East Texas Congressman Indicted In Land Graft

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Ten-term Congressman John Dow, a Democrat from rural D-Mass., for mail fraud. Dow is the first congressman to be indicted since 1962 when Reps. Thomas F. Johnson of Maryland and Frank W. Boyer of Missouri, both Democrats, were accused of trying to influence the Justice Department to drop an indictment against a Maryland home improvement developer. Dow is accused of accepting $25,000 from a Maryland grand jury. Dow, 58, a former state district attorney from Athens, Tex., promptly denied the charges said he was "absolutely not guilty of any wrong doing" and suggested "enemies" might be to blame. Accepting the money in payment in 1965 for efforts to get Dow's name on a ballot. Conen, former

ATHENS, Tex. (UPI) — East Texas is more than a geographical name. It is a state of mind. Where West Texas is associated with the ranches where Dallas is associated with the conglomerates and banking, where Houston is associated with chemicals and space projects, East Texas is seen as the pine woods, the bayou water. It is more the Old South than the emerging Southwest. The voting patterns of the eight Texas states of Arkansas and Louisiana are closer to the rest of Texas. The state went for former Vice President Hubert Humphrey in the 1968 elections. East Texas voted solidly for former Alabama Gov. George C. Wallace. TAKED, Cambodia (UPI) — Government officials in this southern province say Cambodian troops shot and killed 100 persons Sunday and Monday in quelling rioters backing the return of Prince Norodom Sihanouk. Another 111 Cambodians were said to have been wounded in the bursts of gunfire in the towns of Prey Sandek and Ang Tasson, both about 70 miles south of Phnom Penh. "I told them 'You can make demonstrations all you want as long as you don't damage public buildings . . . if you do, I'll shoot,'" Tum Sun-Heng, 40, a provincial official, said he told rioters. Another official said at least 2,000 persons, believed led by Viet Cong troops, took part in the first riot Sunday at Ang Tasson, breaking into district headquarters, smashing furniture and burning records. An estimated 50 police and soldiers were said to have fired into the crowd twice. A government official who is used to be identified said he counted 65 dead and 78 wounded. The following morning an estimated 200 persons marched from Prey Sandek about 22 miles north of South Vietnam's Chau Thue Province and chanted "Give La Sihanouk." Armed with machetes and knives they forced villagers to hang portraits of the deposed leader. According to the subprefect of the district, the mob pressed toward a barracks outside government offices and "used to listen to reason" when they were told to disperse. D. Whatever the outcome Dowdy's name will appear on the ballot in the November election for the 2nd District of Texas. He was the only candidate to meet the February filing date from either party. Texas law permits write-ins on ballots. "I have fought crime both in Texas and in the District of Columbia," said Dowdy, chairman of the special select committee of the District of Columbia County. "Of course I have incurred powerful and influential enemies in the District of Columbia and it is my considered opinion they will do anything to smear me."

Faces Re-election
Dowdy is up for re-election his year, as are all House members. He is running unopposed in the May 2 Democratic primary. No Republican decided to challenge Dowdy's place. The deadline for filing for election is passed. Write-in votes are permitted in Texas. But these folks still want Dowdy.
"I consider him an honest and a conscientious man," said Athens Mayor Jess J. Sweetan. "It is hard for me to believe something like this. John is a good Christian man. He takes an active part in churches. Naturally I don't believe this."
Dowdy maintains a law office in Athens. "Oh, I might have tried a divorce case or something," he once said, but he has no partners. He is frequently seen around Athens, returning home from Washington every few months.

1969 License Tags Are Out Of Style

Police Chief Jim Connor said today any vehicle not displaying the 1970 license plates after midnight tonight would be in violation of state law and the owners of such vehicles would be issued citations by police.
Connor pointed out merely purchasing the tags would not fulfill the requirements of the law.
"Tags must be displayed on the vehicle, not laying in the back seat or in the owner's home," he stated.
Connor also pointed out persons with more than one car should take care in getting the right plates on the right vehicle.
County Tax Assessor Jack Back said this morning license plate sales have been going well in Gray County.

Commissioners Do Business In Short Order

Gray County Commissioners this morning approved the distribution of taxes to six county funds.
From the $125 tax rate the commission voted 59 cents for the general fund; one cent for the jury fund; 15 cents for roads and bridges; 30 cents for farm to market and lateral roads; six cents for airport interest and sinking; and 14 cents for hospital interest and sinking.
Commissioners also approved the transfer of an undisclosed amount from the general fund to the library fund.
The county law library has $1,000 in bills and only $400 in the fund.
In other business, the commissioners approved a five-year lease on an airport lot at Perry LeFors Field leased by Stanley D. Young.
In attendance at the 30-minute meeting was George Thompson, candidate for precinct two commissioner.

Car Jumps Curb, Hits Another

An accident shortly before noon Tuesday caused an estimated $400 in damages to the vehicles involved.
Police said Mrs. Marolan Truman Bradley, 17, 405 Doucette St., was driving north on Huff Road when her car jumped the curb and hit a parked car owned by Jessie Owiand Terry, 1013 Huff Rd.
Damages to Mrs. Bradley's car were estimated at $175. The parked car received damages estimated at $225.
Police cited Mrs. Bradley for failing to control speed to avoid an accident.

New Ordinance Goes Into Effect Today

A recently passed city ordinance became effective today. It allows only one hour parking in East Kingsmill and East Foster streets, between Marie and Warren streets, from 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m.
The ordinance was passed because residents in the area are complaining that employees at a nearby manufacturing company were parking all day in front of private homes.
Police said illegally parked cars would be given tickets beginning today.

