PARIS (UPI)—The French lawyer of Greek millionaire shipowner Stavros Niarchos said Saturday the bruises on the body of Niarchos' wife, Eugenia, were caused by frantic efforts by her husband and servants to revive her from a massive overdose of sleeping pills.

The attorney accused a Greek prosecutor of trying to "hound" Niarchos with accusations that he may have caused his wife's death.

A "veritable Greek tragedy," said attorney Rene de Chambrun of the death of Eugenia Niarchos in May and the accusations by Piraeus prosecutor Constantinos Fafoutis Friday that the silver-haired shipping magnate may have caused fatal injuries in her death.

Greek chemists ruled in July that the death of Mrs.

Mass Sex Education Proposed

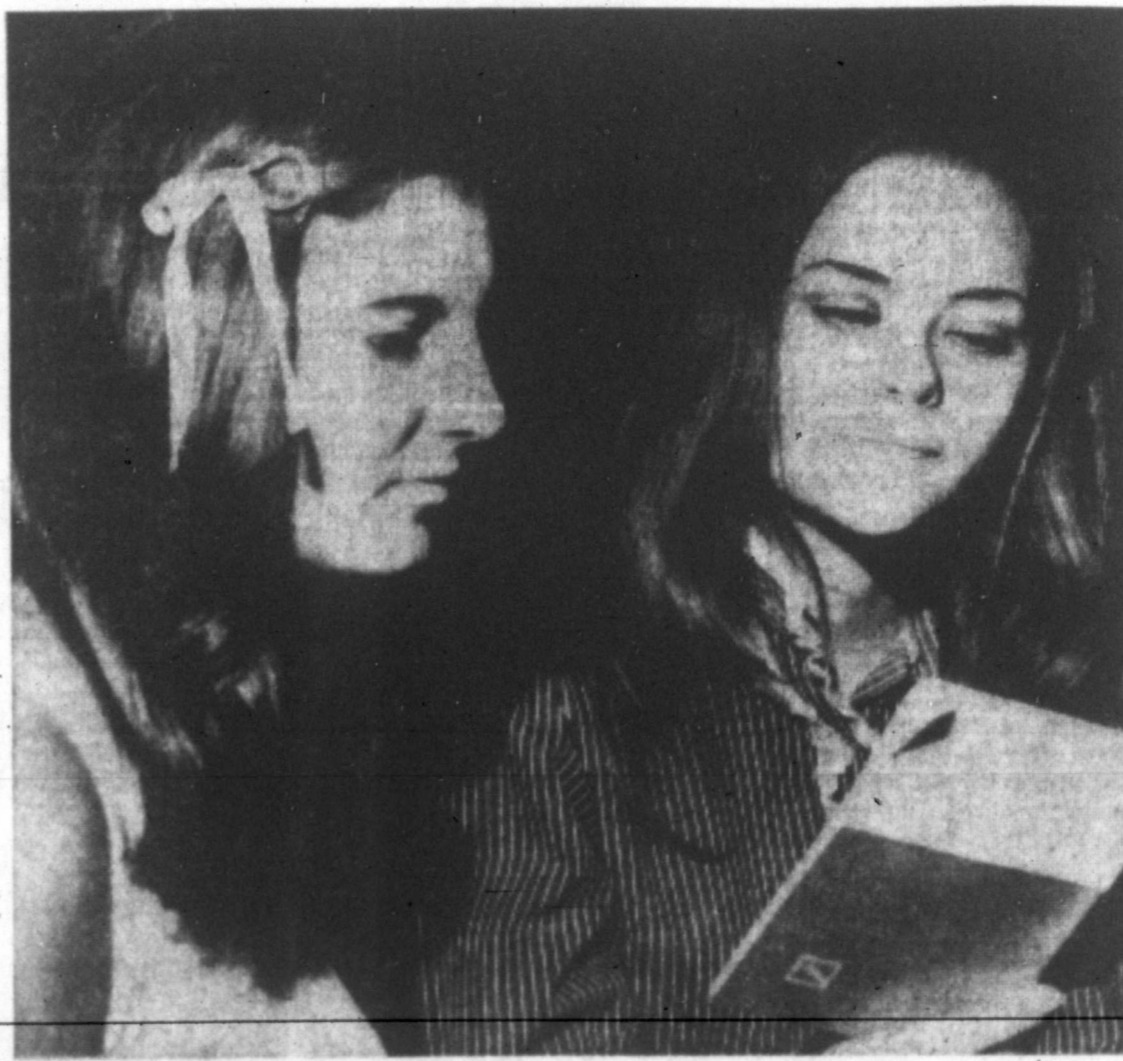

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Along with other controversial proposals, a Presidential commission on pornography is considering recommending federally financed sex education for all Americans—adults as well as children.

Such a "mass reeducation" program, a draft report of the commission says, could go a long way toward diminishing interest in pornography and the "potential undesirable effects of exposure" to it.

The commission is not due to release its recommendations until early September, but portions of the draft report—expected to be adopted—have been leaked in recent weeks.

The report's unexpected liberality, including advocacy of unrestricted access to pornography for adults who desire it, has provoked an outcry in Congress and quick disavowal by the Nixon administration.

In prepared remarks for the National District Attorneys Association, Attorney General John N. Mitchell emphasized Saturday that "the commission is not connected with the Nixon administration."

ANXIOUS TO share some of her summer adventures while on a European tour, Ellen McDaniel, right, shows her friend Carolyn McKinley, some of the soviet literature given her in Russia. Miss McKinley is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McKinley, 1809 Grape.

ON SUMMER TOUR

Pampan's Eye View Of Iron Curtain Culture

By JOHN REYNOLDS News Staff Writer

Independence, freedom and democracy should be upheld above all, and we should defend any people in the world who fights the anthesis, communism," declared pretty Ellen McDaniel, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. M. McDaniel, who just returned Thursday from a summer tour, which included all of Western Europe, the Greek Islands, Russia, Czechoslovakia, and Poland.

The people of Russia seem at first glance like "people mass produced, with no individuality," Miss McDaniel said.

"They are childlike," she continued, "they are rigidly trained from childhood, are given one set of facts, one side of the world story, and can discuss historical events with you only if you know the date, because they do not even use the same historical terminology as we do. They learn everything by date."

"You see, they have no family life. The children are sent to government military school at an early age, and, since both men and women are required to work, the children receive little training from their own parents. The government stamps the child's mind early."

"There is almost no individual initiative. Everything is for the 'Glorification of the state.' Massive statues and buildings dominate Russian cities. The people are kept in constant awe of the philosophy of communism and the Russian leaders. The massive buildings are to proclaim the power and glory of communism to the people. They must have no chance to think."

"Even in the subway stations, communism is 'glorified.' Huge chandeliers dominate the subway station ceiling. Great murals on the wall depicted scenes from the Russian revolution and since. The Russian people hardly know there is another country in existence."

"We supposedly saw the best of Russia," said Miss McDaniel. "But the huge hotel we stayed in in Moscow had only two showers for all the guests of the entire hotel—one for men, one for women."

Miss McDaniel explained that alcoholism is one of the greatest problems the Soviet government faces.

"The transition in the attitudes of the people in Russia and the people in Prague, Czechoslovakia is amazing yet heartbreaking. In Russia, the people have no memory of personal freedom or the ideal of personal worth. In Prague, the people haven't forgotten; yet they can do nothing to stop communism's engulfing tide which they know will one day overtake them."

Leaders Work On Peace Negotiations

By United Press International

Arab guerrillas Saturday fired rocket attacks from Jordan into Israel. But inside Jordan, guerrilla groups battled each other and Jordanian "intelligence agents" reported clashes that killed two persons and wounded at least five others.

The Arab-guerrilla action came as leaders of Egypt and Jordan began working out details of a plan to present the Arab view point in the Middle East peace negotiations. In New York, U.N. mediator Gunnar V. Jarring was reported under growing Arab pressure to open such talks or to give a reason for their delay.

In Amman, Palestinian sources reported that three armed clashes involving Palestinian guerrillas and Jordanian intelligence agents marred the fragile civil peace in Jordan.

The sources said the first incident occurred on Amman's outskirts late Friday when a truck carrying a machinegun and belonging to the Popular Struggle Front collided with another vehicle of the extremist Arab guerrilla group known as the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine (PFLP).

An exchange of words between the rival guerrilla groups soon flared into armed fighting and four of the guerrillas were wounded.

A second incident, reported by the newspaper of the extremist Popular Democratic Front, involved Jordanian intelligence agents and a Palestinian patrol. The newspaper said the agents opened fire on the patrol in the northern town of Irbid, wounding one of its members.

The guerrillas later received reinforcements, overpowered the intelligence agents, and took 10 of their prisoners, the reports said.

In a third incident reported on Amman's outskirts, armed

Eggers Cites Smith Working For Him

BRYAN, Tex. (UPI)—Republican gubernatorial candidate Paul Eggers said Saturday that the best person working for him in the campaign is his opponent Gov. Preston Smith.

Eggers told an audience at a fund-raising carnival sponsored by the Brazos County Republican Party that Smith spent over $1.13 million to meet his governor's staff payroll. He also accused his opponent of "lackadaisical administrative leadership."

Bryan was the first of a three-city campaign tour Saturday for the GOP candidate. Eggers was also scheduled to speak at Austin and Temple Saturday.

Lubbock Schools Must Change Border Lines

LUBBOCK, Tex. (UPI)—A district judge Saturday issued an order implementing a desegregation plan for the Lubbock School District calling for change in boundary lines for two schools and redistributing ninth graders from one primarily Negro school to three other junior highs.

The order handed down by District Judge Halbert O. Woodward after school and Justice Department officials presented their plans that closed no school and called for no abnormal transportation of students.

The order moved the boundaries of Dunbar High School and Struggles Junior High School, two predominately Negro schools, westward to include more of white neighborhoods.

The ninth grade at Dunbar was abolished and its students will be assigned to three other junior highs.

The order also struck down an option open to residents of certain areas of the city that allowed parents to send their children either to Lubbock High or Estacado High. The students must now go to Estacado.

"My order is doing what is necessary to create a unitary system and maintain as near as possible the neighborhood school concept," Woodward said.

The order was effective immediately. School Superintendent Ed Irons said the ruling will have no effect on the scheduled opening of school.

"Since the elementary system was not affected registration will continue as scheduled Monday and Tuesday," Irons said.

"All schools will open Wednesday as originally planned." The compromise was a slight setback for the Justice Department which had wanted Dunbar, Struggles and two elementary schools closed down or completely integrated.

