October 31 Is Deadline on Affidavits

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The National Labor Relations Board and Robert N. Denham, its general counsel, followed AFL and CIO top officers until Oct. 31 to sign affidavits disavowing communism.

The effect of the action is that the board will not dismiss AFL and CIO cases before that date.

Denham has interpreted the Taft-Hartley Labor Law as requiring national officers of the two big labor organizations to sign such affidavits if any AFL or CIO unions are to make use of the NLRB's services.

Approximately 5,000 cases are pending before the board.

Originally, Sept. 23 was set as a deadline when the board would begin dismissing cases if non-Communist affidavits had not been signed by that time.

Denham allowed each union 20 days from the receipt of notice that the affidavit was required. The first such notices were sent on Sept. 2 and therefore the first ones would have been due about Sept. 23.

The board and Denham said the extension of time announced today was granted at the request of several international and local unions.

During the intervening time, both the AFL and CIO will hold national conventions which may reach policy decisions on whether their officers should sign the affidavits.

The AFL top officers announced last week they were "unable to conform" with Denham's ruling that the top officers had to sign affidavits in order to make the 165 AFL unions and 43,000 locals eligible to use NLRB machinery.

John L. Lewis, head of the miners and 11th vice president of the AFL, singlehandedly blocked the AFL Executive Council from complying with the other members of the 15-man council were willing to sign.

The CIO top officers have put off a decision until their convention in Boston beginning Oct. 15.

The AFL will battle out the question on the floor of its convention in San Francisco beginning Oct. 6.

4 Hospitalized Following Truck Collision on 66

Four persons were hospitalized in Shamrock yesterday afternoon following a two truck collision on U. S. Highway 66 about nine and one half miles west of Shamrock, State Highway Patrolmen reported this morning.

Injured and taken to Shamrock Hospital were: Mrs. Rhodie Jane Loux, 30; Maggie Lee Loux, 8; Jimmie Don Loux, 6; and Rova Lee Loux, 15 months old.

Patrolmen investigating the accident reported that Charles E. Loux, 37, of Borger was moving his family and household goods on a truck to the farm of John Anderson in Wheeler County, and had 13 persons riding the truck. His 1934 Chevrolet truck collided with a 1945 A.M.C. truck-tractor and semitrailer, operated by Calvin Coolidge Hall, 18 of Oklahoma City.

The crash occurred at the intersection of 66 and a county road and also resulted in the overturn of Hall's cattle truck and semitrailer.

Charges of driving on the left on approaching an intersection were filed on Hall in Justice Court in Shamrock by Highway Patrolmen. The charge is one of the new uniform traffic laws. Patrolmen also filed charges against Loux for failure to give proper hand signal.

Patrolmen also reported this morning that almost similar charges were filed against two drivers in Justice Court in McLean following a head-on collision in Almarred on Tuesday afternoon.

Charges of failure to give proper hand signal were filed against Charles E. Merritt of Arizona, and charges of driving on the left against Sherman Sam Williams of Perryville, Ark.

The charges arose, state patrolmen said, after Merritt, moving from Arizona to Davenport, Iowa, slowed to make a right turn and headed a car driven by Ray Furnas of Coffeyville, Kans.

Mrs. Jessie M. Bryan, riding in the Williams car, and Mrs. Ruth V. Furnas, were slightly injured, police said.

C. N. Baggerman, 89, Dies in Hospital Here

Baggerman moved to Pampa in 1907 from Bell Ficker, Mo., to a farm three miles east of town. He has lived on that farm since his arrival in this area.

He is survived by three daughters: Mrs. Louise Sallor of Pampa; Mrs. Essie Ing. of Hale Center; and Mrs. Bertha Moore, of Ingewood, Calif.; four sons, Garrett, of Winchester, Kentucky; John, C. N. Jr., and Ed, all of Pampa; two brothers, Pete and John, of St. Louis, Mo.; 34 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

The funeral arrangements, which are in charge of Duengel-Carmichael, are pending.

Soviet Attack on U.S. Renewed

NEW YORK—(AP)—The Soviet attack on the United States was renewed in the United Nations Assembly today by White Russia's chief delegate, Kuzma V. Kiselev, who took up the battle where Andrei Y. Vishinsky left off yesterday.

Backing up Vishinsky's charges of American "warmongering," Kiselev declared that the United States had taken up a slogan of world mastery.

"War threatens to erupt on the peaceful life of the people," he shouted, waving his hands.

The White Russian delegate spoke after Dr. Jose Arce, Argentina's chief delegate, had made the first formal reply to Vishinsky in the general debate, now in its third day.

Arce noted that Vishinsky had included Argentina in his "complicity" and said the Russian seemed to have taken "a rapid trip around the world" to include almost everybody in his attack.

Kiselev, repeating many of the same charges which Vishinsky leveled against the United States, asserted that the Soviet Union was leading the drive for peace but was being attacked from many quarters.

Turning to the question of atomic energy control, he said the United States could not hold its monopoly for long and added, "The atomic bomb of one side may be answered by the atomic bomb of the other side."

Meanwhile, the Soviet Union pressed swiftly for United Nations action on her demands for curbs against what Vishinsky called "criminal" war propaganda in the United States.

Secretary-General Trygve Lie disclosed he had received a formal request from the Soviet Chief Delegate to have the proposal added to the agenda of the General Assembly, now in its third day of general debate.

The new Vishinsky move cleared the way for a preliminary test, possibly later today, on the Soviet resolution.

The Russian's No. 1 deputy foreign minister put the resolution before the 55 member nations at the end of the U. N. Assembly against the United States and nine prominent Americans whom he called leading "war-mongers."

The bitter Russian blast, delivered in 8,000 angry words by Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky virtually charged a conspiracy within the United States to make war on Russia. The speech was described by ranking American delegates as "so fantastic" that it would defeat itself and be written off in this country and elsewhere in the non-Communist world as straight-out Russian propaganda.

Secretary of State George C. Marshall was being advised along this line by top members of his delegation. It was learned, and while a final decision was yet to be made, it was authoritatively expected to call for the silent treatment for Vishinsky.

Meanwhile the general debate continued in the U. N. Assembly with a number of smaller nation delegates on today's schedule.

The Russian leader directed his attack against the whole range of American foreign policy, including the Truman doctrine, the Marshall economic recovery plan, and continued

Moscow Makes Clear She Will Continue Fight

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Russia's violent diatribe in the Assembly of the United Nations yesterday serves at least one useful purpose: It makes clear that Moscow is determined to pursue without deviation the international course it has been following ever since the end of the war.

This means that the Soviet world revolution for the establishment of communism will continue along lines already established. Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Vishinsky's pronouncement was not only a fierce attack on the America which stands in the way of aggressive communism, but it was in effect an explosive "no" to all suggestions for any U. N. moves which might hamper Russia's ambition to sovietize the globe.

That's a logical strategy for the Soviet Union to pursue in view of the present international situation. Most of the Eastern Hemisphere is in a chaotic economic state which has reduced many countries to stark privation, including hunger. This is the day for which communism has dreamed ever since the world revolution was conceived when the Bolsheviks came to power thirty years ago.