PENSIVE PAMPANS are pouring over the 1970 Census form, as Mrs. Bill Baten, 2228 Dogwood is pictured getting ready for the call of the enumerator who will be around sometime during the next two weeks. More than 11,000 census forms were mailed out to residents of Pampa and vicinity. (Staff Photo)

Pampans Take Pen In Hand To Comply With '70 Census

By BEN KECK
News Staff Writer
Indications that census takers may meet with what can best be described as "grumbling" became apparent Tuesday when the results of a random telephone survey were compiled.
The survey, conducted by the Pampa Daily News, showed that a large number of Pampa residents had answered the questions on their census forms, but some of them thought Uncle Sam was being a little too "nosy."
"Some of the questions are nobody's business," said one housewife, "but if they want to ask them, I'll answer them."
Mrs. John F. Roberts, 2144 Chestnut, said that she didn't see what her monthly rent payments had to do with the number of people in the world.
"Frankly, that kind of thing is none of their business," she said.
"It seems they could count noses without going into so much of your private life," said Mrs. F. I. Green, 805 N. Russell.
One housewife said her husband filled out their census questionnaire. "He said there were things on there that were our business and no one else's," she said.
However, not all Pampans were quite so disturbed by the once-in-a-decade head count.
"I answered all the questions," said Mrs. A.L. Patton, 921 S. Banks. "There is nothing secret about me."
Mrs. Patton also had some comment on certain individuals who think the census is an invasion of privacy and advocate tearing up the census forms.
"There are too many people trying to tear up the world today," she said. "If the government needs the information to make the world a better place, I see nothing wrong with it."
Mrs. L. B. Paden, 2017 Mary Ellen, said that she believes that the government knows what it's doing.
"I think we should try to cooperate," she said.
The census enumerators began making their rounds today, and according to Mrs. Dorothy Miller, area crew leader, it will take them about two weeks to complete the head count in the Pampa vicinity.
While the head counters may encounter some opposition, at least one Pampa resident will be glad to cooperate.
"I want my nose counted," said Mrs. W.F. Green, 1818 Williston.

City Patrolman Rates Pat On Back For Humanitarianism

By TEX DEWESE
News Staff Writer
Mayors and city managers are not too accustomed to having nice things said about their policemen. That's why Mayor Milo Carlson and City Manager Charles Hill are proud of a letter from a Pampa citizen who found a city patrolman deserving of praise.
"We usually get the complaints," City Manager Hill said today, "but hear very little about the good things accomplished by police every day."
The letter, turned over to the city manager by Mayor Carlson, was from the Rev. Martin Hager, pastor of First United Presbyterian Church.
"Most of us are quick to criticize public services, slow to give our active support when it's needed, and equally slow to commend public servants when they deserve it," Rev. Hager wrote.
Specifically, the churchman's letter referred to Patrolman Joe Brewer's handling of an accident in which one of the Presbyterian Church-sponsored refugees was involved in an accident.
The Rev. Mr. Hager's letter says in part:
"Mostly because of his inability to speak English and his understandable insecurity as a foreigner in a new land, he failed to take some legal steps that all of us 'natives' take for granted."
"Involved in the case was Officer Joe Brewer who worked closely with me on it. I was impressed by many things: first of all, Officer Brewer's genuine concern for human beings, his ability to deal with people with respect and appreciation; secondly his dedication to the highest standards of his profession, his willingness to make himself and his feelings subject to the law."
The refugee involved in the case, Rev. Hager pointed out in the letter, knows full well the abuse of police powers in his native Hungary and has gained a positive impression through his experience.
"All of this made me very proud of the Pampa police department," the letter continued. "Just as long as we are privileged to be served by men of Officer Brewer's stature who justly deserves the title 'peacemaker,' we can be sure Pampa will continue to express the American ideal in law enforcement."

Longfellow's Ancient Elm Disease Victim

PORTLAND, Maine (UPI)—An ancient elm once the backyard companion of a young Henry Wadsworth Longfellow, will fall to a chainsaw this weekend.
A fixture in the yard of the Wadsworth-Longfellow home for nearly two centuries, the tree has fallen victim to Dutch elm disease.
The elm was planted by the poet's grandfather, General Peleg Wadsworth, shortly after the three-story brick house was built in 1786. Wadsworth was born in 1807.

It's a little unusual for the "boss" to get out in the field and do the detail work usually done by his employees.
But that's what happened several days ago when the City Water Department came up short on meter readers and got behind in its work because of bad weather conditions.
It was learned today, that in order to catch up and get the department back on schedule in its cycle billing of statements to water customers, three City Hall department heads spent Saturday and Sunday reading meters.

Groom Jaycees Are Organized

(GROOM) (sp) — Bobby Walker was named president of the newly-organized Jaycees. Mr. Parks died Tuesday at Highland General Hospital.
He was born Aug. 22, 1909, at Dombay, Okla., and moved to Pampa in 1947 from Tyrone, Okla. He was employed with the city Fire Department several years and was later employed at the Post Office for 23 years until he retired in May 1967. A veteran of World War II, he was a member of First Christian Church of Pampa.
Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Lessie Parks of the home; two sons, Karl, Pampa, and J.V. Pampa, two step children, Clarence Horton, Pampa, and Mrs. Alice Haneman, Garden Grove, Calif., and 10 grandchildren.

Guilty Plea Entered To DWI Charge

In Gray County Court Tuesday, R.H. Lewis of McLean entered a plea of guilty before Judge S.R. Leming Jr. on charges of driving while intoxicated.
Judge Leming fined Lewis $50 plus court costs and handed down a 30-day suspended jail sentence plus six months probation.

NBC-NABET Are At It Again

NEW YORK (UPI)—Negotiations between the NBC Network and the National Association of Broadcast Employees and Technicians (NABET) were due to resume today, hours after the Tuesday-midnight deadline set by the union for a possible strike.
The talks adjourned overnight, but NBC Network said they would resume at 10:30 a.m. today.

Diphtheria Vaccinations Needed

CHICAGO (UPI)—Immunizations of more than 90 per cent of the population probably are needed to prevent community-wide diphtheria in this nation, according to the Journal of the American Medical Association.

The Journal reached that conclusion in its latest issue, released Monday; after a 19-month study conducted in Austin, Tex. The Texas city had 88 diphtheria cases reported in a period from October, 1967, through April, 1969.

Since 1956 when 141 cases of diphtheria were reported in Detroit, the Austin outbreak was the largest in the United States, the magazine said. It said the cases occurred in Austin's poverty areas.

The Journal article said the study revealed less than 70 per cent of Austin's children in the Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—It is a curious period for network television documentaries, which are being buffeted by diverse winds of change.

Outwardly, it might seem rather safe to say that most of today's documentaries are more in the nature of features—in short, on the soft side journalistically.

There can be little doubt that there certainly has been no steady stream of truly hard-nosed documentaries—in the tradition of Edward R. Murrow.

In addition—and not always admirably—feature documentaries like the National Geographic specials keyed the entry of outside entertainment-minded documentary-makers in an even larger way than before.

On the plus side, these nature documentaries have often been informative and brilliantly done.

After all, we have had our supply of hard-nosed documentaries about abortion, and all those programs that worked most of the obvious hard-core subjects into the ground.

However, one must also consider the changing times. Now that most of the obvious subjects are known to young persons, attitude becomes more important. Thus, the new documentaries are more and more concerned with life-styles and film technique as impact, and this is a legitimate reflection of the period—we live in.

