

Mystery Motive In Lubbock Shooting

By MIKE WESTER
LUBBOCK (UPI)—The identity of the man who fired six bullets into the abdomen and one arm of City Zoning Administrator A.J. Prim is not the only thing puzzling authorities. They have yet to establish a motive for the attempted murder.

Prim said he was shot Wednesday by a man who asked him for a ride.

Deputies said when Prim was taken to a hospital he had rings, a watch and some money in his possession and therefore figured robbery was not the motive.

Mayor James H. Granberry said he read the police's preliminary report of the shooting but knew nothing else. He said the current theories on the shooting are "just wild speculation."

Cause Unknown

"I don't know what caused it," Granberry said. "Most of our zoning cases recently have been routine."

Prim was reported in critical condition following surgery to remove the bullets. Investigators planned to question him further as soon as possible.

City Manager Bill Blackwell

said Prim's job was to enforce all zoning laws. He said it was too early to tell if the shooting was connected in any way with Prim's job.

Very Few Clues

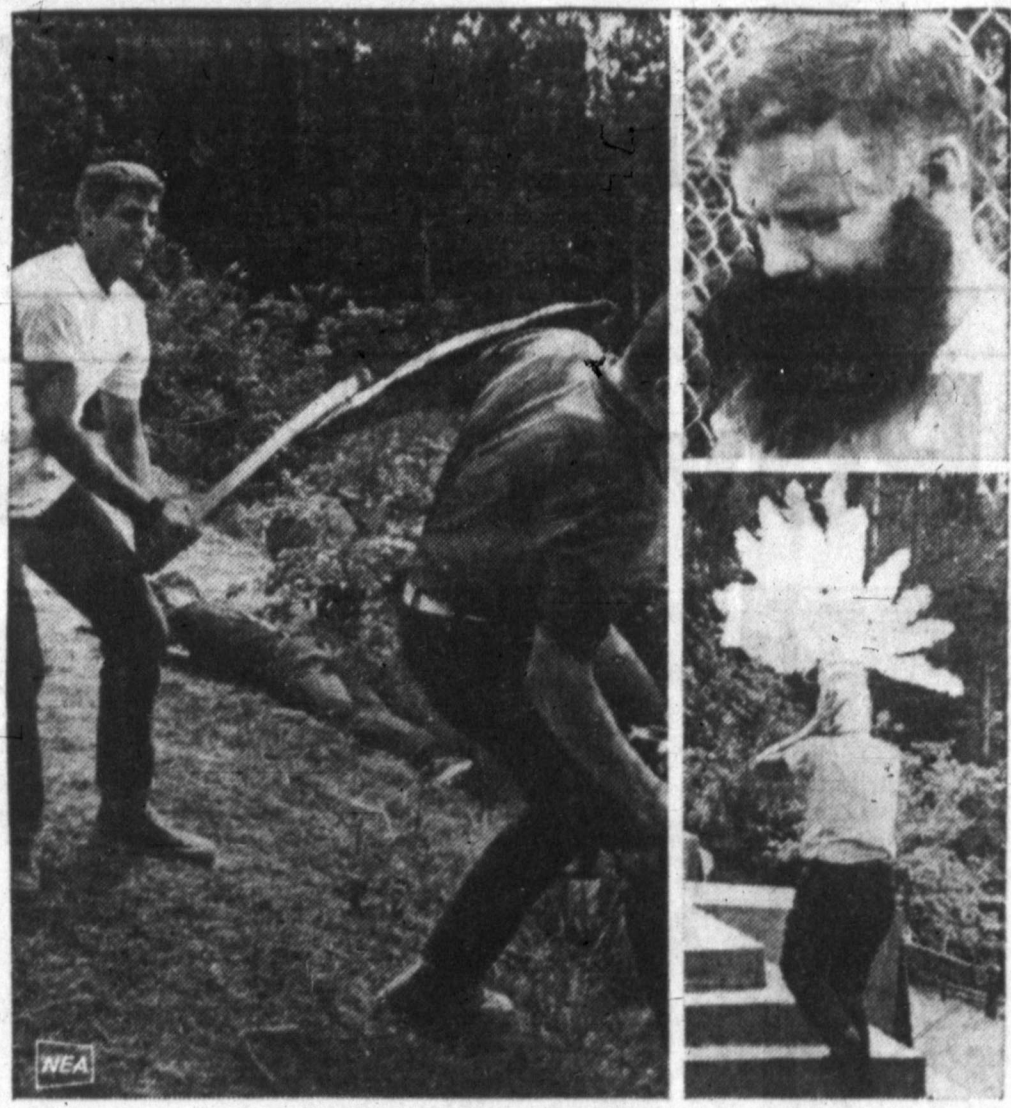

"We have no leads and very few clues at this time," chief deputy sheriff Albert Smith said. "We need to talk with Prim again. There are a lot of questions we need to get the answers to from him."

Police Chief J. T. Alley said his office was conducting a secondary investigation with the sheriff's office. He said his office would back up the deputies any way it could.

"We have not yet talked with Prim," Alley said. "We hope to question him as soon as possible."

Prim told deputies he was in his car outside a drive-in restaurant Tuesday night when a man asked Prim to drive to the country. Prim said when he stopped the car the man got out and shot him.

Prim said he drove back to Lubbock in spurts, passing out or unable to drive. Four men found him near the community of Acuff east of Lubbock at 3 a.m.

Viet Cong Criticize Inhuman Jail Systems

PARIS (UPI)—The Viet Cong said today President Nixon has supplied advisers and money to help South Vietnam maintain "inhuman jail systems" while talking about peace in Indochina.

Nguyen Minh Vy, North Vietnamese delegate to the talks, said an analysis of the Nixon administration Vietnam policy report of June 30 and Nixon's July 1 television interview "shows the policy of his administration remains strictly unchanged."

U.S. Ambassador Philip C. Habib said Nixon's statements have made it clear the administration wants peace.

"The United States remains dedicated to an early peaceful settlement of the war in Vietnam through negotiations."

"We will be reasonable and flexible," Habib said. "We will be hopeful that the other side will forego unreasonable demands in favor of genuine negotiations."

South Vietnamese delegate Pham Dang Lam accused the Communist delegations of turning their back at all Saigon government negotiating offers.

mese population is to withdraw totally all American troops from South Vietnam and drop the Thieu-Ky administration which is an American tool for repression and terror."

Dinh Ba Thi the Viet Cong's acting head negotiator, made the accusation at the 74th session of the Vietnam peace talks.

"International public opinion, including that of the United States, is extremely indignant over the inhuman jail system of the American and puppet regime in South Vietnam, especially the tiger cages of Poulo Condor (on Con Son Island) which we have often condemned," Thi said.

Several U.S. congressmen said they saw what they described as inhuman conditions in the prison when they visited it recently.

"While Nixon keeps extolling the idea of a 'just peace' for the South Vietnamese population, he has supplied dozens of advisers and hundreds of thousands of dollars for these prisons," Thi said. "The only means to put an end to the suffering of the South Vietna-

MRS. EVELYN GEE
 Funeral services for Mrs. Evelyn Fay Gee, 60, of Lefors, will be held at 2 p.m. Friday at Church of Christ in Lefors, with Pat Burk, minister, officiating, assisted by Zeb Sailors of the Church of Christ at Stinnett. Burial will be in Fairview Cemetery directed by Carmichael-Whitley Funeral Directors.

Mrs. Gladys Gee of Henrietta; two brothers, Johnny Moore of Vernon and Pete Moore of Clovis, N.M.; and 12 grandchildren.

J. N. DEWEY

Mrs. Gee was dead on arrival at Highland General Hospital at 1 p.m. Wednesday after becoming ill at her home.

She was born Nov. 11, 1909, at Cleburne and had lived in Lefors 30 years. She was a member of the Church of Christ at Lefors, and was married to Tom Gee in 1935 at Altus, Okla.

Survivors are her husband, Tom, of the home; two sons, Royce of Lefors and Gene of Olton, two daughters, Miss Glenna Sue Gee of the home and Mrs. Barbara Ann Cullon of Stinnett; four sisters, Mrs. Woodrow Tacker and Mrs. Rufe Vanek, both of Vernon, Mrs. Ralph Caddell of Petrolia, and CHEYENNE, Okla. (Staff) — Funeral services for J.N. Dewey, 38, of Cheyenne, Okla., and frequent visitor to the Pampa area, were held today at the First Baptist Church in Cheyenne, with burial in Cheyenne Cemetery directed by Scroggins and Son funeral home.

Mr. Dewey, a mechanic and pilot, died when his small plane crashed eight miles northwest of Cheyenne at the Al-Hammond Farm. He was alone in the plane when it crashed about 9:30 a.m. Tuesday. Federal Aviation Authorities are investigating the cause of the accident.

He was born March 10, 1931, at Crawford, Okla., attended Cheyenne schools and was a member of the Baptist church. He served with the Boy Scout council in Cheyenne for several years.

Survivors are his father, H.A. Dewey of Alamosa, Colo.; his mother, Mrs. Sallie Dewey of Cheyenne; two sisters, Mrs. Sylvia Bandy of Santo and Mrs. Emma Nussbaum of Raymond, Wash.; and one half brother, Clovis Miller of Strong City, Okla.

ROSS PIERSON

Funeral services for Ross Pierson, 83, of Woodward, Okla., will be held at 10:30 a.m. Friday at the First Christian Church in Woodward directed by Stecher Funeral Home of Woodward.

Mr. Pierson died Wednesday in a Woodward hospital. He was a member of the First Christian Church and of the Gage, Okla., Order of Eastern Star. He and his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Pierson, were married in September, 63 years ago.

Survivors are his widow, Mrs. Kathryn Pierson of the home; one daughter, Mrs. Carl Patchin of 2119 N. Banks, Pampa; three sons, John of Covena, Calif., Jay of Durant, Okla., and Dick of Dennison; 12 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren.

Tulsan Named To Head Lions International

Dr. Robert D. McCullough of Tulsa, Okla., was elected president of Lions International at the Association's 53rd Annual convention in Atlanta City, New Jersey, July 14. Serving as the 54th president of the world's largest humanitarian service organization, McCullough leads some 932,000 members in 24,400 clubs located in 146 countries and geographic areas throughout the world.

