Are You Glad School Has Started?

Vicki Kenner, 17, 1400 W. 19 student of Pampa High School: "No, and I really don't know why."

Evan Dowdy, 18, 2125 Dogwood, student at Texas Tech University: "Yes, I am anxious to go back because I feel ambitious again."

Agneta Wheat, 5, 1005 Mary Ellen, kindergarten student: "Yes, 'cause it is fun and I want to see the other kids."

Mrs. Lynn Farley, 1520 Hamilton, parent of three students: "Yes, I am ready for school to start again because it will get the boys out of my hair... or rather because I know they are anxious to get back."

Mrs. Lynn Wolfe, 1524 Hamilton, teacher at Pampa High School: "I am anxious to go back because I like to watch all the new construction going on at the high school."

"I am a capitalist! My desire to earn your confidence and repeat business is your assurance that I will do a good job at a fair price."

Koepchne Inquest Underway

A Bastion Against Racial Change Mississippi Readies For Battle With HEW

JACKSON, Miss. (UPI) — Mississippi, for decades a bastion against racial change, grudgingly began implementation today of a Supreme Court order to completely desegregate its public schools.

Teachers quit, private schools opened and education officials hurried to finish up the overhauling of public schools for the sweeping change as the deadline passed.

Registration and orientation procedures started today in nearly half the 30 Mississippi districts ordered by the Supreme Court 10 weeks ago to desegregate totally and completely.

There was grave concern that the week would find thousands of white children in makeshift private schools and the public systems in several areas would become almost totally black. No one will know the extent of white defections until later this week when classes start.

Private schools opened in several towns during the morning, their rooms occupied

Tight Security Circles Edgartown Courtroom

EDGARTOWN, Mass. (UPI) — Amid tight security, the secret inquest into the death of Mary Jo Koepchne began today shortly after the arrival of Sen. Edward M. Kennedy as a witness.

Kennedy, who flew in from his Hyannis Port home on the mainland, said: "I'm hopeful we can reach an end to what has become an extraordinary length of time."

"I'm hopeful the record will be complete and I can get to the business of devoting myself to the Senate."

Kennedy and nearly a dozen other subpoenaed witnesses, all accompanied by lawyers, walked into the heavily guarded courthouse, in front of which milled about 200 persons, mostly newsmen.

District Judge James A. Boyle presided over the inquest, ordered by District Attorney Edmund S. Dinis.

Boyle arrived at the courthouse more than two hours before Kennedy.

After laying down the ground rules for the proceedings, Boyle was expected to begin interrogating Kennedy and 10 others who attended a cookout-reunion the night Miss Koepchne died.

Altogether, at least 20 persons have been subpoenaed to testify.

Just as Kennedy and his wife Joan reached the entrance to the courthouse, the Senator was asked by newsmen: "Are you glad it's finally under way?"

Kennedy turned, nodded, and replied: "Yes, I am."

The hatless Massachusetts Democrat wore a dark topcoat, white shirt and dark tie. His wife, whose blonde hair was ruffled by the cold breeze, wore a blue coat with a white belt and large white buttons.

The proceedings, which were to open Sept. 3, were closed to the press and public by order of the Massachusetts Supreme Court. But it was left to Boyle to decide whether lawyers would cross-examine witnesses and present evidence of their own.

Edgartown Police Chief Dominick J. Arena told a packed news briefing Sunday night tight security would be enforced at the inquest, with uniformed police guarding each entrance to the century-old Courthouse.

Information about what happens inside the red brick Courthouse probably will be restricted severely. Witnesses have been instructed not to discuss the case. Boyle has kept silent about the case, and Dinis also has had no comment for months.

Miss Koepchne, 38, a Washington secretary and one-time campaign worker for Kennedy's brother Robert, drowned when a car the senator said he was driving plunged off the side of a plank bridge on nearby Chappaquiddick Island into a tidal pond.

The inquest was expected to last three to four days, and it appeared likely the 37-year-old (See KOEPCHNE, Page 2)

British Kidnaped Victim Feared Dead

LONDON (UPI) — Police investigating the week-old disappearance of Mrs. Muriel McKay reported no new clues today to her whereabouts. There was some fear she already may have been murdered.

The family of the 55-year-old woman attended church services Sunday and her parish priest, the Rev. Clifford H. Smith, asked the congregation to pray for the kidnapers "so something of love may touch their hearts."

The original belief that the wife of newspaper Publisher Alex McKay was kidnaped for ransom appeared less and less likely.

City Has Election Coming, Too

With the rush of candidates filing for county offices in the May 2 primary election, City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden today reminded Pampa voters there will be a city election Tuesday, April 7.

Under the new alternating election years system, two city commission posts will be open for candidates.

Terms of Clyde Carruth, Ward 4 commissioner, and Hugh Burdette, Ward 2 commissioner, expire in April.

Carruth will not be a candidate for re-election. He announced Saturday he will run for county commissioner in Precinct 2.

Burdette has not indicated whether he will seek re-election.

Both Carruth and Burdette are serving second terms.

Deadline for filing for the two city posts will be March 16. Absentee ballots may be cast (See CITY, Page 2)

Open-Face Heater Topples Over Retired Farm Worker Asphyxiated In Fire

By RON CROSS
News Staff Writer

A 77-year-old retired farm worker, Frank Monroe "Roy" Estes, 937 E. Campbell, died in his home from asphyxiation in an early Sunday morning fire.

Funeral services for Estes are scheduled at 4:30 p.m. Tuesday in Duenkel Funeral Chapel with Rev. Darrell Lewis, minister of Barrett Baptist Church officiating.

Pampa police were notified at 1:40 a.m. by Jerry Wright, 115 S. Starkweather, that he could see smoke coming from the Estes' 3-room frame residence.

Pampa police Sgt. Danny Honeycutt and officer John O'Dell rushed to the home and found it engulfed in flames. The Pampa fire department was notified and battled the blaze for about two hours.

Officers Honeycutt and O'Dell tried to enter the burning house through the back door after being told Estes could be in the house. They were driven back by smoke and flames.

Estes was found on his bedroom floor and was pronounced dead by asphyxiation by acting coroner Justice of Peace Nat Lunsford.

Firemen said the blaze apparently started in Estes' bedroom where an open faced heater had fallen on the floor.

Firemen said the floor apparently caught fire and then spread throughout the house, which was a total loss.

Estes was born Oct. 3, 1892 in Arkansas and moved to McAllister, Okla., at an early age. He retired from farm work in 1962 and moved to Pampa.

He is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Alvin Helms, Miss Peggy Estes and Mrs. (See FIRE, Page 2)

Alanreed Resident Files For Precinct 4 Commissioner

O.W. "Red" Stapp, 61, a married daughter and a resident of Gray County for 40 years, filed Saturday as a Democratic candidate for the Precinct 4 Commissioners post.

Stapp is a full time employee of Gray County, presently working as an operator under Commissioner Truitt Johnson.

He served as foreman in Precinct 4 for 11 years, and is a twenty-year employe of the county.

Third Snowfall Of Season Promise Of Hard, Cold Winter Coming True!

Blowing snow, that roared into the Panhandle shortly before dawn and cut visibility to 200 yards in some areas, was expected to end sometime around midnight.

The U.S. Weather Bureau in Amarillo said Pampa and Panhandle residents could look for an end to the blizzard-like conditions late this evening.

