108 Killed In Crash At Toronto Airport

RUSSIAN MUSCLE. Soviet sailors guide a missile aboard a ship of the U.S.S.R.'s Pacific fleet before a training mission.

TORONTO (UPI)—The windows rattled noisily in the modest farmhouse near Toronto Airport as Mrs. Mary Day prepared to feed her five-month-old child breakfast. She was in the kitchen when she saw the doomed jetliner coming side almost at our house.

The Montreal to Los Angeles jetliner was attempting to land at Toronto Airport when pieces of the craft mysteriously began falling off. The outer engine on the right wing snapped off and smashed into the grass along the side of the runway and flames erupted from around the plane.

"It was all red and white with fire," she said. "I picked up the baby and called the dog and ran into the fields. I ran like a madwoman."

It was all in flames, as it passed over us. Then it came down—and exploded. Just the worst bang and noise I've ever heard.

The Air Canada DC8 streamer burst into flames and its two engines and its wings splattered Sunday in small pieces of silvered metal in the barley field 100 yards from Mrs. Day's home. All 99 passengers and nine crew members perished in Canada's second worst air tragedy.

Included among the victims were 25 Americans, all from Southern California, and 16 employees of Air Canada and their families, riding on company passes.

The jet disintegrated into slivers in a thunderclap explosion less than 100 yards from the Burgsma farmhouse, shattering four windows.

The wreckage lay in small pieces, most tiny enough to be picked up in one hand. The bodies of the passengers and crew were burned and charred beyond recognition. A torn piece of a stewardess' jacket snagged in a tree branch.

The pilot, Capt. P. C. Hamilton, a 24-year veteran, had given no indication of any trouble with the plane. "Everything appeared to be running absolutely normal," said George Lempiere, supervisor of air traffic control at the airport. "There was absolutely no indication of any trouble whatsoever."

There was no indication why the plane disintegrated.

The craft's "black box" flight recorder was recovered and sent to Montreal for analysis. Officials hoped it would offer clues to the tragedy.

The last major Canadian air crash—the worst on record—was Nov. 29, 1963 when another DC8 belonging to Trans-Canada Airlines—Air Canada's former name—crashed near St. Therese, Que., killing all 118 aboard.

'CITY' EDITOR

Monyihan 'Stats' Said Seriously Misleading

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Some statistics used by presidential adviser Daniel P. Moynihan to prove the American Negro is making progress have been attacked as "seriously misleading."

The criticism came from Donald Canty, editor of the National Urban Coalition's bi-monthly magazine "City." Canty said in the current issue that figures cited in Moynihan's "benign neglect memo" can be concealing as well as revealing.

Moynihan's private memo was leaked to the press more than a year after it was written. It said U.S. Negroes were making "extraordinary progress" and suggested the Nixon administration would be wise to further the improvement process and ignore racial extremists on both sides.

Canty said the basis of Moynihan's memo was a proposition that "had been steadily gaining favor" among academic experts—"turning the emphasis from race to class."

Canty said Moynihan cited figures showing that "a third (32 per cent) of all families of Negro and other races (non-white) earned $8,000 or more, in 1968 constant dollars, compared with 15 per cent in 1960."

"What Dr. Moynihan failed to point out was that in the same period, the percentage of white families earning $8,000 or more rose to 58," Canty said. "The gap was wider in 1968 than in 1960."

He said Moynihan had chosen highly selective statistics when he told Nixon "Young Negro families are achieving income parity with young white families. Outside the South, young husband-wife Negro families have 90 per cent of the income of whites! For families headed by a male, age 25 to 34 the proportion was .87 per cent. Thus, it may be this ancient gap is finally closing."

Canty said in qualifying his figures for age, region and family composition, Moynihan had come up with statistics that concealed "that nationally, the median income of Negro families in 1968 remained only 60 per cent that of white families. In constant dollars once again, the gap had actually widened."

US Command Says Troop Level Lowest In More Than 40 Months

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. command said today American troop levels in South Vietnam have dropped to their lowest point in more than 40 months.

The announcement came as officers met to plan a further 150,000 reduction ordered by President Nixon.

The command said the number of U.S. troops in the war zone dropped last week by 3,200 from 417,100 to 413,900. It was the fewest American troops in Vietnam since Feb. 11, 1967 when there were 412,000 Americans in Vietnam.

In Honolulu Monday a board of officers assembled to draft details for withdrawal of 50,000 more U.S. troops by Oct. 16, 1970 as the first of 150,000 men to be out of Vietnam by the spring of 1971.

The 150,000-man reduction is expected to cut American combat strength in the war zone to two divisions, military sources said.

On Vietnam fighting fronts Allied communiques reported light action Sunday. American forces killed 21 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in four scattered engagements. Spokesmen said U.S. casualties were one killed and 22 wounded.

The Cambodian high command said today new waves of Communist Pathet Lao guerrillas had entered Cambodia.