Ironically, the ecology movement is almost the perfect video subject in this period of change. It is a subject about which the networks can be positive, about America and offend no one because everyone wants to improve the environment. Also, it concerns life-styles and is a matter for the passions of young and old. It is about nature, and one can be safely hard-nosed.

Still, one yearns for a constant supply of tough documentaries. And it is refreshing to learn that NBC-TV plans to follow up to Murrow's decade-old, classic video expose "Harvest of Shame," about the plight of migrant workers—and how their conditions are virtually unchanged. Chet Huntley will be the reporter, and Martin Carr, who guided the noteworthy 1968 documentary "Hunger in America," will be the producer and director.

Washington Window

By RAYMOND LAHR

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Republican national party organization is asking its corps of campaign workers to follow advice attributed to Abraham Lincoln in 1840.

"Make a perfect list of all the voters and ascertain with certainty for whom they will vote."

The GOP is not asking for perfection. It is asking county chairmen and precinct captains to classify 80 per cent of the voting age residents by name and party preference, then getting at least 80 per cent of the probable Republican voters registered.

Campaign Manuals

Lincoln's advice and much more is contained in 6,000 campaign manuals being prepared and circulated by the national party organization to county chairmen and vice chairmen in all 50 states. A separate manual goes to party leaders in the precincts.

The books are custom written and printed to fit the political laws and language of each of the 50 states with their varying deadlines for voter registration and candidate filing.

The "Mission 70" project indicates that attention to the nuts and bolts of campaign organization did not vanish from the GOP national headquarters with the retirement a year ago of Chairman Ray C. Bliss.

His successor, Rep. Rogers C. B. Morton of Maryland, serves as a spokesman for the Nixon administration. But he also budgeted $250,000 this year for building the party organization at the local and state level.

The operations plan will be presented to state and county chairmen of 27 states by the end of April and of all 50 states by about July 1. One objective is to enable county chairmen with limited political experience to get an early start.

A county chairman who follows the book will set up a candidate recruitment committee to check qualifications of candidates.

Set Priorities

He will set priorities for target offices and submit a progress report and final report on candidates to the Republican state headquarters.

The chairmen will see that all precincts have chairmen, too, and calculate the requirements for volunteers.

IS NO CASTLE

DENVER (UPI)—A convict's cell is not his castle, the Colorado Supreme Court ruled Monday. No warrant is required to search it.

"To say that a public jail is the equivalent of a man's house or that it is a place where he can claim constitutional immunity from search or seizure of this person, his papers or his effects, is at best a novel argument," the court said.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Mine is probably the best reason in the world for sending you the enclosed note, and asking you to please publish it in your widely read column. I pray that it will be read by many young people who are tempted to try drugs. The facts are as follows:

Last month, a railroad employee found the body of a well-dressed youth in an abandoned boxcar behind the Union Pacific depot in Tacoma, Wash. Police were called and the victim was identified as a 20-year-old youth whose parents live in a Tacoma suburb. In his pocket was an empty pill bottle. In his hand was the following suicide note: "Dear Father: "I think you know the reason I've done this. Dope ruined my life and took away my happiness forever. I could never live in the state of mind I was in. "Please don't hate me too much for what I've done. I thought I found truth in what I was doing, experiencing life. But I found out it was death I was tripping on. "Dad, I hope to find happiness now even though I know I destroyed my life and others with it. "I hope to God people taking done find what I found in it sooner than I did. "Good-by, father and love. YOUR SON, RICKY"

DEAR ABBY: This is my first year living away from home. (I am at college). My problem is my roommate. I have never met such a maladjusted person in my whole life. I just do not know how to cope with her. She is a senior and is majoring in psychology. She told me she became interested in the subject following her nervous breakdown. (I think she is driving me to one.)

She is forever washing something. She has a habit of washing her hands every five minutes. I'm not putting you on, Abby. She even stops sorting laundry to wash her hands! She's engaged to a high school senior and they spend every week-end together when she does not go home. I am afraid to talk this over with my parents. What should I do?

ON THE VERGE DEAR ON: Talk to your counselor, explain your problem and ask for a change of roommates as soon as it can be arranged. Your present roommate needs someone who "understands" her problems (which she appears to have in abundance), and you're not the girl.

DEAR ABBY: This is my first letter to you. I heartily agree with "ALL MAN" who dislikes perfume for men. Some of these new fragrances for men are so overpowering and disagreeable, that after a visit from one of these "perfumed" ones, I have to air my home out thoroughly.

I disagree with "ALL MAN" when he says that a deodorant is unnecessary. To me, it's the most important part of a man's toilet. A shower is not enough. As you say, there are many unscented deodorants on the market and all men need something!

If there is anything worse than being next to a man who does not use a deodorant, I don't know what it could possibly be.

BLOODHOUND NOSE in K.C. DEAR BLOODHOUND: I do! Being next to a woman who doesn't.

New Cosmetic Face Lift Originated in Europe Gives Face Younger Smoothness

Tell yourself: it's true, because you'll see it happen to you, and nothing could bring you more happiness when it does. This new cosmetic face-lift will give you the look you have desired desperately, the look so thoroughly unrevealing, your closest friend could not guess how old or young you really are. Yours will be the look that fascinates college seniors and retired widowers alike. The experience and charm that makes a woman so intriguing will be in your face, but not the harsh lines that unjustly announce the year in which you were born.

The principle of the cosmetic face lift is rational and simple. It offers the advantages of result—certainty without risk—no suffering, no heavy expense, no sagging later on. Your lift can be as permanent as you want it to be. A self-given application, with fair frequency whenever you feel so disposed, and your new look will remain with you indefinitely. Women of all ages, abroad and here, are enjoying the fruits of this cosmetic face lifts regularly.

How To Get It For Yourself

Your lift is in a bottle containing a non-oily, pleasantly scented emulsion named 2nd Debut. At night, before retiring, and after your make-up has been removed and your facial skin is free from traces of cleansing cream, you smooth a small amount of 2nd Debut over your face and neck. Spread it gently with a circular motion of your fingertips, until it vanishes. Now is when your lift begins. There is no cutting—no stretching the skin—no peeling—nothing more than just a simple and delightful few minutes each night before retiring. Instead of "lifting" your face in the usual sense, you will accomplish a similar effect by actually lifting the harsh age signs from the surface of your face.

After age 25, in the female, the cells of the skin usually begin to shrink in size due to reduced ability to obtain water and retain it. Skin then dries and "falls in." These areas are the lines that are so worrisome because lines can become wrinkles that give the "over 40" look a grasp on appearance that is difficult to break.

