

BOMBING MOTIVE UNCERTAIN

Longview Superintendent Says School Buses Should Run In Fall

LONGVIEW, Tex. (UPI)— School Superintendent Charles Mathews says all 36 school buses bombed over the holiday weekend should be back in operation in time to begin busing students for the fall semester.

Justice Department Investigates Texan

WASHINGTON (UPI)— The Justice Department is investigating Julian H. Zimmerman of Austin, Tex., to determine whether he may have illegal interests.

to integrated schools for the first time this fall. But he was not anxious to claim the busing order was the motive for the bombings.

"This county has been integrated since 1963 and under court order and in May of this year the courts approved a neighborhood school plan that permitted the minimum amount of busing," Mathews said Monday.

"In light of this it is a little bit hard to determine what the motive is."

Police investigators, demolition experts, Texas Rangers and sheriff's deputies found no clues to who set off the bombs or why they were exploded.

"There wasn't a trace of anything left and they haven't come up with anything as to exactly what type of explosive it was," the police spokesman said.

"However, we believe now that practically all will be repairable and can be placed back into use by early August," he said.

Two dozen bombs exploded in a fraction of a second at 11:21 p.m. Saturday as the buses sat parked in a maintenance yard.

Motors were torn from their mounts and wheels from their axles by the force of the bombs.

Two footprints found outside the chain link fence which surrounds the maintenance yard indicated the bombers crawled under the fence and escaped the same way.

Water Board Head Says Source Of Oil Globbs Difficult To Find

AUSTIN (UPI)— Hugh Yantis, the executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, said Monday it will be difficult to find the source of biscuit sized soft globbs of petroleum that washed ashore on Gulf of Mexico beaches from Florida to Texas.

It came from the same source, although I readily admit that there could be two or more sources—either manmade or by nature," Yantis said.

Insurance Committee Recommends License Suspension For DWI

AUSTIN (UPI)— Gov. Preston Smith's committee studying the Texas automobile insurance industry has recommended drivers convicted of driving while intoxicated have their licenses suspended.

He said the water quality board worked with experts at the University of Texas, in the federal government and in private industry to find the source of the globbs. He said all the experts indicated, "it is extremely hard to come up with exact answers."

"In the absence of more sophisticated methods of testing this substance it will be extremely hard to prove conclusively where it originated," Yantis said.

The committee also recommended: —Mandatory liability insurance coverage for all drivers. —Investment income be included when insurance companies decide the costs of their premiums.

Tenant Moves So Does TV Set

Police today were investigating the burglary of an apartment at 204 E. Tyng St. in which a television set valued at $200 was taken.

The owner of the apartment Mrs. C. C. Legg, told officers a tenant had moved from the apartment Friday and had left the television behind. She said she had agreed to return it to a local appliance store because the former tenant was behind in payments on the set.

Mrs. Legg said she went to the apartment to get the set Monday, but the hasp on a screen door had been forced and the TV was gone.

In other activity, police are investigating the theft of two tires taken from Carter's Enco Service station, 2131 Perryton Parkway.

Officers said Dan Carter, operator of the station, told them he had left a lone attendant at the station Sunday.

The attendant said a car with two young men pulled in behind the station and, while one of them entered to purchase a pack of cigarettes, the other one apparently took the tires.

Value of the tires was estimated at $120.

Park 'Orgy' Results In Two Fines

A bottle of scotch, a night spent in Central Park, and an arrest by police Monday resulted in two Pampa juveniles being fined $25 and released to their parents on charges of minor in possession of alcoholic beverages.

According to officers, a 19-year-old Houston youth came to town on a motorcycle over the weekend and met a 17-year-old Pampa girl.

The two reportedly spent Sunday night in Central Park. That's where they met the juveniles.

The juveniles, both 15-year-old boys, had apparently been in possession of the liquor when they met the couple in the park.

Senators Buy Television Time To Garner Legislation Support

WASHINGTON (UPI)—In an effort which probably makes political history, some antiwar senators are using the persuasive powers of Madison Avenue to convince their colleagues to support a legislative proposal.

Starting Monday in about one quarter of the country, television commercials intended to coax enough antiwar mail to inundate Congress will be broadcast during primetime at least 10 times a week.

Simultaneously, newspaper advertisements and radio commercials will seek to drum up public support for the "end the war" amendment of Sens. George S. McGovern, D-S.D., and Mark O. Hatfield, R-Ore.

The campaign is to culminate in three weeks, when Hatfield, McGovern and their 23 cosponsors expect the Senate to begin consideration of their far reaching proposal.

If enacted, it would require President Nixon to pull all U.S. troops out of Vietnam by no later than next June 30 unless Congress specifically extends that deadline.

Probably never before have members of Congress gone over the heads of their colleagues and purchased advertising to appeal for direct public support for a legislative proposal.

The commercials and ads were prepared by "Advertising New York group which donated talent said to have a market value of $200,000. The results are slickly professional.

The advertising is paid for from a fund of $480,000 raised during a half-hour television appeal May 12 by McGovern, Hatfield and Sens. Harold Hughes, D-Iowa, Frank Church, D-Idaho, and Charles E. Goodell, R-N.Y.

The first $70,000 paid for that telecast and the rest—plus an anticipated $100,000 in new contributions—will be used for the campaign.

President Nixon already has struck back. In his television interview last week, he argued that the McGovern-Hatfield Amendment—the specifically named it, leading McGovern to demand free equal time to answer—would make certain the Paris negotiations got nowhere.