JFK Museum To Be Dedicated Across From Dallas Depository

DALLAS (UPI)—A museum dedicated to former President John F. Kennedy will open soon across the street from Texas Book Depository Building where Lee Harvey Oswald shot Kennedy to death seven years ago.

Museum owner John Sissom says the museum will center around the Nov. 22, 1963 assassination. Sissom said he had no date set for the formal opening of the museum. A memorial to Kennedy was dedicated over a week ago.

"Since our sign went up Friday, we have had a great reaction," Sissom said Sunday. "Many tourists have knocked on our door and explained that they would not be returning to Dallas in the near future, so we have let them in to see what little is already in place."

"There is still a great interest in the events surrounding the Kennedy assassination," Sissom said. "No personal theories would be advanced as Kennedy's assassination. The story will be told just as it was recorded by the news media."

Although Oswald is officially named by the U.S. government as Kennedy's assassin, others have their own ideas. Some say Oswald was part of a conspiracy and others involved remain at large. Some say Oswald had no part in the assassination.

Sissom said he has been collecting exhibits for the museum for several years. The museum will house various books published on Kennedy, enlarged reproductions of the assassination story from at least one newspaper in all 50 states, an oil painting of Kennedy by Dallas artist Dimitri Vail, a limited edition of records and more than 10,000 frames of microfilm on various news stories that will be available for study with special permission.

"We have received help from local news media, federal agencies, United Press International" and other sources, Sissom said. "But I have privately paid for the museum."

He would not say what the museum cost. When finished the museum will fill three rooms and cover 10,000 square feet.

"We will also have two scale models of Dallas that will trace the parade route taken by Kennedy during his visit to Dallas," Sissom said. "While viewers trace the parade route, they will also see news film of the assassination and the president's funeral."

He said he wanted to open such a museum to preserve the events surrounding the assassination.

"After all, it has been such a long time since the assassination and until the JFK Memorial nothing had been done," he said. "Basically, the museum will tell the story of a nation's reaction to the loss of a President."

Longview Police Investigate Bombing

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UPI)—Police said today explosive experts had determined dynamite was used to touch off a chain reaction that damaged or destroyed all 36 school buses parked in a maintenance yard Saturday.

The Longview school district will use the vehicles they can repair when busing students begins this September.

Investigators had originally theorized as many as two dozen nitroglycerin bombs were used in the incident.

No one was injured in the blast, which came shortly after 11 p.m. Saturday.

Police said they have found no one who saw anyone near the maintenance yard Saturday night. The chief avenue of investigation concerns two footprints found outside the fence which surrounds the yard.

The explosives were strung together with a heavy fuse, and all explosions came within a fraction of a second of each other.

Police Chief Ray Stone said he did not know why the bombs were set off.

"All of us know the busing of students is going to begin next September but as far as we know and as far as school officials know, we haven't had anything in the way of racial tensions that would cause a situation such as this," Stone said.

Echeverria Wins Mexico's Presidency

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Luis Echeverria, 48, a former interior secretary, rolled up a better than 12-1 unofficial victory margin today in a Mexican election marked by opposition charges of kidnapping and fraud.

Unofficial returns gave Echeverria an overwhelming triumph over lone opponent Efraim Gonzalez Martin whose National Action Party (PAN) accused Echeverria's Party of Revolutionary Institutions (PRI) of wholesale illegality at the polls.

Mario Moya Polanco, head of the federal electoral commission, said an investigation failed to substantiate the PAN accusation. He said Sunday's election was clean and honest.

PRI also claimed sweeping victories in elections for the 210-seat chamber of deputies and the 60-seat senate. Official results for the presidency and the congressional races will be announced next Sunday.

The election of Echeverria marked the 10th successive time the PRI had captured the presidency since the party was established in 1929.

The victory again emphasized the PRI's omnipotence.

"I cannot speak of a triumph now," Echeverria said. "I hope to be able to do so after my six years in office when I will know whether I have been able to achieve anything."

The opposition clung to its contention of improper balloting.

"We insist that the election in Mexico are not clean or democratic," said PAN President Manuel Gonzalez Hinojosa.

PAN charged that Vicente Alvarez, one of its candidates for federal deputy in the state of Mexico, was abducted when he protested voting irregularities in the village of San Felipe de Progreso. The party also said the army arrested Victor Guerrero, PAN candidate for senator from the state when he complained about polling conditions in San Simon de Guerrero.

Nixon Returns To Washington

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon heads for Washington today, ending an unusually busy 12-day sojourn marked by a concentration of foreign affairs.

Nixon was in a buoyant mood as he prepared to depart the western White House with his family at 6 p.m. EDT for the flight back to Washington.

Some appointments, including a breakfast meeting with congressional leaders Tuesday on his stalled legislative program—drew him back to the capital.

He has been putting in long working hours at his office overlooking the Pacific Ocean, with few outings on the beach.

The Chief Executive obviously was relieved to be able to meet his own deadline for withdrawing all U.S. troops from Cambodia by the end of June.

He also was pleased over the response to his unique hour-long televised "conversation" on foreign policy with television network newscasters.