Lions International is best known for its aid to the blind and sight conservation activities, international relations programs, and its many community service projects. "Involvement Now" will be the primary theme during Dr. McCullough's 1970-1971 Presidential Year. The importance of taking an active interest in the welfare of the community and the necessity for increased international understanding will both be emphasized.

 ranchers in spraying range caterpillars.

Pampa is one of 12 CRMWA cities on the Lake Meredith Dam water distribution system. The city currently is in the preliminary stages to construct a $1,400,000 water treatment plant within the next few months.

Discussing U.S. District Judge H. Wearle Payne's ruling handed down at Albuquerque yesterday, Hill stated:

"I believe by the time Pampa is ready to receive water from Lake Meredith next year, the courts will have resolved the situation."

The city manager added that he did not see how the use of Toxaphene could be allowed to continue posing a threat to the public health.

Hill pointed to the federal government's concern with ecology and nationwide moves to improve the country's environmental image.

"As I see it," Hill said, "the situation of the Toxaphene used by the New Mexico ranchers is one which could eventually mean pollution of Lake Meredith water."

"I do not believe the federal government will permit it to continue and that eventually the order will go out to stop the use of any chemical which could possibly contribute to pollution."

The government, the city manager said certainly cannot afford to have two opposite views in dealing with its ecology program," the city manager added.

Missionary Musical Set For Friday

A missionary contacta, "So I Send You," will be presented at 7:30 p.m. Friday at the Bible Church of Pampa, 307 W. Foster.

Rev. H.A. Somerville, acting pastor of the church, said the program would be presented by the combined choirs of the First Congregational Methodist Church of Amarillo and the Amarillo Bible Church.

Narrator for the program will be James A. Jackson Jr., a former Lefors High School teacher. There is no admission charge.

Lefors Coed To Study In Mexico

LEFORS (Sp) —Terri Bryant, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Bryant will leave Sunday for a six-weeks course at the University of Monterey in Mexico.

She will study advanced Spanish Grammar and composition.

Miss Bryant, a 1966 graduate of Lefors High School, was valedictorian, member of National Honor Society, homecoming queen and cheerleader.

Most recently, Terri has gained campus-wide recognition at WT as the Most Beautiful Coed of 1969-70 and she was finalist in the American Royal Queen Contest.

She is a member of the Delta Zeta Sorority and has maintained a three-point average in Spanish at the university.

Chemical Cure In Oyster Bed Vowed In August

HOUSTON (UPI)—A spokesman for a chemical plant accused of dumping dangerously high amounts of mercury into the Houston Ship Channel said Wednesday the company will cure the problem by the end of this month or in August.

But the spokesman denied a report by the federal government on the amount of mercury being poured into the channel. The spokesman said the mercury was not at a dangerous level.

Sources in the Interior Department in Washington said Wednesday streams and rivers in six states including Texas and Louisiana have enough mercury pollution to cause concern and in some cases legal action.

The sources said authorities consider half a part per million to be the highest permissible mercury content in water. Beyond that, water is believed to be unsafe for humans. The tests showed levels higher than that cuffed in streams and lakes in Texas and Louisiana.

This Little Pig Went...To School

The dog warden usually picks up stray dogs. Wednesday he picked up a stray hog.

According to police reports, dog warden Don Armstrong received a call Wednesday from the school bus barn, 116 Purviance. The caller said a "big white hog" had strayed onto the school property.

The report said the hog is a white sow, weighing 200 pounds.

The little pig who went to school may be claimed by contacting Armstrong at police headquarters.

Abraham In Austin To Study Election Law Change

CANADIAN (Sp) — State representative Malouf Abraham will be in Houston Friday to participate in a public hearing of the Texas election Code Committee.

Abraham, one of five members appointed by House Speaker Mutscher, will study changes to the next session of the legislature.

The interim committee will hold a series of meetings over the state to hear suggestions on changes in the present law.

Abraham is an advocate for moving the primary elections back to August with run-offs in September prior to the general election in November.

He stated, "People get tired of hearing politicians all year long. Presently, it is necessary to file the first part of February which is nine months before the general election."

"A shorter election period would also cut down on campaign expenses," he said.

Add Cheese, Olives To Spanish Hamburgers

Spain remains a masculine stronghold. A few women are in business but, traditionally, the mother-housewife stays home. In fact, a businessman's wife rarely is invited to business dinners or lunches. I discovered while sampling menus in Madrid and Sevilla. His secretary may accompany the executive but rarely his spouse.

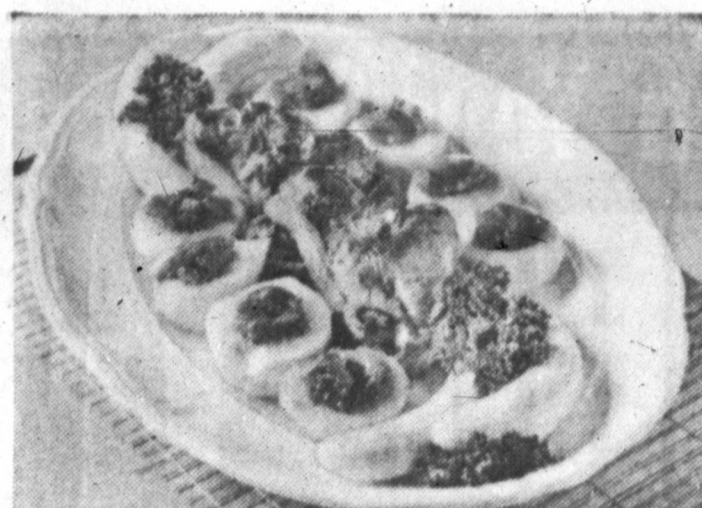

Separation of male-female duties heightens the surprise of finding a Spanish aristocrat who likes to cook and is proud of his culinary interests. He is Luis de Soto, an olive grower and executive in the Spanish

Olive Commission. Fortunately, his interests in food meld with his duties. The charming man came up with a tempting variation on the American hamburger. For some reason Europeans and hamburger preparation are at odds. Senor de Soto's version features square beef patties, pan-broiled with a tempting topping of cheese and chopped pimento-stuffed olives with a tomato sauce on the side. They're muy bueno!

SPANISH OLIVE CHEESEBURGERS
1 can (15 ounces) tomato sauce with tomato bits

1/2 cup small pimento-stuffed olives
1 tablespoon dark brown sugar
1 pound ground beef
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
1 small onion, coarsely chopped
1/2 cup diced green pepper
1 clove garlic, halved with salt and pepper. Brown on both sides. Remove from skillet and keep warm. Melt butter in same skillet; add onion, green pepper and garlic. Sauté until lightly brown. Discard garlic and add chopped olives. Arrange toast on heat-proof serving dish. Place hamburgers on toast and top with olive mixture, then cheese. Broil until cheese melts. Spoon tomato sauce around burgers and serve. Makes 4.

Fresh peaches enhance lamb chops.

Peachy Lamb Chops Add Menu Variety

Lamb chops fresh peaches filled with chutney, and slightly green bananas broiled together produce a different and very delicious main dish.

Peaches are in full season now. Incidentally, most of them come from Georgia and South Carolina, known as "Peachland, U.S.A."

PEACHY BROILER MEAL
4 lamb chops, about 1-inch thick

4 medium-sized firm or slightly green-tipped bananas
4 firm peaches, peeled, halved and pitted
One-third cup chutney
2 tablespoons melted butter or margarine
1 1/2 teaspoons sugar
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
Salt and pepper to taste

Cut fat edges of chops at 1-inch intervals. Arrange lamb chops, bananas and peaches (cut side up) on broiler rack. Spoon chutney into peach centers. Mix together butter or margarine, sugar and lemon juice. Brush fruit with butter mixture. Broil about 4 inches from source of heat about 8 minutes. Turn chops and bananas. Brush bananas with butter mixture. Remove peach halves (keep warm). Continue broiling chops and bananas until chops are desired degree of doneness, about 6 minutes. Season with salt and pepper. Four servings.

To warm leftover rolls, place them in a dampened brown paper bag and bake in a medium oven for 10 minutes. The rolls should be just as fluffy as when first baked.

If you can hose down your roof on real hot days it adds to the life of the roof and makes the home cooler.

Serve Cherry Flip To Chase Thirst

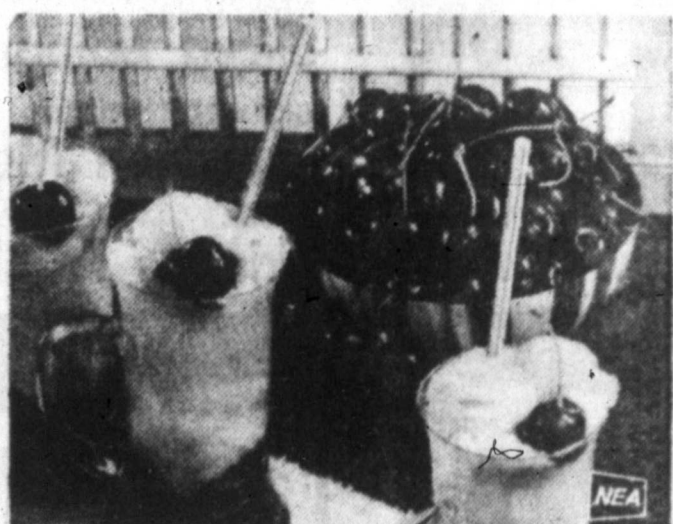

It's time to enjoy the fruits of the land. Fresh sweet cherries spell Summer in a bowlful, even for those who have never picked and eaten juicy cherries right from the tree.

An icy refresher for dessert or for an afternoon treat when the gals come in to chat is a cherry flip.

The recipe calls for several scoops of ice cream, lemon-lime carbonated beverage, a dash of sugar and a generous handful of fresh cherries.

CHERRY FLIP
One-third cup halved fresh sweet cherries
1 teaspoon sugar
2 scoops vanilla ice cream
1/2 (10-oz.) bottle Lemon-lime carbonated beverage whole fresh sweet cherry, for garnish

Place cherries and sugar in tall glass. Add a scoop of Cherry flip—summer refresher.