"It's a pretty dry snow without much moisture content and it looks like the moisture that's in it will dry out before long," said a Weather Bureau spokesman.

But Pampa motorists were again driving at a snail's pace as they did much of last week when three inches of snow was dumped on the city.

By mid-morning streets in Pampa were again becoming slick and motorists on highways between Pampa and Amarillo and to the north were finding conditions much the same.

Visibility in Pampa was down to 200 yards around 9 a.m. and less to the north of the city. The blowing snow was general throughout the area, although it hadn't reached the Oklahoma-Texas line to the east of Pampa.

No car accidents had been reported in Pampa or in the area by noon and measurable moisture was reported. The temperature stood at 10 degrees shortly before noon.

The forecast for Tuesday called for fair but cold type weather.

Dalhart had an early morning low of 13 with scattered snow flurries whipped about by northerly winds gusting to 30 miles an hour. The mercury there was not expected to get out of the 20s all day.

Amarillo also reported snow and a flight forecaster at Lubbock said: "We got about three flakes about an hour ago and we might get three more later on." The low in Amarillo was 15. Lubbock had a 26 with icy winds.

The extent of the rain around the state was reflected in that 26 of the 36 reporting stations recorded some precipitation.

License Tag Renewal Applications In Mail

Jack Back, county assessor-collector, reported today that the Texas Highway Department, Motor Vehicle Division, has license plate renewal applications in the mail. According to a release by the department, mailing from Austin would be completed by today. Pampans receiving renewal applications should take care, states Back, not to lose the slip.

No renewal slip applications should be presented to the tax office before Feb. 1 when license plates go on sale.

Persons with recent transfer of title will not receive a renewal application and should bring the car title and previous year's license receipt to the office when purchasing new tags.

Out-of-state registration transfers require a physical inspection of the vehicle title and receipt, for tags before licensing by the Texas Motor Vehicle Division.

A new method of licensing cars was set up in 1969 by the Highway Department. The renewal applications provide a quicker, more efficient method for issuing licenses, eliminating long lines in the tax office and the need to present titles, certificates of registration and license receipts.

Holiday Death Toll Lower Than Estimated

By United Press International

The New Year's holiday weekend traffic death toll was headed today toward the "lower range" of 450 to 550 deaths estimated by the National Safety Council.

The holiday period began 6 p.m. local time Wednesday and ended at midnight Sunday. Americans died at the rate of (See DEATH, Page 2)

Fingerprint Expert To Testify To Texan's Involvement

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Informed sources said a Los Angeles fingerprint expert would testify today in the extradition hearings for Charles D. "Tex" Watson, charged with seven murders including that of actress Sharon Tate.

The expert, Jerome A. Bowen, was to testify at the 10 a.m. (CST) hearings that Watson's fingerprints were found in Miss Tate's Benedict Canyon, Calif., home where she and four others died.

Extradition laws require only that prosecutors present evidence that Watson is the person named in the California indictment, that the crimes did occur and that Watson was in California at the time Miss Tate was murdered.

Another suspect in the case, Patricia Krenwinkel, also faced extradition hearings in Mobile, Ala., in the Tate murder case. Documents sent to Alabama reportedly contain fingerprints of Miss Krenwinkel's found at the Tate home. The documents said a print found on the rear inside door of the actress' home matched a print of Miss Krenwinkel's little finger when she was arrested.

In both Watson's and Miss Krenwinkel's hearings, the fingerprint evidence was expected to be the basis for arguments

Pampa Home Burglarized, Store Window Broken In Downtown Area

Pampa police questioned two men Sunday in connection with the burglary of the John Parker residence, 1928 Garke. No arrests were made but officers said they would question the pair again.
Parker called police about 4 p.m. Sunday and reported the burglary. He told officers he and his family had been out of town since Dec. 31 and had just returned.
Officers Stan Brown found entry to the home was gained by breaking out a rear window. The burglar then reached in and unlocked the back door.
Taken were two television sets and a stereo record player. Parker estimated value of the items as $375.
Brown said several drawers in an upstairs bedroom were rifled and the burglar apparently cut himself after a trail of blood was found in the home.

Three men were released by Pampa police late Saturday following questioning after one of them had allegedly kicked out a front window at Dykes Discount store, 118 W. Foster.
Police were told by an unidentified man he had seen the window kicked out; gave police a description and the man was arrested in the 100 block of S. Frost.
Charged with intoxication was Starlin Edward Gosnell, 23, who gave his address as the Pampa Hotel.
According to investigating officer, Sgt. Danny Honeycutt's report Gosnell told the officer he and two friends were wanted in North Carolina for robbery.
Honeycutt took Gosnell and the two other men to police headquarters where a record check was made on them. But the three were released when officers found the trio were wanted by police.
Disposition of the window-breaking charge is pending.

Arrests Imminent In Nationwide Gambling Ring

DETROIT (UPI) — Arrests were expected either today or Tuesday in a crackdown by federal agents of a nationwide gambling ring that may involve sports celebrities.
Another 150 gamblers and sports figures will be ordered to appear before a 23-man federal grand jury here, James H. Brickley, U.S. district attorney for Eastern Michigan, said Sunday.
The expected arrests and grand jury action stem from New Year's day raids in the Detroit area, at Lansing, Mich., and in Las Vegas. Ten persons were arrested and at least $620,000 was confiscated by Internal Revenue Service agents.
"At least $300,000" of the money seized had been wagered on football bowl games, Brickley said.
James E. Ritchie, director of a special organized crime task force and head of the gambling investigation, said "people scattered all over the nation" would be involved in the grand jury action.

Baseball sportscaster and former pitching star Dizzy Dean has been the only sports figure yet mentioned in the operation, but has not been arrested. After being searched in his Las Vegas hotel room, he conceded friendship with two of the men arrested but denied knowledge of a gambling ring. "I can't be involved in it," he said, "because I don't know anything about it."

Pampa Chapter No. 65, Order of Eastern Star, will have its regular stated meeting at 8 p.m. Thursday in the Masonic Hall, 430 W. Kingsmill. Lillian Smith, worthy matron, and John Hahn, worthy patron, will preside.
The regular scheduled meeting tonight of Bottle Diggers Anonymous has been cancelled due to bad weather.
Ladies Auxiliary to Veterans of Foreign Wars will meet at 7:30 p.m. Tuesday in VFW Hall for a regular business session.
For sale: 14 inch Mag Wheels, real good condition. Reasonable. 669-9962 after 5:30.
Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Davis and children, former Pampans now residing in Amarillo, visited with friends and relatives in Pampa over the long holiday weekend.
Pampa Chapter No. 70, Pi Delta, Junior Order Knight of Pythias will meet in a stated session, at 8 p.m. today. Knight advisor, J.C. Hopkins will assist. All members and Knights are invited.