During the broadcast, he raised hopes of a negotiated settlement of the Vietnam War by appointing Ambassador David K. E. Bruce a skilled diplomat, as chief of the U.S. delegation to the Paris talks.

On the somber side, Nixon made headlines with his assessment that the Middle East conflict is "more dangerous than the situation in Indochina."

Over and above Arab-Israeli hostilities, Nixon warned of a possible U.S.-Soviet confrontation in the Mediterranean if diplomacy fails.

Nixon dispatched his wife Pat to Peru to console the victims of that country's devastating earthquake.

His daughter, Julie Eisenhower, accompanied by her husband David, made an official four-day trip to Japan where they were warmly received and given VIP treatment. They returned Sunday.

Texas Deaths Below Holiday Predictions

By United Press International

Motors in Texas showed a "Drive Friendly" campaign over the Fourth of July weekend and held the fatality rate below the predictions of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

Smith had Texas roadways plastered with his "Drive Friendly" billboards in timely red, white and blue colors.

The latest tabulation of highway fatalities revealed 35 persons were killed in various accidents. In addition, 10 persons drowned and five others died in miscellaneous incidents.

The holiday death count began at 6 p.m. Thursday and ended at midnight Sunday.

The number of traffic fatalities were the average for a normal driving day and fell below the usual holiday toll.

"The daily average during the year is almost 10 deaths a day," a DPS spokesman said. "We are running under that despite heavy traffic."

The three worst accidents during the holiday period each claimed three lives.

Canderario Garcia, 70; Mrs. Domingo Garcia, 50, and Mrs. Santos Diaz 52, were killed Sunday in a two-car collision 5.8 miles west of Premont. All the victims were from Kingsville.

Lora N. Roye, 9; Ruby Katherine McDonald, 47; and Judy Walton, 19, all of San Angelo, were killed Sunday when their pickup truck ran off U.S. Highway 67, 11 miles east of San Angelo, hit a bridge and fell into a creek.

Darwin Lee Young, Emma Ruth Young and Scott Young all of Corsicana, were killed Saturday in a two-car head-on collision one mile south of Corsicana on Interstate Highway 45.

Two of the fatalities in miscellaneous accidents died Sunday in separate private plane crashes. A. B. Welborn, 53, was hit by a race car that went out of control near Crandall, Frank Valle Jr., 46, of Mercedes, was killed when his truck fell on him as he was changing a tire.

Red Darwin, 60, was killed in Abilene when he fell 20 feet from a bridge he was working on.

ABA Moves To Check Malefactors

CHICAGO (UPI)—A special study committee of the American Bar Association has made a series of recommendations to end the "scandalous situation" which exists in disciplining the nation's lawyers.

The committee, headed by retired Supreme Court Justice Tom C. Clark, said Saturday unless the bar moves quickly to set its own house in order, "the public soon will insist on taking measures into its own hands."

The ABA Committee for Disciplinary Enforcement, after three years of study, said present practices are "failing to rid the profession of a substantial number of malefactors."

The group's 150-page report included recommendations for immediate suspension for any lawyer convicted of a "serious crime," defined as a felony or any "specified" lesser crime reflecting upon a lawyer's fitness to serve his clients.

Nine Escape In Waco Jailbreak; Four Recaptured This Morning

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—Nine prisoners, one of them convicted of a double murder and sentenced to the electric chair, escaped a jailer to their fifth floor tank Sunday night and then held a screwdriver to his throat and escaped into the night.

Four of the nine, including the condemned man, were recaptured today. One of them was wounded.

Troops Tear Down Belfast Barricades

BELFAST, Northern Ireland (UPI)—British troops today tore down barricades they used to control the Roman Catholic Falls Road section of Belfast where five died in weekend rioting. But a Roman Catholic member of the province Parliament predicted all-out war with Protestants this summer.

Authorities said the convicts stuffed chicken bones into the toilet of the tank all nine were being held in. Officers said the toilet was stopped up and the water overflowed. They called jailer Carl Holt and when he arrived Oscar Turner, the man sentenced to the chair, tackled the guard and held a screwdriver to his throat.

Officers said they believed five of the prisoners escaped on foot and four got away in a 1967 station wagon. The prisoners made their way from their cell to the jail elevator. They took the elevator to the third floor and then went down the stairs to the main floor. They took a big canister and threw it through the glass door which serves as the main entrance to the McLennan County jail.

Sunday afternoon thousands of Catholic women from other sections of the city ordered their men to stay at home and streamed past British soldiers manning the barbed-wire roadblocks to deliver food and milk to residents of the embattled area.

The Department of Public Safety issued a nationwide all points bulletin for the escapees today but all were believed to be in the Waco area.

The guard's keys were taken in the escape and he was locked in the tank. Deputy sheriff Dick Stanton saw the men just as they broke loose into the night.

Army spokesmen gave no reason for removing the barricades, but they ended a 3-hour curfew of the area at 9 a.m. Sunday to let the Catholic go to Mass. The area stayed relatively quiet.

