'Top Priority' Listing Given Pampa for Aid

Pampa was listed in a "top priority" group of Texas communities to receive federal aid in the building of a non-profit hospital, according to an Associated Press story from Austin.

The story said that Texas had entered its formal application for $24,000,000 in federal aid to be used as one-third the cost of construction of $72,000,000 worth of such institutions. The program would run for five years.

Acting jointly with the State Board of Health, the State Hospital Advisory Council yesterday approved tentative plans for Texas participation in the Federal Hospital Aid program, at the same time taking note that the expenditure of the full $72,000,000 will pay for only one-fourth the facilities needed.

Norman B. Pober, director of the Health Department's Hospital Construction Division, told 200 persons attending a public hearing on the state plan that facilities for 54,136 additional hospital beds must be constructed before Texas health program will meet standards set by the U. S. Public Health Service.

Figured at a cost, set by the government, of $10,000 per bed for full-equipped hospitals, the program would cost approximately $541,000,000.

Roberts, whose 18-month-long survey is the basis for the state's program, said he believed the hospitals could be built for "nearer $5,000" per bed, or a total of $433,000,000.

With the federal government ready to allocate $24,000,000 to the state over the next five years, and with communities scheduled to put up $46,000,000, Roberts said, "there is $261,000,000 that the communities, the doctors, the churches, or state is going to have to dig up."

Once the hospitals are established, said Dr. Merton Minter of San Antonio, chairman of the State Hospital Council, the federal government will exercise no control over the hospital's operation. Those sponsoring the new construction—cities or counties, non-profit groups and church organizations—may not dispose of the hospitals, however, except to others in the same categories.

First priority on hospital construction will go to 62 areas where no hospitals are now in operation. Areas with lower priorities, based on needs of the communities balanced against existing facilities and with further back on the list. He added that informal applications from 185 communities have been received by his division—far more than enough to take up the first year's federal appropriation. Formal applications, however, will not be accepted until about Oct. 1, after the state's plan is approved by the surgeon general in Washington.

Other Plains communities besides Pampa that are listed as having "top priority" are Dumas, Higgins, Canadian, Panhandle, Plainview and Hale Center.

Although Gray County taxpayers several months ago voted $550,000 for the construction of a general hospital here at Pampa, there has been no material progress on beginning the project. It has been reported that the County Commissioners Court is seeking federal aid through such state plan as is now proposed. Additional money is needed, the court has stated, due to the fact that the half million dollars is not sufficient to build a 100-bed hospital, the minimum requirement for the county.

Hazing in Electra School Investigated

ELECTRA—(AP)—Hazing of Electra High School Freshmen in which some boys were made to strip naked and run in front of cars, is being investigated here, Deputy Sheriff Harold Fraker said.

Deputy Sheriff Fraker of Electra and Wichita County Juvenile officer J. A. McDougal of Wichita Falls said they had been told that others had been stripped, bound with adhesive tape and subjected to "indecent and painful treatment."

Freshmen were threatened with severe punishment if they divulged names of those who were involved in the hazing, officers said. This has made it difficult to investigate, they explained.

Earlier in the season, three youths had been stripped naked and left on the railroad track in the heart of town. The matter was made public when one of the boys made his way to a nearby home and telephoned his father to bring him some clothes.

Jet Fighters and Bombers To Be Pitted in Air Battle

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The Air Force will pit jet fighters and bombers against each other in a camera battle next year in the hope of solving some of the problems of new combat planes.

Telling of the plan for camera-gun tests between the Lockheed P-80 Shooting Star and the North American B-45, four-engine medium bomber, an Air Force official said today the goal is to find the answers to such questions as:

1. What are the human capabilities for aiming and firing at closing speeds of around 1,000 miles an hour—the clip at which the jets will approach head-on?
2. Where should guns and protective armor be placed?
3. What are the best defensive and offensive techniques?

Present plans call for the mock battles to be staged near Muroc Air Base, Calif., next spring, as part of the service test of the new bomber.

The B-45 is the first jet bomber ordered on a production basis. The Air Force bought 96 to replace the Douglas A-26's now used by the 47th Bomber Group at Biggs Field, Texas.

The production model is not yet available, but tests with the original plane began at Muroc late in March. It has two axial flow turbo-jet engines under each wing. The top speed probably exceeds 500 miles an hour.

In addition to the B-45 replacement of A-26's at Biggs Field, the AAF official said these other new aircraft assignments will be made when planes are available:

The 62nd Troop Carrier Group at McChord Field, Wash., the 318th at Pope Field near Greenville, S. C., and the 319th at Austin, Texas will get Fairchild C-82 packets.

GI PAINTING IS ENGLISH MEMORIAL—During the war, an American airman painted this picture of St. Francis preaching to the birds on the wall of a farm building near Ipswich, England. Plans are under way to protect the painting and maintain it as a memorial to the USAAF. Local residents say the artist was Sgt. Irvin A. Smith of Washington.