"I have no idea what we of the Justice Department will do regarding an appeal," said attorney Bernie Shapiro. "I will report to Washington and it will be fully reviewed. It is just too early to say."

Lubbock was one of several in a series of six desegregation suits under a U.S. 5th Circuit Court of Appeals ruling that requires solutions before fall classes begin.

TAKES OVER BASE

Panama Ignores 15-Year Pact

PANAMA (UPI)—Panama formally took control of Rio Hato Saturday after ignoring a United States request to renew a 15-year agreement to retain the big arms training base in Central Panama under U.S. control.

Gen. Omar Torrijos, commander of the National Guard and the military junta headed by Demetrios Lakas were at the changeover ceremony Saturday afternoon. The United States was not formally notified of an official ceremony and a Corps of Engineers major turned over control of the 19,000 acre training site.

The U.S. Army's 193rd Infantry Brigade left the base Friday. The main installation there is an 8,000-foot hard-surface runway.

Panama announced Friday that a U.S. request for extension of the 1955 agreement on Rio Hato had been turned down as "not convenient to the national interests at this time."

Diplomatic sources said, however, that Panama never answered the extension request.

The Panamanian government plans about 20 projects for the area, including a civil airport, an experimental farm, a mechanized farming school, an aviation school and a tourist resort.

Rio Hato was a U.S. Air Force base during World War II. It was evacuated in 1947 after Panama refused to extend a wartime agreement under which more than 1,000 defense sites were made available throughout the isthmus to the United States.

Attractive Yard Contest Underway

Pampans' reputation for establishing and maintaining beautiful, well-kept yards will come in for recognition during the "Most Attractive Yard" contest which starts today sponsored by Chamber of Commerce with Warren Fatheree as chairman.

"Last year's contest sparked so much interest and seemed to be a fitting climax to a lot of hard summer's work, we are conducting it again this year," Fatheree said.

There will be four first, second and third prizes for winners in each of Pampa's four wards.

Last year's winners were Ward One: Mr. and Mrs. Bob Curry, 1126 Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Jim Tripplehorn, 1616 Charles; Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie McCune, 911 N. Frost; Ward II, Mr. and Mrs. E.P. Maglaughlin, 2547 Duncan; Mr. and Mrs. Art Aftergut, 2329 Aspen; Mr. and Mrs. Bill B. Davis, 2536 Duncan; Ward III, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Herr, 429 Pitts; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Keeton, 344 Tignor; Mr. and Mrs. J.H. Roper, 321 Miami; Ward IV, Mr. and Mrs. S.L. Gibby, 856 S. Sumner.

Mr. and Mrs. M.L. Williams, 1016 S. Dwight.

"People can nominate themselves or their neighbors," Fatheree said. "Only those yards actually nominated will be judged. Last year's winners are eligible again this year."

Entry blanks should be turned into the chamber of commerce by Sept. 9. Yards will be judged Sept. 12 and winners announced.

Cleanest alleys will also come in for prizes, according to Fatheree.

He explained that spotlighting the prettiest yard in town is a follow-up to the Clean Up, Fix Up, Paint Up campaign conducted in the Spring.

Winners from each ward will receive a certificate of commendation.

"Attractive, well-kept lawns show a pride in our town and impress new people to our community," Fatheree said. "We hope this year's contest will be as successful as last year's."

Nomination blanks will appear daily in The Pampa Daily News until deadline, Wednesday, Sept. 9.

The following residence in Pampa is nominated for having the most attractive yard:

Agnew Talks With Military Aides En Route

HONOLULU (UPI)—Vice President Spiro T. Agnew conferred with American military officials Saturday during a 90-minute refueling stop while en route on a presidential mission to assure Asian Allies the United States will honor its treaty commitments.

Looking trim and fit in a tropic-weight summer suit, Agnew, who was given a farewell sendoff by President Nixon in San Clemente, Calif., discussed the latest situation in Southeast Asia with Adm. John S. McCain, Jr. commander-in-chief Pacific, and other top-ranking American military officials.

He was scheduled to fly on to Guam where he would spend the night.

During departure ceremonies at the Western White House, Agnew told newsmen he was visiting South Korea, Nationalist China, Thailand and South Vietnam to reassure them the United States would continue to honor its security treaty obligations with them.

Seniors To Lead Off Registration

Pampa High School Seniors will begin the 1970 high school enrollment procedure at 7 a.m. in the high school Field House.

The senior enrollment schedule for Monday is as follows:

S through Z, 7 to 8 a.m.;
M through R, 8 to 9 a.m.;
H through L, 9 to 10 a.m.;
C through K, 10 to 11 a.m.;
A through B, 11 a.m. to 12 noon.

The seniors will pick up their books in the high school cafeteria immediately after registering.

Juniors will register Tuesday; Sophomores on Wednesday.

Bush, Bentsen Make Pitches For NAACP Campaign Support

AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI)—Democrat Lloyd Bentsen and Republican George Bush, both making pitches for the support of the Texas chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Saturday said they favor the neighborhood school concept and oppose forced busing to achieve racial balance.

The two Senate candidates, along with GOP gubernatorial hopeful Paul Eggers, appeared before a state NAACP meeting to present their views and answer questions. The Negro group has a policy against endorsing candidates, but Bush got a decidedly better reception with the group than did Bentsen.

Gov. Preston Smith was invited to the forum, but did not attend.

Booker T. Bonner, a leader in early Texas civil rights movements, grilled Bentsen about the Democratic candidate's use of a newspaper-type publication showing him with Negro leaders, and posed in front of giant posters showing Dr. Martin Luther King.

Bonner told Bentsen, "We do not appreciate Dr. King's picture being used in this political way." He also hinted that three of the Negro leaders pictured with Bentsen felt they had been "tricked" into having their photographs used in the campaign paper.

Bentsen replied only that he

New Books On Shelves

BELOW STAIRS — Margaret Powell; a fresh, shrewd and good-humored account of life in the servants' quarters in jolly old England.
A PLOT OF GRASS — Lane Kauffmann; an exploration into the problem of "pot" in suburbia, and of a father and son relationship, and the facts they have to face.
Poor Devils — David Ely; the story of a man's search for another, and a search into himself. It is a man's emergence from moral blindness, and a brilliant commentary on an American society self-betrayed and denying its own history.
LET THE SELLER BEWARE — James Bishop, Jr.; discusses the efforts now being made to determine the consumer's proper rights and rightful role in the economic system.
SOMETHING IN DISGUISE — Elizabeth Howard an interesting story of mystery and suspense about a young girl who leaves her family home to fall in love with an older man with a daughter almost her own age and an alcoholic ex-wife.
WILD KIDS — Frank R. Donovan; how youth has shocked its elders — then and now.
THE DAY THE SUN FELL — Robert L. Duncan; a novel of stunning impact set mainly in Japan during the fateful days of early August 1945.
A SPY IN THE FAMILY — Alec Waugh; the story of a respectable Treasury official and his wife — an international intrigue story.
THE CAPTIVE QUEEN OF SCOTS — Jean Plaidy; a spellbinding novel of the imprisonment of Mary Queen of Scots. From her first tragic struggle at Lockleven to the last grim, terrifying scene at Fotheringhay.
THE HOUSE ON MALADOR STREET — Phyllis Hastings; horror stalks staid English town house when, from behind the tightly closed shutters of the house on Malador Street, Victoria Chatterton swears to shield for three orphaned sisters from a corrupt, decadent world at any cost.

Portland Will Host American Legion

PORTLAND, Ore. (UPI)—Hoping for the best and preparing for the worst, Portland will be host to the American Legion national convention beginning Friday.
 Cause for concern is the possible confrontation between some 14,000 Legionnaires and perhaps 50,000 anti-war protesters.
 Neither side is advocating violence, but both worry that the irresponsible could cause trouble.
 Taking no chances, authorities will be ready with 6,000 Oregon National Guardsmen trained in crowd control and a full force of state and city police, along with firemen whose vacations were canceled during the week.
Negotiate for Park Sites
 Spokesmen for the major protesting group, the "People's Army Jamboree," have gone to great pains to insist their confrontation with the Legion is psychological, not physical. They have been negotiating with the city for park sites to stage their meetings and also sleep.
 Gov. Tom McCall sanctioned use of a state park for a rock music festival. The idea is to syphon off some of the protesters to areas away from the heart of the city, where the convention will be held.
 A brief story in the city's underground newspaper, the Willamette Bridge, said Gov. McCall had won the support of the Yippies in the forthcoming election because his action on providing a state park for a rock festival was "Master closer to the legalization of marijuana."
 President Nixon has been invited, along with other national leaders, to address the convention. There is speculation that the President will not attend but dispatch Vice President Spiro Agnew.

Television In Review

By JOAN DEPPA
PARIS (UPI)—When Host Cartwright ambles onto French television screens, he greets his buddies on the Ponderosa with "Ca va, alors?"
 The French slang, roughly equivalent to "How ya doing?" is dubbed to replace his original drawl.
 And when Raymond Burr unwinds another weekly mystery in "Ironside"—or "Homme de Fer" (man of iron) as he is known locally—he does it in perfect French, the mark of an educated man and in keeping with the character he plays.
 In fact, an American tourist who turned on the television in his hotel lounge—few hotel rooms are equipped with television sets—and left the sound off might well think he was back home.
 Walt Disney's "Wonderful World of Color," old American films like "The Rainmaker" and "For Whom the Bell Tolls," Laurel and Hardy and other such U.S. exports all draw heavy audiences.
Many Imports Shown
 Imports from other countries, primarily Britain and Russia, also are given star billing, although dubbing Russian shows is so difficult subtitles generally are used.
 However, few of the mediocre programs produced in the studios of the ORTF (Ondes Radio Television Francaises—French radio and television airwaves) are sold for dubbing to networks servicing France's English, German or Italian-speaking neighbors.

 The rare exception is a series about a little boy named "Sebastian," played by a young French actor who literally has grown up before the cameras after beginning the series at the age of four.
 The star, a tousle-headed lad known as Medhi, is now 12 and in the middle of a sea-going adventure filmed along the Brittany Coast during his school vacation last summer.
TV Is Family Oriented
 The series illustrates another aspect of French television—it is largely family oriented.
 French television magazines classify programs "as suitable for adults, adolescents or the entire family and one notes the opinion of the Roman Catholic Central Board.
 Critics of French television, including President Georges Pompidou himself, generally agree the way to improve it is by making it competitive and giving it more independence from government control. But they disagree on how this should be done.
 Pompidou ordered the network reorganized last November with separate budgets set up for news and entertainment chiefs of each of the two channels.

