United Press International
Regional Census Director Percy Millard said Saturday chambers of commerce in Texas, the chief complainers about 1970 census population figures, undoubtedly will take a "long hard look" in the future, at the methods they use to estimate their populations.

'ROLES... HAVE NOT CHANGED'

Father's Day Originator Says Generation Gap Is Nonsense

SPOKANE, Wash. (UPI)—The woman who sparked the first celebration of Father's Day 60 years ago said Saturday the generation gap is nonsense.

knitting. "Those were the days when fathers were pretty much in the doghouse. There were popular songs like 'Everybody Works But Father,' and 'Father, Dear Father, Come Home With Me Now.'"

Eventually the Spokane Ministerial Association endorsed the notion. On the first celebration, June 5, 1910, Mrs. Dodd rode around town in a horse and buggy taking gifts to shut-in fathers who were

Department Calls For Grand Jury Investigation

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Balked by uncooperative Mississippi authorities, the Justice Department has called for a special federal grand jury investigation to begin June 29 into the shooting of two black students at Jackson State College.

Prepares To Battle High Unemployment

LONDON (UPI)—Conservative Prime Minister Edward Heath, installed in office a bare 24 hours, Saturday announced a streamlined cabinet of top ministers including Sir Alec Douglas-Home, a former premier, as foreign secretary.

Heath had hurried to fill the leading posts before tackling the growing inflation problem he inherited when he topped the Labor government of Harold Wilson in an election upset Tuesday.

The new Conservative prime minister, cheered by crowds as he hustled about forming his government, had his day marred only by one incident — when a young woman carrying a baby threw a can of red paint at his car and splattered his suit.

The new foreign secretary, Douglas-Home 67, had been and served as prime minister foreign secretary from 1963-63 from October, 1963 to October, 1964.

Reginald Maudling, 53, deputy leader of the Conservative party and chancellor of the exchequer from 1962-64, was named home secretary.

Iain MacLeod, 56, who held many cabinet jobs in earlier Conservative governments, was named chancellor of the exchequer, equivalent to secretary of the treasury in the United States.

Quintin Hogg, 62, another former minister in several Conservative governments, was named lord chancellor. In this capacity he acts as speaker of the upper se, the House of Lords.

Lord Carrington, 51, formerly Conservative party leader in the House of Lords, was named defense secretary.

Police identified the woman who threw paint as Heath's car as left No. 10 Downing Street for lunch as Angela Hilary Weight, a 26-year-old art editor.

She was charged with threatening behavior willful damage and passing an offensive weapon.

Paint splashed the car and Heath's clothes and those of William Whitelaw, former chief Conservative party whip, who was with him. The woman was taken away by police.

But the incident appeared to be an isolated one. Otherwise crowds of several hundred thronged Downing St. all day in warm summer sunshine to catch a glimpse of the new prime minister.

LOAN UNCERTAIN

Penn Central Railroad Officials Fail To Win Patman's Backing

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Top officials of the Penn Central railroad tried but failed Saturday to win the crucial backing of Rep. Wright Patman, D-Texas, for a government guarantee of a $200 million loan to the financially troubled line.

leadership spent about an hour and 45 minutes with Patman in an attempt to convince him to endorse and revive the loan guarantee, according to a Patman spokesman.

Afterwards, Patman issued a statement saying he appreciated the "frank and open" discussion by the Penn Central delegation and the information it supplied him. But he added: "As I have in the past, I expressed my deep concern that the government's interest be fully protected and that taxpayers not be made liable for any financial classes resulting from a guarantee to this huge corporation."

Texas Ghost Town Site Of Chilimpiad

SAN MARCOS, Tex. (UPI)—It's never too early to start planning for really important events. Thus preparations for the first Texas chili olympics are underway.

It will be the first annual Republic of Texas Chilimpiad, and it will come off in San Marcos Sept. 18 and 19. The winner of that contest will represent Texas as later in the year at the fourth annual World-Champion-Chili Cookoff at the ghost town of Terlingua, Tex.

Consumer Food Bills Will Jump If Support Payments Dropped

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Consumer food bills will jump at least $6 billion a year if the government drops its $3 billion farm price support payment program, the chairman of the House Agriculture Committee said Saturday.

Even with these price support programs, producers are barely breaking even and many are not," Rep. W. R. Poage, D-Tex., said in a statement.

The minimum investment needed to operate a commercial farm is $100,000 to $200,000. One farm worker now produces enough food for himself and 44 others. Only 20 years ago this ratio was one to 14.

Cargo Move Bypasses

SANTA FE, N. M. (UPI)—Gov. David F. Cargo released $200,000 Friday for a federally-coordinated spraying program to kill range-eating caterpillars in three northeastern New Mexico counties, virtually ruling out the use of the controversial pesticide toxaphene.

The counties of Harding, Mora, and San Miguel became eligible for the money when Cargo designated the area a disaster zone.

State Agriculture Commissioner Dallas Rierson said the stipulation virtually eliminated the possible use of toxaphene.

He said the commission that approved spending of the money would not sanction the pesticide.

At Albuquerque, Texas officials obtained a temporary writ from federal court blocking the ranchers from using toxaphene to kill the caterpillars on the two-million acres of land involved, saying the pesticide could contaminate drinking water for 11 West Texas towns.

U. S. District Judge H. Yearie Payne set a hearing for next Thursday.

Agnew Assails Kennedy, Fulbright As Apologists For North Vietnam

CLEVELAND (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew personally assailed Sen. Edward M. Kennedy and Sen. William Fulbright Saturday as "apologists" for the Communist regime in North Vietnam.