1126 Charles does it again! The holiday door of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Curry won a second place $25 check and a trophy from the Amarillo High Plains Center for Performing Arts for its beauty of design and originality.
The check and trophy were presented Friday in ceremonies held in Amarillo.
Winning holiday home-decoration contests is not an unusual happening for Mrs. Curry. In Pampa contests in the early '60's, the Curry home came in for its share of first place trophies.
And that the grey frame white shuttered home with its ivy-covered lawn on Charles is equally attractive in the summertime is evidenced in the fact that it came in for a Ward Two's first place in the "most beautiful lawn" contest conducted by the Chamber of Commerce in August.
The 19th century doorway features gold and tinsel with natural greenery, grapes and gourds and pure white doves. A red carpet, leading to the doorway, is flanked by gold sunbursts and miniature Italian lights. Gold swags of metallic ribbon drape from the trees to the spruce greenery and are repeated again in a doorway drape.
The door is covered with antique gold grill work and metallic ribbon centered with a traditional Christmas wreath.
The grape clusters are used as flashlights sprayed gold.
The dramatic door was the object of thievery during the holiday, when vandals took a small spotlight and strings of miniature Italian lights.
"Luckily, though," Mrs. Curry said, "I had some extra ones that I could put back up immediately."
The door decorations have taken years to accumulate. And each year, Mrs. Curry adds some new feature, which has brought it to its present elegance.
Asked what can be added next year, Mrs. Curry laughed and said, "Oh, I'll think of something."
Care is the keyword, however, in addition to the originality and cleverness of design. Each light, string of lights cluster of grapes, each gourd and dove, and metallic swags must be put up with care, taken down with care, and stored with care to insure each being in good enough condition to qualify for a hanging on the Curry Holiday Door.

Survivors are his wife, Lena, of the home; one sister, Mrs. Maurine Cuberson, Odessa; three brothers, G. W. Monahan; C. H. Denison; and Claude, Plano.
MRS. CHARLIE CLENDENEN
Funeral services for Mrs. Charlie Clendenen, 79, will be held at First Methodist Church of Lefors at 2 p.m. Tuesday with burial in Lefors Cemetery directed by Duengel Funeral Directors. The Rev. L. W. Baker, pastor of the Lefors Methodist Church, will officiate.
Mrs. Clendenen died Sunday at Casa Del Nursing Home.
She was born March 13, 1890, in Indian Territory in Oklahoma, and moved to Lefors in 1933. She moved from Lefors in 1966, when she was admitted to the nursing home here. She was a member of Lefors First Methodist Church.
Survivors are two daughters, Mrs. Lee Friend, Pampa; and Mrs. Sophia Johnson, Amarillo; four sons, Walter A. Davis; and Alfred L. Davis, both of Pampa; Henry T. Davis, Houston, and Lee Davis, Sugarland; three stepdaughters, Mrs. Winnie Blackshire, Amarillo; Mrs. Opal Folie, Abilene, Kans.; and Mrs. Zelma Richardson, Lubbock; 16 grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.
MRS. ROB WILSON
Funeral services for Mrs. Rob Wilson, 89, were held at 2 p.m. today in Era, with burial in Era Cemetery.
Mrs. Wilson died Sunday in an Era hospital. She was hospitalized a week ago for treatment of a broken hip she sustained in a fall.
Survivors are two daughters, Miss Alma Wilson, Pampa, a teacher at Baker Elementary School, and Mrs. Wayne Alexander, Amarillo; three sons, Frank, Pampa, Cecil, Hooks; and George, Era.

Cashway Names New Positions

Cashway Grocery chain has announced the appointment of a new general manager and market manager at Cashway No. 1, 502 W. Francis in Pampa. New manager, Bill Lam, a resident of Pampa since 1941, has been with Cashway since March, 1969. Prior to his joining the chain, he was associated a bread company for 20 years. He and his wife, Frances, reside at 606 Lefors and are the parents of two married daughters, Nancy and Cynthia, and are grandparents of four children. The new market manager, Carl Sexton, is a 40 year resident of Pampa and was associated with the grocery business and market operations for 23 years. He and his wife, Clara Jane reside at 400 Doucette. One daughter, Carlene, is married and resides in Lubbock. Living at home or attending college are Gracie, a graduate student of Texas Tech; Chuck, a junior at Pampa High School, and Robert E. Lee student, Jane. The new managers expressed desire to serve the people of the area in a way insuring a successful year in 1970 and thank customers for their patronage in 1969. Lam stated that he is striving toward even better service than the excellent service which has been provided by Cashway in the past, and reminds customers that S and H Green Stamps are given by the store.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—While Congress felt it could afford to combine income tax cuts with tax reforms, governors and state legislatures are groaning about the seemingly endless chore of raising state taxes. The year ahead should bring lower state tax increases than 1969 because only 28 of the legislatures hold regular sessions. Legislatures in all but three states held regular sessions last year. Reports from the Council of State Governments and the Federation of State Tax Administrators show that 37 states increased taxes in 1969 in one or more of five major fields of state revenue. These are taxes on income, sales, motor fuel, tobacco and alcoholic beverages. Some of the conspicuous state tax moves last year: —Illinois and Maine adopted new income tax laws, bringing the number of states with these levies to 37. The Washington State Legislature voted to put an income tax to a referendum in 1970. —Connecticut and Rhode Island took a very short step toward the income tax, the first by putting a tax on capital gains and the second by taxing investment income. —Vermont became the 45th state to adopt a general sales tax. —The tobacco-growing state of North Carolina became the 10th state to levy a tax on tobacco. —Fifteen states raised gasoline and other motor fuel taxes, the highest number in one year since 1955. In a survey a year ago, the Federation of Tax Administrators found that the states had adopted 26 new taxes and voted

Answer to Previous Puzzle

Hollywood In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Jose Feliciano, the sightless guitarist-singer who touched off a minor national outrage by warbling a soul version of the National Anthem at a World Series game two years ago, is about to stir up the British. Last October he flew to Britain for a concert and to appear on several television shows. He traveled without his guide dog, Trudy—a smooth-haired collie—because English law forbids entry of dogs from abroad unless they undergo six months quarantine; a safeguard against rabies. "I took Trudy to England two years ago and they put her in a quarantine kennel for two weeks," Feliciano said. "It almost killed her." Wife Helps "My wife helped me find my way around. But because I'm blind I feel restricted without my dog. I didn't have any mobility. And I found myself asking Hilda, my wife to obey commands I usually give Trudy. It was confusing." Feliciano plans to return to the British Isles this spring for more concerts. "When I get there I plan to petition the queen through the Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals to change the laws for guide dogs," he said. "The odds are against my getting to talk to the queen, but something should be done to help blind people going to England." Minimizes Handicap Feliciano, a native of Puerto Rico, minimizes his blindness as much as possible. He believes a performer, sightless or not, should entertain an audience and win it over on talent alone. Not sympathy. Rarely does he appear with Trudy. Most often Hilda will lead him to a stool on stage or before the television cameras to perform. "The television people sometimes think I shouldn't appear with my dog because it detracts

GREEN PHANTOM?

