Robbery Suspect Nabbed In Pampa

Uses Toy Cap Pistol To Intimidate Victim

By DORIS E. WILSON
News Staff Writer

Shortly after 4 p.m. Wednesday, a lone bandit using a toy cap pistol walked into a package liquor store on North Main in Borger and walked out with approximately $70 in bills and currency.

Fifty minutes later, 27-year-old Charles Ellsworth Yeager Jr., formerly of Skellytown, was in the custody of Pampa police.

Immediately following receipt of an all-points bulletin issued Panhandle-wide, Pampa Police Lieutenant John Thomas set up a roadblock on Highway 152 and stopped a suspect driving a car answering the description of the one issued on the bulletin.

"However," Thomas said, "he wasn't wearing the same clothing. But the way his hands shook when he lit a cigarette and his fast talk gave him away."

Yeager was brought to Pampa city jail and held in custody until the arrival of Borger Chief of Police Arthur A. Wright Jr. and Department of Public Safety Officer Tom Wicker, also of Borger, with the robbery victim Mrs. Katherine Higgins, 56 and another witness, Charles Henry Morgan, both of Borger.

Yeager was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Nat Lunsford on a charge of robbery. Bond was set at $5,000.

Yeager was returned to Hutchinson County, where the alleged robbery had occurred, in the custody of Chief Wright and Officer Wicker.

At 10 a.m. this morning he was arraigned before Justice of the Peace Sam Watson in Borger and placed under a $5,000 bond, on a charge of robbery by assault.

He will be transferred to Hutchinson County jail in Stinnett later today to await trial.

Mrs. Higgins said the suspect had been in the package store at least twice before the robbery and once before on the day of the robbery.

Mrs. Higgins said that earlier in the afternoon Yeager had entered the store and had just stood around.

"He said he was interested in buying a car, but had not found one he wanted," she said. "I told him my husband had a car for sale."

The suspect left the store and went to the Higgins home. A few minutes later he returned, walked up to the victim and pressed, "what seemed to be a pistol at the base of my brain."

He said "Give me all your cash." "I told him I couldn't, for him to get it. But I think I did open the cash register. He took all the money and ran out of the store."

He told me to sit on a chair for 15 minutes and I did. I thought he might come back and kill me."

A witness saw the running suspect and could provide a description of the car. He was apprehended 50 minutes later in Pampa.

The suspect, was not wearing the clothing described in the APB, however he had time to change clothes, which were found in the back seat of his car and met the description of those given by Mrs. Higgins.

During interrogation in Pampa by Chief Wright, Yeager said he had lived in Skellytown since May 13, but that he and his wife had separated Monday. He had spent Tuesday night at a trailer court in Pampa with a relative and had planned to stay there Thursday night.

Cash in bills and silver and a toy cap pistol were found under the front seat of the suspect's car on the driver's side.

LESS BUSES WILL RUN

New School Bus Ruling Explained By Official

By WANDA MAE HUFF
News Staff Writer

To comply with a Texas Education Agency regulation, Pampa school officials will no longer transport ineligible bus students, and beginning with the first day of school, Aug. 27, will operate six buses less than last year.

The new ruling means eligible bus students are only those who live more than two miles from the nearest elementary or secondary school they can attend. Students who have less than two miles from their school will have to furnish their own transportation. Supt. Dr. James F. Malone said.

Richard M. Cummins, director of school transportation for the Texas Education Agency, told Pampa school officials they must re-evaluate the transportation program and follow the TEA program based upon the needs for only eligible school children," Dr. Malone said.

Cummins stressed in his regulations for Pampa that TEA believes "due to short mileage and small loads, it is our opinion such services could be rendered with fewer approved bus routes."

To comply with the TEA ruling on bus routes, Pampa schools will operate 10 bus routes for the 1970-1971 school year, instead of the 16 routes operated last year. Extra routes could be operated to accommodate ineligible students, but only at an expense of $25,000 or more to Pampa taxpayers, Dr. Malone said.

"We realize this ruling will create transportation problems for several people, and we regret that such a move must be made," Claude Robertson, coordinator of special service for Pampa schools, said.

"One exception to this ruling will be made in the Cole addition. All students living in the Cole addition and previously enrolled in Sam Houston (See SCHOOL BUS, Page 2)

NO CHANGE IN PARIS

Bruce Hears Same Communist Demands

PARIS (UPI)—David K. E. Bruce, the new U.S. peace talks negotiator, listened today to the same demands made on his predecessors by Communist delegates for total, unconditional U.S. withdrawal from South Vietnam.

North Vietnamese negotiator Nguyen Minh Vy said at today's 79th peace talks session, "to end the war in Vietnam and bring the Paris conference out of its present stalemate, it is indispensable the Nixon administration change its policies."

"The United States must end its aggression and not search for military victory and a position of force, and must also reply seriously to the (Viet Cong) 10-point peace program," Vy told allied negotiators after the session opened this morning.

Bruce, who arrived here 10 days ago, was attending his second session of the talks.

The tiny Hanoi delegate, who ranks fourth in his negotiating team, repeated demands that the United States withdraw unconditionally and abolish the present Saigon administration "that many Americans consider as representing no one and as being an obstacle to the progress of the present negotiations."

Nguyen Van Tien, deputy chief of the provisional revolutionary government of South Vietnam (Viet Cong), echoed Vy, calling for a quick total pullout of U.S. troops and installation of a "widely representative provisional coalition government, which will have the task of holding free and democratic elections throughout South Vietnam."

Rebutting Communist charges the Allies were intensifying the war in Vietnam and extending it to the entire Indochinese Peninsula, South Vietnam's Pham Dang Lam countercharged. He said the North Vietnamese troops in South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos which were prolonging and heightening the conflict.

Lam described the Communist call for a coalition government in Saigon as free, democratic and fair aspects of (future elections)."

Accusing Hanoi of seeking a Communist takeover throughout Indochina, Lam said, "Your real aim is to remove the legal government of the Republic of (South) Vietnam which constitutes the obstacle to your designs."

Final Arguments Expected Today In Assault Trial

Closing arguments were expected to be heard this afternoon in the assault trial of James Douglas Slagle, accused of assaulting a police officer during a dance at the Pampa Youth Center Jan. 30.

Selection of the jury was completed shortly before noon Wednesday. Wednesday afternoon and this morning the court heard witnesses at the dance at the time of the alleged incident.

Slagle, 17, of 2243 N. Russell is charged with assaulting former police Lieutenant Jesse Goad when Goad attempted to eject an unruly youth from the center.

Jury selection for the trial had begun about 10:00 a.m. Wednesday. County rested its case shortly after 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Defense testimony took up most of this morning's session with closing arguments expected this afternoon.

Soviets Release

MOSCOW (UPI)—Soviet authorities Wednesday released quarantined trainloads of weary travelers and reopened southern cities, easing a nationwide cholera scare.

Informed sources said passenger trains that had been sitting in quarantine outside the city of Odessa for five days were allowed to proceed toward Moscow when medical teams found no evidence of cholera among the passengers.

The trains had been stopped last week at the height of official concern over outbreaks of the dangerous and highly contagious intestinal ailment along the Black Sea Coast, crowded with vacationers at this time of the year.

Dragnet For Kidnapers Of Diplomats

MONTEVIDEO, Uruguay (UPI)—At least 75 persons have been jailed by a 10,000-man dragnet searching for two kidnaped diplomats threatened with death by leftwing terrorists, police sources said today.

The virtual door-to-door hunt, backed by a Uruguayan government suspension of constitutional rights allowing police to arrest at will, brings the total of "political" prisoners in Uruguay to an estimated 225.

Terrorists who call themselves Tupamaros have demanded release of all of Uruguay's political prisoners in exchange for the two hostages, U.S. farm expert Claude L. Fly, 65, of Fort Collins, Colo., and Brazilian Consul Aloysio Dias Gomide, 41.

A Tupamaro threat to kill the hostages if police draw too close did not deter the search by 10,000 police and soldiers.

Nurses Schedule Booster Shots At Carver Center

Pampa school nurses will operate the second inoculation clinic for school age children from 3 to 6 p.m. Monday and Tuesday at Carver Educational Center.

"All school age children who have not had their three booster shots for diphtheria, whooping cough, tetanus and smallpox should come to the Carver Center either Monday or Tuesday," Mrs. O.C. Penn, R.N., school nurse, said.

Mrs. Penn and Mrs. Robert Steger, R.N., another school nurse, will administer the inoculations, with Dr. Joe Gates, the Gray County health officer, on call.

"This clinic is operated especially for those who cannot get their booster inoculations from another source. We had 64 in the first clinic in May and expect at least 32 of these to return for the second clinic. The third clinic will be scheduled later this Fall," Mrs. Penn said.

"Any child starting to school, including those in the kindergarten grade, who has not already had all three of the inoculation series should report to Carver Center between the times specified," Mrs. Penn said.

FEMALE BREAKTHROUGH

MORAGA, Calif. (UPI)—The Woman's Liberation Front could claim another milestone today.

Former schoolgirl tennis flash Lynn Abbes, now Mrs. Michael Rolley, 21, was named coach of the varsity tennis team Wednesday at St. Mary's College.