In addition to Turner, the other escaped prisoners were identified as Sammy Davis Jr., Joe Lewis Drake, convicted of theft under $50 and sentenced to two years; Bailey Jones; Floyd E. Mathews, possession of marijuana and armed robbery and burglary; Hugh G. Showers, burglary; Johnny Lee Robbins; and Clinton Loud.

By official count, five died and 58 were injured in 12 hours of fighting between Catholics and troops that started Friday night after the army and police began searching houses for arms and ammunition. The deaths brought the toll in two successive weekends of rioting to 12. More violence was expected even though there are now more than 11,000 British troops in Northern Ireland. There were predictions more violence would erupt as a result this Sunday of Protestant Orange Order celebrations of the 17th century Battle of the Boyne when the Catholics were defeated for control of Ireland. The Protestants insist on marching through Catholic residential areas, and the Catholics have been stocking arms.

Army spokesmen gave no reason for removing the barricades, but they ended a 3-hour curfew of the area at 9 a.m. Sunday to let the Catholic go to Mass. The area stayed relatively quiet.

Many of the estimated half-million festivalgoers took to a stream to escape 104-degree heat, the majority of them swam nude and when word was spread, gawkers created a traffic jam on a nearby highway. Bare-breasted girls were commonplace in the area and many youths strolled nude in the crowd. Some couples made love on blankets in full view of passersby.

It was a safe bet that tales the nude swimming, naked strollers, open fornication and widespread drug use during the festival will spice many future gatherings of local residents.

First aid stations did a rush business, treating more than 7,000 persons, mostly for drug problems. Three women were rushed to a hospital in labor. Helicopters were used for emergencies because of the clogged roads.

One of the festival's promoters, long-haired, bearded Steve Kapelow, indicated there would always be a place for such festivals because they are "potent political weapons" to make the "straight world" take notice and are escape outlets for youth.

Festival promoters contended they lost money on the event, but they disagreed on the extent of such losses.

It was a safe bet that tales the nude swimming, naked strollers, open fornication and widespread drug use during the festival will spice many future gatherings of local residents.

Flags Taken From Homes

There were two reports of American flags being stolen from Pampa homes Saturday night.

Don Conley, 1032 Christine, reported the theft of his flag to police. Reports said Conley was out of town, but had displayed his flag for the Fourth of July. When he returned home Sunday, the flag was missing.

Mrs. W.H. Fuller, 1122 Charles, said they also had a flag stolen Saturday night. But Mrs. Fuller said she did not report the incident to police.

The flags are described as being four by six feet in size.

Gleason Now Real Life 'Honeymooner'

LONDON (UPI) — Jackie Gleason, whose most famous television role is "The Honeymooner," stepped into the part in real life Saturday.
 The 54-year-old entertainer, seen him off a long time, married Beverly McKittrick, 37, a former Baltimore secretary, in the registry office of the little town of Ashford near here.
 Then he stood on the confetti strewn steps of the small, grey building and, smiling down at the throng of bystanders and newsmen, uttered his TV catch phrase: "How sweet it is!" with what sounded like a sigh of contentment.
 "You're a real honeymooner now," someone said.
 "I knew that was coming," Gleason laughed. "Yes, and this time it's for life."
 Gleason wanted a quiet wedding and he got it. There was no prior announcement of the ceremony so, outside the press corps only about 30 people or so, mostly Saturday shoppers, stopped to find out why the flashbulbs were popping.
 Gleason was divorced 10 days ago from Genevieve. Halford Gleason after many years of separation. She received a settlement of $100,000 a year. Miss McKittrick, who met him on a golfcourse of Miami two years ago, has not been previously married.

EVEN NEATNESS in packaging and wrapping the customer's clothing is something the folks at Vogue takes a lot of pride in.

War On Dirty Clothes Continues At Vogue

It is not known whether Eve laundered the fig leaves for her and Adam, or sent them out. Had those garments had any difficult spots on them, chances are strong in those days, the local cleaner would not have been equipped to remove apple stains, berry juice, lipstick, or blood from the wild chicken that Adam brought home for lunch. He would probably have pinned a note to the garments which read, "All that could safely be done to clear your garment was accomplished, but the papaya juice cannot be removed without risk to the garment." Such stories do not please customers, and may be familiar to Pampans. But according to Fred Malone, operator of Vogue Cleaners, 1542 N. Hobart, his establishment is not so quick with the alibi. It is known in the industry there is a tendency among some cleaners to look for the easy way out when some of those difficult stain problems crop up. These cleaners often avoid any risk which might be involved in processing a garment. This reluctance may be due, in large part, to lack of trained personnel and adequate knowledge in the often difficult cleaning process. Hence the alibi notes. Vogue cleaners maintains a staff of specialists who are thoroughly competent in the business of wet and dry cleaning, spotting, and finishing. As new fabrics are developed, some causing new cleaning and stain problems, Malone makes sure that he and his staff are updated on any new techniques that may be required to maintain good service to customers. Malone admits that occasionally a particular stain, on a particular type of fabric will pose the impossible, but he maintains that if there is a solution, his establishment knows about it.