HONOLULULU (UPI)—Two burglars used a can of green paint to smash a display window in a hardware store robbery. They were later arrested by police officer Robert Yarnell who became suspicious when he saw green paint smeared on their clothing.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—The chairman of the National Committee for Naming Decades raps his gavel and calls the convention to order. "Fellow delegates: We are gathered here on this auspicious occasion for the purpose of choosing a name for the decade just ended. The importance of this task cannot be overstated. "It was our organization that named 'The Gay Nineties' and 'The Roaring Twenties.' Both have now been admitted to the Decade Hall of Fame. "Unless we can pick an equally memorable name for the sixties, this decade will soon be forgotten, like 'The Fighting Forties,' so named because of World War II, and 'The Frosty Fifties,' so named because of the cold war. To Nominate Name "The chair now recognizes the delegate from New York for the purpose of nominating a name for the period 1960-69." "Mr. Chairman, since this was the decade in which John and Robert Kennedy and Martin Luther King were assassinated, I propose that we name it 'The Sorrowful Sixties.'" "The chair recognizes the delegate from Florida." "Mr. Chairman, crime and violence during this decade rose to the highest levels in history. For that reason, I recommend that we name it 'The Savage Sixties.'" "The chair recognizes the delegate from California." "Mr. Chairman, for the first

NO SANCTIONS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The State Department says it will not invoke economic sanctions against Peru for the expropriation of an American Oil Company so long as talks are kept alive. Spokesman Carl E. Borch said Wednesday a fourth round of talks between Peru and the United States may be initiated in 1970. The so-called Hickenlooper Amendment gives the President permission to take economic sanctions against a nation after an uncompensated seizure of an American firm. Peru seized the International Petroleum Co., a subsidiary of Standard Oil of New Jersey, shortly after the October, 1968 coup.

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

TUESDAY, JAN. 6

Your birthday Tuesday: Your main concern in the months ahead will be to better organize your present resources. According to the effort you have made to improve your skills and efficiency, some recognition in your work is likely. If your present work lacks challenge, you may try for a bigger job, with good chances of getting one.

RIES (March 21-April 19): After a morning of empty noise your day settles to real productivity. Make a bid for a higher position, organize your backers and references.

AURUS (April 20-May 20): Work may encroach on your leisure time, or you may require extra rest after work. Suspend early judgment, then follow your intuition in the late hours. Property, real estate interests go well in the evening.

EMINI (May 21-June 20): Discussion early in the day generates more confusion than it resolves, but thereafter everybody gets down to practical realities and things are worked out.

ANGER (June 21-July 22): Some discrepancy or past error comes to light in the morning. Attend to corrections promptly. The later hours are excellent for interviewing important people. Emotional ties are rewarding.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Tackle some tedious chore that has been neglected and overdue. There is a good chance of a divorce, and perhaps assistance, from an older relative.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Take news and incidents of the morning as temporary phases, with reservation. The afternoon and evening are for business, travels, shopping, contacts with people who may promote your interests.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): A sense of humor is essential. Your friends and associates will go along with you to straighten things out if you can make it a joke. Newcomers in your neighborhood arouse interest.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Once the morning indecision is over, sales of property and merchandise turn out well, but not your personal purchasing efforts. Corporate buyers fare better.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Inside information is not to be trusted early in the day, but proves much more reliable in the afternoon; rearrange your work and schemes accordingly. Clear up a pending question.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Spend the morning in review; expect to revise figures and estimates. The rest of the day is advantageous for official visits, inspections, investment adjustments.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Early irresolutions settle into better directions as the day progresses. Serious business is better done in the evening over a good meal. Find time later to meditate, or do some earnest study.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): All sorts of friendly doings go on, with no special inference to be drawn from any of them. Take things as they come, at face value. Emphasis is on chiropodists, manicurists. Buy new shoes if you need them.

PAMPA, TEXAS - 52nd Year Monday, January 5, 1970 PAMPA DAILY NEWS 5

Glittering chains, colorful scarves and the feminine allure of transparent fabrics continue big for fall. To complete the look, fashion glasses (left) are added in eye-flattering frame and lens pastels. Distortion-free and well-fitted, they are delicately tinted to go anywhere daytime and at night. Ride a motorcycle, fly a plane or take a trip to the moon—it's all here for those who don't fear. Daring fashions, too, such as these pastel-tinted accessory shields (right). They are part of today's ever-changing spirit of adventure.

Maxi Length Requires Women To Learn New Way Of Walking

NEW YORK (UPI) — It's revolving doors, tripping its wearers or other people, inspiring signs of caution in some stores, drawing warnings from safety officials.

What is it? It's the maxi, of course, the nearly full length coat that the nation's fashion-conscious women have taken to as they took to boots and once adopted Jacqueline Kennedy pillbox hats and little-nothing dresses.

Never run for a taxi, while wearing a maxi, has become the advice to the mods. Or for that matter, never run for a bus or a subway.

"You have to learn a whole new walk," said one young thing as she hitched her hands into her pockets and lifted the front of her maxi coat to approach an escalator.

Both the National Safety and Greater New York Safety Councils have taken note of the maxi, although neither has recorded any serious accidents from the long garments.

The national council reminded that one of the hazards of the street-sweeping length simply is not being able to see where you're stepping. Wear the stylish chunky heels, not the high ones, which might get caught in the maxi's hem, and keep the hems at least a couple of inches off the ground, it advises.

Check the maxis in restaurants if possible to avoid tripping hazards to others and getting into a car, use the old rule of body first, then feet, and in getting out, feet first, then the body. The council adds the maxi with little tolerance. Mrs. Marjorie May, its director of home safety, calls it graceless, unsanitary and un-

SAN FRANCISCO-The Rt. Rev. Msgr. James M. Murray commenting on his decision to marry and leave the priesthood after 28 years: "It is extremely difficult to make a choice between eminently good things, two cherished values, the sacrament of matrimony with the one I dearly love and the priestly ministry which I also dearly love and in which I have served honorably for over 28 years."

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am a mature male who had a date with a beautiful girl of the Catholic faith. On our first date, she took her Prayer Rosary with her!

This was a first for me, and I don't mind telling you that I was really shook up. I would appreciate your wise interpretation of this.

CONFUSED IN TEXAS: DEAR CONFUSED: Your letter doesn't make clear whether the young lady had her Rosary in her possession on the date because she always carries it with her (many devout Catholics do) or whether she brought it along on the date especially to pray—which would have been highly unusual.

Ask her. If she says she brought it along to pray, don't be shook. Ask her what she was praying for.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are well into our forties. We have grown children who are married, and one 12-year-old son at home.

For the past five years my husband has been having an affair with another woman. This is the only time in our marriage he has been unfaithful to me, but I know it's serious. I have talked with the woman involved and I'm sure she is really in love with him. She says she is willing to wait forever—if necessary.

In a way, I am probably to blame, for I let my children and home come first. I have no family and very few close friends. My marriage offers me security and a place in the community. If I give all this up, I don't know how I could make it on my own, where I would go, or what I would do.

My husband is very good to me and our child, but he says he will not give up this other woman. He says he loves her, but his first responsibility is to me and our child. At times I think I still care for him. Other times, I despise him. Don't ask me to talk to a minister. I never could. Just writing to you took more courage than I knew I had. I feel as if I am slowly losing my mind. Please help me.

DESPERATE: DEAR DESPERATE: If you feel that you are "losing your mind," make an appointment to see your doctor. Perhaps he can give you something to relieve your anxiety, relax you, and lessen your depression. (If he refers you to a psychiatrist, go!)

In the meantime, there is no quick and easy solution to your problem. The decision must be yours. But you will need a clear mind if you are to make a decision you can live with the rest of your life. Good luck.

DEAR ABBY: You advised "TROUBLED," whose husband had everything a woman could want in a man, excepting height, to "count her blessings." Well, she did count them, and she still came up short. She should have counted his "shortness" as a blessing.

I am a woman, 5 feet 2, and I've been going with a man who is 5 feet for several months now. I was surprised to find that having a big man to cuddle up to isn't all that it's cracked up to be. A small man doesn't crush or smother one. My undervalued lover actually makes "little me" feel statuesque. I don't get a crick in my neck from kissing him, and he couldn't beat me up if he wanted to.

