Military Trains Start Run To Sea

OR DO THEY??

Women Win More Rights

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., the 82-year-old chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, said in his view men and women were as different as "a horse chestnut and a chestnut horse, and no law could change that. "Vive la difference," he added.

But Rep. Edith Green, D-Ore., said that was the issue. "Any kind of discrimination is degrading to the individual and harmful to society as a whole," she said, and went on to tell how women, in her view, are degraded in the United States.

Precedent Has Wide Effect

That was the prelude to an historic moment Monday as the House voted 350 to 15 for a proposed constitutional amendment which states: "Equality of rights under the law shall not be denied or abridged by the United States or by any state on account of sex."

The proposal is called the equal rights amendment and its effect on legal relationships between men and women could be profound if it eventually passes the Senate and is ratified by three-fourths of the states.

Both sides agreed it could make women subject to the draft and compel such institutions as the U.S. Military Academy at West Point to accept women.

They said it could overturn hundreds of state laws intended to protect women workers.

Sponsors said these laws in reality give no protection, but bar women from many responsible, high-paying jobs.

The House vote was a personal victory for Rep. Martha W. Griffiths, D-Mich., the chief sponsor, and Alice Paul, the 85-year-old former suffragette who was one of the original group of militant feminists who drafted it 47 years ago.

The amendment had been stuck in Celler's judiciary committee since it was introduced in 1923. Last month, Mrs. Griffiths got the required majority of 218 signatures on petition to extricate it and she brought up her petition for a vote Monday. It passed, 332 to 22.

"KEEP YOUR old ball game, I want my candy," might be what Margie Velasquez, right, five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jesus Velasquez, 901 E. Gordon, is saying as she sits with her sister in Optimist Park during the Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament Monday. About 1750 baseball fans attended the opening night session. The tournament will run through Friday. (Staff-Photo)

Faulty Air Brakes Cause Slight Delay

By United Press International

Two military trains carrying deadly nerve gas rockets cleared their last large city today and started their run toward the sea, where the gas will be dumped in the ocean depths.

A 24-car train from the Richmond, Ky., arsenal rolled down through the Appalachia coal country during the night and made its way through Spartanburg, S.C. — the largest city along its route — about 9 a.m.

At the same hour a 46-car train from the Anniston, Ala., Army depot left Athens, Ga., after a two-hour stop to take on added fuel and water.

The 46-car Anniston train ground to a halt just outside Macon, Ga., shortly after midnight because of what one railroad official said apparently was a "burst air line on the brakes." The trouble was repaired in about 30 minutes and the train proceeded toward Athens, Ga.

The 24-car Richmond train was greeted by waving crowds as it crawled through the coal country of Kentucky, Virginia and Tennessee under overcast skies Monday. Soldiers riding a pilot train in front of the diesel engine waved to spectators with the Vi-Finger "peace" sign.

Several hundred persons were on hand when the train passed through Macon, where Mayor Ronnie Thompson last week had threatened to barricade the tracks to stop the train. Thompson later withdrew his objections after inspecting Army safety procedures at Anniston.

The train went to Macon, a city of 100,000-plus, to bypass metropolitan Atlanta, an area of 1.3 million.

A surging crowd delayed the train for several minutes at Norton, Va.

"People just wanted to see what it looked like," explained Patrolman James Sturgill. "Some people down there never had seen 80 trains before although I guess a million of them pass through here every day."

About 500 persons were waiting when the train later pulled into Bremen, Ga. "This is the most excitement we've had in this town in a long time," said city employee John Stenbridge, recalling the last big event was in 1943 when a pilot train in front of the diesel engine waved to spectators with the Vi-Finger "peace" sign.

The trains, not exceeding 35 miles per hour, are expected to arrive on the North Carolina coast at midweek. The rockets, which the Army said had begun to leak in storage, are to be loaded aboard an old freighter and towed 282 miles out to sea and dumped into 16,000-foot-deep water. Salt water will neutralize the nerve gas, which can kill a person within minutes.

Signs on the trains warn "Caution: Poison Gas." But they still attract crowds.

Bomb Threat Delays Treaty

BONN (UPI)—A bomb threat today delayed West German Chancellor Willy Brandt on his flight to Moscow to sign a nonaggression treaty with the Soviet Union which he hailed as a step toward making "peace in Europe more secure."

Moments after the Boeing 707 jetliner carrying Brandt, his official party and 196 newsmen started taxiing for takeoff, an anonymous telephone call was received by the control tower at Wahn Airport saying a bomb had been placed on the plane.

Ale House Won't Be What It Used To Be

NEW YORK (UPI)—For 116 years they've been gathering at McSorley's old Ale House, sipping their ale and saying how there'd be trouble if they let a woman in the place.

Monday they gathered at McSorley's, sipped their ale and some of them said how right they had been. Others welcomed the change.

Women were leaning on the bar and getting sawdust in their shoes at McSorley's for the first time. It all happened as Mayor John V. Lindsay signed into law a bill prohibiting discrimination against women in places of public accommodation, such as New York's oldest drinking establishment.

One of the first female customers was Lucy Komisar, a vice president of the National Organization for Women (NOW). She did not have a good time, but said when she left that politics was sometimes that way.

FOR STREET DEDICATION

Astronaut Bean Makes Sept. Date In Wheeler

WHEELER (UPI)—NASA Astronaut Alan L. Bean will return to his birthplace Friday, Sept. 4 for the official dedication of a street named in his honor.

Following the dedication at 6 p.m., a barbecue is slated to be held in the high school gymnasium.

The name of Shamrock Street will be officially changed to Alan Bean Blvd., with the street dedication scheduled at the corner of Texas and Shamrock Street signs have been ordered and will be in place at that time for the 13 block length of the street.

At 6 p.m. a barbecue dinner will be served in the gymnasium with Captain Bean as guest of honor. Tickets will be on-sale soon and places to buy the tickets will be announced. The barbecue will be catered.

Confirmation of the date was received recently by the Wheeler City Council. After making the decision to change the name of Shamrock Street to Alan Bean Blvd., the council contacted Capt. Bean for a date he would be available for the dedication of the street.

With the full schedule of the astronaut, it was not possible to schedule the celebration earlier in the year.

Thomas Daughtry of Wheeler is given the credit for the suggestion to change the street name in honor of Capt. Bean, in the November 1963 meeting. It was decided to change the street name, Capt. Bean's parents lived at 605 Shamrock Street at the time of his birth.

Capt. Bean was born in the Wheeler Hospital with the late Dr. H.E. Nicholson, as the delivering doctor, March 15, 1932; the hospital was located over the City Drug Store at that time.

Bean's stay in Wheeler was for only three months. He moved with his parents to Fort Worth where they still reside. The astronaut's father was employed by the AEC office in Wheeler while they lived here.

CITY COMMISSIONERS MEETING

Advertising Authorized For Water Plant Bids

By DON TURNER News Staff Writer

Advertising for bids to build a $1,300,000 water treatment plant was authorized and the last in a series of reports concerning Pampa's Comprehensive Plan was received by City Commissioners in a regular meeting this morning.

The water treatment bids when opened at a special session Sept. 15 will begin one of the last big steps toward Pampa's utilization of Lake Meredith water from behind the Canadian River Dam.

School Bells

When school bells ring Aug. 27, 5,450 students are expected to walk through the orange doors of Pampa schools for the first day of this fall term. Of the 310 teachers who will greet them, 15 are new to the Pampa School System.

The first session for faculty will be a general orientation Aug. 17 at Carver Center for teachers new to the system. All teachers will participate in in-service training in their curriculum fields Aug. 18-24, at Lee Junior High School, Supt. Dr. James F. Malone said.

Pampa High School students will enroll Aug. 25 and 26. All students, including the 40 pre-registered for Pampa's kindergarten classes, will enroll Aug. 26.