Athletic Director Don McKillop said he believed St. Mary's would be the only NCAA school with a woman coaching a men's team.

NO CHARITY PLEASE!

COVENTRY, England (UPI)—The Coventry Council has changed its mind about offering free bus travel to elderly pensioners and decided to keep the one penny special fare. A council spokesman said it had received scores of angry letters from elderly residents insisting on paying their own way. He said a poll of old peoples' clubs confirmed they did not want free travel.

AREA DECLARED SECURITY ZONE

Liberty Ship Takes Aboard Deadly Cargo Of Nerve Gas

SOUTHPORT, N.C. (UPI)—An old Liberty ship took aboard a deadly cargo of nerve gas today and officials said as quickly as the vessel is ready for sea, the port of Wilmington and ship channels in the lower

Cape Fear River will be closed. Clearing weather speeded the loading of the vessel, and Rear Adm. E.A. Allen Jr., commander of the Fifth Coast Guard District, issued an order declaring the area a "security zone," closed to shipping Friday through Monday, Aug. 14-17.

The nerve gas is contained in old rockets which the Army plans to dump in the Atlantic, providing the federal courts do not intervene. A hearing on the matter was scheduled today before Federal Judge June L. Green in Washington.

Sen. Ernest F. Hollings, D-S.C., charged in a prepared Senate speech today that the army was guilty of gross neglect and "shocking and careless" procedures in planning to dump the gas in the ocean.

He said the operation "flouts the simplest rules of common sense, ignores significant scientific evidence on the potentially harmful effects of this sea dump, and in so doing takes unnecessary risks with the ocean's future—hence our future."

Battle Lines Forming Over Possible Gas Rate Increase

LUBBOCK (UPI)—Representatives from 18 of the 41 cities served by the Pioneer Natural Gas Company met Wednesday night to form opposition against possible rate increases that will directly affect consumers.

The meeting was called when officials learned the gas company planned to ask for an increase in its burner tip rate. Pioneer only recently asked for and received an increase in its gate rate. The gate rate is the money charged to get the gas to the city limits.

At the meeting, the representatives decided to contact officials of the other 23 cities served by Pioneer and try to convince them to help support their planned protest.

Pioneer has not formally announced how much of an increase in the burner tip rate it will seek.

Vietnam Casualties Are On Upswing

SAIGON (UPI)—The U.S. Command said today 85 American servicemen were killed in the Vietnam war last week, reflecting an upward trend in the weekly death toll since the end of U.S. ground operations in Cambodia June 30.

The figure was the highest since 104 Americans were killed during the week ending June 27 while U.S. units were operating inside Cambodia.

It was also seven higher than the 78 killed in the week ending Aug. 1 and eight above the 83 killed in the week ending July 25.

Fund Started For Injured Youngster

WHITE DEER (Sp) — A Marty Rawlins Fund has been started in White Deer for the six-year-old boy, who was critically injured Monday, when he was hit by a motorcyclist.

Marty underwent surgery for a head injury in St. Anthony's Hospital following the accident. And it will be necessary for a second operation to replace his skull with a plastic one.

The accident occurred Monday as Marty was walking home with a group of older youngsters from a swimming pool.

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rawlins of White Deer. His father is unemployed, according to a fund spokesman. Contributions may be made to the First Bank and Trust Co. in White Deer.

A 15-year-old Skellytown youth is reportedly responsible for the accident.

The horse, part of the seal which adorns post office buildings and mailmen's sleeves, will be replaced by a new symbol featuring an eagle. In addition there will be changes in the color of the mailboxes and in the postman's uniform.

The outward changes will be made during the next year while the post office undergoes transition to an independent government agency. President Nixon put the machinery into

Car Reported Stolen Found Abandoned

A n abandoned vehicle, reported stolen by a Pampa man Wednesday morning, was reported abandoned on a dirt road about three miles southeast of the city.

Scott Shepherd reported that at sometime between 11:30 p.m. Tuesday and 7 a.m. Wednesday his 1963 model automobile had been stolen.

Shepherd reported that he never used the key and never locked the car.

Wednesday a citizen called the sheriff's office and reported seeing an abandoned car about three miles southeast of the city.

Further investigation revealed it was the same car reported stolen.

The battery had been removed, the report said. There were pry marks on the trunk and the back seat of the vehicle had been torn out, apparently to gain entry to the trunk, investigating officers said.

Congress Jockeying To Override Nixon's Veto Of School Aid Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) House members, under pressure from local school boards, prepared today to re-pass a budget-busting $4.4 billion school aid bill over President Nixon's veto. Leaders of both parties said the needed two-thirds vote was assured.

Senate Democrats believed the votes to override the veto also were in hand in the Senate, and—taking the House vote almost for granted—served notice the issue will come to a vote there Tuesday.

On a second vetoed over-the-budget money bill, carrying $18 billion for housing, veterans benefits, space and other government functions, the advance guessing on both sides of the aisle was that the House today would sustain the President's action.

"That one will be close," was about the most the bill's backers would say about its prospects for passage by the House in the face of the President's objections.

Politically, both sides were claiming a victory before the first vote was cast, and without regard to the outcome.

Copters Join Search For Missing Girl

OGUNQUIT, Maine (UPI)—Army helicopters joined the search over a three square mile area of beach today for the missing 13-year-old daughter of an Army brigadier general feared kidnapped from this overseas resort.

Volunteers combed the area repeatedly Wednesday without turning up a trace of Mary C. Olenchuk, daughter of Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Peter Olenchuk. The family lives in Wilmington, Ill., but has a summer home here.

The helicopters were requested Wednesday from Fort Devens, Mass., Police Chief Cecil F. Perkins said.

Four FBI agents and state police detectives are also helping local police conduct the search for the red-haired girl, he said. Perkins said a door-to-door questioning for clues to the girl's disappearance has failed to turn up any hard leads.

Miss Olenchuk was last seen Sunday, talking to a man in a maroon car near the Lookout Hotel, about 200 yards from her home. A bicycle Miss Olenchuk had borrowed to run an errand was found near the hotel.

Olenchuk, who had been in Maryland on assignment, flew home Sunday night after being notified of his daughter's disappearance.

He is commanding officer of the Army Ammunition Supply Agency in Joliet, Ill.

Police Seek Victims Of Rapist

HOUSTON (UPI)—Houston homicide detective said Wednesday, "He's told us about some cases we didn't have and we think now that he's in custody, they may be a little braver and come in and tell us about it."

Authorities have filed 27 charges of sexual assault and robbery against Larry Kent Gray, a 21-year-old cemetery worker. Police are still looking for two dozen women Gray claims to have raped but who never reported any attacks to police.

"We are trying to locate some more complainants," a homicide detective said Wednesday. "He's told us about some cases we didn't have and we think now that he's in custody, they may be a little braver and come in and tell us about it."

Gray claims he has an uncontrollable urge to have sex when he starts getting a headache. He is married and the father of two children.

Two middle-aged women picked Gray out of a lineup and said he was the man who attacked them in a cemetery Friday when they went to visit a gravesite.

"He hasn't had any headache attacks since we apprehended him, but he says he only has them when he is alone," the detective said. "He said he counted 48 cases while lying in bed the other night, but we only had 16 and juvenile had three or four others."

The detective said Gray signed a statement admitting the assaults. He allegedly told officers he never carried a gun on his forays but told his victims he did have a gun and would use it if they resisted him.

"If they gave him any trouble he threatened their lives and slapped them around," the detective said. "The women ranged in age from 14 to 51 and in about four cases two women were raped at the same time."

Police said Gray was arrested last August for rape but the charge was dismissed.

Police said Gray told them he was shot in the left eye with an air rifle when he was 13 and his eye leaked fluid when he had headaches.

"His left eye is kind of kicked out to the left and kind of waters," the detective said. "The women reported they noticed he wiped it a lot."

One of the women said her attacker grabbed a bottle of aspirin from her purse, took four tablets and then threw the rest away in an abandoned house where she was raped.

Gray said his headaches started eight or nine months ago and police said women began reporting rapes by a man fitting the suspect's description last October.

Hurricane Celia Most Expensive Disaster

CORPUS CHRISTI (UPI)—Federal relief for victims of Hurricane Celia will probably come to $30 million, or more than for all other Texas disasters combined since the federal assistance plan was adopted 17 years ago.

The program has provided $24.5 million in the past for 15 disasters. The largest single expenditure prior to Celia was Buliah in 1967.

Celia carried winds gusting to 161 miles an hour. It hit land near Corpus Christi Aug. 3 and blew along a wide path into South Texas, killing 10 persons and causing an estimated $500 million in damages.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers announced rubble has been completely cleared from the 30-block downtown area of Corpus Christi hardest hit by the storm.

The Salvation Army said Wednesday it still badly needs non-perishable food to distribute in the disaster area.

Maj. Rodolph Lanier, state disaster services director for the Salvation Army, said 14,000 pounds of food are needed daily at the six distribution centers in Corpus Christi and in Aransas Pass, Mathis, Sinton and Taft.

More food is needed to feed the 25,000 persons who eat every day at the Salvation Army's 14 mobile units in the disaster area. Since service at the canteens were started Aug. 3, meals have been served to 150,597 persons.