Blueberry Desserts Add Summer Bonus

Anywhere you turn today you'll find fresh blueberries. Remember what Oscar Wilde said: "The only way to overcome temptation is to give in to it." So here goes:

BLUEBERRY BUTTERSQUOTCH RUSSE
1 package butterscotch pudding and pie filling
2 cups milk
2 teaspoons aromatic bitters
2 teaspoons grated orange rind
2 cups fresh blueberries
1 cup heavy cream
1/2 pt. whipped Ladyfingers

Additional blueberries

Prepare pudding according to package directions, using 2 cups milk. Cook while stirring until mixture bubbles and thickens. Remove from heat, cover and cool. Fold in bitters, orange rind, blueberries and whipped cream. Line sherbet glasses with lady fingers. Spoon blueberry mixture into the center. Top with additional blueberries. Chill until ready to serve. Six servings.

DEEP-DISH BLUEBERRY PIE
5 cups fresh blueberries
1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
1 cup sugar
3 tablespoons flour
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
One-sixteenth teaspoon ground cloves
2 tablespoons butter or margarine

Pastry using 1 cup flour
Wash blueberries, drain and turn into 6x10x2-inch baking dish along with lemon juice.

Combine sugar, flour, salt and spices; sprinkle over berries. Dot with butter. Top with pastry rolled to 1/8-inch thickness. Trim, turn under and flute edge. Cut 2 or 3 vents in crust to allow for escape of steam. Bake in preheated hot oven (425 degrees) 35 to 40 minutes or until crust is browned. Serve warm or cold. Six to 8 servings.

Serve Broiled Lobster At Smokeless Cook-Out

Many families get up the pleasure of summertime cook-outs because they can't stand the mess and boer of a charcoal broiler.

Others forgo the because dad doesn't get home from work early enough to fire up the charcoal.

These problems have all been solved with the introduction of electric broilers, which eliminate the smoke, messiness, occasional flare-ups and other difficulties associated with charcoal broilers.

An electric broiler-rotisserie is equipped with a compact motor that turns meat slowly for even basting. The unit accommodates large cuts of meat, as well as chickens and turkeys.

The unit has a heating element which produces infrared waves so hot they create a thermal shield around the element. In much the same way that water droplets "bounce off" a hot iron, this thermal shield keeps grease droplets from touching the element. Result: no smoke, no spatter.

The following is a recipe for preparing lobster tails on the electric broiler.

BUTTERFLY LOBSTER TAILS
1/4 cup butter, melted
2 tbs. lemon juice
1 tbs. salt
dash of pepper
6 frozen rock-lobster tails

To prepare sauce, combine butter, lemon juice, salt and pepper.

Do not defrost. Butterfly tails with sharp knife, split down through middle of hard shell and meat, leaving end of tail and underside membrane intact. Grasp lobster in both hands and bend backwards until edges of shell meet in back and frozen meat is exposed.

Brush with sauce and place meat side down on the grill. Broil five minutes, turn and brush again while shell side grills five minutes.

Turn and grill meat side down five minutes more. Lobster is done when shell is red and flesh opaque. Makes 6 servings.

Don't let the hot water that you soak your clothes in get cold. This can cause the fabric to hold dirt.

To change the water in a flower bowl without disturbing flower arrangements use your bulb meat baster.

Don't salt roast beef until it is 75 per cent done and cooks advise. Salt draws out the juices and flavor, they say.

Catsup, relish and all sauce stains should be spaged and cleaned off with cold water before regular washing.

Use silver polish to remove burnt-on starch from the bottom of a steam iron.

Keep birthday candles in the refrigerator a day before using. They will burn slower and more evenly.

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — A blue-ribbon insurance study committee has recommended exploring Texas' compulsory auto liability coverage and a careful look at allegations that garages charge more for policy-covered repairs.

Inside Washington

President Nixon is seeking to focus public concern on the conflict in the Middle East. He obviously wants to emphasize his conviction that the conflict there is more than a dispute between the Arabs and Israelis.

In his nationally televised foreign policy review last week, Nixon characterized the Middle East situation as a "terribly dangerous" one involving the risk of a confrontation between the two super powers — the Soviet Union and the United States — "that neither of them wants."

He compared the Middle East with the Balkans before World War I where a regional conflict mushroomed into a war that changed the political complexion of the globe.

Outline of interest He also outlined in some detail America's interest in the area. The Middle East furnishes 80 percent of Europe's oil and 90 percent of Japan's oil, he said. It is the "hinge of NATO" and the "gateway through the Suez Canal down into the Indian Ocean."

"It is not only the cradle of civilization, but it also... is that area that controls so much of the world's people and the world's resources," the President said.

Nixon and his chief advisers have been concerned for some time with the Soviet military buildup in the Middle East and the threat that it would lead to Soviet domination in this vitally strategic area.

This concern turned to alarm with the recent introduction of Soviet pilots to fly Egyptian jets on protective missions over Egypt.

According to administration officials amplifying the President's position, this unexpected development dramatically altered the balance of power by eliminating almost overnight the only significant advantage Israel had over its bigger antagonists — its air force of trained personnel using sophisticated weapons.

Must Be Challenged This situation, if it continues, must be challenged by the Israelis and might eventually spiral into a direct conflict between the United States and the Soviet Union, the officials said.

They pointed out that the emphasis now was on getting the Soviet pilots withdrawn through diplomatic means, and spoke with some optimism of the new peace initiative launched by the United States.

But at the same time the administration campaign appeared to be aimed at laying the groundwork for introduction of U.S. military personnel in the area if they are required.

HEAT IS ON — BOSTON (UPI) — The heat is on the Massachusetts Legislature.

House and Senate members were informed Tuesday that due to a breakdown in electrical equipment the State House air conditioners will be out of operation for months.

WRONG OFFICE — MACCLESFIELD, England. (UPI) — Pamela Whitehead arrived 15 minutes early for her new job as a telephone operator and soon was confident she had mastered the firm's switchboard.

Answering the first call, she confidently told the man on the other end, "Sorry you've got the wrong number." The man insisted he had the right one and Pamela slowly began to realize she was in the wrong office.

She said a workman had directed her to the wrong address. She was supposed to report to work at an office across the street.

By United Press International
 ASBURY PARK, N.J. — Mayor Joseph Matice, commenting on the three days of disorders in his seaside resort city:

"We didn't know of any tensions that were building."

Report will to Gov. Preston Smith prior to the State Insurance Board hearing July 14-15 on incision of insurance company investment income in the auto re-making formula.

Smith indicated that the Board may be ready this soon to eviate the full effect of the formula change which also is bated by the study committee he named last summer as an auto policy rate hike recommended.

Most observers think motorists in for another increase in their premiums after the August 17 rate hearing, regardless of whether the Board determines that investments could be figured in the base.

Study committee, headed by rice Iniel, noted that North Carolina rates appear to be consistently low, although it also has mandatory liability coverage. Massachusetts and New York, other mandatory auto liability insurance states, have higher rates.

Committee recommended that the Legislature look into ways to stop excessive charges being made on repairs of insured automobiles which, in turn, lead to escalating rates year after year.

Insurance industry is expected to see net increases as high as 10 to 20 per cent at the August hearing.

Smith may ask Daniel's committee to examine the Board's final recommendation, as they did in 1969 (when rate adjustment was 9.9 per cent upward instead of 11.4 as originally recommended by the Board). However, the majority of the committee is cool toward going in more extended hearings to those required by their studant year.

CAPITO ADDITION ASKED

— An important part of state government may be going underground if a Building Commission proposal is approved.

Commission, in new budget requests, laid out plan for a 45,000-square-foot, $2.5 million underground addition to the capitol building, providing office space for legislators. Enlargement would be in a natural depression to the west of the present historic structure.

Commission also proposed these new projects:

$1.26 million revamping of the north approaches to the capitol, $3 million parking facility for 320 cars.

$215,000 renovation of the old Highway building for use by the Parks and Wildlife Department's new headquarters is completed.

$200,000 face-lifting of old Parks and Wildlife offices in the virtually new John Reagan State Office Building — for use by the Welfare Department when P&W moves.

$25,000 in repairs to the Governor's mansion.

COURTS SPEAK — Court of Criminal Appeals upheld a Fort Worth trial court order blocking further civil suits under the Sunday closing law until 13 cases are finally adjudicated.

State officials have taken to the 10th U.S. Court of Appeals their fight to stop spraying of land in northeast New Mexico with pesticide Toxaphene (to control tent caterpillars). State claims Toxaphene would jeopardize the purity of Lake Meredith and thereby endanger water supplies of 11 Texas cities in the Panhandle and Great Plains.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals here held J. Weingarten Inc. of Houston is entitled to recover $19,274 in chain store tax payments.

Houston Court of Civil Appeals upheld constitutionality of the Texas Clean Air Act.

Atty. Gen. Crawford Martin brought suit in Galveston County District Court to prevent 145 developers from encroaching on public beaches.

APPOINTMENTS — George P. Taylor, formerly of Shamrock and McAllen, is now director of the Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

He succeeds Bob G. Allen, native of Hamilton, who moved to a new position in the state-local relations division of the governor's office.

Governor Smith announced that C. R. Hutcherson of Lubbock will serve as executive assistant to State Democratic Executive Committee Chairman Elmer C. Baum of Austin.

Smith named Winston W. Lorenz, Stockdale mayor, to the Board of Directors of San Antonio River Authority, succeeding C. W. Millikin Jr. of Floresville, who resigned.

Robert E. Stewart took oath of office as State Banking Commissioner on July 1.

AG OPINIONS — Person who faces drivers license suspension as a result of refusing to submit to chemical breath analysis is entitled to have his hearing in the county of his residence, Attorney General Martin says.

Martin held that county attorneys can, but don't have to, represent the state in such proceedings.

In other new opinions, Martin ruled that:

Special option purchase agreement between the State Department of Agriculture and International Business Machines Corporation on data-processing equipment is constitutional, since there is no obligation to spend money beyond revenues available at the time the debt is due.

Legislature left to Commissioners Court determination as to whether office space should be furnished by the county for its home demonstration agent and county farm agent. In the absence of contractual obligation, says the AG, the Court isn't required to provide offices but has authorization to do so.