Bain Appointed Manager Of Pampa Wholesale Co.

J. L. Bain, a long-time employee of Pampa Wholesale Company, has been made manager of the branch effective July 1, it was announced recently by W. A. McCarty, Jr., president of McCarty-Hull Distributing Co. of Amarillo, the parent company. Bain joined Pampa Wholesale Company in 1942 as a sales representative and has been with the firm in various sales and administrative capacities since that time. He is a native of Clarendon, a member of the Pampa Noon Lions Club, and a steward in the First United Methodist Church. He and his wife, Lena, reside at 436 Hughes St. in Pampa. Fatheree, another long-time resident of Pampa, who was recently transferred to the McCarty-Hull office in Amarillo.

COILED TO STRIKE at heat. Cooling coils of a 10-ton commercial air conditioning system contain more than 1,200 spine fins per inch. Aluminum spine fins wound around refrigerant tubing provide 50 per cent more effective heat dissipation than previously used heat transfer surfaces, according to GE engineers.

Common Market Entry Difficult For British

PARIS—In Paris, as elsewhere, there is now some concern lest the surprise victory of Edward Heath and the Conservative party in the British general election makes it more difficult for Britain to join the Common Market rather than the reverse. The argument is that the defeat of the Labor party will mean the end of a bipartisan approach to Europe in British politics. Whereas Labor's ex-Prime Minister Harold Wilson could have counted on tacit support from the Tories during the negotiations, it is considered quite on the cards that Heath will find himself harried by the official opposition as well as by "little Englanders" inside his own party. Whatever its intrinsic merits, this analysis at least has the virtue of raising another more fundamental question—to what extent do the Common Market countries really want Britain in the community, and their readiness to bail out Heath if he gets into serious trouble at home over the membership terms. All the signs are that the present French government will find a conservative Britain for the community than a Labor one. In the first place both parties have the same political complexion and thus a measure of instinctive affinity for each other. With pressure increasing on the United States administration to reduce its military commitments in Europe, the case for a new continental approach to defense obviously has been strengthened. But while the Pompidou government and Conservatives may tend increasingly to speak the same language, developments in Germany over recent months have given the French additional grounds for interest in a closer dialogue with London. With the defeat of the Christian Democrats, the French have had finally to accept the weakening of their influence over postwar Germany and the eclipse of Gen. Charles de Gaulle's most spectacular achievement in the external field. Thus there can be no doubt that, quite apart from anything else, British Common Market membership is desirable now to provide a better balance of power in the continent as a whole and new partner for themselves.

Negro Inmates In Jail Riot

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—About 400 Negro inmates rioted at Holmesburg Prison Saturday wounding at least 20 persons and seizing dozens of white hostages until quelled by tear gas and police using K-9 dogs. Police said the rioters, some armed with meat cleavers and boning knives, seized control of the prison mess hall for nearly 12 hours and threatened to kill all of the white inmates. At one point the rioters demanded that a prominent Negro judge be brought to them to hear their grievances. But they rescinded the demand shortly before police moved in behind a shield of tear gas and quelled the uprising. "The rioting definitely had racial overtones," said Edward J. Hendrick, superintendent of prisons, in announcing at 4:15 p.m. that the outbreak had been quashed. The 20 or more wounded included four prison guards. The others were inmates, mostly white, including one prisoner who had one of his hands chopped off. Police said there were "six or seven" prison guards among the hostages. About "15 to 25" white prisoners were also taken hostage, police said. No shots other than the teargas shells were fired, a prison official said. After police forged into the mess hall, the rioters were herded together and led back to their cellblocks. There were no immediate details of how the rioting started—whether it was a spontaneous outbreak during the noon meal, or planned. In 1959 Amherst beat Williams in the first intercollegiate baseball game which was played in Pittsfield, Mass. In 1898 Teddy Roosevelt and his Rough Riders took San Juan Hill during the Spanish-American War.

WORLD ALMANAC FACTS

"The ancient Greeks are believed to have been the first to use a combustible material, similar to gunpowder, in warfare. Called Greek fire, the highly inflammable substance was probably composed of naphtha, sulphur and crude sodium or potassium nitrate. The World Almanac says the Greeks first used it in A.D. 673 to repulse an Arab siege of Constantinople. FRANKLIN, Tenn. Culberson will be 19 on July 9—the birthdate chosen for the first draftees next year.

