

UNCLE RAY'S CORNER

Scientists declare that the Cliff Dwellers were ancestors of modern Indians. They feel sure that the present tribes of Pueblo Indians are descended from the people of the cliffs.

The Pueblo folk are made up of several tribes, but the Hopi and the Zuni groups are most widely known. In addition, the Pueblo tribes include the Acoma Indians and others.

The Acomas deserve a special mention. They may be described as an "in-between" tribe. We hardly can call them Cliff Dwellers, but they live on a cliff of a sort. Their central village is located on the top of a mass of white rock. This rock rises more than 350 feet above the surrounding ground, and forms a "mesa" or "rock table."

On the mesa are several hundred Indians of the Pueblo type. These people live high in the world, as did their ancestors, the Cliff Dwellers.

From time to time, during the past four centuries, attacks have been made on the Acoma Indians.

They have suffered heavy losses in certain attacks, but have managed to keep their tribe together, and to maintain a stronghold in a high location.

The name "Pueblo" came from the Spanish language, and means "Town." Early explorers called the natives Pueblo, or Town Indians. They had villages with strong-walled homes, made chiefly of adobe.

There is a widespread idea that all Pueblo Indians build homes with several stories. Many homes of this kind exist, but one-story houses are common in various Pueblo villages.

While I was paying a visit to New Mexico, I spent some time in the Pueblo village known as Isleta. Here I saw a sign which read: MAKER OF POTTERY.

The sign was on the front of a one-story house, and I walked inside. The objects included trays and pipes made of clay.

One tray had a picture of the head of the so-called Thunder Bird on the upper surface. On the bottom of the tray was a picture of the tail of the same bird.

DATE DATA

Avoiding Familiarity On That First Date

Dear Miss Brandow:

Is there any way to keep your distance from a boy on a first date and yet not give him the idea you are frigid? I like to have time to know a boy pretty well before I hold hands with him or kiss him.

Ann
You are very wise. This makes for a good reputation, and a good relationship with those you really do like.

There are a few devices you will find successful with all but the very aggressive. Keep a light scintillating conversation going. Avoid personal remarks about his being so good looking etc.

When you are walking, carry your purse in the hand that is next to his. In a movie put your arm on the arm rest farthest from him and the other hand across your lap as near the arm rest as possible and still be comfortable and natural looking. Or hold your pop corn in the hand within his grasp.

Don't wiggle and squirm a lot; he may take it as an indication you want his arm around you. If he should put it there, don't hesitate to ask, "Do you mind?" It won't ruin your rating as date bait ex-

Belt Halts Bullet In Time, Corpus Youth Finds Out

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Octavio Flores, 19, was feeling pretty chipper today — and very much relieved.

Flores and Lupe Perez, 17, were wrestling yesterday when Perez playfully pointed a .32 revolver he thought was unloaded at Octavio and pulled the trigger.

The pistol belched smoke and flame and Flores crumpled to the ground holding his stomach and gasping.

But all the doctor at a local hospital did about it was place a small strip of adhesive tape on the youth's abdomen and tell him to go home.

A Navy-style web belt stopped the bullet from point-blank range. The slug was found between Flores' belt and his khaki trousers. Flores had a sorely bruised mid-section.

Red Unions Protest Guatemala 'Terror'

BERLIN (AP) — The Communist Federation of Trade Unions in East Germany has protested in a letter to the secretary general of the United Nations against "brutal Fascist terror" in Guatemala.

The five-million-member organization charged that 45 union officials have been murdered. It demanded that the U.N. Security Council meet immediately to agree on actions against the "raging of military dictatorship in Guatemala."

Swordfish Landed Although Unprepared

BLOCK ISLAND, R.I. (AP) — Arthur B. Rose, a fisherman, wasn't equipped yesterday to land a 100-pound swordfish—but he did anyway.

He sighted the big fish while hauling lobster pots. He tied the end of his striking line to a stack of pots, had his partner, Edward Conley, tie him to the mast for safety's sake, and then proceeded to harpoon the swordfish.

BERLIN (AP) — A Communist court has opened a trial in Halle of six East German mining experts charged with attempted sabotage of production in copper mines.

"LET'S LOOK AT THE RECORD"

*Proof of the morals and character of Gov. Shivers lies in his cries of "I did nothing illegal" when confronted with the sorry spectacle of his monstrous $455,000 profit on his infamous land "deal."

*Proof of his inconsistency lies in his regular employment of illegal "wetbacks" . . . yes, illegal "wetbacks" . . . on his Sharyland farm. Immigration officials recently, in the company of a noted radio commentator, made numerous arrests of these illegal "wetbacks" on "Shilverland." Also, photos of checks paid these "wetbacks" for their labor showed they were paid only 25 and 35 cents per hour!

The Bracero Pact requires a minimum of 75 cents per hour! Does Shivers Deny This, Nell!

*Proof that we ought to return the Governor's office to the People, and send our present so-called "Democratic" Governor back to Sharyland lies in the above (not to mention the Insurance Mess; the fact that he seeks a third term, plus the fact that he served nearly all of Governor Jester's second term; plus his dictatorial defiance of the Supreme Court of the United States).

*Should Howard County farmers (or any West Texas farmers) be forced any longer to compete with their own Governor in the same cotton market when that Governor produces his cotton with two-bit "wetback" labor? No, and a loud "No" is the only answer.

*RESTORE Law — Order — Integrity — Decency to the office of GOVERNOR of this great State of Texas.

VOTE AND GET YOUR FRIENDS TO VOTE JULY 24 AND LET'S ELECT RALPH YARBOROUGH OUR GOVERNOR!!!!

