PAMPA AND VICINITY — Fair this afternoon, tonight, and Friday with little change in temperatures. High this afternoon and Friday in the middle 90s. Low tonight middle 60s. Southerly winds 10 to 20 mph. High Wednesday 92, low this morning 64.

SAIGON (UPI) — Communist rockets Wednesday shot down two American helicopters, one giant chopper delivering infantrymen to a combat base. The U.S. Command said today six GIs were dead and 30 officially missing.

American military spokesmen said the worst of the two crashes involved a CH47 Chinook helicopter hit by groundfire near artillery base Jddy, 31 miles southwest of Tam Ky and 310 miles north-northeast of Saigon.

The U.S. Command said two GIs were killed, seven wounded and 30 others officially listed as missing. Records indicated it may have been the third worst helicopter crash of the Vietnam War.

Military sources said the Chinook was hit by a rocket grenade 100 yards from the base, manned by the Army's 196th Light Infantry Brigade in mountainous countryside. Two of the known dead were killed on the ground and five were injured when debris from the disintegrating helicopter struck them.

U.S. military spokesmen also reported four Americans killed when an Army UH1 Huey helicopter gunship was shot down 12 miles southeast of Can Tho, 87 miles southwest of Saigon in the Mekong Delta. It was hit by rocket grenade fire.

Fighting across South Vietnam was light Wednesday but government military spokesmen said today South Vietnamese 1st Infantry Division troops killed 42 Viet Cong and North Vietnamese in fighting in Quang Tri Province, which adjoins the Demilitarized Zone.

The government force suffered "light" casualties and destroyed 100 60mm mortar rounds and 150 B40 rockets, the spokesmen said.

South Vietnamese troops operating in Cambodia killed 37 Communist soldiers Wednesday in a region northeast of Takeo and 35 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, Saigon spokesmen said.

Communists from Phnom Penh reported no action in the Cambodian campaign today and said heavy casualties inflicted on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong at Prek Tameak, nine miles northeast of Phnom Penh, were the reason.

Maj. Am Rong, Cambodian military spokesman, said 950 North Vietnamese and Viet Cong have been killed in Prek Tameak in three attempts by Communist troops to overrun government positions.

Knee Injury Proves Fatal

FORT WORTH (UPI) — John Lee Johnson, 52, died today in his West Side residence of a stab wound—in his left knee.

Medical examiner F. G. Gwozdz said the wound severed an artery and Johnson bled to death.

Police homicide investigators took Johnson's 47-year-old wife in for questioning. They said there was no sign of a struggle.

Students Start Long Road Back To School Books

Pampa schools started the first day of classes today with a full staff of 314 teachers, to instruct the 5,223 students enrolled since Monday in Pampa School District. This is 203 less than last year.

The district will have five teachers less than last year when 319 taught the 5,526 enrolled the first week of school, according to reports by Supt. Dr. James F. Malone.

A breakdown of enrollment of secondary schools includes 1,204 in Pampa High School, 801 in Lee Junior High School, 612 in Pampa Junior High School, as compared to 1,318 last year in PHS, 829 in Lee Junior High School and 718 in Pampa Junior High School.

This year, elementary schools are expected to have 2,906 with Austin school reporting 439; Baker, 379; Houston, 303; Lamar, 341; Mann, 317; Travis, 483 and Wilson, 342.

"We expect to have 50 more students this week in Pampa High School which would bring our enrollment figure to 5,378, and is closer to the 5,300 we expected," Dr. Malone said.

Letuce Price Increase Coming Eastward

SALINAS, Calif. (UPI) — Lettuce price increases, already felt in California, will spread eastward within days because of a Salinas Valley strike, a wholesaler predicts.

Wholesaler Joe Carcione made his forecast in San Francisco Wednesday. A carton of 24 heads of iceberg (head) lettuce now costs $5 in San Francisco, instead of the usual $3.

Growers said production in the Salinas Valley, "America's salad bowl," was about 45 per cent of usual on the third day of a jurisdictional walkout called by Cesar Chavez' AFL-CIO United Farm Workers Organizing Committee.

Union men said that 5,000 of the valley's 7,000-person work force was on strike.

The valley produces at least 70 per cent of the nation's lettuce and the shortage already has been felt in Chicago where market experts said only small supplies are coming in from Colorado, Wisconsin, and Santa Maria, Calif. The strike also is in effect in Santa Maria.

The dispute is whether farm laborers will be represented by the Teamsters Union or by the Chavez group.

Murder Trial Turns To Bloody Details

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Sharon Tate's killers splattered her blood in puddles across the living room and used it to scrawl the word "pig" on the front door of her luxurious home, a police-crime expert testified Wednesday.

The testimony of Joseph Granado came in the trial of Charles Manson and three members of his hippie "family" charged with murdering Miss Tate and three others Aug. 8, 1969, and grocer Leno LaBianca and his wife Rosemary the following night.

A kitchen fork found plunged into LaBianca's chest was introduced into evidence Wednesday and Mrs. LaBianca's teen-age son told how he found LaBianca's body in the living room of the home.

Frank Struthers, 16, said he returned home from a holiday at a lake and was unable to get into the house. He summoned his older sister, Susan, and her boyfriend, and they entered the kitchen.

"We went into the living room and we saw Leno crouching there," Struthers said.

"Did he appear to have been harmed or hurt in anyway?" asked Deputy District Attorney Aaron Stovitz.

"We didn't stay long enough to see, but we knew what was wrong," the youth replied.

He said they summoned police, who found the butchered body of Mrs. LaBianca in a bedroom.

Mrs. LaBianca's partner in a dress shop business, Mrs. Ruth Sivick, testified she had visited the LaBianca home the night before the bodies were found.

Mrs. Sivick identified a kitchen fork as one similar to one she had seen on many occasions when she ate at the LaBianca residence.

The LaBiancas were away for the weekend, and she said she entered the house to feed the dogs.

Is this the refrigerator you opened?" Stovitz asked, showing her a color photograph.

"Yes," she replied.

"When you saw it, were these letters written on it in blood—H-E-A-L-T-H-E-R S-K-E-L-T-E-R?" he asked.

She said they were not.

It was the first indication the message left in blood at the LaBianca residence was misspelled. The prosecution has contended that the motive for the seven slayings was inspired by the Beatles' son "Helter Skelter" and was intended to provoke racial tensions.

Agnew Renews Pledge Of Troops Returning

No Chance Of Delay In Vietnam Pullout

SAIGON (UPI) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew arrived in Saigon today and said there was no chance of a delay in U.S. troop withdrawals from South Vietnam.

"The Cambodian venture has made it possible to go forward with this and we will go forward with it," Agnew told newsmen aboard his plane as it flew to Saigon from Nationalist China.

Agnew was referring to the Allied offensive earlier this summer against Communist sanctuaries in Cambodia, a nation he is expected to visit Friday.

Although he denied any plans for a trip to Cambodia, dispatches from the Cambodian capital of Phnom Penh today said all preparations had been made and that the vice president would have lunch with Premier Lon Nol and other officials.

Official sources said last minute security problems could force postponement of the Cambodian trip. A village nine miles north of Phnom Penh has been under Communist pressure for the past week.

Agnew landed at Bien Hoa Air Base, 18 miles northwest of Saigon, today and was flown in a helicopter to the Presidential Palace in downtown Saigon for talks with President Nguyen Van Thieu which began at 1:45 p.m. just as a monsoon rain drenched the South Vietnamese capital.

In his chat with newsmen aboard the plane, Agnew said U.S. officials such as Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who demanded early withdrawal of U.S. troops from Vietnam are "dangerously wrong" and "must be disagreed with on very firm terms."

Agnew arrived in Saigon in monsoon rainstorm on the third stop of his Asian tour, flying from Taiwan where he assured Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek the United States will stick by its treaty commitments to Nationalist China.

The government of South Korea, Agnew's first stop, today denied that President Park Chung-Hee gave Agnew his consent to a U.S. plan to withdraw 20,000 of the 64,000 American soldiers in Korea.

"Our basic position stands unchanged," said Information Minister Shin Bum-Shik. "Measures to modernize the Korean armed forces should be agreed upon first before any U.S. troop cutback."

Agnew said today in Saigon the only kind of coalition government the United States would stand for in Vietnam was one elected by the people.

An imposed coalition government to include the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front is a basic demand of Communist delegates to the Paris talks.

Agnew said there was a diversity of opinion over U.S. policy in Southeast Asia, but that:

"I find myself in violent disagreement with people such as Senator Fulbright. I don't impute his motives or I don't think he's less patriotic for expressing his convictions, but I think he's very, very wrong and dangerously wrong and since he is, he, in my opinion, is in a position where he must be disagreed with and on very firm terms."

Agnew's jet landed at Bien Hoa Air Base, 18 miles northwest of Saigon during a torrent of rain and the vice

IT COULD HAVE BEEN WORSE! — Workman of a local truck and implement firm on Price Road survey the damage to a truck mounting a large piece of oil field equipment and the shop building it was hastily torn from this morning when fire broke out in the unit some time after workmen had ceased welding on the vehicle belonging to a customer. No estimate of damage was possible at this time according to five department officials and the owner of the local firm. (Staff Photo)

Damages Heavy To Building, Oil Truck In Price Road Fire

By RAY BAXTER, News Staff Writer
One of the buildings of Johnson, Inc., on Price Road and a hot oil treatment truck belonging to a customer suffered heavy damage by fire at 8:55 this morning.