Foreign News Commentary

By PHIL NEWSOM
 UPI Foreign News Analyst
Window on the World:
 The Oct. 14-24 commemoration of the United Nations' 25th anniversary will provide a special opportunity for a number of summit meetings among international leaders who will be attending. One is expected to be a meeting between President Nixon and Soviet Premier Alexei N. Kosygin. There also is talk of a possible Big Four summit but, if so, it will be strictly informal. The French are only lukewarm toward the idea. Since possibly as many as 60 heads of state are expected to attend the special UN assembly, topics for conversation could cover almost the whole range of international problems, setting the scene for important subsequent developments.
Peru Poses Problem:
 Foreign investors are finding the going rougher every day in Peru. Ford and General Motors had accounted for well over half the automobiles assembled in Peru but will not be allowed to do business in 1971. Mining companies planning to develop new mines in Peru have until the end of September to present their development plans for approval and until the end of the year to "assure" the financing. Meanwhile, the Peruvian military government says it is putting the final touches on a new commercial law expected to provide for employee participation in the same way the new industrial law permits employees to participate in ownership and profit sharing.

Inflation Slow-Down:
 Brazil's military rulers hope to hold 1971 inflation down to 10 per cent but are not too sanguine. This year is expected to see an 18 to 20 per cent rise in the cost of living, which is higher than the government likes but below the 24 per cent increase registered in 1969. The 1971 objective may not be compatible with government plans to increase expenditures for housing, communication and other development projects. Large government expenditures the past usually have led to inflation, some of it disastrous.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK (UPI)—It was tighter credit and more expensive money that started stocks down, so it could be that easier credit and slightly lower interest rates will start stocks on the way back, says W. E. Hutton & Co. The Federal Reserve Board's recent decision to reduce required reserves on time deposits is evidence of an easier money policy.

The market needs "stay-put" money, and though this is more abundant than ever, it has left the stock market for the bond market, says the Janeway Service. Until a sustained return to lower long-term interest rates, not likely in the seeable future, the stock market has no chance whatever of regaining its lost vigor or confidence.

Undoubtedly, the municipal and corporate bond market calendar is going to remain heavy over the next two or three months, but by the latter part of the year demand pressures should subside, says Halsey, Stuart & Co. The firm believes the interest rate structure will work irregularly lower but that there will be periods of market congestion.

Red Cross News

By LIBBY SHOTWELL, Executive Secretary ARC

Our vacation is over and we are happy to be back home. Mrs. R.D. Wilson and Mrs. Carl Williams took turns working in our office and we think that they did an outstanding job with our Red Cross work. Thanks to both of you.

The Swim program continues with Mrs. Gerald Marlar and Miss Jackie Stephens holding a Junior and Senior Life Saving Class at the Pampa Youth Center. There were 55 boys and girls enrolled in the class. There certainly should not be a shortage of Life Guards next year in Pampa. If you want to see a large class work together, you should go to the Pampa Youth Center and see the good work these boys and girls are doing. Watch for the names of the ones that passed next week.

While we were gone on our vacation, Celia, the Hurricane came to Corpus Christi and again the Red Cross went to work both night and day. This has been a most expensive disaster and those who suffered loss in Pampa and other Panhandle areas will sympathize with those who had a great loss there. Thanks to those who have sent contributions to the Red Cross to help with the rehabilitation of homes in Corpus Christi. We need much more from our community.

Our goal for this Disaster is $3,344 so if you have not given and can help, won't you mail your contribution to the Red Cross Office Box 1036, Pampa, and we will send your contribution to Corpus Christi. Texas chapters are asked to contribute $1,000,000 goal. Pampa does not want to fail our Texas neighbors in their need. Red Cross is manning 10 shelters in Corpus Christi, feeding 85,000 people in the field kitchens, and Red Cross Sunday had processed 2,000 applications for rehabilitation with many more to be helped. The American Red Cross disaster expenditures during the past 5 years have totaled $88,000,000 which is far above the average expenditure for disasters. These excessive costs have wiped out the Disaster Reserve Funds and has cut deeply into the organizations General Operating Funds. The Celia Emergency Campaign is the 14th nation wide disaster relief fund drive that has been held since the Japanese Earthquake Relief Operation in 1932. With over 600 disasters in Texas alone this year, one can see why this request for funds is necessary. Help US Help!

NEW SWIM LESSONS:—The new swim lesson schedule for Sept. through Dec. is listed below with enrollments being made at the present time. Parents should check this list and sign their children up early to insure a place. Our classes have been full all summer long so do not hesitate too long.

Classes will meet on Monday, Wednesday, Thursday and Fridays for 10 meeting dates with the classes lasting one hour. We are closed on Tuesday during school. All classes will be taught by Jackie Marlar, our resident water safety instructor. Enrollment is free to Center members and $4 for non-members.

JUDO—With school coming on all of our judo students will be coming back to classes which meet on Monday and Thursday nights from 7:30 p.m. This particular activity at the Center is open to any boy or man who is 8 years of age or older. You need only be a Center member to participate.

Our instructors for the club are Paul Moot and Sam Moot. Paul has been in Japan this summer studying under the great artists and should have some valuable experience when he returns. If you are interested in learning about these classes, just come out and visit some night. You are always welcome.

SCHEDULE:—With school scheduled to open during the next week our schedule will change. During school hours we are not open, but open after school at 4:00 and also on Saturday and Sundays. Weekday hours are 4-10 p.m. except closed Tuesdays. Saturday hours are from 1-5 and Sunday from 2-5 p.m. Swimming is from 7-9:30 weekdays, 1-4:30 on Saturday and 2-4:30 on Sunday.

On August 27 we will close our swimming pool for a few days to give it a new coat of paint. We will reopen on Sept. 2 at 7:00. The gym and recreation hall will remain open this year.

SWIM CLUB—We have had a few persons sign up for the swim club, but we need at least 20 or so to organize our swim club again. This club will be for the purpose of competitive swimming. We had the Dolphin Swim Club up until a couple of years ago but the boys and girls just dropped out so much more we could not continue the club.

If the club is formed, it will meet for workouts each day that we are open from 6-7 p.m. Monday through Friday and possibly some Saturday mornings. Boys and girls from 6-18 years of age would be allowed to join the club. We do not give swim lessons in this club. This is a club for swimmers only.

The "Eyes" Have It

Which legs do you prefer on a Saturday night, sitting home in your favorite chair? The way TV people see it, the eyes have it—Miss America, for another year, will pin the boys' ears back.

Miss America: Oh, Ploy!

NEW YORK (NEA) — The decision of the ABC-TV network to request a change in time for the Stanford-Arkansas game (from 9:30 p.m. EDT, to 6 p.m. EDT), might have seemed just another play in cornering the major share of the viewing audience. It was, in a reverse way.

The NBC-TV network plans to show "Miss America" late on Sept. 12 and although the country might be in love with football, the female body still takes precedence over its male counterpart. ABC, it seems, feels that to put any football game, even the Super Bowl, against "Miss America" would be a complete disaster.

In 1965, Green Bay played Baltimore and the competition on NBC was "Miss America." Even though it was the first meeting between the two teams since the disputed play-off game the previous December and even though the Packers won in sudden-death, "Miss America" clobbered the rematch in the ratings.

Last season, "Miss America" had the fourth-highest audience of the season. (News specials such as the trip to the moon aren't included.) So ABC had no trouble in convincing Stanford and Arkansas officials to play earlier in the day. As one Stanford official said, "We want the country to see our team, especially quarterback Jim Plunkett. It was common sense to switch times."

Many athletes and officials sometimes forget, at times, that many people couldn't care less about numbered bodies when there are scantily clad ones in view.

Switchboard operators across the country are flooded with phone calls when a regular show is preempted for a sporting event. When ABC televised the final basketball game of the championship series between Los Angeles and New York, the Detroit operators at the ABC station in that city received numerous calls from disturbed viewers who were upset because "Love, American Style" was not being shown at its regular time.

John McKay, USC's coach, might have said it best the Monday after his team lost to Notre Dame, 31-0. "There is one consolation about not having the national TV spotlight," he told the press. "There are 800 million Chinese who don't even know we played, let alone got murdered."

Other Games

In other American League Games, Cleveland defeated Oakland 6-3, Minnesota defeated Washington 4-3, Detroit beat Milwaukee 6-4, New York downed the Chicago White Sox 4-2 and Kansas City edged Boston 2-1 in 12 innings.

In the National League, the New York Mets beat Cincinnati 4-1, Montreal downed Atlanta 4-1, the Houston Astros whipped Philadelphia 9-1 in a doubleheader after losing the first game 9-3, Los Angeles edged Pittsburgh 2-1, St. Louis crushed San Diego 14-8 and San Francisco beat Chicago 5-1.

Sam McDowell, who left the game in the sixth inning after reinjuring a thigh muscle, posted his 18th victory of the season as Cleveland beat the Athletics. Duke Sims helped him with a three-run homer in the first inning, and Ray Foster, Ted Uhlaender and Vada Pinson added solo blasts. Tom Tischenki belted his 1st add 012s xxx blasts.

There's a New "Inn" Place For Living

The "Inn" Collegians meet on common ground at the College Inn, a new concept in residential facilities for students at Texas Tech University in Lubbock.

The ultra-modern, multi-story structure directly across the street from the campus cafeteria, a half-dozens spacious rooms, arranged two rooms to a suite, carpeted and with connecting bath.

Two big, heated swimming pools grace semi-enclosed patios; and other areas shared by both men and women residents include those for dining, study and recreation.

Women occupy one of the spacious wings; men the others, and the cost of the luxury-concept living is a modest $99.50 per month, which includes both room and board.

Californian, New Yorker, Win Bike Championship

NEW YORK (UPI)—Mrs. Audrey McElmury of Del Mar, Calif., and Mike Carnahan of Rochester, N.Y., won the women's and men's National Road Bicycle championship Friday.

The event, sponsored by the Amateur Bicycle League of America, saw Miss McElmury, last year's world bicycle racing champion, negotiate the 29.3-mile course in one hour, 18 minutes, 47 seconds.

Carnahan led the men's division with a time of 4:28.07 over a 112-mile course through New York's Central Park.

Shaving Strokes

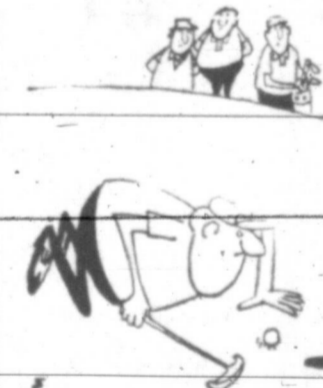

by Frank Beard

5-But Play Faster

Last time, we talked about slowing down in everything you do before going on a golf course. I want to stress, however, that once on the course you should take your time hitting each shot but otherwise should keep moving at as brisk a clip as possible.