GAS RATE HIKE — State Railroad Commission granted Pioneer Natural Gas Company, serving 61 West Texas communities, a new rate of 32 cents per 1,000 cubic feet on its gas.

That amounts to four cents of the 6.43 cent increase the company requested.

Rate is still subject to approval by individual city governing bodies before it finally goes into effect.

CHARTERS FORFEITED —

Secretary of State Martin Dies Jr. announced that his office is forfeiting charters of 10,907 corporations for failure to pay state franchise taxes.

Figure, said Dies, is almost double last year's and indicates to him "this is a barometer reflecting general economic decline throughout the nation."

GRANTS APPROVED — A large range of new federal grants were approved for Texas agencies and programs. They include:

$531,286 for child development (Head Start) in Cameron County; $709,415 for emergency food and medical services; $150,605 for family planning programs; $50,135 for police tactical squad experiment; $42,000 for youth opportunity development program; and $30,000 to establish uniform procedures for recording and reporting criminal justice information.

SHORT SNORTS — Sen. A. R. Schwartz of Galveston has suggested a tax be placed on the incomes of charitable foundations and regulation of their lobbying activities.

Texas' new Board of Examiners of Psychologists has certified its first 226 psychologists, licensed 61 and certified 18 psychological associates.

Jimmy Banks, longtime writer, became public relations director of Lloyd Bentsen Senate campaign last week.

Institute of Texan Cultures has published the first three of 20 booklets on ethnic groups which settled in Texas: "Indian Texans," "Norwegian Texans," and "German Texans."

Soybean producers seeking a referendum in 23-county northwest, northeast and southeast Texas areas, on assessments to finance product promotion, will be heard here on July 20 by C. White.

Court Imposes Stricter Rules On Private Clubs

AUSTIN (UPI) — The Texas Supreme Court, overturning a lower court decision, ruled the Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission does have the authority to impose strict new rules governing the sale of mixed drinks to "guests" in private clubs.

The Lighter Side

By DICK WEST
INGTON (UPI) —
of shocking situations.
realize that it is almost ible for anyone in this y to make a living by ng poetry?
A big majority of our major poets, and almost all of the minor ones, are forced to seek other employment in order to keep body and soul together.
Many of them take jobs that are degrading and dispiriting.
Such as teaching English to college freshmen.
One famous poet, Eugene
McCarthy, has even gone so far as to moonlight as a U.S.
senator.
And what, pray, is the reason for this distressing state of affairs? Are our poets shiftless, lacking in talent and generally unworthy of patronage?

Foreign Competition Unfair
Nay, sire, our poets are diligent, brilliant and deserving.
They have been brought into their present plight by unfair foreign competition.
The United States presently has no restrictions on the importation of poetry. Consequently, the country is being flooded with verses from abroad.
In a word, U.S. poets are in the same boat with the U.S. textile, shoe, glass, steel and electronic component industries, which are beseeching
Congress for import relief.

In most cases, the type of protection being sought takes the form of import quotas. So let me be the first to advocate that Congress impose quotas on import poetry.
It will be argued, of course, that American poetry should have to stand on its own merits in the marketplace alongside the stanzas from the world's other poetry-producing regions.
Caught in Squeeze

But tree trade proponents tend to overlook the fact that U.S. poets are caught in a rightful cost-price squeeze.
Jugs of wine, loaves of bread,
barrel rent, stubby pencils, scratpads and other items used to the production of poetry have become increasingly expensive.
Meanwhile, thanks to the availability of cheaply composed foreign verse, royalties from a small volume of poems will average about $1.30.

Nixon Ask Aid For US Indians

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon asked Congress today for a comprehensive new program to help the nation's Indians, whom he termed "America's most neglected minority group."

In a special message to the House and Senate, the President said the emphasis should be on allowing American Indians independence from being cut off from federal concern and federal support.

He said the policy would reject "the extreme policy of constant paternalism" while at the same time affirming that the historic relationship between the federal government and Indian communities cannot be terminated without the Indians' consent.

Nixon's program also would return 48,000 acres of sacred land near Blue Lake in New Mexico to the Taos Pueblo Indians.

The President pointed out that the Taos had used the lake and watershed area government appropriated the starting in the 14th century by the tribe for religious purposes. In 1906, the government appropriated the land for creation of a national forest.

The President proposed legislation that would permit the Taos Pueblos "to use these lands for traditional purposes and that except for such uses the lands would remain forever wild."

"The first Americans—the Indians—are the most deprived and the most isolated minority group in our nation," the President said.

"On virtually every scale of measurement—employment, income, education, health—the condition of the Indian people ranks at the bottom."

The President, who met with a delegation of the Taos Pueblo tribal council and representatives of the national council of American Indians in the cabinet room today, said the condition of the Indians is "a heritage of centuries of injustice."

They "have been oppressed and brutalized, deprived of their ancestral lands and denied the opportunity to control their own destiny," he said.

Education Commission Report Contains Some New Surprises

DENVER (UPI)—School age youngsters may surpass their elders in textbook knowledge, but adults are usually ahead when it comes to general knowledge.

Teen-agers also appear more willing to accept members of another race than are adults in the 26 to 35 age group bracket.

The findings were contained in an initial report released today to 500 political and education leaders at the annual meeting of the Education Commission of the States.

The report was part of a near $7 million national assessment of educational progress study that was first conceived in 1963 by then U.S. Education Commissioner Francis Keppel.

The first report, covering science and citizenship, described the knowledge, skills, attitudes and understanding of about 100,000 persons in four age groups. The assessment, which will continue over the next few years, is designed to learn the effectiveness of the nation's educational system.

The citizenship study revealed that "knowledge of government increases sharply through the school years and that 17-year-olds are often more knowing than adults about the structures of government if not about its office holders and its practicalities."

The science section showed that youths of 17 might be sharper than their elders in textbook knowledge, but "adults have more general knowledge in areas related to common experience."

Officials said no effort was made in the initial survey to rank individuals against other individuals or to compare schools, school districts or states.

Future reports will not only give much more data about the knowledge and skill of Americans, but will permit comparisons which are not possible in the first or "benchmark" reports, a spokesman said.

The findings in the citizenship study revealed that while knowledge of the structures of government increased with school age and in some instances exceeded that of adults, the latter often knew more about who held offices and more about local government.

Problems Of Private Schools To Undergo Investigation

AUSTIN (UPI)—The chairman of the Texas Coordinating Board on Higher Education will head a four-man subcommittee investigating the problems of private Texas colleges and universities.

Manuel DeBusk of Dallas, the board chairman, said the subcommittee will gather information and hold public hearings and then make a report to the full coordinating board, which may then pass the report on to the legislature.

An advisory committee on private higher education told the coordinating board April 20 private colleges and universities are in serious trouble.

The special subcommittee will include, besides DeBusk, Midland attorney Tom Sealy, Fort Worth insurance specialist Hunter McLean, and Harry Provencher, editor in chief of Newspapers, Inc., in Waco.

Dr. Abner McCall, Baylor University president, said the legislature should raise tuition in public schools to close the gap between public and private school. Other proposals made by the advisory committee were:

- A state tuition equalization program to subsidize students who desire to go to private schools.
- Give the coordinating board authority to contract with private institutions for educational services.
- Form a coordinating council to direct plans for all higher education in Texas, public and private.

DeBusk asked the advisory committee to furnish a subcommittee with more information on organizational and financial patterns used in other states.

Dear Abby

By August Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Eugene and I have been happily married for 26 years, but like everyone else, I have a problem. His snoring!

I don't know whether he's snoring louder lately, or if my tolerance is wearing thin but it's gotten so bad I can't get a decent night's sleep—especially if Eugene has had a few drinks during the evening, then he snores like a mountain lion!

I have asked him gently to please stop snoring, nudged him, and rolled him over, which helps temporarily, then he starts in again.

Last night it was so bad, I woke him up and asked him to please go sleep in the spare room. He went, but he was very angry. The next morning we had a few words about it. Eugene said I was very selfish for waking him up and asking him to go to the other room. He said that since he was sleeping soundly, and I was up, I should have gone to the spare room to sleep. I say that since he was creating the disturbance, he should have gone. What do you say?

DEAR ABBY: So many people have written to you to complain because they sent a gift "six months ago," and they didn't receive a thank-you for it.

Why don't these people call up (or write) to the person they sent it to and find out if the gift was ever received? (If they did get it and were slow in sending a "thank you," they deserve to be embarrassed.)

There is always a chance that the gift was not received. I work in the department of the postoffice where packages are undeliverable because the address has "fallen" off, or become smudged and cannot be read. And there is no return address on the package. Also, when a package is returned to the store because it cannot be delivered, the card will read, "From Uncle Ted and Aunt Mary," and the store has no way of knowing who bought it.

Please tell readers to put their full names and address inside every gift, and not to sit around for six months wondering if the gift they sent ever got there.

HELPFUL

DEAR PAM: I say Eugene was right.

DEAR ABBY: I am a middle-age housewife with two teenage children who make the honor roll regularly. I keep a nine-room house clean, but not immaculate. I sew all my own clothes, and my daughter's, too. (I've even taught her to sew.)

My children and I attend church regularly, and we have a host of friends whom I feel think well of us.

My husband, who is an only child, is hard-working, capable and provides adequately. He is also well-liked. These are the assets. Now here are a few of the liabilities:

I am about five pounds overweight. I am graying in the temples. I have only a high school education. I dislike my mother-in-law intensely because she makes me feel dumb, dirty, and inferior. Now, tell me, how can you like someone who makes you feel dumb, dirty, and inferior?

DEAR ANONYMOUS: Your first two "liabilities" strike me as being somewhat trivial. (It's no big deal to get rid of five pounds, and a few gray hairs.) And if your limited education is causing you to feel "dumb," you can become better informed by reading. Forget about your mother-in-law. No one can make you feel "dumb, dirty, and inferior" unless you think you might deserve it.

'Cool Cooks' Use Electric Kettle

The secret to keeping the kitchen cool in Summer is to use electric appliances as much as possible and avoid turning on the range.

One of the best all-around electric appliances on the market is the automatic casserole or kettle.

