

Death Toll Mounts Following Tropical Hurricane

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—A rising death toll from the fearful hurricane that swept the Eastern Gulf Coast was reported last night as churning waters permitted a survey of casualties and destruction. Twenty bodies were recovered in the Biloxi-Gulfport vicinity of the Mississippi Coast resort area, where the storm was deadliest. The Red Cross reported as many as 81 persons dead or missing, emphasizing that the reports were not verified. The Gulfport chief of police was quoted as saying 100 bodies were expected to be recovered from the ruins of smashed Pass Christian.

Fishermen who were reported to have scurried to Louisiana marshes when the hurricane bore down, Cosman Eisenbath, Biloxi newspaper man, said that a Coast Guard plane had made contact with 40 of the fishermen, who were safe, and was searching for about 160 others. In New Orleans, 4,000 volunteers were called to stem the inflow of flood waters pushed up by Friday's storm. Damage to New Orleans property, the area's crops and the fishing industry was counted in the tens of millions. The entire coastal area was under martial law Saturday night as the storm, which earlier had blasted across Florida, blew itself out harmlessly in Northeast Texas. The estimated dead or missing list was swelled by reports, which the Red Cross said were not confirmed, of 16 dead at Waveland, Miss.; five to 12 dead at Pass Christian, and 21 men aboard three missing fishing boats. Hal Boyle, Associated Press reporter who flew over the storm-torn area, said "damage may well run into the tens of millions of dollars—a $6,000,000 estimate is given for the Biloxi shrimp canning industry alone."

Residents fear also that as the Gulf waters yield up their dead the death toll will rise much higher than at first believed. Boyle said Gov. Fielding H. Wright of Mississippi—and his adjutant general—sped to the stricken area to investigate and direct law enforcement. The threat of wholesale looting was acute, and National Guard and Army troops had orders to shoot to kill. At Bay Minette, Ala., Sheriff Taylor Wilkins said a National Guard detachment was sent to Alabama Beach after looting occurred. W. J. Harston, New Orleans airport, flew yesterday to Biloxi, Miss., and said he was told 21 men aboard three commercial boats were caught in Friday's hurricane and feared lost. Harston said residents told him the boats had not been heard from since hours before the storm, and that a plane was searching for them. Buster Abadie, manager of the Gulfport Air Service, said the Gulfport chief of police had told him he expected 100 bodies to be recovered from the ruins of Pass Christian. N. Charles Wicker, Times-Fayoune reporter, said residents of Bay St. Louis believed more than 25 persons were dead in the lowlands. The identified dead included Mrs. Benjamin Hart, 84; her daughter, Mrs. Alice Montgomery, 62; Beatrice White, Negro, 40; her six-year-old stepson, all of Bay St. Louis, Miss.; Denzil LeJeune, 39, of Eunice, La.,

and George Wiltenth 77, Biloxi watchman who would not leave his post during the storm. The reported dead included six at Bay St. Louis including the identified four; seven others feared killed at Bay St. Louis; 12 at Gulfport believed dead and one elderly unidentified man known dead; one dead at Clermont Harbor, Miss.; tender of railroad bridges, Bay St. Louis; four reported-drowned at St. Bernard Parish near New Orleans. Meanwhile, an aerial survey of the Mississippi resort area along the Gulf Coast revealed that the area was a shantytown. Dan Galouye, reporter for the New Orleans States, flew over the coast and said "the entire area was razed." He said the resort towns of Waveland and Clermont Harbor were "almost destroyed."

Highway 90 was twisted into warped slabs of concrete spots; sections of the seawall was gone; a railway causeway over Bay St. Louis was Saturday "stubs of pilings sticking out of the water"; boats ranging up to 90 feet in length had been blown far inland. The same murderous hurricane, born in the Atlantic killed seven and injured 500 in Florida when it ripped across the peninsula earlier in the week. Hurricane-groggy New Orleans battled floods as the storm drove weakly into Northeast Texas and Oklahoma. In its last advisory, the Weather Bureau said the hurricane was no longer dangerous. Steady rains were falling near Texarkana, Texas, and winds were mere trash-moving whines. Highest last night was 38 miles in gusts. Shreveport reported 50 mile winds, with over two inches of rain. Flood threats to New Orleans waned during the day. At dawn the situation was serious when Lake Borgne backed into Bayou Bienvenue, broke through a railroad embankment and flooded much of the eastern part of the city. Police said 2,000 persons had been evacuated from an area 25 blocks long and 16 blocks wide.

Wheat, Corn, Oats Continue Plunge

By The Associated Press Wheat, corn and oats continued their marathon plunge on the nation's major markets Saturday heralding a possible puncture in the record high cost of living. The tumble in grain prices—fifth in the last six days on the world's largest exchange at Chicago—was accompanied by declines during the last few days in livestock prices and a long list of commodities. After soaring to an all time peak on Tuesday, the Associated Press wholesale price index of 35 commodities went into a steady slump for the remainder of the week. The week-to-week decline in the index, the first in four weeks, was the largest since April. Heavy selling swept cotton futures downward more than $2 a bale in New York. Corn headed the grains in the grain price collapse, dropping the full eight cent limit in Chicago for the third successive day. At Kansas City, the cereal also dropped the eight cent limit permitted under exchange rules. September corn at Chicago closed at $2.38 a bushel, with the cereal 28 to 32 cents lower than the peaks set last week. Wheat, which at one time fell the full 10 cents limit at Chicago, closed 3 3/4-7 1/8 lower with September $2.57 1/4. Since last week's peak, wheat has fallen from 27 to 38 cents. Oats closed 3 3/4 to 5 3/8 lower with September $1.08, for a decline of 16 to 20 cents since last week.

Pan American Clipper Makes Forced Landing

NEW YORK—(AP) A four-engined Pan-American Airways clipper, limping on two engines after an exploding tire damaged its landing gear in the air, made a crash landing early last night without injury to the 41 passengers and crew members aboard. It was reported. The plane was bound for LaGuardia Field from Bermuda, but headed for Floyd Bennett Field, which was nearer, after the trouble developed as the craft prepared for the approach about 60 miles out of New York City. A fire broke out in the left wing panel after the plane landed but was quickly extinguished.

