Nixon's Econo Plea Ignored

Drug Hush-Up Charged

WASHINGTON (UPI)—A former Army social worker charged today the military tried to hush up studies of drug abuse among American soldiers in Vietnam for fear the reports would undermine continued support for the war at home.

Social scientist Roger A. Roffman, appearing before a Senate subcommittee studying drug problems in the armed services, also blamed the press, military psychiatrists and law enforcement officials for blowing the problem far out of proportion.

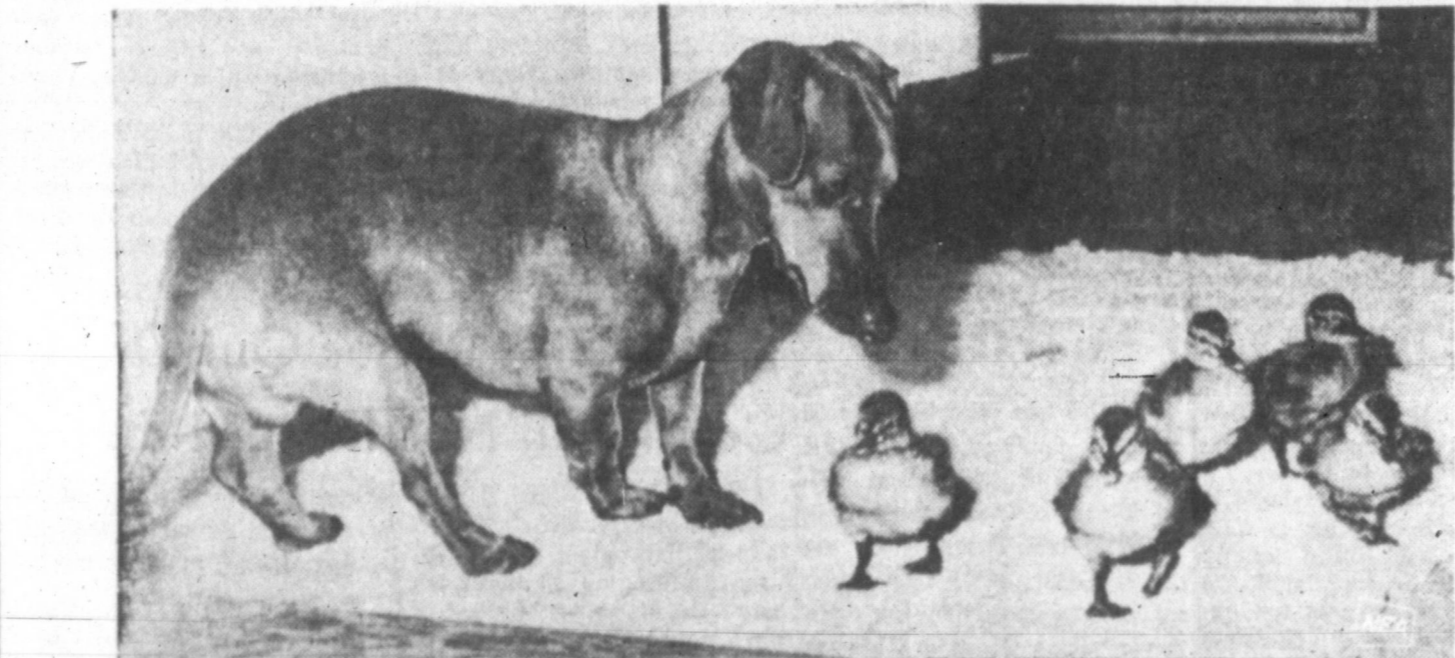

"We really have little idea what the impact of marijuana use has been in Vietnam," Roffman said in prepared testimony.

"If we are really interested on learning what the effects of marijuana in Vietnam are... we must first be willing to give up some of our traditional myths of folklore. We must refrain from sensationalism and we must overcome the political and public relations efforts at obscuring the real nature of the issue," he said.

Roffman, a former Army captain now living in Berkeley, Calif., appeared before the Senate Juvenile Delinquency Subcommittee to detail findings of his own research and to refute views of others who have studied drug problems among U.S. soldiers in Vietnam.

He told the committee, headed by Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., that he conducted lengthy studies in 1967 despite roadblocks thrown into the path of his research by superiors.

"I can only surmise that the hesitancy manifested at various points by military authorities suggested that the marijuana problem had political overtones," Roffman said. "In my impression, adverse publicity (See DRUG, Page 2)

Army Will Provide Guns For Shooting Competition

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Army, saying it is acceding to the wishes of the National Rifle Association (NRA) and some members of the congress, will provide more than $70,000 in personnel and equipment for the 1970 world shooting championships.

The championship match will be held this year at Black Canyon, Ariz., near Phoenix.

Connecticut Primary Has 3-Way Race

HARTFORD, Conn. (UPI)—The outcome of a three-way fight for the U.S. Senate nomination is expected to be determined by the number of voters in today's Democratic primary.

It is the first democratic statewide primary in Connecticut history.

Millionaire businessman Alphonus J. Donahue, 53, of Stamford, the Rev. Joseph D. Duffey, 38, of Hartford, and State Senate Majority Leader Edward L. Marcus, 42, of New Haven are vying for the nomination.

Donahue and Duffey are both seeking public office for the first time.

The winner will run against independent Democrat Sen. Thomas J. Dodd and Rep. Lowell P. Weicker Jr., the GOP contender.

Oct. 14-26. It is the second time the contest, featuring the world's top marksmen, has been held in this country.

Goodlet Hardhit By Tornado

By United Press International
A tornado damaged two houses, squashed a vacant warehouse and garage and a vacant grocery, damaged the post office and overturned 10 cotton trailers at the little town of Goodlet, in Hardeman County near the Oklahoma line.

And a spectacular lightning storm at Sweetwater started fires that burned several acres on the Clayton Williams ranch just west of town. The fire started just after 11 p.m. Tuesday and burned into the early morning.

Odella Fisher and her four children were at home when the tornado struck late Tuesday afternoon.

"It was lightning and the rain fell in sheets," she said. "Then it slowed down, and the wind started up real high."

She said she saw a piece of tin fly across the yard.

Senate Asks SST Funds Be Halted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Warning of a potential $3 billion throwaway, a joint Senate-House panel today strongly recommended the federal government stop financing development of the supersonic transport (SST) plane.

The Joint Economy Subcommittee said "no further financial support of the supersonic transport development program is justified at this time."

ABM Critics Ask Expansion Halt

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Critics of the Safeguard antiballistic missile system (ABM) make one last appeal to the Senate today to shut off expansion of the controversial defensive weapon.

Hoping to rebound from last week's 52 to 47 defeat, AEM critics offered a compromise amendment by Sen. Edward W. Brooke, R-Mass., to keep missile production lines rolling at full speed but to block deployment at new installations.

A vote was set for 1 p.m. The Safeguard system is designed to protect U.S. Minuteman missiles from the possibility of a pre-emptive nuclear strike aimed at paralyzing the U.S. power to retaliate.

The Brooke amendment would bar deployment of Safeguard's missile interceptors, radars and computers at any site except Grand Forks AFB, N.D., and Malmstrom AFB, Mont.—the two installations Congress authorized last year after a heated seven-month debate.

A similar amendment sponsored by Sens. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., was rejected last Wednesday. It would have cut $322 million earmarked for new Safeguard installations at Whiteman AFB, Mo., and Warren AFB, Wyo.

Senate Backs House In School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) By refusing to back the Nixon administration's spending curbs, defecting Republicans slowly are undermining a prime GOP campaign issue — excessive spending by a Democratic-controlled Congress.

Twice in less than two months ignoring President Nixon's orders to cut spending, Congress has overturned his vetoes.

In both cases, Republicans deserting the administration have provided enough votes to muster the two-thirds majority needed.

The Senate, following the example set by the House, comfortably overrode Nixon's veto of the $4.4 billion aid to education appropriations bill Tuesday. The 77-to-16 vote automatically made the measure law.

Joining with all voting Democrats, 23 Republican senators cast ballots against the administration's position. Sixteen Republicans voted to sustain the veto.

In June the Senate overrode Nixon's veto of the hospital construction bill, 76 to 19, with 22 Republicans defecting.

The Senate's action on the aid to education bill gave Nixon a split on his vetoes so far. The President's vetoes of the fiscal 1970 health, education, and welfare bill and the fiscal 1971 housing and independent offices appropriations bills were sustained.

Democrats who want to use Nixon's refusal to allow more funds for domestic programs as one of their campaign issues rejected contentions that providing more money for education could be translated into excessive spending.

Senate Asks SST Funds Be Halted

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Warning of a potential $3 billion throwaway, a joint Senate-House panel today strongly recommended the federal government stop financing development of the supersonic transport (SST) plane.

The Joint Economy Subcommittee said "no further financial support of the supersonic transport development program is justified at this time."

In a report based on hearings held in May, the subcommittee concluded "few significant public benefits" appear likely to accrue from the SST and added "more productive uses of government resources are clearly available."

Of the subcommittee's 10 members, only Rep. Clarence J. Brown, R-Ohio, objected. He said "the same kind of thinking... would have kept the American government... from developing transcontinental railroads or President Kennedy 10 years ago from undertaking a program to reach the moon."

The SST would be designed to carry about 300 passengers at 1,800 miles per hour—far above the speed of sound. Supporters of the project have said it is necessary to keep the United States in competition with an SST being built by France and Britain. Critics have said it would become a plaything of the jet set and add to noise pollution.

The report said there was no satisfactory evidence the production phase of the SST can be financed entirely from private sources.

"If the SST program is continued, the total cost to the government is likely to reach billion or more," the report said.