Twister Fells 435-Foot Tower

A twister during a sudden windstorm swooped down on the 435-foot tower behind the WALA-TV building in downtown Mobile, Ala., and sent the tower sprawling to the ground. Miraculously, it fell between two rows of cars in a parking lot—the only way it could have fallen without crashing into a building. Several cars were damaged but no one was hurt. The 65-foot television antenna on top of the 350-foot tower proper weighs 4 1/2 tons. The tornado also tore roofs off several buildings and blew out windows. (AP Wirephoto).

Two 'Forgotten Men' Prisoners Win New Trial After 13 Years

By GEORGE SITTERLY
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo. (U) — Two convicts, "forgotten men" for almost a decade, have won a new trial after spending more than 13 years in prison.

They received the new chance on their claim that they did not have the benefit of legal advice in the original hearing back in 1941. For a while in 1945 and 1946 it looked as if they might get a new trial. Then confusion and a quarrel between courts closed the state penitentiary gates once again.

Years went by until a sympathetic lawyer intervened to give them a new chance. Here's the story: Joseph Montgomery, then 21, and Lawrence E. Young, 23, were charged 13 years ago with kidnaping, first-degree robbery and car theft in St. Francois County, Mo. They admitted in court they got drunk and took a man in his automobile to St. Louis.

On their pleas of guilty, the St. Francois County Circuit Court judge sentenced each to life imprisonment on the robbery and kidnaping charges and five years for car theft. The judge, Frank Fenwick, has been dead for many years now.

After four years in the state Penitentiary here, Montgomery and Young hired a lawyer and filed a plea for release in the Cole

County Circuit Court. Circuit Judge S. C. Blair, upon being told the men did not have an attorney in their original hearing, ordered them returned to St. Francois County "to be dealt with according to law."

But the St. Francois County Judge, Norwin D. Houser at that time, said one circuit court couldn't undo the action of another circuit court. He said the record of the St. Francois court stood unaltered and ordered Montgomery and Young back to prison.

At first, prison officials wouldn't take them because two contrary circuit court decisions hung over the men. There was no prison commitment order by which they could be held as convicts once again. Finally penitentiary officials put them in receiving cells — the separate quarters for new prisoners. They stayed there six months with no action taken either for or against them. Then prison authorities classified them for work in prison shops and for more than eight years they were forgotten men.

A few months ago Sam Haley, Jefferson City lawyer, heard about the case from inside the prison. He appealed to the Federal District Court in Kansas City.

Federal Judge Richard M. Duncan upheld Circuit Judge Blair's order that they be sent back to St. Francois County for a new trial.

Said Haley: "They may come back to prison, but they have a right to a fair hearing in court first."

Brief Jail Terms Asked For Speeders

ARTESIA, N.M. (U) — The Eddy County Safety Council has recommended jail sentences of two to five hours as punishment for speeders.

A council spokesman says a $15 fine may mean nothing to one driver but really hurts another. "Everyone has just 24 hours a day, and a two-hour sentence would penalize the rich and poor equally," he said.

A chicken, the blue hen, known in colonial days for its cock fighting progeny is the state bird of Delaware.

Plane Brings Triplets To Oklahoma Home

OKLAHOMA CITY (U) — An airliner, not the stork, brought a set of triplets into Oklahoma City yesterday.

The trio addition to the Bruce Howard family came on an airplane from Wichita, Kan., on their month-old birthday. The boy babies, each weighing slightly over four pounds, were accompanied by their mother and three Braniff Airline hostesses.

Wife Tells Story Of Love Affair At Husband's Trial

ALLEGAN, Mich. (U) — Mrs. Edith Small's story of love for a slain admirer neared an end today. But there was no way of telling whether it had helped or hurt her dentist-husband's chances of escaping a first-degree murder conviction.

That won't be known until a jury returns a verdict in the trial of her husband, Dr. Kenneth B. Small of Detroit.

Dr. Small, 31, is charged with first-degree murder in the slaying May 29 of Jules Lack, 45-year-old New York industrialist-playboy. Police said Small interrupted a gay Memorial Day weekend party at a swank summer home near Allegan and blasted Lack with two pistol bullets at close range while his wife looked on in terror.

Yesterday the petite Mrs. Small, 30, mother of three small boys, told on the witness stand of happy days with Dr. Small during their college romance and in their early years of married life.

But she frankly admitted she fell in love with Lack during a Florida vacation last winter after her husband declined to go with her. Upon her return, she said, she told her husband she wanted a separation.

Dr. Small began drinking after that, she said, and on one occasion beat her after asking her about the "other man."

Defense Counsel Leo Hoffman asked her:

"You were in love with Lack after three dates, and that's why you asked your husband for a separation and a divorce?"

Mrs. Small replied: "That's the basic reason. But there were other basic differences of ideology. He (Dr. Small) wanted to be conservative."

Hoffman then asked if she wanted her husband to be "a big spender," and she answered that she "wanted a bigger person than he is."

At another point Mrs. Small testified that she asked for a separation "because I felt I didn't love him any more."

Hoffman has announced plans to attempt to prove that Dr. Small was temporarily insane at the time of the shooting.

Debate Over Power Contracts For AEC May Slow Whole Bill

By RUSSELL BRINES
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Anderson (D-NM) said today a long Senate look at a proposed government contract to buy electric power in the TVA area may delay President Eisenhower's broad new atomic energy program.

A controversy has been raging in Congress over the President's directive to the Atomic Energy Commission (AEC) to negotiate a contract for construction of a new private power plant to serve the Memphis, Tenn., area over Tennessee Valley Authority lines.

Sen. Hickenlooper (R-Iowa), administration floor leader for the 104-page Atomic Act revision bill, said the power issue promises to provide the main battle on a measure designed primarily to allow giving certain atomic information to allies and to permit private operation of nuclear facilities.

Hickenlooper said he also expects considerable debate on authority provided in the measure for the Defense Department to furnish allies with what he calls "sharply circumscribed" data on the "tactical employment of atomic weapons."