The first 100 two and three bedroom trailer houses leased for emergency housing by the Department of Housing and Urban Development arrived in Corpus Christi Tuesday night. Housing officials said 2,000 such dwellings will be needed to shelter the homeless.

More than 1,000 homeless victims are still living in Red Cross shelters. During the peak of the recovery period, the first two days after the hurricane, the shelters housed 66,000.

Dog Dragged Behind Truck After Jumping

The pet dog of a Pampa man was injured when it apparently jumped out of the truck the man was driving, got tangled in some rope on the bed, and was dragged behind.

An unidentified woman reported to police she had seen a white dog being dragged behind a truck traveling south on Hobart.

The investigating officer located the residence of the driver, and upon arriving there found the man tending to the dog's injuries.

The dog had apparently jumped out of the truck without the owner knowing it and gotten tangled in rope kept in the truck-bed, the report said.

Please Dieters' Appetites With Curried Fish Mousse

Want an eye-popping "cheat" food for family or friends that will please dieters? Try a curried fish mousse. The fish is poached, insuring juiciness, in a blend of clam juice, tomato juice, nonfat dry milk solids, unflavored gelatin, curry powder and other seasonings. The mousse gets its fluffy texture from beaten egg whites folded in.

Chill in a mold and serve on a chilled platter surrounded with gelled chicken broth aspic chopped into cubes.

If you have trouble unmolding the mold, dip it into a pan of bowl of warm water to the depth of its contents and run a sharp paring knife around the rim to loosen. Hold a serving dish tightly to the top of the mold and turn upside down. It may be necessary to repeat this if the contents don't slip out readily.

CURRIED FISH MOUSSE

1 pound haddock fillets

- 1/2 cup clam juice
- 2 teaspoons onion flakes
- 2 tablespoons nonfat dry milk solids
- 1 cup tomato juice
- 2 envelopes unflavored gelatin
- 1 1/2 teaspoons curry powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Few drops Tabasco
- 2 eggs, separated

In large skillet, poach fish in clam juice with onion flakes. Meanwhile, stir non-fat dry milk solids into tomato juice mixture to soften. Add tomato-gelatin mixture to skillet. Flake fish with fork. Add curry powder, salt and Tabasco. Cook over medium heat 3 minutes. Beat egg yolks slightly. Add a little hot fish mixture to yolks, stirring vigorously and then stir into skillet. Continue cooking 2 minutes. Chill until mixture thickens slightly. Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry.

Fold into fish mixture. Turn into 5-cup mold. Chill until firm. Unmold to serve. Makes 6 servings.

CRYSTAL ASPIC

- 2 quarts cold, fat-free chicken stock
- 3 egg whites, lightly beaten
- 3 egg shells, crushed
- 3 envelopes unflavored gelatin

To clarify stock, put in large saucepan with egg whites and shells. Stir constantly over low heat using wire whisk or slotted spoon, until mixture boils rapidly, 15 to 20 minutes.

Remove from heat and let stand, undisturbed, for 15 minutes. Pour through strainer lined with several layers of wet cheesecloth. Let drain undisturbed for about 15 minutes. Chill or use immediately. If clarified stock is cold, sprinkle gelatin over stock in saucepan and stir over low heat until gelatin dissolves. If clarified stock is hot, soften gelatin in 3/4-cup cold water, add to hot stock and stir until dissolved. Pour into shallow pan. Chill until set. Turn chilled aspic onto board. Chop coarsely with large knife and place around gelatin mold. Garnish with twisted lemon slice and sprig of dill.

The Tangy Way

PARTY LAYOUTS LAST LONGER

WHEN THE PARTY'S FOR A CROWD, restrict your most creative preparation efforts to foods with a distinctive flavor. Decorated hors d'oeuvres, which promise accolades to the hostess, will last longer into the evening if the flavor is a gourmet specialty. The reason? Party-goers tend to consume conventionally flavored foods (such as onion dips, cheese spreads) in quantity... and eat fewer portions of specialty foods. The centerpiece pictured here is "Cottage Blue Canapes," spread with four parts creamed cottage cheese to one part American blue cheese, crumbled. Decorated with capers, pimento, olive, cherry tomato, and julienne carrots, the canapes are glazed with a basic aspic, if desired. In sherbet glasses are "Tomato Cocktails Blue," which combine one-half pint sour cream, two tablespoons American blue cheese (crumbled), and tomato membrane in a shrimp cocktail sauce which fills pointed tomato cups.

Appetizers Stretch Preparation Time

Time-consuming hors d'oeuvres frequently aren't worth the extra preparation time unless you know the trick of stretching your most alluring foods.

When serving a multitude of guests, the hostess should devote the most kitchen time to a "centerpiece" food, such as a canape with a very distinctive flavor. When enjoying distinctive tastes, guests usually sample two or three of the spotlighted foods, then turn to consuming blander or more conventional foods in quantity.

Time spent decorating "Cottage Blue Canapes" is well worth the effort, for your centerpiece food will last longer. Delightfully garnished, the spicy canapes will draw accolades from guests, but they will not become a meal.

More likely, your guests will consume quantities of boiled, lemon-splashed shrimp, which required only minutes of your time to prepare in bulk. Add to your centerpiece by serving the first "round" of shrimp in tomato cups, called "Tomato Cocktails Blue." Provide a large bowl of shrimp for guests to dip all evening long—and perhaps an additional bowl of your favorite shrimp sauce.

COTTAGE-BLUE CANAPES
Cut day-old bread in party shapes: circles, triangles, rectangles, diamonds. Use white bread, rye, and wheat. Spread on cottage-blue mixture (to follow), then garnish sandwiches with original designs made from green and black olives, pimento, cherry tomatoes, capers, julienne carrots or string beans—and whatever else your imagination suggests. Designs can be stylized flowers (from sliced olive circles) or cherry tomato tulips, or abstract designs, perhaps dotted with capers.

Cottage-blue spread: Simple mix four parts small curd cottage cheese, creamed, with one part American blue cheese, crumbled. Blend well. Apply garnishes.

After designs are completed, you can glaze the sandwiches, if desired. Glaze: Soften one packet unflavored gelatin in one-fourth cup cold water for three minutes. Add one and one-fourth cup hot bouillon, very lightly flavored. Set in refrigerator. When aspic thickens slightly, apply with spoon to design tops. Do not saturate bread. Keep in cool place, or refrigerate, until serving time.

TOMATO COCKTAILS BLUE

Slice tops off four large tomatoes. Scoop out interiors, reserving membrane. Use kitchen scissors to cut 6-8 points (depending upon size) in tomato. Chop left-over tomato bits and add, along with well-drained membrane, to one-half pint sour cream. Sprinkle in one-fourth cup American blue cheese (about 1 1/2 ounces, crumbled). Blend well. Chill until serving time.

Assemble cocktails in sherbert or champagne glasses, starting with a ring of fresh parsley at the bottom of each glass. Next, place tomato shell in glass and fill shell with the tomato filling. Place one shrimp on glass rim between each tomato point. (Shrimp should be cooked well ahead of time and chilled. Just before adding to cocktail, squeeze fresh lemon over shrimp, if desired.)

Backyard Barbecue Features "Souper" Burger

No ordinary barbecue this! Sauce for the hamburgers is something special... mellow-rich condensed tomato soup, honey, and other zippy ingredients. Part of the tomato soup-honey blend is mixed into ground beef patties so piquant sauce flavor permeates all the meat, not just the outer layer.

Serve these "souper"-delectable Gaucho Burgers for a family barbecue.

Better yet, plan a neighborhood barbecue with South-of-the-border motif and flavor. Along with Gaucho Burgers and buns, serve a fruit salad of sliced oranges and avocados and a casserole of barbecue beans. Top beans with shredded cheese and tortilla chips before warming in the oven or on the grill. Decorate tables with gay Mexican paper flowers and maracas.

Tomato is the multi-purpose, ever-ready cooking soup that adds sparkle and verve to casserole dishes and skillet suppers, or serves as a tasty base for quick salad dressings.

GAUCHO BURGERS WITH TOMATO-HONEY SAUCE

- 1/2 cup chopped onion
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed tomato soup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon prepared mustard
- 1 1/2 pounds ground beef
- 1/4 cup chopped canned mushrooms
- 6 hamburger buns, split and toasted

In saucepan, cook onion with chili in butter until tender. Add soup, water, honey, and mustard. Cook over low heat 5 minutes; stir now and then. Combine 2 tablespoons sauce with beef and mushrooms; shape into 6 patties. Place on grill 4 inches above glowing coals. Heat remaining sauce; serve with hamburgers on toasted buns, if desired. Makes 6 servings.

Hearty Salad Dish Impresses Guests

Looking for a different but hearty salad dish to impress guests with your cooking versatility and sophistication? A simple variation of the classic Salade Nicoise that is a favorite of cafes on the Riviera fills any menu gap.

It combines a harvest of French specialties, all ready-to-serve from the can. This cuts preparation time. Simply marinate the baby lima beans of flageolets, tiny string beans known as haricots verts in French, and serve.

This is a dish men especially will like.