Nassar Gets Medical Aid Near Moscow

MOSCOW (UPI)—President Gamal Abdel Nasser of Egypt today received medical aid and advice from Soviet doctors at a country hideaway near Moscow, according to Arab sources.

The sources said Nasser, who has been in Moscow a week trying to convince the Soviets to send him more military aid, was given a luxurious government country house to use as private sanatorium.

They said Nasser suffers from diabetes and sciatica and has been to see Soviet medical specialists several times in past years.

The medical treatment was the reason for a four-day postponement in the formal signing of a Soviet-Egyptian communique, the Arab sources said. The communique originally was to have been signed today, but now is expected to be signed Thursday.

Nixon Asks Rights Leader To Be Advisor

SAN CLEMENTE, Calif. (UPI)—President Nixon has asked civil rights leader Whitney Young to join the administration on a temporary basis as an adviser on black minority problems.

Young, director of the Urban League, is being sought as part of a new administration drive to improve the channels of communication between the President and minority groups, officials at the Western White House said during the weekend.

Young would be the first among a group of what the administration calls domestic "ambassadors" to head the divisions with dissident minorities.

PROSPECTS DIM

Minimum Wage Increase To Be Considered By Congress

WASHINGTON (UPI)—An effort to raise the minimum wage from $1.60 to $2.50 an hour will be renewed in Congress this week. Prospects for passage are dim but the measure promises to become a hot election year issue.

Rep. John Dent, D-Pa., will plunge his general subcommittee on labor into new extensive hearings featuring scores of worker and business groups. Dent's measure, much to organized labor's dismay, would provide staged increases for the various categories of workers but would not touch overtime pay provisions the AFL-CIO wants liberalized.

"We have every hope of getting action in this Congress," a Dent aide said. Privately, however, backers of the measure concede there is little chance the full House will consider the bill, much less pass it.

Dent last year introduced an AFL-CIO bill that would wipe out categories on minimum wages and give all workers, including those not now covered by the Fair Labor Standards Act (FLSA), a $2.00 an hour base wage. It would also amend the current FLSA requirement that overtime rates be paid after 40 hours of work a week, to require overtime after eight hours of work a day. It would also bring under coverage for the first time an estimated 3 million state and local government workers.

Dent, however, aware that major labor legislation has suffered steady defeats since Democrats lost their heavy congressional majorities of 1965, tempered labor's demands and introduced a new bill early this year.

The latest Dent measure would leave current overtime regulations untouched, but would raise the $1.60 an hour rate, now guaranteed for workers in large-retail stores and manufacturing plants to $2.00 on Jan. 1, 1971 and to $2.50 on Jan. 1972.

The same $1.60 an hour now guaranteed workers in small retail stores would go to $1.75 Jan. 1, 1971 and to $2.00 a year later. Workers on large farms—having eight or more full-time employees—now are guaranteed $1.30 an hour and would go to $1.50 Jan. 1, 1971 and to $1.75 a year later.

The new Dent measure also would bring under coverage for the first time nearly 17 million small farm, domestic and food service workers. They would be guaranteed $1.00 an hour starting Jan. 1, 1971, $1.25 a year later, and $1.50 starting Jan. 1, 1973.

An additional feature in the new Dent bill would provide for the first time an automatic cost of living increase in the minimum wage.

THE RIGHT SPIRIT

FLACKWELL HEATH, England (UPI)—Pub owner Fred Holstock and the regulars at his place celebrated Christmas Sunday—174 days—early. Holstock said it was the third year for their twice-a-year Christmas and now it is a regular feature of his calendar.

"It all started as a bit of a joke when someone said they didn't think the brotherly spirit of Dec. 25 lasted long enough," he said.

"I think the middle of the year is the right time to do something about it. The last Christmas is about forgotten and the next one is too far ahead."

Dear Abby
By Abigail Van-Luren

DEAR ABBY: Our hearts are torn and we are frantic. My father-in-law died last week. He entered the hospital a month ago. His memory was failing and he was confused. The doctor said the cause of death was "hardening of the arteries." We just received the report on his blood test and it showed that he had syphilis! He was 86 years old.

Worse yet, the day of Dad's funeral we received the report on my mother-in-law's blood test. It was the same as Dad's. We feel certain she was an innocent victim of circumstances. (She is 83.)

We cannot understand it, as their health had been excellent until Dad became ill. They were very active and drove their car everywhere and had no signs of anything.

I have been in the family for 42 years and felt as safe in their home as in my own. I ate and slept there, and used their bathroom, etc. Now we are scared to death.

We have children and grandchildren to think about. My husband is about to have a nervous breakdown from worry. Our doctor is a man of very few words and offers no advice on how we can protect ourselves.

Please advise us soon as Mom will wonder why we don't ask her over for a meal. She wants to give Dad's clothes to our sons, but now we are afraid to accept them. How careful should we be?

NO NAME: PLS.
DEAR NO NAME: My medical authorities have informed me that you have absolutely nothing to fear. Your mother-in-law should be examined for clinical evidence of the disease to determine if it's active. It is almost a certainty that it is not and she is not contagious.

A "man of few words" is to be admired, but not when he's a doctor and many words are necessary to answer your questions and relieve your troubled minds. It is entirely possible (and the doctor should have told you this) that the reports of the blood test are not conclusive evidence that your parents actually had syphilis. Many other conditions could have produced the same report. My medical experts say, after having Mom examined, forget it. And your father-in-law's clothing can be worn without fear of contagion.