The first day of classes is Aug. 27, but no classes are scheduled Sept. 7 for the Labor Day holiday.

The contract will be let Sept. 22. Construction is expected to start shortly thereafter and by September of 1971 Pampans will be using a mixture of well and lake water.

The Comprehensive Plan report on capital improvements programming was the fifth and final in a series of reports analyzing and projecting the direction of city planning.

Marvin Springer, consultant on the project, told commissioners that based on the study he recommended a moderate program of capital improvements relative to a moderate increase in economic growth and population predicted over the next several years.

Springer also recommended a program of moderate spending each year as opposed to periods of large spending followed by periods of catching up.

The series began three years ago with a report of the economic base of the city. This was followed by reports on land use and population; housing, throughfares, schools, the central business district, parks and open space and public buildings; planning subdivisions and administrative regulations; and finally the report on capital improvements programming.

City Manager Charles Hill told The News the report showed where Pampa is and what the city can anticipate up to 20 years from now.

"We can take a look at the community," he said. "It tells us what to expect, and which way to grow."

In other action, the commissioners approved three recommendations of the Traffic and Zoning Commission.

The commission had recommended that lots in Schulky Hill Addition on Hobart north of Decatur remain zoned retail; that six lots in the Hughes Pitts Addition parallel to Frederic St. be changed from residential to commercial; and that two lots in Hillcrest Terrace Addition at Duncan and Sunset Drive be changed from multi-family to retail zones.

Soldiers Seek Kidnap Victims Of Leftist Uruguay Guerrillas

MONTEVIDEO (UPI)—Thousands of soldiers and policemen searched homes at will and patrolled the almost deserted streets of the Uruguayan capital today looking for a captive American and a Brazilian diplomat threatened with execution by Tupamaros guerrillas.

Chiribao's son, Alfredo Emilio, was killed in a gunbattle with authorities when the Tupamaros took over the town of Pando last Oct. 8.

What amounted to martial law was put into effect by President Jorge Pacheco Areco when he was granted near-dictatorial powers by Congress on Monday. He called out nearly 10,000 army troops to put pressure on the guerrillas.

EDITOR FOR INQUIRER

PHILADELPHIA (UPI)—Creed C. Elack, an assistant secretary in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and former executive editor of the Chicago Daily News, has been named editor of the Philadelphia Inquirer.

Black, 45, whose resignation from HEW is effective Sept. 1, will assume his new post Sept. 14.

The editor's position has been vacant since Knight Newspapers, Inc. assumed control of the Inquirer Jan. 1 from Walter H. Annenberg's Triangle Publications, Inc.

City Manager Resigns

City Manager Charles Hill submitted his resignation today to accept the position of city manager in Beaumont effective Sept. 1.

Hill submitted his resignation in an executive session of the City commission meeting this morning.

"My family and I have enjoyed working in and living in Pampa over the past two years," Hill said. "We are leaving with a great appreciation for the friends which we have made here. We regret we must leave."

"The experience of working with gentlemen such as we have on the council and the employees of the city of Pampa has been most gratifying."

Acceptance of Hill's resignation will end two years and four months of service to Pampa that began May 1 when he came here from Austin where he was assistant city manager.

DAUGHTER OF SUP'T. Teacher's Mutilated Body Found On Road

KAUFMAN Tex (UPI)—Texas Rangers and Dallas County deputies are rounding up persons who attended a party with a 26-year-old school teacher shortly before she was killed.

Law enforcement officers have received reports that several persons bothered those attending the party in Dallas Saturday night. The officials said they hope to find other persons attending the party to confirm these reports.

The nude and mutilated body of Linda Phillips was found Monday on the side of a dirt road. She was the daughter of Kaufman school superintendent Jimmy Phillips.

WD Youth Hit By Motorcycle

WHITE DEER (Sp) — Marty Rawlins, 6-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rawlins of White Deer was critically injured by a motorcycle while leaving the swimming pool late Monday afternoon. He was taken to a Pampa hospital then transferred to an Amarillo Hospital where he is still listed in serious condition after undergoing surgery.

A preliminary investigation reported Miss Phillips was slashed in the abdomen and throat and stabbed in the face.

She had been missing since she left the party early Sunday morning. Her car, with the wind on the driver's side smashed, was found at 9 a.m. Sunday morning.

Sheriff Roy Brockaway said the girl's father told him his daughter planned to spend the night in Dallas. However, a girlfriend in Dallas said Miss Phillips left the party to return home.

The woman's clothes, shoes and billfold were found scattered along the road north of where her body was found.

MELINDA LAYCOCK

Pampa Girl Is Calendar Artist

Melinda Laycock, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Royce Laycock, 2400 Mary Ellen, has been selected a national winner in a 1971 Student Art Calendar contest and will receive a $100 cash prize as one of the 12 national winners.

A sixth grade student at Stephen F. Austin Elementary School, she submitted a painting entitled "Panhadde Prairies," which was selected by a professional panel of judges in New York and will be used for August, 1971, calendar of Equitable Life Assurance Society, according to E.L. "Smiley" Henderson, agency representative.

The Equitable calendar will feature paintings representative of American communities, where the sixth grade students live. Melinda's painting will be among the winning paintings exhibited during 1971 as part of a nationwide tour, Henderson said.

Man Hits Policeman After Hitting Wife

Charges of aggravated assault on a police officer were filed Monday against Gayle Nelson Stevens, 34, 1116 S. Christy.

Stevens allegedly struck Officer James Samples Saturday night when police went to his home on a call a domestic disturbance was in progress.

According to reports, Stevens became belligerent with officers, and when police attempted to break up a fight between Stevens and his wife, Stevens struck the patrolman.

Bond was set at $500 by Justice of the Peace Nat Lundford. Stevens posted bond and was released Monday.

FIRST TRIP FOR SCOUT BUS — Loading and getting ready to take the Quivira Girl Scout Bus on its first trip for 11 members of Cadette Troop Three which left at 5 a.m. Sunday for Six Flags Over Texas and a trip to Fort Worth to the Zoo and Amon Carter Children's Museum. Scouts and leaders from left are Jerri Ann Carter, Mrs. Ralph McDonald, leader; Deborah McDonald, Melanie Miller, Dana Chisum, Vicki Carter, Pam McDonald, the four-year-old troop mascot, and Mrs. Jerry Carter, leader. Those on the bus are Sherri Whiteley, Barbara Whiteley, Kim Hoover, Becky Ellis, Jane Shaw, and Jeri Bohlander. Others on the four-day trip are Mrs. Cecil Carter, Mrs. C. C. Hoover, Jerry Carter and Ralph McDonald. The troop paid for trip expenses by selling peanuts, candy and cookies for a year to make $725. (Staff Photo)

Your Horoscope

WEDNESDAY,
AUG. 12, 1970

Your birthday Wednesday: — You face a year and a half of changes and fresh starts. Indications are good for establishing contact with important people. Your work activity is unevenly scheduled, sometimes over-busy, so that personal matters are relegated to add hours. This should be a lively, productive period with no dull moments. Wednesday's natives are often gifted entertainers, storytellers.

ARIES (March 21-Apr. 19): — Just when people are ready to be helpful, your temptation is to get impatient, hasty. Settle down, watch for errors as you go, and you can make an excellent impression.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): — Go ahead on your own resources; pay little attention to promises. Group affairs proceed well if kept on familiar grounds. Gather friends and family about you at night.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): — Your differences are likely to be with people you care about rather than with outsiders. Concentrate on business, then make peace at home at night.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): — Your work advances Wednesday if you can cope with your eagerness and impatience well enough to catch a mistake. A little overtime should be well worth the doing.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): — This is a variable but essentially normal day. Creative work, original projects, are open to improvement. Change the scene in the evening; give yourself a treat.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): — Your criticism comes too easily now. Maybe you are so close that your perspective is not clear. Developments are under way that are unknown to you; wait before you offer comment.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): — Your routines seem dull, but help show your talents, personality. No story is complete Wednesday. You will find more details in the evening.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): — NAMED MISS SORGHUM DIMMITT, Tex. (UPI) — Char-lotte Smith, 18, of Throckmorton, Tex., is the new Miss Grain Sorghum of the United States. The Texas Tech freshman will represent the sorghum industry for one year. Trina Don Bryant, 18, of Muleshoe, Tex., was second and Sheri Lee Kizer, 19, of Grandfield, Okla., was third.

