up the local campaign for Texas Democrats for Ike, and Al Dillon, directing the Eisenhower-Nixon organization, issued an invitation for any interested persons to join in an automobile caravan to the Lubbock speech.

They asked that those planning to make the trip call the Eisenhower offices. The information may be given to either Telephone 2330 or 3777. Those who can provide space in cars are asked to call, and those who would like to go to Lubbock but who have no transportation also are asked to give this information. Arrangements will be made for transportation, Orme said.

The Ike leaders said a motorcade will be formed along Main Street, between Fourth and Fifth, to depart from here at 9:30 Tuesday morning. Full details on Eisenhower's Lubbock speech are to be announced later, but it will be made in the early afternoon, probably at the Lubbock airport.

The speech is to be broadcast locally over KBST, with this time for 2:30 p. m. Tuesday.

Lubbock TV Permits Given

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP) — The Communications Commission today issued grants for television stations in Lubbock, Tex.; Amarillo, Tex.; Springfield, Mo., and St. Petersburg, Fla.

Two of the construction permits went to Lubbock, Bryant Radio and Television, Inc., was given a station there on VHF Channel 11 and Texas Telecasting, Inc., an outlet on VHF Channel 13.

The other Texas construction permit went to Plains Radio Broadcasting Co., for VHF Channel 4 at Amarillo.

These actions make a total of 73 grants for new TV stations since early July, when the processing of some 700 applications began after a 3 1/2-year freeze on video expansion.

U.S. Attorney Called By Justice Probers

WASHINGTON (AP) — Howard L. Doyle, veteran U. S. attorney at Springfield, Ill., appears before House investigators today for questioning about outside legal activities.

The 58-year-old attorney, who has said he has done nothing to warrant an investigation, was summoned as a witness before a House Judiciary Subcommittee which is probing the Justice Department.

Doyle's office is one of several U. S. attorneys' offices which the subcommittee has looked into. Chairman Chelf (D-Ky) said.

Robert Collier, the committee counsel, said Doyle "has engaged in outside practice over a period of years, and there is some evidence that such practice may have involved a conflict with the interests of the government." Doyle has been U. S. attorney for Southern Illinois since 1935.

Collier told newsmen that Justice Department attorneys are permitted to practice law on the outside, but the regulations prohibit any practice that "in any way or manner conflicts with the interests of the United States government."

Doyle's name came into subcommittee hearing on Justice Department decisions concerning the prosecution of the Pabst Brewing Company. Earlier this year on a charge of violating pure food laws, during a Washington conference on the matter last February, Doyle was quoted as saying he has "always taken my oath of office seriously and have never done anything or will do anything which will cause me to fear any investigation whatsoever."

The Food and Drug Administration recommended seizure of 100,000 pounds of corn grist, used for beer, after an inspection of the Pabst Plant at Peoria, Ill., disclosed "shocking, unsanitary conditions last year, the subcommittee was told. An inspector said he found insects and rodent filth in the grain.

The seizure was postponed and eventually dropped upon decision of John T. Grigsby, an attorney in the Justice Department's criminal section. Grigsby testified the company intended to destroy the contaminated grain and he believed there was no need for the seizure.

George P. Larrick, deputy Food and Drug administrator, said destruction of the grain prevented a civil suit against the company and thereby lessened any deterrent effect the prosecution would have had on other brewers.

Doyle, under instructions, eventually prosecuted the company on criminal charges, after recommending against this action because he said it would damage the Pabst reputation. The court found the company guilty on six counts and fined it $600. Pabst pleaded nolo contendere, which meant it neither contested nor admitted the charges.

Fifth Hurricane Is Whirling In Atlantic

MIAMI, Oct. 9 (AP) — The fifth Atlantic hurricane of the season whipped the ocean into towering waves today about 2,000 miles southeast of Miami and 800 miles east of Puerto Rico.

Angry 100-mile-an-hour winds churned about the center and ships were ordered to get out of its path. The hurricane was drifting slowly northward and did not offer any immediate threat to land areas.

The Christmas Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce approved the new program at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The musical presentation was accepted as the most in keeping with the Yule occasion. It also will afford public school pupils a broader opportunity for participation since leaders felt they would be unable to prepare decorated floats with the limited funds available.

CAROL SINGING INSTEAD Christmas Parade Put Off This Year

Tradition is being swapped for tradition in the planning of the opening program for the local Christmas season.

The Christmas parade, traditionally staged on the opening day of the Big Spring Christmas season, will not be held this year. In its place, the universally traditional practice of carol singing will be substituted.

Pupils and choral groups in all area schools will be invited to participate. Each group will form an independent unit to perform in a mass caroling program to be staged in the downtown area on the afternoon and evening of Dec. 2, first day of the Christmas observance.

The Christmas Activities Committee of the Chamber of Commerce approved the new program at a meeting Wednesday afternoon.

The musical presentation was accepted as the most in keeping with the Yule occasion. It also will afford public school pupils a broader opportunity for participation since leaders felt they would be unable to prepare decorated floats with the limited funds available.

Leaders and music teachers in all schools throughout the area have been invited to a meeting at 3 p. m. next Thursday to work out details of the presentation. The season will be conducted in Room No. 3, Settles Hotel Mezzanine.

The Christmas Activities Committee also voted to extend street decorations this year. In addition to the downtown section, several suburban shopping centers will receive street decorations.

MAYBE THEY'LL ALL AGREE ON ONE CANDIDATE

SULPHUR SPRINGS, Oct. 9 (AP) — Folks who gather at the Hopkins County Courthouse Saturday may have a common purpose — to whip up support for their presidential candidate — but they'll form a house divided.

Without checking with each other, Stevenson and Eisenhower groups announced they will meet in the County Courtroom at 2 p. m.

Price Clinic Set Here On Tuesday

A price clinic to provide information on the price stabilization program and assist local businessmen with any pricing problems will be held at the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce next Tuesday.

Lloyd Wooten, project manager for the Chamber, reports that Sam R. Blake, price specialist from the Lubbock OPS office, will conduct the clinic from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The clinics will be held on a regular basis in the future.

Atlanta Journal Is Backing Stevenson

ATLANTA, Oct. 9 (AP) — The Atlanta Journal, the South's largest newspaper, today announced its support of Gov. Adlai Stevenson. The Journal said Stevenson was not its choice at the Democratic Convention, but added:

"He has demonstrated an understanding of public affairs, a willingness and an ability to express himself in clear-cut terms and a sense of high-minded responsibility which are increasing his stature as the campaign progresses."

The Journal, which has never gone Republican, gave pre-convention support to Georgia's Sen. Russell for the nomination.

Chest Drive Is $21,000 Shy Of Goal

The Howard County Community Chest fund now amounts to $28,891.43, Campaign Chairman Elmo Wasson announced following the third general report meeting Wednesday.

Collections and pledges to date in the annual fund campaign include $23,007.49 in special gifts, $5,183.66 from business and industry, and $700.08 in residential contributions.

Another report meeting will be held at 4 p. m. Friday, Wasson said. All workers, division chairmen and team captains again are urged to turn in all donations and pledges at that time.

The campaign is now about $21,000 short of its goal of $49,952 which will go to support YMCA, Salvation Army, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts. Part of the Chest fund, some $3,600, will be used for establishment of a servicemen's center contributing to the drive.

Others who were on the draft call included Billy Joe Maxwell, Kenneth G. Hutchins, Stuart E. Henderson, Bill H. Montgomery, Willard Pratt and Joe Thomas.

'Texas For Ike' Headquarters Spending Money To Organize

By MARTHA COLE
 FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (AP)—State campaign headquarters for Gen. Dwight Eisenhower doesn't mention the word Republican.
 The receptionist answers the phone with a "Texas Eisenhower-Nixon Headquarters."
 The five bare-floor rooms up on the 24th floor of a Fort Worth office building are draped to the ceiling with hunting and huge colored pictures of Eisenhower and Sen. Richard Nixon.
 Plenty of "Texas for Ike." But the only "Republican" showing is on a pamphlet entitled "what the Republican 80th Congress did."
 Ben Gull, the young man from Pampa who upset the Democratic tradition in the Panhandle and got himself named a Republican congressman for a while, is the state campaign manager.
 Gull sits in a carpeted office—the only carpet in the headquarters.
 "We're spending our money for organization," Gull said. "We're not making a Cadillac campaign."
 "It's the down-to-earth Texas man that's going to win this election."
 While Gull spoke, some man called up about an offer to do some skywriting for Ike for a fee.
 "We don't do things like that from here," Gull replied. Houston must decide on that.
 Houston is the home of Jack Potter, the GOP National Committeeman from Texas and the big wheel in Eisenhower's campaign in the Lone Star State.

 On one wall of Gull's office is a huge map of the state of Texas with a tiny red flag stuck in everywhere there's a town with an Eisenhower-Nixon headquarters. Harris County alone has 14.
 State headquarters has asked each county chairman to poll each individual voter in his county.
 "Tell them we want reports as fast as they get them," Gull told an office worker who came in with a stack of papers. "So we can see how they're stacking up out there. And give us the actual count. We're going to be realistic."
 Headquarters has five field men for each of five divisions of the state—East, West, South, Central and Panhandle.
 Curtis Traywick was in this particular day from West Texas.
 "See about that speaker for Lockney Friday night," he asked Bob Hoague, head of the speaker's bureau.
 Hoague tried to reach a man in Lubbock, then called Lubbock headquarters.
 "Ask how the fair is going," Traywick said. Then he turned to the reporter and added: "We have a stand out there with 25,000 Ike balloons."
 The busiest place in state headquarters is the mailing room.

Looks like a postoffice at Christmas time.
 The two men packing cardboard boxes full of campaign material and buttons and stickers estimated they send out a ton and a half a day—and that's conservative, one said.
 Most of the boxes go to county chairmen. All is free, except the little gold lapel pins that spell "Ike." Those cost $9.50 a hundred for the county chairmen. Each person who makes a donation gets one free.
 Mrs. Gladys Smith of Rockdale came in the room and asked for some material on the lidlands.
 "This is too general," she said, thumbing through a pamphlet. "You've got to talk dollars and cents to those people."
 Most of the requests for campaign material come by mail. But people from the towns around Fort Worth drive in often to load up their cars.
 Headquarters also sends out a weekly newsletter to the various county chairmen and key workers—a thousand in all. It gives new ideas on ways to get out the vote, announces speakers at various places.
 Bob Ottum, a young fellow with a leave of absence from the Salt Lake City Tribune, writes the newsletter. He is the public relations man for the headquarters.
 People write in and call up asking what can we do to help, Ottum said.
 "Here's a woman who lives in Clovis, N. M. and practices in Farwell, Tex., a chiropractor named Dr. Mary Leon McNeff. She got on a bus early one morning and got to Fort Worth in time for the 'Womanpower for Eisenhower' (a daylong clinic for women held Oct. 1). That's 485 miles.
 "Then she came over here and one of the girls took her down to the lounge to rest for a few hours before her bus left to go back to the Panhandle that night.
 "Its people like that—"

Lions View TV Demonstration, Workings Of Coaxial Cables

Lions had a lesson in television Wednesday from Don Hanson, Dallas, Southwestern Bell Telephone representative.
 He demonstrated the two "communication trains" employed to bring network television to Texas—coaxial cable and microwave radio relay. The cable, incidentally, passes a few miles north of Big Spring.
 Hanson demonstrated a miniature coaxial cable which "piped" an image several feet to a television receiver. He showed a cross section of the large cable which contained eight pencil-sized copper tubes. Each pair of tubes can handle 600 telephone calls or two-television programs, he said. Coaxial cable is used to provide a TV link between Dallas and Houston, according to Hanson.
 Radio relay was demonstrated by transmitting a picture between two small microwave towers. Hanson said this system is being used to bring TV network programs to Fort Worth and San Antonio from Dallas, where they are picked up from the transcontinental coaxial cable, miles apart and relay TV signals along a line-of-sight path. These systems can handle a thousand telephone calls and two television programs at the same time, the speaker said.

 Explaining the telephone company's connection with television, Hanson said: "We're like the railroads down in the Valley. They don't grow the fruit or sell it. They just haul it. We don't produce TV programs or put them on the air. We just transmit them between stations in different cities."
 Principle of television has existed since its demonstration in 1834 by a German scientist. President Hoover was the first person shown in "phonovision" in 1927.
 Hanson explained the basic principles of television. Scenes are broken down into thousands of tiny squares of light and dark which are converted into electrical energy for transmission and broadcast. Thirty complete pictures are wiped on and off a TV receiver screen every second. Motion on the screen is due to an optical illusion called "persistence of vision," he explained.
 A television program requires a radio band width of 4,000,000 cycles, the speaker said. At this frequency, special amplifying equipment is needed along network routes to keep signals from dying out or becoming distorted. Coaxial cables require "repeater stations" about every eight miles to boost TV signals.
 Hanson demonstrated amplification of a program circuit by playing a record player with and without vacuum tube amplifiers in the circuit.
 Distortion, or arrival of one part of the signal ahead of another, is overcome by "equalizers," Hanson said. He illustrated this by changing tiny-sounding music into full quality tones by inserting coils and condensers into a sample electrical line.

 The video and music parts of a TV program often travel between cities by different means and different routes and are synchronized by equipment at the receiving end, he said.

Waco Newswoman Injured In Mishap

WACO, Oct. 9 (AP)—Mrs. Frank Baldwin, Waco newspaperwoman, was reported in serious condition at a local hospital from injuries suffered in car accident here yesterday.
 Mrs. Baldwin, society editor of the Waco News-Tribune and Times-Herald, was returning from a newspaper seminar in Austin when her car left the road, overturned, and threw her out. She is the widow of the late Frank Baldwin, longtime editor of the Waco newspapers.

Jury To Reconvene Floyd Death Probe

ALICE, Oct. 9 (AP)—A special grand jury, which yesterday heard testimony from a deputy and a former deputy sheriff from Duval County, was due to reconvene today to continue its probe into the fatal shooting of Jacob S. (Buddy) Floyd Jr.
 Approximately 30 witnesses have been called so far in the investigation of the Sept. 8 slaying which has been termed as a bungled assassination attempt on Floyd's father, prominent Alice attorney and political leader.
 Manuel Amaya, a Duval County deputy sheriff, and Joe Reyes, a former Duval County deputy sheriff who served under George Parr, were among the witnesses called yesterday.
 Parr, longtime Duval County political leader, recently resigned as sheriff.
 At the arraignment of Nago Alaniz, young Alice attorney and one of the two men charged with murder in the slaying, the elder Floyd testified that Alaniz told him the shooting plot was motivated by politics. Floyd and Parr have been foes in South Texas politics.
 Charged with Alaniz is Mario (El Turko) Sapet, a San Diego bar owner. Though both are charged with murder, neither is accused of being the "triggerman" in young Floyd's death.
 Other witnesses yesterday included Manuel Soliz, owner of the City Taxi Company in Alice; Fidencio Garza, Edinburg lawyer; Miss Emma Pardo, an Alice waitress; Leo McIntosh, Southwest Bell Telephone Company manager here; and a telephone operator from San Diego, Duval County.
 A habeas corpus suit was filed yesterday by Miss Elisia Villarreal of San Antonio, whom officers described as "Sapet's girl friend." It is slated to be heard at 10 a.m.

today. Miss Villarreal was transferred to the county jail here from the San Antonio jail so that she could testify before the grand jury. Officers said that she had been lodged in the San Antonio jail on a morah charge.