A leading manufacturer of small appliances has a five-quart country kettle which serves as a cooker, roaster, deep-fryer, food warmer and server all-in-one.

The country kettle is ideal for preparing large amounts of chili, barbecue or spareribs. It bakes potatoes, simmers a pot roast and serves as a deep-fryer for fish, chicken and doughnuts.

Police Inspector Advises Women To Prevent Chances For Crime

By JOAN HANAUER

NEW YORK (UPI)—The victim of crime very often is an unwitting accomplice to it. This tends to be especially true of women.

That's how Deputy Inspector Robert A. Hair, 25 years on the New York City Police Department, sees it. Hair, 48, a native New Yorker now living in Yonkers, N.Y., with his wife and three children, said in an interview:

"Criminal activity is based upon two factors. The first is the desire to commit a crime. The second is opportunity. There is little you as a lay person can do to decrease the desires.

"However, you can remove the opportunity. If you don't, you're inviting the criminal to make you his victim."

"I don't think there's anything unsafe about our cities," he said, "not if you use common sense. There are certain activities at certain hours that are unsafe—say a girl walking in an isolated area alone at 3 or 4 a.m."

How to avoid providing criminals with opportunity is the basis of a book Hair has written with Samm Sinclair Baker, titled "How to Protect Yourself Today."

"Never under any circumstances admit a stranger to your home, man or woman, no matter how well-dressed. Even if they wear a uniform, get identification.

The policeman suggested chain guards on all doors in a home, a peephole in an apartment, and a combination of common sense and caution in dealing with strangers on the doorstep.

The next rule: "Don't give information to strangers. Don't tell a man approaching your door as you are leaving that there's no one home and you are late for a lunch. That's an invitation to a burglar. Don't tell a telephone solicitor you're home alone and your husband won't be home for hours."

If a criminal does get into your house, Hair said, use common sense again.

"If you come home and find a door or window ajar, don't go in, he advises. "Anytime you come home and find things not as you left them, go to a friend's house and call the police."

"If a criminal enters while you are there, perhaps even sleeping, don't get up and try to fight. Don't be a hero to save your valuables. If you're asleep, peek, then call the police when he leaves."

"If you feel you are going to be attacked, if your life is in danger, take any steps necessary."

Hair's rules for women who want to be safe on the streets again come down to common sense—avoid isolated or dark areas, plan nighttime routes ahead so they will be through safe areas, avoid shortcuts, walk neither close to buildings nor to cars, have keys for car or house ready instead of fumbling in your purse.

If you suspect you are being followed, head for a populated, well-lighted area even if it is out of your way.

"All these safety rules should be taught to your children, too," Hair said. "You don't have to frighten them—although I would rather have a frightened child than a child who's been hurt—but you can drum the basics into them. Brainwash them."

Hostesses Fete Nightin' Gals Club At Party

GROOM (Sp.)—The Nightin' Gals met in the Hospitality Room of the bank building with Mrs. Ray Britten and Mrs. John Krizan as co-hostesses. Games of pinocle were played with high score prize going to Mrs. Arnie Kuehler and low score prize to Mrs. Bob Pool.

Refreshments were served to one guest Mrs. Arnie Kuehler and members, Mmes. Hubert Swank, Bob Pool, Ted Friefel, Eldred James, Kenneth Black, Walter Garrion, Herbert Hugi, Lynn D. Harrell, Mike Homer, Robert Milton, Charles Fields, Carl Homer, John Quirk, Stella Patterson, Velma Evans, Lucille West, and Miss Beulah Shockley.

'Electric Picnic' Sparks Summer Fun In City

When you live in a tenth floor apartment, you have to think twice about having a backyard barbecue.

The great outdoors isn't quite so available to many city dwellers and oftimes the "backyard" is a small balcony hanging on a highrise apartment building, hundreds of feet in the air.

It was probably the plight of these individuals that led to the development of the "Electric Picnic."

One of the leading manufacturers of small appliances has developed a whole line of "electric picnic appliances," including broilers, combination coffee makers and cold drink dispensers, bean pots and casserole servers.

Probably the key item is the electric broiler-rotisserie, which eliminates the smoke, messiness and occasional flare-ups associated with charcoal broiling.

The electric unit has the added advantage of being ready to use as soon as it's plugged into an electric outlet, while it usually takes 30 to 45 minutes for a bed of charcoal to heat up to cooking temperature.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "GOING CRAWLY" IN SIOUX CITY, IOWA: Tell him you married him for better or worse—but not for LUNCH!

Your Horoscope JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, JULY 10

Your birthday Friday: Spiritual growth is the most important factor in your coming year. So much depends on your realizing and working with your natural limitations. Established social contacts slack off; new ones are not so readily formed. Any project requiring a mind-stretching search holds the hope of lasting results. This could be the most important year of your life in the development of your basic philosophy. Friday's natives often face hidden restrictions and must concentrate on adaptations for constructive results.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): You are not very alert now—check details carefully, keep going at an even pace. Once past the temptation to be hasty, everything improves steadily.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your first question Friday should be: "Is it practical?" Don't allow any pressure to rush your decisions. Health and dietary matters are important.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): You may easily get involved in so many things Friday that nothing actually gets done. Your determination and motivation are tested. Attend the needs of loved ones.

CANCER (Jun 21-July 21): Most of the day settles into highly satisfactory effort.

Clear up unfinished business, round up unwanted materials for your favorite charity.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You have much to think about. Put in a full day of conscientious work. The answer to some old riddle may occur to you, apropos of nothing.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Early decisions almost certainly have to be revised. The day is normal and productive. Catch up your budgets, vacation plans.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): An early interruption upsets your schedule. Avoid being pushed into unplanned action. The practicality of some of your main projects will be tested Friday and could be a lot of fun.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Let your intuition lead the way. Old problems, chronic nuisances now are susceptible to experimental solutions. Make your main effort late in the day.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Unplanned situations, perhaps exciting but more likely embarrassing, may beset you Friday. Your impulsive behavior makes them more intense. Your friends are even more erratic.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Sudden moves are not helpful. Start on time and work diligently. Much can be done to clear unfinished obligations.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Remain unruffled during the morning, and the rest of the day takes care of itself. The later hours provoke you to look ahead and think big.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Decide where you are heading, then make corrections. Windup your workweek smoothly—it's unlikely you will ever pick up the exact threads of anything half-done.

'One-Bank' Holding Co. Act' Complex

EDITOR'S NOTE: One of the more important pieces of legislation before Congress this year is the complex "One-Bank Holding Company Act," which was approved by a Senate committee Tuesday. The House has passed a stricter bill. The following dispatch explains some of the complexities of what is at stake.

By MIKE FEINSILBER
 WASHINGTON (UPI) — "This bill," fumed Rep. Wright Patman, "why, this bill would permit a few conglomerates to own all the profit-making concerns in the country. Wholly unacceptable! Absolutely unacceptable!"

While the bill is not exactly what I would have personally written," said Sen. Wallace F. Bennett of the Senate Banking Committee, "I think that it is a satisfactory bill and takes into consideration the complexity of our economic system, which was disregarded, in my view, by the House version of this bill."

It is called "The One-Bank Holding Company Act of 1970" and it was approved Tuesday by the Senate committee and sent to the Senate floor for action.

It was born from a quirk in a 1966 law. The law regulates companies that control two or more banks but does not affect holding companies that control a single bank.

Exemption Is Created
 That exemption was created because Congress felt unprofitable small town banks, if not permitted to affiliate with nonbanking companies, would go out of business.

The big banks discovered the loophole and moved in. By holding companies (Continental Illinois, the bank David last year, seven of the nation's They included California's Bank M. Kennedy headed before he eight largest banks, all billion of America, New York's Chase became secretary of the dollar enterprises, were con-Manhattan and Chicago's Con-Treasury.

Television In Review

By RICK DU BROW
 HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — The Smothers Brothers returned to television tonight with a new weekly variety series on ABC-TV.

They've already been fired by CBS-TV and had a controversial special on NBC-TV. So ABC-TV is their third network. And if they don't score well with the new show, there is, at the present time, no place else to go in commercial network television.

If, on the other hand, the series catches on, they might

Crazy World Of Washington

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Some timely stitches could be worked into the ripping fabric of American society if all who assert the right to do their own thing would recognize that the other guy also has the same right.

As a reporter who has covered more than his fair share of demonstrations, peaceful and otherwise, I have tolerance from society are often quite intolerant of others.

The ruckus which a very small body of young people kicked up at Washington's "Honor America Day" ceremonies last Saturday is a case in point.

Questions Wisdom
 There were perfectly valid reasons for questioning the wisdom of staging an exercise in nationalism at a time when the land is so deeply and bitterly divided over Vietnam.

But it's one thing to disapprove of a ceremony, and another thing to set out deliberately to disrupt it. The latter is what some 200 young men and women did Saturday, in the name of dissent from the Vietnam War.

You'd think that opponents of the war would be ardent upholders of the rights of free speech and peaceable assembly which are guaranteed to all Americans by the First Amendment to the Constitution. After all, they'd be the first to suffer from any repeal or suspension of those rights.

But in their passionate protest against the war, some dissenters seem to forget that the First Amendment also applies to straights, squares and patriots. If the latter want to come together on the Fourth of July and wave the flag, they unmolested, unheckled and undisturbed.

Have A Right To Pray
 Certainly they have a right to pray to the God they believe in, without having their prayers almost drowned-out by loudly chanted obscenities.

And this right to dissent from dissent is not just a legal right. It's a basic human right, which ought to be understood and respected by those who are vehemently opposed to the war precisely because of their concern for human life and dignity.

I doubt whether anyone has ever furthered a noble cause by resorting to ignoble methods, or has achieved a moral end with immoral means. Rudely trampling on the rights of others is ignoble and in the profoundest sense immoral.

FREEDOM UNHEALTHY
 QUIMPER, France (UPI) — Robert Schlitz told a court Tuesday he burgled five houses because he wanted to return to prison to put on weight. He said since his last release from jail he lost 15 pounds while working at an honest job and he wanted the weight back again.

"We at Pampa High are sorry to lose a coach of his (Gibson's) caliber, but we are happy that he is able to take such a fine position," Lee said.

