Human Life Cost In Vietnam Debated

JUDGE CALLS EARLY RECESS Trial Erupts Into Three-Ring Circus

NEW YORK (UPI)—Repeated shouts disrupted the opening trial session Monday of 13 Black Panthers charged in an alleged bombing conspiracy. The uproar prompted an early adjournment.

"I have a voice and it will be heard," said one defendant. "If our families can't hear what happened to our lives, we won't listen to you."

State Supreme Court Justice John M. Murtagh, after listening to a number of outbursts, angrily called an early recess in the trial of the Panthers charged with attempting to bomb several buildings and utilities last year.

Originally, 21 Black Panthers were indicted on charges of conspiring to bomb police stations, department stores, subway stations, commuter railroad tracks and the Bronx Botanical Gardens. Only 16 were due for trial Monday and Murtagh severed three from the case—two because of their youth and one because of illness.

"Our wives are in the back room and the press—half of them—racist pigs—are sitting up front," one of the defendants shouted at the outset of the trial.

Then all 13 stood up and shouted: "Power to the people. Off the pig. Right on."

"I do not intend to tolerate this misconduct," Murtagh told defendants. He called an early lunch recess, admonishing the six defense lawyers they would be held responsible for their clients' behavior.

Outside the courthouse, more than 200 persons—black and white—marched in protest of the trial. At least 60 policemen were present, but the demonstration was orderly.

Before the first day's proceedings adjourned, Murtagh denied a motion by defense lawyers to seat the families in the front of the courtroom where newsmen were seated. The proceedings were repeatedly interrupted by shouts from the defendants during the afternoon.

Murtagh, irked by the actions, told the court recorder to let the record show that Gerald Lefcourt, one of the defense attorneys, encouraged the outbursts by smiling. Lefcourt denied the charge but Murtagh said:

"It was a decided smile. He is smiling and laughing."

All but one of the defendants, referred to as the "Panther 21," have been in jail since April 2, 1969, in lieu of bail ranging from $125,000 to $100,000. One woman was freed on bail last week.

Talks Resume In Air Of Troubled Truce

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Sen. Charles E. Goodell, (R-N.Y.), warned today President Nixon's Vietnamization program will cost 5,000 to 20,000 more American lives, even if it works perfectly.

He said it may not work at all.

Leading off hearings before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, Goodell renewed his call for Congressional passage of a bill requiring withdrawal of all U. S. troops from Vietnam in one year.

The testimony came in an atmosphere of troubled truce between Senate "doves" and President Nixon. Ten witnesses, all Senators, were called to testify about policy proposals ranging from Goodell's withdrawal demand to a resolution of support for Nixon's program.

Chairman J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., originally planned the hearings for late last year as a full-blown confrontation between the committee and the Nixon administration, similar to the historic clashes with the Johnson administration.

But Republicans, led by Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., the GOP dean and ranking member, protected Nixon. They talked Fulbright into putting off the hearings and downgrading them to a talk session between senators.

"We have not Vietnamized the war," Goodell said in prepared testimony. "We have cosmetized it. The administration has merely adopted a combat reduction strategy, aimed at cutting back American casualties to a level where a continued U.S. presence in Vietnam would be acceptable to American public opinion."

Goodell said Nixon apparently

CLOSED-DOOR VOTE PLANNED Electoral Reform Bill Blocks Immediate Vote On Carswell

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Senate Judiciary Committee, nearly ready to vote on the Supreme Court nomination of Judge G. Harrold Carswell, is facing with a knotty problem of untangling the question from an electoral reform bill.

The slowup loomed as the committee wound up public hearings on the nomination today and prepared for a closed-door session to vote on whether to recommend Carswell's confirmation to the Senate.

Sen. Birch Bayh, D-Ind., was insistent that the committee give some assurance of when it will vote on his constitutional amendment for direct popular election of the President. He wanted the assurance prior to agreeing to a vote to send Carswell's name to the floor.

Bayh seemed to hold some powerful cards. His electoral reform amendment is the official pending business of the committee. As such, it must be acted on first, or laid aside only with Bayh's permission.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, R-S.C., a bitter foe of the electoral reform measure, insisted that the nomination and the amendment were separate matters.

He threatened to filibuster, if necessary, to prevent committee agreement on a time to vote on electoral reform.

Before arguing the question in closed-door session, the committee completed the public phase of its hearings on Carswell. Clarence Mitchell, Washington representative of the NAACP, and Joseph L. Rauh, lobbyist for the Leadership Conference on Civil Rights, were the last witnesses summoned to testify in the fifth day of open hearings.

Both opposed Carswell. Both also scored the nominee as a "racist" and foe of civil rights.

Mitchell said Carswell's record was tainted with racial bias. "It is tragic that he is already a member of the judiciary in the Fifth Circuit. This tragedy will be compounded if he is approved for a place on the Supreme Court," Mitchell said.

Rauh reviewed the civil rights record of Carswell over 11 years as a federal district judge in northern Florida. He found it wanting, he said, as have a parade of prior witnesses.

Louis Pollak, dean of the Yale University Law School, was highly critical of Carswell's professional qualifications.

"I am impelled to conclude that the nominee presents more slender credentials for the Supreme Court than any nominee in this century."

Signalman Held In Train Crash

BUENOS AIRES (UPI)—Police held an assistant stationmaster and a signalman for questioning today in the train crash north of Buenos Aires Sunday that killed at least 129 persons.

No charges were filed immediately against Maximo Blanco, the assistant stationmaster, and Bartolome A. yala, the signalman. They were on duty at the Benavidez station near the accident site, 22 miles north of Buenos Aires.

The station was the last passed by both trains.

A provincial police spokesman said 129 bodies had been recovered from the wreckage and that 95 had been identified. Other authorities said the dead numbered 100 with an equal number of injured.

Space Debris From Apollo 11 Barely Misses German Ship

SOCCA BEACH, Fla. (UPI)—A space agency engineer revealed today debris from the first stage of the Apollo 11 rocket last July nearly hit a German ship in the Atlantic.

Adolf H. Knothe said in a paper presented at a meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronauts that the German vessel Vegesack happened to be at a position some 375 miles east northeast of Cape Kennedy at 9:45 a.m. EDT July 16 when Apollo 11 blasted off to put the first man on the moon.

"The calculated impact point for the first stage of Apollo 11, if launched on time, is approximately at the same point," he said. "Now, Apollo 11 was launched on time."

"And if one allows for a flight-time-to-impact of the first stage of somewhat over seven minutes, things begin to fall

Bomb Destroys Police Station

SHAKER HEIGHTS, Ohio (UPI)—A violent explosion possibly caused by a bomb destroyed the municipal building of this exclusive Cleveland suburb Monday night. Fifteen persons were injured, including five policemen, a judge and the clerk of courts.

A federal investigator said it appeared the blast was caused by a bomb. The police chief said it could have been a gas leak.

The 11-year-old Colonial-style structure which houses the police station, jail and municipal court was leveled. Several nearby houses were shaken.

"The police force is 90 percent crippled," said Police Chief Carl Longstreet.

Longstreet said the explosion "could have been a gas explosion or it could have been a bomb," the cause impossible to determine without an investigation of the rubble.