My little guy has developed a wonderful sense of humor, and a great deal of empathy and consideration for others as a result of being a short man in a tall man's world.

PRO PLAYOFF ROUNDUP

Pampa Hosts Caprock Tuesday In District Play

The holidays over, District 4 AAAA basketball teams return to the serious side of the game this week returning to conference play.

Pampa, fresh from two straight victories plays host Tuesday to Caprock and both teams will be trying to stage some kind of comeback in the district race.

In other Tuesday games Amarillo, beaten twice in the Amarillo City tournament, is at Plainview; Palo Duro Monterey while Borger tries to end Tascosa's streak and Lubbock hosts Coronado.

Both Pampa and Caprock sport 1-3 conference records but there the similarity ends. Pampa is fresh from a two-game winning streak and sports an 8-6 record while Caprock is 4-11 for the season.

The Harvesters won both games a season ago, 52-37 and 54-28.

Amarillo and Tascosa lead the district chase with 4-0 records while Monterey and Plainview are both 3-1 and still trying to catch up.

Over the holidays the Sandies went to their own city tournament with a perfect 15-0 record but lost to Palo Duro and Tascosa with the Rebels winning the tournament championship.

Pampa lost its first round game in the Hobbs tournament to El Paso Burgess then came back to beat Ardmore, Okla. and Odessa High. Hobbs won the tournament by 42 points over Burgess.

Sophomore Richard Buntun was the only Harvester named to the All-Tournament team. The sophomore whizz led all teams in rebounding with 32 in the three games.

APARICIO SIGNS

CHICAGO (UPI)—Shortstop Luis Aparicio, a veteran of 14 major league seasons, has signed his contract for 1978 with the Chicago White Sox.

The 35-year-old Aparicio, who batted .290 last year, received a substantial raise in pay.

Vikings On Way To Super Bowl, 27-7

MINNEAPOLIS, St. Paul (UPI) — The "Purple People Eaters" are great and scare opponents, all right, but take it from the Minnesota Vikings, the unsung castoffs who make up their offensive line are the reason they've earned a berth in next Sunday's Super Bowl game against Kansas City.

"They were the difference," declared Viking quarterback Joe Kapp after Sunday's 27-7 rout of the Cleveland Browns in icy, snow-rimed Metropolitan Stadium for the National Football League championship.

The scar-faced, 31-year-old Kapp operated behind that offensive line with a hot hand on a cold day, running for one touchdown and passing for another. In addition to a TD by Dave Osborn, the other Viking points came on 30 and 32-yard field goals by Freddie Cox.

The offensive line sprung Osborn and others loose for 222 rushing yards; while the Browns were able to run for only 97 against the "Purple Eaters," the celebrated front four of the Viking defense that Browns' Coach Blanton Collier was ready to admit today "is probably the best front four in football." In contrast to the "Eaters," the offensive line has gone almost without notice this year. And small wonder — it includes two men who were signed originally as free agents: Nick Tingelhoff and Jim Vellone, one who was a 20th-round draft choice Milt Sunde, one who is the only remaining Viking from the original expansion team of 1961: Grady Alderman and, oh yes — one man who was a bonus draft choice — Ron Yary. On Sunday, these are the men who will be asked to throw back that Kansas City defensive line, led by 6-9 Buck Buchanan, that riddled the Oakland Raiders in Sunday's 17-7 American Football League championship triumph.

The Vikings struck quickly for a 14-0 lead in the first period, both times taking advantage of plays on which Brown pass defenders fell down. First it was Walt Summer flopping on the hard turf, enabling end Gene Washington to snare a 33-yard pass from Kapp, and setting up a 7-yard touchdown run by Kapp four plays later.

Then, on a third-down play that broke the game open,

Third Time Charm For Chiefs

OAKLAND (UPI)—The Minnesota Vikings, champions of the National Football League, have their "Purple People Eaters" regarded by many as the best defensive front four in pro ball.

They might be, but the Kansas City Chiefs like to think their "nameless" foursome of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays is as good as any around.

The way the Kansas City gang man-handled Daryle Lamonica and George Blanda of the Oakland Raiders Sunday in a 17-7 victory for the American Football League championship certainly rates them a call with the "Purple People Eaters."

In any regard, everyone will get a chance to see who really is No. 1 next Sunday when the Vikings and Chiefs meet in the fourth Super Bowl Game at New Orleans.

Produces Third Championship

The victory over the Raiders in the AFL title game produced the Chiefs' third championship in 10 seasons and their second Super Bowl appearance.

Lamonica, who led all pro quarterbacks this season with 34 touchdown passes and six more in the playoffs, was forced into the mistakes by a pass rush that spoiled the Oakland game plan and gave the Chiefs the ball enough times for them to score the necessary points.

Lamonica threw three interceptions and Blanda one. Two of those, by cornerback Emmitt Thomas, were converted into a second-half touchdown and a field goal — the points separating the two teams.

Each team scored a touchdown in the first half during which neither side made a mistake. If anything, even at the start of the third quarter, it seemed momentum was on the Raiders' side. They moved the ball well but missed out on two field goal attempts — from 39 and 40 yards.

Chiefs Make Their Move

After that, the Chiefs, with Len Dawson directing things, made their move, although they needed a couple of big plays and a pass interference call against cornerback Nemeiah Wilson to survive.

Thomas snared a Blanda pass in his own end zone after Lamonica had to leave with a hand injury. Ten plays and 4 yards later the Chiefs went ahead, 14-7, with Dawson hitting Otis Taylor with a 35-yard and Robert Holmes with a 23-yard throw to set things up. Wilson was called for shoving Taylor and the Chiefs put the ball in play at the

The Chiefs twice gave the Raiders the ball deep in their own end on fumbles but Lamonica threw three interceptions in between, the last going to Thomas, who ripped 63 yards to the Oakland 18. Four plays later Jan Stenerud booted a 22-yard field goal for three insurance points.

Explosive Baylor Eyes Start Of League Race

By United Press International

Baylor Coach Bill Menefee, who admits his Bears basketball team is "more inconsistent...but more explosive" than last year, jumps off against his two toughest obstacles this week in search of the school's first Southwest Conference title in two decades.

Baylor hasn't won a cage crown since the 1948-49-50 span in which the Bears won it outright the first year and shared the title the next two seasons.

The forecasters have picked Baylor as a serious contender this year and the Bears have looked like it in running up a 7-3 record that is the best in the loop and includes upsets over then No. 3-ranked New Mexico and No. 4-ranked Wyoming.

more, but give up more and make more errors, but we're more explosive."

Chatman Helps

The presence of William Chatman, a 6-5 transfer from Galveston by way of Tyler Junior College, has been a big help.

"The presence of Chatman has given us much needed help on the boards, in addition to his 24.7-point scoring average," Menefee said. "I'm not sure of my figures, but I think he's pulling in 13 to 14 rebounds a game. I know he got 21 against Wyoming."

Texas at Baylor

"I don't think non-conference games are too reliable a barometer of what will happen in the league race," Menefee said.

He'll find out tonight and Saturday night. Bears host Texas at Waco tonight and play the defending champion Texas Aggies at College Station Saturday night. If they can win them both, they could be off and running.

"This Baylor team has risen to great heights on a couple of occasions," Menefee said. "We have been more inconsistent than last year (10-4 inside the league, 18-6 overall). We score

Aggies Previewed

He said he also saw the Aggies. "They have height, good outside shooting, team discipline and in Mike Heilmann boast one of the best all-around players in the league."