Oops, Wrong Man Gets A Telegram

NORTH PROVIDENCE, R. I. (AP)—Bayard Rustin, Republican nominee for U. S. senator, says the Democrats went to the wrong man for money.
 He told a rally audience last night that he received a telegram signed by Sen. Kefauver, Sen. Fulbright and Sen. Douglas asking for "the largest check possible" for a "Volunteers for Stevenson Radio and TV Fund."
 Rustin said his wife wired back: "Delighted your fund so inadequate. My husband is Republican candidate for U. S. senator."

Denton Commissions Hungarian Composer

DENTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Ernst von Dohnanyi, Hungarian pianist and composer, has accepted a commission to write a major choral work for the Denton Civic Boy Choir.
 George Bragg, director of the choir, said Von Dohnanyi was chosen because his compositions have a freshness and youthful enthusiasm especially suitable for boy choir music.
 Von Dohnanyi is now composer-in-residence at Florida State University, Tallahassee, Fla. Bragg said the composition will be ready in the spring of 1953.

54 Persons Seek Absentee Voting Ballots

Out of 54 requests for absentee ballots in Howard County, 14 of them are from men in the armed forces. County Clerk Lee Porter said today that requests for ballots started arriving in bulk this week. Of the service men asking for absentee ballots, two are from Coahoma. The others are from Big Spring. The civilian requests are mostly from Texas — only 13 coming from out-of-state. Seven people now living in Big Spring and expecting to be out of town on election day have requested ballots. Six of the men in the armed forces are stationed at posts in the United States. They are Howard J. Price, Eugene G. Fleming Jr., Robert L. Chambers, Jake M. Aleman, Alvin E. Nabers and Wilford R. Echols. Those from overseas bases are Keith R. Slaughter, James H. Selinney, Charles A. Neill, Walter L. Kennon, Glen L. Jones, Robert E. Wheelen, James Bert McAllen and Francisco R. Molina. Neill and Jones are from Coahoma. Three of the civilian requests came from Oklahoma, and two each are from New York, California and Virginia. Other states represented include Montana, Wisconsin, Louisiana and New Mexico.

Sparkman Raps 'Sit Still' GOP In Ohio Speech

COLUMBUS, O. (AP)—The Democratic vice presidential nominee cried out against "sit-still" Republicans last night and said Democrats have a "let's meet the challenge philosophy." "That, I think, is the basic difference between Republicans and Democrats," said Sen. John J. Sparkman of Alabama in a speech to a $50-a-plate Jackson-Jefferson Day banquet attended by 500 Ohio party leaders. "The stand-pat Republicans say 'sit still, be patient, prosperity is just around the corner,'" he added. "The Democrats say 'let's meet the challenge. We don't know what will work but let's try something.'" "Those, I believe, are the basic philosophies of the two parties." Sparkman will make short speeches at Mt. Vernon, Bowling Green, and Mansfield, O., today, and a major speech at a Democratic rally in Toledo tonight. Sen. Sparkman said Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower, Republican presidential nominee, is "a man who talks loud and long about programs of which he knows nothing." He lauded Democratic accomplishments. "Here is what we have done, this and nothing more," he said. "We have wisely responded to the great unfulfilled needs of our people. And, in doing this, we have used just one yardstick. We have measured each proposal, each program, each policy in terms of the most good for the most people. We have never allowed the ambitions of small, selfish, special interest groups to interfere with this objective." He said Gen. Eisenhower would have no freedom of action "if he should ever be elected to the office along with this motley crew of Republicans who are now hanging on to his military toga." He accused the general of parading "from one state to the next warmly embracing the arch isolationists and reactionaries." In his prepared text, Sparkman mentioned Gov. James Byrnes of South Carolina, a Democrat who openly supports Eisenhower, and Sen. Joseph McCarthy of Wisconsin. He deleted that mention in his delivery.

Radio Writer May Be Deported Back To Canadian Home

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Reuben Ship, who wrote the "Life of Riley" radio show for seven years, may be deported to his native Canada under the McCarran Act. He was named by two witnesses who testified before the House Un-American Activities Committee here last week. They identified him as a member of a Communist radio workers' cell in Hollywood. Ship refused to answer questions before the House Un-American Activities Committee here a year ago. He did tell the committee that he came to the United States in 1944 but never became a citizen, but he declined to say whether he had ever been a member of the Communist party. Immigration officers booked him at the county jail yesterday. He was released later on $5,000 bond. The McCarran Act provides for deportation of aliens who are found to be members of the Communist party.

Dog Poisoners Noted At Forsan, Otischalk

FORSAN, Oct. 9—Dog poisoners have been at work here and at Otischalk within the past week. A number of dogs here have been killed as a result and a few at Otischalk. The poison apparently is quick-acting. One resident here found half a wiener filled with a white substance which some thought might have been arsenic. Other residents pointed out that a child might pick up a wiener the same as a dog.

GEORGE BAILEY

K-F Club Plans To Hear Bailey Tuesday Night

Notices have been mailed to members of the forthcoming meeting of the Knife and Fork Club, scheduled for next Tuesday evening at 7:30 at the Settles Hotel. Reservations are to be returned to the club secretary by Monday noon. The affair, first of the new fall season, brings one of the K-F Association's outstanding entertainers, George Bailey, who is to appear with "A Potpourri of Melody and Memory." Bailey is billed as "the man with the photographic memory," and offers a program of mystery and humor. The whole evening, he says, is sheer escapism. His talents include some wizardry with the musical glasses, so that he adds music to his particular type of entertainment.

Nixon Praises Ike As Soviet's 'No. One' Enemy

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Republican vice presidential candidate Richard M. Nixon headed east through Pennsylvania today after coupling an attack on the Truman administration's foreign policy with praise of his running mate Dwight D. Eisenhower as Russia's public enemy No. one. "I'm glad" Eisenhower is Russia's "number one enemy," Nixon said last night as he climaxed a day of campaigning with a speech at the Syria Mosque before a crowd estimated at 4,100. Before beginning a two-day swing through the state, Nixon told his audience in this Democratic stronghold. Communist propagandists have been "cranking out vituperation against the Republican ticket" while becoming "most strangely silent on Harry Truman's handpicked candidate, Mr. Stevenson."

Nixon asserted the attack on Eisenhower by the 19th Congress of the Soviet Communist party in Moscow proved "that the one man in the world most hated and feared by the masters of the Kremlin and their satellites is Dwight Eisenhower." Declaring the administration foreign policy is "the blackest mess of Truman-Acheson-Stevenson and Company," Nixon called for ousting of those "from Dean Acheson on down" who are responsible. In an Ohio campaign speech yesterday Nixon brought up the Alger Hiss case. He asked residents of Bellefontaine, O., to ask President Truman about the case when the President's whistle-stop campaign special stops there today. Nixon charged that Truman ordered non-cooperation with a congressional committee investigating Communists.

Power Steerings in the Roadmaster and Super

You'll discover this about a Buick: The more you drive it, the more you like it; the longer your trip, the louder your praise. That's what people tell us. And we'll tell you why. You can drive a Buick three, four, five hundred miles in a single day, and feel fresh enough to keep right on going. You can romp up high hills, cruise straightaways, ease through traffic-tangled towns, clock off hour after hour of relaxed and pleasurable driving—and be no more tired than a neighborhood jaunt would make you. How come this comfort-rich ground-covering ability in a Buick? There's the ease of deep, soft seats for one thing—and plenty of move-about room for arms, legs, shoulders. There's the Dynaflo Drive* taking all the chore out of driving, and giving your whole ride a satiny smoothness without trace of jerkiness or driving tension. There's a hoodful of thrilling, tireless power from a high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball 8 Engine that whips out miles like a tarpon reels off line. There's the soft, steady, solid, swerve-free going of a coil-spring-cushioned ride that's well worth the million-plus dollars it cost to engineer. There's all this and more—much more—that makes your heart grow fonder of this trim and thrifty traveler. But words can't do justice to a Buick in motion. Only you can. When will you come sample this experience yourself? Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series. †Optional at extra cost.

Cool Weather Departs Scene Over The State

By The Associated Press
 Temperatures continued a gentle rise in Texas Thursday as farmers and ranchmen watched virtually cloudless skies in vain for some sign of a rain cloud.
 Sixty-five Texas counties were added Thursday to those eligible for aid under the government's drought relief program.
 In the last four days, only .05 inch of rain has been recorded over the state.
 A bright sun pushed temperatures into the low and middle 70s over much of Texas Thursday.
 It was chilly Thursday morning—but not quite so cold as early Wednesday.
 Thursday morning's low was 31 degrees—one degree below freezing—at Luckin. The lowest pre-dawn reading Wednesday was 26 degrees at Bronson, also in East Texas.
 Other low temperatures Thursday included Junction 32 degrees, Dalhart 33, Mineral Wells 38, Salt Flat 36, College Station 39, Lubbock 37, Waco and Dallas 38, Amarillo and Abilene 39, San Antonio 44, Houston 43, Laredo 51, Del Rio 49, El Paso 47, Big Spring 48, Texas 41 and Wichita Falls 40.
 The chilly temperatures, which followed a cold front that moved into the state last week end, spurred buying of winter clothes.
 The Weather Bureau said another cold front lay across Nebraska and might move into the Texas Panhandle Friday morning. But the front was described as weak.

Soviet Congress Told New War Would Finish America

By EDDY GILMORE

 MOSCOW, Oct. 9 (AP)—Soviet Deputy Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the big 19th All-Union Communist Party Congress last night that a third world war would finish the U. S. as a fighting power.
 Bulganin and British Communist Premier Nikolai Bulganin told the big 19th All-Union Communist Party Congress last night that a third world war would finish the U. S. as a fighting power.
 Chief Harry Politkov joined the parade of speakers to the podium of the Congress—apparently the largest meeting of Communist leaders in history—after Maxim Z. Saburov, chairman of the State Planning Commission, outlined objectives of the current five-year plan.
 Emphasizing strength of the Soviet Union, Bulganin predicted that if "American aggressors" kindle the flame of a new world war, it will be their last one. The deputy spokesman for an authoritative market reporting concern, Urner-Barry Co.
 Lamb was off four to six cents a pound in some places as supplies increased. Changes in prices of frying chickens and pork loin roasts ranged from one to seven cents a pound.
 Other meats showing up frequently as specials: prime ribs of beef, chuck roasts, rib or plate stew, sirloin steak, fresh hams, smoked picnic hams, bacon, pork shoulder roasts.
 On the fresh produce shelves, abundant supplies of these vegetables sent prices lower in many places: snap beans, beets, Brussels sprouts, cauliflower, cabbage, celery, cucumbers, iceberg lettuce, peppers, western potatoes, western carrots, spinach, radishes and sweet potatoes. Onions and tomatoes were a little higher.

Food Prices In Many Cases Are Down This Week

By The Associated Press
 Retail prices of lamb, frying chickens, pork loin roasts and a long list of fresh vegetables moved a little lower in many markets this week.
 But large eggs, in tight supply almost all over the country, advanced as much as seven cents a dozen. Dealers said this was the usual fall pinch in top grade large eggs, made worse this year by active buying for the armed forces.
 "Eggs could go even higher by the end of the week," said a spokesman for an authoritative market reporting concern, Urner-Barry Co.

Hospital Aides Seek Transfer Of TB Center

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Two Texas state hospital officials are seeking approval of the proposed transfer of the tubercular hospital at Mission to Temple, Tex.
 Under the plan some 900 patients now in Weaver Baker Hospital, located on World War II Mission Air Force Base, would move on a temporary basis to unused portions of the McCloskey Veterans Administration Hospital in Temple.
 If the move is made by May 1, 1953, the Air Force plans to reactivate the Mission base. Residents of Temple oppose the plan. The VA is expected to report by Nov. 1 on a survey to determine whether it can spare presently unused buildings at McCloskey.
 Attending conferences here yesterday were Larry O. Cox, executive director of the Texas State Hospital Board, and James M. Windham, board chairman.
 Cox said that Temple residents had expressed fear that once moved to their city on a temporary basis, the hospital might remain there permanently.
 "We have definite plans to build two new tubercular state hospitals which will have a total capacity for between 1,000 and 1,200 patients," Cox told a reporter.
 He said they would be located at San Antonio and Harlingen, and added:
 "It is plainly evident, therefore, that only temporary use is planned of facilities at McCloskey."

Boy Dies From Food Poisoning

COLORADO CITY, Oct. 9 — Thomas M. Gunn, one year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Gunn of Colorado City, died in the Root Memorial Hospital shortly after noon Wednesday.
 The cause was given by the attending physician as food poisoning. Mr. and Mrs. Gunn and a two year old daughter Earlene, are also in the Root Hospital, but their condition was not regarded as serious.
 The entire family became ill Sunday afternoon, according to their physician, and were hospitalized.
 Gunn is a patrolman on the Colorado City police force and went home Monday at noon complaining of feeling "sick at his stomach."
 In addition to his parents and sister, the child is survived by his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ivy Gunn, and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Reynolds, all of Paducah.
 The body is at the Kiker and Son Funeral Home in Colorado City, and funeral arrangements will await the recovery of his parents.

 The next meeting will be in the Big Spring Lodge 117, Nov. 3.

NEW MIRACLE DRUG GIVES WONDERFUL FAST RELIEF from MINOR THROAT IRRITATION from colds, smoking and other common throat irritants

At the first sign of a minor throat irritation, take McKesson's sensational new NEO-AQUA-DRIN Throat Lozenges. Because NEO-AQUA-DRIN contains the antibiotic miracle drug, Tyrothricin, it works fast, two ways:
 1. relieves discomfort almost immediately.
 2. inhibits the gram-positive germs that cause most minor throat irritations.
 NEO-AQUA-DRIN is guaranteed to contain up to twice as much pain-relieving local anesthetic or germ-inhibiting ingredients as other leading products. Pleasant orange flavor . . . leaves no bitter after-taste. And NEO-AQUA-DRIN does not disturb digestion or deaden taste of food! Note: If throat irritation is accompanied by fever or other symptoms, see your doctor.
 McKESSON'S NEO-AQUA-DRIN THROAT LOZENGES Made by McKesson and Robbins Bridgeport, Conn.

Russia Showing Signs Of Wavering, Eden Believes

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., Oct. 9 (AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden said today Russia shows signs of wavering in face of growing western military might. And he made what appeared to be another bid for Big Four talks with Moscow as long as they can be "constructive."

"I think that there is doubt in the minds of some of them as to whether the West can be overthrown or intimidated by a preponderant force," Eden said. "Instead, the Soviets are counting on economic problems, on internal rivalries or differences between the Western Powers."

A Bible Thought For Today—

But no one needs to practice evil in order to fully understand it. We need to know just enough about evil to avoid it and discourage it. "Knowledge between good and evil." Deut. 1:39.

One Measure Drafted To Point For Presidential Primary Law

Sentiment for a presidential primary law in Texas undoubtedly will be developing by the time the legislature next meets. Sen. Jimmy Phillips of Angleton is one Texas lawmaker who already is promoting a movement, and has written a proposed statute.

The point of the presidential primary is to eliminate the exasperating, archaic method of choosing delegates to the national nominating sessions, both Democratic and Republican.