Hurricane Warnings Are Raised in Florida

MIAMI—(AP)—The Weather Bureau at 11 a. m. raised the Florida East Coast and Miami northward "make preliminary preparations for a hurricane."

Northeast storm warnings are displayed from Palm Beach to Cape Hatteras, and Chief Forecaster Grady Norton said the storm is stationary over the Northern Bahamas and adjoining sea area. He said "the situation along the Florida coast is critical. Winds of 55 miles an hour were blowing at Abaco Island, and Green Turtle Key was under two feet of water."

A special note of advice was voiced by Norton to the rich Everglades farming area around Lake Okechobee, already partly flooded by heavy summer rains.

Nineteen years ago today a major disaster occurred in this same section when Hurricane Okechobee, a storm out of Lake Okechobee, drowning about 1,500 persons.

Norton said at 11 a. m. that "no one can tell at this moment what the hurricane will do, it is wallowing inland and could strike out in any direction when it begins to move again. It could as easily move toward land as away from land."

"If it moves toward land now, the time of warning will be very short. Therefore, although actual hurricane warnings are not displayed, the Florida East Coast would be prudent to make preliminary preparations for a hurricane."

"In view of the flooded conditions of the Everglades, I believe it would be prudent to make special mention of this area. The coast from Miami to the north of Palm Beach already is experiencing fresh winds from the storm. Farmers in the Everglades could well begin to look to the safety of livestock, to protect their crops from damage, and other normal preparatory measures. I do not wish to spread alarm in this area, but I am most anxious that residents fully understand position."

Bank Embezzlement Charge Faces Man

DALLAS—(AP)—A federal grand jury has indicted Charles Talley Morse, one-time employe of the Waxahachie Bank and Trust Company, on a charge of bank embezzlement of over $30,000.

One count of the indictment returned yesterday charges Morse with taking $22,264.45, while another charges Morse with $29,565.09.

Another charge alleges that Morse made a false entry in the bank statement of Frank C. Rogers, giving this account a new balance of $50,376.53, when it should have been $119,916.62.

Going Back to Work at End of a Vacation Worse Than No Vacation

BY HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK—(AP)—Every time I go on a vacation I swear I will never come back and resume this mental straightjacket called civilized life.

For if there is anything worse than having no vacation at all it is going back at the end of a vacation.

The only reason I ever want to go back to my desk is to be sure I don't get a new salary, but I put his feet there where mine belong.

My idea of a vacation is to wait until after Labor Day, then go to a beach, lie down and cease from being until September is that, contrary to popular belief, the ocean is warmer then. And there is more sand on the beach than people. Try it some time. In July and August the sand is hot. In September it is in ice cream cone drippings, cigaret stubs and beer bottles.

I found a nice beach on Montauk Point which is as far east as you can go from Broadway without swimming into a British accent.

There I laid me down in the sun and left instructions to be turned over every half hour until the vacation was over.

When I got restless, I just opened one eye and counted fat ladies on the beach until I fell asleep again. I never had to count more than a round dozen.

Whenever the wind blew a discarded newspaper along the beach I would reach out, grab it and read aloud to the "sand dabs" about high forecast prices in America. Most appeals for more work from the comrades, and religious massacres among the Moslems and Sikhs in India.

But the little "sand dabs" paid no attention.

They could not realize how we are all fools of fate in our separate ways. But one of man's feathered friends once expressed that sentiment perfectly. This famous bird was a parrot, a mascot aboard the vessel Elsie Fay. In 1890 the Elsie Fay crashed into the Montauk Rocks and sailors aboard heard above roaring waters and splintering timber the voice of the parrot, croaking philosophically:

"We'll all go to Hell together, boys."

Sure enough the parrot was washed ashore the next day frozen stiff as a hotel mattress.

Louise Overell Takes Stand in Trial for Murder

SANTA ANA, Calif.—(AP)—Louise Overell testified today at her trial on murder charges that she and her co-defendant, George (Bud) Gollum, purchased dynamite at the request of her father, two days before the latter's yacht blew up.

They were charged with killing her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Overell, aboard their yacht in Newport Harbor March 15.

Defense Attorney Otto Jacobs took the witness back to March 14, and she testified that she "ditched a class" at University of California area. The coast from Miami to the north of Palm Beach already is experiencing fresh winds from the storm. Farmers in the Everglades could well begin to look to the safety of livestock, to protect their crops from damage, and other normal preparatory measures. Top Diplomats of World Present

NEW YORK—(AP)—Dr. Oswaldo Aranha, former Foreign Minister of Brazil, today was elected to preside over the critical 1947 session of the United Nations Assembly.

NEW YORK—(AP)—The United Nations Assembly today formally opened its critical 1947 session amid solemn warnings that the growing split between Russia and the Western Powers must be stopped at all costs.