Fate Of Cargo Unknown

ABOARD THE USS HARTLEY (UPI)—The Navy today abandoned its efforts to determine whether a sinking Liberty ship released its cargo of deadly poison gas into the Atlantic Ocean 262 miles off the Florida coast.

Elaborate experiments to determine whether 418 concrete and steel vaults of nerve gas burst apart under the pressure of three miles of ocean water ended in failure, as did efforts to pinpoint the exact location of the sunken hull.

The Navy said its special satellite navigation equipment failed to find any trace of the SS LeBaron Russell Briggs, leaving it and 67 tons of the obsolete but toxic gas lost under 16,000 feet of water.

Navy experts expressed disappointment but indicated the failure of the experiments would add nothing to the possible threat to human life, which they said was almost nonexistent anyway.

Only one test worked, but it was inconclusive.

Water samples taken from a line lowered almost half way to the sea bed showed negative results for gas. A Navy spokesman said that particular test would have been meaningful only if it had reacted positively. No gas was evident in water samples taken at the surface, but none had been expected.

The major reason for the failure apparently was the unusually violent descent of the old haulk. Sounding equipment indicated the ship sank at 2,000 feet per minute, smashing into the ocean floor at 25 miles per hour only eight minutes after slipping beneath the surface in a spray of foam.

It was a disappointing ending for an operation which had gone smoothly from the time the Army began loading the obsolete rockets aboard trains at Anniston, Ala., and Richmond, Ky., 11 days ago.

Even as the operation was completed Tuesday, the United States assured the world it would never again dump chemicals into the sea. The Army said it was necessary this one last time because there was no way to break into the concrete "coffins" to detoxify the gas.

The test at sea had been set up to placate environmentalists who feared the vaults would burst under the crushing pressure of three miles of ocean water, releasing the gas immediately. The Army said there would be no danger to humans in that case because ocean water would neutralize the gas, and only a limited amount of marine life would be affected.

The Navy had hoped to collect water samples from the sunken ship in 10 bottles that should have floated to the surface automatically over a period of eight hours. They were equipped with lights and radio devices to enable the destroyer escort USS Hartley to retrieve them. But four bottles surfaced prematurely and the others apparently never reached the surface.

Hitchhiker Robbed
A hitchhiker, traveling west on I-40, reported to a service station in McLean around 9:30 a.m. today, he had been robbed by five shirtless males traveling in a pickup truck.

The victim reported the theft to authorities when the pickup truck stopped for gas at a McLean Service Station.

An All Points Bulletin was issued immediately following report of the strong-arm robbery.

All election officials, office holders, candidates, party officials and the general public are urged to be present to present their views on the election code. This committee is under the chairmanship of Rep. James W. Stroud of Dallas. Other members in addition to Abraham are Russell Cummings of Houston, Bob Salter of Gatesville and James Cole of Greenville.

Abraham stated he was pleased the committee has seen fit to accept his invitation to meet in Amarillo so that the people of the Panhandle will have a chance to express their views to the Committee.

September Oil Allowable Upped

AUSTIN (UPI)—The Texas Railroad Commission jumped the state's oil production allowance for September to a record 79.9 per cent of potential today, but chairman Ben Ramsey warned producers that higher increases could tax current facilities and cause a serious pollution threat.

Ramsey, in a statement read before the chairman announced the September allowable, said Railroad Commission personnel had conducted surveys showing that excessively high production quotas could cause problems in the industry.

Ramsey said higher allowables could result in an increase in salt water production that would tax disposal facilities, could cause production of more head gas than can adequately be handled, and could overburden the present pipeline system.

He said work is being done to eliminate these shortcomings so production could conceivably be increased to 100 per cent of potential if necessary. But he said such work requires time and huge expenditures.

The 79.9 per cent allowable for September will permit estimated production of 3,400,000 barrels of crude daily, an increase of 424,000 barrels per day over the August levels. The commission had called a special meeting earlier this month to boost the August allowable to 70 per cent—the previous record. Maximum production permitted under the September

Of the 14 major purchasers, seven asked the commission to raise the September allowable, six asked that it be left unchanged, and only one asked for a reduction.

Expects Strong Market
John Yaeger of Humble Oil and Refining Company said his firm expects a very strong market in coming months. Yaeger said Humble quickly disposed of crude surplus when Hurricane Celia damaged its Corpus Christi refinery.

Ramsey said crude stocks in the state as of Aug. 7 stood at 96.6 million barrels, down 2.3 million from the previous week, down 5.5 million from July and down 4.5 million from August of 1969.

The U.S. Bureau of Mines had estimated September demand at 3,420,000 barrels daily, up 200,000 from the August demand. Major purchasers had indicated plans to buy 3,428,295 barrels of crude per day in September, an increase of $3,877 over the August nominations.

Nominations by major purchasers included Atlantic Richfield 210,000, Chevron 70,800, Cities Service 91,000, Continental 42,000, Diamond Shamrock 35,000, Gulf 235,000, Humble 540,000, Mobil 35,000, Pan American 420,000, Phillips 130,000, Shell 165,000, Sun 165,000, Texaco 200,000, and Union of California 69,300.

Some Texas Schools May Open Little Late

NEW ORLEANS (UPI)—School may open a little late in six Texas cities as a result of a desegregation ruling handed down Tuesday by the 5th U.S. Court of Appeals.

The court ordered integration completed when school starts in Ferris, Garland, Lubbock, Richland, San Angelo and Wichita Falls.

"We deem it less disruptive to postpone the opening of the school for a very brief interval than to effect total desegregation after the schools are in operation," the court said.

The ruling reversed action by U.S. District Judge Joe E. Estes to have hearings on a Justice Department suit to require desegregation on Sept. 10, from 10 to 21 days after the schools were scheduled to open.

The hearing was to be a preliminary pretrial conference in which pending motions and other legal moves in the desegregation of the districts were to be considered.

The Justice Department appealed Estes' ruling, and the circuit court said, "The effect of the order was to deny the (desegregation) injunction, since desegregation plans would not be put into operation until some time after the opening of schools for the 1970-71 term."

The appeals court said desegregation plans are to be implemented which bring "a unitary system of pupil attendance with the start of the fall 1970 school term."

The circuit court told the chief judge of the Northern District of Texas to enter a show cause in connection with the Lubbock and Wichita Falls school districts cases.

The chief judge was also ordered to set speedy hearings for the applications in the Ferris, Garland, Richland and San Angelo suits.

The circuit court said it "may be appropriate in one or all instances to order a delay in the opening of schools."

Opening dates for the six districts are: Ferris, Aug. 20; Garland, Aug. 27; Lubbock, Aug. 26; Richland, Aug. 25; San Angelo, Aug. 24; and Wichita Falls, Aug. 31.

Suspect Sought In Red Cross Worker's Death

SAIGON (UPI)—Military authorities today issued a wanted bulletin for an unidentified suspect in the murder of Red Cross volunteer Virginia Kirsch, 21, of Brookfield, Ohio.

The authorities, who said a "sizeable" reward would be paid for information leading to his capture, issued a composite drawing and a description. It said he was a 23-year-old Caucasian of medium height and build, dressed in light colored trousers, a white shirt and dark jacket. The clothes may be blood-spattered, they said.

Miss Kirsch was found stabbed to death early Sunday at Cu Chi, 16 miles northwest of Saigon. She had been at the base about a week and had arrived in Vietnam only two weeks before that. She was one of six Red Cross volunteers quartered at a billet under Military Police guard 200 yards from the division headquarters building.

Nixon To Ask Ban On Use Of Poison Gas

WASHINGTON (UPI)—President Nixon has decided to formally ask the Senate to approve a 1925 Geneva agreement banning the wartime use of poison gas and bacteriological weapons—an accord already signed by all the other major world powers.

Nixon planned to send the Senate today the agreement, called the Protocol for the Prohibition of the Use in War of Asphyxiating, Poisonous or Other Gases and of Bacteriological Methods of Warfare. As in the case of a treaty, ratification requires a two-thirds vote in the Senate.

Nixon announced Nov. 25 the National Security Council had completed an extensive review of U.S. chemical and biological warfare programs and said the United States would unilaterally renounce the use and production of biological agents.

He also said his administration would seek the necessary Senate advice and consent for the Geneva protocol, in line with stated U.S. policy of not being the first to use chemical weapons in conflict.

Ironically, it was the United States in 1925 which sought the ban on chemical and biological methods of war. The Senate Foreign Relations Committee later reported favorably on the protocol but it never was brought up for a vote. A host of vested interests, marshaled by the U.S. Army, lobbied against the protocol, claiming such a treaty never would be observed. In 1947 the protocol was returned to the White House as a document on which the Senate has failed to act for many years.

Two Persons Die In Diphtheria Epidemic Ravaging San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—Between 6,000 and 10,000 persons a day are receiving diphtheria shots but a health official says the epidemic which has hit the city could last for another year "at least."

The Health Department reported two more cases of diphtheria Tuesday bringing the total for the year to 52. Nine other persons are suspected of having the disease. Two persons have died because of it.

Dr. Martha Lyn Green, director of the communicable disease division of the San Antonio Health Department, said the fifth clinic dispensing diphtheria shots opened Tuesday. She said the 100 regular health department nurses and 10 to 15 volunteer nurses staffing the centers could administer the 6,000 to 10,000 shots a day.

"What's it going to take to stop the epidemic?" Dr. Green said. "Everybody must get their immunization and that won't happen because everybody won't come in."

"If we don't get everybody in it could smoulder for a long time," she said. "I'm talking about another whole year at the least. At least, this is the experience in other epidemic areas and I don't know why ours should be any different."