DEAR ABBY: Minister Whipple wrote to you a second time, apologizing for equating the color "black" with wrong or evil. He feared he might have offended the black race. He was well-intentioned, but needlessly sensitive.

The color black has always been associated with evil; foreboding and tragedy. The Chinese traditionally used white as a symbol of mourning. Surely no "white" person would take this as a slam.

How about the "red" man? His color represents anger, rage, danger and communism. Or the "yellow" man? Must he always be the coward? Fortunately we have no "green" man. He would be known as the envious one. And "blue" folks would be in a constant state of depression.

It's true, the black man has suffered unjustly in our society, but amends are now being made. And more should be I think the good minister was being unduly tender.

SINCERELY, E. H.

Fenced Retreat Next To House Adds Surprise

In landscaping, a surprise can be easily achieved. It's the little things that count: a little bit of screening and a bench; a little bit of raised decking and some planters; more ambitiously, a gazebo tucked into some shrubbery.

For a simple outdoor retreat build a lacy-patterned red cedar fence, extending a few feet out from the corner of the house.

Add a baffle parallel to the house wall, or plant a shrub that will grow to the same height as the fence.

Add some cedar benches and perhaps a table, and you have a delightful hide-away that also complements the house.

If this won't look right next to the house try placing the nook at the corner of the lot, enclosed on two sides by fencing and screened and shaded by plantings.

An Overheated Economy -- How Can It Happen In America?

by DEAN C. MILLER
UPI Business Editor

NEW YORK (UPI)—William Kukers, 52, Andover, Mass., an engineer with a master's degree from Columbia University, is an angry, frustrated man who thinks his talents are being wasted in this economy. Kukers lost his job at Avco Corp. and is trying to support a family on a weekly $68 unemployment check.

Mrs. Lucille Stamey, 46, Lincolnton, N.C., has seven children to feed and no college diploma. She lost her job at a textile plant, which couldn't compete with Far East imports. She worries.

So does Don Fauer, loan manager at Idaho First National Bank in Pocatello (29,000). "People who always have been good risks are past due now," said Fauer. "We have too many delinquencies and repossessions. When will it all end?"

Relatively soon if President Nixon's plan for slowing inflation and the business recession is sound. His experts have promised that the "belt tightening" of the last 18 months will start showing positive effects in "the last half of 1970." So the countdown to the administration's moment of economic truth began at midnight, July 1.

Promises to Cool Economy
Restrict the money supply and cut government spending, it said, and the resultant reduction of consumer spending and corporate expansion would cool the overheated economy. Some suffering, but eventual correction and over-all benefit, was the promise.

Higher interest rates and taxes and cutbacks in government spending eventually did slow the business spiral. Too fast, some say. But the other half of the problem, inflation, still is with us despite the worst business turndown in 10 years.

How can this be happening in the richest, most powerful country on earth? There is no clear cut agreement on Wall Street or Beale Street, among economists or steel puddlers, politicians or labor leaders. Nor is there agreement on whether the Nixon plan is working.

United Press International reporters talked to many financial and business experts and just plain citizens to learn how they felt as the economy headed into the last half of the year. Some were frustrated, worried and doubting. Others were optimistic and seemingly secure.

Some of their principal worries:

—Gross National Product, the measure of a nation's physical production of goods and services: It fell 3.5 per cent in the first quarter after a 0.4 dip in the last quarter of 1969. That's technically a recession.

Woodcock Under Pressure
—Coming auto negotiations: Leonard Woodcock the United Auto Workers chief who took over from the late Walter Reuther, is under pressure to match other union gains and to prove himself. If strikes develop, trouble could spread through the economy. Steel, retail outlets, trucking and railroads are tied closely to Detroit's health.

—Liquidity (operating cash) crisis: On June 21, it forced the mighty Penn Central Railroad to seek reorganizational bankruptcy, a route followed several days later by two small companies, Dolly Madison Industries, Inc. and the Four Seasons Nursing Centers, a high flying stock in 1969.

—Factors supporting their optimism:

—Cuts in wholesale and raw material prices which should lead to lower retail prices.

—Upswings in housing construction and the auto industry.

—A big increase in personal income over the last few months.

The U.S. dichotomy, which sees Wall Street complaining about the Indochina War while "hard hat" construction workers march in support of it, extends to the banking industry. By American standards with eight and one-half years of uninterrupted, unparalleled prosperity until 18 months ago, the "belt tightening" has been painful and traumatic.

An estimated 4 million Americans were out of work in May when the government's unemployment index hit 5 per cent, a five-year high. Even administration officials admitted surprise.

Many Hard Hit
Auto, aerospace, lumber and construction workers were hard hit. More than 65,000 textile workers have lost jobs since last year. Steel, heart of U.S. industrial might, is hurting. Andrew Berestecky of Donora, Pa. can testify to that. A 30-year veteran at U.S. Steel Corp., Andy was laid off in late January when the Defense Department reduced orders for bomb "bodies" used in Vietnam.

"When you have two boys in college, you feel the squeeze," said Andy.

Consumer prices rose at a 6 per cent adjusted annual rate in May, the same as in April. The theoretical basket of goods and services which Americans bought for $10 in the 1957-59 base index period today costs $13.46.

Wall-Street has watched the longest bear market in history rip about $300 billion in paper value off its stocks since the Dow Jones industrial average hit 963.21 on Dec. 3, 1968.

The highest interest rates in 100 years generated an operating cash pinch which not only put Penn Central to the wall but also has forced many brokerage houses to shut down or merge. Hurt by reduced government spending, the giant Lockheed Aircraft Corp. has been cited in congressional testimony as being in a vulnerable financial position.