It is by making water moisture available to these areas in the right way that surface lines are first softened and then smoothed. This discovery by a European scientist is so important that scientific journals in many countries herald it as a major contribution to knowledge of skin care in this century.

The process is simple and natural. It is based upon resupplying to the skin the natural ingredient, or "aid", through which the surface cells obtain water-moisture. This ingredient is designated CEF, which means Cellular Expansion Factor. This "aid" to water-moisture usage, when spread over the skin's surface, actually carries with it molecules of pure water in a form the skin can use.

It is then facial lines on the surface start to smooth out to become less and less visible on the surface. CEF is available in the U.S.A. in the form of a non-greasy, lightly scented emulsion labeled 2nd Debut. You can get it in two potencies; 2nd Debut with double potency CEF 1200 for any age in a hurry, like important engagements within the next week. This is the pink 2nd Debut.

This CEF 1200 is also the favorite of women over 35 with really serious age signs. The ivory colored CEF 600 2nd Debut is the original 2nd Debut and is for the woman under thirty five. Either will keep any woman looking younger than her years.

New Cleanser is Complete Beauty Treatment

Allowed to remain on the face one minute then flushed away with water, 2nd Debut Skin Cleanser is a liquid that does wonders. Actually, you will say you have never seen your skin so fresh or clean-looking as after this new way of cleansing. Definitely improves surface texture.

Non-alcoholic Skin Freshener Co-operates With CEF

Created to give you the freshening finishing benefits of an active freshener, but without alcohol to aid rather than restrict the action of 2nd Debut's super-moisturizer, C E F. It's a "real lift" for your complexion's spirits, and is delicately scented.

Money Back Guarantee on all 2nd Debut preparations.

JEANE DIXON

THURSDAY, APRIL 2
YOUR BIRTHDAY THURSDAY: — The coming year brings you challenge and scope to expand your intuitive powers. The changing situation brings on activities and projects beyond your present planning.

ARIES (March 21-Apr. 19): — Smooth out any differences that may have arisen Wednesday and get on with activity that counts. No detail is small enough to justify skipping over, particularly with new materials and ideas.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): — The general tendency is toward duplication, confusion of extra details. You can turn in a superior performance by keeping your attention on principles and well-established procedures.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): — People show different sides of their nature Thursday, according to how you happen to encounter them. Allow for your own temperament; things are a bit frantic but interesting to everybody concerned.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): — Double-checking of details is well worth the trouble. Your management talents get a chance to show.

LEO (July 22-Aug. 22): — Use your natural charm to ease tensions among associates. Attend to any trouble-shooting your work situation requires. Clear off backlogs of routine before launching new projects.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): — Moods can get in the way of communication —stick to the logic of your argument rather than the emotional side of your wishes. People around you are more cooperative than usual.

LIBRA (Set. 23-Oct. 22): — Extravagance is difficult to avoid now. Much creative work is achieved with even moderate effort.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): — Seek harmony among family and the nearby community. Your home and its aesthetic qualities can be improved.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — Make peace early, then let well enough alone. Creative effort is well rewarded. The evening is excellent for pastimes, sports, games.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — Watch for incomplete or wrong information in making your plans. Drastic changes are not favored at this time.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — Personal schemes fall into place nicely, at a little more expense than you had expected. Friends and family are with you in spirit and mood.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): — Get away from your close associates for a little spell of privacy, a review of your situation, and a chance to finish neglected work.

"What's the hurry?"
Willy Brandt likens his parallel negotiations with Moscow, Warsaw and Communist East Germany with the long bargaining that preceded the signing of an Austrian state treaty in 1955. Those negotiations went on for 10 years, and Brandt considers the outlook for Germany no brighter. As in Austria's case, negotiations may be interrupted or deadlocked for long periods. But as one veteran Bonn diplomat puts it, "What's the hurry? It took half a century for Bismarck to unite Germany the first time."

A Deterrent to Israel
Diplomats in London believe the Soviet Union is putting more "advisers" into Egyptian bases as a deterrent to Israel against bombing newly established missile sites. Reports of the upsurge in the number of advisers mostly are Communist-inspired and are being interpreted as a warning that Israel might find herself in direct confrontation with Mos-

Pressures on Communists
French diplomatic sources say North Vietnam and the Viet Cong will find it difficult to oppose by force the new Cambodian regime's demands for prompt evacuation of their troops from Cambodian territory. An armed resistance, the French say, would put the onus of the fighting squarely on Hanoi and the Viet Cong and strain badly the Communist armed forces resources.

Pirates Rout New York 12-3 In Baseball Exhibition Action

By United Press International
The Pittsburgh Pirates are scheduled to move out of spacious Forbes Field—their home for nearly 61 years—and into brand new Three Rivers Stadium where the home run dimensions will be far more appealing.

The Pirates look as if they can't wait. They raised their home run total to 17 for their last eight exhibition games Tuesday when they slammed out three in a 12-3 rout of the New York Mets.

Roberto Clemente, Jerry May and Richie Hebner each collected a homer to pace a 15-hit attack as the Pirates raised their spring exhibition record to 16-7.

In other Tuesday exhibition action, the Chicago White Sox edged Washington, 6-3; Montreal nipped Kansas City, 2-1; the New York Yankees beat Minnesota, 9-2; Philadelphia beat St. Louis, 12-1; California topped Seattle, 4-2; Oakland beat the Chicago Cubs, 13-7; and Cincinnati defeated its Indianapolis farm club, 4-2.

Ken McMullen's two-base throwing error in the eighth inning enabled Bill Melton to score the winning run for the White Sox.

Foreman Knocks Out Brassell

HOUSTON (UPI) — George Foreman's manager said being ranked among the top 10 heavyweight boxers is not the best of all possible worlds for his undefeated fighter.

Angelo Dundee doesn't quite agree.

Dundee manages Jimmie Ellis and Rufus Brassell of Lima, Ohio. Foreman has never entered the ring against Ellis or Dundee's former student Cassius Clay. He spent about two minutes with Brassell Tuesday night.

Steve Renko pitched six innings of four-hit ball and knocked in one run with a single to spark the Expos' victory. The Expos also placed utilityman Ty Cline on the 60-day disabled list and pitcher Mike Wegener on the 21-day disabled list. Cline was operated on Monday for correction of a minor lower intestinal abnormality and removal of his appendix while Wegener is recovering from an operation last October on his right elbow.

Bullets Even Series At 2-2, Hawks Now Lead 3-0

By United Press International
The Baltimore Bullets and the New York Knicks are engaged in a fierce struggle in their National Basketball Association playoff, but the Atlanta Hawks-Chicago Bulls series is proving no contest.