The present system lends itself to steamroller tactics, to minority control and in general to a thwarting of the real will of the majority. It begins with the precinct conventions (too often "fixed" in advance), progresses through county conventions and then to the state convention where such spectacles as the Taft-Eisenhower battle in Mineral Wells and the Regular vs. Loyalist fight in San Antonio occur.

The primary would permit each voter to express his choice for party presidential nominee and for national convention delegates, secretly and without convention pressure.

The Phillips plan calls for official statewide party primaries the second Saturday in June of presidential election year. At these primaries, the voter will indicate:

1. Which candidate for the party's presidential nomination he favors.
2. What delegates he wants to represent him in the party's national convention in July.

How would the names of presidential candidates get on the ballot?

By petition, filed with the secretary of state in Austin at least 60 days prior to the June voting and accompanied by a $500 fee.

In the 1952 primary such names as Eisenhower, Taft, Warren and Stassen would have been petitioned onto the Republican ballot. Russell, Kerr, Truman, Stevenson and others would have gone on the Democratic. Texans would have made their choices directly and conclusively. Instead of going through with the Mineral Wells and San Antonio farces.

Also on the ballot will be the candidates for delegate to the national convention.

Candidates for delegate would file 60 days in advance and pay a $50 fee. The candidate would indicate, in filing, which of the party's presidential aspirants he favored and he would sign a pledge that on the first ballot he would vote for what ever candidate had received the most votes in the party primary. On subsequent ballots, he pledges, he would vote for the presidential candidate favored by a majority of the Texas delegation.

Presidential primary voters would be confronted with two columns of candidates — on the left those who want to be convention delegates, on the right the men who hope to win the party's presidential nomination.

Each candidate for a delegate's seat would have alongside his name on the ballot the name of the person he favors for the presidency. Thus the primary would reveal the man whom most Texas Democrats or Republicans favor as presidential nominee and it would also enable the election of a delegation pledged to support the man.

At the national convention the Texas delegation would have to cast on the first ballot, all of its votes for the man favored at the party primary. On the second ballot, and all others, the delegation would be free to cast its vote as a unit for the candidate favored by a majority of the delegation.

Releasing the delegation after the first ballot to make its own decisions would tend to let the power of Texas be felt fully on the convention floor.

The Phillips bill may not be the complete solution, and may not be adopted as written, but it does serve to point the way toward a Texas presidential primary law, which is needed.

Suburban Stores Gain In Popularity; So Does Shopping During Night Hours

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—A shopper's revolution is under way. The consumer is showing very definitely what he doesn't want and responds gratefully when offered what he does want—if the retailer and manufacturer will only provide it.

Just what the postwar shopper does want—and what the merchant and the manufacturer will have to offer in the future—was laid on the line yesterday at a meeting of the Sales Executive Club of New York by five business paper editors.

The move of stores to the suburbs is gaining ground fast. But one of the editors, Earl Elhart of Women's Wear Daily, notes that department stores misjudged the trend and failed to make their suburban branches big enough.

The trend to night shopping hours is growing even faster. Another of the editors—E. B. Weiss, a contributing editor of Printers Ink—predicts that in a few years Saturday shopping will be eliminated and stores will be open five days a week from noon to 9 p.m.

Self-service and self-selection also is spreading. One large New York department store has installed it and a still larger one has it in the works.

The tendency to turn the grocery into a general store continues to spread. Lawrence Drake, editor of the Grocery edition of Chain Store Age, says grocers are ready to sell any product that can be offered on help-yourself counters and has been pre-sold through advertising.

And the vending machine is another thing that merchants have to consider these days. An interesting observer—G. R. Schreiber, editor of Vend Magazine—predicts around-the-clock service through these machines.

A machine which will take your bills and give you back change is in the planning stage, according to the editor.

The retail-manufacturing world is also alerted by Weiss for the most big battle of the brands. He stresses the rapid growth of the store-controlled brand—large retailers with their own special brands which don't come under the fair trade price-fixing laws.

The biggest battle just ahead, says Weiss, will be between these retailers brands and manufacturer-store-controlled brand—large retailers brands.

Writer Picks October As The Month He Likes Best

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—If the Lord whispered in your secret heart that you had but one month to live, and let you pick that month, which would you choose?

I'd say October.

The birds love it, the beasts love it, and man himself then stands upon the summit of the year.

October is all the other seasons wrapped into a 31-day grabbag package, tied with a rainbow ribbon. It is the period when Mother Nature, the great dramatist, brings her traveling road show to a climax.

This is the month that like a elder press squeezes out the best juices of all the other months—the promise of spring, the sultry joys of summer, the afterglow of autumn, the premonitory chill of winter.

Everything that walks the earth feels an amber thrill, a tremendous bubbling vitality that sings in the pulse.

Now is the glory of the universe manifest, and in the mighty patch of the hills each patch of woods elects its own tree beauty queen. You like the dogwood? We won't quarrel I'll take the maple, that yellow torch.

The birds looked on disdainfully while foolish man clogged every steaming road with his July vacation. They know the right time to travel. They have hung a "toilet" sign on their nests and cloud the serene skies with a billion wings beating southward. The worm that missed noisier deeper into the turf, muttering, "Safe at last."

It is as if everyone suddenly had been given magic colored glasses. The stars bend nearer. And that big blob of moon—a child feels it is so close he could reach up with a knife and spread it on his bread like butter.

The stag stamps on the hilltop and lifts an amorous bugle to the night. Deep in the forest the doe hears his imperial summons and says, "What, again?" but she doesn't hesitate long.

The throb in every woodland heart has an echo in the city. October knows no boundaries. Listen... can't you hear and feel its music in your veins, the tremendous symphony of living?

The squirrel, bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, becomes an annual miser, furtively depositing acorns in a hidden safe deposit box that will be empty by March. The bear invests his excess profits in fat, planning to live off this stored capital until he emerges from his hibernation next spring, cross and bankrupt.

The wind at night now has become a violin, playing a love song youth for the old. Do you stay awake to hear it? You'd better! He only stays a little while, this wandering fiddler in the dark, then takes his ballads and beats it.

October wears a crown and makes every man a king. It bears the harvest superiority of the rounded apple over the petaled flower, the advantage of fruit and achievement have over pale promises. April is the fledgling politician of the year, saying "stick with me and we'll go places." October is the mature statesman holding out the golden reward.

October pours the mellowest wine of life, and anyone who isn't drinking it deeply right now is a salesman for sour grapes.

Every Citizen Has Own Stake In Active Fire Prevention

This happens to be Fire Prevention Week, and if Big Spring is making no concerted formal observance, it is still a good time for each of us to refresh ourselves on the necessity of taking utmost precaution against fire—this week and all the time.

Viewed in one way, fire prevention should be the most selfish of all promotions. The aim is to save lives and property. Fire is no respecter of persons, and every human being who has reached the age of accountability must realize that carelessness with fire is a threat to himself, his family, his property, his neighbors and his community.

The two biggest factors in fires are matches and smoking, which cause 29.29 per cent of all blazes. Next comes misuse of electricity, 10.61 per cent. These are precisely the things about which most people are careless.

The nation had 800,000 destructive fires last year which destroyed more than half a billion dollars worth of property. More than 10,000 lives were lost.

It is a lot easier to prevent a fire than to put one out. The home is the place to begin. Don't overload electrical circuits. Don't let children play with matches. Keep curtains and other flammable objects well away from open grates. Don't toss cigarets into the waste-basket, and don't empty ashtrays there either. Don't smoke in bed—hundreds of people die every year from that bit of carelessness. Clean up the trash and dispose of it as fast as it accumulates.

Your own particular fire may destroy your life and your property, but other people's fires cost you money too. Insurance rates are based on your community's fire record. If it is bad, you pay higher premiums; if it is good, your insurance costs you less.

Every citizen therefore has a stake in fire prevention.

Stalin's Two Political Worlds Divide Into Four Economic Parts

Unpleasant as it is to admit it, Josef Stalin has a point when he says that the Marshall Plan is evidence of the disintegration of capitalism. But it is equally true that the Marshall Plan is evidence of capitalism's strength, of its adaptability.

To the Communist mind, the world of capitalism is a trader's paradise. For every quid, there must be a quo. For every bushel of wheat or pound of cotton, there must be an equivalent in pounds of rubber or tin. Nothing for nothing and all's for profit.

President Harry Truman and former Secretary of State George C. Marshall violated that fundamental capitalist tenet after the war. They arranged to give away to impoverished countries in western Europe and elsewhere billions of dollars worth of wheat, cotton, machinery, and American know-how. All this without benefit of an IOU or even a lend-lease agreement.

Such gifts, says Stalin, prove that capitalism is declining. Nations no longer can trade with one another. Goods have to be given away.

British, French, Italian and other capitalists have cut off their own markets, says Stalin, by imposing an economic blockade against Russia, China and other "people's democracies." Consequence: The capitalist countries "feel the loss of such markets—and try to make up for these difficulties with the Marshall Plan and the war in Korea, by an arms race, by militarization of industry. But this is very like a drowning man clutching a straw."

Stalin implies a universe of two worlds—the capitalist world and the Communist world. Life is not that simple. Economically, there are four worlds, and the United States is just as much a world apart in economic development as Communist Russia is a world apart in political theory and ambition.

The four worlds, as I see them, are:

1. The Communist world, in which all economic activity is directed toward political ends. The state is all-powerful. It must be strong. It must be armed. Production is for the state. Exports have a single purpose: To beget imports, which will raise the production potential of the state—not necessarily the standard of living of the people.

2. The American world. This is the great industrial world, the world all non-Communist nations want to buy in. It's the world of great natural resources, great farmlands, great technology—far ahead of the rest of the world in capacity to produce cheaply, efficiently, and prodigiously.

3. The world of bygone greatness. This is the world of Great Britain, France, Germany, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands, once dominant politically and economically. But today, as a result of two wars, its investments are spent, its industrial plants are obsolete by modern U.S. standards. It's the world that once traded with grandeur with the four corners of the earth. That was when the pound sterling was prized not the dollar. Today, those countries are separated from the United States by the dollar gap, which is really a technological and industrial gap.

4. Finally the Point IV world, the world of the empty stomach, the underdeveloped world. This embraces the vast areas of Asia and Africa, the millions of people unburdened in the modern techniques of agriculture and industry. They're usually ill-fed, ill-dressed, and ill-housed. Their economies are rustic, rather than rural, pastoral rather than industrial. There are neither knowhow nor materials to build machinery or industrial plants. The Point IV world can't trade readily with the other worlds because it hasn't much to sell. It can't put up its quid to get its quid.

Could Be Taxes Aren't Too High If We Figure The Cost Of B-36

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald.—Editor's Note.

Here are some things the Russians know about this country's most famous warplane, the big B-36.

They're not for the McCarthyites to holler about though. Red agents didn't have to infiltrate anything for the information. The Air Force just felt like bragging, and this is what was said:

The B-36, dubbed the Peacemaker, stands as high as a four-story building. Its wing span is nearly a block.

Fuel capacity is 21,116 gallons—422 fifty-gallon drums worth.

Eight turrets carry 16 cannons, 20-millimeter in bore and operated from a central fire control unit.

Required crew is 37 men. Three pilots are needed.

One version is powered by six reciprocating engines, developing 3,800 horsepower, and four J-47 jet power plants which furnish 5,200 pounds of thrust.

If the plane left Big Spring at 7 o'clock some morning, it could arrive non-stop and without refueling in Greenland about 4:30 p.m. CST the same day. If it went northwest instead of northeast, it could set down at Anchorage, Alaska, in the same elapsed time. Southeastward, it would pass over Houston, the Gulf of Mexico, Colombia, western Brazil and land in Paraguay in the same nine and a half hours of flight time.

The ship could fly from here to Honolulu in an hour less time.

Back to wing span. Specifically, it is 230 feet. The ship is 162 feet long and 47 feet tall. Weight is 179 tons, or 358,000 pounds.

The giant plane, manufactured by Consolidated Vultee Aircraft Corporation at Fort Worth, travels at the rate of 435 miles per hour. It can soar to a height of eight and a half miles—44,880 feet.

Here's the big item. The B-36 costs in the neighborhood of $3,500,000. It'll take a couple of factories on one bombing run for the craft to pay off. The plane probably packs a wallop about that size, though.

The fact that one plane costs millions helps account for national budgets that run into billions, too. Maybe they need my puny payments after all.

Far West Seems To Like Harry, But Area Also Wants Change

ABOARD PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S TRAIN. — Harry Truman has been gliding past country that he knows well, and it has been smiling at him.

Outside his train window the alfalfa fields of Utah lay green and prosperous as he passed pick-up balers, which many farmers could not afford a few years ago, leaving a trail of green bales behind them.

In California stack upon stack of wheat dotted the fields. At Provo, a new steel mill, built by the government when private industry refused to take the risk, has brought new prosperity.

Water seems more plentiful this year, and in some areas it has been brought down from the mountains by dams and reclamation projects pioneered by the Truman or Roosevelt administrations.

Yes, the Far West smiles on Harry Truman both politically and economically. It smiles but it isn't boisterous. It doesn't give him the noisy demonstrations that the crowds give Eisenhower, and the President in turn doesn't usually give them the fire-and-brimstone, skin-em-alive oratory that he delivers from the rear platform. Sometimes he does, but he doesn't follow a general pattern.

However, though the crowds are big and the faces friendly you detect an undercurrent of Republicanism in these normally Democratic states.

It's hard to put your finger on, but it's there. It's there partly because the sun is smiling economically. There isn't the economic pinch that there has been sometimes. There isn't any workers' and farmers' fear of security. And in that respect, Harry Truman's reclamation, the new steel mill, the price supports perhaps may help defeat his own political ends. But perhaps more important is the desire of a change. People aren't particularly swayed by oratorical bombast on either side, and many are not at all enthusiastic about Eisenhower. And they don't know much about Stevenson, except that he's a little highbrow. But above all they want a change.

In Nevada, hoary-haired Sen. Pat McCarran is stuck politically between the devil and the deep blue sea. A young war veteran named Tom Mechlun succeeded in trouncing McCarran's former law partner, Allan Bible, in the Democratic primaries, so the natural thing for McCarran to do would be to cut the Democratic ticket, which he hasn't hesitated to do in the past.

But if he cuts Democrat Mechlun, then he elects GOP Sen. "Molly" Malone, for whom he has no respect whatsoever. Time after time, the brusque McCarran has snubbed or publicly browbeaten his GOP colleague from Nevada.

Once, when Malone was making a Senate speech condemning the reciprocal trade treaty, McCarran, listening impatiently, finally whispered to Sen. Walter George of Georgia that he would "put a stop to this."

Deliberately stalking across the front of the Senate chamber, McCarran planted himself in front of the other senator from Nevada and fixed him with a glassy stare.

Today McCarran, a Democrat, is likely to cut the Democratic ticket and secretly support Malone whom he doesn't respect but whom he can control.

Republican leaders are not happy over the fact that California's popular Gov. Earl Warren welcomed President Truman when the President's train entered the state, and that he also is inviting both Stevenson and Eisenhower to speak from the steps of the state capitol.

However, Governor Warren is not only always elected by a large segment of Democratic voters, but he has no particular reason to love Nixon and Eisenhower.