But Milton Katoglis, a Treasury Department investigator, said, "we presume that an explosion of this magnitude would involve a bombing."

Police Lt. John Mulligan said a boy who entered the building carrying a package just moments before the blast was feared trapped. The youth was described as about 13 or 14 years old.

Viet Cong Ambush Truck Convoy, Assault Village Headquarters

SAIGON (UPI)—Viet Cong guerrillas staged their largest attacks in the Saigon area in three months Monday and early today, ambushing a truck convoy and assaulting two village headquarters, military spokesmen said.

The attacks killing four persons and wounding 21 as U.S. and South Vietnamese headquarters announced that Allied forces will observe a 24-hour truce beginning at 6 p.m. Thursday for the Tet Lunar New Year, three days shorter than the Viet Cong standdown.

The U.S. command said guerrillas using small arms and rocket grenades ambushed a truck convoy guarded by American military police jeep Monday night 10 miles northeast of Saigon on a highway leading to the U.S. Army headquarters base at Long Binh.

Spokesmen said the attack caused light damage to the convoy and wounded one American and one Vietnamese truck driver. The bodies of two guerrillas and two small Viet Cong flags were found in a search after daylight.

It was the second attack in a week on a convoy on the road leading to Long Binh. A similar assault Jan. 26 seven miles from Saigon destroyed one vehicle and wounded a Vietnamese driver.

Early today, 11 miles north-east of Saigon, guerrillas attacked the Don Thani village headquarters, killing a Vietnamese civil defense trooper and wounding 15 other persons, spokesmen said.

Snow In Florida? There's A Way

RUTLAND, Vt. (UPI)—They've found a new way to get rid of the snow in Rutland—ship it to Florida.

Sometimes Wednesday, the Sabal elementary school in Eau Gallie, Fla., should receive 200 genuine Vermont snowballs, each individually wrapped in styrofoam and packed in dry ice.

In return, the school will send a basket of Florida citrus fruit to 200 Rutland first-graders.

The principal of the Sabal school concocted the scheme to introduce his pupils to that white stuff plentiful in Vermont.

The snowballs are being flown to Florida, where they will be distributed to the youngsters, many of whom have never seen snow.

Rutland, presumably, will not miss it.

County Solons Decide To Let Government Run Welfare Plan

Gray County Commissioners, in joint session with the Wheeler County commissioners court, Monday, turned down the commodity distribution and food stamp program proposed by the Texas State Department of Public Welfare under recommendation of the federal government.

A letter was sent to William Herndon, director of Commodity Distribution in Austin by Gray County Judge S.R. Lenning Jr., and Wheeler County Judge George W. Hefley, stating that the counties both rejected county participation in the plans and recommended that the USDA take over the welfare commodity distribution plan in both counties.

Lynn McDaniel, representing the Soil Conservation District, presented a proposed application for assistance in developing a resource conservation and development project plan to commissioners. The Resource Conservation and Development Program is a proposed plan for seven eastern Panhandle counties, including Gray County, to unite in an effort for a stronger voice in conservation and development legislation at state and federal levels. The proposal was presented to each of the four commissioners for study. No action was taken in Monday's meeting.

Gray County commissioners set the salary for special commissioners at $25 per day. Special commissioners are appointed in the event of condemnation suits in obtaining rights of way for county use.

County bills were approved, and commissioners approved a $400,000 transfer of funds from First National Bank in Dallas to First National Bank in Pampa.

Transfers in the amount of $10,000 each were made from the Special Fund to Road and Bridges Funds in Precincts One, Two and Four.

Authorization of a time-deposit of 90 days was made. The $20,000 deposit will be made from the Social Securities Fund.

Approval of the subordination agreement with Transwestern Pipeline was made. The agreement was called for by the Federal Aviation Agency before runway extension could be made at Perry Leffers Field. Transwestern has a line which will be under the proposed extension.

Death Comes At Age 97 To Noted Philosopher

LONDON (UPI)—Bertrand Russell, author, mathematician, philosopher, Nobel Prize winner and perhaps the best-known of pacifists, collapsed and died Monday night at his farmhouse in Penrhynwyndraeth, Wales. He was 97 and had been ill with the flu.

With a smile, Russell used to deny that he was born to rebel. But for much of the past six decades his hawk-like face and flowing white hair proclaimed a dissent that infuriated national leaders the world over.

"It has come as a shock to everyone," said Kenneth Coates, director of the Bertrand Russell Peace Foundation. "I spoke to Bertrand only a few days ago and he seemed in good health, working on Peace Foundation projects."

Rebel Born To Nobility

He will be succeeded by his rarely-used title of Earl by his son, Viscount Amberley. Edith, his fourth wife, was at his side at death.

Russell's birth and childhood did not bespeak rebellion. He was a child of Britain's ruling classes, of a family that had sat in Parliament since long before Columbus discovered America.

Born Bertrand Arthur William Russell May 18, 1872, at Ravenscroft, Monmouthshire, England, he was brought up by his grandparents, for his parents died by the time he was 2.

In his memoirs, Russell wrote: "Three passions, simple but overwhelmingly strong, have governed my life: the longing for love, the search for knowledge and the unbearable lifelong search for peace. His espousal of peace occupied him for much of the last 40 years of his life.

As early as 1907, he went on record for woman suffrage and in his lifetime was in the vanguard of advocates of birth control, pacifism, women's rights, trial marriage, free love, divorce reform and air pollution control.

In 1918, he was sent to prison for six months for "causing bad relations with the United States" as part of his antiwar protests. It was one of two jail terms he was to serve.

In the second, Russell became one of the oldest men to go to prison after he was arrested at the age of 89 for leading antinuclear demonstrations in Trafalgar Square in 1961. He served a seven-day sentence.

"With a war, you might secure a world containing no Communists. But it would also contain no non-Communists," he said.

Charges Of-Illegal Use Of Pension Funds Linked To Yablonski Deaths

CLEVELAND (UPI)—A federal grand jury may begin investigating today charges by Joseph A. "Jock" Yablonski before he was killed that United Mine Workers officials illegally poured $3.7 million of pension funds into Tennessee and Kentucky locals.

The grand jury, which is investigating the New Year's Eve murders of Yablonski and his wife and daughter, has subpoenaed three officials of a Lafollette, Tenn., UMW local to testify today in the start of the second week of its hearings.

Indications are that other leaders of District 19, headquartered in Harlan County, Ky.—the scene of bloody union organizing wars in the 1930s—will be called before the end of the week.

Yablonski never visited Lafollette during his unsuccessful campaign for the UMW presidency last year, but he charged the incumbent leader-

I intend to dedicate myself to continuing this type of representation for the people in the Panhandle."

Hart continued, "as a former member of the Gruver Independent School Board, the Texas Southwest Cattle Raisers Association, and Texas Grain and Feed, I feel I have gained the experience to accomplish the goals shared by all of us. I also plan to open a campaign office in Pampa as a listening post for the exchange of ideas and if I am elected intend to work closely with Abraham and Price to establish close liaison between Austin, Washington and the voters in the area who believe that the country and the nation are the greatest heritage we have."

