AFTER 83 HOURS

Commie Japs Release Hostages From "Hell"

SEOUL (UPI)—A group of 103 Japanese Communist Party members and 99 Japanese hostages were released today from a Boeing 727 jetliner hijacked by North Korean Communists. The plane had taken off for Seoul's Pimpoo Airport for a flight to Pyongyang. The hijackers, who were armed with automatic weapons, darts and knives, demanded a ransom of $5 million. The plane was released after 83 hours of captivity. The hostages, including 36 Japanese parliament members and 99 Japanese citizens, were released in a gesture of goodwill. City Election Next Tuesday?

Pampa has a city election coming up next Tuesday. Little interest is being shown due to the fact it is a no-contest election with only one candidate running for each of the two city commission posts to be filled. Commissioner Hugh Burdette is up for re-election in Ward 2 and Arthur Rohde is seeking the Ward 3 post being vacated by Clyde Carruth who is not seeking re-election but is a candidate for county commissioner.

The terms of Mayor Milo Carlson and City Commissioners George B. Cree Jr. and Leo Braswell do not expire until April, 1971. Only 187 votes were cast out of some 10,000 eligible voters in the 1969 city election when the mayor and Ward 1 and 3 commissioner posts also were uncontested. Indications are that the total vote will not go much higher than that this year. Only two absentee voters had been cast as the absentee balloting deadline passed today.

The regular city voting places will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. Tuesday as follows:
Ward 1—City Hall, Ward 2—North Fire Station, 321 W. 17th, Ward 3—Pampa Optimist Boys Club, 601 S. Craven, Ward 4—South Fire Station, 1010 S. Barnes.

FIVE CANDIDATES

Two School Trustees Will Be Selected In Voting Saturday

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writers
Voters will decide the fate of five school board candidates Saturday when they select two new trustees for Pampa Independent School District. Polls open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. at Pampa Junior High School gymnasium, with N. Park Brown as election manager. Arthur Rankin and Ralph Dunbar will assist Brown as election judges for the eight precincts in Pampa.

Out of 13,291 eligible voters in Gray County, 10,440 would be eligible to vote in the trustee election for this school district according to records of Jack Back, county tax assessor-collector. In the 1969 trustee election, 370 voters were cast according to school board minutes. Homer Craig, school business manager, reported 70 absentee ballots were cast for the candidates, Bob Carmichael, E.W. (Bud) Hogan, Bob Wilhelm, John Gikas and John Spearman. Carmichael, the last candidate to file is running for school trustee for the first time. A Pampa resident since 1930, he is a Pampa High School graduate, graduate of Texas Tech, and 1951 graduate of Dallas Institute of Mortuary Science. Hogan, the fourth candidate is a native Pampa, who filed as trustee in the 1968 election, and was a member of the Pampa Athletic Advisory Committee a group of Pampa men who studied Pampa school athletic facilities and program for the school board two years ago. Gikas, one of two incumbents, filed for third re-election. He is serving his third three-year term on the board and board president last year. A native of Lincoln, Neb., he moved to Pampa in 1946 after attending schools in Burger. Spearman, the second one to trustee candidate for the first time, is board president, serving

TRC Asked To Double Allowable

AUSTIN (UPI)—Marathon Oil Company requested the Texas Railroad Commission to double the maximum allowable oil production in the Yates Field in Pecos County from 50,000 to 100,000 barrels per day. The commission turned down the request Thursday. The commission did not act on the request, filed in 1967, until Humble Oil and Standard Oil applied asking for a change in the method of determining the oil production ceiling for each well.

Humble wanted a change in procedures for allocating any increase in the amount of oil production allowed. Standard wanted a revision of the whole system of dividing oil production among the wells in the Yates Field. Both applications were set for hearing Monday, but commission officials said Thursday they would be postponed until May 5. The commission sets maximum production levels for each oil field on the basis of how much can be produced without waste. Producers normally are allowed to pump only about half as much as their maximum production capability. Every month the Railroad Commission decides market demand and sets the percentage of capability that can be pumped out of each well.

Obstacle Gone To Voting On Lowering Age

WASHINGTON (UPI)—House Democratic leaders were confident today the last obstacle has been cleared to congressional passage of a bill lowering the voting age to 18. The measure would make 18 the legal voting age for all local, state and national elections after Jan. 1, 1971, enfranchising an estimated 10 to 11 million young persons. The momentous legislation, already passed by the Senate as part of an extension of the 1965 Voting Rights Act, could clear the House and be on its way to the President as early as next week, they said. The Senate package also provides for a nationwide ban on literacy tests, and for participation in presidential elections of persons who otherwise would have lost their voting privilege by having moved too recently to satisfy state residency requirements.

Inquest Documents Were Not Impounded

BOSTON (UPI)—Information obtained from officials having knowledge of the case indicates court stenographers' notes containing the testimony of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and other witnesses at the secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Kopechne may be missing or improperly impounded, UPI learned Thursday. The notes, the only original record of the four-day secret inquest, have not been impounded at Suffolk Superior Court in Boston, which is the official custodian of the 764 page transcript of testimony and the report of Judge James A. Boyle, who presided over the inquest in Edgartown District Court.

All the inquest documents were ordered impounded by the Massachusetts Supreme Court and this was believed to have been done Feb. 18, the day Judge Boyle filed his report on the inquest.

However, if the stenographers' notes, from which other copies of the transcript could be made, cannot be found—or if they have been improperly impounded or not impounded at all—it could have a significant effect on the outcome of any future criminal proceedings dealing with Miss Kopechne's death. It was announced last week a grand jury would reopen the investigation Monday. A reliable source said the stenographers' notes were turned over to Thomas E. Teller, clerk of the Edgartown District Court, at the end of each day of the inquest, which concluded Jan. 8. Teller, when asked by UPI if he had the notes in his possession, said: "That's a matter I cannot discuss. I will say nothing about the stenographers' notes. The judge (Boyle) is saying, 'no comment' too." Teller, nevertheless, said he understood the Massachusetts Supreme Court directive ordered the inquest documents impounded. He quoted from the court ruling itself. The District Court was given no authority to impound. John J. Irwin, assistant Massachusetts attorney general for criminal affairs, said that if a stenographer were called to testify as to the accuracy of testimony he transcribed, he could do so only from his original notes. Therefore, if the Kopechne inquest notes cannot be found, the transcript would be considered only as "secondary evidence" in any subsequent court proceeding, Irwin said. He added that such evidence would not "contain the same weight, any person would be in a position to impair its authenticity."