The opening meeting, attended by many of the world's top diplomats including Secretary of State George C. Marshall, was convened by silver-haired Oswaldo Aranha of Brazil, holdover president of the special Palestine session.

The occasion was clouded by last night's angry dispute between Russia and the United States over the Balkan question and by Russia's 19th and 20th vetoes cast in the Security Council on the eve of the Assembly's opening.

The sentiment of many delegates was expressed by Fadhil Jamal, Foreign Minister of Iraq, who said on his arrival:

"I hope the United Nations will be victorious in this crucial meeting. If bad decisions are taken it may mean the defeat of the United Nations."

Jamal did not mention the explosive Palestine problem—which along with the Balkan problem and the big list of vetoes—was on the formidable list of questions that may keep the assembly in session as long as three months.

Among the early arrivals was Marshall, who is personally heading the U. S. delegation. He entered the crowded ante-chamber ahead of Soviet Chief Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky, who got in only this morning on the British liner Queen Elizabeth.

The first of the Queen Elizabeth contingent to be rushed by limousine to the assembly hall at Flushing Meadow Park was Premier Paul-Henri Spaak of Belgium, president of the assembly at its 1946 meetings in London and New York.

Aranha, in opening the session, warned that the world will "organize peace or hasten war" at U. N. Council tables and said "the next ten years may be envisaged as a period of doubts and insecurity."

"Our task," he declared, "narrows down to the question of whether the road will lead to peace or to strife."

Mayor William O'Dwyer, in a speech of welcome, told the delegates the world was looking to the U. N. to guarantee that the world "shall be secure and rational and offer nobler incentives for living to all who inhabit this globe."

After the two formal speeches, Aranha named a special committee to examine the credentials of the delegates and adjourned the brief initial meeting. The assembly was scheduled to meet again this afternoon.

The 55-nation assembly, sometimes called the "town meeting of the world," was summoned to open its second annual session in a flag-bordered hall at Flushing Meadow at 9 a. m. (CST). The first organizational task was election of a president. Most prominently mentioned for the post were Premier

Battle About to Be Joined Over Future of Italy

By DEWITT MACKENZIE AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

As the signs read the battle is about to be joined between the Eastern bloc (headed by Russia) and the Western bloc (led by America) to determine whether Italy shall become another satellite of the Soviet Union or whether she shall be an independent democracy.

It's an ironic circumstance that this fresh start to a treaty which should descend on the beaten and distraught Romans just as the signing of the peace treaty by the Allies formally signaled the end of World War II for Italy.

Stripped of money and territory and what hurts her position as a great power, her government now is facing a fight for its life with a powerful Communist party.

The Allies signed treaties with four other nations besides Italy—Finland, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria. All except Italy already are within the Russian zone of influence. That circumstance isn't a happy omen for Italy. It means that the forthcoming fight between communism and the anti-Red forces is going to be a tough one.

With the hope of forcing the issue in Italy before the Marshall Plan can become effective, the communists are adopting drastic measures. Sunday on the eve of the formal ratification of the Italian peace treaty, Palmiro Togliatti, Russian trained Italian Communist leader, made a bitter speech in which he charged the government with "working eagerly to prepare a new war." He also criticized President Truman and Pope Pius.

A cry of "death to Truman" was voiced by perhaps a dozen of the throng listening to Togliatti's speech.

While this speech was being delivered the Italian government was being torn by labor troubles which Premier Alcide de Gasperi's Christian Democratic party charges were inspired by leftists. Italian harvests were threatened by a strike of 1,000,000 metal workers announced that they would begin a 48 hour strike today.

It is worthy of note that the United States and Britain must withdraw their occupation troops from Italy within ninety days of the signing of the peace treaty, thus leaving the government to look after itself. Moreover Moscow has let it be known that there is a Molotov rehabilitation plan ready for the relief of those who desire it. This is bolstered by announcement of a bumper Russian grain harvest—the Soviet Union being virtually the only area in all Europe where crops have not been bad or been bad. The world has gone out that Russia will be able to provide bread for the needy.

Bill Crall Dies At Mayo Clinic

William R. (Bill) Crall, formerly co-owner of the Terrace Club with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Mayo, died at 3 yesterday afternoon at the Mayo Clinic, Rochester, following an illness of about one month. He was flown to Rochester a week ago after having been confined to the Worley Hospital for 10 days. He had contracted pneumonia and complications set in.

Bill was the husband of Irma Francis, well known in this community for her singing on the local radio and at dances and other social functions. They have one child, Irma Jean, 11 years old.

Mr. Crall about 36, was connected with Pratt-Whitney, airplane manufacturers, during the war. Quite an airplane enthusiast, he served as an expert to work with the armed forces air arm. For the past seven months of his two-year residence in Rochester, he has been engaged in the sale of a piece of oil field equipment which he himself had invented. He sold his interest in the Crill some time ago.

Mrs. Crall and her friend, Mrs. Chick Hickman of this city, were returning to Pampa today to get the daughter, who will then leave for Wyoming, where the husband and father will be buried. He was a native of that state.