Work had been underway for several days on the unit in the shop of the local truck and implement firm and workman had been welding on it this morning although none was being done at the time of the blaze.

A Pampa Fire Department official at scene theorized, pending a complete investigation and report, some trapped gas remaining from the huge butane tanks on the rear of the vehicle had spontaneously ignited after welding had ceased.

Lonnie Johnson, owner of the firm, said it was impossible to make even a rough estimate of the damages to either the truck or the building.

In addition to fire loss to the truck, the shop building suffered heavy damage when the vehicle was literally torn from its stall and taken to an open spot on the premises to avert either spread of the fire or explosion from the tanks or any residual material in the unit.

Paint was burned off 50 per cent of the treating unit on the truck and the top sheet metal was ruptured by the goorway of the building in the hasty evacuation.

The corrugated metal building suffered heavy distortion across the entire end due to the stress exerted when the body of the truck hung up momentarily in the door way. The truck was in the end stall in the rear-most building of the complex.

The Pampa Fire Department dispatched two units to the scene ending twenty four hours of fire-fighting inactivity.

Parolee Tries Bribe
A man giving the name of Bill Dancer and offering officers $2 not to file charges against him following his arrest at a local hotel for intoxication is being held for Pennsylvania authorities who want him for parole violation.

Pampa police officers Stan Brown and Danny Honeycutt, were at the hotel on another matter when Brown noticed the man apparently bribed from elevator. He engaged him in conversation eliciting the name of Bill Dancer and the fact he was with the carnival currently playing in Coronado Center.

A routine check for a police record and possible wanted requests revealed that the man was actually William Stephen (See PAROLEE, Page 2)

OF PARENTS

Youth Freed After Attempted Murders

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich. (UPI) — Jerry Schipper, 18, was charged with attempted murder after he told police he tried to poison his parents because they scolded him.

When he was arrested in June, poison was found in his father's beer, and in milk, orange juice and soft drinks in the family refrigerator.

The mother and father signed the complaint, charging their son tried to kill them.

Today the youth was back home again—his parents had put up the $2,500 bond to free him.

Mr. and Mrs. John Schipper of suburban Wyoming, who first charged their son with trying to poison them, came to his defense. They obtained an attorney to represent him and have appeared at his side in several court appearances.

Last week defense attorney Leo Stevens obtained an order from Probate Court Judge Richard Loughrin, committing the youth to the Coldwater State Home and Training School as a "mentally retarded subject." Stevens said Wednesday the school reported it is full and probably cannot take the youth for several months.

"The court granted bond of $2,500 pending his admission to the training school. The parents put up the money and have taken him home because they don't want him to stay in jail any longer," Stevens said.

At the time of his arrest in June, police said Schipper spiked his father's beer with poison, but the father detected a chlorine taste and spit it out.

Traces of cyanuric acid, a chemical which slows dissipation of chlorine in swimming pools, also were found by investigators in milk, orange juice and soft drinks in the family refrigerator.

According to Officer Donald De Petro, the youth, who was enrolled in a special education program for slow learners, told him he tried to poison his parents because they scolded him for skipping job-training classes and using the family car without their knowledge.

The two charges in circuit court are being held in abeyance pending outcome of his commitment.

Billionaire Sued For Back Wages
DALLAS (UPI) — H.L. Hunt, the oil billionaire, has been sued by a former $150-a-week secretary for $5,894. The secretary charged that she was worked overtime 414½ hours without being paid for it.

The former secretary, Juanita Beavers, filed suit in U.S. District Court Wednesday.

Smiles Are Rewarding At Jaycee Fair

Nine smiling people were declared winners in the Smiling Broad Grin Contest at the Jaycee Fair last night. Thirty-three contestants competed in five different categories, according to Terry Hardy, who directed the contest.

For people over 5'6" in height, Darrel Cary placed first with Mike Dinger coming in second. In the over 5' category Randy and Linda Ford placed first and second respectively.

The under 5' division saw Wade Ford coming in first followed by Rick Thompson. Scott Dinger was first and Scott Rogers was second in the under 4' contest. The toddler with the widest grin was Barbara Holmgren. Winners should pick up their free ride tickets and ribbons at the fair tonight.

Friday night 26 girls 6, 7 or 8 years old compete for the title of "Little Miss Jaycee Fair."

"We have been contacting the parents of each entry about the details of the contest," said Emmet Saltzman, chairman. "We'll narrow the field down to 10 finalists for Saturday night when the winner will be selected. More than $100 in prizes will be given to the winner with additional prizes for two runners-up."

A dozen civic organizations from Pampa and McLean are operating game booths and concession stands at the fair which will run through Saturday.

City Manager Packing Up

City Hall department heads and employees said goodbye to City Manager Charles Hill at an informal one-hour get-together yesterday in the city commission meeting room.

Hill winds up his service in Pampa tomorrow and will take over as city manager in Beaumont Sept. 1.

B.M. Wofford, city engineer and utilities director, will be acting city manager until Hill's successor is named by the city commission.

The outgoing city manager was presented with a gift certificate at the Pampa Country Club golf pro's office. Hill said he chose a pair of golf shoes.

Meanwhile it was packing day at the manager's office today. Hill's desk and office were being cleared of personal belongings.

School Trustees Start Budget Talks Friday

In the annual school budget meeting Friday, trustees will find they have $20,000 left over from last year's budget to help balance the $3,949,210 needed to meet school expenses in 1970-71.

When the board considers how to spend school district money Friday night they will have an anticipated $3,936,822 in revenue from local, county and state sources, plus the $20,000 left in last year's maintenance fund, according to Homer Craig, director of school business services.

Since the 1966-67 school year, expenses have increased $857,244. In 1966-67, it cost $3,091,966 to operate the Pampa Independent School District. In 1967-68, expenses were $3,321,112; in 1968-69, $3,341,111; and in 1969-70, $3,627,460.

In those same periods revenue increased $439,259. This included $3,116,953 in 1966-67; $3,324,161 in 1967-68; $3,254,454, in 1968-69, and $3,556,212 in 1969-70.

Each year, the district had funds left over from the preceding year to supplement revenue. In 1966-67, $89,007, was available for the 1967 budget; in 1967-68, $112,680; in 1968-69, $123,945, and as of Sept. 1, 1969, $123,397 was available from the 1969-70 budget.

"Since September, we have spent our reserves from last year down to $20,000, which we will use to help meet expenses in this 1970-71 budget. With this reserve and the estimated revenue of $3,936,822, we'll have enough to meet the $3,949,210 needed to operate the school district this next fiscal year," Craig said.

15-Year-Old Keys Passe'

Anyone possessing one of those 15-year-old keys to any of the doors at City Hall will find now that they will no longer fit the locks.

City Secretary Stanley M. Chittenden said today all City Hall locks have been changed as "a safety precaution."

Chittenden said it was believed many old keys to interior door locks still were in circulation among former city workers who had failed to turn them in when leaving the city's employ.

"There have been no incidents of any kind," Chittenden said. "The new locks have been installed just as a safety measure. It's been 15 years since they were last changed."

NEW MOTIONS FILED

HOUSTON (UPI) — Attorneys for reputed Mafia chieftain Carlos Marcello of New Orleans have filed additional motions in federal court to overturn his conviction for striking an FBI agent in 1966.

Thuy To End Eight-Month Boycott Of Paris Talks

PARIS (UPI)—North Vietnam announced today its chief negotiator at the Paris talks, Xuan Thuy, would return to the conference table next week to end an eight-month boycott. A spokesman said Thuy was tired and unable to attend today's negotiating session.

U.S. Ambassador David K. E. Bruce, who stayed away from the talks last week to protest Thuy's absence, returned to the conference today for the 81st session. He declined comment on the possibility of secret talks with Thuy.

Thuy arrived back in Paris Wednesday after a long absence, raising hopes that he would attend the session today and move toward breaking the deadlocked negotiations. But a spokesman said Thuy was weary by his journey from Hanoi via Peking and Moscow and was "taking a little rest."

"He will be present at the next session," the spokesman said.

Thuy has not attended the talks since Dec. 4, 1969. He walked out to protest President Nixon's failure to immediately appoint a successor when Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge resigned as chief negotiator. Bruce took over from Lodge earlier this month.

As he entered the session today Bruce told newsmen: "I am going to follow the same line that I have in previous meetings." Asked if he had any new proposals, Bruce replied: "I have not."

Nguyen Minh Vy, North Vietnam's deputy negotiator, repeated previous charges by Hanoi that the United States is not interested in Vietnam peace.

Four New Diphtheria Cases In SA

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (UPI)—Health officials confirmed four new cases of diphtheria Wednesday bringing the total number of persons stricken with the disease to 71 for the year and 41 in August alone.

Despite the rising number of cases, doctors said the number of persons seeking immunizations is decreasing. Dr. William R. Ross, director of the city health department, said some inoculation centers may close next week.

The centers have been in operation for nine days and in that time 180,162 persons in the city of 648,189 have received anti-diphtheria shots.

Wife Divorces Sex Expert

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (UPI)—The wife of Dr. William Masters, head of the Reproductive Biology Research Foundation in St. Louis, has been granted a divorce in circuit court in suburban Clayton.

Mrs. Masters had charged desertion. She testified they were married in 1942, and that he had moved out of their home in 1968. The divorce was granted Tuesday.