Agnew also lashed out at former Defense Secretary Clark M. Clifford, former Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, democratic National Chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien and Cyrus Vance, accusing them of defeatism.

In a speech prepared for delivery at a Republican party dinner, the vice president recalled that Kennedy in 1968 had advocated a four-point program of a bombing halt and troop withdrawal to achieve a Vietnam peace.

"The senator's program and ideas were tried in their entirety and they have not moved the enemy an inch toward peace," Agnew said.

"Yet the senator persists in blaming the continuation of the war on the lack of United States initiatives.

"Well, the President of the United States is not listening to the counsel of defeatists who blame every deadlock at the conference table and every impasse in negotiation on the United States."

Heath received bursts of cheering when he left and returned. There also were cheers for other Conservative leaders calling on him.

Heath spent most of his first day interviewing the top Conservatives likely to form the nucleus of his government.

Among them were Sir Alec Douglas-Home, a former Conservative Prime Minister, generally expected to be named Foreign Secretary, Iain MacLeod, chief Conservative spokesman on economic affairs generally expected to be Chancellor of the Exchequer—equivalent to Secretary of the Treasury in the United States—home affairs spokesman Quintin Hogg, for the post of Lord Chancellor, Conservative party chairman Anthony Barber, who may be named Home Secretary, and Mrs. Margaret Thatcher, expected to be named Minister of Education.

Heath had not yet moved into the prime minister's private apartment on the top floor of No. 10 Downing St., but was sleeping at his Albany apartment house flat in Piccadilly.

'MEET MY LAWYER'

DIJON, France (UPI)—Jacques Mouton, deprived of his driver's license for blocking traffic during a demonstration, rushed into the police station Friday to demand its return—with the aid of a 220-pound growling jaguar on a leash. Police quickly evicted both man and beast.

IT'S always nice to hear Good News of former Pampans... and the mail this week brought that kind of news about a couple of doctors, who formerly called Pampa home, when they lived here and were most active in church and community affairs.

THE DALLAS Morning News this week carried an article about Doctors Felix and Doris Vendrell, who had occasion for a double celebration... Friday they observed their 22nd wedding anniversary... and just the evening before they were honored by Baylor University Medical Center for having completed advanced training in their chosen fields of specialized medicine.

DB. FELIX Vendrell was awarded his fellowship in radiology. Dr. Doris Vendrell received her certificate for completing her residency in pathology.

THEY WERE two of many administrative residents interns, residents, fellow and administrative residents honored at a special dinner given by the medical center in the Dallas Petroleum Club.

HOWEVER, there was an important absence for the Doctors Vendrell.

THE EVENT symbolized realization of a dream they had shared since both were in the University of Texas Medical School at Dallas in the late 1940s.

FELIX VENDRELL was a young man who came from New Mexico to study medicine in Dallas. He met Doris Deal, a native Texan, in his classes.

THEY WERE married in 1948, graduated together in 1949 and after interning together at Parkland Memorial Hospital moved to Pampa, where they went into general practice.

THEY FOUND it satisfying as Dr. Doris pointed out because "medicine is fun... if you like it"... But their dream was the practice of "team medicine and they couldn't do that as general practitioners.

THE DREAM simmered while Dr. Doris retired and had four children... Dr. Felix carried on the practice... By 1966, the Vendrell children were old enough so their parents could pick up their dream and carry on... They returned to Dallas where he began studies to specialize in radiology and she chose pathology.

WE LOOKED at it carefully," Dr. Felix explains. "The scope of team medicine is so broad you must narrow it down to a particular field you like"... What's ahead for the future?

WELL, according to the new team in medicine, Dr. Felix plans on practicing clinical radiation therapy while Dr. Doris specializes within her specialty in anatomical pathology... and, their friends in Pampa wish them well... d.e.w.

MINERAL WELLS, Tex. (UPI)—A South Vietnamese air force cadet drowned Friday when his classmates threw him in a swimming pool to celebrate his first solo helicopter flight.

Police said the Vietnamese cadets were imitating the traditional dunking given in the U.S. military to anyone who flies his first solo. The seven cadets being trained at Ft. Wolters had gathered for a party at a motel.

Ft. Wolters authorities said they would withhold the 22-year-old cadet's name until his relatives are notified in Vietnam.

JOE GORDON, left, of Pampa, takes a turn at breaking ground in a ceremony at the National Cowboy Hall of Fame and Western Heritage Center in Oklahoma City Sunday, June 14, to begin construction of the Payne-Kirkpatrick Memorial, a new building at the Center to be constructed this year through the generosity of Mrs. Nona S. Payne, widow of the late David D. Payne, a pioneer West Texas rancher of the Pampa and Miami Texas area. Watching, from the left to right, are Mrs.

Payne, Mrs. John E. Kirkpatrick of Oklahoma City, and Dean Krakel, managing director of the Cowboy Hall, a national center of Western Americana. Mr. and Mrs. Kirkpatrick made possible acquisition of the famous monumental sculpture "End of the Trail" by James Fraser and the Fraser Studio Collection of historic sculpture to be exhibited in the million dollar project. Mr. Gordon is a long time friend of Mrs. and Mrs. Payne.

Chaplain Discloses Astronaut Marriage

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—An Air Force chaplain has disclosed he performed the ceremony at which astronaut Thomas K. Mattingly married "a publicity shy" and "pretty attractive little gal."