The office is now held by V.R. Nuckels, who has indicated he will not be a candidate.

Penick, a former classroom teacher, elementary and high school principal and supervisor, retired from the school system in the Spring of 1969.

"I am qualified and have full time to spend with this fulltime job. If elected, with the aid of the county school board, I will run the office to the best of my ability."

Penick holds bachelor degree from West Texas State University; a Masters degree from North Texas University; and holds an administrative certificate.

He spent 37 years in the teaching profession; 18 years in Gray County and 12 in Pampa. He taught at Sam Houston and Stephen F. Austin elementary schools.

His wife, Laura, is also a retired school teacher. He is a member of First United Methodist Church; Evening Lions Club, which he served as president.

South Bends To HEW Ruling

ATLANTA (UPI) — More than a dozen school districts in the South comply today with the Supreme Court's immediate desegregation order and the experience is expected to leave some of them almost totally black.

The agonizing transition will spread to dozens more districts by the end of this month. The court order and subsequent lower court rulings call for more than a half million Southern children to begin attending totally desegregated schools from the tobacco region of South Carolina to the bayous of Louisiana this week and next.

Desegregated classes start today in more than a dozen Louisiana and Mississippi districts that had been only partially integrated. Many other districts under the courts' Feb. 1 deadline are going through assignment and registration districts under the courts' Feb. 1 deadline and will start desegregated classes later this month.

In Washington, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew acknowledged there had been confusion over what was expected of districts complying with court orders. He said President Nixon soon will form a "cabinet-level" committee to help implement the rulings with the least possible disruption of education.

Compliance with the court's order began in 30 Mississippi districts in early January. It occurred peacefully but the school systems became almost totally black in several areas where Negroes outnumber whites.

Only two of 441 whites showed up for registration last week for today's desegregated classes at Tunica, Miss., a cotton and soybean point near the Mississippi River with about 2,600 Negro students.

Most Tunica whites enrolled in a private school already in operation. More private school classes are being established in church buildings to take care of the others.

Alabama's largest school system, Mobile County, received 1 deadline are going through assignment and registration districts under the courts' Feb. 1 deadline and will start desegregated classes later this month.

In Washington, Vice President Spiro T. Agnew acknowledged there had been confusion over what was expected of districts for a plan that will have thousands of students of both races transferring within a few days. The Mobile district is 40 per cent black.

Three Florida districts are under the early February deadline, but Gov. Claude Kirk has threatened to have their administration suspended unless they delay desegregation until September. Kirk contends transfers now would be physically and financially impossible.

Lubbock Firm Sues Retail Credit Ass'n

LUBBOCK (UPI)—A Lubbock building contractor has filed a $550,000 suit against the Retail Merchants Credit Association of Lubbock and Hereford in 137th District Court, charging erroneous information about his credit has hurt his business.

Weldon L. Wines said in his suit that credit reports first used in 1964 has caused him to lose money on building projects. He said the credit reports said he was sued to collect a bill which was settled out of court, listed several outstanding debts which had been paid and said he had filed for bankruptcy when he had not.

Wines asked for $500,000 in punitive damages and $50,000 actual damages. Several other credit reporting corporations were listed with the retail merchants associations in the suit.

NO TOGETHERNESS
MANCHESTER, England (UPI)—The musicians of the BBC's Northern Symphony Orchestra knew they were rehearsing a piece of modern music.

But even so their renditions of Paul Patterson's "Symphonic Study No. 2" sounded unnecessarily discordant.

After four hours they found out why. Half the orchestra was playing a different piece of music.

"An office mistake," explained the composer.

MAN

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: There's a man who works where I work. We kid around a lot, but he's not a boyfriend or anything like that.

Well, about four months ago I told him he would be real swell looking if he would lose about 30 pounds. Then he said he'd make a deal with me. He would lose 30 pounds if I would give him an "incentive" — like spending the night with him. I foolishly said it was a deal — never dreaming he'd lose the 30 pounds.

Well, Abby, he has lost 22 pounds, and I know he'll lose the other 8 in no time at all. I never thought I would ever have to pay off. Now what do I do?

BIGMOUTH: Spend the night with him, and use the time playing records, reading poetry, or just explaining what you meant by "spending the night" with him. If he complains, let him haul you into small claims court.

JAKE: Is it possible for a man to be in love with two women at the same time?

DEAR JAKE: Yes. And also hazardous.

DEAR ABBY: I know that parents are supposed to treat all their children alike, but we can't help favoring our eldest. Heidi is 16 and she is a beautiful child, inside and out! Heidi is not only a top student, she is helpful around the house, good natured and trustworthy. She's never given us a minute's worry.

Our middle child, Sally, is 13. She is selfish, lazy, and stubborn. Even with tutoring she can't make her grades.

Our youngest, Danny is 8. He's smarter than both girls put together but he is a little troublemaker. He'd rather lie than tell the truth, and he won't let anybody touch him or kiss him.

FEELING GUILTY: Everyone notices that we are partial to Heidi, and we are always getting lectures from the grandparents on how we should "love" all our children the same. But how can we?

DEAR FEELING: You are reacting in a normal manner, so don't feel guilty. It's not possible to love all one's children equally because all children are not equally "lovable." But concentrate a little more on the least "lovable" — they're the ones who need love the most.

DEAR ABBY: Your confidential to MGM in which you stated that President Nixon ignored your letter, too, was reassuring. Here all along I've been blaming the Post Office Department!

I have written six letters to President Nixon in the past year, and have not received one acknowledgement. All my letters were respectful, though somewhat critical of his policies.

It would be interesting to learn whether the President and his staff ignore all correspondence, or only those letters which are critical of his administration.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TORTURED WITH QUESTIONS": A man who continually presses his wife (or girl friend) for every single detail of her past romantic encounters with other men ("tell me the exact words you spoke, what position you were in at the time, what was he wearing, etc....") could be attempting to live "the experience himself, vicariously. I would suspect his masculinity.

'Bear' Winter Months For Baby's Nursery

To help you stitch your way through a long, bleak winter, here is a perfectly delightful nursery ensemble featuring three dear old favorites, the Three Bears.

This is a set designed to make for a very special new baby. And youngster will be enchanted by the bears, made of soft, fuzzy terry cloth and dressed in checked gingham, decorating cafe curtains, crib cover and pillowcase of crisp white muslin.

Three yards of 54-inch wide white muslin will be enough for a 33-by-50-inch crib cover, a pair of 30-inch cafe curtains and a case for a baby pillow.

For the appliques you will need 1 1/2 yards of green-checked gingham and 1/4-yard each of pink and blue-checked gingham. 1/4-yard tan terry cloth, a large spool of white sewing thread and small spools of green, pink, blue and brown. You also will need heavy tracing paper and a baby pillow.

Patterns and complete applique instructions may be obtained by writing for the special Three Bears leaflet, available exclusively to readers of The Pampa Daily News.