Blackmarket Cigarette Smugglers Caught

By PRESTON F. KIRK DONNA, Tex. (UPI)—The blackmarket cigaret industry now flourishing on both sides of the Texas-Mexico border—recorded its first significant casualties this week in a nine-month-old state crackdown on bootleg smoke. Homer Avila, district supervisor of the state comptroller's office in Donna, said Tuesday two women were fined a maximum $200 as "repeaters" on the misdemeanor charge of illegally trafficking unstamped cigarets. "In the past 10 months, we have made 269 seizures in our four-county area alone...1,062 cartons," Avila said. Getting Full Attention Although his nine-man staff of taxpayer compliance officers is responsible for enforcing 23 different tax statutes, "we are dedicating about 50 per cent of our time and some weeks 100 per cent" to the untaxed cigaret problem, Avila explained. He said predictions by the Texas Association of Tobacco Distributors, Inc., that $25 million in tax revenues would be lost to cigaret smuggling and illegal sales in 1970 "is conservative." The upsurge in cigaret smuggling was noted when the Texas tax on a pack of smokes went from 11 cents to 15.5 cents. The state was forced to agree with angry tobacco wholesalers that it could no longer look the other way. The crackdown was ordered Oct. 1.

LITTLE LEAGUER EDDIE SEGUIN of State College, Pa., has nothing but a black eye to show for an unusual night of baseball. He pitched four innings, struck out five, hit a three-run homer and the game ended in a 14-14 tie. The umpire called the game because of darkness when the catcher's return throw caught Eddie in the eye.

METS EDGE PHILLIES

4-Hitter By Simpson Gives Reds 3-1 Win

By FRED McLANE
UPI Sports Writer
Wayne Simpson may be the only pitcher in the National League whom teammate Johnny Bench of the Cincinnati Reds would rather catch than hit against, and that about sums up the kind of respect the batters have developed for the 21-year-old rookie.
Simpson, a strapping 6-foot-3, 220-pound righthander, hurled a four-hitter Sunday for his 10th consecutive victory and 13th in 14 decisions as the Reds beat the Houston Astros, 3-1, and now the youngster finds himself in the likely position of being called upon to start for the NL in the All-Star game, July 14.
Bench, the Reds' 22-year-old catcher and one of the league's top hitters, speaks glowingly of Simpson.
"After one pitch Simpson made to Denis Menke I turned to plate umpire Ken Burkhardt and said I'm glad I'm catching and not hitting." A couple of times Simpson buried my hand in the glove with his fastball. You never know which way his fastball is going to go. It tails, it sinks, it sails. You name it, his fastball does it," said Bench.

In other NL games, Los Angeles blanked San Francisco, 4-0; New York edged Philadelphia, 5-4; Pittsburgh defeated Chicago, 5-2; San Diego nipped Atlanta, 6-5, and St. Louis whipped Montreal, 6-3.
Washington swept a twinbill from the Yankees by identical 7-3 scores; Baltimore blanked Detroit, 2-0; Minnesota walloped Chicago, 12-3; Boston beat Cleveland, 8-4; California topped Oakland, 5-1; and Milwaukee edged Kansas City, 2-1, in American League action.
The Reds scored all three of their runs in the sixth off their runs in the sixth off Denny Lemaster, with Bench driving home one run with a double and scoring another on a single by Lee May.
Bill Singer pitched his first shutout since coming off the disabled list as he stopped the Giants on two hits. Singer got home-run support from Bill Grabarkewitz and Jim Lefebvre as the Dodgers completed a three-game sweep of the Giants.

Open To Caponi

MUSKOGEE, Okla. (UPI)—Donna Caponi, her second straight U.S. Women's Open golf championship, safely tucked away just as she predicted, is still waiting for a phone call. "President Nixon hasn't called me in two years," she quipped. "I think that's pretty bad."
But after staging one of the most thrilling victories a person could want wasn't going to let anything bother her. She's going to relax for a week and then go after another triumph.
Miss Caponi won the title Sunday on Muskogee Country Club's 6,210-yard par 71 golf course. But she had to sink a four-foot putt for a double bogey six on the 18th hole to win. The ball teetered on a couple of blades of grass and then plopped into the right side of the cup.

This eliminated a three-way 18-hole playoff which would have included herself Sandra Spuzich, the 1966 champion, and Sandra Haynie. Miss Caponi picked up the $5,000 first prize in the $30,000 event while the two Sandras, who finished just one stroke back, got $2,000 apiece.
Although she soared to a six-over par 77 in the last round, Miss Caponi's 287 total ties the record for the Open under the U.S. Golf Association and makes her the first champion to repeat since Mickey Wright in 1958-59.

After rounds of 69, 70 & 71, she started the final day three under par and nursing a seemingly comfortable three-shot lead. But playing head-to-head with Miss Spuzich, she watched it melt away. Miss Caponi was three over after nine holes while Miss Spuzich made the turn one-under to share the lead briefly.
Then Miss Spuzich got a double-bogey on the 10th and never caught up again. But she had a great opportunity on the last hole, where a six-foot par putt would have meant a playoff. The Spuzich putt barely missed dropping before the defending champion urged hers into the cup.

All week long Miss Caponi had been a picture of optimism confidently predicting after each round she would be the winner. The pressure finally caught up with her on the 390-yard 18th hole, which plays uphill all the way.