The Bullets evened their Eastern semifinal series at 2-2 Tuesday night with a convincing 102-92 triumph over the Knicks while the Hawks took a commanding 3-0 lead over the Bulls in their West Division semifinal encounter by trimming Chicago, 106-101.

Earl Monroe, who tallied 39 points in the series opener, had double and a triple to spark the Phillies' victory.

Tom Murphy allowed two hits in seven innings of work to help the Angels win. Sal Bando sparked the Athletics' triumph with a grand-slam homer, double and single, and Johnny Bench rapped a pair of run-producing doubles in the Reds' triumph.

In other developments, the Boston Red Sox reduced their roster to 27 by paring eight men from their squad, the Twins reduced their squad to 26 by dropping 11 players and pitcher Rick Hughes of the Cardinals retired from the active list because of a sore arm.

Player To Have Guards At Masters

AUGUSTA, Ga. (UPI) — South Africa's Gary Player, concerned about possible racial harassment because of his country's apartheid policies, will be given a special team of bodyguards next week at the Masters, already the best protected golf tournament around.

Player reported a possible target of black militants, has had police protection at each tournament he has played in since returning to this country three weeks ago after a seven-month absence.

"We are aware of Mr. Player's concern," a Masters official told United Press International Tuesday. "Although we already have ample policing, we will do as the other tournaments have done and assign some men to watch over him."

The likable Player, one of the world's top golfers for the past decade, first became the target of a racial demonstration during the PGA championship last August at Dayton, Ohio.

Although nothing is known to have happened since his return to the States, there have been reports that some black groups are planning similar demonstrations this year.

Seattle Pilots Passes To Milwaukee, Referee Rules

SEATTLE (UPI) — The Seattle Pilots, a big league club plagued by money problems almost from the day the American League granted the franchise 14 months ago, passed into history today and surfaced in Wisconsin as the Milwaukee Brewers.

Federal Bankruptcy Court Referee Sidney C. Volinn, to whom the Pilots had turned for help from their financial woes, ruled Tuesday night to accept a $10.8 million offer from the Milwaukee Brewers to purchase the franchise was in order.

Since the American League had voted approval for transfer of the franchise from Seattle to Milwaukee in a telephone conference call Monday, the moment Volinn gave his consent to sell the Pilots became the Brewers.

Today, Volinn issues the formal order for the sale of the club. When the Brewers complete the deal their check for $10.8 million goes to Volinn, who will pay off the creditors.

The Pilots are gone today in fact as well as under the law, but the City of Seattle and the State of Washington still have a day in court left.

Both the city and state have on file an antitrust suit which seeks $82 million in damages from the American League. In addition, the state's two U.S. senators, Warren Magnuson and Henry Jackson, plan to introduce a bill which would strip baseball of its immunity from the antitrust laws, an immunity it has enjoyed since a 1922 Supreme Court ruling.

Basketball Banquet Thursday

The Annual Pampa High School Basketball Sports Banquet and Awards Ceremony is all set for Thursday night at the High School for 7:30 p.m.

Eastern New Mexico University's Head basketball coach Harry Miller will be the guest speaker for the event which will be highlighted by the annual awards to the team.

The banquet is open to the public and everyone is urged to attend. It will be sponsored by the Harvesters Club.

All ticket sales will be at the door with the price set at $2.50 per person. Pampa Athletic Director Robert E. (Swede) Lee says that there are plenty of seats available for the banquet, and that there is no chance of not being able to get a seat Thursday night.

Miller began his coaching career in House, N.M., a small town of under two-hundred people, and has moved to the ranks of the top college coaches in the United States.

His EMMU Greyhounds have won the NAIA crown and third place in the competition in the last two seasons.

Pampa's basketball coach, Sterling Gibson coached the Portales High School team for several years and became closely associated with Miller. Gibson brought the same type of deliberate basketball style that Miller uses to Pampa.

Coach Miller's star player, Greg Hyder, was a third round draft choice of both the Denver Rockets of the ABA and the NBA's Cincinnati Royals last week.

'Vote For Women' Milestone

It will be 50 years ago this coming August 26 that final ratification of the 19th Amendment gave American women the right to vote. In 1920, everyone had his own opinion about what it augured for the future of the Republic. Many holdouts warned that the twifery females would be taken in by the first malinee-idol-type politician to come along. Others predicted that women would merely vote the way their husbands did, so why all the bother in the first place? The suffragettes, of course, were certain that it marked the beginning of a golden age in which, under the watchful electoral eye of women, war would be outlawed, corruption rooted out of government and society, and the earth inherited by the widow, the orphan and the meek. None of these things has happened. True, in the first presidential election in which they participated, women helped elect a handsome nonentity named Warren Harding. But so did the men, and Harding's victory was more a reaction to the late war than the appeal of what a later generation would call his "charisma." Also true, women did — and do — vote much as their husbands do. But most couples share similar backgrounds, beliefs and attitudes, or they do not get married. Truest and saddest of all, female suffrage has not spectacularly changed human history for the better. But it would be gross injustice to minimize the accomplishments of the voting American woman over the past 50 years.

In mid-February 1920, six months before the 19th Amendment went into effect, the League of Women Voters was born in Chicago, direct offspring of the National American Woman Suffrage Association led by Carrie Chapman Catt. The immediate task of the new league was the political education of 20 million newly enfranchised women. It has since grown into a unique, nonpartisan organization which promotes political responsibility among all citizens and is today a recognized force in the making of public policy. League women began the "unfair" and "unheard of" practice of sending questionnaires to candidates and keeping records of the promise-keeping performance of politicians. The first major national legislative success for the league was passage of an act providing federal grants-in-aid to the states for maternal and childcare programs, a campaign which pitted it in a fierce battle with those who believed federal funds should not be used for social welfare. Its first major defeat was America's rejection of the League of Nations. During the '30s and '40s, the League worked nationally for passage of the Social Security Act, food and drug legislation, minimum wage and maximum hours laws, collective bargaining, federal-state employment services, unemployment insurance and a merit system for hiring government employees, and on local levels for school improvements, housing, recreation, welfare and state voting reapportionment. Today, with 160,000 members in 1,300 local leagues in every state, the League of Women Voters continues its educational and fact-finding work in all these fields and more, including the major new issue of environmental pollution.

Requests for league services and support come from legislators, industry, government officials, unions, poverty groups and just plain people. The league has designated its 50th anniversary as The Year of the Voter, a year in which it will put special emphasis on underscoring the value of the franchise in our system of government. One of its activities will be a nationwide petition to win congressional representation for the residents of the District of Columbia. Women have not changed the world. But in a multitude of ways over the past half-century, they have taught us all what American democracy is all about.