Yankees Clinch American League Championship; 15th in 27 Years

By The Associated Press
The New York Yankees were receiving congratulations today for having won their 15th flag in the last 27 years. Indications are that the new American League champions will shortly have a National League partner in the pennant celebration in the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Yankees clinched their championship yesterday without lifting a bat. The assurance of mathematical certainty came when the Chicago White Sox defeated the Boston Red Sox 6-3 in the first game of a double header.

The Dodgers' clinching date should come before the end of the week. Leading the fast fading St. Louis Cardinals by seven and a half games, the Braves need only any combination of six victories or Redbirds defeats to earn the right to face the Yankees in the World Series.

The Yankees actually won the pennant while they were sitting in the club house. Early afternoon rains made it impossible to play their scheduled game against the St. Louis Browns.

After the opener, the Red Sox came back to trip the White Sox 7-2 in the second game of the double header.

The Tigers increased their second place lead over the Red Sox to a full game when they whipped the Senators 7-2 in a night game in Washington.

The Cards lost another half game to the Dodgers when they were beaten for the second straight time by the New York Giants in St. Louis 10-5.

Ramsdell Pitches Ft. Worth 3 to 1 Win Over Rebels

By The Associated Press
Fort Worth and Dallas tangle in the final game of their Texas League Shaugnessy playoff series tonight, all square with three victories each.

Big Willard Ramsdell pitched the Cubs into a tie with Dallas last night, fanning pinchhitter Hank Oena with the tying runs on base in the ninth inning to give Fort Worth a 3-1 decision.

Ramsdell—who won 21 games during the regular season—yielded seven hits during the game but was tight in the pinches.

The winner of tonight's game will meet Houston—winner over Tulsa—in the championship round.

The second largest crowd of the year—13,146—saw Fort Worth score in the fourth when Irving Noren singled, moved to second on a sacrifice and scored on Johnny's Lipon's two base error.

A. Brancato singled across two runs in the sixth after Ferrell Anderson singled. Toby Atwell reached base on a fielder's choice and Lester Burge sacrificed.

Opening Games Loom Ahead for SWC Gridgers

By The Associated Press
Southwest Conference football teams were reduced to one practice session daily as opening games loomed for some this weekend.

Arkansas' co-champion Razorbacks went through a long defensive session yesterday, stressing pass blocking.

Baylor's Bears went through their first night workout last night. Coach Bob Woodruff working on offense.

Texas lost a two-year letterman tackle when it was disclosed Jerry McCauley had broken a leg in Saturday's game scrimmage. Ben Proctor, promising sophomore end, has dropped out for a knee operation.

The Longhorns went through a stiff three-hour workout yesterday, most of it spent in contact work.

Improved physical condition of the Texas Christian Horned Frogs pleased Coach Dutch Meyer. Only two Frogs are apt to miss Saturday's opener with Kansas. They are Jim Lucas and Scotty Rainey, both backs.

Injuries cut into Texas A&M. Tackle Max Greiner, Center Richard Callender, Guards Odell Stearns and Joe Saera and Tackle Marion Stappert are nursing injuries.

Southern Methodist University brushed up on its defense yesterday. Most of the squad was in good physical condition.

Texas opens against Texas Tech Saturday. Baylor against Stephen F. Austin Friday night, A&M against Southwestern University Friday and Arkansas against Northwest Louisiana State Saturday.

Local Jaycee Softball Team to Meet Berger Team Tomorrow Night

More Experience, Power, and Better Passing---That's TCU

FORT WORTH, Texas—(AP)—More experience, more power and better passing make Texas Christian University's Horned Frogs something to worry about in the upcoming Southwest Conference football race.

Coach Hutch Meyer has a gleam in his eye when he talks about his big line which he says will be as good as they come. He has a flock of little fellows with big passing arms and he has the big backs to jar opposing forward walls out of their sockets.

The big trouble is that they're not as many as ordinarily necessary to start thinking about a conference championship. Particularly is this true in the line.

Anyway, Texas Christian soon will find out if the added power, experience and improved offense is in line with gains made by other college teams in the country. Saturday night the Frogs play Kansas, favorite in the Big Six Conference race, at Kansas City. This game is one that will find Kansas going all out. The Jayhawks haven't yet been able to beat the Frogs and they're a little tired of it.