Corporate profits, on the decline for four years, were down 11 per cent in the first quarter compared with the similar 1969 period.

"You can buy second hand corporate jets pretty cheap now," quipped a New York banker during a recent briefing on how big business is cutting back.

Few Able to Build
Mortgage rates, which averaged 8.44 per cent in May, are so high today that few Americans can afford to buy or build homes even though 4 million want and need them. Len Nelson of Eugene, Ore., recently walked around his idle $1.3 million plywood plant and said, "I doubt that we'll ever make another sheet of plywood."

Reflecting how Europe is tied to the U.S. economically are stock exchange figures from Jan. 1 to May 27 of this year. While the New York Exchange dropped 23 per cent stocks on the European Exchange fell 20 per cent. On April 30, after a series of bad days on the NYSE, the Tokyo Exchange had its worst single day in history. Daily volume on the Toronto Exchange has fallen from 3.5 million to 2.2 million.

Aside from personal suffering, many Americans are disturbed because this is happening in an economy Treasury Secretary David M. Kennedy recently described as "basically sound." Most bankers, economists and stock analysts and ordinary citizens agree with Kennedy.

"Americans are sick and tired of turmoil and distrust," a top Wall Street analyst said. "They won't believe anything until there is a series of turnarounds. And they don't see it so far."

Many, however, do see signs that the country is rounding the corner.

"I think there will be definite improvement in the last quarter," said Leif Olsen, chief economist for First National City Bank, second largest in the country.

"Even though we're in a stretched recession we expect a good economic upturn in the second half," said John J. Arens, vice president of Loomis Sayles and Co., Boston.

There are positive indicators, as well as positive opinions, especially in the vital area of prices. The wholesale price index has declined consistently since January. It was 7 per cent then and only 1.3 in May. Raw material prices since mid-February have dropped 4 per cent. Retail prices logically are expected to follow suit.

Forecasts of a 3 per cent real, or noninflationary, GNP growth in the last half of 1970 are being made by responsible economists.

Consumers, saving their money at about an 8 per cent clip while ignoring "hard items" such as color TV and autos, seem to be getting back into the buying market. For one reason, they have more money due to the recent 15 per cent increase in Social Security benefits and the 6 per cent pay raise for the federal government's massive work force. And the 5 per cent income tax surcharge was dropped July 1.

Housing construction is up and some even see a boom in the making. In May the annual rate of housing starts stood at 1.2 million, about 100,000 more than the January rate.

Auto assemblies in May rose 15 per cent to a seasonally adjusted annual rate of 1.1 million units. The January figure was 675 million.

Steel is benefiting by Detroit's comeback and less import pressure.

Business reaction to President Nixon's June 17 state of the economy address was generally favorable. His plan to have the Council of Economic Advisers issue reports and "inflation alerts" in sensitive price areas sounded like a form of "jawboning" which he has.

Labor Leaders Hostile
Labor leaders were hostile to the message. They're not anxious to experience administration arm twisting during wage negotiations in the last half of the year which, in major industries alone, cover almost 900,000 members.

While the switch from a wartime to a peacetime economy will wrench some segments of the economy, it is applauded in virtually all business and financial quarters. The phased withdrawal from Indochina has reduced military spending by $18 billion over the last 18 months. It has hurt some industries dependent on war, but it also helps balance the U.S. budget and quiet domestic turmoil.

The thousands of soldiers returning to the domestic labor market, while threatening more unemployment, also should increase industrial productivity and help stop the "cost-push" price spiral.

This is an election year. It's unlikely the administration will permit a major recession to dull its November image. It could prime the pump in many logical ways under the conversion to peace time priorities: Build roads, encourage housing pollution projects, inner city improvements, better transportation.

Both Nixon and Arthur Burns, chairman of the Federal Reserve, have promised to loosen the money supply if the liquidity squeeze gets too painful. Actually, without fanfare, the Fed sliced substantial amounts of additional money into the economy in the last five months.

According to some key indicators and UPI soundings around the country, the picture is one of cautious optimism. If there are no auto strikes in the fall, if withdrawal from Indochina continues in schedule and if the Middle East doesn't blow up there is reason to expect an upturn in the last half of 1970 but plenty of corrective work still will be necessary in 1971.

Cambodian Foreign Minister Asks For Economic Assistance

SAIGON (UPI)—Cambodian Foreign Minister Koun Wick conferred for half an hour with the ministers from Thailand, South Vietnam, Australia and South Korea and then went to the residence of U.S. Ambassador Ellsworth Bunker for his meeting with Rogers.

U.S. sources said Wick "presented no laundry list of requests" but did ask for military uniforms, more equipment, better communication facilities, trucks and jeeps.

He also reportedly told Rogers there was no shortage of volunteer soldiers in Cambodia but that the Phnom Penh government had to freeze the number of inductees they could handle now because of lack of equipment.

The U.S. sources said Rogers gave Wick no commitments but conveyed on behalf of President Nixon the intentions of the United States "to help Cambodia."

WHAT'S IN A NAME?
BUXWORTH, England (UPI)—In 1934, the citizenry of Bugsworth traded the "GS" in their town's name for an "X" because who wants to live in a town called Bugsworth.

A generation later, the citizenry of Buxworth is thinking maybe the old ways are best after all.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
WASHINGTON (UPI)—Good deeds often are contagious. You do something nice for someone and he'll do something nice for someone else. And this keeps up until eventually someone does something nice for you.