More Bundles For Congress

They're doing it again. The ladies are resenting high prices and inflation and are doing something about striking back against one source of it.

Mrs. George Cook of Coeur d'Alene, Idaho, has rallied others of her sex about her and last month mailed another load of "Bundles for Congress" to Washington. According to their poster, the bundles are sent "To Congress with Love" to mark the first anniversary of the Congressional salary grab. Mrs. Cook told Coeur d'Alene Press editor, Terry Schick, that the action was designed as a post-Valentine's Day present "to show Congress we haven't forgotten the salary grab of last year and all the other raids on our treasury that followed."

The bundles contain old, unusable clothing for the bureaucrats who merited it because according to Mrs. Cook, they did "nothing about crime, nothing about inflation, but kicking the tax reform bill about until it became just a bid for votes."

The critical message they sent along was in the form of a poem on the outer wrapping of the package. It read:

"You broke our hearts when you raised your pay.
 You knew what we would think, but you had your way.
 Better think it over and start to pray.
 Cause some election time we're going to have our say."

H. L. Hunt Writes

ANY CHANGE IN THE FARM PROGRAM?

The farm program, based on huge subsidies and tight government controls, has been one of the most costly failures among all our statist undertakings. Yet the present Administration has done nothing to significantly change the farm program. Recently Charles Shuman, president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, criticized the policy of "messing around and patching up" existing programs. Mr. Shuman and many farmers know that the entire program must be fundamentally changed, since the theories underlying our government's farm policies for the past thirty years have been in error.

These theories have assumed that government subsidy of the market and payments to farmers who didn't grow certain commodities would keep farm prices high, bolster farm income, and preserve the "family farm." This theory has not worked in practice.

Many wealthy corporation farms have received thousands of dollars in subsidies yearly. At the same time, many small farmers have been forced off their farms partly because government acreage controls prevented them from raising staple crops.

The Department of Agriculture spends more than $7 billion each year, with $4.5 billion of this sum going for subsidies. These expenditures help to cause inflation, which has seriously hurt the farmer. Most of the remaining $2.5 billion of the Department of Agriculture budget goes to pay the salaries of its huge bureaucracy. These bureaucrats have a vested interest in keeping the present policies in effect, even though they have failed. The time has come for a thorough overhaul of the farm program, for the sake of farmer and consumer alike.

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper function of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: — No state law can supersede a federal court order. Isn't the reverse also true? Isn't it also true that education of its children is an individual state's right which can't be infringed by the federal courts or government? H.W.B.

ANSWER: — Under current theories, the reverse is not accepted. Under the theory of strict constitutionalists, the federal government and its courts have no authority in any fields not specifically authorized by the U.S. Constitution. However, under various federal aid programs, and based on the illegally accepted Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution, the courts and the national lawmakers have moved far into the field of activities once supposed to be limited to the states of the people under the Ninth and Tenth Amendments.

It must be conceded that any time any government subsidizes anything with tax money, then the bureaucrats — not the contributors — not the beneficiaries — have the power to control how that money will be spent. Any state or subdivision of the state which seeks and accepts money from the national treasury is inviting that national government to regulate its activities.

Education of children once was considered to be within the powers of the state and the people, since the Constitution does not authorize the national government to engage in such activities.

However, governments do not have rights, although they do have power and authority. Only individuals have rights. We contend that the right to train children rests with the parents or their agents. Therefore, when any government attempts to seize authority to train the young, it is violating — infringing — the rights of the parents.

GI Troop Cut In Europe Is Dividing Nixon Aides

By RAY CROMLEY
 Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA) — New, and as yet unannounced, studies show our direct and back-up commitments to Western Europe now cost the U.S. $14 billion a year, not the $3 billion a year generally stated. The $3 billion figure misleads. It includes only local direct costs.

These competing calculations have become a major issue in the secret administration debates over whether to withdraw sizable numbers of U.S. troops from Europe.

It can be said with authority the Nixon administration is badly divided.

In the State Department, there is some strong opposition to withdrawals.

The Pentagon is split. Men who work with the White House say Dr. Henry Kissinger's staff seems to be leaning toward the State Department view.

At this writing, Kissinger's own opinion is unknown. The Budget Bureau, some administration economists and representatives of a number of domestic programs argue for withdrawals.

In his State of the World message, President Nixon said the U.S. would hold to current American troop levels in Western Europe, "at least through mid-1971." He did not make clear what would happen after that.

There have been news reports that keeping American troops in West Germany after mid-1971 is contingent on Bonn bearing the costs.

Administration men engaged in these debates say the anti-withdrawal men have three major arguments: —Withdrawals would have unfortunate effects on a number of our close allies. For one, they hold this action would weaken the West German government of Willy Brandt.

—Withdrawals, by reducing the conventional military strength in Europe, would "lower the nuclear threshold" (This means that with fewer forces on the spot, we'd more quickly reach the point in a war when we'd need to use nuclear weapons to stave off defeat on the continent in the face of a determined Russian advance.)

—Withdrawing troops unilaterally would put us in a weaker trading position in East-West Europe arms reduction talks. The men who favor sharp withdrawals have their own arguments: —Europe has the funds to pay for its own defense. The Europeans are now paying out a smaller percentage of their gross national product on arms than we are. It is time they stood on their own feet. If defense isn't worth the price to them, nothing we do will hold them together. If we get tough, and withdraw, a sizable number of our troops,

—Withdrawing troops unilaterally would put us in a weaker trading position in East-West Europe arms reduction talks. The men who favor sharp withdrawals have their own arguments: —Europe has the funds to pay for its own defense. The Europeans are now paying out a smaller percentage of their gross national product on arms than we are. It is time they stood on their own feet. If defense isn't worth the price to them, nothing we do will hold them together. If we get tough, and withdraw, a sizable number of our troops,

Panthers' Crime Record Is Extensive, Shocking

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — There is a highly significant omission in the clangorous agitational and promotional propaganda now being aggressively pushed by the Black Panthers and their socialite, New Left and communist supporters. All are completely silent about the shockingly extensive and vicious crime record of the Panthers.

While they and their jet-set and radical backers are strenuously raising a loud hue and cry about alleged civil rights violations, police "persecution" and sundry other complaints, Panthers are piling up a steadily increasing and reeking accumulation of vice and criminality.