He told the Senate last night that the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee, of which he is vice chairman, had provided "carefully stipulated safeguards" to withhold information on the "design and fabrication of the nuclear part of atomic weapons . . . (and) detailed engineering information on other sensitive parts of our weapons."

He and Anderson said in separate interviews they did not expect the battle over the electric power bill to kill the entire bill, as some Democrats have predicted. Hickenlooper predicted the measure will pass the Senate after "considerable debate."

The bill reached the Senate floor last night. The House may begin debate on it within a few days.

Anderson said the proposal for the AEC to sign a contract with a private Southern utility group for a new plant at West Memphis, Ark., to generate 600,000 kilowatts of added power "goes beyond" the original intention of Congress.

Hickenlooper said that Democrats, who have threatened to try curtailing the AEC's long-term contract authority, "are not concerned with the morality of this contract but are afraid that TVA will not be expanded."

President Eisenhower has defended his directive to the AEC to negotiate the power contract on grounds that it will enable the government to take a new look at TVA, which, he said, is expanding beyond its original area.

The power which the AEC would buy from a private utility combine known as the Dixon-Yates group would be used by TVA to serve consumers in the Memphis area. TVA then would continue to furnish a like amount of power to the atomic plant at Paducah, Ky.

Anderson served notice he will offer an amendment to the atomic energy bill to allow AEC to contract for power only when it is to be delivered directly to an atomic installation.

Successful Holiday Program Is Shown In Chamber Reports

Reports reflected a successful holiday observance, including the Chamber of Commerce's special part in the annual fireworks display, the organization's directors learned Monday.

Seth Lacy, whose committee was thanked by the directorate, expresses appreciation to various organizations which assisted in the program. He said that the Southwest Tool Co. made mortars and the city set them in concrete to expedite the fireworks display and greatly reduce the hazards of firing the pieces.

The board also had reports on plans for the dinner Friday evening which will honor R. L. Tollett on the occasion of 15 years with Corden Petroleum Corp.

The board went on record approving efforts to request establishment of a Mexican consulate in Big Spring. A group representing the Latin American population recently asked community support of such an effort.

Rio Grande Dam Site Is Hunted

LAREDO (AP)—The border country continued its slow recovery from the Rio Grande's worst flood today as the Boundary Commission searched for a site for a flood-preventing dam.

Col. Leland Hewitt, new U.S. Commissioner, conferred yesterday in El Paso, with Chief Engineer L. A. Loggins of the T&N railway, a Southern Pacific subsidiary. He said several dam sites above Del Rio are under consideration.

Loggins wanted information so the railroad could decide whether proposed new tracks, to replace those washed out by the flood, would be inundated by the new dam.

The water treaty provides for construction of three storage and flood control dams on the river. Only Falcon Dam has been completed.

Health and traffic conditions were improved yesterday. Anti-typhoid inoculations were taken by 39,840 persons at clinics in Laredo set up in two public school buildings. Another 12,000 took typhoid shots at Laredo Air Force Base, doctors' offices, and private clinics.

Mayor J. C. Martin asked the 4th Army yesterday to keep its "temporary" Army pontoon bridge here until the washed out bridge can be restored, possibly by early August. Plans were laid to open a two-lane pontoon bridge across the river Monday.

Two Texans Called To Testify Before Senate Committee

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two Texans prominent in the livestock industry were called before a Senate Judiciary subcommittee today on Mexican wethack legislation.

They are Joe Montague of Fort Worth, representing the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Assn., and W. B. Wilson of San Angelo, representing the Texas Sheep and Wool Growers Assn.

Proposed legislation would make it unlawful to knowingly hire a wethack—a Mexican national illegally in the U.S. The bills also would authorize confiscation and forfeiture of any vehicle, including planes or ships, used to transport wethacks.

Author On Hand As Bookseller Is Fined

DETROIT (AP)—John Griffin, the Mansfield, Tex., author was on hand yesterday as a man was convicted of selling an "obscene" book—Griffin's "The Devil Rides Outside."

Alfred Butler of Detroit was fined $100. Griffin's book has been banned by the Detroit police censor. Butler will appeal.

Grand Slam

BEAVERY FALLS, Pa. (AP)—Sammy Casins of Alliquippa is in the Beaver County Jail awaiting grand jury action on charges of falling to stop at the scenes of a number of accidents.

Police said he:

1. Drove through an Alliquippa service station, knocked down a pole and didn't stop.
2. Collided with a car near Alliquippa and didn't stop.
3. Collided with another auto in Coropolis and didn't stop.
4. Punched a motorist who asked him why he was driving recklessly.
5. Shattered a window pane in his mother's home.

Serve Yourself

HERMOSA BEACH, Calif. (AP)—When Mrs. Daniel Baker realized her husband couldn't reach the hospital in time, she ordered him to stop their car.

That is why Anna Danette Baker entered the world yesterday at a serve-yourself gasoline station.

Her parents, sheriff's deputies and station attendants who helped with the delivery are recovering. Anna Danette, who weighed in at 7 pounds 3 ounces, is doing fine. She's in a hospital maternity ward now.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Several Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) policemen have a choice assignment.

Los Angeles Man Dies At Age Of 114

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Jose Soto died yesterday.

A Lucky Number?

CINCINNATI (AP)—An old fellow pleaded guilty in Municipal Court yesterday to a disorderly conduct charge.

He paid a small fine and left the courtroom.

But before he went, he asked the probation officer, "What's my case number?"

Mrs. Cecil Woodberry replied: "25,411."

That's the number I'll play today," the policy-playing gentleman said.

Right Number

BALTIMORE (AP)—Stina Gilk, a 19-year-old Gypsy, predicted number 146 would hit yesterday, but she didn't say who.