McLean Residents Report Sour Milk

Residents of McLean, and its immediate vicinity, have reported sour milk "by the truckloads" ever since County Health Inspector E. J. Howard left for Midland yesterday. It was revealed yesterday by the Gray County Commissioners Court during its special meeting in the Gray County Court Room. According to Commissioner Joe Clark, milk in McLean does not retain its sweetness by the time purchasers get it home from the market or store. He blamed it on careless handling. At this point Commissioner Wade Thomason reminded the Court that Pampa now has a milk ordinance prohibiting sale of any other but grade "A" milk, unless otherwise permitted. County Judge Sherman White told the commissioners that he had been in conference with Kay Salomon, city health inspector, on county sanitation inspection problems. He revealed that Salmon had offered to represent the county as its inspector on a part-time basis, but advised they had not reached a full agreement until the problem could be brought before the Commissioners Court. Commissioners Joe Clark and Wade Thomason were first approached by Floyd Bennett Field, which was nearer, after the trouble developed as the craft prepared for the approach about 60 miles out of New York City. A fire broke out in the left wing panel after the plane landed but was quickly extinguished.

Free Insurance Program Offered To City Employees

The City Commission Friday afternoon granted a free insurance program to its approximately 110 employees at a cost of $1.92 per employee per month. The contract was awarded to the Businessmen's Assurance Company represented here by Ray Martin. The commission, studying the plan since July 8, passed the plan for the following reasons: 1. City employees now have no economic protection as do workers in private industry because the city, by law, is prohibited from participating in workmen's compensation, Texas Unemployment Compensation or Social Security. 2. The city can better afford the $1.92 per employee, per month than it could raising each one $25 or $50 a month because it does not have the funds for the latter. 3. The belief that the free insurance will aid in cutting down the high turnover of employees because of the comparatively low wages they now receive. Average employee is being paid $176 per month. The plan first called for city participation of 60 percent of the premium, but the full payment was decided on shortly before awarding the contract. The plan includes hospitalization of $6 a day and a maximum surgical fee of $175 for $1.22 a month and $1,000 life insurance at 70 cents per month totaling $1.92 per month. The commission estimated this would cost $2,304 annually. The group insurance plan also permits the employee to include his family, but he will have to bear the added premium of $1.75 per month for one dependent or $2.75 per month for two or more dependents. The city does not pay the premium for an employee's family. A total of 11 insurance companies, including the Businessmen's Assurance Company, will start filling out applications between now and October 1 when the plan goes into effect, and providing they want the coverage. City Manager Steve Matthew's reported that at meeting held by all city department heads last Thursday the advantages and disadvantages of each policy were explained. They all agreed, he said, on the contract. Employees will start filling out applications between now and October 1 when the plan goes into effect, and providing they want the coverage.

News Studies Changes In Milady's Styles

Designers have turned the fashion world upside down—or at least it might be said that they started something, and milady has gone ahead to comply, or to revolt. But in this tug-o-war between those who would put fashions through a complete evolution and those who would maintain the "status quo," something different is likely to emerge—especially in smart-woman wear. Neither side is expected to be satisfied. Today's edition of The Pampa News contains pictures of some of the clothes now being proposed. Some of them can be bought in Pampa. In fact, some of the merchants have ads in this issue. Turn the pages and see for yourself. There are even a few hints for the male side of the family.

1948 Budget for County Approved By Commissioners

The 1948 budget of $485,765.57 for Gray County expenditures was approved last yesterday afternoon by the Gray County Commissioners Court meeting in special session in the County Courtroom. Included in this figure was the $75,000 outlay to the state in the county road paving project in which the state will participate with an expenditure of $25,000. A complete breakdown of the remaining expenditures are: General Fund, $57,082.40; Interest and Sinking Fund, $56,494.99; Officers Salary Fund, $90,834.77; Permanent Improvement Fund, $28,550; and Jury Fund, $6,634.41. Road and bridge expenses were divided into the following categories: Bridge construction and repair, $36,111; caliche road base construction, $26,960; road paving with state highway participation, $75,000; and borrow pit and miscellaneous road expenditures, $3,206. Precinct road and bridge allowances were set at $24,000 for Precinct 1; $45,750 for Precinct 2; and $21,000 each for Precincts 3 and 4. The budget for the fiscal year was built around a 95 percent increase. See BUDGET, Page 5

New Estimates Made Behind Closed Doors

WASHINGTON—AP—Occupying conquered enemy territory is going to cost the United States many more millions than originally anticipated, the Senate Appropriations Committee learned officially yesterday. Estimates on the increase ranged from $265,000,000 to $500,000,000 over the funds originally provided by Congress to last until next July 1. Congress had allowed $600,000,000 for the job. The apparent necessity of absorbing part of Britain's financial load in occupied Germany, plus the increased cost of commodities and transportation are responsible for the increased occupation outlays, the Committee was told. If the United States does not take over part of Britain's dollar shortage in Germany, Senator Bridges (R-NH), chairman of the appropriations committee said, the British zone "might go by default to Russia." He does not expect the British to default, Bridges said, but explained that the dollar-pressed British have made no definite proposals to the United States so far as to how much aid they need in connection with occupation costs. The zone are now split 50-50 between the U. S. and Britain. The appropriations committee, in a day-long closed door session, got a picture of the European and the situation from top-flight officials. Secretary of the Army Royal reported to the closed door session that the cost of occupying Germany, Japan and other areas, computed with the "dollar shortage," will require at last $265,000,000 more. This would be in addition to the See HIGH COSTS, Page 5

Man Charged in Gambling Death

AMARILLO—Alex F. Phillips, 34, 1001 Beaman, holder of a police record here in Utah and New Mexico, has been charged in the gambling death of Glenn William Wilson, 43, early Friday morning. Wilson, whose address was 205 Maryland St., was reported to have been shot over a game of cards he and Phillips were playing in the rear of his Sportman's Club. Dist. Atty. Lloyd King reported that Phillips had not made a statement and that "it is very unfortunate." Officers said Phillips called the sheriff's office shortly after the shooting took place, telling the person who answered, the phone that he had just shot a man. When members of the Police Department arrived, Phillips said: "There were no witnesses. The gun is mine." He was referring to a pistol found lying on the table with a deck of cards and two dead hands. Phillips was quoted as saying he and the victim argued over who had the winning hand, and the two squared off to fight. Wilson alleged he went for the gun lying on a chair, Phillips beat him to it. Four shots were found in Wilson's body. Funeral services were held Saturday afternoon.