Masters and co-researcher Virginia Johnson are the authors of the best-selling books "Human Sexual Response" and "Human Sexual Inadequacy."

Bright Future Forecast For Agribusiness In Gray County

Income from agri-business in Gray County will more than double within the next five years, according to Bill Grisham.

Grisham district agent for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, supervises 22 Panhandle counties.

For the years 1968-69 Gray County had $12.8 million and the district agent projected a $14.3 million increase by the years 1975-76.

"Crops will be 6.05 percent of this increase and livestock will be 93.95 percent," said Grisham. This adds up to a $27,176,000 income forecast in these areas: $12,468,000 in cattle; $1 million in Hogs; wheat a little increase; sorghum $1 million and hay $400,000.

He noted the total number of farms are down while the size is up. "We also have more population to feed," said Grisham.

Grisham was introduced by Gray County Agent Foster Whaley. Last week the Rotary Club had heard Warren Hasse speak on humorous moments in sports. The week prior Felix Ryals show a movie "Time For Action," produced by Walter Inc.

Headstart Program Said To Be Polarizing Society

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Headstart and similar poverty programs are tearing society apart and contributing to social polarization, the new national director of Headstart said today.

"It's an egregious error to set up children's programs in this country for specific sections of the population," Dr. Edward F. Zigler told UPI in an interview. "We can't continue programs that send poor kids one place and rich kids another. That's what is causing polarization in our society today."

"We've got to find a way to bring the society back together and one of the places to do it is with children, in programs like this," he said.

Headstart is the preschool program which offers medical, nutritional, educational and other services to give children with poor parents a boost before they start school.

Headstart regulations have permitted only a 10 per cent involvement of children not considered poor.

Zigler said he did not want to discard Headstart but wanted to broaden its services and make it available to other social and economic groups. He said he hoped the President's proposed welfare reform, now stalled in the Senate Finance Committee, would give him the opportunity for expansion by providing new day care services that could be combined with the Headstart services.

Zigler, 40, is a former director of the Yale University Child Development Program. He was named in June as the first director of a new Office of Child Development, which administers Headstart and other children's programs.

After criticizing Headstart in the interview, Zigler called it "one of the most revolutionary social action programs I have seen in my lifetime."

It has served not only the children well, but their parents and society also, he said. Zigler cited one survey which he said demonstrated that 90 to 95 per cent of the parents find the program beneficial. "Think of that kind of support for a government program," he said.

"Let's protect the good in Headstart, make it better, but open it to a broader spectrum of services for children," he added.

Scene

At the Jaycee Fair, a cute, blonde-haired, blue-eyed little girl with tears in her eyes. She had lost as ribbon won in one of the special events.

The tears were replaced by a big smile when a hurried search by the Jaycees produced the ribbon. . . a six-year-old boy happily munching on a snow cone, while Jaycees searched for his daddy, who was lost. . . he was finally reunited with a beginning-to-get-quietly-concerned father. . . Freddie Graves, Jaycee grounds chairman, going about his duties with a bright green vest and a different wild hat each evening. . . Jaycees report about a half a ton of trash and debris have been picked up after the fairgoing crowd goes home each evening. . . The Bob Johnsons and the Charles Hills forming a dinner foursome in Pampa Club. . . there's another dinner tonight for the departing Hills, who will soon call Beaumont home. . . when Charles becomes manager of that city. . . Reggie Thompson playing beautifully at the Calateria. . . Rex Winters dashing to work. . . Jane Reynolds putting on her face so she can go to school. . . so she can go to school. . . Gayle Gallaher going to school in a mediam walking pace. . .

STONEWALL, Tex. (UPI) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson celebrated his 62nd birthday today surrounded only by his immediate family at the LBJ Ranch.

Johnson's wife, Lady Bird, his two daughters, his sons-in-law and his four grandchildren were the only persons to be with him today for the quiet and informal birthday party. Close friends of the former President said nothing special was planned for the occasion.

This weekend is the busiest Johnson has scheduled since he left public office in January, 1969. He will host the first in a series of seminars Friday for 200 bankers and economics students.

Johnson will take his guests to the LBJ Ranch for a barbecue after the seminar. Saturday Johnson and Lady Bird will take part in ceremonies dedicating the Lyndon B. Johnson State Park, located just across the Pedernales River from the LBJ Ranch.

Nikita Recovers From Attack

MOSCOW (UPI)—Nikita S. Khrushchev Tuesday was declared completely recovered from a heart ailment by top Kremlin physicians who have kept him hospitalized for nearly three months, members of the former premier's family said.

The doctors had planned to release Khrushchev Tuesday, but decided to keep him in the Kremlin hospital for final checks a few days more, the sources said.

By all accounts the one-time Supreme Soviet ruler is again hale and hearty at 76, and is ready to resume what he once described to this correspondent as "the life of a pensioner."

The life of a pensioner for such historic figures as Khrushchev means total public silence and vigorous preoccupation with hobbies such as photography, hydroponics (raising vegetables on water) and painting. Khrushchev was hospitalized early in June when he called on his Kremlin physicians for a routine check after he had suffered a ruptured blood vessel.

He and his family were told there was no serious danger at the time of the illness.

Physicians leaned backward to care for the health of a patient who, although an "unperson" since his fall from power in 1964, is still considered worthy of the medical attention accorded the country's most eminent citizens.

RAIDERS STRIKE

CORDOBA, Argentina (UPI)—Armed raiders took over a police station in suburban Ferreyra Wednesday and made off with a quantity of arms after immobilizing the occupants.

Eyewitnesses said about 30 raiders struck the police station near this Central Argentine city, disarmed 10 policemen and bound them with chains and handcuffs. The group included two young women and two young men dressed in police uniforms, they said.

Police said they escaped with four machine guns, other arms and four typewriters.

Wave Fights For Equal Rights

PENSACOLA, Fla. (UPI)—An enlisted Wave is fighting the Navy's attempt to discharge her for becoming pregnant out of wedlock. She says sailors aren't discharged for sexual reasons.

Seaman Anna Flores, a Wave communicator, has filed suit in federal court protesting an administrative decision to discharge her one year early.

Attorney Charles Morgan of the American Civil Liberties Union describes his client as "a very dedicated young woman who wants to serve her country." He said she is "in no way affiliated with any women's liberation organizations."

28—which was to have been her wedding date—suffered a miscarriage. The wedding has been postponed.

"She doesn't care if the discharge is honorable or anything else—she doesn't want it," said Morgan in an interview Tuesday night. "She told me, 'This may sound mundane to a lot of people, but I really believe what President Kennedy said about asking not what your country can do for you.'"

The Wave has been in the Navy two years, and Morgan said she does not plan to reenlist if she is allowed to complete her hitch. He said she is working her regular duty shifts with no restrictions or other punishment while her discharge papers are pending in Washington.

Parley-Vous Francaise ???

SAN ANTONIO (UPI)—The situation had never come up at the police academy. Here were three women swimming in the public park nude.

They spoke only French. Policeman G. S. Diaz spoke none at all.

"Get me some help here at the pool," Diaz said over the police radio. "There are three women here swimming nude. They only speak French and I need some crowd control."

Fourteen policemen and a paddy wagon arrived on the scene. They tried to explain to the women that nude swimming in public was against the law. The women didn't understand. They said they were visiting from Paris and were only sunbathing.

Reckless Driving Causes Rash Of Accidents

A rash of accidents, caused by reckless driving, has plagued city police this week.

On Tuesday a two-car collision at Foster and Cuyler netted an estimated $50 in damages to a car driven by Dixie D. Feazel, 1833 N. Nelson, when the vehicle she was driving collided with a parked car belonging to Bobbie G. Andis, 1710 Mary Ellen. The Andis car sustained approximately $175 in damages.

Mrs. Feazel was cited by city police for an improper start from parking position.

A 15-year-old girl, Janice M.

Taylor, 1105 Sierra, was slightly injured when the car she was driving was in collision with a car driven by William E. McKeeen, 1702 Gwendolyn shortly after 9 p.m. Tuesday.

The McKeeen vehicle sustained $150 in damages; the Taylor auto, $250.

McKeeen was cited for failure to yield the right of way when he allegedly made a left-hand turn in front of the Taylor car, which was traveling south on Hobart.

Alfred C. Oxley, 16, 918 S. Sumner received injuries when the car he was driving was in collision with a car driven by Richard R. Redus, 19, of Star Route 3, shortly after 1 p.m. at the intersection of Hobart 70 and Finch Streets.

Shortly after 1:10 p.m. Tuesday, a car driven by Steven C. Adkins, 543 Tignor, was in collision with a parked car belonging to Harold Barrett Ford. The Adkins auto was damaged approximately $350; the parked vehicle an estimated $275.

Unity In Manson's Defense Shows Signs Of Crumpling

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—The defense unity in the Sharon Tate murder trial showed signs of crumbling Tuesday when the attorney for Charles Manson tried to extract testimony damaging to codefendant Patricia Krenwinkel.

The line of questioning by Irving Kanarek drew objections from other defense counsel and an angry protest from Manson himself, who asked permission to dismiss the burly attorney and represent himself.

"I have no control over this man," Manson told the judge. "I tell him I don't want him to ask certain questions and he asks them anyway."

Superior Court Judge Charles H. Older denied Manson's request, as he has several times in the past.