Zarley Captures 3-Shot Triumph In Canadian Golf

LONDON, Ont. (UPI)—The pro from the moon used the "scientific approach" to win the $125,000 Canadian Open golf tournament Sunday.
Kermit Zarley, the 29-year-old golfer from Houston, Tex., gained some measure of fame a few years ago when comedian Bob Hope referred to him as "the pro from the moon" because of his unusual name. But Zarley made his own place in the spotlight Sunday with a three-stroke victory worth $25,000.
Zarley fired a final round five-under-par 67 to finish the 72-hole event at nine-under 279. Gibby Gilbert of Hollywood, Fla., the first-round leader, finished second at 282 while Chi Chi Rodriguez and Bob Stone tied for third place at 283.
Rodriguez and Labron Harris had shared the lead after three rounds but quickly fell out of contention with final 18 hole scores of 75 and 76, respectively.
Harris, the former amateur star from Stillwater, Okla., was fifth with his 284 total while Phil Rodgers was next with a 285.
The best Canadian was also the best amateur as Nick Weslock of Brantford, Ont., had a 289.

Club Hosts Golf Event

The team of M. L. Hall and Lal Hall turned in a nine-hole total of 49 Saturday to win low gross-honors in Pampa Country Club's Fourth of July Mixed Scotch Foursome Golf Tournament.
Three duos finished one shot behind the winners: Deck Woldt-Ruthie Hall, Chunky Leonard-Eloise Woldt and Norman Coulter-Marge Gibson.
Swede Lee and Jean Lee won low net-honors with 28.5 S.O. and Bi Dunham carded 29. Charles Hill and Joyce McCausland fired 31 and Scott Hall and Vesta Parker finished with 32.5.
Thirty-one teams competed in the tourney.

McLain Suffers 1st Loss, 2-0

By FRANK DE GEORGES
UPI Sports Writer
Denny McLain may be coming along slowly as a pitcher but he's making rapid progress as a man.
The controversial Detroit righthander started his second game Sunday since returning from his celebrated three-month suspension. He went seven innings, and suffered his first loss, a 2-0 decision to the Baltimore Orioles.
"A lot of guys don't know what security they have in this game, but I've found out," he said. "I've found that I have to work for a living. I have to work to eat."
Elsewhere in the AL, Washington swept a doubleheader from New York by two 7-3 scores. California topped Oakland, 5-1. Minnesota thrashed Chicago, 12-3. Milwaukee edged Kansas City, 2-1, and Boston belted Cleveland, 8-4.

In the National League, St. Louis whipped Montreal, 6-3. New York trimmed Philadelphia, 5-4. Pittsburgh beat Chicago, 5-2. San Diego edged Atlanta, 6-5. Cincinnati got past Houston, 3-1, and Los Angeles blanked San Francisco 4-0.
Boog Powell drove in both runs for Baltimore with a single and a sacrifice fly.
Jim Palmer retired the first 13 batters and pitched a three-hitter to score his 12th victory against five losses.

Washington's Frank Howard drove in four runs in the opener and Bernie Allen's two-run single highlighted a four-run second inning in the second game of the doubleheader sweep of the Yankees.
Andy Messersmith won his first game since June 12 and the Angels mounted a 12-hit attack, including triples by Alex Johnson, Roger Repox and Jim Fregosi, for the victory. Messersmith went seven innings and gave up four hits for his seventh win.
Leo Cardenas drove in three runs.

Pharmacists! Here's the prescription for healthy sales: Newspaperability.