Postal Raise On "Pay As You Go"

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon will ask Congress to put on a "pay as you go" basis his agreed upon 6 per cent raise for all federal employees and military personnel. An additional 8 per cent raise promised the mailmen will be tied to a post office reorganization. Nixon's request, which was being sent to Capitol Hill today, probably will mean more taxes and increased postage rates for Americans to cover the $2.5 billion annual cost of the pay raises. The administration and postal union negotiators' agreement Thursday ended a dispute that launched the nation's first postal strike March 18. Details of the President's financing plan were not released Thursday, but John D. Ehrlichman, Nixon's domestic affairs counselor, said it could involve increased taxes and postage rates. But he specifically ruled out any extension of the income tax surcharge. The pay increases will be essentially noninflationary in that they will be accompanied by a pay-as-you-go message to Congress, Ehrlichman told newsmen at the White House. The agreement reached between the government and seven postal unions following seven days of bargaining called for them to begin negotiations immediately on reorganization of the Post Office Department that will be coupled with the 8 per cent pay boost for mailmen and a reduction from 21 to 8 years the time required for mailmen to reach top pay scale. Mailmen now begin at $6,176 and go as high as $23,442 annually.

The negotiators were to have their proposals ready to submit to Congress by next Friday. The agreement, announced by Postmaster General Winton M. Blount and AFL-CIO President George Meany at AFL-CIO headquarters, may have killed Nixon's proposal for a postal corporation to replace the Post Office Department. The postal unions generally have opposed a postal corporation, and Meany said any postal reorganization plan submitted to Congress would first be subject to union approval.

WASHINGTON—President Nixon, commenting on the possibility that the Senate will defeat his second nominee for the Supreme Court seat vacated by Abe Fortas, said: "What is at stake is the preservation of the traditional constitutional relationships of the president."

Carswell Accused Of Being "Evasive"

WASHINGTON (UPI)—With a key vote on the Supreme Court nomination of G. Harrold Carswell three days off opponents have accused Carswell of "evasive and misleading" testimony and Sen. Barry M. Goldwater has accused Carswell's opposition of "neo-McCarthyism." The outcome of the Monday vote on whether to recommend the nomination to the Senate Judiciary Committee was in doubt with six Republicans and eight Democrats still publicly uncommitted. "The political left has resorted to gibberish charges, smear innuendoes and distorted statistics in presenting their case," Goldwater said Thursday in defense of President Nixon's nominee. Following a story in the Washington Post March 26, Sens. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., and Joseph D. Tydings, D-Md., produced Thursday a memorandum from Charles A. Horsky and Norman P. Ramsey, members of the American Bar Association Committee on the Federal Judiciary, saying they showed Carswell on the night of Jan. 26 a document he signed. It showed Carswell had been an incorporator of the private group that took over the public golf club in Tallahassee, Fla. six months after the Supreme Court ruled that such public facilities must desegregate. The next day, questioned before the Senate Judiciary Committee by Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., Carswell denied he had been an incorporator. Not long after, however, when questioned by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., Carswell said: "Yes, sir, I recall that" when Kennedy asked if he had signed the papers.

Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., said Thursday night, as the Senate debated the significance of the Horsky-Ramsey memo, that Carswell "swiftly corrected himself" and the President of the United States admitted he (Carswell) made a mistake. He dismissed the incident as an oversight. Tydings disputed him. "Given the facts supplied in the memorandum, his testimony must be viewed as evasive and misleading," he said of Carswell. "A man who could testify thus under oath does not belong on the Supreme Court."

A UPI check showed 40 senators for recommendal and 42 against with four likely to be absent, Monday. If Bayh's motion Monday falls short of a majority the Senate will vote Wednesday whether to confirm Carswell.

Five Cows Survive Gediz Earthquake

GEDIZ, Turkey (UPI)—Rescue workers, using an electronic noise-detecting device Thursday found five cows that had survived beneath tons of rubble that fell on them during the earthquake five days ago. No humans were found by the locator, brought by a Swiss avalanche expert to search for victims of the quake that has taken at least 1,084 lives. Reconstruction began Thursday with scientists agreeing on a new site for this leveled city. Relief supplies poured into the area, including a field hospital flown in with West German aid. American, Dutch, West German and Iranian doctors toured surrounding villages offering their services.

Accidental Shooting Ruled In Death

MIAMI (Staff) — Miami Justice of the Peace M.P. Mildred Cunningham ruled Thursday in the death of Benjamin Edward Talley, 44, a Roberts County farmer. Mrs. Cunningham ruled Thursday the death was caused by an accidental, self-inflicted gunshot wound. Talley's body was found Sunday morning by a neighbor seven miles northwest of Miami. Mrs. Cunningham said Talley had been dead about 16 hours when the body was found. A .22 caliber pistol was found under the body.

Police Rule Suicide-Murder In Deaths

ENID, Okla. (UPI)—Kermit W. Wood walked to the home of Delbert M. Hern, as he does the first of every month, to pay his rent.

He rang the doorbell. No one answered.

Wood walked over and peered through a window. He saw Hern, the father-in-law of Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., sitting in an easy chair. His face was covered with blood.

Wood called police who found a .38 automatic pistol in Hern's hand.

In an adjoining room they found the body of Hern's second wife, Patricia, 35, lying on the floor. A bullet, fired from close range, had gone through one ear and out the other.

Remains of food was found on portable trays in the room.

"We are calling it murder-suicide," said Enid Police Detective Ron Duncan.

Police theorized Hern, 60, and his wife argued during dinner Tuesday night. Police said Hern shot his wife and then committed suicide.

Bayh's press secretary, Bill M. Wise, said word of the deaths was relayed to Mrs. Bayh, 37, in Monte Carlo, Monaco, where she went with her husband last week to attend an interparliamentary conference. Mrs. Bayh's mother died of a heart attack in January, 1964. Her father remarried.

An Enid Pawnshop owner said he sold two pistols, a .25 automatic and a .32 automatic to Hern Monday. The .32 was found in Hern's hand, and the other pistol on a bedroom dresser.