It was Senator Nixon, a member of the California delegation, who bored with within at the Chicago convention in order to swing Warren's own delegation over to Eisenhower. Knowland, the senior California senator, was taken on the mountain-top by Senator Taft and offered the full weight of the Taft delegates from Ohio if Taft failed to make it on the first ballot. In return Knowland had to deliver the California delegation on the first ballot.

Seldom has a young man been so severely tempted. But Senator Knowland remained loyal to his friend, Governor Warren.

Nixon, however, didn't. He cut Warren, got the vice presidency.

Another reason why the governor of California isn't overly happy about the GOP ticket is some remarks which Eisenhower made about him when visiting in San Francisco two years ago.

Governor Warren had the courage to take a firm stand against the witch-hunters on the board of regents of the University of California when they demanded a faculty oath that would deluge back into the entire life of every professor. Though his stand was unpopular, Warren bucked his board of regents and backed the faculty.

This inspired General Eisenhower to make some off-the-record remarks at the San Francisco Press Club that he didn't know of any loyalty oath he wouldn't be willing to stand up and swear to.

Naturally the remark got back to Warren.

"It is interesting," commented the governor to a friend, "that the general made his remark off the record so it would not be quoted in the east. For he and President Conant of Harvard were the first to take a public stand against loyalty oaths."

"Furthermore," continued Warren, "it happens that the university which I like heads has more Communists and Reds than any other in the country."

Governor Warren is going out on a train to campaign for the ticket. But his friends say it's obvious his heart isn't in it.

Uncle Ray's Corner

Flame Honored Roman Goddess

I have spoken about Zoroaster, whose religion is known as "fire worship." That leader lived long ago, but he was far from being the first to preach a religion in which fire played a part.

At least a thousand years before Zoroaster was born, there were fires on altars in Egypt. The chief Egyptian god of that time, Amon-Ra, had fire altars, and on these were burned animals, or parts of animals. It seems that most Egyptian priests set aside the better parts of the animals which were brought to them, and burned only the parts with little food value.

Other Egyptian gods also had fire altars. One of these was Ptah, sometimes called "father of the gods."

Fire played a terrible part in the religion of certain people who lived in or near the area occupied by the ancient Jews. These people are described as Ammonites and they gave worship to a god called Moloch. Human beings were offered in sacrifice to this god. It became a custom to slay the first-born son in a family, and the body was placed on the altar of Moloch. Even some of the Jews took part in the deeds performed in honor of that cruel god.

I am glad to say that human sacrifice went out of favor in ancient lands. In time this wicked action was stopped in every country which could call itself civilized.

Some early people had the custom of eating the animals which were offered in sacrifice. Instead of being burned up, the flesh was heated on the altar until it was fit to eat. Then pieces of meat were given to those who gathered to watch the sacrifice.

The vestal fire of ancient Rome became famous. It burned in honor of Vesta, a Roman goddess.

Vesta was supposed to guard over the fireplaces in Roman homes. It has been stated that the first temple in Rome was built in her honor. In that temple the vestal virgins watched the fire which was kept burning in Vesta's honor.

The fire was supposed to burn day and night for one year. Then, on the first day of March, it was allowed to go out, and a new fire was kindled in its place.

Uruguay Protests Wool Duty Increase

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Uruguay yesterday made an informal protest against any increase in duty on wool imported into the United States. Argentina was reported to have lodged a similar protest.

Jose Mora, the Uruguayan ambassador, told reporters he is opposed to increased duties, and that his country is following the situation "with the most careful consideration."

The Argentine envoy, Hipolito J. Paz, was non-committal about his call at the State Department yesterday, but it is understood he forwarded his government's objections to hiking the wool tariff.

Both Argentina and Uruguay are big wool producers, and wool is one of their major dollar-earning exports to this country.

Last week the Agriculture Department proposed establishment of a system of flexible import fees designed to raise the price of foreign wools to the level of the government's loan support price on domestic wool.

The department estimated tentatively the fee would be 18.5 cents a pound, in addition to the existing tariff of 25.5 cents a pound.

Domestic wool growers supported the department's idea at a hearing before the tariff commission, but Eastern textile manufacturers maintained any increase in wool prices would drive the public toward still greater use of synthetic yarns.

Mora had a State Department conference on the question yesterday. Later he told a news conference he will present a formal note from the Uruguayan government Friday.

The Tariff Commission has announced it will receive the views of interested parties until Oct. 18, after which a decision will be reached.

Cabot Carbon Sales Force

Headed by top sales executives, the men who market Cabot Carbon products in Canada, the United States and Mexico visited here Wednesday. The group is shown as it arrived via chartered plane. Because of its load and size, special permission was granted to land at Webb Air Force Base. After inspecting the plant here, the executives moved on to other facilities in Louisiana. More than a score were aboard.

Shivers To Make Speeches For Ike

By The Associated Press

Politics in Texas—one of the big battlegrounds of the 1952 presidential campaign—was at the parry-and-thrust stage Thursday as the state awaited visits from the two presidential candidates and their running mates.

In Austin, after saying he would take two or three speeches for GOP Presidential Nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Allan Shivers said there was a "mighty good possibility" the state will go for the Republican candidate.

"Neither candidate seems to have the advantage at this time," Shivers said. "The situation probably will remain as it is pending the visits of the two candidates to Texas." Shivers did not say when he would make the speeches for Eisenhower's candidacy.

Eisenhower is due in Texas Oct. 14-15, and Democratic Presidential Nominee Adlai Stevenson will come into the state two days later, Oct. 17-18.

Senator Richard Nixon (R-Calif.), the GOP candidate for vice president, will make a second campaign visit to Texas toward the end of October. Senator John Sparkman (D-Ala.), Stevenson's running mate, plans to speak at Texarkana the night of Oct. 24. The Democratic vice presidential candidate is scheduled to stay overnight in Texarkana then leave for Arizona.

There were these other developments:

- About 300 shouting, cheering Democrats jammed the courtroom in Denton to hear Dallas Attorney William McCraw speak in behalf of the Stevenson-Sparkman ticket. McCraw drew laughter and cheers with quips calling the Republicans "Pharisees" and the Eisenhower-Shivers Democrats "mugwumps."
- A Dallas newspaper (News) said Democrats were "urgently" seeking a huge fund to challenge last-minute Republican television and radio broadcasts. The announcement was later confirmed by George Ball, Washington attorney and executive director of the Volunteers for Stevenson. Ball, in New Orleans, said it was planned to put Stevenson on radio and television for half-hour broadcasts two or three times weekly from now until election day.
- H. L. Hunt, wealthy Dallas oilman, threw his support behind Republican Dwight Eisenhower for the presidency. Hunt, one of the original and most active backers of Gen. Douglas MacArthur, urged Texans not to mark ballots for MacArthur because each mark for the Bataan hero, he said, would amount to a "half vote" for Stevenson.
- Speaker Sam Rayburn apparently had replaced Wright Morrow of Houston as Democratic National Committeeman from Texas, in effect at least. National Democratic Chairman Stephen Mitchell said he had acknowledged Morrow's resignation three weeks ago and had substituted Rayburn's name for Morrow's on the mailing list. Traditionally, the national committeeman is campaign director for a presidential nominee. Rayburn is in charge of Stevenson's Texas campaign.
- Commenting on a recent statement by Rep. Wright Patman of Texarkana, Gov. Shivers told a Texarkana newspaperman that he had a different impression of remarks attributed by Patman to Stevenson. Patman had said that "no Congress and no President will disapprove Texas' claim to its tidelands if its case were presented separately from those of California and Louisiana." Shivers told newspaperman J. Q. Mahaffey he would like for somebody to ask Stevenson if he would approve Texas tidelands ownership if the Texas claim were made separately.

65 Counties Join Disaster List In Texas

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—Sixty-five Texas counties were added today to those eligible for aid under the government's emergency drought relief program.

Scores of other counties among the 254 in the state previously had been put under the program through which hay is made available at market price less transportation costs.

Houston and Home Finance Agency Administrator Raymond M. O'Leary notified Reps. Teague, Sparkman and Rogers (D-Tex) of today's action. The counties are:

Anderson, Armstrong, Brewster, Briscoe, Brooks, Camp, Carson, Cass, Cherokee, Cullin, Crosby, Dallas, Delta, Dimmit, Ellis, Fannin, Franklin, Garza, Gray, Grayson, Grimes, Hansford, Harrison, Hemphill, Henderson, Hopkins, Houston, Hunt, Hutchinson, Jim Hogg, Jim Wells, Kaufman, Kennedy, Kiebert, Lamar, Leon, Lipscomb, Loving, McMullen, Madison, Marion, Moore, Morris, Motley,

Arraignment Due In Robbery Of Three Cubans

FORT WORTH, Oct. 9 (AP)—Auto Salesman Sam Cresap, 40, was to be arraigned here today in the reported $248,000 robbery last Friday of two exiled Cubans.

Cresap and Gene Paul Norris, 31, each are being held in lieu of $50,000 bond. Norris is in jail in Chickasha, Okla., awaiting transfer to Fort Worth.

A third man charged in the sensational "confidence game" holdup is 35-year-old Orville L. Chambliss. He is free in Oklahoma City on a $5,000 bond.

The Cubans, Manuel Madresaga and Candido de la Torre, said the money was to be used in buying arms for a counter-revolution to unseat President Fulgencio Batista in Cuba.

The money was taken by a masked, machine-gun wielding bandit at Fort Worth's swank Western Hills Hotel.

Cresap, only one of the trio charged without a criminal record, was to ask for a lower bond at today's arraignment.

Famed Argentine General Is Dead

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)—Retired Gen. Arturo Rawson, who served as president of Argentina for one day after leading the 1943 army overthrow of President Ramon S. Castillo, died here yesterday. The cause of his death was not announced.

Rawson, 66, was the son of a famous Argentine military family. He assumed the presidency after leading the June, 1943, revolt by Army officers dissatisfied with the government's policy of neutrality toward the Axis powers. The rebels wanted an immediate diplomatic break with the Axis.

Rawson resigned the next day and was succeeded by Gen. Pedro P. Ramirez, who gave Juan Peron his first important government post and a boost toward the presidency he now holds.

Sea Transport Chief Warns Against Too Much Complacency

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Vice Adm. William M. Callaghan, commander of the Military Sea Transport Service, warns against a "too ready belief and reliance" in the merchant marine in time of war.

The concept, he added, can lead to "some dangerous conclusions and ill-founded complacency as to its adequacy."

Addressing a national defense panel at the Propeller Club of the United States, the admiral declared yesterday:

"We can no longer look upon merchant marine ships as being readily convertible to men of war. What military features they possess is incidental. The time is drawing near when ocean transport of some specialized military equipment will not be capable of accomplishment in present types of merchant ships."

Nevertheless, he emphasized, the merchant marine is still an integral part of our seapower.

Here's money-making NEWS about your U. S. Defense Bonds!

New law gives your Series E Bonds ten more interest-bearing years!

CONGRESS HAS PASSED A NEW LAW that now makes it possible for all United States Series E Bonds to continue earning interest ten years longer. There is nothing for you to do. Simply hold your bonds and they'll go on earning. You may still cash your bonds at any time after the first sixty days you have held them. But holding your bonds is the smart thing to do! For your government bonds are as safe as America itself.

Money you put into U. S. Bonds regularly and leave there is steadily growing into a larger and larger sum. And now, too, remember, your Series E Bonds earn 3% interest compounded semiannually when you hold them to maturity!

So if you have bonds which are coming due this month, remember the new money-making chance your government is giving you. Just hold onto your bonds and they'll go on earning for you. In the meantime keep up your regular saving with more U. S. Defense Bonds—through the Payroll Savings Plan where you work. It's the easy, systematic saving plan that lets you save before you draw your pay.

3 new money-making opportunities for you!
New Series M, J, and K
Defense Bonds pay 2.76% to 3%!

If you want to get the interest on your bonds in the form of current income, or if you want to invest more than the annual limit for E Bonds, ask at your bank about these new bonds:

SERIES M. A new current-income bond, available in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Sold at par. Matures in 9 years 8 months and pays approximately 3% interest per annum if held to maturity. Interest paid semiannually by Treasury check. Annual limit, $20,000 maturity value. Issued only by Federal Reserve Banks and Branches and at the Treasury.

SERIES J. A new 12-year appreciation bond, available in denominations of $25 to $100,000. Sold at 75% of par value. Pays 2.76% compounded semiannually if held to maturity. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series K Bonds.

SERIES K. A new 12-year current-income bond in denominations of $500 to $10,000. Pays interest semiannually by Treasury check at the rate of 2.76% per annum. Sold at par. Annual limit, $200,000 issue price jointly with Series J Bonds.

Now even better! Invest more in Defense Bonds!

Aggies Try To Snap Spartan Win Streak In Lansing Game

MS Is Second In AP Ratings

EAST LANSING, Mich., Oct. 9 (AP)—A lot of people who don't know one end of a plow from the other will be concentrating on the antics of the undergraduates of a pair of agricultural colleges come Saturday.

The colleges—Michigan State and Texas A&M—specialize in football as well as the education of experts in animal feeds and fertilizers.

The game will be televised nationally so a country of critics will be peering into their sets to see if the young collegians have been neglecting their football for higher education.

Michigan State was ranked the best in the nation in the Associated Press poll until this week. Then because the MSC Spartans had to win last week from Oregon State by a last-second field goal, they were demoted to second behind Wisconsin.

Texas A&M is a hungry team that hasn't cracked the national ratings yet but will if the Texas Aggies take this one.

Michigan State has won 17 in a row. The last time MSC was beaten—way back in 1950—it was by Maryland, a team that used the T formation. Texas A&M uses the T.

Key man in the Texas T attack is quarterback Ray Graves, who throws passes like a man popping popcorn. Graves completed 19 of 26 against Kentucky in a game that Kentucky won, 10-7, last week because the clock ran out while the Aggies were pounding in for another touchdown.

Michigan State Backfield Coach Steve Sebo returned from the game mightily impressed by Graves. "He can run and he can pass and you never know which he'll do," Sebo reported. "He floats along behind that line and then he makes up his mind whether to run, to lateral off the ball or to sprint back and throw it."

Frog Star Tops Overall Figures

NEW YORK (AP)—Ray McKown of Texas Christian's Horned Frogs, seventh in total offense among the nation's major college football teams a week ago, has taken over the No. 1 spot, the NCAA Service Bureau disclosed today.

McKown has accounted for 657 yards, 547 by passing, in three games to surpass last week's leader, Dick Shinaut of Texas Western. Shinaut has 650 yards, 612 via the air lanes. Despite McKown's all-out offense, TCU has scored only two touchdowns in three games.

Don Heinrich of the University of Washington, champion passer of two years ago who missed action last fall due to injuries, has moved into the No. 1 passing role. Second a week ago, he replaces Boston U's Harry Agganis, who slipped to sixth.

Heinrich has completed 47 of 84 attempts for 539 yards and an average of 56 per cent in three games. Five have been intercepted, and three have gone for touchdowns. The leader is based on a complicated combination of all passing factors.

McKown, third last week in passing, is second now with a record of 33.3 per cent complete. He has had five interceptions.