Patrolman Thomas Tankersley arrested Stina after a Negro housewife, Mrs. Mary McLaughlin, complained she tried to flim-flam her out of $15 while blessing the money. As an added attraction to a 60-cent palm reading, Mrs. McLaughlin said, Stina told her number 146 would hit.

The Gypsy was fined $50 and given 30 days in jail after Tankersley hauled her before Magistrate Charlotte Main.

Tankersley's badge number is 146.

Man Finds Way To Beat Charges

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—Daniel De Vito, 42, appeared before Chief Magistrate Harry Pine yesterday on a charge of the assault and battery of Virginia Howard.

Detective Michael Skurla charged that De Vito quarreled with the lady in a tailor shop June 25 and beat her severely about the head and body.

But when she took the stand yesterday, she refused to testify, claiming a wife's immunity. She said she and De Vito were married a week ago while he was out on bail.

Judge Pine dismissed the charges.

Temco Gets Contract, Needs More Employees

DALLAS (AP)—Temco Aircraft Corp. will have to hire more workers to handle a multi-million dollar contract to build fuselage sections for F84 Thunderjets.

Temco has received one of the largest contracts in the history of the firm, President Robert McCulloch said yesterday. About 1,200 more workers will be needed, he said. Hiring will begin later this month.

If we fight valiantly in a good cause there will be no need to boast. "Let not him that girdeth on his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off." — I Kings 20:11.

Austerity Too Austere When It Toys With Mercy, Possibly Life

In our business, it is sometimes necessary to go to the scene of news happenings. While we observe primarily for the purpose of reporting news events, we cannot help but observe from the point of noting news.

Such was the case with two plane crash near here last week. It was only natural that, having made the initial study of the scene and having gathered information about the discovery of two victims, we should join in a preliminary search of the premises in an effort to locate the other craft. The country was a bit on the rugged side and heavy brush made it well nigh impossible to get a horizontal view, particularly in dim moonlight.

Flexibility Needed In Foreign Policies To Meet Many Changes

The Senate Foreign Relations Committee is pondering the problem whether to tell France and Italy to join the European Defense Community or suffer the loss of any further U. S. aid. It is hinted that the State Department has not yet, at least, interposed any particular objection.

considerable quantity of U. S. arms and munitions falls into Communist hands with the fall of Hanoi, it is going to hard to convince the American people that France can be trusted with any great amount of military aid in future. The only way France could convince us that she intends to pull her weight is for her to join EDC, and quickly.

Oppenheimer Report Is Dubbed As Operation Spill-The-Beans

WASHINGTON—The end is not yet, in the tragic case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer. Now that Washington officialdom has digested the massive transcript released by the Atomic Energy Commission, there is grave and widespread worry about the many breaches of security that the transcript contains.

4) Revealed many vital details, also hitherto secret, about the famous LINCOLN study of continental air defense, together with some supplementary data on LINCOLN's predecessor Project CHARLES.

Moreover the security officers plainly expected that the document they were editing would have only the most limited circulation. Hence they used a ridiculously transparent system of substituting rows of dots for questionable words and phrases. This system produces a series of puzzles about as hard to unravel as "Mary had a . . . lamb." As a result, the release of the transcript has done the following things:

1) Revealed the existence of the hitherto top secret Air Force project, AFOAT I, for long range detection of Soviet atomic and thermonuclear explosions. This pinpoints the operational setup of our long range detection system.

Patriotism Proven

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP)—Yale University has documentary proof that Nathan Hale, who regretted that he had but one life to give to his country, was an intensely patriotic soldier. He didn't want a furlough. Among the Yale library's rare manuscripts is a letter from young Hale to Miss Betsey Christophers of New London. He said he was anxious to see her, but "in the present situation of things I would not accept a furlough were it offered me."

Red China's Chances Of Getting Into U. N. During 1954 Appear To Be Small

WASHINGTON (AP)—At this moment Red China's chance of getting into the United Nations in 1954—although there was a recent storm here over the thought of it—looks small.

Of Times When Players Sought Opposition, Not Fancy Parks

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Back in the days before my midriff got in the way of my knees, I used to attempt a little baseball on afternoons and weekends. I judge I have, at various times, about played all over the town and country.

Yanes was in the hey-day of his playing career, we contested the Tigers regularly. I never could figure if those boys weren't paying the rent or got chased off as soon as they got an area cleaned up nice and pretty for a ball orchard.

One of the earliest spots was the old ballpark, which was located about where Republic Supply is now headquartered. When the T&P team wasn't in action, kids appropriated the park for their purposes. The T&P team also kept the boys in baseball, although a bit unwittingly. It was the custom to admit the retriever of foul balls as a bona fide witness of the game. In theory this contributed to speedy recovery of all balls, but in practice a few managed to get lost under a rusty syrup bucket or a prairie dog hole.

All of them had about the same thing in common—a piece of plank for home base, either a toe sack for first, second and third bases or else old license plates or "squished" buckets. Pitcher's box was where you drew a line. The better fields had a piece of wire netting for backstop, but not many had this luxury. Lacking in this, you can imagine the beating catchers took to keep from chasing balls. But in those days, nobody cared about the facilities—all we wanted was opposition.

Marginal Industries Are Chief Sufferers From Foreign Trade

The United States may be proud of its great mass production industries, but the American people still find their largest employment in marginal industries, in small businesses, on farms, and in self-employment.

that has not quite proved so in TVA. From this standpoint, it can be said that if American marginal industries cannot compete with foreign products imported into this country out of low-wage, low-tax countries, sometimes by dumping in order to amass dollars, the American industry ought to go out of existence. Actually, this has been the general policy during the past decade and the Randall report, which has been recently rejected by Congress, upholds this point of view. In fact, it has been suggested by extreme free-traders that if, in the interest of restoring European economy, an American industry has to go out of existence, the government should subsidize the American industry not to produce and should remove the out-of-work Americans from their homes to some place where they can find work or put them on the dole. The idea was not taken seriously in this country.