Definite progress is promised in business, but only if you stay with the main issues. Leave out personal whims and the side issues of friends.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): — Put every effort into your regular work. Bring new people into your ventures, if feasible. Be strict and prudent with any formal obligations.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): — More help can come from discreet inquiries. Confidential matters open suddenly — take full advantage of a new situation. Your plans should be revised in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — Leaving friends out of a speculative financial matter should annoy nobody. Pursue your most ambitious schemes, with an extra round of contacts. Take home a surprise.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): — New questions arise which may tax your diplomatic skills. Move along while the going is good. The evening is for a thankful and thoughtful review.

Senior Center Corner

By Linnie Chandler

Noise? Who said that was noise? It was 69 Senior Citizens shuffling their dominoes and cards at the regular meeting Thursday at Lovett Memorial Library.

The Senior Center party sponsors, the Altrusa Club, were hostesses Thursday and honored those having August birthdays with a gift. Altrusans present were Meses Lora Dunn, Geneva Tidwell, Louise Sewell, Jay Flanagan, Lena Pearl Hobbs and Lillian Snow. Ann Kay presented an arrangement of cut flowers for the birthday table.

Red Cross Volunteers were Meses. Mary Weaver, Alpha Bradley, Arthur Rankin, Jessie Rance and Miss Lelia Clifford. Those having birthdays this month were Harold Lawrence, Mrs. Myrtle Enloe, Elmer Melton, J.E. Adair, and Claude Lawrence.

Welcomed as a guest was Mrs. Warner B. Cockran, who formerly taught school at Woodrow Wilson Elementary School and now lives in McKinney. Other guests welcomed were T.W. McMillen of Springdale, Ark., and four grandchildren of Mrs. Lora Dunn, Nancy and Charlie Brown of Houston and Cathy and Bill Dunn of Lafayette, Ind.

Claude Lawrence who suffered a broken hip two months ago, was able to attend the party Thursday.

Mrs. Phil Cates has returned from a month's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Tom Dandy of Healy, Kans.

Mrs. Joe B. Williams had as house guests her grandson Joe H. Williams of Sacramento, Calif. Dennis Williams who recently returned from Vietnam and Wanda Williams of Pampa joined them.

W.R. Emmons invited everyone to come see a large sunflower at his home, 505 Naida. The flower measures 45 inches round, 18 inches across and four and a half inches in depth.

Mrs. Jessie Van Huss has returned from a two months visit with her son in Illinois.

People need to eat a good breakfast every morning. Remember, it's been 12 to 14 hours since you ate the last meal and the body needs food for the next day's activities. Eat a good breakfast each morning. One that contains a citrus fruit or juice, cereal or toast, milk and a spread — how about peanut butter on toast?

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a problem I can't solve myself and I don't want to ask anyone else for fear of appearing foolish. I don't know how to kiss. I am a 28-year-old normal male. I'm fairly good looking, clean, have a good job, a late model car, sharp clothes, and I have no trouble getting dates. But when it comes to kissing, I must be doing something wrong because all I get is complaints.

It's gotten to the point where I just skip the kissing and go on to the next step, but I find most girls don't like this. Can you help me? They say, "practice makes perfect," but I don't get a chance to practice because after I kiss a girl, once she doesn't want to kiss me again.

WANTS TO LEARN

DEAR WANTS: Most people learn how to kiss without lessons, but you may need a few. You can't learn to kiss alone — you'll need a girl, so find one you'd like to kiss, and kiss her at the appropriate time. If she complains, ask her what was wrong with the kiss. (There are a variety of "bum" kisses. Too "wet," too dry, too hard, not hard enough, too passionate, not passionate enough, too long, too brief.) If the girl likes you, she won't mind giving you a few pointers to improve your technique. If she doesn't like you that much — find another girl.

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who is constantly asking whomsoever he happens to be with to "lend" him a couple of dollars, or a "five." His excuse is that he has to cash a check, and he hasn't anything less than a 20 or a 50 on him. No one doubts him, either, as this man is very well-to-do. (He also never picks up a check when he is by far the one in the crowd who is best able to treat everybody, but that's another problem.)

Abby, this man never makes an effort to repay any of these "emergency" loans, and I for one am fed up with it. Now why would a man who is worth a fortune want to chisel in this manner? And if you can think of a good way to get my money back, I'd appreciate it.

FED UP

DEAR FED: Do not look for any deep psychological reasons for your friend's behavior. He's just cheap. And the best way I know to get something one has coming to him is to ask for it.

DEAR ABBY: When a girl asks a boy to a "girl-ask-boy" party, is the girl supposed to provide the transportation? We are not old enough to drive, any of us kids, so one of our parents will have to take us and call for us. But whose parents?

UNDER AGE

in WATERLOO
DEAR UNDER AGE: When

a girl asks a boy to a party, she's asking him to "escort" her only. The "escort" should provide the transportation. If for some reason, he can't manage it, the girl's parents are next in line.

DEAR ABBY: May I air my gripe in your column? The offenders probably don't even know they are guilty, and I might wake them up.

Whenever I drop a note to someone, asking for a recipe, an address, or some other bit of information which I want, I always enclose a stamped, addressed envelope as a convenience to that person. Also, since I'm the one who is asking for the favor, why should the person of whom I'm asking it take his time and effort to accommodate me and provide the stamp besides?

MARGE

DEAR MARGE: You are a woman after my own heart!

Letter writing can be a breeze. For Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Eggs are an important food in the diet. Both the white and the yolk contain the important tissue-building nutrient, protein. The yolk is also a good source of the mineral iron and vitamins A and D.

News In Brief

WASHINGTON — Sen. Philip A. Hart, D-Mich., asking the mergers because of the current emergency in national transportation systems:

"It is becoming clear that there is an overall breakdown in all major phases of our transportation system. The decay and irrational stagnation of transportation and communications foretell blight, economic decay and social disaster."

TALLAPOOSA, Ga. — E. L. Laminick, the mayor of Tallapoosa, Ga., which is one of the first towns on the route of two trains filled with nerve gas rockets bound for the bottom of the Atlantic Ocean, expressing his faith in the Army's safety precautions:

"I feel it's safe, or they wouldn't pull it through here."

BENSON, La. — Imperial Klux Klan wizard Robert Shelton, giving his views on patriotism to fellow klansmen: "If you are the loyal anytime you see one of those hipnick beatniks pulling the American flag down, I don't care who they're around, while the living tar out of them."

BERKELEY, Calif. — University of California entomologist Dr. George Wheeler, citing recent research which seems to show that ants are basically lazy, rather than industrious workers:

"Whenever we view an ant hill we get the impression of a tremendous amount of activity, but that is merely because there are so many ants and because they all look alike."

BLAST OF REASSURANCE
LONG EATON, England (UPI)—Officials at the Old People's Welfare Committee say they may issue local elderly residents fog horns to call for help in emergencies.

Television In Review

By ROBERT MUSEL

NEW YORK (UPI) — You could almost hear the gasps of millions of viewers in front of their television sets. Within minutes the switchboard of the British Broadcasting Corp. (BBC) glowed red with incoming calls. On the screen in what had been advertised as a comedy series a character was actually referring to ethnic minorities in terms rarely used these sensitive days.