The Aggies and Texas Tech are 5-4 and Texas is 8-5 at this stage, while Rice is 3-6, TCU and Arkansas 2-7 and SMU 1-7.

Texas has had a week of rest since knocking off fifth-ranked Ohio 73-65 in the opening round of the Hurricane Classic last week only to lose 58-55 to Seton Hall in the finals.

The Aggies won the Poinsettia Classic with 66-66 and 93-91 victories over Furman and Northwestern.

Four Games

There are only four league games opening week and only four teams involved in them. The Aggies are at Arkansas Tuesday night and Texas hosts Arkansas Saturday night in addition to the two Baylor tilts.

Texas Tech entertains Santa Barbara tonight and the touring Athletes in Action Thursday, while SMU visits Southwest Louisiana Thursday in the only other games scheduled.

Dickey Hires Former Vols As Assistants

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—Doug Dickey has hired former Tennessee assistant coaches Jimmy Dunn, Doug Knotts and Jack Hall to join him at his new post as head coach of the Florida Gators.

Dickey, who got the Gator coaching job last week and said he would bring some of his former Tennessee staff to Gainesville, announced the hiring of Dunn, Knotts and Hall Sunday.

Dunn, a Gator quarterback from 1956-58, will be the "offensive coordinator" and will spend most of his time working with Florida's talented quarterbacks and split receivers.

Knotts will be the "defensive coordinator" and will be responsible for coaching the defensive interior. Knotts played for Duke from 1962-66. Hall will be an assistant coach and recruiting coordinator at Florida.

Science Shrinks Painful Hemorrhoids

Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

Finds Way That Both Relieves Pain and Shrinks Piles in Most Cases

New York, N.Y. (Special): Science has found a special formula with the ability, in most cases, to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching and relieve pain.

In case after case doctors proved, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place. The secret is Preparation H. There is no other formula for hemorrhoids like it. Preparation H also soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.

It's still our motto.

A year ago we came up with this crazy bunch of letters which stand for our motto—We May Be The Only Phone Company in Town, But We Try Not To Act Like It.

Some folks thought we were just trying to be funny, but we were dead serious about the motto the letters stood for. We still are.

Communications is our business

—our only business. That is why we at Southwestern Bell can devote all of our energy, our talents, our knowledge and resources to providing you with the very best in communications service at the lowest possible cost.

We encourage you to take for granted the world's best telephone service, with the assurance that we won't.

Frustrating The 'Experts'

It is beginning to look as if those folks who, a couple of years ago, were predicting a serious food famine may have overlooked the capabilities of the farmer, especially the North American breed.

He may be more capable of producing than some thought, once released from so many regulations and handicaps.

Projections of an exploding population by the year 2000, some said, would mean the world would not be able to produce enough food to feed the world. Some even went as far as to predict we would have to develop synthetic foods, such as the non-meat high protein items that look and taste like real meats.

It's still early of course, to say there will be enough to eat by the year 2000, but don't sell the farmer short. He has tremendous capabilities; thanks to more efficient machinery, and the development of better seeds and plants.

Look at wheat, because it is and has been, through the years, the basic food item, it is the world's most widely traded food. It's also grown just about everywhere.

Canada and the U.S. are the two countries that have demonstrated to the world how to grow wheat. The U.S. wheat exports have nearly doubled in the last decade, taking 60 percent of our record harvest during the past four years and accounting for 40 percent of the world wheat trade.

Production is at record levels in the U.S., Canada, France, Australia and Argentina, to say nothing of the smaller nations that are also increasing production.

Even India and Pakistan, it is predicted, by 1973-74 will require as much from other countries. Europe will not need as much partially because of higher incomes, permitting people to eat other things than wheat.

We have a suspicion that come what may the farmers of the world can do a lot better than we give them credit — if the governments of the world will just get off their backs.

Heller On Pain and Joy

Truth is where you find it! Even in the words of a Keynesian "economist" caught with foot in mouth.

Walter W. Heller, former presidential economic adviser and now professor of economics at the University of Minnesota, whose advice to President Kennedy contributed in no small way to the economic mess in which we find ourselves, inadvertently pointed up the basic difference between the "economics" of force and the true economics of free choice when he labelled government intervention as the "economics of pain" and the voluntary market place as the "economics of joy."

No truer words were ever spoken! In a speech for the Business Week conference on money, and intending to disparage President Nixon's announced policy of "rigid self-discipline for government" (we say "announced" because we have seen too little of it yet), Heller said it sounded as though Nixon was "applying the economics of pain in the public (government) sector and joy in the private (voluntary) sector."

We wish we had said that. For, if some people forcibly taking and spending what other people have earned, and some people forcibly dictating to other people how to live their lives and manage their affairs, can be accurately described as causing pain, then political government meddling can be properly termed the champion pain causer of all time. And, conversely, if all people retaining all the fruits exchanging them with others for something they want more, can be accurately described as contributing to man's storehouse of joy, then the voluntary market place, where such fruits are earned and individually retained and where such exchanges take place, can be properly called the greatest joymaker the world has ever known.

Thanks, Professor Heller, that needed saying: even though we realized your words were intended to encourage more government spending and meddling and less individual, spending and control by individuals of their own lives.

One BIG Cause Of Accidents!

A Look At The Book

By Dr. BOB JONES

There is much I do not know, there is much I cannot know. I do not know what a day may bring forth. I do not know what tomorrow has in store for me. I do not know what will be the outcome of the things I undertake.

I do not know where the path of life may lead me before I reach its end. I do not know where sorrow awaits along the way or where death lurks. I do not know where I may come across something which I would like to escape.

I do not know when I may be afflicted with sickness or disease. I do not know when I may be called upon to pass through a fiery trial or when tragedy may strike. I do not know when a loved one may be taken away or when I shall be called to join those who have gone before.

I do not know why sorrows come into our lives. I do not know why innocent people are called upon to suffer for the sins of others. I do not know why things which I desire are denied me nor why things which I would avoid are thrust upon me.

I do not know how the flesh can stand the suffering which it is sometimes called upon to endure. I do not know how the soul can go through the waters deep and chill which threaten to engulf it. I do not know how to reconcile God's love for men with the terrible tragedy and suffering which divine providence visits upon them.

But I do not need to know what, nor where, nor when, nor how, nor why because I do know Whom. "I know whom I have believed" (II Timothy 1:12. In the Lord Jesus Christ I find Him perfectly revealed. The God I know is a God of love. His love is manifest in the death of Christ on the cross for our sins. "He loved us and gave Himself for us." The God I know is wise. He is the Author of all wisdom and all knowledge. "He knows the end from the beginning." The God I know is omnipotent. "He upholds all things by the Word of His power."

I can trust Him Who is Himself perfect love and power and wisdom. He knows what is best for me, and He will not permit anything else to come into my life. He is able to give me strength to meet it. Do you know Him? — American Way Features

Question Box

(We invite questions on economics and the proper function of government which will not injure anyone.)

QUESTION: Planning commissions and other vehicles of coercion were set up voluntarily. Would you prevent this with a constitutional amendment?