These articles are designed to be completed before adding appliques. Here are basic instructions:

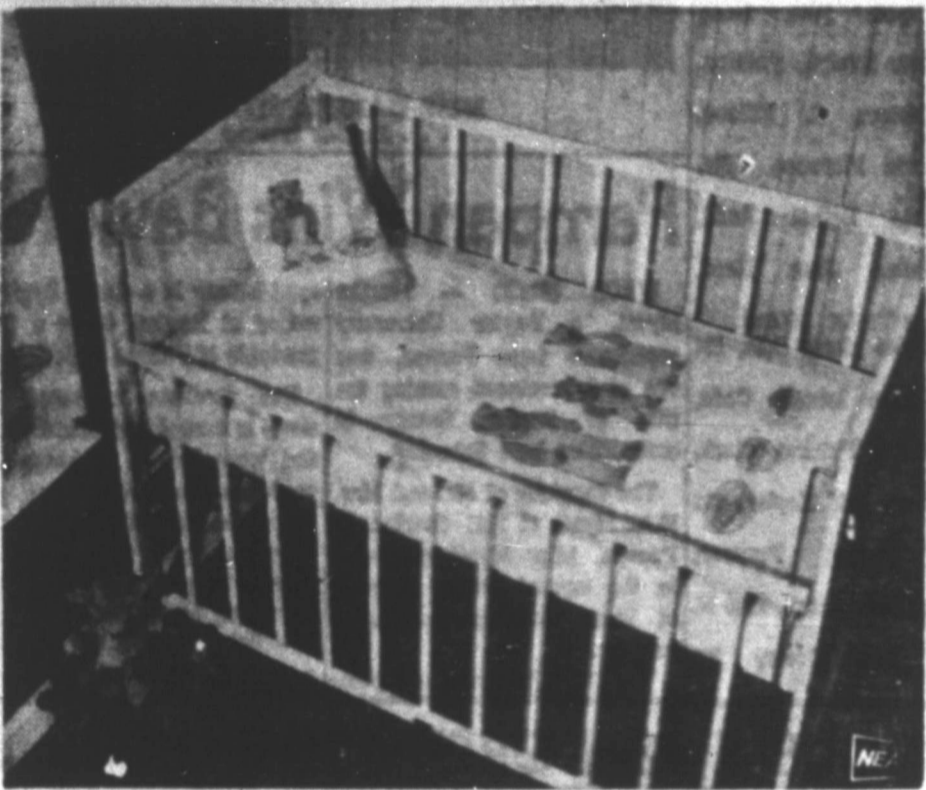

cutting and sewing: Cut all fabric on straight of goods. Set machine for 12 stitches to the inch. Use white thread for bobbin; matching color for machine needle.

Crib Cover: Cut muslin 35-by-48-inch. Put in 1-inch hem all around, so cover measures 33 by 50 inches. Draw pencil outline 4 inches from edge, so outline measures 25 by 51 inches. Cut two lengthwise strips of green gingham 3 by 26 inches. Turn and press 1/4-inch on each long side. Pin strips corners and top-stitch in place. Cafe Curtains: Cut two pieces of muslin 27 inches wide and 32 inches long, or 2 inches longer than desired finish length. Cut four lengthwise strips of green gingham 3 inches wide and same length as curtains and two strips 3 by 27 inches. Bastie strips around sides and bottom of curtains, with right side of gingham facing wrong side of curtain. Stitch 1/4-inch in from basted edge. Turn strips to right side, miter corners and press under 1/4-inch of unfinished edge. Top-stitch into position. Put in top to inside of pencil outline, miter

Television In Review

By RICK DUBROW
HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—The name of the movie was "My Sweet Charlie" made specifically for television. It was shown on NBC-TV several weeks ago. And it is definitely turning out to be pivotal production for video.

The story concerned the simple human friendship that grew between a pregnant Southern white girl and an educated young Negro lawyer from the North—both separately on the run, but temporarily thrown together.

It was excellently done, with Patty Duke and Al Freeman Jr. starring. The reviews were very favorable. And it seemed quite clear that those two-hour "world premieres" that television has been showing for some time—to fill in for the shortage of pre-sold movies—were capable of being good, contemporary and adult rather than mere melodramatic potboilers.

Now the ratings have come along to give further credence to this belief. In a remarkable showing, "My Sweet Charlie" was the highest-ranked program of the week of Jan. 19-25 in the 70-city ratings. It breezed in well above such popular hits as "Rowan and Martin's Laugh-In," "Here's Lucy" and "Gunsmoke."

The message should be loud and clear for the networks. They don't have to settle for "safe" potboilers. There are plenty of good, contemporary and adult tales around, waiting to be made. And while it's nice that "My Sweet Charlie" was done well and got five notices, the payoff that is bound to score most with the networks is the rating.

It is a clear opportunity to shed television's creating strait-jacket. The audience is there, waiting to be lured. As usual, the viewers are much further ahead of television than executives suspect.

On March 5, by the way, one of those much-in-demand pre-sold Hollywood movies shows up on CBS-TV, and it is a honey "The African Queen," starring Katharine Hepburn and Humphrey Bogart in the role that won him an Oscar. John Huston, who adapted the C. S. Forester novel for the screen with James Agee, directed the tale of the old-maid missionary who enlists the help of a dissolute river boat skipper for

GIVES CUTTERS
BOSTON (UPI)—The U.S. Coast Guard will give two of its cutters, the Yakutat and the Bering Strait, to the South Vietnamese navy.

The Yakutat is stationed at New Bedford, Mass., and the Bering Strait is based at Honolulu. Both are 311-foot high-endurance craft constructed near the end of World War II.

TRICIA RECOVERING
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Tricia Nixon is recovering from a case of measles and is reported feeling "much better," according to the White House.

The President's daughter was afflicted last week while staying at the family's Key Biscayne, Fla., villa. The First Lady joined her there Friday along with the White House physician.

The Lighter Side

WASHINGTON (UPI)—You there, sir, with the pudgy midriff: How would you like to go on a diet that causes you to lose weight but lets you eat as much as you like without regard to the caloric content of the food?

Sounds like a beautiful dream, eh? But it isn't. I have discovered such a dieting method. It is absolutely devoid of menus, "do's and don'ts" and all of the other bothersome details that make dieting so exasperating.

Had I chosen to exploit this system commercially, I probably could have made a small fortune. But, pro bono publico, as they say in Brooklyn, I am making it available free of charge.

If, of course, you care to remember me in your last will and testament, I'll not object. The size of the bequest will be up to you and your conscience.

Has Sleek Physique
First, let me say that I am blessed with one of those sleek physiques commonly associated with novitiate matadors and flamenco dancers. Until recently, dieting and I were total strangers.

Last summer, however, I began growing a moustache which soon became such a fire hazard that I was obliged to stop smoking. In so doing I fell victim to creeping corpulence.

Finally, last month, I developed the West simplified one-step diet, and pared away the pounds as if by magic. If it

Gov't Costs Will Increase By 1976

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The cost of running the government will increase to $244 billion by 1976, long range projections contained in President Nixon's budget indicated Monday.

It was the first time a President sought to predict overall budget figures beyond the upcoming fiscal year.

Nixon estimated government revenue would increase from the $202.1 billion projected for the 1971 fiscal year which begins next July 1 to $206 billion by the 1975 fiscal year.