What more natural than that Russia should make the most of its opportunity? The only new thing in the situation is a Moscow initiative which she made which was forced upon it deliberately by U. S. Secretary of State Marshall's challenge in the Assembly Wednesday.

Vishinsky's speech wasn't constructive, and obviously wasn't meant to be. It was capable, however, of two kinds of fighting, which included calling of names.

It was, of course, a cry of defiance but many delegates noted that it was straight-from-the-shoulder Red propaganda which would make prime reading in Russia and would impress satellites and temporizing nations.

However, we shall make a mistake if we don't also take this speech to be a declaration of policy by the Soviet government.

The language which Vishinsky used has shocked a multitude. Your correspondent has attended many international conferences in various parts of the world and cannot recall anything approaching Deputy Foreign Minister's warmongering charge against the United States and even against individuals.

Well, what does all this add up to? Naturally a lot of folk today are looking anxiously at their barometers to see how they read. Well, so far as I see we are no nearer war today than we were before Vishinsky unburdened himself yesterday. That being so, we still can accept it as a fact neither Russia nor any other country wants war. All other things aside, the Soviet Union isn't ready for war and won't be for many years.

Man, 73, and Girl, 8, Calm Rising Fear of Train Passengers in Storm

By HAL BOYLE
WEST PALM BEACH, Fla.—(AP)—Fear was an unseen passenger as the streamlined coach train trundled heavily through the darkness toward a hurricane-strained bridge.

For six hours on its path from Jacksonville to Miami Thursday the train had been held up at Fort Pierce—well within the deadly whirlpool of wind and salt spray sweeping across Southern Florida.

The passengers grew steadily more uneasy as the hours passed and the storm mounted, whining one moment around the packed train and then beating the streaming windows with spikes of torn green palmfronds.

"Let's go on," some passengers complained. But others looked out at the wind-tortured pine and palm trees and were silent.

Rumor spread through the cars that the hurricane had loosened supports of the span across the St. Lucie Canal north of West Palm Beach.

The gale rocked the train sideways like a ship weatering in heavy waves. Some passengers became seasick. A woman diabetic sufferer fell ill and was carried out through the rain squalls to a hearse-ambulance.

After night fell the weakened train batteries wore down and the lights flittered out spasmodically until the train was in darkness. It was then that fear, the dubious gift of night, came aboard.

In one car a 73-year-old retired monarch asked Griner, "Well, I was a gunner's mate on the Flagship Olympia at Manila in 1898 when Dewey told Gridley he could fire when he was ready. I don't think this hurricane quite comes up to that."

Baton Rouge Braces For Tropical Blow

By The Associated Press
NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—A screaming hurricane, which crushed buildings and piled flood waters over the great sea wall, passed over New Orleans shortly before noon today, and moved inland with destructive force.

Baton Rouge braced for the blow, and Acting Gov. Emile Verret closed the capitol and sent home all state employees.

The deceptive calm of the hurricane's "eye," which began in New Orleans at 9:40 a. m. (Central Time), ceased at 11 a. m., and thundering winds up to 90 mph beat the hapless city from the opposite direction. Col. Frank Speiss ordered all National Guard units in New Orleans mobilized in Jackson Barracks.

The entire Gulf Coast, from Pensacola westward, was raked by cyclonic winds. More than 1,000 residents of Alabama fishing villages fled for high ground from coastal areas where two giant storms took hundreds of lives in 1916. Water three feet deep was reported in the settlement of Heron.

Near Biloxi, Miss., stout timber piers were snapped like matchsticks, and roofs were torn from many homes. A tide 10 feet above normal flooded residential areas, and gigantic waves broke over the city's $3,500,000 seawall, built 20 years ago against storms. Highway 90 was impassable and was studded with stalled automobiles.

The steamship Empire State snapped its hawsers and reeled away from the Congress Street wharf in New Orleans, but the master succeeded in reaching mid-stream and both anchors were dropped. A destroyer escort broke loose and rammed the Algiers ferry.

Moisant International Airport, 14 miles west of New Orleans, reported the roof torn off its main building. The field itself was under a foot of water.

The 130-foot smokestack atop the Hotel Monteleone, in the French quarter of New Orleans, collapsed across two buildings but no one was hurt.

A banana conveyor was slammed against the top of a shed at Erato Street, causing unestimated damage.

A 2-story health center clinic on Rampart Street, on the edge of the business district, was unroofed and one wall caved in under the storm's impact. A residence on North Broad Street collapsed but no injuries were reported.

There was no estimate of possible casualties along the Gulf Coast, but it was feared that injuries and property damage would greatly exceed the toll in Florida. There, where the storm struck two days ago, only five lives were lost although property damage soared to many millions.

Authorities expressed fear that many flimsy buildings of war time construction along the Gulf Coast in New Orleans would not be able to withstand the battering.

Acting Governor Verret ordered

HURRICANE SIDEBARS

NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The Weather Bureau was having as much trouble with the hurricane as anyone else here. Even the hurricane teletype circuit failed at the local bureau.

Chief Forecaster W. R. Stevens said further advisories will come from the Bureau at the National Airport, Washington, D. C. Only local advisories will be handled here.

RAILWAY TROUBLE
The crew of the Southern Railway System Pelican skirted Lake Pontchartrain during the blow and said the lake was "as rough as any ocean."

C. P. Nease, fireman of Meridian, Miss., said spray broke over the top of his train and fierce winds buffeted the windows of our engine and coaches. The locomotive rocked and vibrated.

"As we entered the city we saw parts of trees hanging on telephone wires. All crossing gates were inoperative and we had to creep into the heart of town and flagmen waved down traffic at each intersection."

CITRUS FRUIT AREAS
The section of Louisiana which first felt the full fury of the storm was the extreme southern portion of the state jutting out into the Gulf of Mexico more than 100 miles below New Orleans.

This area contains St. Bernard and Plaquemines Parishes (counties) which are rich citrus areas.

BRIDGE WASHED OUT
A wooden bridge spanning a drainage canal in Bucktown washed out. One house on the highway beyond the washout was demolished.

Lions at Higgins Apply for Charter

Several members of the Pampa Lions Club went to Higgins last evening to aid in forming a new Lions Club there. After a dinner at the Higgins Hotel, the group moved to the Higgins City Hall. Entertainers included Mrs. Roy Webb, who played several piano selections, Miss Winnie Allen, who sang, Ken Bennett and his accordion, and the Henkey Dore Quartette. H. H. Luna assumed the taitwister duties and E. O. Wedgeworth acted as master of ceremonies.

Mayor Howard Jenkins, in the opening remarks of the meeting, C. A. Coyer, superintendent of the Borger schools, made the principal talk. He was introduced by Dr. Roy Webb.

Roy Sansing, a Higgins attorney, made a few but very enlightening remarks. Sansing stated that if any city had learned the value of service that Higgins had, that they, as individuals and as a town, could never repay the unselfish service rendered to them during their time of trial. He asked that all of Higgins' neighbors remember that they are in a process of rebuilding, not only the actual building damage but also their own mental aspects.

Sansing also stated that from reports from the telephone company an electric supply company, Higgins now had more telephones and light meters than before the storm.