Mattingly and Elizabeth Dailey were married at the Brooks Air Force Base chapel, Chaplain Patrick Morrison said Thursday. Morrison, a close friend of Mattingly and the bride, said he married the couple at 4 p.m. Wednesday. Twenty persons attended a reception after the wedding at the base's officers club.

Mattingly was scheduled to be the command module pilot on board Apollo 13. But he was exposed to the German measles and another bachelor astronaut, John L. Swigert, took his place. Mattingly never came down with the measles.

Mattingly is 38. The former Miss Dailey of Edwards, Calif., is 34.

"She's kind of publicity shy," said Air Force Col. John G. Dailey, the bride's brother. "I would expect they'll do it very, very best to keep anything about the wedding ceremony as close to their chest as they can."

Dailey said his sister is a Roman Catholic and Mattingly is an Episcopalian.

"She's a typical kid sister and a pretty attractive little gal," Dailey said. "She never mentioned whether she was concerned about Mattingly being an astronaut."

Mattingly was born in Chicago but his parents now live in Hialeah, Fla. He attended elementary and secondary schools in Florida and received a bachelor of science degree in 1958 from Auburn University. He joined the Navy that same year and is now a lieutenant commander.

Mattingly was one of the 19 astronauts selected by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in April, 1966. He joined the astronauts corps at the same time as Fred W. Haise, the lunar module pilot of Apollo 13.

Mattingly served as a member of the support crews for the Apollo 8 and Apollo 9 flights.

A NASA spokesman said the astronaut "didn't talk to hardly anybody about getting married. He just sort of flitted off and got the license. He went on leave Monday for two weeks but I haven't found anyone who knows where he went."

Nuclear Research Ban Said Unlikely

VIENNA (UPI)—Research on nuclear weapons will continue despite any arms control agreements that might be reached at the Strategic Arms Limitation Talks (SALT), conference sources predicted today.

The 18th session since the talks opened April 16 was scheduled for 11 a.m. (6 a.m. EDT) today in the U.S. Embassy.

The sources said no ban on nuclear research was likely to emerge, now or later, as a result of the talks.

Because on-site inspection is refused by Moscow, the first agreements to come out of SALT are expected to concern missile bans or limitations that can be policed by satellites. The sources said the possibility exists that, even with such inspection, cheating could occur, but both superpowers appear so far to feel the risk is worth it.

The sources said research into advanced weaponry probably will go on, no matter what happens where, to give either nation the ability to catch up quickly if it discovers the other is cheating.

In addition, they said, weapons research is a futuristic business, with scientists busily working out systems that will not become operational for 5 or 10 years. Because no government can predict with certainty what will happen over the next decade, it cannot agree now to call off research that might be vital to its security in the future.

SALT is expected to recess here sometime next month, with a resumption in Helsinki in Autumn. Original plans to recess here in late June or early July appear to have been scrapped, in favor of a recess date in mid- or late July.

The delay, sources said, stems from progress toward agreements on both defensive and offensive weapons at a twice-weekly SALT sessions. "Agreements in principle" on anti ballistic missile (ABM) systems, and possibly on offensive missiles, are expected to be announced when the Vienna talks recess.

TV In Review

By RICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The success of National Educational Television's children's series, "Sesame Street," has diverted attention from another daily program for youngsters, CBS-TV's "Capt. Kangaroo."

The point, though, is that for the first time in a long time the networks act as if there may really be some major adjustments in children's programming—beefing up that category of shows. And the chief reason is "Sesame Street," which has earned so much acclaim that any network is bound to be envious.

In addition, of course, there has been, in the last few years, great public outspokenness against the Saturday morning cartoon scheduled which for so long was filled with idiotic and violent animation—so much that parents finally got outraged.

Furthermore, as another impetus to betterment of children's programming there is the new chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, Dean Burch, who has told the broadcasters that they leave something to be desired in this area.

He doesn't have the flamboyant approach of ex-FCC Chairman Newton Minow, who became famous by branding television a "vast wasteland." Yet it is interesting to note that both put pressure on the networks regarding children's programming. And there seems little doubt that such pressure is sometimes needed to get results.

How many viewers remember, for instance, that Minow's tough talk about such programming brought about a series now all but forgotten in its first form: ABC-TV's "Discovery," now a weekly half-hour on Sundays, but originally a daily, late afternoon show for youngsters. It didn't last long in that form because it hurt the network's ratings at that time of day—and because the pressure was relaxed.

You had to hand it to Minow. Because he didn't just talk about any old children's programming. What he had in mind were daily series for youngsters at hours when they really had access to them—like late afternoon or early evening. And when you think about it, that's where it's really at.

PLANS "QUIET TIME"

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Pat Nixon is planning a "quiet time" of family togetherness Sunday to celebrate Father's Day and her wedding anniversary.

Mrs. Nixon told a gathering of youngsters on the White House lawn Thursday that she never gets to see her husband. "He's always in meetings," she said.

Joining the President and his wife for the celebration, probably at Camp David, will be daughters Tricia and Julie, and David Eisenhower, the White House said.

Center Wrap-Up

George Smith, Director
Pampa Youth and Community Center

SUMMER SCHEDULES—During the summer the Center's doors are open several hours more than during the school year. Opening hours Monday through Friday are 9-12, 1-5 and 7-10. On Saturdays we are open from 1-5 and we are closed on Sundays. Swimming hours are 1-4:30 and 7-9:30 during listed opening hours.

All activities are available for participation during open hours. We have 3 ping pong tables, 2 pool tables, mats for judo, karate, tumbling and wrestling, a trampolene, glass basketball goals, volleyball court, T-V, and indoor heated swimming pool, swim lessons, swim parties, teen dances on Friday nights, square dancing for adults, a health facility with 2 handball courts and a sauna bath along with other quiet games such as chess, checkers and dominoes.