The controversy arose during testimony by County Coroner Thomas T. Noguchi, who said under cross-examination by Kanarek that Miss Tate's house guest, Abigail Folger, was so severely stabbed no doctors could have saved her.

Kanarek apparently was trying to show that had the state's star witness, Linda Kasabian, intervened or sought medical help, the victims might have lived.

"Since Miss Folger had six individual stab wounds which each classify as fatal, I doubt very much her chance of survival would have increased even if she had medical attention," Noguchi said.

Under California law, the testimony of an accomplice to a crime must be corroborated by scientific evidence.

Since the trial began, Kanarek has been trying to show that Mrs. Kasabian was an accomplice who did nothing to prevent the slayings, and therefore her testimony against Manson must be backed up by other evidence.

However, since the defendants have been trying to maintain an "umbrella" defense, they objected to any line of questioning which seemed to pinpoint an individual defendant.

Earlier, Noguchi testified that after the killers stabbed Miss Tate, they strung her up—still alive—from a ceiling beam in the living room of her home.

Noguchi said rope burns on the throat of the pregnant actress indicated she was suspended or partially suspended by the neck while she was dying.

The nylon cord found knotted around her throat was tossed over a beam and connected at the other end to the body of another victim, hair stylist Jay Sebring, to whom she once was engaged.

BREAK UP CLASH

BELFAST Northern Ireland (UPI)—Police and British troops broke up a stone-throwing clash early today between Roman Catholics and Protestants in Belfast's Old Park district.

A crowd of about 100 Protestants set a crowd of 100 Catholics as they just started throwing stones at each other, an army spokesman said. "It was nothing more than the old job and his union membership, were reported and no arrests made."

MAN SUES

CHARLESTON, W.Va. (UPI)—A Charleston man has sued Appalachian Power Co. for $100,000 because his electric alarm clock didn't go off.

Charles Adkins says the alarm clock didn't ring during a power failure Aug. 23, 1969, and, as a result he was late for work and subsequently lost his job and his union membership.

Texas Congressman's Permits Use Of Number, Leaves Town

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The capitol office of Rep. Olin E. Teague, D-Tex., has been advertised for several days over a Washington radio station as a sales contact for a health spa operated by Texas' Billionaire H.L. Hunt.

The station got complaints that no one answered the telephone number given in the ad. The number turned out to be the private, unlisted inner office phone of Teague, who has been absent in Texas visiting constituents since a house recess began Aug. 14.

George Fisher, Teague's administrative assistant, said in response to questions that Teague agreed to allow prospective visitors to the spa desiring more information than they otherwise could obtain about the spa to get in touch with Teague.

Fisher said through a misunderstanding, the radio ad listed Teague's private number as the contact for initial inquiries about the Apache Indian Springs, a spa operated by Hunt in West Texas.

Fisher said the congressman has no financial interest in the spa. However, Fisher said Teague went to the resort "three or four years ago with some people from Texas A&M. At that time, it was just a broken down old Mexican adobe place."

Teague was so delighted he put a brief mention in the Congressional Record telling about the Springs, Fisher said. Fisher described the spa as "way out in booties. There is hardly anyway to get there."

"The group who went with Tiger Teague had to take their food with them and everything," Fisher said, adding that Hunt must have spruced up the place since then.

Washington Window

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Eight little words could enormously improve the quality of American life.

The words are "sir," "ma'am," "please," "thank you," and "in my opinion."

If each of us made a point of using them on every possible occasion, we'd stop irritating each other so much.

Too many people today seem to think courtesy is an optional frill. It's not. It's an essential lubricant of human relations. Without it, friction quickly generates excessive heat.

Take "sir" and "ma'am" for example.

To employ these terms of address is not a sign of subservience. It's a way of saying to another person: "I respect your dignity as a human being."

Blacks Are Sensitive, But ...

Black people who are sensitive to any suggestion of inferior status may shrink from using these words in speaking to white people. That's understandable. But there's no reason why white people cannot say "sir" and "ma'am" to black people.

"Please" and "thank you" are demulcent words in any human encounter, and they can be particularly helpful in reducing friction between parents and children. The wise parent doesn't try to extract these words from his offspring by compulsion. He sets an example by using them himself.

To say "please" to a child—or any other person in a dependent or subordinate role, such as an employe or servant—converts a demand into a request. "Thank you" is a way of saying, "I also am dependent on you."

"In my opinion" is the least used but potentially most helpful phrase of all.

We have all fallen into the habit of speaking too dogmatically. We say, in effect, "I know what I'm talking about, and if you don't see it my way you're just too stupid to understand."

Use Defusing Phrase

But if you precede or follow your pronouncements with the defusing phrase, "in my opinion," a useful dialog frequently can result. These three words acknowledge that the other person may have a different view of the matter, that he's as entitled to his view as you are to yours, and that it's at least possible he's right and you're wrong.

Perhaps, if we abandon the illusion of infallibility we can begin to communicate with each other and rebuild the spirit of mutual tolerance which is necessary to the harmonious functioning of a free society.

In my opinion, that is.

Hopscotch Record Set

FLINT, Mich. (UPI)—Three barefoot and blistered high school students claimed a new world's record for hopscotch Tuesday night after 26 hours, 40 minutes and 20 seconds of jumping around on an east side street corner.

Fisher said through a misunderstanding, the radio ad listed Teague's private number as the contact for initial inquiries about the Apache Indian Springs, a spa operated by Hunt in West Texas.

Fisher said the congressman has no financial interest in the spa. However, Fisher said Teague went to the resort "three or four years ago with some people from Texas A&M. At that time, it was just a broken down old Mexican adobe place."

Plan Dockside Or Backyard Luau For Different Summertime Party

A dockside luau is easy to prepare with the wide variety of frozen Oriental foods available. Those who want to do it in the classic Hawaiian style may bake a whole pig in a pit.

This takes hours, so why not use today's shortcuts for a fun evening. Decorate with bamboo mats, fruits and flowers and

6 to 8 pork chops
1 package (14 oz.) frozen sweet and sour pork in cooking pouch
1/2 cup light molasses
2 tablespoons sherry

Place pork chops on rack in baking pan and bake at 325 degrees one hour. Prepare add island music and outdoor sweet and sour pork and empty candles.

Shrimp-lobster supreme heads dockside luau menu.

The classic pork dish starts with pork chops, baked or grilled, and topped with a sauce made from molasses and sherry. Serve a shrimp-lobster supreme in fresh pineapple boats. Here, too, the basic ingredients are from prepared frozen items. For a beverage serve a Kona punch of canned fruit punch. Add rum if preferred.

SWEET AND PUNGENT PORK CHOPS

into a saucepan. Add molasses and sherry. Bring to a boil. Serve over baked pork chops.

SHRIMP-LOBSTER SUPREME

1 quart water
1 small onion, sliced
1 stalk celery, sliced
1 bay leaf
1 package (9 oz.) frozen South African rock lobster tails
1 package (15 oz.) frozen shrimp chow mein in cooking pouch

1/4 cup butter
1 cooking apple, peeled and diced
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup heavy cream
1 teaspoon curry powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3 ripe pineapples or 3 cups canned pineapple chunks
1/2 cup chutney
1-3 cup chopped macadamia nuts
6 slices bacon, fried crisp and crumbled

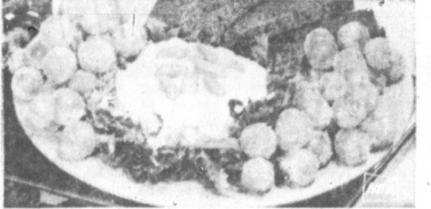

Put water, onion, celery and bay leaf in a saucepan and simmer 15 minutes. Bring to a boil and add lobster tails. Cover and boil tails until they turn red. Remove lobster meat from shell and cut into chunks. Heat shrimp chow mein, following package directions. Meanwhile, cut foliage off pineapples, leaving about two inches of leaves attached to fruit. Split pineapples in half from crown to base. Scoop out, leaving a shell 1-inch thick. Cut the scooped-out meat into chunks and reserve. Melt butter in a saucepan. Add the apple and cook until mushy. Blend in flour. Stir in cream and cook while stirring, until mixture thickens. Stir in lobster chunks, curry powder, salt, shrimp chow mein and about three cups of reserved pineapple chunks. Cook over low heat for 15 minutes in saucepan. Spoon into pineapple shells. Sprinkle with chutney, chopped macadamia nuts and crumbled bacon. Serve hot.

Add Grape Salad To Special Bread

Grape salad, pumpkin peanut bread.

From the warm valleys of California with their lush vineyards, beautiful table grapes come rushing now to our markets. So enjoy them in clusters, in salads and in desserts.

GRAPE SALAD
with
PUMPKIN PEANUT BREAD
1 package (8 oz.) cream cheese
1/4 cup frozen concentrated undiluted pineapple juice
1/2 cup sour cream
Bite-sized greens
24 small bunches green seedless grapes
1 egg white, slightly beaten
Granulated sugar
Mash cream cheese until soft. Gradually beat in pineapple juice and sour cream. Arrange in a small bed of salad greens on individual salad plates. Top with some of the cheese mixture. Chill. Dip bunches of grapes into egg white and coat grapes lightly. Roll bunches in sugar. Let stand at room temperature until ready to serve.

cheese with grape bunches and fingers of Pumpkin Peanut Bread.
PUMPKIN PEANUT BREAD
1-3 cup vegetable shortening
1 cup firmly packed dark brown sugar
2 eggs
1 cup canned pumpkin
2 cups all-purpose flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1 teaspoon ground cinnamon
1/2 teaspoon ground nutmeg
1/4 teaspoon ground allspice
1/2 cup coarsely chopped peanuts
Cream shortening and gradually beat in sugar. Stir in eggs and pumpkin. Stir in remaining ingredients. Pour into a well greased 9x5x3-inch loaf pan. Bake in a preheated moderate oven (350 degrees) for 55 minutes to 1 hour or until loaf tests done. Cool slightly and then unmold. Cool thoroughly before slicing.