Following the program the Higgins group met and made their formal application for a charter to International Lions Club for membership. A Pampa delegation of about 30 traveled to Higgins.

HURRICANE STRIKES MIAMI—Palm trees on Miami's famous Biscayne Boulevard are storm-tossed as a gale, preceding a hurricane, swept the city. Note how gusty lights although this photo was made shortly before noon. Winds of 110 mph struck the fabulous resort city as the heart of the storm neared.

Harvesters Battle Sweetwater Tonight; Kickoff at 8 o'Clock

Pro Football Game Scheduled for Dallas Cotton Bowl Tonight

DALLAS—(AP)—The first professional football game in a decade to be played in Dallas matches the star-studded Chicago Cardinals and the Boston Yanks tonight in the Cotton Bowl.

The game, bringing the sharp-shooting arms of Paul Gervan and Paul Christman into play, and pinpointing interest on what the great Charley Trippi may do in being slated for the bench, is a career for underprivileged boys projected by the Dallas Salesmanship Club.

A crowd of 25,000 is expected to turn out to watch the Yanks try to get on the victory road out of the Cardinals' unbroken this season, to rack up their third exhibition win.

It will be the last exhibition for both teams before they plunge into the National League schedule.

A flock of Texas college players will be in the line-up. The Yanks have Tom Dean, Jim S.D. Wright and Howard Mays of Southern Methodist at tackle, guard and halfback, respectively. The Cardinals will start six from Texas—Billy Dewell, Southern Methodist, and M.H. Kutzler, Texas, ends; Bill Blackburn, Rice, center; Stan Matula, Texas, tackle; Ray Malbow, Southern Methodist, quarterback; and Walter Rankin, Texas Tech, fullback.

These thistles are one and the same plant: common burr, bell, bull, blue, roadside, horse, spout, plume, button, and back.

Oil Voluntarily Ends 22-Year Playing Career

NEW YORK—(AP)—The 22-year Major League playing career of Mel Ott, manager of the New York Giants, came to an end today when he announced that he had removed his name from the club's active player roster.

Ott released the news to sports writers as the train carrying the National League eastward for their final home start left Chicago. He said he took the step to make room for the addition of rookies who will be used in the lineup between now and the end of the season. The player limit including rookies is 40.

The 38-year-old Louisianan, who started in the big time with the Giants in 1926 holds the modern Major League record for service with one club. His other marks read like an index page to the record book. He has been manager of the club since December 2, 1941.

He holds the National League lifetime marks for most home runs, runs scored, runs batted in, total bases (5,511), bases on balls (1,709), extra base hits (1,071), and extra bases on long hits (2,185). For one year he knocked out 30 or more home runs a season—another record.

He led the league in home runs in 1932, 1933 and 1942 and led for the leadership in 1932, 1934 and 1937. He was the league's leading outfielder in 1935 and led the most assists in the 1935 and 1942 seasons.

Phillips' Blackhawks Down Panthers, 19-6

The Phillips Blackhawks downed the Fanhandle Panthers 19 to 6 before a capacity crowd in the Phillips stadium, last night.

Phillips scored first in the first quarter, with Panhandle scoring their lone touchdown in the second quarter. The half ended with the Panthers on the Phillips four-yard line. This was Panhandle's only threat throughout the rest of the game after they had scored. They were out of the score 7 to 6 in favor of Phillips.

Phillips dominated the play throughout the second half. They scored two touchdowns during the final half.

Half-Hundred Class AA Grid Games Scheduled for Tonight

(By The Associated Press)

An even half-hundred football games tonight spotlight a long week is scheduled for Class AA teams in the Texas high school football race.

Marshall's rugged little Maverick's took a hardy 19-7 victory over Woodrow Wilson (Dallas) last night in the feature game of five spotted over the state.

Waco (El Paso) kept Texas' inter-sectional record clean with a 26-12 win over Douglas, Ariz., and Poly (Fort Worth) blanked Gainesville, 14-0, for the only other decision.

Cleburne and Stephenville battled to an 18-13 deadlock and St. Thomas (Houston) held Jeff Davis (Houston) to a 13-13 tie.

Only one Class AA conference game is booked—Harlandale (San Antonio) at Corpus Christi in district 15-AA tonight.

Highland Park (Dallas) opened the week's card Wednesday night with a 14-7 win over Sunset (Dallas).

Top games tonight pit Waco against Austin; Odessa against Northwest Childress at Amarillo; Denison at Wichita Falls; Brackenridge (San Antonio) at Abilene; Port Arthur at Longview; Paris at Tyler; Temple at Thomas Jefferson (San Antonio) and Waxahachie at Bryan.

Most of the attention will be centered at Fort Worth, where Odessa's defending state champion Brones try for their second straight victory.

The Brones swamped Lubbock, 32-7, last week—jumping into the middle of the December title picture.

Corpus Christi—hailed as the strongest team in tough District 15-AA—is an easy favorite to take Harlandale into camp. The Buc beat Byrd High (Shreveport) 28-6 last week while Harlandale lost to Kenedy, 12-0.

It will be the opening game for both Waco and Austin. Waco is expected to battle Waxahachie for the District 10-AA title and Austin is expected to vie with Thomas Jefferson and Corpus Christi for the 15-AA crown.

Waxahachie, which dumped a 1936 semi-finalist, Laikin, 12-0 last week—meets a comparatively unknown Bryan team.

Eight Sox Errors, Five Homers Net Hubbers 22-11 Win

(By The Associated Press)

Lubbock moved ahead again in the West Texas-New Mexico League's championship playoff round, besting Amarillo, 21-11, last night for a two games to one advantage.

The wild, free-hitting game lasted over three hours and saw Lubbock collect 23 hits. Five home runs—including Bill Soren's fifth—were in the play-off—helped Lubbock, as did eight Amarillo errors.

Amarillo had one big inning—the eighth—in which the Gold Sox fashioned five runs.

The fourth game of the seven game series will be played tonight at Amarillo.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

NEW HAVEN, Conn.—(AP)—After Yale's footballers took a pounding, physical and otherwise, in a "secret" scrimmage with Army the other day, Ferd Nadermy, a rugged halfback, expressed the belief that the El's could take the Cadets in a regular season game.

Coach Howie Odell just grinned and disagreed when that statement was reported to him, but he couldn't conceal satisfaction with his team's showing. "You had to be right down on the field with them to realize how hard they hit. I wonder if they play like that all the time?"

He went to point out that the Cadets hadn't run for any real long gains. "I'm surprised they didn't score more," he added. "They were always in our half of the field pounding for first downs."

Old Bill Albie Booth, now one of the East's top officials, came along and tossed in his opinion. "Don't forget Army has had a lot of good players who were overshadowed by Davis, Blanchard and Tucker the past few years. They have a good player in 'Yeah,' interjected a listener. "But I'd bet you don't have you don't have to get out of Blanchard's way this year."

ONE-MINUTE SPORTS PAGE

Even if Glenn Davis should get his damaged knee repaired and leave the Army, the considerable question about his playing, John W. Rogers, producer of the West Point movie, has an exclusive contract on his services for a year after the film is released and which specifies no pro football until racing to England.