Austin Terms Russian Charges Are 'Falsification of American Motives'

NEW YORK—(AP)—Warren R. Austin, permanent U. S. delegate to the United Nations, last night characterized as an "absolute falsification of American motives" charges made before the U. N. General Assembly by Andrei Y. Vishinsky, Soviet deputy foreign minister. The U. S. official said the "intemperance of the charges, the absolute falsification of American motives, and the libel of individuals and institutions discouraged many Americans who have consistently believed that the Soviet purposes are peaceful." It was Austin's first public statement since the Soviet deputy foreign minister on Thursday accused John Foster Dulles, a U. S. delegate, and eight other Americans with war-mongering. Dulles, himself, made a radio speech Friday night without mentioning Vishinsky's charges. But last night in a speech before the American Association for the United Nations, Austin asserted that Vishinsky's speech "probably reached its mark; namely, the people of the Soviet Union." Doubtless it frightens them into the belief that the United States intends to make an armed attack on Russia," Austin said. But in the United States, he added, "the effect was the reverse of the Soviet spokesman's purpose." Austin asserted "the people of the United States and the government of the United States firmly adhere to the principles and policies of the United Nations, in spite of the provocation which such utterances give. See U. N. ASSEMBLY, Page 5

Writer Has Own Definitions for Hollywood World

By ARMAND ARCHER
HOLLYWOOD—(P)—Everyone working in the motion picture industry has a title. Some are accurate, others are—just titles. After you've patrolled the sets for a couple of weeks, these titles take on new meanings. I assure you the following impressions do not originate in Webster's:
Leading Man: Usually a nice guy who will be the first to admit, "Heck I can't act," yet he always gripes about the script.
Leading Lady: Very important person, discovered only by first finding the largest dressing room on the set.
Director: Ex-leading man, now getting revenge.
Script Girl: Tells director what scene he's shooting.
Assistant Director: Very noisy person, whose main duty seems to be shouting, "quiet!"
Second Assistant Director: Noisier.
Producer: Terrible person spoken of in whispers. Turns out to be the most colorful and least publicized man in the picture.
Cameraman: He tells the director when to shoot.
Makeup Man: Always rushes about, wiping beads of perspiration from the brow of the leading man, leading lady or anyone else who gets in the way.
Production Manager: Has routine job of announcing that the picture is costing too-much money.
Chief Electrician: Also has dull dialogue. Before each shot he yells, "light 'em." When the shot is made he orders, "save 'em."
Property Man: Is jovially called "prop man." He has interesting jobs, such as oiling noisy armor in period pictures.
Wardrobe Man: Discovers loose buttons before they become loose.
Wardrobe Woman: Same as above except her eagle eye is on the leading lady's straps.
Writer: Rarely seen, yet he is blamed for everything.
Character Actor: Most experienced person on the set, but no one listens to him because he doesn't have "a name."
 When this happy group gets together they make pictures. Some are good, others are—just titles.

Even House Walls Wear Clap Plaids

Plaids are news. You will find them everywhere. In smart new dresses and suits, in trick hats and other accessories, and even on the walls!

It matters not whether your home is modern or traditional. There is a plaid wall paper to fit every taste—and every color scheme—from bold primitive colorings to more subdued and subtle pastels.

Manufacturers of wall paper have given unanimous recognition to this trend, and to add impetus have turned out every effective pattern possible.

For example, there are wall papers of huge, open-space, shadow-box plaids which give a three dimensional effect. Other papers are the more conservative checkerboard type while still others are authentic replicas of the Scottish tartans.

No matter what one's taste or budget, there is a plaid wall paper to meet all needs. There is nothing like it to bring the charm of the hearth of heather into your home.

While the Commissioners Court made no move yesterday to appoint a hospital board of directors to expedite the hospital construction, as passed in a resolution by the Chamber of Commerce three weeks ago, Judge Sherman White told the commission he had been informed by Mr. Robertson in Austin that it would be safe to let the hospital's contract fall. The judge added that since the government has not passed the federal aid appropriation yet, it would be unwise to let a contract before the Commissioners Court had the federal money earmarked for them.

The court Saturday morning awarded the Plains Machinery Company of Plainview the contract for supplying one GMC 1 9 tractor with mower attached, a 5/8 yard front loader, and post hole digger at a cost of $4,943.87. Bids on a motor grader were called for and are to be opened on Oct. 13 for consideration by the court.

Program Furnished By Amarillo Group

A group from the San Jacinto Kiwanis Club, Amarillo, presented the program Friday at the meeting of the local club. The main feature was the Blackburn-Shaw Quartet, which has been declared one of the best in Texas.

They sang "Climbin' Up the Mountain, Chillin'", "My Coney Island Baby," and an encore number, "My Evaline."

Bob Curry was nominated by a special committee to be elected to the Pampa Kiwanis Club Board of Directors. His name will be presented at the next meeting. If he is elected, he will be filling the vacancy created by the withdrawal of Harry Cayler, who has moved to Hereford, Texas.

H. K. Hendricks of Yoakum-Hendricks Service Station was installed as a new member of the club.

Three Divorces Are Granted by Court

Divorces on grounds of cruelty were granted Friday in 31st District Court to three women by Judge Lewis M. Goodrich. One removal of disabilities was also granted.

Opal H. Pfeil was granted a divorce from W. S. Pfeil after less than a year of married life. Plaintiff's petition stated they were married in November of 1944 and separated in February of 1947.

The court granted a decree in favor of little Miss Leonard Sullivan from Joe Sullivan on charges of cruelty. The couple were married in February, 1946, and separated in July, 1947.

Noma Lee Hampton was a divorcee from Lloyd Hampton by the court. Plaintiff alleged they were married in October, 1944 and separated in November, 1945.

A removal of legal disabilities was granted to Zita Ann Kennedy.

along the length of their lots and the fact paving costs now are too high. The other eight or 10 persons calling on the commission on the paving question were interested mostly in the cost and how the payments were to be made.

The commission authorized the city manager and city engineer to place a purchase order with the War Assets Administration for the following equipment located in the Pampa Army Airfield, when and if the surplus there comes up for sale: two fire trucks, 2,000 feet double jacket fire hose, approximately 3,600 feet of 8 inch cast iron water pipe, approximately 20,000 feet of 6 inch cast iron water pipe, approximately 1,000 feet of 10 inch cast iron water pipe, all 2 and 3 inch service lines with fittings, about 50 fire hydrants, one complete building (a warehouse), three tractor mowers, one portable greasing unit with air hose, and portable tar pot, and approximately 1,000 feet of cyclone fence. This equipment, it was reported, if awarded to the city will be purchased at a 40 percent discount less depreciation.

City officials were leaving over the weekend to attend the annual meeting of the Texas League of Municipalities to be held in Fort Worth beginning Monday and ending Wednesday. Included on the meeting agenda will be conferences for city secretaries and city attorneys. Some of the subjects to be brought up during the general sessions will be problems in paving, the new policemen and firemen's civil service act, garbage collections and fees, and the writing of ordinances.

Pampanos who will attend the meetings will be Mayor C. A. Huff, Commissioners F. H. Paronto, and W. E. Ballard, City Manager Steve Matthews, City Attorney Bob Gordon, and City Secretary R. E. Anderson.

The public hearing for 1947-48 city taxes was called for Tuesday, Sept. 30, when the tax rate will be set for the next fiscal year. The new budget will also be aired at the hearing. Following the hearing and rate setting, the tax rolls will be made up and collections started by Nov. 1.