Dr. Cecil Reinstein, Garfield County medical examiner, said Hern and his wife died about 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Assistant District Attorney Jim Smith said Mrs. Hern apparently was standing in the dining room when she was shot through the left side of the head.

"He apparently shot her and then went into the living room and shot himself," Smith said. "There was no indication of any struggle."

Easy To Sneak Into Texas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Anyone who desires can sneak across the Texas-Mexico border at Fort Hancock, Tex., without being reviewed by customs, testimony to a House committee revealed Wednesday.

The Treasury Department's Bureau of Customs asked a House appropriations subcommittee for money to build a customs inspection station and two agents' residences at Fort Hancock.

"Inspections are conducted from a trailer," the bureau report said. "Until June 1, 1966, the port was opened for only one-half hour daily." (After that it was opened four hours a day most days.)

Bomb Makings Are Easy To Buy

LANSING, Mich. (UPI)—We could be bought, we called, at random, a small hardware store.

"Do you sell dynamite?"

"Oh yes," came the friendly reply. "How much do you want?"

"How is it sold?"

"You can have a stick or a case, whatever you want."

"How much is it?"

"Twenty-four cents a stick."

At the door of the cluttered, dusty store, a clerk in his mid-50s asked if he could help us.

"We'd like some dynamite," we replied.

He looked somewhat startled and asked, "How much?"

"About a dozen sticks, I guess, that should do it."

The clerk returned with change for a $20 bill and the bundle of dynamite. He handed it over underneath a sign listing the rigorous requirements for buying handguns and pistols.

All that was required from us, however, was our names on the bill of sale. We gave them, slightly modified, and they were accepted without question. He was not required by law to ask.

Under current law, anyone can buy as much dynamite in Michigan as he wants, without telling his age, his name or the reason he wants the explosives.

Hippies Replace Indians In Santa Fe

SANTA FE, N.M. (UPI)—Census takers in Taos County in northern New Mexico apparently have changed much in the last 100 years. Census workers in many cases, may have to rely on the horse to reach snow-bound residents living in teepees and home-made adobe homes for the official count. The snow-bound residents are the hippies living in isolation from the "establishment." There is no solid estimate of how many of the flower children live around Taos, and the census may not be able to help much in determining that. "We're having a heck of a time getting to some of these people," said census crew leader Jose Gonzales. "I have no idea of what it's going to take. One enumerator couldn't even get out of his own house because of the snow. The roads are clear, but once you get off the highway, you're stuck. Roads into the lands where the hippies have set up communes, covered with snows which fell earlier this week, were impassable except by four-wheel drive vehicles or horse back. Weeks of preliminary scouting to locate the hippies were useless because of the weather conditions. Gonzales earlier said he feared obtaining information from most of the hippies would be impossible. He said many of the hippies would not release any information about themselves, and many of the hippies changed their names.

Oklahomans Arrested For Robbery

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Two Oklahoma City residents were arrested by the FBI Wednesday in connection with the $42,000 armed robbery of the First National Bank of Tom Bean, Tex. John W. Burns, special agent in charge, said the arrests of Dennis Bates Fletcher, 32, and Charlene Hightower, 25, were arrested without incident. Carl W. Dennis Jr. and Billy Edward Davis Jr. were Jan. 23 in Oklahoma City in connection with the same robbery and they remain in custody with federal bank robbery charges pending. Bond of $35,000 was set for the pair.

Moving Day For Baptist Temple Church

Pampa Baptist Temple has announced the re-location of the church in the old First Christian Church facilities at Kingsmill and Starkweather streets. According to Rev. Cliff A. McDougal, pastor of the church, the first services will be held in the new location Sunday morning. Rev. McDougal said a 5-day revival meeting will begin in the new facilities 7:30 p.m. Wednesday. Rev. Kenneth Armstrong of Borger will conduct the revival.

ANTIQUE DEALERS and several Twentieth Century Cotillion Club members spent most of Thursday unloading and setting up displays for the eighth annual Antique Show and Sale, which starts today in the Coronado Inn Starlight Room. Two Pampa women, Mrs. Don Morrison, and Mrs. Jim Campbell, right, set up an antique bed frame, which will be one of several types of furniture and other household furnishings which will be on display during the three-day show, today, Saturday and Sunday. Proceeds from the show are used each year to finance a college Opportunity Plan at West Texas State University.

'Rustic' Hues Are Popular For Roofs

Mad, mood colors may have their place—but it's not on the roof.

A national survey of homeowners taken by the asphalt shingle industry shows: 1. white is still the "favorite" roof color, 2. rustic-colored shingles are growing in popularity, and may soon predominate over white.

In seven test cities throughout the country, rustic asphalt shingle shades (defined by the industry as subdued, natural shades of brown, green, blue, gray and red) scored close in preference to the ever-popular whites. Rustic colors were ahead in three of the cities; white shingles led in four. White has been a persistent favorite for exterior decor (in sidings and exterior trim as well as roofs) for many years. But there is growing evidence of the increased use of color.

Color preferences seem to fall into a kind of generation gap category. Homeowners who are under forty years of age like the new rustic asphalt shingle colors better than white. Homeowners who are from 40 to 50 years old cast their votes for white roofs. Interestingly, homeowners who are over 50 years old agree with the younger group in their preference for rustic-colored shingles.

In addition to evaluating the popularity of shingle colors, the survey queried homeowners on their preference for newer, larger shingle granules over smaller shingle granules. It is the mineral granules imbedded in the top layer of asphalt shingles that give them their color. Larger granules give the shingles a heavier, more "textured" look.

The larger granules were preferred by younger homeowners (under 40 years of age), by owners of new homes (those built within the past three years), by homeowners in higher income brackets, and by women generally. This is an apparent reflection of the concept of texture as a new and "sophisticated" element of home design.