JR. AND SR. LIFESAVING—The only course which will be offered this year in junior and senior lifesaving will be on August 17-23. This class will be a 3 hour per day course and is open for persons 11 yrs. of age for Junior lifesaving and 15 yrs. of age for Senior lifesaving. The cost of the course is $4 for everyone. Mrs. Jackie Marlar will teach the course.

Mrs. Marlar, whom all of you have known through our wonderful swim lessons here at the Center, has just returned from the Aquatic School of the American Red Cross in Ardmore, Oklahoma. While there she received her Instructor's Certificate which qualifies her to teach other Water Safety Instructors.

MEMBERSHIPS—The Center has a very economical means of participation. As everyone knows, our main interest is that the community as a whole enjoys our facilities here and are able to participate. To do this we have kept our membership fees at rock bottom. There has been no price change since the Center opened. We would not want to deceive you into thinking that the price of your membership is keeping us in business. It does help, but the brunt of the cost is carried by interested businesses, clubs and individual. Their donation each year helps subsidize your membership cost. If a person cannot honestly afford a membership, we work something out with that person.

An individual membership for persons 8 years of age or older including adults sells for only $5 for 6 months or $8 a year. A family membership which includes all the immediate family sells for $12 for 6 months or $20 per year.

You receive free swim lessons on a sign up basis, as a bonus. Where but in Pampa can you find such a fine facility and still be able to afford it.

JUDO—We are still interested in having more young boys and their fathers to participate in the judo program. This class meets on Monday and Thursday nights from 7-8:30 p.m. under the direction of Mr. Paul Moot and his father Sam. During the Summer while Paul is away in Japan taking lessons from the experts, his father is in charge of the classes. Any boy 8 years of age or older and adults are invited to attend these classes. The only qualification you have to have is to be a Center member. Memberships are always available.

TWIRLING LESSONS—During the month of June the Center is sponsoring the twirling lessons for young people. Anyone who is a Center member and has a balanced baton may participate. Each person will receive special attention from our expert instructor, Kim Gilbert. Classes meet on Monday, Wed. and Fri. Beginners meet at 1:30 p.m. with the more advanced twirlers meeting at 2:15. If you are interested in this activity, you need only to be a Center member to participate.

PRO: Frank Beard On The Golf Tour For The Wed

(Fifth of 12 Pieces.)
By FRANK BEARD

I'm not saying that the tour can't be a great life for a bachelor. We've got some fellows out here — Johnny Jacobs, Rocky Thompson and Bob Smith come immediately to mind — who seem to have a good swinging time. They've got the sharp clothes that most of the young boys wear now; they've got their sun tans; they've got a few dollars to spend, and there are beautiful girls who pop up at every stop along the tour. I imagine there are a million guys who would run to change places with one of those bachelor pros.

But none of those guys I mentioned has ever won a tournament. There were 26 different golfers who won championships on the tour last year and of those 26, only one was single — Miller Barber. Of the top 20 moneymen last year, Mr. X was the only bachelor. Of the guys who've done well so far this year, the only bachelors are Miller and Raymond Floyd. I don't know the exact number of bachelors playing the tour, but I'll bet anything that the percentage of bachelors among the golfers who miss the cut each week is a helluva lot higher than the percentage of bachelors among the golfers who finish in the top 10.

I suppose you might figure that the explanation's simple, that with all the beautiful women who hang around golf tournaments, the married men have a big advantage because they get more rest. Well, most of us do, but some of us don't. We've had some funny things happen out here on the tour. One married fellow used to have a girl traveling with him regularly, and she wasn't his wife or even a distant relative. One time he took his girl to the airport to catch a plane to the next tournament, and one of the other players' wives spotted him in the terminal and turned to her husband and said, "Who's that with so-and-so?" "Oh," said the husband, thinking fast, "that's one of the courtesy drivers the tournament committee provides to make sure the fellows get to their planes all right."

Later, when they were up in the air, the wife tapped her husband on the arm and said, "What a thoughtful tournament committee! Look! That courtesy driver's come along to make sure so-and-so gets off the plane all right."

Every now and then, a pro golfer's marriage breaks up and the other wives all have something to buzz about, but it's pretty rare, especially considering the kind of life we lead and the kind of temptations we face. Of course, a lot of us cut down the temptations by having our wives and families travel with us.

I noticed at the motels in San Antonio and Fort Worth that quite a few of the golfer's wives are pregnant right now. You can always tell when we've had a lot of rainouts early in the year.

Cubs Rip Cards With 6-Run 1st

CHICAGO (UPI)—Billy Williams' triple and a two-run single by Jack Hiatt featured a six-run explosion in the first inning Saturday and Bill Hands pitched an eight-hitter as the Chicago Cubs downed the St. Louis Cardinals, 8-3.

Hands, picking up his ninth victory against five defeats, gave up eight singles while walking three and striking out three as he beat the Cardinals in 10th time in his career. Hands had a shot out going into the eighth inning when the Cardinals scored three runs on singles by Jim Beauchamp, Lou Brock, Vic Davalillo and Richie Allen and a sacrifice fly by Joe Hague.

Mike Torrez walked Paul Popovich with one out in the first and Williams then hit a sinking liner to left field. Lou Brock tried for a shoestring catch, but missed and the ball rolled to the wall for a triple. Torrez then walked Jim Hickman and Williams scored on a wild pitch. Ron Santo drew Torrez' third walk of the inning. Willie Smith dropped a single into short left field to load the bases. Jimmie Hall walked to force in a run and then Hiatt singled home Santo and Smith.