The President projected the cost of next year's $200.8 billion budget would increase to $244 billion in 1975. That includes a $23 billion increase in the cost of current programs and $18 billion for new programs suggested in this year's budget.

If both the revenue and outlay figures materialize, the government would have $22 billion left over.

Budget Director Robert P. Mayo said the $22 billion "growth dividend" could be used for new programs, tax relief, or to repay part of the national debt.

Mayo indicated repayment of the debt would take some pressure off the nation's money markets and might lead to lower overall interest rates and increased home building.

NAACP Claims Carswell's Racial Record Tainted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The National Association for Advancement of Colored People has said Judge G. Harrold Carswell's record was tainted with racial bias and that he should be rejected for a seat on the Supreme Court.

Clarence Mitchell of Washington representing the NAACP, said in prepared testimony to the Senate Judiciary Committee at the final day of public hearings on Carswell's nomination to the court:

"The people have a right and a duty to insist that the nominees be free from racial bias and also free from a record of advocacy and practice of racial bias. The record of Judge Carswell is not free from the taint of racial bias. It is tragic that he is already a member of the judiciary in the 5th Circuit. This tragedy will be compounded if he is approved for a place on the Supreme Court."

Mitchell declared: "We do not challenge his right as an individual, whether as a technique of survival or because of personal beliefs, to consort with racists and advocates of segregation. We do challenge his right to sit in judgment in our federal courts at any level when he joins those who seek to maintain a society in which some citizens are consigned to a second class status simply because they are not white."

The NAACP spokesman also contended some decisions by Carswell when he was a federal district judge were anti-civil rights.

Mitchell charged: "An advocate of racial segregation has been named by the Nixon administration to serve on the United States Supreme Court."

Texas Christian Committed To Eleventh Game

FORT WORTH, Tex. (UPI)—TCU has become the first school in the Southwest Conference to extend its regular football season by one game. But five of the remaining seven league schools were trying to add an 11th game.

Only Rice and Texas were expected to keep their present 10-game schedules.

Texas Christian signed a one-year pact Monday to play the University of Texas-Arlington Sept. 12 in TCU stadium. But TCU officials hoped to extend the game to a regular series between the two clubs.

Texas A&M wants to schedule an 11th game with the Air Force Academy. The A&M student body is largely made up of men enrolled in the Army ROTC and such a game would have the effect of matching two service schools.

SMU officials have scouted around for an 11th opponent. The Mustangs and Notre Dame have tried for a number of years to play each other and the extra game could give them their opportunity.

Arkansas coach Frank Broyles said he was too busy recruiting to spend too much time adding another game to the schedule.

"We talked to Southern Cal.

but I noticed Saturday they signed up with Alabama," Broyles said. "I'm not sure now what we'll do."

Tom Wright, a sports columnist for The Oklahoma Journal, reported, however, "It's all but certain that the University of Oklahoma will sign with Arkansas for its 11th football game for next season. Some details and schedule-shifting are being worked out."

A game between TCU and Texas-Arlington is a natural. The two schools are less than 20 miles apart. TCU is a private institution and Texas-Arlington is a state supported university with a swelling enrollment. Of such ingredients are rivalries born.

And TCU head coach Fred Taylor hinted he would like to see the pact between the two schools renewed.

"We'd like to have a home opener every year with the same team," Taylor said. "I don't want us to go to the Big 10 for a game or bring someone in here who'll only draw 12,000."

"We thought it would be a good game for both schools," said TCU Athletic Director Abe Martin. "It should be a good crowd game, a good money game and there is a lot of local interest."

"We are just tickled to death," said UTA Athletic Director Chema Gilstrap. "It's something we have been working on for a long time."

The only time Texas-Arlington, the sixth largest school in the state in enrollment, played a Southwest Conference school it lost 14-0 to Southern Methodist in 1964.

Southwest Conference schools voted 7-1 Sunday to allow for an 11th game. Texas cast the lone dissenting vote.

MOSS HAMPTON

Hampton Gets Recognition

Harvester footballer Moss Hampton has attained the distinction that all high school players seek, but one that few achieve.

Hampton, a six-foot one-inch offensive center and co-captain on last year's Harvester eleven has been named an honorable mention selection on the Sun-Kist-Coach and Athlete High School All-American team. The All-Americans chosen were selected on the basis of athletic ability, academic accomplishment, civic interest and leadership.

On being notified of his All-American status, the modest Hampton commented, "I'm thrilled, this is really quite an honor."

Moss is the son of Dr. and Mrs. R. M. Hampton and resides with his parents at 1824 Mary Ellen.

His activities include the Texas Association of Student Councils, of which he holds the office of President, the Pampa chapter of the Key Club, and he is a member of the National Honor Society.

Hampton, completing his Senior year this spring tentatively plans to attend Texas Christian University upon graduation from high school.

Asked if he planned to play college football, Moss sheepishly replied: "now, I'm afraid I'm too small and too slow. The competition is awfully tough up there so I think I'll concentrate principally on my studies."

Shaving Strokes 4-Keeping Fit

By FRANK BEARD
It is true that I am developing something of a paunch lately, but I know — believe me — how to stay in condition for golf during the winter months.

Like most professional golfers, I do my "daily dozen" exercises in the morning. I also do some jogging. But I've never really done anything special, at least not like Gary Player.

There are any number of hints I could give you concerning conditioning, but probably the most important involves keeping your hands strong (gripping a rubber ball will help here) and muscles in tone (re: the shovelswing). (NEXT: Play It Warm.)

SMILING LESLIE WEATHERLY accepts Fighting Heart Award from Head Football Coach and Athletic Director Swede Lee at last night's Booster Club Football Banquet.

Maravich Still On Rampage

By United Press International
The legend of Pistol Pete Maravich gets better with each succeeding game.

The gangly 6-5 guard, who broke Oscar Robertson's college career scoring mark Saturday night with a 53-point game against Mississippi, surpassed the 3,000 point plateau Monday night when he tossed in 49 points to lead LSU to a 100-91 victory over Mississippi State.

Maravich, whose sensational offensive shows during the past three years at LSU have made him Mr. Basketball of the Bayou and the most exciting college player in the country, scored his 3,000th point on a free throw with 7:17 left in the first half. He then gunned down 36 more points to raise his record total to 3,096.

Maravich still has 12 games left to play during the regular season and if he can continue to score around his 47 point per game average he can reach the 3,600 mark.

But while most people have been counting points, the post season tournament committees have been watching the wondrous records. And at this rate LSU (11-5) can be considered as a definite candidate. The Tigers are still alive in the Southeastern Conference race with Georgia, Kentucky and Auburn. The winner of the SEC is eligible to go to the NCAA championships while the runner-up is likely to be invited to the National Invitational Tournament in New York.

Terry Mills' 30-foot jump shot with nine seconds remaining gave second-ranked Kentucky an 84-83 victory over Auburn. It was Mills' 30th point of the game but his only basket of the second half. Auburn's Henry Harris missed a desperation shot at the buzzer.

Artis Gilmore scored 29 points and hauled down 25 rebounds to pace sixth-ranked Jacksonville to a 110-75 thrashing of overmatched Iowa.