Dr. Green said the number of daily immunizations has not made a dent in the epidemic and she said her staff "may die of exhaustion" before any dent is made. She also said the fall school semester opens next week and this could be a "powder keg" because of the close person-to-person atmosphere which helps to spread diphtheria.

"When you put persons close together like in school you are compounding the problem," she said. "Yes, sir, it's very difficult to stop once it starts."

Star Of 'Forty Carats' Loses More Than That To Burglars

NEW YORK (UPI)—Zsa Zsa Gabor, star of the Broadway show "Forty Carats," was robbed of jewelry estimated to be worth $700,000 by two gunmen in an elevator of the Waldorf Astoria Hotel early today, police said.

The actress was not harmed. "I got in the elevator and it was all over in two seconds," she was quoted as saying. "I wasn't going to argue with a gun so I gave them the jewelry and then went upstairs and called the police."

The actress was returning to her suite in the Waldorf Towers when she was robbed at about 12:45 a.m. when the robbery took place, a press secretary said. Police said the bandits took two 46-carat rings and a set of diamond earrings.

At the stationhouse where Miss Gabor went after reporting the robbery, police said it was their understanding the gems were not insured. The $700,000 estimate was given by the press.

June Quarter Horse Show Largest Held In Pampa

The June Quarter Horse Show was the largest held in Pampa in several years, reported Ed Vincent, Quarter Horse Committee chairman, at the Top O' Texas Rodeo Association director's meeting in the Chamber of Commerce office Tuesday evening.

There were 212 entries in the show this year, Vincent said. Final plans for the Top O' Texas Rodeo Dances, which will be given Aug. 21-22, in the National Guard Armory were also discussed at the meeting. Dr. Kenneth Royle and Truman Ataway are dance committee chairmen.

Other business discussed included the construction of grand stands to replace those destroyed by the April 17 tornado, on which construction will begin as soon as the insurance money to use on the project becomes available. Already the fence around the arena and all of the light poles, which were completely destroyed by the tornado, have been replaced, according to Holly Gray, board president.

"We expect to have a Top O' Texas Rodeo in 1971," said Bill McIntyre, board vice-president. McIntyre also said Tommy Steiner, who was to produce the rodeo this year, will be the rodeo producer next year.

Stolen Madonna Recovered

ROME (UPI)—Police Tuesday recovered a painting of the Madonna stolen recently from Rome's Church of Santa Maria del Popolo.

Nation's Corn Crop Threatened By Blight

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The Agriculture Department says the new wave of corn blight has spread from the Gulf of Mexico to near the Canadian border, but it has no idea yet how much of the nation's $5 billion corn crop has been ruined.

Government experts reviewed reports from around the country Tuesday and said the next 10 days to two weeks—and the kind of weather conditions which prevail during that time—will decide the fate of the 1970 corn crop.

There already were ominous signs in Illinois, the nation's No. 1 corn producing state last year. John W. Lewis, director of the state agriculture department, estimated the wind-borne fungus has hit every county in Illinois and destroyed one quarter of the crop.

The southern corn leaf blight is "a new mutated form of a previously minor fungus. When damp conditions prevail, it attacks the corn leaves, causing them to wilt. In later stages it can cause the corn stalks and the ears to rot.

Some specialists have estimated the 1970 corn crop could be cut by 10 per cent and future crops might be damaged because of afflicted seeds. Most of the corn crop is fed to livestock or exported as feed, and any major cut in the supply could eventually force meat and poultry prices up.

The Agriculture Department said Tuesday from 70 to 90 per cent of all hybrid corn grown in the United States is susceptible to the blight. Control, it said, rests not in spraying but in the long-range development of new blight-resistant hybrids.

If dry weather prevails in the Midwest corn belt during the next few weeks, the department said, damage could be minimal, even in fields already hit by the blight. An added complication is that the crop in some parts of the Midwest is maturing later than usual this year because of spring weather conditions which delayed planting.

Corn is the nation's leading crop, totaling 4.6 billion bushels in 1969 worth an estimated $5.1 billion. The 1970 crop has been estimated at 4.693 billion bushels.

Forest Fire Rages Out Of Control In Northern State

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)—Forest fires, their flames fanned into giant peaks by winds gusting to 50 miles per hour, raged out of control in three separate areas of northern Wyoming today. More than 5,000 acres of timber and grasslands have been charred.

The largest of the fires, which turned the sky a "blood red," destroyed more than 5,000 heavily timbered acres of the Big Horn National Forest near the Montana state line Tuesday night.

The other fires blazed on the Wind River Indian reservation, where two men lost their lives when a converted bomber with fire-fighting chemicals crashed; and in the Shoshone National Forest, scene of a major fire last week.

"I've never seen one this big spread so fast," said Forest Ranger Bob Joslin at the Big Horn fire. "The winds came, it blew up and away she went. The smoke is so thick that helicopters aren't much good. The area is rough and there are many canyons, but it is accessible. The majority of the area burned through is matured timber, 120 years old or more."

The Big Horn fire, which leveled an area four miles long and a mile wide, was only six miles from the Montana border. More than 400 firefighters manned the lines of the blaze, the biggest in the forest since 1943.

Forest Superintendent Robert Ridings said weather would determine when the blaze would be controlled. "We have had another fire break loose in Montana, and this will tie up some of our men," he said.

Uses Toy Pistol To Hijack Plane

HAMAMATSU, Japan (UPI)—A young man wielding a toy pistol hijacked a Japanese jetliner in flight today and forced it to land at an air base in a bizarre suicide plot. Police seized the man when he permitted a woman in labor to get off.

Authorities said the hijacker, Sachi Inagaki, 24, wanted to exchange the 74 passengers aboard an All Nippon Airways Boeing 727 for a rifle to kill himself.

Funeral services are planned for 2 p.m. Thursday in Susanville with burial in Janesville.

Survivors include his wife, Josephine of the home; two daughters, including Mrs. Evans; two brothers and two grandchildren.

Mr. Berry, retired from the General Petroleum Corp., was superintendent for Wilcox Oil and Gas during his 20-year residence in Pampa. He had moved to California in 1942. He was a mason and a World War I veteran.

Forest Fire Rages Out Of Control In Northern State

CHEYENNE, Wyo. (UPI)—Forest fires, their flames fanned into giant peaks by winds gusting to 50 miles per hour, raged out of control in three separate areas of northern Wyoming today. More than 5,000 acres of timber and grasslands have been charred.

The largest of the fires, which turned the sky a "blood red," destroyed more than 5,000 heavily timbered acres of the Big Horn National Forest near the Montana state line Tuesday night.

The other fires blazed on the Wind River Indian reservation, where two men lost their lives when a converted bomber with fire-fighting chemicals crashed; and in the Shoshone National Forest, scene of a major fire last week.

"I've never seen one this big spread so fast," said Forest Ranger Bob Joslin at the Big Horn fire. "The winds came, it blew up and away she went. The smoke is so thick that helicopters aren't much good. The area is rough and there are many canyons, but it is accessible. The majority of the area burned through is matured timber, 120 years old or more."

The Big Horn fire, which leveled an area four miles long and a mile wide, was only six miles from the Montana border. More than 400 firefighters manned the lines of the blaze, the biggest in the forest since 1943.

Forest Superintendent Robert Ridings said weather would determine when the blaze would be controlled. "We have had another fire break loose in Montana, and this will tie up some of our men," he said.

PERSISTENT ROBBERS

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (UPI)—When two young women approached Thomas Wolfe, 47, Monday on a downtown street and asked him for money, he said he had none and took out his wallet to prove it. Two men then attacked him and the four ran away with his wallet. Wolfe told police he chased his attackers for a short distance, until one of the men turned around and corrected an earlier oversight by taking Wolfe's $34 wristwatch.

Jaycees Search For "Prettiest Girl"

The Pampa Jaycees are searching for the prettiest 6, 7 or 8 year old girl in the Pampa area. She will be crowned "Little Miss Jaycee Fair" next week to climax the Jaycee Fair. The fair will be held in the Coronado Center, Aug. 24-29. More than $100 in prizes await the winner, according to Emmett Saltzman, pageant chairman. Montgomery Ward & Co. will provide her with some back to school clothes. The First National Bank will give her a $25 savings bond, a $5 gift certificate awaits her at Highland Young Fashions. Her picture will be taken by Qualls Studio. Woolworth has a large doll or some toys. Several other prizes will also be awarded. Preliminaries will be held Aug. 23 with the finals held the following night. Entrants need to submit the girl's name, address, telephone number, parents' names, a 3 x 5 or larger black and white glossy picture of the girl and the name of the sponsoring organization or business, if any. The entries should be sent to Emmett Saltzman, 1026 North Duncan, Pampa, by Aug. 24.

Chartered Bus Plunges Over Mountain When Brakes Fail

GALAX, Va. (UPI)—A teenage member of an Illinois drum and bugle corps was killed and 44 other members injured Monday when a chartered bus lost its brakes on a mountain road and plunged down an embankment. The dead youth was identified as Charles Guider, 18, of Chicago.

Eleven of those injured were admitted overnight to a hospital in Mount Airy, N.C. The others were released after treatment and taken to a nurses' home in Mount Airy to spend the night.

"It's a funny thing," said Dennis Bailas, 18, of Chicago, one of those injured but released. "A few more turns and we would have been out of the hills and into flatter country. We didn't have enough time. He (the bus driver) tried to stop us, but we caught the guard rail and it jerked us back. The bus landed upside down and kids started getting out. Nobody panicked."