Such a chain reaction of good deeds may have been started the other day when an American beverage company announced it was donating 60,000 cases of a diet drink to Lans.

The fact that sales of the product had been banned in the United States because it was sweetened with cyclamates caused some skeptics to question the generosity of the gift.

One Scrooge-like utterance came from Rep. Charles A. Vanik, D-Ohio, who voiced suspicion that a tax gimmick was involved. At any rate, he said, sending diet drinks to "starving people" was ridiculous.

I feel certain, however, that the company was motivated by the purest altruism, which may inspire other firms to emulate the gesture.

Ford Could Enter Spirit
The Ford Motor Co., for example, could enter into the spirit by giving Laos or some other Southeast Asian nation the plans and specifications for the Edsel.

Those plans cost Ford a lot of money but surely it would be willing to share them with some underdeveloped nation that was trying to get started in the auto-business.

And if Ford donated the plans and specifications for the Edsel, most likely one of America's leading breakfast cereal producers would then contribute its formula for "instant bananas."

Corn flakes with "instant bananas" were introduced with a big advertising splash a few years ago and stayed on the market for about as long as it took the average consumer to try one bowlful.

I'm sure the Laotians would be delighted to lay hands on the formula.

Impulse Might Spread
The benevolent impulse then might spread to the American music company that owns the copyright to a 1948 presidential election song titled "Congratulations, Tom Dewey!" The Laotians would love it.

And that in turn might prompt a well-known firm of architects to donate the blue Building so that it could be duplicated in the Laotian capital.

The fashion designer who created the American version of the Nehru jacket might send over his patterns and whoever owns the patent for jula hoops might forfeit his rights in Laos.

There simply is no stopping bigheartedness once it starts snowballing. Why, I might even give them my copy of "How to Double Your Money on Wall Street."

Czech Leader Attacks Dubcek
VIENNA (UPI)—Czechoslovak Communist leader Gustav Husak charged Sunday his disgraced predecessor, Alexander Dubcek, had caused "unprecedented disintegration to the party" and led the country "to the brink of disaster."

Husak previously attacked the former leadership of the party in late June, but until Sunday had refrained from mentioning Dubcek by name.

Dubcek also was denounced at a series of local party meetings held in the last several days throughout the country. His expulsion from the party 10 days ago was widely supported, Husak said, according to a report of the news agency CTK.

The direct attacks on the fallen hero of the 1968 "Prague Spring" reform movement were considered a possible signal the hardline conservatives who now control the Czech party might be preparing a political trial for Dubcek.

Husak denied, without citing them, Western reports that indicated he had opposed the expulsion of Dubcek from the party.

Diplomats had reported Husak had argued against the expulsion and had been voted down 7-4 in the party presidium.

TO ERECT STATUE
MOSCOW (UPI)—A bronze statue of Soviet cosmonaut Yuri Gagarin will be erected in the suburban area where he lived until he died in a 1968 plane crash, the newspaper Vechnaya Moskva said Monday.

The statue will be in "Star City," the area the government has established for all Soviet cosmonauts and their families. Gagarin was the first man in space, first orbiting earth in April, 1961.

La Raza Unida Wins Election Ballot Berth

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI) — The fledgling La Raza Unida (United Race) party won a berth on the November general election ballot in Hidalgo County Monday, ending a confusing controversy of many months that even had state officials on hand.

Hidalgo County Judge Milton Richardson announced his decision today before an almost empty courtroom with only three La Raza officials on hand.

The judge apparently decided that Secretary of State Martin Dies' ruling that La Raza had met all requirements took precedence over the opinion of Attorney General Crawford Martin that the party had not met all requirements.

La Raza has only one candidate for Hidalgo County office to go on the ballot Alejandro Moreno of Pharr, Tex., will run for county commissioner.

Efrain Fernandez, founder of the Hidalgo County La Raza who now says he is only a member, said he was very pleased with the long battle's turnout. Party county chairman Andres Narvaez said he had been hoping for victory. He said if the decision had gone against La Raza, the party would have gone to court.

La Raza attorney David Hall said he had not been certain what the judge was going to do but said he was not totally surprised, since the secretary of state has limited power to a rule on election matters.

What Bankers Say...

By United Press International

Talk to bankers in New York, Boston and San Francisco and there is unanimous agreement the country is in bad economic shape.

But what do the smaller bankers, the ones in Middle America, think about the economy. UPI made random telephone calls to three such bankers and got these opinions:

William Smith, president, First National Bank of Lincoln, Neb. (150,000): "Guess we're sort of an island compared with the big centers out East. But business in our part of the country is pretty darned good. We're essentially agriculture and livestock, and both are having good years. Crops and weather both good. Last year, too. Autos are about our only weak area and some other durable goods. But the owner of a big apparel shop here was just telling me he's having a banner year. Unemployment is about nil, about 2 per cent. Are we concerned nationally? Yes. We're worried that the slowdown may be with us for some time, but don't live in fear of a major recession."

Don Fauer, loans manager, Idaho First National Bank, Pocatello 29,000: "What concerns me right now is that most people are over-financed. They have too much out and can't find an escape source. People who always have been good credit risks now are 30 or more days past due on loans. We're involved with too many delinquencies and repossessions. I don't know where it all will end, but it seems to me some institutions are in for some pretty good losses."