The BBC was quite happy about the fuss. Yes, they said, the man on the screen, Alf Garnett by name, was a bigot. He was supposed to embody all the prejudices of his kind. The idea was to bring these into the open and expose them to the healthy ridicule of the nation's laughter. Once this was made clear the series, "Till Death Us Do Part," became one of Britain's funniest shows and the BBC's proudest boasts.

Where else, they hinted, could you produce such a series?

Laughing At Bigotry

That was before Robert D. Wood became president of the CBS television network in February, 1969. A man who could fire the Smother's Brothers at the peak of their popularity and drop the Jackie Gleason, Red Skelton and Petticoat Junction shows when the ratings were still high because they no longer fitted his image of the network needs no other credentials for programming courage.

Among the 2,100 ideas that passed through his office on the 34th floor of CBS headquarters during the first year of his regime was a program, as yet untitled, inspired by the British

PLEASED WITH VOTE

LUBBOCK (UPI) — Mayor James H. Granberry said he was delighted Lubbock voters approved a $13.6 million bond issue to help repair and rebuild buildings struck by a May 11 tornado. "We felt the city would build back because of the spirit it has shown ever since the disaster struck," Granberry said. The largest item in the bond issue was $7.8 million to build back Memorial Civic Center, which stood near the heavily damaged downtown area.

New Set Of Tires For Every Automobile In Pampa: Hall

The Hall Tire Company, 700 W. Foster, is out to fit every car in Pampa with a fine new set of tires.

According to Leymond Hall, owner of the company, the firm offers a full line of automobile tires as well as light truck tires and a full line of glass belted tires at "popular prices."

"Through our direct volume buying," said Hall, "we are able to offer tires at very reasonable and competitive prices."

The company services everything it sells. A main specialty of Hall Tire Co. is that it balances wheels electronically. This type of balancing is an expensive and complicated process. Only three or four shops in town have it, according to Hall. The procedure requires a well trained man who must have had several months training if he uses the machine correctly.

Hall assures his customers that "we still know who you are if you have a tire adjustment problem."

Hall Tire Co. is the headquarters of "Lear-Jet" eight track stereo players in this area. Pioneers in the field, the Lear-Jet player company produces one of the most popular car stereo-players on the market. The establishment also offers other services: re-upholstering, custom made seat covers, and

Exports Are On Upswing

CHICAGO (UPI)—Walter G. Cox, in this first year of the 70s, looks 10 to 20 years ahead for potential in the nation's export markets.

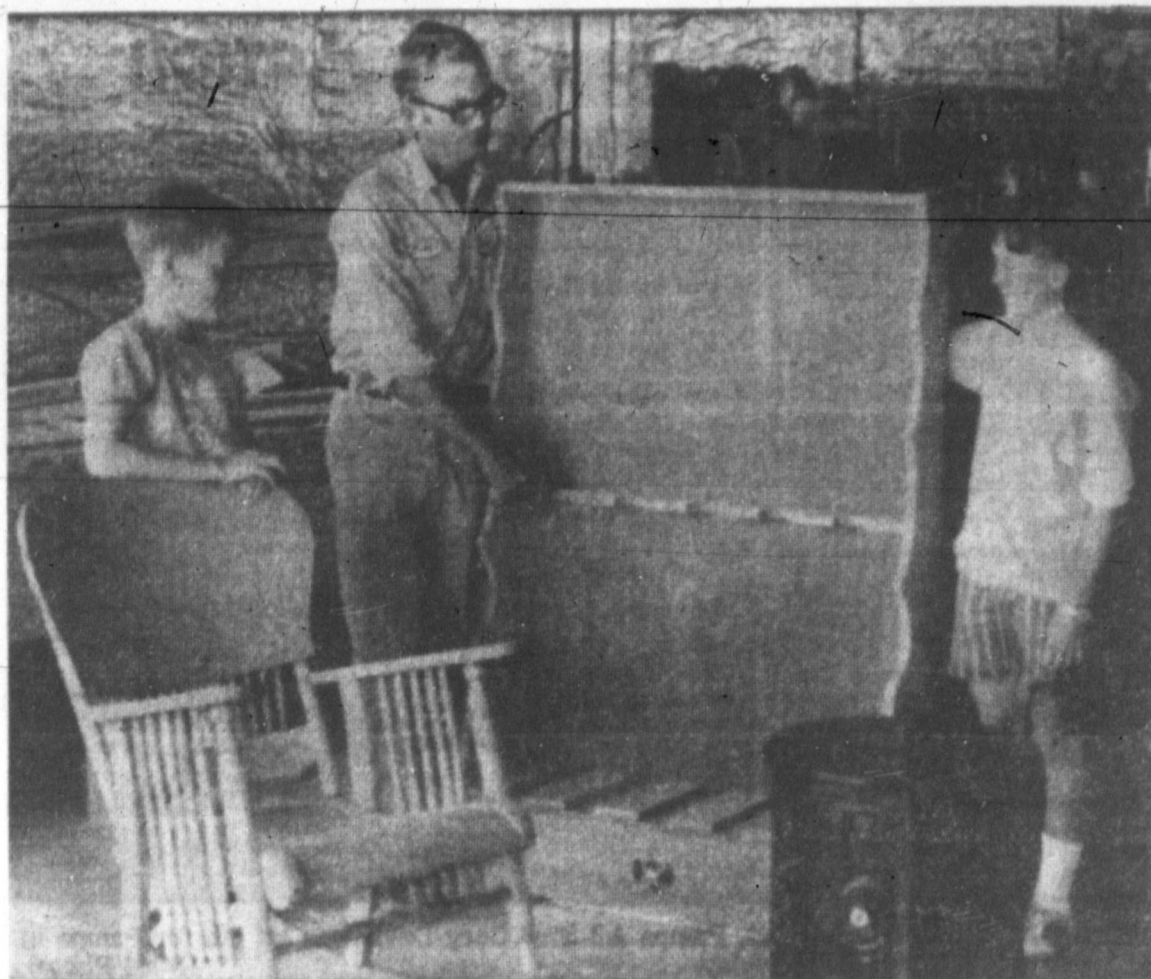

Cox is a former vice president of Litton Industries, Polyscientific Division. Since 1966 he has been president and chief executive officer of KDI Corp., a Cincinnati-based company which has turned into a rapidly growing diversified corporation.

"I believe," he told UPI between planes, "that in the 80s and 90s knowledge will be the largest export item we have."

"Methods of teaching, educational technologies... all these will produce tremendous dollar volumes. We can expect other countries, some underdeveloped, to rise in that period in their production of manufactured products—hardware—but our great advantage lies now and will continue to be in our vast resources of knowledge."

Cox believes firmly in this concept and that he will be around to see it come true. He is 40.

His view of the development of knowledge arts in the United States reflects the present composition of KDI as it has emerged in the last four years. Seeking markets with high growth potential, the corporation has tried to develop and sell along five lines, through acquisitions and even through creation of new companies. The five are: computer products (but not manufacture), environmental sciences, education systems, physical recreation and technical products.

Skilled Carpentry Assured Customers Of Satisfaction

"Carpentry is a very business, but the secret is to have the right equipment. You must have tools," says Morris Wilson, owner of Wilson's Cabinet Shop, 120 W. Tuke. The main feature of Wilson's business is "custom building to suit the customer." Though his specialty is kitchen cabinets and bathroom vanities, with formica tops, Wilson will build "what the customer wants" out of "any kind of wood" the customer desires.

Wilson also does skilled work in other areas of carpentry—furniture refinishing, repair touch-up work on individual pieces of furniture; small remodeling jobs; and panelling rooms.

Cabinet building and furniture refinishing were Wilson's hobbies for a long time before he made these activities his means of livelihood. He is a graduate of Star Chemical School, located in Dallas, which is where he learned some of the techniques he uses in his "patch-up" and refinishing work.