The rushing leader is Villanova's Gene Filipiak, dismissed from West Point a year ago with others in the cribbing scandal. Filipiak, sixth in rushing a week ago as Bill Wetzel of Syracuse led the pack, has ticked off 397 yards in three games. Wetzel slipped to seventh with a total of 311 yards. Arizona's Bill Beasley moved from eighth to second, with 258 yards. Remaining third is Bill Stultz of San Jose State, with 249 yards.

MORE THAN 50,000 DUE TO WATCH PRO BATTLE

CLEVELAND (AP)—The 50,000 or more fans expected for Sunday's key game between the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants better get seated early.

The scoring is usually over quickly between the two clubs who have met in five close defensive battles since the Browns joined the National Football League.

The Browns shaded the Giants twice last season. In the game Cleveland won 10-0, the scoring was over after the first seven and a half minutes. Three of the four touchdowns in the 14-13 second tilt came in the first quarter, and the other was before half time.

Last year was the second straight that Coach Paul Brown's club edged the Giants for the right to represent the American Division in the playoff for the pro grid championship.

The same clubs, unbeaten after two games, again are top contenders for the division championship. The Giants trimmed Dallas, 24-6, and Philadelphia, 31-7. The Browns

ODESSA TESTS WESTERNERS

All Eyes On Lubbock Grid Skirmish Friday Evening

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF Associated Press Staff Writer

Four games matching undefeated, untied teams highlight the Texas school football schedule for the week but the biggest battle will be between Lubbock and one-beaten Odessa.

Lubbock, defending state Class AAAA champion, enters into an Odessa team that lost its first game of the season—to Port Arthur—but hasn't come close to dropping one since. This game not only is of state-wide interest but it counts in the conference standings of District 1 in Class AAAA where championship play starts full blast.

Littlefield meets Dumas and Mexia tackles Huntville in Class AA and Dublin battles Wylie (Abilene) in Class A in games pitting undefeated, untied teams against each other.

Of almost as much importance will be an engagement between Floydada and Lockney. Floydada is undefeated and untied in Class AA and Lockney that distinction in Class A.

In Class AAA Alice and Edinburg hook up in a battle of the unbeaten. Alice is undefeated and untied. Edinburg has been tied but is undefeated. This is a conference game in District 8.

There are 100 undefeated teams left in the four divisions that play through to state championships, 82

Quarterback Club Convenes Tonight

Plans surrounding a caravan to Brownwood Friday will be discussed at tonight's meeting of the Big Spring Quarterback Club, which will be held at the new High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. today.

Club officials will also organize plans to give the local grid-ders a rousing sendoff for the game with the Lions. The Big Spring team will leave here at 9 a.m. tomorrow for Brownwood.

Reports on various projects related to the football team, undertaken by special committees, will also be given during the meeting.

WT Roofing Quint Tied For Lead

West Texas Roofing Company pulled into a tie for first place with Lee Hanson's Men Store in Men's Bowling League standings this week by trouncing Big Spring in three straight games.

Hanson's, meanwhile, was stampeding past Dairy Maid, 2-1, the same margin by which the Eagles bested Sinclair and Mathis beat Seagram's.

Crockett Hale led all scorers with a 225-572.

Hanson's and West Texas Roofing each have won 11 games and lost 4. Seagram's is third with a 9-6 mark, followed by the Dairy Herald at 8-7. Dairy Maid and Mathis are tied for fifth with 7-8 marks while the Eagles and Sinclair are tied for seventh, each with a 4-11 mark.

of them unbeaten and untied. At least 15 are due to fall this week end.

The all-out District 1 conference play marks the start of championship games in Class AAAA. Pampa will be at Amarillo, Midland at San Angelo and Borger at Abilene in addition to the Odessa-Lubbock clash.

One other district also starts conference competition. It is District 6 where mighty Ray of Corpus Christi, one of the big four in state championship calculations, meets Laredo.

This big four consists of Lubbock, Wichita Falls, Ray and Baytown. Conference play will feature Class AA with seven of the 32 districts in action while in Class A it's almost all out.

FOR BROWNWOOD

Bovines To Leave At 9 A. M. Friday

The Big Spring High School Steers leave at 9 a.m. Friday for Brownwood, where they square away against Abe Houston's powerful Lions at 8 p.m.

The Longhorns will pause in Ballinger to eat lunch and, barring unforeseen developments, will drop anchor in Brownwood at about 3 p.m. That will give them time to get the kinks out of their legs and loosen up before game time.

They'll return to Big Spring immediately after the game.

Martin Signs Odessa Pact

ODESSA — Pepper Martin, native Big Spring, has signed a contract to manage the Odessa Oilers of the Longhorn League again in 1953.

The Oilers, under Martin, finished in first place in regular season play in 1952 and lost to Midland in the finals of a six-game series in the playoffs.

Martin is wintering in Crosbyton, Texas.

Six-Man Rules Parley Slated

A six-man football rules discussion and interpretation meeting will be held at the Water Valley school at 7:30 p. m. Monday, it has been announced.

All six-man officials of the area have an open invitation to be in attendance.

Cheasley McDonald is president of the District Eight six-man official association while George Blackburn serves as its secretary-treasurer.

Star Lineman Vie Saturday

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 9 (AP)—Four candidates for "lineman of the week" honors, and possible later all-America recognition, will be on display here Saturday when Rice Institute plays UCLA.

The four, all linebackers, are Terry Dehay and Oge Don Rhoden of UCLA, and Leo Rhoden and Leo Rucka of Rice.

DOGIE 11 AND SEAGRAVES TANGLE THIS EVENING

Seagraves hosts the Big Spring High School B football team in an 8 o'clock game this evening.

The Shortorns, coached by Roy Baird and Mac Alexander, are the underdogs but should give the home club quite a battle. The Big Springers have shown much improvement in recent games. They turned in their first win of the season last week end, when they toppled Snyder, 20-7.

Seagraves is tutored by Leo Fields, one-time Stanton Coach. Fields, incidentally, gave Stanton one of its greatest clubs in history. He masterminded the Buff team of two years ago, which went all the way to the finals in regional play, before yielding to Rochester by a single point.

Seagraves has lost to Slaton and Tahoka this year but has shown a consistent scoring punch.

In Seagraves, the Dogies will be meeting their second of two Class A opponents this season. The first was Stanton, which felled the locals, 35-0.

Big Spring will again depend upon the expert quarterbacking of Tommy McAdams, who'll have help in the person of Ronnie Woodson, Sonny Wimberly, Nugent Reid and others.

Their job will be made easier by the play up front of such individuals as Dean Porter, Don Washburn, J. W. Thompson, Dickie Millam and others.

Bobby Blum will accompany the team to do its punting.

Southwest Loop's Frosh In Action

By The Associated Press Three southwest Conference freshman football teams will be in action this week end.

Rice, which leded Texas Christian, 33-0, last week in opening the season, plays Del Mar Junior College at Corpus Christi Saturday night.

Baylor, which downed Blinn Junior College, 21-6, plays Texas A&M at Waco Friday. A&M opened the season by losing to University of Houston freshmen, 26-20.

Arkansas opens the season Friday again at Little Rock Junior College at Fayetteville.

Wisconsin, OU And Missouri Picked To Win

By HAROLD CLAASSEN NEW YORK (AP)—The one thing you need to make football forecasts is confidence. After last week's debacle, the Claassen Confidence Company, Inc., went into bankruptcy.

Waiting for reorganization of the firm, here are this week's winners:

This is another of those Big Ten brusters. Wisconsin has the more solid club, plus Alan (The Horse) Ameche but Ohio State has the incentive and could win it. Penn over Princeton. Some day that Pennsylvania horde is going to bust loose and hurt somebody. Saturday is likely to be the day and the college football World's longest winning streak, Princeton's 24, goes boom.

Michigan State over Texas A & M. This is Saturday's TV gem. The Spartans, who specialize in late rallies, had better get the points early this time because those Texans can run long and far.

Maryland over Georgia. A pair of unbeaten giants. Experience gives Maryland the edge although Georgians say this is their best team since the Trippi days.

Syracuse over Cornell. Syracuse hasn't beaten Cornell since 1938 and comes to this game with Avatus Stone and Ed Drobrowski, ace backs, out with broken leg bones. But the Orange still is favored.

Michigan over Indiana. Can you remember when any previous Michigan team met its third foe and still was looking for its first victory?

Oklahoma over Texas. The Texans will discover that Vessels is the name of a top back, not to be confused with a fleet of ships on the Gulf.

Notre Dame over Pittsburgh. Here is where the Pittsburgh revival comes to a sudden halt.

Georgia Tech over Tulane. The Tech backfield is young—and ferocious.

Illinois over Washington. West Coast teams have spilled four Big Ten eleven without a defeat. The Illini aren't in the habit of losing to the Westerners, in the Rose Bowl especially.

Villanova over Wake Forest. Filipiak and company, to have their hands full.

Navy over William and Mary. The Navy defense has allowed two opponents a mere eight yards gained rushing. That comes out to three and a half inches for each rushing play.

UCLA over Baylor. The edge goes to the home team.

Stanford over Oregon State. Stanford spent the week teaching Bob Mathias how to carry the ball.

The others: Friday Night Bucknell over Temple, Boston College over Drake, Boston University over Miami, Florida State over Virginia Military.

Saturday East: Columbia over Yale, Colgate over Rutgers, Army over Dartmouth, Holy Cross over New York University, Brown over Rhode Island, Harvard over Washington of St. Louis, Coast Guard over Wesleyan.

Midwest: Purdue over Iowa, Kansas over Iowa State, Nebraska over Kansas State, Detroit over Minnesota, Oklahoma A & M over Wichita, Missouri over Southern Methodist, Tulsa over Houston.

South: Florida over Clemson, Tennessee over Chattanooga, Duke over South Carolina, Stetson over Furman, Virginia over George Washington, Louisiana State over Kentucky, Vanderbilt over Mississippi, The Citadel over Newberry, Mississippi over North Texas State, North Carolina State over Davidson, Penn State over West Virginia, Alabama over Virginia Tech, Auburn over Wofford, Washington & Lee over Richmond.

Southwest: Baylor over Arkansas, Texas Christian over Trinity.

Far West: Utah over Brigham Young, Colorado over Arizons, Wyoming over Colorado A & M, California over Oregon, Utah State over Idaho, Montana over Denver.

HOG BACKFIELD REVAMPED

McKown Arm Injury May Be Serious, Says Trainer

By CLAYTON HICKERSON Associated Press Staff

Possible serious injury to the throwing arm of Ray McKown, Texas Christian's versatile back, and the revamping of the Arkansas University backfield featured Southwest Conference preparations Thursday for the week end's football.

McKown was carried from the TCU practice field in Fort Worth Wednesday, was administered an injection to dissolve possible blood coagulation and his arm encased in ice.

McKown's arm was injured in the same manner in last week's 13-7 TCU victory over Arkansas and Trainer Elmer Brown feared the recurrence might cause a calcium deposit in the arm. Otherwise, he said, McKown might not be seriously hurt, although likelihood of the junior star playing against Trinity University Saturday seemed remote.

Besides the TCU-Trinity clash, there are these other games involving Southwest Conference elevens this week end: Texas A&M vs Michigan State at East Lansing, Baylor vs Arkansas at Little Rock, Southern Methodist vs Missouri at Columbia; Rice vs UCLA in Los Angeles; and Texas vs Oklahoma in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas.

The Texas Aggies prepped for their stand against strong Michigan State by letting Don Ellis get in a share of play calling so he would be ready if stellar Ray Graves should be injured. Otherwise, Coach Ray George concentrated on defense and sent his offensive linemen against Michigan State defensive lineups in an attempt to overcome the weight advantage held by his Saturday opponents.

Rice had a lighter drill on tap Thursday after two days of heavy work ended Wednesday. Coach

Jess Neely sought to get his ground game working for the Uclians before leaving Houston by chartered airliner Friday. The Frogs were in top shape physically.

Coach Otis Douglas sent his revamped backfield through dummy drill while the defense concentrated on halting Baylor passing plays. No scrimmage was planned for Thursday or Friday.

Navy Has Desire To Win, Is Claim

ANNAPOLIS, Md., (AP)—The explanation of why Navy has been able to take a pickup team this year and do better than last season so far is simple to Coach Eddie Erdelatz but at the same time he realizes it's hard to fathom.

"We just have a more coachable team, a bunch of guys who will do exactly what they are told and have more desire to win," he said today.

"I know it's hard to explain how it seems we had better individual players last year and look better this year," continued Erdelatz. "But this bunch is the kind who will do exactly what you tell them—this is a great team job by guys who are willing to listen and have faith in what we tell them."

Navy has been strong in its first two games, handcutting Yale 31-0 and Cornell 31-7.

The Middies currently rank as the top defensive crew among the nation's major college football teams. In two games they've given up an average of 125 yards on the ground and in the air.

Hermleigh Plays Coahomans In Feature 5-B Grid Game

Activity in District 5-B football play will get underway at 7:30 o'clock this evening in Hobbs, when Robert Lee plays the Tigers.

Robert Lee is still a leading contender for 5-B title laurels and is favored to topple the Hobbs team.

Feature game this week ends Coahoma to Hermleigh Friday night.

Hermleigh warmed up for the Coahoma test last week by belting Hobbs, 25-6. Coahoma cleared the last hurdle by belting Bronte, 35-6. It was Coahoma's fourth win of the season.

Dick Ward is Hermleigh's leading threat but has lots of help in a fine line and from such backs as D. Chitsey and C. Rhehardt.

Bill Reed, Gerry Hoover, Jerry Springfield and Jimmy Spears prove problems for the Hermleigh team.

Hermleigh has been a jinx team for Coahoma in the past but that may change this year, if the Bulldogs continue to flash the form they have in the previous starts this year.

HST, Taft Compete With The Pancakes

By ED CREGGH
SHENANDOAH, Ia. (AP) — Well, the Methodist booth sold 360 hot dogs. And the Baptists did just about as well, but had 36 cases of soft drinks left. The high school football field is still pretty messed up with crumpled paper cups and empty potato chip bags.
But the cleanup men are busy and everything will be shipshape, so they say, in time for tomorrow night's homecoming game. And it's widely agreed that yesterday's pancake feed was a big success, attracting all of those out-of-towners.

Among those present: Harry S. Truman of Jackson County, just across the Missouri line, and Robert A. Taft of Cincinnati, Ohio. The President brought his daughter Margaret, too. She looked mighty slick in that blue suit.

Pancake feed? Oh, that's an old custom in these parts. Free pancakes in the armory basement for all comers—brings trade into town, you know. Also brings politicians. But they'd probably come anyway, this being an election year.

Wonderful weather, too. Almost as balmy as the Fourth of July. From all the fireworks Taft and Truman set off, you'd have thought it WAS the Fourth of July.

Out at Mustang Field (that's where the high school plays) Truman got up and said if the farmers want 15-cent wheat back again, and farms being foreclosed under their right and left—why, he said, just vote Republican and you'll get your wish.

Then in less than two hours out came Taft. And HE said the Democrats never would have got us out of the great depression if war hadn't come along. Now they're at it again, he said, with the "Truman Korea War." That got a big hand.

Even the Democrats had to admit that the crowd cottoned more to Taft than to the President. That's nothing to wonder at. Truman carried Iowa in '48—but not THIS county. Page County has been solid Republican since.