George Merriman, president, Corpus Christi State National Bank, Tex. (200,000): "Well, we know for sure money is tight and has been for some time. But we think it will clear up in the fall. Our area is pretty diversified. Agriculture, livestock, industry, oil. Our unemployment rate probably is below the national level. We're rolling along fine. No, too worried."

State Of Economy Varies By Regions

By United Press International

A capsule look at the state of the economy by regions:

Northeast: Biggest employment declines in manufacturing with jobs in leather and leather products off 9,300 from last year because of imports. Textiles and electronics, also hurt by imports, off 6,000 and 4,400 respectively. Transportation equipment off 6,900 jobs.

East: In New York, many brokerage houses merging or going out of business because of Wall Street slump. Giant Penn Central forced into reorganizational bankruptcy because of an operating cash squeeze. Garment houses, some 70 years old, are folding because of consumer lethargy and worry over hemlines. Department store sales off badly. Gimble Bros., Inc. reported net profits fell 71.3 per cent in the first quarter. In Pittsburgh, Jones & Laughlin and U.S. Steel Corp. sales up in first quarter but earnings down. Employment in primary metals down 5,600 in Pittsburgh area from last year.

South: Tobacco industry hurting because of campaign against smoking but rest of agriculture holding up well. Textiles feeling the import pinch. In Atlanta, J. P. Allen, woman's specialty store, says business running behind last year; Rich's thinks business is even with or slightly better than 1969.

Midwest: Banner year in not agricultural areas. Farmers and dairy farmers expect 1970 to come close to the $16.3 billion peak income year of 1965 because of good weather and good crops. Auto industry recovering now but was hit badly in first four months. Unemployment claims for that period in Illinois, Indiana, Michigan and Wisconsin, were 96 per cent above same 1969 period. Lower priced cars selling, but higher priced cars filling the lots. Resistance to durable goods.

Southwest: Economy generally good. Some cattlemen report more demand than supply. Agricultural picture optimistic. Consumption of oil and natural gas continued to rise in the first half, and the petroleum industry looks for a record year.

Pacific Coast: Rather bleak because of defense contract cutbacks and stagnation in housing construction. In last two and one half years, 110,000 jobs in Southern California alone. Lockheed and North American Rockwell admittedly were hurt badly because of the Indochina pullout. In the Northwest, a lumber spokesman said the industry is "just slugging along." Some improvement seen in the pulp and paperend of the business and some optimism about a possible housing construction boom.

And, just for the record: Carson City, Nev.: The state's gambling casinos reported on May 27 they had record "takes" in their first quarter. They raked in $132.8 million, almost 20 per cent more than in the same 1969 quarter.

Traffic Deaths Nationally Below Lowest Estimate

By United Press International

The nation's Fourth of July holiday weekend traffic death toll might finish under the National Safety Council's minimum estimate of 560, it appeared Monday.

The council had estimated before the 78-hour holiday period began that between 560 and 660 persons would be killed on the nation's highways.

A United Press International count at 3 a.m. EDT showed at least 507 persons killed in traffic accidents between 6 p.m. local time Thursday and midnight Sunday.

A breakdown of accidental deaths:

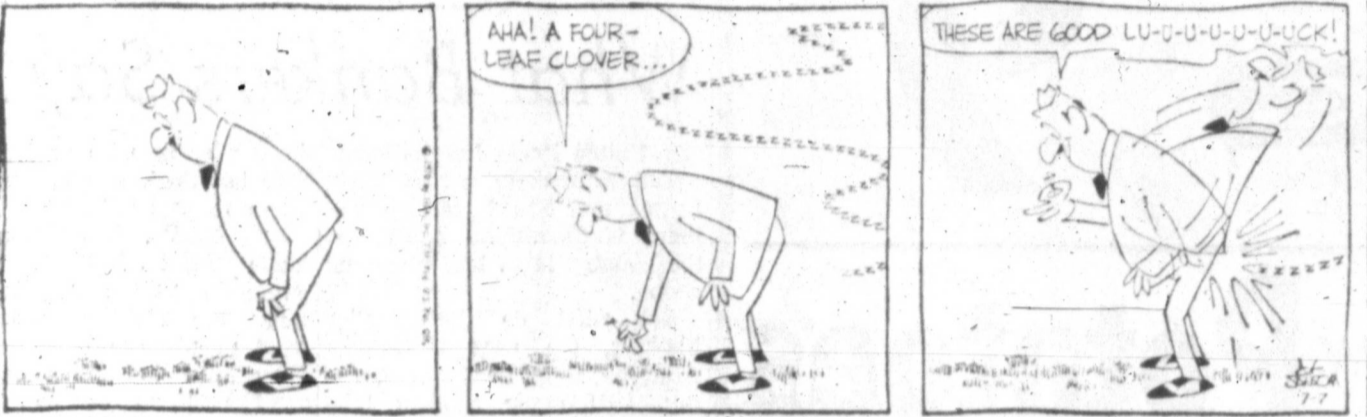

Traffic	507
Drown	167

California led the states with 48 traffic deaths. Texas had 39, New York 30, Pennsylvania 24, Ohio 23 and Georgia, Michigan and Tennessee, 20 each.