Slow play is the bane of most courses, particularly the large municipal layouts. I blame it on the telecasts of tour events. People see us fussing over a five-foot putt, and they emulate us. But they don't realize that we're putting for our living, and that there will be only 50 or 60 of us on the course. We're not holding up anybody.

The key to speeding play is to concentrate on your own game and forget about everybody else. Too many people get too interested in what their playing companions are doing. Instead of walking over to watch your partner hit, stay by your ball and analyze your shot, so that when it's your turn, you'll be ready.

I appreciate that it takes more time to shoot 105 than to shoot 75, but most average players could keep things moving better simply by walking a little faster and not worrying so much over putts. And don't be so interested in what others are doing. I'll even wager that you'll score better playing faster. You'll stay more alert.

Oriole's McNally Goes After 20th Win Tuesday

By United Press International

David McNally has lost a couple of habits. But he hasn't lost much else recently.

The Baltimore lefthander gained his 19th victory Friday night by allowing only six hits as the Orioles defeated the California Angeles 5-0 to remain 10 1/2 games ahead of second-place New York in the American League East. On Tuesday night against the Oakland As, McNally will not only be seeking to become the first 20-game winner this season but also will be trying to tie the Mill Pappas' club record of 112 career victories.

"I thought I threw exceptionally hard for me tonight," McNally said. "I'm not afraid to wing it when I know it's moving. I only went to the slider three or four times. The slider used to be my out pitch but I don't depend on it much anymore."

Brooks Robinson provided all the help McNally needed with a three-run homer in the third inning. Boog Powell was forced to leave the game in the second inning with a bruised left hand and will miss today's game with the Angels.

In other American League Games, Cleveland defeated Oakland 6-3, Minnesota defeated Washington 4-3, Detroit beat Milwaukee 6-4, New York downed the Chicago White Sox 4-2 and Kansas City edged Boston 2-1 in 12 innings.

Coaches Deal With New Breed

NEW YORK (UPI)—College football has been changing drastically and so has the type of boy playing it, concede coaches Darrell Royal of Texas, Joe Paterno of Penn State and Bear Bryant of Alabama.

But, they agree, the new boy and the new game make a better-than-ever combination.

In response to a series of queries by Beano Cook, press director for the American Broadcasting Company's NCAA football telecasts, Paterno noted:

"There is more emphasis on intelligence, ambition and character and the general quality of our people playing is superior."

Royal wrote: "We at the University of Texas realize we are dealing with a different breed now but the same basic qualities that made winning football a few years back still holds up today. It is still a game of hit or be hit and those with a strong heart, quick foot and can smash down the scales are the ones that seem to take care of our side best."

wrote Bryant, "you have to have better athletes, faster, taller, larger and naturally, smarter."

Paterno and Royal both stressed the new boy required some new thinking on the part of the coaches.

"We do not have the same iron clad control over the student-athlete that we had 15 years ago and this is something all coaches must adjust to as the game progresses," added Royal, whose Longhorns finished No. 1 in the nation last fall.

To deal with the new game, fall.

BASKETBALL CUTS

PITTSBURGH (UPI)—Guard Chico Vaughn and center Lonnie Lynn have been placed on waivers by the Pittsburgh Condors of the American Basketball Association.

SENIOR TENNIS

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (UPI)—Canada needs to win only one of today's final two singles matches against Argentina to advance to the qualifying round finals of the Stevens Cup.

Great Britain clinched the other final berth Friday in the international senior tennis competition by taking an unbeatable 3-0 lead over Mexico.

Is the Big Red Machine breaking down? The guy who operates the machine, Sparky Anderson, thinks maybe it is, and he's getting worried.

The Big Red Machine, better known as the Cincinnati Reds, has been just a mediocre team since the All-Star break. Before that it was practically unbeatable. But with six weeks still to play in the season, things don't look as safe for the Reds as they did a few weeks ago.

The New York Mets, behind the seven-hit pitching of Jerry Koozman, beat the Reds 4-1

Friday night and reduced the Reds' lead over the second-place Los Angeles Dodgers in the National League's West Division to 10 games—only eight in the loss column.

Pennant Race Looms

The Dodgers helped their own cause—and the Mets'—by edging the Pittsburgh Pirates, 2-1, behind the seven-hit pitching of Claude Osteen. The Pirates now lead the Mets by only 1 1/2 games in the East Division race.

Anderson doesn't feel the Reds are home free by a long shot, even though most critics have quietly conceded the division title to Cincinnati.

Koozman held the Reds in complete check Friday night. The big lefthander, bothered by a sore arm earlier this year, didn't have his powerful fastball but he kept the Reds off stride with sharp control and an assortment of curves.

The Mets took advantage of the wideness of Reds' starter Tony Cloninger to score two big runs in the second inning. Cloninger walked Bud Harrelson and Wayne Garrett with the bases loaded to force home two runs. Harrelson, who entered the game tied with Chicago's Don Kessinger for most consecutive errorless games played at shortstop (54), missed a chance to set a new record when he erred on the first play of the game. He later committed another error which allowed the Reds to score their only run of the game.

Detroit toppled Milwaukee 6-4 in American League action.

Frank Reberger's six-hit pitching paced the Giants' victory. Despite the loss the Cubs remain four games behind the Pirates.

Joe Torre capped a five-run sixth inning with his 15th homer and Vic Davalillo drove in two runs with a pinch-hit double as the Cardinals pounded out 15 hits to rout the Padres.

Carl Morton gained his 15th win for the Expos with the help of home runs by Lee Bailey, Rusty Staub and John Bates. Clete Boyer and Bob Tillman homered for the Braves and Hank Aaron tied Al Simmons for eighth place on the all-time runs batted in list with a pair of RBIs.

Wilson allowed the Phillies only three hits in the nightcap after the Phillies won the opener for Ron Stone's two-run pinch hit single and Don Money's three-run homer.

Arkansas Takes Lead; Memphis Rained Out

By United Press International

All three league games were decided in late innings. El Paso scored its first run in the eighth to tie San Antonio and then picked up the winning run in the bottom of the ninth for a 2-1 win, although San Antonio's W. V. Lowe limited the Sun Kings to only four hits. The Missions had nine hits, but stranded too many men on bases.

Four late-inning runs by Arkansas and a shower of rain in Memphis finally broke the tie for the Eastern Division lead in the Texas League Friday night.

The Travelers came from behind in Little Rock, scoring a run in the seventh and three runs in the eighth to defeat Albuquerque 4-1 and move half a game ahead of the Memphis Blues, the league's defending champions.

Rain cancelled a doubleheader between the Blue and Amarillo. Memphis and Arkansas had been tied for first place for four days.

Dallas-Fort Worth and Shreveport played to a scoreless deadlock going into the bottom of the ninth. Then Tom Creola's pinch single with two out gave the Spurs a 1-0 decision.

Rich Thoms, who came in in relief in the ninth for Dallas-Fort Worth, was the winning pitcher, his seventh victory against four losses this year.

The Osteen Routine

Osteen continued his mastery over the Pirates as he beat them for the fourth straight time this season. The stylish lefthander wasn't quite as stingy as he has been in the past, however, as he allowed them a run—the first the Pirates have scored off him in 46 innings. Bill Sudakis drove in both Dodger runs with a homer and an infield single.

In other NL games, San Francisco beat Chicago 5-1. St. Louis walloped San Diego 14-8. Montreal edged Atlanta 6-4, and Houston beat Philadelphia 9-1 in the nightcap of a doubleheader after losing the opener 9-3.

Baltimore blanked California 5-0 as Dave McNally became the Majors' first 19-game winner. Cleveland beat Oakland 6-3. Minnesota edged Washington 4-3. Kansas City nipped Boston 2-1 in 12 innings. New York defeated Chicago 4-2 and

Oil Firms Reluctantly Willing To Pay For Pollutant Controls

TULSA, Okla. (UPI) — The thought of spending large sums for antipollution equipment hardly excites the oil industry. Most operators quickly admit a need for stringent pollution control measures but are unwilling to go to the expense of doing so voluntarily until regulations force them to.

A spokesman for one of the major oil firms said this week his company had budgeted $13 million for environment control but "they're not about to spend it" until federal regulations require the industry to get on with the job.

Though it has never said it was going "all out" to do its part in purifying the environment, this particular company has released periodic statements expressing its concern.

"We're all concerned," the spokesman said. "But why should we make such a large expenditure as it is going to take unless the rest of the industry does?"

The spokesman said that unless every oil refiner was required to take positive antipollution steps, those that did so would be at "an unfair economic disadvantage."

"And don't let yourself be feel we are the only ones who feel this way," the company official said. "All of us have made plans to allot millions of dollars to live up to our responsibility to maintain a satisfactory environment, but nearly all of us are holding the bulk of any large expenditures in abeyance until the government forces us to let go."

The spokesman said his firm "is doing a good deal" toward cleaning up the environment "but you may rest assured we will do only so much before we stop and wait for others."

"There are companies which are doing more than others. But it is going to take strict federal regulations before this problem is really on the way to a solution."

His remarks apparently were in conflict with a statement made by the American Petroleum Institute (API), which speaks for the industry.

API said it considered air quality standards based on "scientifically sound criteria the only rational and equitable foundation for any air pollution control program" but claimed that the industry was "contributing substantially to air pollution research efforts both individually and through API."

DETROIT (UPI)—The Michigan Department of Natural Resources Saturday began ticketing anglers who catch fish in mercury-contaminated waters on Lake St. Clair. The state banned all fishing in the lake when dangerous levels of mercury were found in the fish. But Gov. William G. Milliken relaxed the ban May 30 to permit catch-and-release fishing. "Some fishermen have convinced themselves that there is no longer any danger, and they are beginning to ignore the restrictions," said John Anguilm, chief of enforcement for the department.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I have a friend who complains constantly to me because she lives in a clannish neighborhood. She says that her neighbors come over for coffee every morning even before she has her last one off to school. And a few of them stay until it's time for lunch and she can't get her housework done.

They don't wait to be offered coffee — they help themselves. (She uses five pounds of coffee a week and she is the only adult in her family who drinks it.)

I told her to put a sign outside her door. "SORRY, NO TIME FOR COFFEE TODAY." but she says she hasn't got the nerve.

Her husband travels, and when he's home the neighbors are there having coffee right with him. How can I help my friend get rid of these pests? I'm afraid she'll have a nervous breakdown.