They got pretty rough in their language, those two out-of-towners. Truman said Eisenhower had been spouting a lot of half-truths and misrepresentations about farm problems ever since he had that breakfast with Taft in New York. Taft just shook his head and said he almost admired the way Truman campaigned. "Lying and misrepresentation," he called it. Also just plain demagogery.

Close to 10,000 people turned out for the two speeches. Downtown, the state police figured 25,000 to 30,000 showed up. There was a big parade, floats, pretty girls, 18 high school bands. Truman was at the head of it. Taft rode half-way back. Keep 'em apart, people here figured.

Some of the ladies who ran the hot dog stands out at the football field, for the local churches, Amvets and the like, were kind of disappointed with the business they did. Still, Truman and Taft together didn't draw more than half the visitors in town—probably a lot less.

You just CAN'T compete with free pancakes.

GEESE FLY IN FROM CANADA

PARIS, Tex., Oct. 9 (AP)—Proof that winter's around the corner came in the form of 18 geese, rather than cool weather, for John Gambill.

Eighteen fat but tired Canada geese flew in this week at Gambill's wildlife refuge near here.

"Earl at my geese have ever started coming in," commented Gambill. He was sad because drought and summer heat had left little for the geese to feed on. "I'm afraid they'll fly on unless they find something to eat here."

Thousands of the big honkers visit Gambill's refuge each fall.

Soviet Rapped For Ouster Of George Kennan

By EDWARD E. BOMAR
WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States rapped Russia last night for ousting American Ambassador George F. Kennan and for "systematically" keeping foreign envoys in Moscow from contacts with the Russian people.

A new American note to the Kremlin said the imposing of restrictions on foreign diplomats "grossly violates the traditions and customs in international intercourse developed over generations."

It said nothing, however, about retaliation and authorities forecast that the Truman administration will leave it up to the new President to decide whether to expel Soviet Ambassador Georgi N. Zarubin or hit back in any other way.

The note replied to the Oct. 3 Soviet demand for the recall of Kennan on the ground that he voiced "slandering attacks hostile to the Soviet Union." Kennan had said in Berlin Sept. 19 that an American's life in Moscow is not much different from the experiences of American diplomats interned in Germany after Pearl Harbor.

The Soviet demand meant that Kennan, then in Geneva, could not return to the Moscow post he had filled less than five months.

The State Department told Moscow that "Ambassador Kennan's statement accurately and in moderate language described the position of foreign diplomats accredited to the Soviet government."

The 80-word message, delivered to the foreign office by Counselor Elinor O'Shaughnessy, concluded by saying the U. S. government rejected the Soviet charges against Kennan.

Although the administration apparently has decided against hitting back by other than verbal means, Secretary of State Acheson said yesterday that the U. S. is continuing to examine "all aspects of our relations with the Soviet government." He said this in a message to Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) who had urged the expulsion of Zarubin and withdrawal of the recognition of the Soviet regime which the United States extended in 1933.

Morocco Rejects French Proposal

RABAT, Morocco (AP)—The Sultan of Morocco's speedy rejection of French independence proposals indicated today the ruler may hope to see Moroccan demands for more self-rule put before the United Nations General Assembly opening in New York next Tuesday.

The Sultan handed French colonial authorities a note yesterday rejecting as insufficient the proposals they made last month to meet the Moroccan demands.

The Arab-Asian bloc in the United Nations already is pressing to get the question of independence for Morocco and Tunisia, another French North African colony, before the General Assembly. France is fighting such a move, claiming it is an internal question.

AF Deserter Is Found In The Sea

NOME, Alaska (AP)—An Air Force man who is charged with deserting his unit in Dayton, Ohio, was picked up yesterday floating about the Bering Sea on a five-man life raft.

It has not been explained how he got there.

The man, whose name has been withheld by officials, was spotted three miles from the mouth of the Yukon River by O. W. Tasch, a civilian pilot flying an amphibious plane.

Tasch asked him where he was going and he said Nome. He was 150 miles from his target, straight north across dangerous waters.

Tasch took him aboard his plane and turned him over to military authorities.

Egyptian Military Courts To Punish Black Marketeers
CAIRO, Egypt (AP)—Egypt's reform government ruled today that black marketeers will be subject to punishment by military courts and made the Army responsible for enforcing recent drastic reductions in food prices.
Premier Maj. Gen. Mohammed Naguib's cabinet, at a seven-hour session, also dismissed 16 more government officials for alleged corruption.

Eleven Airmen Are Dead In Crash Of B-29 In Oregon

PORTLAND, Ore. (AP)—An Air Force crew of 11 died in the explosion and crash of a B-29 bomber, 18 miles south of here yesterday.

The craft, on a training flight from Travis Air Force Base at Fairfield, Calif., was blown apart in flight and plummeted to earth.

Air Force investigators searched the wreckage for a clue to the cause of the accident.

Names of nine of the victims were announced at Travis today. The other two will be disclosed after relatives are notified.

The dead: Maj. Robert W. Hess, 34, Travis AFB, plane commander; Maj. Robert C. Jobe, 32, Travis AFB; Lt. Orval L. Huffman, 32, Vacaville, Calif.; Capt. Parker A. Goodall, 35, Travis AFB; S. Sgt. Clarence Krohn, 22, Eden, Idaho; Airman 2-c Charles E. Wovries, 21, 507 Tiffin Pl., Dayton, O.; S. Sgt. Billy E. Butler, 27, 432 Linden, Salem, N.J.; Airman 2-c Glenwood P. Dailey Jr., 22, 1307 Walnut, Muskogee, Okla.; Airman 2-c William E. Cullen, 22, Rt. 1, Box 187, Oklahoma City.

Three Airmen Dead In Scotland Crash

INVERNESS, Scotland (AP)—The Royal Air Force today officially listed three of its airmen killed and 11 others believed dead in the crash of a four-engine Shackleton plane in the sea off Northern Scotland.

The Coastal Command plane was engaged in air-sea firing practice when it crashed into the water yesterday near Tarbat Ness. Three bodies were found amid floating wreckage.

Woman Found Guilty

MUNICH, Germany (AP)—Mrs. Martha Joan Wage, 19-year-old Red Wing, Minn., mother of two children, was found guilty today of intentional manslaughter in the fatal shooting of her husband, U. S. Air Force Sgt. Dan P. Wage of Baldwin, Wis.

SAYS OKLAHOMA WRITER

Tidelands Action A Dangerous Grab For More Federal Power

(The principle of federal encroachment on state rights is outlined in connection with the tidelands issue, in this article, reprinted from the Daily Oklahoman of Oklahoma City—Editor's Note)

By JOHN W. BECK

Daily Oklahoman Financial Editor

Principle involved: The tidelands oil issue involves much more than the mineral resources of the submerged lands off our coastal areas. It involves a principle, with far-reaching effects which can, in the end, affect every state in the union and many private enterprises within those states. Consequently it can affect, directly or indirectly, the financial well-being of every single citizen in this country. Beyond any question, it is designed in the interests of the growth of central government at the expense of the sovereign states and of all the people.

The people of Texas and Louisiana are fairly alert to the dangers involved in the attempted steal of their tidelands oil properties by the federal government. But in California the people, apparently, are asleep at the switch concerning structure of California's political setup, with its cross-filing system wherein a candidate must attempt to be all things to all people in both parties, seems to have placed the California state government in a position where it cannot, or dare not, take a well-defined stand in this matter.

To a lesser degree (they do not have a cross filing electoral system) the states of Washington, Oregon, Mississippi, Alabama, Florida, and South Carolina are in the same position; at least they are not fighting, as are Texas and Louisiana, to retain sovereign title to their off-shore oil.

Treaty abrogated: In the case of Texas the abrogation of a treaty is involved, which places our central government in the position of considering a solemn treaty as worth no more than a scrap of paper which can be torn up and thrown away whenever a bureaucratic regime deems it advisable to do so, or considers it necessary in behalf of its own growth.

Texas was once a sovereign nation; it became a part of the United States on its own application and under a treaty which specifically set forth the retention of title to all submerged lands for a distance of 10 miles off shore. It would appear that a violation of this treaty by our central government would place Texas in a position to declare the remainder of the treaty null and void, thus severing its membership in our union. Texas will not do this, of course and it is to be hoped that the new congress will set the tidelands issue straight once and for all.

The principle involved is only a matter of direction. If the federal government can move east, west, north, or south to claim title to off-shore resources, it will be only a matter of time until the same principle is used to claim title to all sub-surface mineral resources wherever they may be found. In this latter case the direction, of course, will be down. Nor does it end there, for all other off-shore resources can be tapped by use of the same principle.

All states involved: The able attorney general of Texas, Price Daniel, has pointed out that the state of Maine has an income from kelp, clams, lobsters, mussels, and fish from its submerged lands in excess of $14 million a year, which is more than double the amount Texas receives annually from its off-shore mineral leases and other uses of its submerged tidelands. Should the principle of the tidelands oil deal ever become a law, such a plum as is now the property of the state of Maine will not

NIXON SLATES RETURN TO AIR FOR NEW TALK

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Republican Party says Sen. Richard Nixon is going back on the airwaves Oct. 13 with a major address because of an "unprecedented" public demand that the GOP vice presidential nominee make another radio-TV appearance.

Arthur E. Summerfield, Republican National Committee chairman, said yesterday the speech was arranged "as a result of a constant flow of telephone calls, telegrams and letters from people all over the country" following Nixon's defense of his $18,000 privately contributed political expense fund.

Summerfield said the address will be televised by CBS and broadcast by ABC from 7 to 8:30 p.m. CST.

Coin Collector King Out-Does The U. S. Mint

By JOHN LUNDQUIST

BALTIMORE, Oct. 9 (AP)—The king of U. S. coin collectors is one record holder who doesn't have to worry about anybody stealing his thunder.

Louis Eliasberg has a complete set of government coins minted in this country since 1792. Two of them are believed to be the only ones in existence.

His cup filled to overflowing two years ago when he managed to buy the coveted 1873 Carson City "CC" dime without a rival.

The other coin which makes this a unique collection is the 1870 $3 San Francisco gold piece. He also has one of the five known 1913 liberty head nickels. But the one regarded by the 35,000 coin connoisseurs in the country as the most famous is the 1804 silver dollar.

Originally 19,570 of them were minted. What happened to them is still speculation. One story has it that most were destined for the French Treasury to help pay for the Louisiana Territory, but the ship sank. A more generally accepted theory is that they were melted into bullion almost as fast as they were minted. The bullion value then exceeded the face value of the dollars.

Even the U. S. Mint can't match the complete set that Eliasberg boasts.

What's a prize collection of some 10,000 coins worth? Eliasberg hedges on that.

"After all," he says, "it's like your family, your wife and children. They're priceless. You don't put a set value on them."

Collectors put a variety of values on coins, as a set or individually. And of course the coins become more precious with each passing day, and increasingly difficult to buy. Eliasberg was offered $30,000 for the 1870 $3 gold piece.

Dove Hunting Ends In N. Texas Friday

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—North Texas dove hunters can put away their shotguns Friday night.

North Zone open season closes at sunset Oct. 10. South Zone season opened Oct. 1 and is still on. Howard Dodgen, executive secretary of the Game and Fish Commission, said late season reports indicated improved hunting in the North Zone. The South Zone shoot has been good so far, Dodgen said.

Howard County is losing one dairyman but is gaining another. J. H. Routh, who has been dairy farming northeast of Big Spring is splitting his herd and taking half of his cows and all his replacement heifers to Harrison, Arkansas.

"I have plenty of grass on my place there," he explains, "and a Saint Louis creamery has moved in there looking for more Grade A milk. This operation in West Texas without grass and with feed so high is getting pretty tough."

Routh says, however, that he hates to leave right now because he is satisfied that proposed federal milk marketing order will be approved in the referendum Friday and the application of the order will stabilize dairying in this section.

He also comments that the drought disaster hay program has been a tremendous help to West Texas dairymen.

Routh is taking 43 cows and replacement heifers, one bull and his saddle horse to Arkansas with him. His equipment was shipped Tuesday and the cattle are due to go out Saturday.

The Routh dairy farm here will continue in operation under the management of E. O. Hicks. All farming equipment will remain here since Routh says that all he needs in Arkansas is a team, a mowing machine and a one-horse rake. His farming activities there will be limited to cutting grass for hay.

Routh has resigned as secretary of the Tri-County Milk Producers Association and has been succeeded in that post by Henry C. Mayfield.

Howard County's new dairyman is H. J. (Sunbeam) Morrison, former assistant manager of the Big Spring Chamber of Commerce and now executive secretary of the Texas Horse Breeders Association.

Sunbeam has bought a herd of cows and has leased the dairy farm owned by J. F. Stokes of Arch, New Mexico, which was formerly known as the Bluff Place and which is located at the western edge of Big Spring. He has been busy painting the barns and otherwise getting ready to start operations.

Bill Sauer of Big Spring, supervisor of Farmers Home Administration loans over a five-county area, accompanied by Mrs. Sauer and Mrs. Frances Tucker, clerk in the local PMA office, left for Dallas yesterday afternoon to attend the FHA Achievement Day observance in the Livestock Arena at the State Fair today.

The purpose of this observance is to honor those Texas farm families who have within the last year come into possession of their farm and ranch homes through the assistance of an FHA loan.

L. J. Cappelman of Dallas is state director of the FHA, which is a division of the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Hereford breeders from 21 states, Mexico and Canada invested a total of $312,325 in 77 head of Herefords offered at the annual Wyoming Hereford Ranch sale.

The 37 bulls brought into the auction arena returned a total of $195,225 for an average of $5,276. The 40 females brought a total of $117,100 for an average of $2,928. The 77 head averaged $4,056.

The sale was topped with the $35,000 bid of the Suncrest Hereford Ranch of Arizona on WHR Elite Triumph 60, son of WHR Elite Heisman. The top priced female in the sale was WHR Starlet 47, daughter of WHR Duke 1, and she brought a bid of $8,000 from the Par-Ker Ranch of Chelsea, Oklahoma.

Walter Graham of Happy, Texas, paid $15,000 for WHR Regally 93, son of WHR Royal Duke 3.

Dave Duncan of Big Spring had 17 cows on the Fort Worth market this week. These cows returned $53 pounds and brought $13.50, according to the Texas Livestock Marketing Association, who handled the shipment.

Two Big Spring breeders of Duroc swine have come in for a good share of the ribbons at the Texas State Fair. Dee Bennett and Son, who have leased the B. O. Jones place in the Luther Community had the two top place barrows in the 180 to 220-pound class the top pen of three barrows in the 180 to 220-pound class; the third and sixth barrows in the 221 to 270-pound class; the second place pen of three barrows in the 221 to 270-pound class; the reserve champion pen of three barrows; the eighth and ninth place senior spring sow pigs and the third place junior yearling boar.

Mrs. Bennett is associated with her mother in the operation of the Smith Tea Room at 1301 Scurry.

The time for a portrait presentation dinner honoring John T. Caine III, manager of the National Western Stock Show at Denver, has been changed from Sunday noon to 6 p. m. Monday, Dec. 1, at the Saddle and Siroloin Club in Chicago, and reservations made through the American Hereford Association, 300 West 11th Street, Kansas City.

Fall cottons have blossomed out in plaids of beautiful colors and designs, but before plaids are bought they should be considered in relation to the pattern.