SALADE NICOISE VARIEE

- 1 15-oz. can French flageolets
- 1-3 cup olive oil
- 2 tablespoons tarragon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons finely chopped parsley
- 4 hard-cooked eggs, halved
- 1 tablespoon Dijon mustard

- 2 tomatoes, cut into thick slices
- 1 (14-oz.) can haricots verts, drained
- 1 (4-oz.) can tuna fillets, drained
- 1 (6 1/2-oz.) can sardines, drained

Combine flageolets (baby limas), oil, vinegar, salt, onion and parsley. Marinate 2 hours. Remove egg yolks. Mash and mix with mustard and fill egg white halves. Drain flageolet mixture and reserve marinade. Place flageolets or bean mixture in a bowl. Marinate tomato slices and haricots verts (string beans) in reserved marinade. Toss gently to coat. Place bowl with flageolet salad on a serving platter. Arrange the stuffed eggs and tomato slices on the platter. Top tomatoes with drained haricots verts. Arrange 2 tuna fillets and 1 sardine between tomato slices for an attractive effect. Chill until ready to serve. Makes 4-6 servings.

Dear Abby

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend ("I'll call him 'Seymour'") is a pre-med student. We plan to get married in three or four years.

Last night Seymour was over to the house and I complained of a pain in my back. (I had been bowing the night before.) Well, Seymour had me lie face down on the sofa so he could work on my back. (Naturally I took off my shirt and unhooked my bra.)

All of a sudden my mother walks in, and boy, was she ever mad! You could have heard her in Jersey. Seymour left shortly after that and my mother yelled some more, saying how terrible I was and so forth. Abby, Seymour is studying to be a doctor, which I think gives him more of a right to be working on my back than if he were a law student, right? I think my mother has an evil mind and I would like your opinion. Believe me, we weren't doing anything wrong.

ACHING BACK
DEAR ACHING: Since

Seymour is not yet a doctor, he shouldn't have been working on you professionally. And since he's not yet your husband, he shouldn't have been working on you, period.

DEAR ABBY: This may not seem like a big problem to you, but if you can publish a letter from someone asking you if you ever saw a bald-headed Indian, you can publish this.

Have you ever seen a man carrying a small change purse in his pocket? My fiancée has a fit every time I take it out of my pocket to pay for something. She claims it looks sissy, and she's ashamed to be seen with me in public because of it. It's not a fancy one. It's just a plain, ordinary black change purse. My grandpa carried one all his life, and I have carried one for 10 years and she is the only one to ever object to it. I think it is a very convenient way to carry my change and I am not about to give it up because she says it embarrasses her. What is your opinion?

DAHLONEGRA, GA.

DEAR DAHLONEGRA: "Change purses" for gentlemen are not the most up-to-date accessory, but many men still carry them, so if that's your preference, suit yourself. And tell your fiancée if she's too "ashamed" to be seen with you in public because you carry a change purse, the next change you make could be her.

DEAR ABBY: Every time I see a letter in your column with no answer, I don't even bother to read it. It's usually some long drawn out sad tale of woe from a cry baby who wants to have her say. Or it's a letter from some nut which is so ridiculous, I can't imagine why you would want to print it.

I like your column best when you run somebody's problem and give them your answer — especially when you tell them off.

You are getting paid to answer people's problems, Abby, so get busy and don't goof off.

ABILENE, TEXAS

DEAR ABILENE: Please read on:

DEAR ABBY: I've been reading your column for years and have found it to be both entertaining and educational. I like the way you will print letters from readers who just want to give others the benefit of their experience. It's good to read points of view other than the one we have always held. Some of them make a lot of sense. Thank you. Keep up the good work.

Couple Repeats Marriage Vows For Anniversary

Maj. and Mrs. Herman Blahak, new Pampa residents, observed their 15th wedding anniversary Monday by repeating their marriage vows in a family ceremony at St. Vincent de Paul Catholic Church. The Rev. Francis J. Hynes officiated for the morning ceremony.

"The only audience included their five children and the O. Ray Hudson family. Monday was also the eighth birthday of their fourth child, Stacia. We had a family dinner party Monday night with Father Hynes to celebrate the birthday and their wedding anniversary. They have a tradition to repeat their marriage vows every five years," Mrs. Hudson said.

Mrs. Blahak is a sister of Mrs. Hudson of 1308 N. Russell and plans to make her home here at 1114 N. Sommerville. She and her husband, Maj. Herman Blahak, moved their family to Pampa this week from Ft. Sumner, N.C. They have five children, Charles, 14; Rene, 11; Steve, 10; Stacia, 8 and Kay, 6.

Maj. Blahak, an Air Force pilot, will be stationed at Saigon, South Vietnam after Aug. 26.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Several Ways To Clean Tarnished Copper Kettle

DEAR POLLY and Anxious — I am an antique dealer and have had my fair share of copper to clean so think I have real help for the cleaning of that old copper preserving kettle. Submerge it in hot soapy water, remove, sprinkle with table salt and rub the surface with a slice of lemon until the copper shines through. Repeat treatments will be necessary if it is very tarnished. Once the surface is clean, the soft patina of the old copper will shine, so wash, rinse and then dry. I always keep a piece of lemon at hand for cleaning the copper bottoms of my cooking pans and this is far cheaper than buying commercial cleaners. If this treatment is used on brass great care must be taken to thoroughly wash and rinse to prevent pitting. Your column certainly cuts corners in my hectic schedule.

—VIRGINIA

DEAR POLLY — Anxious wanted a cheap and easy way to clean an old copper preserving kettle. She can have this by spreading tomato catsup — yes, catsup — all over the copper and let it stand for about 15 minutes. Wash in warm suds and dry. If badly stained the kettle might require another such treatment. This works fine on copper bottom cooking pans and old wash boilers, too. The boilers make great magazine holders.

—MRS. D.S.

DEAR POLLY — Do tell Anxious that to clean any copper article she can pour some vinegar in the kettle, sprinkle ordinary salt in the vinegar and rub with a cloth or sponge. It will clean up like magic. If especially stubborn, use a sponge that has a grit backing but, in average cases, this is not necessary. The proportion of salt to vinegar is not important. Just pour some vinegar and be generous with the salt. I think Anxious will be well-pleased with this and it certainly is economical. This Pointer was given me by an old-time candy maker who had to keep his copper kettles bright.

—MRS. J.A.R.

DEAR GIRLS — If you ever have the misfortune to burn the bottom of a copper pan, use the catsup, then rub with steel wool. Apply more catsup and leave for 15 minutes with a paper towel over it. Then rub some more with steel wool. Repeat until the bottom is free of burns. It will be shiny and bright.

—POLLY

DEAR POLLY — I have several strings of pearls I would like to restring but am not sure how to make knots next to each pearl so each will be smooth and tight. Could any reader help me? If I qualify as a "problem" I would rather have your book than the Polly Dollar.

Your Horoscope

FRIDAY, AUG. 14

Your birthday Friday: Aside from occasional surprises, this coming year is one of normal growth. Consistent efforts to advance your career have results but attract unexpected competition and unorthodox means of coping with it. People you have not thought favorably disposed turn out to be strongly on your side. New contacts are important. Friday's natives usually find some special, proud way of serving public ideals.

ARIES (March 21-April 19): Take extra care with close associates or your mate. In career matters, a generally cooperative attitude prevails — make the most of it while it lasts.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20): Your self-improvement program begins to show results. Your current ideas are worth expanding. Fresh attractions enter your romantic life, but avoid indiscretion.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Take nothing for granted in either love or money matters. Close out the workweek with no loose ends. You may not be able to pick up quite where you left off.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Other people disclose confidential matters unwittingly. Go along with the general friendly spirit; get things done without fuss and turmoil.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): You are not free to express your feelings on personal issues. Aside from this, Friday is quite active and successful. Rearrange details of financial projects.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Special technical knowledge comes readily, unsought.

Seize the opportunity even though you may not see its uses. Unaided efforts are more satisfying than teamwork now.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Unexpected circumstances can pop up Friday and may be blessings in disguise. You have a good chance to smoothe out existing squabbles with your loved ones.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Don't let up; in all probability something new will come in to upset your plans to do parts of the job later. The evening has some special emotional intensity.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Do a little more than what you must, search a bit farther than your familiar rounds. Avoid expecting or demanding much from your loved ones.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Business matters work out well with diligent effort. Personal affairs are something else, uncertain, much depending on others' moods. Patience!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): Stay out of the limelight; you can get a better view of yourself. Time out from work is important to family matters. Reserve funds come into helpful temporary use.

PISCES (Feb. 19-March 20): The personal side of living is stressed Friday. Attend the nuances; put yourself in the other fellow's shoes for once and see how you like it.

Babe Ruth League Tournament Hostesses Direct Women's Events

Pampa-hostesses for women's the Tuesday tea were Pam Howard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Howard of Pampa and Jeannette Keane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Keane of Albuquerque, N.M. The regional queen will represent Texas, Louisiana, Arkansas and western New Mexico, Mrs. Summers said.

About 60 guests attended the style show and luncheon Wednesday to hear Mrs. Rufe Jordan review the book "I've Only Two Hands and I'm Busy Wringing Them."

Other Pampa women directing women's events were Mrs. Bob Johnson, Mrs. Bill Leonard, Mrs. B. W. McPhillips, Mrs. Bill Cofer, Mrs. T. L. Garner, Mrs. Newt Secret, and Mrs. Clifford Scott. About 50 Pampa families offered their homes to the tournament guests for the week and were presented certificates of appreciation Tuesday at Foster Parents' Night.