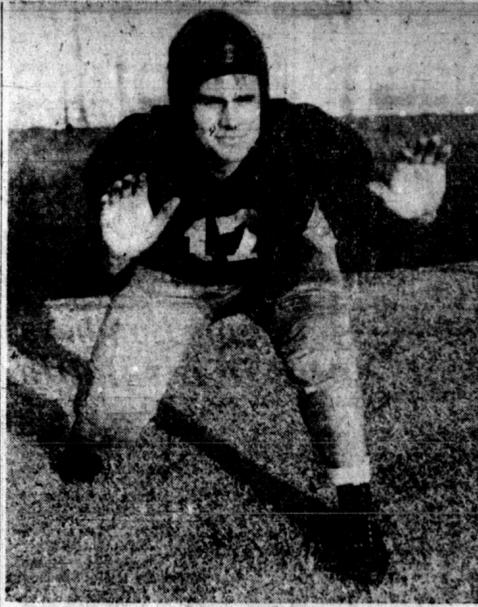

All of TCU's losses from last year were in the line. The ones that hurt the most were Dick Lipscomb, end, and Hubert Eoff, tackle, who became scholastically ineligible. This is one reason the line reserve strength is considered too thin.

The return of Johnnie Sherrod has boosted Frog hopes more than anything else. Sherrod was a crack passer back in 1944 before he left for the service. He has lost none of his effectiveness. He steps in as the No. 1 tailback in Meyer's offense.

Sherrod is the only member of the starting team without a letter. He would have made it in 1944, however, if he hadn't left so soon.

Others due to be in the line-up when the Frogs take the field against Kansas are George Boal and Morris Bailey, ends; Weldon Edwards, all-conference last season, and George Brown, tackles; Clifton Caffey and Alan Pike, guards; Douglas Brightwell, center; Dave Knight, blocking back; Tom Bishop, wingback, and Pete Stout, fullback.

"We'll be tough for anybody and you might look for some surprises," warned Meyer. "He no doubt was thinking of when the Frogs won only two games but one of those victories was over Texas, the favorite that didn't even gain a tie for the championship all because of Texas Christian."

ROLLO PHILLIPS

The WAY it LOOKS to Bill Behrman

We are indebted to A. J. Perry, of Atlanta, who was stationed at Pampa Army Air Base, for sending us the following information about Rollo Phillips, ex-Harvester lineman during the days of Ex-Green and Gold mentor "Buck" Pre-Jean.

Phillips, a quiet and studious native of Pampa has been elected alternate captain of the Georgia Tech power-laden Jackets. He will alternate to Tech's Bill "The Moose" Healey who is currently being boomed by Southern sports writers as one of the best linemen in the country.

Enrolled in Texas A and M before the war, Phillips went to Tech in the Marine training program. He lettered there in 1943 and 1944. Phillips foiled with General MacArthur's GHQ in the Pacific during his Army career.

Coach Robert Lee Dodd said of the unit (Healey and Phillips): "I believe the folks will remember Healey as one of Tech's greatest captains and Phillips will back him up. They're tops."

From the University of Texas, Longhorn Camp comes word that Randall Clay, ex-Harvester backfield star, was a "pillar of defense" in an intrasquad game played in Memorial Stadium at Austin Saturday. This exhibition eliminated the first two weeks of football drills for the Longhorns.

The Associated Press reports the sale of Virgil Richardson, Oiler first baseman during the 1946 baseball season and a member of this year's Lubbock Hubber team to the Dallas Red Sox. Richardson hit 21 homers and knocked in 86 runs in 85 games for the Hubbers. Included in the sale was Lubbock catcher "Mike" Dooley, who hit 32,2, clouted 18 home runs and stole 20 bases, this season.

Average Age of TCU Varsity, 21 Years

FORT WORTH—The average varsity football player at Texas Christian University is 21 years old, 6 feet tall, weighs 190 pounds, is a high Sophomore, and lives in Texas.

Twenty-nine of the 49 men on the varsity are OI's. Twenty-two of them are lettermen. Sixteen have one letter, five have two varsity awards, and one—Tackle John Cooke of Dallas—has earned his "T" three seasons.

Heaviest man on the Frog squad is Sophomore Don Narrell, 239-pound tackle from Lorraine; lightest is Senior Carl Knox, 130-pound tailback from Arlington.

Nolan Weeks, Sophomore end from Fort Worth, is the tallest, Frog, towering 6 feet, 5 inches. Ninety of the players are only 18 years old; three are 25.

Four of the T. C. U. squad are married—Capt. Clifton Caffey, guard, Colorado City; Otis McKelvey, back, Odessa; Alan Pike, guard, San Angelo; and Pete Stout, back, Throckmorton.

Lubbock and Amarillo square off tonight at Lubbock in the opening game of the West Texas-New Mexico League's championship round.

Amarillo advanced to the final round with a 16-5 victory over Albuquerque last night, winning the series, four games to two.

Big Joe Bauman paced a 16-hit Amarillo attack, pounding out two home runs, two singles and a double in five times at bat. Don Elias and Bobby Decker also hit home runs for the Gold Sox.

Albuquerque scored single runs in the second and third innings and staged a three-run outburst in the eighth.

The first two games of the final playoff series will be at Lubbock, with the next three slated for Amarillo. If the final two games are needed they will be played at Lubbock.

Bill Lonergan will start for Amarillo tonight, with Paul Hirschler expected on the mound for Lubbock.