Chill Blueberry Cream Pie To Delight Dinner Guests

Whatever its history, Publick House Blueberry Cream Pie is a winner. At the famous white Sturbridge, Mass. Inn, Dick Stone has been baker for 15 years. From the Stone family in Maine he was given the general idea for the pie and then he and Tom Fay the Publick House supervisor, together worked out this luscious recipe.

For three years it has been delighting guests. Fay gave us a few reminders: please note only one-quarter of the berries are cooked, and these just barely. The other three-quarters of the berries are used raw. For crust, use your favorite prebaked pie shells. Just before serving, garnish liberally with slightly sweetened whipped cream.

5 tablespoons all-purpose flour
Pinch of salt
(Bring to a boil):
1 cup blueberries
1 cup sugar
1/2 cup water

When boiling, add the flour paste and stir until it thickens. Remove from stove and cool. When cool, add the remaining 3 cups of raw blueberries and put into 10-inch baked pie shell. Refrigerate. When cold, garnish with sweetened whipped cream.

A winner—blueberry cream pie.

PUBLICK HOUSE BLUEBERRY CREAM PIE
Pick over and wash 1 quart blueberries; drain. Make a smooth paste of the following ingredients:
1/4 cup cold water

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Last month I started to work in a large insurance office, and right off the bat I became attracted to a good looking young department head. Not bragging, but I've got a lot going for me, too. I'm 24, single, and a well-built redhead who never lacked for attention.

Well, "Department Head" and I started seeing each other a lot, but always at my place. (He was sort of secretive about where he lived.)

When I rang his bell, I was the one who got the surprise! A tall, skinny blonde about my age answered his door in a bath towel. At first she wasn't going to let me in, but I pushed her aside and went right to the bedroom to see my sick friend. He was sick all right, and he got sicker when he saw me. The bedroom looked plenty "lived in," if you know what I mean. Her stuff thrown all over the place along with his.

"Department Head" said blonde was a childhood chum who had come to town to hunt a job, was low on funds, so he was putting her up temporarily. Now, Abby, how does this story sound to you?

DEAR RED: Fishy. "Department Head" could have helped the blonde by giving her a few dollars for a pad of her own. (P.S. Too bad you didn't know in advance that you were going to cook his goose. You could have skipped the chicken soup.)

DEAR ABBY: I know a woman who goes to "A.A." meetings all the time, and she's not an alcoholic. This is the truth, Abby. She told me so herself, but she asked me not to tell anybody. She has never had a drinking problem, but she says she goes there because she's "lonesome" and nobody asks her any questions.

She says she has met a lot of very nice men that way — and women, too. What do you think of such a person?

DEAR JUST: She must be very lonesome. (And clever, too.)

DEAR ABBY: My mother-in-law isn't really a mean person, she's just ignorant. How else can you describe a person who introduces me and my children this way?

"This is my daughter-in-law and her two adopted children."

My children are only one year old and two and a half — still a little too young to know what "adopted" means, but as soon as they are old enough to understand, I intend to tell them. But in the meantime, what can be done about such a stupid woman?

YOUNG MOTHER DEAR YOUNG: Someone should tell her in a nice way to disengage her mouth until she's sure her brain is in gear.

DEAR ABBY: My heart goes out to that poor mixed up teenage girl whose father called her a tramp because she slept with different boys. I was in that girl's shoes when I was in my teens and my father never called me a tramp. He helped me all the way because he knew I was a troubled, mixed-up kid.

I am now a happy wife and mother and I hope my father is proud of me now because I am very proud of him.

Girls who are called tramps by their fathers usually stay tramps all their lives. God bless my dad.

Los Angeles Witch Describes Her Psychic Characteristics

NEW YORK (NEA) — Left you think this account is coming to you from Never Never Land, it must be stated at the outset that Louise Huebner is not a broom-riding, black-hat-wearing witch who turns handsome princes into frogs. (It must be admitted, however, that she does cast spells, mix potions and predict the future.)

Question: How did a nice Yugoslavian-Turkish-Italian-American girl like Louise become a witch?

"My grandmother practices witchcraft," said Miss Huebner. "She believes in reincarnation and the spirit world. My mother is a fortune teller and she uses tarot cards to predict the future."

listeners call in and Louise analyzes their emotional state just by hearing them say, "Hello, Louise."

"These people are total strangers," she explained, "but I can usually get vibrations from them. Sometimes I can't, and when I can't, I don't pressure myself."

Miss Huebner also predicts the future for some people, but in that area she uses more common sense (and a smattering of psychology) rather than her psychic sense.

"If you project the way a person is feeling and analyze it, you can predict his future," she claimed.

"The majority of people can't change. They have a tremendous fear of the supernatural force — organized religion has taken control out of their hands."

For all the determinism in her view, Louise has nonetheless written a book titled "Power Through Witchcraft," which clues in her readers to using the "creative energy" of superpositive thinking.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Her 'Sticky' Problem Gets Quick Solution

Polly's Problem

DEAR POLLY — I got tired of the white plastic case on my clock radio, so I covered it with adhesive-backed paper in a walnut finish to match my other furniture. I grew tired of that, so I removed the paper covering but now the case is sticky and I do not know how to remove this stickiness. Detergents and water do not help. I am now worried about other things I have covered with this paper, as I may get tired of them, too. I have friends with this same problem, so we will all be looking for an answer.

usually comes off easily enough but some of the gum or white glue always remains, even after trying various things to remove it. A saleslady at my favorite store finally told me I could remove this residue by rubbing it with a rubber pencil, this has worked successfully for me on plastic, ceramics and glass objects.

—MRS. J.S.

DEAR POLLY — I used to think there should be a law to keep stores and manufacturers from sticking gummed price labels on articles. The label

Militant Women's Strike Committee Tries To Enlist Secretaries In Battle

NEW YORK (UP)—Secretaries, are you up against the filing cabinet and tired of it?

You are if you ever: Had to fib for the man you work for.

Dust his desk, water his plants and sometimes serve his lunch.

Get cuts on your hands from the edges of envelopes and file folders.

Heard him refer to you as "my girl."

The Women's Strike Committee in New York makes those points in a flyer being distributed to secretaries. The committee hopes to enlist the secretaries in the Women's Liberation Strike.

The committee said secretaries in such a position can do something other than striking to call attention to their work.

Suggests a Slowdown

Quit or tell the man if you wanted KP you'd have enlisted in the Women's Army.

Walk very slowly when he buzzes for you.

On strike day, instead of answering the phone, "Mr. Tyrant's office," say "Mr.

Tyrant for Women's Equality."

All of this is in the name of helping to celebrate that day 50 years ago when women suffragists finally won the vote after a long campaign that brought them ridicule, blows, jail.

Salaries are among reasons women are encouraged to complain. They want to be paid the same as men for similar work.

Averages Show Gaps National averages of annual wages for full-time, year-round workers, 1968 (the latest figures available), show the gaps in salaries.

The statistics from the U.S. Women's Bureau:

For professional and technical workers, males get $10,151; females, $6,961; for non-farm managers, officials and proprietors, including office managers, males earn $10,340 and females, $5,635.

For clerical workers, including bookkeepers, file clerks, stenographers, males earn $7,351; females, $4,789; for operatives, described as mostly factory workers, the male figure is $6,738 and the female one, $3,991.

Self-cleaning oven

Installs either free standing or with built-in look. Available in white, avocado, copperstone and harvest gold. You'll enjoy the extra counter space.

The Counterange™ by Corning.

A self-cleaning oven with the amazing new Corning cooktop. No coils, no burners, no grease traps. Instead, you cook on a beautiful easy-to-clean Pyroceram™ surface. Because it's sealed, grease and spillovers have no place to hide. You just wipe it off with a damp cloth. This is Counterspace Cooking. Hidden beneath the surface are four electric heating elements. When the heat is on, the handsome sunburst design glows yellow. The others not in use stay cool and safe. And for the first time, you have thermostatic control of all four cooking areas.

The Counterange comes with a set of specially designed Cookmates for precise, perfect cooking.

Children's Coloring Book Fights Against Pollution

NEW YORK (UPI)—There are coloring books and then there are coloring books. The newest one carries a message for everyone worried about the environment and man's seeming determination to kill himself and everything else off by polluting it.

This coloring book is the work of John Clift, a painter and member of the faculty of the School of the Museum of Fine Arts in Boston. The 32-page book is a basic attack on those destroying the ecological balance.

The opening page, for instance, shows a shore bird with directions to color an oil spillage black to match ocean and beach. Color the bird black to match the oil spillage. Instructions printed vertically on the side say, "Tear off this page and send it to your favorite oil company or to a congressman who favors offshore drilling." And each of the 11 by 14-inch pages is perforated for tearing out.

