BUSINESS OUTLOOK

Tempo Of Business Will Quicken Until We Know Meaning Of Invasion

By J. A. Livingston
All bets are not exactly the Korean crisis doesn't decline all economic forecasts to the wastebasket.

Forecast For '50-'51

Table with columns for indicators (Industrial Production, U.S. Auto Output, Unemployed, etc.) and months (May '50, Dec. '50, June '51, Dec. '51).

Some of us have stomach distress after meals because favorite foods cause acid indigestion. It's not necessary, you know. Millions of Americans prevent the pain of sour stomach...

That's why the forecasts, though made before the Korean outbreak, still are useful. The crisis does not change basic influences. Rather it adds to demand in a demand-driven economy.

Broad-scale expansion of personnel managers to recruit replacements for men and women taken by the armed forces from desks and machines. A scarcity of labor undoubtedly will quickly develop.

For the next few weeks, business men will try to build up inventories. Goods have suddenly become more important than dollars.

Thus, the tempo of business in the next few weeks—until we know what the South Korean invasion means, how far it will involve us and Russia—will quicken. And the pattern of business, at least the pattern that most business analysts expected, will undergo a change.

Tydings Says Korea Is Test Tube Of Soviet

By The Associated Press WASHINGTON, July 3.—The invasion of South Korea is seen by Sen. Tydings as a test tube in which Communist Russia is seeing how far she can go before the Democratic world will call a halt.

Tydings, chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee, was one of several lawmakers who discussed the Korean situation in weekend radio programs.

Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who said "our own weak policy" in the far Pacific invited the Communist attack.

Senator McCarthy (R-Wis) who said that "American boys are dying in Korea" because the aid program which Congress voted was sabotaged, he charged, by a group of "untouchables" in the State Department.

Tydings said the actio of the United States as a member of the United Nations in sending armed aid to the South Koreans actually may avoid or at least delay the start of a third world war.

By and large, the economists are optimistic. They forecast steady business between now and the end of the year and then a moderate downturn in 1951. They believe that Supercharged buying of automobiles and homes will begin to peter out some time next year.

If the economists are right in their predictions of diminishing demand in 1951—then the mesh will be easy. But if war orders pile on top of reinvigorated domestic orders, sellers' markets will develop anew.

As the economists envisioned the future, industrial production now around 193 would decline to 182 by December 1951. That's a drop of about 6 per cent—so small that it might be described as a projection of the present.

Declines were predicted for commodity requirements for the armaments and prices received by farmers. Those forecasts seem vulnerable now. The cash deficit was expected to rise slowly—from the rate of $2,600,000,000 now to about $4,900,000,000. But war expenditures should raise that rate. Exports were estimated to drop, but increased arms shipments would change that.

And there you have it. The question now is: Will the threat of war change an expected business decline (in men's minds) into an upturn? Or will it merely defer and perhaps aggravate the inevitable?

Louise Graham And A. J. Stallings Wed

STANTON, July 3 (Sp1)—Wedding vows were exchanged by Louise Graham and Arthur James Stallings, Jr., in a candlelight ceremony Saturday night at the Stanton First Methodist church. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. A. J. Graham and Stallings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Stallings, Sr. or Lomax.

The Rev. J. B. Stewart, pastor of Asbury Methodist church in Midland, read the double ring ceremony before an altar banked with baskets of pink gladioli and greenery.

Given in marriage by her brother, June Graham, the bride wore a dress of pink eyelet organdy fashioned with bouffant skirt and a scalloped neckline. Her pink shoulder-length veil was held by a crown.

Ida Peters, maid of honor, wore a yellow organdy dress and white carnations in her hair.

Gordan Masbourn, college roommate of the groom, was best man. Candelights were Jo Jon Hall, and Mrs. Lawrence Adkins. Miss Hall was attired in a dress of blue organdy and wore a wristlet corsage. Mrs. Adkins wore a dusty rose voile and a wristlet corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Claude Houston, organist, played the traditional pre-nuptial music and accompanied Mrs. Ray Marshall, aunt of the bride, who sang "Because" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" as the benediction.

A reception was held in the church parlor following the ceremony. The serving table was covered with a cutwork linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of roses and dahlias. Appointments were of crystal and silver.

Following a wedding trip to New Mexico, Mr. and Mrs. Stallings will be at home in Lomax where he is engaged in farming.

Out of town guests for the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Marshall and daughter, Mary of Abilene, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Masbourn of Midland, and the Rev. and Mrs. J. B. Stewart and family of Midland.