$600,000,000 Congress provided for use until next July 1.

Senator Gurney (R-SD) estimated that "another half billion" will be needed instead.

Bridges said that "some confidential" data was presented to the committee by state and treasury department representatives.

Senators said discussion included financial aspects of England, the status of the fast-windling United States loan to Britain, and the overall financial and economic picture in Europe.

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) said that "every dollar sent abroad means that the cost of living here is going to stay up."

The senatorial comments were made to reporters between and after the morning and afternoon session.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) told reporters a special session of Congress is required before the regular January meeting. O'Mahoney said: "The issue here is whether to let Germany starve or let Communism take over."

Senator Ferguson (R-Mich) disagreed, saying "nothing presented here indicates the need for a special session." Agreeing with Ferguson was Chairman Bridges (R-NH) who called yesterday's meeting but said he planned no formal follow-up action.

He said that "we refuse to believe that it was Mr. Vishinsky's intention to reflect on the honor of our country."

The United States, Austin said, still believes "that peace is the purpose of all countries, both governments and people," although he said that "the methods practiced by them differ."

"We believe," he added, "that those followed by the Soviet Union are ill-conceived and have more tendency to generate hate and war than love and peace."

"These methods, which led up to Mr. Vishinsky's speech," he said, "include obstruction of the will of the majority in the establishment of peace forces by the Security Council, in the Atomic Energy Commission and in the Commission on Conventional Armaments."

Arkansas Downs N. W. Louisiana State 64-0

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark.—(AP)—Arkansas' Southwest Conference championship Razorbacks used a powerful rushing attack to subdue the Northwestern Louisiana State College Demons, 64 to 0, in a rain-soaked football season opener here yesterday.

The Razorbacks' spectacular scoring plays kept most of the crowd, cut to about 7,500 by a steady, driving rain, in the stands until the end, which came earlier than scheduled as the third and fourth quarters were cut to 12 minutes each by agreement of the two teams.

Arkansas, which won a share of the Southwest title last year with an iron-clad defense, turned loose an offense which was smooth despite the loose footing and wet ball. Its defense was good enough to hold the Demons to a net gain of minus two yards and no first downs.

Arkansas registered 17 first downs, puffed up 503 yards rushing and completed two of three forward passes for 24 yards. The Razorbacks were never forced to punt.

Cochman John Barnhill kept his Razorback starters under wraps, playing them no more than ten minutes. But they managed to score five times in their short-lived efforts.

Fullback Leon Campbell and left halfback Kenny Holland, reserve quarterback, led the scoring with three touchdowns apiece. Halfback Clyde Scott sprinted for two tallies and helped set up another with a 25-yard gallop. Ross Pritchard and Tracy Scott, substitute halfbacks, accounted for the other two touchdowns.

LOST 42 POUNDS WITHOUT DIETING

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcenate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful, in fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger.

Barcenate, the original grape-fruit juice recipe takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here Is Proof

"When I started taking Barcenate, I weighed 212 pounds and wore size 46 dresses. Now I wear size 18 and weigh 165 pounds. I started taking Barcenate in March and by June I had lost 47 pounds. I would have lost more weight had I left off fattening foods, but I was anemic at that time and afraid to diet. People who knew me before I started taking Barcenate are amazed at the weight I have lost. My flesh is firm; I have never become flabby or wrinkled and I am 40 years old."

"Before taking Barcenate I couldn't do my house work without becoming exhausted; had dizzy spells and my head and back hurt me constantly. I was so short winded, I was miserable. But now all these things have gone and it is really a pleasure to do the chores I once dreaded.

"Three years ago I nearly died with Typhus fever and it left me anemic and I could never get my blood count up again or get back my energy. After taking Barcenate my blood count started up and is now normal. So you see why I praise Barcenate so highly and recommend it. Any praise I can give Barcenate is small compared to the relief and happiness it has brought me."—Mrs. Eula Whitehead, 509 Harmon, Corpus Christi, Texas.

At All Druggists

The above is one of hundreds of amazing endorsements we have received.

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcenate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grape-fruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonful twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe, easy way to take-off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Chicago Downs Boston

Third Straight, 7-3

DALLAS—(AP)—The all-victorious Chicago Cardinals and the winless Boston Yanks headed into the National Football League campaign yesterday their exhibition schedule at an end.

The Cardinals won the third straight Friday night as they beat the Yanks 7-3 in a thriller played in a drizzling rain at the Cotton Bowl. Boston threw up a defense that throttled even the great Charley Trippi down around the goal line for better than 57 minutes of the game.

For most of three quarters Chicago had shown a wide offensive superiority, repeatedly threatened to score, but the Yanks, growing weary of playing in one end of the field all the time, moved out with a couple of drives of their own, one of which paid off with a field goal.

The Cardinals had tried for three-pointers twice. Pat Harder missing one from the Boston 22 and another from the 29.

Market Briefs

WALL STREET STOCKS

NEW YORK, Sept. 20—(AP)—Interest in stocks revived sharply this week and the market scored its first advance for a 5-day period since Aug. 1.

After an almost stagnant start on Monday, when only 500,000 shares were traded on one of the lightest days on the exchange in three years, trading picked up to 1,200,000 on Wednesday for the fastest rally since late July.

Analysts saw in the upswing an expansion of inflation psychology and a flow into the market of funds, one customer who reached a conclusion that sharp prices were more attractive than those of spiraling commodities. In addition, stocks had been regarded recently as in an overvalued condition and ripe for a comeback move. Brokers said some short-covering contributed to the demand for shares, while profit-taking checked a brake on the improvement late in the week.

The collapse of grain prices on Friday, when wheat, corn and oats at Chicago plunged the allowable daily limit, was seen as disquieting news for inflation-minded elements.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was ahead 3 of a point on the week at 64.8. For the five sessions transactions totaling 180,750 shares were the largest since the week ended Aug. 1 and compared with 3,718,300 in the preceding period.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 20—(AP)—Grains moved over a wide price range in a hectic market on the Board of Trade today.

Sharp declines extending to 16 cents in wheat, 8 cents in corn and 4 cents in oats were recorded during the first few minutes of trading, in each case this represented the limit permitted in a single session and for corn it was the third consecutive day of limit declines.

Considerable new buying was attracted into the pit at that level, particularly in wheat, but the bread cereal had a good rally which canceled the full 10-cent decline and brought deferred contracts above the immediate close. Corn and oats advanced several cents in sympathy with wheat.

The rally, however, failed to hold. Renewed liquidation again freed prices down, with corn sinking again to the limit.

Wheat closed 2 1/2-7 1/2 lower, September $2.57 1/2, corn was cents lower, September $2.35, and oats were 3/8-5/8 lower, September $1.08.

EASY PAYMENTS! SURE!