Another page labeled simply "woodland" shows trees in the foreground being pushed down by bulldozer in the background. Instructions say, "do not color—save crayons for new shopping center opening here soon."

When Clift's "Ecology Coloring Book" (American Heritage Press) came across my desk I called the artist to see what started the whole project.

From his Summer beach home at Patuisset, Mass., on the Cape, Clift explained that he actually was working on a book on alienation—"alienation of children from parents, neighbors from neighbors, nations from nations, but this ecology thing kept creeping in." So the alienation book got sidetracked temporarily.

"I'm terrified to watch the way we sit while doomsday nears," said Clift. "It seems to be a mood of every man for himself."

He said that some who'd seen the book called it "bitter".

others thought it "funny". He doesn't much care how you look at it: just so the message comes across.

He dedicated the book to Jonathan, with hope for a cleaner world to color in. Jonathan is a small neighbor of Clift's.

In the foreword, the author explains that they've suggested appropriate persons to whom the pages should go but, "if you don't like our suggestions, pick out your own targets; any unperceptive officeholder or short-sighted corporation executive will do."

Some of the pages are devoted to coloring animals about to become extinct with instructions to send to "hunters, feather collectors and the unperceptive who deny that mankind is diminished by the extinction of any species."

"Color hurriedly," says one page, "the cheetah, white rhinoceros, Rocky Mountain bighorn."

Your Horoscope

JEANE DIXON

FRIDAY, AUG. 28
Your birthday Friday: Your path through the oncoming year should be pleasant and well compensated, depending on your efforts. Social involvement proceeds apace, with more meaning than in previous years. There is unusual opportunity for conversion of property to cash. There are times when everything you touch yields some extra reward. Friday's natives are diligent workers, anxious to help others get a fair chance.

ARIES (Mar. 21-Apr. 19): Watch your spending, and the rest of this busy day takes care of itself. Creative projects prosper. New ideas go into use rather easily and turn out well.

TAURUS (Apr. 20-May 20): Wind up your workweek, leaving no loose ends. Detailed plans are not needed, but you should have a general scheme of what you want the coming days and weeks to bring.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20): Your evening is crowded with extra people and the need to do something special for old friends. Later you may get in some creative efforts.

CANCER (June 21-July 22): Personal matters absorb you and you enjoy your own mystique. Some things in your family situation now promise material advantage, an added dividend.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22): All your plans seem to fit smoothly into place, making it easy to finish the workweek. Gather friends for a pleasant evening.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Social contacts are more numerous than usual. Use new ideas for economy, interesting shortcuts. Something you say might inadvertently reveal a pet secret.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): Now is the time to ask for increases you have earned. Changes in methods meet with success. Your friends are all full of bright ideas.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Work goes well as your drive comes on strong. New ways of doing things come from other disciplines, strangers. Surround yourself with friends at night.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22-Dec. 21): Join forces with your friends for a productive day of work and play. Your financial situation gains a bit, but you still must watch your spending.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): Make peace among all those who have bumped into your firm views. Attend calmly to chores; get the main things done. Have some fun in the evening.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 18): — Enjoy this fairly quiet day. Set out some of the ideas you believe in, for others to see and learn. Add something cheerful to your home.

PISCES (Feb. 19-Mar. 20): Your temptation now is to overdo in any activity that depends on your imagination. Take a break from time to time to avoid fatigue. Home life should be rewarding.

Couple Exchanges Vows In Wheeler

WHEELER (Sp) — Elizabeth Manning Wiley became the bride of Robert Edgar Neal Boring Jr. in a double-ring evening ceremony solemnized recently in the garden of the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H.M. Wiley. Officiant for the garden ceremony was the Rev. Ross Dunn, pastor of the United Methodist Church of Wheeler.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Max Wiley of Wheeler and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Edgar Neal Boring Sr. of Albuquerque, N.M.

Honor attendants for the couple were Nancy Carol Wiley and John Thomas Wiley, brother and sister of the bride, both of Wheeler. Ushers were Edward Wiley of Midland, Richard Wiley of Miami, Jody Woods and Eugene Woods, both of Amarillo.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Albuquerque, N.M., where the bride is a teacher in the school there. She is a graduate of Texas Tech University in Lubbock. The bridegroom is a senior student of education at the University of New Mexico.

Area 4-H Club Reports Winners

MOBEETIE (Sp) — The Wheeler County Bake Show was held in the county Extension Office recently with five entries. Girls entering were Cathy Meeks, Cendie Meeks, Pheobe Meeks and Mary Puryear all of Briscoe and Melody Burch of Mobeetie. The girls were judged on a record book, a two crust pie, and hot rolls.

First place was given to Mary Puryear. Cathy Meeks won second with a tie for third by Melody Burch and Pheobe Meeks. Entries had a possible score of 300, with all scoring above 270.

Merritt First 20 Game Winner

By United Press International
Whoever said pitching was the "weakness" of the Cincinnati Reds?

Jim Merritt became the National League's first 20-game winner Wednesday night as Bernie Carbo's three-run homer in the sixth inning gave the Reds a 6-3 decision over the Philadelphia Phillies.

Merritt, tagged for 14 hits in 6 2-3 innings, needed seventh-inning relief help from Wayne Granger after the Phillies rallied for three runs, two of which came on a homer by Don Money.

"It was a struggling game for me," Merritt, a one-time Dodger clubhouse boy said. "The important thing is that Granger came in and picked me up and we won."

In other National League action, Atlanta downed New York, 9-7. San Diego edged Pittsburgh, 2-1. San Francisco nipped St. Louis, 8-7. Los Angeles defeated Chicago, 8-5, and Houston shaded Montreal, 5-4.

In American League competition, Baltimore trounced Oakland, 5-1. Minnesota blanked Boston, 7-0. New York downed Kansas City, 3-0. California whipped Detroit, 6-3. Cleveland defeated Milwaukee, 7-2, and Chicago beat Washington, 3-1.

Hank Aaron's 35th homer of the season paced the Braves to their come-from-behind win.

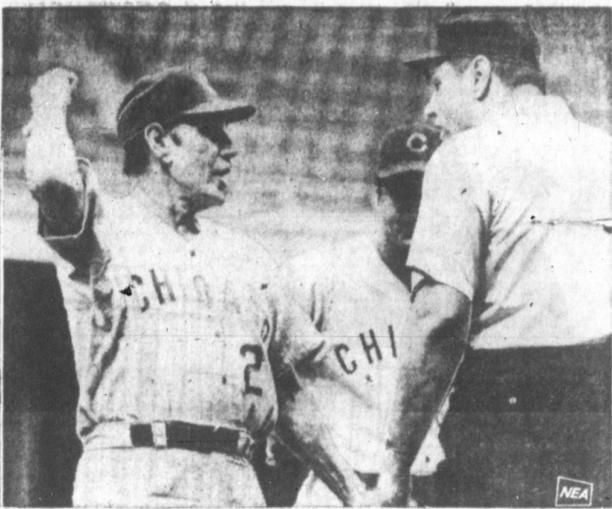

Aaron belted his homer, the 539th of his career, off Mets' reliever Gary Gentry to put Atlanta ahead, 8-7, in the ninth inning.

Ed Spiezio slammed a two-run homer that gave the Padres their second straight triumph over the Pirates. Pat Dobson needed ninth inning relief help from Tom Dukes to get the win. Dukes struck out Robert Clemente with the bases loaded.

Jim Hart ended a 3 hour and 12 minute struggle with a two out single in the ninth inning to drive in Ken Henderson from second base with the winning run for San Francisco. There were five homers and seven stolen bases in the game.

Jim Lefebvre's three-run homer in the second inning was the big blow in the Dodger win. Wes Parker had opened the inning with an infield single and Andy Kosco followed with a double before Lefebvre delivered his third home run of the season as Claude Osten won his 14th game.

Denis Menke hit a three-run homer in the ninth to give the Astros their victory over Montreal.

AFTER ALL these years of having the same gesture made towards him, can Leo Durocher finally be getting his revenge? No, not quite. Leo is not really throwing umpire Lee Weyer out of the game, as it may appear. He's gesturing behind to point out a player he thought was out.

Skipping Around In Sports

Flood Appeals

NEW YORK (UPI)—Lawyers for Curt Flood Wednesday filed a notice for plans to appeal the rejection of his anti-trust action against baseball.

Flood, who had his suit against baseball rejected by Federal Court Judge Irving Cooper earlier this month, plans to appeal the decision to the U.S. Court of Appeals.

It may take a month or two before the Court of Appeals takes any action on the case, however. The three judges who will listen to the case must first go over the complete transcript from the earlier trial, which consisted of 2,000 pages.

Four Have Chance

The Texas League has completed its interdivision schedule and begins the homestretch run today to see which of six teams still eligible for titles will meet in the league championship series.

All four Eastern Division teams are still mathematically eligible for the division title but Arkansas or Memphis have the strongest chances. In the West, the race is solely between El Paso and Albuquerque.

Casper Sets Sights

CLIFTON, N.J. (UPI)—Billy Casper's sights are set on at least one more tournament victory this year. Practicality dictates his preference.

The year's top pro money winner, Casper—who already has four tournament titles and $139,585 in his pocket—figures the $60,000 first prize in the ### Number 4 Coming?