I know all the answers to these questions but as a capitalist, I am satisfied with none of them. The elimination of active, exciting, throat-cutting, if you please, competition must lessen the chances of a new agency of production from coming into existence; it can only lead to the cartelization of industry; cartelization inevitably leads to government control; government control can produce government management and socialism. Great Britain tried these steps in her steel industry and has been forced to go back step by step to private ownership and management. What is called a mixed system, that is, partial capitalistic and partial socialist operations, does not work because private enterprise has few defenses against competition with untaxed government enterprises, and the authority of government when it combines its activities in the economic and political fields tends to become totalitarian, although Nevertheless certain American industries are suffering from what amounts to political-economic competition from Europe and Asia. One of the nastiest forms is going on at this moment in the flooding of the American market with Christmas toys and decorations from the athletic countries behind the Iron Curtain. I shall call attention to this traffic at another time but I do suggest to buyers for department and chain stores that when they face a boycott of such goods by patriotic organizations in October, November and December, it will be of little value to say that they did not know what they were doing when they purchased these wares.

Who Sets Dividend Policies—Big, Little, Or All Investors?

Russell McPhail, who operates from the New York City office of the McPhail Candy Co., of which he's president, is not in the least dismayed by the report of a master in the Superior Court of Massachusetts which says he is actuated by "greed and avarice" in trying to get a seat on the board of directors of L. W. Starrett & Co., tool manufacturers of Athol, Mass., and create a job for himself at $50,000 to $65,000 a year.

dividend of a dollar is too much. Fifty cents would be enough. I think there is more in it for you and all of us if we take it in salary.

"That was the best thing that could have happened," said McPhail. "Nobody ever heard of me, and now this report has gone to 1,800 shareholders." The report has also gone to the Securities & Exchange Commission. There, it is under the scrutiny of attorneys—to determine whether McPhail violated any rules or regulations. On this, McPhail is positive: "Everything we've done has been after consultation with accountants and lawyers. As an American citizen, I'm entitled to buy stock in a company and to sell it if I want to. I have a right to ask for representation on the board of directors of a company in which I own 14 per cent of the stock. And if I can build up the sales of that company—and I'm sure I can—then I'm entitled to be paid for it. There's nothing illegal in that."

Courts have consistently held that directors have a fiduciary relationship to shareholders—all shareholders. They risk suit if they look out for one group or one stockholder at the expense of others.

I'm Up, I'm Down, I'm Under, I Quit

By CAROL MITCHELL
Water-skiing may be fun but there's one thing it ain't. And that's EASY.
Oh sure, the Sunday newspaper supplements will tell you it's not as difficult as it looks. Yeah, if it's Esther Williams who's looking at it.
Then there was that bald-faced liar on TV who said, "Everybody skis the first time." Well, on the vacation back in Alabama, I passed at least the 18th time and I have yet to be right side up on a pair of water skis "with both feet close together" as that newspaper suggested.

Oh, if you think you're going to take a spill all you have to do is merely kick free of the skis. This gal never had time to think to kick free. They freed themselves. Taking the "few" inevitable first spills are harmless, so this article said. But it didn't mention the sore, strained muscles you get all over for days afterward.

Oh, but it's fun. You never know whether you'll pitch forward between the two skis or just take a seat gracefully while the motor boat speeds away from you at 35 miles an hour and you're left in 25 ft. deep water trying to wrestle with two cumbersome pieces of wood and get them back on your feet without bludgeoning yourself to death. It also helps if you keep afloat during all this.

A word to other beginning skiers. Those curved planks have a way of getting crossed up, but don't worry, this is one thing I'm an expert about—you're always sure to fall forward when they do.

I have consoled myself with the possibility that the motor wasn't powerful enough to pull me up, after all I weigh 114 pounds and I was wet besides. Anybody around here own a 60 h.p. motor?

Fall Styles Lean To Comfort, Not Fit

By DOROTHY ROE
NEW YORK (U-P)—It's going to be smart to be slouchy next fall, the international fashion press learned today with the opening of the New York wholesale collections of fall styles.

Comfort also is given a large play by American designers, who are introducing the bloused silhouette after a season in which the tight midriff and Princess lines made women suffer for the sake of fashion.

The newest dresses shown by leading designers have an easy, loose look above the belt, retaining the slim skirt for daytime. However, skillful use of pleats and flares has been made in some skirts, allowing room to move while preserving a slender appearance.

The bloused-back dress showed up in the Paris spring collections but was not generally adopted by American designers until now. It suggests a return to the casual way of dressing that most American women love, and also makes it possible to hide a few extra bulges around the middle.

The tight-midriff Empire line is still present in many collections but a choice is now offered, with the casually comfortable look the newest and therefore the smartest in the lineup.

Suits for fall cover a wide variety of jacket styles, with the slim skirt still decreed for daytime wear and hemlines about the same or occasionally a trifle shorter than those of spring and summer. One leading suit designer shows the longer jacket as the highlight of his collection, but the "Blouson" jacket seems a favorite. This is a bloused effect ending in a belt at the waist, similar to the Eisenhower jacket of World War II. Boxy and barrel-shaped jackets rounded at the top and snugged in around the hips also are prominent and popular.

The fur-trimmed suit and even the suit with reversible jacket lined in fur is seen frequently, often as a part of the popular costume suit, which consists of a smart dress covered by a tailored jacket.

The costume is the top favorite in practically every collection, shown either as dress and jacket, dress and matching full-length coat, or suit with coordinated blouse. This is the highly versatile break-fast-to-dinner outfit which permits a woman to go from office to cocktail party or dinner perfectly dressed for the occasion when she removes her jacket.