See what this brand-new Fireball engine can do for Buicks built in the past ten years

You see here a hood-filling straight-eight power plant exactly like those which put an eager rush of Fireball energy at the command of folks who own 1947 Buicks.

But you don't have to be the owner of a 1947 Buick to boss this husky package of concentrated power around!

You don't have to wonder, "How about delivery?"

If you hanker for the thrill of having, beneath your toe, the surging power of a new Fireball engine, we're in a position to talk business right now.

How come? The answer is simple:

Out in the Buick factories, engine production is forging ahead — engines are coming off the line faster than bodies or other parts needed to build complete automobiles.

Local Citizens Receive Letter of Gratitude for Donations of Flour

The director of a relief kitchen in Warsaw, Poland, has written a letter to local people in recognition of their part in the spring drive for flour for the people of that land.

The letter was written to Marjory Lawrence and to Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Hubbard. It came as the result of bags placed in the shipment of flour. The drive was directed mainly by the Rev. Russell West, pastor of the Church of the Brethren here.

The letter reads, in full:

Respected Benefactor:

From the bottom of my heart I thank God, who directed your heart and hand to offer us a gift in the form of a bag of beautiful wheat flour.

Here in Poland there is no such flour.

This flour arrived at the public kitchen for the poorest people in Warsaw at the Methodist Church.

In our kitchen 360 free dinners are given daily each of 1,000 to 1,200 calories. The kitchen employs the widows of those murdered during the German occupation. In this way these women support their children. I sincerely beg God to reward you rightly for your generosity.

Respectfully, the directress of the kitchen,

Lucyna Spodar-Cacko
Pogonowskiego 4

P. S.—It would be a great pleasure to correspond with you, if you wished. Or perhaps some one else in your family would write to me. Warsaw July 7, 1947.

Battle Isn't New to History, 'Bloomers' Once Caused a Rift

There is no denying that women's clothes are always the subject of much discussion—usually among the women. Men's comments, as a rule, are limited to short whistles. But now and then, an item comes along which creates a lot of loud shouting among those involved and innocent bystanders as well. The long-or-short hemline business may soon reach the international crisis point.

All of which is far from being a new thing to the pages of history. The bustle, bare midriff, one-piece bathing suits, and exposure of the ankle have all come in for international discussion. Perhaps the ill-fated "bloomers" offers the most interesting examples of sound and fury. The Encyclopedia Americana discusses the costume itself and its stormy history and takes up the subject of one Amelia Jenks Bloomer, "American reformer."

Obviously this "droopy-drawers" costume of the middle nineteenth century was named for Amelia, a fact which creates a false impression of who really devised it. According to the Americana, a young lady named Betty Smith, more formally called Elizabeth Smith Miller, perpetrated these half-mast "breeches" on the female of the species.

It seems that Amelia Jenks, born at Haver, New York, in 1818, married a chap named Dexter C. Bloomer. Whether it was her desire to wear the pants in the Bloomer nomenclature, or whether, as she said, her motive was actually the release of fettered womanhood, Amelia decided, about 1849, that it was time for women to rebel against the domination of fashion designers. She looked about and saw Mrs. Miller's bright idea hanging around on some sagging clothesline and forthwith adopted it.

According to the Americana Encyclopedia, the bloomer gained quite wide acceptance in America but that was about as far as it got. Laterally, bloomers were not the above-the-knee creations mother used to wear when engaging in high school field hockey. The bloomer of Amelia Jenks and Lizzie Smith consisted of a jacket with close sleeves, a skirt reaching a little below the knees and a pair of Turkish pantaloons secured by bands around the ankles.

It was adopted as a costume by American women rather extensively. In Europe, however, bloomers were mostly the subject of jokes and ridicule. One or two "strong-minded" women who ventured to brave public opinion in London by donning the new costume were persecuted by the mob.

While all this was going on, Amelia Bloomer—pantaloons and all—was busy as a beaver being a publisher, politician and reformer. She published or edited a couple of widely read magazines and helped start the Republican Party in Iowa and became a federal official and judge. She died, according to the Encyclopedia Americana, at the ripe old age of 78.

It should be noted that it was neither ridicule nor force of public opinion that led to the abandonment of female freedom. It was simply more freedom. Unfortunately, Amelia didn't live to see the end of her namesake's reign. That happy event was only brought on by the arrival of that highly fetching article of apparel called "shorts."

Eligible Women Urged to Become Members of ALA

"Americans must remain united to meet the challenge of today's conditions," Mrs. Ann Heskew, membership chairman of the American Legion Auxiliary, told a meeting of the Auxiliary membership.

Urging enrollment of all eligible women, Mrs. Heskew said, "The victory of two years ago came because Americans had united their strength for service to their country. The same united effort is needed to solve the many problems growing out of the conflict and to make sure that the freedom so well defended in war is not lost in time of peace."

She added, "Women of veterans' families, especially, need to be united for peace time service. In an organization like the American Legion Auxiliary there is much they can do to improve the lot of the disabled veteran and the families of the dead and disabled. In the Auxiliary they can make their voices heard in behalf of security measures to protect America's peace, and against the threat of communism to American liberty."

Active enrollment of members for 1948 will begin September 20, a 50 percent increase over 1947 is expected to be reached by December 20.

WHAT IS YOUR DANCING I. Q.

Answers to last Sunday's questions

1. The committee on educational investigation proved beyond any dispute, that on an average, in a normal atmosphere, physical development and personality, dance trained children far out-ranked non-dancers.
2. One of the largest professional schools in New York City, established expressly for the purpose of training girls for the stage, estimated that not more than ten percent of those enrolled in their school were studying for professional reasons. Several of their classes were devoted exclusively to business girls. Of the thousands of small local schools no estimate is available but it is sure that the percentage would be very, very small, since in every place where the value of dancing is known and understood, dancing is a "must" for every well trained girl.
3. Professional possibilities: From a Hollywood producer: "The quickest, surest way into Moving Picture work is through dance training." John Powers—Model Agency: "My advice to every girl who hopes to become a model is to get all the ballet training possible." Salaries: Chorus Girls—the first step on the ladder of professionalism, $50.00 per week. On up to Prima Ballerinas (Star Dancers) at $2,000.00 per week and on into the big movie money. Teachers—the demand far exceeds the supply.
4. Danced to stardom: Joan Crawford, Eleanor Powell, Ginger Rogers, Rita Hayworth, Fred Astaire, Gene Kelly; several others less well known—including Cyd Charisse of Amarillo, coming up fast.
5. Played to Stardom—only two. Jose Iturbi, piano; Harry James, trumpet. (Believe it or not).
6. Know your dancing teacher: Deformed feet, ruined arches, knotted leg muscles, these are some of the more serious and irreparable injuries familiar to every professional school, done to children's feet by incompetent, unethical or careless teachers. Psychologists tell us we are ninety percent creatures of habit. Besides the above definite injuries many bad mental and physical habits may be instilled into a child that will go with them through life, or if later, they come under the guidance of a better teacher much time may be lost in correcting the faults already developed. It is much easier to teach correctly the first time, than to overcome bad habits, once they are formed.