Women In Suburban Churches Help City's Aged

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—In the shadows of new high-rise office buildings and expensive apartment buildings, some 20,000 elderly persons are living in the central part of this city—as they do in most big cities.

They live in one-room apartments and rooming houses of small incomes from welfare, Social Security, or pensions.

There aren't many grocery stores in the area. Most of the rooms do not have stoves. Area restaurants which serve well-balanced meals are either out of their price range or are open only for the luncheon traffic from office workers.

So the elderly persons live on tea and toast.

A door-to-door survey conducted by the Christian Action Central City, a group formed by six downtown churches, indicated the elderly are saddled with the twin problems of malnutrition and poor housing.

The churches once served congregations of wealthy families who lived in the mansions which have become rooming houses. The churches had the kitchens, equipment and dishes to feed large groups, but they didn't have the manpower.

Their congregations are smaller now, and the mainstays are elderly persons themselves, not strong enough to take on the project. So the downtown churches turned to their suburban counterparts.

For the past six months, women from 13 suburban congregations have been donating their time and efforts to preparing and serving hot lunches to the elderly downtown residents.

A sign posted in front of the church which is hosting a particular day's luncheon reads, "all older people welcome."

For 65 cents there is served a meal which may consist of baked chicken, tomato juice, peas, mashed potatoes, hot rolls and butter, a wedge of frosted cake and a choice of coffee, tea, or milk.

The menus are planned by county dietitians, but all the cooking and cleanup are done by the volunteer churchwomen.

"We have been feeding about 120, but one of the problems is that some of those who need us most are non-ambulatory," said Lois V. Hammer, program coordinator.

"So we are going to cook more, and ask each person to buy an extra lunch and take it to a neighbor."

In addition to a nutritious meal, the luncheon group finds companionship, something worth leaving their rooms for.

FAIR EXCHANGE

DENVER (UPI)—An armed bandit took $31 in cash from magazine shop owner Aaron Yenkin, but left behind a cassette, tape recorder, saying: "Keep the tape recorder; maybe it will make us even."

Police called to the scene opened the recorder and found two $20 bills tucked inside.

UNUSUAL PROBLEM

CHICAGO (UPI)—A new prestige restaurant is scheduled to open next week on the 95th floor of the John Hancock Center.

Many have started arriving an hour early to help set up. Most spruce up for the occasion. Men wear coats and ties; the ladies don hats and gloves.

The location added an unusual problem to those normally associated with such ventures. Wines, the experts explain, will have to be stored at ground level because the sway of the building in the wind would ruin fine vintages.

TOKYO (UPI)—Shoichi Nakajima, the first Japanese to swim the English Channel, said Tuesday he will try next to swim from India to Ceylon, a distance of 30 miles.

Nakajima, 32, swam the channel Saturday in 10 hours and 45 minutes.

Hollywood In Review

By VERNON SCOTT
UPI Hollywood Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — No title.

Sandra Dee, the dimpled curviness of 27 motion pictures, wants to return to work.

Her background is sound, if limited.

Sandy, as she was called by film moguls at Universal Pictures for nine years, specialized in ingenue roles.

This is fine if you are mentally, emotionally and physically an eternal teen-ager. A girl can play ingenues into her college years — if she takes care of herself. But Sandy is normal, beautiful, healthy, and bright.

She is also 26 years old.

titled "Man Hunter" in which she played a bleached blonde Cajun girl on location in Stockton, Calif., where the cows lowing in the fields kept interfering with the soundtrack.

Sandra had never heard a Cajun accent and the results were disastrous.

To this day, "Man Hunter" has not been released to theaters. When a picture is that bad, it brings tears to one's eyes.

Stars At Age 15

Having started at age 15 in "Until They Sail," Sandra never again reached the heights of her first movie.

Her credits include "Tammy Tell Me True," "Gidget" and "The Reluctant Debutante."

No matter how purple the picture, Sandra managed to spend seven years among the 10 top box office attractions. Now she is not even among the bottom 10 attractions.

And with good reason. She quit making movies for a year.

"I took the year off to get away from my image as Gidget and Tammy," said Sandra, sipping a noontime cocktail and smoking a half-dozen cigarettes.

She didn't look like Gidget or Tammy. Sandra looked sexy, adult and a well-rounded 26 years old.

"Nobody knows how difficult it is to lose the ingenue image," she went on. "It was a junior Doris Day for years. Elizabeth Taylor and Natalie Wood both had to overcome being ingenues."

They did not, however, have the added burden of appearing in so many dreadful pictures.

Sandra's final movie under her nine-year contract to Universal was a little dandy

PAMPA, TEXAS 53rd Year
THURSDAY, AUGUST 12, 1959

Pampa Is Out Of Ball Game

Pampa Babe Ruth All-Stars went down and out of the Region I Babe Ruth Baseball Tournament Wednesday as they were defeated 7-3 by the West Texas Tri-Cities League in the third day of tournament action at Optimist Park.

Pampa took an early one-run lead over the Tri-Cities League in the second inning when Terry Moore, who had been walked by Tri-Cities' Mike Cayce, was knocked in on a single by Gary Davis.

While the brother team of Roy and Bobby Hendricks managed to score two more runs for Pampa in the fourth, the upset had been made in the third inning when the West Texas team scored all seven of its runs.

Those scoring for the Tri-Cities League were Steve Sparger, Jim Livingston, Donald Roberts, Renee Williams, Mike Cayce, Eddie Thorne, Robert Quaife. In other Babe Ruth League action, New Orleans beat Tulsa 4 to 1 and Pine Bluff, Arkansas edged out Albuquerque 2 to 1.

EDINBURG, Tex. (UPI)—The National Basketball Association's Detroit Pistons and Phoenix Suns, will play one game at Pan American College, Oct. 10. The game will pit two of Pan American's all-time greats, Otis Moore and Fred Taylor, against each other.

SPECIAL PURSE DUE

Doug Sanders Has Year Of Trouble And Misery

TULSA, Okla. (UPI)—Doug Sanders has to be this year's Joe Bispik.

You remember good old Joe Bispik. He's the brooding, bent-over little cartoon CHARACTER Al Capp always portrays with a dark rain cloud over his head because wherever Joe Bispik goes trouble and misery are sure to follow.

That's the kind of year it has been for Doug Sanders, one of the best-liked pros on the professional tour.

He got a taste of what the year was going to be like early when he was skulled by one of Vice President Spiro Agnew's fancier shots at Palm Springs, Calif. Sanders didn't play too well after that which was unfortunate because he already had lost most of those vitally needed sponsor exemptions and the only way to get them back was by doing well.

The crowning blow came a month ago at St. Andrews, Scotland. Joe Bispik...oops!

wrong golfer... Doug Sanders has the British Open all wrapped up, right there in his two little hands, and he goes and blows the whole thing with a 30-inch putt on the final green that's really too awful to talk about anymore.

Doug Sanders did not qualify for this PGA championship starting here today. He is a special invitee. He was invited here by PGA officials who were impressed with his performance in the British Open.

They weren't the only ones. Sanders had a legion of friends before Jack Nicklaus beat him in an 18-hole playoff at St. Andrews. He has more now. He hasn't won much money these past eight months but he doesn't think this has been a bad year for him at all. He feels it has been a good one. Maybe one of his best ever.

"What have I got to complain about?" he says. "So I haven't won a major championship. I won much more. So many new friends I can't begin to count them. That's what's important to me. Certainly I've thought about that putt. I've relived it many times. You know, I never even thought about missing it. I was very relaxed, but it was the type putt you could miss for a dollar or a championship. I've missed shorter ones than that and so has everybody else on the tour."

Doug Sanders even considers it wasn't so bad that he was hit by the vice president's ball.

"He's one of the nicest guys I've ever known and I admire the man tremendously whether he'd be vice president or not," Sanders says. "I feel privileged to be his friend."

Maybe this Doug Sanders isn't the Joe Bispik we know. Joe never talked that way at all.

GOING TO BAYLOR

WACO, Tex. (UPI)—An All-Atlanta high school baseball pitcher will enroll at Baylor University this fall. He is Rickie Rox, who compiled a 17-8 record for Campbell High School, Smyrna, Ga.

A&I MAN ELECTED

KINGSVILLE, Tex. (UPI)—The sports information director at Texas A&I has been elected to the board of directors of the College Sports Information Directors of America. Fred Neusch will be the college division representative.

HOUGH PURCHASED

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Right-handed relief pitcher Charles Hough, 22, has been purchased by the Los Angeles Dodgers from their Spokane farm club. Hough has a 12-7 record this season, with 18 saves. He also led the Pacific Coast League in ERA with a 1.96 mark.

Reliever Jose Pena, 4-3, was optioned to Spokane to make room on the parent roster for Hough.

Cleveland Browns

PROSPECTUS — Shifting leagues won't change impetus of Browns. Should immediately become power of Central Division. This'll be third different league in history of Browns. Come in it with team that's shifting in talent but has hard core to maintain winning record.