DALLAS (UPI)—The Dallas Cowboys coaching staff find it hard to understand how the Houston Oilers, next Saturday night's pre-season foe in the Astrodome, have managed to be zero and three in the win-loss column.

Royal Pleased

Darrell Royal is a coach who likes order on the football field. The less mistakes you make, so goes the Royal philosophy, the more national championships you are likely to win.

Royal is currently a happy man. He watched his defending National Champion Texas Longhorns run through a couple of practice plays Wednesday and noticed an amazing lack of glaring mistakes for so early in the workout schedule.

Intrepid - Valiant

NEWPORT, R.I. (UPI)—Intrepid, which has been winning almost all the trial races but has not yet been chosen to defend the America's Cup, met Valiant again today in the ninth race of the final U.S. trials while the international contenders, Gretel II of Australia and France, took the day off.

Pampa Can Beam When Houston Takes Field

(Editor's Note: The following feature article was written by Mike Kossar who is Student Assistant for the University of Houston Sports News Service.)

By MIKE KOSSAR

Of all the high schools in Texas, none will be more responsible for any success enjoyed by the University of Houston football team this season than Pampa High School.

The three players from Pampa, fullback Ted Heiskell, left safety L.D. Rowden, and defensive left tackle Glen Lewis not only form a solid backbone for the Cougar squad, but are also in the running for possible All-America honors.

Largest of the running backs and one of the strongest backs in the Southwest at 6-3, 222 pounds, Heiskell will provide much of the power this season for Houston's running game.

Finishing as the team's fifth leading ground gainer as a sophomore, Heiskell improved so much he ended up last fall as the squad's second leading rusher with 870 yards and a 5.3 average.

The "Wild Bull of Pampa" Heiskell finished as the team's third leading scorer, finding his way into pay dirt eight times. He ranked twenty-fourth nationally in rushing last fall, despite being Houston's number two rusher behind All-American Jim Strong.

When running with the ball Heiskell appears to be moving in slow motion but as teammate Rowden relates, "He's always been like that. He just lopez along like he's almost asleep. It will be a top draft choice and could make some All-America lists."

An all-district middle guard at Pampa, Lewis, who failed to distinguish himself as a UH sophomore, more than shattered this image by starting on defense from his left tackle position.

After moving in for two-year starter Jerry Gardner at tackle, Lewis started every game last fall. Playing just nineteen minutes as a sophomore Lewis was one of the team's most improved players last fall.

Lewis capped his fine season of last year by finishing as runner-up to Jerry Drones as the most valuable defensive player in the Astro Bluebonnet Bowl game.

For his size, 6-3, 230 pounds Lewis possesses amazing quickness which makes him a top pass rusher and very tough against the run. He finished as the team's fourth leading tackler on defense with a total of eighty three.

Lewis could be one of the top interior defensive linemen in the country this fall. Having blossomed into a topnotch player, he rates definite All-America consideration besides being high on pro draft lists.

As one of three Pampa products on the number one unit, Rowden faced extreme pressure at the beginning of last fall's schedule. Tabbed to replace Paul Shires at the left safety position after he had just set a school interception record, Rowden more than met the challenge.

After logging only forty-one minutes as a sophomore, Rowden tied for the defensive lead in playing time last fall. He also finished as the team's leading interceptor last season with eight for a return of 113 yards and one touchdown.

Ironically, Rowden was the leading ground gainer for the 1967 freshman team before switching to defense as a varsity player. He uses this running ability to his fullest advantage after intercepting a pass.

No major college defensive back in Texas intercepted more passes than Rowden and his total of eight steals ranked him in a tie for seventh nationally.

UH assistant coach Melvin Robert states Rowden's development in the following way:

"His speed has improved and his big (6-2, 205) frame make him the type we like at safety. He's a fine tackler and good hitter." Participating in fifty-nine tackles, Rowden makes his presence known to the opposition by the stinging reception he gives them:

An outstanding candidate for post-season honors, Rowden's size and speed make him a top pro prospect.

After leaving a legacy behind them at Pampa, these three players will also leave behind their mark of distinction before departing from Houston.

The Changing Pro Football Scene

By United Press International
"Can't anybody here play this game?"

This poignant question was voiced by Casey Stengel upon the mirthful birth of his Mets in 1962. While Paul Brown, the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals, is undoubtedly a better molder of syntax than the inimitable Perffessor, he could very well be mulling over the same question as his quarterback problem deepens.

It all started when Greg Cook, the 6-foot-3, 212-pound starting quarterback, one of pro football's outstanding rookies last season, injured his chronic throwing arm in training and underwent surgery. Since then, veteran Sam Wyche and rookies Dave Lewis and Jim De Gaizo have been given looks, and the impression is that Brown has come away dissatisfied.

The impression gained substantiation Wednesday as the resourceful Bengal mentor announced the addition of veteran quarterbacks Virgil Carter and BoB Davis to the squad.

The 6-foot-1, 185 pound Carter was obtained from the Buffalo Bills in exchange for an undisclosed 1971 draft choice. Davis, 6-foot-2, 205 pounds, was picked up after being waived on Tuesday by the New York Giants. In his fourth year as a pro, Davis joined the Giants after serving for three seasons as the reserve quarterback for the Houston Oilers.

Two trades, a retirement, and the return of Willie Richardson highlighted the day's other pre-season activities.

The Philadelphia Eagles traded four-year veteran wide receiver Chuck Hughes to the Detroit Lions for rookie offensive guard Bob Parker and a 1971 draft choice. The Dallas Cowboys obtained seven-year veteran defensive back Bobby Thompson from the New Orleans Saints.

Pro Charts BY MURRAY OLDERMAN BALTIMORE

PROSPECTUS — Colt organization still ranked by January '69 Super Bowl debacle, and being in same division with Jets should hype 'em up. Of course, these aren't exactly same Colts (or Jets). And Shula's abrupt departure (replaced by aide Don McCafferty) doesn't help.

DEFENSE — Ostensibly no change, but maybe there should be. After all, Billy Ray Smith (now 35) can't go forever at tackle. Roy Hilton's never going to be terror at right end. Even other end, Bubba Smith, hasn't terrorized foes like his size (6-7, 295) suggests. Steady guy is imberalded Fred Miller at tackle. One hope of jacking up caliber is impressive rookie Jim Bailey of Kansas, who'll get share of action at tackle. Rating — B MINUS.

LINEBACKING — Mike Curtis, all-pro at corner, was supposed to return to old spot after shift last year to middle. But so far he's still in the middle, ahead of Ray May, acquired from Steelers. Which means youngsters Ted Hendricks, Bob Grant continue on outside. May's presence at least provides more flexibility. Rating — B.

SECONDARY — Vulnerable last year at corners, where Charlie Stukes and Tom Maxwell didn't quite fill gap of retired vets Bobby Boyd, Len Lyles. Maybe year of experience will help them because they've got natural speed, aptitude for job. At the safeties there's no better combo anywhere than holdovers Jerry Logan, Rich Volk. Rating — B.

KICKING — David Lee among premier punters in pro ball. Lou Michaels, the south-paw toe, could get strong challenge from Jim O'Brien, who's also valuable as receiver. Rating — B.

PREDICTION — First in Eastern Division. Which might not be logical in view of uncertainty at several positions, but they've got motivation.

RECEIVING — Beautiful, lively competition. Last year's starters were Willie Richardson and Jimmy Orr wide, John Mackey inside. They're all back. And NONE of them might start, even all-timer Mackey. Eddie Hinton, Ray Perkins clamoring for service as wide threats (they've got more speed than incumbents). And it's getting impossible to keep big Tom Mitchell out of action. Rating — A MINUS.

PASSING — Quarterbacks come and go. Johnny U., bad elbow and all, goes on and on. He's man to beat out, with old pro Earl Morrall in backup role, something he's used to. Faint flicker that young Jim Ward might finally show something. Rating — B.

RUNNING — Keep questing for speed boy and keep coming back to same old versatile Tom Matle and pluggers Jerry Hill, Terry Cole. No game breakers there. That's why they drafted Norm Bulaich, oversized thoroughbred, No. 1. But the rookie's got to prove he can stay healthy over the stretch. Rating — B.

LINE — Solid guys are Bill Curry, light but mobile at center, and Bob Vogel, light but mobile (for a tackle). Glenn Ressler's giving way to brawny John Williams at guard. Dan Sullivan's steady enough as the other guy. But Sam Ball's got to play back to form of couple

Shaving Strokes by Frank Beard

Reading the line of a putt is important as judging the speed of the putt and making a smooth stroke. Almost everyone can read the line of a straight putt. I know my wife can, and she doesn't play much golf. We're about to have our fourth child in five years and she hasn't had much time for it.

Usually, you can pick out the line along which you want the ball to roll by surveying the situation from a short distance behind the ball. A word of advice: Your first impression is usually the most reliable.

It is very easy to study a putt too long. The result is that you are uncertain what you want to do when you get over the ball.

Many players tend to read too much break into a putt. They aren't sure whether the putt breaks left or right. Or, if there's a double break, they don't know what to do. In cases like these where you are in doubt, hit the ball straight. If you don't worry too much about the line, the chances are better that you will make a good stroke and hit the ball at the correct speed and your chances of sinking the putt are enhanced.

Thoughts On Crime Wave

The latest annual crime report released by the Federal Bureau of Investigation and the U.S. Department of Justice is anything but reassuring. It shows that our national crime rate for 1969 increased nearly 12 percent over 1968, to make a total increase of 151 percent since 1960—a period in which our population was increased by only 13 percent.