FRESH BLOOD A MUST FOR FREE ENERGY

Do you feel like you are tied to a drag every time you try to do something? If so, don't let a low blood count hold you down when you may release vibrant energy to every muscle, fibre, cell.

Every day—every hour—millions of tiny red-blood-cells pour forth from the marrow of your bones to replace those that are worn-out. A low blood count may affect you in several ways: no appetite, underweight, no energy, a run-down condition, lack of resistance to infection and disease.

To get real relief you must keep up your blood strength. Medical authorities, by analysis of the blood, have by positive proof shown that SSS Tonic is amazingly effective in building up low blood strength in non-organic nutritional anemia. This is due to the SSS Tonic formula which contains special and potent activating ingredients.

Also, SSS Tonic helps you enjoy the food you eat by increasing the gastric digestive juice when it is non-organically too little or scanty—thus the stomach will have little cause to get balky with gas, bloot and give off that sour food taste.

Don't wait! Energize your body with rich, red-blood. Start on SSS Tonic now. As vigorous blood surges throughout your whole body, greater freshness and strength should make you eat better, sleep better, feel better, work better, play better, have a healthy color glow in your skin—firm flesh fill out hollow places. Millions of bottles sold. Get a bottle from your drug store. SSS Tonic helps Build Sturdy Health.

TIPS FOR TEENS

By ELINOR WILLIAMS

Rumor has it that the high school crowd doesn't know how to have fun unless their pockets are filled with folding money.

It's too often a matter of "No money, no date," we're told, and it sounds very dull and dreary. Why miss normal high school age doings just because it's not your night to see Lana or Van on the screen or go to the basketball dance? There are dozens of other ways to have fun on Friday or Saturday evenings or Saturday and Sunday afternoons and plenty of girls and boys are date-dreaming just like you about weekend plans that include fun, food and friendship instead of merely another evening beside the radio.

All that's needed is somebody to get things started, so it might as well be you and your pal—and the plans can include that boy or girl you'd like to know better, so get busy and you'll get acquainted.

Plan to hike to a park or wooded spot where the girls can gather dry twigs and the boys can build a fire to roast hot dogs, potatoes and marshmallows. Take old newspapers for kindling the fire; watch it carefully and be sure it's extinguished afterward.

Ask two of three date-couples or several congenial girls and boys to come to your home; not for a party, but for a get-together. Play fun-making card games like "Hearts" and "I Doubt It" or "Crazy Eights," toast marshmallows or pop corn if you have a fireplace, sing your favorite songs and dish up a make-your-own sandwich tray or cookies and soft drinks.

Or ask a boy in your class to come and study for the next quiz with you, then end the book session with a snack. Many a boy invites the girl he met over a geometry book to the prom. As long as there are boys and girls in the same classes and school clubs with you, you have countless chances to make fun and friends—without movie money.

Mallow and family, Martin Estum, Abe Glasgow and children, Charlie Hager and son, Nathan Lummus and family, C. G. Cantrell, E. W. Red Speeches Leave Us Without Any Doubt

If there is any place in the world that a Russian could stand up and speak his mind as two of them did this past week, it is in the halls of the United Nations. As least this tirade loosed upon the Western world permits us to see where the Soviets stand, and it is much better than the slavish silence to which we have been so unostentatiously subjected in past months.

However, the "warm-hearted" charge aimed against the nation and even against U. S. individuals is but another effort of the Passiaans to throw a smoke screen around her own shortcomings. Besides such vituperative oration makes good reading at home and in the satellite states where hunger and fear run free as the proverbial Texas red rabbit.

Perhaps once again we should allow a bit for the Russians, and state that they do not understand us, nor the anxiety over the idea which comes in mighty hordes when groups of varied interests must come to some common decision. Perhaps the Russians do not understand that, although such people as Sen. Brooks of Illinois (attacked as a warmonger by Mr. Vishinsky) are public officials, they do not have to clear their statements through a Politburo (as in Russia), or for that matter, even through the steering committee of the Republican Party.

Though there may be some question as to the propriety of Mr. Brooks' statement last March, to the effect that the U. S. might have to go to war against Russia, the Soviets should have brushed elbows and shoulders with long enough to know that we say just about what we want to say in this country—regardless of who we are.

As for the majority rule, which Secretary Marshall discussed in his speech this past week, there isn't such thing in Russia, nor in Russia's dealing with the nations she has managed to overcome one way or the other. (If there had been majority rule, we desist there would not have been any country to bend to Russian "guidance.")

As we said, if that is the way the Russians feel about it, Lode Success is the place to say it. Nakay wants to know where the Russians stand more than the United States. And surely we know now! She is going ahead with her original plans, to influence, through devious means, any country she can.

Gracie Reports

By GRACIE ALLEN
My goodness, if people don't stop sending presents to Princess Elizabeth for her approaching wedding, the royal apartments are going to be as full as the Princess but the jacket question on a radio quiz show. Everyone seems to be touched by the fact that the poor girl doesn't have enough coupons to get herself a proper trousseau and they are trying to ease the blow.

I think that's a terribly sweet idea. Elizabeth and Philip are going to be a little confused when they start opening their wedding presents from America and find such items as live turtles with Shirley Temple's name on their backs, cartons of bubble gum, bath towels with "Heard 'His' copy" embroidered on the ends, and Legion convention electric canes. They're going to learn that the atomic bomb isn't the only frightening thing that America has produced.

If this country—the last tower of strength among freedom-loving lands—can do the fabulously better job that we can equip ourselves to do, even the people who are packed down under the curtain of serfdom will choose freedom, and there will be no dictator to ignite World War III.

—Earl Bunting, president, NAM.

ARKANSAS VERSUS COMMUNISTS

Can the Communist Party be padlocked by court order under present federal laws?

The Veterans of Foreign Wars intend, as I noted in a previous article, to find out by initiating legal action if the President ignores the present VFW request that we have the attorney general initiate such action.

I know of no instance in which a federal court ever has convicted a Communist for Communist activities. Some of the fifth columnists have been fined and jailed for minor infractions of federal laws.

If the VFW does not fare well in federal courts the veterans might do better in state courts. Eight states have specifically outlawed the Communist Party and a state court in Arkansas thumbed its nose at the New Deal in its heyday (1935) by liquidating a Communist school and firing its officials for Communist activities.