Your Horoscope
JEANE DIXON

SATURDAY, APRIL 4
Your birthday Saturday: The next year or two witnesses development of your largely unconscious psychic nature. Many times the mood of the moment will take you into solitude, meditation. Learn to follow the deepening intuition promised at this return of the Sun to the degree it held at your birth. Understanding of the people around you improves along with your own self-assurance. Saturday's natives are usually interested in speed, timing physical events, sports competitions, races, and are often very good swimmers.
ARIES (March 21-April 19): You now run into petty resistance, unplanned distractions. Keep your mind on details so that you miss nothing important. Your patience prevails as the day progresses so that much can be accomplished toward your goals.
TAURUS (April 20-May 20): In the early hours everybody seeks excuses for differences. Stay clear of them until the mood passes in midmorning. Research into hidden or obscure conditions brings unusual discoveries.
GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Ask for co-operation from your friends. Your initiative is the main factor, with your intuition showing you the way.
CANCER (June 21-July 22): Relatives slow down in their assistance. Take on more of the work load yourself; concentrate on its aesthetically pleasing aspects.
LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Restless speculative urges beset you and are better expressed if you channel them into creative work or self-improvement programs.
VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Attend any formal or legal obligations early. Confer with family and close associates, then restate the deal in your own original terms.
LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Your work is a bit too strenuous for comfort early in the day but levels out by midmorning. Teamwork brings rather good results, but it seems to be mostly your doing.
SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Begin the day with some praise and compliments for your friends and associates. Add imaginative touches to your routines.
SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Family life, emotional involvements fill up your time and attention. Remember that you can't always cover every angle; make some arrangement which leaves you free to attend to the things most important to you.
CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 20): Your natural sense of order runs contrary to what you find today. Do what you can to bring your own affairs more into balance with changing circumstances.
AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Your own ideas run ahead of those of your associates. Give them time to catch up.
PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Differences of opinion are the normal order of the day. The more you care for someone, the more apt you are to encounter stress.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a 34-year-old son who is married to a very pretty girl of 25. She found out that my son was seeing another girl, so she confronted him and then he stopped seeing the other girl. My problem is the method my daughter-in-law is using to punish her husband. She has been making a big play for my husband. He is 57, Abby, and very attractive. Naturally he loves it and even encourages her. I could never appeal to my daughter-in-law because I am sure she would never consider my feelings as she has never liked me very much although I never have given her any reason for feeling that way. Now I am worried that all this kidding around with hugging and kissing may develop into something more serious. Please tell me how to handle this. Abby—I'm terribly upset.

DEAR CAN'T: You could tell your husband to act his age and cool it a little out of respect to his son's marriage, which sounds as though it's on fairly shaky ground right now. It may not help. But it can't hurt.

DEAR ABBY: Before any 55-year-old grandmother has all her teeth extracted for "health reasons," as she stated, she ought to get another opinion. If those people would realize the problems associated with "false teeth," more people would run to the dentist to try to save their teeth. A dental journal recently disclosed that approximately 3 million people in the United States of America have deposited their lower dentures in dresser drawers because they cannot wear them! I am tired of "yanking" teeth. I'd much rather save and restore them.

CAN'T COMPETE

Abby, remain true to your teeth, and they will never be false to you. Sincerely,
L.A.Z., D.D.S.:
BRONX, N.Y.

DEAR DOCTOR: I have been more than true to my teeth, and thus far they have been "true" to me.

CONFIDENTIAL TO WEARING OUT IN CINCY: I'm all choked up! Your letter was about as convincing as the one from the fellow with the rubber duck. I'll send you five strong men to assist you with those five "lonely" nurses who are breaking down your door nightly.

First Christian Church

The Rev. Shelvy H. Anglemeyer will deliver the Message for Morning Worship this Sunday morning at 10:50. He has chosen for his sermon topic, "May I present a Friend" with Scriptures from Isaiah 9:2-8. The Choir under the direction of Miss Rosemary Lawlor and accompanied by Mrs. John Gill will present the Anthem. The regular Evening Activities will be held beginning with Snack Supper at 5:30. Young Groups at 6:00 and Christian Life Curriculum Sessions at 7:00 p.m. Wednesday, the Functional Departments of the Church will meet at 7:30 p.m., followed by a meeting of the Official Board at 8:30. Mr. Duane Cash, will preside. Saturday at 7:00 a.m. there will be a Fellowship Breakfast for all of the men of the Church.

First Presbyterian Church

The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be observed at the First Presbyterian Church at both the 8:30 a.m. and the 11:00 a.m. Worship Services this Sunday. Rev. Martin Hager, pastor, will use John 21:1-12 as his text for a sermon entitled "Do You Suppose?". At the 11:00 a.m. service, the sixty voice Pampa High School Choir will assist in Worship. Under the direction of Mr. Bill Davis, the choir will sing "The New is Old" by Lloyd Plautsch, the "Twenty-fourth Psalm" by Charles Ives and "The Last Invocation" by Schuman. Church Organist, Fidelity Yoder will present "Andante Religioso" by Mendelssohn. The Senior High Fellowship will meet at the home of Jack Felts, 916 Christine, at 6:00 p.m. The Junior High Fellowship will also meet at a time and a place to be announced Sunday. Wednesday at 8:00 p.m., the Sterling (Kan.) Choir will give a concert at the church.

First Baptist Church

The pastor, Dan B. Cameron, will be in the pulpit for both services Sunday. He will announce his sermon topics. David Campbell, Minister of Music, will direct the Sanctuary Choir. Richard Hill will sing a "Follow Me" by Staphill to complete the special music. Miss Eloise Lane, organist, has chosen "Prayer" by Jumel for the offertory. The High School Choir will occupy the choir loft at the seven o'clock evening worship service and they will sing an arrangement of "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" for the choral worship. Soloist for the evening worship is Miss Jeree Pitts and the selection she has chosen is "Lonely Voices." "The Great Physician" by Winans is the organ offertory selection. Roy Kornegay, minister of education, announced the beginning of new Christian Growth Classes this Sunday evening at the Training Union hour from 6:00 until 7:00. Activities for the week include the visitation Tuesday morning at 9:30, followed by a noon luncheon and Bible Study from the Book of Daniel. The Wednesday evening activities begin with the fellowship supper at 5:30 and continues with Prayer Meeting at 6:15.

First United Methodist

Sunday services at First United Methodist Church will begin at 8:45 a.m. and 11:00 a.m. The pastor, H. Dewitt Seago, will conduct the service of The Lord's Supper. His meditation theme will be "To Your Comfort." Special music at the 8:45 service will be presented by the Carol Choir as they sing about "The Good Samaritan" composed by Rev. William Crime. At the 11:00 a.m. service the Sanctuary Choir will sing "He Is Our King" by Katherine Davis. Tracy Cary, organist, will play the Prelude, "Morning Song" by Grieg. His Postlude will be the traditional setting of "Lauda Sion, Salvatorem."