WEST SIDER
DEAR WEST: Many people complain that they are constantly being "imposed upon" by unwelcome guests, but for some strange reason they never do anything about it. This leads me to suspect that the "victim" not only secretly enjoys these drop-in pests, but enjoys complaining about them. It's her coffee, her time and her problem. When she complains to me, I'll recommend a foolproof pest exterminator.

DEAR ABBY: My husband is a great person — except for one thing. His temper. He has never hit me, but I'm starting to get scared. He gets mad over the least little thing. He broke the leg off the TV because he could not get a clear picture, and if somebody happens to get a wrong number and rings our place by mistake, he yells at them like they committed some kind of crime.

He has always had a hot temper but he used to cool down fast. Now he gets mad at the least little thing and he stays mad for hours — and sometimes days. Could something be wrong with him?

DEAR SCARED: Yes. But I am not a doctor which is what your husband needs in order to determine if his fits of anger are symptoms of a serious illness or if he is just overreacting in a childish way.

DEAR ABBY: "X" and I are getting married soon at a formal wedding in a church. Three out of the four ushers have long hair. This will look terrible with tuxes. I think those three should either cut their hair or wear one of those short stretch wigs they have for men now.

"X" says we have no right to ask them to do either. My mother is having a fit.

If these boys show up in the wedding party with their long hair, I know there will be a lot of criticism from my relatives. What is your opinion?

DEAR "B": You have no right to ask the ushers to pose as shorthaired types. (I doubt if they would agree to do it, anyway.) It seems to me that everyone should be accustomed to seeing long hair on men by now. If it's clean and well cared for, what is there to criticize?

DEAR ABBY: Is it considered good manners to comment on a lady's jewelry? I mean, if the comment is meant as a compliment?

SYRACUSE
DEAR SYRACUSE: Certainly. It's a fairly safe bet that the lady who adorns herself with jewelry does so in the hope that it will be noticed.

MRS. CLYDE WAYNE TRUSTY nee Janice Nichols

Janice Nichols Weds Clyde Wayne Trusty

Janice Nichols pledged marriage vows with Clyde Wayne Trusty in a double-ring service in the Harrah Methodist Church Aug. 14. The Rev. W.O. Rucker officiated as the vows were repeated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Nichols of 601 Plains. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. C.J. Trusty of Lefors.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a formal gown made by her mother. The A-line formal gown was fashioned with a high ruffled collar, lace sleeves with a lace overlay down the front and lace trim around the pleated chapel train. The back of her gown was accented with a bow and train. The bride's veil of bridal toiling was accented by a headpiece of white flowers and satin.

The traditional "something old," was a gold heart locket, containing a picture of the bride as a baby and a picture of the bride's father. The locket belonged to her grandmother. "Something new" was her wedding gown. Her "something borrowed" was a six pence and "something blue" was the traditional blue garter. She carried white carnations tied with white streamers.

ATTENDANTS

Molly Flaherty of Amarillo was maid of honor. The bridesmaids were Rose and Peggy Nichols, sisters of the bride, and Marina Silhan and Paula Beck of Lefors, cousin of the bridegroom. Jamie Greene was the flower girl. All wore empire formal gowns of blue satin with long sheer blue sleeves accented with blue satin cuffs. Attendants carried butterflies of blue carnations.

C.J. Trusty of Lefors served his son as best man. Woody Dal Trusty, brother of the bridegroom, Eddy Joe Roberts, Rodney Airrington and Mike Hayes were groomsmen. Ushers were John Mark St. Clair of Skellytown and Jerry Nichols, brother of the bride. Ringbearer was Randy Parsley. Eloise Lane, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Betty Christianson as she sang "Wedding Prayer." "I Love

Thee," and "Entreat Me Not To Leave Thee."

The bride's mother wore a lime green A-line dress with white accessories. The bridegroom's mother chose a light pink knit dress. Both wore white gladiola corsages accented with pink or green carnations.

Two candelabras with blue carnations and white gladiolas decorated the church and were placed around the altar.

RECEPTION

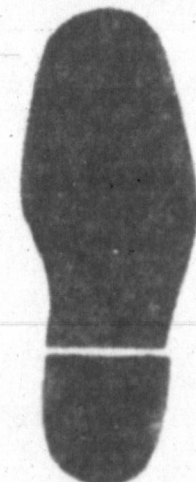

After the ceremony, the couple was honored with a reception in the church Fellowship Hall. The bride's cousins, Rita Parsley and Nita

Parsley, registered guests, Viola Parsley and Kathy Parsley, the bride's cousins, and Debbie Gray served cake and punch.

A white linen tablecloth covered the table, which was appointed with silver and decorated with the three tiered and lattice worked wedding cake. Accenting the champagne fountain was an arrangement of white gladiolas and blue carnations.

For a wedding trip to Monument Lake, Colo., the bride wore a blue dacron and polyester dress with long sleeves accented with pearl

Man Calls Dates 'Symbols Of Life'

In ancient Greece, dates were dedicated to Apollo, the god of music and poetry. The Greeks considered the date, one of man's oldest and most valuable fruits, the symbol of riches, life and fertility.

Imported dates are still considered of particular value in the modern homemaker's cooking and baking needs. According to packagers and processors of imported pitted and diced dates, imported dates are more richly flavored than domestic dates.

Karen Myrle Sidwell Repeats Vows With Glenn R. Wimberly

MRS. GLENN R. WIMBERLEY
... nee Karen Myrle Sidwell

Karen Myrle Sidwell was united in marriage with Glenn Russell Wimberly in an evening service in the First Presbyterian Church Aug. 18. The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, officiated as the couple exchanged rings.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Sidwell, 1344 Williston. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd R. Wimberly of Midland.

The couple exchanged vows before an altar arrangement of white fuji and china chrysanthemums backed by an arch of candelabras. Spiral and tree candelabras garlanded with sala foliage filled the background. The bridal aisle was lighted with tall candelabra with candles covered by hurricane globes and entwined with smilax greenery.

BRIDE
Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a floor-length gown of white and candlelight. The A-line skirt was fashioned in peau de soie and was molded to a cut-in train. The bodice of the gown was designed in English net applied in Alencon lace. The trumpet sleeves were of English net and were bound in a peau de soie band. The skirt front carried a trellised applique of Alencon lace as did the gown's train.

A mantilla of Alencon lace on French silk illusion completed the bridal attire. A prayer Bible, which was adorned with a white orchid and stephanotis was carried by the bride.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Bob Sidwell of Austin, the bride's sister-in-law, served as her matron of honor and was dressed in a floor-length gown of jonquil dotted swiss accented in a band of Venice lace. She carried nosegays of white daisies.

Other attendants were Mrs. Bill Davis of Lubbock and Miss Linda Wimberly, of Midland, the bridegroom's sisters. Both were dressed like the matron of honor.

The bridegroom's father, Loyd R. Wimberly, assisted his son as best man. Groomsman were Bill Davis of Lubbock and Bob Sidwell of Austin. Ushers were George Ausley of Dallas and Bassett Owens of Lubbock. Jerry Whitten, organist, accompanied vocalist, David Campbell as he sang "Hawaiian Wedding Song," and "The Lord's Prayer."

RECEPTION
Whitten also played music for the reception in the Pampa Country Club where a pair of five-branch candelabras dropped with strings of smilax decorated the bride's table. The cake was decorated with yellow sweetheart roses and smilax.

Mary Beth Johnson served punch as Mrs. Harry Howell assisted with the coffee service. Mrs. Bill Patterson, and Miss Fannie Harrison served cake. Peggy Scott of Lubbock assisted at the guest register as Jeff Moten and Tol Scott distributed rice bags.

For the wedding trip to Colorado, the bride traveled in a navy coat and white dress ensemble with navy accessories.

The couple plan to live in Weatherford, Okla. The bride graduated from Pampa High School and attended Stephen F. Austin State University and Commercial College of Lubbock. The bridegroom, a Crane High School graduate, graduated from Baylor University, attended graduate school at Texas Tech University and is enrolled at Southwestern State in the School of Pharmacy.

Nuptial Vows In Phillips Unite Miss Roe, James W. Edminster

Miss Bobby Lark Roe, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Glen Roe Jr., of Phillips and James Michael Edminster, son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. Edminster, 2128 Aspen Drive, exchanged vows of marriage at 7:30 p.m., Aug. 1, in Phillips United Methodist Church.

The Rev. James A. Williams, and long three-puffed Juliet sleeves. Bands of scalloped lace embroidered with seed pearls marked the sleeve puffs and the waistline, and formed two rows above the hemline of the A-line skirt.

Following bridal traditions, the bride wore a new dinner ring, a gift of the bridegroom, a pearl necklace borrowed from dresser with shoulder-length veils falling from headpieces of petals of miramist. Each carried a white wicker basket filled with vari-colored daisies and tied with matching vari-colored ribbon bows and streamers.

Richard Taylor of Pampa, was best man. Groomsmen and ushers were W. Glen Roe III of Amarillo, brother of the bride, Ken McCleery of Pampa, and Dale Skidmore of Phillips.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Roe wore a white knit sheath with navy knit over-dress, and navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of white cymbidium orchids. Mrs. Edminster, mother of the bridegroom, wore a yellow knit dress with white accessories and a corsage of green cymbidium orchids.

Mrs. Richard Bost of Carbondale, Ill., sister of the bridegroom, registered guests before the ceremony.

RECEPTION

At the bride's table, centered with an epergne of vari-colored daisies topped with a cupid statuette, Elaine Reeves of Lockney, and Kara Lee Selman of Phillips, served the four-tiered wedding cake. Mary Beth Kiser of Tahoka, presided at the crystal punch-bowl.

For traveling to Red River and Taos, N.M., the bride wore a black and white knit dress with matching accessories and a gardenia corsage.

Mr. and Mrs. Edminster are at home at D-19, Tech Village, Lubbock.

On the eve of the wedding Mr. and Mrs. Edminster, parents of the bridegroom, were hosts at the rehearsal dinner at the Phillips Methodist Church Fellowship Hall. The centerpiece was of aqua tinted asters flanked with aqua candles, with wedding bells down the center of the U-shaped table. Cards with wedding bells marked the places.

Among the out-of-town guests were grandmothers of the couple Mrs. V.G. Roe and Mrs. R.L. Case, both of Frederick, Okla., and Mrs. W.L. Edminster of Pampa.