"I don't know what caused the brakes to go out. It was just a lousy coincidence. Things just happened at the wrong time," he said. State police said the bus clipped a rock wall, struck a guard rail on Fancy Gap Mountain and went over a sharp embankment. It stopped when it hit trees and brush. It was a chartered bus, carrying a group of youngsters from Chicago to Miami where they were to watch a marching band competition. The group, the Skokie, Ill.; Imperials, competed in marching band competitions at Marion, Ohio, Saturday, and at Washington, D.C. Sunday, and was heading for Miami where it would view but not participate in, marching at the VFW convention.

Police Take Dim View Of See Through Dresses

ALICANTE, Spain (UPI)—Spanish officials ordered an unusual fine for a Puerto Rican girl wearing a see-through dress and no bra in this resort city. They assessed her two dresses. Police described the action against the girl, whose name was withheld, as a "double fine." When officers took her to a store and ordered her to buy new attire, they said she emerged from shop wearing a maxiskirt with a see-through blouse and still no bra. The officers were undaunted, however, they ordered her back into the shop to buy a second dress, then allowed her to resume her vacation.

Nerve Gas Will Have Minimal Effect On Organisms

GENEVA (UPI)—The United States today assured a United Nations committee the disposal of nerve gas in the Atlantic cannot endanger human life and will have minimal effect on ocean organisms. Following this assurance, the U.N. Committee on Peaceful Uses of the Seabed deferred voting on a resolution which would have expressed concern over the U.S. action. The committee decided instead that delegates would contact their governments for further instructions in light of the American explanation. Ambassador Christopher H. Phillips, the chief U.S. delegate told the committee the nerve agents will be neutralized by contact with sea water.

Washington Report

BOB PRICE, NEW YORK, TEXAS

In last minute actions before a three week summer vacation, the House of Representatives voted last week to sustain one Presidential veto, override a second, and to present a women's rights constitutional amendment to the states for ratification.

VETOS
I voted to uphold the President's veto on the Independent Offices appropriations bill which exceeded his budget by $541 million and the Office of Education appropriations bill which exceeded the budget request by $453 million.

President Nixon vetoed these bills on the basis that the amounts in excess of the budget would tend to increase the inflationary spiral and raise the cost of living for the average American.

Those of us who voted with the President on these bills did so for two major reasons. First, because we believe that the increase in the cost of living is the most important domestic problem facing the Congress and the administration. I do not think anyone can say that a billion dollar deficit in two appropriation bills is not inflationary.

Secondly, the agencies responsible for spending these funds have indicated that the amount of funds they requested in the President's budget are all they can spend without waste.

The President's Office of Education budget request represented a 23 percent increase over the last budget of the previous Administration. Consequently, his veto of the Congressional bill does not represent a cut in the present level of school funds. It is not

Highlights And Sidelights From The State Capitol

By VERN SANFORD
Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — More than 2.7 million Texas students soon will be heading back to public schools again.

There will be a lot of changes in store for them, although most probably will fast adjust or barely recognize the differences.

Teachers will begin work a little earlier, and classes in some areas will start earlier.

School year will stretch out from 175 classroom days to 180. Teachers will be on duty 16 more days of non-teaching work for in-service training and to help with school opening and closing.

For 224,500 little ones, the school experience will be brand new. They are the first graders and (30,000) five-year-olds in a new state-supported kindergarten program.

A drug education program also will be initiated, seeking an effective two-way communication between youth and adults. Utilized in the effort will be modern techniques and teaching methods which encourage students to express themselves rather than relying on lectures, preaching or moralizing. Training of local teaching teams in 1,200 school districts is slated to start in September and October.

Twenty-two school districts in major population and geographic areas will be pilot testing three key facets of the state's emerging plan for special education. These districts will serve as a proving ground for efforts in comprehensive special education, early childhood programs for exceptional children and teaching tailored for children with language and — or learning disabilities.

Even broader changes may be in store for pupils of 16 school districts used in federal courts at Austin and Tyler for racial segregation. Districts held conferences at Texas Education Agency last week to prepare plans for conversion to non-discriminatory systems. Plans are due to go to courts by Friday (Aug. 21). Hearings may begin Monday.

EAGLE MAY BE OUT — A Railroad Commission examiner has prepared a report recommending Missouri Pacific Railway Co. be permitted to discontinue its St. Louis Eagle passenger train.

Finding came after extensive hearings in several cities. Opponents of shutting down the train have 30 days to reply and restate their case.

Eagle was one of the last three passenger trains on a regular run across the state from Texarkana to Laredo and back once a day.

MP claimed a revenue loss and asked permission to cut it off its routes.

DRAFT CALL UP — September draft call for Texas is 704 — a considerable increase from 560 in August. But no man will be ordered for induction with a random sequence number higher than 195.

Col. Charles M. Duncan, deputy state Selective Service director, said it appears unlikely the ceiling will go higher than 195 for the rest of the year. Duncan said new manpower, mainly from formerly-deferred students, helped hold the level on sequence numbers.

September quota for pre-induction physical and mental examinations is 7,171, an increase from 1,490 in August. Texas' induction quota of 704 is the state's share of a national call of 12,000 men, all for the Army.

PARKS ADVANCED — Outstanding new Lyndon B. Johnson State Park near Stonewall, and across Ranch Road 1 from the famed LBJ Ranch, will be officially dedicated on August 29 at 2 p.m.

Former president will attend the festivities which include a reception and luncheon in Stonewall.

Parks and Wildlife Department also announced approval of a $353,050 federal grant for a development project in Abilene State Park.

Funds will be matched by the state on a 50-50 basis in the $710,000 project which includes building of a headquarters, visitors' center, campsites, a group shelter, wading pool, playground equipment, roads, and parking.

INSPECTION TIME AGAIN — Another auto inspection deadline is approaching for vehicles with red stickers and the large numeral "9".

These cars, warned Col. Wilson E. Speir, director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, must be reinspected before midnight September 30.

Texas now has a 12-month inspection system. Sticker in the lower left-hand corner of each automobile windshield contains a large numeral showing the month of inspection and expiration.

Speir said cars with red stickers and a number "10" must be reinspected before midnight on the last day of October, those with an "11" by the end of November and those with a "12" by December 31. Fee remains at $2, with adjustments or repairs extra if required.

LAND RECOVERY SOUGHT — Land Commissioner Jerry Sadler has called on Atty. Gen. Crawford C. Martin to take whatever legal steps are necessary to recover lands of Calhoun County Navigation District not being used for navigation purposes.

Sadler noted that 47,000 acres were purchased by the district from the state in 1956 for $1 an acre. In 1961, Sadler said, he refused to approve the district's application to buy additional lands, after officials admitted 20,000 acres of the original purchase were considered surplus acreage not needed for navigation purposes. Some of this land, he said, has gone into private real estate development.

Commissioner said he urged the attorney general's office as far back as December 28, 1961, to take steps to recover the 20,000 acres for the permanent school fund but got no action. School Land Board, he related, has now requested that the land be recovered.

GRANTS APPROVED — Gov. Preston Smith has approved a federal grant for $114,389 for operation of a family planning program for migrant farm workers in 26 Texas counties and six other states where they migrate.

Counties benefiting are Val Verde, Kinney, Uvalde, Bexar, Jim Wells, Maverick, Zavala, Dimmit, Frio, LaSalle, McMullen, Duval, Webb, Live Oak, Bee, Refugio, San Patricio, Nueces, Kleberg, Zapata, Jim Hogg, Brooks, Starr, Willacy, Hidalgo and Cameron.

Smith also announced approval of a demonstration grant of $72,344 to Las Colonias Del Valle Inc. in San Juan, Hidalgo County, for youth development program.

A state regional planning assistance grant of $14,930 went to the South Plains Association of Governments (SPAG) serving 33 cities, eight special purpose governments and 11 counties.

AG OPINIONS — An off-duty policeman may not conduct a private enterprise, employing other off-duty policemen or officers, to perform guard duty or patrol without securing a license, says Attorney General Martin.

In other opinions, Martin ruled that:

An alarm agency, approved by the State Board of Insurance, may perform certain activities — send their representative to answer the alarm, furnish a key to police officers for entrance to the premises, assist the police as they may request in their check of the premises, and reset the alarm after the police have finished their work — without its personnel having obtained a license.

Commission on Fire Protection Personnel Standards and Education has authority to hire an executive director, provided that his duties are solely administrative or ministerial, and do not call upon him to exercise discretion or judgment concerning the powers and duties required to be performed by the members of the Commission.

SHORT SNORTS — Judge Joe Frazier Brown of San Antonio, executive director of the Texas Criminal Justice Council, has been named to the national executive committee and chairman of the committee on discretionary grants for heads of state criminal justice planning agencies.

Drug use among children committed to Texas Youth Council has increased from five to 70 per cent during last three years, according to new report of State Program on Drug Abuse.

South Texas groups (United Farm Workers, PASO, MAYO and Colonias del Valle) have filed suit against the government and the Department of Public Safety, claiming they are being spied on by state police.

Mrs. Gwendolyn Craddock of Austin is new administrative technician in Texas Office of Economic Opportunity.

SEEK UNIDENTIFIED SUB — STOCKHOLM (UPI)—Naval and Air Force units were searching for an unidentified submarine in Swedish territorial waters Monday, the Defense Command reported. A number of violations of Swedish territorial water by unidentified submarines have been reported in the last few years, but the defense forces never have been able to identify the ships.

DIAL-A-BAND — BLACKBURN, England (UPI)—You can dial the Salvation Army in this northern England community and order up a band. The dial-a-band service went into effect Sunday and its first customer was Robert Hindman, 64, making his first visit to England since emigrating to Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada in 1929. The band ran through a selection of old favorites for Hindman, his sisters and their neighbors. There was no fee for the band but donations were accepted.