Gibson was unavailable for comment.

The 39-year-old cage coach assumed his duties at Pampa Aug. 1, 1968. Gibson came from Portales High School where he had been head basketball coach since 1963. While at Portales Gibson guided his team to the state tournament four times and won Class A state titles in 1965 and 1966.

Gibson was born in Henderson, Ky. and played college ball at Western Kentucky under the famed Ed Diddle.

After serving five years in the Air Force Gibson finished his collegiate career at Texas Tech during the 1955-56 basketball season.

In his first season at Pampa Gibson guided the Harvesters to the District 4-AAAA playoffs and was voted Coach of the Year. Amarillo Tascosa won the playoff battle, 65-60.

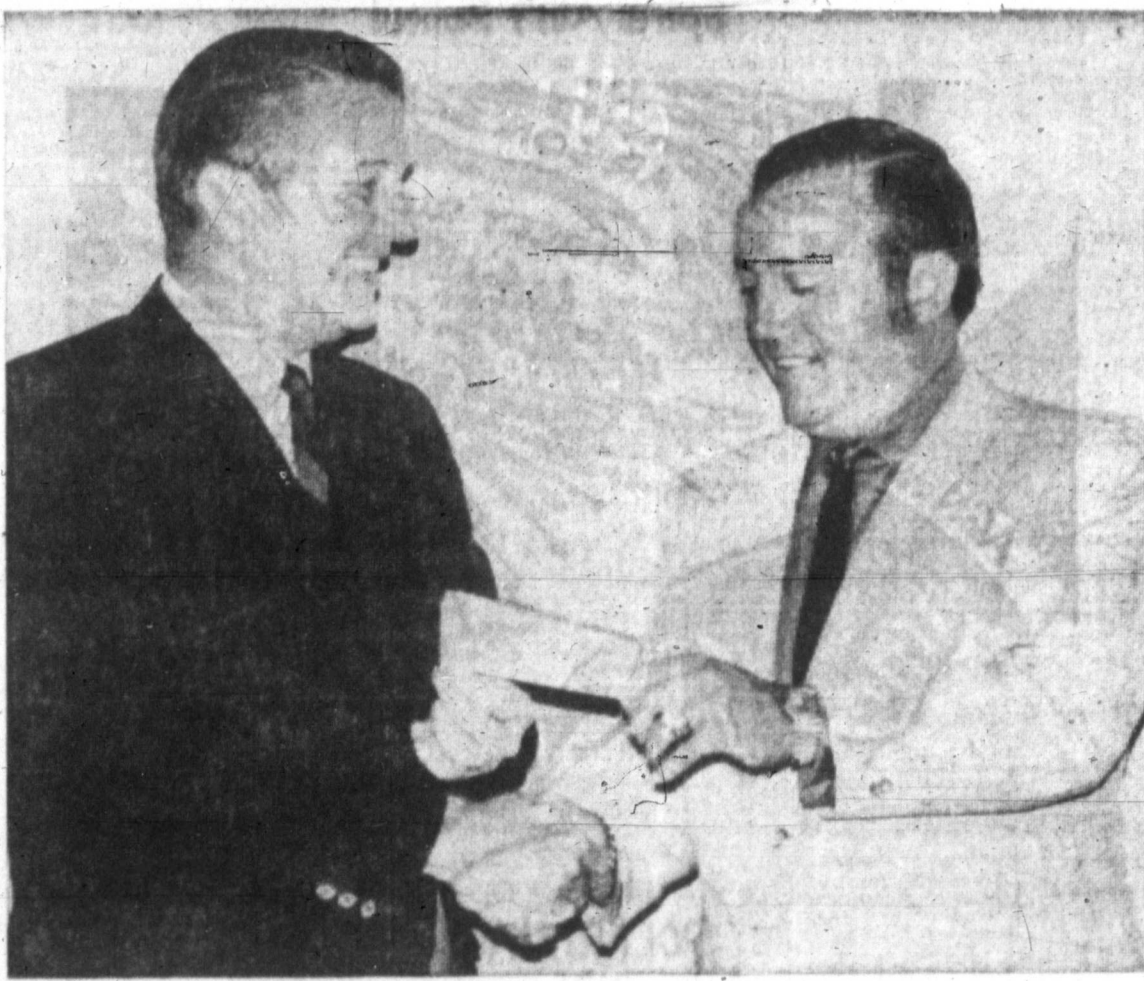

During the 1969-70 season the Harvesters went 6-13 in district competition. Gibson was also Assistant Principal that year.

Harry Miller is the head basketball coach at North Texas.

Deluge Suspends Play In British Tournament

ST. ANDREWS, Scotland (UPI)—Sixty years ago a tremendous thunder storm swamped St. Andrews on the first day of the 50th Open golf championship. It happened again for the 99th renewal, forcing the opening round to overrun into today's program.

A deluge flooded bunkers, swamped fairways and left the greens at the world famous old course under deep pools of water Wednesday afternoon.

The same thing happened in 1910.

The difference was, and it appears to be the only difference, all scores were scrapped and the round re-played the following day. This time the Royal and Ancient's committee, decided to merely "suspend play temporarily," and restart, with all scores standing, today.

Neil Coles, a balding 35-year-old British Ryder Cup player was the leader when play was stopped Wednesday, but his record seven-under-par total of 65 looked in some danger after an incredible opening day of sub-par rounds.

Defending champion and U.S. Open winner Tony Jacklin was in the midst of a history-making round and would surely have overhauled his British teammate had the earlier balm conditions continued.

Jacklin was eight under par after 13 holes, including a front nine of 29 which was a record for St. Andrews and equals the best nine holes ever carded in the championship anywhere.

Milwaukee Golf Underway Today

MILWAUKEE (UPI)—The third annual Greater Milwaukee Open golf tournament, short of most of the touring superstars by the British Open, got under way today with Ken Still set to defend the championship he won last year.

The Tacoma, Wash., native heads a field of 144 professionals going after the $110,000 purse and he should receive solid challenges from the likes of Canadian Open champion Kermit Zarley, former Masters champion Bob Goalby, 1960 GMO champion Dave Stockton and a perennial favorite, Chi Chi Rodriguez.

"Perhaps Jack (Nicklaus) and Arnie (Palmer) are lucky they aren't here," quipped Rodriguez. "I'm in the mood to beat 'em and they don't like to lose."

Bank Nips Roberts

By DAN PACKARD Sports Editor

First National Bank and Pampa Hardware claimed first-round victories in the Babe Ruth City Baseball Tournament Wednesday at Optimist Park.

First National nipped Roberts Butane, 8-7, and Pampa Hardware crushed Ideal Food, 7-0.

Two other first-round games are scheduled today. Cree Drilling will meet Pampa Lumber at 6 p.m. and the Jaycees will battle the Lions at 8:30 p.m.

Jack King gave Roberts a short-lived lead in the top of the second with a two-run homer over the left field fence which provided the eventual losers a 2-1 advantage.

The Bankers plated three in the bottom half of the frame and surged on to take a 7-4 edge into the final inning.

A three-run rally by Roberts tied it up until First National's Ed Frost singled in the last of the seventh, driving in the winning run, Tim Holt, from second base.

Bill Simon allowed only three hits in notching the victory. Steve Lockett took the loss.

Rickie Smith hurled a five-hit shutout for Pampa Hardware in finishing Ideal.

Hardware tallied three markers in the first with only one base hit. The winners plated three more in the third on the strength of a single by Toddy Black, a walk to Terry Moore and a two-bagger by Randy Kitchens.

A running catch by centerfielder Rickie Musgrave in the final frame preserved the shutout for Smith. With one out and the bases loaded Ideal's Gary Davis laced a shot to right-center. Musgrave raced to his left, speared the ball and fired to first baseman Terry Moore in an effort to catch the runner going back to first. Moore, seeing that there was no play at first, threw to shortstop Toddy Black who doubled up the runner trying to get back to second.

Smith whiffed six Ideal batters and walked four. Gary Davis absorbed the loss. Davis struck out 13 and walked only three.

The Pampa Daily News

A Watchful Newspaper
EVER-STRIVING FOR THE TOP O' TEXAS
TO BE AN EVEN BETTER PLACE TO LIVE

Our Capsule Policy

The Pampa News is dedicated to furnishing information to our readers so that they can better promote and preserve their own freedom and encourage others to see its blessing. Only when man is free to control himself and all he produces, can he develop to his utmost capabilities.

The News believes each and every person would get more satisfaction in the long run if he were permitted to spend what he earns on a volunteer basis rather than having part of it distributed involuntarily.

Now, Let's Look At Ideas

The News is for the people—their right to do so and not the bureaucrats' maneuvering of masses, but for the development of individuals to their highest potential.

Nevertheless, glancing through the HRD News (Human Resources Development News), we found a laudable idea.

HRD News claims it is declaring war on "gobbledygook"—complicated verbal expression of a simple idea. This is a war we are for 100 percent. If they can produce a few thousand memos without "jargonaphasia," they will aid the ecology. They will help clear the rivers of communication ideas instead of verbiage may emerge.

Congratulations are additionally in order since someone started to battle in the war One report began at the beginning. It urged consideration of a more descriptive name than Human Resources Development, because it is "confusing and meaningless" to those not used to formal English. Suggestions were made to substitute, if not "employment," then "vocational."

Who knows, when they get down to the business of refining labels and word meanings, they might get down to idea meanings. Some might even see that what humans want is not to have their resources developed, but to be free to develop their own resources. That the state should protect their right to do so and not be in the business of doing the development.

People helping people is an important part of what this Earth scene is all about. But it is about people wanting to help people, not forced to through taxation or any other way. For all persons to benefit in the help-game, they must play it voluntarily. Otherwise the givers are cheated of the pleasure of freely giving and the receivers are cheated of the pleasure of growth of do-it-yourself.

A cartoon we saw some time back entitled "Tale of a Coat" aptly depicted the way it is. In the first frame, "Charity," a man offered his coat to his shivering neighbor, saying, "You need a coat—take mine!" And his neighbor replied, "God bless you!" In the second frame, "Robbery," a man with a gun pointed at a man in a suit and demanded, "I need a coat—give me yours!" And finally, in the bureaucratic help-way, "The Welfare State," a third man "Govt." enters the picture with a gun, points it at the man in the suit and nodding towards the shiverer shouts, "He needs a coat—give him yours!"