Torrez was replaced by Bill McCool and Hands drove in the sixth run with a sacrifice fly. The Cubs picked up another run in the third inning on a single by Santo, a walk to Smith and a single by Hiatt.

A walk to Hands in the eighth inning by Ted Abernathy led to the final Chicago run. Hands was sacrificed to second and scored on a single by Popovich.

AMARILLO TO BE HOME WT Reveals 26-Game Basketball Schedule

Laver took the men's crown in routine style, beating compatriot John Newcombe, 6-4, 6-3, after Mrs. Court overcame Winnie Shaw of Scotland, 2-6, 6-6, 6-2. The Australian No. 1 lost 15 points in a row at one stage and was down 1-5 in the second set before rallying.

Laver, the defending Wimbledon champion, is seeded first in defense of the title he won last year and Newcombe, the beaten finalist in 1969, is seeded second. Wimbledon starts Monday and if form holds Laver and Newcombe will meet in another showdown July 4.

The 31-year-old Laver comes to Wimbledon fitter, stronger and better prepared than he was last year, when he downed Newcombe in the finals, 6-4, 5-7, 6-4, 6-4. He was in superb form Saturday and never appeared in trouble.

Mrs. Court, on the other hand, came as close to losing as she's ever care to. Miss Shaw, the third-ranking player in Britain, needed only to hold her serve in the seventh game of the second set to win the match, but her nerves got the better of her and she lost it at love.

Mrs. Court took encouragement after this and once she squared the match she was her usual majestic self in the decisive set.

Steve Blass received credit for his fifth victory although he needed ninth-inning relief help from Dave Giusti.

Matty Alou led off the fifth with a single, Rich Heber walked and Dave Cash, after trying unsuccessfully to bunt, singled to right, scoring Alou with the tying run and taking second on the throw to third base.

Agriculturally Speaking

BY FOSTER WHALEY

Irrigation farmers have their wells running full blast trying to keep the fields wet so newly planted milo will come up. One farmer with whom I talked said he planted the third time and still doesn't have milo above the ground.

No doubt, this spring has brought the most adverse weather we have seen since the fifties. One-hundred degree temperatures with less than 10 per cent humidity and a little bit of wind out of any direction will dissipate a two inch irrigation in very short order. To my knowledge, there has been little or no milo planted on dryland in the county. Last year about 15,500 acres of dryland milo was planted in the county. The yield was 26 and three-tenths bushels. There were 10,000 acres of irrigated milo in the county. That averaged 92 bushels per acre in 1969.

These figures came from the Statistical Reporting Service, USDA, in Austin.

Most of the irrigated wheat will be harvested by the time this column is published. The hot weather has speeded up the harvest date.

The range land has dried out to the point that a number of producers are now feeding on grass.

SOME THINGS DON'T CHANGE. Illinois farmer Les Koester stacks kindling "the way we've always done it." Koester says wood dries better when it's stacked. To reach top of his pyramid, he uses a stepladder.

County Agent Warns Of Dangers Of Pesticides

Each time a pesticide is used on the farm or in the home there are four basic rules of safety which should always be followed to the letter, reminds County Agent Foster Whaley.

Always take the appropriate protective measures. These are outlined on the container label. And, notes the county agent, the label should be reread each time an application is made. Point two, always strive for accurate application. Hit the pest at the right time with the proper insecticide. Remember to protect those around you by properly storing the unused pesticide under lock and key. Finally, don't leave the disposal of containers or left-over chemicals to chance.

The correct disposal of leftover chemicals or containers is not always covered on the label instructions; therefore, that job is left to the user. To safely break glass containers, roll them first in paper and then crush them. Metal and plastic containers, other than aerosol containers, should be punched full of holes to make them unusable, and then crushed. These along with the glass should be buried in an out-of-the-way place where there is no possibility of contamination. It is best to also bury paper containers; however, they may be burned provided there is no wind and you stay out of the smoke. Since there nearly always is a residue in the empty bags, it's a good idea to bury the ashes. Do not puncture or burn aerosol (pressurized) bug-bombs. They should be buried or taken to a land-fill dump for proper disposal.

And finally, reminds the county agent, the safe use of agricultural chemicals depends upon the user. They are safe when used according to label instructions and in accordance with safety recommendations.

Cosmonauts Say They Feel Heavy On Earth

MOSCOW (UPI)—The Soyuz 9 cosmonauts found movement difficult in the earth's atmosphere after nearly 18 days of weightlessness in space Soviet newspapers said today.

Soyuz 9 commander Andrian Nikolayev and flight engineer Vitaly Sevastianov underwent extensive physical examinations today to determine the effects of their record-breaking endurance flight.

The Soviet press said both men were pale and thinner but were quickly adapting to earth conditions.

Sevastianov was quoted as saying, "I have a feeling as though we are still in a centrifugal machine."

He said when the spacecraft landed, "I took off my helmet but it unexpectedly turned out to be so heavy that it fell out of my hands."

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS

The Water Study Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce met in Lubbock on Monday of the past week and reviewed the agenda of the Water Resources Study Committee of the Texas Legislature. This committee was created by the last session of the Legislature. The committee had scheduled a hearing in Abilene for June 18 and 19.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce Water Committee endorsed the Texas Water Plan and authorized its chairman George McClesky to present testimony supporting the Texas Water Plan.