"CHARGE IT" WITH CONFIDENCE! WARD'S CHARG-ALL PLAN HAS CONVENIENT BUDGET PAYMENTS

Labor Department Campaigns To Remove Sex Bias In Wages

By ERNIE HOOD
(Written for NEA)

WASHINGTON — If the Women's Liberation Movement is looking for allies, it might well turn to the United States Department of Labor and the federal courts.

From the time the Equal Pay Act of 1963 was passed until May, 1970, litigation instigated by the Labor Department has recovered more than $2 million for women who had been discriminated against. Out-of-court settlements have resulted in more millions of earned but previously unpaid dollars.

Robert Moran, administrator of the Department's Wage and Hour Division, says that "the mandate of a pay rate for the job, regardless of sex is beginning to be fulfilled."

The Wage and Hour Division's enforcement campaign has bolstered this year by two landmark decisions in the U.S. Court of Appeals.

In one case, a New Jersey glass container manufacturer was ordered to pay back wages to 230 women selector-pickers who had received lower wages than men doing work the court found to be equal under the act.

The decision, which the Supreme Court refused to review, established three principles: jobs need only be "substantially equal" and not "identical" to permit job comparison under the Act; it is the employer's burden to provide explanation for any female-male wage differences on equal jobs; and the employer's past history can influence findings of whether or not the Act has been violated.

In the other decision, the court ruled against an employer who had paid all his women employees 10-cents an hour less than men. The employer contended that certain fringe benefits made women more expensive to employ but the court said the Act does not permit wage discrimination on those grounds.

Moran says that "as the body of equal pay laws continues to grow, it is probable that many other jobs will be found to be equal."

A Dallas district court found the job of hospital orderly equal for pay purposes to that of nurse's aide, and Moran's office is investigating a wide range of other jobs.

Investigations have begun to determine whether the work of tellers and clerks in banks, insurance companies and similar institutions is equal.

Other questions have arisen in manufacturing, regarding inspectors, assemblers and other types of production line jobs; in retail trade, concerning sales clerks and cashiers, tailors and fitters; and in food service establishments, regarding cooks, chefs and other jobs.

Moran says he is carefully examining instances where men are paid more than women for doing the same job because, employers contend, the men are doing heavy lifting women can't do or because the men are undergoing special training.

Investigations often reveal that men are paid extra for heavy lifting but never do any and that training programs often exist only on paper, Moran charges.

The nonexistent training phenomenon in banks, Moran adds, "can probably be traced to the employer's stereotyped view that bank officers are traditionally men, hence, male tellers have promotional potential and should be paid more in order to keep them from going elsewhere."

There are still many employers who pay women less than men on equal jobs, Moran says, urging women to report any possible violation of the Equal Pay Act to the nearest field office of the Wage and Hour Division.

"Operation Razor Blade" Brings Storm Of Protest From Senator

LACKLAND AFB, (UPI) — At the urging of Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., Lackland officials are investigating the firing of Sgt. Jim D. Palmer, dismissed as assistant editor of a base newspaper because he cropped a picture of the base commander.

"There was never any intention to insult the commander," Palmer said. "Nobody would be that big a fool."

Because of space limitations the 8-by-10 photograph was cropped to six inches wide by two and one-half inches deep for publication in "The Tale-spinner." It showed Maj. Gen. John S. Samuel receiving the Legion of Merit award from two other persons.

"The picture was cropped too closely," Lackland information officer Lt. Col. John L. Hartig said. "It was spread out in a horizontal picture cut clear down to where nothing showed but the heads."

Insisted on Running

Palmer said the paper's editor, Sgt. John E. Polich, did not want to include the picture, but M-Sgt. Michael A. Kenny, the senior noncommissioned officer in charge of the newspaper, insisted on running it.

Polich complained to Proxmire saying Kenny stormed into the office "in a rage" and dismissed Palmer. Then "Operation Razor Blade" was launched, in which airmen spent an entire day snipping the offending photo from 10,000 copies of the newspaper.

"My impression was that the photo would not run," Polich said. "Palmer told me in the afternoon that Kenny had instructed him to put it in and he would find a spot for it. We both knew of the limitations that late in the day."

"I knew it was ordered and returned to the paper late that night. I did not object to it at that time. Had we been given more time we could have done better, but under the circumstances it was the best we could do."

Said 'You're Fired'

Palmer said when Kenny saw the cropped picture Aug. 1, he told him, "You're fired, you're fired. Clean out your desk."

Palmer said the part he cut out of the picture was "just arms and legs, which everyone has seen."

"Just because a man is a general officer, I don't see any reason for doing a picture differently," Palmer said. "I don't have any compunction about the place it was put or the way it looked."

Palmer said he was re-assigned to "special projects, which means anything." He said the transfer "removes me from newspaper responsibility."

Hartig said an investigation of the incident is underway and the results will be sent to Proxmire.

Gen. Samuel had no comment on the affair.

Palmer, of Fort Worth, Tex., was working on an engineering degree, at Texas Christian University when he was drafted into the military. He worked in the sports department of a Fort Worth newspaper while going to school.

Mom Says Others Prayed For Son

ODESSA, Tex. (UPI) — The mother of a 16-year-old boy lost in the New Mexico mountains for nine days said her son was kept alive by prayer from neighbors and friends.

"The whole town prayed that he would be found safe," Mrs. Walter Hamrick said Monday. "We all prayed. A special prayer service at our church in Odessa Sunday turned out to be a thanksgiving service when he was found."

Leslie Hamrick became lost Aug. 7 while on a church outing in the mountains near Ruidoso, N. M. The last time he was seen was when he told two hiking companions he wanted to walk to the base of a mountain.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I met a fellow rather accidentally on the telephone. We found out we had a lot in common (age and all) and he called me (on purpose) several times after that and we had many long, interesting conversations. Well, he asked if he could take me out for dinner on Sunday night, and I said yes.

He came over at four like we planned, and after about 40 minutes of talking, he wanted to kiss me.

I said, "No, I want to get to know you better." (After all, Abby, he really was a stranger to me as I had never seen him before.)

He said, "Well, that is how you get to know a person better." I still said, "No, not yet." So he got mad and walked out the door.

Did I do the right thing in not letting him kiss me? I would still like to get to know him better.

LOST HIM

DEAR LOST: From what you tell me about this young man, I'd say you didn't lose much. Yes, you did the right thing. And if he calls you again, and you still want to "know him better" don't forget the "method" he suggested for getting to know you better.

DEAR ABBY: I am 15 years old and I am having trouble with my mother. She won't let me get my ears pierced. I think I am old enough to know my own mind, and I don't see anything wrong with piercing my ears. Lots of the kids do it nowadays. Can you help me? I am a boy.

IRA in CLEARWATER, FLA.
DEAR IRA: You are still a minor, and as such, your mother is responsible for your actions. Think about it for a few more years. Do you really want two more holes in your head?

DEAR ABBY: My sister is intelligent, but she has one big fault. She continually corrects her poor husband every time he opens his mouth. And she doesn't care who is present.

If she could hear a tape recording of an evening of her nagging and correcting, maybe she would realize how terrible she sounds.

Needless to say, we don't see them as often as we could even though we live only a few miles away. She often asks me why we don't spend more time with them and I simply cannot bring myself to tell her. She has always been a bossy and opinionated person. How do I get it across to her that nobody enjoys being in the company of a person who is always belittling and correcting her husband? I hate to hurt her feelings.

HER SISTER

DEAR SISTER: If you honestly feel that by telling your sister the truth, she might accept it as constructive criticism and do something about it — never mind her "feelings." You'd be doing her a kindness. But if I read your letter right, I think you're "afraid" of your sister (just as her husband is) and will continue to avoid her — and complain behind her back.

DEAR ABBY: — Please pass this message on to your correspondent who so proudly signed herself "California's Worst Housekeeper":

Let's be honest, Baby. You are a dirty, happy, lovable pig — but a pig just the same.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Scott, Ginger, Brenda, Melissa, Robert and Russell, Mr. and Mrs. Jack McIntire, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Shelton, Loretta and Willetta from Spearman; Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Moore, Norma, Steven, Ronnie and Vernon Dale of Tucson, Ariz. Mrs. Inez Moore, Wanda and James of Grants, N.M. and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Harrison, Leslie and Cindy of Mobeetie. Mrs. Hawker's parents Mr. and Mrs. Wes Johnson and Doyle of Mobeetie also visited with the group.

GOLDEN ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Threatt

Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Threatt of 910 S. Reid will observe their Golden Wedding Anniversary with an open house from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturday at their home. Their daughter, Mrs. Emmett Teckell, 1129 S. Nelson, and a neighbor of Mr. and Mrs. Threatt, Mrs. R. W. Reed, will be hostesses for the anniversary party. Mr. and Mrs. Threatt were married Aug. 22, 1920, in Mans, Ark., and moved from Arkansas to London. In 1942 they moved from London to Wheeler and then to Pampa in 1950. Mr. Threatt is a retired boiler fireman from Civil Service at Amarillo AFB. Both of the members of the Church of Christ in Pampa. The couple have four children, Jesse Threatt of Centralia, Wash., Mrs. Joseph E. Bullard of Mount Pleasant, Wesley Threatt of Olympia, Wash.; and 16 grandchildren and seven great-grandchildren.

Former Pampan Tours Expo '70 In Scout Rally

Kathy Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Billy L. Rose, former Pampan, recently returned home in Yokohama, Japan, after attending the World Scout Rally at Expo '70 in Osaka, Japan.

Miss Rose was one of 44 Cadette and Senior Girl Scouts from the United States TOFS who were selected to participate in a program held at Festival Plaza on the Expo '70 Fairgrounds.