We cannot help but wonder if individuals were free to keep money seized for the coerced helping of others, what high degree of development of human resources might be possible.

Which Way America?

We've touched upon this matter before, but here we go again:

Much has been said about the direction our country will take in the next decade. But after you sift through the thousands of words on the subject, there emerges from it just one basic, fundamental decision which must and will be made: will our nation move in the direction of an all-powerful, all-encompassing socialistic society; or will we move in the direction of greater individual responsibility and greater individual freedom?

No one needs to be told that there is a powerful, noisy minority working with near-fanatical zeal for socialism. But as it was with those who were afraid to speak out and tell the King, that he wore no clothes, so it is today that there are very few who dare to label the "left" for what they are: socialists.

Now cometh a new problem to be faced: our ecology. At the Nation's Capital one could see the pro-socialist machinery gearing up for action. Here was a popular issue that was exploited to the hilt. And you had better believe that the end result, if the "liberals" had their way, would be a government controlled, government-sponsored program the like of which you have never, but never seen before.

Of course you would be told that such an all-out "war on pollution" would be government-financed; but that is not true, since the government doesn't have any money that it doesn't take away from you first.

That's why we make no bones about boosting, and will continue to boost, those in our society, whether individuals or business firms, who have done their part and continue to do their part to keep our country not only strong, and clean; but free.

Side Result Of The Pill

London—as well as New York, Washington and Los Angeles—reports a growing epidemic of gonorrhea.

It is now the world's most common infectious disease. Why is it increasing at such a rapid rate, when just a few years ago, it was hoped that the disease might at least be halted, and if not, the rate would decline via better education?

The answer, says the current issue of the British Journal of Venereal Disease is the pill.

Yes, the pill. And Schandinnia reveals that sexual freedom, about which there has been so much talk lately, is the culprit.

Dr. A. B. Hewett, specialist in venereal diseases at London's Charing Cross Hospital, said he found about three times as many women with gonorrhea who were taking the pill as against the national average.

Another medical man, Dr. Lester Cohen reported that since the pill became so popular, his patients with gonorrhea now belong to all social classes—not just the poor and ignorant.

The pill has removed, according to Dr. Cohen, the fear of pregnancy and promiscuity has increased.

As promiscuity increases, so does the disease.

For some time the belief has been prevalent that a shot of penicillin is the answer, but it appears, according to the English doctors the disease is developing a resistance to the antibiotic.

It also is beginning to appear that regardless of the pill, some of the old-time moral standards were not so terrible, and out-of-date as some of the ultra-liberals' believed.

H. L. Hunt Writes

REPRESSION IN EAST GERMANY

When West German Chancellor Willy Brandt visited East Germany in March of this year, the East German people gave him a tumultuous welcome. Now their communist government is repressing those who took part in these demonstrations, at the same time as Brandt is urging closer ties with the Communists.

The East German leaders know well the significance of the welcome given to Brandt and his party. Their enslaved people were not cheering Brandt himself, but the free West German Republic. They were demonstrating their deep hatred of communism. Since the tyrannical regimes cannot allow free expression of opposing views, the Communist government has arrested more than 100 people who took part in the demonstrations.

Brandt has refused to issue any public statement condemning this repression and giving encouragement to the valiant citizens of that Communist nation. Instead he is urging our government to support his policy of reconciliation with Communist East Germany.

Brandt has stated that his foreign policy will be based on bridge-building, and he has called upon all Western nations to establish friendlier relations with Iron Curtain countries. When some U.S. officials proposed that we encourage the Communists to tear down the Berlin Wall, Brandt vetoed the suggestion, claiming that it would harm his government's relations with East Germany.

Brandt's position shows that his government is not interested in helping the suffering people of East Germany to regain their freedom. He has demonstrated a curious lack of awareness of the irreconcilable differences between Communism and freedom. All efforts at bridge-building serve only to strengthen Communism's hold on its helpless subjects.

Say for joy! I am happy as an ant-eater at a termite convention... dream of dreams... hope of hopes... the telly-vee set finally blew it!

This materialization has achieved an end to insure peace and tranquility. It gave up the "ghost." It couldn't have picked a better time on a night when it was certain the action would be terrific on that great nite time Soap Opera, Mr. Eddie's Father.

The poor electronic eye just couldn't stand the gaff of such swash-buckling adventures portrayed by Nana, the Flying Nun, My World and Who Needs It? or Marcuse, Well, I'll Be—M. Dee.

In conjunction with such violent, awe-inspiring cliff hangers as Room 222 Z-Z-Z, Family Affair, and numerous other horror stories where we see fathers with kids but no mothers, mothers with kids but no fathers, fathers with no kids but ailing mothers, mothers with no kids or husbands but a burning desire to find both, or mothers and fathers with a dozen kids who belong to somebody else, it is little wonder the telly-vee could last as long as it did.

The machines are smarter than we are. Faced with a long summer of these atrocities being re-run I can say with abject honesty I am glad the Eox had more brains than we do and turned itself off in time to prevent my family from going 'stare' crazy...

The Case Of 'Free' Speech Vs. The English Language

By DON OAKLEY

NEA Staff Writer

In 1948 Norman Mailer's war novel "The Naked and the Dead" achieved fame not only on the merits of the story but for its use of a word that sounded like, but was not quite, the arch obscenity in the English language.

(Today, "The Fugs" is a rock music group.) The real breakthrough came a few years later when James Jones freely used the correct spelling of the word in "From Here to Eternity," which also dealt with Army life. The publisher trembled, but the censor's sword proved to be a paper dagger.

This smashing of Victorian taboos was overdue and, on the whole a good thing. But how far we have come since then.

Today "honesty" prevails—and is prevailing more and more. Words once seen only on walls where snickering little boys scratched them have been elevated into literature by authors continuing to cash in on the crusade to "tell it like it is," and billingsgate once heard only in the barracks now passes for "meaningful dialogue in films and on the stage."

Among the youthful left, beginning with the "Dirty Words" movement at Berkeley in 1964, obscenity has been embraced not only as a symbol of their new freedom but as a weapon, a rallying cry and a substitute for rational discourse.

The speeches of some radicals and the word count of the underground press would be cut next to nothing with the elimination of a few universal, all-purpose adjectives. This compulsive, tedious use of profanity resembles a mental disorder well known to medical science.

About the last remaining bastion against the tide is the daily newspaper—and even here old standards are being called into question.

"Stories (about college eruptions) are sterile to the extent that they do not give the whole picture," says G. W. McCoy, publisher of the Wapakoneta, Ohio, Daily News—"the obscenity, the weapons fashioned by radicals and the provocations that these people give to those guarding the campus."

Such unpleasanties are not withheld from any ulterior motive, he says, but because reporters are reporting in "good taste" and don't want to offend their readers.

None of the nearly 1,800 daily newspapers in the United States reported the obscenities tossed about at the time of the demonstrations in Chicago and only two reported them from the later Walker Commission Report.

The Doctor Says

Frequent Pap Smear Is Safety Measure

Q — I am a woman, 50. My Pap smear showed No. 2 cells. What does that mean?

A — A Class 2 Pap smear contains cells that are typical but are not considered to be cancerous. Instead of waiting a year for a checkup you should have another smear test after three or four months.

Q — Since I had a hysterectomy, is it necessary for me to have a physical examination every year?

A — Whether your uterus was removed because of cancer, or for some other reason, a checkup including a Pap smear should be done at least once a year to rule out a primary cancer or a recurrence of an old one.

Q — At what age can I stop taking Pap smear tests? I am past 70.

A — Don't ever stop. This is a small price to pay for the early detection of a uterine cancer.

Q — What is chronic pelvic inflammatory disease? Can it become cancerous? Does it prevent a woman from becoming pregnant?

A — This is an infection of the uterus, uterine tubes or ovaries. It may be a complication of childbirth or a venereal disease. It is not related to cancer. In many, but not all, cases it prevents conception.

Q — I am the mother of three children. I'm 44 and very nervous. Do you think I could learn to drive a car?

A — This is not an easy decision to make because there are so many variables to consider. Because of modern congestion on the roads most of the fun has gone out of driving and frustrations behind the wheel are much greater than they were 10 years ago. On the other hand any mother should be prepared to drive her child to a hospital in an emergency that she hopes will never arise. I would suggest that you get a few lessons to see how well you do. You may find it easier than you think. If not, you can give it up and have the satisfaction that at least you tried.

Q — Why do I have to blow my nose two or three times while I am eating even though I don't have a cold? And why do my eyes water? Is there any cure for this?

A — This sounds like an allergic rhinitis. In order to find out which food is causing it have your doctor put you on a series of elimination diets. The treatment depends on the cause.

Inside Washington

Student Election Clout In Doubt

WASHINGTON — Advance indications are that an outpouring of student volunteer workers will not have decisive, or even a dramatic, effect on the off-year congressional elections in November.

The straws are already blowing in the wind. They should be carefully studied, especially by the highly-motivated young men and women who plan to take a college holiday, authorized or unauthorized, and work this fall for House and Senate peace candidates.

Many of those young men and women came angrily to Washington in the wake of the movement of troops into Cambodia and the death of students at Kent State University a couple of months ago. They were told by many lawmakers to become active in politics—to work to change the system from inside the system.

Back on campus, many of them organized to screen congressional candidates. The Princeton plan was developed under which students would be given a couple of weeks off for campaigning just before election day.

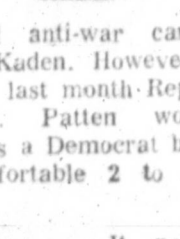

In the immediate aftermath of all this activity, much was written and published about a massive anti-war student movement in November. There were speculative reports, accurate enough but misleading, that such a movement could even re-make the Congress.

It is important now to take a look at some of the factors involved in such an anti-war student crusade.

The Issue — President Nixon's decision to send U.S. troops into Cambodia will be debated long after election day, but it is not now, in a campaign context, the polarizing incident which it first seemed to be. Many political experts think the economy, not the war, will be the basic issue in most congressional races.