Sixteenth-ranked Pennsylvania, took over first place in the Ivy League with a 57-52 victory over Columbia Penn (16-1) is 6-0 in league play while Columbia dropped to a 5-1 record.

In other games: Tennessee edged Vanderbilt, 77-72 in double overtime, Kansas drubbed Oklahoma, 78-41. Loyola of Chicago defeated Valparaiso, 85-67. Kansas State trounced Iowa State, 82-64. Missouri downed Colorado, 90-73. Indiana State defeated Southern Illinois, 82-73. Oklahoma State routed Nebraska 81-

Weatherly Honored—Harvester Banquet Exciting Occasion

By TOM DODSON
News Sports Editor
A crowd of over four hundred Pampans were on hand last night at Robert E. Lee Junior High School to pay tribute to the 1960 Harvester football squad at the annual Pampa Booster Club Football Banquet.

Guest speaker, Chuck Fairbanks of Oklahoma University, moved the near capacity crowd as he related the character building effect achieved by Pampa High School's football squad as they competed on the field of play this past season.

Fairbanks noted that in high school football, a young man plays hard, fairly, and with great enthusiasm. But most important, he abides by the rules that have been set forth to make football a clean and fair form of athletic competition.

"One of the greatest faults in America today is that many young people can't seem to play by the rules of our society in their day to day life," he stated. Fairbanks added: "Football has had a great influence on our country, and we have a great country." Then the Oklahoma mentor went on to say "football is democracy at work. It is a game that will destroy social dissatisfaction.

Master of ceremonies for the event was Howard Weatherly, colorful President of the sponsoring Pampa Booster Club. After the school song, Weatherly then introduced Head Football Coach and Athletic Director R.E. "Swede" Lee. Coach Lee, well along in his task of rebuilding the Harvester football program, first introduced his assistant coaches and players, then went on to say: "I'm very proud of our football team."

Lee then said "We were narrowly defeated in several games last year, but we lost like winners."

Harvester football fans can reasonably expect an improvement over last year's 3-7 record next fall as Coach Lee's rebuilding program should begin to materialize.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of the Fighting Heart Award which went to courageous little Leslie Weatherly, son of Booster Club President Howard Weatherly. Leslie was a diminutive fireball who throughout the season never understood the meaning of the word quit. He is one of forty-six 1960 dedicated Harvester footballers.

Verga Challenges Spencer Haywood

NEW YORK (UPI)—Bob Verga may give up eight inches in height to Spencer Haywood, but he refuses to concede a point to his shadow from Denver in the American Basketball Association scoring race.

Verga, Carolina's prolific scorer, has a 27.4 point scoring average that kept him in front of Haywood today for the fourth consecutive week. The margin isn't much, less than a point, but enough to stay atop the 6-9 Haywood's 26.8 mark.

Haywood, who leads the ABA in total points with 1,336 through last Sunday's games, maintained his rebound lead last week with 998 for a 19.9 average. His superior board work precipitated a 14-game Denver winning streak that fell one short of the league record when the Rockets lost to New York last Friday.

Jeff Congdon of Denver leads in three-point field goal percentage with a .486 mark, but Louie Dampier of Kentucky the actual gunner from beyond the 25-foot line with 111 three-point baskets.

Bill McGill of Dallas is tops in two-point field goal percentage at .553, Darel Carrier of Kentucky has an .891 foul shooting percentage and Doug Moe of Carolina paces the league with 276 assists for a 6.3 average.

OUR CAPSULE POLICY
EVER STRIVING FOR THE TEXAS PANHANDLE
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE
Let Peace Begin With Me!

This newspaper is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessings. For only when man understands freedom and is free to control himself and all he produces can he develop his utmost capabilities.

We believe that all men are equally endowed by their Creator, and not by a government, with the right to take moral action to preserve their life and property and secure more freedom and keep it for themselves and others.

To discharge this responsibility, free men, to the best of their ability, must understand and apply to daily living the great moral guide expressed in the Coveting Commandment.

Gas Versus Gasoline

Government action against pollution is usually translated as the commitment of regulatory authority available to Washington, and the state capitals, to the defense of the environment.

But government has other powers—economic and even that of a good example—which also may be of some significance in furthering the cause. Both would seem to be involved in a small but promising way in the recently reported experiment by the General Services Administration.

The GSA converted 12 of its fleet of some 51,000 U.S. government cars from gasoline to natural gas. In a relatively simple and inexpensive ($340 per car) procedure, each was equipped with a tank holding natural gas under pressure. The fuel supply was sufficient to cover up to 80 miles.

Initial results would appear to be more than encouraging. The natural-gas powered cars produced 40 per cent less pollution than conventional vehicles. Furthermore, a comparison test showed 50 per cent less fuel consumption.

The GSA is so encouraged. In fact, that it is going beyond experiment to practical application. It plans to convert another 70 cars for routine use at National Aeronautics and Space Administration facilities.

Seventy virtually pollution-free vehicles, of course, count for nothing against the more than 100 million cars and trucks in this country presently spewing their tons of contaminants into the atmosphere. And the 80-mile range is obviously a severely limiting factor to widespread use in a

GLOBAL VIEW:

War Between Soviet, China Seen By 1975

By LEON DENNEN
Foreign News Analyst
NEW YORK (NEA)—Western Kremlinologists and U.S. intelligence officials are analyzing a book written by a Soviet citizen that foresees a war between Russia and Red China by 1975.

"Can the Soviet Union Survive Until 1964?" is the Russian title of the book authored by Andrei Amalrik, a 32-year-old historian and playwright who resides in Moscow.

It is provocative not only because the author anticipates a war between the two Red giants but also because he predicts an ultimate Chinese victory and the eventual dismemberment of the Soviet Union.

What Kremlinologists and intelligence experts seek to determine is whether Amalrik is a genuine dissident, as he claims to be, or an agent of Russia's secret police, the KGB.

Did the KGB's vast and powerful "department of misinformation" commission him to write the book in order to prepare international public opinion, Communists and non-Communists for a preemptive Soviet nuclear strike against China?

Amalrik's book was never printed in the Soviet Union but a typewritten copy reached the West, presumably through secret channels. It was recently published in its original Russian version in The Hague, Holland.

As the author purports to see it, the Red Chinese—and not the Russians—will be the aggressors. They will start a war against the Soviet Union with conventional weapons and guerrilla forces when they have amassed, by 1975, a sufficient amount of nuclear missiles and conventional weapons.

The Russians would not dare to repulse the Chinese onslaught with nuclear weapons since they would be afraid of Peking's nuclear retaliation.

As a result of a guerrilla war that would drag on for years, the Soviet population would gradually become disillusioned and rebellious. The Kremlin regime would be toppled because of popular upheavals in Moscow. Eventually the Soviet Union would break up into its national republics.

What about China? She would also be badly weakened by the protracted conflict. Only capitalist America would emerge as the real victor. Amalrik even suggests an alliance between the United States and China.

Is this the wishful thinking of a dissident who despises the Soviet regime or is it a warning to Communists who still refuse to swallow the Kremlin's line on China of things to come?

Is Amalrik trying to predispose international opinion in favor of a Russian nuclear attack on China? Such an attack, it is believed, has long been contemplated by the Kremlin's strategists.