Miss Rose and her brother, Jeffrey, grandchildren of Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Rose of 847 S. Banks, were former students at Robert E. Lee Junior High School before joining their family in Japan. Jeffrey is preparing for Pony League Tournament at Tache Rowa AFB in Japan. Both youths attend the Nile C. Kinnick Dependent High School in Yokohama, Japan.

VILLAGERS' REVENGE

DACCA, Pakistan (UPI) — Villagers in Manupur district 250 miles from Dacca, angered by the killing of a village leader by a gang, have taken the law into their own hands, killing suspected gang members and other criminals, reports said Monday. One gang leader was beaten to death and his body cut up and thrown into a river. Twelve other suspected criminals also have been killed.

Families Sponsor Mobeetie Dinner

MOBEETIE (Spl) — Mr. and Mrs. Lester Hathaway were host to a dinner at their home recently for 23 guests. Those attending were their sons Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hathaway and family of Queens Town, and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hathaway and family of Mobeetie.

Others attending were Babe Greenhouse of Fallsbrook, Calif., Evny and Hubert Plumlee of Baytown, R.A. Greenhouse, Dollie Haning and boys of Vernon, Bill Greenhouse of Amarillo and Euan and Bill Knight and family and Mr. and Mrs. Cleve McMillion and family both of Wheeler.

AT TEXAS TECH There's a New 'Inn' Place For Living

The "Inn" Collegians meet on common ground at The College Inn, a new concept in residential facilities for students at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

The ultra-modern, multi-story structure directly across the street from the campus offers a half-thousand spacious rooms, arranged two rooms to a suite, carpeted and with connecting bath.

Two big, heated swimming pools grace semi-enclosed patios, and other areas shared by both men and women residents include those for dining, study and recreation.

Women occupy one of the spacious wings; men the others, and the cost of the luxury-concept living is a modest $9.50 per month, which includes both room and board.

For more information on college living with a flair, write The College Inn (formerly Bobby's), 1001 University Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401. (Adv.)

Your Horoscope

THURSDAY, AUG. 20

Your birthday Thursday: Now the initiative comes for a long, beneficial run of simplifying your life, leaving behind old habits, converting outdated belongings into more usable assets. This year all depends on your choices, although nothing seems adaptable to aggressive behavior on your part. Persuasion works out better. Thursday's natives care about how the world cooperates with their special projects, seldom feel that they have enough reward.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Step up and state your case where it counts, and to nobody less than the people who can do what you want done. Take home a pleasant surprise.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): During the general hubbub, some things you work at quietly Thursday make all the difference later on. Don't make special promises that must be kept secret.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Important people, particularly those you seldom see, are more favorable to your projects than nearby people who know you well. Evening conferences and journeys are favored.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Persistence and new contacts promise well now. Put in a full day, plan further moves. Friends and loved ones get entangled and require patience.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): Your knack of sensing what people want to hear will be tested, along with your need for keeping the facts straight. The later hours open up a chance to reconcile differences.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): There seem to be more places for your money than you have cash at hand. Most of them can wait, many are unrealistic. Take advice from loved ones.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Strangers are appealing and easy to get along with, while those near to you pick on trifles for a round of quibbling. A more pleasant mood prevails later.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Your gift of persuasion comes on well. You can smooth out relationship blunders. Ask for whatever is due, including an increase if you deserve it.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): You have help in expressing your story to important listeners Thursday. Creative work is favored to the extent that you neglect your friends and loved ones momentarily.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Divide your time fairly among those who claim it. Your property can be improved and increased in value now. Family affairs are sensitive to your mood.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): People don't remain enthusiastic all the time — this is one of those times when they don't bubble over. Career decisions made now are sound.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Seek technical advice, being sure to get the whole situation expressed. Your intuition provides a deeper insight from the stress of having explained your questions.

Peruvian Government Clamps Down On Automobile Plants

LIMA (UPI)—At a time when unemployment is estimated as high as 40 per cent of the Peruvian population, the Government has put eight automobile assembly plants out of business in Peru and has told the remaining companies they must fulfill their duty for the social and economic development of the country.

The Peruvian Council of Ministers Friday night approved a decree allowing only five of the nation's original 13 automobile assemblers to continue operating in Peru beginning in 1971.

The large Ford and General Motors assembly plants will close their doors, along with Leland Triumph, Fiat, Mercedes Benz, Peugeot, Renault and International Harvester.

Chrysler is the only U.S. maker that will continue operations in Peru. The others are Toyota, Nissan Motors (Datsun), Morot Peru (Volkswagen) and Industria Automotriz (Rambler, Renault).

Stop Motor Importations

The Peruvian Industrial Ministry said the remaining automobile assemblers "must comply strictly and rigorously with the principle that they must carry out the socio-economic development of the country."

Eleven of the 13 plants made applications to the government to continue assembling cars under a series of new restrictions handed down by the military government. Those firms remaining in the country will have to:

- Increase their percentage of Peruvian-made parts used to 70 per cent by Feb. 1, 1973.
- Stop the importation of motors by Jan. 1, 1974.
- Assemble only particular styles and sizes of automobiles authorized by the government.
- Each company can assemble only one model in each plant authorized by the Government.
- The remaining assembly plants also will be required to employ the "laborers" who will lose their jobs at the plants going out of business. Presumably the administrative employees at the other plants will lose their jobs, according to industry sources.

For the first quarter of 1970, the assembly plants in Peru had put together 3,499 units, more than 2,700 of which were assembled by Ford and General Motors.

Firms Decline Comment

"The firms had no immediate public comment on the decision of the Government to allow only five firms to continue operating in the country.

The importation of all cars except those owned by diplomats, is prohibited in Peru.

The military government began reorganizing the automobile assembly industry last year to lower the cost of the vehicles, and to provide for greater use of materials found in Peru.

All so-called luxury cars are prohibited in the country.

Washington Window

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The "sexual revolution" on college campuses is largely a myth.

So says a leading social scientist, Dr. Charles Winick, professor of sociology at the City University of New York.

Writing in a doctors' magazine called Medical Opinion and Review, Winick says a number of studies have been conducted in recent years to determine the actual incidence of nonmarital sexual relations among college students.

"The studies' findings have followed a somewhat consistent pattern: they suggest that the great increase in nonmarital sex that has been reported in the mass media has not occurred."

Proportions Unchanged

Sex research conducted by Dr. Alfred C. Kinsey and his collaborators during the 1940s indicated that about one-fourth of the college age females and one-half of the college age males had engaged in nonmarital coitus.

More recent studies suggest that "these proportions are still accurate," Winick says.

In other words, it's no more true today than it ever was that "everybody's doing it." Three out of four college girls apparently are retaining their virginity, however much they may delight in shocking their elders by expressing laissez-faire attitudes toward sexual behavior.

Winick also dismisses as myth the widely propagated notion that the availability of contraceptive pills and intrauterine loops has weakened traditional restraints on sexual activity by unmarried girls. Available studies suggest that new birth control methods "do not necessarily lead to an increase in women's sexual activity, but do make such activity less anxiety-provoking."

More Honesty

As for young men of college age, their tomcat instincts appear to be neither greater nor less than their fathers. The only discernible change is clearly a moral improvement: today's young men are "less likely to seek out prostitutes or casual contacts." This, Winick believes, is "part of the honesty and nonexplicative interest that increasingly characterizes boy-girl relationships in contemporary society.

Perhaps the most unexpected finding of campus sex research has to do with the effects of coed dormitory arrangements.

"Conventional wisdom suggests that dormitories shared by male and female residents are likely to be sites for much sexual activity," Winick notes.

"Instead, living together on a daily basis seems to lead to considerable desexualization of male-female relationships, which become more brotherly-sisterly."

Swiss Bank Accounts May No Longer Provide Safe Haven

BERN, Switzerland (UPI)—The days when American gangsters could hide their profits in numbered, secret Swiss bank accounts are also numbered, government officials said Tuesday.

An agreement worked out in U.S.-Swiss negotiations is primarily directed against persons involved in organized crime. The target is not every American who uses a Swiss bank account.

The government agreement in principle to compel bankers to unlock the secrets of some of their anonymous accounts—the first such official inroad into local bank vaults—is actually a byproduct of a proposed U.S.-Swiss agreement on legal cooperation in criminal cases, the officials said.

The officials declined to specify how the government would force bankers to disclose information about numbered accounts, since until now they have done so only on a voluntary basis, and because the treaty will only be signed after the Swiss government "consults the interested parties."

But in explaining the Swiss view of the agreement, the officials made clear that:

—American police must first provide evidence that the person using a numbered account "is cooperating with organized criminals."

OKLAHOMA IS A CLEAN STATE
LET'S KEEP IT THAT WAY!

Oklahoma's State Parks and Lodges have enjoyed the heaviest usage in their history.

In spite of this tremendous acceptance by so many people, both parks and lodges have noted an ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS among their patrons that shows that Oklahomans are realizing more and more that Oklahoma Parks and Lodges belong to the people — and the people KNOW they have a CLEAN STATE, and they WANT TO KEEP IT THAT WAY.

Our hat's off to the OKLAHOMA BEAUTIFUL COMMITTEE — to all Oklahomans everywhere who have helped plant the seeds of ENVIRONMENTAL AWARENESS that have helped keep our lodges and parks cleaner than ever.

Celia Victims Still Seek Help From RC

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI) — Registrars streamed into the Cross Recovery Center all weekend long, just as they have since Hurricane Celia disrupted their lives two weeks ago. A staff of 795 volunteers and career personnel handled applications for aid.