Though Wilson is in business by himself, he is assisted by his sons, Kevin and Robert.

Wilson has customers not only in Pampa, but in the surrounding towns of Borger, Canadian and McLean.

If they can show me a design," said Wilson, "I can build it."

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—The summer stock market rally is over, and a severe August decline is in the offing and should represent the "killer wave" of the bear market, says James Dines & Co. At the moment the investor's best course is to preserve buying power and accumulate capital in anticipation of buying opportunities ahead at panic low prices.

TV May Soon Be Business Boon

NEW YORK (UPI)—The day may come when American businessmen will spend a lot more time watching television-like tubes than working their way through stacks of paper.

There already are about 75,000 cathode ray tube (CRT) terminals in business use and there may be 10 times that many by 1975. In 1965, there were only 4,000.

It is estimated that the average American spends 30,000 hours in front of a TV receiver before his twenty-first birthday. As Cathode tube display systems and closed-circuit TV take over from paper documents in business, institutional and professional life, it's possible many men and women will rack up 100,000 hours of viewing time in their lives.

Most everyone is familiar by now with the use of CRT terminals by airlines, railroads, stockbrokers and hospitals. An Ohio corporate executive also keeps track of a $380 million inventory by means of a computerized CRT system with typewriter keyboards for tapping out information.

Lack of volume has been a major factor in the market's current deterioration. According to E. F. Hutton, the market's languid state although due to seasonal factors, breeds indifference, which in turn makes the market drift and move lower, not because of an increase in selling but because of a lack of buying, Hutton said.

Just as consumer prices are the last area to respond to anti-inflation efforts, so stocks are the first to move up as credit restraints are relaxed, says Spear and Staff. The odds favor an upsurge in the market in coming months, as the rate of inflation slows, the firm believes.

The market has been dull in recent trading sessions, reflecting investor caution over the trend of the economy through the second half of the year. Alexander Hamilton Institute says uncertainty concerning unemployment, corporate liquidity and labor negotiations in the auto industry overhang the market, justifying a wait-and-see attitude on the part of the investor, the firm advises.

House Sales Statistics Reveal Growth In Spite Of '70 Census

The Pampa Board of Realtors recently released house sale statistics which they say show Pampa has grown both numerically and economically despite reports of the 1970 census and recently industrial lay-offs.

Mrs. Genevieve Henderson, Multiple Listing Service chairman for the Pampa Board of Realtors, said the volume of sales during the first six months of 1970 is more than double the amount during the same period in 1967, and there was more than a 35 per cent increase in 1970 compared to 1969.

Six months sales by years were: 1967—$438,865; 1968—$736,000; 1969—$754,243; and 1970—$1,065,780.

The number of sales for those years were 42, 54, 65 and 78, respectively.

There have been relatively few homes in good condition for sale in Pampa during the last year, and MLS members are frequently embarrassed because they do not have an adequate variety of homes to show to prospective buyers," Mrs. Henderson said.

"The increase in sales and scarcity of properties for sale indicates that Pampa is continuing to grow," she said. "Most of the buyers are newly employed here. However, some sales are being made to former residents who have retired and are moving back to Pampa because they enjoyed living here more than anywhere else they have lived."

Brogdin To Note 20th Anniversary

Warren E. Brogdin, a utility man at Skelly Oil Company's Schaefer gasoline plant, will observe his 20th service anniversary with the firm Aug. 8.

Brogdin began his career with Skelly in 1950 as a utility 2 and was promoted to his present position as Utility I in May 1967. Brogdin is a member of the First United Methodist Church of Pampa and the Pampa Rifle Club. He also collects antique firearms.

He and his wife, Esta Lee, have three sons, Robert, Monte and David, and live at 913 S. Sumner St.

Pampa Downed In Babe Ruth Action

Host Team Has One More Chance

It was the bottom of the seventh. Bases were loaded and Pine Bluff, Ark., was leading by a score of 3 to 1.

Pampa's last hope was in the hands of first baseman Bill Simon, and Pine Bluff's only hope was with pitcher Bill Burleson.

Burleson came through. One. Two. Three.

Simon was out, the game was over and the Pampa Babe Ruth All-Stars had lost.

It had been the hardest fought game of the day Monday. Both teams held on for four scoreless innings.

In the top of the fifth, Pine Bluff's David Myhan hit a ground ball to third. Vincent Smith was on third at the time. Pampa's third baseman, Randy Kitchens, garbbed Myhan's hit and fielded the ball to first. Myhan was out, but Smith came in to score.

In the top of the sixth, Burleson got a decent bunt off Pampa pitcher Roy Hendricks for a single. The Pine Bluff pitcher eventually got on third and was able to score when Hendricks dropped a pop fly while trying to throw him out.

Totals for the game were:—Pine Bluff — 3 runs, 4 hits, 3 errors. Pampa — 1 run, 5 hits, 2 errors.

In the first game of the tournament, Albuquerque upset favorite Tulsa by a score of 3 to 1.

Catcher Terry Landrum scored the first run in the top of the first inning after being walked by Tulsa pitcher Tom Klenda.

First baseman Brian McConnell scored for Albuquerque in the third inning, and relief pitcher Nevin Martinez scored the third run in the seventh.

Totals for the game were:—Albuquerque 3 runs, 5 hits, 0 errors. Tulsa — 1 run, 8 hits, 4 errors.

Robert Kotzur and Martin Zolkoski hit homers in the top of the sixth, but the Flax League team went down to New Orleans 4 to 3 despite their efforts.

The Flax League, East Texas Champions, showed even strength with New Orleans, but Roy Lepage, New Orleans third baseman, was the star of the show by throwing out three Flax League batters who had grounded balls his way.

Totals for the game were:—New Orleans — 4 runs, 6 hits, 1 error. Flax League — 3 runs, 4 hits, 5 errors.

In today's games, West Texas Tri-Cities League goes against Albuquerque at 4 p.m. Flax faces Pampa at 6:30 p.m., and New Orleans faces Pine Bluff at 9 p.m.

RUNNING IN, but tagged out, Pampa All-Star Gary Davis was 1st out for Pampa in a game against Pine Bluff Monday. (Staff Photo)

Pro Lose The Glamour They Had In College

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Add Rick Norton's name to the long lists of glamorous college quarterbacks who never quite made it with the pros.

For every Joe Namath who lives up to his college reputation, there are several QBs like Norton who fail to display the form in the pros that they had in college.

Norton, who gained over a thousand yards passing at Kentucky for three consecutive years while tossing 24 touchdowns, threw just six TD passes in four years with the Miami Dolphins. He was one of eight players placed on waivers Monday when the squad was reduced to 66 men.

Four Years And Out

Norton was a first round bonus pick of the Dolphins when the club was formed in 1966. He signed a four-year $300,000 contract and was the player around whom the Dolphins intended to build their franchise.

Norton got off to a bad start in his rookie year when he suffered a fractured jaw and missed the final half of the season. The next season the Dolphins drafted Bob Griese of Purdue and he quickly beat Norton out of a job.

Norton got a chance to start five games last season when Griese was injured, but he completed only 44 per cent of his passes and threw only two TD passes. He played one quarter in the Dolphins' first exhibition game last Saturday and had two passes intercepted.

Coach Don Shula obviously felt there was no place for Norton in the Dolphins' future and cut him.

"I hope to stay in football," Norton, 26, said after he received the news. But he's probably going to have a difficult task finding a QB job.

The other high draft choice cut by the Dolphins was defensive tackle Jim Urbaneck, a third-round choice.

The pro teams, who have to get down to 60 players by Thursday, were busy cutting players now that the first exhibition games are over.

Another big college name who didn't make it is Scott Appleton, the former Texas star who was cut Monday by the New Orleans Saints. The Saints are the third pro team to shed Appleton.