Some of the statistics are especially interesting—and disturbing. They show that the largest increase in crime, by age group, was among those of age 20 or less—and these are not mere misdemeanors, but felonies: murder, rape, armed robbery, aggravated assault, burglary, etc.

It's also significant to note that crime has been moving from the cities to the suburbs. Whereas the rate of crime in the large cities with over a million population rose only 7.1 percent from 1963 to 1969, the rate of crime in cities with a population between 25,000 and 50,000 people jumped 13.6 percent—well above the national average, and almost twice the increase experienced by the large cities.

Biggest Robbery In History

A million dollar robbery schools and hospitals—60 evaporated billions. Who's to blame? All governments, federal and local, who spend more than they take in; all agencies who waste your money on boondoggling and vote-getting; all bureaus more interested in saving their jobs than in saving this country's solvency. And every American who wants more than he is willing to produce and pay for.

Watch Those 'Dog Days'

How many of us do not complain at some point or another during the scorching days of summer that the heat is killing us? Tragically, that complaint can be all too literally true. Heat can and does kill—an average of 175 Americans during a "normal" year and many more during a really hot summer.

VIEWPOINT

Frenzy Of Insanity Is At New High

By JESSE HELMS
The frenzy of churning insanity in America has boiled to such a crescendo in recent days that the last lingering hopes of reestablishing reason and order have all the fullness of bailing the Atlantic with a thimble. For the most part, the country has been forced to choose between those who, at best, make half-sense and those, at worst, who make no sense at all.

There is no new way to voice a concern or to describe the perilous road the republic is traveling. It has all been said before. Anarchy and rebellion and ultimate wars. But the ultimate is now upon us. Yet politicians and university presidents—and smirking representatives of the major news media—talk about "freedom of expression" and "responsible dissent."

What we have been seeing is not freedom of expression. It is license to destroy. When calous, cursing, disruptive mobs of what are euphemistically called "students" gather in a babble of obscenities to burn and destroy, and to voice threats to bring the country down, the words "responsible dissent" become an idiotic mockery.

A hundred or more headline-seeking political cries have gone up to "investigate" the regrettable deaths of four students in Ohio. It is not really an investigation that is being sought, for surely the country understands what happened, and why, and who caused it. What is being sought is a further breakdown in the maintenance of order—a repudiation of law enforcement as symbolized, in the Kent State University tragedy, by the National Guard.

Clearly, in that episode, the student mobs were the aggressors. They were the ones who burned the campus building, and who hurled deadly steel spikes and chunks of concrete at those attempting to restore order. The National Guardsmen were in retreat; their lives were being threatened—and it should not be overlooked that these men, on duty, serving the public, had a right to try to preserve their own safety.

But now, the newspaper headlines and the pious television commentators talk accusingly of the "Kent State Killings." There is, neither satisfaction nor consolation in saying so, but what happened on that campus was suicide. The wonder is that more frenzied young people throughout the land have not lost their lives. They may yet—if the agitating, inciting, prodding manipulators behind this grim national spectacle have their way.

It is a national trauma to be viewed more in sadness than in anger—and in the hope that the campus administrators who have let it happen are guilty of no more than failing to understand their duty. Brewster of Yale and Sanford of Duke and Friday at Chapel Hill and Caldwell at Raleigh—these are men who surely must know the price of surrender and compromise. Yet they not only failed to try to stem the tide of irresponsibility; they encouraged it, praised it, described it as "responsible dissent."

Now the emphasis of the mobs has centered on "closing down the universities." Very well, if this madness prevails, then the campuses should indeed be shut down, and the salaries of administrators and faculty members discontinued. It has seemed increasingly apparent in recent years that education is no longer important to many who have been the beneficiaries of burdensome taxation imposed to keep the colleges and universities open as breeding grounds for revolution and violence.

They Call Themselves Doves-

STRAIGHT TALK:

People Own The Airwaes

By TOM ANDERSON
Many of the network bigwigs, producers, faceless programmers, and cute commentators are so "liberal" that their loyalty to the United States is subject to serious question. Of course, most TV executives and most advertisers are not Leftists. They are merely people who're willing to push sales figures up even if it pushes America down.

The "liberal" collectivists supposedly worship "freedom of the press." Yet no dictatorship—even a dictatorship of the proletariat—can allow a free press! Mr. Agnew says he believes both sides have a right to be heard. But the main reason broadcasting is so one-sided is not mainly because of Frontley & Pinkley but because of the government itself, Big Brother, through the Federal Communications Commission's "fairness doctrine" has decreed that the "other side" must be given equal time to present its side of controversial subjects.

Why has Castro, who is not himself even remotely a Communist... Castro is honest, and an honest government is something unique in the world. Newsweek, April 13, 1959

It would be an even greater mistake even to intimate that Castro's Cuba has any real prospect of becoming a Soviet satellite. Walter Lippman, Washington Post, July 23, 1959

"This is not a Communist Revolution in any sense of the word and there are no communists in positions of control." The only power worth considering in Cuba is in the hands of Premier Castro, who is not only not Communist but decidedly anti-Communist. Herbert L. Matthews, New York Times, July 1959

Fantastic, you say? Incredible? Not really, when you realize that without working control of a nation's news media, no conspiracy could ever flourish," concludes Review of the News. American Way Features.

The Doctor Says

By DR. W. G. BRANDSTADT

'Too Much Acid' Is Loosely Used Phrase
Q—A gastric analysis revealed a very low hydrochloric acid (HCl) level in my stomach. Would weak HCl aid in the digestion of certain foods, even acid ones?

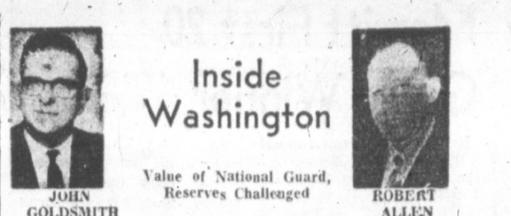

A—A low HCl level may be associated with pernicious anemia or cancer of the stomach or it may be present without any apparent cause. Although many persons with a low HCl level take a few drops of HCl with their meals and claim that it helps them, there is no firm evidence that such treatment is needed.

Q—What is good for too much acid in your system?
A—"Too much acid" is a phrase that is loosely used. Strictly speaking, it means too much acid in the blood—a rare condition that may be caused by (1) failure of the lungs to eliminate carbon dioxide as fast as it is formed, (2) uncontrolled diabetes, (3) various chemical poisonings or (4) advanced kidney failure (uremia).

Most persons who complain of too much acid, however, merely have frequent attacks of sour stomach—a far different matter. They are usually helped by eating more slowly and in a calmer surroundings, by avoiding an excess of fat, sugar or salt in their diet, and by taking one of the many antacid preparations on the market—after their doctor has ruled out

Q—Is it possible for Coumadin taken over a prolonged period to cause bleeding?
A—This anticoagulant should not be taken by anyone with a vitamin C deficiency nor by a pregnant or nursing woman because bleeding may occur unless weekly checks of the bleeding time are made.

Q—What is heparin used for? How is it given? While taking it, does the blood have to be checked every day?
A—This anticoagulant is given chiefly to prevent clotting in persons with a stroke or coronary heart disease due to clotting rather than hemorrhage. It is given by deep injection into a muscle. Blood checks should be made weekly.

JOHN GOLDSMITH Value of National Guard, Reserves Challenged ROBERT ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Unannounced and without fanfare, a Senate Appropriations subcommittee has been conducting an exhaustive study of the nation's military reserve forces and their inactive role in the Vietnam war.

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., is spearheading the inquiry. In the frequent absence, due to illness, of Sen. Richard B. Russell, D-Ga., Ellender has been acting as chairman of the Military Appropriations Subcommittee which is currently considering the Pentagon budget.

Because much of its testimony includes classified data, the subcommittee conducts all its hearings behind closed doors. Ellender's comments, and the material supplied by the Pentagon by way of response, will not be made public until a censored version of the subcommittee's hearing is released.

We are reliably advised, however, that Ellender has bluntly questioned the utility of National Guard and reserve forces which, while they have been justified over the years as an insurance for national emergency, have made little contribution to the fighting in Vietnam.

Central to the Senator's complaints, according to our information, is the cost of maintaining the various military reserve forces. From data supplied by the Pentagon, Ellender is said to have determined that the reserves are costing the taxpayers about $2.5 billion each year.

DRAFT INSTEAD — Costs are not the only target for Ellender's complaints, however. From data supplied by the subcommittee chairman, he is reported to have drawn two other pointed questions.

In the first place, Pentagon statistics show that the Vietnam build-up here in the U.S. and in Southeast Asia has amounted to about 900,000 men. That is the growth in the regular active duty rolls of Army, Navy, Air Force and Marines at the peak of the fighting.

At the same time, according to the data supplied to the subcommittee, the military reserve forces had the same number of men—about 900,000—on a paid roll status. Ellender, therefore, asks why only 37,000 of those paid guardsmen and reservists were ordered to duty in Vietnam. Why was the draft used instead?

Data supplied to the subcommittee, according to our information, also indicates that more than two out of three of the paid reservists are what the Pentagon calls "nonprior service personnel." That is, they are participants in programs which offer an alternative to regular active duty service and not a follow-up to it.