The Candidates — Recent campaigns, including the recent primary campaigns, do not suggest that there is a particularly favorable tide running for peace candidates. The opinion polls do not indicate, for the present at least, any shift in public sentiment which could be the precursor of such a trend.

The Test — One initial test of a Princeton-plan operation produced a negative result. In New Jersey's 15th congressional district, students from Princeton and Rutgers worked hard for 28-year-old anti-war candidate Lewis Kaden. However, in the primary last month, Edward J. Patten won re-nomination as a Democrat by a rather comfortable 2 to 1 margin.

The Campuses — It now appears that the outpouring of student campaigners will be smaller than suggested by early speculative reports. On many campuses there have been decisions, quite understandable, that the function of an education institution is to provide instruction for the students enrolled.

Acting on a rationale of that sort, the Harvard faculty has voted against a Princeton-plan holiday. The student body at the University of Washington, largest state institution in the Far West, voted against a pre-election recess by a margin of about 3 to 2.

The tactics — Perhaps most important, it is becoming clear that many congressional candidates will be reluctant to use college students for canvassing and other jobs which involve direct dealing with the voters. That is because the colleges themselves, are in disrepute with many constituencies.

Of course the earnest student campaigners are not, for the most part, the same radical students who have fomented student strikes and become involved in violence and destruction of property. Nevertheless, many voters do not want to be told how to vote or how to behave by spokesmen from the discredited campuses.

It should not be forgotten that, according to the Gallup poll, the Kent State deaths which so outraged academic communities were blamed primarily on the kids—not on the National Guard, and by an overwhelming margin. Congressional campaigners will surely not forget that.

None of this is to suggest that interested students abandon their campaign plans. Individual circumstances will decide individual congressional races, and all of these advance indicators could be erroneous in any, or all, of them.

Would-be student polls should carefully consider these prospects, however, and reach a realistic assessment of the odds. That is important if we are to avoid a repetition (or many small repetitions) of the McCarthy syndrome—which followed the presidential election of 1960.

PAUL HARVEY NEWS

More Americans Working Less Efficiently On Jobs

By PAUL HARVEY

The telephone companies are in trouble. They will not publicly concede the cause of much recent inefficiency because they are scared to.

The Fair Employment Practices Commission says "no discrimination in employment," no matter what.

Court interpretations of the law and pressure from organizations of ethnic minorities result in hiring a percentage of everybody, qualified or not, and promoting a percentage whether they have earned promotion, or not — and this practice is eroding the efficiency of many industries.

But for telephone companies and public utilities with an "extra obligation to government," the hire-everybody, promote-anybody practice really is goofing things up.

Historically, telephone company technicians took great pride in their job categories. Promotion required time, study and improved proficiency. The rewards, more than monetary, included self-respect plus the admiration and esteem of their fellows.

When less qualified employees are moved into positions of seniority arbitrarily — whatever the long-range objective — the immediate effect is demoralizing. Incentive is diminished, pride is dulled and the senior man — at least for a while — is likely to find himself doing two jobs.

A recent issue of Time magazine was devoted to "inefficiency in America." Articles in that issue cited examples of malfunctioning equipment, poor repairmanship, delays at airports, ill-natured sales people and savage cab drivers.

The trains, the plumbing, the vending machines — nothing works. And the telephone. Time tried to be philosophical about it, conceding that much present inefficiency derives from our determination to teach skills "on the job." Editorially, the magazine says "to hire ghetto blacks and other handicapped people instead of leaving them to subsist on public welfare is a good thing, whatever inefficiency it may breed."

Industries, meanwhile, find themselves squeezed between rights organizations demanding more amalgamation of minorities and consumer crusaders protesting shoddy merchandise and shabby service.

There are employees too long secure in their jobs who have become lazy and neglectful, who need a shaking up. For them, the influx of energetic and ambitious new employees is an irritant and a threat where it should be a challenge to do better.

But for skilled tradesmen and technicians whose hard-earned seniority is handed to others who have not earned it — that constitutes reverse discrimination against the underdog. And that's not fair, either.

'T' WAS
A day before vacation
When I looked at my car

The model was old and
Had been driven to far,
The inside was all ripped,
The seat it was torn,

The brakes didn't work
And also the horn,
The windshield was busted
The old clutch was broke,

The gas line was clogged
And so was the choke,
I cried and I moaned
And started to cuss,

Something had to be done
About my old bus,
So I went to Barretts
And I am now all aglow,

It's like their ad said
I got more for my dough,
Now I laugh at the bumps
And get mileage galore,
My new car looks swell
And here's something new:
My worries are over
I'm no longer bored
This vacation I'm driving
A snappy new FORD.

Oyster Bed Contaminated By Excessive Level Of Mercury

HOUSTON (UPI)—Hugh Yantis, the executive director of the Texas Water Quality Board, said Tuesday mercury above the level considered safe for humans was found in an oyster bed between Galveston and Corpus Christi.

Eddie Lee of the Federal Water Quality Administration (FWQA) said a sample of water taken in late May from the Houston Ship Channel indicated 13 pounds of both nontoxic and poisonous mercury was discharged by the Diamond Shamrock Co. of Deer Park.

W. J. Butler, works manager for Diamond Shamrock, said the company uses mercury in the production of caustic soda and chlorine.

Lee also said the Tenneco Co. discharged one pound of mercury into the ship channel on the day the sample was taken. A Tenneco official denied it.

The FWQA also found significant amounts of mercury in the Rio Grande around the Big Bend where mercury is mined. Lee said this pollution posed no serious threat to any population centers.

Louisiana officials recently found mercury deposits above the level considered safe for humans in Lake Charles. The officials recommended Tuesday persons not eat the contaminated fish from the lake.

Officials of the National Communicable Disease Center in Atlanta said 10 per cent of all mercury consumed goes to the brain and begins killing a few brain cells at a time. The results may go unnoticed for years.

Doctors said the result of eating mercury contaminated fish could be thousands of unknown cases of mild or severe mercury poisoning diagnosed as senility, mysterious brain damage or encephalitis.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture reported anything greater than 0.5 parts per million of mercury in fish is dangerous contamination.

Yantis said dangerous levels of mercury were found a month ago in an oyster sample taken from Lavaca Bay. He said the oyster was found in a section of the bay normally closed to oyster fishermen. He blamed the Aluminum Co. of America for the mercury.

"The industry in the area had already at our request taken major action to reduce further possibility of mercury discharge," Yantis said. "However, we will have to observe the area to make sure that the amount of mercury reduces or lessens with time, so that when the oyster season opens there will be no hazard of any kind."

Approaching Royal Visit Causing Washington Stir

WASHINGTON (UPI)—No one claims more attention or causes more excitement in Washington than a royal visitor.

The forthcoming three-day visit by Britain's Prince Charles and Princess Anne, starting July 16, is no exception and has the White House in a tizzy.

Although the visit of the future king of England and his sister is labeled "private," there will be some protocol trappings as there are with all royal visitors.

The president's daughters, Tricia Nixon, 24, and Julie Eisenhower, 22—as the official hostesses,—are in on the planning with emphasis on what appeals to the younger set, whether at the White House or Buckingham Palace.

Julie's husband, David Eisenhower, 22 will provide the official escort service for their royal highnesses.

As a special honor, the prince of Wales will sleep in the Lincoln bedroom for two nights. Princess Anne gets the rose-and-white Queen's bedroom.

digest adds, "an overwhelming 83 per cent of the group predicted a market rise" through September of next year.

In the 1957-58 and 1960-61 recessions stocks tended "to bottom out about four months before business," according to Spear and Staff, Inc. Therefore the company says, if the economy "turns up this fall, then late May's climatic selling may well prove to have marked the effective lows for most investment grade securities."

We are in the midst of the "first significant economic adjustment in a decade," therefore a sharp increase in business failures "should be expected."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—A national poll conducted by the Investment Dealers Digest indicates that a "slight majority" of analysts "look for gains in the market" from September to the end of the year. The analysts "are almost evenly divided about where the stock market will go this summer," the Digest says. However, the

Of Mice And Men, Neither Dependable When Boozed-Up

GAINESVILLE, Fla. (UPI)—You can't depend on a drunk mouse. He's absent-minded.

And the man who starts downing martinis at lunchtime

That's the opinion of Dr. Gernard Freund, a medical researcher at the University of Florida College of Medicine and the Veterans Administration Hospital at Gainesville.

Using a bunch of boozed-up white mice for his experiments, Dr. Freund set out to find out if the chronic consumption of alcohol "has any effect on a person's ability to learn after alcohol is no longer consumed. He concluded that it does."

The researcher found that mice which had been consuming alcohol for months experienced a general deterioration of the brain function. The mouse brain, Dr. Freund said Tuesday, "is very similar to man's—the basic biochemistry is the same."

The studies also dispelled a common notion that the malnutrition often seen in "skid row" alcoholics is the cause of the damage to brain functions. Even well-fed mice indicated loss of memory after consuming alcohol over a period of time.

"I believe the damage was due to alcohol itself and not malnutrition," as has been said for many years," Dr. Freund said.

Dr. Freund said many "executive drinkers" consume up to 40 per cent of their calories in the form of alcohol. That was the same percentage given to test mice who later showed a permanent impairment in learning.

may be washing away his ability to learn—and to remember—even after he has sobered up, no matter how much he eats.

HemisFair Building To Be Courthouse

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The U.S. pavilion which lured thousands during HemisFair '68 with a controversial film about things that were wrong in the United States, will be turned into a federal courthouse and office building.

U. S. Rep. George Bush R-Tex., said Tuesday a formal announcement concerning the building will be made later in the week, at which time architects will begin studying conversion of building into the federal complex.

Bush said General Services Director Robert Kunzig had agreed to use the building for federal purposes. Kunzig said the government could save $600,000 by using the building instead of building a new one.

The building is actually two buildings connected by a walkway.

One half of the structure was a low-slung affair used during the world's fair two years ago as an exhibit hall. The other section, a huge circular structure, contained a unique three-sectioned theater in which a movie was shown several times a day.

The film, entitled "US," depicted overcrowding pollution and incidents of race prejudice.

The circular part of the building, known as the confluence theater during the fair, will be turned into a courthouse.