Handsome fabrics make new headlines for fall, with much emphasis on tweeds for any hour. There are tweed dress-and-jacket combinations in which the dress emerges with open neckline and brief sleeves, ready for any after-5 occasion. There are feather-weight silk-and-wool tweeds suitable for both suits and dresses. The combination of satin and tweed is a new note for fall, highly effective and apparently slated for wide acceptance.

Black and charcoal gray remain tops for basic costumes, but the combination of a sherry brown and black is newer, and the fad color of the season is purple.

The soft black crepe dress, which most women feel is a necessity in any wardrobe, gains new stature this season, and will be seen in quantity in shops across the country. It is done in either silk or rayon, simple, skillfully draped, to be dressed up or down with jewelry and accessories.

The top coat silhouette of the season is the loose, rounded line which is drawn in slightly at the hemline, in something resembling a barrel shape. This usually is a few inches shorter than the skirt hemline.

There is a rounded, smooth look to both suits and coats this season. Shoulders are natural and the dropped shoulder line is important. Garments are loose above the waist, drawn in below either at hipline or hemline.

Necklines take a dramatic play, with big collars on coats and suits, open décolletages on dresses. The sailor collar is shown in many versions on coats, suits and occasionally on dresses.

Biggest news for the college crowd is the Bermuda skirt, a knee length affair worn over Bermuda shorts, with long knee-length socks. This is done in plaid pleated knit version as well as in circular cut tweeds, open in front to reveal the shorts beneath.

Even hats follow the casual line in the early collections, with the slouch-brim felt leading the field and the flapper cloche a close runner-up.

Future Grid Foes

These two young men, now in Air Force ROTC summer training at Webb Air Base, will be on opposite sides of the line when TCU plays the University of Kansas at Lawrence, Kans., next Sept. 18. They are Dale L. Brakebill, first string center at TCU; and Dick Sandifer, regular quarterback at Kansas.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With Tommy Hart

Jay Haney, who used to boss the Midland team in the Longhorn League, is a fellow who uses his noodle. The fact that he was probably born with horseshoes in his pocket doesn't hurt him, either.

Jay is now at Abilene, where he has assembled a pretty good ball team. He made great use of the talents of Andy Alonso, who could never get going in Big Spring but who did bring a thousand clams when Bill Frank, then the co-owner of the Broncos, decided to sell him to Artesia.

Haney, under WT-NM League rules, was allowed only three classmen but he assembled about the best there was around. Glen Burns, who at one time drove in 197 runs in the WT-NM League and who later terrorized Longhorn League hurlers with his power; Jim Matthews and Art Bowland are the other veterans playing with Haney.

Bowland's ability is recognized here, since he beat Big Spring on more than one occasion while performing for Midland. Matthews is the fence buster Frank tried to hire as manager here last season before Hack Miller entered the picture.

Haney is having to dig deep to pay those three bruisers and may not be building his own Fort Knox right now. However, he's got a young infielder named Joe Ellison at least four big league outfits after.

Jay tells intimates he has already been offered $10,000 by the St. Louis Cards for the young man but is holding out, figuring the price might go higher.

And how did Haney come by young Mr. Ellison? He picked him up in a package deal for what amounted to peanuts. Selling ball players is about the only way an operator can make money these days and Haney is a past master at attracting the very best bids for his merchandise.

Jay is good for about two seasons at any one stand. He says fans get tired of looking at the same old faces so he tries to keep moving.

Pepper Martin, the local baseball foreman, has been unjustly accused of being overly-kind to his brother, Floyd, in keeping him on his ball clubs.

Bob believes in giving his help as much freedom as possible and that goes for everyone on his club. Bob could go out of his way and make it rough on Floyd, because of their relationship, expecting more out of his kinsman than he does of his other help, the way some fiction writers like to picture their exacting managers.

With Pepper, though, Floyd is just one of the boys. He's not maledjusted. He has a healthy complex. He poses no problem. He just wants to play ball and blend in with the rest of the team.

Floyd is a good journeyman ball player, a fine team man, who would be a lot better if he had normal vision. It's a marvel that Floyd is even suiting out for baseball. Only his great love for the game kept him going a few years ago. He came perilously close to losing a leg at one time, you know, and was advised by more than one doctor to give up all athletics.

Just where would the Broncos be without the good-looking young man in the lineup, the thought occurs.

He was hitting .313 in the latest averages. Far more important is the fact that the records showed him driving in 72 runs. Only four ball players in the entire league had more RBI's. They are Ike Jackson of Carlisle, Bob Herron, Artesia; Floyd's teammate, Julio Delatorre; and Mighty Joe Bauman of Roswell.

In the RBI department, Floyd has outdone such 'name' players as Stubby Greer of Roswell, Ken Cluley and Al McCarty, Sweetwater; Hillis Layne, San Angelo; Paul Dowkowski, Artesia; Weldon Day, Roswell; Barney Batson, Odessa; Tony DiPrimo, Odessa; Bob Hobbs, San Angelo; Rudy Briner, Midland; and his own brother, Bob, to name a few.

It appears Floyd is going to drive in more than 100 tallies and score more than 100 runs during 1954.

What ball players anywhere wouldn't settle for that kind of year?

In Bob Conwell, recently signed as general manager, the Odessa club has come up with quite a boy, from all reports. It may be too late for Conwell to do much this year but you can expect Conwell to return Odessa to baseball glory in future years, if he sticks around. He knows a ball player when he sees one and has mastered the art of accomplishing a lot with a little.

Bluhm And Pipes Win In Tourney

Some of the closest matches in the history of the City Golf Tournament were unraveled in the first round of play, which ended Monday at the Myny course.