The court found the college and four officials guilty under state laws which prohibit disseminating propaganda "which tends to destroy or overthrow the present form of government" of Arkansas or the United States by any act of violence of unlawful means or to employ any of such means as are calculated to cause such results."

Referring to this case recently, the attorney general of the state of Arkansas wrote the Lutheran Research Society of Detroit, Michigan, that none of the convictions were HOLLYWOOD—You've never heard of Backus Banter? Probably not. You've probably never even heard of Backus—first name Jim. Jim Backus is a radio comedian who has appeared on as many as 10 radio programs, and under the name of the characters he creates for specific shows. He's probably better known as Hubert Updike, of the Alan Young show, than he is Jim Backus.

Backus, Jim, came up with a new party game for Hollywood. Here's a typical one, titled Travogue or Inside Backus, in Backus Banter fashion:

"Just before we were to set sail, my wife had a Premierer that something would happen, but I assured her that everything would be all right. The ship's whistle gave three short Janet Blains and we cast off for the open sea, under that a storm onset us, and while I weather it, Virginia Can Uppeed twice."

THEY SIGHT DE HAVIL-LAND

"I gave her a Seymour Nebenzahl tablet and she was soon calm. The wind was to the Louis Hay-ward, and sent us off course somewhat to the south. The following morning, the lookout sighted something off the starboard bow, and the next thing we knew the first mate and Hiramwood Marx. Presently we sailed into enchanting Turhan Bay and anchored for the night."

"At dawn the next morning, the natives awoke us with cries of Za-Nuck, Za-Nuck and we cast off in our British soldiers armed with Martha Vickers. At a native market, I saw a pocketbook that I wanted for my wife, and since the exchange was down I purchased it for three Hume Cronins."

"I watched the native sport, which is being Audrey Waters and watched the native women make sweaters from the wool of Lusatians. Finally, I returned to the ship. Imagine my Cyd Chimer when I noted that the role of Ben in the film version of 'Look Homeward, Angel.'"

"Miss America of 1946 Marilyn Buford, finally set her film break in 'Champagne for Everybody.'"

At dinner one night, Cheryl Darlene, Roy Roger's eldest daughter, confessed her infatuation for actor Allan Lane and asked Roy if they might invite him for dinner some night. "Sure," said Roy, "maybe tomorrow night."

"But daddy," Cheryl wailed, "I just lost two teeth. Can't we wait until my new ones grow back in?" Whereupon 4-year-old Linda Lou Rogers spoke up sagely:

"Well, if you'd keep your mouth shut some of the time, the gaps wouldn't show so much."

GIRLS DISC-JOCKEYING

Now the ladies are getting into the disc-jockey act. Margaret Whiting may spin the platters for a recorded show. Kirk Douglas will get the role of Ben in the film version of "Look Homeward, Angel."

REVOLUTIONARY
The director, Lucien Koch, apparently convicted himself by his testimony in court, excerpts herewith:

Question: "Do you believe in capitalism?"
Koch: "I do not."
Q: "Do you believe in God?"
Koch: "No."
Q: "Do you respect the flag of the United States?"
Koch: "I, personally, am not a worshipper of symbols, and I consider flags to be only symbols."
Q: "Do you have a higher regard for other governments than for the American government?"
Koch: "I believe that the government of the United States is superior to the American government."
Testimony of witnesses established that the school openly glorified Soviet communism, housed 24 boys and girls in one room, and that the purpose of the institution was to build revolutionary students and teachers' organizations in the colleges of the state of Arkansas.

These are similar to statements made by all Communists when speaking frankly and when writing for their followers. Violence is a principle embraced in all Communist literature. Earl Browder, deposed Red puppet czar of the United States Communist Party, and his

news behind the news

By RAY TUCKER
REVOLUTION—Senator Ralph E. Flanders, the Vermont tool-maker and foundryman, put his Yankee finger on the hidden fear of the nation's steel moguls when he proposed that England supplement our dwindling iron ore resources by lending us newly discovered substitutes in Labrador.

His casual remarks before the Economic History Association at Yale University hint at a possible industrial revolution such as this country has never experienced.

It would remake the manufacturing, transportation and cultural map of the United States. It would force the migration of workers. Like the atom bomb when it is commercially developed, it would precipitate a violent, economic earthquake.

SHIFT—The Senator, who heads a legislative committee now investigating living costs in the East, envisages a shift of the center of industrial gravity now based on Pittsburgh, steel, Pennsylvania and West Virginia coal and Minnesota ore to New England or Maryland on the Atlantic Coast or to Mobile and other places on the Gulf Coast.

Such a transfer, naturally, would mean that industries dependent upon steel for their products—in Detroit, for instance—would have to pull up stakes and emigrate to the coast along with the parent unit. Having the main product to the Middle West would be too costly.

Behind Senator Flanders' statement lies a situation which has been giving serious concern to the steel makers and owners who have tremendous investments in the mills, mines, lake shipping and railroads which haul ore and coal to such centers as Pittsburgh, Buffalo, Gary, Cleveland etc. and then carry the finished product to the industrial heart of America—Pennsylvania, New Jersey, New York, New England, Ohio, Indiana, Michigan, Illinois etc.

ORE—This scantily publicized problem explains in great part why the steel industry resists current demands that it expand its facilities by 10 percent at a cost estimated at half a billion dollars.

If there is the slightest chance that it must move, lock, stock and barrel, from its present location within the next generation, it would be ruinously unwise to sink that amount in today's plant.

The question has been discussed at meetings of the nation's mining engineers, metallurgists, manufacturers and "Pittsburgh-plussers." Every great corporation has been searching for new sources of ore from Labrador to Chile, in the face of warnings that domestic supplies will soon reach the point of exhaustion.

The prospective shortage has its foreign aspects. It raises doubt whether the U. S. can play a heavy role in long-time rebuilding of Europe. It lies behind the Anglo-American insistence that production in the German Ruhr be expanded, despite Russian protests.

Indeed, the problem has been discussed at the White House. With ore, it explains the administration's overtures toward Rio in recent months, including President Truman's visit there.

SUPPLIES—The simple fact is that our store of inexpensive open-pit and high-grade ore in the Mesabi range in Minnesota is running out. It has provided 60 percent of the food for Pittsburgh furnaces for many years, and it was tapped heavily during World I and II.

It may last another twenty, thirty or forty years with careful use and no great expansion. But even that period is only a short space of time for an industry so basic that it must make investments with an eye to long-range production and consumption, prospective competitors, profits and industrial changes such as Senator Flanders suggests.

The second inescapable fact is that the U. S. must look, not only toward Labrador, but toward Mexico, Venezuela, Chile and especially Brazil, for future supplies of steel's main ingredient, iron ore. And the inland haul of this bulky material from ocean ports to Pittsburgh would be so expensive that steel-making facilities would have to move to the coast.