Christian Science Church

Effective ways to meet the problems of greed, injustice, intemperance, and violence are described in the Christian Science Lesson-Sermon for Sunday, April 5. The subject is "Unreality." Many of the Bible citations are from Proverbs, contrasting the folly of destructive habits with the peace of spiritual UNDERSTANDING. "For the merchandise of it is better than the merchandise of silver, and the gain thereof than fine gold." Examples of real and unreal pursuits are given from Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science. She states, "Take away wealth, fame, and social organizations, which weigh not one jot in the balance of God, and we get clearer views of Principle."

Pampa Baptist Temple

Rev. Cliff McDougal has announced the first services in the churches new facilities at the old First Christian church, Kingsmill and Starkweather streets. Rev. McDougal's sermon topic for the Sunday morning service will be "The High Cost of Low Living." Sermon for the evening service is "What Must I Do to be Lost?" A revival begins at the church Wednesday. The meetings will be conducted by Rev. Kenneth Armstrong of Borger.

Lutherans Read Black Militants

HOUSTON (UPI) — The Missouri Synod Lutherans of Texas decided Wednesday to pay more attention to racial minorities. One church official urged his colleagues to read black militants Eldridge Cleaver and Malcolm X. The Rev. Theodore F. Nickel of Chicago recommended Cleaver's "Soul on Ice" and Malcolm X's "The Autobiography of Malcolm X" to the 700 persons attending the bi-annual meeting of the Texas district.

White House Dinner

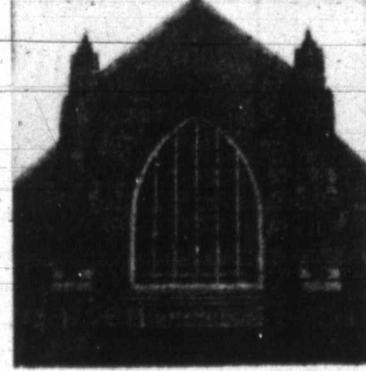

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Because of Julie Nixon Eisenhower's long interest in the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, President and Mrs. Nixon are going to have the royal couple to dinner Saturday night. Mrs. Connie Stuart, staff director to the First Lady, said Julie became interested in the former Prince of Wales when she was in high school and prevailed upon her parents to get in touch with the Windsors when they came to New York.

To Sell Diamonds

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The federal government is going to sell 1.5 million carats of diamonds. The General Services Administration announced the sale of the industrial diamond stones in excess of national and supplemental stockpiles. All the stones will be offered exclusively for export. Bids must be received by May 8.

THE COMING OF THE SON OF MAN

LUKE 17:26-30 "And as it was in days of Noah, so shall it be also in the days of the Son of man."

"They did eat, they drank, they married wives, they were given in marriage, until the day that Noah entered into the ark, and the flood came, and destroyed them all."

"Likewise also as it was in the days of Lot; they did eat, sold, they planted, they builded;"

"But the same day that Lot went out of Sodom it rained fire and brimstone from heaven, and destroyed them all."

"Even thus shall it be in the day when the Son of man is revealed."

Noah was known as a preacher of righteousness. God chose him to proclaim repentance and a turning back to God and His righteousness. Noah, for many years built on the ark, preaching to his generation to turn from their ways.

The people of Noah's generation did not have time for God. The Bible says, they ate, drank, married, given in marriage. These are things that are good and pleasing to God and some of them necessary. But how occupied they were with things in their life.

Lot was a man who chose to live in the fertile valley of the Jordan River. The town he chose to live in was a wicked and sinful city, according to the Bible. These people in this city were busy also. The scripture says they did eat, drink, buy, sell, planted, and built. Now these are normal things for everyone. They are not sinful, but the people were too busy to serve God.

How much we today are like these people. We become involved in so many things. We let some good things occupy our time and minds until we really have no time to serve God. Our days are so rushed and so time-scheduled that we leave no time to spend with God.

Now the scripture says that this is the way that it will be when Jesus comes back to earth. We will be so preoccupied with things that we will not be ready when Jesus comes for His Church. We are as those in Noah's days, just too busy and enjoying life so much that we don't have time to save our own lives.

Now Jesus is coming back to earth just as the Bible says. Are we too busy to be watching for His return?

LUKE 17:32 "Remember Lot's wife."

New York Takes 101-80 Victory Over Bullets In NBA Semifinals

By United Press International
A sign above Willis Reed's locker in the New York Knickerbocker dressing room says: "There's a little meanness in everybody."
Reed had been a patsy against the Baltimore Bullets' Wes Unseld as the Knicks dropped two straight games, but Thursday night he made up for it with sheer meanness, pulling down a club record 36 rebounds and scoring 36 points to lead New York to a 101-80 victory. And he did it all on a bad knee, too.

The victory gave the Knicks a 3-2 lead in the best-of-seven Eastern Division semifinals. The Phoenix Suns, led by Gail Goodrich's 29 points and Connie Hawkins' playmaking, came from seven points down midway in the third quarter to defeat the Los Angeles Lakers, 112-98, and take a 2-1 edge in Western Division semifinals of the National Basketball Association.

Unseld wound up with 15 rebounds and only 10 points, and even Baltimore coach Gene Shue admitted that Reed had won that round in the personal feud between the rival centers. "Reed was sensational," Shue said. "He just can't be better than he was tonight. It has to be one of the best games he's ever played."
Walt Frazier, who had the task of playing opposite Earl Monroe, finished with 16 points and 16 rebounds and Bradley had 14 points.

The Knicks finished with a club playoff record of 87 rebounds, and Reed's total surpassed the 33 that Harry Gallatin once pulled down for the club. Baltimore got only 50 rebounds.
The Suns also depended on backboard strength, out rebounding Los Angeles, 57-32. They held a 15-9 edge on the boards in the third quarter as they moved into the lead to stay with nine consecutive points. By the start of the fourth period, Phoenix had increased its bulge to 77-71.

Bucs Defeat Caps 115-104 In American Title Battle

By United Press International
The Washington Caps can see their hopes for a second consecutive Western Division title in the American Basketball Association slowly sinking out of sight.

Ron Franz scored 26 points and held Rick Barry to 22 points Thursday to lead the last-place New Orleans Bucs to a 115-104 victory over the Caps. The loss dropped Washington 2½ games behind the idle Denver Rockets in the Western Division.