Following is this sordid account as revealed in official police files: Since 1967, when the Black Panther Party first gained national notoriety, officers and members of this Marxist revolutionary organization have amassed the astounding record of more than 400 convictions for major crimes. And that isn't all. Panthers are awaiting trial on another 310 criminal charges. Their convictions and pending charges range from armed robbery, aggravated assault, rape, bank hold-ups, child neglect and arson to murder.

Thus, Black Panthers pose as benefactors and defenders of ghetto residents. Official records of their acts are scarred by murder, robbery, drug addiction, rape, hoodlumism and thuggery.

Following is a city-by-city breakdown on this blood and crime-drenched record from January 1967 through January 1970:

Convictions	Charges awaiting trial
Baltimore	20 11
Boston	13 4
Chicago	33 84
Denver	7 5
Des Moines	2 0
Detroit	0 10
Eugene, Ore.	5 4
Los Angeles	125 42
Newark and Jersey City	34 10
New Haven, Conn.	11 20
N. Y. City	17 53
Omaha	6 2
Philadelphia	1 5
San Diego	90 19
San Francisco	4 38
Seattle	41 3
	409 310

Shining Examples
 Among the individuals constituting these Black Panther crime statistics — are the following:

Kim Hollingworth, Baltimore, convicted of arson and sentenced to five years imprisonment. Joseph Lavern Sullivan, Denver, sentenced to two years probation for carrying a weapon aboard an aircraft; William Veral Bruce, Des Moines, convicted of armed robbery and sentenced to 25 years imprisonment; Donald Gregory Weems, Newark, N.J., sentenced to seven years imprisonment for bank robbery and assault with intent to kill; Darryl Maurice Baines, Jorge Enrique Correa and John Martinez, all of New York City, pled guilty to attacking police and fifteen near-Black Panther headquarters. Correa gained a four-year sentence. Baines one year and Martinez a conditional release.

Rolando Hearn, Jr., Philadelphia, coordinator of the BPP Breakfast-for-Children program, sentenced to prison for six months to 10 years for aggravated robbery; Larry Clayton Powers, Oakland, convicted of robbery and sentenced to five years imprisonment; Charles Bursley, Oakland, convicted of attempted murder and assault on police officer; Frank Mack Jr., Los Angeles, sentenced to five years to life for armed robbery, previously had received three years' probation for child neglect.

Billy Ray Mackey, Los Angeles, convicted for kidnapping and forcible rape; James Otis Leggett, San Diego, pled guilty to armed robbery; David R. Majors, San Francisco, received from five years to life for robbery; Ronald Lewis Rolax and Buddy Eugene Yates, both of Seattle, sentenced to 20 years for robbery. Black Panther offenses and convictions run the whole gamut of crime. In addition to those already listed they include forgery, shop-lifting, stolen credit cards, auto thefts, every type of narcotics violation, possession of bombs and explosives, contempt of court and numerous desertions from the "armed forces." The Black Panthers' record is literally a crime catalog.

Incendiary Talk

The Black Panther Party is also unsurpassed when it comes to extremist rhetoric. Officials, members and BPP publications give vent to the most fiercely inflammatory pronouncements and declamations. Lately these fiery outbursts have become distinctly communist in tenor and import — as top Panther leaders move increasingly into the communist party orbit.

Several weeks ago this column revealed that the communist party is aggressively seeking to gain control of the gun-toting, violence-prone BPP.

Significant examples of the incendiary nature of BPP rhetoric and literature are the following: Douglas Paul Miranda, Boston area captain, in a speech in that city: "The only way we are going to get peace on earth is by armed struggle, and that means a lot of us are going to die... so all you women get those guns for the brothers and get guns for yourselves because we need revolutionary women. You should all be able to use those guns, too."

David Brothers, chairman New York State BPP, as quoted in a Chicago newspaper: "You put a .38 on your hip and you get respect." Bobby Seale, BPP national chairman, now being tried for murder in Connecticut, in a speech at Yale University: "We've got to teach kids to use guns so that when the racist pigs (police) come down into our community and brutalize our people we are gonna kill... if we catch a pig brutalizing our people in the black community, we are gonna kill him, we are gonna stop him."

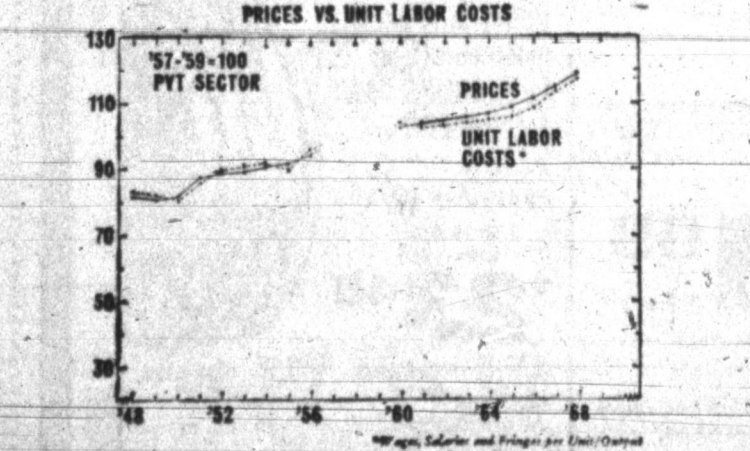

George Mason Murray, BPP minister of education, in an editorial in the Black Panther, official publication of the organization: "Black people, colored persons of America, revolt everywhere... we are yourselves. The only culture worth keeping is revolutionary culture... Dynamite — black power — use the gun — kill the pigs everywhere."

The Black Panther Publication — Nov. 22, 1969: "Marxism-Leninism is not a philosophy for Russians, it is not a philosophy for Chinese, it's a philosophy for any people that's moving against an oppressive power structure such as the capitalistic Fascist system of the American society. We have adopted that philosophy. And we are putting it into practice because it has proven beyond doubt that it's truly in the service of the proletariat."

Black Panther Publication — Dec. 6, 1969: "One gun in the hands of a guerrilla is the seed of revolution." Dec. 13, 1969: "son, what do you want for Christmas? Answer: A machine gun, a box of hand grenades, a box of dynamite and a box of matches." June 28, 1969: "We're out to destroy the present machinery of the ruling class. That is our task and that's what we must be about. We will do this by any means necessary. We must do this by the only means possible, because the only means possible is the violent overthrow of the machinery of the oppressive ruling class."