The Water Resources Study Committee agenda for June 18 and 19 included the following six items:

1. Area water requirements for the future.

A. Does the Texas Water Plan meet these items.

1. The State's function in Water Resource Development.

2. What should the Federal government's participation be in a state water plan.

B. Is there enough flexibility in the water plan to meet local needs and changes in the future?

II. State Water Law—A. Statutory changes needed.

1. Priority of water use.

a. Surface water.

b. Ground water.

2. Recharge as a beneficial use.

3. Should recreation be placed in a higher priority or should every reservoir have an inherent right to recreation?

4. Restrictions on certain usages of potable water.

5. Should there be recreation fees to help compensate for a portion of the project cost.

The third major item taken up during the hearing concerned research as related to water resource development. The first portion took up the part that the state supported universities should play. Currently, Texas Tech, Texas A and M, and the University of Texas are sharing in the studies concerning water. The capabilities of these were discussed in relation to the possible need to give a better financial base to their research programs. Testimony was also given in support of environmental, ecological, and land management studies relating to water development. The committee also heard testimony supporting research on methods and economics of recharge in the various underground water aquifers.

The fourth major item on the agenda concerned recommendations for financing the Texas Water Plan. These included interim financing for water resource development projects bond financing through the Water Development Fund for implementation of projects, removal of the 4 per cent constitutional bond ceiling limit on water development funds, an annual users' fee for permitted water or water users' tax for funding water resource development projects.

The fifth item brought up during the hearing concerned water quality problems in relation to water resource development. This topic brought considerable response both pro and con. These concerned the frilling of cesspools, possible pollution problems related to agriculture chemicals, recharge problems regarding quality of the water being used for quality for and by municipalities, industry and agriculture, studies to determine whether present state surface casing requirements are giving full protection to fresh water stratas.

The final item of the Abilene hearing dealt with the key to the future economic wellbeing of the state. The majority of the witnesses giving testimony agreed that water is the key to future growth and development. The witnesses were being called upon to answer the question of the willingness of the people to bear their share of the cost at the local level in areas proposed to be served by the Texas Water Plan. These areas of service included the needs of municipalities industry and agriculture. The needs of municipalities is would of necessity include reservoirs that could serve the recreational needs of the people.

Research Grant Helps In Study Of Cotton

LUBBOCK—The production of narrow-row cotton on the Texas High Plains will be researched in depth over the next four years, thanks to a recent grant of $140,000 from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Announcement of the grant was made by Senator John G. Tower and Representative Olin E. Teague to Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of Texas A&M University's College of Agriculture.

The research will be conducted at Texas A&M's Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock which has pioneered narrow-row cotton culture, the first work dating back to 1954.

Dr. George G. McBee, superintendent for research at the Center, explains that "the research project will be aimed at reducing cotton production costs and improving fiber quality."

Title of the project is "Evaluation of Narrow-Row Cotton Culture for Yield and Fiber Quality and Development of an Optimal Narrow-Row Production System."

Researchers who will be engaged in the study are Dr. L.L. Ray, Dr. C.W. Wendt, Dr. A.B. Onken, Dr. O.C. Wilke, Dr. D.G. Bottrell and Dr. D. T. Smith.

The new project will stress fertilization, irrigation and weed and insect control in narrow-row cotton. According to McBee, researchers will also look at climatic relationships and plant characteristics which adapt varieties to narrow rows.

"Field studies will be conducted at the Center as well as in the southern part of the area on sandy soils and on clay soils to the north," explains the research director.

Two narrow-row planting patterns will be compared to the conventional 40-inch row spacing. One will be a 10-inch row spacing, commonly used for wheat and other small grains. The other planting pattern will be two rows spaced about 10 inches apart on 40-inch beds. This system, used extensively in grain sorghum production, is commonly referred to as "double row."

Dr. Levon Ray, who has been involved in narrow-row research since its inception, points out that the USDA grant will give the Center a "total" research program in this area.

JUNE BRIDES

Fathers Share Spotlight

BASKING in the approving glance of her father, Harold T. Beckham, 1828 N. Zimmers, Cheri and her dad share a sentimental moment as they look at the wedding gown she wore for her wedding Friday night to William Don Duggan in First United Methodist Church. The wedding gown was worn by Cheri's mother at her own wedding. The Bible, being held by Cheri's father, was also used in Friday's wedding and belongs to the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Don Duggan, 1601 Hamilton, who used it for her wedding.

FATHERS' roles in their daughters' weddings are often de-emphasized. With the exception of escorting the bride to the altar and hauling out the check book to pay the wedding tabs, fathers often take a backseat while all the fuss and flurry is in progress around the home of a bride.

TODAY, Fathers Day 1970, one small step is taken to bring fathers into his rightful position of importance in the bridal scene.

BRIDAL showers and gifts are all on the plus side for the father of a bride. Austin Ruddick, 1900 Coffee is pictured here watching his daughter, Delores, open a wedding gift. She became the bride of Eddie Lynn South on Friday night in Central Baptist Church.

JULY 25 is the date Al Ferguson, 1000 S. Banks, will offer his arm to his daughter, Ginger, for that walk down the bridal aisle in the First Church of the Nazarene. After that date she will be Mrs. Richard Glenn Foster. Pictured here, Ginger's father gives his approval to the lace that will be fashioned into a wedding gown.

FATHER'S right arm gets a pretty good workout in those days leading up to the wedding day of his daughter. After flexing the muscles in his cramped right hand Jess D. Jennings, 716 Doucette, signs his name with a flourish to a check that will be used by daughter Brenda Jo in preparation for her June 27 wedding in Highland Baptist Church to Joe Vernon Hale son of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold V. Hale, 932 S. Banks.