In two other games, the Kentucky Colonels, second in the East, smashed division champion Indiana, 112-94, for their first victory over the Pacers after nine consecutive losses, and George Thompson scored 30 points to provide the Pittsburgh Pipers to a 125-117 triumph over the Miami Floridians.

THE HUSTLING HARVESTER AWARD was presented to Jim Gallman, center, Thursday night, by Coach Sterling Gibson, left, to highlight the Basketball Sports Banquet. Coach Harry Miller, right, was the speaker for the event. Howard Weatherly was the Master of Ceremonies for the annual event. Drags Set For Amarillo Sunday

Injected Fuel funny cars, hybrid offspring of a super-stock-funny car union, make their initial Amarillo Dragway appearance at 2:30 p.m. here Sunday in conjunction with a special match race involving Gene Snow's "Rambunctious" Dodge Challenger and Roland Leong's "Hawaiian" Dodge Charger.

The same two cars met in the finals of the National Hot Rod Association winter nationals with Leong's blue and white car taking the victory. Snow would like to turn things around this time.

Snow also will field a challenger in the eight-car, injected funny car invitational. That "rambunctious" challenger, driven by Terry Pringle, will be one of the favorites in the circuit race.

The Chrysler-Ford-General Motors battle will be fully in evidence with Snow's challenger, Bill Lewis' Oklahoma-based Barracuda and Dale Sibley's Dallas-based Dodge Dart heading the field.

The lone Ford Entrant is the 1970 Maverick of Harold Lewelling.
Pit gates will open for time trials and qualifying at seven A.M. Sunday with time runs continuing until two p.m. The first round of funny car competition is scheduled for a 2:30 p.m. start.

night as basketball coach Sterling Gibson presented him with the highly coveted 'Hustling Harvester Award'.

The Hustling Harvester Award is the only one presented during the basketball banquet other than plaques and certificates for one or more years of playing.

Gibson stated it was a tough choice and when it came right down to the wire the decision had to be made on the basis of who made the most contribution to the team. Gallman on accepting the award thanked the team and coaches for their help in his career and he said "not enough can be said about him (coach Gibson), he is the greatest man in the world."

Highlighting the program was the crowning of the queen, Brenda Duncan, by Randy Marsh and the naming of her runners-up Linda Brumley and Beth Watson.

Gibson announced that Georgia Tech is looking at Gallman and that he will be flying down to the campus in the near future to look it over. Gallman was the Harvester's leading scorer with better than 19 points a game, was named to the All-District team and was the only returning letterman that played for the team.

In Eastern New Mexico University's basketball Coach, Harry Miller's speech he commended the tradition at Pampa High School and stated that it was the best in the Panhandle.

Miller's talk was on how to judge an athlete, and he listed the things he looked for. The requirements he listed for a good athlete were Ability, average student or better, confidence in himself, which is built by hard work and practice, high spirited, conforms to discipline unselfish, loyalty to himself, team and coach, willingness to work and desire to play.

He stated that a team cannot afford a player who is complaisant, and reminded the returning players on the Harvester team that there is always someone ready to take your place.

The varsity team awards that Gibson presented were second letter to Chris Erandon, first letter to Jerry Brumfield, Richard Bunton, Mike Edgar, Mike Jordan, Don Long, Randy Marsh and Doug Thompson.

He thanked Mike Hogan, the team manager, for the job he did and stated that he didn't know how they would be able to get along without him. Hogan received his second letter.

The Shocker team all received certificates for playing. They were Dale Ammons, Don Cain, Marsh Gambin, Gary Haynes, Dan Hood, Roy Hendricks, Jeff Hogan, Larry Knutson, Mickey Sims, Larry Yearwood, Steve Edwards and Steve Christian. Managers Steve Cory and Laird Ellis also received certificates for helping the Shocker team.

Coach Gibson also thanked assistant Coach Jim Cunningham and Shocker coach Carl Miller for their help with the team.

Giants Top Padres In Baseball Action

By United Press International
The San Francisco Giants, who lost six of nine games, to Japanese opposition in their recent spring excursion to the Far East made it two victories in a row on the home front Thursday by rapping out 15 hits and defeating the San Diego Padres, 8-2, in a Cactus League exhibition game.

Ken Henderson and Jack Hiatt paced the Giants' attack with homers and rookie Alan Gallagher had a triple and a single as San Francisco pounded three Padres' pitchers.

In other action, Detroit bombed Washington, 11-3, Oakland belted Milwaukee, 11-7, Atlanta defeated Cleveland, 6-3, Philadelphia topped Kansas City, 5-0, Minnesota edged Boston, 5-4, the Phillies' "B" squad beat Cincinnati, 8-2, the New York Yankees nipped Montreal, 9-7, Baltimore whipped Houston, 4-1, and the Chicago White Sox stopped the Chicago Cubs, 5-4.

Bill Freehan, Willie Horton and Dalton Jones homered for the Tigers, who made it two victories in a row since they learned that star pitcher Denny McLain would miss only half the 1970 season.

Reggie Jackson hit his first homer of the spring in Oakland's victory. Bert Campaneris also homered for the A's, who chased George Lauzerique in the fifth inning with an eight-run outburst.

The Braves tagged Sam McDowell for 13 hits in seven innings in scoring their 13th victory of the spring against 10 losses.

Christ Short and Billy Wilson combined for a four-hitter and John Briggs and Sam Parrilla drove in two runs each to spark the Phillies' triumph over Kansas City.

Harmon Killebrew and Brant Aleya smacked third-inning homers to spark the Twins' victory.

T. Jeremiah Beam. Part of the Beam family art for 175 years.

Son of the famous Col. Jim Beam, T. Jeremiah is the fifth generation of the only Kentucky family that's made the same Bourbon since 1795. As a matter of fact, 1970 marks the 175th anniversary of the year that Jacob Beam, founder of the Beam clan, sold his first barrel of Kentucky Straight Bourbon Whiskey.

That's a mighty long time for one family to make one product, according to one formula.

So the next time you sip Jim Beam, savor its quality and its light taste. That's what we mean when we say it's a 175-year-old family art.

End Political Mail Service

The issue of what is proper pay for postal workers still has not been settled; although mail carriers are back on the job. As a matter of fact it probably never will be settled as long as the post office continues as a governmental agency.

To the credit of Pampa and Gray County postal workers, there was no disturbance of the mail in this county.