The only decisive win was scored by the tournament favorite, Bobby Wright, who prevailed over Bernard Raines, 6 and 4. Raines was only one down at the turn but yielded to some scorching golf on the back side.

In other Championship flight tests, Bobby Bluhm had to go 19 holes to crowd past R. H. Weaver, 1 up; Novice Womack outlasted Doug Hill, 1 up; John Pines side-lined R. S. McCullab, 3 up; Harold Carpenter outlasted Richard Peshak, 3 and 1; Luke Thompson ousted Don Hoover, 3 and 2; C. C. Griffin sunk an eagle on 19 to shade Tom Madigan, 1 up; and Jack Mann uncoupled Ray Phillips, 1 up, 21 holes. In matches this week, Wright meets Bluhm, Womack opposes Pipes, Carpenter faces Thompson and Griffin tries Mann.

Second round matches must be completed by next Monday.

Other results:

FIRST FLIGHT
Ed Sprague over Eddie Harris, 1 up; Johnny Burns over Avery Falmer, 4-3; Ted Hull over Tom Coss, 1 up; D. A. Brassi over Leon Hildebrandt, 3 and 2; Harold Hoover over M. J. O'Brien, 5 and 2; Bill Phillips over Charles Bailey, 1 up 13 holes.

SECOND FLIGHT
Bobby Bluhm over Charley Ellis, 5-3; Bill Hoover over Ray Thompson, 1-3; Bill Davis over R. S. Cook, 1 up 17; Harold Davis over Miles Moore, 4-1; Bud Pickett over Bob Head, 4-3; D. C. Crane over Wayne Sumner, 2-1; Ladd Smith over Charles Swanson, 2-1.

THIRD FLIGHT
Bob Baker over Jim Eke, 1 up; J. D. Collins over Leon Hoover, 1 up; R. L. Dwyer over Martin Hoover, 2-1; Ward over R. S. Lee, 2-1; W. R. Morrison over Elnor Good, 4-4.

Steeds Close Home Stand This Evening

Pepper Martin and his Big Spring Broncos, bombed into submission twice here last night, wind up a long home stand in an 8:15 p.m. game this evening with the pace-setting Artesia NuMexers.

Chances are newcomer Albert Hill will toe the mound for the Cayuses while Vic Stryka will probably pitch for the red-hot NuMexers.

Broncs hit the road for four games, moving first to Artesia and then to Sweetwater.

They'll be making their next-to-last trip to both Artesia and Sweetwater.

Artesia used stellar pitching and the long ball to beat the Cayuses by scores of 5-4 and 5-0 last night. Ruben Smarti's sixth-inning triple with Floyd Economides and Dean Smith aboard decided the first game. Earlier, John Goodell had laced a home run for the NuMexers.

Bart DiMaggio came on in relief of Wayne Goodell to shut the door in the faces of the Broncos. He appeared on the scene in the sixth frame and never gave the locals a look-in.

Big Spring had the tying run at second in both the sixth and seventh rounds but could not bring them around.

The second game was all Artesia, as Bob Herron shaded Mike Rainey in a mound duel.

Herron gave up only three hits and all were of the scratch variety. Two of them never got out of the infield.

Three double plays helped Herron, a reformed outfielder, along, too.

Charley Watts drove in three of Artesia's runs with a double and a home run.

DIAMOND DUST — Matty Ryan worked as plate umpire in both games. . . Jim Tongate, the base umpire, was hit by a batted ball in the late innings of the second game but remained in action. . . The crowd was surprisingly good, totaling 813 paid. . . Artesia's won-lost record is now 8-9 while Goodell picked up his tenth win before departing. . . Jim Zapp hit into two double plays for Big Spring in the second game. . . The Broncos hit only three balls out of the infield in the second contest. . . Smarti hit the first pitch of the first game right at Julio Delatorre. . . The only Big Springer enjoying a good evening was Tony Martinez, who collected two hits and drove in two runs in the opener and had 'two for two' in the afterpiece. . . Wayne Goodell looked at three strikes in the third inning of the first game. . . Martinez walked on four pitches in the fourth inning of the second game.

First to tee off was Lt. Joe Conrad of San Marcos, Tex., Air Force Base, the defending champion.

Conrad, who has fired two 68s in practice rounds, drew Bob Morris of Denver as his opening opponent.

Regarded as the chief threat to Conrad in his bid for a second straight title is Ernie Vossler, 25, Fort Worth plumber who took medalist honors with a 6-under-par 66 over the sun-baked Cherry Hills Country Club course Tuesday.

Vossler, Texas Amateur champion, has won each of the last six amateur meets he has entered. He qualified with scores of 74-66-140.

The youthful Texan is matched against Jack Munger of Dallas, who carded 74-77 over the 6,888-yard course for a 36-hole total of 151.

Conrad Plays Morris Today

DENVER (AP)—Sixty-four golfers begin fighting par and tension today in the 18-hole championship flight of the Trans-Mississippi Golf Tournament.

THEY'VE GOT TO GO

The big tall man with the mustache says "Boys we've got the nicest used cars in town." But you can't spend them. That's true. No place in the bank for cars. Come in and trade us some "Nasty old money" for some high class transportation.

'53 PONTIAC 2-door sedan. Here's the buy of the year. A really pretty auto for a small price.

'53 STUDEBAKER Commander club coupe. Completely equipped. Continental styling. America's efficiency.

'53 BUICK Super 4-door. New car looks, new car feel, new car warranty, and a used car price.

'51 CADILLAC 62 4-door sedan. This is the prettiest car in town. Powder blue color. Trimmed out like only Cadillac can. Clean and really ready. Buy the best. Buy Cadillac.

'52 PLYMOUTH 2-door sedan. Low mileage, low price, low GMAC finance rates. Everything low except quality.