ANSWER: The questioner's basic premise may be in error. In our experience in watching the formation of planning commission and other such vehicles of coercion they were not necessarily set up voluntarily. Usually they are promoted by city or county officials who seek to obtain conformity, and who find some "non-conformists" who do not wish to conform to some other person's ideas of what is good or desirable. If the agencies were set up voluntarily, (i.e., with all parties agreeing), there would be no reason for setting up agencies of coercion. Simply because Hitler and his minions "voluntarily" set up gas chambers in Germany and herded thousands of "non-conformists" into them, it does not mean they were set up voluntarily by all the people.

We believe no constitutional amendments are needed if the Fifth and Fourteenth Amendments are valid. The Fifth Amendment prevents taking private property for public use without just compensation. The Fourteenth says in part, "nor shall any state deprive any person of life, liberty or property, without due process of law."

The problem of race, after all, is one man doing something about treating another man as an equal. Once that is done by all of us, the welter of laws now being passed and planned on minority rights will have no reason for being.

The laws, in fact, have little real meaning unless you and I do something, too.

The big brother movement has grown to great proportions by one man helping one boy.

The Christopher movement goes on the theory that each of us can do something. It is better to light one candle, they say, than to curse the darkness.

This reporter a short time back met a man who lives in Watts. He happens to be black, but no matter. He is a scrounger. He finds things that people aren't using, like vacant lots, and things people no longer want, like odds and ends of building materials. He puts people to work making playgrounds, vegetable gardens and clubhouses on the vacant lots. He doesn't have to keep records, turn in reports or fill out forms. He is giving people self-respect.

This reporter knows another man, a sort of missionary. But maybe not really. He started an experimental farm in Japan to show the people in his community how to produce beef and to grow some new products.

What effect this is having economically isn't clear. But one thing this reporter knows from meeting the people around this man. He has given them new pride.

We all know men and women like these two.

Yet we have excuses for not doing things ourselves. We say amateurs often do more harm than good. Aid is a job for professionals.

The other day a professional swimming instructor said that my five-year-old son, a beginner, was learning more from his 11-year-old sister than he could teach him — because she loved Johnny so much.

A few Sundays back my high school Sunday School class said we were talking too much in class about religion and not doing enough.

They said we (they) ought to be out doing something for people instead of reading so much about how people should be helped.

It was impossible to argue with that. The members of the class are now compiling a handbook on just where and when and how a teenager — or woman — can volunteer — for working with retarded children, with deprived preschoolers (Head Start), in hospitals, old people's homes or whatever.

Then as a group or as individuals, these youngsters plan to serve, and to drum up other volunteers to serve when and where they have the greatest interest. They hope to mimeograph and pass out their hand-

WASHINGTON (NEA) — One wonders at times if too much isn't being done by the government — and too little by you and me.

The problem of race, after all, is one man doing something about treating another man as an equal. Once that is done by all of us, the welter of laws now being passed and planned on minority rights will have no reason for being.

The laws, in fact, have little real meaning unless you and I do something, too.

The big brother movement has grown to great proportions by one man helping one boy.

The Christopher movement goes on the theory that each of us can do something. It is better to light one candle, they say, than to curse the darkness.

This reporter a short time back met a man who lives in Watts. He happens to be black, but no matter. He is a scrounger. He finds things that people aren't using, like vacant lots, and things people no longer want, like odds and ends of building materials. He puts people to work making playgrounds, vegetable gardens and clubhouses on the vacant lots. He doesn't have to keep records, turn in reports or fill out forms. He is giving people self-respect.

This reporter knows another man, a sort of missionary. But maybe not really. He started an experimental farm in Japan to show the people in his community how to produce beef and to grow some new products.

What effect this is having economically isn't clear. But one thing this reporter knows from meeting the people around this man. He has given them new pride.

We all know men and women like these two.

Yet we have excuses for not doing things ourselves. We say amateurs often do more harm than good. Aid is a job for professionals.

The other day a professional swimming instructor said that my five-year-old son, a beginner, was learning more from his 11-year-old sister than he could teach him — because she loved Johnny so much.

A few Sundays back my high school Sunday School class said we were talking too much in class about religion and not doing enough.

They said we (they) ought to be out doing something for people instead of reading so much about how people should be helped.

It was impossible to argue with that. The members of the class are now compiling a handbook on just where and when and how a teenager — or woman — can volunteer — for working with retarded children, with deprived preschoolers (Head Start), in hospitals, old people's homes or whatever.

Then as a group or as individuals, these youngsters plan to serve, and to drum up other volunteers to serve when and where they have the greatest interest. They hope to mimeograph and pass out their hand-

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANSTADT

Formula for Hormone Use
In Arresting Growth

Q—Why do children grow so fast when they reach the age of 13 or 14?

A—Although the exact time of rapid growth varies in different persons, a sharp increase in height, starting between the ages of 11 and 13, is a physiologic phenomenon. It is largely controlled by an increase in pituitary hormone.

Q—At what age does a girl stop growing? If she has her diseased tonsils removed before she reaches her full growth will she have a better chance of growing a little taller?

A—With a few exceptions girls attain their full height when they are between 17 and 18 and boys between 18 and 19. The presence or absence of diseased tonsils would have no appreciable effect on a person's growth.

Q—My daughter, 9, is 61 inches tall. She has always been tall for her age. One doctor advised giving her hormones to check her growth and another was against this. What do you advise?

A—This is a controversial question. Although female hormones will curb a girl's growth they will also precipitate the anxieties associated with budding sexual maturity at an age when she is ill-prepared to handle them. Those who favor the use of hormones advise that they not be given unless (1) the height of both parents is over 70 inches and (2) twice the girl's height on her second birthday also exceeds 70 inches.

If you decide to use this treatment, it must be started before your daughter reaches her 12th birthday and before her bone age is 12 years.

Q—Our son, 13, is thin as a rail, 61 inches tall and still growing. He has outgrown his father and older brother. Our doctor says that his pituitary gland is overactive but not to worry about it. What do you advise?

A—Since your doctor is not unduly concerned, I assume that your son is not acromegalic (a pituitary giant). See that he gets plenty of rest because rapid growth can be exhausting. Give him a well balanced diet so that his muscular development can catch up with his bony development. Encourage him to play basketball or tennis.

Please send your questions and comments to Wayne G. Brandstadt, M.D., in care of this paper. While Dr. Brandstadt cannot answer individual letters, he will answer letters of general interest in future columns.

And Now Reduction Of Troops In Europe.....?

JOHN GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — In a number of recent statements, here and abroad, the Nixon Administration has made it clear that United States combat strength in Europe will be maintained at about its 1969 level in 1970.

That does not mean, however, that a reciprocal troop withdrawal is ruled out by the White House. An enforceable agreement, for mutual withdrawal of NATO and Warsaw pact forces in Europe, would be welcomed by the President.

Mr. Nixon has discussed mutual withdrawal plans with White House visitors. So has Dr. Henry A. Kissinger, the President's national security adviser, who is influential in this as in other foreign policy questions.

Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird has stated that there will be some minor reductions this year in support and administrative units in Europe. Combat troops there will continue at four and a third U.S. divisions plus tactical air units, however.

In addition, two-thirds of a combat division and six squadrons of reconnaissance aircraft, stationed at bases here in the United States, are actually assigned to NATO and will be ready for emergency return to Europe.

The Defense Department estimates that the overall cost of the U.S. involvement in NATO — troops, the Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean, supplies, pro-rated costs of training and military construction, and the like — is $14 billion a year. Actual operating costs for Europe-based forces, excluding the Sixth Fleet and units in Greece and Turkey, amount to $2.6 billion of the total.