In other training camp action, the Washington Redskins lopped three veterans — halfback Gerry Allen, tackle Ken Kirtas and quarterback Dan Falsbrett. Green Bay got its squad down to 55 players by cutting 10 players, including three-year veteran Claudis James.

Pittsburgh also trimmed 10 players, including Bobby Campbell, a fifth-round draft choice from Penn State.

Houston announced that Sonny Bishop, the veteran offensive guard, is quitting after eight seasons in pro ball. He has been with Houston since 1964.

San Diego cut nine players, including three veterans — Don Alley, Jim Campbell and Lveret Carr.

Lem Barney, the star cornerback who has been a holdout for the past week, reported to the Detroit Lions' camp even though he still hasn't signed. He could play out his option if he doesn't come to terms.

Buffalo cut eight players, including veterans Bobby Crockett and Ben Gregory.

Retiring, Returns

George Andrie, who "retired" last week from Dallas because of a salary dispute, was listed as a starter for the Cowboys game against the Los Angeles Rams Saturday night.

The New York Jets announced that standout defensive end Gerry Philbin will undergo a shoulder operation and miss more than half the season. Since Al Atkinson has retired and Jim Hudson and Larry Grantham are coming back from injuries, the Jet defense could be shaky.

Meanwhile, nothing has been heard from the Jet offense — Joe Willie You-Know-Who. He's still expected to play this season, though, and might even be back within a week so he can play against the Giants on Aug. 23.

Super Star Reports Year Old Kidnaping

PITTSBURGH (UPI) — Roberto Clemente, the Pittsburgh Pirates' superstar, had a narrow brush with death when he was abducted last year in San Diego, but now he says he never feared for his life during the ordeal.

"I knew nothing was going to happen to me," Clemente said today. "I knew for sure. I don't know why. I can't explain it. I just knew."

Clemente said four armed men forced him into a car near the Pirates' hotel in San Diego in May, 1969, but he never reported the incident to police. It did not become known until Monday.

"Why should I report it?" he said. "I am alive, no?"

"I got everything back that they took, all my money, my All-Star ring, everything. I forgot about the whole thing until somebody brought it up. Then I figure I better tell the story so it be printed right."

The abduction took place, Clemente said, less than 400 feet from the hotel, at night, on a well-lighted street, as he returned from a take-out restaurant carrying a bag of chicken.

He said one of the four men produced a gun, they forced him into the car, drove him to an isolated mountain area, ordered him to strip to his undershorts and took his wallet, All-Star game ring and about $250 cash he had in his pocket.

At this point, Clemente figured it was time to say something, even to lie.

"I didn't say much to them. I just say that I was playing for San Diego," he said. "I didn't tell them my name. I point to my All-Star ring."

They didn't believe him, but Clemente, a Puerto Rican, finally talked to one of the two kidnapers who spoke Spanish. They returned his possessions, allowed him to dress again, and drove him back within a couple blocks of the hotel.

"I started walking, and then I heard their car returning," Clemente said. "I started looking around for a rock, but I couldn't find one."

The car pulled up, but this time the four men were only returning Clemente's chicken. He didn't eat it.

McDowell Wins Sixteenth Game

CHICAGO (UPI) — Sam McDowell pitched a six-hitter to become the major leagues' first 16-game winner and Vada Pinson's double triggered a three-run first inning uprising as the Cleveland Indians beat the Chicago White Sox 3-2.

McDowell, now 16-5, walked three batters and struck out eight to raise his American League leading streak to total of 218.

Pinson doubled to open the game and Chicago starter Gerry Janeski walked Graig Nettles. Roy Foster doubled to score Pinson and Ray Fosse singled across another run. Ted Uhlaender's sacrifice fly accounted for the third run of the inning.

Chicago scored its first run in the eighth when pinch hitter Rich Morales walked, took second on a passed ball and scored on Luis Aparicio's bloop single.

With two out in the ninth, Gail Hopkins was safe on McDowell's error and Ken Berry and Bobby Knoop singled for Chicago's second run. Pinch hitter Bob Miller walked filling the bases before McDowell got Walt Williams to strike out, ending the game.

POSTAL RATE CHANGES

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Post Office says it will hold off planned increases in fourth-class postage rates until Nov. 14 in order to encourage people to mail Christmas packages early.

After Nov. 14, parcel post rates will increase 15.4 per cent and catalog rates will go up 6 per cent. The Interstate Commerce Commission previously approved the increases.

Postmaster General Winton M. Blount said overseas holiday packages sent by regular mail should be posted no later than Nov. 7; packages up to 5 lbs. flown on a space available basis should be mailed by Nov. 21; and parcels up to 30 lbs. flown space available should be mailed by Nov. 28.

PAYING BACK TAXES

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Nearly $2 million in claims for refunds have been filed with the city since a so-called "tippler's tax" on alcoholic drinks was declared unconstitutional one month ago.

The 5 per cent municipal tax was adopted by the city in October, 1968, and more than 10 million was collected from bars and restaurants until the state Supreme Court ruled that the state had preempted the field of liquor taxation.

The problem now facing city officials is how to return the money to persons upon whom the tax was levied. Complicating the matter is the fact the money already had been spent.

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI) — Attorney General John N. Mitchell, laying down guidelines for subpoenas to newsmen: "We will not permit an innocent man to be convicted or a guilty man to be freed because we decline to subpoena a newsmen who had information vital to the case."

Senior Golfer Ages, But Score Does Not

By BEN KECK
Sports Writer

Frank Bailey swings a mean golf club.

Bailey is from Abilene and he is 82-years-old. He shoots in the low 70s.

"I shoot about 72 when I'm playing on the course at home," he said. "But when I get away from home, I get a little wild."

A contestant in the Tri-State Senior Golf Tournament being played this week at Pampa Country Club, Bailey first entered the contest in 1947 at the age of 59.

"I haven't played in all of them," he said. "Maybe I've made ten or fifteen. Maybe more, maybe less."

Other golfers in the tournament know Bailey well and they appear to admire his enthusiasm and skill for the game.

When Bailey's name was brought up in the clubhouse remarks Monday, other contestants made remarks like, "He's a remarkable LIKE." "He's a remarkable golfer."

And, "Bailey? Is he here again?"

And, "He plays good to be so old."

Bailey is the oldest man entered in the tournament but one couldn't tell he was past 80 by watching him on the course.

Registration for the tournament began Sunday and continued until 1:30 p.m. today. More than 250 golfers had registered for the event by late in the morning.

Practice rounds were held Monday and qualifying rounds began today. Also scheduled for today's activities was the Tri-State Team Match.

A Senior Banquet is slated for 7 p.m.

First round of match play will begin Wednesday and go through Thursday, with Medal Play scheduled for Friday. A Senior Champion will also be crowned on Friday.

The current champion is Raymond Marshall of Lubbock. Marshall is expected to have some stiff competition in senior golfers such as Webb Wilder of San Antonio, Frank Sparks of Pasadena, Lofton Burnette of Lubbock, and others.

The contest is open to all amateur male golfers who have reached their 53rd birthday.