Louisiana State football fans are moaning low because Jim Cason, LSU's best pass defender, is sidelined with a cast on his right leg before the opener against Rice.

This Rice will do a lot of trouble throwing instead of being thrown like it is at weddings.

Few Colleges to Open Season This Weekend

NEW YORK—(AP)—While the season will not hit its stride for another two weeks, several college football teams jump the gun this weekend and open their schedules while it's still officially summer.

While most of the games are in the category of warm-ups, one big inter-sectional clash spotlights the Sims in Washington State's meeting with the Hawks at Herby, Pa., Saturday night.

In the South, Kentucky and Mississippi, traditional opening day rivals, launch their seasons at University, Miss., under new coaches. Bear Bryant, guiding the former and John Vaught at the helm of Ole Miss.

Queen of Diamonds

The complete collapse of the St. Louis Cardinals, presaging a general shakeup that may cost Manager Eddie Dyer his job, has tongues wagging around the baseball map as the Brooklyn Dodgers ease into the World Series. Now the Brooks can do no worse than tie and the magic number combination has been reduced to one.

Losing six straight since they took the middle game of the decisive Dodger series, the defending world champions now are threatened with a third-place finish. They can be mathematically eliminated tonight if they lose to the Cubs.

Boston, closing strong with a clean sweep of the Sportsman's Park series, clipped the Red Birds last night, 6-2, advancing to within a game and a half of second place.

Brooklyn blew a chance to apply the mathematical clincher when they bowed to Pittsburgh in the afternoon, 8-7. A Dodger win, combined with the Cards' loss, would have snuffed out the last hope.

The New York Giants' record home run total hit 211 for the year on Bobby Thomson's two-run clout in the third inning of their 9-5 edge over Chicago.

Cincinnati's Ed Erutt, a late starter, earned his fourth victory of a disappointing freshman season, as the Reds clubbed Dutch Leonard for 15 hits in a 9-4 decision over the Phillies.

Frank (Spec) Shea hurled his first complete game since July 5 and threw a four-hitter against Chicago for a 3-1 victory.

Easton rallied from a six-run deficit to outslug St. Louis, 10-6, with Sam Mele's five hits leading the parade.

Rockie Bob Kuzava, up from Baltimore, hurled a five-hit shutout as Cleveland clubbed Washington 4-0, advancing to within a half game of third-place Detroit in a night game. Detroit and Philadelphia were not scheduled.

Bums Can Do No Worse Than Tie

By The Associated Press

The complete collapse of the St. Louis Cardinals, presaging a general shakeup that may cost Manager Eddie Dyer his job, has tongues wagging around the baseball map as the Brooklyn Dodgers ease into the World Series. Now the Brooks can do no worse than tie and the magic number combination has been reduced to one.

Losing six straight since they took the middle game of the decisive Dodger series, the defending world champions now are threatened with a third-place finish. They can be mathematically eliminated tonight if they lose to the Cubs.

Boston, closing strong with a clean sweep of the Sportsman's Park series, clipped the Red Birds last night, 6-2, advancing to within a game and a half of second place.

Brooklyn blew a chance to apply the mathematical clincher when they bowed to Pittsburgh in the afternoon, 8-7. A Dodger win, combined with the Cards' loss, would have snuffed out the last hope.

The three West Point stars will be in a Rambler lineup averaging 210 pounds in the line and 196 in the backfield facing a Mexico Cadet eleven, coached by Major Robert Whitlow, former West Point tackle, that will field a forward wall averaging 191 and a backfield averaging 175.

Dallas Takes Second Game of Series, 6-2

(By The Associated Press)

Houston and Dallas make a night of it from the Texas League's championship playoff round all square at one game each.

Dallas denuded the seven game series with a 6-2 victory last night in the second tilt.

The teams move to Dallas tomorrow night for the next three contests. A 15-hit outburst against three Houston hurlers enabled the Rebels to hand the Buffs their first loss in the playoff series.

Houston won four straight from Dallas while Dallas and Fort Worth went a full seven games.

Solly Humes put Houston ahead in the third inning with a home run, but Dallas exploded for two in the fifth then added three more in the sixth.

Doubles by Hal Hishon and Red Davis and a single by Bob Moyer started the three-run sixth inning spree after two singles, a walk and a fielder's choice accounted for the two in the fifth.

Houston made its second run in the sixth on Hal Epps' triple and Doc Greene's single.

Gene Markland paced Dallas with three singles and a double while Catcher Burl Storie had three singles and a walk.

Worsham Takes Lead in N. Fulton Tourney

ATLANTA—(AP)—The $10,000 North Fulton Open Golf Tournament went into the second round today with U. S. Open Champion Lew Worsham the favorite, holding a two-stroke lead over the field.

The Okonont, Pa., pro who got into the top-money brackets of golf in winning the Druid Hills Open here last year, shot a 32-36—68 over the 6,707-yard 71-par North Fulton course.

Gene Dahlberger Jr., Atlanta amateur, and Pete Cooper, of Ponte Vedra, Fla., tied for 70 to join Worsham in the sub-par chocths.

Church Leaders See Little Effect Atom Bomb Era on Religious Beliefs

By MAX HALL
WASHINGTON—(P)—Has the atomic bomb changed the religious beliefs of the people?
For more than two years, mankind has nursed the disturbing knowledge that he has invented the possible means of his own destruction.
Many have wondered whether this knowledge is driving Americans into the churches, driving them out of the churches, or both, or neither.
The question can't be answered through statistics because hardly any reliable figures exist.
But here are the personal opinions of a few religious leaders:
This writer made a list of several churchmen in Washington and then asked each: "How has the atomic bomb affected people's religious beliefs?"
Here is what they said:
Father John Cronin, assistant director of the social action department, National Catholic Welfare Conference:
"I feel that with people in general, the atomic bomb has not affected their thinking in any way. I fail to detect any deep realization of what atomic fission means in the eventual transformation of our lives. Those who do realize it are bewildered and have reached no particular conclusions."

Bishop Charles D. Flint of the Methodist Church: "I couldn't give an answer at this time. I couldn't put my finger on a single thing that would justify any conclusion."
Joseph Dawson, executive secretary for the Baptist of the United States: He thinks the atomic bomb has weakened the religion of "untold millions" by substituting in their minds the idea of "force" as a means of security instead of "reason and love and culture and all the instruments of civilization."
A. Powell Davies, Unitarian minister: He thinks the bomb "has tended to accentuate whatever beliefs were previously held" and that it has not caused "the abrupt change in religious beliefs that might have been anticipated."
Dr. W. H. Jernigan, Washington director for the Fraternal Council of Negro churches: "Some people thought it was awful for a Christian nation to end the war that way," and their religion has been weakened.
But he also said a large number of scientists have reached the conclusion that they have invented something that can't be controlled unless men's minds and hearts are changed through religion.

SIDE GLANCES BY GALBRAITH

"Poor guy—just nerves—he's had a houseful of visiting relatives all summer."

Mr. Hugh Olsen, Pampa Scout executive, presented the boys and asked them questions pertaining to the Jamboree and other items of interest the boys had acquired during their journey. These three representatives were proud of the fact that of the 1650 Boy Scouts who went over seas from this country five of them represented the Adobe Walls Council, and three were from Pampa. They have many interesting experiences to relate, some fine pictures and many souvenirs.