Other guests from Oklahoma were Mrs. James A. Williams and daughters of Canton: Judge Harrison Roe of Frederick, Albert Case, Mrs. Mary C. Hodges, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph P. Roe, all of Tulsa.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Bost came from Carbondale, Ill., and Mrs. Virgil R. Carter and Cathie, from Palo Alto, Calif. Guests from other cities in Texas were Miss Irbye L. Simmons of Fort Worth; Mr. and Mrs. Si Holt of Dallas, Miss Darlene Frazier of Pecos, Miss Elva Jo Courtney of Shallowater, Doyle Kendrick of Lubbock, David Schaub and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Pafford, all of Pampa.

MRS. RANDALL McBEE ... nee Terry Lynn Allen

Terry Lynn Allen was united in marriage with Randall Tobin McBee in a double-ring service Aug. 7. The Rev. Dan Cameron, pastor of First Baptist Church, officialled for the evening service at the church, with the Rev. E.C. Wood, the bride's grandfather, assisting.

Terry Lynn Allen Pledges Nuptial Vows With Randall Tobin McBee In Pampa Church

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Allen, 1921 Dogwood. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Tobin C. McBee, of Houston.

The couple exchanged vows before a background decorated with candelabra entwined with salal leaves and holding blue candles. Baskets and center arrangements were of yellow gladiolas and blue killian daisies.

BRIDE

The bride was escorted to the altar between honor pews marked with blue and gold ribbon. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was dressed in a floor length gown of candle light silk organza over peau de soie fashioned with empire waistline and straight skirt. Re-embroidered lace accented with seed pearls adorned the skirt. The sweetheart neckline was bordered with lace. The long bishop sleeves of silk organza with lace appliques trim ended in wide peau de soie cuffs and were fastened with satin buttons. The detachable chapel length train carried out the same design of appliques as the skirt. She carried out the traditional something old, new borrowed and blue by carrying a Bible in her bouquet for something old, a penny in her shoe for something new, borrowed her headpiece and veil and wore a blue garter.

The re-embroidered lace pillbox with seed pearl accents was topped with miniature orange blossoms, and was attached to a waist length candlelight illusion veil. The bride carried an arm bouquet of white roses tied with gold cord on her white Bible which was a gift from her matron of honor.

ATTENDANTS

Bridal attendants were Mrs. Donald Bates, of Lubbock, matron of honor, with Mrs. Mike Davis of Houston and Denise Allen, the bride's sister, assisting.

They were all dressed in baby blue chiffon over satin designed with empire waistlines, formal length hems, and varigated blue embroidery trim at the waistline. They carried arm bouquets of yellow gladiolas tied with gold cord.

Best man was Mike Davis of Houston, with Barry Griffin of Stratford, and Kenneth McBee, the bridegroom's brother, as groomsmen. Ushers were Donald Bates of Lubbock and Rick Jones of Angleton. Candelighters were Clifford Attaway and Richard Attaway, sons of Mrs. La Vern Attaway of Bay City. Ring bearer was Dana Wyeno, the bride's cousin of Littleton, Colo. Joan Burns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Burns, of Pampa, was flower girl and was dressed in a baby blue chiffon over satin styled the same as other attendants' dresses. She wore a yellow carnation wristlet and carried a blue basket of white rose petals.

Wedding music was played by Miss Eloise Lane, organist, who accompanied Mrs. Henry Wyeno of Littleton, Colo., the bride's aunt. Wedding selections were "The Lord's Prayer," "Jesu, Joy of Man's Desiring," "O Perfect Love," "Eternal Life," and "The Greatest Of These Is Love."

RECEPTION

Table decorations for the reception in the First Baptist Church parlor were silver candelabra with a center arrangement of yellow carnations and blue daisies. The lace tablecloth was appointed with crystal punch bowl with silver serving pieces.

The three-tiered cake decorated in yellow roses and white wedding bells was topped with entwined wedding rings before an open gate.

Peggy McBee of Houston, assisted at the punch service as Agnes Sims of Angleton served cake. Barbara Brown registered guests. Others assisting were Marsha Fetters, Bay City, and Mrs. Tom Burns of Pampa.

The bride traveled in a yellow crepe dress with yellow double knit jacket and yellow and lavender accessories and wore a corsage of phalaenopsis orchids.

The bride graduated from Bay City High School, attended Houston Baptist College and will enroll at Dallas Baptist College. The bridegroom graduated from Houston Baptist College and will enter Southwestern Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth this fall.

PRE-NUPTIAL EVENTS

Pre-nuptial events were a lingerie shower by her sorority sisters, a kitchen shower in the home of Mrs. Virgil Fetters of Bay City, a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Dot Jones of Houston, a miscellaneous shower in the First Baptist Church parlor, and rehearsal dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Tobin McBee.

Out-of-town guests were Messrs. and Mrs. Tobin McBee, Peggy and Kenneth, Mike Davis, Jim Grimes and Carol, all of Houston; Donald Bates of Lubbock; Henry Wyeno, Dana and Dyanna, of Littleton, Colo.; Nathan Allen of Greensburg, Kans.; David Allen, and children of Minneapolis, Kans., the Rev. and Mrs. E.C. Wood of Palmer Lake, Colo.; Mrs. La Verr Attaway and sons, Marsh Fetters, all of Bay City; Agnes Sims and Rick Jones of Angleton; Barry Griffin of Stratford; Mrs. Thelma Heat of Kingsland, Mrs. W.J. Henry and Douglas Henry, both of Houston; and Mrs. Donald Crooks and children, Kansas City, Kans.

Unfamiliar Words Cause Confusion

NEW YORK (UPI)—By the time they start school authorities estimate first graders have already watched 4,000 hours of television.

Their vocabularies include phrases like enzyme-eaters and words like detergent, pollution and others that would have struck first graders of yesterday as jaw-breakers.

The fascination with television continues through the elementary grades and sometimes beyond, studies have established.

The same can't be said for their attention to spelling and definitions of all the words that hit their ears.

By the time the youngsters reach junior high school, there comes the serious business of reading deep books with unfamiliar words. At that point, many only have a fuzzy idea what some of the words might mean and, presto, a great guessing game commences.

The biggest guessers eventually need help from a corrective reading instructor.

Donald B. Hofer, associate professor of reading, Community College of Baltimore, once was such an instructor at the Middle River Junior High School in that city.

In a report in the National Education Association (NEA) Journal, he urges teachers to watch out for words that confuse students in this guessing game.

The words sound familiar. So the guesses seem respectable to the students. Some he cited include:

—Rancid, what you pay when you are kidnapped; cyclone, a big giant with one eye; partial, a package like in partial post; omission, what you pay to get into the movies; pout, what a mother kangaroo keeps her babies in; alloy, a friendly country during a war.

Pulpit, a poor person for what paper is made of; goblet, a monster that comes out on Halloween; retina, your seat; brawl, what a woman wears; excavation, mark at the end of a sentence; barbarian, little balls in a skate wheel.

—Otter, what a cow has; parasol, something used to cut down trees; sheath, a desert man; urban, a kind of booze; version, a young girl that isn't married; mace, a pot of flowers.

"Before you begin intensive work in comprehension in corrective reading or in effective reading," Hofer told teachers, "make sure your students have an adequate vocabulary."

Based on the poor guesses on definitions of the words above, he composed a police bulletin. It goes like this:

"Wanted: Desert sheath for kidnapping a version and holding her for rancid. Described as a cyclone and goblet. He is known to consume great amounts of urban."

MRS. JAMES MICHAEL EDMINSTER ... nee Bobby Lark Roe

pastor of the First United Methodist Church of Canton, Okla., read the double-ring ceremony. The church was decorated with palms and urns of white gladiola and lemon leaves, accented with white bows. A white satin-covered kneeling bench was used on the altar level flanked by spiral candelabra. Both were entwined with leaves of boxwood. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

Mrs. Jerry C. Ball of Borger, was organist. Miss Gay Lynn Edmondson of Phillips, sang "I Love Thee" and "The Lord's Prayer."

BRIDE
The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a formal gown of bridal satin with overlay of silk organza, designed with scoop neckline, fitted bodice, empire waistline, her mother, a blue garter, and a penny in her shoe.

Her tiered, bouffant veil of silk illusion fell to form a chapel-length train from a headpiece of petals fashioned from lace and seed pearls. She carried a cascade of gardenias, with satin streamers tied in bows.

ATTENDANTS
Mrs. Tony McKee of Borger was matron of honor, and Mrs. Virgil R. Carter of Palo Alto, Calif., sister of the bride, was bridesmatron. Darla Caviness of Phillips, and Susan Abbott of Temple were bridesmaids.

The attendants wore empire style floor-length gowns of aqua miramist, over taffeta with jewel necklines trimmed with self-cording and a small bow, short flared sleeves, and a bow marked the back waistline. They wore matching head-

Manual Offers Tested Ideas For Handicapped Homemakers

NEW YORK (UPI)—How would you peel a potato, slice a tomato, or open a box of corn flakes—using just one hand?

For millions of American homemakers—an estimated one in 10—such challenges are a three-times-a-day occurrence as they attempt to cook for themselves and their families. More than 12 million handicapped homemakers have arthritis. Others, in wheel chairs, suffer from the after-effects of polio, strokes, accidents.

Some have a loss of feeling in the hands which, for safety's sake, must be sensitive to hot and cold in the kitchen. Many can't see well—or at all.

A new book, "Mealtime Manual for the Aged and Handicapped" offers solutions for the handicapped homemakers.

From the institute of rehabilitation medicine at New York University Medical Center, the book is dedicated "to those stalwart homemakers who, although limited by physical problems, are unbounded in their ability and love in caring for their families."

Judith Klingler directed research programs carried out under a grant from a soup company. The resulting helpful hints for the handicapped were two years in the making and testing.

The research group also included medical advisers, a home economist, a bio-engineer, an electrical engineer and a graduate engineering student.

The book contains recipes easy for the handicapped, tells how to make use of equipment found in most local stores, lists short-cuts, and safety tips.