NEW bride, Mrs. Billy Earles, 931 Mary Ellen, has her father, Earl Tarbet of Lefors over for lunch and from the smile on the father of the bride's face, she must have passed the cooking test with flying colors. The former Shari Tarbet became the bride of Billy Earles on June 13 in Lefors First Baptist Church.

Miss Cheryl Gaye Beckham became the bride of William Don Duggan in a double-ring service performed at 7 p.m. Friday in First United Methodist Church by Rev. H. DeWitt Seago, pastor.

Miss Beckham is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold T. Beckham, 1828 N. Zimmers. Mr. Duggan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Don C. Duggan, 1601 Hamilton.

The church was decorated with a rainbow arch of candles behind the altar flanked by spiral candelabra covered with lemon leaves. Baskets of white daisies flanked the altar.

For the benediction, the couple knelt on a white satin pillow fashioned of handmade satin roses.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My son is marrying the daughter of one of the town's most socially prominent families. I am a working widow with limited means. I am giving the bridal couple a wedding gift, plus the rehearsal dinner. These, plus the clothes for the wedding, are all I can possibly afford.

There will be luncheons, teas, and evening parties honoring the bridal couple. I cannot afford to take time away from my work to attend day time parties, and I can't afford the kind of clothes I would feel at ease in for any of these affairs, with the exception of the wedding itself.

Would it be a breach of etiquette for me to refuse these invitations? Thank you.

MOTHER OF THE GROOM

DEAR MOTHER: Are you being perfectly honest with yourself for wanting to ditch the bridal parties? Clothes? Surely you could be appropriately attired without too much expense. Time away from work? That, too, could be managed for this once-in-a-lifetime occasion! If you feel socially inferior, you needn't. As the mother of the groom, your contribution to the wedding is easily the most important of all. Go, and enjoy yourself!

DEAR ABBY: I was invited (a month in advance) by a bachelor friend to dinner to meet his mother, who was visiting him. He said there would be other guests and we would dine in the restaurant in his apartment building, but to come to his apartment "for cocktails" at 7:30 p.m.

I arrived at the appointed time and he greeted me with the news that he had a "cold" and had cancelled out the other guests since he wasn't in the mood to entertain a group. I told him he should have cancelled me out, too, but he insisted that he wanted ME to come anyway.

I had a few drinks with him and his mother, and since nothing was said about going to dinner I wondered if perhaps he intended to whip something up in his apartment, but he didn't move.

As time went on I wondered if perhaps the restaurant in the building wouldn't be closing soon, but naturally I didn't mention it.

Finally the conversation lagged, and at 10:40 p.m. my friend offered to call a taxi for me.

I said my good-byes without (See ABBY, Page 16)

Got something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind, etc. in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor: Recently a friend remarked to me that the D.W.I. law was screwball. He had a friend of his caught, and my friend was amazed that after being caught for driving while drunk a man could have as much as six months freedom without trial.

Now, society says that alcoholism is a disease. The Bible says it is a sin, and that question is not for me to debate.

To do the alcoholic justice, and the drunken driver justice, it is very interesting to explore the situation. It is found that since Jan. 1, 1968, there have been 385 persons arrested for drunken driving in Gray County.

Forty-one have been sentenced. That means their drivers' licenses have been taken away for six months. Also they were fined; 234 have been put on probation.

It can be truthfully said that I am not running for office and I am not trying to back anyone who is.

Are there innocent people waiting to be exonerated of DWI charges because of overcrowded dockets?

Are there some latching onto the age-old expediency of trying to stay out of court? It is not being said that lots of people are simply panting to get into court with their cases, since the batting average of one innocent out of 385 since Jan. 1, 1968 does not magnetize many toward the trial court.

A REPORT is out that there is likely to be some kind of confrontation when public schools start the fall semester late in August.

It could be that, as in many other cities, some Pampa parents and students will not see eye to eye with the school board's new Code of Student Dress and Grooming.

The school board's code, as adopted last week, practically signs the death warrant for the mini-skirt for girl students and the long hair and sideburns for boy students in junior and senior high schools.

TO BE MORE specific: the school board has issued an official edict stating boys must not let hair hang down over their eyes, ears or shirt collar; likewise they must not wear a beard (be clean shaven), and sideburns must not be "excessive."

But if you are afraid to send anything through the mail or sit up all night to see that your door stays locked, worry about it.

more than it can chew. We met one taxpayer who thinks the board has moved into territory where it has no business sticking its nose. This man is of the opinion the school trustees are assuming the role of papa and mama - and how can five MEN qualify for a job which, he believes, can best be handled in the home.

There's no telling how the long hair and sideburns edict will turn out - but the "knotty" mini-skirt problem may be solved by Dame Fashion. Perhaps by the time school starts, mini-skirts will be "old hat" and the midi or maxi will be all the rage.

ONE SUSPECTS we'll have to go along with the Drug Abuse Policy adopted at the same school board meeting.

That one declares that any student found guilty of drug possession or use while in school or while participating in a school-sponsored function, may be expelled for the balance of the semester with loss of that semester's credits.