The Pampa Lion's Club, after looking into the needs of the Higgins Hospital, have agreed to try to completely furnish one hospital room there. A group of the local club made a trip to Higgins Thursday to help them install a Lion's Club there.
The Lion's Club Sweetheart for the coming month will be Marjorie Nixon as elected by her classmates. The Cub Scout to attend meetings for the month is Monty Allison, of Troop 16, the Lions sponsored troop.

One Death Occurred During Grid Season
AUSTIN—(P)—The eighth annual survey of football injuries in 414 Texas high schools show that 1,242 of 12,900 boys were injured. Inter-scholastic League Athletic Director R. J. Kidd has reported.
One death was reported, that occurring during the spring training period, Kidd said.
Failure to provide adequate warm-up for substitutes, overlooking safety features in enthusiasm of the game, poor equipment and failure of game officials to be alert for unnecessary roughness were listed among causes of injuries.

Liquor Inspectors Seize Five Stills
AUSTIN—(P)—Five illicit stills were seized by State Liquor Board inspectors last month and four arrests made. Liquor Administrator Bert Ford has reported.
Three of the stills were in Titus County and two in Henderson County, the report said.
Ford said liquor revenues for August brought the state $913,682. Liquor stamp sales contributed $413,336 to the total. Beer stamps ran second with $386,222.
One tenth of Great Britain's total bread production is home-baked.

MACKENZIE'S Columbia
By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst
Back in the days of World War I, when trench warfare was in vogue, a big offensive was launched with a terrific bombardment of enemy positions, after which the attacking troops went "over the top" in the grim, gray dawn—and generally it was only when close contact with the entrenched was established that the efficacy of the bombardment could be accurately estimated.

DEWITT MACKENZIE
Yesterday in the U. N. Assembly the Western Democracies opened up Russian bloc as a preliminary effort to force the latter to abandon tactics which the West condemns as dangerous to world peace and rehabilitation. It was a violent assault, but we still have to get a view of the Red trenches before being able to determine what, if any, damage has been done in the way of focusing world attention on the critical situation.

1—Card of Thanks In my Father's Home are many memories. I go to prepare a place for you. And if I go and prepare a place for you, I will come again, and receive you unto myself—John 14: 2, 3.

As you go on and the sadness of life comes home to us, we feel that we are really in the hands of a simple trust in Christ's hereafter. It is like a strong hand in the dark. Believe that God our Father loved us and gave us eternal comfort and hope through grace. That is the infallible way of finding comfort for our hearts and establishing them in every good work and word. (Eph. 2: 8-10) And God's love and grace cannot be for any one and not for another. With His faith we can lift up our burden with serenity and perform our tasks with peace, and find joy in our work.

Allen We desire to express our sincere appreciation to all those who so kindly assisted us in the long illness and at the death of our dear father and grandfather, John Perry Allen who passed to his reward Sept. 16. (Continued From Page 1) A quick crack at President Truman and specifically accused nine prominent Americans, including John Foster Dulles of Marshall's delegation here, of being "warmongers" trying to start a war on Russia.

The reference to Mr. Truman came when Vishinsky said the President's recent speech at the Inter-American defense conference in American defense conference in Brazil emphasized American plans to maintain strong military forces without mentioning American obligations under the United Nations to seek disarmament.

The nine Americans named by Vishinsky as examples of "warmongers" seeking to start a war on Russia were Dulles, who was sitting in the audience before Vishinsky; Rep. Dorn (D-SC); Virgil Jordan, president of the National Industrial Conference Board; former governor George H. Earle of Pennsylvania, who once served as U. S. Minister in Hungary and Bulgaria; Chairman Easton (R-NJ) of the House Foreign Affairs Committee; Senator Brian McMahon (D-Conn), former chairman of the Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy; Senator Brooks (R-Ill); Major General John R. Engineers Say Road Work Set

D. C. Greer, state highway engineer, today informed the City Commission by letter, that their resolution for the improvement of one half mile of Hobart St., was in proper order and would begin as soon as a similar resolution was received by the Highway Department from the Gray County Commissioner Court.

Work on the first 11 blocks of city paving will start "any day now," City Engineer Dick Pepin told the commission after he was informed the steel curb and gutter forms were shipped from Pittsburgh, Pa., on Sept. 10. Pepin told the commission the contractor was ready to start the day the forms arrive in Pampa.

Lefors P-TA Holds First Meet of Year

LEFORS—Parents and teachers of the Lefors schools assembled last night for the first Parent-Teacher Association meeting of the year. Refreshments were served following the meeting in the Senior High School.

J. L. Swindle, editor of The Pampa Daily News, was the principal speaker. His speech dealt with the subject, "The More We Get Together," and he drew comparison between the work of the United Nations' 55 delegations at Lake Success, N. Y., with the work of the school in the small community like Lefors.

Interference?—Have Your Radio Checked Now the city police radio is interfering with residents' radios, tuned to off-band stations.

It happened last night when an irate female voice called Police Headquarters and complained that their broadcasts were interfering with her radio, tuned at the time to Del Rio, and wanted something done about it.

Desk Sgt. "Red" Payne, attempted to console the woman by advising her the police radio as authorized to broadcast on a certain wave length and that nothing could be done about it. Red, an amateur radio expert, further suggested that her radio receiver may need adjusting as others have in the past. The woman father ran Red's patience to the ground when she added: "You might as well tell me it's none of my business."

Purred Red: "Frankly ma'am, as far as this radio station is concerned, it isn't." "She demanded to know Payne's name and got it. There the conversation ended. Police are thinking of using smoke signals now.

Hurricane

State patrolmen were ordered to the lake front where police reported wide areas under water rising above the three-foot mark.

Red Cross headquarters made an emergency appeal for small boats, especially skiffs to navigate streets in the lake front area.

Authorities warned all residents on outlying areas to try to get to the center of the city by any means.

CASUALTIES NEW ORLEANS—(AP)—The first incomplete list of casualties in the hurricane here included: Police Officer George Feider, 41, injured by flying glass.

Mrs. Maxine Britton, 23, struck by glass while leaving her home. Paul Cutler, 8, struck by glass while playing in water in gutter.

Betty Fay Heffner, 3, head injuries when fell out of chair while being carried to safety.

Alex Hevert, 28, public service lineman helper, struck by flying wire.

Joe Williamson, struck by falling shed.

Emma Stewart, injured when her automobile was forced off highway.

It was reported that weather bureau elsewhere either at Washington or Fort Worth may have to take over the task of issuing advisories.

Two persons have been injured, but not seriously. Property damage already was high.

Lance Schaefer, chairman of the Red Cross Disaster Committee, called police when a disorder broke out in the procedure of caring for evacuees he said a group of "rowdies" outside a shelter in a public school grabbed milk before it could be taken inside to babies.

The last train reported to arrive here was the Southern Pacific Railway System's Pelican, which crept into the station after a hectic ride across a railroad bridge spanning Lake Pontchartrain. Crew members said the lake was "as rough as any ocean we've ever seen."