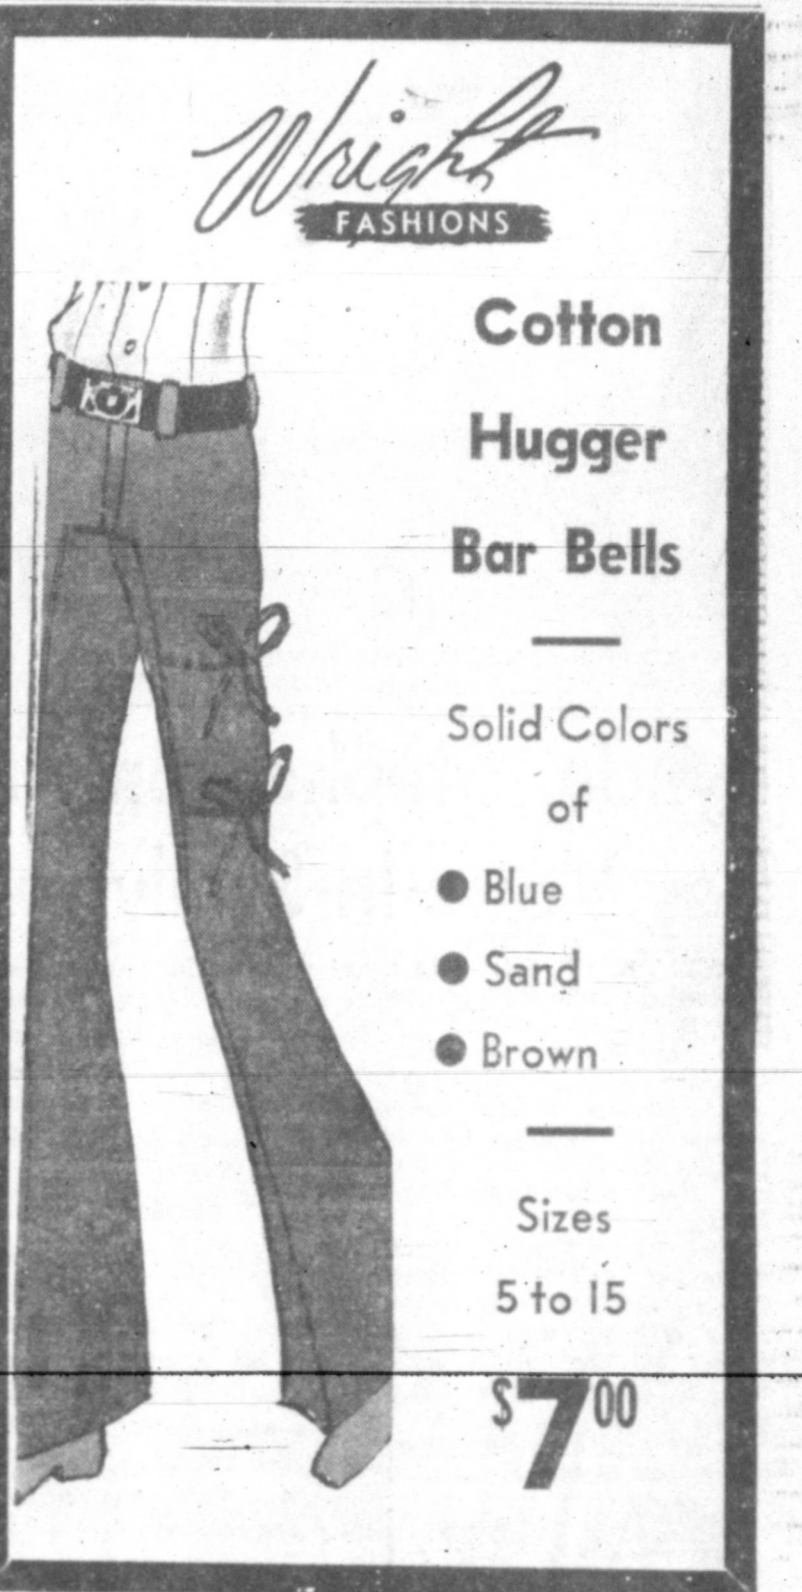

A board with two stainless steel nails protruding is used to hold meat, vegetables, fruits and other foods when the one-handed cook works with them.

A raised corner of the board stabilizes bread while it is being spread or buttered. Suction cups on the base keep the board from sliding around.

A sponge cloth, placed under a bowl while the one-handed cook is mixing keeps the bowl from turning.

Mrs. Klingler, an occupational therapist, had help from handicapped persons in the development of practical tips.

JEANE DIXON

SUNDAY, AUG. 23, 1970 — MONDAY, AUG. 24, 1970

Your birthday today: Today the Sun passes from zodiac sign Leo into zodiac sign Virgo at 9:35 A.M. Eastern Daylight Time. In other years the time is different, sometimes the previous day. Babies born this year before this time are Leos; those born afterward are Virgos. Both Leos and Virgos born this date of any year face a dramatic year of unpredictable changes, much lively opportunity and incentive to improve themselves. Today's natives are industrious, think big, and attract many fine friends.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Use this Sunday for an expression of your faith, not for anything like business or competitive activity. Some matters seem to come to a stop; let them, and relax.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): With everything and everybody together, you can get a good look and come to a fresh conclusion. Don't talk about new ideas before thinking them through again.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): All sorts of people come into very close contact. Old questions come up, still unanswered. From the tensions arise your creative response and you are ahead.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Discretion is the word of the day. There will be many things said by many people; talk, but listen, too. Older people bring some pleasant surprises.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You have two sets of ideas, and some balancing between them must be done while people bid for your attention. Strive for serenity.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Expect ups and downs of mood on this odd Sunday. Let people be themselves or change their directions, and the situation will be better for you.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): The intellectual approach may be a lot easier. Plans are subject to changes, much discussion. Explaining your reasons merely complicates matters.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Whatever you promised to do today, try to make good. There is enough confusion from the whims of others. Money matters meet a favorable influence later.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Remember that everybody needs consideration while making adjustments. Share your pastimes, in moderation, with close friends. Make it a quiet day.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Share in the community expression of faith. Follow the most calm path through a day of paradox and complex situations. Find time for meditation.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): You are apt to find you are alone in your opinion. Give some thought to the circumstances and how they came about. Your reflections can be productive.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Home life is better this topsy-turvy Sunday. Take it as smoothly as conditions permit, giving everybody a break—including yourself.

Your birthday Monday: Consolidation, interior development feature the coming work year. Thoroughness becomes one of the main considerations. Romantic and sentimental ventures are important and alive all through the year. Personal satisfaction will be more important than expansion of career or status. Monday's natives are friendly and sociable, with enduring beliefs developed early by their penetrating minds.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): It's a relief to get the chance to put into effect some of the bright ideas worked out lately. Make the most of your determination to set things right.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Consultations with people of great influence are favored. Financial gains come indirectly. Creative projects go well. You have reason to celebrate in the evening.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Monday you do a magnificent job of picking up pieces from all sorts of minor discrepancies. Patience is rewarded by evening and you can have fun.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Hasty buying doesn't turn out well; apparent bargains are just that—apparent. The day is full of discussions about money. Again, let it remain just that—talk.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): This is a propitious time for your career effort, consolidation of achieved benefits, improvement of home life. Take first things first and keep going.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Get an early start; put your main attention on creative affairs. Make it a lively day, but don't skip serious chances for improvement.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Now your skills as peacemaker or arbiter come into play and you are busy settling questions. Much cooperation is available from people who need to be encouraged.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Make your bid for everything you want. Group finances look as though they will prosper, but need your attention. Review your progress in the afternoon.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): There's a spark of drama and romantic interest in almost anything you do now. Pitch right in with your best abilities. The evening holds more pleasant surprises.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Your own finesse makes or breaks the day. You'll be gratified with the results, as others follow your lead. The evening offers a change of pace.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): The direction of your personal ties turns suddenly Monday toward improvement. Sentimental interests thrive amid the lively projects taking place.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): Monday should bring you luck and a feeling of comfort and satisfaction. Meditate for guidance in making your life full and productive.

MRS. C. L. WHITWELL
... nee Rita McAllister

Rita McAllister Pledges Vows With C.L. Whitwell

Rita McAllister pledged wedding vows with Clyde L. Whitwell in an evening ceremony in Skellytown Community Church. The Rev. Floyd Burditt of Community Church officiated for the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.E. McAllister of Skellytown. The bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Emily Whitwell of Seguin, and the late Bryan Whitwell.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her brother, Robert McAllister of Dallas, the bride was dressed in a two-piece embossed satin finish dress with fitted sleeves, high neckline and bodice fastened with covered buttons. She wore a small tiara of seed pearls with a face-length veil of silk illusion and carried a cascade arrangement of white gardenias.

ATTENDANTS

Wedding attendant was Mrs. Leon Brewer, the bride's sister from Pecos. She wore a street-length A-line dress of pink double-knit fashioned with long sleeves with the high neckline and cuffs embroidered with seed pearls. She wore a pink headband with a small pink veil and carried a nosegay of pink and white roses.

John Whitwell of Hurst, brother of the bridegroom, was best man with Leon Brewer of Pampa, and Maj. Frank Whitwell, of Altus, Okla., the bridegroom's brother, as ushers. Leon Brewer of Pecos, was candle lighter.

The bride's mother wore a beige lace dress with bone accessories and a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother wore a blue knit dress with white accessories and a white rose corsage.

Organist, Debbie Allen, played traditional wedding music. The church was decorated with seven branched candelabra entwined with ivy, and tall baskets of white gladioli on each side of the altar. Pews were marked with white satin bows.

RECEPTION

For the reception, the table was decorated with pink net over pink taffeta tied at the corners with a flower arrangement of three shades of pink roses.

The three-tiered white cake was decorated in pink rosebuds with a miniature bride couple on top. Mrs. Joe Grange of White Deer served the punch as Nan Harmon of Pampa served cake. Mrs. Robert McAllister of Dallas registered guests.

The bridegroom, a graduate of Seguin High School and Texas A&M University, is employed in the Seguin School System. The bride is a graduate of White Deer High School and Connally Tech and is employed as a dental assistant in Seguin. Pre-nuptial events included a bridal shower by 12 hostesses in the recreation room of Skellytown Community Church.

Richardson. The bride, a graduate of White Deer High School with class of 1968, attended Howard County Junior College, and was employed for the Summer at Marie Foundations in Pampa. The bridegroom, a graduate from Brian Adams High School, Dallas, also attended Howard County Junior College, and is employed as an underwriter for an insurance company in Richardson.

BRIDE

As the bride was escorted and presented in marriage by her father with "her mother and I" avowal, she wore a dress of off white brocaded double knit with a white pleated skirt and scarf. She carried a cascading bouquet of white carnations and baby pink rosebuds.

ATTENDANTS

Mrs. Richard Don Ramming, matron of honor, wore a beige long sleeved blouse, beige pleated skirt trimmed with brown with a long sleeveless coat. Her flowers were a cascade bouquet of white carnations.

Candlelighter was Danny Stephenson, brother of the bride. Ushers were David Stephenson, brother of the bride, and Gary Stephenson of Sepulveda, Calif., cousin of the bride. Mike Truelove, Dallas, and brother of the bridegroom served his brother as best man.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Stephenson chose a one-piece dress of rose double knit with white accessories and a white carnation corsage. Mrs. Truelove, mother of the bridegroom, wore a one-piece yellow double knit with matching accessories and a carnation corsage.