Under heavy pressure to reduce spending, and especially defense spending, the President and his aides would be glad to cut into those NATO totals if that did not mean weakening the NATO defense posture or fostering the lack of enthusiasm for the alliance already displayed by some NATO partners.

NOTHING NEW — There is really nothing new about the idea of reciprocal pullbacks by Communist and free world forces in Europe. Former Defense Secretary Robert S. McNamara talked of the concept during the Johnson Administration, and it was not new then. Similar trial balloons had been tossed previously by Communist spokesmen.

There is, however, a new pressure on President Nixon which will make the idea of mutual withdrawals newly attractive. That is pressure from Congress — and especially from the very vocal Senate — for troop withdrawals, reciprocal or unilateral.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, Mont., leader in the congressional drive, favors a substantial withdrawal of U.S. troops "as a matter of principle." The Senate Democratic Policy Committee has strongly endorsed that view.

All indications are that this congressional initiative will gain strength when Congress reconvenes. Mansfield led a similar "troops-from-Europe" drive in 1967 and 1968 and obtained support of more than half the Senate as co-sponsors of his resolution favoring a substantial troop withdrawal.

A showdown on that proposal seemed imminent in 1968 when Warsaw pact forces marched into Czechoslovakia. Mansfield shelved the idea then and did not revive it during the dying days of the Johnson Administration when the furor over the Czech invasion had subsided.

Mansfield did not renew the fight early in President Nixon's administration because of elections forthcoming in West Germany — and then because of the uncertainties in forming a new Bonn government.

Nixon Seeks To Deliver On His Promise To Youth

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent
WASHINGTON (NEA) — President Nixon seems ready to make some beginning gestures toward America's young people, to whom he made a campaign promise of an "open presidency."

When he recently saw half a dozen young men from the liberally-oriented Republican Ripon Society, the President persuaded them he probably would do two things fairly soon: Take part in a television panel show largely on his 1968 campaign model, with both the panel and the audience composed mostly of young folk.

Establish within his administration a kind of "inhouse" Nader's Raiders, seeding various departments and agencies with qualified young people to serve as watchdogs and critics of government operations.

The Ripon Society group advanced both suggestions to Nixon. He indicated the panel show beamed to youth was already under consideration. His visitors were convinced he liked their idea for "establishment raiders" when he immediately assigned Leonard Garment, presidential aide, to discuss the plan further with two Ripon leaders — Lee Auspitz and Quincy Rogers.

The meeting with the Ripon six evidently challenged the President's interest. He gave them an hour instead of a scheduled 15 minutes. Garment and another aide, Eugene Cowden, sat in. Sen. Howard Baker of Tennessee was another participant.

As tactfully as they could, the young men told Nixon they did not think he or his programs had come across to youth. One aide asked the group:

"What can we do? We can't invite the (militant) SDS in here."

Visions were conjured up of unkempt, unruly young men crowding into the President's oval office and disfiguring its walls.

The Ripon delegation told Nixon he ought to talk more of the issues affecting young people — the idea of a volunteer army, voting across the nation for 18-year-olds, fresh opportunities for tasks that will challenge their abilities and energies.

At this point the visitor unloaded the previously mentioned specific proposals. Then the President started getting a few things off his own mind.

He voiced concern that the huge sums government is laying out for education may not be doing the job. His real worries: the quality and content of education.

Something important is missing, he said. Foreign leaders he talks to seem to concur in the judgment that the worldwide discontent of youth reflects this key lack, that it is not explained by young people's complaints in America about the Vietnam war and racism.

A French official speaking of youth told Nixon: "You have the problem of war, we have the problem of peace."

Here the President and the young Ripon men found common ground in the notion that boredom and frustration may be at the heart of that missing element.

"Too many young people," he was suggested, are being educated essentially for leadership role they can find no opportunity to fill. Neither in business, labor, nor government are these chance developing.

The President heartily agreed, and cited the health of the second-level bureaucrats who wants access to top level but cannot get it. "They all want to see the top man," he added.

The young conferees, well aware that not everyone can attain high leadership posts, suggested that an important part of the answer to the problem might lay in the unfolding trend toward decentralization in government and other fields: The young — and others — could then at least be leaders in significant, rewarding groundbreaking work in heretofore neglected sectors of U.S. life.

Once again, the President seemed in warm agreement. Carry-through on the proposed opening gestures to youth will test the intensity of his interest.

Television In Review

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—Now that the holidays are over, parents have been flim-flammed again by the master con-artist in their own homes. The television set. Television perpetrates the greatest hoax in the country every winter in its hard-sell huckstering to kiddies for Christmas. Saturday morning is prime time for the sandpile set, and it is from 8 a.m. to noon—before dad watches the football game—that toys are sold.

Regardless of the contests of shows, they are interrupted every few minutes by a blasting voice shouting the praises of a new toy which is guaranteed to make them happy for life.

The volume goes up for the commercial. More money is spent on depicting the toys in exaggerated action than on the show in progress.

Commercials Misleading
So far, all right. If you and the kids can put up with the racket, good luck.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—In the past few months the market has been its own worst enemy, notes Bache & Co. Unstable strength on two occasions have resulted from a fervent desire for peace in Vietnam. "This same desire has led the investor to ignore the determined efforts of the Administration and the Federal Reserve Board to combat inflation." The net effect has been that the market has stayed at a higher plateau than warranted by economic conditions.

The market now appears to be "awakening to the reality of events," the firm says, and is realizing at last that withdrawal from Vietnam will be slow, that the economy is slowing down and that the Federal Reserve means to maintain a strong degree of restraint.

Over the intermediate term, the market can be expected to mark time a while longer, observes Goodbody & Co. Money remains tight and business statistics and corporate operating results in the early months of 1970 are not likely to generate much bullishness.

The firm believes, however, that the market "has already adjusted itself to a large extent to as much of a business slowdown as we are likely to witness."

Though money is tight and expensive, it is available to buy stocks and the flight from fixed dollars persists, notes the Contrary Investor. This means that "at any moment a sellers market can turn into a buyers crisis." The firm is currently predicting a horizontal trend in 1970 without great expectations. Contrary Investor. This means and with the trading range well of 1967.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
UPI Foreign News Analyst
Window on the World;
Agnew Reception:

The reception accorded Vice President Spiro T. Agnew in Southeast Asia probably is better now than it would have been some months ago. At the time Prime Ministers Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore and Tengku Abdul Rahman of Malaysia both feared the Nixon doctrine toward South Vietnam would lead to a premature U.S. withdrawal of American forces, clearing the way for an extension of Communist doctrine in their direction. Both have been reassured by promises that the United States will remain a Pacific power.

Marcos and the cynics: Philippine President Ferdinand E. Marcos' renunciation of his worldly possessions, to help the well-being of his people is being greeted by both praise and cynicism. His announcement gave no figures, but political opponents described him as the richest man in Asia, worth about $125 million.

Cuban-Red Chinese Gains: Peking's and Cuba's influence in the former French colony of the Congo, is expected to increase rapidly now that the ruling military junta in Brazzaville has proclaimed the country formally a people's republic. Congolese President Marien N'guabi announced Dec. 31 the country will be run by a workers party along Marxist lines, that the new flag will be in the red banner and the new anthem the international.