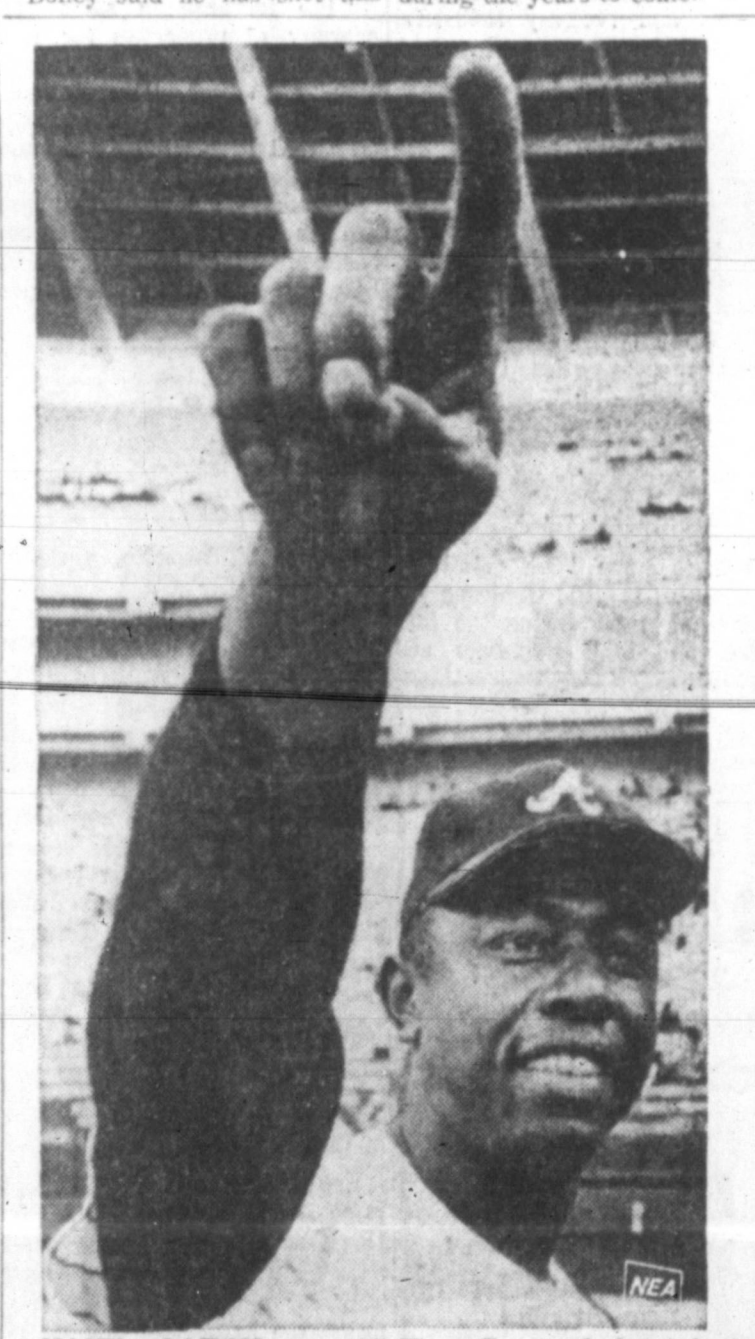

Activities for the wives of the visiting golfers include bingo, luncheons, and coffees.

Pampa Country Club is hosting the tournament for the first time this year. The tournament began 36 years ago at Amarillo Country Club, but was moved to Borger's Huber Country Club for the last three years. The tournament will return to Amarillo next year and will alternate between Amarillo, Borger and Pampa during the years to come.

During practice rounds Monday he hit almost every ball straight down the fairway. He rode a golf cart, but the strength he exhibited in playing the game left the impression he could just as easily have walked the course.

Bailey may never have been a tournament champion, but he must hold some kind of record in the number of times he has shot a score equal to or lower than his age.

Bailey said he has shot this

MOSCOW (UPI) — Cholera threatened the Soviet Black Sea coast today. Cases were reported as far as 210 miles up the Volga River near the Soviet central heartland.

The Soviets released no information as to how many persons were stricken or whether there were fatalities but the outbreak had spread across a 1,200-mile front from the Caspian seacoast near Iran to the Black Sea, according to lists of cities closed to travelers and circulated by the Soviets to western embassies.

Heat No Problem For Champ On Tulsa Links

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — It's generally so hot and dry down here that the new PGA champ could turn out to be a scalded camel. No other living creature can endure four straight days over this baked-out Southern Hills course. But one fellow says he likes it.

He doesn't care that the mercury went over 100 degrees here for two consecutive weeks without let-up or that Ben Hogan is on record as saying he doesn't know how anybody in the field will be able to take the unbearable heat if it's like it usually is by Thursday's opening round.

Ray Floyd, the defending champ, has heard it all and he still is big for Southern Hills.

Floyd Is Optimistic

"I love it," he says. "It's one of my favorite courses in the whole world. It's not extremely long and it's not short by any means and I've always enjoyed playing it no matter what the temperature was. The greens are small and I enjoy small greens. I don't think you have to make a green half an acre to have a good golf course."

All the heat and lack of rain have converted Southern Hills into something resembling a 6,962-yard blast furnace. The course was considered tough to begin with — "There's no such thing as a 'catch-up' hole," according to Dean Adkison, the host pro — and now become even tougher in light of the weather conditions.

Floyd makes no difference to Ray Floyd, who always has said the tougher the course, the more he likes it.

'I'm Coming Back'

"I've proven that in the past," he says. "Look at some of the places where I've won. (Dayton, Akron, Jacksonville, St. Paul and St. Petersburg.) I've won always on good golf courses. If you check back you'll see I have a pretty decent record in major championships. I've only won one, of course, but I've generally played well. In tournaments where high scoring wins I'm usually up close so that makes me partial to hard golf courses."

Floyd was a hot golfer last year. Hotter even than the weather has been here. The wavy-haired, 27-year-old North Carolinian won the Jacksonville Open, the American Golf Classic and the PGA last year. This year he hasn't won a tournament yet and comes here after finishing in a tie for 15th place in the American Classic. But he thinks it's a mistake to discount him.

"I feel I have a very good chance," he says. "I'm not

Steinmark Hospitalized

HOUSTON (UPI) — Fred Steinmark, the Texas Longhorn defensive back who lost a leg to cancer after the 1969 season, was expected to be dismissed from M. D. Anderson Hospital today after reporting in Monday for a checkup.

Hospital attendants said the hospitalization was for a routine followup examination and "as far as we know it is nothing serious."

A carcinoma tumor discovered in the Denver, Colo. athlete's upper thigh immediately after the regular season finale against Arkansas forced amputation of the limb six days after the game.

An artificial leg enabled him to attend his team's Cotton Bowl game with Notre Dame less than a month later and he since has played golf and danced.

SPLIT WITH A KISS

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — The seven-year marriage of John and Michelle Phillips, former members of "The Mamas and the Pappas," a rock music group, ended Monday with a kiss.

Superior Court Judge Joseph L. Gail did not appear to notice when Mrs. Phillips, 26, rushed into the arms of her former husband and kissed him as soon as the divorce decree was granted.

Phillips, 34, filed for divorce 15 months ago charging his wife ran off to London with their daughter, Chynna, now 2. He said she left the child in London while she traveled to North Africa with another man.

The marriage was dissolved on grounds of irreconcilable differences.

PROSPECTUS — What happens when a quarterback gets hurt? Don't ask. Daryle Lamonica banged his hand on a helmet (in AFL title game) and there went a great 12-1-1 season. That suggests Coach John Madden and his Oakland team still great (beat Chiefs twice before play-off but could use backup qb).

DEFENSE — They make changes and never seem to miss a beat. With Dan Birdwell out, Carleton Oats moved into tackle job. Now Dan's on the outside. Tom Keating, all-pro stuff, made great comeback. Ben Davidson, like Lassiter act like they could go forever on the wings. For depth, there's young Art Thomas. vet Al Douson. Rating—B PLUS.

OFFENSE — Some day it may penetrate beyond the East Bay hills that Daryle Lamonica's doing the best quarterbacking job of all — and that includes Broadway Joe. At his peak right now. Coming off 34-TD passing season. But have to look beyond George Blanda for relief. Could be Kenny Stabler, ex-Bama star back in good graces. Rating—A.

RECEIVING — Hot diggity with great wide combo of Warren Wells, Fred Biletnikoff to dismay secondaries. And watch a kid named Drew Buie come on strong. Keep watching for Billy Cannon to slow up at tight end, but the dentist keeps filling the slot. Top draftee Raymond Chester is insurance there. Rating — A MINUS.