Your Horoscope JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, June 21, 1970

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Consultations with experts show you something helpful but inconvenient. You can attract financial support for big projects. Take little for granted.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Today promises to be fairly productive but unexciting. Relatives and in-laws have problems. Advise, but don't involve yourself.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Purchases should be restricted to necessities. Money you share with others can be a puzzle. Shocking stories arise from questionable sources. Let intuition lead the way.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Things begun today are likely to take a long time to complete. Stick to unfinished work. Property transactions are not favored, may encounter delays.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Prepare for a long uphill day. Pace yourself to avoid undue fatigue. Offer few comments, as most of what you say will be taken in ways you don't intend.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Higher officials occur than you had planned for. Bring your plans into effect step by step. You can attract important collaboration later.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Personal wishes conflict with family affairs — taking time you had allocated to something else. Keep in mind your longer-range goals.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): A band of some neglected projects, get something else finished. There are plenty of bids for your charity. Give no more than you can comfortably manage.

WELCOME TO THE CLUB
TRENTON, N.J. (UPI)—The New Jersey Bureau reported Thursday it has sent Vice President Spiro T. Agnew the following telegram: "We understand that Julian Bond, the Georgia legislator, recently called you a 'gate-mouthed farmer.' We welcome you to the club, and since you have been categorized as a farmer, we hereby invite you to join the New Jersey Farm Bureau."

MONDAY, JUNE 22, 1970
Your birthday today: An event-filled year opens in which today expansive move needs to be balanced by some saving in time and money. By year's end your habits will have changed a little at a time into entirely different forms. Today's natives are usually rather cautious, acquisitive people who hold their own in the glare of public situations.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Money is a serious concern. Don't gamble or speculate with anything belonging to somebody else. Have the courage to differ — you don't lose real friends by taking a stance.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): The week opens slowly, and it may seem there's more to do than can be handled. Do the important things first and don't fret over things left undone.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Count your blessings; concentrate on the good things. Make alternate plans for the future — this breaks the regular pattern of old habits.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Be troubled by family wars, yet there really is something you can do. Occupy yourself with those things you can do something about.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): People do things contrary to your planning. Pick up the pieces and go on in good humor. Sketch out future work plans.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Take part in the community expression of faith. Be a tourist in your own neighborhood so that you see it from a new viewpoint. Let your loved ones know your feelings.

CANCER (June 21-July 21): Home life brightens up the Sunday. Don't expect too much from anybody; give everybody a good word or something constructive to do.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your ideas run into conflict with your situation. If you concentrate on things that can be done in solitude, some of the tension is eased.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): This should be an average sort of Sunday. Do what is expected of you with casual humor. Do nothing, however, to the point that it becomes fatiguing.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): This generally happy Sunday of home enjoyment has a brief squall due to somebody's contrary feelings. A small surprise is in store, too.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): The entire day is more eventful than planned. Start early to allow for unsought opportunities and last minute changes of direction.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There are many people to meet. Belated errands are also part of the agenda. Bad habits are subject to ready changes for the better.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): This is a multifaceted Sunday in which you can do both pleasant socializing and something that builds goodwill for your favorite charity.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Somebody near you resists your plans. You might bring the doubter along to join in the fun. Many interesting acquaintances are met en route.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Spend a quiet day as nearly alone as you can. Whatever activities you do engage in should be kept impersonal. Retire early.

ABBY

dinner. The following morning I telephoned my friend and apologized for keeping him up so late.

What did I do wrong?

WASHINGTON, D.C.

DEAR WASHINGTON: Perhaps when he told you he had "cancelled out" the other guests because he had a "cold," you should have taken the hint, met his mother and departed. But since you didn't, after one hour, since there was no mention of dinner, you should have gone home. In any event, you had no need to apologize.

DEAR ABBY: Re the letter from "IRRITATED," who dislikes having small children answer the phone when she calls.

I used to work for a telephone answering service, calling doctors, repairmen to service television sets, juke boxes, oil burners, refrigerators, etc. Nearly all these men had to be called at home. It IS irritating when some child grabs the phone and says, "WHO IS THIS?"

After burning up several times over this, I finally came upon a satisfactory solution: I just hang up without saying a word, wait about five minutes, then I call again. If the child answers again, I hang up again. By the third time I call, the mother's curiosity has gotten the better of her, and SHE beats the child to the phone. It works nicely. Furthermore, you don't have to say anything nasty to the mother. I just say, sweetly, "I have a very important message which I didn't think I should entrust to a child to deliver." Cordially,

CLAIRE IN SEATTLE

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)—To say that Edy Williams is a sex kitten is tantamount to calling the Mafia naughty boys.

Edy is so generously endowed with feminine allure, curves, sex appeal and facial beauty she virtually overdoes it. She admittedly seeks to become a sex goddess.

"I believe in the divinity of the human body," she said. The fact is abundantly clear after a few moments spent with Edy.

"I believe in displaying as much of your physical being as possible, but leaving a little bit to the imagination."

In her search for physical perfection—Edy's already 37-24-37—the youthful actress doesn't smoke or drink.

"Not only that," she added, "I eat carefully and I refuse to take birth control pills."

Soon Becomes Bride
Edy is unmarried, but will soon become the bride of producer-director Russ Meyer.

She co-stars in her fiancé's latest contribution to classic screen art, "Beyond the Valley of the Dolls."

You can tell almost immediately that Edy is not a Bryn Mawr girl, or even a Vassar graduate. She does, in fact, play a pornographic novelist in the picture.

Edy's auburn hair tumbles almost to her waist. Her eyes are luminous, brown and filled with a sort of wise innocence.

Her wardrobe consists of scores of mini-skirts, bare midriff dresses and sweaters that defy description. One need not be a psychiatrist to note that Edy is proud of her assets.

"SIMON SAYS hands on hips." President Nixon and outgoing HEW Secretary Robert Finch seem to be playing the children's game of maybe Finch is practicing for his new role as presidential adviser. The two were photographed en route to the Florida White House.