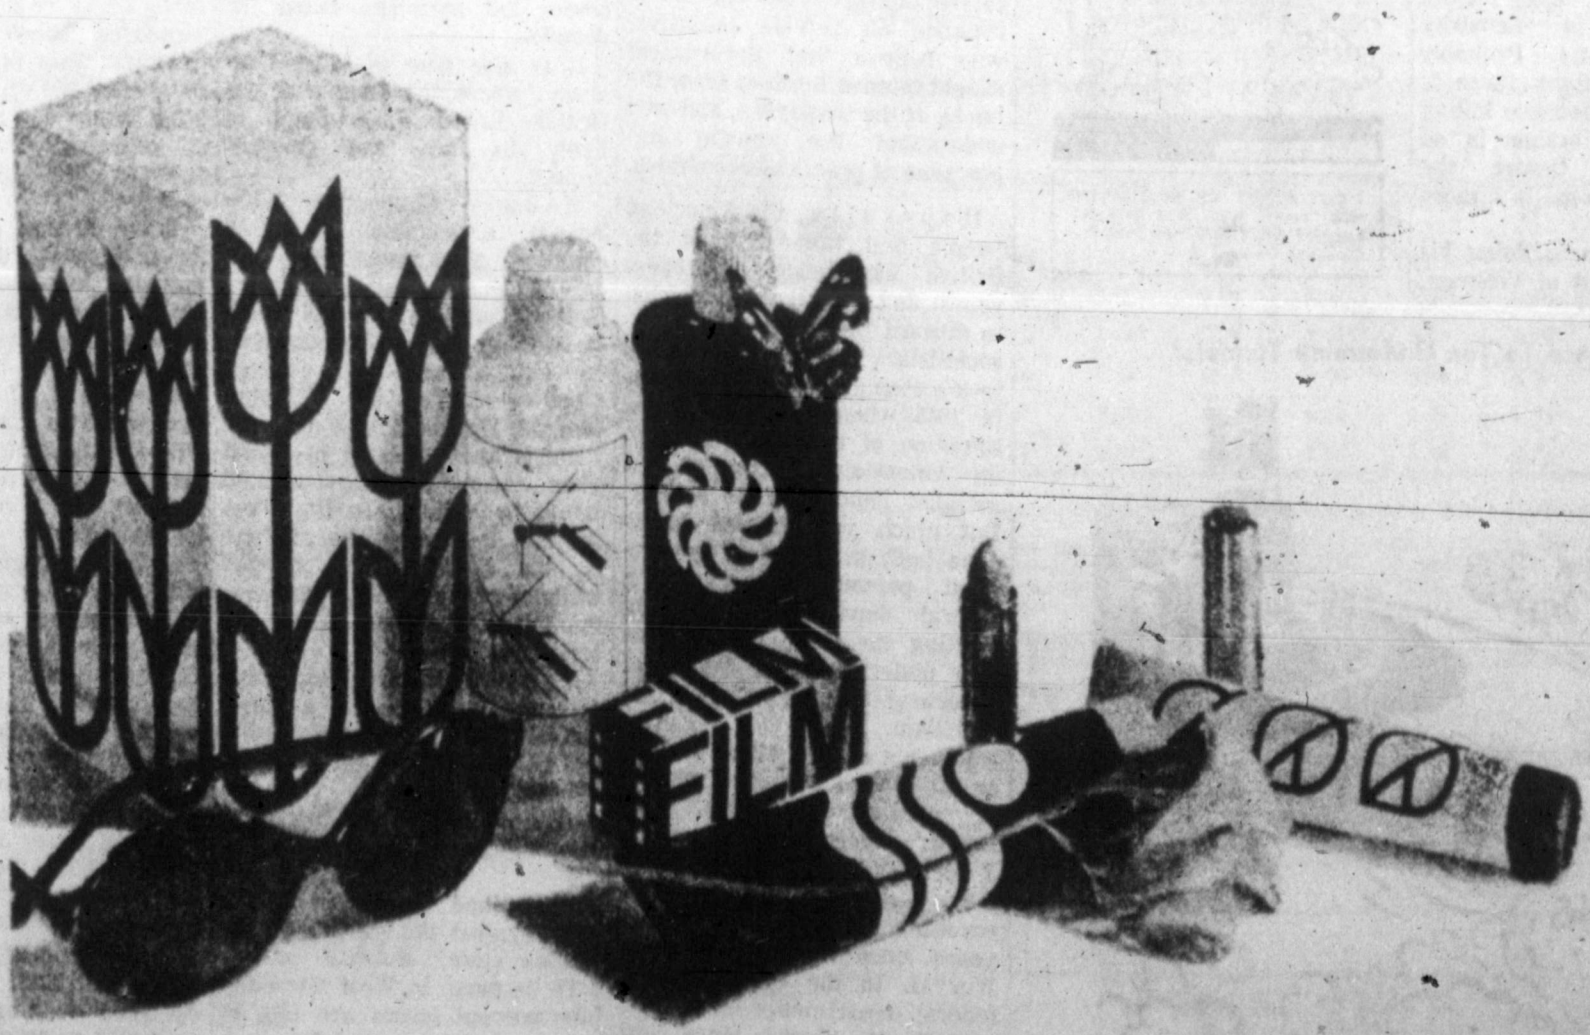

Your drugstore is more than just products. It's a unique, special, personal kind of place. Where people come to feel better and look younger... where people come for help. They know about your products. But do they know about you? Why not tell them your story with ads in the one medium as personal and helpful as you are. Your own daily paper. This paper.

Newspapers do a successful personal selling job because they're so immediate and local. Four out of five adults read at least one newspaper each day. To keep up with the news about things that concern them: Little League games, local politics, beauty news, health. In fact, when a recent survey asked "Where's the best place to find out about health?", one-third of those questioned said "the paper", while only nine percent mentioned radio and 23 percent TV. Doesn't the newspaper sound like the right place for your message?

Drugstore sales have been going up and up — an increase of 46.2 percent since 1963. Prescription sales are up 74.1 percent in the same period. Newspaper ads can help you accelerate those trends — if you advertise to coincide with what's news. For instance, do you advertise heating pads while a storm's in the headlines — or sunburn cream during heatwaves? The Hong Kong flu epidemic of December '68 was one of the year's biggest news stories. Many druggists ran newspaper ads describing flu symptoms, listing health aids and suggesting that sufferers see their doctors. Some 109,800,000 prescriptions were filled in just one month.

Last year, Americans spent over $12 billion in drugstores. That's a lot of make-up and film and hand lotion and prescriptions. If you'd like a nice healthy share of that $12 billion, why not run some ads right here in this paper. Discover for yourself how helpful they can be.

That's what we mean by Newspaperability.