The barometer dropped to 28.79, the lowest in 20 years, according to Weather Bureau Forecaster Allan Aime. He said the all-time low for New Orleans was 28.11 Sept. 19, 1911.

Communication lines between New Orleans north failed about 8 a. m. The line to Texas was still holding intact at 9 a. m.

A wall of water driven by 60 mile per hour winds forced the Navy to evacuate the Naval Air Station at Lake Pontchartrain early this morning. Little damage was done, although water was three feet deep over the base.

All naval buildings were evacuated, as well as homes of enlisted men and officers.

Persons driving into New Orleans from the Gulf Coast were being stopped by State Highway Patrol officers and requested to aid in the evacuation of persons in the low-lying areas around Lake Pontchartrain.

James M. Coleman, amateur radio operator here, said "hams" have lined up contacts with amateur operators in nearby states to handle emergency calls.

A huge air conditioning unit atop the Whitney National Bank was torn from its moorings, lifted across the building top and dumped into Foydras Street in the city's downtown section.

Highways along Mississippi's gulf coast were reported flooded at several points where water surged over the seawall.

Irvine Levi, another ham operator, said most points on the coast had gone off the air because of power failure at Foydras Station and said it had to conserve power.

Executive Director J. J. Kramer of the Louisiana Restaurant Association said all cafe men in the New Orleans area were being contacted, and asked to make their facilities available to feeding persons evacuated from their homes.

Ferry service, was halted between New Orleans and the west bank of the Mississippi River because water was too choppy.

The first reported injury sustained in the hurricane here was Edgar Joseph, 39. He was cut in the eye by flying glass.

Richard Norton, 16, was treated for scalp wounds after a tent mainstay at a skating rink collapsed and struck him on the head.

Radio communications between police headquarters and squad cars was disrupted.

Patrolmen were ordered to report to headquarters every 15 minutes. Trolley cars were stranded up and down Canal Street as the result of failure of the system in the commercial district.

Lakeshore Hospital near Pontchartrain reported it was surrounded by 12 inches of water. The flood had not crept into the hospital itself, and the roof was reported holding. Hospital authorities said they were unable to evacuate patients, but that morale was high.

Army engineers reported that the hurricane had struck near Burrwood, La., at the mouth of the Mississippi, and left the island flooded under six inches of water. Col. John R. Hardin, district engineer, said all personnel at Burrwood were safe. Refugees were crowded into engineers headquarters on the river.

A small sailboat was broken from its moorings at the Southern Yacht Club and broke up against the Lake Pontchartrain seawall.

Several hundred employees were mobilized by the U. S. Army Engineers District Office to aid in rescue work. A number of boats have been moved from the river into the numerous canals which traverse the city.

In Hollywood

By ERSKINE JOHNSON

NEA Staff Correspondent

(Johnson on KPND Monday through Friday, 2 p. m.)

HOLLYWOOD—The next time I visit the Three Stooges, I'm going to wear a suit of armor with a built-in attorney.

People kept telling me that the cinematic slapstick of the Keystone Kops days wasn't dead in Hollywood—that the Three Stooges were still making eight-two-reel comedies a year.

But, just because I looked them up on a Columbia sound stage, I didn't think it necessary for them to:

- 1. Throw a custard pie at me. 2. Try to push me in a rain barrel. 3. Drop a brick (rubber) on my head.

Then I read an excerpt from their script and realized they were only playing patty-cake with me.

"Moe," the script read, "is hit over the head. He backs into a red-hot stove. His head is all but torn off by a flying saucer. A dog bites him. He reacts slightly."

"We react slightly to everything," Moe Howard said.

"Including our pay checks," Shemp Howard added.

"We are very subtle comedians," Larry Fine said.

Moe and Shemp started beating Larry over the head.

No slapstick comedy isn't dead in Hollywood. The Three Stooges collect $10,000 for four days' work on these two-reelers, which Jules White directs and produces for Columbia.

White practically grew up with a custard pie in his face. He started out as a kid actor with Mack Sennett in 1912, has been producing or directing comedies ever since.

He remembers when actors used to talk to themselves.

"We didn't have much money in those days and if an actor couldn't play at least 20 different roles in a picture he wasn't worth carrying on the payroll. I remember a scene where an actor walked into a room, shot a gun through a window and then came in the doorway and dropped dead. All he did was change his clothes and put on a mustache."

Beating up each other is the Stooges' chief stock in trade. But they never seem to get hurt.

"I got a broken nose once," Shemp complained.

"Yeah," said Moe, "but he won't tell us how he got it. So I will. Larry was taking a bow on the stage of a theatre and his elbow came up and hit Shemp's nose. Even when it started to bleed we didn't believe it—we thought it was a gag and that the blood was sly choco-late."

"So Larry took another bow, and let his elbow come up and hit Shemp again. Shemp started yelling and then we knew it was on the level—that his nose really was broken."

There are still youngsters, of course, who think the Stooges are mighty men of muscle who can withstand almost any kind of physical punishment, including being run over by a truck.

One day the three of them were walking on the Atlantic City boardwalk when a kid about nine spotted them, walked up and cracked them over the head with a heavy cane.

Moe still gets purple at the thought of it.

"If that kid had been an inch taller," he said, "I would have kicked his teeth right down his throat."

NEW YORK—The Bartenders' Union of Phoenix, Arizona, dissects from its eulogy of the late Pearl Bergoff, of New York, who used to break strike on a grand scale. I wrote that Mr. Bergoff was a fine strikebreaker and I intended to say that he was a better American than sedentary goons like the one who led the movement who shunned the combat picket-lines and even hired rats to terrorize the Americans in the night, especially women left alone with their children.

Bergoff was not the kind who sat in Washington directing a reign of terror as the prairie of a smirking Paulleroy, in the White House who made a belly for a light except to wear at his nurse-governor.

Bergoff was a anti-hated, pug-nacious little fellow who learned strikebreaking by hand and became a magnate in this often lauded as would put a straight jacket on a medical profession, private citizens by the millions have quietly one ahead joining up with voluntarily prepaid medical programs. And actually these voluntary programs have done more pioneering and exhibited more practical effectiveness than can ever be expected of a socialized medical system founded on the shifting sands of politics.

At present nearly half the population of the country, sixty-one million persons, subscribes to some kind of a medical plan. Approximately 45,500,000 persons in the United States are enrolled in insurance plans to pay costs incident to disabling illnesses. In addition approximately 10,000,000 persons are enrolled in prepayment medical care plans and 8,000,000 are insured under combination accident and sickness policies.

If the debate over socialized medicine goes on a few more years, it will become purely an academic matter. The people will have solved their own health problems in their own way, without destroying medical standards or the freedom of the doctors.

Primarily, the Sec of the Bartenders' Union is the underworld of Hungary, robbery and prostitution. Many of the members of the trade were agents and managers of clients engaged in these sinful arts. That was inevitable because public drinking resorts have ever been a twilight zone between the light and the dark. We have the old, even on slick paper by pretentious writers, that some of our modern saloons are infested with purity and wholly owned by total abstainers who seek of charity, chastity and the simple virtues of the domesticated husband. We may hope that a little stained glass and a clerical color would convert a night club into a house of worship.