To be sure, the book does not deal exclusively with the Russian-Chinese quarrel. What lends it some appearance of authenticity is the grim account it provides of the tragic situation of dissidents and liberal intellectuals in Russia. It is also sharply critical of the Communist bureaucracy.

However, there is no doubt that it is Amalrik's prediction that Russia may be defeated by China in the 1970s that is likely to cause a sensation in the Communist and non-Communist worlds.

Is the KGB, then, using the author for its own ulterior purposes? Dissident writers and intellectuals are in Soviet prisons, insane asylums or exile because they permitted their books to be printed abroad and even for lesser offenses. Yet Amalrik, according to recent information, is at liberty in Moscow. He even has contact with westerners, particularly foreign correspondents.

Even if Amalrik is a stooge of the KGB, his book deserves close scrutiny.

This can bring on all kinds of accidents, as you can imagine. Even parked, you can't assume the hazard is over. I saw one lady trying to get out. She got her maxi coat tangled up, tripped over the brake pedal, fell out the door and sprawled in front of me on the pavement. If I hadn't been so safety-minded and had stopped dead still at the time I could have run right over the poor thing...

N.Y. People 'Short Circuit' Space Analysis Systems

By RAY CROMLEY
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON (NEA)—New York is finding it isn't simple to apply the techniques that led to a successful moon landing to the problems of a city.

For more than a year New York has employed a firm of operations analysts which has on call some of the most sophisticated technical men in defense and space.

Despite the skill of the men, the results have been somewhat disappointing both to the specialists and to the city.

In a nutshell, the difficulty is people. As a harassed deputy city administrator in New York put it:

"Getting to the moon was relatively easy... The decision about a landing site was based entirely on technical considerations; the public did not care where the astronauts set down. However, the public cares a great deal about where a city dump is located or where a sewage treatment plant is constructed... The technical considerations produced by operations research play only a minor role in such decisions."

Shifts in Apollo were solved normally without reorganizing the space bureaucracy. But New York has found that change in a city usually means changing the organizational relationships and relative power of people... to which there is a great deal of resistance. (The operations analyst usually considers implementation to be outside his sphere.)

By contrast, New York officials report that city decision making rarely consists of a "neat, crisp, binary selection." Rather, it is usually a "vague, prolonged, diffused and purrallistic process."

Therefore, if a decision is ever to come from an analytic study, the technician must become "an active force pushing for resolution along an unmarked front"—a decidedly uncomfortable role.

It is relatively easy, through mathematical theory and laboratory experiments, to tell what a space vehicle will do under varying situations (within certain margins of error). But as New York administrators tell it, you cannot anticipate by current scientific technology what the people of a city are going to do when you set up new rules.

"Look," says one New York City official, "at the elaborate bureaucratic system of checks and balances designed to assure fair value in the city's purchases. The procedures were constructed to protect against graft and corruption when contracting. However, the consequence is an inordinately long delay in securing bids and paying bills, with the result that many potential vendors refuse to do business with the city and those who do have to charge higher prices in order to make up for the additional expense. Thus, a strategy designed to improve competition and reduce the cost of goods has the perverse effect of reducing competition and increasing the cost of goods."

Worst of all, in a city almost every decision is threatening to at least one group of people and gratifying to at least one other. The analyst finds himself deep in politics, deciding which group gets what.

This New York experience illustrates why there will be no instant answers. Nevertheless, the city has found areas where the space techniques can effect very real improvements in city services.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

Proper Chewing of Food Causes Coated Tongue

Q—What is the cause and cure of coated tongue?

A—The cause is a failure to chew thoroughly such tongue-cleansing foods as toast, nuts and raw fruits and vegetables. The coating is merely a layer of dead cells and not an indication of any disease.

Q—What would cause a black coating on my tongue? Is it serious?

A—This type of coating is caused by a fungus infection. It is not serious, but, if it can't be removed in a week or two by brushing your tongue with a toothbrush, you should see your doctor.

Q—What would cause my tongue to be swollen and sore? My doctor says I have glossitis. What is the best treatment for it?

A—Glossitis is an inflammation of the tongue. It may be caused by a deficiency of vitamin B, sprue or pernicious anemia. The key to successful treatment is discovery of the cause.

Q—A few weeks ago, my husband noticed that the cracks in his tongue are getting deeper. What causes this? Is it serious?

A—In the absence of any soreness, this is of no significance. I have had a geographic tongue off and on for four months. How can I get rid of it?

A—This is a common and harmless condition which clears up spontaneously but may come back from time to time. The beauty part is that no one will know you have it unless you tell them and then they won't believe you unless you show it to them.

Q—I am an active 70. In the last year, I have had too much saliva and, when I lie down at night, I drool. My doctor says it is caused by an imbalance in my nervous system. What do you think?

A—Salivation may be caused by taking drugs that contain mercury, iodine, bromine, arsenic or potassium chlorate, excessive smoking, diseases of the mouth or gums, indigestion and anemia. If your trouble stems from one or more of these causes, elimination of the cause will help you.

Q—My cholesterol level is 300. My doctor says I shouldn't eat any animal fats or eggs. I love eggs. Would four a week hurt me?

A—Since the normal cholesterol level is 160 to 230, you should follow your doctor's advice. But you could eat just the whites of the eggs and give the yolks to a member of the Family with a normal cholesterol.

Black Panther Crime Record Ignored By Socialists 'Defense' Fund Raisers
JOHN GOLDSMITH
ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — There is a grisly irony behind those carefully publicized socialists' efforts to raise "defense" funds for the Black Panthers.

While the "Beautiful people," jet-setters, show biz personalities and other exotic bleeding-hearts and do-gooders gather in swank apartments and ornate salons to shrillerly deplore and decry gory Black Panther accounts of police "brutality" and "violence," the unchallengeable police records throughout the country reveal a very different story.

It is a blood-smeared, crime-drenched account of virtually every category of major offenses committed by Black Panthers.

These indisputable official police records disclose that last year more than 350 Black Panthers were arrested for committing upwards of 150 serious crimes—including murder, armed robbery, rape, auto and various other thefts, bank holdups, purse snatching, narcotics violations, rioting, illegal possession of guns, rifles and other weapons, and defiance of the Selective Service Act.

More than 100 guns of various kinds were confiscated from Black Panthers; also a number of bombs.

These stark and irrefutable facts are never mentioned at the socialists' money-raising wallows. There is much gushy hand-wringing and indignant abuses, but never a word about Black Panther deprecations and criminality.

Not is anything ever said about the widespread prevalence of criminals among the Black Panthers, and the open advocacy by Panther leaders and their official publication of attacking police.

"Off the pigs" (meaning kill the police) is an open Panther battle cry.

Since the Panthers' inception in 1967, they have killed five policemen and wounded 42 others in unprovoked assaults.

THE REAL BLACK PANTHER STORY—The 1969 police records show that wherever Black Panthers congregated they were in the forefront of crime and vice.

Following are illustrative instances throughout the country:

New Haven Conn. — 14 Black Panthers, including 2 juveniles, were arrested for the murder of Alex Rackley, a Black Panther from New York City. Investigation disclosed he was killed because he was suspected of being a police informer.