Families seeking help now number more than 16,000, with expenditures nearing the $1 million mark. One shelter remains open, where homeowners come to sleep at night after a day of trying to salvage something from the rubble of their possessions.

Tired Red Cross emergency workers still truck three mobile canteens around the damage areas dispensing food to people working 18 hours a day to repair damaged property. Emergency care director Bill Probes of Waco estimates 3,000 persons are still being fed daily.

LOS ANGELES — Prosecution witness Linda Kasabian, testifying in the Tate-Labianca murder trial that she had a "vision" the night of the Tate slayings: "I felt (Charles Manson) was the devil."

Soviets May Have Wanted Alex Dubcek To Defect

LONDON (UPI)—The Soviet Union may have wanted Alexander Dubcek to defect to the West and sent the fallen Czechoslovak leader as ambassador to Turkey for that reason, according to his biographer.

William Shawcross, who interviewed many of Dubcek's friends, relatives and countrymen in Czechoslovakia, makes the statement in a biography, "Dubcek" published Wednesday on the second anniversary of the Soviet invasion of the land where Dubcek tried to introduce "the human face of communism."

Dubcek, deep in disgrace, is now back in Czechoslovakia after a brief career as envoy to Ankara from Prague. Shawcross said that upon his dispatch to Ankara, Dubcek was given three choices.

"Either he could continue to resist the pressures upon him to recant, or he could submit to those demands and betray his Prague spring in one of two ways.

"He could return to Prague, face a party commission, admit his 'crimes,' deny 1968, and then hope for the tolerable exile of a Slovak village. Alternatively, he could betray his work equally effectively by defecting to the West," Shawcross said.

Shawcross said the Kremlin-backed post-Dubcek regime in Prague was attracted to having him defect: "They would at the same time be rid of an extreme embarrassment and the charges that Dubcek was a petty-bourgeois revisionist would automatically be proven."

Shawcross said it was not surprising: Dubcek refused to defect.

"Quite apart from the fact that to do so would involve total separation from his family, he is simply not defector material. He would find life as the helpmate of the CIA, the pampered poodle of the bourgeoisie and the darling of the Western press quite intolerable," the biographer said.

Nixon Says He Won't Use Price Controls

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Despite what President Nixon says publicly, he is glad to have the authority to regulate wages and prices according to a Texas representative who was the chief sponsor of the bill Nixon signed.

Nixon reluctantly signed the bill Monday providing him with standby authority to impose wage and price controls but promised not to use it.

"Price and wage controls simply do not fit the economic conditions which exist today," Nixon said. "I have previously indicated that I did not intend to exercise such authority if it were given to me."

But Rep. Wright Patman, D-Tex., said he believed Nixon was happy to have the anti-inflation weapon "his political pronouncements notwithstanding."

administration has disclaimed any such intention.

Patman, chairman of the House Banking Committee, said even if Nixon never used the wage-price controls authority, they have a vital and substantive role in any "type of jawboning" that the administration might undertake. This alone makes the legislation worthwhile.

all of the economic decisions of the President and Congress will be political issues in this fall's campaign," Patman said. "But this fact does not make invalid legislation to give the President standby wage and price authority."

TRC Imposes New Accident Ruling

AUSTIN (UPI) — Under the new rules of the Texas Railroad Commission, gas company representatives now have only 20 days to report gas pipeline accidents where the limit was once six months.

The commission passed a ruling Monday setting the 20-day limit gas company representatives have to submit written reports on gas transportation accidents where anyone is injured or more than $1,000 property damage occurs.

Shotgun in Reserve

In a letter to the Washington Post, Patman said Nixon "simply does not know what the economic future may bring, and I suspect that he is quite happy to have these standby authorities as a shotgun in his corner."

Patman said there were recent indications the Nixon administration was moving to "jawboning or moral persuasion as a means of controlling inflationary pressures." The

Pressure Method

"Jawboning" is the word used during the Johnson administration to describe government pressure on labor and industry to hold down wage and price demands.

Patman objected in his letter to the Post's accounts of the passing of the bill. He said the newspaper failed to give proponents' side of the argument for the legislation while carrying Republican charges it was proposed as a "political charade."

"I think it is apparent that

Inadequate Staff Given As Cause For Patient's Death

AUSTIN (UPI) — The superintendent of the Austin State School for the Retarded said today the strangulation death of a 20-year-old patient probably could have been prevented if the school had been adequately staffed.

The patient, Arnold E. Blackburn of Beaumont, was found dead with a rope around his neck following a game of "Cowboys and Indians" with several other retarded youths last Wednesday.

Larry Talkington, school superintendent, said three attendants were on duty at the 60-patient ward at the time of the accident.

"It's no secret that we're understaffed," Talkington said. "The ratio is supposed to be about one (attendant) to 10 (patients)."

Talkington said the patient was "severely retarded" and had a mental age of about five or six. Investigators were not able to learn much of the accident from other patients because of their mental conditions.

Talkington said repeated pleas to the Texas legislature for additional supervisory personnel for the 1,900-patient school have gone unfulfilled.

MIAMI BEACH (UPI)—John A. Jenkins, a Birmingham, Ala., attorney and former commander in chief of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, died of a heart attack Tuesday while swimming in a hotel pool. Jenkins, about 54, was here attending the 71st VFW convention when stricken.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The market shows no disposition at the moment to respond with enthusiasm to favorable developments, Standard & Poor's Corp. says. It would appear, therefore, that the path of least resistance is down for the time being. The firm believes, however, that periods of weakness should be used by the investor to accumulate soundly valued stocks for the long run.

The "spectacular bursts" of selling currently taking place in certain sectors of the market seem "grossly out of step with the gradually lengthening strides marking the economy's progress," Spear and Staff believes. Corporations are in "trim" shape now and any general economic pickup "should be leveraged, powerfully in terms of earnings," the firm says. Stocks too, should be very responsive to any profit upsurge.

James Dines & Co. describes as an "excellent" sign what is described as the "first time" that odd-lotters have begun to sell on balance during the current decline. It suggests that they are at last getting pessimistic enough so that a market bottom could be near. On the whole, the technical indicators are overwhelmingly bearish, and a short-term decline is a certainty, Dines adds.

Twins Nip Yankees

By United Press International
It's not everyday a .376 hitter is forced to learn to play another position. But Rod Carew may have no other choice.

Carew, the Minnesota Twins second baseman and the American League's leading hitter before suffering knee injury on June 22, begins the long road back today when he takes part in batting practice prior to tonight's game against the New York Yankees. But when Carew does return to action he will find second base more than adequately manned by rookie Danny Thompson.

Thompson was called up from the minors when Carew was injured and, according to Twins manager Bill Rigney, "has done everything I've asked him to."

Thompson came through again Tuesday night with three hits and two runs-batted-in as he helped the Twins beat the Yankees 8-7. He led off Minnesota's two-run, ninth-inning rally with a single and then helped break up a potential double play when he was forced at second base on a grounder hit by slow-footed Harmon Killebrew.

The game was a see-saw affair with the lead changing hands six times in the first five innings before the Twins finally won it in the ninth.

Tom Hall, the last of five Minnesota pitchers, got credit for the win, which kept the Twins four and a half games ahead of second-place California in the American League's West Division.

Other Games
The Angels kept pace by routing Cleveland 12-1 while Detroit beat Oakland 3-1. Baltimore blanked Milwaukee 2-0. Kansas City double-dubbed Washington 12-8 and Boston beat Chicago 8-4 in other AL action.

In the National League, San Diego whipped Chicago 11-3, Atlanta edged Philadelphia 3-2, Pittsburgh beat San Francisco 6-2, Los Angeles topped St. Louis 7-2, New York tripped Houston 7-1 and Montreal downed Cincinnati 7-4.

California coasted to its win over the Indians after erupting for nine runs in the seventh inning. Clyde Wright went the distance for California, yielding only five hits and becoming only the second pitcher in the club's history to win 17 or more games. The other was Dean Chance, who posted a 20-9 mark in 1964. Chance suffered Tuesday night's loss, lasting only two innings while giving up three runs on five hits.

As Sinking
Dalton Jones homered and doubled and Mickey Lolich pitched a five hitter in helping Detroit down Oakland. It was the fourth straight victory for the Tigers and the fourth consecutive loss for Athletics, now six games behind Minnesota.

Jim Hardin scattered five hits and Merv Rettenmund slammed his 15th home run as Baltimore moved 10 games ahead in the East with its triumph over Milwaukee. Marty Pattin took the loss. Bob Oliver's 25th homer with two men on paced Kansas City past Washington as the Royals snapped the Senators' seven-game winning streak. Lee Maye homered for Washington as rookie Al Fitzmorris posted his seventh win against three losses.

Rich Morales' error helped Boston score six runs in the fifth inning as the Red Sox rallied to beat Chicago. Mike Andrews paced Boston's 12-hit attack with three safeties, including his 13th homer. Reliever Ken Brett got credit for the win.

Gentry Finds Groove

By United Press International
Gary Gentry says he's bothered with "Seaver Syndrome."

Gentry's antidote to this condition was his second straight complete game the first time he's done that in his career—which gave the New York Mets a 7-1 victory Tuesday night over the Houston Astros. Gentry now has pitched back-to-back four-hitters.

The right-hander then defined what "Seaver Syndrome" is. "You constantly have to fight against what he (Tom Seaver) does. If he's in a close game, he stays in the game. The manager (Gil Hodges) will leave him in because he has confidence in him. But if I'm in a close game, I usually get taken out. You go out there and you think about that and when you start thinking about it, that's when you get into a situation like that. I've just got to go out there and show Hodges. I think I've got a lot of confidence. I have enough for both Hodges and I."