Pravda Whips Up Indignation Of US Intervention

MOSCOW, July 3 (U.P.)—The Moscow press said today that popular indignation over American intervention in Korea is spreading throughout Russia.

The Communist Party Newspaper Pravda said protest meetings were taking place in factories and office buildings all over the country.

It was also noted that the Supreme Soviet of the Russian Soviet Federative Socialist Republics meets in the Kremlin tomorrow. It is described as a routine session, which was announced last month. The Supreme Soviets of the other 15 republics are also scheduled to meet soon in their respective capitals.

Much of the press comment on public reaction to the Korean crisis appeared to be a rehash of stories which appeared last week. At that time the papers said the public remained calm. Now they appeared to be trying to stir the people up against the United States.

"The Soviet people," Pravda said in a front-page editorial, "and all progressive humanity express a decisive protest against American aggression in Korea and are strengthening the struggle for a firm peace in all the world against warmongers."

The press gave sample quotes from workers at the protest meetings.

A war widow: "With a feeling of deepest indignation we are following the events developing in Korea. Unbridled American imperialists began the war against the peace-loving Korean people."

A woman telegraph operator: "We decisively condemn the aggressive intervention of American imperialism."

A motion picture worker: "We send our flaming greetings to the warriors of the people's army of Korea."

Three More Line Up In Support Of UN Action In Korea

LAKE SUCCESS, July 3 (U.P.)—Three more United Nations members have lined up in support of UN efforts to end the Korean war.

The three—Sweden, Denmark and Israel—announced their stand in statements at their capitals. Thirty-six other member nations have formally notified the UN of their support.

KOREAN OFFERS THANKS FOR SUPPORT AND AID

TAEJON, Korea, July 3 (U.P.)—The foreign minister of invaded South Korea today thanked the United States and United Nations for support and said this may be the hour of recession of the tide of Communism.

Ben C. Limb issued a statement saying that "America's strong belief in liberty and freedom could not be better expressed than by her realistic action on this July 3, the eve of the United States Independence Day anniversary."

The foreign minister added: "It has gladdened our hearts to hear how the United Nations has responded to our crucial situation. Thirty-three member nations have publicly proclaimed their sympathy for the Republic of Korea and 10 have acted to back up their words with action if called upon."

"Korea may well become a crystallizing point of all democratic nations in the world. In future years this devastating experience might well be looked back upon as the hour of recession of the tide of Communism."

Limb mentioned only the United States by name. He did not describe the direct aid offered by the other nations.

British and Australian naval and air forces already are in action against the North Korean Reds. Nationalist China has offered to send ground troops and air units.

"The United States already has sacrificed much for Korea," he said. "Some of her finest sons have given their lives. Millions of dollars have been spent in peace and in war."

"The American embassy, Korean military advisory group and economic Co-operation Administration are known and loved by every citizen in the republic for their valuable contributions here."

Rioters Attempt To Mob Iran Head

TEHRAN, Iran, July 3 (U.P.)—Stone-throwing rioters tried to mob Gen. Ali Razmara, Iran's new premier, in front of the parliament building yesterday, but police drove them off.

A number of persons, including three police, were injured in the scuffle. It occurred after Razmara, who was named premier last Monday, had appeared before parliament to defend his new government.

Observers said the demonstration was led by the "national front" a small opposition group in parliament which has charged Razmara, army strong man, with dictatorial ambitions. After the demonstration Razmara announced that he would "take firm action and punish all responsible."

Nationalists Disappointed At Troop Rejection

By The Associated Press

TAIPEI, July 3. — Chinese Nationalists are keenly disappointed that Washington rejected their offer to send combat troops to Korea.

Three divisions were believed to have been destined for that battle zone. But Washington thumbs down on the offer.

"Presumably Washington acted after weighing the chances of Nationalist Chinese Communist forces into the Korean battle. Formosa reports say the Chinese Reds have been moving 200,000 troops through Manchuria toward Korea."

The American note was discussed at length by President Chiang Kai-Shek and his advisers. There was reason to believe a Chinese answer already had been dispatched to Washington.

Official quarters have expressed fear the Chinese Communists may attack now that American intervention has resulted in Nationalist forces halting their military blows against the mainland.

Naval headquarters announced Lintin Island, east of the Wanshan Islands southwest of British Hong Kong, had been abandoned by guerrilla forces on Saturday. Subsequently Chinese Red forces took the island, the report said.

Talks with representatives of the U. S. Seventh Fleet patrolling Formosan waters are expected to be held shortly.

The defense ministry said defenders of Quemoy Island, near the mainland Red port of Amoy, expected to be attacked quickly.