In later years, the Bartenders' Union has widened its embrace to include many factors and disillu-sioned young women who handle the blue-plate specials and sizzling platters for 15-cent tips and put up with impudence from the cooks and managers. Most of them come from somewhere else. Many a one pays package for a child in a day nursery. Whether desertion is an occupational hazard or hopping tables in lunchrooms is the natural occasion of quarrels who have learned the sad way that there ain't no good in men is not for decision here. They are, these waitresses, on the whole, an overworked and pessimistic lot and a union could be good for them.

The family history of the Bartenders' Union is not absolutely bad where it differs from the great audacious rackets chartered to Joe Moreschi, president of the Hod-Carriers, and Bill Maloney, president of the Operating Engineers. Its late president, Mr. Flere, was a sickly and frightened fellow who dared not go near Chicago for years to interfere with a racket run by some of his own subordinates under the political patronage of Mayor Ed Kelly. Mr. Kelly is a fine man. Like the late Tom Pendergast, of Kansas City, he goes to church regularly. They had more important traits in common and Kelly still has.

"Pegler made no bones of saying that Bergoff was in the strike-breaking business," this editorial says. No bones whatever. That was the point of the story. He was a professional strikebreaker and one of the best that ever lived. "He often had as many as 10,000 finks under his banner."

Yes, that's right. And if Bergoff had been free to serve the public no unioner would have been those of our American workmen in Butte in 1946, to chase the mothers down the streets with their children and to demolish the furniture and iceboxes with axes and smash the windows.

Bergoff would have loved that job. He would have killed four or five men there and telephoned the coroner.

Again, the editorial says, "When times got tight and a big-brother suer was a little hard to find, Bergoff deliberately manufactured a little labor trouble," threw a few stink bombs, beat up a few workmen or set a few fires in order that Bergoff and his slimy rats might move in. Bergoff's crews weren't trained workmen. They were the very dregs of industry."

I earnestly doubt that Mr. Bergoff did foment fictitious union troubles in 464-times. He was an ethical, trustworthy business man. His old clients had done business with him for years.

But certainly the officials of this Bartenders' local will admit that union rats make a regular practice of planting pickets and pulling off the jobs hundreds of workers who need their wages, in order to shake down employers. I hope these boys aren't going to tell me they don't know that I guess they must have heard of my old friend, Benny Phoenix, a thief, who runs the liquor unions here in New York.

And, on the matter of crews who aren't trained workmen, I recall the picket-line that marched in front of the Edgewater Beach Hotel in Chicago for almost six years because Bill Dewey, the manager, wouldn't give Umbrella Mike Boyle, the boss of the Electricians' Union, an apartment in the place. Dewey wouldn't let Boyle in the house at all. He fired an ex-convict and a notorious union rat, who had been called a traitor to the workers by the U. S.

NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON BY RAY TUCKER

RASKOB—John J. Raskob is depicted as one of the most influential and revolutionary forces of modern American history in Brown-

Common Ground By R. C. HOLLES

140 MILLION CAPITALISTS "Soak the Rich" used to be quite a popular slogan in some quarters. Whether the same words are used today...

Both backroom politicians and political philosophers may find some irony in the fact that a top official in two of the nation's greatest corporations was responsible for the advancement of so bitter a foe of "economic royalists" as F. D. R.

INVESTMENT—Mr. Raskob's admiration for the man in the brown derby, as well as his command of funds, may have been responsible also for the Roosevelt-Smith break before, during and after the 1932 campaign.

At might have held to his 1928 pledge to forswear political ambition and not have opposed F. D. R. in Chicago in 1932, it had not been for his rich friend's urging and practical help.

Lastly, Mr. Flynn throws a new light on F. D. R.'s interest in the Georgia. He says that the health resort was a financial investment for which the late President anticipated a definite money return.

JEOPARDIZE—Mr. Raskob's millions began to change the course of American history in 1928 when he was named chairman of the Democratic National Committee by Mr. Smith after the latter had won the Democratic presidential nomination at the Houston convention.

All wanted F. D. R. to run for governor of New York to strengthen the ticket, and, as he hoped, entice Mr. Smith to the White House. Mr. Roosevelt, however, refused to run until the eve of the state convention.

It has been pushed, and never denied, that his refusal was based on fear that abandonment of Warm Springs treatments and residence in wintry Albany would jeopardize his recovery.

ASSURANCES—But, according to Mr. Flynn, Mr. Roosevelt explained over the telephone that he had invested heavily in the medical center and wanted to continue to keep in close touch so that he could recover.

When this difficulty was explained to Al's financial "angel," Mr. Raskob guaranteed to insure the future President against loss, and it was not until then that F. D. R. accepted the gubernatorial nomination.

The author does not think that Mr. Raskob was ever called upon to underwrite his offer, although he did make a heavy contribution to the support of Warm Springs.

Mr. Flynn does believe that his financial assurances alone led to Mr. Roosevelt's willingness to play an active part in politics.

It was this victory, especially in view of Al's failure to carry his home state against Herbert Hoover, which made Mr. Roosevelt the logical Democratic contender in 1932.

NOTES—Despite Al's defeat, Mr. Raskob financed the National Committee for the next two years. He employed "Charley" Michelson as press agent, underwriting his $25,000-a-year salary, to satirize and ridicule the Hoover Administration's attempts to deal with depression problems. He apparently hoped that he would so weaken the G. O. P. that Mr. Smith could win in 1932.

When F. D. R. determined to be a presidential candidate, he sent two men—Mr. Flynn and former Governor Herbert Lehman—to obtain a sort of clearance from Al. The latter, according to both men, spread a batch of notes across his desk in the Empire State Building, and cited them as the reason for his permanent separation from active politics.

INFLUENCE—His family, Al added, had speculated in the market and lost heavily. He felt himself obligated to make good their debts. As a result, Messrs. Flynn and Lehman informed F. D. R. that he had a clear field as far as the Happy Warrior was concerned.

But, as the defeat of Mr. Hoover began to seem a certainty, Mr. Smith tossed his brown derby into the ring against the "old potato." (The Roosevelt-Smith feud threatened to shatter party harmony and possibly mean Democratic defeat.)