Of course, Hodges has a good reason for staying so long with Seaver. He was 25-7 last year and is 17-7 this season and has been practically carrying the club. Gentry, meanwhile, was 13-10 last year and is 9-6 this year and has been out a month with shoulder and elbow ailments.

Gentry struck out seven and walked three while pitching the Mets past the Astros and he also hit a run-scoring double that capped the Mets six-run third inning. The victory kept the Mets 2½ games behind Pittsburgh in the Eastern Division.

In the other National League games, Montreal topped Cincinnati 7-4, Los Angeles routed St. Louis 7-2, Pittsburgh dropped San Francisco 6-2, Atlanta nipped Philadelphia 3-2 and San Diego routed Chicago 11-3.

In the American League, Baltimore blanked Milwaukee 3-0, Minnesota edged New York 8-7, Detroit nipped Oakland 3-1, California routed Cleveland 12-1, Boston beat Chicago 8-4 and Kansas City beat Washington 12-8.

Steve Blass scattered six hits in seven innings and got credit for the victory as Pittsburgh beat San Francisco. It was his first victory since July 4 and his second start since he was hit on the arm by a line drive off the bat of Joe Torre on July 12.

The Big Red Machine may need a tuneup. Cincinnati made four errors while losing to Montreal. The Expos weren't much better as they committed three in the sloppy game. But the Reds made the worst error. Bernie Carbo muffed a bases-loaded line drive by Coco Laboy in the fifth that let three runs score.

Clete Boyer led off the ninth with his 12th homer to give Atlanta the victory over Philadelphia. Hoyt Wilhelm, age 47, got his fifth victory in relief. Chris Short, 6-13, took the loss.

Sandy Vance started his first game since being recalled from Spokane and pitched a five-hitter as Los Angeles beat St. Louis. Vance also hit a run-scoring single in a four-run sixth inning.

Ed Spiezio hit the first grand slam homer of the season for San Diego as the Padres routed the Cubs. The blast highlighted a five-run sixth inning.

AT LUBBOCK
Collegians Live With a Flair At "Inn" Place
College living with a flair is the specialty at The College Inn, the newest concept in residential facilities for men and women students at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

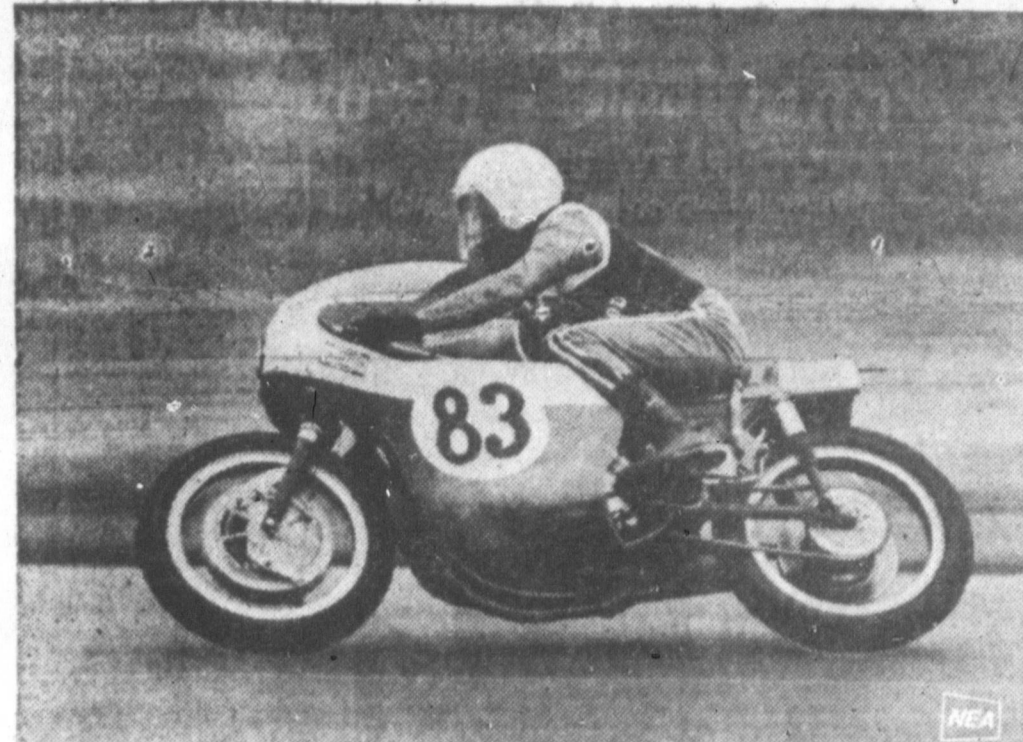

The multi-story luxury facility has separate wings for men and for women, but dining, recreation and study areas are common ground.

Two deluxe pools, heated and in semi-enclosed patios, offer year-around opportunity for swimmers or just plain sun-lovers.

The College Inn's 800 rooms are spacious, and they're fully carpeted with connecting bath.

The whole package, neatly placed just across the street from the Tech campus, is available to students at a modest $99.50 per month for room and board, private covered parking, maid service and all recreation facilities.

For more information, write The College Inn (formerly Hobby's), 1001 University Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401. (Adv.)

"Run Less, Pass More" Staubach Looks Forward To Green Bay

DALLAS (UPI)—Roger Staubach sees Saturday's Dallas Cowboys-Green Bay Packers game as his big chance to prove he can be a starting quarterback.

Dallas coach Tom Landry plans to start the former Heisman Trophy winner so he can look him over thoroughly, although Staubach has played three quarters so far this season to five for regular starter Craig Morton.

"Of course it's an opportunity and I'm delighted to get the chance," he said. "I feel if I perform like I'm capable of doing it'll be a step in the right direction. In the first two games my chances of becoming a starter didn't increase. I didn't do particularly well against Los Angeles or San Diego."

Staubach will be trying to run less and pass more, on instructions from Landry. He is presently Dallas' leading rusher, having darted out of the pocket and gained 81 yards on seven plays.

"I do like to run," Staubach said, "but I'd rather pass. Coach Landry has told me not to rely on running. But he did say it could be a definite asset if used right."

"I personally feel I can throw with anybody. I just have to stay in the pocket and make up my mind to key on the defense and throw, using the run just at times, say when I see a clear path to go three or four yards and make a first down."

Staubach has made it clear from the beginning his primary goal is to make the starting lineup.

"I feel personally I can start and win," he said. "But I'm team man. It will be a matter of some deep thinking on coach Landry's part. He has the experience in this game to make the right decision based on everything."

"I'm certainly aware what a fine athlete Craig is and that he has been brought along for

Orville Moody Wins 1970 American Pro-Youth Title

OKLAHOMA CITY (UPI)—Former U.S. Open champion Orville Moody won the 1970 American Pro-Youth Golf Classic and $10,000 prize money with a two-under-par 70 Tuesday.

Steve Scrafford, 17, of Edinboro, Pa., took the junior division title with a two-round score of 151, tying defending pro champion Dan Sikes' score. Sikes finished 18th.

Moody had a two-day total of 140 over the par-72 Twin Hills Country Club course.

Prof Lionel Hebert, Mike Hill, Hale Irwin and Bobby Nichols tied for second place at 142, collected $3,331.25 each.

Dave Stockton, the 1970 PGA winner, shot Monday's highest pro score, a 77, and repeated that score Tuesday for a two-day total of 154.

Sikes skidded to a 78 on the second round for a 151 finish.

this job and has the experience."

Mike Ditka was scheduled to start at tight end in place of Pettis Norman, who is out with a strained groin muscle. But Ditka came down with a pulled hamstring, so if he cannot play Saturday the Cowboys will use either Ken Bailey or offensive tackle Rayfield Wright at tight end.

Miller Barber, who carded a 69 to take the first-round lead Monday, leaped to 79 on his second round for a 148 total.

The 21 pros and 63 juniors suffered temperatures reaching 102 degrees by mid-afternoon, plus tricky wind gusts up to 30 miles an hour.

Moody was pleased with his identical 70 rounds and felt he played well both days. "My putting was pretty good and I hit the ball real well both days," he said.

Scrafford, who picked up six bogeys, a doublebogey, three birdies and an eagle on his last round, put together scores of 76-75 to top all juniors.

Former Pitcher Dies
ST. LOUIS (UPI)—Kurt Krieger, a pitcher in the St. Louis Cardinals' organization for nine years but who pitched in only three major league games, died Sunday at the age of 43.

Shaving Strokes

2-BE NERVOUS

I suppose playing in programs week after week, I see some of the most nervous people in the world. Invariably, I will have at least one partner who is worried almost sick about playing with a touring pro and who lets his nervousness disrupt his normal game, which might be fairly effectual.

If you ever play in a pro-am, I just remember there is no shot you can show me that I haven't already seen. In fact, I've hit them all myself at one time or another. I remember Dave Marr talking about one of his pro-am partners who was so nervous he imbedded his clubhead several inches into the ground well behind the ball trying to hit a simple approach shot, and a huge hunk of sod just sort of slowly folded over and obscured the ball. That's an extreme case, but nervousness can work against you if you let it.

The thing is, I want to be nervous, especially before I begin a round. It shows I care a lot about the tournament. I know I'm ready to play. Byron Nelson, who won 18 official tournaments 25 years ago in 1945, the PGA record, frequently couldn't keep his breakfast on his stomach before he teed off. He worried if he could eat.

The trick is to control your nervousness, to channel it so that it works for you. And don't be afraid because you're nervous. Warm up sufficiently. Take a few deep breaths. Then, after you tee off, take less club, maybe even two clubs less. The adrenalin will be flowing, and you'll hit the ball farther. But he glad you're nervous.