Local Jaycee Softball Team to Meet Berger Team Tomorrow Night

The local Jaycees downed the Rotary Club and Lions Club, last week to emerge, what might be called in Jaycee circles, undisputed softball champions of the civic clubs in Pampa.

N. Carolina State To Continue Drills During Quarantine

RALEIGH, N. C.—(AP)—Coach Peattie Feathered said today that his North Carolina State football squad would continue its regular practice routine although quarantined for infantile paralysis until Sept. 20.

The quarantine was announced yesterday by Dr. A. C. Bulla, Wake County health officer, after the illness of Don McCormick, 20-year-old Freshman blocking back from Greensboro, was diagnosed as an "acute case" of polio.

Dr. Carl V. Reynolds, state health officer, issued a statement strongly advising those who had been exposed not to take strenuous exercise.

However, J. L. Von Glahn, director of athletics for the school, said that school officials had conferred with several medical authorities who have advised us that exercise would not make a person more likely to contract the disease if he didn't have it already.

North Carolina State is scheduled to play Duke, Sept. 27, in an important Southern Conference engagement.

Sports Round-Up

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.
NEW YORK—(AP)—Now that the Yankees are "in" and the Dodgers are close to clinching the pennant, baseball experts are beginning to point out that the "old" Cardinal machine which won four pennants in the past five years is beginning to come apart at the seams—perhaps a few stitches are popping, but if the Cardinals are old, how do you account for the Yankees' easy triumph—Leaving out Joe Gaydos and the late-arriving Nippy Jones, the Cards' regular lineup averages something under 30 years in age. The Yankee regulars, when Yogi Berra isn't there, average around 31.—To get an average age on the Brooklyn team probably would require the services of Branch Rickey's private statistician. They have some old guys like Dixie Walker, Hugh Casey and Eddie Stanky, and an apparently inexhaustible supply of good young players to put in when they're needed.

SHORTS AND SHELLS
The Texas football team, which looked good enough with Bobby Layne in there, provided two pleasant surprises for Coach Blair Cherry in Ray Borenman and H. J. (Bubba) Shands—Neither has had any varsity experience, but they played service football—Leon Bernstein, the St. Louis boxing promoter, says he will offer Willie Pep $25,000 to box Charley Riley for the featherweight title at St. Louis in November.

FAMOUS NAMES
Checking up on the celebrated names in baseball's Hall of Fame, Ernie Lanigan reports that Eddie Collins broke into pro baseball under the name "Sullivan." Lou Gehrig was "Lewis" and Mickey Cochrane was "King"—The same name that Hoe Medwick used when he first turned pro.

The Burden of Proof Lies With Russians

With more than 60 major issues now facing the United Nations as its General Assembly goes into session this week, the world might well take a grim view of the whole situation. And matters are no more rose when it is noted that all of those issues are of the world-slaking variety.

Perhaps that is more reason for the world to read what was said Sunday by Secretary of State Marshall in regard to the prolific use of the veto in the Security Council by Russia. While civilization is not completely unstrung by disappointments of recent months, it certainly has an advanced case of frayed nerves.

Marshall said: "We find it difficult to believe that members of the organization would deliberately seek to destroy its structure by obstructing in acts of aggression or by obstruction of a nature to paralyze the principal organs of the organization."

George Catlett Marshall, east in the common parlance of America, indeed finds it difficult to have such belief, but he is no doubt being convinced.

John Foster Dulles, member of the U. S. delegation to the Assembly, added a word—likewise typically American: "It was never expected that the Security Council could act decisively when great powers were on opposite sides. It was expected that, even under these conditions, the U. N. could work for peace by requiring every nation, however powerful, to submit to a public judgement which none could veto—for it would be the conscience of the world."

Both, needless to say, had Russia in mind. But we wonder if Russia minds. We wonder if Russia minds, for instance, if Marshall finds it morally difficult to face a bare fact; we wonder if Russia is concerned about "the conscience of the world." We think Russia, being what she is, is oblivious to such abstractions as "the conscience of the world." If the Kremlin has any more of the kind of notions about her own people—shoot them down en masse if they deviate from the Communist path—then she certainly will not be circumspect as to her attitude toward the rest of the world.

Russian leaders probably know that the world is not going to start shooting because of moral indignation—and shooting is the only language that is translatable in Russia.

We, of course, could be wrong in our assessment of the Russian "conscience," but the Russians themselves will have to prove it. For months on end, the Pampa News newspaper tried to defend the Russian position by declaring our own failure to understand her. But that is old stuff.

The burden of proof now lies with the Russians.

In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (NEA)—Hollywood still is in a panic over the 75 percent British film tax (a 30 percent loss in revenue).

Moviegoers are in a panic over the thought of a lot of cheap movies from Hollywood in the next 12 months.

Fashion designers are "battling over the 'New Look' with prizes going up and hemlines going down. Many veterans received their terminal leave money and immediately spent it. A lot of people think there will be a third World War.