PASSING — When Bill Nelsen's good, he's very good. And when he's bad... well, ask Minnesota Vikings. Peppy Bill's got to carry load again on scarred knees even if Mike Phipps (Purdue) is being groomed to succeed him. Bill's leadership gets him over tough spots. Rating — B.

RECEIVING — Browns could be kidding themselves. Homer Jones (ex-Giant) will compensate for Warfield. Homer's great only when mood strikes him. Warfield was superb threat. Of course, Gary Collins was Nelsen's favorite receiver, and Milt Marin's superb specimen of tight end. Dave Jones is around for future use. Rating — B.

RUNNING — Blanton Collier has always emphasized running game, and he has ideal horses in Leroy Kelly and Bo Scott. Kelly will wow American Conference with way he follows blocking. And ex-Canadian star Scott came on strong once he got acclimated. He'll be pushed by Renee Morrison, a comer. Rating — A.

LINE — Monte Clark finally vacated right tackle spot, but he was operating on bad legs anyhow and had given way to Joe Taillon. Have rookie Bob McKay of Texas, too. Age of Dick Shafrafah (33). Gene Hickerson (31) make you wonder. But they've been lub of running game so long. Kelly wouldn't recognize them by their faces. John Demarie's almost on par with Hickerson as path-sweeper. Rating —

LINE — Eager to improve pass rush, they've peddled Jim Kanicki to Giants and pushed rangy Marv Upshaw into tackle post alongside Walt Johnson. Johnson's prize specimen up front. To get more mobility at end, they're trying ex-linebacker Bob Matheson there. Unlike he'll beat out Ron Snidow or Jack Gregory. But keep an eye on rookie Joe Jones. Rating — B.

LINEBACKER — Position-shifting has put spotlight on Jim Houston, strongside linebacker for a decade. Now he's moved into the middle, where his savvy should protect him, leaving the outside jobs to Dale Lindsey and John Garlington. If the experiment holds, Houston could be a revelation. Rating — B.

SECONDARY — Ben Davis missed all of last year with knee injury, and he's welcome back. After all, Erich Barnes is now 35. He can still scare a wide receiver with his chops — but can old Erich keep up with him? So eventually Davis could pair with young Walt Sumner. Crafty Ernie Kellerman, Mike Howell are solid at safety. Rating — B plus.

KICKING — Don Cockroft, who forced no less than Lou Groza into retirement, handles both placekicking and punting chores (with Gary Collins always available for latter duty). Rating — B plus.

PREDICTION — First in Central Division on impetus from NFL successes, but that's as far as they'll go. (Newspaper Enterprise Assn.)

Pitcher's Strategy Earns Mets 2-1 Win From Reds

By VITO STELLINO
UPI Sports Writer

Gary Gentry was in trouble. The New York Mets' right-hander had just given up back-to-back doubles to Bobby Tolan and Tony Perez and was nursing a 2-1 lead in the sixth inning with a 3-2 count on the cleanup hitter in the Cincinnati Reds' power lineup—catcher Johnny Bench.

Met catcher Duffy Dyer flashed a fastball sign to Gentry and the pitcher shook it off. The Met pitcher had decided to gamble with the change up in the critical situation to the Reds' slugger.

The strategy worked perfectly. Bench struck out on the pitch and Gentry then struck out Bernie Carbo to end the threat. Gentry never allowed another runner to reach base as he went on to stifle the Reds, 2-1, on a four-hitter. It moved the Mets just 1½ games behind the Pittsburgh Pirates, who lost to Los Angeles, 11-4, in the East Division.

In other games, San Francisco beat Chicago, 6-3, Houston blanked Philadelphia, 4-0, Atlanta edged Montreal, 8-7, and St. Louis outlasted San Diego, 6-4, in 14 innings.

In the American League, Boston beat Kansas City, 7-4, but lost the second game, 4-3, Washington topped Minnesota, 5-3, Milwaukee nipped Detroit, 6-5, Oakland routed Cleveland, 11-4, Baltimore beat California, 5-4, and Chicago edged New York, 5-1.

Los Angeles scored two runs in the eighth on a wild pitch and a groundout to snap a 2-2 tie and then exploded for seven runs in the ninth to beat Pittsburgh.

Bob Gibson went 14 innings and scattered 13 hits as St. Louis outlasted San Diego. The Cards scored the winning run when Ron Willis walked Carl Taylor with the bases loaded.

Willie Mays went 3-for-4 and drove in the deciding run with a sixth-inning single as the Giants beat the Cubs. Bobby Bonds homered for an insurance run.

Reserve Clause Upheld In First Round Court Action

NEW YORK (UPI)—The Curt Flood anti-trust case against major league baseball which reached its first denouement with Judge Irving Ben Cooper's decision Wednesday is far from being over.

Cooper's decision, which upheld baseball's reserve clause, will be appealed according to Flood's attorneys, Arthur Goldberg and Allen Zerman.

"All I can say is that there will be an appeal," said Zerman. "This is the first word I've had on it. There's not much to talk about until we see the judge's opinion."

"Obviously this decision is not the last stage," said Goldberg. "The normal course of these cases is to appeal to the Court of Appeals, Second Circuit, which is in New York City."

Pro Football Drops Butkus?

By United Press International

"Butkus cut!"

Hold on pro football fans and followers of the Chicago Bears, the Butkus cut was not Dick Butkus, the Bears' All-Star middle linebacker, but Arnold Butkus.

Arnold Butkus? That's right, Arnold Butkus of Miami, a free agent defensive tackle hoping to make the Philadelphia Eagles. He was one of four rookies cut by the Eagles Wednesday. Also receiving their walking papers were running back Rick Baldrige of Oklahoma, linebacker Lynn Buss of Wisconsin and wide receiver Leon Angevine of Penn State.

The Eagles also placed running back Leroy Keyes, linebacker Ike Kelley and rookie wide receiver John Carlos on the injured list as all three are recuperating from knee injuries.

Cincinnati quarterback Greg Cook left the Bengals' camp at Wilmington, Ohio for Cleveland where he will have his ailing throwing arm examined.

Jim Nance, Boston's star fullback, remained unsigned but Patriots President William Sullivan said, "We're inching toward a solution. From our point of view, a long term, no-cut arrangement separated us."

Among the veterans who were cut Wednesday, St. Louis Cardinals axed cornerback Lonnie Sanders who missed most of last season with a knee injury; the San Francisco Forty Niners cut kickoff and punt return specialist Noland Smith; the Denver Broncos cut running back Frank Quayle, their fifth draft choice in 1969; and the New York Giants released center Bruce Anderson and wide receiver Joe Koozts.

Flood, who filed his suit when he was traded to the Philadelphia Phillies from the St. Louis Cardinals last October, is believed to be in Denmark.

Baseball Commissioner Bowie Kuhn was extremely pleased with Cooper's decision and expressed hope that Flood would resume his career as a player.

"I am pleased that Judge Cooper has upheld the position of baseball in the flood litigation and I am particularly pleased that the court has recognized the need for a reserve system," Kuhn said.

Jockey Sets American Record With Victories

By United Press International

Angel Cordero rode home winners in both divisions of the Bernard Baruch Handicap at Saratoga Wednesday — setting an American record with Big Shot II in the first division and following with a victory on Bailar.

Big Shot II was timed in 1:39 2-5 in the first division to set an American record for 1 1-16 miles on turf. The time for his victory eclipsed the old course record of 1:40. Big Shot II paid $12.00.

Cordero followed by winning the second division aboard Bailar ($7.20) with a time just two-fifths of a second slower than Big Shot II.

In only his fourth outing of the year, Plucky Luck ($3.00) overtook pace setting Free Press in the stretch to win by a nose in the featured $7,500 allowance at Atlantic City Race Course.

Inactive from Nov. 1969 until June, Plucky Lucky scored his second victory of the year. Ridden by Carlos Marquez, the winner covered the six furlongs in 1:10.

Where Did All The Rookies Go?

By United Press International

The rookies are finding out the facts of life in the National Football League.

The rookies had the run of the camps while the veterans were on strike but now they're being cut in bunches as the coaches start paring their squads. Some of the rookies, though, aren't even waiting for the "turk"—the nickname in the NFL for the bad news. Some of them can take the hit.

For example, while the Minnesota Vikings cut seven players Tuesday, two others simply walked out of camp without giving a reason.

But coach Bud Grant thinks he knows why. "Buz Morrow a defensive end picked on the ninth round," he probably looked at Alan Page and Jim Marshall and said Carl Eller is still to come and decided to leave," Grant said. The front four is the strongest part of the Minnesota defense.

Farber Walks Out
The other players to walk out was linebacker Hap Farber, the seventh-round choice.

The Detroit Lions announced the signing of their last holdout who hadn't reported to camp, defensive back Mike Weger. Several other Lions are unsigned but they are in camp to avoid a $100-a-day fine.

The Lions' No. 2 draft choice offensive tackle Ray Parson, underwent knee surgery and will miss most of the season. The Miami Dolphins picked up defensive back Barry Pierson, a fifth-round draft choice from Michigan who was cut by St. Louis. The Denver Broncos cut their No. 11 draft choice, defensive back Cleveland Bryant of Ohio University.

Duties Will Be Split
San Francisco announced that defensive back John Brodie will split the quarterbacking duties with Steve Spurrier against the Cleveland Browns on Saturday.