Most people sympathize with the postmen who must go to Washington with hat in hand every time they want an increase in salary. Some of them are particularly bitter in the face of the fact that President Nixon had his salary doubled and congressmen received a 42 per cent increase a year ago, while those same politicians squabble over what to do about the postmen.

There has been criticism of the fact that some of the carriers went on strike and violated the law. We deny there is such a thing as a "right" to strike. We think any worker has a right to quit a job, but he has no right to claim to hold that job and to attempt to keep any other willing worker from filling the position.

During a Boston police strike he said, "There is no right to strike against the public safety by anybody, anywhere, anytime."

But as long as the post office remains a government monopoly, there will be no permanent solution of the postal pay question. Congress regulates the pay and it regulates the amount charged for service. The politicians insist on having the power to determine who will get subsidized service, including the politicians themselves with their franking privileges. And as long as the politicians hold the power, the postal workers will have to wait for a political decision on their pay.

As we said a few days ago, the present postal situation has given Congress a chance to see that there is no reason to continue the present monopoly situation. The monopoly can be ended by eliminating all legislation preventing private enterprise from carrying first-class and other mail.

There is no telling how many companies would be available to handle mail if it were thrown open to individual enterprise. But, we are convinced, the service could be done efficiently and economically by private enterprisers competing against each other and against the government service, if it continues to operate. The prices charged and the salaries paid would be determined on the free market.

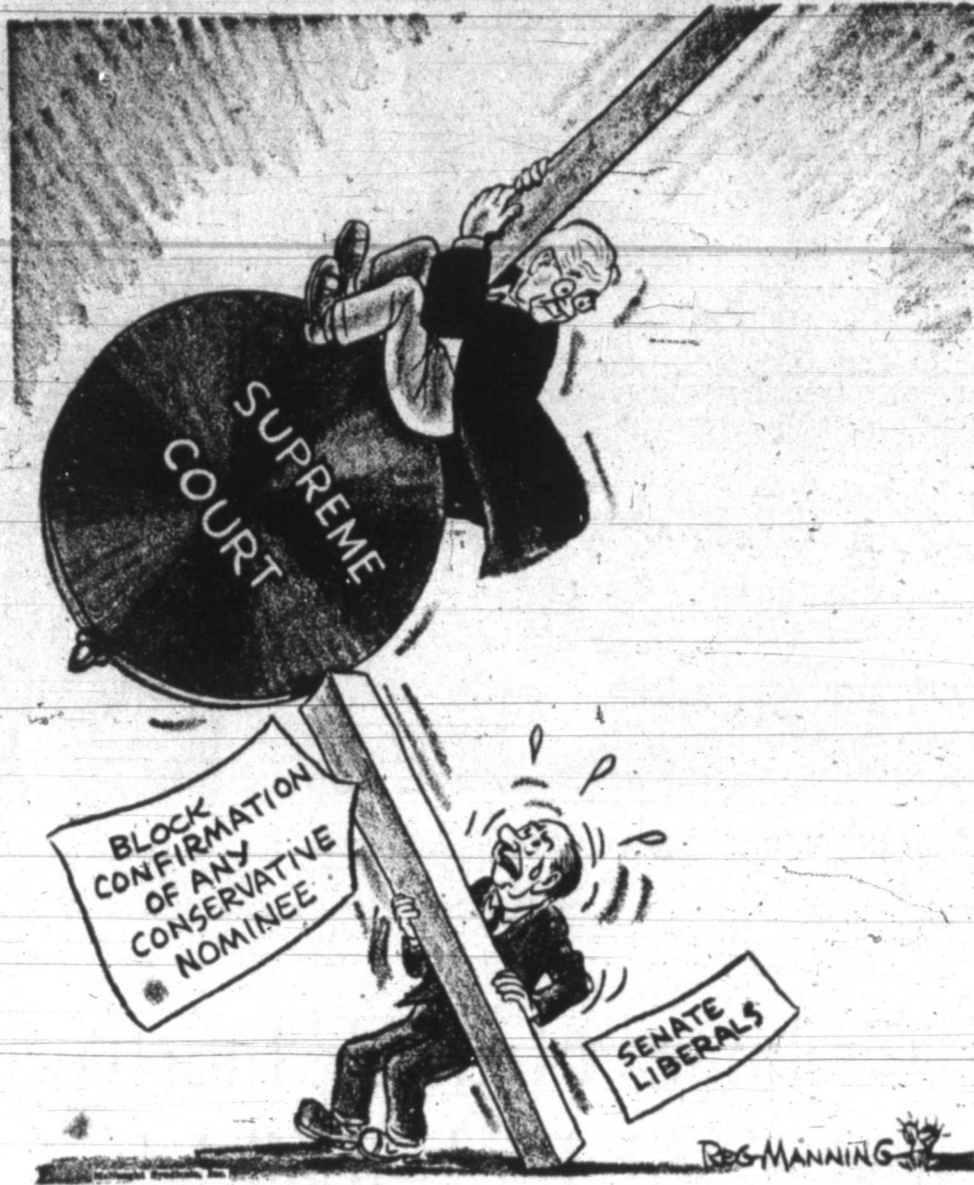

We believe free enterprise is the only way to go. And there's no better time to make the change than now.

The Better Side Of Life

In times of great changes we are inclined to refer to them as revolutionary. In this sense, America most certainly qualifies as the most revolutionary country on earth.

Successful men are influenced by the desire for pleasing results. Failures are influenced by the desire for pleasing methods.

I Won't Let It Swing Back!

WASHINGTON

Government Had Warning Of Trouble In The Post Office

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — The government had ample warning a major postal strike was coming.

In the fall of 1968, two major postal unions voted to take the "no strike" pledge out of their constitutions. One of these, the United Federation of Postal Clerks, has national exclusive bargaining recognition for 300,000 postal clerks. The other, the National Postal Union, has local exclusive bargaining recognition for one or more postal clerks in Manhattan, the Bronx, Philadelphia, Los Angeles and other cities.

The National Association of Letter Carriers voted to seek by legal and legislative means to eliminate the government requirement that no postal worker can belong to an organization which asserts the right to strike. A federal district court in Washington upheld the letter carriers. (This decision is now being appealed by the government.)

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT
Skin Rash May Clear Up Without Any Treatment
Q — I have pityriasis rosea. What causes it? Is it catching? What is the best treatment? Can I get it more than once?