Newark, N.J. — Donald Gregory Weems, Black Panther member, held up a bank. His accomplice shot the bank president who resisted the robbers. Weems was captured by police after being wounded.

Also in Newark, six Black Panthers were arrested for possession of a stolen car.

Philadelphia — Richard Schnell, Black Panther captain, was arrested by federal agents for possession of an M-14 carbine stolen from the government.

Baltimore — Jimmy Lamar Foxworth arrested for possession of a loaded .38 caliber pistol.

Chicago — Joseph Gray and Donald Smiley, both Black Panthers, were arrested for shooting at a Negro walking toward a Chicago Housing Authority project. Each was found to be armed with a pistol.

Also in Chicago, four Black Panthers were arrested by federal authorities on charges of buying machine guns.

Seattle — Willie Brazier Jr., Black Panther lieutenant of education, arrested for robbery of the Fidelity Mutual Savings Bank.

Eugene, Ore. — Howard Douglas Anderson Jr., Black Panther captain, was indicted for assault with a dangerous weapon.

Sacramento, Calif. — Black Panther Leroy Haskins charged with robbing Cal's Market.

San Francisco — Cleveland Brooks, Black Panther official, was arrested for firing a rifle from the window of his apartment. Two weapons and a quantity of ammunition were confiscated from him.

Los Angeles — A group led by a Black Panther was stopped while riding in a stolen car. One of them fired a shotgun at the police, but after a chase and gun battle, they were captured, one of them wounded. Under questioning they admitted committing an armed robbery at a drive-in restaurant, and planning to attack Negro security officers to obtain guns.

Also in Los Angeles, Black Panther John Leonard Clark was arrested for burglary. Five other Black Panthers were arrested for robbery. They were armed with a revolver, an automatic pistol and a sawed-off carbine. A month later, three other Panthers were arrested for robbing a school.

On another occasion, Black Panthers Elmer Gerard Pratt and Roger Lee Lewis were arrested in Los Angeles for possession of a bomb.

San Diego — Black Panther Abraham Barnett was arrested for burglary. Ten days later he was again arrested for the same offense. The following month, six Black Panthers were arrested for possession of weapons and stolen property. Police seized three shotguns and one rifle.

CRIMINAL BACKGROUNDS — Another indisputable reality never mentioned in the socialists' fund-raising soirees is that Black Panther ranks are filled with hoodlums and thugs with long criminal records.

Following are some revealing examples:

Jorge Aponso Jr., Brooklyn, convicted of attempted robbery with a sawed-off shotgun. Also in New York, Anthony Coston was arrested for assault and robbery.

In Newark, N.J., Black Panther Jerome Chambers has over 20 arrests for larceny, assault, robbery and narcotics violations. And Black Panther Isalah Rowley has a long arrest record for armed robbery, breaking and entering, looting, narcotics violations and assaulting a police officer.

Fred Alan Hampton, field director of the Chicago Black Panthers, recently killed in a gun battle with police, had a long criminal record, including arrests for robbery, aggravated assault and mob action.

Denver, Colo. Panther member George Earl Farrow has been arrested 17 times in the last 10 years on charges of robbery, larceny, burglary, assaults, and narcotics violations.

Tommy Lee Horne, of the San Diego Panthers, has several burglary convictions. And James Thomas Johnson was arrested in San Diego for possession of a revolver which had been taken in a burglary.

ATTACKS ON POLICE — In 1969, Black Panthers engaged in at least 13 unprovoked attacks on police and violently resisted arrest.

The Black Panther propaganda line is that they resort to armed force to "defend" themselves. In no instance does the record bear that out. The record does show that they openly call for "Off the pigs" — meaning kill the police.

This has been the Black Panthers' course since their inception. From the very start, they have advocated armed attacks on police. And they have done that, as follows:

In New York City, two policemen stopped to give assistance to an apparently disabled car parked beside an expressway. Two Negroes, subsequently identified as Black Panthers Anthony Coston and Clark Edward Squire, told the officers they were having motor trouble, then one of them suddenly opened fire on the policeman with a pistol. One policeman was wounded and the two Panthers fled. Later a 19-year-old girl told police she had accompanied the two Panthers to rent a car that was to be used in setting up the deliberate ambush.

Black Panthers set up a loudspeaker in front of their headquarters in San Francisco. The loudspeaker was manned by Cleveland Brooks, who urged the crowd to bring guns to "kill the pigs" whenever a police car passed by. The Panthers also had a mobile loudspeaker over which the crowd was urged to "kill the pigs." Police finally arrested the operators of these loudspeakers. Brooks, wearing a gun in his belt, ran into Panther headquarters, where police were met with a rifle pointed at them. Tear gas was used to effect the arrest, and two rifles, two shotguns and two pistols, plus ammunition, were confiscated.

Pussycat Power

If ultramilitant women's organizations like WITCH (Women's International Conspiracy from Hell) or SCUM (Society to Cut Up Men) are doomed to failure in their efforts to overthrow this man's world, it's not because males control all the power.

It's simply that most gals just aren't that mad at men, or that outraged at having been born women.

Already a counter-organization called the Pussycat League has been launched because "the shenanigans or techniques of militant women were giving other women—who believe in femininity—a bad name," says the league's founder Jeannie Sakol, a New York writer.

Don't get the pussycats wrong. They are not disposable love objects of the Playboy bunny type nor "pearl-brained housewives." And they share the same basic causes as the militant feminists—day-care centers for working mothers, repeal of abortion laws and equal pay for equal work.

But they don't believe in shouting about it or burning their bras over it (an item invented by a woman, by the way, to fill, or be filled by, a real need).

They do believe in the use of affection in the battle between the sexes, like rubbing man's back when he comes home tired. Their slogans reflect this attitude: "Men are our friends, not our enemies."

"Militants make noise; we make love." The lamb chop is mightier than the karate chop. "It all may sound a little silly or mildly superficial," says Miss Sakol, "but we're starting some waves, and are making people laugh and are serious in our intent. What more could you ask? Humor is missing in dissent today. Because you smile it doesn't mean you're less serious."

All power—well, a little bit, anyway—to the Pussycats.

A New Dirty Word

Solid particles of air pollution—dust, ash, soot, etc.—are usually measured in micrograms per cubic meter.

William A. Gordon, a spectrochemist at NASA's Lewis Research Center in Cleveland, thinks the term is too cumbersome, if not too scientifically neutral. He proposes a new unit—the "filth."

Instead of saying, for example, that the air over a given city recorded 150 micrograms of dust on a given day, we would say it measured 150 filth.

Micrograms don't mean much to most people. Filth do.

Pill's Effect On Heart...Man's

There may be more perils to the Pill than the claims of blood-thinning and cancer which occupied the attention of recent Senate subcommittee hearings. A London doctor warns that some women taking birth control pills, freed from the fear of unwanted pregnancy, are killing their husbands with love. "To a man of 40," says the doctor, as quoted by the Health Bulletin, "after a strenuous day at the office, this can be a great strain on the heart."

Especially if he has been chasing his secretary around the desk all day.