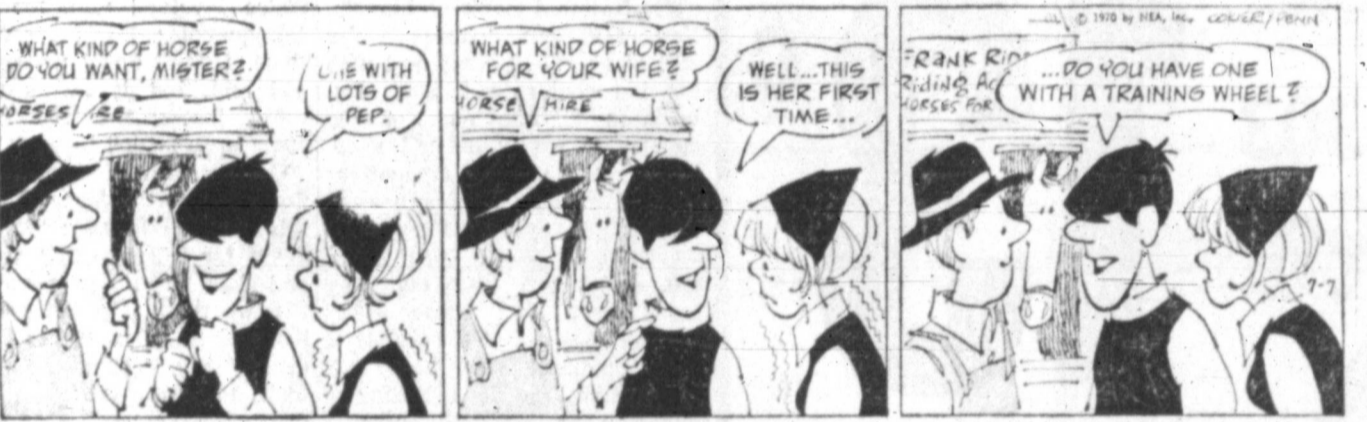

Alaska, Connecticut, Delaware, Kansas, Utah and Washington, D.C., reported no traffic deaths.

Powell Top Choice On AL Squad

NEW YORK (UPI)—First baseman Boog Powell and outfielder Frank Robinson, the 12th punch of the defending champion Baltimore Orioles, were top-heavy choices today when they were named to an American League All-Star team dominated by sluggers.

CARL YAZSTRZANSKI

BILL FREEHAN

Also named to the team which will face the National League Stars on July 14 in Cincinnati were catcher Bill Freehan of the Detroit Tigers, second baseman Davey Johnson of the Orioles, shortstop Luis Aparicio of the Chicago White Sox, third baseman Harmon Killebrew of the Minnesota Twins and outfielders Frank Howard of the Washington Senators and Carl Yazstrzanski of the Boston Red Sox. Johnson was selected by Oriole Manager Earl Weaver because Rod Carew of the Twins, the runaway winner, in the fans' voting for a second baseman, is sidelined with an injury. Commissioner Bowie Kuhn announced that 2,034,724 votes were cast and said the total is believed to be the largest computerized vote ever taken in sports. Powell, who is batting .315 and leads the league in RBI in games through Sunday, was the biggest vote-getter with 1,007,930. Norm Cash of the Tigers was second among first basemen with 200,276 and the five first basemen who trailed Powell in the voting totaled 555,714 votes.

BOOG POWELL

Actually, the only close vote was at shortstop where Aparicio won with 532,825 votes to 531,024 for Rico Petrocelli of the Red Sox. Jim Fregosi of the Angels was a distant third with 191,201. The National League team, announced Monday, is composed of catcher Johnny Bench and third baseman Tony Perez of the Cincinnati Reds, first baseman Richie Allen of the St. Louis Cardinals, second baseman Glenn Beckert and shortstop Don Kessinger of the Chicago Cubs, and outfielders Hank Aaron and Rico Carty of the Atlanta Braves and Willie Mays of the San Francisco Giants.

CUBS SWEEP EXPOS

Milan Goes 6 For 6 As Braves Roast SF

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Felix Millan is too cautious for his own good. The Atlanta Braves' second baseman doubled in the seventh inning Monday night for his fifth straight hit and was thrilled with his 5-for-5 game. But he was dismayed in the eighth when the Braves got another rally going and his turn came up again. He didn't want to bat because he was afraid he'd spoil his perfect night. The Braves were romping to a 12-1 victory over the San Francisco Giants, so it didn't matter if he batted again.

"It's the first time I can ever remember not wanting to take my turn," Millan said. "But Bob Apromonte talked me into going up there."

Naturally, Millan collected a single and for the 38th time in modern major league history, a player went 6-for-6 in a nine-inning game. Millan drove in four runs and scored two runs in the rout. In other games, Chicago swept a doubleheader from Montreal, 3-2 and 14-2. Cincinnati blanked San Diego, 5-0. Pittsburgh nipped Philadelphia, 7-5. New York blasted St. Louis, 10-3, and Los Angeles topped Houston, 10-8.

In the American League, Cleveland beat Washington, 6-1. Milwaukee topped Chicago, 3-1. Detroit edged Boston, 6-3. California beat Kansas City, 6-2, and Minnesota nipped Oakland, 2-1. New York and Baltimore were not scheduled.

Ron Santo drove in 10 runs, eight of them in the second game, with three homers and a bases-loaded walk to lead the slumping Cubs to their sweep over Montreal. It was the first doubleheader sweep in almost a year for the Cubs.

Tommie Agee hit for the cycle as the Mets routed St. Louis. Agee singled in the third, hit a three-run homer in the fourth, doubled in a run in the fifth and tripled in the seventh. Ron Swoboda and Ken Stigleton also homered for the Mets and Jim McAndrew went eight innings to get the victory.

Golfers Probing British Course

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Six years ago, the late Tony Lama did the "impossible." He tamed the tough old course at St. Andrews at virtually first sight to win the British Open golf championship. Lama, killed in an airplane crash in 1966, had played only one round of 18 holes in preparation for his assault on the ancient title after flying in 36 hours before the start on his first visit to Britain.