So today there will be only laughs in this column. (I hope). Frank Whitebeck, M-G-M's studio advertising manager, received a letter from an M-G-M manager in Arabia after a showing of Esther Williams in "Bathing Beauty." All the sheiks except two were sitting quietly looking at the film. But the two exceptions were causing a disturbance.

Every time Esther appeared on the screen, they would throw up their hands, shake their heads and wail. The manager finally went down to their seats and asked what troubled them.

"Oh, oh, oh," they moaned. "We sit here. We look up there and then—we think about our wives."

Steve Cochran was doing a perfect imitation of his boss, Sam Goldwyn, while Goldwyn looked on and laughed. Said Sam: "He sounds more like me than I do."

During a lull in the filming of "The Red Pony," Director Lewis Milestone told Myrna Loy and Bob Mitchum the following story:

Some years ago, he was directing a picture titled "The Captain Hates the Sea," for Harry Cohn at Columbia. Much of the picture was being filmed on location at the docks in San Francisco, and Milestone was way over schedule. What with foggy weather and a couple of players who insisted on being drunk constantly and holding up production, Cohn finally could stand it no longer and sent Milestone a telegram reading:

"The cost is staggering."
"So is the cast."

BREAK UP—Josef Stalin's break-up of the Army High Command that crushed Hitler on the eastern front mystifies many foreign observers as completely as does his baffling management of diplomatic, political and economic affairs. But the dismissal, death and exile of this great military leader is understandable to the U. S. officers who soldiered with him.

As Pegler Sees It

By WESTBROOK PEGLER
(Copyright, 1947)
NEW YORK—Robert E. Stripling, who comes from San Augustine, Tex., is the communism, we have in practice on communism, Communists, trojan horse and applied politics and criminal subjects. He is not a Marxist scholar in his own right but he has had so much symposium work so to speak with most of their greatest obfuscationists that he can fancy on dig in and sing and chase them right out of the building. He doesn't bar anyone—playwrights, unioners, actors or lawyers. Any rules or tomcat style. It is all the same to him.

Stripling is the chief investigator for the Committee on Un-American Activities of House of Representatives. There is no permanent committee. Back in 1934 and 1935 there was a special committee of which John McCormack of Mass. the majority leader until the election of last fall, was chairman. McCormack turned the committee over to Sam Dickstein, a New York Tammany-New Dealer, who came up openly anti-Semitic, anyone who was openly anti-Semitic was a Nazi, but he didn't exert himself much over communism. Doc J. B. Matthews, the backslid bolo together and picked him. In several volumes of testimony and other evidence bequeathed to the Dies Committee, there were only a few pages of material concerning the Communist teacher. So when the House was fixing to select a new committee, John Garner, being an old-time Owen Wister American, wanted a different type of chairman.

Martin Dies, a Texas congressman, had been viewing the sit-down strikes with alarm; so Garner and a couple of other Deep South chev-tobacco Democrats, got together and hollered began from New York. Dickstein didn't even get a place on the Dies Committee.

Dies had no experience, but he learned fast and he had the luck to get Doc Matthews for his chief investigator and examiner. When the big Communists came in, or the little sneaks who pose as philanthropists and liberals and run Mrs. Roosevelt's kind of meetings, Doc Matthews knew them personally and knew their records. He could talk to them as a Dutch uncle.

The Dies Committee proved that the Communists had collected American money in Berlin and shoved it in the United States; that they had deliberately debauched American youth, girls and boys, by teaching them that our old-style morality was capitalism plot to make them conform and to deny them life; that the whole Communist movement was a plot by the Russian government, including Stalin, Molotov and all those with whom we have been trying to do business in good faith, to destroy our nation.

For that, all connected with the committee took a great deal of abuse. They were soon hot Reds in the Newspaper Guild at the time and some of them managed to get on the story of the Dies Committee's hearings. Heywood Brown, the president of the Guild, wrote that Matthews had made a dramatic charge that little Shirley Temple, who was just a kid then and the innocent darling of the civilized world, was a Communist. He was just a liar, that is all. Matthews didn't say anything of the kind and he didn't raise his voice. All he said was that a bunch of Communists had induced the kid's managers to let her use her name in a message congratulating a Communist paper in Paris on its first anniversary.

That was the kind of press the Dies Committee got, right along. Dies had brought Stripling up from Texas for a patronage job as assistant sergeant-at-arms of the House. Now he took him along to the Dies Committee as assistant clerk, another country-boy job. Stripling worked along under Matthews, learning more about Communists every day, and developing skill as an investigator which is not so much a Sherlock Holmes job as a matter of knowing where to look for records and where to drop the subpoena, diligence, intelligence and courage. The Dies Committee expired in December, 1944, and Congressmen John S. Wood, of Georgia, and John B. Rankin, of Mississippi, ran the new one. They made a poor job of it. One reason was that a campaign of political spite had been started over the radio on national hookups on Sunday nights to drive Stripling into the army. He was one of those pre-Pearl Harbor fathers and thousands of union racketeers and saboteurs were being deferred; but finally Stripling was taken when the committee needed him. He was a yard-bird. Commanding officers knew he was politically hot and the Roosevelt influence was so strong against him in the War Department that he could not even get attached to the company. He was a homeless orphan, casually picking up cigarette orators argued that the statute was recited even against "the tyranny and domination" to use their own slogans, of well-paid leaders at Washington and elsewhere. They mean to use this angle in all future campaigns.