A — This somewhat unsightly skin rash is now believed to be caused by a rather benevolent virus — it usually clears up without any treatment in six to 10 weeks. Since no widespread epidemic has ever been reported, it cannot be said to be very contagious. To relieve the troublesome itching the best treatment is a small dose of ultraviolet light obtained by sunbathing or a mercury-quartz sunlamp. Calamine lotion with phenol or bethamethasone (Valisone) cream are also helpful. The latter requires a prescription. Recurrences are very rare — less than one per cent of all cases.

Q — My doctor says that women over 40 should take female hormones but after taking Premarin daily (except every fourth week) I began to gain weight. When I stop taking the drug, I go back to normal weight. Isn't there a hormone that will not make me gain weight?

The Narcotic Problem: It Can Affect Everyone

Editor's Note: The following is a continuation from Thursday on the narcotic problem and how it affects all types of families... too much money and the known contacts make drugs accessible to anyone.

One Reason: Status
 Their reasons are varied. The one heard most frequently is status. Others of their peer group are experimenting. "I started because of the other kids," says Tom Greene. "I wanted to identify with the group. What was I going to do while the guys were off smoking pot? Twiddle my thumbs? Watch TV another night? They tell you 'it's groovy,' and you say 'Oh, yeah?' and sooner or later you do it."

Other reasons are a basic impulse to "feel good," to eliminate pain and anxiety, the changing mores of the country, the idea reinforced daily hundreds of times on television and radio, in magazines and newspapers, that "relief is just a swallow away," the search for more vital sensory experiences, with youngsters using drugs as some adults use alcohol—to make themselves more susceptible to certain stimuli; to escape from the difficult matter of surviving in an ever-increasingly competitive society. There is little doubt the most troubled, confused youths are most susceptible to long-term attachment to drugs.

Rebellion, of course, is a big reason. Daniel X. Freedman, a University of Chicago psychiatrist, says simply: "Using marijuana or LSD confronts parents with something that shocks the hell out of them."

Another: Boredom
 Another reason they often give is boredom. This is perhaps most difficult to understand for parents who have given their children advantages they themselves never had. But some experts now have come to believe that the activities schools, communities and parents have traditionally provided for young people are no longer demanding enough to maintain their attention. Perhaps their boredom even grows, these experts suggest, from a frustrating world where too many choices for pleasure are provided. In these cases it may be easier to stay home and smoke pot or trip on LSD.

Money, of course, is another reason. Teen-agers have never been more affluent, nor more free from parental restrictions to spend money as they wish. And as a corollary, many parents simply are too wrapped up in their own lives to give the child the affection, the understanding, the leadership he requires. He may turn to drugs instead.

Those are reasons. Good or bad from the parental viewpoint, the kids believe them. What can be done about them is another thing. Many strike at the very fabric of society. Short of open overthrow of the Establishment is there any common place where both sides can meet?

Probably not. Many experts simply hope the drug problem will peak soon, and the graph will plunge downward. But what until then? And what will the youngsters turn to after the drug craze ends?

Meantime, the epidemic rages. From an occasional pot-smoker in an occasional high school, the problem now contaminates elementary grades.

Widespread Examples
 Police in Las Vegas arrested three persons last month, including Ava Pittman, the "Queen of the Heroin Dealers." The trio grossed an estimated $33,000 a week peddling heroin to high schoolers.

Los Angeles city schools have distributed a quarter million brochures in grades 5 through 9 describing the marijuana problem. The brochures are intended for parents and students.

Fourteen persons, aged 17 through 22, were arrested in February in a three-county area around Raleigh, N.C., charged by police with being major suppliers of drugs to high school and college students. One was the 18-year-old son of Chancellor Carlyle Sitterson of the University of North Carolina.

John Moore, 27, the son of the late mayor of Stamford, Conn., was arrested this month in a car parked on the busy Bronx River Parkway in New York City. Police said Moore and a companion were injecting heroin into their arms.

One year ago Fairleigh S. Dickinson III died of a combination of opium and LSD in his Columbia University dormitory. He was the son of a New Jersey state legislator and the grandson of the founder of Fairleigh Dickinson University in East Rutherford, N.J.

Police in Philadelphia last month arrested the 19-year-old son of New Jersey Gov. William Cahill for possession of marijuana.

Howard Samuels, head of the Small Business Administration under President Lyndon Johnson, is running for last month his son, Howard Jr., 17, was arrested when remnants of hashish were found in his pipe. The elder Samuels later said Howard Jr. and four others of the nine Samuels children have experimented with drugs.

Robin M. Cranston, son of U.S. Sen. Alan Cranston, D-Calif., was sentenced to a federal correctional institution in July 1966 for failure to pay import tax on marijuana brought in from Mexico.

York McGavin, 19, the son of actor Darrin McGavin, was sentenced to an indeterminate term in a federal correctional institution after pleading guilty last July to selling LSD.

W. D. Blake, chief of police of the college community of Chapel Hill, N.C., in almost a rural setting, says his town of 30,000 population has 150 heroin users, 80 per cent of them teenagers.

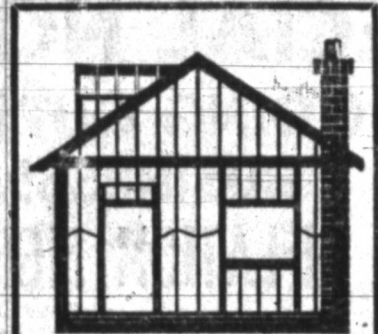

Drug arrests in Houston jumped from 3 in 1965 to 159 in 1969.

David Bartholomew, 18, a high school honor student in Fairfield County, Conn., swan-dived from an overpass into the windshield of an auto on the Connecticut Turnpike Dec. 5 while on a bad LSD trip.

At Westbury High School in southwest Houston, kids from upper middle class families steal tape recorders and other items from school and sell them to support their drug habits. Fred Pepper, assistant principal at the school, says "students using drugs in and out of school is our biggest discipline problem."

Marijuana Graduates
 And federal studies of heroin addicts from city areas show more than 80 per cent used pot before graduating to heroin. Authorities are virtually unanimous, though, that of the much larger number of persons who use pot, relatively few go on to heroin. No direct cause-and-effect link between pot and heroin has been found.