No one in the star-studded field assembled for the 21st Open at St. Andrews will go into this week's championship with that kind of flimsy preparation. Monday, the course was dotted with the elite of world golf and they continued today to grapple with the famed links, seeking out its fairway hazards and striving to read the vast and intricate greens. Among those in the favored group are past winners Jack Nicklaus and Gary Player—still flourishing members of the so-called "big three" of golf.

Cleveland Garners 6-4 Victory Over Senators

By NEIL HERSHBERG
UPI Sports Writer

Starting pitcher Sam McDowell, the ace of the Cleveland staff came back in the ninth inning to preserve his own 6-4 win Monday night, over the Washington Senators. Manager Alvin Dark had shifted McDowell to second base in the eighth inning, and brought in righthander Dean Chance with runners on second and third and two out. Chance walked Frank Howard intentionally to load the bases before getting Rick Reichardt to hit a grounder to third baseman Eddie Leon who fired to McDowell for the force play to end the inning.

Then McDowell returned to the mound and retired the

Clay Loses Court Battle

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—Cassius Clay has lost another court battle aimed at overturning his conviction on charges of draft evasion.

The 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals ruled Monday a lower court was correct in deciding federal wiretaps had nothing to do with convicting the former heavyweight boxing champion.

Clay, who prefers his Black Muslim name Muhammad Ali, was convicted June 29, 1967, of refusing induction into the Army. The conviction was appealed all the way to the U.S. Supreme Court.

While it was pending there, the federal government disclosed five telephone conversations involving Clay were tapped by the FBI. The Supreme Court sent the case back to a district court.

U.S. District Court Judge Joe Ingraham of Houston reviewed the matter and ruled all five conversations were irrelevant to the conviction.

The circuit court's decision Monday upheld Ingraham's ruling.

Pampa All-Stars Defeat Dumas

CANYON—Mike Coulter Struck out 14 batters here Monday afternoon to lead the Pampa 12-year-old All-Stars to a 10-0 victory over Dumas in the Canyon Babe Ruth Tournament.

Pampa was to play Muleshoe this afternoon. A victory would put Pampa in the finals tonight.

Stewart To Race In New Car

WATKINS GLEN, N.Y. (UPI)—Scotland's Jackie Stewart, the reigning world drivers' champion, will put the new Chaparral 2J through its first high speed time trials today for its racing debut Sunday in the Canadian-American championship.

The new car, developed by Texan Jim Hall, has never raced before. It was unveiled earlier this week, and Monday Stewart announced he would compete in his first Can-Am event in the latest American racing car.

Despite the highly touted new Hall entry into the Can-Am series, the money is still riding on the McLaren team cars piloted by Americans Dan Gurney and New Zealand's champion. The cars have won Denis Hulmet, a former world champion. The cars have won 14 Can-Am races, including every race last year and the first two held this year, both in Canada.

The Can-Am on Sunday is the finale of a racing double header that features a six-hour endurance race for the world manufacturers' championship on Saturday.

In the endurance contest, Ferrari will make an all-out effort to catch up on the lead built by the German Porsches in earlier races this season. Ferrari has entered two cars, with former Indy "500" winner

Mario Andretti and Belgium's Jacky Ickx the lead drivers.

The two factory prepared Porsches will have England's Jo Siffert and Mexico's Pedro Rodriguez as lead drivers. Co-drivers for both Ferrari and Porsche will be named later.

All cars will practice Wednesday and Friday, with Thursday off for the mechanics to work on the cars.

Television In Review

By DICK DU BROW

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — "Honor America Day" ceremonies, the silent majority's answer to Woodstock, were televised from Washington, D.C. in great detail during the July 4 weekend by all the major networks.

Both commercial and educational television offered lengthy broadcasts Saturday in covering the day and night events that ranged from patriotic songs to religious evocations and, later, to top show business entertainment.

Televisioners saw the large turnout of spectators that showed up at the Lincoln Memorial, where Billy Graham's oratory highlighted the daytime services, and at the Washington Monument, where the entertainment hosted by Bob Hope took place in the evening.

Hope and Graham were co-chairmen of the nationwide observances marking Independence Day.

At times during the ceremonies, televisioners could hear the shouts of some demonstrators who tried to intrude on the day's events, but their effect seemed minor.

In addition to Graham's impassioned sermon, the highlight of the daytime happenings was Kate Smith's eternally rousing rendition of "God Bless America," which has been a national fixture, as sung by her.

since the administration of President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

The evening show, which was culminated by a colorful fireworks display, included in addition to Hope, such stars as Red Skelton, Jack Benny, Dorothy Lamour and Glen Campbell. The finale consisted of patriotic music and choral work that blended in with the fireworks and brought cheers from the audience on hand.

There was little question that Skelton was the biggest hit of the entertainment. And there was no doubt that he was really something special. The trouble with his regular CBS-TV series, which was canceled and left him free to be picked up by NBC-TV for this fall, is that he rarely had the chance to just cut loose as he loves to do in front of a live audience. But he did that at the "Honor America Day" show.

In addition to his wonderfully loose style, and his incomparable brand of earthy, low humor—which is vastly underrated by persons who take Skelton too much for granted—he stopped the show with a piece of material perfect in its appropriateness: His famous recollection of a teacher who explained, phrase by phrase, what the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag means. When Skelton finished, he got an ovation.