RUNNING — Can't fault the talent — Charlie Smith, Larry Todd as zippy threats, Pete Banaszek, a plunger, Hewitt Dixon and Marv Hubbard to provide bulk at fullback. But field results have only been so-so, maybe because Lamonica's approach to game stresses pass. Look for Ted Kay, impressive Texan, to add another notch to strength. Rating — B.

LINE — As if they didn't have enough, they added perennial all-leaguer Ron Mix at tackle. Now he's got to win job. Another all-AFL favorite, Wayne Hawkins, already found himself on bench last year. The

THE BEST IS YET TO COME—Frustration in the sports world is mirrored by Detroit pitcher Denny McLain (left) who has just thrown a home-run pitch, by golfer Donna Caponi who has just missed a short putt and by tennis ace Clark Graebner who just hit a shot into the net.

BACK TO NEW YORK — Bill Paultz, a rookie 6-foot-11 center from St. John's University, where he averaged 15.5 points and 14.5 rebounds a game as a senior, was acquired by the New York Nets Monday from the Virginia Squires for an undisclosed amount of cash and a draft choice.

Paultz thus rejoins Lou Carnesecca, his coach at St. John's, who is now the general manager-coach of the Nets.

PEPITONE PRESENTS PEPITONE:

'I Stand By My Convictions'

By JOYCE GABRIEL
NEW YORK (NEA) — The Chicago Cubs have a new man playing center field, but not long ago that same man, Joe Pepitone, was playing truant from baseball in his hair-styling place Brooklyn.

Joe Pepitone Presents My Place (the name of his five-month-old business venture) sits in Spanish splendor on Flatbush Avenue. A waiting room is done in warm gold and olive green. A three-dimensional, three-quarters profile of a Spanish knight hangs above one couch. An armor breast-plate and a lance hang above another. On the opposite wall, there are a couple of framed pictures of baseball figures. The room is carpeted and stained-glass lamps give off rays of subdued light. Rock music permeates the air. In the hacienda layout, Joe Pepitone reclined on a couch, resembling a latterday patron. It was here that Joe learned he was no longer a Houston Astro. After repeated disagreements — with manager Harry Walker, Joe had walked out and east to Brooklyn. The Astros sold him to the Chicago Cubs. He decided to go into the hair-styling business with "a couple of friends" after the publicity his long hair got when he played for the Yankees. Joe wants to turn his salon-cum-boutique into a nationwide franchise operation. He had planned to stay and learn "all he could" about his venture, but the Cubs have placed him in an awkward position — center field — for being an executive. Still, even with others running the establishment, it's his name over the door.

"It's a great feeling to have my own business," he said, "and I know how to treat my help. They like me, because I treat them like men, not boys. That's how I like to be treated. I want to work for a man who knows what he's doing, not for a lion tamer. I don't think even lions could take what I took in Houston." (The "lion tamer" referred to Harry Walker.)

He fingered the St. Christopher's medal exposed by his open collar. "I mean, you have to do what you want in life, unless there are rules against it," he said. "I have my own convictions and I have to stand by them. The people who sit there and take it are the ones who are really afraid. They have no self-pride."

Pepitone has always followed his convictions — and he has the newspaper clippings to prove it. "It's like what a guy told me once when I was first starting out: 'When you go down to the minors, if you have problems then, they'll stay with you for the rest of your career.' My first day in the minors I was fined $250 for a water fight."

"I'm interested in writing a book about me," he went on. "I've seen and done everything but I'm still looking for something else, you know? It's like I'm 29 and my body is 78. I can't feel too bad about that, though. I've just started digging myself — I never sat down and thought things out before."

"Now I know I can't please everybody and you can't buy friends. That's what I tried to do. I used to tell my friends, 'Pick up a suit on me' or 'I'd bring them expensive presents.

Albuquerque Beats Arkansas; Memphis Defeats Amarillo

By United Press International — Albuquerque Dodger Ed Cagle knocked his 16th in the eighth and third baseman Ed Cagle boomed No. 17 for him in the ninth. The Albuquerque Dodgers held off the late inning power play to defeat the Arkansas Travelers 5-4 Monday night. The Dodgers led at one point 5-1 but the Travelers closed the gap with solo homeruns in the last three innings.

In other games, Memphis came within one game of Arkansas in the Eastern Division by nudging the Amarillo Giants 7-5. The El Paso Sun Kings blanked the San Antonio Missions 6-0 and the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs ripped the Shreveport Braves 9-1.

Dave Allen went the distance for the Dodgers picking up his fourth win against one defeat even though he gave up three homers in the final third of the contest. Outfielder Dan Napoli hit his 10th of the season in the seventh, outfielder Jose Cruz knocked his 16th in the eighth and third baseman Ed Cagle boomed No. 17 for him in the ninth. The Albuquerque Dodgers held off the late inning power play to defeat the Arkansas Travelers 5-4 Monday night. The Dodgers led at one point 5-1 but the Travelers closed the gap with solo homeruns in the last three innings.

The Blues, sparked by the Arkansas loss, scored four runs in the top of the ninth inning to defeat Amarillo. The Blues defeated the Giants last year for the Texas League title. Jerry Perkins, the third of four Memphis pitchers to see action in the game, picked up the win—his sixth in eight decisions. A run scoring double by Ed Watts and a two-run homer by Scott McDonald gave the Spurs a 3-1 lead in the sixth and chased Shreveport starter Ron Scheuler from the mound. The Spurs then poured it on with six runs in the ninth to clinch the win. The two teams meet again today in Marshall, Tex., but Shreveport will be the home team.

Pirates See Time As Being On Their Side

By IRA MILLER
UPI Sports Writer

Just like last year, Tom Seaver thinks pitching will make the difference in the National League stretch run. But this year, he says, it will be the Pittsburgh Pirates' pitching, not the New York Mets, that decides the Eastern Division pennant. "I think their pitching is going to hurt them going down the stretch," Seaver said of the Pirates after pitching the Mets to a 10-2 victory over the Pirates Monday night for a split of their four-game series. Although the split left the Mets exactly where they started the weekend — 2½ games behind the Pirates — Seaver was satisfied. The Pirates, not surprisingly, were satisfied too.

"As long as we stay this way, I think in the last month the pitching will make the difference," Seaver said. "We haven't lost anything I figured before the weekend that if we got a split here, we'd be in good shape."

The Pirates, happy not to lose ground to their closest pursuer, figure time is on their side. "We didn't lose anything and we didn't gain anything," said shortstop Fred Patek of Pittsburgh. "We're still 2½ ahead now. We've got to keep winning and they've got to keep winning. The thing is, they've got to catch us."

Seaver survived a rocky first inning, then blanked the Pirates on five singles the rest of the way to notch his 17th victory and tie Minnesota's Jim Perry for the major league leadership. The Mets-Pirates game was the only game in the National League Monday night.

At Pittsburgh, the lights at new Three Rivers Stadium went out just as the game was Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIVE ON THE BALLOT (HJR28) General Election Nov. 3, 1970.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 53, Article III, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows: "Section 53. (a) Except as otherwise provided by this section, the Legislature shall have no power to authorize any county, city, town or other political corporation or subdivision of the State to levy its credit or to grant public bonds or other thing of value in aid of, or to any individual, association or corporation whatsoever, in such manner as may authorize the same, for the following purposes to wit: (1) The improvement of rivers, creeks, and streams to prevent overflows, and to permit of navigation thereof, or irrigation thereof, or in aid of such purposes. (2) The construction and maintenance of levees, dikes, and other works for the purpose of irrigation, drainage or navigation, or in aid thereof. (3) The construction, maintenance and operation of roads and turnpikes, or in aid thereof." Section 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held on the first Monday in November, 1970, at which election the ballots shall be printed to provide for voting for or against the proposition.