Fugitive From Justice — Most frequently quoted BPP official in the party publication is Leroy Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive minister of information. In 1968, he was candidate for president of the Peace and Freedom Party, made up of black and white radicals. Cleaver is author of the widely-selling "Soul on Ice." In April 1968, Cleaver and other Panthers were involved in a gun battle with Oakland, Cal., police. Cleaver was arrested for assault with intent to kill, and his parole for a previous jail sentence, a murder charge, was revoked.

In Nov. 1968, Cleaver jumped bail and fled to Cuba; then to Algiers. He reportedly left Cuba because of a rape charge. Cleaver spews radical and revolutionary venom freely and ferociously.

Why nobody wins a strike

As the speaker in the world can't argue with the facts of that claim. When increased wages are not earned by increased production to pay them — i.e., when the major cost of what a man makes goes up — the price of what he makes goes up, so there is no other place for that higher wage to come from.

And that is why we are having inflation today — the inevitable result of strikes and threats of strikes which "don't" increase wage increases. The workers don't benefit for long with their increases, and all the rest of the nation suffers. Where's the victory in that?

Italy Adrift In Political Chaos Makes Comeback In March

For 49 days Italy drifted in the midst of its worst political crisis since the fall of Benito Mussolini. There even was talk of revolution and a possible takeover of the government by force.

Then, on March 26, one day short of Easter, a center-left cabinet—patched together by Premier-designate Mariano Rumor—took its oath of office from President Giuseppe Saragat. Temporarily at least, Italy had been saved to live another day.

Italians looking back on those days of tension say the turning point came Nov. 28.

On that date all Italy joined in a general strike against the housing shortage. It was a peaceful demonstration joined by people of all classes, workers from all industry and even some businessmen.

It showed how weary Italians were of their government, of broken promises and factionalism which had led to the fall of every center-left government since 1963.

Preceding it had been the Pisa riots, rioting in Milan and the killing of a policeman and the bombings of banks in Milan and Rome that took 15 lives.

National wage negotiations were at a standstill.

It had not come about in a matter of weeks or even months, but rather in years.

The parties which make up Rumor's new cabinet—all have served before. They are the Christian Democrats, Left Socialists, Unitary Socialists and Republicans. All but four of its 25 ministers have served in previous cabinets.

After more than six months of a Christian Democratic minority government and days of crisis there may be hopes that Italy's bickering politicians have learned a lesson from the popular uprising against them.

It is agreed that changes are coming but few will predict what they will be.

Government majorities in both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate probably will assure the new government of continuation until after the elections of 14 regional parliaments. These parliaments are supposed to bring government closer to the people than is possible under distant Rome.

Facing the central government are negotiations with the Vatican over the latter's claim that a new divorce bill violates the Lateran Treaty.

After that must come housing, wage, educational and other reforms often promised but never delivered.

Enumerators Will Be Easy To Identify

Householders will not have any difficulty identifying enumerators for the 1970 Census, pointed out today.

Population and Housing District Manager R.L. Butler said today that enumerators, or census takers (most of whom are women), started making their rounds in the area on April 1 and are expected to complete their work in three to five weeks.

Each census taker will wear a red, white, and blue identification card. This card bears the seal of the Department of Commerce, and the words "Census Enumerator, Official Credential" are printed across its face. It bears the census taker's signature and certifies that she is authorized to perform the duties of a census enumerator and has sworn to keep confidential all census information you provide.

Persons purporting to be census takers who do not have this identification card should be reported immediately to the local police or to the census district office.

Census takers will be further identified by the portfolio containing their supplies. The portfolio is blue and bears the legend, "1970 Census." In the portfolio, the census taker carries her supplies of report forms, maps, pencils, and other tools necessary for her work.

One Mother Doesn't Want Presidency For Sons

NEW YORK (UPI)—Marga that gets more and more complicated, the only child of ret. Truman Daniel doesn't want any of her four sons to be president of the United States. The lads, now ages three to 12, will have to take their mother's word for what kind of a job the presidency is.

"It's a difficult, thankless job if she had any advice for Julie Nixon Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon."

She suggested they "enjoy it (the celebrity status), look at the history and then forget about it."

Mrs. Daniel, charming and talkative while she toured the New York exhibit on "The Truman Era," also was asked if she had any advice for Julie Nixon Eisenhower and Tricia Nixon.

Only children tend to get very spoiled, you know.

"But my mother took care of that—with a hairbrush."

The exhibit at the Hallmark Gallery on Fifth Avenue will run through May 11. Much of the material on view was lent by the Harry S. Truman Library in Independence, Mo.

Included are more than 250 photographs and color slides, 33 political cartoons, a collection of important letters, telegrams and documents from Truman's White House years.

Gallery officials expect it to be a popular exhibit because as one put it, "Love for Harry Truman still beats strong in many hearts." In fact my cab driver, to the gallery told me, "He was a simple man. But he was a truthful man. He didn't hide anything behind your back or his."

About that day 25 years ago when Truman succeeded Franklin D. Roosevelt to the presidency—April 12, 1945, Mrs. Daniel recalled:

"When I heard it, I was numb."

Backstairs At The Whitehouse

By LOUIS CASSELS
UPI Senior Editor

WASHINGTON (UPI)—There may be some alienated youths and embittered blacks who are seriously intent on overthrowing the U.S. government.

But most of the noisy exponents of "revolution" who get so much attention from the news media are merely playing-acting.

That is the judgment of Dr. Robert Brustein, dean of the Yale University Drama School and author of a book on "The Theatre of Revolt."

Theatrical Performances
Brustein, writing in the New Republic Magazine, acknowledges he has no special credentials as an expert on revolutions. But he is qualified to recognize a theatrical performance when he sees one, and he thinks that is exactly what he is seeing in the fiery speeches and flamboyant demonstrations of new left youth and ultra-militant blacks.

If Brustein's observations are valid, they suggest that the greatest danger in the current climate of confrontation is that guardians of social order may over-react, invoking viciously repressive measures to deal with a "threat" that really is not very sinister.

Brustein says the news media have displayed an "astounding hospitality" to expressions of radical views, including open calls for revolution.

Although this has been upsetting to some of the staid citizenry, including high officials of the Nixon administration, it has served a valuable safety-valve purpose, permitting "angry minorities to vent frustrations which in a closed society might lead to genuine revolutionary action.

"Plenty Wrong"
Brustein is no timorous conservative whistling his way past the graveyard. He sees plenty wrong with American society, and wishes that impatient young idealists were coming forward with genuinely innovative programs for reform.

Mrs. Daniel indicated that her children were shielded from their historical roots during their pre-school years, saying they didn't know about that until they went to school.

As an only child, Mrs. Daniel was asked if she ever felt any particular handicap.

"Oh, I loved it," she said.