Tackle Kevin Hardy, kayoed in a collision while working out last week, returned to the 49ers camp and practiced briefly. The New York Giants said they plan to keep rookie Jim Files, their top draft choice in the critical middle linebacking spot.

The Dallas Cowboys cut five players including their sixth-round draft choice last year, tight end Rick Shaw. The other four were free agents.

And, in the continuing saga of Joe Willie You-Know-Who, there were no new developments Tuesday. But then, as in all good soap operas, the action drags from time to time. New York Jets owner Phil Ilesin said, "he (Namath) knows where I am, I'm not hard to find. All he has to do is call me." But Namath hasn't called this week and the Jets are waiting, waiting, waiting...

CITATION DIES

LEXINGTON, Ky. (UPI)—Calumet Farm's Citation, winner of $1,085,760 in a five-year eighth three-year old in racing history to win the Kentucky Derby, Preakness and Belmont Stakes. Eddie Arcaro was aboard in all three victories.

Citation won 32 races, was second 10 times and third twice. He finished out of the money once. His Triple Crown year was 1948, when he became the

BOUT SCHEDULED

NEW YORK (UPI)—Ismael Laguna, the world lightweight champ, has agreed to meet Raul "Lobito" Montoya of Los Angeles in a 10-round non-title bout at San Antonio, Tex., on Aug. 26.

Laguna won the lightweight crown in March in Los Angeles on a technical knockout of Mando Ramos. In May he successfully defended the title against Hiroshi Suzuki of Japan in Panama.

BELINSKY REMOVED

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI)—Fun-loving Bo Belinsky, pitched a no-bitter for the Los Angeles Angels in 1968, has been removed from the roster of the Indianapolis Indians of the American Association.

Belinsky, 33, has been complaining of back trouble and had not pitched since July 31. He has a 7-6 record with Indianapolis, a minor league affiliate of the Cincinnati Reds, with an earned-run average of 4.37.

GOES INTO BUSINESS

MEXICO CITY (UPI)—Motorcycle Police Lt. Luis Gonzalez never bothered to turn in his uniform, boots, helmet, badge and revolver when he was fired from the force two weeks ago for continued absence.

Police detectives who caught him fining a motorist Tuesday afternoon found out why. Gonzalez, who purchased his own motorcycle, had gone into business for himself. They found $40 U.S. in rumpled bills in his pockets, believed to be the day's receipts.

Police charged Gonzalez with the usurpation of a policeman's functions.

Taxing Expertise Taught

Your federal government has finally done it! After thousands of exhibitions of ineptitude in its meddling interventions in the affairs of other peoples, the U.S. government has now undertaken a foreign venture in an area where it has demonstrated unlimited expertise — advice to a foreign government on how to collect taxes.

Reporting from Saigon, Scripps-Howard Staff Writer James Foster revealed that the U.S. government is teaching the South Vietnamese bureaucrats how to collect taxes as part of its "Vietnamization Program."

And, as evidence (if that is, the overburdened U.S. taxpayer requires proof) that this is an area in which the federal bureaucrats are really experts, "It's a fertile field," noted Foster, "Tax collections are up 19 per cent this year over last."

But, added the Scripps-Howard reporter with a touch of satire, "The program is not altogether popular" — with the South Vietnamese people who are compelled, as a result of our tax experts' instruction of their political overlords, to pick up an increased tax tab.

What a way to make friends and influence people! We thought while reading the article, Little wonder that we are increasingly hated abroad by people who mistakenly confuse the American people with the U.S. government?

Meanwhile, according to Foster, and despite the increased tax take, 53 per cent of the total South Vietnam government's yearly budget is paid by the U.S. government with funds obtained from you know whom. "This figure," Foster emphasized, "Does not include direct U.S. military aid."

Remove Shackles From Pay TV

In the early days of the automobile, there were laws requiring horseless carriages to be preceded by someone walking with a lantern and sounding a warning to alert the countryside to the onrushing infernal machine.

Fortunately for the automobile industry, blacksmith interests were not strong enough to keep such laws enforced. In our own time, however, tacks have been strewn and booby traps planted for some 20 years in the path of another innovation — pay-TV.

Pay-TV, or more accurately, subscription television (STV) would permit subscribers to receive Broadway plays, late-issue movies, sports events and other programs not broadcast over conventional television by virtue of a signal-uncrambling device attached to their sets.

Tied on an experimental basis in New Haven for a number of years, subscription television finally received a go-ahead on a nationwide basis from the Federal Communications Commission, after hurdling a seemingly endless series of legislative and legal obstacles leading all the way to the Supreme Court.

But now, realizing that they can't ban STV outright, opponents are trying to hedge it in with so many restrictions that no entrepreneur in his right mind would try to start a subscription television station.

A bill introduced by Rep. John D. Dingell, D-Mich., and slipped through the House Commerce Committee while half its members were absent, would, among other things: Permit not more than 45 per cent of the total program hours in any 24-hour period to consist of feature films and sports. Ban any advertising at any time, not just during subscription broadcasts, as already required by the FCC's stringent regulations.

In other words, STV would be prohibited from doing that which it is designed to do best — present lengthy movies or sports events in their entirety without interruption; and would be forced to depend upon subscription fees for its entire income, in turn forcing subscribers to subsidize programs they may not want to watch.

About the only thing missing is a requirement for a man carrying a lantern. This bill should be killed forthwith and progress be allowed to proceed unimpeded.

Character Reform Needed

These days we are assailed on every side by calls for "reforms" — Postal reform, Drug reform, Social reform, Tax reform, and dozens of others. But one of our country's newspaper writers and columnist Brian Bex, suggested in a recent address reported in the Bloomington, Ind. Star Courier, that what we need more than all else is a bit of "character reform."

"We mass produce everything in this country," Mr. Bex told his audience; "everything but character."

"It used to be," he continued, "that when you wanted something you worked to earn it. Now you stage a riot and get it given to you at someone else's expense."

"If your father or grandfather lost his job, he took whatever work he could get. Now hordes of relief clients refuse a job unless it is to their liking, and they demand the job to be brought to them."

"This nation was built by immigrants who struggled here for opportunity, and would have scorned the false idea of 'something for nothing.' Now it seems to be an almost universal ambition.

GLOBAL VIEW:

U.S. Foreign Policy And '70 Election

By LEON DENNEN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (NEA) — Domestic issues, economic and social, will dominate the U.S. congressional election campaign this fall.

But Americans will also be asked to assess the foreign policy decisions of the Nixon administration that might affect the future of the United States and the free world. East-West tension, unfortunately, is a fact of life that cannot be wished away even by the "doves" in the Senate. And if the President's quest for peace fails, domestic problems would be swamped by the ensuing international conflicts.

What, then, are America's urgent priorities and how should they be determined? This is one of the vital questions discussed in a new book, "Foreign Policy Priorities: 1970-71." Prepared by the editors of the Foreign Policy Association, it presents basic facts on key foreign issues and a pro-and-con analysis of relevant alternatives.

As Samuel P. Hayes, the FPA's president, writes in the introduction to the book, public opinion is "a significant force in a democracy" and "essential to its healthy functioning." The better-informed voter is, the wider the range of intelligent alternatives among which policymakers may choose.

For instance, how many Americans are aware that President Nixon's budget for 1971 shows a reduction in foreign defense-related spending? But spending on domestic, economic, social and environmental needs has increased; however inadequately. This does not indicate an isolationist trend, as worried Europeans and Asians fear. But it certainly indicates a new assessment of priorities. It does mean a pragmatic American policy of "noninvolvement" in other nations' domestic affairs. The United States will remain faithful to treaty commitments and maintain "sufficient military power to deter potential aggressors," Nixon said.

But "the nations of each part of the world should assume the primary responsibility" for their own well-being and defense.

"Foreign Policy Priorities" also deals with such topics as U.S. stakes in the Middle East, Vietnam, NATO, Russia and Latin America. Perhaps the most interesting chapter is on the U.S. relations with Red China.

Although there has been a shift in Washington's policy on China — away from strict containment and isolation — the Nixon administration is still opposed to Peking's membership in the United Nations.

Critics of this policy insist that the Peking regime, representing some 800 million mainland Chinese, should be invited to join the U.N. and even be given the seat in the Security Council that is now held by President Chiang Kai-shek's Nationalists.

In their view, participation in U.N. activities could have a constructive influence on Peking's international behavior and possibly on peace in Southeast Asia.

Of course, would ultimately lead to a "Two-China" policy, which so far is as unacceptable to Chiang as it is to Mao Tse-tung. However, those who oppose Peking's admission into the U.N. claim that Mao's brand of fanatic communism and revolutionary brinkmanship still constitutes the prime threat to a stable peace in Asia. The United States, they believe, can best force moderation on Peking's regime by continuing to freeze it out of the world community and by tacitly supporting the Russians in their conflict with the Chinese.

But the Nixon administration obviously intends to remain "unaligned" in the Soviet-Chinese conflict while persisting in efforts to engage in constructive negotiations with both Communist nations.

"I Have an Idea!"

Clearing House

Get something you would like to "get off your chest"? That's what the "Clearing House" is for. It has been suggested there should be more letters to the Editor, that people should speak their mind. So, in the public interest, write to the Editor and "get it off your chest."