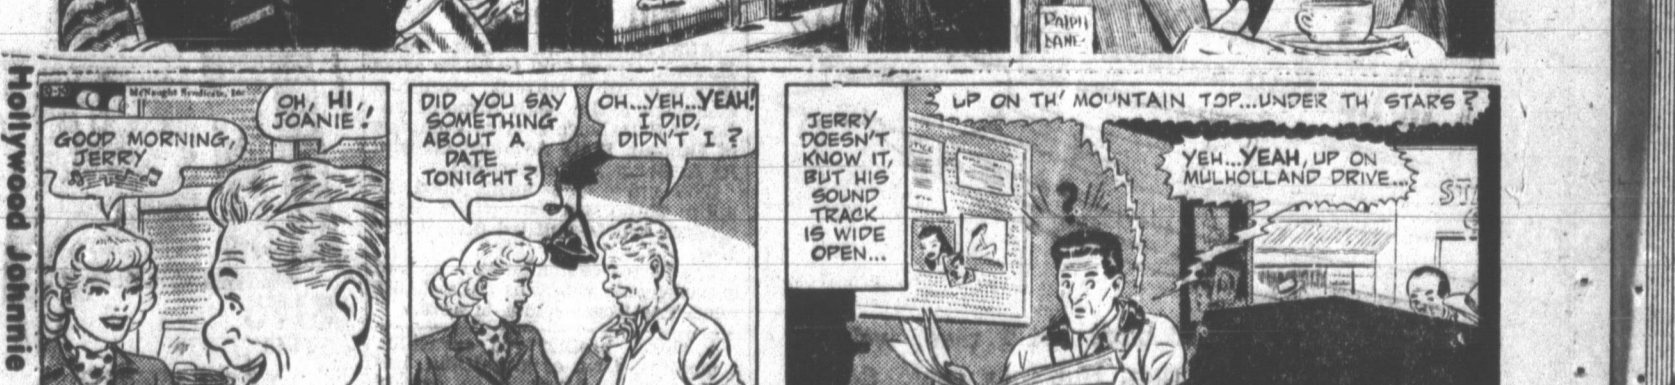

Now, although Mr. Flynn does not say so, it is generally believed that, once again, Mr. Raskob offered to spend his millions to pay off the Smith notes, and advance his campaign.

Court of Appeals, would give the hotel a bad name. So, for almost six years, the poor working shifts in Boyle's local had to pay wages to 12-hour shifts of professional pickets, mostly homeless, pathetic and pitiful in the hope, of course, Bergoff used shifts to simulate back-to-work movements. There are tricks in all trades.

Next winter I should like to swap anecdotes of the union racket and the strikebreaking racket with D. A. Baldwin, the managing editor of this little Bartenders' Journal in Phoenix. I might tell him some he never heard, but meanwhile Pearl Bergoff was a wonderful strikebreaker. Given equal freedom of action, he would have kicked John J. Lewis any time. More nerve. Smarter. No illusions. He knew that as like as not a picket was just a professional rat hired by the union to beat up honest workmen, threaten their wives and smash machinery. In fact, a lot of professional union rats of 1934 used to work for Bergoff on the other side of the picket line.

It (Inter-American Conference) represents the supreme effort of men working in the spirit of good will.—President Euloo Dutra of Brazil.

I believe that the greatest need of the world today, fundamental to all else, is a revival of faith.—President Truman.

illustrated in the passage cited in the lesson. A few very striking ones are elsewhere in the Book. A deep philosophy of life is in 4:23, "Keep thy heart with all diligence; for out of it are the issues of life." Similar reflection is in the list of things that the Lord hates. The six things listed in 6:19-20; and in the well-known 14:34, "Highways—calleth—a nation; but sin is a reproach to any people."

Of the second sort, terse, practical observations, are 15:18, "Fruit groweth before destruction, and a laughing spirit before a fall" and 28:1, "The wicked flee when no man pursueth; but the righteous are bold as a lion."

Good examples of the spontaneous, but no less deeply wise proverbs, are 27:19—"As in water face answereth to face—so the heart of man to man." A good example of the same sort, outside the Book of Proverbs, but a proverb none the less, is in Ecclesiastes 7:6, "As the crackling of thorns under a pot, so is the laughter of the fool."

We can imagine the thirsty traveler stooping down to drink in some limpid pool, before mirrors were common, and as he gazes into the water given back from the pool having flash into his mind that vivid metaphor to which the great Sir Francis Bacon devoted an essay of interpretation. And as for the crackling, I have camped and cooked in a pot over an outdoor fire often enough to have recalled the proverb.

Every people and country has had its proverbs, and almost every generation has had some of its own. But richest of all are those that have come from the ancient Hebrews. No doubt they are emphatic from many sources, and they represent a great repository of treasured wisdom, but it is no coincidence that they have come from a race and a time that gave to the world its greatest saints and prophets, and that ultimately

Women in the Church
By MARY FOWLER
Miss Margaret E. Forsyth, a former professor at Columbia University and now director of foreign work of the National Young Woman's Christian Association, is on a four-month visitation and study of Y. W. C. A. centers in Europe and Asia, laying plans for a reconstruction and advance program of the organization's service to women overseas. She will visit Germany, Switzerland, Poland, Portugal, France, Italy and Egypt, several sections of the Near East, and areas of Burma, India, China, and the Philippines. Accompanying Miss Forsyth is Miss Dorothy McConnell, of the Methodist Board of Missions, who is gathering editorial and illustrative material on Christian missions, especially among the women, in these same lands.

Eight alumnae of Hwa Nan College—famous woman's college of the Methodist Church in Foochow, China—are now in the United States on "Crusade scholarships" provided by the Methodist Church, and taking post-graduate studies "the better to fit themselves for service to their nation." They have a wide range of interest: Miss Edna Tsai and Miss Bessie Sue are majoring in Child welfare; Miss Helen Ho is specializing in mathematics; Miss Lois Hwang is studying rural sociology; secondary education is the interest of the Misses Fiedela Ling, Ivy Chou, and Hilda Chang; Miss Sarah Hung is a major in higher education. They are enrolled in four universities.

The women of Christian churches throughout America have again been appealed to by Dr. Arnold B. Veught, secretary for India for Church World Service, to contribute powdered milk, grains, and other food necessities to help relieve a new famine situation that is devastating parts of India and which may last well into 1948. Apparently the famine is caused by poor crops, drought, lack of a world market for exchange of goods and the generally disturbed political situation. The famine is spotty and widespread: in the Northwest Frontier Provinces, in Bombay, in Central Provinces, and in Madras. The National Christian Council of India

WHAT PART DOES ADVERTISING PLAY IN YOUR FUTURE?
Here's How Advertising Helps Make Your Income Safe and Sure; Helps Create Good Jobs for Your Daughter and Son

WHAT OTHERS SAY:

MINER—Practically every business uses what I mine. When their sales slack off, mines slow down. Some close. So when I see advertising—close. So when I see advertising—almost every kind—I know it's selling goods for firms that use what I mine—and so make my income steadier.

RAILROAD MAN—For freight to roll, goods must be sold. So when I read or hear advertising I know it's as vital to my job as steel rails.

HOUSEWIFE—Some folks seem to forget that there's no use of a firm's making goods unless it can sell them. I like all advertising because I can understand its job is to sell. And I can see that no sales at the plant where my husband works would soon mean no pay check for us.

TODAY producing goods is no longer America's big problem. In most fields selling the goods is the big job.

You know of dozens of businesses right in your neighborhood that could be twice as big as they now are if they could sell twice as much. And if they were twice as big, they'd employ twice as many people.

One of the lowest-cost methods of selling goods on a big scale is through advertising. Advertising sells goods. When more goods are sold, often prices come down—so more people buy those goods more often.

That means more jobs at the factory—and at all the firms that do business with that factory; the mines, mills, transportation companies, dealers, stores, banks, insurance companies, real estate firms, etc.

All along the line there are more and better jobs for everyone.

That's how advertising—by stimulating business—makes for a more secure present and brighter future for you and yours.

Other Ways Advertising Helps You:

1. Brings you better goods for less money.
2. Makes shopping more pleasant and easier.
3. Has given us the world's highest standard of living.