THE "CAMEL" METHOD
Once the camel gets his head into the tent, the soon has his entire body inside, and old legends itself to some modern applications, but it fits none better than the current English situation. Socialism is indeed like the camel; it does not stop at part-way measures. To put it into a good old Southern expression, it's simply "whole hawg or nuthin'."

A striking feature of the British "Crisis Bill" which recently became law in that country, was a clause giving government the authority to take possession of any industry which might be pronounced inefficiently managed. Actually, what this means is that "no industry in England is safe from government confiscation. The threat will always be present, for the excuse of "inefficiency" could be trumped up at any time.

INVADE THE TENT
Twenty years I have contended, in this column and in public addresses, that no country could operate successfully with a "half-and-half" economy. If it's partly government and partly private enterprise, pretty soon Socialistic schemes find excuse to invade and take over. The present English government is proving my contention. It's the old "camel" process. The threat is a country that long has been known for devotion to the freedom of individuals. Yet, within two years after she started her program nationalizing the major industries, it was necessary to pass a law giving the government power to seize any industry it may choose on the excuse of "inefficiency." There's a lot of leeway there. An industry that came under the control of the government from the viewpoint of production, or even from the viewpoint of non-cooperation with the government.

CAMEL BECOMES BOSS
Another striking feature of the crisis bill is reported by Associated Press, was that it gave the government power to tell both men and women where to work and what to do. This includes women from 18 to 40 years of age who have no children under 16, and men from 18 to 50 years of age. This loss of freedom of individuals has been unthought-of heretofore in English speaking countries.

What does this measure mean? It means that no privately-owned industry is at liberty to hire men under the age of 50, or women under the age of 40, without the government employment agency. It means that any woman under 40, unless she is the mother of small children, may be told where to go and what to do. All men between the ages of 18 and 50 may be told where to work and what jobs to take.

CONTROL THE BEAST
It is my earnest conviction that England avoided this conception of her industry and her people just as long as possible. These steps must have been taken reluctantly, for she long has championed all freedoms that we hold dear. There is only one conclusion to be drawn: these dangerous and drastic steps cannot be avoided under a government managed economy. Once the camel's head is in, there's no keeping him out.

Every free American must take this as a warning. If we want freedom to work at the job we choose, where we choose, and to bargain for our wages, then we do not want a government managed economy. If we want the right to own property and to operate a business for what profit there is in it, then we must stay shy of government managed economy. The British experience tells the story.

Then he suddenly was recognized as an expert, rated up to master sergeant, and he was set up and taught a course on subversive activities at Camp Holabird, near Washington. Roosevelt was dead now and Eleanor the Great had lost most of her old power. So for the first time, it was permissible to teach American soldiers how to detect and thwart Communists.

You will never know what dirty tricks the New Deal resorted to, but it was a sample. Stripling's commanding officer wrote the War Department that he ought to be discharged, but added that if he were there would undoubtedly be a loud clamor of propaganda from his enemies. Therefore, Stripling had to stick it out until he was automatically discharged by law after 18 months. The new Committee on Un-American Activities hired him as chief investigator right away, and he was in charge of the recent proceedings which sent another bunch of Communists to prison. He got the evidence.

J. Parnell Thomas, of New Jersey, the new chairman, let his chief investigator run most of the proceedings. You saw what happened when Senator Brewster of Maine, got smart and relieved his pitcher in the Howard Hughes investigation. He got his ears pinned back. But the Communists have never pinched Stripling's ears. He has a wonderful mind for names, titles, associations and that sort of thing. He doesn't forget. He and Matthews before him, connected and served so that no row nobody can steal or subpoena or burn it, the greatest directory of Communists and such traitors and the titles of their fronts, in all the world. All this was done against the nation's opposition, ridicule, scurrility and organized slanders. Eleanor the Great once showed up at some committee hearings for the plain purpose of giving aid and comfort to a bunch of impudent young Reds and fellow travelers.

It was hard to tell which was swan. Afterward, she took a crowd of them to the White House. When we got into the war, all hell was raised at the Navy office in New York because one of her proteges had been turned down for a fee commission as a lieutenant.

All told, the Committee on Un-American Activities has been a great asset. Its evil reputation, which one day will be repealed, has been the product of a propaganda machine operated by enemies of the United States to discredit the committee's denunciation of themselves.