Tetterboard Acrobats

Members of the Ted de Wayne Troupe are shown above in action similar to that which they will perform in Big Spring at the Shrine Circus on Oct. 22-23. The circus is being sponsored by the local Shrine Club, and merchants have already subscribed 2,000 tickets to admit children free at the show. Several of the acts with the circus appeared in the movie, "Greatest Show on Earth," according to Frank Lee, advance agent.

THE SPRINGBOARD

News From Webb Air Force Base
By A-2C FERD J. BORSCH

COMMUNITY CHEST
Webb Air Force Base has surpassed the $3,000 mark in its 1952 Community Chest campaign. Through Monday base personnel had contributed $3,400 according to Maj. Ridsden Wall, project officer. An additional $150 is out in pledges. The drive officially closes Friday.

Medical Group won the inter-squadron Red Feather crown. All Medical Squadron personnel—94 of them—participated and their average contribution, $2.49 per man, was highest on the base.

Webb's Red Feather drive is being held in conjunction with the $49,952 Howard County campaign. One of the top projects of the local drive is to finance and operate a servicemen's club in Big Spring for the recreation and entertainment of Webb personnel. Other benefits include the Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, YMCA and Salvation Army.

CAREER TESTS
Eight Air Force career fields will definitely be tested at Webb in November. Airmen in these fields seeking duty upgrading must now take examinations before becoming qualified for added responsibility.

Fields to be tested include Security and Law Enforcement, Personnel, Food Service, Transportation, Vehicle Maintenance, Munitions and Weapons Maintenance, Communications and Air Traffic Control.

HANDICAPPED EMPLOYED
Webb Air Force Base, along with employees from coast-to-coast, is observing National Employ the Physically Handicapped Week—October 5-11. Over 20 per cent of civil service personnel employed at Webb can be listed in this category. Latest figures reveal that of the 502 authorized civilian vacancies on the base, 105 are filled by physically handicapped.

Capt. F. E. Hesse of Webb's Medical Group and a medical member of the local board of Civil Service examiners said, "The employment of handicapped personnel at Webb has been especially satisfactory. These people have filled certain positions with good work records and good health records."

FIRE PREVENTION
Webb's fire and crash crews held an open house program at their new fire station Monday to open the base's observance of "Fire Prevention Week." In observing this yearly event, Leslie C. Wilbanks, Webb fire prevention inspector, is giving four lectures daily Monday through Friday in the Academic Building Auditorium. Both military and civilian personnel attend these meetings.

The lectures stress the need to clean up and observe all good housekeeping policies and eliminate all possible hazards that may cause fire. In addition to the lectures, Wilbanks also demonstrates the use of fire extinguishers.

CONSTRUCTION
More construction projects at Webb have gained preliminary approval according to Maj. William Boardman, Air Installations Officer. This extensive program, totaling roughly five million dollars, will include construction of an Airmen's Club building, Base Chapel, Base Maintenance Shop, an additional test cell, a 600-seat theater, extension of the present 5,000 foot "conventional" runway to 8,000 feet, surfacing of 76,000 additional square yards of ramp area, and enlarging of the present pistol and small arms range. All projects are scheduled for completion in 1953.

PRIZE WINNER
T-Sgt. Virgil A. Howson of Webb's Food Service Squadron placed third in the Air Training Command-wide Air and Crafts contest in competition at Flying Training Air Force Headquarters at Waco recently. He received third prize for a model ship entry in the Wood and Plastics field.

CHAPLAINS
Chaplain (Lt.) Edward Lawler and Chaplain (Lt.) Francis Jeffery left Webb last week to attend a chaplains school course at Fort Slocum, N. Y. The course will run six weeks. Meanwhile another Webb chaplain, Lt. John Little, returned to the base over the week end after attending the same course.

OFFICERS WIVES
Mrs. William S. Smallwood was elected president of the Officers Wives Club at a special business meeting last week. She succeeds Mrs. Ernest F. Wackwitz Jr.

Other newly-elected officers include Mrs. Sidney P. Nischan, vice president; Mrs. E. R. Connors, secretary; Mrs. Philip L. Munn Jr., assistant secretary; Mrs. Robert G. Woda, treasurer; and Mrs. B. J. Clark, assistant treasurer. Other outgoing officers are Mrs. Homer L. Stillens, vice president.

Mrs. Darrell M. Sinn, secretary; Mrs. John A. Thomas Jr., assistant secretary; Mrs. Woodrow W. Conner, treasurer; and Mrs. W. L. Harter, assistant treasurer.

SPORTS
S-Sgt. Charles E. Fields of 3561 Maintenance has been appointed coach of Webb's first basketball team. Fields will be on hand Monday at Building 67 to greet all prospective hoopsters turning out for the base team.

The new Webb hoop mentor was a member of LSU's varsity basketball team for three years—1946-'47 and '48—before enlisting in the Air Force. He played on the Perlin Air Force Base quintet last season. Webb will open its 1952-53 schedule November 15 against Wolters Air Force Base at Mineral Wells. Twenty-eight games have been slated for the local Airmen to date.

MARATHON APPEARANCE

'Talkathon' Is New Gimmick In Politics

By JIM MARTENHOFF
MIAMI, Fla., Oct. 9 (AP)—There's a new gimmick in American politics. It's the "Talkathon."

A political candidate makes a marathon appearance before a radio microphone. He sticks to his guns, the microphone that is, for 20, 24 or even 26 hours at a stretch, answering the hundreds of questions fired at him by his radio audience.

It doesn't sound like much. But the people love it. It takes politicking back to the days when a candidate literally "stumped" his district, climbing on wagon beds, tree stumps, grocery store steps—anywhere he could find a crowd.

The candidate came face to face with the voters. They could ask him any question: find out how he liked his eggs for breakfast, how he felt on any issue. When the perspiring candidate got through the ordeal there was little a voter needed to know before he made up his mind.

Francis Cherry, an obscure county judge, answered 30,000 questions in his talkathon campaign in Arkansas. He defeated Truman-backed Gov. Sid McMath for the Democratic nomination for governor.

Bralley Oldham, an unknown Florida businessman and the first to use the talkathon in a political campaign, came from far behind to force the favored Dan McCarty into a run-off primary election for the job as governor of Florida. He lost the election but he surprised a lot of veteran politicians.

The Talkathon was used in the Wisconsin Republican primary by Len Schmitt, who lost to Sen. Joseph McCarthy. It is being used now in Ohio—with television added—by former federal Price Administrator Mike DiSalle, a Democrat who wants Republican John Bricker's seat in the U. S. Senate.

The Talkathon is the brainchild of a group of young advertising men. Bob Venn, radio and television director of Houck and Company, a Miami advertising firm, thought of it. He and Herbert F. Thompson, Houck vice president, sold the idea to Bralley Oldham at his Sanford, Fla., home last January.

Houck and Company handles the Talkathon basically as an advertising contract, much as if they were selling soap or stockings or automobiles. The client pays a flat fee based on costs. Houck puts a team in the field to handle all the details. There is a team manager, an announcer, public relations man, sign men, photographers and so on.

The Houck team buys the radio time, promotes the program, arranges for volunteer help to handle the flood of telephone calls, and generally takes care of everything. It is all done with radio time.

VOTING MEANS A LOT TO MAN

NEW BRITAIN, Conn., Oct. 9 (AP)—Edward Guillaro said today it will cost him about $2,000 for something he "wouldn't swap for a million."

Guillaro, who operated a restaurant here before he retired, flew in yesterday from Naples, Italy, to (1) vote in the November presidential election, and (2) renew his visa.

After the election, he says he'll return for a while to Italy where he has been vacationing since his retirement.

"I wouldn't give up my American citizenship for a million," said Guillaro, who maintains a legal residence in this city.

HERE'S MY SANDWICH, MOTHER

... Patsy Wiley tells her mother, Mrs. Grover Wiley, to pack her favorite sandwich in her lunchbox

Wileys Disagree On Food For Lunchboxes

You might suppose that a school teacher, a working man and a student would prefer different foods in their lunchboxes each day. But when all are in the same family, you might expect them to agree, at least for the sake of harmony. No holds are barred, however, when Mrs. Grover L. Wiley, 301 Dixie, prepares lunchbox meal for her husband, an employee of Corden, their daughter, Patsy, 8, a third grade student at Washington Place School, and herself, the junior high home economics teacher.

Into each lunch kit goes sandwiches, potato salad, cookies, fruit and a drink. The sandwiches, cookies and fruit in each box are different.

The family doesn't like the same sort of lunch fare!

The added strain of preparing three different meals early in the morning apparently isn't affecting attractive Mrs. Wiley, though. She just grins and bears it.

The Wileys were married 10 years ago in Colorado City and soon afterward came to Big Spring, while he was stationed at the bombardier school. The town made such a hit with them that Mrs. Wiley and Patsy, after her birth, returned here to stay. They've never left.

If Mrs. Wiley had time for a hobby, it would be sewing. But teaching other people's children to cook and sew leaves her very little time to do those things for herself, she smilingly comments.

Patsy is a big help to her mother around the kitchen and will cook anything that her mother will allow. She's as contented preparing gravy as whipping up candy for her small friends. However, she balks like a Yankee mule at washing the dishes!

Perhaps the most unusual sandwich filling that Mrs. Wiley has in her lunch box repertoire is a pimento cheese mixture that features a touch of grated apple.

It would be difficult to say just whose favorite this is, in this family with such different tastes.

PIMENTO CHEESE

Ingredients:
 1/2 pound American cheese (grated)
 1 small can pimentos (cut up)
 1 medium apple (grated)
 1 teaspoon vinegar
 1 teaspoon sugar
 1 tablespoon mayonnaise

Method:
 Grate unpeeled apple and combine with cheese and pimentos. Mix vinegar and sugar together and add to mayonnaise.

Chicken Pie Is Good Meal In Casserole

Chicken, vegetables, mushrooms and crisp buttered corn flakes for topping make this delicious dinner casserole called Chicken Pie Palmer House.

Though the recipe calls for individual casseroles for baking, this quantity may be made in a large casserole for family serving.

With the casserole bake a batch of cheese-topped bran muffins. And a bowl of assorted fresh fruits for salad; tea or coffee for beverage.

Chicken Pie Palmer House
 3 cups cooked chicken
 1 cup cooked carrots
 12 small cooked onions
 12 cooked potato balls
 1/2 cup butter mushrooms
 4 tablespoons shortening or chicken fat
 4 tablespoons flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 dash pepper
 1 1/2 cups chicken stock
 1 cup thin cream or milk
 2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
 3 cups corn flakes

Arrange pieces of chicken which have been removed from bone, carrots, onion, potato balls and mushrooms in six individual casseroles.

Melt shortening add flour and seasonings; add chicken stock and cream slowly, stirring constantly.

Upside-Down Cake

1/4 cup butter or fortified margarine
 1/2 cup sugar
 1-2 cup honey
 3 eggs, separated
 1/2 cup milk
 1/4 teaspoon salt
 25 graham crackers, crushed (makes 2 cups crumbs)
 2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
 1 teaspoon vanilla
 2 tablespoons butter or fortified margarine
 4 tablespoons honey
 2 large or 3 small eating apples, sliced (or peaches, bananas, etc.)
 Cinnamon and nutmeg
 Cream butter or margarine until soft. Gradually blend in sugar; beat well. Add beaten egg yolks, honey and salt. Crush graham crackers very fine; mix thoroughly with baking powder. Add part of the cracker crumbs to butter mixture, blending well. Add remaining crumbs and milk alternately; add vanilla. Fold in stiffly beaten egg whites. Melt 2 tablespoons butter in large frying pan. Add 4 tablespoons honey. Arrange fruit slices in bottom of large frying pan. Sprinkle lightly with cinnamon and nutmeg. Spoon batter carefully over fruit. Bake in moderate oven (350) 35-60 minutes. Loosen around edges; invert onto cake rack or plate. Serve warm or cold. Whipped cream or foamy custard sauce is delicious with this cake.

Add Speed To Meals With Canned Meats

When getting the children off to school and herself to P-TA and other fall activities keeps the housewife in a dither, it's nice to know that there are ingredients for a quick, hearty meal on the shelves of nearly every grocery store.

Budget-wise shoppers keep a cupboard-full of canned meats for a time when such forethought will prove a happy substitute for long-range planning. And, because the meal is both hot and nutritious, the family is just as well off for it. Luncheon Stack

In fact, interesting meals in a hurry can be planned around canned meats. A tasty dinner dish of glazed luncheon meat baked on pineapple slices can be prepared in 30 minutes. Served with frozen lima beans and corn meal muffins, it has zip aplenty for brisk fall appetites.

MEAT-PINEAPPLE STACKS
 1 can luncheon meat
 4 slices canned pineapple
 1/4 cup brown sugar
 2 tablespoons pineapple sirup
 Whole cloves

Cut the luncheon meat into four pieces lengthwise. Score meat by making diagonal cuts across the top of each slice. Stick several whole cloves into the surface of the meat. Place each slice on a pineapple and into a shallow greased baking pan. Mix brown sugar and pineapple juice, and spread over meat to glaze. Bake in a 350 degree F. oven for 30 minutes. Baste occasionally during baking period. The recipe is for four servings.

Bread slices are baked right in with this recipe for hamburger bake which can be prepared in approximately 45 minutes. The recipe below is for four servings.

HAMBURGER BAKE
 8 slices bread
 1 tablespoon butter or margarine
 1/2 pound ground beef
 1/4 cup diced onion
 2 tablespoons diced celery
 1 tablespoon prepared mustard
 1 cup shredded cheese
 2 eggs, beaten
 1 cup milk

Cut four slices of bread diagonally. Spread lightly with butter or margarine and arrange in bottom of 8-inch square baking dish. Toast lightly in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 5 minutes. While bread is toasting, brown meat with onion and celery. Mix in prepared mustard. Spread meat mixture over toasted bread. Sprinkle shredded cheese on top of meat. Cover with remaining bread slices (also cut diagonally) to make sandwiches. Combine egg and milk and pour over bread. Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) about 40 minutes.

Putting an edge on summer-weary appetites means attractive serving and giving a new taste emphasis to the more familiar foods. Inexpensive dried beef with a savory sauce centered in a ring of rice will fill the bill.

The rice will respond to new taste tricks with the addition of celery. This same celery rice ring can be served with creamed fish or the family's favorite vegetable.

CELERY RICE RING
 2 tablespoons butter
 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
 1 cup sliced celery, 1/4 inch thick
 1 1/2 cups precooked rice
 1/4 cup water
 1/4 cup flour
 2 1/2 cups milk
 1/4 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
 Dash of pepper

Melt 2 tablespoons butter in saucepan. Add onion and celery and saute until lightly browned. Add rice, water, and salt. Mix just until all rice is moistened. Bring quickly to a boil over high heat, uncovered, fluffing rice gently once or twice with a fork. Do not stir. Cover and remove from heat. Let stand 10 minutes.

Meanwhile, melt 4 tablespoons butter in skillet. Add dried beef and saute until lightly browned. Add flour and stir until blended. Then add milk gradually, stirring constantly. Cook and stir over medium heat until sauce is smooth and thickened. Add Worcestershire sauce and pepper. Season with salt, if needed.

DRIED BEEF IN CREAM SAUCE IS GOURMET'S DISH ... drift of snowy rice makes inexpensive entree

OLD-FASHIONED BEEF STEW EN CASSEROLE ... entree of hearty fall dinner

If dried beef seems too salty, rinse in hot water before using. The recipe makes 5 or 6 servings.