'51 CHEVROLET 4-door sedan. One of the nicest we've ever owned. A choice car at a price you can well afford. Don't miss seeing this one.

Angelo Man Stages Fight With Judge

SAN ANGELO, Tex.—Police have taken an unemployed truck driver in for questioning, after a man curbed the car of County Judge Glenn Jenkins and pulled him out in the street.

Physicians said Jenkins suffered welts on his stomach and shoulder, and skinned knuckles.

Police said the trucker was reported to be bitter toward the county because of a dispute regarding medical attention for his daughter.

Several Of Governors Appear Likely Presidential Candidates

By JACK BELL
BOLTON LANDING, N.Y. (U.S.)

Three Democrats and half a dozen Republicans claimed the political spotlight today as the nation's governors prepared to wind up their 46th annual conference with a call for a conference with President Eisenhower on a vast new road-building program.

Although politics officially is taboo here, Governors Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, G. Mennen Williams of Michigan and Frank J. Lausche of Ohio appeared to be advancing to the forefront in a Democratic parade of potential 1956 presidential candidates.

Republican governors, who often furnish that party's nominee, hid themselves under a blanket assumption that President Eisenhower is going to be a candidate again.

But some of them lifted the corners of the covert to make it known privately that they would not be adverse to being considered favorably if the President should decide not to run again.

In the vanguard of these was Gov. William G. Stratton of Illinois, who turned away direct questions about his future aspirations but obviously wasn't very put out at those who asked.

The biggest unsettled political question of the conference, however, concerned a man who twice has been the Republican presidential nominee and whose friends think he would like to have a third shot at the grand prize—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Dewey has been an affable host to this conference—and nothing more. He said flatly he won't talk about the possibility that he might run for a fourth term as governor of New York in November.

The outnumbered Democrats among the governors have been getting the most political attention at this conference—which publicly has concerned itself primarily with a long-range and somewhat confusing debate with Eisenhower over whether the states or federal government are to build a proposed new transcontinental system of highways.

Meyner, who represents a fresh approach among Northern Democrats who might be considered for the party's 1956 presidential nomination, is a new star peeping out of the political firmament.

Personable and energetic, he is likely to have New Jersey's delegation behind him in the 1956 Democratic convention. He still sticks to his support of former Gov. Adlai E. Stevenson of Illinois as the best man for that nomination, but the Stevenson backing among Democratic governors is lukewarm at best.

Lausche is the great enigma of the Democratic puzzle. Other Democrats say he never acts like a presidential candidate and seems to have no interest. But he represents a state that has mothered presidents in the past and isn't overlooked in the forecasts.

Pushing their way from the wings into the Republican limelight are some governors whose long-range prospects seem somewhat better than average to their supporters.

Governors Theodore R. McKeldin Jr. of Maryland, Dan Thornton of Colorado, John Lodge of Connecticut, Godwin J. Knight of California and Walter J. Kohler of Wisconsin are among these.

AN 'ELITE' CORPS

Handsome Officers Picked To Dance With Princess

BAD OEYNHAUSEN, Germany (U.S.)—Britain's army today mustered ranks of young and handsome officer veterans—veterans of the ballroom—to dance with Princess Margaret at a lavish ball tonight.

The qualifications for the elite "Margaret" corps were few but rigid: youth, good looks and skill at vivacious Princess' favorite steps. Commanding officers checked carefully to see the requirements were met.

"We don't want to surround her with the ugly old ones," said the British commander in chief, Sir Richard Gale.

Six hundred guests will dance until dawn in the Royal Air Force officers mess at the health resort of Bad Eilsen. The most brilliant social affair ever staged by the British forces in Germany, it will be the informal climax of Margaret's four-day visit to the British zone.

A German dance band will feature numbers from the Princess' favorite Broadway-in-London shows—"Guys and Dolls," "South Pacific," "The King and I," "Kiss Me Kate," and "Annie Get Your Gun."

Band leader Rudi Dreyer was proud of his chance to play for the Princess. "We're going to play boogie woogie and keep the rhythm hot, but there'll be no pop," he said.

Dreyer formed his seven-piece outfit in a prisoner-of-war camp and has been playing for British officers in the Rhine army's club for the last six years.

The ball will be held in the Fuerstenhof—a luxury hotel where RAF headquarters officers have had their mess since the war.

There will be no German guests. Outside the hotel, enclosures have been roped off for the German public to watch the Princess arrive.

Chief York Tells Of FBI Training

Police Chief E. W. York, recent graduate of the FBI National Academy, told of some of his experiences in the famous police school at the Rotary Club luncheon Tuesday.

Chief York specialized at the academy. Visits to some of the metropolitan police departments and observation of radar equipment being used in traffic control work were described.

The Big Spring officer also studied investigation techniques, photography, fingerprint classification and other subjects during the 12-week course. Robberies and other crimes were faked by FBI agents and the student officers were assigned to "solve" the cases.

The training included a week on rifle and pistol ranges at the Quantico Proving Grounds of the Marine Corps, as well as rigorous physical training. The urgent need for cooperation of all law enforcement officers was stressed, York said.

York said he is convinced that the entire nation is in need of "more and better trained men" in the fight against crime.

The speaker was introduced by Walton Morrison, city attorney and Rotary Club leader. Bill Crook, president, presided.

U. S. Opens Talks On Abducted GIs

WASHINGTON (U.S.)—The United States has opened diplomatic negotiations with Czechoslovakia for the release of seven American artillerymen seized by a Czech border patrol July 4.

State Department officials said today the U.S. government still doesn't know where the Communist Czechs are holding an American captain and six enlisted men who apparently wandered across the West German frontier while sightseeing.

But Garrett Ackerson, charge d'affaires at the U.S. Embassy in Prague, was said to have attended "several meetings" at the Czech Foreign Office during the past week. There was no indication of the nature of the talks.