Editor:

I am disturbed about many things, one of which is inflation, in part it is a disease of the mind, the product of what we would like to have and what we once had. Deflation is the pain we get when the dollar shrank to forty cents, and we have to put up with what we once had. Strikes are most common in our economy, industrial, transportation and civil service. The most unpreventable strike is the buyer-strike the consumer. He does not need a union organization to tell him when and how to go to work, and what the wages will be. When the job stops, or the time cut to one half, he does what comes natural. The strike is automatically on. He wonders what happened to that nest egg — the one that he failed to put in the saving bank.

He, prompted by fear of a depression, unemployment and credit liquidation is not looking for something to buy especially, but wondering how he is going to pay for that credit charge account, the banker and the finance companies. Wholesale and retail business has dropped off, profits have shrunk, conservative industrial planning is in order.

The remedy for inflation is conservation pills.

Most of us enjoyed the pleasure, as we rode the inflation prosperity train upward. The journey is over and the time has come when we must pay the ticket. Even the U.S. Treasury income has fallen off, she has spent the taxes before she collected them. When pay checks are smaller, income tax is less. The government has the advantage, she can raise the debt limit eighteen billion dollars a year, and let the unborn generation pay the bill. The price we will have to pay will be great, sacrifices will have to be made, changing our standards of living, which will sad thing about it is that the ones that sacrifice the most, are less able to pay.

We were for the last twenty years, brain washed into believing this liberal inflated prosperity would last forever. It's like a balloon, we have inflated to the breaking point, and we are flying so high, suffocated in our ambitions, overcome with our selfishness, afraid to deflate the balloon for fear we will come down too fast, and spill the beans. We may have to fly at a lower altitude and think of others that must follow, and pick up the pieces.

Remember we live in a nation for everybody. It means all of us must sink or swim, fish or cut bait. No time or place for a sponger. Be an American patriot, have faith in GOD, and each other and also our government. I'm sure the stains of inflation will come out in the wash, and we will be wiser and stronger than ever. "Experience is the best teacher."

What do you think?

Sensing The News

By ANTHONY HARRIGAN

The Southern States Industrial Council (SSIC) charged today that legislation before Congress to increase the Federal Minimum Wage would hurt the very people it is intended to help—the unskilled workers on the lowest rung of the economic ladder.

Appearing for the council before the House General Subcommittee on Labor, Paul A. Belknap, President of Charleston Rubber Company, Charleston, South Carolina, and a director of the SSIC for South Carolina, urged the Sub Committee to turn down HR 17596 and other bills to raise the statutory minimum wage.

HR 17596 would increase the minimum wage for many workers to $2.00 per hour next January 1st and to $2.50 the following January. It also would extend the minimum wage coverage to employees of service stations, small retailers, domestics and most other employees presently exempt from coverage.

The SSIC spokesman told the Labor Sub-Committee that increasing the minimum wage would reduce the number of jobs available for unskilled workers and would also hurt workers in the mid-range and higher range pay scales by reducing the purchasing power of their dollar in its inflationary impact.

"Many economists believe that previous increases in the federal minimum wage were the cause of plant closings and automation that led to increased unemployment in the South and migration of workers from the South to cities in the North and East," Belknap told the sub-committee. "Because many of these people were unskilled they had difficulties in finding employment in the northern and eastern cities and went on welfare rolls."

Belknap said there was general agreement on the desirability of raising the standard of living of American workers and particularly those whose living standards are at the lowest levels. He went on to point out, however, that for this to occur, workers must first have jobs and that there is evidence that increasing the minimum wage rates decreases the opportunities for employment of unskilled workers.

"It eventually brings discontent and misery to the very ones it is intended to help," he said.

The group that would be hit hardest by the incidence of unemployment, resulting from further increase in the Federal Minimum Wage, according to the SSIC spokesman, is "the group toward which a great deal of government effort is being directed for the purpose of improving their lot — Negro teenagers."

Plans Ecological Study Of Defoliant Effects

ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — The Pentagon, which has been sharply criticized for the widespread use of defoliants in Vietnam, is quietly proposing a detailed and comprehensive ecological survey to determine the effects of all wartime operations there. The study is expected to continue for three to five years. The impact of defoliation operations will be a principal focus of the survey, which is said to have originated as an idea of Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird. However, effects of heavy aerial bombardment will also be assessed.

We're told that about $30,000 in planning money for the long-range study has already been included in the defense budget now pending in Congress. The survey, to be financed under Army research appropriations, is eventually to cost between a quarter and a half-million dollars.

Army experts will work with local Vietnamese scientists over several growing seasons, issuing interim reports on their operations. The scientists will be charged with studying vegetation recovery rates in defoliated and bombarded areas, and with charting ecological trends.

The Pentagon will therefore dig directly into the complaints of private U.S. scientists that indiscriminate use of defoliants and area bombings by the big B-52s have caused permanent ecological damage in South Vietnam.

ARMY APPRAISAL — The Army's research chief, Lt. Gen. A.W. Betts, has already discussed the proposed survey privately with interested congressional committees. He has acknowledged that repeated use of defoliants on certain types of vegetation could result in "modifications" of the vegetation and in the potential land use of those areas.

The Army has recognized the need for a detailed survey of the ecological changes that may have resulted from the use of these defoliants in Vietnam. says Betts, adding that the scientific study "team" will include plant physiologists, agronomists, soil scientists, plant pathologists, zoologists and entomologists.

This first year would be spent in planning and establishing contacts with Vietnamese scientists (essential due to their familiarity with their own territory and to add credibility to the survey), and in determining areas where herbicides had not been used in order to establish baselines.

"In the subsequent years annual surveys would be made during the wet season as well as the dry season to determine the extent of regrowth in order to determine the long range effects of defoliation," Betts says.

While current funding plans indicate that the study will require a minimum of three years, Betts has indicated that he thinks it will probably take five years to complete. "TRUE" DEFOLIANT IS SOUGHT — While plans go forward for the study of defoliation's impact in Vietnam, Army research continues on new defoliant agents. Most of the work is done at the Army's center at Fort Detrick, Md., and the Army conducts research there for all the armed services.

Dissemination techniques — helicopter sprays, ground applications and the like — are also under continuing study. In these research projects, the Army says it studies the ecological effects of each defoliating agent. Scientists try to determine how rapidly herbicides and defoliants deteriorate or are washed out of the plants and soil.

In addition, Army scientists say they are trying to develop a "true" defoliant, that is, one which will temporarily and quickly destroy foliage, but without permanent damage to vegetation or other adverse ecological impact.

Like many other Pentagon efforts, which have their major implications in Vietnam, this so-called "vegetative control" research is now on the wane. More than a million dollars was spent on it last year. This year's efforts are budgeted at about half that amount, including the initial planning outlay for the ecological survey in Vietnam.

Of course Army experts have now developed a whole family of herbicides and defoliants for use in stripping foliage from forested areas in Vietnam. The scientists say proudly that Army field commanders have praised the work done by defoliants in denying enemy concealment to enemy troops.

Optimism Begets Optimism

By PAUL HARVEY
Recently we talked about how pessimism begets pessimism and can cause physical illness and economic recession. A smile is contagious, also. Optimism begets optimism. President Nixon has asked us of the news media to give more attention to what's right about our nation and its prospects. I'll second that motion.

In the news media we necessarily preoccupy ourselves with what's wrong. As the coach looking at the films of last week's game concentrates on mistakes, we hope to help our contemporaries recognize their failures.

But constant preoccupation with what's wrong distorts the whole picture of our country and its prospects; tends to discourage young people. Little wonder some of them start looking around for some otherism which is not always apologizing for itself.

So today we're going to examine the credit side of the ledger.

Acknowledging the existence of a dead-end war, malignant inflation, increasing crime and erosion of our environment—

Acknowledging that much is wrong and must be made right—

Let's count our blessings:

We're not out of Indochina but we are getting out. And in the infinitely more sensitive situation in the Middle East, prospects for peace are improved and improving.

Our economy is in recession but — it's upturning.

Construction spending, after three months of decline, increased last month. Planned construction hit a two-year low this spring, but was up 9 per cent last month.

Bankruptcy of the Penn

Central sobered speculators, they needed sobering.

The stock market is a long way from its highs of recent years but you and I know those bull market prices were more collar than beer. The consolidation now under way is building a foundation for a responsible rally.

Profits have increased every month since April.

Average family income in the United States now tops $9,430. Correspondingly, our nation's percentage of admittedly "poor" people continues to decline.

The hot summer most cities feared most cities were spared. Lower draft calls will help ease student uncertainties this fall. Also there is an increasing awareness among responsible students that they've been "used" by some irresponsible mercenaries.

There may well be a strike by auto workers in September but a shutdown of car makers does not stagger our total economy as it did two decades ago.

Last month there were fewer layoffs in industry and a measurably increased demand for factory labor.

And frequently overlooked in the total outlook is the fact that Russia and Red China are less acutely menacing to our nation's security than any time in 25 years.

There is a real prospect of a meaningful and enforceable agreement with Russia on a strategic weapons standoff and mutual backdown.

Let's stop selling US — spelled U.S. — short. Surely this has to be the only land in the world where people get together to complain about how bad things are OVER A $7 STEAK.