RECEPTION

The reception was held in the Fellowship Hall of the church. The serving table was covered with a beige lace cloth, over green.

The table centerpiece was a three taper candelabra. A three-

Pampa, with Kay Stanton of Lefors, Mrs. Newt Dodd of Fitchburg, Mass., and Mrs. Thomas Warren of Houston as other bridal attendants.

All were dressed in long golden yellow organza gowns of empire styling with short flared sleeves and round necklines. Matching organza hats with blue ribbon streamers and short white gloves completed their costumes. Each carried a handmade nosegay of blue and yellow organza flowers with long blue streamers tied in love knots.

BRIDE

Given in marriage by her father, with the "her mother and I" avowal, the bride wore a formal gown of nylon organza designed with an empire bodice overlaid with embroidered lace. The neckline was a closely fitted Victorian style. The full sheer sleeves were released from brief caps of lace and caught again at the wrists by a deep lace cuff. Her A-line skirt of organza swept to back fullness and was enhanced by a long train falling from beneath a soft bow at the center back waistline.

A Juliet cap of embroidered lace held her veil of bridal tulle.

Best man was Michael R. Miller of Lubbock, with David Harmon of Amarillo, Bill Hobdy of Canadian, Lynn Ditto of Sunray, and Mark Neff of Electra, as groomsmen. Ushers were Phil Robertson of Wiley, Mike Shoulders of Pampa, Claiborn Crain of Canyon, Harry Julian of Lefors and Doyle Mallett of Perryton.

The bridal aisle was decorated with greenery and yellow ribbon on aisle candelabras. Parents' pews were marked with yellow and blue killians and candelabras. The altar table, decorated with an elevated anniversary candle and lemon leaves, marked the center of interest and was flanked on both sides by two candelabras decorated with white gladiolas and blue and yellow Killian daisies.

Reggie Thompson, organist, played the "Wedding March," the professional from "The Sound of Music," and other traditional wedding music for the ceremony. Vocalist, Mrs. James Dunn of Dallas, sang "A Song of Joy," and "The Prayer of St. Francis of Assisi."

As part of the service, all guests rose and sang "Love Divine," to begin the ceremony. After the recessional, guests stood and sang "The Doxology."

A reading written by the bridegroom was read by David Harmon during the lighting of the anniversary candle.

The bride's mother wore a powder blue antique satin dress with a matching sleeveless lace coat, which was accented at the waist with a buttoned sash belt. A matching pillbox hat and white accessories completed her costume.

The bridegroom's mother chose a turquoise antique satin two-piece suit. The jacket featured raglan sleeves and an accessory scarf accented with a pin. White accessories completed her costume. Both mothers wore corsages of yellow carnations and white gladiola blossoms.

RECEPTION

For the reception in the church parlor, Reggie Thompson played music accompaniment as Mrs. Monty Michael of Pampa registered guests. Mrs. Dickey Sims of Hereford assisted at the punch service as Mrs. Sam Abston of Spearman served cake.

Others assisting with the reception were Vicky Moore of Pampa and Mrs. Claiborn Crain.

The serving table was covered with yellow organza cloth centered with silver candelabra adorned with yellow and blue killian daisies. Ivy circled the punch bowl, cake and edge of

Panhandle Water

By FELIX W. RYALS Last week this column carried a description of the underground water reservoir in West Texas and the Panhandle that we call the Ogallala formation. We pointed out that the fresh water formation is separated from the salt water formation below it by layers of red clay called Triassic and Permian. Anyone who has driven across the Panhandle, from east to west or north to south at night has been intrigued by being able to see the lights of a number of cities at one time. They are also aware that as they drive on that, all of a sudden, they cannot see the lights of any city. Everyone then begins to understand the term "rolling plains." The bottom of the fresh water formation resting on the top of the red clay beds have the same ups and downs as the surface of the soil. Test holes on the same section have revealed that the depth to the red clay beds varies greatly. In areas where the "red bed highs" are found, there is found very little water. Usually these areas will support only the domestic (windmill) type water wells. On August 12, the President of the United States gave an in-depth ecology report. Included in his proposals were some specific ones concerning the protection of water. For water cleanup the President's Council on Environmental Quality suggested that phosphates be removed from detergents, cease dumping wastes into water that included Mercury and other poisonous wastes. The council is planning to start a demonstration project early in 1971 along one of the rivers in the U.S. This indicates that the Council would like to see the federal government play a larger role in the policing of pollution in all areas. There are only two irrigation wells in the Panhandle Ground Water Conservation District that are pumping over 1000 gallons per minute. Both of these are in Gray County. Rex McAnelly has one and Drew Word has the other. Most irrigation wells in the High Plains of West Texas produce 1000 gallons per minute or less. An 800 gallon to 1000 gallon per minute well is considered to be a good well. Most of the water in the District is lifted more than 300 feet. Irrigation wells in the arid region of the state of Washington yield from 1200 gallons to 2500 gallons per minute. Recent figures released by the Extension Service show that Texas carrots and onions account for almost one-third of the total value of all vegetables grown in Texas. The revenue from these two is approximately 40 million dollars annually. Texas A&M's Engineering Department has been going all out to assist the vegetable growers. Currently A&M has developed a total harvest machine which will dig, lift and top green-top onions and convey the topped onions to bulk bins or trailers. Outstanding features of the machine include high efficiency, accurate topping and minimum damage to the bulbs. Problems which may require additional work are inadequate root trimming and no provisions for field curing the onion. The ultimate aim of the A&M research program is to provide a multi-row machine which will harvest minor revisions will harvest both onions and carrots. Preliminary tests indicate that the present A&M harvester is a good start toward obtaining that objective. Although little information is available on artificial curing of freshly harvested onions, preliminary research data indicates that it could be accomplished at the packing shed with forced air dryers. Some sheds already use supplemental dryers to remove excess field moisture. Additional data is needed on artificial curing to insure success of the A&M machine.

ASCS News

By EVELYN MASON, County Executive Director Gray County ASCS Most of the area farmers who participated in the 1970 wheat, feed grain, and cotton programs in Gray County have now received their program payments, which the farmers earned by diverting diverting portions of their cropland to conservation uses, and complying with other program requirements. Diverting unneeded cropland helps maintain a balance between supply and demand, preserves the excess acres for future use when they are needed, provides a more orderly supply of farm products to consumers, and helps to assure quotable prices to farmers. Throughout the nation, over 3 million farmers earned the farm program payments. Payments were disbursed during a six-week period beginning July 1. In the past year, the payment period has extended over a three-month period from July through September. Compressing the payment period into half the normal time required close cooperation between farmers and ASCS personnel. The county committee is very proud of the way everyone has cooperated to get the payments out early as farmers had been promised. Because of budget restraints, partial payments could not be made this year during the spring sign-up period for the feed grain program. When this decision was made, the Department told farmers that full payment would be made early as possible. This commitment has now been largely fulfilled.

Dealers To Stress Progress In Agricultural Conference

LUBBOCK —This year's field day and open house at the Texas A&M University Agricultural Research and Extension Center at Lubbock will offer several unique features, according to Dr. I.W. Kirk and Dr. Jerry Johnson, chairmen for the event which is slated for Tuesday, Sept. 15, beginning at 1 p.m. Kirk is in agricultural engineering research and Johnson does grain sorghum research. Detailed discussions will be presented on cotton and grain sorghum varieties, weed control, narrow-row cotton and grain sorghum insects. These will be presented on special tours to particular field locations throughout the afternoon. Visitors may select any one or all of these tours. Also featured will be specialists in various phases of agriculture who will be available for individual consultation. No agricultural producers, homeowners and gardeners are encouraged to bring their questions on insect, disease and weed control, fertilizer use, irrigation or whatever for the "experts." Kirk and Johnson also encourage them to bring any plant specimens they may have. A mainstay at the annual event will be general tours to the various field research plots on the Center's 300 acres, add the chairmen. This tour will give visitors a bird's-eye view of the many phases of agricultural research being conducted. Displays and exhibits will also be featured for public viewing. These will include plant diseases, vegetable production, soil testing, plant physiology and herbicide use. Other attractions will include a large machinery exhibit, the cotton ginning research laboratory and a research rose garden. The theme of this year's field day and open house will be "Agricultural Research for the '70's."

Highlights Aired For AG. Center Field Day

LUBBOCK—"Progress" will be the watchword for South Plains fertilizer dealers who will be participating in a South Plains Development Program (SPD) Fertilizer Dealers' Symposium August 26 in Lubbock. The symposium will be held at the Holiday Inn East and will get under way at 9:30 a.m. announces Billy C. Gunter, SPD coordinator and district agricultural agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Theme of the morning session will be "Information for Progress" while the afternoon portion will be titled "Managing for Progress."

"Fertilizer dealers play a vital role in the Agricultural economy of the South Plains," points out Gunter, "and this symposium is planned specifically for their benefit. New ideas will be discussed and a jam-packed session will be held on how to make more money in the fertilizer business through better management and improved customer-dealer relationships. Highlighting the program will be a presentation by Dr. H.O. Kunkel, dean of the College of Agriculture, Texas A&M University, and acting director of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Discussions during the morning session will include "Organization and Function of the Texas Plant Food Educational Society (TPFES), Opportunities and Adjustments Facing the Fertilizer Dealer, Review of Soil Fertility Research, Fertility Research Now and In the Future and Fertilizer Application Equipment."

By RICHARD GUGGISBERG and JANA COLE Asst. Agents

Well, there were a lot of emotions Friday morning at the Extension Service Offices. The Gray County 4-H Camp and Picnic was planned for Friday evening and Saturday morning. The Agricultural agents were blessing the rain, and the Home Demonstration Agents, well, they were not too sure. The picnic was held Friday night. Every 4-H family to bring their own food, and then it was spread. Approximately 60 4-H'ers spent the night at Lake McClellan, and got up to a good old farm breakfast Saturday morning. Hamburgers were cooked for the Saturday noon lunch. Recreation for all ages was planned, from volleyball to horse shoes. A good time was had by all. Lisa Friend's safety record book won in District competition and will be entered for state competition.

The Lefors 4-H Executive Committee met Monday to make plans for the coming year. Those attending were: Elaine Webb, Doris Carlton, Martha Carlton, Mollie Carlton, Joy Hollenshead, and Mrs. V.C. Webb. Gray County 4-H Council met Monday evening. Officers were elected for the coming year.