Canned corned beef hash sliced into patties takes to the broiler for quick cooking time and a popular canned meat favorite. Hot buttered green beans surrounded with broiled, cling peach halves and hash patties complete the toothsome menu. Dessert surprise might be the first pumpkin pie of the season.

HASH PATTIES

1 one-pound can corned beef hash
 4 cling peach halves
 Mayonnaise
 1 can whole green beans

Remove both ends from the can of hash, push contents out in one piece. Cut into 4 slices. "Rough" tops with lines of fork. Broil about three inches from the source of heat for about 8 minutes. Fill cavities of peach halves with mayonnaise and place on broiler with hash for last 4 minutes of broiling. Pile hot buttered and seasoned whole green beans in a mound at the center of a large serving plate. Surround with hash patties and peach halves. The recipe makes four servings.

Piping hot casseroles of old-fashioned stew can be ready in a matter of minutes with convenient canned beef stew. Not to be heat for a hearty fall dinner are the additional crisp cabbage slaw, golden corn bread squares and steaming hot coffee.

Called "corn dogs" by some folks, or French fried frankfurters by others, this hot dog dish consists of tasty corn covered wieners. Old-fashioned corn meal does the trick of combining corn and meat to make something new out of a hot dog. With or without skewers, they make easy eating for the entire family.

CORN WIENERS
 2-3 cup corn meal
 1 cup plain flour
 1/4 teaspoon baking powder
 1 teaspoon salt
 2 tablespoons sugar
 2 tablespoons fat
 1 egg, slightly beaten
 1/4 cup sweet milk
 1 pound wieners
 Deep fat

Cut in fat to resemble fine crumbs. Combine egg and milk; add to first mixture, and stir well until mixed. Insert wooden skewers into wieners; spread wieners with corn meal mixture and fry until brown in deep fat which has been heated to 325 degrees F. Serve with chili sauce.

If self-rising corn meal and flour are used, omit the baking powder and salt.

Chile Con Queso

1 small dried chile pepper (chile colorado)
 1 large or 2 small onions
 1 small green pepper
 2 buttons garlic
 2 tablespoons bacon fat
 2 cups tomatoes (1 No. 2 can) drained
 Salt, Worcestershire sauce, hot red pepper to taste
 1/2 pound sharp cheese

Boil and skin chile pepper. Mash with the seeds. Chop onion, green pepper, and garlic and cook in bacon fat until soft but not browned.

Add mashed chile pepper, tomatoes, and seasoning and cook until sauce is smooth.
 Add cheese (grated or cut in small pieces) and serve when cheese is melted.
 To increase quantity, add juice of tomatoes and more cheese. 2 pounds cheese will serve about 30.
 Serve on toast, crackers, or toasted tortillas. This may be reheated.

Russians Take Note Of A High Harvest

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
MOSCOW (AP)—The biggest news in Russia this fall is the harvest. "Almost everywhere," the agricultural scientist I. Yakushkin wrote in the Literary Gazette, "From the Estonia Republic to the Khabarovsk region in the Far East, collective and state farms have raised a high harvest."

Statistics on the results, even in the most general form, will not be available for some weeks or even months, but Russians in Moscow already are freely claiming that the all-time record for grain crops in the USSR will be broken.

For over four years now the Soviet grain harvest has hovered just over the magical figure of seven billion poods, a announced by responsible officials here. (A pood is 36 English pounds.) This is the figure which up to now in the Soviet Union has indicated a good crop. It is the equivalent of roughly 115 million metric tons.

The all-time grain harvest high was scored two years ago in 1950

Freak Rabbits Used In Human Disease Study

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Editor

ITHACA, N. Y. (AP)—Freak rabbits which can't hop but instead wobble like dachshund dogs are giving new aid in the study of certain human diseases and abnormalities.

This was reported today at the opening of a three-day meeting of the American Institute of Biological Sciences (AIBS) on the campus of Cornell University, one of the nation's centers of biological research.

"Instead of hopping like a normal rabbit, these rabbits have a shortness of the upper limbs and poor development of the hip and shoulder joints which results in a peculiar undulating (wavy) type of locomotion resembling that of the dachshund dog," the biologists were told by researchers P. B. Sawin and D. D. Cray of the Jackson Memorial Laboratory, Bar Harbor, Me.

Explaining that the rabbits acquired their dachshund-like superstructures as a result of a "mutation" or change in certain heredity cells which normally make for run-of-the-meadow rabbits, the scientists said this:

"Because of their abnormality, the rabbits have been added to a menagerie of other animal 'mutants' being studied at the Bar Harbor Laboratory in the quest for new understanding of such human abnormalities as epilepsy; locomotor ataxia, a nerve condition marked by disorders in gait; and deficiency of the pituitary and thyroid glands.

The researchers said the elongated rabbits of the no-lope tendency showed up as variants of a strain of New Zealand white rabbits domiciled in California.

The unorthodox characteristics were classified as "recessive"—that is the peculiar rabbits don't show up in every generation. The strange mutation is expressed in abnormal development of cartilage in various parts of the body—and some bunnies even have a deformed skull.

The researchers said that in general, the rabbits are being used in connection with hereditary studies of both normal and abnormal growth.

Western Buyers At Leipzig Fair Appear Disappointed

By TOM REEDY
LEIPZIG, Germany, Oct. 9 (AP)—The Communists are again claiming big East-West business at the annual Leipzig Fair. They talk vaguely in terms of "millions of dollars" worth.

How much actual trade with the West is transacted in Leipzig remains an exceedingly elusive fact. One thing is certain: Western buyers who came here for this fall fair went away disappointed.

Several hours of hobnobbing with British, Dutch, Swiss and Scandinavian businessmen at the "foreigners' meeting place" in downtown Leipzig contradicts all the Eastern propaganda claims.

Most of the Western visitors have the same experience. They are impressed with the tools, ceramics, china, pottery, opics and household implements on display. But as soon as they get down to brass tacks on price, delivery and so forth, they run into blank walls. The conclusions of most of the buyers agree. They say it seems clear that the East is unable to produce these items in tremendous quantities for lack of raw materials. The Russians seem to have a pattern of distribution to meet this shortage which calls for most of the products to be made available to satellite areas.

One figure given informally in Leipzig was 80-20. This means the East reserves 80 per cent of the contracts for its own bloc and permits the remaining 20 to go westward.

An example of the slack trade could be observed in the deals between the Soviet zone and West Germany. Under the interzonal trade agreement the fair started with lots of elbow room, two hundred million marks to be exact. Nevertheless in the first four days of the 10-day exhibit, only eight million marks worth of trade, all on a barter basis, was transacted between the two segments of split Germany.

The Western businessmen contend the East puts too high a price tag on most of the items offered for sale. Moreover, the East is clearly driving for mostly barter and wants above all else steel and steel products, which the West is loathe to give up.

Draft Physical Age Minimum Is Lower In Texas

AUSTIN, Oct. 9 (AP)—The minimum age for draft physical examinations in Texas was lowered today by one month.

State Selective Service Headquarters authorized local boards to order examinations for men 19 years and 11 months old. The former minimum was 20 years. "We are lowering the minimum age level just as a safety measure," Lt. Col. Morris S. Schwartz, deputy state director, said. "The manpower situation is getting tight enough that we are afraid some local boards might not have enough men if we held to the 20-year minimum."

Local boards are required to send all those 21 and over first, then dip into the 20-year-old group, then below 20 if necessary. The order will be effective with the November physical examination call. Examination of 7,655 Texas men has been ordered for that month. The November induction quota is 2,802.

Steel Mills Progress In Making Up Time Lost During Strike

NEW YORK, Oct. 9 (AP)—Steel mills are making big strides toward relieving the intense pressure of demand built up during the recent two-month strike, the Iron Age reported today.

The Iron Age reported this evidence that the production pace is getting results: The market is more orderly; shipping facilities are being strained; numerous consumers show signs of bumping into 30-day inventory restrictions.

Hat Identifier Detection Gets Praise For Man

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 9 (AP)—Police departments all over the country are taking their hats off to Frank Reeves' hat-on method of criminal identification.

"The most progressive step in police identification procedure in 50 years," is the way some experts describe it.

Reeves, a Louisville photographer, has invented a method of putting hats on police photographs of suspects that makes it easier for witnesses to make positive identification.

The police departments of Camden, N. J., Huntington, W. Va., and Cleveland, Ohio, are among 42 others throughout the country that use his method of criminal identification.

The "hat identifier" is the result of Reeves' habit of "hanging around police stations for the last 17 years."

"Time and again," he said, "I'd see witnesses hesitate over a photograph of a suspect. They'd say that they thought he was the man but they couldn't be certain because he was wearing a hat when they saw him."

After considerable study, Reeves came up with his hat identifier as the solution to the problem.

This is the way it works: Front and profile pictures of more than 120 styles of hats, caps, tams and other headgear are mounted on a large sheet of transparent plexiglass.

First, the witness identifies the type of hat the suspect was wearing then the hat is placed over the photo of the suspect's head. Reeves makes the hats to fit the head size of photographs used by the different police forces using his device.

Economic Supremacy Is Joe Stalin's Goal

VIENNA (AP)—Stalin's world Communist agents have been making it clear what Russia's apparent aims are for the next 10 or 20 years.

Provided there isn't any war, Stalin wants to build up Russia's industrial strength so it finally exceeds that of the United States. After that, it would be a Russian-dominated world whether the U. S. likes it or not.

This is the interpretation put by experts on Russia in Vienna upon a revealing series of editorials in the weekly newspaper of the Cominform. This is the policy guide book for Communists the world over.

With startling frankness, a Cominform editorial recalled a long-forgotten statement of Stalin made 19 years ago, at the 18th Congress of the Russian Communist party. It said it still holds true.

"Stalin" recalled the Cominform journal, "placed before the Communist party and the entire Soviet people a great historic task: to overtake and outstrip in the next 10 or 15 years the main capitalist countries . . . in volume of industrial output per capita of population."

The Cominform stated that 1923 aim of Stalin's even though it was interrupted by the war.

Taking 10 years out for the war and for the re-establishment of prewar levels means the Soviet economy has now put in nine years toward achieving Stalin's ambition. That theoretically leaves the Soviets about six years to go to reach the goal.

But Western diplomats say there isn't a chance that Stalin's hopes will be realized. There have been too many changes since 1933. The war upped U. S. industrial strength to a point where, even if its current output of steel stood still, it would take Russia at least until 1965 to catch up.

How then can Russia hope to surpass the United States economically?

The Cominform editorials give an answer to that. They lay down a policy which Moscow apparently hopes will carry Russia to a "life of abundance for the Soviet people." That policy includes:

1. A feverish effort to increase production in Russia's satellites.

2. Attempts at co-operation and trade with the West to help the Soviet economy.

3. Radical expansion of Russia's heavy industry and of electrification.

Of the buildup of satellite industrialization Western experts have no doubts. A directive to the October party congress in Moscow calls for its "further consolidation and extension."

"But," said a Western diplomat, "the output of these lands in no way matches that of Western countries allied with the United States. Even with the industrialization of China, they won't catch up for decades."

On the subject of co-operation and trade with the West, the Cominform editorials have been busy reviving Stalin's oft-repeated statements that capitalism and socialism can live and trade together.

The Cominform editorials also have indirectly admitted that without a big increase in Russia's industrialization, there is not much chance for communism to take over.

Permian Basin Oil Exhibits Are Readied

ODESSA, Oct. 9 — Exhibitors were starting to move in equipment this week in preparation for the Permian Basin Oil Show in Ector County Park Oct. 16-19.

One of the first big pieces of gear to arrive was a jack-knife drilling mast, manufactured by Fox Diamond Derrick Co. of Fort Worth, is the first full sized derrick to be shown at the oil show in Odessa, said Lloyd French, show president.

The derrick, which will be fully rigged and powered by two 12-cylinder engines, towers nearly 140 feet into the air. It will be raised and lowered several times a day and the traveling block and other moving gear operated during the show.

The oil drilling rig will be part of the exhibit of Empire Machinery Co. of Odessa and Abilene. The derrick, which will be fully lighted at night, will be visible many miles in all directions.

Some 200 exhibitors will show their products and services in 350 exhibits in the show which is expected to attract 75,000 to 100,000 persons. Admission will be free to the buildings and grounds from 10 a. m. to 10 p. m. daily each day of the show.

The only part of the exposition for which tickets are required will be the Blondie and Daywood Bumstead variety show, the four nightly dances and the Saturday afternoon Chuck Wagon Gang barbecue. Ticket books, priced at $2., cover admittance to all these events.

Heavy equipment in the show in addition to the drilling rig will include drilling engines, cementing and acidizing trucks, pumps, draw-works mud tanks and other fabricated steel products, special trucks, drilling tools, huge valves and countless other pieces of equipment used in the oil fields, pipe lines, construction projects and processing plants of the Permian Basin.

Recent post-war wine production has been enormous. In 1950 France produced a record 1,718,000,000 gallons—a little more liquid than the big Shasta Irrigation Reservoir holds on the Sacramento River in California.

The rainless days and hot sun of this summer have coddled the vines. Another big harvest is expected with more millions of gallons of wine to be added to the producers' already record breaking stock on hand of 416,000,000 gallons. Merchants' shelves hold another 184,000,000 gallons.

Despite better than pre-war exports, France is running out of vats, barrels and bottles to hold a surplus which threatens to wreck wine prices like the Johnstown flood.

Last year they absorbed only 118,800,000 gallons per month, or 2.7 gallons per inhabitant.

If this were not bad enough news for the wine producers, from their side of the barrel it looks even worse.

Argentine Plays Golf For HSU

ABILENE.—Tom Hale, sophomore from Shamrock, will captain the Hardin-Simmons University golf team this season.

As a freshman last season, Hale posted the medalist score in the Border Conference meet. The Cowboys have won the conference title for the last two years.

Hale will lead three other returning lettermen, eight freshmen and one junior college transfer.

Returning lettermen are Joe Ed Black, Lamesa; Jackie Clark, Troup; and Jim Middleton, Abilene.

Freshman candidates are Arlyn Scott, Odessa; Bob Bean, Abilene; Duane Blair, Vernon; Charles Vaden, Stamford; Bernie Parks, Memphis; Bruce Morris and E. L. Pharr, both of Lampasas, and Emilio L. Bemenati, Mendoza, Argentina.

Wayne Nash is the junior college transfer. He played for Paris. Bemenati is one of Argentina's top amateurs.

French Worry About Surplus Of Wine

By CHARLES C. LANE

PARIS, Aug. 30 (AP)—Take a guess at what one of France's big problems is today. Korea? Communism? The length of the hemline on the new fashions?

Nope. It's wine.

France, the world's foremost maker and drinker of wine, is worried today because it has too much of the stuff.

And what's more, the surplus exists partly because French wine drinkers are dragging their elbows on the new fashions?

Before the war they sipped up the tidy quantity of 134,640,000 gallons of the heady beverage per month, or about three and a half gallons for every child and adult of the nation's 40 million inhabitants.

Last year they absorbed only 118,800,000 gallons per month, or 2.7 gallons per inhabitant.

If this were not bad enough news for the wine producers, from their side of the barrel it looks even worse.