The other principal ingredient, coal, would be hauled to New England, Maryland or Gulf ports from Pennsylvania and West Virginia by water and rail.

PRICES—American corporations have already taken steps to meet the problem of ore shortage—steps which may wind up in the industrial revolution mentioned above.

Bethlehem draws the ingredient from Venezuela to feed its furnaces at Sparrows Point, Maryland, where it has built its largest unit. Republic is experimenting with sources in the Adirondacks. U. S. Steel is looking into Mexican and Venezuelan prospects. Others are tapping mines in Labrador and Brazil. All are hoping that taconite, a Mesabi product still in great supply, can be processed so that it will serve as a substitute for iron ore.

Whatever the new source may be, and especially if it must be taconite, the prospects are higher prices for the material that enters into almost every basic and everyday commodity here and abroad.

HEADACHE—The likelihood that Labrador may replace the Mesabi range will precipitate a politico-economic struggle when Congress comes to consideration of the St. Lawrence Waterway at the next session.

It is argued that construction of this channel will offset the need for a removal of Middle West industries the ore country has deserted down the St. Lawrence and through the Great Lakes to the present centers of production. There would also be the advantage that this supply line could be cut off in time of war, as could the lanes to South America.

Anyway, next to Russia and food, steel is this nation's and the world's major headache.

The Congress has conceded that its reductions may prove excessive. —President Truman.

Gold or Houses and Food

It takes labor to find and mine gold. It takes labor also to build houses and produce the comforts of life. The labor used in finding and producing gold cannot be used to produce the comforts of life. Now we find the United States with about five times as much gold as it had when houses were not so scarce and when a person had more money he could buy almost any material thing he wanted.

Why do we need so much gold? The fact of the matter is that we do not need it. Of course we do not want to give it away because it represents labor to find and mine it or to produce the goods to exchange with other nations for their gold.

The very confused idea of gold is demonstrated by British Foreign Secretary Bevin's loose talk about the United States redistributing its gold. Of course we are willing to redistribute it if any other nation has wealth that we want in exchange for it. We certainly should not be foolish enough to give it away. But as badly content as people are about what we are doing when we make these foreign loans that never will be paid.

Production And Price
Gold like everything else declines in production when the cost of producing it goes up more than the cost of other things. If the price of gold is too low, we will have decreased production. If it is in harmony with other prices, the production will be normal.

Such a question as whether there was any real reason for the United States increasing the price of gold on January 31, 1934 from $20.67 to $35 an ounce.

World production of gold averaged 13,829,000 fine ounces annually over the ten years through 1923 with a declining tendency during the latter part of the post war years. During the next six years through 1929 world production was extremely stable averaging 12,912,000 ounces annually. Then a decided upward trend resulted in an average of 25,400,000 ounces for the next four years up to 1933. This was the highest on record at that time. The United States production during the ten years through 1933 was extremely stable averaging 2,360,000 ounces yearly with 1933 producing 2,556,000 ounces.

Now if the price of gold had been too low, the world production would not have increased and the production of the United States would not have remained normal and above the average in 1933. Now what happened after the price of gold in the United States on January 31, 1934 was raised to $35 an ounce.

According to the Federal Reserve Board Banking and Monetary statistics, world production of gold with a ten year annual average (1924-1933) of 13,829,000 ounces rose rapidly to 14,067,000 ounces by 1940. This was an increase of 99 per cent. In the United States gold production rose from a yearly average of 2,360,000 ounces to 6,003,000 ounces an increase of 104 per cent.

The result, of course, is that much labor has been used in mining gold that should have been used in producing the comforts of life to take care of an increased population. So part of the comforts of the comforts of homes which our young people are obliged to put up with is due to our government officials tinkering with the price of gold, putting an artificial high price on gold and thus bringing gold to our country rather than lumber and paper and things that make life materially more pleasant.

And since we have become so confused on gold and have once changed the price and now we need no need for it other than to let the politicians fool the public and since there is such little understanding in credit and money and banking and gold, the great danger is that we will continue to do these things that misdirect human energies. In short, the tendency will be to believe that paper money and bank credit is wealth and will satisfy human wants.

As in any business the man with foresight will survive and those without foresight. These laws have been made with the idea of helping without foresight and the man of foresight, instead of helping him, it is hurting him by making the things scarce that he wants and piling up gold that he does not want in itself.

It has built its largest unit, Republic is experimenting with sources in the Adirondacks. U. S. Steel is looking into Mexican and Venezuelan prospects. Others are tapping mines in Labrador and Brazil. All are hoping that taconite, a Mesabi product still in great supply, can be processed so that it will serve as a substitute for iron ore.

Whatever the new source may be, and especially if it must be taconite, the prospects are higher prices for the material that enters into almost every basic and everyday commodity here and abroad.

ected in a fruit jar filled with gentle suds. Capped tight, the jar can be manipulated like a cocktail shaker.

New on the market for stocking protection are plastic shakers in which socks can be coddled through the wash. Teammate in "sheer" protection is a fan-shaped plastic stocking dryer. Hose tops slide between smooth plastic prongs and are held firmly and safely in place.

Phantom Crotch Now Being Featured in Figure Streamliner

A patented detachable crotch piece to be worn inside the girdle-panty is being featured this season. This feature, known as the "phantom crotch," consists of a diamond shaped piece of fabric with a small snap at each corner. Because it is worn inside the elastic panty, it does not cause ridges or bulges.

Guild's newest figure streamliner featuring the "phantom crotch" is an all nylon panty weighing just 5 ounces.

We, The Women

By RUTH MILLETT
NEA Staff Writer

"We love our children and want them with us, but we can't find a place to live because of the children."

That was the story a young father told police in a southern city when the children were found alone in a church.

If that story sounds familiar it may be that you have read it with slight variations — many times during the last few years.

It is easy to blame the parents in such cases, and a judge often gets off some high-sounding phrases about the duty of parents to their children when cases like that come before him.

But in our judgment of such parents we rarely stop to figure out what it must be like for a young couple with several small children searching for a place to live and growing more desperate every day.

YOUNG AND INEXPERIENCED
"Why didn't they do such-and-such?" we ask, as we name all the sensible things they might have done.

But when we talk like that we forget that the parents involved are often young, that they may not be so resourceful as those who judge them, that they probably have no relative to take them in or lend them money, and that they have undoubtedly reached the point where their problem seems so overwhelming that they believe there is no solution for it, and simply give up.

Four hundred thousand pounds of ammunition could be hurled in half an hour by an American armored division in World War II.

Fish sleep with their eyes open.

WRAP, TIE, and only one button to fasten: Neither dress nor apron, Swift is a functional fashion which opens flat to launder.
